RIVERS AND HARBORS IN A TRANCE

Rep. J. J. Mansfield of Texas is chairman of the house rivers and harbors committee. He said, "off the floor to a Washington correspondent," the $100,000,000 rivers and harbors bill favorably reported to the house would not be brought up at this session.

Well, will Texans share in the division of the federal highway aid road money?

A TEXAS DEMOCRAT TURNS DOWN A JOB

Sen. William K. Hopkins of the Gonzales-Seguin district rejected an offer by Secretary Wallace to join the legal staff of the agriculture department to help administer the farm relief bill.

He frankly admitted that he appreciated the offer and would like to serve the federal government but felt that for the present he could best serve the people of his district by remaining in Texas.

They always seem to be doing something unusual in California. My old friend, James Barrett, managing director of the Oklahoma Biltmore hotel, tells me that the California state legislature recently passed a bill taxing gasoline pumps at the rate of one dollar per year.

AN ACT TO PROTECT THE WILD FLOWERS OF TEXAS

Flowers for the faithful. The Texas senate amended and passed the house wild flower bill which would make it unlawful for persons to pick flowers without the "consent of their owner or the supervisor of the property."

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

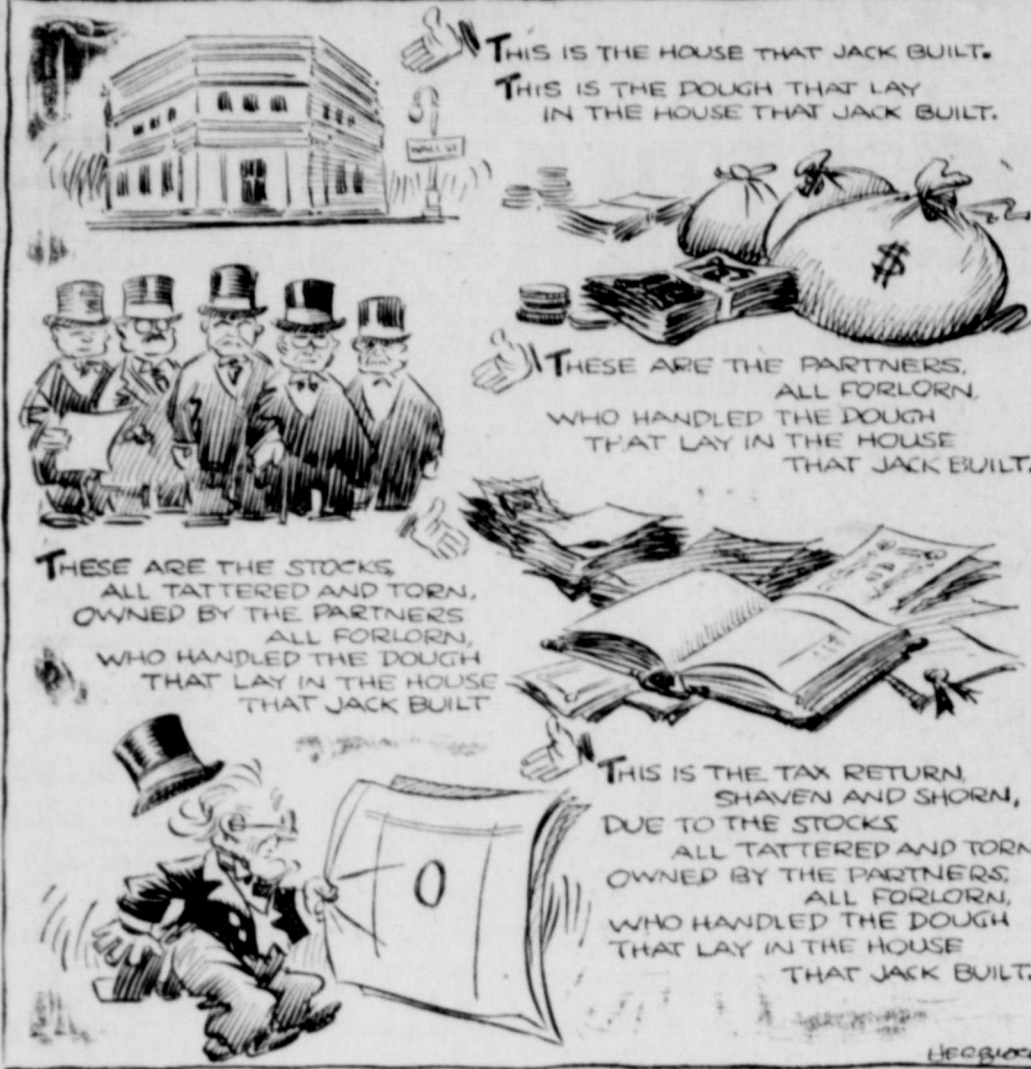

L. C. SNYDER, advertising director of the Seattle (Wash.) Times, says: "In today's world, fast-moving and chameleon-like, the newspaper, chronicling events as they occur, is a vital, necessary part of human progress."

"Each year brings changes to each city; children are born and people die; others grow to maturity taking up the burden where their predecessors have halted. Many of these new masters and mistresses of the households of the city are shopping for the first time. They have open minds and their habits of the future are in the making."

"The advertising message of today should be placed with the news of today."

There are many things apart from propaganda and a bellicose spirit that start our politicians to war upon each other. How much of their talk is mere propaganda and how how much of it is true is impossible for the public to judge, but anyway it goes they are trying to satisfy popular clamor for this or for that, whether it be right or wrong.

HOOKS and SLIDES BY BILL BRAUCHER

About Ed Leader THERE is no Poughkeepsie regretta this year—making this like a horse-racing year without a Derby—but more crews are rowing than perhaps in any other year since the War. Yale's big Derby Day on Tuesday, the Pacific regatta at Olympic Stadium and a score of intercollegiate regattas testify to the number of strong backs still bending.

Football Star ED, who has done as much for eastern rowing as the Ten Eycks or the Glendons, came near not being connected with the sport at all. At Washington he rowed under Hiram Connibear, who developed the rowing system now generally used throughout the United States.

Through with school, Ed hung out his law shingle and waited for a suit to come along. But in 1917 Connibear was killed in a fall from a tree in his orchard. Washington asked Leader to take over rowing.

Leader took his crew to Poughkeepsie for the first and only time in 1922, and gave the Navy's Olympic championship team the tussle of its life. The next year he went to Yale.

Cotton Raising

(Continued from page one) to farmers in Arkansas, Alabama, Louisiana, Georgia, Mississippi, Oklahoma, Texas and other cotton growing states than last year. An Arkansas authority said if present prices are paid Arkansas at harvest time this fall they will represent a profit of $11,000,000 in excess of what was paid for the 1932 crop.

Arkansas—Planting has been delayed two to three weeks but good weather now promises to give planters a chance to catch up with their work. There is much diversified farming, cutting down living and farming costs. A levee 25,000 acres of rich cotton land broke near Newport inundating which was in seed. Conservative estimates are that the present crop will be grown at one-third the costs of the 1931 crop.

Memphis (Reporting for Tennessee, Mississippi and Eastern Arkansas)—Planting has been delayed in seedling states had increased their government seed loans by $5,500,000 over last year.

New Orleans (Reporting for Lower Mississippi Cotton Belt)—The crop is practically all planted and best reports indicate substantial acreage increases chiefly to more federal crop loan funds available.

Atlanta (Reporting for Eastern cotton states)—Planting is complete except in the northern extremity of the belt. The acreage increase is due largely to availability of government funds. However, parts of the cotton lands are being turned over to other major crops and devoted to feed and fodder crops for farm home and barnyard consumption. South Georgia and particularly South Alabama are leading in diversified farming. The tobacco crop in South Georgia is increased.

Oklahoma—H. E. Cordell, president of the state agricultural board, is authority for the statement that cotton acreage has increased 10 to 20 percent with feed and fodder acreage about normal. Sufficient credit is available but farmers are cutting the corn crop and many have not used much fertilizer. A holdover of approximately 25,000 bales is in the farmer's possession.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON.—Despite the relatively long delay in bringing out the industry control-public works bill, everyone in the administration concerned with this measure expresses optimism to get it into operation at the earliest possible moment.

Signs of improvement in business may be visible, but the figures that receive most attention in Washington these days are those showing the trend of employment and purchasing power. To date the only reliable figures available show that this trend is continuing downward and past experience indicates that the next two or three months will fall well under the previous low for all time unless something is done about it.

That's why the administration wants its $3,300,000,000 public works program and its plan for fixing a bottom for restoring wages—purchasing power and employment to start immediately.

The April index figure for manufacturing employment was 56 as against 57.5 for February, a loss of nearly 3 per cent. The payroll index shows a decline from 35.4 to 34.9, or more than 4 per cent. These declines are distinctly larger than the average decrease in that two-month period.

Worse still, the months of May, June and July customarily show further marked drops in both manufacturing and most non-manufacturing industries. Last year there were successive declines of about 4 per cent in each of the months of May, June and July, with no pickup until August.

The fact that employment and payrolls increased in April over March was misleading by itself, since the increase by its means offset the sharp drop in March, which was accentuated by the bank holiday, and left the situation—statistically at least—worse than before.

Predatory Animal Control War Makes Good Headway

SAN ANTONIO.—April figures of the Texas Uredatory Animal Control association indicate the war against coyotes, wolves, bears and mountain lions is making headway. An army of 77 men captured 14 bobcats, 986 coyotes, 51 red wolves and three mountain lions for a grand total of 1,194 animals during the month. Webb county in Southern Texas gave up the largest number of animals with 81 bobcats and 498 coyotes and one mountain lion. Gillespie county was next with 22 bobcats and 58 coyotes. Individual trapping honors went to A. C. Parker who caught one bobcat and 87 coyotes. Bert Johnson was second with 13 bobcats and 74 coyotes to his credit. H. B. Baker's catch was one bobcat and 65 coyotes. In the red wolf area W. S. Hall had with a catch of two bobcats and 11 wolves. W. H. Batey in Badaube county trapped 10 bobcats, capturing seven. The outstanding feat of the month occurred April 28 when J. Childers caught an outlaw wolf in Jasper county after trailing it four years. The animal had been caught three times before, but always had managed to regain its liberty. Ray Brotherton, Val Verde county, J. E. Hearn, Webb county, and Bill Smith, working in Jeff Davis and Reeves counties, captured one mountain lion each. Hearn and Smith also catching a sizeable number of bobcats and coyotes. R. H. Black of Ward county led the West Texas contingent with a total catch of 60 predatory animals—one bobcat and 59 coyotes. E. M. Wallace, in Winkler county, took 45 coyotes, and Ross Graves, Loving county, captured 35.

DARLING FOOL by MABEL McELLIOTT

BEGIN HERE TODAY MONNIE O'DARE, beautiful and young, sails for Europe with her old friend, MISS ANSTICE... 'I remember,' said Monnie, thinking of Corish's cynical eyes. 'She said, "Who's the little sagger?" Paying excess on her this time?'... 'The girl begged to be taken back to her hotel early, for by this time she was actually almost ill with nervousness and excitement. Mackenzie readily acceded to her request. He was jubilant. Already he treated her like one of his choicest possessions. She was cold? Ah, that would never do! "Haggins, wrap Miss O'Dare in the fur rug, so!" That was better. He would order hot milk sent up to her directly she got back to her room. Did she mind being alone until Miss Anstice returned? Well, all the better perhaps, so that she might make her decision.'... 'AT parting he was very gentle with her, under the bright, respectful eye of the uniformed boy at the lift. "Sleep well," he charged her, smiling. "Oh, I will," she promised, laughing nervously. "Thank you for everything—you are so kind." But her eyes were troubled after she had left him. What should she do? It was too much to expect her to make such a tremendous decision overnight. Out of his presence, she now relaxed, feeling, if the truth were told, a bit resentful at the tumultuousness of his wooing. Miss Corey had described him not long ago as a bit of a pirate. The term suited him exactly. He had a touch of the buccaner about him. A polite, well-to-do mechanic, of course, but there was in his nature a trace of the ruthlessness which belongs to the unscrupulous. Monnie recognized this, liking him none the less for it, attracted in spite of herself. That he was twice her age did not seem to matter. She was young enough to consider this fact in itself a romantic circumstance. She did not love him—no! But since she could not have the man she did love, did this matter? Verena! Most people inclined to overestimate the value of love! She sat thus, wrapped in her old blue dressing gown, and sipped the warm milk the servant brought her, reminded by it of the man's solicitude for her. "What shall I do?" she cried aloud to the empty walls. "What shall I tell him tomorrow?" As if in answer to her cry a soft knock sounded at the door of the suite. Monnie, thinking the maid had returned to carry away the empty cup, softly called, "Come." But, instead of the fresh faced English woman in her neat uniform, a page boy entered with an envelope on a salver. "The letter came on the boat train, madam. The director thought it might be urgent, it had been so delayed." She tore the envelope open with trembling fingers. Dan's writing! It had been addressed to her house in New York and forwarded. "What could he have to say to her?" (To Be Continued)

DERRICK SHADOWS By V. MARIE STEPHENS

An interesting statue stands on Riverside Drive, New York city, erected in honor of Joan of Arc, brought from the dungeon at Rouen, France, from which Jeanne D'Arc was led forth to martyrdom 502 years ago today. The little French peasant girl is probably the most outstanding of historical women, around whom many tales of wonderful drama have been woven. Ten thousand men stood in the market place to see Joan of Arc burned to death... and "ten thousand men wept." I wonder what she might have been had she lived in '33 surrounded with universities and airplanes and electricity? And I wonder what America would have done with a pious, spirited girl who listened to the spirits and carried a sword? I'm afraid we don't speak her language... after 502 years. We meet lots of people. All of us do. Whether you go about town much or let the other fellow beat a path to your door, we all meet many brands and models of people... each one flaunting striking peculiarities. I know one very interesting personality who pipes an eternal "by jingo." It has ceased to be a by-word or means of emphasis. It has entered the realms of habit... and, thereupon, lost its initial purpose. I wonder if any of us could trace our habits? Somewhere I recall reading the origin of the term "by jingo!" It seems that it began in the chorus of McDermott's War Song, first lustily chanted in the music hall in London... expressing the war spirit of the Conservative lar-

"Secrets" Is Mary's Best Talkie To Date

Mary Pickford's new picture, "Secrets," opened yesterday at the Arcadia before an audience that greeted it with an enthusiasm which plainly indicated that Mary is still "America's Sweetheart" despite the fact that this is her first picture in more than two years. "Secrets" is one of the most beautiful productions that has yet come out of Hollywood, and the star looks younger and more amazingly pretty than ever. Her performance is excellent, as is the work of all others in the cast, especially that of Leslie Howard in the role of a romantic lover. The story begins in Salem, Mass., travels across the continent to Monterey, Calif., and back again to Washington, D. C., entwining with it the life threads of two people, following their joint careers from youth to old age. In addition to beauty and romance, there is also plenty of melodrama. While raising cattle in the West, the principals are beleaguered by a band of cattle rustlers in a terrifying night fight which deals death along with justice. Generally speaking, "Secrets" is the story of the love and devotion of a loyal wife who sees her husband through many trying situations to final wealth and political fame. It presents in a very unusual way the problem of a wife confronted by the fact that her husband has been unfaithful. In these dramatic scenes are disclosed some remarkable work on the part of the star and Leslie Howard. "Secrets" should certainly be seen during its engagement here, as it is unquestionably one of the great film entertainments of the year. "Secrets" plays again tonight at the Arcadia. TO PLANT MORE BEETS SALT LAKE CITY, Utah.—A 20 per cent increase in sugar beet plantings on land under contract to the Utah-Idaho Sugar company has been reported. Last year there were 80,000 acres in Idaho, Utah, Montana, Wyoming, and South Dakota. The figure this year is 100,000, with most of the acreage in Idaho, Utah and Montana.

Last Meeting of County-Council Held At Rising Star Monday

Eastland County Council of Parent-Teachers association met at Rising Star Monday, May 29, in observance of the last meeting of the season, the well-rounded out program rendered in the auditorium of the First Methodist church.

Members attending were greeted by a gracious reception committee, later ushered to choice seats by small girls frocked in long organdie dresses representing all colors of the daintily tinted rainbow.

American beauty roses flashed their radiant color against masses of fern and other long tapering greenery, also atop the lovely toned piano holding added attraction during the hour.

The meeting was opened with prayer and presided over by the out-going president, Mrs. A. J. Olson. Reading of the minutes was given by secretary followed with roll call answered by representatives from practically all schools in the county.

Report of the treasurer was given by the president in the absence of treasurer. Report in summary form of chairman of the student loan fund announced a balance of $84 remaining in the treasury. All other standing committees were interestingly heard from during the opening period of the program.

A pretty chorus composed of eight grammar school girls offered a group of songs. Mrs. H. H. Jones added to vocal selections with a well chosen and beautifully sung number. A splendid address announced Miss Willie Ray McDonald whose subject was "Play for Growth Through Dramatics." Miss McDonald is a director of plays and has outstanding ability, having directed in New York and other eastern states.

Piano solo was played by Merie

Sellers preceding a talk on "Program Making," given by Mrs. C. E. Maddocks of Ranger.

A short address made more interesting the entertainment offered by Mrs. Gunn, in-coming president. The next meeting and formal session was voted to be held in Ranger the last Saturday in October.

The installation brings the following officers into service for the ensuing season: President, Mrs. Gunn of Pioneer; first vice president, Mrs. J. E. Jacobs of Ranger; treasurer, Mrs. Jack Embry of Rising Star; secretary, Mrs. Joyce of Pioneer. The installation service was ably presided over by the past president of the council, Mrs. Olson.

Lunch was served to some 100 guests by active members of the host city's Parent-Teachers association.

Ranger was represented by Mrs. Jacobs, Mrs. Maddocks and Mrs. J. E. Forris.

Mrs. Know-It-All (gossiper), Mrs. Lee.
Mrs. Speakeasy (Christine's silent friend), Mrs. Jones.
James Blabbermouth (bully of the town), Joe Shankle.
Mike Philarity (constable), Homer Wright.
Daniel McDugan (local officer), Gordon Alexander.

Enjoy the Season's First Free Swim at the Willows Thursday

Kiddies, no doubt you will get a good tanning if you go swimming in one of those attractive suits we saw at several local stores this week. Every one of you are looking forward to Thursday morning when the clock strikes 8. You with a lot of others will be present at the Willows swimming pool and enjoy the first free swim of the season as a compliment of the Ranger Lions club, regular sponsors of this splendid project.

Mrs. George Armstrong will be present during the hour of 8 to 11 to examine all children wishing to swim.

The Willows is more attractive this year than ever before, with the base of the willows outlining the pool, wearing a fresh coat of white displaying the long graceful branches in a more colorful manner. The clear blue water beckons most inviting when driving by

Services Expected to Be Held in New Church in Three Weeks

After a very interesting discussion covering the 19th chapter of Acts, yesterday afternoon when members of Church of Christ Bible study met at the Masonic hall at the usual 3 o'clock hour, time was taken for general discussion of the new church.

It is thought at this time the lovely new building will be completed sufficiently for services to be conducted within the next three weeks, in its delightfully de-orned auditorium.

Bill Neff Jr. of Denver, Colo., spent yesterday at the Golden floral shop, visiting friends, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Golden, owners. Mr. Neff was en route to his home in Denver following a pleasant visit on the Pacific coast.

Interest In Central Baptist Revival Grows

Last night pastor H. H. Stephens spoke to a good Monday night crowd on the "Glory of the Cross." In a very earnest message he told why we glory in the Cross of Christ. At the close of the service one came into the church on statement. The spirit of the service was very spiritual and the music under Mr. Maddox was very fine in that old-time gospel hymns were sung with power.

This morning the pastor spoke on "Put Me to Live in Christ," and brought out with emphasis that a life counts more than words or being a professed Christian. The world reads lives and not the Bible. Another feature of the morning service was the singing of old-time songs. An increased number were Ten of Ranger's most popular young ladies have started out to win the trip. Pick your favorite and save your votes for her. You get the votes by trading with the merchants listed in this advertisement. The entrants are: Misses Effie Williams, Juanita Smith, Opal Carter, Virgie Bee Mayer, Doris Williams, Lois Landtroop, Ethel Aishman, "Pat" Caughlin, Mmes. Mae Healer and D. E. Pulley.

SPECIAL OVER THE WEEK
Read each advertisement individually. Some are offering special votes of 2 for 1 on accounts paid. Some are advertising one thing and some another. Familiarize yourself with the workings of the contest and go to work for your favorite contestant. There are numerous ways. The Times will be glad to answer all questions.
