$7,000 IMPROVEMENT ON AIRPORT APPROVED

WORK LIKELY TO BE BEGUN BY NEXT WEEK

Gets Airport Aid

C. J. Moore, chairman of the airport committee of the chamber of commerce, who was instrumental in securing the engineer's approval on the $7,000 improvement project.

An Aeronautic Engineer Inspects Airport and Endorses Local Plans.

An aeronautic engineer of the Federal Civil Works Administration visited Ranger Friday morning and approved plans for expenditure of $7,000 on improvements to the Haugland Airport as part of the program of the administration to improve 2,000 municipal airports in the United States.

The allotment of the money for the airport was secured through the efforts of C. J. Moore, chairman of the airport committee of the chamber of commerce, who made the application and rushed the project through in order that Ranger might take advantage of the plan to improve airports. The project will provide labor for a number of workers when work is actually started, which was expected to be not later than the latter part of next week.

Improvements to the airport will include grubbing out the least of the mosquito trees in the southwest corner, filling in a small pond, removing a drainage ditch along the west side and chatting two runways in the form of a large "X" and other minor improvements.

The engineer stated this morning, before leaving for inspection of airports along the air route between Fort Worth and El Paso, that he would have his approval of the project in Austin not later than Monday, January 1, and that a wire should be received in Ranger not later than Tuesday to the effect that final approval had been obtained on the project. Work could start immediately upon receipt of the telegram, the engineer stated.

Plans for the improvements, along with engineering data, is to be completed today and mailed to Austin tonight in order that it will be at the office of the aeronautics division of the C. W. A. by the time the engineer's approval of the plans is received.

It is expected that the first work to be started will be grubbing out the mesquites on the southwest corner and filling in the pond, which is in the route of one of the runways, which will run 30 degrees west of north.

Chat will be hauled for the two runways and will be placed to a depth of about six inches on both runways, which will provide a good landing surface for planes. The runways have been placed in such a way as to get the maximum length possible on the field and at the same time allow for prevailing winds.

No figures as to what part of the money will be spent on labor have been provided, as yet, though it is estimated that labor and trucking will take up a majority of the money to be spent, which will help to take care of the unemployment situation in Ranger.

TEMPERATURE REACHES 60 BELOW ZERO

Coldest winter blasts in 60 years struck the eastern seaboard today as new snowfall accompanied milder temperatures in the mid-west.

East of the Allegheny mountains temperatures plunged to 60 below zero and set new all-time records for cold in half a dozen cities. The poor and destitute, suffering from a week of blizzards and cold, faced new hardships.

Owenshead, N. Y., reported an unofficial record of 69 degrees below zero; Lake Edward, Que., had 50 below, and New Hampshire and Maine recorded more than 40 below zero.

Feats were expressed for crews of coastwise vessels forced to batten the heavy seas in the cold.

Amid a new fall of light snow, Lake Michigan again was the scene of thrilling battles between men and winter elements.

Death toll of the storms which have ravaged the nation since Christmas day, today was mounting past the 150-mark.

Ranger Stores to Remain Open All Day January 1st.

Mrs. Alice D. True, secretary of the Ranger Retail Merchants Association, announced today that the retail stores of Ranger would remain open the usual hours on Monday, Jan. 1, and would not close because of New Year's day. It was stated that no meeting was held and a vote taken, but a number of the merchants contacted wanted to remain open. It has been the custom of the merchants of Ranger to remain open on New Year's day each year in the past and the merchants wanted to continue the policy of keeping the stores open on that day.

Heidegger told officers he was robbed of the money at his office Christmas day by a bandit who posed as a client.

Three Executed In Texas Prison

HUNTSVILLE, Tex., Dec. 29.—Dewey Hunt, twice convicted for the slaying of Samuel Cole, Dallas street car motorman, and who has been in jail three years while attorneys argued his fate, died in the electric chair in the State Penitentiary at Huntsville early today.

Cole was shot down by a hijacker in November, 1928. Hunt later was arrested, identified as the killer, experienced a speedy trial and was found guilty. The jury imposed the death penalty.

Attorneys for the condemned man appealed the sentence to the Court of Criminal Appeals. The case was reversed because the indictment did not specify that the killing was done "with malice aforethought." The court ruled that no more than five years could be assessed under the statutes on such an indictment.

County attorneys called a grand jury and Hunt was reindicted. He was convicted and again given the death penalty.

An attempt to have Hunt freed before Christmas last year failed when judges of six civil district courts announced their refusal to hold a hearing on writs of habeas corpus filed for Hunt by his attorneys. Previous attempts to have Hunt released also had failed.

In over-ruling applications to hear the writ, the judges said they believed they had no jurisdiction to pass on a criminal case.

Prior to the new trial obtained by Hunt's attorneys, attempts were made to get the prisoner released. They failed. The court of criminal appeals at Austin refused to recognize bond pending a new trial.

The question of former jeopardy, raised in an application for another writ, was pigeon-holed when the court announced it could not hear the writ before date of the new trial.

Hunt vigorously denied he held up Cole and shot and killed him when the motorman failed to respond quickly to the gunman's commands.

In the death row at Huntsville, the condemned man appeared little worried concerning his fate.

Thanksgiving Day Hunt told guards he was thankful he had only a few more weeks of this "life in the pen" ahead of him.

Besides Hunt, two negroes died in the electric chair the same day. They were Carl Stewart, Travis county, and Clarence Booker, Walker county. Both were convicted of murder.

Hunt, at his second trial last October, twisted nervously in his chair under fire of arguments from District Attorney William McGraw.

When the verdict of "death" was read, Hunt, appeared puzzled. He turned to a newspaper reporter and said, "I'm tired—think I'll go to bed."

Seven ballots were required before the second jury could get a unanimous vote for the death penalty.

Man Arrested on Robbery Charge

Ranger officers arrested a man wanted in Stephens county on a charge of passing forged checks on the Lone Star Gasoline Company at Breckenridge in the amount of approximately $500 and turned him over to Stephens county authorities today.

A check amounting to $57, which was passed in Ranger, was also reported by local officers to be a forgery. Ward from Breckenridge said that the man had been placed under bond of $9,000 on the charges.

A check was being made with the headquarters of the company on which the checks were passed, to determine if any other checks had been passed by the man.

GIRL ADMITS SHE KILLED A PLAYMATE

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Dec. 29.—The confession of a 13-year-old girl that she murdered her younger playmate, in an outburst of temper, left authorities undecided today as to what action the state would take.

Mary Kavala, 13, of Hastings-on-Hudson, N. Y., was held as the confessed slayer of Josephine Waropay, 8, the child whose trussed body was found Sunday behind a clubhouse building.

The murder was committed without accomplices, the district attorney said.

"Mary claimed," he said, "that Josephine had been telling stories about her mother and her family and in a fit of temper she struck Josephine in the face with a rock. Then she bound her hands with strands from an old mop. She put a rubber band around her neck and tied strands from the mop around the neck. She had found the rubber band, which had been cut from an inner tube of an old tire."

BANKERS TO SELL STATE RELIEF BONDS

AUSTIN, Dec. 29.—With a voluntary association of bankers to market state relief bonds and an authorized call upon the federal government for an allotment of $1,000,000 for additional purchase of beef cattle for canning, the relief outlook was brighter today.

Fred Florence and George W. Briggs, Dallas bankers, head the bond marketing organization as chairman and vice chairman. John L. Lafferty, Fort Worth, is secretary. An executive committee of 13 and an advisory committee of 150 will carry on the campaign to sell bonds.

Their campaign was bolstered by a ruling from the attorney general that the bonds have a first lien on all state taxes going into the general fund, other than taxes on real estate.

Work of selling began at once with a check of all offers already made for the $2,750,000 relief bond issue. This indicates that about $1,300,000 of non-duplicating offers, are available.

PWA DOLLARS TO GIVE JOBS TO MILLIONS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—Public works dollars, distributed in cities and hamlets throughout the nation under the recovery program, are expected to create employment for millions during 1934.

As the new year approaches, the federal public works administration has allotted nearly all of the $3,300,000,000 voted by congress in June for the two-year emergency program of public works.

Four million at work. Approximately 5,000,000 workers now are busy on a diversification of federal and non-federal projects. Another army of men now unemployed is assured of wages throughout the coming year.

The PWA is confident that it will reach its major objective—re-employment of millions of men, with consequent restoration of purchasing power.

Heavy-set, fatherly Harold I. Ickes, who, as secretary of the interior, was named custodian of the big public works fund, has carried on his work expeditiously in order to safeguard the taxpayers' money. In six months he has accomplished much to stimulate industrial activity.

Administrator Ickes has indicated he will recommend an additional PWA appropriation by the coming congress. The amount to be asked has not been mentioned, but observers predicted it would approach $1,500,000,000.

10,000 Public Works Projects. Loans and grants have been authorized by the PWA to aid in financing about 10,000 public works projects. Recent reports revealed a marked increase in the number of construction contracts.

According to latest compilations, contracts made and work already under way on federal projects alone involve expenditures totaling over $600,000,000. As 1933 neared an end, PWA had made allotments amounting to more than $650,000,000 for non-federal projects.

Large allotments for federal undertakings included $400,000,000 for federal aid highways in every state, $50,000,000 for roads in the

Job Sales Report Being Completed

AUSTIN, Dec. 29.—Several weeks will be required to complete a report to be made to the house of representatives by its committee investigating job sales, Chairman Harry Graves said here before returning to his home at Georgetown today.

NEW DRIVE ON HOARDED GOLD IS LAUNCHED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—The government's new drive against gold hoarders is aimed at individuals who have held on to large amounts of the metal in defiance of previous orders, Acting Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau said today.

"We are worrying about the big fellows and the drive is directed against them," he said. "This is a year-end mopping up."

Unlike previous anti-hoarding orders, the new regulation applies to holders of less than $100 in gold as well as larger amounts. But Morgenthau said he was not worried over those who may be keeping just one or two gold pieces.

He was uncertain as to what penalties would be imposed under his latest order. Previously gold hoarders of more than $100 were subject to a maximum penalty of $10,000 and 10 years in prison.

He did not know whether holders of less than $100 would suffer any penalty or any fine above double the gold held.

Morgenthau said he believed that several million dollars in gold would be recovered as a result of the order.

PEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE

with BILL MAYES

This article, in a series of 11 or more, concerns another of the loemen of the 1933 Bulldogs who played a dual role, in other words he had one assignment to play on the defense and quite another on the offense. It concerns Jacoby, 185-pound end, tackle or where do you need him.

Mellinger Jacoby

Jacoby, a well-built 150-pounder, lettered in 1932, his freshman year and even while being used only on occasions as a reserve, he was counted on early last year as a regular on the 1933 team, and made it. He has played more positions in the line than any other man on the team, having played left end, right end, left tackle and center.

Jacoby was used some in 1932 as a substitute tackle and played a good part of the Thanksgiving day game against Breckenridge at center after John Bray had received a head injury that kept him out of the game for some time. He played a good game, both at tackle and center, though he was inexperienced at both positions.

This year he was started at left end, a position he played well, but when changes were made in the lineup he was switched to right end and played tackle on the defense because he was heavier than any of the regular tackles and could stand the brunt of a concerted attack against the line better than the lighter men.

As an end Jacoby is one of the best pass snatchers the Bulldogs have had for some time, but this year he had very few opportunities to shine in this department and early in the season he had not acquired that knack of getting clear which he later learned. In 1934 he will probably be seen in action at left end, if present predictions about the team can be counted for.

Texas Relief to Be Stopped Says Maury Hopkins

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—Federal Relief Administrator Hopkins indicated today congress would be asked for around $100,000,000 to carry on the government relief activities to July 1, 1934.

The present $500,000,000 relief fund probably will last until April 1, he said.

Colorado, Texas and Missouri, he said, will not receive additional federal relief funds until they have contributed their share. Activities of the federal relief administration in these states, it was announced, will be curtailed until monetary requirements of the states have been met.

"We have put up as much as we want in Texas," he asserted.

Expect Gold to Reach $41.34 in Stabilization Plan

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—The best informed opinions today expect stabilization of the dollar to take place at about $41.34 per gold ounce, representing a dollar devalue of 50 per cent.

Two almost inevitable developments in the administration currency program intend, before President Roosevelt may finally stabilize the dollar in relation to gold, however.

These developments are, (1) to negotiate for international stabilization and (2) to ask congress for authority to seize the gold profit inherent in a devaluation of currency.

Son of Ranger Man Dies After Wrestling Bout

FORT WORTH, Dec. 29.—A friendly wrestling match with neighborhood companions today proved fatal to Darwin Moulton, 15, son of J. O. Moulton of Ranger.

While wrestling with another boy last week his opponent pinned him with a twisting knee hold. Injured bones in the knee developed blood poisoning and he died last night. He lived with his mother. He will be buried at Mount Vernon tomorrow.

ROP CUTTING FARMERS TO GET FEDERAL AID IN 1934

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—The U. S. government money to be used for reducing production of basic crops will continue, Chester C. Davis, new AAA administrator, who believes in improving incomes by direct methods, said today in reviewing the 1933 work of the department.

Seven Months' Work

When created seven months ago, the farm administration viewed farm crop reduction as inevitable because of heavy over-production and losses of foreign markets. Farm purchasing power and retail value had shrunk to one-third of former levels. Profits in farm commodities were all going to distributors.

Under leadership of Peek and Agriculture Secretary Wallace and the general farm co-operation programs have been effected to place planting of cotton, wheat, corn, tobacco and rice, and production of hogs. The ultimate total of benefit payments in those programs may reach $775,000,000.

Marketing agreements for milk, meaning basic commodity under a farm act, have been signed for important milk sheds. These together with producers and distributors on prices and business policies and aim to increase farmers' prices without burdening consumers.

Dairy Control Plan

The milk situation is troublesome and Davis thinks it is not likely to improve until a national dairy control plan is applied. A special committee is working out a plan to reduce production and pay benefits from processing taxes.

Secretary Wallace has indicated congress will be asked to add sugar and cattle to the basic list.

Administrator Davis hopes to work out a series of regional marketing agreements to cover additional farm products. Agreements effected for California cling peaches, citrus fruits, deciduous fruits, walnuts, peanuts, and voluntary agreements by vegetable growers are proving eminently successful, Davis said.

The cotton program was first to get under way. Spectacular plowing under of 10,304,000 acres saved this year's crop from swamping the overburdened market which, Peek declared, would have caused price collapse and ruined cotton producers.

More than one million participating farmers have received $110,000,000 in rentals based on estimated yield per acre. Cotton growers also hold options on 2,100,000 bales of government cotton on which they should realize about $48,000,000.

Ten Cents a Pound Loan

Loans of 10 cents a pound have been offered on the present crop, and advances of four cents a pound on optioned cotton. Contracts are being distributed to reduce 1934 cotton acreage 15,000,000 acres. Compensating payments probably will total $125,000,000.

Wheat farmers agreed to reduce 1934 acreage nearly 8,000,000 acres, and their benefit payments are under way. First checks will total about $70,000,000 with $50,000,000 more to be paid early next year. An export corporation formed to dispose of 35,000,000 bushels of surplus northwestern wheat had sold more than 8,000,000 bushels on Dec. 15.

Seeking increased prices for corn and hogs, an emergency slaughtering program in September disposed of 6,200,000 pigs and cows on which a premium was paid. The government is purchasing this pork for relief distribution and by-products are being sold to highest bidders.

County Supervisor Tells About Sanitation Methods Now Available

Under the National Industrial Recovery Act, $20,000,000 was made available to Texas, part of which will be used in sanitary work throughout the state.

At present the work here will consist of installation of pit type private and sanitation of water supplies. Under the present arrangement, labor for this work will be furnished free and it is expected that many will take advantage of this liberal offer to put their premises in a sanitary condition.

In speaking of a similar program, Surgeon General Cummings, United States Public Health Service, said: "With such appropriations available, in no way could they be more useful to this and future generations than in the construction and installation of adequate and safe water supplies and sewage disposal systems."

The fly and mosquito are responsible for the spread of a large number of the communicable diseases. Every one should unite in a battle of extermination of these pests. Their extermination will not only lessen disease, but will also save money that would otherwise be spent for illness, and make living more pleasant.

The mosquito raises from 50 to 300 children at one time and only takes around two weeks to have the full grown children. The fly raises around a million children in one season.

Mosquitoes are responsible for the spread of malaria, dengue, and yellow fever. Malaria is spread by the bite of the Anopheles or malaria mosquito. Dengue fever and yellow fever are transmitted by the Aedes aegypti or tiger mosquito. The best way to prevent these diseases is to destroy the breeding places of the mosquito. They breed in any standing water, therefore you should drain ditch or fill such places, spray oil on water each week, too, or stock the water with surface minnows, as they will eat the wiggle-tails. Houses should be screened.

Flies breed typhoid fever, dysentery, diarrhea, tuberculosis, anthrax and cholera. They breed, live and feed in filth. To prevent their increase, all refuse should be disposed of at once, garbage kept in covered containers, privies made sanitary and houses screened. Every neighborhood raises its own flies, so that their number is an excellent index to the sanitary conditions. The state health department, county and city health officers, are only too glad to assist in banishing this source of disease.

Each year about 5000 people in Texas are ill with typhoid fever, and over 500 die of it. The average duration of this illness is eight weeks, and so over a quarter million days are lost; if each person earned two dollars per day a total loss of half a million dollars would be the result, not counting the money spent for doctors, medicines, and funeral expenses.

Typhoid fever can be controlled by the use of pure water, pasteurized milk or clean milk, clean foods, proper disposal of sewage, screening against the fly and destroying its breeding places, by search for and care of human carriers and by the general practice of vaccination.

Typhoid vaccine is a harmless solution. This is injected under the skin in the upper part of the arm, in three doses, usually at weekly intervals. It ordinarily protects against the disease two to three years or longer, although one who is definitely exposed to infection should be revaccinated more frequently.

Certain people, apparently healthy, carry the germs of typhoid in their intestines or urinary tract and cause many cases of typhoid fever each year through handling of foods with unwashed hands. They are called typhoid carriers.

Flies not only help spread typhoid fever but also dysentery, diarrhea, tuberculosis, anthrax, and cholera. They breed, live and feed in filth. To prevent their increase all refuse should be disposed of at once, garbage kept in covered containers, privies made sanitary and houses screened. Every neighborhood raises its own flies so their number is an excellent index to the sanitary conditions.

Hookworm disease could be eliminated entirely if sanitary provisions were made for the disposal body discharges. Hookworm is caused by a small, whitish worm, which, when full grown, is about a half inch in length and as thick as a small hairpin. The very young and very tiny worms get into the body, usually by boring their way through the skin; occasionally they are swallowed.

With these worms at work the patient's blood becomes thin and watery. He grows pale and listless and may have indigestion. Often a person who has a mild case is thought to be merely lazy, when he is really sick. It also retards the growth of children.

All that is necessary to cure hookworm is to get the worms out of the patient's bowels. You should consult your family physician in

Weekly Sunday School Lesson

The Life of Paul

Text: Phil. 3:1-14
The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Dec. 31.

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D., Editor of The Congregationalist

This final lesson in the life of Paul is in place of the usual review of the quarter's lessons. In this case, that review would be simply a review of Paul's life, because all the lessons of the quarter, except one for World's Temperance Sunday and one on World Peace, have had to do with the conversion of the Apostle and his ministry in the early church.

We have no means of knowing the exact age of Paul, or the number of years occupied in his Christian ministry. In the story of the martyrdom of Stephen, we have the first introduction to Paul, in the statement that those who stoned Stephen to death laid down their garments at the feet of a "young man whose name was Saul."

Just how young Paul was at that time we do not know. The indications are that, after his conversion and the early activities recorded, there was a period of silence in which Paul was preparing himself for his task of service under his new religious convictions.

For the story of Paul's life we are indebted chiefly to Paul himself, as Luke has recorded the speeches in self-defense on various occasions when Paul found it necessary to tell the story.

We are indebted, also, to the entire wonderful record of Luke in the Book of the Acts—a record which bears upon its face the evidences of intimate knowledge and deep appreciation.

As Paul neared the close of his career and surveyed his own life, he wrote to Timothy, his "son in the faith," in the words of our golden text, "I have fought the good fight, I have finished the course, I have kept the faith."

It was a simple statement of what was true concerning his elemental purpose and his faithfulness to it.

Paul was not a boaster or a braggart. There was in him the essential humility of the man who was measuring himself constantly against the supreme standards of faith and action.

Jesus Christ was ever so before him that he was reminded constantly of his Master. Yet Paul was a man of plain sense, in whom there was no unworldly sentimentality or self-depreciation. He knew that, grievous as were his shortcomings and his errors, he had tried to live in good conscience even in the days before he had seen the light on the way to Damascus.

The words of our lesson are a very fitting conclusion to our study of the life of Paul. They are from the Epistle to the Philippians, which he wrote during the days of his imprisonment at Rome. He was not sure just what was ahead of him. He was living in Rome at that time, a prisoner, but with a fair measure of freedom, still able to see his friends and to discuss the realities and mysteries of the Christian faith with all who were willing to hear.

Our lesson reveals, in a very clear way, the supreme height of Paul's ideal. The great goal of his life was "the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord," a knowledge that for him was not an external thing, but that upon which he wished to have his whole life based.

For this he was willing to suffer the loss of all things, and for this he was willing to forget everything that lay behind in his life. "He describes himself as a man 'pressing toward the goal of the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.'"

What higher goal could a man have? And what nobler example could we all have in the pursuit of it than that of the Apostle Paul?

The rubber code finally has been signed, after both the administration and the industry had to stretch a point or two.

Aged Gorman Man Is Found Dead

GORMAN, Dec. 29.—Bryant Leroy Park, 74, was found dead in his bed last Thursday morning. His wife called him to get up and he did not answer. He had possibly been dead only an hour or so.

Mr. Park was born in Mississippi September 20, 1859, and was first married to Miss Sarah Coward in 1885, and to this union six children were born. Mrs. Park passed away in 1901. In 1908 he was married to Miss Eva Miller. To this union two children were born and the mother of these children passed away in 1911.

Mr. Park spent most of his life in Comanche and Eastland county. For more than fifteen years he has made his home in Gorman. Mr. Park was one of Gorman's best citizens.

In the year 1917 he was married to Miss Bertie Wood. He was converted and joined the Baptist church in 1918.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon, Dec. 22, at the Gorman Baptist church, with Rev. J. L. Roden in charge. Interment was held at Gorman cemetery.

Those surviving him are, his widow; four sons, Lonnie of Oliver Springs, Jessie, of Sudan; Leroy of Portales, N. M., and Earnest of Gorman; two daughters, Mrs. Valda Swan, Gorman and Mrs. Veola Morris, Oliver Springs, and six grandchildren.

anything, and the experience he gained this year should make him an all-district candidate at that position, provided, of course, that Rankin Britt is used in the backfield and does not play the end position next year. If he does, Jacoby learned fast during the season, and was one of the most willing players on the team. He applied himself and, in the last game of the season, drew more praise from the press than any lineman on the team. He was a bear on the defense and carried out his assignments on the offense in a workmanlike manner.

Jacoby turned in a good game against Eastland, which was his first at the right end-left tackle combination; showed up well at Abilene and played an excellent game against Breckenridge and was an all-around star against Temple. In the Cisco game he received an injury on the first kickoff and was out of his head a good part of the game, playing almost three quarters under a serious handicap. In spite of this he played a good game.

He is one of the fastest men on the team, is active throughout the game and takes his training seriously, which goes a long way toward making an ideal football player, regardless of the position he plays. He is counted on as being one of the outstanding men of the 1934 team, when he should prove a power, both on the offense and defense. With two more years of active high school competition ahead of him, Jacoby has a chance of making the fourth man now playing on the Bulldog squad to letter four years, having received two letters and being in line for his next two. Other prospective four-letter men are Anderson, Gray and Britt, all of whom lettered their freshman years.

He is the kind of a player a coach likes to have on his squad and his team, as he is a hard worker, takes his assignments seriously without worrying about them, trains well, does his best to live up to the expectations of his coach and the players, and then does. Although he had had considerable experience last year as a lineman, playing part of the time at tackle when Adkins was injured in a bus accident and filling in for him and John Bray on several occasions, the end position was new to him early in the season and the difference in the playing of the positions, no doubt, confused him at times, so that he did not stand out as well as was hoped. With a game or two behind him, however, he began to get the hang of things and showed more real improvement and ability than any other man in the line, and before the season was over he was one of the mainstays of the first line defense.

Mrs. J. E. Buchanan and her daughters, Miss Lillie Buchanan and Mrs. R. D. Wright, drove up to Ranger Thursday and did some shopping.

On Tuesday afternoon of last week Mrs. J. W. Griffin and Mrs. W. C. Bedford were hostesses for the Christmas program and party of the "21" Study club at the clubhouse which had been beautifully decorated with festoons of red and green, bunches of mistletoe, a pretty Christmas tree and red and white roses. The decorating had been done by the house committee of which Mrs. W. E. Barron is chairman and Mrs. A. C. Robert and Mrs. Griffin, members of the committee. War Cost Germany 13,000,000 Citizens
By United Press
BELLIN.—Germany lost 13,000,000 citizens, due to the war and the Treaty of Versailles. These figures show that Germany's losses were:
2,000,000 killed at the front in the war.
3,000,000 to 4,000,000 died of hunger, due to the food blockade.
3,000,000 to 3,500,000 were lost by the decreased birth rate.
8,500,000 Germans lost their citizenship and became Polish, or French, or other subjects by the Treaty of Versailles.
A race horse at Charlestown, W. Va., was found to be dyed to deceive buyers. But at least the dye ran, when it was discovered, while the horse rarely did.

Sales Tax Expected to Bob Up Again As Texas Political Pot Begins to Boil

By GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN.—Another attempt to pass a state sales tax will mark the Ferguson administration, it is confidently expected here.

The governor's adviser has said that his wife will call a special session of the legislature to issue bonds of the $20,000,000 bond authorized by constitutional amendment. One of the causes assigned for lack of interest among financiers in the bonds has been failure to provide a specific tax for their retirement. It is the understanding here that the sales tax will be revived with the proposal that it be used to retire relief bonds.

The Fergusons' unsuccessful efforts to have such a tax levied at the regular session of the 43rd legislature was the keenest disappointment suffered by the governor in her second term, next to her failure to place Frank L. Denison as the state highway commissioner.

Passage of a sales tax at a special session would be a triumph for her administration. It would add to the prestige of her husband and be valuable to him in a possible campaign for the United States senate.

A lull in the governor's race followed the numerous announcements of the preceding week. Texas Relief Director Lawrence Westbrook, Waco, was suggested as a candidate by Mayor W. W. Sellers of Temple and promptly

Ex-Mrs. Gable Seeks Old Role

Here's one part in which one actress should be letter perfect—and Josephine Dillon, above, actress and voice teacher, believes she is. Informed that a play dealing with the life of Clark Gable, movie idol, might be produced, she asked for the part of the first wife—because she really was the first Mrs. Clark Gable.

Members of the house of representatives as a result of special elections to fill vacancies. Ed H. Lange, Laredo, former legislator from San Antonio and law partner of former House Speaker R. L. Bobbitt, is a candidate for the house vacancy caused by resignation of Representative Paul Hill. The election will be held Jan. 13.

Glass of Milk 'Taboo' in Dallas

DALLAS.—A glass of milk served over the counter in Dallas restaurants is "taboo." From now on it will be a bottle of milk or nothing, according to Chief Inspector W. E. Roberts, of the city health department.

Roberts' authority is derived from a revised sanitary ordinance recently placed into effect. It prohibits cafe men from pouring glasses of milk out of bottles.

"If operators don't want to get into trouble they had better sell the whole bottle of milk or not sell any at all," Roberts said. "The health of the public must be protected."

Evidence that the health inspector means what he says is shown in the fact that already 17 cases are pending here against cafe men who have violated the sanitary ordinance.

HARVARD UNIVERSITY PLANS 300TH BIRTHDAY

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—The first formal action in preparation for Harvard university's 300th anniversary—in 1936—was taken recently with the appointment of a committee of 10 "to prepare plans for the celebration of the tercentenary." A feature of this celebration of this anniversary of America's oldest educational institution will be the publication of a new history of Harvard university.

CANADA PAYS JOBLESS 130 MILLION

MONTREAL.—The Bennett government has paid out, or advanced, approximately $130,000,000 to the nine provinces in the form of direct unemployment relief, public works, help in land settlements and loans, since it took office in 1930.

THE BELLS MADE HISTORY

PORTLAND, Conn.—The Bell family of this town are making history in the local Masonic lodge. E. Irving Bell, 83, recently was re-elected treasurer of Warren Lodge, A. F. & A. M., for the 56th consecutive year. His grandson, Carlyle S. Bell, is presiding master of the lodge. The elder Bell's record of long service is believed unequalled in Masonic circles. He has never been opposed for office.

MILK CODE HITS WOMEN
ST. LOUIS.—Higher milk prices under the NRA code, may cause 28 women to seek charity here. The women, on charity rolls two years ago, were given jobs selling milk to office workers in downtown buildings. A price of five cents became popular, but when the price was forced to six cents, business dropped off 50 per cent. Sponsors of the milk plan said that the practice would probably be stopped.

QUAKER CITY TEACHER HONORED

By United Press
PHILADELPHIA.—The first licensing of a Pennsylvania school teacher was commemorated here by the Schoolmen's Club with a pageant and the unveiling of a bronze tablet to the memory of Enoch Flower. The first teacher's certificate ever issued in the state was granted to Flower, Dec. 26, 1863, by the Provincial Council of Philadelphia.

SENTENCED TO SUNDAY SCHOOL

By United Press
ROCHESTER, Ind.—A sentence of compulsory Sunday school attendance every week for a year was imposed upon Robert Bats, 18, when he pleaded guilty to breaking into the home of a neighboring farmer four times within a year. Bats also must reimburse the neighbor for goods stolen.

SWEDEN EXPORTS APPLES

By United Press
STOCKHOLM.—Instead of importing its Christmas apples from Oregon, as it has usually done, Sweden this year has exported nearly 3,000,000 pounds, chiefly to Germany and Czechoslovakia, according to Baron Hermelin, head of the Swedish society of pomologists. More apples than ever have been turned into sauer for canning and cider. A single community, Urshult, in the province of Smaland, has shipped abroad 700,000 kilograms of apples, at an average price of 20 ore per kilogram.

SWEDEN HAS SWEET TOOTH

By United Press
STOCKHOLM.—Sweden's sweet tooth has doubled its consumption since 1913, an inquiry by the Finance Department has shown. A proposed tax on candy would bring in ten million kronor, but so far the authorities hesitate. In 1931 the 6,000,000 Swedes consumed 12,403 tons of candy, mostly chocolates, worth 22,582,000 kronor. Over 80 per cent of the candy makers are women.

GRAF CARRIED CUT FLOWERS

By United Press
AKRON, O.—The first known transatlantic shipment of cut flowers was a success, according to word received here by a floral company which recently shipped chrysanthemums from Akron to Friedrichshafen, Germany, aboard the Graf Zeppelin. The flowers sent to Mrs. Hugo Eckener, wife of the Graf commander, and Mrs. Ernst A. Lehmann, wife of the craft's captain, arrived in good condition, it was learned here.

WOMAN WON BOUT

OAKLAND, Calif.—An unidentified woman knocked out Dr. Freddy Meyer, star heavyweight wrestler, when she seized a soda pop bottle from an announcer's table at the ringside of Oakland Auditorium and hit Meyer on the head as he lay on the mat near the ropes. Meyer was knocked unconscious. The woman fled during the tumult which followed.

WALLPAPER 107 YEARS OLD

BOSTON.—Elmer F. Tanager removed the wallpaper from his room and found that it was put on in 1826. The brick house was built in 1669, and was once the home of John Hancock, signer of the Declaration of Independence.

112,716 ASK CORRECT TIME

BOSTON.—It's between 7 and 8 a. m. and 4 and 5 p. m. that the correct time is in greatest demand in Boston. That these are the peak periods is apparent from a study of telephone company records. No less than 112,716 Bostonians asked the company for the right time last month.

MAYOR URGES MARRIAGE

FRANKFORT ON MAIN.—The lord mayor of Frankfurt has ordered 1,600 unmarried civil servants to explain why they never have gone to the altar and report on their immediate prospects of entering the blessed state. According to his official statement, bachelors, "for reasons of state and the political need of raising the birth rate," must take the matter of marriage seriously, since "re-creation of jobs by unattached young men seriously injures the basis of existence of husbands and fathers of families."

GOLD RUSH AIDED TOWN

BASIN, Mont.—Basin, an old-time mining town in Jefferson county, Montana, laid claim to an unusual distinction today—it had no unemployment problem. Every able-bodied male in town was employed. Revival of gold mining activities under the government's new gold buying program was responsible. Every local resident was given work. Outsiders, however, were barred.

FARMERS FIGHT CROWS

TEMPLE, Texas.—Bell county farmers have organized a "swat the crows" drive in an effort to protect their crops from flocks of big black crows. The fowls can wipe out a good-sized field of maize or sorghum within an hour. The crows' roosting places are located and visited at night by bands of farmers armed with shotguns.

A psychiatrist warns us to destroy the idiots born among us before they overpower us. Why destroy them, when all we need to do is not elect them?

California Hobo Evolves Cheap Drunk

SALINAS, Calif.—How to get a "cheap drunk" on the nickel was explained to police here by an unnamed itinerant.

"It is simple," the hobo told Deputy Sheriff D. F. McKinnon. "First you buy a nickel bottle of soda pop. Then you attach a hose to a gas jet. Turn the gas on and let it bubble through the bottle of pop. It will give you a beautiful 'bub'." Police and health officers advised against the hobo's solution to the "high cost of drinking" problem.

Officially winter began Dec. 21, to weathermen it came on Dec. 1, but for us it needn't come at all.
