

Texas Farmers to Determine Cotton Acreage

ONE MILLION HAVE VOTED FOR REPEAL

Copyright 1933 by United Press
The first 9,000,000 Americans in states voting on prohibition are approximately 4 to 1 lead against, with the one militant state of Iowa joining the wet camp.

The 3 to 2 vote in Iowa carried the repeals over one-third of the most difficult hurdle.

New Hampshire and Connecticut led the repeal column today, voting to 13 the number of repeals over one-third of the most difficult hurdle.

Thirty-six states must vote the repeal resolution. So far, none has rejected repeal, though several southern states have refused to arrange for a referendum.

The outstanding test will be next month, when the southern states of Alabama, Arkansas and Tennessee ballot.

By leaders have concentrated on the dry column to defeat the repeal movement. They expect confidence that the vote next month will show the dry strength. But anti-prohibitionists, driving ratification by 36 states this point to the strong margin in all votes so far. The vote, except Wyoming and Nevada, which voted wet, will be a final count in the dozen states. For repeal, 5,523; against repeal, 1,555.

Quakers Hear Classification Talk on Shoes

John Hasen had charge of the program at the meeting of the Quaker club today and presented an interesting classification talk on the subject of "Shoes."

He gave the history of the art shoe making and gave a graphic picture of the shoe industry of today. He gave the total number of shoes manufactured in the United States in the past 10 years and said that 1929 was the peak of production year and 1930 the low ebb in shoe manufacturing in modern times.

He pointed out that the selection of shoes was more important than most people thought and said that one should be careful in selecting shoes with the right kind of arch. He said that when the foot hit the ground the ground was hitting back, each step causing a blow or jar to the foot.

He said that if one wore shoes pointed out instead of straight it would put a strain on the feet. Ill fitting shoes, he said, cause many headaches, backaches, and other ailments of the man body.

He gave the story of the treatment of skins of animals in making leather for use in shoes, mentioning that the process of treating leathers and tanning hides was one of the oldest industries of mankind. He gave interesting details on tanning leather and manufacturing shoes.

He ended his talk by urging the Quakers to get behind President Roosevelt and do something for the benefit of mankind.

Ben Whitehouse will have charge of the program next week. C. Smith, manager of the Rotary baseball club announced that the Rotary club would play the "Honal Guards" this evening.

"Fly" Fields of Breckenridge as the only visiting Rotarian and Mrs. Fesbire was a guest of the club.

Origin of Fire Is Traced Down By Chief Murphy

Fire Chief G. A. Murphy announced today that he had traced down the origin of the fire that destroyed the Texas Auto Boat Manufacturing company plant Monday afternoon and had found that it was incendiary in origin.

The chief stated that the fire was set by small boys between the ages of 7 and 9 and the boys, when questioned, admitted setting fire to the building. According to the report one of the boys said they had struck a match and started the fire and then went to get a bucket of water to put it out, but the fire had spread headway before they got back with the water.

The building contained between 150,000 and 160,000 pounds of rubber, baled and stacked in the building, which made the fire hard to put out. The rubber stock burned throughout the night Monday and all day Tuesday until all the rubber was consumed.

The fire chief stated today that parents of boys or girls were responsible for their acts and some measures should be taken by all parents to see that their children did not destroy property belonging to others.

Women Golfers to Vie on June 26th

FORT WORTH.—Invitations to a state women's invitational amateur golf tournament to be held at Glen Garden Country club have been sent to all prominent women golfers in Texas and adjoining states. The tournament will begin June 26.

Principal attraction of the meet will be Miss Anela Gorczyca, colorful Fort Worth star, Texas state champion and winner of the women's southern championship in Albany, Ga., recently. Miss Gorczyca is taking a short rest in Florida but will return home in time for the Glen Garden meet.

Many South Texas and West Texas stars are expected to enter, in addition to Fort Worth and Dallas and East Texas contingents.

Mrs. Dan Chandler, Dallas ace and outstanding Texas golfer, runner-up in the state tourney, already has said she would enter. Mrs. E. Winger, Fort Worth, in charge of arrangements, said.

The tournament is being held under the auspices of the Fort Worth Women's association.

Several Oklahoma players have been invited. Mrs. Winger said, but it is doubtful many will enter, since Oklahoma state tournament is to be held at the same time.

A championship flight of 32 players is planned. Mrs. Winger said, instead of a 16-player flight, in order to allow a wider number of contestants a better chance at the title.

Cement Production Shows An Increase Over Last Year

AUSTIN.—Production at Portland Cement mills in Texas during May showed a substantial increase as compared with output in May a year ago, according to reports from the United States Bureau of Mines. Output during May totaled 328,000 barrels, or 60 per cent more than the 208,000 barrels produced in May, 1932; as compared with April, however, May output showed a drop of 11 per cent.

Shipments amounted to 329,000 barrels, or only 0.9 per cent less than shipments in May last year, and compared with 347,000 barrels in April. Shipments were short of production by 13,000 barrels.

At the close of May, stocks at mills totaled 678,000 barrels, as compared with 655,000 barrels a month earlier. Last year at the close of May, stocks, amounted to 685,000 barrels.

DOLLAR, POUND PARITY SOUGHT BY ROOSEVELT

LONDON, June 21.—President Roosevelt's new instruction to the United States delegation at the economic conference may embody a plan for early, defacto stabilization of the dollar and pound sterling, it was reported today.

Parity, it was reported, would be fixed somewhere around $4.40 or $4.50 for the pound, a higher figure than the British have hitherto been willing to consider.

It would be calculated to give sufficient room for the United States deflation program to achieve the desired effect, or to give President Roosevelt room to devalue the dollar by 10 per cent, which may be necessary to get prices back to the 1926 level.

Barry Miller to Be Buried at Home

DALLAS, June 21.—Funeral services with burial at Millmore, his beautiful plantation home, was planned today for Barry Miller, 69, three times lieutenant governor of Texas and for three decades a leader in state politics.

Edinburg.—Canals in the Edinburg section have been stocked with 5,000 big mouth black bass by officials of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster commission.

COMPTROLLER TO OPEN OFFICE IN EASTLAND

Arrangements were completed today by George H. Sheppard, state comptroller, who is in Eastland, for opening district offices for the enforcement of the new motor fuel law which was passed by the session of the legislature just closed. The offices are to be located in the basement of the courthouse when sufficient room and the necessary conveniences can be had.

The proposition of locating these offices in Eastland has been under consideration for some time. It was first taken up by the chamber of commerce through letters written by the secretary, Dr. H. B. Tanner, offering to secure the necessary building or rooms. Sen. W. B. Collie has given it considerable time and attention since the bill was passed. These efforts, together with the central location of Eastland in the district to be served, probably were the determining factors in inducing the comptroller to locate the offices here.

Mr. Sheppard stated that he was transferring seven men from Austin to care for the work, because he needs experienced men and these are already in the employment of the comptroller's department. He said that by opening these district offices he can cut down the enforcement expenses and that he is really compelled to do this because he has not sufficient funds to cover the state otherwise.

These offices will have charge of considerable territory. Mr. Sheppard was not in position just at this time to say what counties would be included in the district but said it would cover this oil field section. He asks that all citizens give their fullest cooperation to his men in their efforts to enforce these laws as every tax payer will be benefited by the collection of these taxes.

The law provides that the schools shall get one-fourth, road bonds one-fourth and the building and maintenance of highways one-half of all the gas taxes collected. Mr. Sheppard stated under this law and under the new cigarette law the consumer pays the taxes and all of us should be interested in seeing that all these taxes reach the state treasurer and are distributed as provided by law, and that he is going to put forth every effort to enforce the laws without effort or favor. He believes that his success depends largely on the cooperation given him by the local officials and citizens.

It is estimated that the state lost approximately $3,000,000 last year in gas tax evasions and $1,000,000 in cigarette tax evasions. It is primarily for the purpose of cutting down these losses or eliminating them altogether that the comptroller is locating the district offices in Eastland. So far as is known now this arrangement will be permanent. It is understood that the office force will arrive in Eastland tonight or tomorrow and will make their homes here.

'Deep Sea Rodeo' to Be Held In Texas

PORT ARANSAS, Texas.—A "deep-sea rodeo" will be held here July 6, 7 and 8.

Hundreds of fishermen from all over the southwest are expected to compete for prizes offered by the Port Aransas Light Tackle Fish club, for all kinds of fish, including tarpon, jack fish, mackerel, kingfish and even sharks.

Last October the Light Tackle club sponsored a "tarpon rodeo," which attracted scores of entrants and resulted in one of the greatest tarpon catches ever reported in southern waters. In three days nearly 200 of the fighting fish were brought to gaff.

Fishermen's desire to angle for other deep-sea fish as well as tarpon led the club to announce the "free-for-all" rodeo for next July.

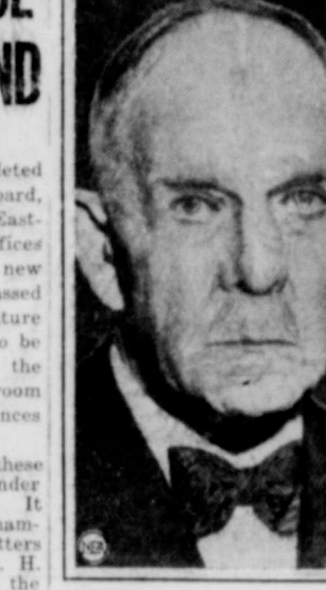

Poorhouse Trustees Face Bankruptcy

WILMINGTON, Del.—The trustees of the poor of New Castle county may have to go over the hill to the poorhouse unless they receive sufficient funds from the county government to pay two months' bills.

The trustees, who operate the county hospital and poorhouse, owe $14,000, and creditors threaten to stop supplying them with food and materials unless the bills are paid.

If the New Castle levy court, the administrative body of the county, refuses aid, the trustees are planning to sell their ambulance and motor trucks to raise cash for food.

Brewery Being Remodeled By Ft. Worth Owners

FORT WORTH.—Fifty men, recruited from the ranks of the unemployed, have started remodeling the old brewery of the Texas Brewing company in anticipation of legalized 3.2 beer.

Brewery and bottling equipment costing $50,000 has been purchased at Milwaukee and will arrive here in July for installation, which will take about two months. The plant is to be ready for operation within a few days, at least, after the election on Aug. 26, if beer is legalized.

The plant will have an initial daily capacity of 2,400 cases. How many men will be needed to operate the brewery could not be foreseen by Brew Master Oscar Lamens, who learned his art in Flanders, Belgium.

A large increase over the present force now employed in the plant—manufacturing bakers' malt—is expected, Lamens said.

"Bakers' malt, bahl! Such a malt. I have worked in bakers' malt factories since 1918," muttered Lamens.

Lamens once was brew master for one of Belgium's largest breweries and his fingers are itching to get back to his old trade. Belgium, Lamens was here master for a large concern in Detroit, and at present is part owner of a large brewery founded by his father at Brussels, Belgium.

A new charter for the company will be obtained after the beer election, if favorable, Lamens said. A two-year lease has been taken on the buildings which were once owned by Anheuser-Busch.

Women Barristers Appearing in Court

SAN ANTONIO.—San Antonio's modern Portias are showing Bexar county jurists that women can practice successfully before the bar even during times of economic depression. Many women appear frequently to plead cases in the county.

First of her sex to conduct a murder case was Mrs. Eunice Whitaker. She and her husband formed the defense counsel of Jose DeMack, charged with the slaying of a deputy sheriff.

Mrs. Winnie Hardy has three sons but spends much time in a law office with her husband. She, like the most of the women barristers here, divides her time between her home and her profession.

COUNTY DRY ARE ORGANIZED AT EASTLAND

The organization of the Eastland County Association for the Retention of the 18th Amendment was effected at a meeting held in the county courtroom of the courthouse at Eastland Tuesday afternoon when J. L. Roden, pastor of the Baptist Church of Gorman, was elected county chairman; J. C. Allison of Eastland, county vice secretary and Mrs. E. W. Kimble of Gorman, county vice treasurer.

As a further means of perfecting the organization a motion by Rev. H. H. Stephens, pastor of the Central Baptist Church of Ranger, with a second by Rev. Sam G. Thompson, pastor of the Methodist Church of Eastland, was adopted authorizing the various towns and communities of the county to select community chairmen and providing that these chairmen be units of the central organization under the title of vice chairman. With a view to greater efficiency a motion by J. S. Cockrell of Gorman and second by Rev. H. H. Stephens of Ranger was adopted allowing the county chairman to appoint assistant workers in the various communities from the women and young people's organizations.

The meeting, which convened at 2 o'clock, was called to order by Rev. Gid J. Bryan, pastor of the Methodist church at Ranger. Representatives were present from Cisco, Carbon, Eastland, Gorman, Olden, Ranger, Scranton and several from some of the smaller communities, filling the courtroom to about its capacity.

Following prayer by Rev. O. E. Darby, pastor of the Eastland Baptist Church, the Rev. Bryan launched into an explanation of the purpose of the meeting and a discussion of the issues involved, saying that as prohibitionists we should confess our mistakes, one of which is that when we get prohibition we quit work and quit our educational campaigns while the opposition did not cease. He declared that it is yet possible to defeat the repeal of the 18th Amendment, although the anti-prohibitionists are on both the parties of the country.

The Rev. Henry Van Valkenburg of El Paso, representative of the Anti-Saloon League of Texas, was next called to the floor and, after giving an idea of the enormity of the money being spent by the wetts, stated that the best attitude of the people was that of defeatists and that this attitude had to be overcome. He further stated that the control of the liquor business must be by law, that when the 18th Amendment is taken away and that the two political parties have broken faith because they promised to protect the country from the evils of the old saloon and to protect dry territory when, as a matter of fact, nothing has been done that would give any one of protection in either case if the amendment is repealed.

An impassioned plea was made just before the meeting adjourned by D. J. Neill of Gorman, former representative to the legislature from Eastland county and a member of that body when the Volstead act for the nation and the Dean Law for Texas went into effect, made an impassioned plea for the dry forces of the county to uphold and assist the chairman, Rev. J. L. Roden in his efforts to prosecute the campaign to repeal the 18th Amendment.

29 Communists Jailed At Ft. Worth

FORT WORTH, June 21.—Twenty-nine self-styled communists, and 28 other members of the unemployed council, organization of unemployed, today were held in jail here facing charges of rioting in a renewed attempt to vindicate the eviction of an unemployed man and family from a residence here.

The arrests were made when, for a fourth time, the group threatened to storm guards who had been placed at the residence. The grumbling rioters flocked menacingly in front of the residence last night armed with bricks and other weapons.

Four women were among those charged with rioting. Bond for Barlow was set at $1,500 and bonds for each of the others at $1,000.

Reports that Enzo Fiermonte (above) Italian boxer, will wed Mrs. William Dick, New York society woman and widow of John Jacob Astor who was lost in the Titanic disaster, persist in Reno where the two are sojourning for the purpose, it is believed, of divorcing their present mates. Fiermonte denied the rumor.

TEXAS WHEAT CROP PARCHED BY DROUGHT

AMARILLO, Texas, June 21.—Drought has parched the great Panhandle wheat fields and farmers who once were among the nation's greatest wheat farmers are faced with disease for themselves and livestock.

Appeal has been made for a new deal in farm relief as the wheat raisers realized their losing battle with the drought that has lasted for two seasons. Not since June, 1932, has the upper Panhandle had a good rain. The crops that barely produced sustenance last year will not yield enough for another year's planting, the farmers declare.

Pasture lands of the area are dried up and stock has been turned onto the highways to rustle as best they can or starve. Many cattle are dying of dust fever and people through the section are suffering from the same malady. Hogs are in such poor condition that they cannot be sold.

One-third of the farmers in some communities already are on charity and 90 percent are estimated to have secured crop loans. Ochiltree county, which produced 3,500,000 bushels of wheat in 1930, has few wheat fields that will be harvested this year. Conditions are reported no better in Tatter, Wheeler and other Panhandle counties.

Railroad Officials Agree on Salary Plans of Eastman

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Railroad executives indicated today they would comply with the request of President Roosevelt and postpone their 12 1/2 per cent wage cuts for at least six months, the United Press was informed in an authoritative quarter.

While Joseph B. Eastman, federal railroad co-ordinator, met with the railroad committee of nine to explain further the administration plans, it was learned that he had presented a two-sided proposition to the railroads and the employees.

MEETINGS TO BE CALLED BY COUNTY AGENTS

Total Reduction Sought Is 10,000,000 Acres Over The State.

By United Press
COLLEGE STATION, Texas, June 21.—Cotton farmers in every section of the state will meet next week to consider a 25 to 40 per cent crop reduction in compliance with plans of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace.

County agents will call the meetings, according to H. W. Williamson, vice director and state agent of the Texas A. & M. college agricultural extension service. Texans are asked to agree at the community gatherings to determine an elimination of 4,492,000 acres of cotton.

Later they will be asked to increase the figure to 10,000,000 acres, the minimum which Wallace believes necessary to effect the cotton control program.

Plans for the meeting next week are to be set out at sessions this week-end, called by county agents or special agents.

Mitchell Case Goes To Jury Today

NEW YORK, June 21.—Charges of income tax evasion against Charles E. Mitchell were given to a jury in federal court at 12:27 P. M. today.

Judge Henry H. Goddard instructed the jury that the sole issue in the case was whether the former banker made improper deductions from his 1929 and 1930 income "with intent to defraud the United States government."

Goddard said the law required that sales of stock to establish deductible losses, such as the deal in which Mitchell "lost" $2,879,000 of National City bank stock, "must be actual, bona fide transactions."

DOG GOT "GO-CART"

DALLAS, Tex.—It looked as if they'd have to chloroform Loo-kee-Toy, Pekingese dog belonging to Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Berry. An organic ailment had paralyzed the animal's hind legs, and frantic efforts to get around aggravated the disease. But a veterinarian had an idea. With splints and tiny wheels he rigged out a "go-cart" for the Pake. With its forepaws on solid earth and its hind legs on wheels, Loo-kee-Toy was able to scamper about as she pleased. Now the paralysis is almost gone.

During the business session, it was decided to entertain with a royal service program next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. John Tibbles, in honor of circle No. 2 who have recently assumed the name of Friendship group.

One peculiar feature of the game was that the Lions did not make a putout at first base during the entire game, while Barnett in left field, got credit for retiring seven men.

Mickey Sloan, second baseman for the Elks, led in hitting with four hits out of four trips to the plate, scoring two runs. Bruce led in hitting for the Lions, getting two hits in three trips to the plate.

The game started off like it was going to be tighter than it was, the Lions going out in short order with no hits and no runs and the Elks making but one hit and no runs in the first inning. In the second the Lions again failed to hit or score, while the Elks were making three runs on four hits. With the exception of the third inning, when the Elks accounted for four more tallies, they were held to one run in each of the following innings, while the Lions were making one in the fourth, fifth and seventh for their three scores.

DERRICK SHADOWS

By V. MARIE STEPHENS

The world judges a child by his home training and natural characteristics, a college student by his fraternity standing . . . and humanity by the way it conducts itself.

Outside of tell-tale actions, we have only the personal word by which to judge.

We do well to think a couple of minutes before beginning a three-hour discussion of topic-of-the-day trivialities.

"Isn't she charming?"

It was an assertion, not a question, prompted by the girl's picture in one of our outstanding university annual productions . . . the assertion being made to a student in the institution.

"No, she isn't. She's terrible. Common as dirt!" His reply.

Now, I don't know the girl at all, but someday I may meet someone who does. If I ever hear her name called or see her picture or recognize her sorority . . . I can't forget the judgment passed on her.

It wasn't his fault. It was hers. Our glass houses make it essential that we dust the furniture and wash the dishes.

We know others as they make themselves known. For it is written: man shall not live by bread alone.

About the only good all this talk about inflation, bills and amendments, and economic and moral questions is going to do, is get us all so mixed up we'll forget what a mess we're in.

There are times when it looks like a frame-up.

Just when we adjust ourselves to a lot of beliefs and theories, somebody jumps up and nominates a new idea.

And instead of moving that all such foolishness cease and we agree by acclamation, somebody else gets up and puts another bit of nonsense in the running.

That begins the fight, and before there is a vote we're all so befuddled we never are quite sure which way the house is swaying.

But we're so deeply involved in conditions now it really doesn't matter much.

It's like trying cans to a dog's tail.

After the first three or four, it doesn't make much difference.

So we go yelping along, with the government putting the tin can business on a high peak . . . and our ears getting flatter against our heads with every day.

In spite of it, the times are getting better. At least our faith in the times is stronger.

We know conditions are improving.
