A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

REDEMPTION: God will redeem my soul from the power of the grave: for he shall receive me. —Psalm 49: 15.

OKLAHOMA EVER ON THE FRONT PAGE

Gov. William H. Murray knows the value of publicity as well as the value of notoriety for the political minded officeholders of America. It had been whispred in his ear that beer depost would be established in his commonwealth. Well the erstwhile Bolivian warrior and explorer, went into a white heat. He promised to call out his 5000 national guardsmen to dismantle the beer stations and to manhandle their operators.

LUMBER PRICE LEVELS AND BEER

A noted Chicago lumber broker has let it be known that prices for virtually all lumber products have advanced 10 to 20 per cent in two weeks "due to new and heavy buying." Also "the market is now dominated by sellers rather than buyers." If so, how did it happen that lumber prices advanced 20 per cent? Beer is coming in many states. There is a huge demand for staves for barrels and kegs.

One I Love by LAURA LOU BROOKMAN

will you tell Martha to have the exterminator come tomorrow?

JANET said yes and withdrew. Half an hour later she encountered the maid in the hall.

"My, but you've got nerve!" Lucy said admiringly. "I wouldn't have picked up that cat for all the money a cat could bring."

"I wasn't afraid of Buster scratching! I was afraid of that mouse! Mrs. Curtis is afraid of 'em, too. That's what people get for keeping a cat around!"

"They don't get mice from keeping cats," Janet told her. "It's the other way around. All I did was take the cat down to Frederick."

But there was no doubt that the incident had raised Janet in Mrs. Curtis' eyes. She gave her tasks implying more and more responsibility and when Janet carried off a difficult situation tactfully she praised her.

"Really," Mrs. Curtis told her friend, Rachel Thornton, "I don't know how I ever got along without her! She's so capable."

Mrs. Thornton said, "Um-m! Pretty girl. She'll be leaving you one of these days."

"Well—I'll do my best to keep her!" Mrs. Curtis declared vigorously. "I'm sure I don't know where I'd get another like her!"

The attack of gripe seemed to leave Mrs. Curtis weak. Dr. Roberts said there was nothing for her to do but rest and save her strength. No parties and no excitement. She was to stay at home except for a brief airing each day in the car. Dr. Roberts gave her a thorough examination and reminded Mrs. Curtis it was important for these instructions to be obeyed.

SHE called Janet as the girl was passing the door of her bedroom one morning. "Come in, my dear," she said smiling. "I've some news for you. A check of $30 I'm going to make your check $35 from now on."

"Why, thank you, Mrs. Curtis. That's awfully nice!" "You've earned it," the woman assured her. "And now there's something else I want you to do for me."

"I want you to find an apartment for my daughter and her husband," Mrs. Curtis said. "They'll be coming home before so very long. Oh, not for some time yet. It isn't too soon to start looking for a place! It's to be my wedding present, you see. I want it furnished and all ready for them when they get here."

"What—what kind of an apartment?" "Oh, a small one," Mrs. Curtis assured her. "But of course it must be attractive. Not more than five or six rooms. And I want the rooms to be large and sunny. I'd like something not too far from this neighborhood in one of the newer buildings."

And so it happened that to Janet fell the task she least of all in the world desired. When she asked for more definite information about the young couple's return Mrs. Curtis was vague.

"Not for several weeks," she assured the girl. "Betty wants to spend some time in New York after they leave the Springs. I really don't expect them before the middle of next month."

There were times when Janet was strongly tempted to quit her job. She couldn't do this! It was more than anyone had any right to expect of her! But practical

Buy Week Promised
Eastland club and society women are facing a busy week-end, in the Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher association of First District, which many women will attend at some time during the three-day convention, to be held in the Methodist church in Ranger.

There promises to be quite a delegation representing our three parent-teacher associations, by members, officers and delegates. An invitation is extended to the Eastland women, by Cisco, to attend the benefit clubhouse, one-act play contest to be held in that city tomorrow, Thursday night at 7:45 o'clock, in the high school auditorium, and staged under the auspices of the Twentieth Century club, the Industrial Arts club, and the Wednesday Study club.

Special music will be given between acts, and as an introduction, so states the general chairman, Mrs. A. J. Olson.

The affair will be a very brilliant one, in social and club work, and a large attendance is expected.

Family Reunion
In Clarksville
Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Caton, accompanied by Mrs. J. A. Caton of Cross Plains, have returned from a family reunion of the Caton family, held in Clarksville, Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Caton, when 34 members of the family were present. Among them Mrs. J. A. Caton, who spent from Monday to Tuesday evening as guest of Dr. Caton in Eastland, her former home.

She still retains a fondness for our city and was glad indeed to greet her many friends and acquaintances.

Young Women's Association
Interesting Meeting
The Young Women's association held an interesting meeting Tuesday evening at the Baptist church, an hour preceding the revival services now in progress.

The session was opened by their president, Miss Opal Hunt, with a brief business period followed by the hymn, "Win Them for Him," and prayer offered by Miss Aline Williams.

Reports of the recent house party held at Howard Payne college in Brownwood, were given by the delegates, and Mrs. L. J. Lambert, their director.

Miss Ruby Harben was welcomed to the Y. W. A. as a new member.

letter received from Mrs. Bell, president of first district, Congress of Mothers, was read, stressed the importance of members attending the conference of F. T. A. to be held in Ranger, opening Thursday for a three-day session.

Mrs. J. M. Armstrong was elected as delegate to the convention, and Mrs. H. T. Huffman, alternate.

The association deplored the tragedy in the death of Rosalie Pitzer, daughter of Mrs. Louis Pitzer.

The program was presented under direction of Miss Day, and cleverly imitated the New York broadcasting station communicating with the Eastland station, putting on a children's hour with Walter Winchell (Wood Butler), the famous announcer.

Plans solo was given by Kate Smith (Maya Lou Gossel), and Anon and Andy, had their sappy talk, done by M. P. Herring and Artie Hennesses.

The famous Ethel Barrymore (Frances Laverne Ethel) gave a tragic reading, and Baron Munchausen imitated by Edwin Dunham, related some thrilling tales.

The interested audience, Betty Smith and Jane Jones, was played by Annette Bender and Mary Ann Murray.

The program opened with a pretty reading by Mary Helen Armstrong, and the children presented were from their third grade.

The election officers brought Mrs. J. M. Armstrong, president; Mrs. H. T. Huffman, first vice president; Mrs. R. R. Gann, second vice president; Mrs. Wood Butler, third vice president; Mrs. Guy Dunnam, secretary; Mrs. Lewis Crossley, corresponding secretary.

Those attending were Misses Virgil T. Seaberry, J. R. Gilkey, C. W. Hampton, G. H. Dunnam, W. F. Miller, C. F. Hoffman, M. P. Herring, Earl Bender, J. M. Sparks, L. A. Hightower, Lewis Crossley, E. Eastland High School Notes

By GERALDINE FRANCIS

Monday Chapel
Rev. O. B. Darby, pastor of the Baptist church of Eastland, introduced Rev. William H. Joyner, evangelist of San Antonio, who gave an interesting talk on the four chief assets of life. These assets are brainpower, energy, character and faith.

Rev. Joyner emphasized these four assets to make the students realize how important they are now and in after school life. Faith in yourself and others, used in conjunction with the other three assets, will mean most to the individual.

Art Exhibit
The art exhibit sponsored by the Literary society of E. H. S., under the direction of Miss Word, during the week of March 20, was a decided success.

Many beautiful masterpieces were exhibited. This exhibit was educational to the students and will also help the society to secure pictures for classrooms.

Members of the society served tea and cakes to the visitors. Kathleen and Lucy May Cottingham, Madge Hearn, and Lucille Johnson presented various entertainments during the visiting hours.

Seven dollars, which the Literary society will use to buy materials for the society organization, was taken in at this exhibit.

PARIS STYLES
PARIS—Worth, you will remember, maintains that, in spite of all propaganda to the contrary, pajamas are not dead. He adds, however, that "many women seem to prefer the wrap-around beach dress which we originated two years ago. We indicated last year a tendency to shorten the length of pajama trousers, and this year we have accentuated this idea, which we think a good one, and you will notice that most of our pajamas are short. That is to say, they stop above the ankle."

This question of course, comes up every season, and "Has the limbo" flits from mouth to mouth with the inevitable answers of both "yes" and "no." Some houses may call them by another name, but it remains the same rose, basically, so there you are.

Less Suffering After She Took Cardui
"Periodically I have a dull ache in the lower part of my back," writes Mrs. Ruth Hill, of Charleston, W. Va. "I get real dizzy, my head swims, and I have a weak, 'gone' feeling that keeps me from doing my work well. I have found that taking Cardui prevents this. I have been greatly benefited from its use." When womanly aches and pains are due to a weak, run-down condition, take CARDUI. It has been used by women for over 50 years. Cardui is a purely vegetable strengthening medicine and it cannot harm you. Sold at the drug stores here.

Names you should know
YOU like to know names that everybody knows—name of the man who tied lightning to a kite; name of the man who watched a tea-kettle and went out and made an engine. Just knowing such names give you pleasure.

Yet there are names that thousands of people know that can give you much more pleasure in a much more personal way. Names that stand for the best things to eat, to wear, to sleep on. Names, that if connected with the salad dressing, hat, fountain pen you select—or any other desirable thing—mean it is most desirable. Names written in ADVERTISEMENTS.

Advertisements tell why those are wise names for you to know. Why such names greet you in the best grocery, department and hardware stores. Why those names are in the buying vocabulary of thousands . . . are believed in by thousands . . . justify belief!

Read the advertisements. Don't ask vaguely in a store for "cold cream," "a skillet," "a vacuum cleaner." Ask for So-and-So's Cold Cream, So-and-So's Skillet, So-and-So's Vacuum Cleaner. Use the names, you have learned through advertisements, that stand for the product that means most to you and most to everybody.
