Third Annual Golf Tournament Begins Today

PEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE with BILL MAYES

Yesterday we got pinched. Some prefer to call it "arrested" but we think pinched sounds much less criminal. Yes, sir, a deputy sheriff walked right into the office and took us in charge.

It all happened like this. Some week or 10 days ago we got a postal card telling us we had been selected for jury duty in Judge Patterson's 88th district court. We sent the postal card to the Eastland office and asked that our claim to exemption be entered in the form with the court. But someone forgot to do it and yesterday morning Loss Woods walked in and served us with some kind of official papers and told us the judge demanded our presence.

We got busy and did some telephoning to the county capital and set excused until 3 o'clock in the afternoon on the grounds that the paper could not get along without us. We try to keep up that impression around the office, too.

At 3 we were on hand, only to find that the judge had been called out of town, but had accepted our excuse and was not coming. So that next time we had better go over in person and have our excuse accepted. Needless to say we will.

And we have a sneaking hunch that our wife would have been more or less pleased if we had been put in jail for a few hours, at least.

Have any of you been born or died since the first of the month? If you have you should have notified Roy Jameson, city secretary. Because, in addition to his other duties he has been appointed official registrar of births and deaths in the corporate limits of Ranger.

Vital statistics are of more importance than just a record of the number of deaths and births that occur in a city or county or state in a certain time. Everyone should have a birth certificate, because some day a rich uncle, or someone, might die and leave you a fortune and a birth certificate would go a long way toward proving you were one of the heirs. Which reminds us that even though we have no rich uncles, we also have no birth certificate and we doubt very much if our birth was recorded with the proper officials at the proper time. We are going to look into that and find out.

Uncle Sam is a stickler for proof, too. If you decide to take a journey into some foreign country, and everyone would like to, he will not take it for granted you have been born just because you appear in born to apply for the passport. He makes you produce a birth certificate to prove it.

There should be plenty of activity, both indoors and outdoors, this week-end.

In the first place the third annual invitation golf tournament of the Ranger Country club will be taking place. The qualifying rounds are to be played Friday with the finals Sunday. In the afternoon of Saturday, a bridge tournament will be held for the ladies and a dance will be staged Saturday night. Tonight a barbecue and Calcutta pool will be on the program. Incidentally when we went over to Eastland to try to keep out of jail we picked up a youth who had been over playing golf on the Ranger course, preparatory to entering the tournament. He predicted a good one, and who isn't?

Then, Sunday morning the bacchante sermon (every May we have to learn to spell that word all over again) for the high school and junior college will be preached. That will be the chief indoor diversion for the morning.

In the afternoon the Ranger club of the Tri-County league will be playing its first baseball game of the season. It was scheduled to play in Breckenridge last Sunday, but was rained out. So the opening game will be played Sunday afternoon, promptly at 3 o'clock, or thereabouts, at the new grounds east of the Young school.

The complete program has been worked out and will be followed as closely as the weather will permit. The teams in the league, in case the baseball fans have forgotten, are Breckenridge, Moran, Sedwick, Ranger, Albany, Olden, Harpersville and Leary, without any idea of putting them in the order in which they will finish the race. We will let you make your own guesses as to that, just as you can have an opportunity of doing some guessing on the outcome of the Ranger country club golf tournament.

WASHINGTON—A pretty hippopotamus, gift of Harvey Firestone, to the manufacturer in the Washington zoo is "just a bad mother," according to William M. Mann, zoo director.

The female hippo has killed three of her offspring by defecating on the youngsters soon after their birth.

INCOME TAX BILL KILLED IN COMMITTEE

AUSTIN, May 19.—All doubt of the death of the Hughes bill to create a graduated income tax in Texas was erased today when notice of a minority report was given when an unfavorable majority committee report was filed in the senate.

There had been some question, despite a nine to 0 committee vote against the bill last night whether absentee members could keep the bill alive.

Senator Clint Small of Amarillo introduced a resolution for adjournment of the session on May 30. The resolution was tabled. He said he would call it up Monday.

The house today voted down a proposal that the legislators quit next Wednesday.

Eastland County Relief Officer Will Be Elected

A county relief officer for Eastland county is to be elected at a meeting of the county board of the R. F. C. relief work, which is to be held at Cisco Monday, May 22, it has been announced by J. E. Spencer of Cisco, chairman of the county committee.

In outlining the qualifications and duties of this relief officer, who is to serve over the entire county, Spencer has issued the following statement:

"The Eastland county relief committee has been requested to elect, subject to the approval of the Texas relief commission, a county relief officer to serve Eastland county, who will work with and under the direction of the county relief committee.

"The duties of a county relief officer, according to our understanding, are chiefly the general supervision of the relief activities of the various relief committees of the county, of which there are seven in number, to wit: Cisco, Ranger, Eastland, Rising Star, Gorman, Carbon and Desdemona; to direct and assist the committees in administering relief in accordance with the purpose and spirit of the law providing relief funds; to assist the secretaries and other committee officers in preparing and furnishing to the county relief office proper reports concerning the expenditure of funds, number of families and individuals aided, etc., and such other services as may be required and found necessary in properly and effectively administering relief to the destitute and deserving families of the county.

"His activities will be subject only to the orders of the Texas Relief commission and the county committee. Full time of the officer elected will be required to be devoted to the work; car transportation over the county to be furnished by himself, for which reasonable compensation will be allowed as well reason compensation for the service rendered. Qualifications and fitness for this important position will be the points considered by the committee in making their selection and recommendations to the Texas relief commission.

"Written application only will be considered by the committee and without personal interview, which applications should be filed with J. A. Spencer, county chairman, Cisco, Texas, or W. E. Tyler, county secretary-treasurer, Rising Star, Texas, or by noon, Monday, May 22, 1933."

Beer Permits Are Sought In Texas

AUSTIN, May 19.—Swamped with mail applications to sell beer, James W. Bass, United States internal revenue collector, today applied to Washington for 500 additional permits.

Today's mail alone had 15 applications, all from San Antonio.

Anyone who wants to pay $3.34 tax for the privilege of retailing beer until June 30, may get a permit, Bass said.

The permits are not in any way an interference with enforcement of state laws, Bass explained. The records of permits issued are public records and any district attorney is welcome to inspect them for the purpose of prosecutions under state law.

SAN ANTONIO, May 19.—Café and night club operators today threatened the department of internal revenue office here for applications for federal permits to sell 3.2 beer.

Ratification Bill Is Signed Today

AUSTIN, May 19.—Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson filed today with her signature the bill prescribing a method for state ratification or rejection or repeal of the 18th federal amendment. Under the bill delegates to a ratification convention will be elected August 26. Convention delegates are to be nominated June 27 and the convention will be held November 24 at Austin.

Jack Stewart Gets A 15-Year Sentence

HOUSTON, May 19.—Jack Stewart, 23, Decatur jail breaker, pleaded guilty today to charges of robbery and automobile theft and was sentenced by a district court jury to 15 years in prison.

Stewart escaped from the Decatur jail last December with Floyd Sney and Ralph King, North Texas desperadoes.

Bonus Army Leaders Make Truce at Peace Table

Here are the ruling powers of the bonus army encamped at Fort Hunt, Va., opposite Washington, D. C. pictured about the peace table as they effected a truce between the 1100 veterans who first accepted the government's hospitality and the 200 who joined them grudgingly, charging they were "communists controlled." HEARING ON EASTLAND BOND CASE IS SET

FORT WORTH, May 19.—A hearing was to be held here at 10 a. m. Friday on the application of the Security Benefit Association for a temporary injunction to prevent the City of Eastland from withdrawing a $20,000 trust fund from a Cisco bank.

The setting was made today by Federal Judge James C. Wilson. The Security Benefit Association claims the City of Eastland has defaulted in the payment of a large sum in bonds held by it.

TEMPERANCE IS KEYNOTE OF WET CAMPAIGN

FORT WORTH, May 19.—Temperance rather than "five cent beer" will be stressed in the statewide campaign for the legalization of 3.2 beer and wines and repeal of national prohibition, launched here today.

Rep. John Mathis of Houston, campaign director, selected a six-room suite in the Texas Hotel today for state headquarters of the Liberal League of Texas, the unit around which all wet organizations will rally for a concerted drive.

"The campaign will have as its principal aim the removal of prohibition from politics for all time" Mathis said. "It will stress temperance rather than five cent beer."

An intensive advertising and publicity program looking toward the repeal of prohibition is being formed in every county and precinct in Texas.

County Bar Met Friday Morning

The Eastland County Bar association was called to meet in the 91st district courtroom Friday morning to take official notice of the death of Senator H. E. Breckenridge. In the absence of the president, Virgil T. Seabury, M. McCullough presided over the meeting. The secretary, Scott Key, being absent Herbert Reed was appointed to fill that position.

Responding to a motion by Forest Wright of Cisco the chair appointed Perry Sales, Carl Springer and Allen D. Dabney as a committee to provide a floral tribute for the funeral. Judge George L. Davenport, Forest Wright of Cisco and Earl Conner were appointed to prepare resolutions of sympathy to be presented to the family. It was announced that all members of the Eastland County Bar association would be honorary pallbearers for the funeral.

County Bar Met Friday Morning

ANGLETON, Tex., May 19.—"Hot weather and green vegetables" caused the deaths of two convicts at Retriever State Penal Farm, Justice H. E. Stephens recorded today in an inquest verdict. The prisoners were Lester Smith, Bowie county burglar and Edwin Herd, Bosque county bandit.

Approximately 50 men from Ramsay farm were ill for the same reason, but will recover.

SEN. BRELSFORD OF EASTLAND BURIED TODAY

Funeral services for former state senator H. E. Brelsford, who died at his home, 301 North Daugherty street, Eastland, late Thursday, were conducted from the First Methodist church of Eastland this afternoon at 3:00 o'clock with Dr. Geo. W. Shearer, pastor of First Methodist church of Arlington and former pastor of the Methodist church of Eastland, officiating. Ben Hamner of the Hamner Undertaking Company of Eastland had charge of the funeral arrangements. Burial was in the Eastland cemetery, the Eastland Masonic Lodge, of which the deceased had long been a member, having charge of the ceremonies at the grave.

The large auditorium of the Methodist church was filled. The floral offering was such as bespoke the high esteem in which the deceased was held. All Eastland business houses closed from 3:00 to 4:00 o'clock out of respect to his memory. The Eastland county bar association met this morning and appointed committees to provide flowers and draft appropriate resolutions on his death.

Home Platt Brelsford was born at Onarga, Ill., September 1, 1869, the son of Dr. Joseph and Mary Platt Brelsford. He spent his boyhood in that state and attended Notre Dame University in Indiana where he received his A. B. degree in 1891. In 1894 he took his M. A. degree from this same school.

He came to Texas in 1892, where he was married to Marjorie Parvlin in Eastland. To this union five children, all boys, were born. Four of these, Harry of Fort Worth, Homer Jr. and Bryan of Eastland, and Gordon of Tyler, and his widow, survive. He is also survived by a brother, Dr. Guy Brelsford of Detroit, Michigan, a nephew, Joseph A. Pierson of Chicago, Ill., and eleven grandchildren.

Senator Brelsford was one of the organizers of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and was the second president of that organization. His administration sponsored the West Texas Chamber of Commerce's legislative bureau at Austin, which is still in existence.

In an early day he organized and was first lieutenant and acting captain of the Ross Rifles at Eastland. He served in the Texas house of representatives in the 28th and 29th sessions and was state senator from this district from 1913 to 1917. During the World War he served as Eastland county food administrator; chairman of the county draft board, and chairman of the Liberty Loan committee for this congressional district. By appointment he served three times as special justice of the second court of civil appeals at Fort Worth, and twice by appointment was special associate justice of the supreme court of Texas. He served as a member of the State Democratic executive committee; was a delegate to the national Democratic convention in Denver in 1908 and twenty years later was a delegate to the national Democratic convention at Houston. He served many years as president of Eastland banking institution, former chairman of their board of directors.

Senator Brelsford with a number of other Eastland citizens built Lake Eastland, one mile north of the city of Eastland. Land owned in the vicinity of Eastland became valuable when oil was discovered on it. The golf links of the Eastland Golf and Country club are located on land belonging to him.

High School and Junior College Commencement Exercises To Be Conducted Monday and Tuesday

Commencement exercises for the Ranger Junior College and the Ranger high school will get under way Sunday night when the baccalaureate sermon for the two schools will be preached by Rev. J. S. Pearce of Cisco. Dr. Pearce is one of the most forceful preachers in this section of the southwest and his sermon will be an interesting, entertaining and educational speaker, his talks always being of the highest order and more inspirational, possibly, than those of any speaker in this part of the country.

Tuesday night the graduating exercises for the Ranger high school seniors will be conducted in the auditorium of the school with Judge J. E. Hickman, chief justice of the Eleventh Court of Civil Appeals at Eastland, delivering the principal address. Judge Hickman is known over the entire state as an interesting, entertaining and educational speaker, his talks always being of the highest order and more inspirational, possibly, than those of any speaker in this part of the country.

The seniors of the two schools, their parents and friends, are looking forward to the commencement exercises with the anticipation that they will be the most outstanding ever conducted for the local schools.

MEASURE TO GIVE ICKES OIL POWERS

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Rep. Marland, Dem., Okla., introduced in the house today the administration's program to curb overproduction in the nation's oil fields.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The administration's emergency program was broadened today to include federal price fixing of oil and government regulation of the entire petroleum industry.

Introduction of a bill giving Secretary of Interior Ickes full power to set prices, limit production and control imports was expected to be accompanied by a message from President Roosevelt urging prompt action.

The bill was drafted following the failure of previous efforts to curb production.

Ickes believes conditions in the oil industry are the worst in its history. He is determined to make full use of powers proposed. The bill's major provisions are:

1. Authority for Ickes to regulate production and imports.
2. Fixing maximum and minimum prices.
3. Regulation of all drilling.
4. Action to prevent transportation in interstate commerce of oil produced illicitly.
5. More stringent regulation of pipe lines.

Opposition of Texas producers to the measure has softened considerably, according to word reaching the administration.

Contestants Are Signing Up For Trip to Chicago

Six entries have already entered the Ranger Times Worlds Fair Trip contest, which is being sponsored by the paper in conjunction with several of the merchants of the city, and the number will probably be increased today or tomorrow, as others have expressed their interest in the contest and are expected to join soon.

An award of 5,000 votes is being given each contestant for promptness in entering the contest and the other votes can be secured from the merchants who are cooperating in making the trip possible.

The list of those who have entered their names prior to Saturday night will be carried in the Times Sunday morning, in order that their friends may know they have entered and prepare to save votes for them.

Those who are planning on entering the contest are urged to do so as soon as possible in order that they may have every opportunity to win by getting an early start with all other contestants.

THREE GUESSES

FINAL ROUNDS TO BE PLAYED OFF SUNDAY

Barbecue, Bridge and Dance Are Features On Program For Tourney.

Qualifying rounds in the third annual invitation golf tournament of the Ranger Country club got under way today, with ideal weather to greet those who were starting their qualifying rounds. Indications were today that between 75 and 100 entries would be on hand before the close of the first day of play.

Those who have been over the course in the past two days report that it is in the best condition it has been in years, particularly the grass tees, which were materially benefited by the drenching rains of the past week-end and the warm weather that followed.

Many star golfers from over this section are expected to qualify, among them being Ranger's two ace players, Jimmy Phillips, West Texas champion, and H. H. Vaughn, city champion. Both these two are expected to be well up in the first flight.

The annual barbecue and Calcutta pool is to be staged tonight at the clubhouse, to which all entries are invited.

Entertainment features include a woman's bridge tournament, which will be played Saturday afternoon and a dance Saturday night. Finals will be played Sunday afternoon.

The driving contest was to be staged this afternoon with a large number of contestants for the prize expected to take part.

Prizes valued at more than $250 will go to the winners of the various events and the winner of the driving contest. These prizes will be awarded Sunday evening at the conclusion of the finals by A. Neill, president of the Ranger Country club.

A. Neill, C. D. Harnett and H. J. Stafford compose the rules committee, with C. Smith, Fred Gamble, William M. McDonald, Felton Brasher, Odell Bailey and C. D. Harnett on the tournament committee.

Flights of 16 players each will be arranged at the end of the medal play and prizes are to be awarded to the winners of each flight.

Legion Post Calls Mass Meeting of All Ex-Service Men

At the regular weekly meeting of the Carl Barnes Post of the American Legion, held Thursday night, a call for a mass meeting of all ex-service men in this section of the country was called. Rays of the remaining half on the adjusted service certificates will be discussed at the meeting and all ex-service men are urged to be present.

The call for the mass meeting was issued after a letter from the state department urging all Legion posts to hold such mass meetings was read. It was pointed out that the majority of the congressmen were in favor of the cash payment of the bonus now, but that they were delaying action on the question until indication of the backing of the ex-service men was shown.

Delegates to the 17th district convention at Cisco were elected, with Lenon Bethel as chairman of the delegation, and in charge of credentials, D. W. Johnson, in charge of resolutions and Legion Hall, R. H. Hansford and Charles Hathcock as the other delegates.

Weekly Sunday School Lesson

Pictures of Silver

Mark 12:28-40
By BEULAH K. HICKS

Tuesday of Passion Week and Jesus was again in the temple. The Pharisees, the strict theologians and the popular party and the Herodians, men of the court, powerful people in Jerusalem, were asking questions, "to catch him in his words."
How beautiful was the infinite understanding and compassion with which Jesus taught these men. How great was their confusion when he showed by his answers that he understood their cunning.
He taught them that there was no conflict in being a law-abiding citizen and a follower of Jesus. If you are a true follower of Christ you can not fail to be a law-abiding citizen.
These people are then followed by the Sadducees, a wealthy party consisting mainly of the chief priests and their families. They did not believe in a future life and thought to trap Jesus on the question concerning the woman who had married seven brothers, each dying soon after marriage. "Now whose wife should she be in the resurrection?"
How profound the teaching of Jesus as he answers as no earthly man could answer, giving us a glimpse into the next life. He gave us a picture of that exalted life where our relations are toward the Father and no carnal love enters in. He explains that he is God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, the God of the living; so these great men must be living there in that perfect land today.
Then a scribe, a Pharisee, who had been listening and enjoying the direct and conclusive answers of Jesus, came forward and asked what was the greatest commandment of all.
Then Jesus summed up the whole of his teaching with these two commandments: "Hear, O Israel; the Lord our God is one Lord; and thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength.
"Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."
In Matthew he tells us that "on these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets."
Happy is that person who becomes acquainted with Christ and lets Christ become the great teacher in his life; studies not to find errors and flaws as did these Pharisees, but that his mind can be opened to greater depths of love and service wherein lies true happiness.
"God is love" and to love God is to love and serve our fellow man; not in shining historic deeds but in every-day kindnesses in our daily walks of life.
One proof of our love is the response we meet from people day by day. Can they confide their trouble, open their hearts to us or do they regard us as the scribe who loved great salutations, "Chief seats in the synagogues," "and for a pretense make long prayers," yet in the week-a-day world are scoundrels?
Jesus, the King of Kings, condemns that life but would have his followers, humble, loving yet firm, discerning the good from the evil and ever following his teaching for "Never man spake like this man."—John 7:46.

County Relief Agent Will Be Selected Soon

At a meeting of the county board of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation relief work, held in Cisco Wednesday afternoon, it was decided that another meeting would be held early next week for the purpose of hiring a county administrator of relief, in accordance with plans previously made, but which were delayed on account of the delay in receiving federal funds in Texas.
J. E. Spencer of Cisco, chairman of the board, announced at the meeting yesterday that letters would be mailed out to the various committees in the towns in the county, calling attention to the meeting and fixing the date. It is expected that the meeting will be held either Monday or Tuesday and that the selection of the manager of the county relief work will be selected at that time, his duties to begin as soon after the meeting as possible.

Students Prepared Wool to Go Into President's Suits

LURBOCK, Texas.—Two students of Texas Technological College, both members of the football squad, bought and prepared wool for making President Roosevelt and his two sons white woolen suits.
The students, Leonard O. Curfman of Electra, Tex., and Malcolm Martin of Lorenzo, Texas, bought 170 pounds of raw wool from a Texas grower. They scoured and carded the wool and after it was woven into yarn shipped the material to a nationally known clothing manufacturer for making into suits. The yarn weighed 55 pounds after it had been treated by the students.

Love Scenes Prohibit Body Odor Permit No M. S. Either!

New way discovered to end body odor at its source. Stale perspiration curds now reached by deep-pore cleansing and instantly removed!

Body-odor can kill romance. So can highly scented soaps that betray their purpose! A new and better way to prevent offense is by deep-pore cleansing. Here is why:
Every specialist knows that objectionable body odor does not come from fresh perspiration but from stale perspiration deep in the pores.
Stale perspiration contains calcium, salt and particles of fat. The thick and sticky lather of most ordinary toilet soaps is unsuited chemically to mix with this waste material and disperse it. Instead, it hardens into clogging curds!
That's why deep-pore cleansing is needed to remove the objectionable curds—and it is a scientific fact that there is only one way to accomplish this. Kirk's Coco Castile—being a 100% pure vegetable oil soap—mixes with the particles of perspiration curds, loosens them, then rinses out completely. Thus it ends

Scientists Seek Creation of Life

By SIDNEY B. WHIPPLE
United Press Staff Correspondent
(Copyright 1933 by United Press)
NEW YORK.—Scientists, patiently scrutinizing tiny bits of living matter beneath their microscopes in widely scattered laboratories, are trying to piece together scraps of knowledge into a pattern of creation.
Their goals, probably never to be realized in their own generation, are two—the creation of life; the perpetuation of life. Day by day, with infinite and wearisome repetition, they are conducting experiments in New York, in Cleveland, in Moscow, with living tissue and with dead tissue mysteriously revived by their salts and solutions.
Their methods vary but their experiments are headed in one direction—to create or keep alive the pulsation of cells, spelling life. Although, in cold scientific phraseology, "no recent" results from experiments with auto-synthetic cells warrant new deductions, the work of Dr. George Crile and his assistants in Cleveland hold a front place in the work.

Dr. Crile has produced cells regarded as a step midway between living and non-living matter. A solution of salts is placed in a tiny dish beneath a microscope. To this is added a bit of fat tissue. The two react. Tiny fibers "grow." Proteins are added to the solution and the auto-synthetic cells appear. They resemble real cells, but are much simpler. They behave like living cells. They grow by absorbing chemicals. When they reach a certain size, they split in parts, like the Amoeba and other simple-celled animals.
This is not, of course, creating life. But it is an approach.
In New York, a fragment of tissue cut from the heart of a chicken embryo was placed in a test tube several years ago and constantly nourished. Since that day it has doubled its volume each 48 hours—only to be cut down by the scientists.
Dr. Alexis Carrel, the scientist conducting this experiment, has concluded the only thing that keeps men from living forever is the possession of a brain and nervous system. He says his little chicken the hope of eventually "revising that have aroused in their minds heart could live forever. The only human cells not having that property, he says, are those in the human brain.

In the state institute for experimental biology in Moscow, Russian scientists have made discoveries ...p8p sqj

Put more SUNSHINE days on your calendar How many days in the month do you feel your best? You can add to these sunshine days by simply obeying nature's laws. The first of these laws is regular elimination. Avoid common constipation by eating a delicious cereal. Tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to help aid regularity. ALL-BRAN also contains twice the iron of an equal weight of beef liver. The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. How much more pleasant than pills and drugs—so often habit-forming. Serves as a cereal or use in cooking. GOVERNOR BRYAN PERMITS BEER BILL TO BECOME A LAW

Gov. Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska permitted a bill to legalize 3.2 beer in dry Nebraska, effective next Aug. 9, to become a law without his signature. He furnished the generous alibi: "I feel it is my official duty to permit the bill to become a law without my approval subject to the notion that those opposing the bill may feel it their duty to take."

If William Jennings Bryan were in the land of the living, legalized beer in Nebraska would have sent his heart to the grave for a second time. Nomination of James M. Cox for president in 1920 sent the heart of the "prince of peace" to the grave after he had declared that the democrats had named a presidential nominee on a beer keg platform. Governor Bryan would like to go to the senate of the United States to fill the vacancy caused by the death of R. B. Howell, republican, months ago. Nebraska has managed to get along with one senator since the passing of Howell. After the adjournment of the Nebraska legislature, the governor may resign. A democratic lieutenant-governor will take his place and then perhaps Brother Charlie will be given the right to sport a senatorial toga.

CONGRATULATION TO LAWMAKERS OF TEXAS

County home rule is on the way in Texas. Place it in the record of Texas history that the senate adopted the conference report on county home rule. Place it in the record that the house had already adopted it. As enacted the amendment applies to counties of 62,000 and over. It was a splendid victory for those who believe in county government, sweeping reduction in the cost of local units of government and placing Texas on a higher plane and it is to be hoped a higher efficiency at a greatly reduced cost. Now it is for the qualified voters to make the amendment a part of the organic law.

PEGGY McMATH AND HER ABDUCTORS

Peggy McMATH is safe in the arms of her parents. Her abductors are safe behind the bars of a Massachusetts jail. Kidnaping is not regarded as a heinous crime by the lawmakers of Massachusetts. Indeed, the extreme penalty is 25 years imprisonment "at hard labor," whatever that may be.

There should be one penalty for the kidnapers of children and one only: DEATH IN THE ELECTRIC CHAIR.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

L. FOSTER, advertising manager of the Connersville (Ind.) News-Examiner, says:

"Communities grow, prosper, and attract others according to how well each individual store and business enterprise builds for itself. There used to be a lot of logic in concerted efforts on the part of communities to further their growth, but much of such energy in these days is thought to be lost, while the biggest help to any community is efforts on the part of individual merchants to build for themselves and the community. A community filled with individual units of business that make a success is sure to bring greatest good to the community as whole.

"There is no need of a campaign for home pride, community spirit and boost-the-home-town where each individual citizen has the pride of home ownership in his heart. When every home owner keeps his premises clean there is no need for a concerted community movement to clean up and paint up. Likewise it is true that any community having merchants who are all on their toes building for themselves needs no fund nor organization to further the movement for patronizing home institutions. If the individual store builds well and attracts people the atmosphere for standardizing by and for the community is created automatically. You can easily have the home folks believe in the home town and the community when they believe in the individual units of business represented in the town. While a few tricky merchants can soon tear down what has been taken a lifetime for others to build. The public is a strange mass. It judges structures of most every kind by the weakest piece of material used in the construction. A bad apple can eventually spoil all the other good apples in the barrel.

"When I was a child I spoke as a child, I thought as a child, I acted as a child, but when I became a man I put away childish things." As a church, lodge or societies of every kind attract others because of their individual membership, along with their teachings, likewise a community, or business center attracts trade because of the likable nature of each individual store or business unit. When we have grown to manhood as individuals or community centers it is time to put away childish thoughts and actions.

"Let's serve the community best and boost it most by serving customers of our stores best, and by building well our individual business."

For Chesterfields to Satisfy. It takes barrels of money — put away for 30 months. Four miles of warehouses are used to store our tobaccos. The crops now in storage are worth about $70,000,000... most of it for Chesterfield Cigarettes. The Domestic kinds are packed away in wooden hogsheads that weigh 1,000 pounds and stand as high as a man's head. Like fine wine, tobacco improves with age. So after our buyers select from the various markets, the right kind of tobacco for Chesterfield, we put it away for 30 months or more to become mellow and sweet. This ageing process is expensive, but there is no short-cut to make tobacco milder—to make them taste better. It just takes money and time to make Chesterfields.

Political Pot Begins to Boil In Texas Capital

By United Press
 AUSTIN.—A small news item from Washington recently carried great political significance for Texas.
 The item was a mere announcement that Congressman-at-Large Bailey, Jr., of Dallas, would be a candidate for the new Dallas county district against Congressman Hutton Summers, a fellow townsman.
 Those who remember the enmeshment with which the Junior Bailey was received on the stump in Texas last summer, at once begin to figure on what else he may do for.
 Suppose he should announce for the United States senate against H. R. Sheppard. Suppose he should enter the race for governor in Texas. Either move would cause a quick readjustment of the prospects.
 Bailey's entry into either race might also determine Attorney General James V. Allred's decision, what office he will next seek, and with his big anti-trust suit against major oil companies still pending, would like to finish up a bit of business. It may not be when the governorship race is under way. He probably will be free for the next senatorial election in that race it would likely be a cinch for Sheppard.
 That Allred is being figured on by politicians as a likely entry in a governor's race is only too apparent.
 When Rep. Sarah Hughes of Dallas, referred to him in the case of Representatives as "the st. governor of Texas," friends of Speaker Coke Stevenson were quick to come out with a statement that Stevenson will be an announced candidate.
 Stevenson, canny as he is wittily looked wise.
 The personal and political length of former Gov. James E. Ferguson was exerted to elect Stevenson speaker. Stevenson had been a Ferguson stalwart, in that he had scratched that name in Stevenson was preferred to A. P. Johnson whose administration of Gov. Ross Sterling approached close to hero-worship.
 With Bailey and Stevenson both in the governor race, the Ferguson forces would split. Bailey was law partner of the late Luther School, drafter of the Ferguson tax plan and counsel for Ferguson in political litigation.
 In any event, the next gubernatorial race seems to be rounding into a shape with no room for Mrs. Ferguson in it. Indications point there being several such outstanding candidates, that there will not again be an opportunity for the Ferguson "vest pocket" to slip Mrs. Ferguson into good place for a run-off.
 The entry of Congressman Bailey into the race for the United States senate would be more interesting. Senator Morris Sheppard's term expires in 1937. Sheppard succeeded Bailey's father in the place when the latter died and was not a candidate. His recent campaign speeches, Bailey Jr., expressed the hope

'Daddy' Browning Is Sued Again

Romance wasn't at the bottom of Edward "Daddy" Browning's latest court encounter. It was, instead, $300 worth of clothing which Miss Julia Ward said she lost in the New York hotel of which "Daddy" is proprietor. Here is Miss Ward in court at Long Island City during trial of her suit.
 He might follow the principles and views of his father.
 "I can't hope to match him," he said.
 The man who runs against Senator Sheppard is not going to have an easy time of it. Despite the present trend away from prohibition, public feeling has a habit of swinging like a pendulum.
 If the regulated liquor traffic fails to show a big improvement over the speak-easy type of thirteenth-venching by the summer of 1936, when the senatorial campaign is on public opinion may have swung back stronger than ever to prohibition.
 Senator Sheppard, too has for 20 years been looking after matters for Texas constituents, whether they were political friends or foes. Many times when all other means failed to untangle Washington red tape, the Texarkana Senator got results. Twenty years of that sort of service builds up a friendship that will stand him in good stead.

Oil Tax Bill May Pass Over Governor's Veto

AUSTIN, May 19.—The Texas legislature responded to unofficial reports of Governor Ferguson's intention to veto the two-cent oil tax and intangible tax on oil pipe lines, by engrossing the intangible tax on both oil and natural gas pipe lines, and by signing up a majority of the house members on a petition asking her to approve the oil tax bill and reminding her it has supporters enough to pass over the veto, if disapproved.
 A group of senators also were busy preparing to attempt passage of the bill over the veto in that house.
 Members in both branches took seriously the report, which came from persons close to the Ferguson, that the governor was convinced the oil tax bill is unconstitutional, as to the intangible levy on pipe lines at least, and would veto it.
 The bill is the only one raising new revenues to pass both houses at this session. It would give the state about $4,000,000 a year more from the oil tax, and about $4,000,000 from the pipe line levy.
 The house engrossed, by an 81 to 43 vote the Tennyson bill to make all natural gas pipe lines common carriers, subjecting them to regulations from which they now escape. An amendment by Representative Lotief was adopted, 75 to 25, adding also the gas pipe lines to oil pipe lines, bringing both under the intangible assets tax levy.
 Rep. A. K. Daniel rescued the pipe line tax levy of his bill from possible repeal, when he objected to an amendment by the Lotief amendment that would have left oil pipe lines out of the re-enactment of the intangible levy. This, as a complete re-enactment of the statute, and following later than the Daniel bill, would have excluded the oil pipe lines from the tax. The oil pipe lines were kept in the second bill.
 An attempt to suspend the rules and pass the Tennyson bill finally failed, but the bill had a two-to-one majority assuring its being taken up on a later day for passage in the house.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY
 THERE seems to be a tradition in this country that veal is an "indigestible" meat. France, however, regards it as a delicacy suitable for invalids and uses it as we use chicken.
 It is in the cooking that the digestibility of veal rests, because scientific experiments have proved that properly cooked veal is as easily digested as any other meat. Remember that veal should be thoroughly cooked, never rare or underdone. Even thinly sliced cuts such as steaks and chops should be cooked for at least 40 minutes.
 Long, slow cooking is imperative for roasts as well as other cuts.
Monday's Menu
BREAKFAST: Grape fruit juice, cereal, cream, scrambled eggs, reheated rolls, cocoa, coffee.
LUNCHEON: Surprise baked potatoes, lettuce, sandwiches, whipped gelatin, oatmeal cookies, milk, tea.
DINNER: Portions of veal, broad noodles, creamed carrots and peas, beet and cabbage salad, sponge cake filled with strawberry buff, milk, coffee.
 Peel but do not slice onion. Scrape carrot and cut in halves. Cut celery in inch pieces and put these vegetables with bayleaf and peppercorns into a square of cheesecloth. Tie securely and drop into water. Bring to the boiling point and add meat. Boil for ten minutes. Reduce heat and simmer until meat is tender, about three hours. Cool in the water. Remove and cut in neat pieces for serving. Remove cheesecloth bag of seasonings from stock. Roll meat in flour seasoned with salt and brown quickly in hot pork fat or butter. Remove meat to hot platter and brown two tablespoons in frying pan in which meat was browned adding more fat if necessary. There should be two tablespoons fat. Stir in stock in which meat was and cook and stir until gravy boils. Pour over meat, garnish with parsley and serve.

El Paso Ghosts Worry to City

By United Press
 EL PASO.—El Paso has a ghost population of 18,100 persons, according to City Registrar Alex K. Powell, who is more familiar with the ghost problem than other officials.
 "It's really a problem, too," said Powell, "and it's real. Not one of these imaginary persons exists, yet their influence is felt daily in the lives of every actual resident of El Paso."
 The ghost population represents the difference between the census bureau's estimate of El Paso's 1933 population and the number of inhabitants actually present.
 The census bureau's estimate is based on birth and death rates—in a word, it is what should be here, providing the city continued to grow at the same rate that it grew prior to the 1930 census.
 Death rates, birth rates and other statistics should be figured in census estimates, which indicate the existence of a large number of persons in El Paso who aren't here.
 Per capita costs of government are based on census estimates, so the city's ghost population can be credited on paper with spreading these costs out thinner than actually is the case.
 A survey, just completed, indicates the present city population is 88,000.

ZONOLITE MINES DEVELOPED

 LIBBY, Mont.—New uses for zonolite have resulted in extensive development of mines containing the ore in this district, according to a report by the Zonolite company. Extensive utilization of the material is being made in manufacture of insulating materials for cold storage rooms, water heaters, buildings, and automobile mufflers, it was said. Zonolite also is being used in the manufacture of a high temperature insulating cement.

WOODPILE SHOWED LOSS

By United Press
 LINCOLN, Kan.—Big financing! The municipal woodpile here showed a net loss of $2.50 in its six-months operation. This loss, however, was offset by a probable saving of $400 to the county poor fund. Much of the wood was donated; the men cutting the wood were paid after the lumber was sold, thus providing means for their support.

Kelvinator Has Largest Month In Its Entire History

April was the biggest month from the standpoint of factory shipments that Kelvinator corporation ever has experienced in its 19 years of existence, according to word received from the factory in Detroit by Killingsworth, Cox & Co., local Kelvinator representatives.

A total of 30,116 units were shipped from the factory during the month, Mr. Killingsworth said. This figure represents an increase of 47 per cent of the April average for the past five years and eclipses the previous record of 25,427 units shipped in April, 1932.

"This business is more than a temporary spurt," the local dealer pointed out. "The factory now has on hand unfilled orders representing 217 per cent of those on file at the beginning of the month."

Information received by Mr. Killingsworth reveal that the factory May production schedule has been set at 40 per cent above the shipment of May, 1932, which was the biggest May in the company's history.

"From all parts of the country there are reports of an unusually keen interest in Kelvinator products. The 1933 Kelvinator household line already has been accepted as the most advanced and complete the company ever has offered while other refrigeration products such as water coolers, air conditioning units and similar equipment are being sold to a greater extent than ever before," the local dealer said.

T. & P. Railway Cars Burglarized

Two box cars were broken into in the Texas & Pacific freight yards at Edinburg Thursday night and a quantity of merchandise taken. It was reported that two or three cases of shoes, some groceries and dry goods and possibly other merchandise were missing; however, the shoes with the exception of one pair, which were said to be the property of J. C. Penney & Co., were recovered.

Sheriff Virge Foster and his deputies have made some investigation of the matter but at the time of going to press had made no arrests. Some tramps, who spent the night in the yards, on being questioned by the officials stated that they were looking for an open car in which to sleep and noticed one or two containing merchandise that were open, but passed them up because they feared being caught with burglary if they were found in one of them.

Students Riot at Columbia U.

Noses were bloodied, eyes blacked and clothes torn in the rioting which broke out at Columbia University's campus in New York as 1500 students staged a strike and demonstration protesting the recent dismissal of Donald Henderson, economics instructor and avowed Communist. The top photo shows the battle in progress between the "radical" strikers and anti-radical students loyal to the administration. The inset shows Diego Rivera, Mexican artist recently dismissed from Rockefeller Center for his Lenin mural, urging the strikers "to wrest control of the university from Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler." Willows Will Be Ready for Formal Opening Thursday

Work of improving the swimming pool and the grounds at the Willows is just about completed and the official opening date has been set by the swimming pool committee of the Lions club for Thursday, May 25, it was announced today by A. N. Larson, chairman of the committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Murphy have been selected by the club to manage the pool this year and they will have complete charge, under the supervision of the swimming pool committee.

The filtration plant has been cleaned out and renovated so that a much larger stream of water can be filtered in the course of a day, 10-inch pipes replacing the four-inch pipe that formerly circulated the water. By the addition of these 10-inch pipes the pool can be drained and refilled in about one-third the time formerly required.

The complete program for the opening has not as yet been completed, but the committee in charge is now working on these plans, which will be in readiness before the opening night.

The concrete work in the pool has been repaired so that there will be no leaks, the bath houses have been improved and re-painted and the entire grounds cleaned and reconditioned.

Addition of playground equipment for the children will add much to the entertainment features of the Willows, as recreation facilities for the kiddies are being greatly improved. It was said today by those in charge of the work that it could probably be completed this week-end and the remainder of the time before the opening day utilized in filling the pool, preparing the program and getting everything in readiness for the formal opening.

10 Cent Store Hen Established Record

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—A. J. Ison claims that any hen is going to have to do some tall laying to beat the record of a hen that he purchased as a little chick from a 5 and 10 cent store.

"On about Feb. 1, 1933, this hen began to lay eggs," he says. "She laid one egg a day for 30 days. Then after that she began to lay a double-yoked egg every other day for about 15 days. Then a few days later this hen laid three eggs in one day, all soft shelled. Then after this she has laid two eggs a day twice a week since, all soft shelled."

"She has been laying now for 90 days and still going good."

Now law permits physicians a 90-day supply of liquor for patients. After 12 years, at last the reward of patience.

Ray Fesimire Is New Manager of Ranger Ward Store

Ray Fesimire, who has been connected with the Montgomery Ward store in Ranger for the past 15 months, with the exception of a few weeks spent at Del Rio, has returned to Ranger and has taken over the active management of the Ranger store. He relieved H. J. Barham this morning and Barham is to be transferred to the Brownwood store as manager.

Fesimire, in the time he has lived in Ranger, has become well acquainted with the people of the section of the country and has a large number of friends who are glad to welcome him back to the city and who congratulate him on his promotion to manager of the store.

Fesimire is considered a capable man for the position as manager of the Ranger store, which is one of the most important units in the southern division of the company. During the recent Ward week sales in the store ranked third in the entire southern division, which is a remarkable showing for the local store. Shawnee, Okla., was ranked first in the entire south, with Big Spring second and Ranger third. Advertising for the Ward week sale was carried in the Ranger Times.

In commenting on his transfer back to Ranger today, Fesimire said that he was certainly pleased with the arrangements which brought him back to the city. He said that he had begun to feel at home in Ranger and among the Ranger people and had rather been here than with any of the Ward stores in this section of the country.

The many friends of the new manager are cordially invited to visit the store at their convenience and to make it their headquarters for their shopping needs. Old as well as new customers are always welcome at the Ward store, which has lived up to its reputation as "The Friendly Store."

New 'Hot Check' Racket Thought Pulled In City

What is thought to be another "hot check" racket has been pulled in Ranger, it was revealed today when E. L. Fontaine, manager of the Southern Ice & Utilities company, got a check back from the First National bank of Breckenridge.

A man went to the ice station several days ago and told Fontaine he was raising bees about six miles from Ranger and had a son in school in the city schools. He wanted to buy ice, but said he didn't get to town often enough to buy the ice himself, so he wanted to get an ice book to give to his boy, so he could bring home the ice each day after school.

He finally decided to get two ice books, as they would last him almost through the summer. He presented a check made out to the man for $15 and on the bottom was a notation, "Payment for three hives of bees." Fontaine accepted the check and gave the man $5 in change.

When the check was returned marked "no account" Fontaine investigated and found that the man to whom the check was made out and who had endorsed it was not known in the community where he said he lived.

OAK GROVE

OAK GROVE, May 18.—This community was visited by a two-day rain last Saturday and Sunday. We have a very fine season in the ground now and the planting of farm crops will be pushed rapidly. Condition of pastures will move up to about the 100 per cent mark also.

Our farmerettes have started the home canners and English peas and snap beans are going into winter quarters in a great way. Mrs. H. V. Fewler and Mrs. J. E. Parker canned 18 quarts of English peas Monday.

C. P. Hastings was in Carbon Monday to set some sweet potato plants for his mother.

Troy and Grace Camaday were canning vegetables at the home of Mr. and Mrs. U. G. Kinnard in the Shady Grove community Tuesday.

A big rat killing is being staged in this community this week. These rodents are destroying so much of the farmers' feed that it is necessary to employ some very extreme methods so we are going, after them with dogs, hoes clubs or any other effective instrument that may be found handy.

DARLING FOOL

by MABEL McELLIOTT

REGIN HERE TODAY

MONICA O'DARE, 20 and beautiful, is in love with DAN CARROLLAN, heir to a local fortune. They are secretly engaged. BILL O'DARE worries his mother by planning to marry ANGLIC GILLESPIE, who has got her divorce.

SANDRA LAWRENCE, who pretends to be Monica's friend, is trying to win Dan from her. Sandra discharges two servants and they try to kidnap her. She escapes. Dan's mother and sister plan a trip to a Wyoming dude ranch. Sandra is to accompany them. Dan does not want to go.

MISS ANSTICE COREY, an old friend of the O'Dares, inherits $50,000 and asks Monica to go to Europe with her. CHARLES EASTACE, newcomer to town, wins Monica's attention, she is not interested, waiting and waiting for a letter from Dan.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXVIII

SANDRA said, "You've been awfully sweet to me, Danny. Her voice broke a little on the words. She was leaning against the fireplace, the sweep of gray stone behind her throwing into high relief the perfect contour of her honey colored head. The flames from the big logs threw shadows on the blue velvet lounging pajamas she wore and Dan thought, quite idly, that she made a graceful picture. He was in riding clothes, casual and smartly western even to the big handkerchief knotted about his throat. They were alone—except for the Chinese servants. His mother and the rest of the party had gone to see a picture show at Benning, eight miles away.

"It's all right," he said rather awkwardly. "Glad to do anything I could. You had a rotten time of it and you've been a good little soldier."

"Do you honestly think so, Dan?" Her eyes shone. This was the praise she wanted above all else.

"Of course I do," Dan reflected that it was something of an effort, supplying Sandra with the moral courage she needed. Only this morning his mother had said to him firmly, "You've simply got to pour confidence into that poor nervous child, son. She's splendid but she had a shock and it is our duty to her to get her through this."

Ever since the kidnapping Sandra had been having "bad headaches" and "wretched nights." It was not, she said with a charmingly patient smile, at all like her to go to pieces this way. The others agreed and pointed out how brave she had been through the dreadful experience itself. Now—well, Sandra needed Dan to lean on, needed him at her side when they rode. She seemed perfectly content, perfectly happy when he was murmuring in her ear, when they sat at table, side by side.

"You're awfully good for me," she would say softly with a sideways glance at him. Dan felt, in a puzzled way, that he was committing himself to something without knowing what it was all about.

"Sure you didn't want to see that picture?" he said now, hoping to change the subject.

"No, honestly," Sandra said with pretty eagerness. "I'm perfectly content—perfectly—just to sit here and talk. Isn't it cozy?"

DAN agreed, stuffing his pipe and setting himself in the big leather chair opposite her.

"Just like," giggled the girl in blue velvet, "just like old married folks." She shrugged her shoulders and murmured delicately, "Honestly, Dan, I don't see what's so wonderful about it."

"She's so darned sweet," Dan thought to himself now, forgetting the beautiful girl here beside him in the intimacy of the warm room.

DAN grinned, reflecting it wasn't so bad to have Sandra talk that way to him when there was no one else around. Honestly she was kind of cute when you got right down to it. Entertaining. And she didn't seem to have any moods—was always bright and charming. As his mother had said, Sandra had had a great many advantages. She could chatter French in a way to excite Dan's envy and alarm since he had never mastered the college course in the language. She initiated also that she managed to make herself perfectly understood in Italian. Dan wouldn't know about that. But it did seem that Sandra did everything well. She rode and swam "like a streak," Dan said. She played a marvelous game of contract. She could sing. She had taken tap dancing and fencing lessons in New York last year. No doubt about it, the man who married Sandra would have a beautiful and accomplished wife. That was the way Dan still thought of her—as some other man's prospective wife. Never for an instant had he seriously considered her as his own.

She left his pulses unstirred. All her pretty ways, her exquisite clothes, her charming imperiousness were lost on him in that respect. As an onlooker he admired her performance quite impersonally. But it was Monica, he reflected, whom he really loved.

"She's so darned sweet," Dan thought to himself now, forgetting the beautiful girl here beside him in the intimacy of the warm room.

DERRICK SHADOWS

By V. MARIE STEPHENS

Somewhere I picked up a book on stage life.

Sprinkled here and there throughout the epistle on the ups and downs of stardom, one word was constantly flashed before my eyes:

A trouper!

From what I could gather, a trouper represents the actor who can take life with a smile; knocks, praises, defeat, success.

Jealousy and pessimism and hatred and fear have no place in the heart of a trouper.

And now I am reminded of that singer of philosophy who penned out the truth about life being a stage and the people the actors—and I'm wondering if he wasn't thinking about a trouper when he wrote the verse?

I heard a girl say recently that she wished she could be quiet and sweet and meek. And I laughed at her afterthought. "But people like that really aren't very interesting, are they?"

According to Louis Shurr, well known manager of artists, there is only one sure recipe for charm: Be yourself—only a little better. And to be yourself, you have to be a trouper.

During this period of "turning around" and starting back toward easy times when it's fun to be a sport, we need to concentrate on happiness through knocks.

It is as important as making the most of the times, as necessary as the hallyhoo and spur of prosperity morale. And if no one knows you are a good sport and that you can laugh when circumstances cry, at least you will know it.

And if the world turns upside down and all the people merge into a seething mass of unimportance, you are a good sport and that you can laugh when circumstances cry, at least you will know it.

Glimpse-glances: 85 years ago today the treaty between the United States and Mexico was signed. The immediate cause of the war was the annexation of Texas in 1845. The results, 525,000 square miles added to the United States, and the reorganization of the political parties along the lines of anti-slavery and pro-slavery.

And today is the birthdate of Johann Gottlieb Fichte, German philosopher.

His theory of education, that the chief aim of instruction should be to develop character, has been highly regarded.

Otherwise, he was accepted as a great many thinkers in the homeland. . . with distinct distrust.

PARIS STYLES

By MARY KNIGHT

PARIS.—Women who love labels will long for that No. 24 in Schiaparelli's 1933 collection which Mrs. Frank Wooster—who was the Baronne Fould Springer, and who owns the lovely Chateau de Royumont, near Chantilly—has just purchased.

No. 24 is built along very straight, slim lines with an amusing tie of triangular shaped scarves that start from the back of the neck and work forward. The sleeves are cut on the bias and twist around the arms, and there is a leather belt.

One of the "all day" dresses that knows what it means to be popular in the Paris manner, is numbered 51 in the current collection. It is an unconventional print—probably the best example of the new "Craies," or chalg prints, emerging from this house—and has a bold zig-zag chalked on a background of eel gray.

The only place you'll find the clinging type of girl these days is on the hind seat of a motorcycle.

Orphanage Truck Will Visit Ranger Monday, May 29

Rev. Gid J. Bryan, pastor of the First Methodist church of Ranger, has announced that a truck from the Methodist orphanage will visit Ranger and the Cicco district Monday, May 29, to pick up food supplies for the children in the home.

In speaking of the truck's trip to this section today, Rev. Bryan said: "The Woman's Missionary society for the Ranger Methodist church had already arranged to raise canned goods, eggs and other things for the orphanage. Then the Cicco district conference voted Wednesday at the conference held at Rising Star for the orphanage to send their trucks to the Cicco district to gather up the things brought to each church.

"There are now 412 boys and girls in this great home of the church, for the orphanage is a home, their home. Here they go to school and are taught to work at many useful branches of labor, both manual and intellectual.

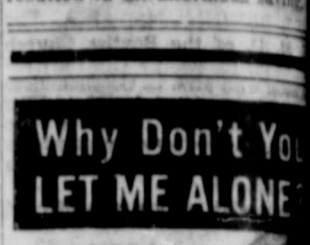

"Will you help in this great enterprise? Anything you eat in your home can be used. The truck has a capacity of 7,000 pounds and there are two of them.

"They can use canned goods and our people in Eastland county and the others around here put up many thousands of cans and jars. They can store 1,000 crates of eggs in their own cold storage plant and they hope to gather that many crates.

"They can use flour and sugar, anything good to eat. They need many sheep and goats for their land. They can use calves. Some white-faced Herefords have been given to the orphanage for their ranch near Waco. They can haul all these on their trucks.

"Will you please let Mrs. Leslie Hazcanon know as early as you can what you will bring. Remember the trucks will be in Ranger Monday morning, May 29."
