SEARCH FOR GANG KILLERS SPREADS TO TEXAS

PEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE with BILL MAYES

The Cisco golf tournament, which closed Sunday, was more a Ranger tournament than anything else, according to the winners, as James Phillips defeated James Smith for first flight honors and Les Skofford won the second flight while Jack Mooney Jr. was winning the third flight. The fourth, fifth and sixth were overlooked by Ranger players.

This was the second year in succession Phillips had won the Cisco tournament honors. Phillips, Gid Faircloth and J. S. Brimberry tied for second place in medal play along with Carnes Wilson of Abilene, West Texas champion and J. T. Hammett of Phillips. All were one under par, while Bill McMahon of Cisco was medalist with five under par. Phillips shot six under under par. Phillips shot six under under par. Phillips shot six under under par.

The Legion and the Times opened the Twilight League season and smothered us under a lopsided score. However, we put up a pretty good game until the closing innings, when the defense, if any, blew up more or less to let in a block of runs when it should have been three up and three down. Errors on both sides were more or less numerous, but they were more numerous when the Legion was batting.

We learned one thing. We can score runs, but we are somewhat erratic or eccentric when it comes to fielding. That's not fair, that should have been easy outs, were converted into about seven or eight runs. One of our main troubles, too, was that we hit too many long flies into the hands of the outfielders.

We see Willie Kesler, one of the famous Texas ball players, once gained fame for his batting and more fame for explaining how he did it. "I just hit 'em where they ain't," he explained. If our sides could have hit a few more where there were no fielders, we might have done better.

Anyway, it was a good game, as far as the players were concerned, though we do not know how the spectators enjoyed it. Maybe they didn't. The umpiring, which is the key to the record, was excellent, and there were no instances of the officials going blind at a crucial moment. In fact their calling of the game pleased everyone and aided much in getting the contest over in an orderly, regular manner.

The Elks take on the Lions this afternoon at the same time, and a good game is in prospect. We have not heard, as yet, whether the deal involving Charlie Moore has been consummated or not. He was formerly a Lion, but after playing for the Rotarians in a game with the Lions, he was donated to the Rotarians because it was thought he could do the Lions more good playing for them. He was supposed to be sold to the Elks for the record price of $100, but we do not know if the purchase price has been paid. The Lions and Elks may both claim him and he would have a hard time playing on both teams if he did.

Anyway, a good crowd is expected to be in attendance at the game and the players should be in for a good time.

Ground rules were enforced in the game yesterday. Any ball batted over the dirt pile in right field and into the water, was out. Any ball batted to left field that went into the rock pile was out for two bases. This rule was made in order that a fielder might not get hurt trying to run down balls that went into the ditch or rocks. As it is, the runner could take only two bases. Even in big leagues use ground rules occasionally, especially when the crowd overflows into the playing field.

Burglars Steal Canned Goods of Child Welfare

Reports were received by the Ranger police department today that someone had broken into the room on Marston street, for storing canned goods to be distributed among the needy of Ranger and took some 35 cans of food.

The canned goods had been donated to the Child Welfare club by members and gardeners of this section, to be used in aiding the poor of the town. The food was being distributed as sparingly as possible in order that it might last throughout summer and into the winter. It was being given wherever a needy case was found.

It was said today that a good deal of the canned goods were distributed when the report was made.

PIPE LINE TAX BILL VETOED BY GOVERNOR

AUSTIN, June 20.—Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson today vetoed the oil field penalty bill and the oil pipe line intangible tax bill passed by the 43rd Texas Legislature.

In vetoing the bill placing an intangible tax on pipe lines the governor said:

"In order to get revenue I sent a special message to the legislature submitting the question of a tax upon intangible values of all corporations not paying a gross production tax. I was assured that if I would advocate this tax that it would be passed by the legislature and from it the state would receive an additional revenue with which to run the schools and support the state government.

"But for reasons best known to themselves, the legislators did not pass such a law, but did pass this law which I am vetoing, and only provided for a tax on intangible values of oil pipe lines. All other corporations are exempted from the tax, including the gas pipe lines.

"Under the constitution taxes are supposed to be equal and uniform and no one business or industry should be taxed to the exclusion of other corporations doing business in different lines."

The streets of the progressive Eastland county town of Gorman were crowded throughout the day Monday with people there for the regular Third Monday program. They came from far and near to mix and mingle with their neighbors, enjoy a good program of entertainment and trade with the wide-awake merchants.

And more were disappointed. The program, consisting of a high wire-walking act by "Bunny" Dryden, a rodeo with plenty of bronc-busting, steer riding, calf and goat roping, music of various kinds, was all that could be expected.

Beginning at 6 o'clock an evening program was scheduled at the Gorman theatre.

Brewster Mills Chuck Wagon Gang of Fort Worth arrived about 4 o'clock in the afternoon and furnished entertainment for about two hours for the large crowd.

The program of the main streets of Gorman are being packed and this work had reached the point where the surface was covered with very fine dust, which, when stirred by the crowd and by the large number of horses and automobiles, was being blown about everywhere by the wind.

"We regret very much that our streets are in this condition today, but it can't be helped. We had expected to have the topping on top of the material was delayed in shipment," said Dr. E. W. Kimble. "I hope our newspaper friends will apologize for us to our visitors for this," Dr. Kimble said. But who minded a little dust, everybody was having a good time and were really glad of the fact that the streets were being improved in such a substantial manner.

LARGE CROWDS HEAR PROGRAM AT GORMAN

The Eastland Golf and Country club announces their annual invitation tournament for July 1-4. Programs for the tournament have been announced.

Interest Grows in Contest For World Fair Trip

As the time draws nearer for the close of the contest for the free trip to A Century of Progress, more and more interest in the campaign is being taken by the contestants, each of whom is confident of being well up in the running when the campaign closes.

The contest has been made possible by the co-operation of a number of merchants of Ranger, together with the Ranger Times. With each purchase made from the merchants participating, votes will be given. The candidate securing the largest number of votes from making purchases from the merchants will be able to attend the World fair with all expenses paid.

The merchants taking part in the campaign are Killingsworth, Cox & Co., M-System Grocery and Market, A. J. Rutliff, Hassel Company, Anderson-Prest, Oil City Pharmacy, Burton-Lingo Company, The Globe, Paramount Hotel and Coffee Shop, and the Ranger Times.

GOOD CROWD AT REVIVAL MONDAY NIGHT

A splendid Monday night congregation heard Evangelist James W. Kramer at the First Baptist church last night.

"Big Jim," as he is familiarly known by his thousands of friends throughout the country, exposed the fallacy of the all too common theory that true merit is determined by the size of the crowd and that there is no difference in the character of men. He declared that in moral and spiritual matters the unit of value is the individual soul. The quality of individual lives which make up any group determines its merit.

Dr. Kramer also declared that one of the most damning sins of the present age is the rapid rate at which we are living. By this manner of living we have crowded Christ out of the run of our lives.

The theme of the preacher's message for tonight will be "Honesty to God Folks." It was suggested by the preacher by Bob Fitzsimmons, former world's heavyweight champion prize-fighter, who was converted under his ministry. A large congregation is expected to hear this timely message.

The motto of every member of the church for the remaining days of this week will be "Three Hundred or More in Sunday School, Next Sunday." The workers are enthusiastically engaging themselves at the task of bringing "others" who need to hear God's prophet, as he courageously delivers the message of the Old Book without compromise.

Three States Voted Today On Repeal Of 18th Amendment

DES MOINES, Iowa, June 20.—Iowa, solidly in the prohibition column for 17 years, voted today on repeal of the 18th amendment. A closer contest was expected in Iowa than in any of the other 11 states, which have voted, all of which recorded repeal victories.

CONCORD, N. H., June 20.—A wet victory by a two to one vote was forecast by political observers today as New Hampshire elected delegates to a repeal convention.

HARTFORD, Conn., June 20.—Spurred by a last minute plea of Gov. Cross, Connecticut voters were electing delegates to a prohibition convention and even dry leaders admitted privately that the repeal vote of delegates would win. The wet goal was a solid slate of 50 delegates pledged to repeal.

Pitcher Had Good Record at College

BEAUMONT.—Eldon Auker, pitcher for the Beaumont club in the Texas baseball league, carried an enviable sports record with him from the Kansas Aggies onto the professional diamond.

PROGRAM IS AGREED UPON BY DELEGATES

LONDON, June 20.—The U. S. delegation to the world economic conference agreed in a meeting today to follow a unified and common program.

Aware of criticism in the London press and among conference delegates, Sen. James Couzens told his fellow delegates that it was necessary to avoid in the future any splitting on American policy, the United Press was told. Couzens declared America had to decide whether it was pursuing a nationalist or internationalist policy.

The informant predicted a new unity in the delegation following what appeared to be several about faces in policy during the last four days.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—The United States plans no immediate stabilization of the American dollar, it was stated in high treasury circles today.

It was understood the London conference could not agree upon any stabilization of foreign currencies with the American dollar at the present time.

The treasury believes that as much unofficial as they were months ago and that any pegging of the American dollar now would lead to adverse developments later on.

Kidnaping Won't Delay Marriage

The fact that her fiancé's sister was kidnaped and returned for $30,000 ransom would alter the plans of Miss Elizabeth Beasley, above, of Nashville, Tenn., to marry Henry McElroy, Jr., son of the city manager of Kansas City, Mo.

FERGUSON IS SURE TEXAS WILL GO WET

HOUSTON, June 20.—Texas is the key state in the national battle over repeal of the 18th amendment and will go wet, according to James E. Ferguson, husband adviser to the governor.

Ferguson leaned back in his chair in a hotel room here last night and told why he believes the wet and dry campaign in Texas will be a crucial one, ending with the state listed in the wet column.

"Four-fifths of the people in the southern half of the state are wet," he said. "It is north of this line that the drys have the advantage and it is there the sharpest fighting in the battle will take place.

"The wets will win by appealing to the voters who have been conscientiously in favor of prohibition but who now believe it has worked out wrong and want a change.

"Texas went dry because the drys convinced the women it ought to go dry to save the boys. Now we ought to pray for repeal of the 18th amendment to save the girls as well."

Prisoners to Raise Ringneck Pheasants

HARTFORD, Conn.—In an effort to restock the state with ringneck pheasants, the state board of fisheries and game has called on heads of state institutions for aid.

Inmates of these institutions will care for the birds, which will be raised and protected on the institution grounds. The department has purchased 20,000 eggs for this work.

In addition, hatchlings will be distributed to farmers and sportsmen who wish them and who agree to liberate them, when mature, on lands not closed to public hunting.

Ranger Man Claims Record For Being Called For Juror

Owen Bray, Ranger grocer clerk, claims the record for receiving jury summonses, having been called six times this year.

Mr. Bray said he has been trying for years to make a record of some kind and every time he was about to make one someone would always beat him. But now he thinks he has one that will stand for some time.

He is threatening to move to the county seat so the county time have his services without the necessity of having to summon him every time court convenes.

WORK BEGINS ON REDUCTION OF ACREAGE

County Agent J. C. Patterson stated this morning that he has been notified by the United States department of agriculture to proceed with the formation of a county-wide committee of three to be designated as the cotton acreage reduction committee for Eastland county and to form another committee to be composed of one person from each community in the county as an auxiliary committee. The committee of three will be named with the assistance of the county commissioners' court and the other committee will be named by the committee of three with the aid of the commissioners' court and the county agent.

These committees, especially the committee of three, are to be named at once and the names sent in to the department.

The week of June 26, Mr. Patterson is advised, has been designated as "cotton week" throughout the cotton-growing states by Secretary Wallace of the United States department of agriculture and during that week a series of meetings will be held throughout this county.

Cotton growers who will agree to plow up a percentage of their crop will be asked to sign a contract and will be given a cash settlement or cash and option on government-owned cotton.

The department of agriculture plans to have contracts covering a total of 16,000,000 acre reduction and if these are acquired then the plan goes into effect. If this total is not reached then the contracts are not to be binding and the whole plan is to be abandoned.

Annual Singing At Kokomo on Sunday, June 25

An all-day singing convention will be held at Kokomo Sunday, June 25. For the past several years it has been a custom of this community to hold this convention in June; so it is in keeping with this custom that the singing is held this year according to a statement made by John Timmons of that community who is doing jury service in the 91st district court in Eastland today.

Mr. Timmons says that dinner consisting of barbecue and the basket variety will be furnished on the grounds for all who might wish to attend and especially will be furnished to visiting singers. The Rippetoe brothers of Dublin and other noted singers of this section of the state have been invited and are expected to attend.

Seek Soil Erosion Camp For County

A movement has been started in Eastland to have the government, through its reforestation bureau, establish a soil erosion camp in the county.

Walter Geay of Eastland and County Agent J. C. Patterson began work on the project this morning. "There are many farms in Eastland county badly in need of this work," County Agent Patterson said, "and the government is using reforestation men for this work."

RANGER AUTO BOOT FACTORY IS DESTROYED

Fire which broke out about 5:15 Monday afternoon and which burned all night and most of the day Tuesday, completely destroyed the building and equipment of the Texas Auto Boot Manufacturing company of Ranger.

The fire was discovered Monday afternoon and an alarm was turned in, but the fire blazed so hotly that it was impossible to put it out. The hot blast and thick smoke, caused by the burning of the stock inside the building, rolled up from the building all night and today the mass of ruins that was once the building, still blazed.

Telephone lines along the Texas & Pacific railway tracks were buried by two burning trunks were cut down by lightning. Crews worked late last night putting in temporary lines around the blaze and communication was quickly re-established.

The Texas Auto Boot Manufacturing company was owned by H. Stein and was at one time operated by Lenson Bethel.

THREE HELD IN GIRLS MURDER NEAR BRYAN

BRYAN, Texas, June 20.—Ervin Conway, Baylor university student, today was to view two men and a woman suspected of slaying his fiancée, Elizabeth Ledelle Hammond, and wounding him last week.

The three were arrested Sunday night in Houston and held in the Robertson county jail at Franklin last night.

Conway, shot through the lung during the slaying, held up in which Miss Hammond, also a Baylor student, was killed, was transferred from a local hospital to his home. He was reported improved.

He was too nervous to view the suspects last night.

The three suspects were brought here and then taken to Franklin after being questioned briefly in Houston by County Attorney John Grace of Robertson county and other officers.

Meanwhile Ranger Captain E. H. Hammond of Houston, the slain girl's second cousin, pushed an independent investigation. He said he had two former convicts and a woman under surveillance.

Increased Wages Are Assured For Textile Workers

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Increased wages, shorter working hours and a spreading out of employment were provided in the first code of fair competition formally proposed under President Roosevelt's program for plans of controlled industry.

The first code submitted by the cotton textile industry provides for an increase of about 30 per cent in wages for a large part of the industry and a reduction of approximately 20 per cent in working hours.

Search for Jimmy Mattern Delayed Because of Fog

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, June 20.—Search for James Mattern, round the world flier lost in the arctic, was reported halted temporarily by adverse weather today.

Radio advices said several ships participating in the search including the steamship Victoria, were locked in the heavy ice in St. Michael Bay.

The Alentian Islands were blanketed with fog, grounding airplanes.

Road Demands Exceeding Funds

AUSTIN, June 20.—Demands for road work in Texas with the $25,000,000 expected to be made available by the federal government will exceed the fund by many millions, it was apparent here today as the state highway commission began a second day's hearing of applicant counties.

Among projects under consideration were the reinstatement of state maintenance on highway 144 from Cleburne to Walnut Springs, and the hard surfacing of highway 68 in Johnson county.

PRETTY BOY IS THOUGHT ONE OF THE GANG

Rio Grande Valley and East Texas Covered By Officers on Lookout.

DALLAS, June 20.—Search for gangland killers who massacred four officers and a prisoner at Kansas City, spread over two fronts in Texas today.

Texas rangers ferreted out inhabitants of East Texas oil field haunts around Kilgore, while officers of the lower Rio Grande valley patrolled that area after two men in a mud-covered and machine gun armed car were reported seen in Corpus Christi.

The search at Kilgore began after authorities learned that a car answering the description of that in which the Kansas City murderers fled had been seen in the oil field.

The men in the car at Corpus Christi asked W. L. Scott, plumber, the route to Brownsville. Scott said he saw machine guns in the automobile when he approached to hear the men's question.

The man at Kilgore bought a quantity of food. One theory was that the desperadoes might be planning to go into seclusion in the rough country about the oil fields. The other possibility was they were making a dash to the Mexican border by way of Brownsville and that the automobile reported at Kilgore may have been the same one later seen at Corpus Christi.

Dry Forces of the County Organizing In Eastland Today

Dry forces of Eastland county were meeting at the courthouse at Eastland this afternoon at 2 o'clock for the purpose of perfecting a county-wide organization to combat repeal of the 18th amendment and to carry on a campaign between now and the state election on ratification of the repeal amendment, which is to be held Aug. 26.

The meeting was called by Rev. Gid J. Bryan, pastor of the First Methodist church of Ranger, who was appointed temporary chairman at a meeting for the 24th senatorial district, which was held in Breckenridge recently.

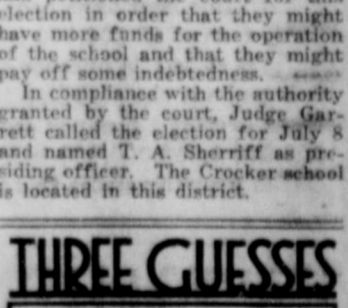

All interested in the cause of prohibition were issued an invitation by the temporary chairman to attend the meeting.

Tax Election For School Dist. No. 26 Is For July 8th

The commissioners' court at the meeting held Monday authorized County Judge C. L. Garrett to call a special election for common school district No. 26 to determine whether or not the local school tax should be increased from 50 cents to 75 cents on the $100 valuation. The citizens of that community had petitioned the court for this election in order that they might have more funds for the operation of the school and that they might pay off some indebtedness.

In compliance with the authority granted by the court, Judge Garrett called the election for July 8 and named T. A. Sherriff as presiding officer. The Crocker school is located in this district.

MARLAND OF OKLAHOMA ADVISES ORGANIZATION

Rep. Marland, democrat of Oklahoma, has suggested to the petroleum producers in Oklahoma and California and Texas, that they get together for the purpose of organizing codes of conduct and practices under the industrial control measure. In days ago Marland was the head of a $100,000,000 petroleum company. He was one of the giants in the industry. He knows all the points in and out of the petroleum game. Addressing Washington correspondents, he said that unless the producers organize either into state units or a national unit the American Petroleum institute, which also includes refiners and pipeline operators, would dominate the codes to be established. He advised that Simon Pure producers should "get together" for their own protection. He let it be known there is no exclusive producing organization in the country as all the oil organizations have refiners and members of the marketing branch in them.

He stressed that the American Petroleum institute has three or four thousand producer members who contribute about $10,000 to the half a million dollar budget, but the budget is financed by 10 or 12 big companies and they dominate its policies. He added that with refiners seeking to buy the oil as cheaply as possible, as well as to get the regular price from the public, it is to the interest of the producers and the public "that the producers organize to continue production as long as possible at a fair price to the public."

All of which is a reminder that the Tom Connally amendment added by the senate as it neared the end of its consideration of the broad industrial bill gives the president power to initiate before the I. C. C. proceedings necessary to bring regulation of pipeline operations and to fix "reasonable, compensatory rates for pipeline transactions; institute proceedings to divorce any pipeline company from any holding company if the pipeline company by unfair practices or exorbitant rates is tending to create a monopoly and to forbid interstate transportation of petroleum produced or withdrawn from storage in violation of state laws or regulations."

An oil czar was not named—unless the president of the United States is to function along the drastic lines proposed by the lawmakers who drafted the provisions of the industrial control measure. Skipper Sam is sailing the ship of state on uncharted seas. Well, evolution is the order of life and living. Indeed of all the activities of civilized man and civilized nations. Skipper Sam is doing his best to pilot the ship and to find a safe harbor when the perilous voyage is over.

TEXANS DEMAND STABILIZATION OF COTTON

Ralph W. Morrison is the Texas member of the American delegation to the world economic conference at London. Five outstanding Texans in Washington sent a cablegram to Colonel Morrison urging the stabilization of the price of cotton at 20 cents a pound. Colonel Morrison had stated in an interview "that stabilization of cotton at around 10 cents was satisfactory." An excerpt from the message to the colonel: "Texans now visiting Washington also directly interested in cotton farming wish to state it will take 20 cents on the average for Texas cotton farmers to pay their past taxes, debts and interest and have any semblance of purchasing power, which is essential to restore industry and commerce and give relief to the unemployed."

All this may have been the gospel truth, but there is a carryover of 13,000,000 bales and the 1933 yield may be what is called "a bumper crop." How will it be possible to bring about the stabilization of the price of cotton at 20 cents even if a bumper crop is avoided and a crop of 12,000,000 to 13,000,000 bales the record established in the cotton growing states this year?

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

THAT a city continually singing a hymn of hate against the world never gets very far in the March of Progress.

Some cities that have been conducted on an unsound basis must be reformed in order to succeed.

It never pays to hold a grudge against the home city. No city can ever get ahead as long as a lot of its citizens spend their time talking about the past and nursing a grudge of long standing.

Cities that continue to dwell in the past cannot expect much in the future.

Every citizen should be loyal to the home city and support it in every way possible.

Every patriotic citizen should rise and speak loudly in praise of the home city.

London Council Aids the Teachers Nazis Expelled

LONDON.—The expulsion, or suspension, of more than 165 professors and teachers from German universities since the start of the Nazi regime, has led to the formation here of an Academic Assistance council.

This organization will endeavor to alleviate the suffering among scholars and university teachers of all countries by raising a large fund to be used in providing maintenance for displaced teachers and investigators, and finding them the chance of work.

Members of British public and industrial life who have been appointed to the executive committee include Lord Cecil, Viscount Buckmaster, the Earl of Lytton, Lord Rayleigh, Sir Sossiah Stamp, the Earl of Crawford and Balcarross, and such leaders of education and literature as Lascelles Abercrombie, J. M. Keynes, Gilbert Murray, S. Haldane and Michael E. Sadler.

The issue raised at the moment is not a Jewish one alone; many who have suffered, or are threatened, have no Jewish connection, states a member of the council.

The issue, though raised acutely at the moment in Germany, is not confined to that country, and it is the intention of the organization to regard any funds entrusted to it as available for university teachers and investigators of whatever country who, on grounds of religion, political opinion or race, are unable to carry on their work in their own country.

It's a funny world we live in—where the banks that are really solid are the ones that are the most liquid.

SNYDER, Texas.—A three weeks old ewe lamb giving milk is the claim of W. B. Hood who lives on the R. N. Miller ranch near Fivanna in Scurry county. Hood said he found the ewe lamb among his sheep. He was positive in his claim she was giving milk.

Courthouse Phones Are Discontinued

DIMMITT, Texas.—If county officials, except the county judge, want to talk over a telephone, they must pay the "pipe out of their own pockets." The commissioners' court discontinued all telephone rental and toll charges except those of the county judge.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

THE WAVES of the ocean have the appearance of moving forward in the same manner that a field of grain does. The top of the wave is moving forward, while the water in the trough moves backward. If the waves of the ocean continued to roll in one direction, all the water would soon be piled up on the continents.

New Mineral Field Is Being Entered

EDMONTON, Alberta.—Mining engineers and explorers are entering a new mineral field at Mt. Selwyn, on the upper waters of the Peace river, this year.

Toronto interests have staked many claims in a quartz gold district, and machinery will be shipped into the district by airplane for development of the deposits.

Development of the region was held up for years by lack of transportation facilities, but this problem has been solved by air travel.

Reach for a Lucky

—for always Luckies Please!

A man's cigarette? Well—here's why I enjoy Luckies

Somehow, I have always felt that it takes a really fine cigarette to please a man. And since many of the men whose judgment I value smoke Luckies ... I reach for a Lucky, too. True, I enjoy Luckies' fine tobacco quality and their delicious mildness. But my real reason is perhaps a trifle feminine. Men may not appreciate this as much as a sensitive woman—but I'm particularly grateful to "Toasting" for that comforting assurance of purity. I've talked to many women about this—remember, a cigarette becomes an intimate thing with us, we place it between our lips. And so, perhaps, because I am a woman this is my woman's reason for always saying "Luckies Please."

because "It's toasted"

World's Bridge Champs to Play

By United Press
 CHICAGO—Masters of contract bridge from all parts of North America will be given a chance to compete in A Century of Progress bridge tournament soon, with the aid of Eli Culbertson gold cup, named by the internationally famous bridge combination, as the stake.

Bridge experts will gather at the bridge hall, in the Hall of Science, A Century of Progress on July 5 and 6, for the play.

In some cities the qualifying rounds are now under way, and are beginning almost daily.

According to those sponsoring the tournament, the United States bridge association code of duplicate laws will govern all contests.

Culbertson is chairman of the executive committee of the association, and the president is Milton Work. George Reith, chairman of the card committee of the Peckerbocker Whist club, New York, is vice president.

In the final round, winners of the qualifying rounds of the various cities will compete. Through national elimination which a tournament produces, winners of the final rounds may well be called the duplicate bridge champions of North America.

With daylight savings being in effect in numerous cities, it is interesting to speculate on what the Four o'Clocks will bloom in those cities now.

Football Originated As Punching Game

By United Press
 NEW HAVEN, Conn.—As a means to end, Yale students, back in 1840, evolved a game, called it football, and achieved the desired end, which was an opportunity to take good roundings pokes at each other without being accused of hawling. At least that is what a Yale News reporter's research work uncovered.

In 1840, just as in 1933, there was the same feeling between freshmen and sophomores, and the game was designed to permit some of this pent up emotion to escape.

The ball used was a sawdust-stuffed affair. Freshmen lined up on one side with the ball, and opposite them were the sophomores. There were no uniforms, and a top hat was considered as fair as a cap. The freshmen tried to advance the ball. The sophomores were equally intent on stopping them. The ball usually burst at the first impact, the reporter learned, but this was just as well, as it allowed the classmen to devote their full attention to the important business at hand, which seems to have been a modified sort of mayhem.

The good people of New Haven and New York, it seems, were horrified. A writer for the New York Evening Post, in 1860, wondering what this younger generation was coming to, wrote that the game "made the same impression on the public mind as a bull fight. Boys and young men knocked each other down, and tore off each other's clothing. Eyes were bugged, faces blacked and bloody, and shirts and coats torn to rags."

OVEN USED AS A REDUCER
 By United Press
 NORTON, Kan.—It is not bad to have your father a baker, especially when you like "goodies" and when you want to reduce. Levan Enly was two pounds overweight to make the school's track team on the day of the contest. So he donned a heavy sweat shirt, sat down beside the huge oven, and after a few hours walked out at two pounds less.

Fagged Out, Drowsy She Could Hardly Work

"I seemed to be so weak. I could feel so fagged out and drowsy I could hardly do my work," writes Mrs. Lela Adams, of Seattle, Ill. "I was in this condition for some time, till I felt nervous and out of sorts. A friend told me to take Cardui. I did, and began to improve. I felt much stronger and gained in weight. Cardui seemed to do me in every way."

If you are run-down, nervous, or after every month, take Cardui, a dietetic used by women for over 25 years. Sold at drug stores here.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
 NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON — "Whoa!" That's the expression unanimously used by the people charged with rescuing us from the depression when anyone becomes exuberant on the theory that permanent recovery already has begun.

It's one of the most remarkable phenomena of the "New Deal" administration Roosevelt at his press conferences cautiously admits a little encouragement but expresses himself in "hopes."

Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins announces a relatively large jump in employment and pay rolls, but warns it isn't enough to keep production increasing.

Industrial Recovery Administrator Hugh Johnson privately warns that there may be a serious crash unless a more solid foundation is built for prosperity. Other officials privately or publicly echo the thought.

THE big sections of the recovery program are still spoken of as "experimental." Nobody professes to assume that they're sure to succeed. Everyone deprecates the importance of the recent rise in industrial production, commodity and securities prices, insisting that there's no evidence for any solid base for such improvement beyond the general belief that a great attempt is to be made to build that base.

The attitude is directly opposite that of the previous administration—that confidence could be restored by ballyhoo.

Of course Roosevelt and his people have profited by and are anxious not to make the same mistake.

They fear that recent improvements, which may be largely the result of inflation fear, will dim the country's realization of emergency and they won't be gleeful even among themselves until they know that there has been a large increase in purchasing power.

IT'S a good thing to know that the general business index is up four per cent above this time last year, that freight car loadings are 14 per cent higher than last year, that electric power production is 5 1/2 per cent up, that farm prices have risen along with automobile and steel ingot production.

But members of the "Whoa!" school of thought hasten to point out that department store sales rose only one point in May and that if you count in the fact that there was one more business day in the 1933 May those sales are still six per cent off from May, 1932.

Those department store figures are considered disappointing.

Boy Forgets Mother Tongue and Learns Another Quickly

By United Press
 EDINBURG.—A strange story of having completely forgotten how to speak his mother tongue and of having learned a new language in eight months was told here by Fidel Manchaca, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Miguel Manchaca of McAllen.

The youth, blind since birth, was accepted as a student in the Texas school for the Blind at Austin in September, 1932. He knew only a very few words of English. He applied himself to his studies and so learned to speak English. He had no occasion to speak Spanish at the school.

He returned home to spend the summer with his parents. His mother greeted him joyfully in Spanish. Fidel found himself unable to carry on an ordinary conversation in Spanish, so completely had he forgotten the language. He speaks English very fluently, an accent being almost entirely absent.

SPEAKING of SPORTS

By FRED BAILEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
Terry Engineer Behind
All Giant Player Deals

ST. LOUIS.—The New York Giants is the team that William Harold "Memphis Bill" Terry built.

On a recent invasion of St. Louis Terry revealed he "engineered" every one of the numerous trades made by the Giants during the winter.

Terry tore down the second-division club he fell heir to when John J. McGraw quit the team, by special request of owner Charles A. Stoneham, in mid-season last year.

He sent pitchers Mooney and Walker to the Cardinals along with Catcher O'Farrell and outfielder Ethan Allen. He sent Lindstrom to the Pirates, Hogan to the Giants and scattered others elsewhere.

"They called me 'Santa Claus' last winter, but I am satisfied with every trade I made," Terry said. "I've got a fast, hustling ball club." He laughed at press-season predictions that his team would not finish out of the second division.

"But," he added, "if we don't finish 'up there' I won't have anyone but myself to blame. I engineered every trade made last winter and the boys have proven my judgment correct."

"I won't pick anyone to finish ahead of us. But, I'll predict the Giants, Cardinals, Pirates and Cubs will fight it out for the pennant. A lot of things can happen between now and October and the team that gets the breaks will win."

"I had some ideas about building and running a ball club," Terry said, "and Mr. Stoneham gave me full power to put them into effect. No one in the business of free makes any trades for me. I attend their meetings and then use my own judgment."

"Do I use the McGraw system?" Terry exclaimed in reply to a question. The steel gray eyes of the six-foot 200-pounder, who reminds one of a lithe jungle cat, flashed and he crumpled a felt hat in his hand.

"No," he replied with the slow, steady drawl of a Southerner who might have been asked if his grandfather fought in the Union army during the Civil war. "I use the Bill Terry system. I don't try to think for my players. I traded for players who think for themselves."

Mexican Highway Officials Will Be Visitors In State

AUSTIN.—Texas highway officials are making plans to entertain Antonio Doval Jaime, regional highway director, and Jose Cantin, regional highway engineer, of the Mexican government, when they reach Texas next week from their headquarters at Monterrey for a tour of Texas roads.

Highway Engineer Gibb Gilchrist has ordered a car of the state highway department to La-romo to meet the visiting officials there Monday, June 19. They will be brought to Austin where the Texas highway commission will be in session both June 19 and 20. An inspection of the new $500,000 building erected here for the highway department, with special testing laboratories and blue print equipment will be made and various bit of road engineering in Texas and types of construction will be viewed with the Texas commissioners.

Two members of the Texas highway commission recently returned from a trip into Mexico, inspecting work along the Pan-American highway. They received numerous courtesies and elaborate entertainment and plan to reciprocate.

Convicts Rival Famous Fictionists

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Calif. Prison authorities claim the greatest prevaricators live in prison. San Quentin guards cite the following tales as examples: "San Quentin has held a score of men whose imaginative talents, if turned to fiction, would have netted them fortunes instead of landing them in prison," said Warden Hoolahan.

Latest rival of Baron Munchausen, San Quentin guards believe, is Manuel Duke Ledbetter, artist and sculptor, serving a life term. He pointed proudly to the fifth memorial in a picture of the huge memorial being carved on the sides of Stone Mountain, in Georgia.

"I wielded the chisel on that horse," Ledbetter solemnly averred. He acquired much renown among the prisoners' intelligentsia until Clinton Duffy, the warden's secretary, returned from a trip to Georgia with a photograph he took of the memorial. Only the first two horses are completed, the rest are merely outlined.

Genevieve Puddleford, oft-married adventuress, who has served two terms at San Quentin, aroused the envy of fellow prisoners with stories of her rich and noble relatives in Europe and the banks filled with money awaiting her release. Paroled recently, she was almost immediately returned to prison when her checks began to come back marked "no funds."

HIGH SCHOOL BOY TIES WORLD RECORD IN HUNDRED YARD DASH

New Law Governs Filing of Election Returns in State

AUSTIN.—Texas newspapers may set a new record in fast delivery of election results Aug. 26 when Texas voters decide legalization of 3.2 beer, repeal of the 18th amendment, and other issues.

The special election will be the first affected by a law speeding up tabulation of votes, enacted by the last legislature under present laws. The law requires one election judge at each voting booth to announce an unofficial tabulation of votes counted as soon as the polls close.

This memorandum, the legislature ordered, shall be accessible to the public and "specially to newspaper reporters."

As the vote counting proceeds, totals shall be announced at not less than two-hour intervals. This procedure is required of all elections in Texas.

The law also changes other election procedure. Election judges are required to make reports every two hours to the county clerk, who shall announce the vote totals at the door of the county courthouse or some other designated spot until midnight of election day.

County clerks are required to relay these unofficial totals to the secretary of state at Austin who is required to compute the state-wide vote for each candidate at least once a day until returns are complete.

On the 15th day after the election, the governor or attorney general, or both, shall open and count the official election returns. Violation of the act is a misdemeanor, punishable by fine $50 to $1,000, a maximum jail sentence of one year, or both.

Woman Wins 25 Year Fight to Get Damages From State

AUSTIN.—Miss Annie (Senator) Cooke, 70, who established her first correspondence school in the south only to see it amalgamated with the University of Texas' extension service, held her graying head higher today.

For 25 years or more she paced between House and Senate pleading with the legislature for damages sustained in the progress of education. Her constant vigil won for her the title of "senator."

When Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson signed the claims bill passed by the last legislature, a claim of $2,400 for Senator Cooke was approved.

Today Senator Cooke was determined the money would be spent in furthering the project on which she has spent a life-time—education by correspondence.

Her Cosmopolitan Correspondence College was established in 1898. By the end of the year students from seven southern states had enrolled. The 26th legislature passed a bill creating the Texas State School of Correspondence, but Senator Cooke was not reimbursed for the time and money expended in building up the mail-order educational system.

Miss Cooke was born during the stormy winter of 1863, the daughter of F. J. Cooke who battled at San Jacinto and whose name was prominent in business and religious fields of early Texas times. She claims one law on Texas statute books at her very own—the permanent primary certificate law of Texas.

Her 25 year fight for approval of her claim has accentuated her gratitude for final success. The governor's signature of the claims bill was an "act of bigness," her approval of all major appropriation a "compliment seldom paid a legislator."

Woman Enjoying Her Jungle Ranch

NEW YORK.—A woman who gave up her career when her husband's work took him to the interior of South America is the first hostess of a "dude ranch" ever established in the jungles.

This feminine pioneer, Mrs. Richard C. Gill, presides over the Hacienda Rio Negro, a guest ranch, built three years ago on a jungle-enclosed site 5,000 feet above sea level, half way between Guayaquil, chief seaport, and Quito, the capital of Ecuador.

Mrs. Gill, who returned to New York with her husband recently on the S. S. Santa Clara of the Grace line, is enthusiastic about her jungle home.

The jungles, she said, are an ideal place in which to live. Entertaining guests is an easy task, as she sees it. To begin with, there's never any fear of guests becoming bored. During the day there are exciting monkey and jaguar hunts and there is volcano climbing. At night a tropical moon, haunting native music and the magic of jungles relieve the hostess of all worry.

In addition to her duties as hostess, Mrs. Gill finds time for her flowers and pets. In her garden are fern trees 12 feet high, bougainvillea, carnations, exotic jungle flowers, and 28 different varieties of orchids. Mrs. Gill's pets are equally as varied—monkeys, kinkajous, dogs, parrots, macaws, parakeets, a honey bear, and a marmoset.

Fewer automobile accidents on nation's highways this year, reports the National Safety Council. Despite those recent reports of big-gear sales in the auto industry it seems that the turnover is really less.

HOOKS and SLIDES BY BILL BRAUCHER

Medging a bit
SOME time ago the writer gave out the impression that he picked the Pirates to be the National League team that would lose four out of seven games to the American League champions in the world series this year. Well, perhaps I'll hedge a bit.

It looks now as if the New York Giants would be that team—especially since Lefty O'Doul is going to play the outfield for Bill Terry.

There's little doubt that Lefty, who hasn't hit under .319 since his full-time introduction to big league baseball in 1928, is going to put an added punch in that Terry crew that will go a long way toward keeping them in the winning frame of mind they have displayed recently.

Who'll Warm the Bench?

Terry can't replace Mel Ott out there in right for the simple reason that the young feller has a sizable batting attack himself, and can cover a lot of ground. So it remains to bench either Moore or Davis.

It is our guess that Lefty will be out there in place of Moore.

"WELL!! Bill Perkins?" HAVE you ever walked along a street in a strange city... strange faces passing you... Then, a face you knew... recognized immediately—"Bill Perkins!" you exclaimed. "Gee, I'm glad to see you." Have you ever shopped in a store in a strange city... a score of local products stared you in the face, all good, perhaps all reliable. Then you saw a familiar advertised brand of what you wanted. "Good! I'll take that," you said. Right then you subconsciously were glad for advertising. You felt an immediate warmth, closeness, confidence—the reliability of old friendships. Advertising is one of the greatest public benefits ever invented by business. It enforces quality, full value, honest statement of facts. For, when a manufacturer advertises his product, calling attention to it risks his very business existence—if it is less than he states. This paper is constantly presenting advertised products for your attention. Many of them are old friends. But, many of them perhaps greet you for the first time. Read the advertisements, get acquainted with new friends you'll be glad to know now, and later.

Fellowship Luncheon
Attended By 63 Guests
Opening the basement of the First Methodist church, members of the Women's Missionary society entertained with a fellowship luncheon at 12:15 Monday in compliment to invited guests hosted by individual members of the organization.

Fifteen tables were neatly laid by hostesses presiding at each quartet table for the serving of the delicious menu furnished by members. Numbers on the beautifully rendered program were introduced by the toastmistress, Mrs. C. D. Woods, who carried the feeling of good fellowship and sincerity throughout the hour in her pleasing manner.

Mrs. P. M. Kuykendall opened the entertaining feature with a solo accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Walter Farwell. Mrs. L. N. Griffin brought a pleasant interruption with the reading of the devotional. Miss Mary Elizabeth Campbell sang a pretty solo with Miss Marguerite Adamson, accompanist.

A toast was said to all departments by the toastmistress followed with a toast to the missionary society given by Mrs. Mills Davenport. Other toasts in keeping with the program were offered by Mrs. C. E. May and Mrs. Harwell. Mrs. Woods gave an unusual toast to the president, Mrs. Leslie Hagaman, prior to the singing of "Glory Just to Walk With Him."

All guests were introduced by table hostesses and in turn were extended a cordial invitation to visit the next program of the society which will be next Monday afternoon.

Mrs. B. A. Tunnell, publicity chairman, wishes all members to remember the change in time. Beginning Monday the lesson will open promptly at 4 o'clock and close at 5, covering exactly one hour throughout the remainder of the summer.

Sixty-three ladies made up the delightful attendance yesterday, bringing to the month's social happenings an occasion of success and enjoyment.

Paris Styles

By MARY KNIGHT
United Press Staff Correspondent
PARIS.—For all those fashion-minded folks, who cannot make up their minds about whether they prefer stripes or dots for one of their summer frocks, a compromising manufacturer has settled their problem by creating a very delightful summer voile—or organdy—combining both stripes and dots.

It looks rather like the stripes had been put into the material first and then a bucketful of dots dumped over them.

In black and white this makes up into a cocktail frock that is going strong. It comes in red and white, and one very special place in white with the stripes navy blue and the dots red. If you have time to wait while the looms change their threads, you can order any combination of colors that strikes your fancy.

The fabric is so decorative in itself that no additional trimming is necessary save a belt or sash and perhaps a clip or pin in the color of the dot or stripe, worn somewhere about the shoulder or at the depth of a v-neck line.

Eastland Personals

Legion Wins First Game From Times

The Legion team in the Twilight League defeated the Times in the first game of the season Monday afternoon in a game that saw-sawed back and forth for five innings, with the Legion scoring nine runs in the last two innings to break an 8 to 8 tie and take the game by a score of 17 to 9.

In the first inning the Legion scored one run and the Times two. The Legionnaires came back in the second to score four runs while they held their opponents scoreless, but in the third the Legionaries were held scoreless and the Times managed for one run, making the score 5 to 3 in favor of the Legion.

In the fourth the Times forced ahead again, making four runs while the Legion was held to one run and in the fifth the score was tied at 9 to 9. The sixth inning started the Legion runaway, when they scored three runs and came back in the seventh to score six runs, mostly on errors, while the Times was making but one run.

Although there was some confusion as to the number of errors made, the best check made showed the Legion made two and the Times seven, with the Legion getting 24 hits and the Times 15. However two of the hits credited to the Legion in the tabulation were counted as both hits and errors, so the box score was just approximately correct as far as hits and errors were concerned.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY
NEA Service Writer

WITH summer menus to plan and prepare, it is an excellent idea for the home-maker to have a few good salad recipes on hand. When your family refuses to eat very much of anything you probably will find that their appetites will be appeased by cold, crisp salads.

Half the trick of appetizing salads lies in the attractive manner in which you serve them. Your lettuce or other salad greens always must be very crisp. One way to keep lettuce crisp is to keep it wrapped in a clean, damp cloth near, never on, the ice. Rinse it in ice water and dry it carefully before you arrange it on the plates.

Chicken Salad a Favorite
Chicken salad in tomato aspic is a summer favorite. Here's the way to make it.

Dissolve one package of lemon gelatin in one-half pint of boiling tomato juice. When all the crystals are dissolved, add another half pint of cold tomato juice and a teaspoonful of lemon juice. Set the bowl in the ice box until the gelatin starts to congeal.

When the mixture is about half congealed stir in one small cupful of diced chicken, 2 tablespoons each of chopped celery, diced tomatoes and sliced cucumbers. Salt and pepper to taste and put it all back into the ice box.

When the gelatin is firm and set, scoop it out of the bowl with a tablespoon and arrange individual portions on a bed of lettuce. If it is to be served for luncheon, place the whole in a small cupful of bottom of the bowl in warm water, turn the bowl over on a large platter of lettuce and serve at table.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Berries and cream, poached egg on toast, bacon, milk, coffee.
LUNCHEON: Chicken salad in tomato aspic, hot rolls, chocolate pudding, milk, iced tea.
DINNER: Pan broiled steak, new green peas, cream cheese and fresh pineapple salad, rye bread, ice cream and cookies, milk, coffee.

The above recipe will serve 10 with a suitable dinner salad and will serve 6 for a hearty luncheon.

Stuffed Prunes Delicious
Cream cheese can be served in a variety of ways. That old standby, prunes stuffed with cream cheese, is a summer favorite.

You simply soak the prunes overnight, cook them the next morning until they are tender, remove pits and place them on a plate in the refrigerator. When the prunes are quite cold, stuff them with small balls of cream cheese. If the cheese is hard, mix it with cream into balls, add a little sweet cream to it. Top the stuffed prunes with a few pieces of nut meats. Arrange them on salad plates—four to a person—garnish with salad dressing and serve.

Cream cheese and pineapple salad is as popular in winter as in summer. Serve a whole ring of pineapple to each person. Place either a slice or ball of cream cheese in the center of each ring and top the cheese with dressing. Fresh pineapple rings are delicious and healthful, so why not make the most of the fresh fruit while it is in season?

The hostess stated, all were thinking of summer trips, and probably headed for the Chicago Century of Progress and that each table represented a city enroute.
The "conductor" gave out the tickets, and these were found to be the names of the cities, cut in jigsaw puzzles, which were matched, and couples, found their places in this way.

Two Scouts Trying For Merit Badges

C. E. May Jr. and Jimmie Ralston, two Ranger Boy Scouts, were out today to win a merit badge in cycling.

The two scouts must cover a distance of 50 miles in 10 hours today in order to win their badges. They are trying to earn enough merit badges to apply for Star Scout rating by the time Camp Billy Gibbons opens in July.

These two scouts have been making rapid advancement, having come up from tenderfoot to the rank of first class scout in the past year.

Lots of money has been made by people who got into the stock market in the past 60 days, says a financial writer. Yes; but just think how much more money was made by people who got out of it four years ago.
