Large Motorcade to Dumas Urged

It is of paramount importance every Dalhartan planning to attend the annual Dumas Old Settlers Reunion tomorrow join the motorcade that will leave Dalhart at 9:00 from in front of the chamber of commerce office the General XIT Committee said today.

It is pointed out that, in addition to going for a good time, the motorcade is going as a good ambassador and in payment of similar motorcades that Dumas sends to each of the Annual Reunions in Dalhart.

It is further pointed out that a motorcade makes a much better showing for its town, than if citizens go to the town on their own. It also adds to the celebration, because it is enough to attract attention, add color and enthusiasm to the motorcade is thus designed to help Dumas, but to reduce the debt, and last but not least to advertise Dalhart and the sixth XIT Reunion in Dalhart Aug. 4-5.

The General Committee pointed out that this year it is not asking for motorcade trips which often go to towns where there are no roads or very small ones. The motorcade tomorrow is guaranteed to ten thousand people.

Combes and Elmer Ellison are in charge of the motorcade. It will include the Dalhart School-XIT band, directed by W. Beene; and ten riders will carry the XIT flag during the parade in which the motorcade will form a special section.

It appeared today that Patrolman Shaw and Jake Ellison will lead the trippers. A number of hatbands, windshield covers and similar material will be available tomorrow morning at the chamber of commerce.

KE COMES TO TOWN

A rattlesnake was found yesterday on Seventh St. and Peters Ave. Three blocks off the main highway, U. S. 54.

A group of children ran onto it, fortunately none of them were injured.

It is reported the incident, he said, chances are some children are about and children should be warned to look out.

THE WEATHER

Texas: Partly cloudy with scattered afternoon and evening showers and thunderstorms in the Panhandle and West portion today and a little change in temperature.

PUSH PLAN THAT WILL HELP KIDS

President Lyle Johnson last night appointed County Agent Ed Crabtree to represent the Ambassador club on the special civic council that is working toward a program under which 250 seriously undernourished children in the Dalhart independent school can be fed at least one hot, properly balanced meal daily this summer.

President Cecil C. Johnson this morning appointed Rex Mahoney to represent the school board on the civic council. Mahoney is also secretary of the Dalhart chamber of commerce.

The civic council will meet this afternoon at 3:00 in the chamber of commerce offices, and in addition to the two representatives named above will include Mayor Herbert Peoples, who is also president of the Rotary club; Dr. Victor R. Moore, city health officer and president of the Lions club; Eddie Jones, principal of Kella High school, who will bring the viewpoint of Dalhart's teachers to the meeting; George Hawkins, commander of the XIT Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars; A. G. Triplett, director of the chamber of commerce; Mrs. Helen Huggins and Mrs. Dick Miller, who will represent the local WPA set-up.

The VFW, meeting last night, discussed the proposed children's feeding project in detail and voted to give it every possible support.

Dalhart Hi-Y Club Returns From Trip

Dalhart Hi-Y returned yesterday from a camping trip in Colorado, B. C. Carter, sponsor reported.

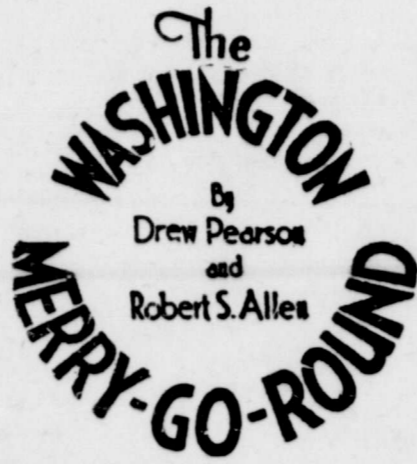

Making the trip to Cuchara Camp Saturday were Clyde House, J. B. Minter, R. L. Rainey, Parker Moon, Joe Allender, Marvin Tidrick, Billy Neill Brown, Billy McCarty, Jimmy Pigman, J. C. Mitchell, Homer Jackson, Jr., and Car-

Dalhart Cemetery association, said today.

The Sub-Debs will assist in the sale of the tags during Memorial Day morning. A committee working with Mrs. Raillard will work in the afternoon.

Any amount will buy a tag, thereby helping the local cemetery association with its financial difficulties, Mrs. Childers said.

Need for money to pay for the upkeep of the cemetery has become more acute since the heavy rains damaged the graves and grounds, the association officials point out. Last year's water bill which has not been paid in full is another big reason for soliciting funds through the sale on Memorial Day.

Washington — It hasn't been announced, but the Roosevelt Cabinet has a new member.

He is Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia, Director of Civil Defense. The dynamic little New Yorker attended his first cabinet meeting last Friday and will participate in all future weekly sessions.

A veteran of 37 years in public office, LaGuardia is one of the ablest administrators in the country. With the exception of Roosevelt, LaGuardia knows more about governmental affairs than any member of the Cabinet, also has more drive and capacity. By all odds he is the most experienced and resourceful executive the President has appointed in a long time.

Apparently desirous of taking full advantage of this, the President directed LaGuardia to attend the weekly cabinet deliberations, although he does not have titular cabinet status.

Some White House advisors have long advocated that Defense heads attend cabinet sessions for a closer integration of policymaking with the actual execution of policy. They have in mind OPM chiefs Knudsen, Hillman, Biggers, Stettinius and Nelson, and Price Regulator Henderson.

Note: — On his first day in office LaGuardia flooded officials who conferred with him about taking over certain offices for his new agency, by telling them: "Just leave the old furniture that's there. It's good enough. We don't need any new stuff." Such lack of swank (Turn to Page 4—Col. 1)

Pre-School Kids Can Join Program For Recreation

Parents interested in registering their children for the pre-school program of the recreational project are asked to come to the WPA center any time Monday, Mrs. Sam Huggins, supervisor, said today.

Children from 3 to 6 are invited to be entered in the program which will open soon, Mrs. Huggins said.

Requirements For Navy Flyers Cut

Dallas.—The U. S. Navy will accept aviation students standing five feet, four inches. The previous height was five feet, six inches, said Commander A. Laverents, senior member of the naval aviation cadet selection board at Dallas.

Educational requirements also were modified, eliminating mathematics from the necessary college credits.

Odd Fellows, Rebekahs Invited To Clayton

Dalhart Odd Fellows and Rebekahs received an invitation yesterday to attend a party as guests of the Clayton group tonight, Mrs. Joe Young, reporter, announces. Members are urged to attend, Mrs. Young said.

British Losing In Bitter Crete Tilt

COUNTY IS TO SECURE WPA FUND

Congressman Gene Worley advised The Texan at noon that Dallam county's WPA application for funds for the construction of an office building on the lot south of Stewart Motor company was approved this morning by President Roosevelt in the amount of $8089.

County officials did not know just what the application provided as it was filed during the administrations of Judge J. B. Honts and Judge Harry Schultz. County Judge McNeil expressed the opinion that the building was to be used for housing the various government agencies with offices in Dalhart and for which the county is at the present paying rent, as their contracts call for the county to furnish office space.

Commissioner Herbert Green said this building project would not be started unless and until it is needed to care for idle WPA labor. In other words, he said, it will be handled as insurance against WPA men having to go without work.

London admitted today that British and Greek defenders of Crete are gradually being crushed by weight of numbers and the constant pounding of Nazi level and dive bombers.

Germans have landed an estimated 30,000 sea-borne troops on Crete, and the Greco-British defenders today had been forced back to positions 10 to 12 miles each of Suda Bay, British naval base, and No. 1 Nazi objective.

The paralyzing thought to Englishmen was that the British had occupied the island for six months, and still are unable to choke off a completely air-borne attack during which the invaders used only light artillery, also air-borne, and few if any tanks.

London also admitted that the English naval units around Crete have been badly smashed by the Nazi air force and cannot forever smother German attempts to land sea-borne troops. They have prevented such landings so far.

The RAF, using nearby bases, have blasted hard at Nazi air transport bases in Greece, also have struck heavily at the Melei airport in Crete, and destroyed a number of Nazi craft on the ground or in fighting. British anti-aircraft guns on Crete have taken a terrific toll of transport planes. German casualties on land, sea and air are estimated at upwards of 18,000.

British have also landed a few reinforcements, but still they are being crushed. London admits there is probably nothing left for the British to do but fight a rearguard action, and it also said evacuation (Turn to Page 16, Column 3)

Memorial Service Is Friday Evening

A special Memorial Day service by the Roy Rhoades post of the American Legion will be tomorrow evening at 6:30 at the Dalhart cemetery. O. V. Hartshorn is chairman of arrangements.

Rev. R. H. Campbell, pastor of the Pine Street Methodist church, will deliver the address. A bouquet of flowers and a wreath of poppies will be placed on an unknown grave, and the ceremony will close with taps.

The national holiday commemoration will begin with the decoration of all Dallam county veterans' graves with small American flags early tomorrow morning, as is the usual custom, Hartshorn said.

Dalhartans are asked to cooperate in the observance.

U.S. Highway 54 Award Includes Canyon Bridge

James G. Lott, division highway engineer of Amarillo, was in Dalhart yesterday, and again confirmed the fact that the Bell & Braden contract on 3.2 miles of U. S. Highway 54 from Dalhart southwest includes a bridge over Rita Blanca canyon.

The impression that the contract did not include a bridge became widely circulated as a result of a typographical error in the Austin announcement of the contract award.

The announcement said a contract had been let for $15,000, which of course could not possibly include the cost of a bridge. Lott said the contract was for $75,000.

Dan W. Spencer, president of the U. S. Highway 54 association, said this morning that work on the stretch is to start early this summer.

$240 Million In Defense Contracts Awarded To Texas

Austin.—National defense contracts and expenditures in Texas through May 15 totaled $240,169,976, according to the office of government reports.

Contracts and expenditures during the first two weeks of May aggregated $2,354,141. The largest single item in this amount was a $1,117,039 award to the Atlantic Gulf and Pacific company of New York for dredging of the Port Arthur-Corpus Christi waterway.

An Unlimited National Emergency Exists.

"With a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortune and our sacred honor."

Quoting that little band of signers of the Declaration of Independence the President of the United States solemnly and sincerely proclaimed that an unlimited emergency now exists in this country and called on the people to play their full part, without stint and without selfishness and without doubt that our democracy will triumphantly survive.

That group that pledged their lives, honor and fortune to maintain the democracy of this country in the eighteenth century were mostly farmers. They either owned or operated farms and plantations; they were close to the soil; they loved every foot of this fertile land and they gladly paid the price to keep it free.

Our farmers today are descendants of that group. They still believe in that Declaration of Independence and now that the President has proclaimed a national emergency you will find the farmers and ranchers of this nation in full cooperation, sacrificing, if need be, their own welfare; their fortunes; and their lives, so that democracy may live.

Daily it becomes more important that production of agricultural commodities continue unabated; more important that the man "who leans on the hoe" produce the most from the least; that he do this as economically as humanly possible. To that end the International Harvester Company, makers of the Farmall tractor and other modern farm equipment, pledges a continuation of its service to the agricultural world. Through its dealers, scattered throughout this nation, it will maintain as long as humanly possible, efficient repair service, supplying necessary parts for repairs and adjustments and the most modern new farm machinery and equipment.

The National Emergency finds us ready.

NEWSPAPER DIPLOMATS

Working in cooperation with the big press associations, the State Department has evolved an excellent plan for bettering press relations in Latin American capitals.

From now on, experienced newspapermen speaking Spanish and Portuguese will be attached to the staffs of American Embassies in Buenos Aires, Rio de Janeiro, Santiago, Chile; and several other capitals.

Among the Latin American experts already selected for this job are William Wieland of the Associated Press (former editor of The Havana Post); and AP's Charlie Nutter, who has seen service throughout most of the globe and now is in New Orleans.

The press associations will lend these and other men to the State Department for the duration.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Carl B. Robbins, president of the Commodity Credit Corporation, is exiting from this job and from the Agriculture Department because he cannot get along with Paul Appleby, cantankerous Under Secretary of Agriculture. At least a use is being found for this country's huge gold supply. Unable to use it for money, and with more and more gold piling up at Fort Knox, we have finally sent some to the British to be used for buying up Arab leaders in Iraq and Arabia. Paper money doesn't talk in those countries, and gold speaks much louder than silver. Senator Pepper of Florida is having a dispute with his good friend Harold Ickes over "political ticks" and deer in Florida. Pepper wants to kill all the deer on the Seminole Indian reservation because they spread cattle ticks. But Ickes says the deer belong to the Indians, and they have a right to keep them. Also he doubts whether they really do have ticks. Frank Grillo, international secretary-treasurer of the CIO United Rubber Workers, has denounced the American Peace Mobilization and National Labor Committee Against War as leftist controlled. Grillo is the only prominent CIO leader to raise his voice against these so-called isolationist organizations.

WALL STREET BULLS AGAIN

Wall Street insiders apparently never learn and never forget. They can always be depended on to do the wrong thing at the right time. After years of public distrust and Washington hostility, the rulers of the New York Stock Exchange recently announced the selection of Emil Schram, former Midwest farmer and RFC chairman, as president of the exchange. This was hailed with great fanfare as the dawn of a new day in the "Street". At long last a man of the people would run the Exchange.

Exactly two weeks later, but carefully not publicized, these same insiders elected as chairman and vice-chairman of the Board of Governors, the real masters of the Exchange, two leading floor "specialists".

Floor specialists are traders who deal chiefly for themselves against the public. They do not deal directly with the public as the commission houses do. The Securities and Exchange Commission long has charged that specialists are basically inside speculators, interested only in their own profit and executing outside orders only on terms beneficial to themselves.

For Schram, if he intends to be boss in practice as well as in name, this undercover hatching by the "floor crowd" bodes ill. But for the SEC it is a break. It can now show Congress that far from being reformed, the stock exchange is in the hands of the "same old gang".

REMARKABLE YOUTH RECORD

Behind the President's request for another $60,000,000 for the National Youth Administration to train skilled workers for defense industries is a remarkable record of results.

Between last December and May first, 149,904 NYA students secured jobs in factories and shops. This month another 45,000 will step into defense jobs, and NYA officials estimate that by June 30 more than 250,000 trained workers will have been turned out. The new budget is for continuing this program in the next fiscal year.

The NYA has 5,307 shops throughout the country training workers in drafting, plumbing, carpentry, welding, foundry, radio, electrical, aviation, machine tools, automotive and many other vital crafts. At present 153,294 students are receiving shop schooling, while another 110,075 are working on construction projects and 139,758 are in clerical and professional projects.

To keep in close touch with the needs of industry, NYA administrator Aubrey Williams has an advisory council made up of the operating heads of a number of the biggest plants in the country.

MAIL BAG

A. M. Springfield, Mass.—The facts regarding the late Senator Lundeen's pro-Nazi activities were:

(1) He was paid $200 by the German-American Board of Trade in New York for a speech given before it March 20, 1940. The check was made out to his assistant so that Lundeen was paid in advance. We have a photostat of the check.

(2) The Nazi flag was flying over the speakers' table when Senator Lundeen spoke. Second from his left was seated Heinrich Stahmer, who at that time was enroute from Berlin to Tokyo, where he acted as Hitler's agent in negotiating the Nazi-Japanese pact which brought Japan into the Axis.

(3) George Sylvester Vereck, reputed nephew of the Kaiser, did write the pro-German speeches of Senator Lundeen, delivered on the floor of the U. S. Senate. Vereck is registered at the State Department as an agent of the German Government.

Many fabulous tales are related in the cloakrooms when members of Congress reminisce, but Representative Warren Magnuson, brainy young Washington, can top

Fifty-two dollars and fifty cents down and twenty-five fifty to go! That's the status of this effort to get $78 for the fire boys to send that drill team to Wichita Falls. Elmer Burnett reported yesterday that he had received $22.50 in addition to the $30 we have here. Let's get the rest of that money this week, for I've got to get started on raising some money for the Boy Scouts as soon as this is completed!

In the mail with the request that the letter appear in this column: "Having read in The Texan that over 250 children will go hungry after school is out, do you mean to say that 250 mothers and fathers are out of work, or is it otherwise? "The husband or father spends his money in beer joints and with other ill-famed women of Dalhart while the wife and children go hungry at home, also without clothing. Yet these men are on relief.

"Relief and WPA jobs at this time of year are for widows and them all. He claims he is the only man in the world who ever went to the Arctic Circle in a Palm Beach suit.

The strange odyssey occurred in July, 1939, when plans for the super-highway that is to be built between the U. S. and Alaska were in the embryo stage. Magnuson was chairman of the commission picked by the State Department to meet with Canadian engineers to determine the best route through British Columbia.

One day Magnuson got an urgent wire from the Canadians asking if he could come immediately for a conference at Prince George, B. C. Not waiting to change a Palm Beach suit he was wearing, Magnuson grabbed the first plane, planning to stop off at his home in Seattle and pick up some heavier clothes.

However, the plane reached Seattle several hours late and, still in summer togs, he had to grab another plane immediately for Prince George in order to arrive on time. There, to his great amazement, Magnuson learned that an air trip over the frigid Yukon territory, with stops as far north as Old Crow on the Arctic Circle, had been planned by his hosts.

"I had no choice but to go, clad as I was", recalls Magnuson. "It was warm enough in the plane and I wore a heavy leather jacket when we landed. But by the time we reached Dawson in the Yukon my Palm Beach suit was so torn and dirty that I bought a pair of khaki pants for $1.98."

Magnuson jokingly put in a claim for the pants with the State Department, but is still waiting for his $1.98.

LAFF-A-DAY

"Keep it up, pop, you're doing great!"

their children. Before, maybe when the depression was on, the relief was all right. But now there are lots of jobs for people who want to work.

"Don't get me wrong. I am not against widows and their children having help, also old folks as well as sick ones, but no family of men who drink. As that is only helping them to get more to drink. So let us church women get together and see what can be done. Investigate each family whose name is on the list."

The letter is signed "From one who knows," which would indicate that the party writing has had some experience dealing with the type of folks she, or he, writes about. Frankly, I know very little about the situation. Mr. Law has handled all the publicity and his information evidently comes from reliable sources. The only thing I do know is that a child can be just as hungry whether his parents drink or whether they work, if he doesn't get proper food. If there could be some system worked out whereby children would not have to suffer for the faults of their parents, we wouldn't have so many poor parents.

Nice little sprinkle we had last night. Just a little lawn and garden shower and nothing unusual for the "dust bowl."

Out on Highway 54, under the Rock Island bridge there is an old-fashioned swimming pool that is drawing trade from long distance. Notice the boys heading in that direction morning, afternoon and evening? It's just the type of "pool" that we boys down on the South Plains learned to swim in. It's hardly big enough to dive in and too dirty to get girls or grown-ups. Driving by you can see the boys standing on bank, clad only in nature's clothing. They act surprised to see you looking at them and with a wince and a holler they jump in. You may catch the itch, get poison on their bodies or even catch phoid fever, but what's a few things like that compared to the fun they have. I know I should encourage this practice, but gone it, folks, have you ever seen a boy?

Saw Mrs. Iva Carlberg this morning, working this morning, adorned by a bouquet of flowers. They were very attractive.

With no more witnesses than "hole-in-one" than Dr. Ewart Lawrence Steel, Mr. Wolf is having a time convincing folks that once-in-a-lifetime shot.

When I make my hole-in-one going to have a man present to verify has never been mentioned. Someone like C. E. Ford.

Malcolm Stewart should take care of himself. Mrs. Stewart is looking so much younger her husband that people are ginning to wonder if they are band and wife.

Since writing the first paragraph today two dollars and fifty cents more has come in. It's from the Parts Co. and very much appreciated. Just $23.00 short now.

Dalhart Kiddoes Entertain Vets In Amarillo Hospital

Several carloads of Dalhart veterans and families attended the program for patients in the Veterans hospital in Amarillo last night. R. U. Counts, American Legion service officer, reported this morning.

Appearing on the program were Roy Rogers, radio cowboy-musician; Shirley Hartshorn, Roy Forson, Mary Ellen Causey, and Ronald Durham.

Cigarettes and gum were distributed among patients attending the program in the recreational hall and also those unable to attend, Counts said.

Dalhart veterans receiving treatment in the hospital are C. G. Ridling, J. G. Strother, and Steve Gay. Claude Spivey returned yesterday.

Townsend Officers To Be Installed Tomorrow

Installation of officers of the Townsend club will be held tomorrow night at 8:00 in the Schrader building, Dr. L. L. Bartlett announced today.

Joseph Brooks

An unsuccessful attempt to needle life back into the body of Joseph Brooks, 30-year-old Massachusetts slayer electrocuted April 22 for the murder of a policeman, has been disclosed by Dr. William J. Brickley, Suffolk county (Boston) medical examiner. Dr. Brickley said he and an assistant worked on the body of Brooks for 70 minutes to confirm a theory that electrocution results in final irrevocable death. A stimulant was injected into the heart muscle. It could not be revived. The body was massaged. That failed. Dr. Brickley said 10 other tests were tried but none revealed a sign of life. Dr. Brickley said that "if any indications of life had shown at all, we would have ceased our experiment."

U. S. Air Corps Seeking More Men

Lubbock. — A U. S. Army air corps officer has been assigned to special recruiting duty at Lubbock as flying cadet officer and will be here about two weeks, the War Department said today.

The air corps needs more men because for each plane in the air at least seven skilled men are required on the ground, according to Major Jessee, regular U. S. Army recruiting officer at Lubbock.

Young men, wanting to enter the air corps, need not be mechanics, welders, or electricians to start with. If they are, so much the better. But if not, these trades will be taught them through the air corps technical schools which are maintained, Major Jessee said, for the express purpose of teaching enlisted men of the air corps to become technicians.

Farm Families Can Grow Nourishment In Their Gardens

Farm families who can't afford to buy required food can grow it, Dora W. Davis, home management supervisor for the Farm Security administration, believes.

In discussing the part farm families must play in the nationwide drive to assure ample food supplies while resisting aggression Mrs. Davis said that "they can afford not to maintain cows to furnish a year-round supply of milk cream and butter; to raise enough chickens to provide meat and eggs all year; and to produce a variety of animals for other kinds of meat including pork, beef, and lamb."

Although borrowers of the Farm Security plan, a majority of them are planning to produce more than ever this year, Mrs. Davis said.

Wheat Quota Balloting To Be On Saturday

Wheat farmers — wheat marketing quotas again this year. Those in Dallam and Hartley counties — will go to the polls Saturday to cast their votes on the national wheat market-referendum. Presumably polls will be open the same hours in Dallam county and will be in Dalhart, Coldwater, Conlen and Kerrick. The question is whether or not wheat growers will use the Want Ads for profitable results.

"Spoiled Girl" by LUCILLE MARSH JOHNSON

CHAPTER FIFTEEN

"I should say you should get a divorce!" exclaimed Helen.

"If you're sure that's what you want, Gaby," said Sam, quietly, his eyes tender. "I'll see Johnson & Graysville this afternoon. Want to come along, Gaby?"

Gabrielle bit her lip. Darn! She thought miserably, she was becoming the world's best cry baby! She almost never cried before, but now she seemed to pucker up and squeeze back tears every time she talked to anyone.

"Whatever you think, Daddy," she said huskily.

"I'll talk to him first," replied Sam, smiling wistfully. "There's no need for you seeing him until it's necessary."

"Thank you, Daddy," said Gabrielle very low.

"If you'd rather go to New York and see Peter before you decide—if you aren't sure—" Sam offered lamely.

"Of course she doesn't want to go and see Peter!" exclaimed Helen. "If he proposes to run away from his obligations, and doesn't want Gabrielle to come there, why certainly she doesn't need to beg him to take her back!"

"I only want Gaby to be sure, Helen," put in Sam mildly.

"Of course, we know you meant it for the best, Sam," said Helen, mollified. She turned to Gabrielle, but found her staring with unseeing eyes out the front windows.

"You wouldn't want to go to New York first, would you, Gabrielle?" she asked.

Gabrielle turned around and smiled slightly.

"What did you say, Mother?" she asked, as though she hadn't heard a word they had said.

Helen sighed. "We wondered if you would like to go to Peter and have a talk with him before you sue for divorce," she explained gently.

"Oh no, Mother, I've quite made up my mind. Peter doesn't want me, and so—I don't want him either." She turned away to hide the quivering of her mouth. She did too want Peter, but she would soon get over it, after the divorce, when she was free. . . .

"Well, if you're sure, Gaby, I'll see Johnson & Graysville right away. They'll know the way that will cause the least talk, also how to get it over with quickly."

"Poor Daddy, I am a burden to you, and it looks like I always will be," Gabrielle said, putting her arms around his neck and laying her head on his shoulder.

"There, there, honey, don't cry," Sam begged, patting the curly head. "We only want you to be happy, Gaby. That's about all we've ever wanted since you were born."

"I know it, and that's why I feel so awful," she said, between sobs. "I'm just no good to anyone. I'm not a good daughter, nor a good wife either."

"Well, you're a fine daughter, don't you ever think you aren't!" expostulated Sam. "If you're spoiled, then that's Helen's and my fault for spoiling you."

"I'm going to be a good daughter, you see if I'm not," avowed Gabrielle, still sobbing.

Sam attempted to be jovial: "Well, maybe we'd better start to be good parents and spank you when you need it, Gaby!"

She raised her head and smiled at him through her tears.

"I do wish you would!" she said.

"I must go to work. Taking me down, Helen?"

"Take the car, Sam. You forget we have two in the family now." Helen smiled at Gabrielle reassuringly.

"Sure. We have my coupe, Daddy. Would you like to drive it?"

"No. I'll take my own, thank you. But perhaps Helen would like using yours."

"I'm not sure I'm going anywhere 'his afternoon, but it's nice having two cars in the family," said Helen quietly.

Several days later, when Sam had just left for the office, following luncheon, the telephone rang.

"Oh, dat phone," grumbled Violet, who was clearing away the luncheon things.

"Never mind, Violet," said Helen. "I'll get it."

Very soon she called Gabrielle to the telephone, saying:

"It's Dorothy, dear. They just got home. If she wants you to do something—now why don't you?"

Gabrielle smiled, then said, "Hello, Dot," without enthusiasm.

"Gee, I'm lucky to find you at home," said Dorothy's expressionless voice.

Gabrielle smiled with a tired little twist of her mouth as she winced at the word home. She thought of her home with Peter.

"How about some tennis and a swim?" continued Dorothy. "Can you make it by two? And—you haven't asked me about Bermuda; and were you surprised when we stayed so long?"

"No, I wasn't surprised, Dot; but I know you must have had a wonderful time!"

"Tell you about it when I see you! At two then—"

"Oh, I don't know, Dot," began Gabrielle, then seeing her mother's face, she added, "all right—at two."

"Bring a dress of some sort—we may stay for the dinner dance," went on Dorothy. "Will Peter work tonight?"

"All right; I'll see you at two, Dot," replied Gabrielle evasively.

Later, in peach linen, armed with a tennis racket and an overnight bag containing bathing togs and a semi-formal chiffon evening frock, she got in her car, waved goodbye to her mother who stood on the veranda, and sped off down the avenue.

She was sitting on the imitation beach when the others arrived. Dorothy, Tony, Bob; and there were others, numbering a dozen in all. They hailed her merrily, some disappearing into the bath houses, and others taking their tennis rackets and making off toward the courts.

"Couldn't Peter make it?" asked Dorothy, when the greetings were over.

"Hardly," replied Gabrielle, her lips smiling but not her eyes. "You see—he's in New York."

They all showed great surprise at this information. Tony dropped down by her side; he wore shorts, a sport shirt, and very smart tennis shoes. Dorothy held her swimming bag tightly all at once as if it were entirely too heavy for her. Bob remained coolly aloof, staring at her through a blue haze of cigarette smoke.

Dorothy spoke: "What in the world's he doing there, Gaby?"

"He's now with the Blue-Gay Boys, and will be their pianist and soloist," announced Gabrielle solemnly.

"Swell!" ejaculated Tony, grinning.

"I should say," murmured Bob, obviously being polite.

Dorothy pursued relentlessly: "Why didn't you go with him?"

"Because," said Gabrielle slowly, "I'm getting a divorce right away." She had suddenly decided against subterfuge; best tell the truth and have done with it.

"Oh no, Gaby!" This from Tony in a tone which bespoke his honest hurt at hearing this revelation.

"Well—" said Dorothy flatly, "I knew it never would last."

Gabrielle asked quickly, "How did you know?"

"I'll tell you some time, privately," replied Dorothy enigmatically. "Let's swim!"

The swim was as delightful as the weather was intolerably hot. Later they played a few sets of tennis, then went for another swim. It was Bob who persuaded Gabrielle to stay for the dinner dance, after she had decided she'd rather go home.

"Why not?" he inquired lazily. "No use going home to mope!"

"Why not, indeed," said Dorothy, her black brows elevated. "Might as well start being a merry widow now, as later."

"Why not stay, Gaby?" repeated Tony. He grinned at her from his huge basket chair on the flagged veranda of the clubhouse.

"Please stay, Gaby," urged Bob in his low gruff voice. "We'll dance by moonlight tonight, and even if you're not in love with me, you can pretend you are! Why not?"

"Why not!" cried Gabrielle suddenly.

She was determined to be gay; she would brood no more over Peter! He had gone off readily enough without her, and was probably having a grand time, with beautiful girls making over him this very minute!

And so she had stayed. She had danced in the moonlight with Bob, worn her pale green and white chiffon, which gave her hair and eyes a pronounced golden look, and had flirted outrageously with every male who danced with her; and there were many.

Bob gave his car to a young man who hadn't one of his own, and rode back to town in Gabrielle's coupe. Taking her to the veranda, after they had put her car up, he said quietly:

"I hope you will let me see a lot of you now, Gaby. You know how I feel about you—"

"Please, Bob," begged Gabrielle. "Sorry," he murmured. "Some other time, maybe."

"Maybe. Good night, Bob."

There followed days and days of merrymaking with the gay young crowd she had grown up with. Parties galore during the daytime hours, and numerous shopping trips with her mother in the city. Her closets were now bulging with lovely new frocks, wraps and sports costumes.

When anything was happening of importance she was invariably paired off with Bob. Gabrielle had liked Bob always, and had enjoyed going around with him too, until Peter had come on the scene. Now she found him a friend indeed, for he squired her around, helped her enjoy the swimming, tennis, dancing. And, what made him so invaluable, he did seem to respect her present position.

That Bob had been in love with her since their early school days, she knew. She had never more than liked him. And it was too bad too, she thought, when he would have made such a fine husband, so pleasing to her parents, with his background, his wealth, his splendid health, if not good looks.

The hot summer days were coming to an end quickly now, and she watched the others in her set, with the exception of Dorothy, prepare for going away to college. There was no envy in her heart. She supposed she might go too, if she cared to.

Gabrielle was play-acting most of the time now. With her mother and father she appeared light-hearted, young, unburdened; with the crowd she went around with she assumed an air of sophistication which she was far from feeling.

"Violet," she asked seriously, one morning when she watched the fat colored woman stir up batter for waffles, "what will you take to teach me to cook?"

Violet giggled like a young thing: "Laws a-me, Miss Gabrielle, what for you-all want to cook for?"

"Because, Violet, I am terribly ignorant for a girl going on 20 years old. I should learn to cook, even though I never do use the art."

"Burn your fingers, that's what you-all would do," cackled Violet, folding in the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs carefully.

"Well, maybe so, but some of these days I want you to teach me," Gabrielle insisted.

IN THE ARMY NOW! WHY AND HOW

By S. T. Williamson

I warned you yesterday that you will likely have company this summer on your vacation motor tours; the gasoline burning United States Army will be on the roads in battle maneuvers. There should be room for all on the highways, but in some cases only if we civilian motorists employ both patience and caution, and remember what road manners we expect of the other fellows and seldom show ourselves.

If you plan a long motor trip and don't wish to be held up along the way, I advise you to consult some national automobile club or the map service department of an oil company before you lay out your route. Give these route experts your itinerary and the dates of your tour. Then they can tell you whether you will be in Army maneuver territory and they can possibly mark detours for you on your road map.

If you have to leave on a sudden trip without time to get this information, inquire of State police along your route what traffic conditions are. Whatever your precautions, you may run into Army convoys. Don't lie down on your horn for them to get out of the way; the Army is going places, too. And you might as well learn now the Army's simplest driving signals. If you know them, and use them yourself, you may not bail up traffic.

When the driver of an Army car or truck ahead of you holds on his left arm horizontally, it means, "I am making a left turn. If his arm is out 45 degrees above horizontal, it means, "I'm making a right turn." An arm out 45 degrees below horizontal means "Slow down" or "Stop." And when the soldier driver sticks out his arm and moves his hand in circles he's taking the trouble to tell you "All clear ahead; pass by." And here comes the mail.

Mrs. D. M. Montclair, N. C. When an officer is ordered from one station to another how much notice is given?

According to a recent War Department announcement at least one month if possible.

E. I. B., New Orleans, La. Have you seen gold chevrons on the cuffs of some soldiers. What do they mean?

A gold chevron on the right sleeve indicates that its wearer was wounded in action. Gold chevrons on the cuff of the sleeve are Army service stripes. Each chevron indicates six months overseas service.

4 Boys Volunteer For Army Training

Two Dallam county boys—Burgess and J. W. Allen White left this week for Fort Bliss for their year's training under the select service program, the county board has announced.

Two more—B. F. Eads, Jr., Wilburn D. Cash—have been chosen for the June 12 call, the board says. All four of the boys are veterans.

May 1941 Wettest Month Dalhart Weather History

May 1941 is now the wettest month in all the 34 years of recorded Dalhart weather history, U. S. field station, four miles west of town, said this morning.

The .88 of an inch last night added the month's total to 9.09. June 1932 had held the record with 8.74 inches.

The last night's rain there had been 8.21 inches of moisture in the month, making it the wettest in history. The record had been held by May 1914 with 7.29 of rain.

Total rainfall since Jan. 1 has been 14.59 inches, which is more than the annual rainfall for each of the past eight years—which from 1933 to 1940 inclusive.

Highest annual rainfall in eight years was in 1937 with 14.44 inches. In 1938 it was 14.04, and in 1939 it was 14.44 inches.

Average annual rainfall, based on 34-year record, is 17.27. The electrical storm accompanied the rain in Dalhart and in the area between Liberal and Romeo, wires leading into the area of Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Powell destroyed by a lightning bolt. Dr. Powell was reading a floor lamp when he felt a sting in his arm and the lamp was plunged in darkness.

Dr. Powell was standing nearby in the bathroom door. She was looking at the bathroom, melting part of the glass and shattering the glass. She then leaped to the kitchen and apparently followed the storm to the ground, Dr. Powell cars could not get around them. W. H. Wadkins, SCS employee, this morning said Rita Blanca lake got four inches of water. It has been dropping four inches per day, but this morning stood at 40 feet, the same level as yesterday morning.

C. C. Gibson, emergency crop loan supervisor who spent last night in Stratford, said about an inch and a half of rain fell there. Coldwater draw, two or three miles west of Stratford, was still running three to four feet deep at 10:15 this morning, he said.

The unpaved portions of U. S. 54, both west from Dalhart to the New Mexico line, and between Stratford and Texhoma, are passable today. The westbound Santa Fe Trailways bus, due in Dalhart this morning at 4:00, arrived about 11:00. It had been stymied between Stratford and Texhoma. It wasn't stuck, but some vehicles ahead of it were, and it couldn't get around them.

The Rock Island said east of Mineola, Kan., light showers fell. From Mineola west to Liberal, and from Liberal on west through Dalhart and to Romero, the fall was estimated at one inch. A similar fall was recorded between Stinnett and Stanford. Amarillo had .83 of an inch.

Trains on both the Rock Island and Denver were on time. The rain last night started in the Roswell, N. M., area and moved northeastward, reaching as far as Spearman.

6 Per Cent Compound Interest Can Be Full Salvation Of U. S. A.

By ROGER BABSON

Babson Park, Mass., May 29.—While the newspapers are filled with war news and it looks as if the world might go to smash, it is well to remember a few fundamentals: God is still reigning in His heavens; the trees are budding as they have every spring; and compound interest is going on just the same every day, including Sundays and holidays!

Rockefeller and Edison
When I graduated from college I went to work for a Boston banking house at $6 per week. I was fairly contented until I read a story of how John D. Rockefeller, Sr., got his great wealth. Said he: "When I was working at $6 a week, I learned that if I could save $100, the interest on this amount at 6 per cent would give me as much as I was earning in one week; that when I could save $400, the interest would give me as much as I could earn in a month. I, therefore, devoted all my energy to saving and getting 6 per cent compound interest."

During the last talk that I had with Thomas A. Edison, I asked who he considered his equal as a great inventor. Rising from his couch and shaking his shaggy white head, he replied: "Babson, I guess the world's greatest inventor was the chap who invented 6 per cent compound interest!" My father at Gloucester, Mass., used to say to me: "The wheel of fortune continually revolves. The great majority get on at the top and fall at the bottom; a few have the courage to get on at the bottom and get off at the top; but those who get on the wheel and stay on through prosperity and depression, depending upon 6 per cent compound interest, are sure to be successful."

What Statistics Show

The saving of $1 per year, paid at the beginning of each year, will increase at compound interest to over $150 in 40 years. With this simple rule one can quickly figure that saving $1 a week under these conditions will amount to almost $7800 in 40 years. If this dollar a week is increased to $6 a week, the sum jumps to nearly $50,000! Is there a single reader of this column who cannot save $6 a week?

With these figures staring us in the face, why should we clamor for pensions, bonuses, and Government Social Security? Compound interest treats everyone alike, rich and poor, black and white, young and old. It is one of the basic principles of democracy. Are we not making a mistake in forgetting compound interest and jumping to false gods of which we never heard ten years ago?

Getting Six Per Cent Interest

Some readers will reply: "Yes, this is all right in theory, but how can we get six per cent interest?" It is true that most banks in their savings department pay only from 1 to 2 per cent, while U. S. Government Baby bonds pay only about 3 per cent and Federal Building and Loan Associations are paying only about 4 per cent. Let me tell you, however, that the soundest corporations in the country have earned an average of over 6 per cent during this entire century. They today are earning very much more than 6 per cent on the price you would need to pay for becoming a part owner in their business. Take this clipping to your local banker and he will give you a list of such companies.

Without doubt, the New York Stock Exchange abused its power and is entitled to much of the severe punishment which it has received. These sins, however, have caused people to forget the blessings of the Stock Exchange and to miss the great opportunities which it often offers. In saying this, I

H. C. Hudson Has Fine Feed Crop

"I've got the finest feed crop I ever had in my life," declared H. C. Hudson this morning.

He is farming about three and a half miles east of Dalhart and has 150 acres of barley that is everything that barley should be. Mr. Hudson also has considerable wheat that is looking fine. It stands between a man's knee and hip and is not yet headed out. It ought to make a dandy yield.

Hudson last night got a quarter to a third of an inch of rain, while Dalhart got about .88 of an inch, according to the U. S. field station. "But that was plenty for right now," he said. "Even yesterday, on the most sandy soil I have, dirt keep sticking to the plow."

A few days ago when Dalhart was getting a little over an inch of rain three and a half inches fell on Hudson's place.

have no thought of quotations; they may go up or they may go down. I have in mind the opportunity which readers have to buy an interest in the buildings, machinery, and business possibilities of certain necessary, growing, and profitable corporations.

Some Simple Rules

In selecting what to buy in order to get 6 per cent compound interest with safety, your banker should first seek safety with a possibility for profits. NET losses can be eliminated only by making certain profits in order to offset certain inevitable losses. This requires wide diversification. Purchase securities of those companies selling under their asset values. This should give you some advantage in case of future anti-capitalistic legislation. Invest in first liens or stock issues not preceded by bonds or embarrassing preferred issues; that is, invest in companies which cannot be "busted" during any post-war depression.

Buy stocks which are more or less "inflation proof" such as certain companies rich in natural resources of oil, salt, sulphur, nickel, timber, etc. I further prefer securities of companies which have dealt for some years with organized labor and would not now be upset by CIO domination. And, of course, invest in growing industries rather than in declining industries.

Have An Investment Program

The safest way of getting 6 per cent compound interest is to have a definite investment program and be willing to pay someone to help you develop it and stick to it. Do not bother about quotations. Visualize the physical plant, the net assets, and the earning power of the company in which you invest and forget stock market quotations. If you owned the whole of a business, these are the only factors which you would consider. You would not care as to what the neighbors would be bidding for your stock.

It, of course, is vitally important for you to WATCH these factors of plant, net assets, and earning capacity in the large corporation of which you are a stockholder as well as for a little company of your own. This, however, is something which you can do by the reports published in the press and elsewhere. If you will only make up your mind to lay up a certain sum each week, however small, and secure 6 per cent compound interest by observing the above few simple rules, your fortune is assured.

Try newspaper advertising first.

Fort Davis, Tex. (UP) — Gabriel Salcedo killed a doe during the hunting season, but State Game Warden Tom Redford made no arrest. The deer had horns. Salcedo bagged the animal and found it to be a doe with 10-pointed horns, so Redford termed it an "honest mistake".

Dairying Is Big Texas Industry

Texas dairying, since the War, has become a $27,000,000 industry, according to B. E. Stiles, chairman of the Texas Dairymen's Month committee.

June is National Dairy Month. Stallones said, and Texas will serve it.

It was organized, he said, to the consuming public's attention to the economy and high food values of milk and milk products.

Dairying, until after the War, was on a local basis in Texas. But by 1939 the industry made tremendous strides. The census reflected that in 1939 products such as cheese, ice cream, evaporated milk and creamery butter totalled more than $27,000,000.

Forty-Two Tourney Will Aid Kid Feeding Project

Dalhart's early summer forty-two tournament, for both men and women, will open tomorrow night at 8:00 in the Cooperative Hall. C. B. Cox and Claude Covington, co-chairmen of arrangements, reminded today.

Covington and Cox last night started the advance sale of entry tickets, which are 50 cents each. Persons, who do not have their tickets by tomorrow night, can come right ahead to the tournament and get them on arrival.

The tournament, the co-chairmen said, is sponsored by Jake Poirot's Boy Scout troop. It will get 30 per cent of the proceeds. However, a full half of the total proceeds will go into the government-sponsored program to feed 250 Dalhart children who otherwise will be seriously under-nourished this summer.

Twenty per cent will be set aside for expenses, and any of that not used will go to the children's program.

Baseball Practice To Continue Today

Since the Dalhart Baseball club's new diamond, on the Legion home-site at the south end of Denver Ave., drains well, the chances are the scheduled practice at 5:30 this afternoon can be held, provided no more rain falls. Manager Joe Bass said this morning.

The club started practice Tuesday, after being stymied for three weeks by frequent and heavy rains that kept the old diamond mired down. Last night another .88 of an inch of rain fell here.

Bass hopes to test his crew against the Beckner Brotherhood at Clayton Sunday afternoon, probably at 2:30. He is still planning to use an out-of-town pitcher this summer, but has not perfected all the arrangements.

Softball Meeting Tomorrow Night

Decision on whether or not Dalhart will have a softball program this summer probably will be reached tomorrow night at 8:00 in the meeting called for the county court room.

For that reason it is extremely important that everyone interested in softball, as a player or as a spectator, attend, said President L. B. Bailey of the Dalhart Softball League.

New Favorite In National Open

Fort Worth, May 29.—Because of his smashing triumph in the Goodall Round Robin in New York last weekend, Paul Runyan, the little veteran from Arkansas, has moved into the front rank of the favorites for the National Open Golf tournament to be played over Colonial club in Fort Worth June 5-7.

Runyan, nicknamed "Little Poison" and rated an "outsider" after three years of only fair success, has now been moved up even with Lawson Little and Byron Nelson on the dope sheets.

Runyan, about the size of Ben Hogan, was born in 1908 at Hot Springs. He has been playing in the big-time since 1930. He won the National PGA in 1934; and in 1938 won both the National PGA

VFW Post Gives Full Support To Feeding Program

The XIT post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, meeting last night, discussed in detail the proposed program to furnish at least one hot balanced meal daily this summer to 250 children in the Dalhart independent school district who otherwise will be seriously undernourished.

The members voted to give most of the funds from the annual VFW dance tomorrow night to the feeding fund. The dance will be in the Arrowhead Cafe crystal ballroom at Texline tomorrow night. Billy Newman and his orchestra of Amarillo will play.

Reports were made on the recent post audit, and on the district VFW meeting in Amarillo.

Governor's Veto Overridden Today

Austin. — The Texas Senate today joined the House in overriding Gov. O'Daniel's veto of a bill that he said would unjustly reduce unemployment compensation benefits to jobless seasonal workers. The House overrode the veto yesterday with 90 votes—exactly the two-thirds needed.

The Senate, but not the House, yesterday overrode the veto of a bill that would make the state auditor appointive by a joint legislative committee instead of the governor.

BRITISH LOSING—

A new British column, it was revealed today, has pushed out of Basra, in Iraq, and is moving up the Euphrates. This column, with the one west of Bagdad, are starting a giant pincer movement against the pro-Axis forces in the Iraqi capital.

England revealed today that 100 German officers and men had been and the Argentina Open.

Since then his major victories have been few and scattered till last weekend. He played in the Goodall Round Robin against 14 of the nation's topflight professionals and won 26 more holes than he lost. He won the trophy, he is shown holding above, and $1,000 cash.

rescued from the Nazi battleship Bismarck, and made war prisoners. The Germans, on the other hand, reportedly rescued only three Englishmen off the battle cruiser Hood which the Bismarck sank last Saturday.

London also disclosed that one of the cruisers that helped sink the Bismarck has been sunk by Nazi warplanes. Three other cruisers and four destroyers have been sunk in the Crete battle.

Foreign Minister Anthony Eden today enunciated British war aims. He said they are to establish the four freedoms that President Roosevelt has said the world should have: Freedom of speech and religion, and freedom from want and fear. The fifth aim, he said, is to insure that Germany can never again threaten the peace of the world.

Congress today sent to the White House the bill that will empower the President to requisition and use foreign ships in the U. S. harbors. There are now 84 such vessels in U. S. ports. Some of them are already in protective custody.

The War Department revealed today that U. S. Army air corps centers and eight civilian schools will undertake to train 8000 RAF pilots, bombers, fighters, and navigators in the coming year.

Five thousand will be trained as fighters and navigators under American methods. Three thousand will be trained as bombers and pilots under RAF methods. Probably another 1000 will be trained as air navigators. Civilian schools will give the basic air corps centers. The first classes will open June 7, and thereafter.

Mrs. Glenn Sims, El Paso, arrived in Dalhart for a visit to relatives and friends.

The AFL announced its defense of the U. S. Senate today.

If elected, he would introduce into the Senate a bill to prevent strikes similar to the one in the Texas Legislature by the rise of public opinion. He pointed out that boys, drafted into the army, are having to train in the U. S. because of the war.

He said that, and of the fact that the U. S. has no tanks, and that they get them to defend the U. S. against the Axis.
