Railroads Cause of Many New Towns

100,000 Persons Settle In Plains Section In Twelve Months—Development Is General

By B. C. Utecht, in Sunday's Star Telegram. The call of the Plains was heard by 100,000 new settlers the last twelve months, distributed over a region extending from the Fort Worth and Denver's new branch from Estelline to the New Mexico border.

For the spell of the Western Plains works unceasingly, a charm that is just as appealing as it was back in '49. The million are coming. They will not flock in at the same time, nor come in covered wagons nor seek adventure. But they are coming.

New Towns Spring Up A visit to and survey of this vast stretch of territory proves it, for in the last 12 months new towns have sprung up, the older have doubled and trebled in population, farm population has doubled, and yet there is more uncultivated land ready for the song of the reaper than has yet been put under the plow.

The amount of building under way in towns along the Denver's new branches is astonishing, exceeding by far that of Fort Worth and Houston in ratio of population. Within a two-year period these towns have transformed themselves, although they are still only in swaddling clothes.

Quitaque Grows Rapidly Quitaque, just under the Cap Rock, three years ago had a population of 300, while now it boasts of 1,400. And in the same period Turkey, 12 miles away, increased from 400 to 1,800. Silvertown has increased to 1,300, a gain of 500; Petersburg from 100 to 600, Parnell from 30 to 150, Estelline from 500 to 1,100, Lockney from 1,500 to 2,500, Sterley and South Plains one year ago were not in existence, having not even one house.

The rapid growth of Plainview and Lubbock is well known, the former approaching 15,000 and the latter 20,000, with estimates unsafe, for these cities add to themselves every month. The territory of the Estelline-Plainview-Lubbock branch has enjoyed greater growth because these lines are now complete, but when the rails are laid into Silvertown and Dimmitt their growth and building program will be apace with the other areas.

Fatally Dissipated Now all this prelude might lead one to believe these cities are interested only in their own population growth, but it is a fallacy immediately dissipated if you talk with their inhabitants. It is increase of farm population, increase of crops, better marketing conditions, better highways and more rails that is back of nearly every civic movement, for Plains and Panhandle towns realize that they may prosper as agriculture prospers.

Fay Guthrie, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at Lockney, declared that Lockney is more interested in intercommunity and agricultural growth than mere population increase of Lockney. Lockney shows it, a 160-acre model farm having just been established at the city limits to co-operate with farmers.

Interesting Figures Given When the Santa Fe and Ft. Worth and Denver were staging their little contest at Lubbock recently it was noticeable that A. B. Davis, secretary of the Lubbock Chamber, and Maury Hopkins, secretary at Plainview, when on the witness stand introduced more evidence and figures on crops and farm population than they did regarding their own cities.

J. D. Hamlin of Farwell, representing the Capitol Syndicate, says that the entire Plains region is easily capable of 10 times the development that is in progress at present. Although his syndicate has sold great tracts, it still has 500,000 acres to be sold to farmers.

The farm growth and city growth along the Santa Fe's branch from Lubbock to Bledsoe has trebled, although the line is but two years old.

Soil Is Praised Farmers along the new Denver and Santa Fe proposed lines assert that the soil "is as good as Hale and Floyd County," by which they mean it will raise anything, Hale and Floyd being outstanding agricultural counties of the Plains.

These towns are "different." Not so long ago when new towns saw the light of day they began with a few shacks, and from there to modern conveniences and brick stores it was a long, difficult jump. But the 1928 model towns will have none of this.

TEXAS UTILITIES CO. BUYS AMARILLO PLANT

Mr. L. L. Ferree, General Manager at Amarillo of Southwestern Public Service Company, and I. R. Kelso, President of Texas Utilities Company, have today announced the purchase of Southwestern Public Service Company by the same interests that now own Texas Utilities Company and New Mexico Utilities Company, stating that actual transfer of the properties will take place on July 1st.

Judge Kelso, whose home is in St. Louis, has long been identified with the public utility industry in the Texas Panhandle, having organized the Texas Utilities Company in 1915 and been in continuous direction of its affairs since that time.

Judge Kelso announced that no changes in the local management or operating personnel was contemplated as a result of the purchase, but that in due course operations of the Texas properties would be brought into harmony with those of Texas Utilities Company, and the Pecos Valley Group with New Mexico Utilities Company, all with a view to improved service at the lowest possible rates.

HE POINTED OUT THAT ANNOUNCEMENT had recently been made of plans for connecting the power systems of the Amarillo Division of Southwestern Public Service Company and Texas Utilities Company by a high tension line extending from the new power station via Amarillo-Lubbock Canyon, thus providing for interchange of power between the companies and affording an additional safeguard to the city's water supply.

REPRESENTATION AND RESULTS

We have always preached through the columns of this paper that we wanted to see the tax payers of the country get a square deal for the money they pay for the running of the government in all its branches; we have also said at various times that we picked the candidates for office on qualifications and character, regardless of whether we personally liked or disliked the man; always counting the principles involved and the efficiency of the man offering for office in preference to all other things. Believing in the people getting something for what they pay into the government, being represented for the money that they pay for the conducting of the government, believing in economy in government, trimming the departments down to a minimum and giving service, instead of grafting off of the tax payers, we have reached the conclusion that there is one man in the U. S. Senatorial race that stands head and shoulders above all other contenders when it comes to giving service and getting results, and therefore we have studied the proposition carefully, and while we have never supported this man for office before, yet we lived in his congressional district many years, we are going to give him our support of U. S. Senator this year. This man is Tom Blanton of Abilene. Mr. Blanton has been a member of congress for the past twelve years, and if you will follow his record we believe that you will find that he has done more work, saved the tax payers and government more money than any member of congress. He has delivered the goods as a congressman, therefore, we believe that he is able to deliver the goods as a senator. What the people say they want is men that get results, continually be on the job for the interests of the people who elect them to office, and guard the safety of government against all kinds of graft and useless expenditures of the government, and officials that will stand up and fight for the rights of the people who compose the citizenship of this country.

Texas is a large state, East Texas is as foreign to West Texas as is Illinois or Ohio, there is few things in common between them, yet for all times past East Texas has continually had two of her sons filling the seats in the senate and West Texas has neither had a look-in nor representation; we have very little attention given us by the senators from this state, as we have not heretofore had the voting power to demand attention and representation, but today West Texas can make a showing in the voting column, and by all West Texas voting for their own good and voting for the only West Texas candidate in the race, which is Mr. Blanton, there will be no question that he will go into the run-off, and probably be elected in the final contest. East Texas is due one senator, West Texas is due the other senator, it is only fair, just and right, and it is time for West Texas to refuse to elect all the officials from East Texas, when East Texas persists in defeating the West Texas candidates. We can put Blanton over if West Texas will stick to him. No other man in the race has half as good record in congress for accomplishments as has Blanton, and if he is elected you can bet your bottom dollar that West Texas will be represented in the senate, for Blanton is an active man, attends the sessions of congress and is fearless and continually fighting for the things that favor the common people of this nation. He has by far done more work during his twelve years in the House of Representatives for the common people than has any of his opponents, and to send him to the senate would give him a better chance to represent the people of Texas and West Texas, and put him in a position where he would be worth more to the state. Tom Blanton's record is an open book, he is making his race on his own record; not on the record of his opponents, nor the demerits of his opponents. He is not abusing his opponents in order to cover up his own records; but on the contrary he has his actions in the House of Representatives in printed form, taken from the Congressional Record, substantiated by affidavits, to show that he has been very active working for the people, and saving them from graft and fighting for legislation that is worth something to them. Therefore, we have changed our minds, and we are going to support Tom Blanton, the only West Texas candidate, for U. S. Senator, as our first choice.

The nomination. His accomplishments in the business world prove his ability and there is no part of the convention platform which he could not stand on or accomplish."

Years of Service

Model T Fords

Expenditure of few dollars may enable you to get thousands of miles from your old car

THE Model T Ford is still a great car. It led the motor industry for twenty years and it is used today by more people than any other automobile. More than eight million Model T Fords are in active service in city, town and country, and many of them can be driven for two, three and five years and even longer at very small up-keep expense.

The cost of Model T parts and of necessary labor is unusually low because of established Ford policies.

New fenders, for instance, cost from $3.50 to $5 each, with a labor charge of $1 to $2.50. Tuning up the motor and replacing commutator case, brush and vibrator points costs only $1, with a small charge for material. Brake shoes can be installed and emergency brakes equalized for a labor charge of only $1.25. A labor charge of $4 to $5 will cover the overhauling of the front axle, rebushing springs and spring perches, and straightening, aligning and adjusting wheels.

The labor charge for overhauling the average rear axle runs from $5.75 to $7. Grinding valves and cleaning carbon can be done for $3 to $4.

A set of four new pistons costs only $7. For a labor charge of $20 to $25 you can have your motor and transmission completely overhauled. Parts are extra.

All of these prices are approximate, of course, because the cost of materials needed will depend on the condition of each car. They show, however, the low cost of putting the Model T Ford in shape for thousands of miles of additional service.

See the nearest Ford dealer, therefore, and have him estimate on the cost of re-conditioning your Model T Ford. He will tell you, in advance, exactly how much the complete job will cost.

JONES BOOMED FOR PRESIDENTIAL NOMINEE

Austin, May 28.—Jesse H. Jones, named by Texas Democrats at the Beaumont convention as their standard bearer in the coming national meet in Houston, fits the party platform in every particular, Governor Dan Moody said today, in commending the Democracy of Texas on its choice. He said:

"The Texas delegation will undoubtedly take great pleasure in presenting Mr. Jones to the convention as a candidate for the Democratic nomination. The convention adopted a resolution presenting him as the choice of the democracy of Texas for the nomination.

"He has attracted nation wide attention by his successful efforts in bringing the national convention to Texas for the first time in history and the first time that it has been in the South in more than half a century. He achieved this single handed and was able in the critical moment to write his personal check for the required guarantee. One thing which contributed to his successful efforts in this respect was the service which he had rendered the executive committee in handling the finances of the party.

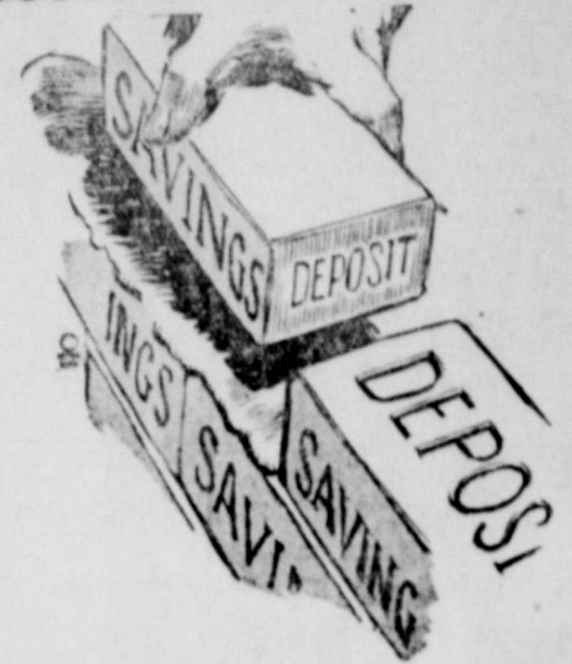

"His scrupulously honest management of the finances of the party is in striking contrast with the corrupt record of the republican party in its financial matters, and presents a strong appeal to the electorate.

"The compliment which was paid him at the Beaumont convention was a great and deserved tribute, and it is certainly a great honor to be the choice of the Texas Democracy for

STATE TREASURER W. GREGORY HATCHERY ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY FOR RE-ELECTION

I am asking re-election to the office of State Treasurer, first because I want the office, and secondly because I feel that I can render a service to the people of Texas and believe that they want me to continue as their State Treasurer.

My candidacy is based upon the record I have made and upon the principle that "a public office is a public trust and must not be used for private gain.—W. Gregory Hatcher.—Adv.

WEST TEXAS C. OF C. MEETS JUNE 18-20

Forth Worth, May 25.—When West Texans come to this city, June 18-19-20, for the Tenth Annual Convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, they may rightly expect the greatest convention in the history of the organization.

For more than two months, committees made up of approximately 200 of Fort Worth's leading business men have been engaged in making plans for the decadal meeting. Such a spirit of cooperation of business men has never been exemplified in Texas and the result is that plans are now practically complete.

There will be at least seventy-five sponsors to be presented at the pageant, an annual event on the opening night of the convention. More than one hundred entrants have registered for the "My Home Town Contest," while fifty-odd band masters have already signed entry blanks for as many squads of musicians.

There also will be other contests, details for which are in the making. Headquarters for more than fifty towns, planning to send large delegations have also been assigned. Fort Worth is sparing no expense to make the convention the greatest ever held by any organization in the United States.

The pageant, always an event looked forward to by all West Texas at this annual conclave, will excel in brilliance, beauty and grandeur anything of the kind ever staged in Texas. It will be presented at the Texas Christian University Stadium, Monday evening, June 18, where the seating capacity is twenty-odd thousand. At this time, Miss West Texas and the more than seventy sponsors, chosen by as many cities in West Texas, will be presented.

The annual convention parade will be staged Tuesday afternoon, June 18. Already more than thirty cities and towns in West Texas have announced they will enter floats for this contest. This will be the annual delegation parade and because the attendance at the convention is expected to set an all time record, this parade is expected to be one of the largest that ever passed in review before a Texas assemblage. It will march over Main and Houston Streets, after forming near the Texas & Pacific Railway passenger station.

Fort Worth's entertainment program is elaborate. Registration of delegates is expected to set new records because of this great entertainment program. Courtesy books will be presented each registered delegate. This will entitle free entrance to the pageant on Monday evening, one baseball team between the Fort Worth Cats and the Shreveport team, and will carry dance courtesies, as well as entrance to a theatre and swimming pools. Numerous other features are yet to be added. Registration badges have already been received and in many places these badges are being sold in advance by chambers of commerce secretaries. Thus it will be seen that cooperation to make this the biggest convention West Texas has known has spread to every section of the great West.

The program in all of its detail will be announced within the next few days, according to Homer D. Wade, general manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce who is now in Fort Worth.

GOOD SEASON FOR ROW CROPS

There is a good season in the ground over this entire section at this time for the planting of row crops, and many of the farmers are now busy planting cotton. Cotton planted at this time will have plenty of time to mature and make a good crop this fall, and cotton planting will last until about the 10th of June, after which date most of the row crops planted will be of the different feed crops. The lakes are getting a great deal of water in them at this time, and most every farmer counts on a good crop year when the lakes are full of water.

There will be a great deal of wheat made in this county this year, but the best wheat farmers are very careful of making an estimate at this time as to the size of the crop, as no one seems to have experienced a situation just like the one we have had this spring, however, the general belief is that with sufficient moisture that most of the wheat will make a fair crop, that the harvest will be a few weeks later this year than usual.

Since the rains have fell the wheat has been growing by leaps and bounds, and all the fields are now green and looks like the crop will be good.

Wayland-Montezuma Debaters Plainview, May 23.—The debaters and orators of Montezuma and Wayland Baptist College met Friday, May 18 in a double contest and each school won an even number of points. The girls' debating team met at Plainview and Wayland won unanimously with Alle Mae Caldwell and Wanda Spulber representing the college. Minor Uzzell orator for the student body lost to the Montezuma youth.

At Montezuma the winning was reversed with Montezuma winning the debate and Wayland's reader victorious. Neil Rigler and Lucian Morehead debated for Wayland at Montezuma and Katherine Malone won the honors of being the best reader.
