Anniversary of Sultana Disaster.

Knoxville, Tenn., April 27.—The society of the survivors of the famous Sultana disaster held its annual reunion today in the town of Prospect, a short distance from this city. The day was the forty-fifth anniversary of the burning and sinking of the steamboat on the Mississippi and the handful of survivors who miraculously escaped death met to exchange reminiscences of the disaster, which was one of the most appalling in the nation's history.

The steamboat Sultana was built at Cincinnati in 1863 and was a regular packet running between New Orleans and St. Louis. During the Civil War the boat did considerable business for the government of the United States in transporting troops along the Mississippi river.

On the ill-fated trip that marked the end of her career the Sultana left New Orleans April 21, 1865, and arrived at Vicksburg April 24, remaining there twenty-six hours. At Vicksburg 1,965 soldiers, or about two full regiments, and thirty-five federal officers who had been paroled, having been in the Confederate prisons at Andersonville, Macon and Cahaba, and also two companies of infantry, were taken on board, making more than 2,200 persons on the boat. The homes of the soldiers were in Tennessee, Kentucky, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, Wisconsin, Illinois, Nebraska, Kansas and West Virginia, the larger number being from Tennessee and Kentucky.

Every available foot of space was occupied by the soldiers and the regular passengers; in fact, the boat was greatly overcrowded. On the morning of April 26 the Sultana reached Memphis, where a large quantity of sugar was unloaded. Early on the morning of the next day the boat left Memphis. About four o'clock that afternoon occurred the terrific explosion which destroyed the boat and sent hundreds of souls to death. The explosion occurred near Iken and Chickasaw island, one of the four boilers of the boat bursting. The vessel caught fire and it was at once evident that the vessel was doomed and with it the majority of those on board.

Hundreds of the passengers jumped from the burning boat to the water, only to be swallowed by the current. A few were saved by clinging to pieces of the wreckage. Others managed to swim for miles only to perish from exhaustion.

Seven boats were hurriedly sent from Memphis to pick up all the survivors who could be found. Some of these were taken to Memphis, others to St. Louis and Cairo. They were placed in military hospitals, where they remained until they had recovered from their injuries. But nearly all of the 2,200 persons on board the ill-fated craft had perished.

Tribute to the Dead.

Mobile, Ala., April 27.—For an hour today the business of the great Confederate reunion in progress here was suspended while eloquent tribute was paid to the memory of the comrades who have passed away during the year. During the process of the memorial services the flags on the convention auditorium were draped and music of an appropriate character was rendered by the band and chorus. The memorial oration was delivered by Captain W. H. Harrison of Atlanta. In addition to the veterans, the participants in the exercises included the ladies of the Confederate Southern Memorial Association and the membership of other auxiliary bodies.

The harvest of death among those whose names were prominently associated with the Confederate cause was unusually large during the past twelve months. Included among those who passed away were Mrs. J. Addison Hayes, daughter of President Jefferson Davis; Maj. Gen. Robert Lowery, commander of the Mississippi division; Maj. Gen. Paul A. Fuss, former commander of the Northwest division; Maj. Gen. Zimmerman Davis, commander of the South Carolina division; Col. J. B. Cowan, M. D., assistant surgeon general of the United Confederate Veterans, and Brig. Gen. E. G. Willett, assistant quartermaster-general of the organization.

Fuel Economy Contest.

Chicago, Ill., April 27.—The Chicago Motor Club has completed all arrangements for its fuel economy contest tomorrow. The contesting automobiles are to go over a course of about 200 miles, going through Lake Geneva, by way of Half Day and returning to Chicago through Algonquin and Elgin. The event will be the first fuel economy test held in Chicago since the one conducted three years ago to Valparaiso, Ind., and return.

Colonial Dames in Session.

Washington, D. C., April 27.—The National Society of Colonial Dames met in biennial council here today. About 150 delegates were present, principally from the thirteen colonial states. Mrs. William Ruffin Cox of Virginia, the president of the society, presided. The reports of Mrs. Alexander J. Cassatt, the treasurer, and Mrs. Joseph Bucker Lamar, the secretary, were read. The sessions, which are private, will be continued during the next three days. According to statements made by some of the delegates, a lively discussion is likely to be precipitated by the introduction of a resolution to amend the constitution so as to give the non-colonial states the same representation in the national conventions as the thirteen original states. According to the existing arrangement, the thirteen colonial states are entitled to five delegates each, while the twenty-two other states represented in the society's membership are entitled to but one delegate each.

Special Salvation Army Meetings.

Mrs. Brigadier Stilwell, who will visit Wichita Falls on Thursday and Friday, the 28th and 29th, requests me to extend a special invitation to the ladies of the city to meet her at the First Methodist Church on Friday, at 3 p. m., as she wishes to have a heart to heart talk with them on one of the most important questions that confronts the mothers of girls today—the white slave traffic.

Thursday night she will speak in the church of the slum and rescue work of the Army, and Friday night in our hall. The subject will be "Twenty-eight Years a Salvationist."

All are welcomed to the night meetings. A. J. GASSAWAY, Adjutant.

Culberson for Re-election.
Washington, D. C., April 25.—The announcement of Senator Charles A. Culberson for re-election is authorized. Being advised by his physicians that he will within a short time be completely restored to his usual health, Senator Culberson today instructed his secretary to comply with the formalities of the election law with reference to placing his name on the official ballot for the July primaries.

AN ENTERPRISING EDITOR.

Editor Johnson of the Hall County Herald has constructed an addition to his newspaper building in which a moving picture show will be established. This shows how versatile the Panhandle newspaper men are. Here is Johnson running a successful weekly paper, he is also a successful business man, is a candidate for the Texas senate, and now he will have, in addition to these enterprises, a moving picture show to while away his idle moments. You can't keep a good man down, even if he does live in Memphis.—Quannah Observer.

There is a reason for all things, and doubtless Editor Johnson has reasons for throwing so many irons in the fire. In all probability he is an editor because he started that way and never quit; became a business man to make a living; is a candidate for the legislature just to be doing something different and will be a moving picture man just for the amusement.—San Angelo Standard.

The city council of Morrison, Ill., has passed an ordinance to the effect that no saloon keeper shall throw an intoxicated person from his saloon into the street, further providing that it shall be the duty of the saloon keeper or his bartender to take care of the intoxicated person until he is perfectly sober, providing him with a place to sleep. That appears to be fair. The fellow that sells the stuff that makes the customer drunk ought to be willing to relieve the customer's wife of responsibility for him until he gets sober.

Governor Campbell has issued a proclamation naming May 8th, as "Mother's Day," with the request or suggestion that at 11 a. m. on that day every wheel of commerce stand still for five minutes, and that all who are unable to attend places of worship at that hour bow their heads in worshipful reverence and memory and hearts filled with love, and wear a white flower, emblematic of the virtues of all mothers.

The Fort Worth Record reminds the ladies that the census enumerator does not mean anything personal when they ask: "Is your husband blind?" That is simply one of the questions he must ask.

Has the census man called upon you yet? Don't let him overlook anybody.

The Good Listener.

Philadelphia North American.
Next in importance to the ability to talk well is that of listening. So many of my readers write to me in self-deprecation because the powers of conversation seem to be denied to them that it is well to offer a suggestion for the silent.

There is an art in being able to listen well. It is much more easily acquired than that of conversing, and will be a valuable asset on many occasions.

If you have ever been in a group of men and women, you will recall that to a few the conversational ball has been tossed, and the others are outsiders, so to speak.

There are sometimes very good reasons for this. Occasionally a selfish talker will not let any one else speak; but more frequently there is a recognition on the part of the silent ones of their inability to hold their own.

But there is always a welcome place for a good listener. If you are in this class, there are a few things to keep in mind. First, you must force yourself to pay strict attention to the talkers. Pin your thoughts to the conversation; do not let your wits go wandering into the why and wherefore of the talker's dress or business.

Be ready to answer any query that might be made, for, of course a good talker will try to engage his listeners in an exchange of ideas. Then be ready to rescue the topic from an inglorious death due to the interrupting person. "You were saying that you preferred," etc., is often a very little thing to bring out a story that might never be heard. Every woman can do that much. A casual, relevant remark is within any one's power, and the good listener with this ability is just as necessary to social gatherings as a good talker.

Good listeners rarely have things to regret—and that is much in the favor of silence. Then, too, by listening attentively there will be gained a certain knowledge and valuable information that may in time result in an easy, self-possession ability to talk well. Indeed, there are more good listeners needed in the social gatherings of our little world.

This is a plea for the useful art of keeping the lips closed while others speak. For the silent ones there should never be despair.

WITH THE FIGHTERS.

Philadelphia Jack O'Brien and Mike Schreck will clash in Cincinnati next month.

THE

"THIS IS MY 49th BIRTHDAY."

Archelaus E. Turner.
Archelaus E. Turner, president of Hastings College, Hastings, Neb., was born in Greenville, Illinois, April 27, 1861, and was educated at Lincoln College, graduating in 1881. For a number of years after leaving college he taught school and was also prominent in Christian Endeavor affairs, being president of the Illinois branch of the society. From 1898 to 1900 he was president of Lincoln College and from 1900 to 1904 he occupied the presidency of Waynesburg (Pa.) College. In the latter year he accepted the presidency of Trinity University, Waxahatchie, Texas, from which institution he was called to the head of Hastings College.

Brussels to Entertain Roosevelt.
Brussels, April 27.—A program of entertainment has been prepared that is calculated to keep Colonel Roosevelt busy during almost every hour of his stay in the Belgian capital. The initial feature is to be a dinner given by Minister Bryan at the American legation tomorrow night. King Albert is to entertain the former president of the United States at a luncheon Friday, following which there will be a drive to the Laeken palace to view the art treasures collected by the late King Leopold. Colonel Roosevelt will be entertained at dinner by Foreign Minister Davignon and he will also have an interview with M. Renken, minister of the colonies, regarding the situation in the Belgian Congo.

In Memory of General Grant.
Galena, Ill., April 27.—In accordance with the custom of many years, the people of Galena today held their annual observance of the birthday anniversary of their illustrious townsman, General Ulysses S. Grant. Large delegations from Chicago and other places attended the memorial exercises in Grant Park, where stands the fine monument to the warrior, presented to the city by H. H. Kohlsaat, the Chicago newspaper publisher, twenty years ago. The exercises were carried out under the auspices of the Grant Birthday Association of Galena. Colonel James Hamilton Lewis delivered the oration of the day.

Publishers to Discuss Problems.
New York, April 27.—The annual convention of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association began in this city today, with headquarters at the Waldorf-Astoria. More than the usual number of important questions are scheduled for consideration at the convention this year. The free publicity nuisance, the paper situation, second-class postage, labor, advertising, circulation and mechanical improvements for getting out the modern daily newspaper are among the matters to receive attention. The convention will be brought to a close Friday with the annual election of officers.

New Building for Queen's University.
Kingston, Ont., April 27.—Many alumni of Queen's University returned to their alma mater today to attend the celebration of Convocation Day, one of the features of which was the laying of the cornerstone for the new chemistry building. Sir James P. Whitney, Premier of Ontario, officiated at the cornerstone laying. At the convocation exercises the honorary degree of L. L. D. was conferred upon Prof. T. R. Glover of Cambridge, England, a graduate of Queen's, and Rev. T. A. Love of Quebec, a former Latin professor in the university.

Portland's Biggest Dog Show.
Portland, Ore., April 27.—The aristocrats of the canine kingdom, several hundred of them in all, and representing all the important breeds, are in the hands of the judges at the Portland Kennel Club's annual bench show, which opened today. It is one of the most extensive exhibitions of dogs ever shown on the Pacific coast. There are dogs from all over the Northwest and from Canada, many of them prize winners. The show will continue through the remainder of the week.

Florida Citrus Exchange.
Tampa, Fla., April 27.—A good attendance marked the opening of the annual convention of the Florida Citrus Exchange at the Tampa Bay Casino today. The convention will spend two days in the discussion of various matters relating to the growing, packing and marketing of citrus fruits.

The Old Reliable

We thank the people of Wichita Falls for their liberal patronage for the past several seasons and wish to let them know that we appreciate same. In this connection we wish to announce that our delivery wagons will be run to every portion of the city, both resident and business districts, and the more patrons we have to serve the better we like it. There need be no fear of not getting good service by giving us your orders, for we expect to take care of our patrons at all events, even if we are forced to double our force of teams and men. Again thanking you for your patronage, and soliciting a continuance of same, we beg to remain,

FINAL APPEAL ON CENSUS MATTER

CITIZENS URGED TO BE VERY SURE THAT THEY ARE INCLUDED IN COUNT.

WORK CLOSES SATURDAY

Wichita Falls' Population Will Be Determined Before End of This Week.

The following open letter was issued today by President Huff of the Chamber of Commerce:

Ho the Citizens of Wichita Falls:
The United States census is now being taken, and upon the result depends the official figures of our population for the next ten years. Every person living in this city is deeply concerned in having the enumeration full and complete. The census must be finished by Saturday night, April 30th, and it is very desirable that the name of every man, woman and child living in Wichita Falls on that date shall be included in the enumeration. The census takers and their districts are as follows:

P. C. Maricle—beginning at the Wichita River on Lamar, thence south to Eleventh street, thence west to corporation line, including Floral Heights.

Louis B. Jenne—beginning at Adams and Ninth streets; thence southwest on Ninth to Lamar, thence southeast on Lamar to Wichita Valley railroad, thence southwest on Wichita Valley railroad to Broad, thence east to Mississippi, thence north to Waco, thence east to Virginia, thence north to Fort Worth, thence east to Holliday Creek, thence following the meanderings of Holliday Creek north to Barwise, thence west to California, thence north to East Lake, thence northwest following the west bank of East Lake to Ninth street, thence southwest on Ninth to Lamar, the starting point.

Clide Maricle—beginning at the Wichita River on Lamar; thence south to Ninth street; thence east on Ninth street to the corporation limits.

H. T. Canfield—beginning at the corner of Lamar and Eleventh streets; then south to the Wichita Valley railroad, thence west following the railroad and corporation line to R. E. Huff's residence.

W. F. Jourdan, acting as the representative of the Chamber of Commerce, is co-operating with these gentlemen in seeing that no name is omitted from the list.

For the welfare of our city, we earnestly ask that you assist in securing an accurate census. If you have not been counted, please write or telephone P. C. Maricle, telephone 437, or telephone 322, or call up the office of the Chamber of Commerce (telephone 390) and the census enumerator in your district will be notified to call at your residence. If you expect to be absent from home, secure a census blank from Mr. Jourdan and fill it out properly, leaving it at your residence to be given to the enumerator when he calls. Make it your business to see that you and every member of your family are counted and help us to "pull together" for the best interests of Wichita Falls.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE,
R. E. HUFF,
President.

Cotton Men Meet in Boston.
Boston, Mass., April 27.—The eighty-eighth meeting of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers began in the Mechanics' Building today, to continue over tomorrow. The attendance includes many prominent cotton manufacturers of New England and the Southern states. The program provides for numerous papers and discussions and technical subjects pertaining to the cotton manufacture, especially on the finishing of goods. At the initial session there were addresses by Governor Draper, who delivered the address of welcome; President Chas. T. Plunkett, who responded for the association, and Dr. R. C. MacLaurin, president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Daughter of Utah Senator Weds.
Washington, D. C., April 27.—President Taft and numerous senators and others high in the official life of the nation attended the wedding this afternoon of Miss Edith Lee Sutherland, daughter of Senator George Sutherland of Utah and Mrs. Sutherland, and A. Robert Elmore of New York. The ceremony was performed at St. Margaret's Episcopal Church, the Rev. Morgan Ashley of New York, officiating. A large reception followed at the Highlands, where the bride's parents reside.

TO Y. M. C. A. MEMBERS.
The first installment of your membership fee, five dollars, is now due and should be paid at once to P. C. Maricle, treasurer, or to any director of the association. 287-41—

DECIDE TO RETIRE.

Two Old Timers on Chicago Roads To Give Way to Younger Men. Chicago, April 26.—To make way for younger men, Joseph Redfield, auditor, secretary and assistant treasurer, and Marshall M. Kirkland, second vice president in charge of accounts of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad company will retire from active service at the end of the week. Both have been actively identified with Chicago's transportation interests from the time when the city was a prairie outpost until its development into the world's greatest railroad center. Mr. Redfield, who is 84 years old, began with the Chicago and Northwestern railroad in 1849. Mr. Kirkland entered the service in 1856, at the age of 14. Mr. Kirkland's position will be filled by Lewis A. Robinson, with the title of comptroller. Mr. Robinson has held a similar position with the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha road.
