Damage At Amarillo Over Million

AT LEAST 4 KILLED, MANY HURT AS STORM RIPS SECTION OF TOWN

AMARILLO, Tex. May 16 (UP)—Towering thunderheads on the horizon added an ominous note to the gloom today as guardsmen and rescue workers picked over the rubble left by a tornado that killed at least four persons, injured 85 others and left $1,000,000 in property damage.

More than 20 persons were missing but it was believed many simply were out of touch with relatives or friends in the general confusion. Looting, which occurred during the first few hours after the wind smashed into the residential section, was believed under control this morning as guardsmen, Texas Rangers, highway patrolmen, county and city officers set up constant patrols.

The tornado crashed through the southside residential area a few seconds later. Personnel at the Amarillo Airport's Control Tower spotted the twister bearing down and announced over their teletype that they were leaving their posts due to the "approaching tornado."

'They Turned The Lights Out'

The pilot walked away with minor scratches and bruises after attempting a night-time crash landing in a Kansas City, Mo., baseball park and winding up in this position in an adjacent school yard. Pilot E. Lobdell, 29, said he would have made the landing safely in left field as 9000 fans were leaving the park after a night game, "but they turned the lights out on me."

SHANGHAI, May 16 (UP)—Chinese Communists threw a ring of men and guns around Shanghai on all sides today. The great city in China was isolated by Communist forces driving into the outlying suburbs, save for a narrowing corridor down the Whangpoo River.

To the southeast across the Whangpoo River from the billion-dollar Bund, Communist guerrillas reached the Nanhwei district, about 17 miles distant. (Air travelers from Shanghai to Hong Kong reported that the Communists swarmed across the Whangpoo, which bisects Shanghai, this afternoon a few miles south of the city and about three miles south of the Lungwa International Airfield.)

They were boarding small craft along the coast, and also were being ferried across to the Whangpoo and marching toward Shanghai.

Well...

The Book-of-the-Month Club is convinced that there are still honest people in the world and this is the way they tell the tale that convinced them.

Anyone doubting the innate honesty of American women is hereby referred to the Book-of-the-Month Club. Last week a check was received for $8.25. Attached to it was a bill for three books—"Revolt in the Desert," "Marching On," and "Giants in The Earth"—purchased by a young lady in Boston Massachusetts and the young lady had appended a note saying, "Please return check if this bill has been paid."

The bill was dated October 24, 1927. As a reward for honesty, the Club is returning the check, whether the bill was paid or not. Nobody can remember that far back.

C. D. Manning believes in putting his ground space to use and on the two city lots which he has in connection with his home he's got one of the most complete gardens, orchard and flower gardens that we've ever seen.

In fact, he ran out of space and has wire-fenced ground outside his front yard for more flowers. The garden is a riot of color with larkspurs, poppies and roses in profusion. He has all kinds of berries, grapes, fruit trees and vegetables.

And sure enough, we came away with a sack full of fresh vegetables.

We haven't seen as many people anxiously watching clouds in a long time as there were today just before noon when the threatening cloud loomed in the northwest.

Everybody being storm conscious after the Amarillo storm, was really keeping a close check on the storm.

Good Neighbor Policy Too Good

KILLEEN, Tex., May 16 (UP)—How good should a good-neighbor policy be? "Not that good," D. L. Wood commented today.

Wood moved into his new home here Wednesday. Thursday he moved his lawn. Being neighborly, he ran his mower over part of the lawn next door.

Friday, Wood's neighbor discovered the "good deed."

Saturday, Wood was busy replanting his neighbor's prize flower garden.

Thundershowers Due Late Today

By United Press
Practically all of Texas felt thundershowers today as the eyes of the Lone Star State focused mainly on the tornado-torn Panhandle.

The weather bureau reported extensive thundershowers this morning in the Panhandle, the South Plains and east of the Pecos River. Thundershowers throughout the state were due to weaken during the day with another increase in the late afternoon.

The Weather Bureau at Dallas announced it did not receive the usual hourly communications from its Amarillo station, located at English Field, from 1:30 A. M. until 8:30 A. M. Officials blamed lack of power lines brought on by tornado activity in the Amarillo area.

The early report from Amarillo showed cloudiness in the area and rain showers toward the southwest.

Hail was reported at Clarendon this morning following .73 inch of rain. It was raining at Childress.

Cloudiness was variable over the state, weathermen said, with fair skies along the coastal regions and west of the Pecos.

Rainfall yesterday included 1.24 inch at Big Spring, .58 at Midland, and .19 at Lubbock.

Yesterday's highest temperature was 101 at Presidio, while the low maximum reading was 74 at Amarillo. Today's low was 50 at Dalhart.

Plummer's new assignment will consist of the supervision of scouting activities in all districts of the company, except East Central Texas and Oklahoma. He will continue to have headquarters in Eastland.

Jack Gouley has been named district production engineer in the East Panhandle district, with headquarters at Shamrock. He formerly was stationed in Eastland as production engineer in the West Central Texas district.

The freight cars leaped from the rails early yesterday morning and delayed traffic until 8 P. M., railroad officials said. No one was injured.

The accident to the south-bound freight train was believed caused by a faulty section of rail.

Eisler Held For Extradition

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., May 16 (UP)—Gerberat Eisler, ace Communist agent wanted by the United States, was ordered held for an extradition hearing today and immediately was sped off to London's Bow Street Court.

A six-man court here ordered Eisler remanded immediately to the Bow Street Court, the only one in Britain empowered to deal with extradition cases.

Hardly had Eisler left the courtroom when Scotland Yard agents placed him in an official car and started the journey to London. It was expected he would appear this afternoon or tomorrow.

In London, Eisler will have to show cause why he should not be deported to the United States under the extradition act of 1870. His attorney said Eisler would plead that he is a political refugee and therefore cannot be extradited under the act.

One section of the act specifically states that fugitives shall not be surrendered if the request for his extradition "has been made with a view to try to punish him for an offense of a political nature."

Senate Passes Water Dist. Bill

Word was received this morning that a bill creating the Eastland County Water Supply district has passed the Senate and been sent to the governor for his signature. It had passed the House earlier.

Rep. Turner Collier, representative of the 106th District, told David D. Pickrell, water resources chairman of the Chamber of Commerce, that he will notify Pickrell when the Governor will sign the bill, in order that a delegation from Ranger may be present at the signing.

Ranger citizens working on the project, today expressed their appreciation to Representative Collier, Rep. Billie M. Jobe of the 107th District, and Pat Bullock, senator from this District, for the fine way in which they have handled the passage of the bill.

Signing of the bill by Governor or Jester, opens up the way for the local group to go ahead with the project of creating an ample water supply for the city of Ranger.

Who Wrote the 'Wood' Bill? Don't Ask Congressman Wood

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The mystery of who wrote the so-called "Wood" bill as a substitute for the Taft-Hartley labor law is pretty thick. But it isn't really as mysterious as has been let on.

Democratic Congressman John S. Wood of Canton, Ga., whose name is on the bill, is himself largely responsible for whatever confusion exists about its origin.

His first answer to the question, "Who wrote the Wood bill?" is: "It was not written by the Department of Labor."

When the question is repeated, he gives a second answer of: "The bill was written in my office with the help of a few Republicans on the House Committee on Education and Labor."

When asked, "Who?" he replies with a nasty, "What business is it of yours?" and walks away.

The answer to that one is simple. Who wrote the Wood bill may not be the personal business of any reporter. But it most certainly is public business, who writes these tricky pieces of legislation. And in the public interest, every reporter has the right to ask any question he chooses with the expectation that he'll get a civil answer.

Congressman Wood's reluctance to come clean on this one may be due to several factors. One is that he wants all the credit for himself. The other is that he doesn't want it known how the bill was written, what deals it represents, or who supplied the brains.

WILLIAM INGLES, organizer and front for the Committee to Save the Taft-Hartley Law, says he didn't write the Wood bill but he knows how it was written. Ingles says Congressman Wood's unwillingness to discuss the subject seals the mouths of those who had anything to do with writing it.

Gerard D. Reilly, former NLRB counsel now retained as labor lawyer for a number of employers, says he had no hand in writing the Wood bill. Reilly gives much credit for putting it over to North Carolina Democrat Graham A. Barden, in the House Labor Committee. Union labor lawyers in Washington have charged openly that some of the language in the Wood bill is unmistakably Reilly's.

Reilly had considerable to do with writing the Taft-Hartley act. His influence on the Taft-Hartley law "Watch-dog" Committee's December report on the workings of the law is also discernible. And the real key to the Wood bill is to be found in this report.

Pennsylvania Congressman Samuel K. McConnell, Jr., ranking Republican on the House Labor Committee, offers what at least has the merit of being the frankest explanation.

"I COULD have written the Wood bill myself," says McConnell. "And I'm no lawyer." He adds that the original bill was simply the Taft-Hartley law with the Watch-dog Committee Republican majority's recommended amendments. Writing the Wood bill therefore required only scissors and paste, not genius.

Just before the House Labor Committee was to take final action on labor legislation, Congressman McConnell says he decided not to give up and just let the Democrats report out only Chairman John Lennick's Taft-Hartley repealer.

Looking through all the measures that had been offered, McConnell says he hit on the Wood bill as offering the best substitute for the Lesinski bill. The committee wouldn't give him a chance to submit any amendments to the Lesinski bill. But Congressman Wood was agreeable to having his bill amended.

McConnell called a meeting of Republican House Labor Committee members to work out amendments that would soften up the original Wood bill. They decided to knock out mandatory injunctions and other sections that would make the Taft-Hartley law tougher. At the meeting when this revised bill was offered as a substitute for the Lesinski bill, Wood wasn't even there.

Leahy Recasts Fighting Irish; Moves Jim Martin to Tackle

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

SOUTH BEND—(NEA)—When Frank Leahy became head man at Notre Dame in the spring of 1941, I asked him what was the most important thing in connection with football coaching.

"Casting," replied the biggest winner ever to come out of Winner, S. D. "And making up your mind. There is no little time."

A group of us spent several days on the campus. It was a privilege to watch Leahy work. Everybody busy. No waste of time.

"He knew more about the squad the first day than Elmer Layden knew about it after seven years," remarked Chet Grant, the old back.

Leahy moved Bernie Crimmins from fullback to guard, Wally Ziembra from tackle to center, Dippy Evans from halfback to fullback. Leahy once more is recasting the Irish. Jim Martin, the six-foot, two-inch, 204-pound left end of definite All-America caliber, has worked at both tackles this spring, probably will wind up at right tackle. Fred Wallner, the defensive fullback, is now the right guard. Halfback Jack Landry is now a fullback. Mike Swistowicz, the fullback, is a halfback. The Master is toying with the idea of making Red Sitko, the right halfback who averaged eight yards a carry last autumn, a fullback.

THE reason for switching Martin is obvious. Leahy has a small army of ends, and Martin will make a whale of a tackle. Offensively, the blocking angles of a tackle are a little easier than those of an end, but defensively the end moving to tackle makes a tremendous change. Instead of patrolling a wide area, where he can roam, float and turn plays in, he is between a guard and an end. There is only a small area to cover, but he has to be much more aggressive.

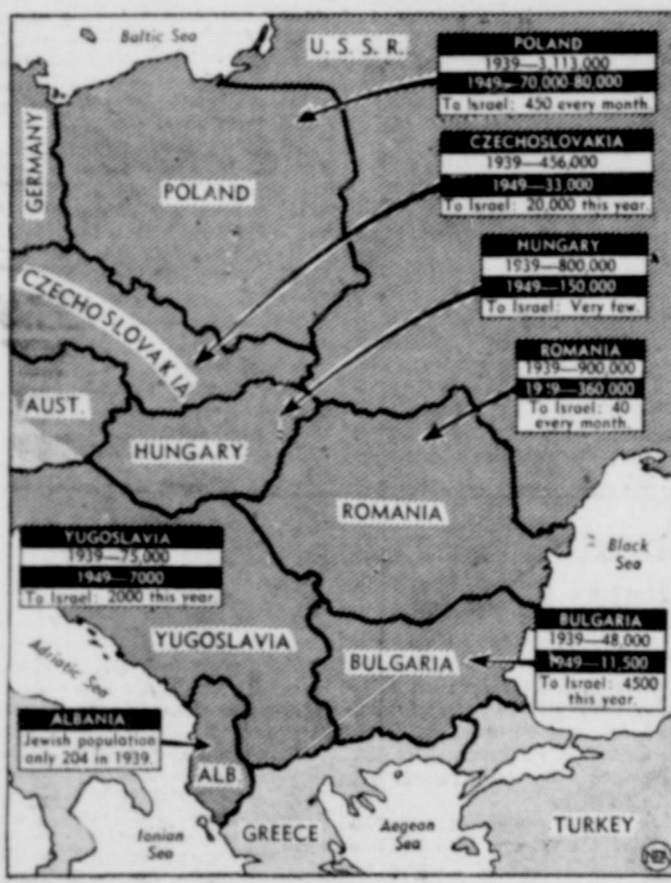

"This will be the worst Notre Dame team in history," repeated Leahy, as someone remarked that he would have to miss the Kentucky Derby because spring practice ended with the playing of the annual spring game on Derby Day.

"We will be lucky if we don't lose seven," he said. Notre Dame has a few good boys, however, and of that you may rest assured. Leon Hart, Bill Wightkin, Doug Waybright, Bill Flynn and Ray Espanan are holdover ends, for example, and a lad named Mutscheller, a six-foot, two-inch sophomore from Pittsburgh, was another reason for making Co-captain Martin a tackle.

It may sound like there are a lot of holes in the Notre Dame line-up, but Frank Leahy no doubt will find a way to plug them.

He always has. And it isn't too much of a task, when all a coach has to do is look down the bench.

Jews 'Vanish' in Eastern Europe

Hitler's gas chambers and the post-war exodus to Israel have stripped eastern Europe of most of its estimated 5,000,000 pre-war Jewish population. By the end of this year less than 600,000 will remain in the "iron curtain" countries. This map gives the country-by-country figures with emigration-to-Israel quotas.

Given Death Guam Slayer

AGANA, Guam, May 16 (UP)—Negro Air Force Pvt. Herman P. Dennis Jr., 29, of Calver, Tex., was convicted and sentenced to death today for the rape-slaving of pretty Ruth Farnsworth.

Pvt. Calvin Dennis, 27, a brother, and Staff Sgt. Robert W. Burns, 32, of Spokane, Wash., will be tried later for participating in the crime.

A 10-officer court martial passed sentence. Its decision was unanimous.

Miss Farnsworth, a Navy civilian employe, was kidnaped from an Agana curio shop last December and dragged into a nearby jungle, where she was raped and beaten into unconsciousness. She died in an Army hospital some 48 hours later.

Sentence against Dennis will not be carried out until an Army board of review studies and President Truman approves it.

Miss Farnsworth, "the prettiest girl on Guam," was a former WAC and native of San Francisco.

She worked in the curio shop evening to earn money for her impending marriage to an American Marine.

She made her choice with a peri little nod. "Mobile for now. I'll begin to pack at once."

She stopped again in a moment, holding some article in her hands, and drew close to him once more. "How different this is from last night. Do you remember? Then it was an arrest. Now it is a honeymoon."

She crept into his arms, looked up at him, her very soul in her eyes. "Do you forgive? Do you take me back?"

"I never met you before last night. There is no past. This is our real wedding day."

"My Lou," she sobbed ecstatically.

"Cobweb, there," she warned, with finger upright to his lips. "My Bonny."

JULIA'S STORY: "Julia" tells Durand her name is really Honey. She traveled the river-bus as a partner of a crooked gambler. On that fateful trip, the real Julia had made friends with her, confided that she was on her way to marry, and she was a man worth knowing.

The tapping had accosted them a third time. "It's Harry, my dear," came through the door. "Am I too early? You know I'll wait all morning for you, if necessary. To wait outside your door for you to come out is the pleasantest thing I know of."

The door slipped back and the colonel found himself confronted by Durand, feet unshod, hair awry, and in nothing but trousers and undershirt.

He gave a strangled exclamation, like a winded grunt. Followed by a convulsive swallowing. "Uh—? Ah—? Uh?"

"Well, sir?" Durand rapped out. "And what brings you to my wife's door, may I ask?"

"I—I—I didn't know!" Worth managed to gasp out asthmatically.

"You do now, sir?" Durand said severely.

He backed a hand to his dragged eyes, to keep out some of the over-acute brilliancy. "Where am I?"

Then he saw her. Her cloverleaf mouth smiled back at him, indirectly, via the surface of the mirror she sat before. "With me," she answered. "Where you belong?"

The stuttering little tap came again. There was something eerily about it that irritated him. He turned his head and frowned over that way. "Who's that?" he asked sternly, but of her, not the door.

"She shaped her mouth to a soundless symphony of laughter; then she stilled it further, though it hadn't come at all, by speaking her fingers over it, fanwise. "A sutor, I'm afraid. The colonel. I know him by his tap."

Durand, his face growing blacker by the minute, was at the bed-side now, struggling into trousers with a sort of coveting nap, to wind up.

"No," he said, "that isn't what I meant. It's that—business on the boat. I told you last night, I went to a private investigator in St.

SCIENTISTS CLAIM APPROACH TO DETECTION AND CURE OF CANCER

Dr. Paul F. Ellis—Some medical scientists believe they are getting close to solving the enigma of cancer. New ways to detect the disease and to treat it are being worked out in the laboratories. To bring the progress in cancer research up to date for newspaper readers, Paul F. Ellis, United Press science writer, has been given access to the staff reports and allied diseases in New York. After several weeks of reporting and editing high technical material, Ellis has written five exclusive, copyrighted dispatches. Much of the material in his series never before has been published in newspapers. All of the dispatches have to be checked for scientific accuracy by the staff of the hospital. The first dispatch follows:

By Paul F. Ellis
United Press Science Writer
(Copyright, 1949 By United Press
NEW YORK, May 16 (UP)—The cancer battle line has been cracked at two points by teams of New York scientists.

Either bulge in the line could develop into a full-fledged breakthrough or prepare the way for ultimate victory against cancer. One bulge is the discovery that persons with cancer excrete a chemical substance rarely found in normal persons. The discovery might well lead to a fool-proof test for cancer—and the scientists stress this—a means to determine a person's susceptibility to cancer.

The second bulge in the battle line is the discovery that a chemical substance—not yet found in nature—destroys, or stops from growing, a certain type of cancer in animals. It has been so successful in animals that it is now being tried in human cases.

The new gains on the cancer battle line have been scored by scientists of the Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research, which is part of the Memorial Hospital center for cancer and allied diseases.

The scientists have cautiously reported their findings at staff meetings and in the technical journals, but in this dispatch and others to follow will be the first report in the lay press.

Cancer scientists, by nature, are conservative and cautious, but the Sloan-Kettering men can not hide their enthusiasm over the new developments attained in their laboratories.

The chemical substance found to be excreted by cancer patients is a hormone, which is now believed to be produced by two glands each about the size of a walnut. They are the adrenals, located atop the kidneys. The substance, a "stranger" in the midst of other substances normally excreted, has been isolated in pure form and its structure has been established. In at least two cases, it showed up more than three years before cancer was detected.

The studies so far show that the adrenals, which are part of the human glandular system, have a suggestive relationship to cancer, but not yet completely proved.

The second chemical substance under investigation and being tried on human cases is also virtually a "stranger" to medical science. Known technically as diaminopurine—pronounced dy-ah-meen-pure-eeen—it has been made in synthetic form. In tests, the substance has been found to reach the nucleus of tissue cells.

From studies so far, this localization does not affect normal cells, but prevent the multiplication of one type of abnormal, or cancer cell. It has been particularly effective against some forms of leukemia in experimental animals—and is now being given its challenging trial in human beings.

Pre-trial hearing is designed to streamline later court trial. Proceedings today were scheduled to be held on objections and exceptions filed by each of the defendants against the state's petition.

Attorney General Price Daniel has alleged that the refiners maintained an artificial uniform tank wagon price on gasoline in Texas.

Defendant companies included the Arkansas Fuel Oil Co., Cities Service Oil Co., Continental Oil Co., Gulf Oil Corp., Hamble Oil and Refining Co., Magnolia Petro-

Distance May Be Capot's Fall

BALTIMORE, Md., May 16 (UP)—The past, present and future of a careening colt named Capot was wrapped up in the matter of distance today. The past was good — second place in the Kentucky Derby. The present was wonderful — a glorious victory in the Preakness, and the future? Well, the future is the Belmont stakes June 11 and that's highly doubtful. Distance appears to be the answer. This Grouse Static whizzer seems pegged for glory at a mile and three-sixteenths and that's all there is to it.

The first inclination of their quick came in the derby itself. Despite the lusty lunge by Ponder after Olympia ran out of gas, Capot still led at the mile and three-sixteenths mark at Churchill Downs. It was only past there in the mile and a quarter Derby that Ponder overhauled Capot to cop the roses.

That was noticed by a lot of racing fans who turned up to plank down their money on Capot in the mile and three-sixteenths Preakness Saturday. Hence that $7 mutual despite all the hoopla hailing Ponder after the Derby.

But the next big race for three-year-olds is the Belmont, and it is a mile and a half. Already the rail birds are shaking their heads wisely and withdrawing support from Capot, because the distance seems too great.

Cats To Play Road Games Only

FORT WORTH, Tex., May 15 (UP)—The Fort Worth Cats of the Texas League today adopted a road-game-only policy after the main section of their home grand stand was destroyed by fire.

The Cats played their regular game with San Antonio — and lost, 2 to 0 — yesterday several hours after fire reduced the main stand to a mass of twisted girders. But Club President John Reeves said tonight's game has been switched to San Antonio, and that he would seek to have all games played on the road until suitable quarters can be found.

Dick Martin Wins Corsicana Tourney

CORSICANA, May 16 (UP)—Dick Martin of Dallas, sunburned but happy, today held the championship cup of the 14th annual Corsicana Country Club Invitation Golf Tournament.

Martin hammered out a 7 and 6 triumph yesterday over Bud McKinney, also of Dallas, in the 36-hole finals.

Gov. Beauford Jester presented Martin with the award in the clubhouse following the play.

It was Martin's magnificent putting that brought him the victory in the top amateur event. Although McKinney played an excellent brand of golf, he could not match Martin on the greens. Martin was 3-under par for the 36 holes he needed to win the Corsicana cup for the second time.

In one block, three occupied homes were leveled. An adjoining home was not touched. It was vacated.

The highwind pushed the door of their home down onto Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Bryant but a flying mattress shielded them from the rafters.

Sam Peditone and his wife, who is expecting a baby, were evicted from their home last night, and left to spend the night with friends. They weathered the storm in their automobile and arrived at the friend's home to find nothing but a pile of wreckage.

The National Guard was called out when looting was reported in the scouraged area.

Texas Rangers arrested one man looting a wrecked home and a woman reported her automobile stolen.

The Red Cross midwestern area headquarters at St. Louis reported that whole blood was being flown by volunteers from the National Red Cross Blood Center at Wichita, Kans. It was being landed at a Pampa, Tex., airfield and taken to Amarillo by Texas Rangers.

The Red Cross said 75 homes were destroyed and 350 damaged by the twister in an area between Van Buren and Folk Streets.

Nice People FORT WORTH, Tex. (UP)—A landlord who rented his home to a couple for two months returned home to find the water on; the air conditioner on; 11 unpaid long distance calls; unpaid utility bills; for second month unpaid; attic trunk ransacked; one closet ransacked. He didn't find; a typewriter, the couple.

With stars of serene and radio end state and federal political leaders on hand for personal appearances, everything was in readiness for the launching of the 1949 savings bond opportunity drive.

Thirty covered wagons, flown in by air lift from Utah, were scheduled to participate in a gala parade through an area where once were the old Oregon and Santa Fe trails. The parade was slated to start at 2 o'clock, signifying achievement of subscribing a bond issue of more than $7,000,000 (M). in Jackson County.

The day's program promised a climax in a variety show tonight in the municipal auditorium with Red Skelton, Elizabeth Scott and Paul Lukas in starring roles. Tickets for the show were issued to those who purchased bonds. From the political world were Gov. Earl Warren of California,

Looks Like A Hood But Isn't

An outstanding example of cost cutting for both manufacturer and consumer is the press work used in the stamping of the rear fenders of the new Hudson and the ease with which these fenders can be repaired or replaced in case they are damaged. In manufacturing, both rear fenders are stamped from one die and, as illustrated, the result of the first "draw", or stamping operation, resembles an automobile hood more than a pair of fenders. A moment after being formed in the monster triple-action press, the double fender stamping is trimmed and cut into right and left fenders on another press in the huge Hudson stamping plant. This method of production saves not only press time but cuts down on die maintenance and helps speed the production of new cars to satisfy vital transportation needs. When assembled to the body, fenders on the new Hudson give the appearance of being a single unit with the body, although they actually are separate from the body and are easily removed or installed.

Grandstand Collapse Injures 20

Victims of a grandstand collapse at the Indianapolis Speedway struggle to extricate themselves from the wreckage moments after an aisleway and box seat section gave way, injuring about 20 persons. The accident occurred as a crowd unofficially estimated at 30,000 watched the qualifying trials for the 500-mile Memorial Day racing classic in Indianapolis, Ind.

Father Admits Shooting Son

HOUSTON, May 16 (UP)—Charles T. Pullen 49, faced a possible murder charge today for the death of his son, Otis, who died here in a hospital Saturday night.

The father admitted shooting his 21-year old son because of "family trouble" of long standing. Pullen told police the son repeatedly threatened Mrs. Pullen, his step mother, and said that the youth had just made another threat when he fired.

Young Pullen was shot sure in the chest with a foreign-made automatic pistol as he stood in a building at the rear of the father's home.

The father and son were both veterans of World War II.

Robbers Who Got $5,000 Sought

EVANT, May 16 (UP)—Officers were still searching today for robbers who took an estimated $5,000 in loot from five business houses and the post office here.

The looters had an easy time of it Saturday night since no night watchman was on duty. They pried open two safes, blew up another, and found a fourth conveniently left open by the owner.

Robbed were the Burney Hardware, The Evant Drug Co., the Broyles-Arnold Grocery, the Elmer Brooks Dry Goods firm and the post office.

The Bell Price warehouse and storage firm was also entered.

The cost of operating farm machinery is more than one-third the expense of operating farms in Texas.

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., May 16 (UP)—Officials of President Truman's home town were set today to add another chapter to Jackson County history.

Part of the day's program was scheduled to be broadcast over a four-network hookup with President Truman, speaking from Washington, making a five-minute speech.

Officials said the covered wagons would be returned to the courthouse square following the parade. There they will form a security circle, a maneuver well known by the '45ers who left Independence to brave Indians in order to make the gold rush.

Jury Sought In Trial Of Two

WICHITA FALLS, May 16 (UP)—A special venire of 250 men reported to 30th District Court today for the murder trial of T. C. Saucier and David Beck, charged with slaying a Wichita Falls State Hospital patient.

The two former attendants at the hospital were indicted for stamping and beating Thomas Houston Gibbons, 47, of Sulphur Springs to death March 4.

Saucier, 33, and Beck, 30, have been imprisoned in the Wichita County jail since March 8.

Bond was denied them by Judge Frank Ikard of the 30th District Court. Beck's bond was later set at $7,400 after a writ of habeas corpus hearing. However, he failed to perfect it.

Gibbons, who had been brought to the state institution by Deputy Sheriff Ebb Wheeler of Hopkins County, was pronounced dead less than 20 minutes after being admitted to the hospital.

He had been placed in Saucier's custody to be taken to a ward for routine bathing.

Wonderful New Comfort

The Beautiful Chrysler | Silver Anniversary Model

New Yorker 4-door sedan with PRESTOMATIC FLUID DRIVE* TRANSMISSION—drive without shifting

New Wider Chair-Height Seats! We don't hold you up like a "jack-knife." You sit comfortably in seats the height of your easy chairs at home. We've more headroom, legroom, and shoulder room for you. And no other car has ever been so completely engineered from the fundamentals up for your comfort, your convenience, your peace of mind.

New Easier Steering! In one of the great advances since the war, we give you new "center control" steering. For the first time, tie rods of equal length give you balanced control. There's no wheel fight. There's greater road stability, easier handling, less road shock. Yes, and greater safety, too—for everything about this car is designed for safer driving.

New Smoother Driving! Chrysler's mighty Spitfire engine now has still higher compression for faster acceleration, smoother response. And along with its better all-around performance goes an amazing new Waterproof Ignition System that's exclusive with Chrysler. You can drive through high water but it won't stall. You get quicker starting, even in dampest weather, smoother idling, longer life.
