FUZZYLESS WUZZY—Complete with war spear and native garb, pastor Robert Salau, 42, son of a reformed Solomon Islands head hunter, arrives in New York with a GI haircut. Before he left his home island, Salau had a fine crop of bushy hair, just like the other fuzzy wuzzies. His only reaction to being told of his 12-week tour of the U. S., to spur missionary contributions for the Adventist Church, was to sneak off and get a haircut. Now his chaperons won't let Salau get near a barber shop because they want him to get back his south sea island glamor.

TEXAS NEWS BRIEFS

By United Press
OLNEY, May 31 (UP)—The Seven County Bankers Association new chairman today was Glen Cottle, cashier of the Morgan National Bank.
Cottle was elected to the post yesterday at the annual convention of bankers from Jones, Knox, Throckmorton, Haskell, Baylor, Shackelford and Young counties. He succeeded G. C. Nixon of Olney.
Moran was awarded the 1950 convention.

ABILENE, May 31 (UP)—The largest graduating class in the history of Hardin-Simmons University—276 strong—was awarded degrees at ceremonies yesterday.
W. J. (Bill) Murray, chairman of the State Railroad Commission told the graduates that the atomic age poses many problems. He said civilization will perish from starvation or self destruction as long as man remains indifferent to his social and spiritual responsibility.

HENDERSON, May 31 (UP)—Funeral services were scheduled today for Judge S. L. Ramsey, 76, former publisher and legislator, who died Sunday after a lengthy illness.
Ramsey served Shelby county in the Texas House of Representatives from 1904 to 1908. He was Rusk County judge from 1928 to 1934.

OLNEY, May 31 (UP)—Bob King shopped today for an anchor to hold down his gadabout auto.

King spotted his car backing out of the driveway at his home yesterday. He phoned police for help, then dashed out to find the car driverless with the motor running.
King had left the car in reverse gear and water from a heavy rain seeped under the hood. A short circuit caused the starter to kick over and the auto backed out on its own hook.

AUSTIN, May 31 (UP)—Texas' natural resources are not unlimited, some 2,000 graduating students of the University of Texas were warned last night by James P. Hart, associate justice of the State Supreme Court.
Judge Hart said in many respects Texas is operating under a colonial economy and much of the profits from natural wealth go out of the state.
He added:
"We must recognize that ...

Houston, Tex., May 31 (UP)—Thieves that took $500 from a grocery store safe over the week end were sought today by city police and sheriff's deputies.
Hyman Jacobson said the money was taken by a burglar "who had the combination." He discovered the loss when he opened the store Monday morning.
There was no evidence of anyone breaking in the store, police said, indicating the robbers may have been locked up in the store at closing time Saturday.

SOMETHING FOR RITA—This negligee, created by Lady Duff for Rita Hayworth, has been presented to the movie star for her trousseau. Designed from crepe-backed satin, the number is trimmed in imported Alencon lace. Here, it is modeled in New York. A matching gown was part of the gift.

FOOT NOTE—Model Patricia Hall was chosen the girl with the most beautiful feet in Hollywood by the chiropodists of the Western Chiropody Congress to commemorate National Foot Health Week. The holder of many other titles, this new maker Patricia near-perfect from head to toes.

National Safety Council Tells How To Act In Swimming Pool

Most of the people in the United States do not know how to swim, and that's the basic reason why drowning becomes one of the most important causes of accidental death in the summer.

National Safety Council figures show that about half the drownings each year take place in only three months—June, July and August. Drownings show the greatest seasonal increase of any summer hazards.

So if you are planning to swim this summer—and it's fine exercise as well as pleasant recreation—pay attention to these suggestions from the Council:
Learn to swim well. Self-taught "dog paddlers" too often think they are swimmers and overestimate their abilities. Know your limits as a swimmer and stay within them. And don't think all water is the same.
Never swim alone. Always have help at hand, preferably a life-guard with the knowledge and equipment for rescue. Don't swim after dark for the same reason. It is too hard for even an expert to assist you in the dark.

It is dangerous to dive into water of undetermined depth. Submerged rocks or logs may knock you out. Sudden plunges into cold water should be avoided. Go in gradually, and remember that you tire faster in cold water. Don't plunge into water when you are overheated, and wait at least an hour after eating to swim.

Never jokingly call for help, and don't splash or annoy others who are timid in the water. Horseplay and pranks cause many water accidents each year.

Even strong swimmers are subject to cramps and bad guesses on their endurance. If you want to swim for any distance, have someone follow you in a boat.
Don't let children take beach balls, inflated animals or light rubber rafts in the water. A gust of wind often blows them beyond reach, and in trying to retrieve them, a child may get beyond his depth. This is a point adults should keep in mind, too.

Waltz into Darkness

BY WILLIAM IRISH

THE STORY: Several days pass and nothing happens, there are no more letters. Then on the fifth day, Bonny dresses carefully to go out. She is gone until after dark and returns home drunk. Herod knows that the sender of the mysterious letter addressed to "Miss Mabel Greene" is now right here in town.

XXXVI

HE made no reference the following day to her liquored outing, much less the greater transgression that it had encased. He waited to see if she would attempt to repeat it (in his mind some half-formed intent of following her and killing the man when he found him), but she did not. If a succeeding appointment had been made, it was not for that next day.

She did not go out of the house that day, nor the day after that. Again he waited, again he held his breath, but she remained dutifully at hand. The appointment, if there was to be another, still hung fire.

Nor the next, either. The cleaning woman came, and coming down the stairs, he caught sight of them standing close together in the hall, as if they had been secretly conferring together. He thought he saw Bonny hastily fumble with her bodice, as if concealing something she had just received.

There are other ways of communicating than by the rendezvous direct, he reminded himself. Perhaps the appointment I have been dreading so has already been kept, right before my eyes, on a mere scrap of paper.

Toward the latter part of their evening meal, that same day, she became noticeably pensive. The go-between of treachery had gone and they were alone.

"You simply send the money to New Orleans, to the insurance company. They credit the payments against the policy."

"And then the policy comes into force again?"

"The policy comes into force again," he said somewhat testily, annoyed by her persistence in clinging to the subject.

He had divined, of course, what her sudden interest was. She was entertaining a vague hope that they could borrow against it in some way, obtain money by that means.

"Could I see it?" she coaxed.

"Right now? It's upstairs, somewhere, among my old papers. But it's of no value, I warn you; the payments have not been maintained."

She did not press him further. She sat there meditatively fingering the diamond on her finger, shifting it a little bit this way, a little bit that, so that it gave off sparks of brilliance in the lamplight.

SHE did not ask him for it now about it again, but remembering that she had, he set about looking for it on his own account. This was not immediately, but some two or three days later.

He couldn't find it. He looked where he'd thought he had it first, and it wasn't there. Then he looked elsewhere, nor could he find it in any of the other places he looked, either.

It must have been lost, during their many hurried moves from place to place, in the course of hasty packing and unpacking. Or else it would perhaps yet turn up, in some unlikely place he had not yet thought of looking for it.

He desisted finally, with no great concern; with, if anything, a mental shrug. Since it was worthless and could not have been borrowed against (which he thought had been the motive behind her asking about it), there was no great loss, in any case.

He did not even mention to her that he could not locate it. There was no reason for, for she, too, seemed to have forgotten her earlier interest in it, as she sat here across the table from him, idly stroking and contemplating her ringless hands.

Trio Of Reforms On Education To Get Attention

AUSTIN, Tex., May 31 (UP)—House conferees were named today to committees working out details of three of the four "must" spending bills, the major barrier toward final adjournment of the 51st session.

Legislators, meanwhile, prepared to take final action on the last of a trio of battle-worn Gilmmer-Aikin education reform bills. House Speaker Durwood Manford appointed members to conference committees on major appropriations for higher education institutions, the judiciary system and state departments covering the coming biennium.

Rep. Ray Kirkpatrick of Trenton, House Appropriations committee chairman, headed each of the five-member committees from the lower chamber.

Named with him on the higher education committee were Reps. Preston Smith of Lubbock, William S. Jameson of El Paso, Hal Jackson of Denton, and M. B. Ethredge, Jr., of Huntsville.

Additional members of the departmental committee were Reps. C. S. McClellan of Eagle Lake, Albert M. Jones of Valley Mills, Vernon McDaniel of Wichita Falls and C. C. Gardner of Gainesville.

And representing the lower chamber on the judiciary committee, besides Kirkpatrick, will be Louie D. Godard of Texas City, William A. Miller of Houston, Fred Miesman of Yoakum and James L. Norton of Nacogdoches.

AUSTIN, Tex., May 31 (UP)—A resolution calling for final adjournment of the 51st Legislature, on June 17 was readied for introduction today by Rep. Jack Ridgeway of San Antonio.

The three-line resolution bore the signatures of 94 House members.

Ridgeway said he was assured by Speaker Durwood Manford that he would be recognized this afternoon to offer his resolution to the lower chamber.

New Gas Field For East Texas Is Indicated

NACOGDOCHES, Tex., May 31 (UP)—A continued strong flow of commercial distillate from an Humble Oil and Refining Co. wildcat strengthened possibility of a new East Texas gas field in Nacogdoches County today. The well, Humble's Thurman Crawford No. 1, came in Sunday night. In recent weeks, speculation resulted in the leasing of mineral rights to approximately one-third of Nacogdoches County.

The well, situated 14 miles northwest of here near the Trawick community, gave up 11,700,000 cubic feet of vaporized distillate on a one-half inch choke, and under 1800 pounds of pressure.

Quality of the distillate was still unknown. The first oil in Texas was found in Nacogdoches county in the 1800s.

Spokesmen for Humble said neither well would be set down in the same area within two months.

Damage Suit Reopened Today

GALVESTON, Tex., May 31—(UP)—The $200,000,000 (M) Texas City damage suit against the U. S. government opened here today for a two-week stand, highlighted by the possible presentation of secret Federal Bureau of Investigation reports on the April, 1947, disaster.

The report, demanded by Federal Judge T. M. Kennerly, was expected to be presented by Galen Willis, agent in charge of the FBI Houston office.

Nature of the report was not known, but the FBI reportedly has made a lengthy study of ammonium nitrate fertilizer, allegedly the material that ignited aboard the French Ship Grand Camp and set off the chain blasts that killed 576 persons.

Earlier, during a five-week court session in Houston, Willis declined to produce the report without approval of the U. S. Attorney General.

BILL HOLLAND BACK TO ROLLER SKATES AFTER WINNING RACE

INDIANAPOLIS, May 31 (UP)—Back to the placid whirl of roller skates went party Bill Holland today, but with the roar of the Indianapolis '500' in his ears, the sight of the checkered victory flag in his mind and a $34,600 bundle of greenbacks in his pocket.

The 41-year-old Holland who operates a roller skating rink for his bread and butter, won the automobile racing classic yesterday with a record average of 121.327 miles per hour.

Twice before, in 1947 and last year, he had to be content with running honors behind mustache-loed Mauri Rose, who had to quit yesterday 20 miles from the finish while he was in second place. Both drove the famed Blue Crown cars built by West Coast Master Mechanic Lou Moore. For winning, Holland will cash in $34,600 in speedway and lap prizes. Accessory awards will boost his earnings for the four-hour grind to nearly $50,000.

Johnny Parsons, novice driver from Van Nuys, Cal., was second in a Kurtis-Kraft, and George Connor, Los Angeles, the third member of the Moore team, was third.

An even dozen cars of the 32 starters finished the race or were flagged down. Myron Fohr, Milwaukee, Wis., finished fourth, chased by Cherokee Indian Joie Chitwood, Reading, Pa.; Jimmy Jackson, Desert Hot Springs, Cal.; Johnny Mantz, Long Beach, Cal., and Paul Russo, Hammond, Ind.

Walt Brown, Massepeque, N. Y., driving relief for Emil Andres, Blue Island, Ill., and Norm Houder, Indianapolis, were flagged off the track.

While the Blue Crown lived up to expectation, disappointment shrouded the Novis driven by Duke Nalon and Rex Mays. Nalon, who captured the pole position, led from the start. Until his 24th lap when his racer hit Several times his pit crew motioned him to "come in" for a tire change and refueling, but he refused until he had piled up a lead of nearly 2-1/2 minutes. He still was ahead by nearly one minute when he pulled out again.

B-36 Program Investigation Is Authorized

WASHINGTON, May 31 (UP)—The House Armed Services Committee today authorized a "searching investigation" of the Air Force's B-36 bomber program.

The committee asked the House for subpoena powers and $5,000 to carry out the investigation.

Chairman Carl Vinson, D., Ga., said the inquiry will cover not only the procurement and performance of the controversial six-engine bomber, but also will go into the whole Air Force concept of strategic bombing.

"We will let the chips fall where they will," Vinson said. "This will be no whitewash investigation. We will find guilty anyone who ought to be found guilty. We will exonerate anyone who has been wrongfully charged."

The committee went into action as result of charges of irregularities in the purchase of the B-36. The plane is manufactured by Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corporation, of which Defense Secretary Louis Johnson formerly was a director.

Rep. James E. Van Zandt, R., Pa., a member of the committee and a naval reserve officer, told the House last week that "ugly rumors" about the B-36 involved not only Johnson, but Air Force Secretary W. Stuart Symington and Floyd Odium, who controls Consolidated Vultee.

... more and more land titles become involved in an endless chain of normal, every-day events precipitated by marriage, divorce, lunacy, birth, death and other natural and unnatural happenings within the family circle. Thanks to time, it cures some titles temporarily, but wrecks and changes the status of many others. Court action may "quiet" titles for the moment, but not for long. The abstract is your safeguard—keep it up to date.

Drilling Started Today On Well At The Eastland Airport Property

Drilling started this morning by the Sorrels Oil Company of Fort Worth on a wildcat to test the Ellenberger lime on the Eastland Airport property, located about one mile north of the city. The location is owned jointly by the City of Eastland and C. L. Garrett.

A big rotary jackknife is being used in the operation, with the contract calling for the drillers to go down at least 4,100 feet. A spokesman stated the geologist's report was exceptionally good.

Another wildcat, being drilled two and one-half miles northwest of Eastland, was started Friday on the Courtney place and was down 1,302 feet this morning. W. W. Bradley is the driller.

According to biochemists, water is a food, even though it does not supply energy as do carbohydrates, fats and proteins.

Perry said his group hired a nine-foot dinghy at Travemunde in the British zone Saturday.

"The weather was a little windy but not dangerous in any way. The ladies were dressed in slacks and blouses. I wore slacks and a polo shirt—no shoes, since we intended to return in a few hours.

"Outside Luebeck we faced rough winds and quite choppy water but no one was nervous. I noticed that our dinghy took some water and was rapidly drifting towards the south side of the bay.

Perry said the strong wind forced him to drop the sail and he decided to return the dinghy back to wards Travemunde. That was when Miss Davis' sweater was hoisted as a distress signal.
