RANGERS ARE SPEEDING UP THEFT PROBES

DALLAS, Nov. 6.—New developments today speeded state rangers in their investigation of a North Texas theft ring, which has been blamed for turning the Fort Worth-Dallas territory into a "little Chicago."

Rangers questioned Dag Seay, reputed leader of the ring. Seay was held in jail here overnight on his way from the state penitentiary to Rockwall, where he was being taken on a bench warrant issued by the district judge.

Meanwhile Ranger Joe Brannon was en route to Houston to talk with Ralph King and Jack Stewart, Seay's alleged lieutenants in the ring, who were captured by Houston police Saturday.

Brannon hoped to obtain information in connection with the rings merchandise thefts from Sgt. Osoba he expected Brannon to return with valuable information.

C. W. Howth Says License Deals Are Within the Law

AUSTIN, Nov. 6.—Rep. Bob Long, member of the legislative committee investigating reported job selling today, made public a letter from C. W. Howth, in which Howth said the transaction by which Art Mondt, secured a wrestling promotion permit at Beaumont was entirely legitimate.

It violated no law or morals, the letter said. Not a penny of the money paid came into his hands, Howth wrote. Howth asked an opportunity to appear before the committee in December. Cases in court prevent an earlier appearance, he wrote.

OSCAR PRIVETT MURDER TRIAL BEFORE COURT

Oscar Privett, charged with murder in connection with the slaying of Melvin Dumson in Ranger about three years ago, faced trial for the third time this morning when Judge Geo. L. Davenport of the 91st district court called his case and both the State and defense attorneys announced ready.

A special venire of 125 men had been summoned from which to select a jury. Of this number 70 appeared to answer present when their names were called.

At noon, when Judge Davenport adjourned court until 1:00 p. m., three jurors had been selected. At that time the state had exercised one of its 15 pre-emptory challenges while the defense had used none of its challenges.

At former trials Privett was found guilty, one jury assessing punishment at 30 years confinement in the penitentiary and the other fixing punishment at 50 years in the penitentiary. Both cases were reversed by the higher courts.

Mercer, Kansas.

SHERIFF ASKS GUARDS TO AID KEEPING ORDER

MIDWESTERN STATES SCENES OF MANY DISORDERS AS STRIKE GETS VIOLENT.

DES MOINES, Nov. 6.—Midwestern states, seething with agricultural unrest, moved today to deal vigorously with thousands of farm pickets who sought to slam shut the doors of the granary of the nation.

One farm picket was killed and four injured, a livestock train halted and emptied, highways blocked and thousands of dollars worth of produce destroyed as striking farmers renewed violence.

Near Dakota City, Neb., a speedina automobile crashed into a group of pickets who had halted a produce truck, killing one farm picket and injuring four.

Violence was reported in other states as strikers sought to stop the flow of food stuff into markets. Upwards of 20,000 deputy sheriffs were armed and held in readiness for action. In reserve were 50,000 or more national guardsmen.

Near Lawton, Ia., 100 pickets barricaded the Chicago and Northwestern railroad tracks and turned loose eight cars of cattle after the train was forced to halt. An appeal to the governor for guardsmen have been made by Sheriff DeMoss of Glenwood, Ia., to aid in guarding a bridge over the Missouri river, leading to Omaha. Farmers were organizing to disburse pickets and the situation is critical, the sheriff said.

Estimates of the farm organization leaders placed the number of pickets as high as 250,000. State officials made estimates as low as 50,000.

ARMISTICE DAY PARADE PLANS ARE COMPLETE

Fire Chief G. A. Murphy, marshal of the Armistice Day parade and C. J. Moore, assistant marshal, today announced that any kind of entry would be received in the big parade, which promises to be one of the best ever held in Ranger.

However, it was pointed out, no demonstrations, such as masses of men carrying banners reading "We Want Work," or any similar propaganda or demonstration floats or sections would be allowed in the parade.

A tentative marching order has been worked out for the parade, in which the Lone Star Band, Cicero Lobo Band and the Ranger High School band will take part, as will the Ranger High School pep squad.

The parade will be led by the marshal and assistant marshal, followed by four mounted policemen. Following the policemen will be the city fathers, followed by members of the city fire department.

Ambulance Company No. 359, which saw service during the World War, will follow next, headed by Dr. Harry A. Logsdon, who was captain of the company during the war.

Company I, 142nd Infantry, Texas National Guards, will make up the next section of the parade, followed by the members of the two Boy Scout troops of Ranger, who will be followed by one of the bands. The remainder of the parade will be formed with the floats and other entries following, with the other two bands forming part of the parade.

Anyone who wishes to enter a car or float is requested to get in touch with either G. A. Murphy, marshal of the parade, or C. J. Moore, assistant marshal.

New Faces on Elks Fight Card for Show Tonight

Irish Eddie O'Shea of New York and Speedy Franks of San Angelo meet in the main event in the Elks club athletic show tonight. These boys have met for the past two weeks, each night the match ended in a fierce battle with each boy dissatisfied with the decision. So the promoter has signed them for a return match with Australian rules, which gives each boy the right to either fight or wrestle. They will fight and wrestle five 10-minute rounds and rest three. The Elks have presented a match once before under Australian rules and made quite a hit with the fans so the fans are assured a great fight when these two boys meet in the main event.

There will also be a six-round fight between Jelly Harris of Breckenridge and Chico Alvarez of San Antonio, the clever Mexican who has won every fight since coming to this country. He is a newcomer to Ranger. He is sure to give Jelly Harris the best fight in his career. Jelly has won every match in the Elks club arena by a knockout.

In the opening match the best two out of three falls, no time limit, will be seen two new faces. Ken Howell of Oklahoma and Sailor Trout of the U. S. navy. Trout wrestled for the first time in the Elks club last Monday night and made quite a showing against Herb Wakeland, showing some holds that had never been seen in Ranger before. Howell comes well recommended, having met and defeated some of the best boys in his weight.

SIX STATES VOTE TUESDAY ON AMENDMENT

The doom of the 18th Amendment and the experiment of national prohibition is expected to be sealed at the polls tomorrow, when six states vote on ratification of the 21st Amendment.

The states are North and South Carolina, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Ohio and Utah.

Needing only the approval of three states to bring the total of ratifying states up to the necessary 36, repealists expected all six to go wet. Impartial observers, however believed North Carolina and Utah should be listed as doubtful.

Repeal, in even three states vote for it, will become effective Dec. 6 when ratification conventions are held in three of the states.

Many Versions Of Hollywood Fight Are Told

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 6.—Some-one knocked Peter Arno, the cartoonist, half way across a dance floor.

That appeared to be the only fact known today about an altercation at dawn in the fashionable Embassy Club, playground of film notables.

Principles and witnesses offered a variety of accounts of the fistuffs, but they agreed on only one point—Arno was on the receiving end.

Sally O'Neil, film actress, mentioned by some bystanders as the wielder of the real finishing blow—a right hook with a chair—indignantly denied having taken any role.

Far from her beloved Broadway, she was stricken with intestinal disorder while leading a show troop here. An operation failed to prolong her eventful life.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

THE ONLY CREATOR: In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made.—John 1: 1, 3.

ALBERT H. WIGGIN REPUDIATED BY HIS SUCCESSOR

Winthrop W. Aldrich is the head of a great financial institution known as the Chase National Bank of New York. He is a brother-in-law of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., the largest stockholder. He is the son of that dead but yet famous Nelson W. Aldrich of Rhode Island who was 30 years the leader of the American senate and looked upon as the greatest financial authority of the world in which he lived.

President Aldrich gave the senate banking committee a thrill as well as a surprise. He made the very blunt statement that "the market trading policies of his predecessor" had been thrown on the top of the muck pile. In other words, the present management of the Chase National "is absolutely opposed to affiliates trading in the stock of the bank in the market." John D. Rockefeller, Jr., has a code will his own. Winthrop W. Aldrich appears to have the same code. John D., Jr., paved the way for the repeal of the 18th amendment. He had been a lifelong pro. His father had been a lifelong pro. His grandfather had been one of the original pros away back in the early days of a dead century. Time in its flight is making many changes and the Rockefeller influence has its moral as well as financial effect the world over.

CELEBRATION OF THE FREEDOM OF THE PRESS

Thomas Jefferson battled for the freedom of the press. He won.
 Now editors and publishers in a 260-year-old church at Mt. Vernon, N. Y., celebrated the 200th anniversary of the freedom of the press. The setting of the celebration was the famous St. Paul's church, Eastchester, established in 1665 and called "the cradle of the free press."
 John Peter Zenger edited a local newspaper. He denounced the fauds perpetrated by the royal government. He was arrested and tried for libel. This was the first test of free speech in the colonies. All the colonists watched the trial of Zenger as a test of free speech. According to history Zenger was defended by a brilliant lawyer. He won an acquittal.

This set an international precedent for the doctrine of the freedom of the press. It furnished the basis of the idea of the free press of America as embodied in the Jeffersonian article, first of the amendments to the constitution of the United States. Freedom of thought, freedom of action, freedom of conscience, or the freedom of the individual to cast a fearless ballot cannot exist in any land where the press is muzzled or its columns dominated by agents of bland autocracy. A muzzled press is a hireling press, a press without a conscience ever doing the bidding of an imperial master or a ruthless dictator. In America the press is free. It was purchased by patriots at the price of their blood and their treasure.

SEN. ROBINSON IS A WARRIOR BOLD

Senator Joseph Taylor Robinson of Arkansas has been in public life for to these many years. He studied conditions in European countries during the summer months. He returned to America shouting for the continuance of "an honest dollar" and the building of an American navy to the highest parity permissible or possible. Senator Robinson thinks he knows a hawk from a handsaw. He is for a navy that will not be second to the British naval armaments or that of any nation on the map of the world. Stirring times are coming in January. Then the regular session of the New Deal congress will begin its grinding and copymaking galore will keep the correspondents as busy as beavers building bridges in summer time in order to provide ample protection "insuring winter safety."

RAIDING THE GOLD RESERVES OF FRANCE

French statesmen are horrified. French financiers are horrified. French business men and exporters are up in the air. Bold raiders are threatening the reserved golden stores in the land of the lily. President Roosevelt certainly shot a bolt when he placed an embargo on exportation of American gold and as a clincher established his policy of buying all the gold produced from the mines of America in order to give the foreign financiers a close-up of what may happen in the future.

If political management were capable of doing the work of private enterprise things might be different, but the fact remains that private enterprise has been the greatest pioneer in development. Now is the time that private enterprises should be encouraged to promote sales and consumption and not be penalized by short-sighted injustices.

When you are driving your car, let the other fellow have his side of the road.

THE LAST ROUNDUP

Hazing Victim Is Doing Business As Magazine Seller

DALLAS—New color is flowing into E. Gordon Knight's drawn features and new vitality appears to be suffusing the wasted limbs which have kept him bedridden for seven years.
 For Knight, victim of a hazing ordeal in 1924 when he attended Texas A. & M. College, has found a purpose in life—a purpose by nothing diminished because he is doomed to spend the remainder of his life in bed.
 Before him extends an endless vista of magazines and neat rows of figures and the prospect of an uninterrupted parade of days made happy by the knowledge that at last he has something to occupy his mind and absorb the restless energy that has made life in bed one of constant mental and physical torment.
 The past seven years have been tormenting ones in which he fruitlessly chased the will-o'-the-wisp of health—years spent in Arizona and California and in eight or nine hospitals in four different states. For months he lay in plaster casts and braces. But from the hip down his wasted body was of little use. Only with difficulty and with help can he walk about his room. Only in bed do the pains cease their insistent complaints.

 But now Knight's thoughts and efforts have taken a new and, he believes, a more wholesome direction.
 "I've done better at this magazine business than I thought would be possible," he said.
 "It gives me something to think about and something to do. Lying in bed, being unable to do anything or think of anything but yourself is dangerous. It gets a fellow into a bad state of mind."
 And the result of this new marshaling of thought and energy already is apparent in a face that has lost much of its wonted pallor and in eyes that shine as they pore over figures in Knight's account book.

IT TAKES HEALTHY NERVES TO BE CHILDREN'S AMERICA'S GREAT STUNT GIRL

A SUDDEN NERVE-RACKING swing upward from a racing auto into a hurtling plane... It's all in the day's work for Mary Wiggins, famous stunt girl who also dives from fire into fire and does the suspension glide in mid-air while hanging only by her teeth. It means something when she says, "Camels never give me edgy nerves even when I smoke a lot."

IT IS MORE FUN TO KNOW
 Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

Steady Smokers turn to Camels

LISTEN TO MARY WIGGINS, greatest of all girl stunt performers. She says: "I have to be sure my nerves are healthy to do my stunts, changing from a speeding auto to a plane, the high dive on fire into fire, wing walking while up in a plane, and the high-altitude parachute jump. As to smoking, I've found that Camels don't interfere with healthy nerves. I've tried all the brands. Camels are milder and better in flavor. They do not give me edgy nerves even when I am smoking a lot."

You'll like that rich Camel flavor and mildness. And your nerves will tell you the difference there is in Camel's costlier tobaccos.

CAMEL'S COSTLIER TOBACCO

A time-saving method of substitution of football players on the gridiron has been adopted by the Southwest conference and to the Texas Intercollegiate League by Floyd G. Superintendent of Wharton

When goes to conference and officials with the benefit of a test was in a recent game between St. Thomas and Wharton high school. A complete line of one replaced in 15 seconds.

The plan requires that substitute players be seated on benches on the same side of the gridiron as the players' table between them to strike the ball from the yard line. Presiding at the official scorer or representative of each team act as scorers. They work with an arm in triple and an starting lineup certified of the two teams.

Substitute player goes to the line his name and number name of the player he will enter the game as.

He enters the game as to the rules at a whistle. The referee calls the play off and football play immediately.

Scorer's triplicate records detailed information on the play. One copy is sent to the referee. The other two are kept by the playing team. In later years there can be a question as to whether a player was in a certain game.

Forgotten Sweetheart

By MARY RAYMOND

JOAN WARRING, pretty Memphis girl, and BOB WESTON, son of a New York millionaire, met in Memphis and fell in love. They became estranged through the scheming of BARBARA CORNBURY, a popular society girl who is trying to win Bob for herself. Joan goes to New York to search for BOB, her teenage sister who has run away after an unhappy love affair. Joan is hired as a masked singer in a nightclub. Presently she becomes engaged to HARVEY BLAKE, owner of the club.

Pat recognizes and becomes Harvey's secretary. Joan becomes Joan's secretary. Joan sings at a fashionable entertainment and discovers she is in love with Bob. Joan returns to Memphis. Joan tells Harvey of her love for Bob and learns that he loves her. Next day Harvey and Pat are married. Desperately unhappy, Joan returns to Memphis.

BOB'S father had been afraid that the surprise he had in store for his son—a yachting party including 15 young friends hastily gathered together by Barbara—might prove unwelcome. Mr. Weston was quite sure Bob would have preferred to make the trip without these companions but he was sure also that companionship was exactly what Bob needed. Hence, like a good physician, he went ahead with the cure for the malady, regardless of its bitter taste.

Barbara at the moment was dancing with Dan Maxwell and finding him for her wounded vanity in this new conquest. Her eyes held a dangerous brightness. Her soft scarlet lips were lifted temptingly. Dan held her close and said softly, "Sit out the rest of this dance with me, won't you?" Barbara shook her head. Dan bent nearer and laid his lips against her hair. "Are you crazy?" she gasped, drawing away. "If you don't want to be kissed here, then come outside in the moonlight," he whispered. "All right," she said in a breathless voice. "Just a moment. Just to get a glimpse of the moonlight."

When they had gone a man arose stiffly from a steamer chair in the shadows. Mr. Weston went to his cabin and prepared for bed. Over and over he told himself that he was an old fool. There were no any sweet, old-fashioned girls any more. They were all bold little birds out for a good time, taking

DO YOU REALIZE WHAT A WORLD OF GRIEF Advertising Saves You?

WE KNOW a seed house that proves each season's crop of seeds in their own trial gardens before they offer them to the public. Flowers and vegetables grown from these seeds must measure up to definite standards, or else the entire crops from which the samples were taken are burned.

We know a manufacturer of dry batteries who tested a new product two years before he sold a single battery to a single dealer.

We know a manufacturer of an anti-freeze solution for automobile radiators who spent two years testing his product under all conditions before he said a word in advertising about the merits of his goods.

We know a manufacturer of household pharmaceutical products whose self-imposed standard of purity and efficacy is even higher than that laid down by the United States Pharmacopoeia and the National Formulary.

If we mentioned their names you would recognize them immediately. You probably would say, "Why! I plant those seeds," "I use that battery," "I use that anti-freeze," "My medicine cabinet contains these products."

The four instances cited are typical of every reliable manufacturer in America. Millions of dollars are spent annually to develop, to improve, to standardize, and to take the guess-work out of merchandise. Other millions are spent in advertising to tell you about them.

All of which is to say that in putting your trust in advertised merchandise you save yourself the bother, the expense, the disappointment—yes, the danger—of experimenting and discovering for yourself which make of soap, breakfast food, radio tubes, lingerie, gasoline, tea, electrical device, stationery—or what-not—gives you the most service for your money.

The news columns of this paper keep you informed of the latest international, national and local happenings. The advertisements inform you of the newest, most advantageous, most reliable merchandise that America's most progressive makers are producing.

DERRICK SHADOWS
 By V. MARIE STEPHENS

There's something we can't understand.

It seems that we drifted along with hot, sultry weather until we were begging for snow and sleet.

And everybody cried "weather" and blamed their dispositions on it and their failures on it and their general condition on it.

And they said "If it ever gets cooler" . . . so on and so forth.

And then from out of the north came a gust of wind.

And from the skies came a little rain.

And from out of nowhere came gray clouds and dullness and dampness.

And we forgot what we'd said and promised and predicted.

We drift down the street with the rest of the bundled-up crowd and sniff and sneeze and sigh . . .

And we hear you grumble about the rain . . .

And the wind . . .

And the weather in general.

And we listen while you tell us of the approaching siege of flu and cold and pneumonia if things don't clear up.

And with borrowed wise expressions on our face, we look very sad and agree with you.

Now, the thing we can't understand is,

Why we prayed for rain,

And wanted cooler weather,

And declared we'd perform wonders if we could just get our breath and get away from the summer heat.

And now that we've got it, we growl,

And sneeze,

And sniff,

And are very sad.

And we can understand why you may want to criticize the gods and their idea of a good winter, because

Maybe you liked the hot weather, and didn't fuss about it.

But we can't understand why we insist on grumbling

Ourselves, and then writing columns to tell you about it.

Bray and Murray Outstanding
 Rangers in Simmons Fresh Game

Featured by Bray's 50-yard gallop through the mud with an intercepted pass and Black's kicked goal, the Ranger Junior College Texas B spears tacked up a 7-0 victory over the Simmons freshmen Saturday.

Other Rangers who were outstanding in the game were Dicky Murray, who, along with John Bray, easily played the best game of the entire squad, "Squint" Williams, "Mac West" Mabry, and Cecil Townsend.

Although the game was slow and the playing made difficult by the wet field, according to authorities the game was an outstanding defensive game by both the Rangers and Simmons freshmen. However, the game was marred by exceptionally poor blocking by the backs, who seemed to have forgotten that they had to block for each other as well as individual carrying the ball. The Rangers will have a much better football team when their backs realize that they have to do their share of the blocking.

Coach Tricky Ward and his Rangers will go to Kerrville this week-end. He will devote this week's practice session to strengthening the Ranger's offense, the coach stated today.

Socrates Receives Letter
 From His Father

Today we have, in reply to his son's letter Friday, a letter from Sebastian. Just who writes these "newsy" letters we shall not disclose at this time but—"you'd better watch your step because Socrates or Sebastian is at this moment watching you and carefully noting your actions, which he will relate in his long letter to the editor of this column." THE EDITOR.

Dear Socrates:

We received your letter Saturday and was very surprised (because you weren't asking for money).

I heard that the Rangers won the football game Saturday and that a fellow named John Bray ran all of 50 yards for a touchdown which was the "outstanding" play of the game. Son, you should be able to run pretty fast so next time you take right in after him and get your name all over the paper.

Those gossip grass widows were over to see Ma the other day and of all the gossip they told!

They were in town Saturday and saw David Nichol taking that "purty" Sammy Ruth Matthews for a spin in his car. They formed their opinion of Charlie Hodgkins when they saw him walking down the street with three girls! Anyway the town sheiks get the best of everything.

It was scandalous to hear of the many Ranger boys going to Eastland to find girls. Can't those boys find girls in Ranger? Seems to me the Ranger girls are all being rushed by Eastland and Breckenridge boys. Do they think they are too good to go with Ranger boys?

We heard that Clyde Dell Lewis was seen riding around with a bunch of college and high school girls and boys last week. That George Anna Moore and "Toots" Riley were along too. Son, don't you let me catch you riding over 15 miles per hour in one of those automobiles.

There's a rumor out that "Shanghai Lil" is ditty over a certain backfield man on your football team. Is it true? Write me about it.

I must get to bed, since our old rooster crowed an hour ago. White rail soon, Socrates.

Your father,
 SEBASTIAN.

P. E.—Ma said tell you that she was told that Sam Wallace had all of 50 girls, and that Lee Taylor was sure popular.

Junior Missionary
 Auxiliary

The little people of this group held an assembly meeting at their regular session Saturday morning in the Baptist church, and enjoyed the songs, "I Am Thine O Lord," and "Jesus Loves Little Children."

The song period was closed with sentence prayers, opened by Frances Laverne Darby and terminated by Mrs. S. C. Walker, director.

The Sunbeam Band then assembled in its group, and after reading of the Scripture lesson, Luke 2:8-13, held a round-table discussion, "Peace," and its meaning.

Poem, "The Son of God Goes Forth to War," was read to the children by their director, Mrs. Lee Bishop.

The children sang "Song of Friendship," and the session closed with the reading of the poem, "Peace and Friendship."

Those present, Marilyn Harris, Ruth Walker, Myrl Bishop, Anna Jean Darby, Monte Walker, and Dale Bishop.
