Anglo Shipping Losses Terrific

British spokesmen said today that U. S. Maritime commission figures leaving the impression that British shipping losses have been and are light are giving an entirely wrong slant on the true situation.

They said British and Allied losses for April alone would be well "within sight of 500,000 tons." The official British Admiralty report will be made next Tuesday.

Responding to a query from Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, Chairman Emory Land of the Maritime commission yesterday said only 12 vessels leaving the U. S. for British ports between January 1 and April 30 had been sunk. He said 205 such vessels left between January 1 and March 30 and only eight of them were sunk.

Isolationist leaders, including Senator Wheeler of Montana, today held up the Maritime figures as a smashing argument against Secretary of War Stimson, Wendell Willkie and others who are urging convoys, or their equivalent, to get U. S. supplies to Britain.

Wheeler today waxed caustic over Willkie's speech to 22,500 persons in Madison Square garden in New York last night. Police said 11,000 tried to enter capacity-filled garden. (Turn to Page 4, Column 3)

Band Dance Tonight

Delegations from Hartley, Stratford and Clayton are assured for the Dalhart High School band benefit ball tonight at 9 at the Trianon hall, it was learned this morning from the six prominent Dalhart couples sponsoring the event.

Other towns may send delegations.

Jack Veazey of Stratford, a former Dalhartan, and Douglas Cornwall of Clayton, both band directors, will head their delegations. Mr. and Mrs. John McMillen will head the Hartley delegation.

Bill Newman and his six-piece orchestra of Amarillo will play, and there is still a strong probability that Newman also will bring his vocalist, who is headlined as "Beautiful Nan Williamson."

The ball was scheduled for last Friday night, but had to be postponed on account of heavy rains. Despite the rains last week, the advance ticket sale was brisk, and this week it picked up right where it left off last week. A splendid crowd is in prospect.

The ball is also a Golden Heart event. This means that a substantial part of the gross proceeds will be given to the Golden Heart Charities for Children, an organization to give surgical and medical aid to Dallam and Hartley county children who otherwise would not have it.

Ainsworth Hills announced yesterday he would donate the hall, since the ball is to aid the high school band, and Jim Hammack said he had secured tax exemption for the event.

Sponsors are Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hammack, Mayor and Mrs. Herbert Peeples, Dr. and Mrs. Artis Dawson, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Childers and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Cotton.

Charles Smart Murder Trial Moved Up Week

District Judge James Witherspoon revealed this morning that the Charles Smart murder trial originally scheduled for next Monday, had been postponed to Monday, May 19. A special venire of 144 men is being summoned.

Trial of Roy Schoonmaker, who is charged with removing mortgaged property from the state, and trial of Ted Shapley, charged with disposing of mortgaged property, have been set for next Monday, Judge Witherspoon said. Trial of Frank Moir, charged with drunken driving, has been set for next Wednesday.

Eugene Arlman, juvenile, who has been in custody several days in connection with alleged illegal carrying of a pistol, may be taken before Judge Witherspoon this afternoon, the sheriff's office said at noon. Juvenile Judge Harry Schultz is out of town this week.

Rock Island Meet Draws Big Crowd

J. Y. McLean, director of labor relations for the Rock Island; G. E. Mallroy, supervisor of wage agreements, both of Chicago; O. W. Limestall, general superintendent of Kansas City; and E. B. Herdman, Panhandle division superintendent of Dalhart, were the principal speakers at the meeting conducted last night in the district court room by the Association of Rock Island General Chairmen.

The meeting was for all members of the various Rock Island crafts, division officials and their staffs. The local arrangements committee was B. P. McKennon, chairman, Joe Storey, J. C. Graham and Dan Medlin. "We had a splendid turnout," McKennon said this morning.

The principal speakers, and others who spoke briefly, mainly discussed Rock Island labor policies and problems.

Among out of town division officials were A. G. Schenke, division freight agent at Hutchinson; and

T. V. Helcamp, division freight agent at Amarillo.

The meeting was directed by H. J. Palmer, general chairman of the fireman and also president of the Association of General Chairmen; and W. E. Peterson, general chairman of the clerks, and Association secretary.

Dr. Victor Moore To Medical Meet

Dr. Victor R. Moore, secretary of the North Plains Medical society, has been made its delegate to the State Medical convention meeting in Fort Worth Monday through Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Moore will leave Sunday.

He said he would also attend special group meetings of city and county public health officers, and of examination doctors under the selective service program. D. Moore is city health officer of Dalhart.

TELLING 'EM ABOUT RITA BLANCA

News of Dalhart's new lake is being spread to a large territory. Through the facilities of newspapers serving this section, including the Amarillo Globe-News and Ft. Worth Star-Telegram, the public is being advised that the Rita Blanca lake is now a reality. As evidence of this publicity we reproduce below editorial comment from the May 7, issue of the Pratt, Kansas, Daily News;

Good rains at the right time make a farmer happy. A lot of rain has made a town happy. Dalhart, Texas, is rejoicing over its new lake, now practically full of water. The lake has been nothing but a hole in the ground for two years. The government threw a huge earthen dam across the ordinarily dry Rita Blanca draw near the city in 1938 and dust had blown from the bottom of the lake since. But in the last 12 days Dalhart has received nearly six inches of rainfall and now there are almost 500 acres of water in the Rita Blanca lake.

It's easy to imagine what is happening in Dalhart. They are rushing plans for boating and swimming activities for the summer. One small boy is reported to have already tried out fishing there. The Texan is printing warnings from authorities for people to be careful so there won't be any drownings. Health authorities have had officers chasing away boys who have jumped the season and already have gone swimming in the lake.

We rejoice with Dalhart on the acquisition of a lake. A good lake is a community asset. The 100-acre county lake near here has furnished recreation for countless hundreds of people since it was constructed.

President Has Been Ill For Few Days

Washington. — President Roosevelt yesterday was recovering rapidly from an upset stomach, doctors said, and observers pointed out how his illness was being distorted in Italy, apparently under the impression that it would serve some Axis purpose.

Il Giornale d'Italia in Rome said the President had been taken to a sanatorium and that the American people were sorely distressed.

Washington physicians said late yesterday he was sleeping peacefully and would be back on full feed in a day or two.

Senate Turns Down O'Daniel Appointee

Austin. — The Senate today rejected Jeff Davis, active member of the Texas Drys, as a member of the State Liquor Control board. Gov. O'Daniel had nominated him for the post.

Tragedy Stalks In Mojave Desert

Officers today sought Alfred Wells, 31, for questioning in connection with the slaying of Mrs. Gene Wells, and critical wounding of Miss Rose Destry, 17, in the Mojave desert yesterday.

Miss Destry said a gunman shot her twice, and killed Mrs. Wells while under his arm he held Mrs. Wells' year-old baby. He then dumped the screaming baby on the dead mother's breast and fled.

Miss Destry's screams for help weren't heard until a farmer came within earshot this morning. Doctors doubt if Miss Destry will recover.

She said the killer was Alfred Wells, brother-in-law of the dead woman. She said Wells blamed his sister-in-law and her husband, who is Wells' own brother, for persuading his half sister to give up her housekeeping job with him.

Medical Society To Meet Tonight

The North Plains Medical society will meet at Loretto hospital tonight at 8 o'clock. Dr. Victor Moore, secretary, reminded at noon.

A scientific film on pneumonia, loaned by the State Medical board, will be shown.

RITA BLANCA LAKE LEVEL IS 47 FEET

Rita Blanca lake at 8 o'clock this morning stood at 47 feet, W. H. Wadkins reported. It has dropped three feet, nine inches since the high point was reached Sunday morning.

Next Sunday is MOTHER'S DAY

MOTHER — Millions of them throughout the world—will be remembered next Sunday. Some will enjoy that rare privilege of an enjoyable visit with their children—others will gaze proudly at a gift from one who cannot be present—still others will read telegrams, enjoy the sweet fragrance of fresh flowers, or thrill to the voice of a daughter, son or a grandchild as it comes to them in a message of love over the telephone.

Right now we are thinking particularly of those mothers who must, of a necessity, sit and dream of his childhood days, while the boy that was stands at attention as his country's flag is raised. And thinking of the mothers of the soldiers of this nation we are reminded that none of them "raised their boy to be a soldier," yet with all the love and affection they bear for that boy they offer encouragement to his suggestion that he serve when his country calls.

If all the mothers of the world could have the gift next Sunday that they wish for most, what would it be? Not just the presence of their own children; not just their own happiness and pleasure. They would ask for World Peace, so that all mothers could truthfully say, "This is the greatest of all Mother's Days."

May the powers that be; may those who seek power through destruction; and may He Who Controls the Destiny of the World bring the Mothers of the world their greatest and most appreciated gift, "Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward Man."

NOTE: First offerings of canned peaches on the West coast opened at $1.57 a dozen and then were withdrawn in the expectation of higher prices. Last year the same peaches sold for $1.17 a dozen. Government authorities are keeping an eye on this situation.

STREAMLINED FOODS

Because of the acute shipping shortage, food items for shipment to Britain are being selected for high vitamin and calorie content, also for minimum bulk and weight.

In general, preference will be given to concentrated and dried food, rather than bulky canned goods such as fruits, which contain a considerable amount of water. Tomatoes are an exception because the juice they are packed in is high in vitamins.

One item urgently desired by the British is dehydrated vegetable soup, 12 tons of which will make 700,000 bowls.

A plan is under consideration to transport some of this concentrated food in the big bombers being ferried across the Atlantic, which can easily carry a 12-ton load.

The $400,000,000 that has been allocated for the food-aid program will be used to buy 15,000,000 cases of canned tomatoes, 20,000,000 cases of evaporated milk, 50,000,000 pounds of lard, 250,000,000 pounds of cheese, several million pounds of Wilshire cured ham, millions of powdered eggs, and thousands of tons of dehydrated vegetable soup, dried raisins and prunes.

While gigantic in itself, the program is only about three per cent of the U. S. food bill, which in 1940 was $12,000,000,000. However, unless the buying is done adroitly, serious dislocation of domestic food supplies, with resultant runaway prices, could easily develop.

The two men entrusted with avoiding these pitfalls are Milo Perkins, plain-talking Surplus Marketing Administrator (who will shortly be given another title, "Administrator of Food Marketing"), and Leon Henderson, hard-boiled Defense price regulator. Working together and armed with wide powers, they will be a tough team to buck.

NOTE.—Speculative activity is blamed for the few food prices that so far have gotten out of line, and a crack-down is in the works.

HUGHES LAUGHS

Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes is by all odds the most dignified member of the Supreme Court. A paragon of august reserve, he can sit for hours listening to arguments without once changing expression. It is the younger justices, Hugo Black and William Douglas, who lead in the Court's occasional smiles.

But the dignified Chief Justice broke down the other day and treated himself to a hearty belly laugh.

Representative John Tolan of California, as "a friend of the court," was arguing a case involving the constitutionality of a California statute forbidding transportation of a pauper across the state line. Just before Tolan appeared, the Court had been listening to a series of weighty arguments on "due process," interstate commerce regulations, and other dry legalisms.

The genial, white-haired Californian, who heads a committee investigating migrant labor conditions, quickly cleared the musty atmosphere.

"Now, I do not intend to discuss the issue of constitutionality in this case," began Tolan. "Fact is, I don't know anything about the Constitution." Then, looking straight at Hughes, he added with a grin, "I've been in Congress too long."

Such frankness was too much for Hughes. Leaning back in his chair, he laughed until he shook.

MEDIATION REFORM

When Senator Harry Byrd of Virginia recently told the Senate that the Defense Mediation Board should have the power to take jurisdiction over labor disputes without waiting for Secretary Perkins to certify them, he was saying out loud what members of the Board have been discussing privately among themselves.

It was an Miss Perkins' insistence that her certifying authority was included in the President's order setting up the Mediation Board. OPM chiefs opposed it for fear that the Labor Department would use it to hold on to cases in the hope of getting credit for settling them. This is exactly what happened in the coal strike, which could have been avoided had the matter been promptly certified to the Mediation Board.

After a month of practical experience, members are convinced that this is the biggest single obstacle to their effectiveness in averting defense strikes. They want authority to take charge of controversies without waiting for the Secretary of Labor to give them the green light.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Artist James Montgomery Flagg has just done a series of 15-minute pencil sketches of Washington notables—Hull, Welles, Hopkins, General Marshall, Lord Halifax, Chinese Ambassador Hu Shih, and Australian Minister Casey. "Hull has a fine head," said Flagg. . . . When OPM Director General Knudsen goes home to Detroit by train he loves to stage a nickel-ante poker game with cronies in his Pullman drawing room. . . . Outwardly, OPM Production Chief John Biggers is one of the most dignified executives in the defense organization, but among his associates he is called "Jack." When he answers the phone he says, "This is Jack Biggers." . . . With increasing business to handle for his Nazi-seized homeland, the Norwegian Minister is building a new annex to the legation in Washington. . . . Assistant Secretary of War Robert Lovett says, "The period of gestation for an airplane is just twice that for a human being—18 months."

Hemisphere's Financial Doctor

Before he came to Washington, Joseph C. Rovensky was making a salary of $40,000 a year, plus $10,000 in odds and ends. Since he came here last August he has made 67 cents.

He is a dollar-a-year man with the Rockefeller office—or, if you want his full title, director of the Division of Finance and Industry of the Office of Co-ordination of Commercial and Cultural Relations Between the American Republics.

Rovensky was a vice president of the Chase National bank in New York. Nelson Rockefeller was only 26 years old when he went to work for Chase in 1935, and they got acquainted. Two years later, they took a tour around South America together.

When the President brought Rockefeller to Washington last August, Rockefeller waved a $1 bill in front of Rovensky and induced him to come along, too.

In a Commerce Department office, around the corner from Rockefeller, he works at such things as the readjustment of defaulted debts in Latin America, credits of the Export-Import Bank, and establishment of the Inter-American Bank. He calls himself "an economist and financial doctor of the Americas."

Rovensky has spent almost as much time on shipboard as on land. He toured Latin America before the days of flying, and he has made no less than 30 trips to Germany in an effort to liquidate the German investments of American banks under the "standstill agreement."

Rovensky is bald and brown, and a lot older than his boss. He wears a little rosette in his buttonhole, the Order of the Phoenix, a decoration of the Greek government. He also used to wear the rosette of a Knight Commander of Italy, but when Mussolini began his Greek campaign, he put that decoration in the moth-balls.

ANGLO SHIPPING—

Willkie called for immediate action to get U. S. war supplies to Britain safely. "Call it by whatever name you will," he said. The crowd stormed its approval. A resolution embracing Willkie's sentiments was sent to Washington authorities.

Wheeler said Willkie had become the No. 1 U. S. war propagandist, and accused him of "dive-bombing from the platform."

Wheeler challenged Willkie's statement that Britain can win with U. S. aid. As proof that Britain is weakening rapidly, he pointed to a recent statement of the RAF chief that airdrome sites are becoming increasingly harder to find on the Isles.

Did Willkie, Wheeler asked, learn more in his hop, skip and jump tour of Britain, than the RAF chief knows, or than Col. Lindbergh, after years of study, learned?

Aside from the anti-convoys statements in the U. S., England today was chiefly alarmed over the probability of extensive French-Nazi collaboration. Germany yesterday cut substantially the Nazi occupation coasts to France; also opened the border between occupied and unoccupied France to shipments of various kinds of merchandise.

England fears that, in return for these concessions, France has agreed to allow a Nazi expeditionary force to land in French Syria, whence it could strike at Iran, Iraq, Palestine and drive toward the Suez canal; and that France may have also agreed to let German naval units use French bases.

The British force that raced 300 miles across an Iraq desert and smashed Iraq troops storming the RAF base at Habbaniyah captured six guns and 400 men, London said today.

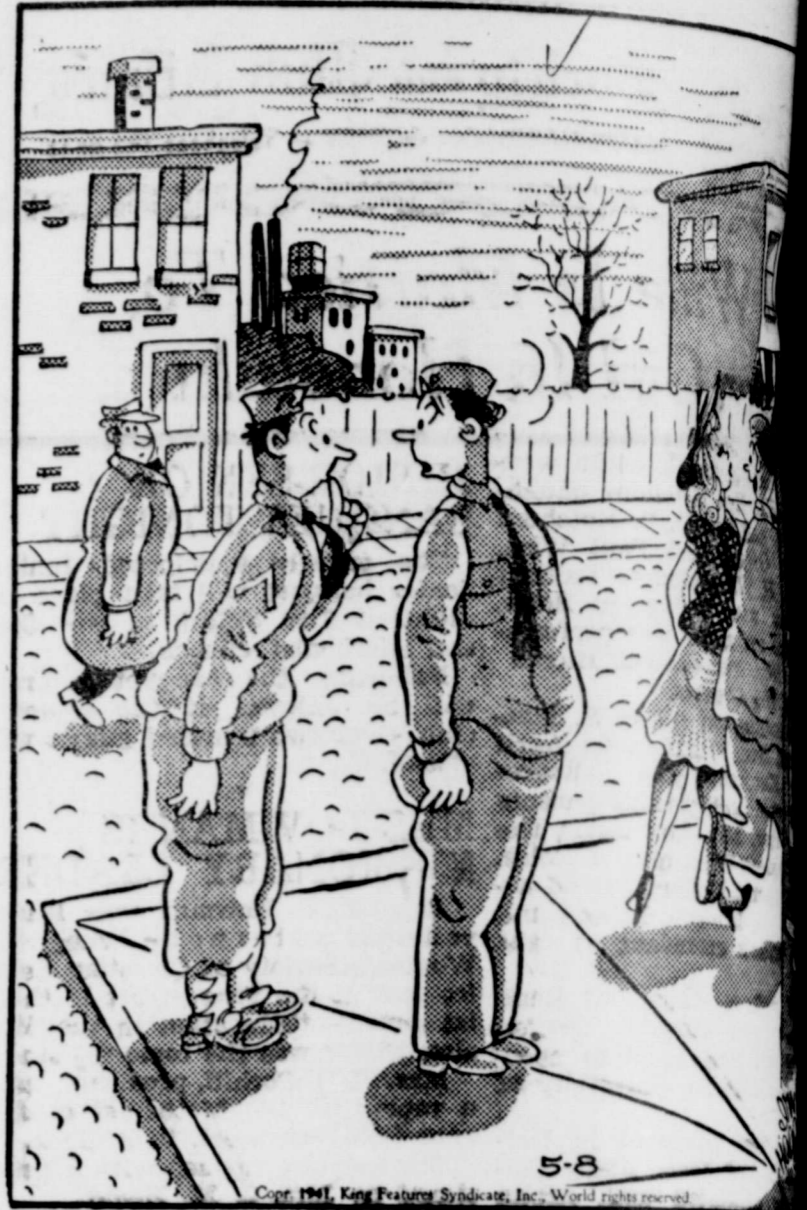

England said the RAF had also renewed its blasting of the Bagdad airport, and had blown up an ammunition magazine near Bagdad.

The German airforce is still concentrating on Liverpool—having struck it last night for the seventh straight night. Correspondents report that most of its streets are rubble, under which scores of persons are buried—some alive, some dead.

A particularly tragic instance was that of the huge apartment house that was blasted into a mound of debris beneath which dozens of persons were pinned. Rescuers worked 24 hours and were possibly within reach of the victims when the Germans renewed their attack, dropped incendiary bombs on the apartment house wreckage, burning the trapped people to cinders.

American aid, correspondents said, is a major factor in holding torn and bleeding Liverpool together. American-donated mobile canteens, clothes and ambulances are busy day and night in the mercy work.

LAFF-A-DAY

"She hasn't refused me altogether—just put me off until later." deferred classification.

Been doing a little checking up on my own hook on a couple stray Dalhart mavericks, Prentice Freeman and Kelly Stout, and have a rather amusing story to tell you. Of course if this gets back to Kelly and Prentice its all just a joke and that sort of stuff. In fact it is a good joke, any way you take it.

It seems that Kelly and Prentice decided to drive out to the big lake near Artesia and watch the water go over the dam spillway. It was going over all right and along with the water was a big bunch of fish. Watching those babies flop over the spillway was just too much for the dry land boys from Dalhart, so they waded out to nab several of the big ones, then get their pictures taken and send back to Dalhart friends.

It also seems that Prentice had on a pair of trousers that he didn't want to get wet and Kelly was helping to hold Prentice while the ex-Dalhart gasser grabbed the suckers. Al was going well until Kelly's cigar got to slipping in his mouth and he let Prentice go. Down Prentice went, pretty pants, cigar, grin and all. Reports are that it took two lifeguards, two cops, and a derrick to get Kelly and Prentice back on dry ground. Then they went down town, bought some fish and celebrated!

A small boy rushing madly down the street when he ran into a stranger. "Hey, What's the matter with you?" bawled the stranger. "Think there's a fire?" "No", the boy panted. "I'm running to stop a fight!" "Who's fighting?", asked the stranger. "Ma and Pa", was the tense reply. "Say", queried the stranger reflectively, "Who is your father anyway?" "Humph", snapped the stranger, "his shoulder as he scurried down the street. "That's what fighting over".

"Mack" McCreight gets the above joke. He brought it in and I selected that one place. They're all good.

Did you know that the Brothers of Ft. Worth, who ranch over in Hartley County frequently visit Dalhart, owners of several outstanding horses. They had four finish in the money in race at Narragansett, R. I. "Travis L", was first in quarter mile race and won on a $2 ticket. Other winners the Reynolds stock west Balmorhea, and Griffith.

In 1920 there were 600 in Dalhart schools and served by 14 teachers, two school buildings that total a $31,000. At least information in a small book tributed by the Dalhart Commerce that year, a book which has been brought to notice by Mrs. L. E. Bolton. The population of the city was 400 there were three banks with bonded deposits of $200,000 (March, 1920).

U. S. Could Become Second Rate Power, If Germany Wins War

(By ROGER BABSON)

Babson Park, Mass., May 8.—This is a time when readers should quit arguing and get down to business. If you have a farm, live on it and watch it. If you have a store, be in it every minute that it is open and attend to your customers as you never have before. If you work for someone else, give better service than you have ever given in years past. There is no use talking now as to what will happen after the war.

Between now and then, we should see a gradual strengthening in commodity prices, productive real estate, and employment. With this thought in mind, we should forge ahead. Of course, some time there will be another depression—perhaps worse than the last one—but this is some years ahead. Moreover, when it comes its duration will depend largely upon how we act during the next year or two. If we attend to business, get out of debt, and have faith in one another, we should have nothing to fear.

Germans Work Together

Let us learn something from Germany. Noted always for their industry, the Germans have to date surpassed all previous attempts at organization, efficiency, and thrift. Certainly, Germany has secured the solidarity of her citizens. In our determination to help Great Britain, we must not forget there is a happy medium between ruthless autocracy and wasteful democracy.

All German life has long been subordinated to the good of the nation as a whole. Hitler has been tough. Standards of living, wages and hours, and other factors in the lives of the German people rank ahead of individual desires. Above all, discipline has been intensified and maintained. This last is not one of our own national characteristics. It was conspicuous by its absence in France and contributed to her downfall.

Let Us Wake Up

In the "Arsenal of Democracy" role our country is playing, our program of defense and aid is seriously bogging down. This is not due so much to bottlenecks, strikes, priorities, lack of machine tools, skilled workers, etc., as to a lack of appreciation on the part of our people as to the seriousness of the situation. The commonly considered hindrances are largely of a "mechanical" nature. They should all, including the strikes and shutdowns, be cleared up in short order. The real bottleneck is our spiritual attitude.

There is too much of a tendency to believe that should Hitler defeat England that the affairs of our own country would remain relatively unchanged. Isolationists believe that instead of our trading with London, our relationships would simply be transferred to Berlin. Unfortunately, the problem is not so easily solved. Should Hitler gain and remain in control of Great Britain, the Northern Countries, the Continent of Europe, Africa, and of the Middle East, we would become a second-rate power and be dependent upon him—invasion or no invasion.

Watch the Politicians

As a guide to public opinion, the way our Senators and Representatives vote is worth considering. Senator LaFollette is very close to the President, yet he strongly opposed him when the lease-learn bill came up. The Senator knew that the majority of his constituents were not in favor of the passage of this legislation. Not alone in Wisconsin, but in Minnesota, Illinois, and Iowa, the people were generally opposed to this bill. This does not mean that the Middlewest is in love with Hitler's form of government. Rather, it is either concerned over the proper way to defend this country and uncertain as to the step to take—or else it lacks courage and a willingness to sacrifice for the common good.

Except for a few die-hard isolationists, our representatives in Washington are alive to our unpreparedness and to the necessity of aiding Britain and her Allies. Yet, they are put into office to represent and interpret the wishes of their electors. Hence, the position they take upon matters of national policy constitutes a good barometer of sectional belief and public opinion. My advice to the members of Congress, however, is to get back home more often and personally tell the voters "what's what."

Unite and Serve

Only a little more than a year ago Hitler struck at Norway. His progress to date is spreading disaster is shocking in its threat to the American way of life. Perhaps for us to realize this menace and the necessity for cooperative thinking and action, the sinking of one of our own warships will be necessary. Whatever this might hold for us and for our good neighbor, Canada, we will, as individuals, rise or fall together.

We talk of our ideals and beliefs, yet shut our eyes and plug up our ears to the real sights and sounds of the day. We seem mainly interested in acquiring and spending the new-found wealth that the defense program is bringing. As a nation, we must wake up. Unfortunately, through lack of individual responsibility, we may be smashed economically if not physically. Our deficiency of spirit may lead to our disintegration. We must all speak up for righteousness, heed the call to sacrifice, and toil to the limits of our capacities, whether we be a workman, banker, farmer, or housewife.

Bull Fighter Will Be At Cowboy Fete

Stamford. — A bare-handed bull fighter, using no cape or weapon, will attempt to wrest victory from a ferocious and able-bodied Brahma steer as one of the new headline attractions for the 12th annual Texas Cowboy Reunion in Stamford April 3-5, directors said today.

All the cowgirl sponsors, from various nearby towns and ranches, for the first time this year will participate in every afternoon and night rodeo performance during the three days.

Luke J. Pasco of Chicago will be back with his champion sheep dogs. They were a popular attraction in the 1938 show. A new group of trick and fancy ropers is being secured, and an outstanding rodeo clown.

Addressing more than 1,000 delegates at the 31st annual meeting of the National Council Boy Scouts of America at Washington, D. C., May 16 and 17 are (top) Norman H. Davis, Chairman, American Red Cross; Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas; Sir W. Lewis, Washington Correspondent, The London Times; (bottom) V. Leroy Allison Is Buried In Sayre

R. F. Allison, Jr., of the Chamberlain community east of Dalhart, early this week attended last rites for his brother, Leroy Allison, 32, in Sayre, Okla.

Leroy Allison, for many years a

Dalhart resident, died Saturday at a Fort Worth hospital, where he had been several months. He had been ill with tuberculosis three years.

He was the son of Rev. R. F. Allison, who formerly lived in the Chamberlain community and now lives at Sayre.

According to London reports, the British are in control at Basra, chief port of Iraq, where British troops are seeking to protect the flow of oil, vital for the Mediteranean war machine. Hostilities broke out in Iraq when pro-Nazi Iraq artillery shelled the British air base at Habbaniyah, 60 miles west of Bagdad. The airport at Basra, shown above, reportedly is held by British. Basra is located at the head of the Persian Gulf and was the home of the legendary Sinbad the Sailor.

off the coast road, a aiting with all its hed. Two men sat noking. They were Max von Wallen- German Military Colonel Sir Hector McAllister, chief of the combined Intelligence Departments of the Foreign and Colonial Offices.

Von Wallenfels turned slightly to the man at his side and said in English, "It is almost time, Sir Hector. May I say how very pleased I am to have made your personal acquaintance."

"The feeling is entirely mutual, General," replied McAllister. "I have known of you for many years now, you know."

"But, of course, it is a sad meeting for me," said Prince Max, his voice expressionless.

"Well," nodded the Scotsman. "It's the luck of the game, General. Very much so in this case."

"True," replied the German. "For without such luck England might be a German colony within a few months."

"It is possible," admitted Sir Hector, "but not probable." He paused a moment and then went on, "As you know, General, I am a Scot and therefore can speak of the English without embarrassing shyness. Now there is a quality in these people that you have always underestimated in Germany: It is the ability to hold on longer than anyone else. The more you hammer an Englishman the more obstinate he becomes."

"Take an example from the Army. In my time I have commanded every type of troops from all over the Empire. The South Africans are dour and dogged; the Canadians have extraordinary dash; the Australians behave as though they do not care a hoot who is in front of them and that usually takes them through; but the ordinary English line regiment—and particularly a cockney regiment—is the one I would chose for a tight place. The cockney, and his counterpart in the county regiments, grumbles the whole time so long as everything is going right, but if things go wrong, if there's no food or water, if the weather conditions are as bad as they can be, if there's little or no hope of support—in other words, if everything is just as hopeless as it can be... then Tommy comes out at his very best. That quality is not a military one, as you Continental soldiers understand it, it is national. Deep down in the English, with their confessed ignorance of political matters, their almost absurd obsession with sport—who's won the Cup-tie or the winner of the three-thirty—lies that quality of which I have spoken and, when it is applied to military matters, I truly believe it renders them unbeatable. I am a Scotsman and, in a sense, almost as much a foreigner as you are yourself, but I tell you, General, that I believe that England is quite truly invincible."

"I wonder," remarked von Wallenfels, thinking of Munich, perhaps... or Spain... or some even more sinister situations in the future.

"I am sure of it," replied Sir Hector McAllister.

At that moment the searchlights lit up the bay, their vivid pencils of light clearly revealing the hull and conning tower of the U-boat.

"It is time to go," said the German general.

A whaler from the Harpy ground on the shelving beach and McAllister, Meredith and the armed posse of Caithness police escorted their Nazi prisoners to the water's edge. Thus Colonel Weimar, Erich Stutz, Lieutenant Ernst Rotz and the various sailors who had been at the farm were being sent back to Germany with von Wallenfels.

The man called Siegfried Kloffer was being held to stand trial in England for the murder of the Grafine Adelheid von Reinhold.

At the last moment there came an unpleasant interlude. Weimar, alias Levinsky, had already stepped into the whaler; Rotz had been carried aboard, his broken knee-cap making it impossible for him to walk; and von Wallenfels stood watching with an expressionless face when Stutz broke into voluble, if inaccurate, English. He was begging not to be sent back to Germany. He appealed to McAllister and Meredith, bringing and slobbering in cowardly fashion.

"I will to the block be sent!" Stutz screamed as he fell upon his knees before McAllister. "Gracious sir will you not pity show? I am informed with secrets of the Nazi Party and will the same to you reveal."

McAllister's eyes met those of Prince Max and asked a question. Von Wallenfels made a slight gesture of the head towards the boat, and Sir Hector ordered, "Put him aboard!"

Then it was von Wallenfels' turn to step into the boat. He hesitated a moment as though about to address himself to McAllister, apparently changed his mind and bowed stiffly. McAllister and Meredith bowed in return. Ten minutes later, the U-boat was moving out of the bay on the surface. On either side of her went the lean, dark shapes of the destroyers which had instructions to escort her as far as German waters.

On the shore, Meredith and McAllister stood side by side watching the departure of the under-cover invaders. They spoke little, their thoughts concentrated on that towering figure which now stood upon the tiny bridge of the U-boat which was moving out to sea.

So Prince Max had failed! Failure as far as he was concerned meant the end. The Norns had spun the completed web of his destiny. The wheel had turned full circle... As he leaned on the rail, his eyes staring ahead, they saw nothing of the dark sea nor noted the fairy phosphorescence of the bow wave for they were staring not towards the future but deep into the past.

"Wotan's child, Wotan's weal," that is how the old saying had it. Strange, how vividly he recalled that shrunken little figure in its rusty black, how real Nurse Anna seemed standing there between him and his sister's bed and crying a warning upon him: "I tell you, Max, that this child, who is born to your sister, is a child of Wotan and of Fate." Her very words, scorned at the time, recalled so vividly now. "In his little hands he carries the destiny of the House of Wallenfels and if you do him harm he, in his day, will break you and yours." It had been the truth... Wotan's child bore the Wedge... Incredible but true. After all these years Elizabeth's child, Ulrich's child, had broken him.

Once more he recalled words spoken by his old nurse: "What they have done to you, so will you do them, and Wallenfels will be naught but a name in a history book."

Marlene Dietrich, Robert Moore

When a picture of Marlene Dietrich was shown in a psychology class at San Francisco State college, Robert Moore, a student who had never been inside a motion picture house, registered exactly zero on the psychometer, which calibrates emotional response. A student fund was raised so Moore could meet Miss Dietrich personally. He did, as pictured, but registered only 45 at that. When she fixed his tie the psychometer needle went to 60. But when she kissed him, for four minutes, the needle went to 100—and stayed there.

To Be Tonight

Mrs. F. L. House, worthy matron, this morning reminded of the regular Eastern Star meeting at 7:30 o'clock tonight at which plans will be made for a Dalhart delegation to the O. E. S. school of instruction in Amarillo next Monday.

The Dalhart Eastern Star chapter, Mrs. House said, will be co-hostess at the school with all other chapters in District 2, Section 2.

The program will open at 9 a.m. There will be examinations throughout the day. In the evening a banquet will honor Mrs. Robbie Dyer of Amarillo, worthy grand matron of Texas. Initiation ceremonies will be exemplified after the banquet.

Mrs. House believes 15 to 18 will attend from Dalhart.

Dalhart Is First Stop For Dumas Boosters

Dalhart will be the first stop when the Dumas Boosters tear out Saturday morning to advertise their annual Rodeo & Old Settlers Reunion, according to word from W. R. (Bill) Rutherford.

Rutherford, editor and publisher of the Moore County News at Dumas, was general chairman of the celebration last year and did such an outstanding job that he was literally drafted for the post again this year.

The Boosters, Rutherford said, will arrive in Dalhart at 9:30 Saturday morning. They will be here about 30 minutes; and then in Stratford at 10:30. The rest of their schedule is Texhoma, 11:15; Guyton, 12:15; Gruver, 2:15; Spearman, 3:00; Morse 3:45.

The 44-piece Dumas high school band will head the goodwill motorcade, Rutherford said.

Members, Guests Are Eligible For Country Dancing

Only members, or out-of-town guests of members, will be eligible for the first dance of the newly-formed Dalhart Square Dance club tomorrow night at the Legion hall, it was learned today from President S. F. Weaver.

The time is 8:30 to 11:30. He urged persons who want to become members to contact one of the executive council before tomorrow night. Council members, in addition to Weaver, are Dick Miller, secretary-treasurer; Charlie Coombes, social director; A. A. Schanefelt, club host; Archie Bailey and Paul Farris, directors.

A membership is $1.50 per person per year, and dues are 15 cents per meeting.

The club, Weaver emphasized, is to stress square and Western couple dancing. It is not essentially an overall and apron organization, but in an effort to enter the full spirit of the old-time dances men are urged to wear Western attire, in whole or in part, and women are making long cotton print dresses, like those worn a half century ago. They are costing $1.25 to $2, Weaver said.

Shocking Agency Being Proposed

Washington — Wendell L. Willkie, 1940 Republican nominee for president, and more recently a kind of unofficial Rooseveltian envoy to Britain to check up on needs and conditions of the Isles, yesterday was prominently mentioned as the head of proposed new government agency.

The agency would build morale of Americans, and also would shock them out of their complacent attitude concerning the threat of totalitarianism. Such a complacency, many leaders have pointed out, was part and parcel of the disastrous collapse of France.

Harry Hopkins, administrator of the lend-lease program to aid Britain, is said strongly to favor such an agency. In a sense, it would be similar to the World War public information bureau that was headed by the brilliant George Creel.

Enjoying With Friends

glad to be back in Dalhart and have the opportunity of meeting old friends for a few days and I can't remember when it was so wet.

Speaker is Horace L. Schloss, reporter for the 69th district. He is here for the court term that opened and said his wife would be here a few days to visit. Both here several years, and moved here when James Spoon of that city succeeded late Reese Tatum of Dalhart district judge.

A couple of bad eggs... but why blame the hen?

A bad egg does turn up once in a while... but that's not a sensible reason for destroying all the good eggs... or for taking it out on the hen.

Beer retailing in America is something like that. The vast majority of beer retail establishments are clean, law-abiding, wholesome places. And still there may be a few "bad egg" retailers who violate the law or permit anti-social conditions.

The brewing industry wants these undesirables eliminated entirely... to protect your right to drink good beer... and our right to make it.

And also to protect the many benefits brought by the beer industry to Texas... such as the 31,165 jobs created... and beer's $22,076,182 annual payroll. Beer contributed $2,273,968.64 last year in taxes to help pay the cost of government in this state.

You can help us in our program of law enforcement, if you will, by (1) patronizing only the legal and reputable places that sell beer and (2) by reporting any abuses to the proper law enforcement authorities.

BEER... a beverage of moderation

IN THE ARMY NOW!
WHY AND HOW

By S. T. Williamson

If suspicious thoughts stabbed the mind of the woman who wrote me yesterday to inquire whether soldiers are "allowed" to make love to hostesses, the fault rests at no other doorstep than the Army's. The three women who work at the service club at each cantonment have been targets for more than their share of publicity and misunderstanding. Most of the turmoil might have been avoided had they been given other designation than "hostess," which scared the day-lights out of some soldiers' families lest the Army was going in for night clubs and taxi dance halls.

Although camp hostesses must have physical stamina and, warns a War Department document, must "be prepared to put in long hours," three busy women are not expected to be dancing partners for a stag line of several thousand soldiers. The chief hostess is boss of the service club, the camp's social center, and the guest house where soldiers' families may stay overnight. One junior hostess, who must be a dietician, runs the service club's cafeteria. The other junior hostess merely is charged with the social life of 15 or 20 thousand men and must manage the dances and other events at the service club.

Combine the tact of a hotel manager and the endurance of a camel without its ill-temper, with the duties of a housekeeper, settlement worker, chaperon, master of ceremonies of a Caribbean cruise and housemother of a college fraternity or sorority—and you have the ideal camp hostess. That is, if in addition she can laugh off fairy tales about her non-existent leisure hours and love life.

Now for the mail.
C. R., Brooklyn, N. Y.: A porter in our plant was born in the Virgin Islands which has no Selective Service. Is he exempt?

Not if he was born since Jan. 17, 1917 when the United States acquired these islands from Denmark.

M. R. M., Wilkes Barre, Pa.: My left thumb is amputated. Does that disqualify me?

Not the left thumb. Loss of right thumb means Class I-b "available for limited military service."

F. O., Buffalo, N. Y.: To what branch of the service would a railroad train dispatcher be assigned?

No definite figures yet available, but possibly to Coast Artillery, Engineers, or Quartermaster Corps.

L. S., Norfolk, Va.: Will the Army call for any more chaplains?

Yes. The War Department last month raised the age limit to 60 years.

New Dirigible Bases Planned

Washington. — The House Military Affairs committee yesterday started through the hopper a bill that would appropriate $11,750,000 for construction or expansion of 11 lighter-than-aircraft bases — for blimps and dirigibles. Location of three bases was announced—in North Carolina, Massachusetts, and San Francisco. About $6,500,000 is to be spent on each base.

Armed Forces Join Tuberculosis Fight

onio—The U. S. armed ve joined the national tuberculosis Col. Wm. C.

Four books of fiction and six of non-fiction were recently placed on the lending shelf at the Dallam county library, Mrs. Earl McLroy librarian announced today.

Fiction includes "Young Dr. Kil- dare," by Max Brand; "Sapphira and the Slave Girl," by Willa Cather; "Random Harvest," by James Pollock of the Army Medical corps at Fitzsimmons Hospital, Denver, told the National Tuberculosis Assn. at its convention in San Antonio this afternoon.

A chest X-ray examination will be given approximately 6,000,000 young men of military age between 1941 and 1945, he said, and will constitute the greatest effort the nation has ever made to find the unknown, untreated cases of the disease.

The examinations will be given, apparently, as young men report for a year's Army training under the Selective Service Act, or volunteer for the Navy or Marines. Tuberculosis, Col. Pollock said, takes its heaviest toll in the age group represented by these potential recruits.

London Type Fire Apparatus

In Battle Creek, Michigan, the newest fire truck, a Dodge Job-Rated one-ton panel model, is patterned after the most modern equipment used by London fire fighters in combating the effects of incendiary bombs. Note heavy mist emitted by new type fog nozzle at right. It suffices out stubborn blazes quickly and effectively. Insert—Chief W. P. Weeks, who has been connected with the Battle Creek Fire Department for the past 61 years—ever since he was 19 years old. Battle Creek's new fire truck was designed after Chief Weeks' specifications.

Hartley Drama Friday

Hartley, May 8.—The colorful, dramatic and stirring parade of Western Hemisphere history—"America Triumphant"—will be staged by more than 100 pupils of the Hartley schools tomorrow night at 8:30 in Hartley's commodious school gymnasium.

It is all free, and the public is invited. It will open with the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers at Plymouth Rock and rise with dramatic power to a stirring display of loyalty and cooperation among all the nations of the Western Hemisphere in both North and South America. Supt. H. H. Wilhite is general director, but said the work of training the students for the elaborate presentation, preparation of the costumes and stage settings is being handled by faculty members. Virtually, if not all students will be in the drama. It will run two and a half hours.

New Laws Needed To Handle Nazis

Washington — Attorney general Robert Jackson said yesterday that inadequacy of current laws has rendered the nation almost helpless in the very teeth of a Nazi non-military invasion.

The telephone and telegraph wires of America today are, under present laws, a protected communications system for the aid and comfort of the Axis.

There is proof, he said, that Axis consuls in the U. S. sent out simultaneous telegraph messages to masters of ships in U.S. ports instructing them to sabotage their vessels.

Those messages, he emphasized, were blows at the U. S. government. They were sent over U. S. wires. Yet U. S. officers are forbidden to use any method to intercept those fifth column messages, and trap those who are involved.

Jackson said he had in the past already asked Congress for permission to tap wires in an attempt to trap saboteurs, and thus at least have an even break with them.

Saboteurs do not hesitate to use wires for their purposes.

Laws like the current one unintentionally but never effectively help enemies of the nation are factors that give rise to vigilante and similar movements where patriotic citizens take the law into their own hands, he said.
