Freight Train Burglary Ring Thought Broken

ABOUT THIS AND THAT

By W. H. MAYES JR.

Well, Thanksgiving is over, and we have lost to Breckenridge and anyone should have one or two for which they could feel proud. We are thankful that Breckenridge did not defeat the dogs more than they did—it had enough—and everyone should feel thankful that the football season is over, and can abandon the knothole which we have been sitting and can forget for a moment that there is a game called football that is played every day, among them being 25 to 2 defeat of Lubbock by Amplex.

We have so many things to be about today that we fear we not get around to them all, and some of them are more or less personal. For instance we are printing Gus a story yesterday about the first cake our wife and he threatened that if he did not tell the story to the readers of this column, if any, he would tell the world in his outburst. But we are going to pass back on the grounds that it is under the head of nothing very about. Gus may not feel very about it though, because he is eating one slice of the cake went home and to bed in the middle of the afternoon. We do know if he is out again as yet.

Langer is to start a Red Cross drive and has a mark to shoot at is a real mark. Eastland has completed a similar drive and collected a total of $363 in cash. Then the day the Red Cross workers over they turned right and began doing something for the Red Cross and got in $100 more.

Our Red Cross drive is to start on December 7, and they are now making a showing as Eastland's workers are going to be up to their eyes and ears in real work. When we told the chairman of the Eastland campaign he just grunted in a way that seemed to say "That's a money, but we can do as we found that writing two lines a day took up so much of the time that it was hard to get to both of them and drop this one temporarily in favor of the one on sports, we had but a compliment, and that was from H. B. Tanner, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who stopped by to see us twice asking us once or twice asking us if we were going to get busy again. Maybe the doctor told this column because the member of commerce of the two got more publicity through than they did through the knothole.

Way, we are glad to get away from sports for a while, especially if we are seeing the game Thursday, if we can just get enough to be about until we get lined up with staff again in a few days.

Chief G. A. Murphy came with his part of the light program for Main street, and the lights installed and all centered in time for Thanksgiving. He did not do all the work, he had charge of the details, and he got it finished on time.

From now until within a week of Christmas the lights are to be burned until sometime and midnight, we have not been late enough to find out the extent, and from then on will be all night.

Several additional strings were added this year and the street is a real Christmas air.

PLIGHT OF INDIANS IS SERIOUS

GALLUP, N. M., Nov. 27.—The harrowing plight of 500 blanketed Indians, trapped by a blizzard in western New Mexico with little food or fuel became increasingly serious today. The U. S. weather bureau predicted more snow and lower temperatures for the region for tonight.

Desperate attempts were being made to reach the snowbound Zunis and Navajos who became marooned atop the continental divide while harvesting the pinon nuts that grow there.

Tucker, on "Christian Endeavor Character Building," by Mr. Gordon Weir, on "Life Service."

An address will be made by Mr. Harold F. Lovitt, State Secretary Texas C. E. Union, and the consecration service will be held by Rev. H. G. Markley.

It is hoped that a large delegation of Ranger young people will attend this meeting, as it is held principally for the youth of the Presbytery of Abilene. The more mature are invited as well.

Man Under Arrest Admits He and Brother Robbed Trains

Sheriff Foster and Deputy Woods were called to Olden Thursday morning when it was noted that a quantity of cigarettes and tobacco was being thrown out of a freight car there. The officers found several cases of cigarettes had been thrown off a moving train and these were taken into custody.

When the train reached Cisco a man was taken from it and was placed in jail for investigation. Freight train robberies, which have been so numerous around Cisco, Eastland other points along the Texas & Pacific Railway, were thought solved today when a man who gave his name as W. N. Jeffress was taken into custody at Cisco.

Some of Football's Ups and Downs

The problem was to find Mr. O'Keefe, but Mr. O'Keefe, of Providence University's football team, had vanished into the air—literally—when Catholic University tacklers dived for him in their game at Washington, as this remarkable photo shows. Imagine how that one tackler must have felt when his outstretched arms closed on—nothing!

Change Develops In Gas Situation Over The State

A change has developed in this gas rate agitation over the state. This change was marked by the refusal of the Fort Worth city council to pass a rate reduction ordinance after a survey of the gas company's property in that city, and also by the repeal of several ordinances reducing rates in other cities. These occurrences happened about the time that the gas companies started injunction proceedings in the federal courts and also began the introduction of new ordinances asking higher rates in several towns.

BUILD COOPERATIVES—AND BUILD WELL.

In the September-October issue of the Cooperative Marketing Journal, Robin Hood writes: "By edict of Congress, by decree of the courts, and by statements from the White House, the government stands as a hearty endorser of agricultural cooperation. Every farmers' organization sponsors it. Educational authorities favor it. Commercial, industrial and banking leaders time and again are reiterating their good words for it."

"Psychological and economic conditions were never more favorable for further expansion of the cooperative principle than they are now. Let us take full advantage of the opportunity, not only to build cooperative structures but to build well."

Even if the high authorities cited were not in favor of cooperatives, common sense on the part of the farmer himself should lead to their formation and development. The time is long past when the lone farmer could market his wares on his own hook and get a fair price. He must meet modern conditions with modern tools.

He must learn that he must cooperate in times of prosperity, as well as in times of depression. In short, cooperation must become as much a commonplace in the life of the farm as the plow or the tractor.

There is one phase in Mr. Hood's remarks that will bear accent—"build well." A weak cooperative is as bad as no cooperative at all. Loyalty, real cooperation among individuals, and forceful development are needed to create a cooperative system that will weather the agricultural tides.

WASHINGTON—More people have had to worry about the security of their jobs in the last couple of years than in any previous period and there is a corresponding increase of anxiety here among those politicians whose tenure of office depends on the voters.

The jobs of a president, cabinet members, diplomats and a host of other officials down through hundreds of thousands of postmasters hinge on the ability of this Republican administration to get itself re-elected. In less than a year the 435 representatives and at least 32 senators will also know whether they must join the ranks of the unemployed.

Thus, although the words, actions and votes of members of Congress and other officials may be primarily guided by the urge for job retention, the present employment situation may bring them some scant sympathy which is ordinarily lacking. No one need be carried away by compassion. The point is that these fellows want to hang onto their jobs and salaries in about the same way as the rest of us.

At least half the senators up for reelection next November have something to think about.

Take George McGill of Kansas, a Democrat elected last year by a large majority because many Kansas Republicans were sour on Henry Allen, McGill is billing an unexpected term so he must fight all over again in 1932. Vice President Curtis has been thinking of running against him because it has seemed easy for any strong Republican to beat McGill. One also hears that Kansas Democrats think they can slip the seat, but McGill's position is far from secure.

The famous Jim Davis of Pennsylvania, former secretary of labor, is on the anxious seat. He also is running a two-year term. Jim is a Boss Bill Vane of Philadelphia, who gave him the Republican primary support which won the seat, declares for wet candidates.

Also, Jim made the second senator from Pittsburgh and ancient Pennsylvania custom has always demanded one from Philadelphia.

OTIS GLENN of Illinois can well worry about the Democratic plots that Senator Jim Ham Lewis and Mayor Cermak of Chicago will hatch to unseat him, hearing in mind the huge wet Democratic majority which elected Lewis last year. Wesley Jones of Washington, father of the "five and ten" law, has seen his party in the state go out and now hears that the Republican nomination will be National Committeeman Scott Bullitt, a wet and a formidable foe.

Sam Shortridge of California, he sides wondering whether there will be any Hoover coat-tail to ride in on next year, must build strong fences against Congressman Phil Swing who will oppose him for nomination with the probable support of Hiram Johnson. Also some of the boys at home are trying to smoke Sam out on the wet-dry issue. Bingham of Connecticut, since November, 1930, can't be sure whether his state is Democrat or Republican.

BELKLEY of Ohio, another short-temper and a wet Democrat, is up again next year, although he should keep his normally Republican seat. Ex-Senator Cole Blanton of South Carolina is expected to try to snuff his political enemy, Senator Ellison Smith, in Democratic primaries. Broussard of Louisiana has the enmity of politically long-fingered Governor Senator Huey Long. Fletcher of Florida has done considerable worrying in the past about Congressman Rath Bryan Owen's senatorial ambitions, which may or may not still be flaming.

Among senators not yet reported as seriously threatened are Brookhart of Iowa, Dale of Vermont, Blaine of Wisconsin, Moses of New Hampshire, Wagner of New York, Morrison of North Carolina, Nye of North Dakota, Smoot of Utah, Watson of Indiana, Barkley of Kentucky, Thomas of Idaho, Black of Alabama, Tamm of Maryland, Norbeck of South Dakota and Odlin of Nevada. But they can't tell what may turn up.

Texas Merchants Should Cooperate To Increase Sales

DALLAS, Nov. 20.—Texas merchants should co-operate to increase the sale of Texas-made goods within the state, is the opinion of A. M. Goldstein of Waco, president of the Texas Retail Dry Goods Merchants association, as expressed in an article in the forthcoming issue of the Texas Weekly, the contents of which were made public here today.

"It is a fact that there is much good merchandise produced in Texas which has not yet found a way wide market within the state," says Mr. Goldstein. "I doubt very much that a majority of the merchants of the state realize how much such merchandise of most every kind is being manufactured in the state, and being offered at prices in line with, or even lower than, goods manufactured in other states."

Mr. Goldstein points out that the merchant, of course, is in business to serve his customers, and not the manufacturers of merchandise, and that it is undoubtedly true that the sale of Texas-made goods in Texas that there was a time when most Texas people did not believe it was possible to produce goods of as high quality in Texas as are produced elsewhere.

"That feeling is disappearing," he says, "and there is a growing demand for Texas-made goods. Texas manufacturers are coming more and more to a better understanding of the local market and are turning out goods of quality and price in line with it. Also they are adopting better methods of merchandising their goods, of creating a demand for them. In view of this, they should receive, and I am quite sure they will receive, an increasing degree in the future, the fullest cooperation of the Texas merchants."

Mr. Goldstein declares that by expanding the local market for Texas manufactured products development of manufacturing will be furthered. This is one of the things we should do, he says, in order to make the people of the state less dependent upon export cotton.

"We must do more things for ourselves and for each other here at home," he says, "and less for people on the other side of the ocean. If there is to be a greater life in the Texas merchants who must sell them."

WEEKLY SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

EPISTLE TO PHILEMON

Text: Philemon 4:20. The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Nov. 25, Paul's Letter to Philemon. Philemon 4:20.

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of The Congregationalist
Paul's letter to Philemon is one of the prison epistles. It was written during his imprisonment at Rome. It is notable as the shortest of Paul's epistles. This single-chaptered epistle, however, is notable for the way in which Paul deals with a problem of personal character and the institution of slavery. Paul has taught that the grace of God through the Gospel was available for slave and master alike. Very quickly, apparently, the triumphs of the Gospel were manifest in both free men and slaves.

Life Is Just One Break After Another For Corpus Man

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas.—Life has been just one break after another for J. E. Lloyd—but they're all bad. In fact, he has spent most of the last four years in hospitals recuperating from those same breaks. His first trip to the hospital came four years ago when he was run over by an automobile and one of his legs broken.

Soon after being discharged from the hospital and his leg mended, he started across another street intersection and was struck by another automobile. He was tossed in the air and his other leg and the arm on the same side were broken.

This leg was set and reset as he spent weeks in hospitals. During his recuperation, a nurse took him in a wheel chair to the hospital. Crossing a street, a car missed them only by inches. With the leg almost mended, he slipped and fell recently breaking the injured leg again. But he refuses to go to the hospital this time and is staying at home awaiting what further breaks life may bring him.

CRACKS IN THE DOME

By RAYMOND BROOKS
AUSTIN, Nov. 25.—The San Antonio congressional race next summer may provide the third ring of the other two angles are provided already in the state and national campaigns.

Texas will have its two democratic state conventions of a presidential year, with two distinct sets of issues and of men involved, each campaign sharply affecting the other.

The San Antonio threat of electing a republican congressman for the next two-year term may involve a specific focus upon which the national campaign, under way first, will sharply affect the course of the state-office campaign.

Tuesday's election was merely to fill out the remaining year and a half of the late Congressman H. M. Wurzbach's term. The state has not been restricted to provide for the three additional congressmen, and indications are now it cannot be restricted before the election ballots close next spring. So the congressman will be elected from the entire group of counties, rather than from Bexar county alone and this presages a greater threat of re-igniting" with a republican than if limited to the overwhelming vote of the city of San Antonio in a one-county district.

A state convention to name delegates to the democratic national convention will be held early in the spring. The question whether the Texas delegation is to be instructed for Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, left uninstructed and free to represent the state according to its best judgment, or instructed simply to support a candidate for president acceptable with respect to the state's prohibition attitude, will get much attention before that first convention is held.

Those who have responded to the final appeal of Governor Dan Moody, while he was in office to keep Texas out of the hands of the "radicals of the extreme left or the extreme right," apparently, will favor a middle-ground course of selecting outstanding Texas democrats as national delegates, men and women of dependability, and leave them free to carry the important 46 Texas nominating votes. Extremists of both sides of the prohibition question may likely attempt to force the instruction of delegates for individual campaigning with their views. Leaders and supporters of the Roosevelt movement may likely hold aloof from such a contest.

Middle-ground dry democratic regulars have given notice that a pre-state convention fight will be brought about only by a dripping wet drive of the Raskob type to capture the Texas vote.

When the bridge of casting the Texas 46 nominating votes has been crossed, attention will swing back sharply to the nomination of a governor, lieutenant governor, 150 house members, 15 state senators, 18 congressmen and three congressmen-at-large, and the judges, board members, other state, county and precinct officers.

After the second primary in August, when the nominees have been ascertained, and the campaign for state offices is over, then the democratic party will hold its second state convention, declare the nominees and write the platform upon which the successful candidates have already made their race.

No fear has been held that Texas, which abandoned the Solid South democracy for the first time since reconstruction days, will fall to come back into the fold next year, whether Hoover is the republican nominee or whomever the nominee may be.

The only sensitive spot into which republicans will be able to poke a finger will be the San Antonio congressional district, and it remained barely possible this same isolated republican oasis in the Texas democratic desert may again be of climatic importance in determining congress of the next congress.

What follows is merely what one man thought at the time it was written, and the writer reserves the right to change his mind concerning any subject, without notice, explanation or apology.

I interviewed the mayor this morning but he didn't have much to say for publication. In discussing the legal phases of the gas rate matter, I reminded him that the city charter had a weakness that if corrected would give him the very power he needs.

I says to the mayor, "The city charter should be changed so as to give the mayor the right to declare martial law and call out the militia." He replied, "I wish it had that provision so we might have adequate means of protecting ourselves from oppression," and added, "I don't mind if you quote me on that."

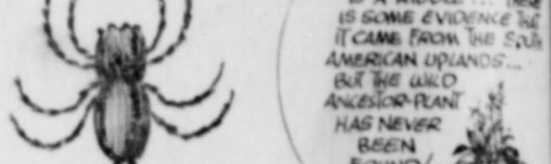

It does look rather odd on the face of it that the state legislature can delegate certain powers to a city government and then the fed-erical court can come in and set these powers aside. The trouble in the matter is that the city doesn't have much money to spend on court costs and attorney fees.

The correct procedure for the establishment of a gas rate is not to pass a law saying that gas will sell for a certain price. The correct procedure in the matter is to select a reputable firm which makes its living by doing appraisals and audits, then let that firm send its representatives here and place the correct value on every piece of pipe and every fitting and meter and pencil and blotter which goes to make up the gas company's local investment. You can argue and talk until you're black in the face and never be able to decide what the gas company's investment amounts to unless you do the work of taking a physical inventory.

Then after you have established the worth of the investment you can easily figure how much money that investment! It's not a simple mathematical problem to say how much to charge for the gas on a cubic feet basis because there are many factors involved. However, it's not impossible to return on this manner that will be fair to both the consumer and the company.

But getting back to football, it's time to start up the hot stove again. The Mavericks managed to stay off the bottom by the narrow margin of a safety against Brownwood yesterday. Breckenridge surprised the whole Oil Belt by taking Ranger to a cleaning. The next step in the matter is to have a little hot stove session between Cisco and Tyler, out whose memory was the Hightower case. It didn't tell the story but wasn't the newspaper.

Basketball is just one corner. It's a fast game guaranteed thrill per evenly matched team. The tide often turns that the crowd forgets they want to see the game through. The referee is more than the players, follow the Mavericks in ball.

BULLDOGS ARE DOWNED 25 TO 0 BY BUCKAROOS

Ranger's Bulldogs finished up the 1931 football season Thanksgiving day at Breckenridge with the most overwhelming defeat of the season, when they lost to the Breckenridge Buckaroos by a score of 25 to 0. Never was the outcome of the game in doubt once the Buckaroos started playing. The first threat of the game was made by the Bulldogs, when they advanced the ball to the Buckaroos four-yard line but were unable to score. This came in the first quarter and for a few minutes it looked as though the Bulldogs might come through with a victory, but this promise was short-lived. The first Buckaroo touchdown came in the early part of the second quarter. Taking the ball on their own 49-yard line, where Stevens had kicked out of bounds, a pass, Pitzer and Hinrichs, made a first down on the Ranger 14-yard line. Pitzer made four yards and McFall gathered in a first down on the four-yard line. On the next play McFall carried the ball over for a touchdown. Hinrichs' attempt to kick goal for the extra point failed. Breckenridge scored again in the second quarter when Stevens kicked to the Breckenridge 40-yard line and he returned to the 27-yard line before he was downed. McFall gained five yards, Estes

Looking Ahead
IF Willie Strubling and Mickey Walker really do meet each other in the same ring, Double Yell will pin Mickey Mouse's ears back, unpin them and then pin them back again. Somebody may beat the Athletics out of the American League pennant next year, but it will not be the White Sox. The University of Illinois football team would beat Ohio State if it were not for a quarterback named Cramer, who calls the Buckeye signals and calls them right. Indianapolis is getting a good pitcher from the Glanis in the person of Joe Heving. The End of Mandell IF Pepper Martin really is tired of fame, let him consider the case of Sammy Mandell, who was paid $23,000 a little more than a year ago for fighting McLarrain, not $125 the other night for meeting Ralph Lenny, and was thrown out of the ring in the bargain. In looking about for hopeful notes regarding the depression it is hard to overlook the fact that the recent P. G. A. championship tournament's gross receipts from tickets and concessions were $25,354.22, which were $3999 above last year's. Evil Omens EVERY other day Matti Jarvinen of Finland, tuning up for the 1932 Olympics at Los Angeles, steps out and sets for himself a new world record with the javelin—which is giving the javelin throwers among our local boys severe cases of jitters. Over in Japan a chap encumbered with the game of Chueki Nambu added two inches to the world record broad jump the other day by leaping 26 feet 3 1/2 inches—and that is no great help to our local athletes' peace of mind, either. Tossing in Erin OVER in Ireland a lad named O'Callaghan has been throwing the hammer 176 feet without really trying, but the dispatches do not state whether or not he hit that at which he was throwing. Why can't Harvard and Princeton meet in a game for the benefit of the unemployed, when Army and Navy can manage to forget their ancient grudge for the sake of sweet charity? The National Hockey League, playing 110 games, grossed around $3,000,000 last year, and while this paragraph is not meant to hint anything, it does seem suggestive of something at that.

OLDEN NEWS

Special Correspondent. OLDEN, Nov. 27.—The open meeting of the Parent-Teacher association of Olden, held Monday night at the Methodist church, was well attended by members and guests. The program was in the form of a radio broadcasting studio. T. H. Stanton made an address touching upon the founding and purposes of the Parent-Teacher association as a national organization. A group of little children sang some numbers, led by Mrs. Olga McCoy, who is director of public school music in the school. Miss Oneita Russell of Eastland gave a delightful reading and favored the crowd with an encore. Miss Olga McCoy sang two numbers. She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. C. I. Hyatt. Miss Little Miss Virgie Sue Wyatt played two excellent numbers on the xylophone, accompanied at the piano by her mother, Mrs. V. O. Wyatt. "Amus 'n' Andy" in person were presented by C. J. Leclair and Colonel Croft in a short skit, "Fixin' Up the Books in the Fresh Air Taxi-cab-Office." The concluding number was two good numbers by the Boys' and Girls' Glee club, led by Miss Olga McCoy and accompanied at the piano by Mary Ford. During the program some telegrams, supposedly received from such celebrities as Will Rogers, Flanagan Ziegfeld, etc., were read, as well as several aids for various business firms in a humorous vein were announced, making the program seem like an actual radio broadcast. The announced, A. H. Henderson, scored a big hit with the crowd because of his pleasing personality, his ready wit and his clear and perfect enunciation. After the program, refreshments were served by the ladies of the P. T. A., assisted by some school girls. Everyone enjoyed the evening.

BOWELS need watching

Let Dr. Caldwell help whenever your child is feverish or upset, or has a cold. His simple prescription will make that bilious, headachy, cross boy or girl comfortable, happy, well in just a few hours. It soon restores the bowels to healthy regularity. It helps "break-up" a cold by keeping the bowels free from all that sickening mucus waste. "You have a famous doctor's word for this laxative. Dr. Caldwell's record of having attended over 3500 births without loss of one mother or baby is believed unique in American medical history. Get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin from your druggist and have it ready. Then you won't have to worry when any member of your family is headachy, bilious, gassy or constipated. Syrup Pepsin is good for all ages. It sweetens the bowels; increases appetite—makes digestion more complete.

INDIGESTION

Take a Pinch of Black-Draught After Meals. If bothered with indigestion after meals, try taking a pinch of Black-Draught just after you leave the table. Many people do this to good effect. Mrs. B. A. Jeff writes from Sherman, Texas, to say: "I suffered with indigestion a full year. I would not eat any food. My food disagreed with me. I began taking a pinch of Black-Draught after each meal, and I found that was the best way. I soon was relieved of so much gas, and the smothering spells did not come on so bad. I soon began to feel much better. Since then, my health is much improved." Sold at drug stores.

NEW PLAN BY MAKERS OF VICKS CUTS THE HIGH COST OF COLDS

Saves Money, Time and Health by Better "Control-of-Colds"

Plan Offered by Ranger Lists on Unhatched Causes of Satisfactory Results.

High costs of colds are more over a problem this winter. Every family, therefore, it is of peculiar interest that the makers of Vicks VapoRub have devised a plan for better "Control-of-Colds" in the home. A plan to reduce the number, the severity and costs of colds.

A New Vicks Product
A plan is made possible by a preparation—Vicks Nose & Throat Drops. Based on a new idea of "venting" colds, it is a combination of Vicks VapoRub, the external way of "treating" the nose, and a supplementary "Cold-Tax."

The two aid and supplement each other. Together, they make further reduction of the colds. The Vicks VapoRub Users of this Vicks Plan for better "Control-of-Colds" in your home can fewer colds—less severe. It will mean cutting your costs of cold troubles—a saving of money, loss of time and to say nothing of the discomforts of colds and the severe attacks often follow colds. Test plan for yourself—without let a bottle of the new Vicks today. Use it with Vicks VapoRub as directed. Unless you are entirely satisfied, your money will be refunded. The price of drops—and the test will have nothing. Briefly, the Vicks Plan for better "Control-of-Colds."

Engineering helps Girls to the Altar
Dean Taylor Says

AUSTIN.—An engineering course in college enables a girl to map a quick route to the marriage altar, T. U. Taylor, dean of the engineering department of the University of Texas, has concluded.

Many girls have started the engineering courses at the university. So far one has graduated. She took architecture. Of the 31 now enrolled four will graduate in June unless they become June brides instead.

Two of them, Judith English of Dallas and Leah Mancure of Waco, are taking civil engineering and announce a determination to follow that profession.

Girls find the freshman year in engineering comparatively easy, said Dean Taylor.

"Girls are good engineering students even though they do usually become principal assistants in a private home," said Dean Taylor.

Girls find the freshman year in engineering comparatively easy, said Dean Taylor.

"Girls are good engineering students even though they do usually become principal assistants in a private home," said Dean Taylor.

Two of them, Judith English of Dallas and Leah Mancure of Waco, are taking civil engineering and announce a determination to follow that profession.

Engineering helps Girls to the Altar

AUSTIN.—An engineering course in college enables a girl to map a quick route to the marriage altar, T. U. Taylor, dean of the engineering department of the University of Texas, has concluded.

Many girls have started the engineering courses at the university. So far one has graduated. She took architecture. Of the 31 now enrolled four will graduate in June unless they become June brides instead.

Two of them, Judith English of Dallas and Leah Mancure of Waco, are taking civil engineering and announce a determination to follow that profession.

The Newfangles (Mom 'n' Pop)

By Cowan

Gems of Peril

HAZEL ROSS HAILEY

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Mary Harkness plots to ensnare The Fly, who she believes 'framed' her brother, Eddie, with the murder of old Mrs. Jupiter, and later an Eddie dog, and killed him. She is aided by Bowen of the Star. Mary's fiance, Dirk Ruyter, believes Eddie guilty, as do police, who give up the investigation.

TURK-HEN!

Rev. Castor Ordenez, head of the department of biology at DePaul University, Chicago, is shown here with the "turk-hen" he obtained by breeding a turkey and a Rhode Island Red Hen. The "turk-hen" weighs from six to eight pounds and its meat is better than either chicken or turkey for Thanksgiving dinner, Father Ordenez says.

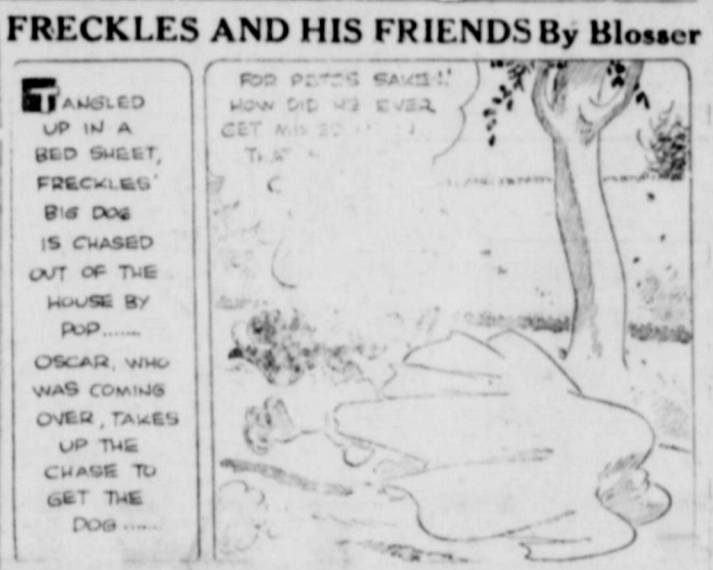

Instantly a crackling accompaniment grew up to swell the efforts of the trap player, outdoing himself on the castanets.
Dirk was watching, now. Mary saw his eyes on her like lightning, through the fog of cigarette-smoke. His jaw was set, his face expressionless. Cornelia watched, too, but unwillingly, scornfully. Mary took a wicked thrill of joy.
De Loma, apparently wishing to impress the open-mouthed Ethel, now wheeled about and aimed the steps deliberately at Dirk's table. The hovering spotlight that followed them included the three watching faces in its white, revealing glow. Mary saw Dirk was frowning at the tablecloth now. He had gone pasty white. His hands, as he fumbled with a cigarette, were trembling violently.
She felt herself whirled about, her body bent back until the thick red bob of her hair swung free. Above her De Loma's grinning, gloating face appeared for a second, like something in a dream... then she felt his lips on her mouth.
In the next instant Dirk, white-faced, his eyes blazing with murderous fury, had sent De Loma hurtling backward with one hand blow. From the floor, where she sank when De Loma's arm released his grip about her, she saw Dirk hurl himself at the reeling man a second time... saw De Loma's throat back his coat and reach for his gun.
"Look out!" she screamed and threw her arm before her eyes. She crouched where she was, terror-stricken, waiting for the shot she was sure would come.

LESSON-SERMON GIVEN.

"Thanksgiving" was the lesson-sermon subject in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Thursday, Nov. 26.
I Thessalonians 5:18 furnished the golden text: "In every thing give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you."
The service embraced the following passage from the Bible (Psalms 126:6): "He that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him."
Included in the lesson-sermon were the following citations from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy.
"How empty are our conceptions of Deity!... We plead for unmerited pardon and a liberal outpouring of benefactions. Are we really grateful for the good already received? Then we shall avail ourselves of the blessings we have, and thus be fitted to receive more. Gratitude is much more than a verbal expression of thanks. Action expresses more gratitude than speech" (p. 5).

McAllen Planning Big Vegetable Plant

M'ALLEN, Texas. - Assurance that McAllen will obtain one of the "master" vegetable packing plants of the Rio Grande Valley Vegetable Co-operative association was given in the news that the federal farm board will lend the organization $100,000.
Ray Hartness, director of publicity for the association, announced some time ago that McAllen probably would be chosen to serve the upper valley territory along the Missouri Pacific railroad. Other "master" plants, each of which will be equipped with the latest machinery and methods for handling root vegetables, will be built in Edinburg, Weslaco and San Benito. Other sheds are to be constructed at Brownsville, Rio Hondo, Donna, Edcouch, San Carlos, San Juan, Combes, Morales and Hangerville.

SOCIETY and CLUB NEWS

ARRITTA DAVENPORT Editor Ranger

Country Club Dance To Open December's Social Functions.

On the evening of Dec. 7 the Ranger Country club will entertain in their attractive clubhouse with a dance in compliment to members and friends. This gay function promises a pleasant hour of entertainment with music furnished by Ray Costlow and his orchestra.

This dance will be numbered among the first social functions to help open the month of December with gala features to be given throughout the holiday season. With Thanksgiving behind us, there is a total of only a few days left until Christmas, at which time the usual group of college students will be returning home to spend them with relatives and friends.

The home-coming dance given each year is always anticipated with much delight, serving as an opportunity of a general get-together of former Ranger high school students. A colorful profusion in rays of red and green have been arranged to form a pretty ceiling as one views Main street, which succeeds in emphasizing the spirit of Yuletide.

Most all of the stores and various shops throughout the city will be decorated with festive emblems with others devoting this week for that particular purpose. Visitors and out-of-town guests were entertained with a dance given at the Elks club last evening, in celebration of Thanksgiving. A pleasant evening was spent in dancing and exchanging of greetings by many former Rangerites. Plans will be made soon for the annual dance given by the club each season which marks the climax of another year.

Ruth Class Holds Thanksgiving Party.

The Ruth Class of the Central Baptist church was delightfully

The rooms were appropriately decorated for this occasion in colors carrying out the holiday motif. Contest games were played with Mrs. T. S. Dupree winner. Following games of various kinds the remainder of the afternoon was spent in games of luncheon, with Mrs. R. H. Snyder winning high scores.

Bronze and yellow color scheme was repeated in the refreshment plate of salad, cake and coffee, served to the following members: Mmes. Dan Neville, J. M. Blackwell, H. S. Packwood, C. J. Fisher, T. L. Dupree, C. D. Coe, Clyde H. Davis, O. S. Driskill, R. L. McCleskey, Ralph Arnold, Frank Ford, Bonds Martin, J. E. Ogg, A. L. Murrell, George Rogers, R. A. Williams, R. O. Bray, C. C. The Junior Epworth league program of the First Methodist church will be led Sunday evening by Gladys Larson, when members meet at the church at 6:45 for the usual study lesson.

The following program will be given during the hour: Song Prayer. Leader in charge, Gladys Larson.

Bible questions, Jim Galloway. Bible study, Doris Goforth. Mission story, Mrs. S. P. Boon. Memory verse drill, Mrs. C. E. May.

PARIS STYLES

By MARY KNIGHT, United Press Staff Correspondent. PARIS.—The Princess Aga Khan, who has been selecting her winter wardrobe here, has chosen "Camella," from Worth, in bright red velvet with the decolletage lined in sable. It has a large bunch of a red flower at the waist in the back where the decolletage ends.

Proving the quality of her own taste, as well as that of the Maison Worth, the princess chose, to wear with this gorgeous gown, a long red velvet evening coat following the lines of the figure and buttoning down the front. It has a deep shawl collar of sable, and sable on the wide shirred sleeves.

We may add here, that Mrs. R. G. Scudamore, of Worth Brothers, says that "while black, brown and green have been the most predominant colors sold by us for the autumn up to the past fortnight, scarcely a day has gone by since the first of October that Worth has not sold at least one or two dresses in red—both for day and evening wear."

Mrs. E. L. Beck, whose husband is connected with the United States embassy in Mexico, chose a crepe marocain afternoon frock from Worth in Bordeaux red, that has a draped girdle and skirt which fits the figure snugly but flares slightly at the bottom.

RANGER JAIL FILLED. The Ranger city jail established a new record Thursday night when 35 inmates were recorded. Many of this number were "sleepers" those who apply at the jail for sleeping quarters overnight. Several arrests were made for drunkenness and other misdemeanors and these added to the number quartered in the jail.

"I'll stand by it!"

"I'll stand by tobacco... in good times, in hard times... all kind of times... it helps a whole lot!"

"I GREW up with tobacco. Mostly I smoke cigarettes now—but I've smoked plenty of cigars, and pipes, too. And I never got anything but good from tobacco in any form—pipe, cigar, or cigarette—and that goes for every smoker I ever heard about.

"Why, I remember as a boy, way back, how the old folks in the fall used to pick and cure tobacco from a little patch they'd raised, and save out the best for their own smoking. And my father fought all through the war, and lived to be ninety.

"He'd certainly appreciate what we get today, though. Just think about these CHESTERFIELDS of mine—fine tobaccos from all over the world, and cured and blended just so; you couldn't get anything purer or milder. Cleanest factories you ever saw, too—never a hand touching the cigarettes... everything up to date.

"A big improvement over the old ways... reckon that's why I like CHESTERFIELDS so much. I notice most of my friends get a lot of pleasure out of them, too."

"But what I started out to say was, you can always depend on tobacco, no matter how things are going. Probably there was never anything in the world that meant so much to so many people, and cost so little, as tobacco—whatever way they smoke it.

"Yes, sir—I'll stand up for tobacco as long as I can strike a match!"

* NOTE. In the sections where tobacco grows and where people know tobacco, Chesterfield is usually the largest-selling cigarette.
