A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

THE LORD IS NEAR: The Lord is nigh unto them that are of a broken heart; and saveth such as be of a contrite spirit.—Psalm 34: 18.

AN APPEAL FOR 'FORGOTTEN CONVICTS'

Senator Albert Stone of the Brenham district made the rounds of the prisons and prison farms of Texas. On his return to the capital this was his verdict: "It is easy for a man of means and friends to get out of prison, but the poor, forgotten man, who has no friends and whose term extends over a period of years, the future is hopeless."

Never overlook this paragraph: "It is easy for a man of means and friends to get out of prison but for the poor, forgotten man, who has no friends and whose term extends over a period of years, the future is hopeless."

All of which is a reminder to the young men of today that the road called Straight never leads to the door of a prison. At times it may be a very rocky or thorny road but those who walk it are never numbered among the forgotten on prison farms or within the walls of the penitentiary.

NEW YORK BEER SELLERS WARNED

New York is the metropolis of America. New York is 100—perhaps 1000—per cent wet. Two federal district attorneys have decided against further prosecution of selling of beer.

Prohibition Administrator Andrew Campbell will continue to make arrests for beer sales, and "to enforce the law as I see it." Andrew Campbell is a Scot. For years and years he was a voting citizen of Fort Worth, a federal deputy United States marshal and later, a prohibition enforcement agent.

Citizens who take no interest in the affairs of the home city are the ones who help to stifle progress.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

The editor of the Grande Prairie, Alberta, Herald, a newspaper that serves the Great Peace River country so well, in commenting on a small advertisement run in the Herald recently, said:

"We have often heard of psychology in advertising, but it was not until last week that we had an opportunity of trying it out. The results were most gratifying. It all had to do with an advertisement inserted in the Herald's Swap-Barter column. The advertisement as handed in read as follows: 'Will trade 5-tube battery radio receiving set, complete with tubes and loud speaker, for good milk cow.'"

"Just as the copy was about to go out to the linotype operator to be put in type, along came a member of the town's clergy. He spotted the copy and the humorous side of his make-up could not be controlled. He suggested that the phrasing of the advertisement be slightly changed. We agreed, and as a result the copy appeared in print as follows: 'Will trade 5-tube battery radio receiving set for a good milk cow, complete with tubes and loud speaker.'"

"The results were almost spontaneous. The Herald had been in the mails but a few hours when the phone began to buzz with inquiries about the cow with tubes and loud speaker. Passersby tapped on the office window and laughingly asked us if we still had the cow. Saturday morning's mail from the west had its quota of comments.

"Most interesting of all, however, was the fact that a farmer in the Huallen district wrote in to say that he wanted the radio and had a cow to offer in trade. The applicant did not state whether or not the cow came up to the specifications as set forth in advertisement. At any rate we handed the reply to the advertiser and it is hoped that both parties are now satisfied."

"Yessir—A Shorter Working Day Is What We Need"

DERRICK SHADOWS

By V. MARIE STEPHENS

It begins to look like we've heard about all we're going to concerning the headline, Winnie Ruth Judd. Finding her case interesting, if ghastly, we have watched the attitude of the public with some wonder.

And now that Mrs. Judd faces the gallows, is this cowardice we see? Her constant attempts at suicide indicate a fear of the mystery she brought to two lives, namely death. Who said "all criminals are cowards"? Or did someone say it? It seems to be panning out that way.

But after we have recovered from our horror and disgust, and our brief desire for revenge is finished, the world is wondering if Arizona will hang a woman. I cannot find her less guilty than a man. Some citizens have other standards of the death penalty.

For weeks now I've been reading about women resorting to masculine attire. I've seen pictures and stories and criticisms... all in print. Since the fad apparently began, I've visited in Dallas, Houston, San Antonio, Corpus Christi, and other leading cities. Where are the ladies' trousers?

It begins to read like Grimm's Fairy Tales or Mother's Stories. It sounds interesting, but we can't find it outside the printed page. And the home town? Ranger isn't boasting the idea. Hollywood seems to have started and stopped the fad within her own invisible city limits.

Glimpse-glances: We used to lock our doors to the flock of peddlers each day. Now we observe them with interest, getting the dope on the trade in case our own profession succumbs to the times. Our troop of back-stepsitters is diminishing. We don't know whether they didn't like our food or whether they've quit stopping off in our town, preferring to rail on toward prosperity and beer.

Texas seems to be losing out in the deal. George Canning was born 166 years ago today. He, in explanation, was an English orator and statesman, remembered as a Tory and successful politician.

With the Akron's sister ship, the U.S.S. Macon, ready for inspection, America is beaming again in six-minded pride. True to the states, we are already forgetting the unfortunate Akron... but never the ill-fated crew.

Americans are wonderful forgetters. We suffer deeply, and plunge into something else. Perhaps we trust our officials. At any rate, there has been little said about the tragedy of the Atlantic. We are ready to try again. Our navy does not wish to defy the death list of the Akron. She wishes to avenge.

The Japanese-Chinese conflict continues, but it has been reduced to back page news. There seems to be a lot of misunderstanding across the seas. If we weren't so busy being sorry for ourselves, we no doubt would pity the Russians and Jews and Chinese.

But it does seem foolish to waste time worrying about them when hills and beer and cyclones and earthquakes are visiting us. Admiral Decatur once gave the toast: "My country: May she always be right, but right or wrong, my country." Hail loyalty.

While planning that summer trip, remember that it is always followed by a fall.

Wilson Regains Jr. Middleweight Championship Belt

Benny Wilson, Brownwood, regained the junior middleweight championship belt of the world here in Ranger. He defeated Bennie Bartay of Fort Worth after both struggled for every advantage for an hour and 18 minutes. Wilson won the first fall in 21 minutes with an airplane spin and slam. Bartay came back very fast in the second fall and beat Wilson with a rocking chair split in 15 minutes.

Bartay and Wilson battled 27 minutes for the third fall and Bartay had Wilson in an airplane spin on the side of the ring. Wilson caught the rope and both men fell as Bartay was unable to slam Wilson while he held the rope. Getting up again Bartay put Wilson in another spin, this time in the center of the ring and as Bartay completed the spin and started to slam him Wilson caught Bartay in the stomach and as they fell to the mat and Wilson pinned Bartay's shoulders.

The match was one of the hardest fought in the Elk Arena and never before have two men been more equally matched than Bartay and Wilson were.

Dr. H. A. Logsdon, president of the Ranger Elks club, presented Benny Wilson, the new champion, with the belt before the crowd left.

In the first finish match Cherokee Kid used a body pin on Johnny McCain and won in 27 minutes. The other finish match was won by Sammy McFarren who also used a body pin to defeat Wildcat Hood.

Veterans have predicted that he will be a member of the Walker Cup team within two years.

1898 When automobiles looked like this, and only a handful of them were in existence, the founders of the Magnolia Petroleum Company started the first refinery in the Southwest at Corsicana, Texas. The picture below was reproduced from an actual photograph of this first refinery.

MAGNOLIA FOUNDERS' MONTH
1898 When automobiles looked like this, and only a handful of them were in existence, the founders of the Magnolia Petroleum Company started the first refinery in the Southwest at Corsicana, Texas. The picture below was reproduced from an actual photograph of this first refinery.
1933 Just thirty-five years later, there are over twenty-six million motor vehicles in the United States; petroleum is the fifth largest industry in the country, topped only by agriculture in the Southwest. The photograph below shows the present Magnolia Refinery at Beaumont, Texas.

Magnolia and the Automobile... They've grown together for thirty-five years!
WHEELS, as a rolling device, had been in use for more than four thousand years before the invention of the automobile. From available records, the first application of mechanical power to vehicles seems to have been a carriage propelled by springs, built in Nuremberg, Holland, by Johann Haus-tach in the sixteenth century.
To Charles E. Duryea, a bicycle manufacturer, who first experimented with steam and later made his first gas engine studies at the Ohio State Fair in 1886, goes credit for the first gasoline engine automobile built in the United States. In 1892, Duryea built a makeshift, under-powered affair of one cylinder. The most that can be said for it was that it did achieve the amazing speed of seven miles per hour.
Perhaps it was coincidence, but, at about the same time the automobile began its meteoric rise, the Southwest came into the picture as a producer of petroleum. By accident, oil was discovered at Corsicana in 1896. Two years later, on Christmas Day, 1898, the founders of the Magnolia Petroleum Company fired the stills in the first refinery in the Southwest.
Without the Southwestern production of petroleum to supply popular priced fuel and lubrication, it is doubtful whether the automobile could have come into such widespread use in so short a time.
As pioneer refiners of the Southwest, the Magnolia Petroleum Company has seen the automobile industry grow from a clumsy, lumbering infant into the world's largest industry.
Just as the founders of this Company were the pacemakers of Southwestern petroleum production, so has Magnolia set the pace for better gasolines, motor oil and greases. Many people living today remember when they chugged over Southwestern roads in their rambling, horseless carriages... fueled and lubricated by Magnolia Products. Today these same people may speed over broad paved highways... using Mobilgas, Mobilgas Ethyl and Mobil-oil, fitted to the needs of their modern motors. Drive in and enjoy these up-to-the-minute petroleum products.

Legal Beer Not To Dry Throats In Desert State

By GEORGE D. CRISSEY
SALT LAKE CITY, Utah—Standing alone in the matter of regulations is Utah, one of a nation's few constitutionally states.

There'll be no beer for residents of the "Desert" state, even though the state's big brewery at Ogden will be the recently legalized 3.2 per cent brew in quantities.

The peculiar situation came to Utah when the legislature approved the bill legalizing the making and selling of beer.

SPEAKING OF SPORTS

By KENNETH D. FRY
United Press Staff Correspondent Chicago Second Baseman Puts on Batting Spurt

CHICAGO.—While the White Sox are cutting fancy capers over their prospective and promised uprisings in the American League, it might be timely to mention that Minter Hayes, known as Jack, is going to have plenty to do with whatever success attends the efforts of Chicago's south side club this year.

The peppery young man, who owns a degree from the University of Alabama, and who came to the Sox from Washington late in 1931, has been ticketed as a swell infielder but a weak hitter.

He can handle those hot ones around second base but at the plate the accepted remark concerning Hayes is "Too bad Jack can't hit. He's such a fine fielder."

Hayes is no fence buster at best, but during the California training jaunt of the White Sox, young Jack showed signs of snapping out of his batting lethargy.

Hayes was signed in 1927 as a free agent by Birmingham, Washington gobbled him up before he could play in a single game with the southern club. In 1928 he was optioned to Minneapolis and recalled. For three years he played at Washington and came to the Sox in December, 1931.

Ranger Revival Retains Interest of Large Crowds

The revival at the Methodist church is deepening in its influence over those who are attending. Dr. Smith's versatility, his well prepared sermons, his descriptive power, his wide experience, and his ability to illustrate the gospel message and experience keep the hearers' attention constantly upon the sermon. He preaches at 7:45 each evening and at 10 each morning.

A revival fits men for daily life that it be not wasted but saved. Dr. Smith's sermons show how attractive the Christian life in its purest.

You are invited to every meeting.

HOW TO RECAPTURE BEAUTY

Good looks are often a matter of good health. Sparkling eyes and a smooth complexion are outward signs of an abundant vitality.

To be charming, conserve your health. Guard against constipation. It so often brings wrinkles, sallow skins, dull eyes, pimples.

Try the pleasant "cereal way" to protect yourself from constipation. Science has proved that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to tone the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also furnishes iron, which helps build up the blood.

The "bulk" in this delicious cereal is much like that of lettuce. How much safer than abusing your system with pills and drugs—so often habit-forming.

Two tablespoonfuls daily will correct most types of constipation. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

How CARDUI Helped Weak, Nervous Woman

"I was nervous and weak and my back hurt," writes Mrs. Emma Nichols, of Murfreesboro, Tenn. "I could hardly rest. I had a nervous, weak trembling in the lower part of my body, and a beating-spent feeling. I had read of Cardui and decided to take it. After my first bottle, I felt better and began taking it. It helped me. I took three bottles and by then I was much improved and rid of the nervousness, so much so that I have recommended Cardui to my daughter and friends. I think it is a splendid medicine to build up the whole system."

Cardui is sold at drug stores here.

Two things that everybody wants!

When smart folk gather along the mild and lovely Neapolitan Riviera—how natural it is to see Luckies there... for people the world over want a cigarette that has Character... and Mildness.

Lucky Strike's unique Character comes from the choicest of fine, flavorful tobaccos... But more than that—there's the mildness that's imparted when those tobaccos are "Toasted". For these two reasons—Character and Mildness— "Luckies Please!"
