

Ranger is the center of the agricultural and livestock industries of the area with relative industries bringing much business to the town. It is also the home of Ranger Junior College, one of the best public junior colleges in the state.

Truman Warns Of Communism Threat

Fire Chief Endorses Clean-Up

Fire Chief Charlie Isbell, assistant general chairman of the current clean-up campaign in Ranger, stated today that he has an interest other than the health angle in the drive.

He pointed out that the cleaner a town the less likely it is to be tormented with fires. He stated that for several weeks he has been observing the cleaning going on in various sections of the town with much satisfaction.

Chief Isbell stated that the cutting of weeds, burning of trash and removal of rubbish is not only a good start on the current campaign but is a fire prevention measure.

In a statement issued today the chief said, "Since the first of this year the fire department has had a minimum of fire alarms, to be exact, only 14 alarms.

The trucks have answered three house fire alarms, one tailor shop alarm, two automobile fires, three electric wiring fires, three grass fires and an alarm on one chicken house. Total loss in all of these was $4,483.75.

To make a comparison, in the months of June, July and August last year, the department answered 59 alarms, 49 of them grass fires."

Chief Isbell urged that the people of the town cooperate in the current campaign not only as a health measure but as a fire prevention and asked that every person in town accept the responsibility of cutting all weeds that are on or adjacent to their property. He urged that the weed be burned under careful supervision or hauled off along with other trash.

"The accumulation of trash creates a fire hazard no matter where it is," the chief said. "The recent rains have not only helped the weeds grow but have created excellent breeding places for disease carrying insects such as mosquitoes and flies," he added.

Concluding his appeal, Chief Isbell said, "Let's all work together and make our town the cleanest in the country, not only for visitors to view but for our own pride and protection."

Caps' Studio Baby Contest Winners

Mary Carolynn Eaton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Eaton, and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Johnson of Ranger, was the first prize winner in the contestants in the age group from one month to one year old. Mary Carolynn is five months old. Her mother is the former Frances Johnson. As a prize for winning first place the Eatons were given a tinted picture of their daughter.

Richard Cozby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie R. Cozby, and Ranger's little man about town, was the first prize winner in the one to six year old boys' division of the contest. As winner he was presented a hand tinted picture of himself.

Three-year old Peggy Joyce Neeley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Neeley was the first prize winner for girls in the one to six year age bracket. Peggy Joyce is three year old. She also received a tinted picture of herself.

SAYS U. S. ONLY MIDWAY IN PROGRAM FOR PEACE

BL MERRIMAN SMITH
 United Press White House Correspondent

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., June 11.—(UP)—President Truman warned today that the world "is still threatened" by Communism despite progress made by the United States toward peace and freedom.

The President said in a major foreign policy address that this country is only "midway" in carrying out its policy of building world peace.

Therefore, he strongly opposes current efforts in the Senate to slash funds for the second year of the European Recovery Program. This "would be the worst kind of false economy," he said.

"It would cancel the hopes and the plans of the western European nations," the president said at ceremonies dedicating a World War Memorial Park. "It would be a great gain for Communism. I am confident we shall not make this mistake."

In his address, the President outlined a three-point "last-impulse" program. Its prime condition, he said, is a "strong and prosperous" United States. This must be supported, he added, by similar conditions in other free nations, and creation of machinery "capable of adjusting international differences and maintaining peace."

He said America's efforts for peace are succeeding "in the face of troubled conditions and against Communist pressures." While these efforts have "turned the tide in favor of freedom and peace," he warned that the job is not done.

"We are only midway in carrying out our policy," Mr. Truman stated. "We have a long way to go before we can make a free world secure against the social and political evils on which Communism thrives. The cause of peace and freedom is still threatened."

The President came here late yesterday to attend the dedication ceremonies and to meet again with his World War I buddies of the 35th Division. He will return to Washington tonight.

He said the world's hopes for economic revival hinge on American prosperity since our economy "is the center of a world economic difficulty in this country, he said, would plunge other nations "into chaos and despair."

Then the President attacked Communism again in a manner reminiscent of his inauguration day address when he described Communism as a "false philosophy" rewarded only by deceit, mockery, poverty and tyranny.

"It is a prime belief of the Communist philosophy that our kind of economy is doomed to failure," Mr. Truman noted today. "The Communists predict that our prosperity will collapse—bringing the rest of the free world down with it. But they are wrong—as wrong as they can be."

He pointed out that the United States has assumed financial burdens without parallel in history in its efforts to establish world peace. But he said that goal "is worth the price" despite the "mistakes—similar to those that 'misted us in the 1920's'—that are tiring of the effort."

"We must not falter now," the President asserted.

"We must not defeat our own efforts by doing only half the job that lies before us."

Four Killed In Car Accident Near Merkel

MERKEL, Tex., June 11 (UP)—Four persons were killed in a collision which injured four other persons early today on Highway 80 east of here.

Killed instantly in the highway accident were constable O. L. Bishop of Trent, 59; his son, Oscar Sherrill Bishop of Midland, 35; and Leon Chapman of Grand Falls, Mrs. O. L. Bishop, 55, died three hours later in a Merkle hospital.

State Highway Patrolman G. G. Fitzhugh said the car driven by young Bishop hit a recess in the pavement when flames surrounding a road paving job were washed out by rain.

Fitzhugh said the Bishop car skidded from the shoulder of the highway across the road into the path of an oncoming station wagon driven by Robert Hugh Long of Hobbs, N. M., who was only slightly injured.

Shapman was riding in the station wagon.

Others in the Bishop car were Mrs. Oscar Sherrill Bishop, who suffered a fractured skull; Mrs. Elsie Bolin of Corpus Christi, who received a fractured pelvis, and her daughter, Tena Bolin, not seriously hurt.

Chapman was a brother-in-law of Mrs. James King of Ranger. Mrs. King left for Grand Falls early Saturday morning after learning of the tragedy.

Site For Hiway 80 Sign Secured

At a meeting of the Highway 80 Boosters Association held at the Gholson Hotel Friday night at 8 o'clock, J. E. Meroney, president, stated that the site for the traffic directing sign east of Weatherford has been selected and at least on it has been secured.

The sign will be located 2.9 miles from the overpass in the east edge of Weatherford.

Meroney stated that the contract for the sign will require ten signatures of members of the boosters association and that just as soon as these have been secured the sign will be erected.

Other plans for publicizing Highway 80 as the best route to the west coast were discussed at the meeting Friday night.

Word has been received that Jerry Belknap, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Belknap, who underwent surgery at the Baylor Hospital in Dallas Thursday, is recovering satisfactorily.

Jerry underwent an operation on his head which was necessitated by an injury received in an accident in Ranger several weeks ago. He sustained a very severe head injury when struck by an automobile while attempting to cross Eastland hill to his home after alighting from a school bus.

Members of the family in Dallas with Jerry reported that the attending surgeon is very optimistic over the outcome of the operation.

Jury Recesses After 1 Man Is Indicted

The Eastland County grand jury recessed Thursday night, after being in session one day, returning an indictment against W. T. Caldwell for burglary and theft, it was announced by Sheriff's office Saturday morning.

The indictment against Caldwell was in connection with the recent burglary of a Cisco residence. He is being held in custody in county jail.

The grand jury will reconvene Thursday morning, June 16.

New $21,000 Bridge Slated On Carbon Road

The State Highway Department has approved an expenditure of approximately $21,000 for the construction of a new bridge and approaches on State Highway 6, between Eastland and Carbon, County Judge Lewis Crossley stated.

The new bridge will replace an antiquated one-way structure, just south of Eastland on Highway 6.

Construction is expected to start in the near future.

Well... I Dunno, But...

Ranger chickens are something special, we guess, judging from an egg Anita Gomez brought to our office Saturday morning. The egg which was a huge thing (we didn't have a tape to measure it), has a perfectly formed normal size, hard shelled egg inside it.

And that ain't no "fish story" 'cause we've got the egg right here in our office.

The Jaycee Wooden nickels are "in" around and lots of people are having fun with them.

This week a traveling party stopped at Deane Crawley's filling Station. They were from Ohio and West Virginia and were en route to Sweetwater to visit Mrs. Charley Dyer, a former resident of Ranger.

When they learned about the wooden nickels, they carried off pockets full of 'em.

They also promised to return for the rodeo and homecoming.

Incidentally speaking, the Jaycees are forking up wooden nickels to be included in each homecoming invitation sent out by the Chamber of Commerce.

We guess June is doin' all right. Last night we had .72 of an inch of rain which makes 1.48 inches within a week and brings to total for this year to 19.58 inches or within 7.42 inches of the total for last year.

At that rate we'll surpass the normal fall of 27 inches for the year by better than 12 inches.

Yep, you never can tell about Texas weather.

Did you know that a survey by Ranger Chamber of Commerce made June 10, 1949 reveals that there are 86 businesses between the 12-Bar Ranch and Hill Top Service Station on Highway 80 through Ranger.

The survey also reveals that there are 314 persons dependent on these businesses. These include proprietors, employees and the number in the families of proprietors and employees.

These businesses are distributed as follows:

- Cafes 14; Tourists Courts 11;
- Grocery Stores 6; Service Stations 19; Fruit Stands 1; Novelty Shops 1; Garages 4; Mattress Factories 1; Tire Shops 2; Welding Shops 2; Carpenter Shops 1; Trailer Courts 2.

Five of the service stations remain open 24 hours a day, three give 24 hour service and the garage has day and night service.

That's a payroll that oughta be worth fighting for and one that Ranger is gonna have to fight for by backing the campaign to keep the cars rolling over Highway 80 through Ranger.

Sherman Boy Killed

SHERMAN, June 11 (UP)—Sonny Harlow, 24-year-old Denison resident, was killed early today and a companion was critically injured when his car over turned on a curve three miles north of here.

Virginia Langford of Denison received critical injuries in the highway accident.

Russians Offer Rail Workers Concessions

BERLIN, June 11 (UP)—Soviet authorities today offered Berlin railway workers concessions to end their 22-day strike, and Western officials urged the strikers to accept the Russian proposal.

The Russians promised the strikers 60 per cent of their pay in West marks and a guarantee of no reprisals for the walkout which had the effect of renewing the Berlin blockade shortly after it was lifted.

Brig. Gen. Frank Howley, American commandant here, disclosed the Russian offer. He told the union in a letter accompanying the overtures:

"You are emphatically asked to give this agreement your support and back it up. Under the circumstances it would be desirable to put this agreement into effect as soon as possible."

The Soviet offer was relayed to the strikers only a few hours before a meeting of the transport experts of the four occupation powers was scheduled to open. The meeting was called as a result of messages from the foreign ministers in Paris to seek an agreement on the Berlin transport situation by Monday.

Union leaders said their managing board would meet tomorrow to consider the Soviet proposals. They indicated a likelihood of acceptance.

Says Clean-Up Must Precede DDT Spraying

AUSTIN, Tex., June 11 (UP)—Texas state health officer said today that an unplanned fly spraying program, is like using "toilet water to overcome B. O."

"It doesn't," he said get at the root of the trouble.

Dr. George W. Cox said his State Health Department endorses a fly spraying program, provided it includes a general clean-up program carried out during the entire year.

"For example," he said spray a garbage heap that not only invites but actually breeds flies when it should have been removed. Why spray the city dump," he asked, "when it really should have been covered?"

"I fear," he added, "the unplanned spraying program is similar to the application of perfume or toilet water to overcome B. O. or the application of powder to cover dirt."

In a well-planned program, the health officer said, all places where flies gather, such as dumps, rubbish piles and decaying vegetation should be cleaned up by hauling away and burying.

Head-on Collision Kills 1, Hurts 3

MINERAL WELLS, Tex. June 11 (UP)—Mrs. Will E. Smith of Oklahoma City was killed instantly early today in a head-on collision of two cars between Mineral Wells and Perrin.

Her husband was seriously injured and was in Nazareth Hospital here.

The occupants of the other car, Major and Mrs. John C. Weiser of Fort Sam Houston, also were injured. Major Weiser was in a serious condition at Evans Clinic here. The Weisers were on vacation enroute to Chicago when the accident occurred.

Methodists Close Houston Meeting

HOUSTON, "ex., June 11 (UP)—The 1949 Texas Methodist Conference ended here yesterday with changes and new conference appointments being read by Bishop A. Frank Smith.

Major changes included the announced retirement of Dr. Robert E. Goodrich, superintendent of the Tyler District, and Dr. S. Stephen McKenney, superintendent of the Longview District.

In earlier business meetings, some 1,000 ministers and lay members of the church approved an annual budget of $262,000 for the coming year, and heard a report that donations throughout the state the past year amounted to more than $6,500,000 (M), a new high.

The conference also voted a salary boost for district superintendents, from $6,000 to $6,500 annually; set a new membership goal of 8,885 for the coming year; elected Pat Thompson of Bay City to his fifth term as lay leader of the church, and appointed the Rev. A. C. Bell, former Carthage, Tex., pastor, executive secretary of the Board of Evangelism.

A membership report showed that the conference gained 4649 members during the past year, for a total membership of 162,332.

Rayburn Defends Congress' Record

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 11.—(UP)—House Speaker Sam Rayburn was confident today that the 81st Congress would complete a "very imposing program" before adjourning in July or August.

Rayburn, who addressed 4,000 Oklahoma Democrats at the annual Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner last night, said the present Congress was "as intelligent and patriotic as any which ever served."

He said that Thomas Jefferson founded what is now the Democratic Party, and that Alexander Hamilton started "what is left of the GOP."

The difference between the two major parties, said Rayburn, is the difference between Jefferson and Hamilton.

"Jefferson thought the people were wise enough to govern themselves," he said. "The Hamilton theory for prosperity was 'make the rich very rich and let the rich 'trickle down'."

"I've watched a lot of Republican administrations but none of the riches ever trickled down to me," he quipped.

Rayburn predicted the Democratic contingent would be larger in the 82nd Congress.

Stephenville Men Still Missing

PRESCOTT, Ark., June 11.—(UP)—Three Army planes and some 30 civilian planes were still searching an area from Hot Springs, Ark., to Dallas today for two Texas flyers missing since May 29.

A $1,000 reward was posted yesterday for information leading to the whereabouts of the plane which disappeared on a flight from Hot Springs to Stephenville, Tex. Aboard the maroon and gray cabin plane were T. C. Elkins, prominent Stephenville industrialist, and his pilot, Ben Ferguson, also of Stephenville.

Anyone with information pertaining to the plane was requested by the missing men's relatives to call Gene Elkins at the Broadway Hotel here, headquarters for the search. The reward for a clue on the missing pair was offered by citizens of Stephenville and Merkel, Texas.

Leonard Shaw Shot By Man He Was Arresting

LEONARD SHAW OF THE BRECKENRIDGE police force, and formerly employed by the Ranger Fire Department, was seriously wounded early Saturday when shot through the chest by a man he was attempting to arrest.

According to reports, Shaw and Constable Fritz Rudder came upon Lewis Andrews in the railway yard and attempted to arrest him for disturbing the peace. Shaw took hold of Andrews' arm and as he did so, Andrews pulled out his gun and shot Shaw. Shaw fell to the ground and Andrews started to run away. Rudder shot at him and missed but a second shot hit him in the leg, felling him.

Other officers arrived about this time and Andrews threw down his gun and put up his hands. Andrews is being held in the Breckenridge jail after being treated for the slight wound in the leg.

Chief W. G. Pounds reported this morning that he understood Shaw to be in a serious condition.

Range Feeds Reported Good

AUSTIN, Tex. June 11 (UP)—Range feeds were plentiful over the entire state at the end of last month, but summer grasses were slow starting because of a decrease in ground moisture, the United States Department of Agriculture reported today.

General rains were needed, the USDA report said, over the eastern and southern two thirds of the state to assure a green summer feed supply.

Cattle and ewes made rapid gains in May on an abundant spring feed supply.

The USDA reported the April livestock slaughter in Texas at a 50,945,000 pound total, a 20 per cent drop from the previous month and 33 per cent less than the same period a year ago.

The decreases were higher than for the nation as a whole, which was only 11 per cent down from March and 1 per cent less than April of last year.

COLO. CAMPUS KILLER SOUGHT AFTER SLAYING

BOULDER, Colo., June 11 (UP)

A maniacal "campus killer" was on the loose today and authorities feared he might strike again at any time.

The unknown slayer bluegeoned Roy G. Spore, Jr., 19, to death Thursday night as his coed-companion, Doris Ann Weaver, 18, screamed and fled for help.

Spore, an honor sophomore engineering student, was unable to resist his assailant because of a plaster cast that covered his left leg to the hip.

Authorities said they had no motive and few clues in the murder which occurred beside a rain-choked brook less than 100 yards from a women's dormitory at the University of Colorado.

Miss Weaver told officials that she and Spore were sitting in a secluded nook when someone struck her three times on the head from behind.

★ WEEKLY BIBLE COMMENT

Christ Came to World to Save Sinners

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

"THIS is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptance," wrote Paul to Timothy (1 Timothy 1:15). "that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am chief."

When Paul called himself the chief of sinners he was probably remembering his days as a persecutor, when he had stood by and held the garments of those who stoned Stephen to death. He remembered, too, how he had gone from that tragic scene on his way to Damascus, breathing out threatening and slaughter against those of the new-found faith, of which he himself was soon to become the chief disciple.

No such dark blot of violence and persecuting zeal may be upon you and me. We can claim no distinction in our sin, but if we say we have no sin, as John reminds us (1 John 1:8), we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. So Jesus came into the world to save us.

It was in accomplishing our salvation that Jesus went the way of death and the cross. As Paul states it (Romans 5:8), "God commanded His love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners Christ died for us."

In what spirit, then, do we approach those last sad scenes in the life of our Lord, His death and burial? Are they to us only tragic events in a far-off past, evoking a measure of sympathy, and of compassionate interest as we read of the women at the tomb, of the failure and repentance of Peter, of the devotion of Joseph of Arimathea?

All that is well, but it is not enough. Are we mere observers, or are we participants? A Negro spiritual asks pointedly and plaintively, "Were you there when they crucified my Lord? Were you there when they nailed Him to the tree?" And there is more to the plaintive melody in those challenging questions.

We know how Paul would have answered those questions. The experiences of Jesus as He moved toward Calvary, was crucified, and buried, and rose again, were so real to the Apostle that he wrote: "I am crucified with Christ; nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me, and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me." (Galatians 2:20.)

That is the perfection of faith and of Christian experience, to which, possibly, few of us attain. We are so content to follow the Master afar off, and too often we lack the courage of the faith that we profess. But the experience of Paul is the true and possible experience of every Christian who would receive all the power and blessing that the Master came to bestow.

Let us pray for faith, and vision, and courage that we may apprehend (again to quote Paul's language) all for which Christ has apprehended us. And "apprehend" is a long word that means "to take hold." Does not the New Testament admonish us to "lay hold on eternal life?" (1 Timothy 6:12.)

Leather Lightweights . . . Calf, Patent Style Compact Carry-Alls

Lightweight leather makes compact summer bags. A patent envelope (left) is styled with outside pocket to accommodate sun-glasses. Soft calf (right) has double basket handles for easy carrying.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Leather handbags can match weight-lifting with summer carry-alls of straw and fabric.

The woman who elects leather for her standby bag can pick one of patent as flat as an envelope, one of calf which has also been freed of burdensome metal and wood.

Soft, lightweight calf makes compact bags which designer Richard Koret has given taut, firm cut-outs without the aid of wooden underpinnings. A big help in carrying the load which a woman will add to this bag is a double basket-handle. As flat and almost as weightless as an envelope are the patent leather bags styled for easy carrying and sized to go inside a pocket. Such bags, which will take without a bulge all of the effects a woman needs in transit, are called "plus-bags" because of the extra outside pocket, equipped for carrying sun-glasses.

Spore's body was found 70 yards downstream 14 hours later by Boulder County Probation Officer L. E. Burdick.

"His head was split as though he was hit with a hatchet," Burdick said.

Spore's skull was fractured "four to six" times but an autopsy showed he died by drowning.

The killing happened seven months to the day after Theresa Foster, 18, a student from Greeley, Colo., was picked up in downtown Boulder, driven into the country, raped and slain. Her body was found in Coal Creek Canyon two days later.

Joe Sam Walker, 32, a Boulder metalworker, was convicted of second degree murder for her death.

But he contended that a "chubby blond youth" actually killed Miss Foster after knocking him out in a fight. Walker said he became panic-stricken and tossed the girl's beaten, half nude body in the creek.

Waltz into Darkness

BY WILLIAM IRISH

XLI

SUDDENLY she had turned, thrown herself toward him. He hadn't known the human form could move so quickly. But she was so deft, she was so small. Her hand flashed out, a white missile before his face. The tumbler was gone from his grasp. Glass rattled on the floor somewhere outside beyond his ken.

Her face seemed to melt into shapeless weeping lines, like a face seen through rain running down a pane. She caught him to her convulsively, crushing his face against her soft breast. He hadn't known her embrace could hold that much strength. She'd never loved him enough to exert it to the full before.

"Oh, merciful God," she cried out wildly. "Look down and forgive me! Stop this terrible thing, turn it back, undo it! Lou, my Lou! Only now I see it! Oh, my eyes are open, open now at last! What have I done?"

Her sobbing had the wild, panting turbulence of a child's, strangling her words, rendering her almost incoherent.

"I must have been mad— Out of my mind— How could I have listened to such a scheme? But whose I was with him, I saw only him, never you— He brought out that old bad self in me— He made wrong things seem right, or just something to snicker at—"

Her fingers, pleading, traced the outlines of his face: trembling, felt of his lips, of his lidded eyes, as if seeking to restore them to what they had been.

Then suddenly her weeping stopped.

me," she said through clenched teeth. "I'll not give you up. Not for anyone. It's not too late, it's not! I'm going to get you out of here, where you'll be safe— Hurry, get your things. We'll go together. I have the strength for the two of us. You're going to live. Do you hear me, Lou? You're going to live—yet."

She sidled up beside the window, creeping along the wall until she had gained an outer edge of it; then peered narrowly out, using the slit between curtain edge and wall.

"What is it?" he whispered. "Who's out there?"

She didn't answer. Suddenly she drew her head back sharply, as if fearful she had been detected just then from the outside.

"Shall I put out the lamp?" he asked.

"No!" She motioned to him hurriedly. "For heaven's sake, not I want to have done that—it'll be taken for a signal that—it's over. Our only chance is to go now, and leave it still on, as if—as if we were here yet."

She came running back to him, yet not forgetting even as she did so to throw still another backward glance of dread at the window; she settled down beside him with a billowing-out of her dress, took hold of his untended foot, raised it, while he still strove valiantly with the first.

"Quickly, your other shoe! There, that's all—No time for more."

She helped him quit his sitting position on the edge of the bed, held him upright on his feet beside her.

"Lean on me, I'll help you. There! There! Move your feet, that's it! Oh, Lou, try!"

SHE struggled heroically with him, as though she were the spirit of life itself, contesting with the spirit of death that sought to possess him. Now holding him back when he inclined too far forward, now drawing him on when he swayed too far backward. Out the room door and along the upper hall. Down the stairs cautiously, step by mincing step, she maintaining precarious balance for two—

As they neared the bottom of the endless staircase, seven within one last step of it, she suddenly stopped, frozen. And in the silence, over the rise and fall of their two breaths, they both heard it.

There was a low, urgent tapping going on against the front door. Very stealthily it was, very secretive. Meant only to be caught by a single pair of ears, no other. A pair forewarned to expect it, to listen for it. Two fingers at the most, perhaps only one, kept striking at the woodwork.

A peculiar whistle sounded with it. Also modulated very low, very guardedly. Little more than a stirring of the breath against a wavering upper lip. Plaintive, melancholy, like the sound of a baby owl. Or a lost wisp of night wind trying to find its way in.

It was intermittent. It waited. Then sounded again. Waited. Sounded again.

"Sit, don't make any noise!" He could feel her arms tighten protectively about him. As if instinctively seeking to safeguard him against something. Something that she understood, knew the meaning of, he didn't. "The back way," she breathed. "We'll have to go out by there— Hold your breath, love. For the love of heaven, don't make a sound or—we'll both be dead in here where we stand."

Cautiously, straining against one another, as much now to insure their mutual silence as before now it had been to maintain his uprightness, they quitted the stairs, crept rearward on the lower floor, into the dining room, then on into the unlighted kitchen beyond.

He heard a bolt scrape softly back beneath her diligently groping fingers. Then a door moved inward, and the coolness of escape was grateful in their faces.

To Be Concluded!

BUTCH COMES THROUGH—Three-year-old Butch Kriebis wanted to do his part in the annual clean-up campaign in Chicago, so he grabbed the family broom and took off. He was picked up several hours later and escorted to a police station to await the arrival of his parents.

GORMAN, June 11—Persons from all walks of life over the State of Texas gathered at Bass Lake, located one and one-half miles from Gorman, Thursday, June 9, for the 43rd annual reunion of the old Hankins Normal College to reminisce and renew old acquaintances.

The occasion was remarkable from the viewpoint of an outsider, in that the spirit of the meeting reflected to such a marked degree the influence of the founders: J. H. and J. F. Hankins. J. H. Hankins passed on to his reward before the 1948 reunion—he was one remembered in the 1948 memorial service—while J. F. Hankins was present at the 1949 reunion, having driven down for the service that morning from Lubbock. Scarcely does one find more forcible reminders of the lasting good or bad, which a teacher exerts on the pupils, than at such a gathering as this reunion proved to be.

Crown men and women—the boys and the girls in their teens paying tribute to the little gray-back in 1905 to 1912—were there paying tribute to the little gray-haired man who sat quietly looking down at the ground most of the time, while they were lauding his past efforts and the imprint his life and teaching had left on their lives, and even as one put it, the imprint his life and influence had made even on the children of the former students. In Mr. Hankins' deepest eyes, however, there was a twinkle, mingled with the mistiness caused by all the pleasant memories—and time has a way of softening all memories, so that this far from those old college days, nothing but the pleasant memories must remain now.

Up to about 11:30 Thursday morning 94 people had registered, with about 80 of them being old Hankins students. The remarkable thing about the list of the exes of this tiny old college—and compared to our present day standards, it would certainly be considered small— they never had more than 25 to graduate at any one commencement, according to Mr. Hankins, with perhaps 250 to 300 enrolled each of the seven years the school was in existence—is the way its students have infiltrated every phase of our modern life and have themselves felt in whatever occupation or place they may have chosen to fill.

There were lawyers, doctors, congressmen, teachers, realtors, undertakers, preachers, farmers, ranchers, insurance men, storekeepers, housewives, preachers' wives, postmasters, county clerks, Railway Mail clerks, Rural Mail carriers, beauty parlor operators, public service men, County treasurers, and so on and on the list goes. And, in every case, where the men or the women of Hankins have been in the particular field they are in at the time, for very long, they are already ranking up toward the top in their field. The postmasters of two of the largest towns in Eastland County are former Hankins men—Alvin Crawley of Ranger, and Ed Layton of Eastland. Clyde Garrett, former Congressman from District 17 has an enviable record. He was County Clerk, County Judge, and then Representative to the National Congress from the 7th District. More recently he has been head of all offices in the G. I. Loan Administration for the Dallas District, and Monday he leaves for Washington, D. C. where he will assume his duties as Supervising officer over the work of the G. I. Loan Administration for three Southern States: Texas, Louisiana, and Mississippi. Then there is Joe Barkett, who could not be present at this year's meeting, but who made one of the principal addresses of last year. Joe has held these offices for his county: District Clerk, County Judge, District Judge, and State Senator, and is now a practicing attorney in San Antonio, Texas. There are others who have made their mark as lawyers: Elzo Beard of Eastland, former District Clerk and District Judge, who is the president of the Alumni Association for 1949-1950. He was re-elected in railroad fashion without giving him a chance to object or to nominate anyone else. They followed the lead of Cyrus Frost and elected the 1948 officers for the 1949 session by acclamation. Then there is Cyrus Frost, one of Eastland County's outstanding attorneys among Hankins men who have followed the legal profession.

Up until the boom in the 1920's, about the most exciting thing that had ever happened in Eastland County was the building of the T. & P. Railroad and the passing of the first train in 1881. Construction of the road MOVES UP—W. His appointment is expected to be challenged by Senate critics of present U. S. policy in China.

Brashears, Dallas; Mrs. Gumie Dawson, Tulsa; Mrs. Valentine Niver, Pampa; and Mrs. E. Lewis, Odessa.

For about 60 years, J. L. hauled produce raised on his farm into Eastland for marketing. During the earlier years, the wagon was pulled by steers, and later by a team of horses. The road was rough and there was always the danger of lurking Comanche Indians. A shotgun was carried on the trips into town, "just in case", but J. L. is thankful that it was never necessary to use it.

Eastland was just a small town in those days, with about a dozen business houses. J. L. recalls that Aught Connelley, deceased, operated a flower mill on the northwest corner of the square, where the modern five-story brick Exchange Building now stands.

While his neighbors became rich overnight with the discovery of wells on their places, J. L. and the Missus went about their work of raising farm products. A test was made on his farm, but nothing developed from it. As for the "wild living" in the Eastland County boom towns that 011 caused, J. L. doesn't know much about that as he stayed on his place working, with the exception of going to town one a week to get supplies.

More or was retiring from farm work because of age, he has let the place grow up in Johnson grass. Still spry enough to walk to town and back, J. L. after talking with this writer, went over to the east side of the square and walked up a flight of stairs to have his picture taken for the first time in his life.

Recently, Bob Gilchrist, Wichita Falls operator, became interested in the possibilities of oil on the Brashears' farm and drilled a well. It took like a gusher when it first came in, but the oil began to play out in a few days. Gilchrist was encouraged enough by the well that he plans to drill another test, J. L. said.

If oil is found in big quantities on his place, J. L. plans to move into town and take life easy, but he's not taking any bets on it.

If your tires wear smooth in the center— READ THIS ABOUT THE GREAT GULF TIRE

WHY DO so many tires wear smooth down the center, yet still have good rubber along the edges? It's simply because their tread design forces the center area to bear the brunt of the load.

But with the Gulf Tire it's a different story. This tire is designed with a wider, flatter tread that distributes the load of your car more evenly. As a result, the Gulf tread wears more evenly from one edge to the other—lasts far longer.

SURE-FOOTED TREAD WITH SHARP SAWTEETH

With 7 ribs, there's a "riding bar" down the center of the Gulf tire. Thus, just where the load pressure is greatest, you ride on rubber—not on a groove.

These 7 zigzag ribs help stop skids before they start. Their flex-riding action breaks up water film on wet roads.

Warranty companies every Gulf Tire is honored by Gulf Dealers everywhere!

The tire runs cooler (and safer) at high speeds, because of a special ingredient in the rubber.

Sidewall shields protect tire against curbstone bruises.

Less chance of blowouts and carcass failures, because a double breaker strip cushions shocks.

This tire can stand punishment, because it has a stronger carcass with stronger, new-type cords. And more cords in every inch of every ply!

SAN ANGELO POLIO EPIDEMIC BELIEVED LEVELING OFF

SAN ANGELO, Tex., June 11 (UP)—The nation's first serious polio epidemic of 1949 showed signs of abating today after killing seven of 143 persons stricken here since January.

Most of the patients cared for at two Tom Green County hospitals were children of Latin descent.

Parents in this community of 25,000 persons remained calm, however. Their refusal to become panicky won the praise of County health officials and of spokesmen for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The first infantile paralysis case struck in January. But the epidemic's full impact was not felt until last week.

By midnight Friday, the number of cases diagnosed in San Angelo and the surrounding territory had climbed to 133.

Seven victims were returned to their homes Thursday but five new cases were admitted. The number of victims in the county's hospitals stood at 56.

Dr. R. E. Elzins, Tom Green County Health Officer, said he thought the epidemic was "leveling off" but that five per cent of those afflicted will show any after effects of the disease, he said.

He attributed this to the prompt treatment given the stricken during early stages of the attacks.

Eight stricken infants were down to the Polio Foundation at Gonzales, Tex., for physical therapy. Planes from the Air Force Base at Goodfellow Field transported them.

John Loughlin, representing the national foundation in 62 southwest Texas counties, set up field headquarters here yesterday.

He said "all necessary help in the form of money, medical supplies and trained personnel" will be coming to San Angelo from the national foundation.

The foundation made $40,000 available and shipped in iron lungs, hot pack machines and other therapy instruments.

No shortage of hospital space was reported, but Loughlin promised the foundation would furnish facilities if necessary.

The Red Cross flew in 11 nurses to help in the fight and promised more if needed.

NO ORANGE BLOSSOMS for SUMMER BRIDE

FOR THE all-out Church wedding this summer, that calls for absolute tops in the bride's bouquet, the luxurious creation (left) is designed by Allyn Wayne, style expert for Florists' Telegraph Delivery Assn. It is fashioned of yellow-throated canhamiana orchids, stephanotis and an artful touch of English ivy—ideally suited to the season and to the occasion, too.

For the summer bridesmaid, lilac and candytuft add a note of deceptive simplicity, in No. 2 above. It takes a florist's "green thumb" to duplicate this artful bouquet and matching headpiece, in these or other sippie blossoms of the wedding party's choice.

Even the bride's bouquet, in No. 3 (left), is more "tailored" and informal for the popular "suit" wedding, however, according to FTD expert Wayne. Here's an example in cymbidium orchids, ivy and wheat, with a matching arrangement for the hair.

BEGIN the week with a few special recipes in mind. It will make menu planning easier.

Broiled Salmon Steaks With Mustard Sauce

To prepare fish: Dry steaks thoroughly. Brush generously with melted butter and season with salt, pepper and a sprinkle of paprika. Place on greased broiler, brown evenly on both sides. Cook until tender. Use wide spatula or pancake turner to turn steaks. Serve with Mustard Sauce.

Mustard Sauce (Makes approximately 1 1/2 cups sauce)

Two tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 cup milk, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 2 tablespoons finely chopped dill pickle (or sweet pickle), 1 diced hard-cooked egg, dash paprika.

Melt butter in saucepan. Remove from fire and add flour. Stir until blended. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly until smooth. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add remaining ingredients and heat 1 to 2 minutes longer, stirring gently.

Vegetable-Beef Soup (Serves 4)

Two pounds beef shank, 2 table-spoons drippings, 2 quarts acid water, salt, pepper, 1/2 cup barley, 2 medium onions, sliced, 4 celery outside stalks, cut up, 2 medium potatoes, sliced, 1 cup cabbage, shredded, 2 cups canned tomatoes.

Cut meat from bone in serving size pieces and brown in drippings. Cover meat and bone with cold salted water and simmer until tender. Remove meat and bone from broth. Cool and skim off fat. Bring broth to a boil, add barley, and when it boils again, add all vegetables except tomatoes. Cook until vegetables are tender, add tomatoes and reheat. While vegetables cook, brown meat again slowly in drippings to give added flavor and color. Serve meat in bowl of hot vegetable soup.

If you buy a soup bone such as shin of beef, ask the dealer to saw the bone in pieces. You get the full flavor of the bone marrow in the soup this way. Slow cooking brings out the flavor and enriches the soup with gelatin from the bone and connective tissues of the meat. Cook the meat and bones the day before you make soup. When the stock cools, the fat congeals off.

MONDAY'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Blended tomato and grapefruit juice, oatmeal, raisin toast, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Chopped egg and olive sandwiches, water-cress and tomato sandwiches, celery, applesauce, cookies, tea, milk.

DINNER: Vegetable-beef soup, enriched crusty bread or rolls, mixed green salad with blue cheese crumbled in it, chocolate waffles, coffee, milk.

Jaguar Reigns Aboard Ship After Escape

L. A. S. PALMAS, Canary Islands, June 11 (UP)—A jaguar which terrorized the Belgian steamer Christian Scheid for almost two days after he broke out of his cage was killed today by sailors with sub-machine guns.

The sharpshooter, boarded the ship and stalked the animal up and down the passageways for half an hour before closing in for the kill.

The skipper radioed ahead that the jaguar had escaped from its cage and was rampaging through the ship. He asked that gunners meet the vessel when it reached Las Palmas and kill the beast. It was one of a group of wild animals being taken from Barzil to the Brussels Zoo.

The death of the jaguar enabled the passengers and crewmen to emerge from their quarters for the first time since the escape of the animal early yesterday.

The jaguar smashed the cages of other animals, ate several monkeys and killed a number of rare wild birds.

Sailors from the Las Palmas Naval Base boarded the ship outside the harbor when it arrived in port, the decks deserted, except for the maddened jaguar.

Red Sox Need Relief Pitcher, Yet Yankees Get Ed Klieman

BY HARRY GRAYSON
 NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Birdie Tebbetts says that a rubber-armed and competent relief pitcher would give the Red Sox the American League by 10 games.

Yet the Yankees, already fortified by the remarkable Joe Page, get Ed Klieman from the Senators at the waiver price.

No baseball man can understand that, not unless the bespectacled Klieman has gone dead wrong, and the New York club hardly would have taken on the right-hander under those circumstances.

"The Sox have plenty of pitchers," says Catcher Tebbetts, "but how often do you see a starter finish nowadays?"

"Earl Johnson relieves very well for us, but hasn't the physical strength to work in the bullpen in order to be ready, and get in there every day or two. He requires rest. What we need is a strong-armed fellow who can handle the job day in and night out."

"As Joe McCarthy once stressed, a first-rate relief pitcher is as important as any other member of the cast. McCarthy called the fireman a pitching specialist. He has to have a special kind of a pitch with which he strikes out in the clutch."

Klieman would appear to have been precisely what the doctor prescribed for the Boston club.

While begging to start all the while, and hollering about being in Lou Boudreau's kennel, Klieman appeared in 44 games with the World Champions. And while Manager Boudreau deemed his services not altogether satisfactory, the fact remains that he emerged from all that toil with the sparkling earned-run average of 2.59.

WHILE Klieman professed to be happy about getting away from Boss Boudreau, the perfectionist, and the Tribe, he held Clark Griffith up for more money, pointing out that he had purchased a home in Cleveland, and whatnot.

It could be that Old Fox Griffith shuffled him off to the Yankees when he realized what he was paying a bloke for mopping up, and took into consideration where the Washington club was going to wind up.

Since 1933, when the Nationals last came down in front, Griff has operated on the principle that it was totally unnecessary to pay a Washington player anything to speak of. He has worked on the theory that there are sufficient visitors in the capital to make any kind of an outfit pay for itself, and then some.

The out-of-towners go to see their home team, you see. It's a great plan, when it works, and it does.

But what we started out to say was that baseball people can't understand why the Red Sox, who need a relief pitcher, let Ed Klieman go to the Yankees, who have Joe Page.

And at the waiver price!

Jester Sees 36th In Parade

NORTH CAMP HOOD, June 11 (UP)—Gov. Beauford Jester will watch the 36th Division, Texas National Guard unit, pass in review today.

Jester and other top Texas officials will be honored at the parade, which climaxes the end of the 50th's first week of summer training.

Major Gen. H. Miller Ainsworth, Division Commander, and Lt. Gen. Ernest O. Thompson, Texas National Guard Chief, will review the unit.

Jester planned to leave Camp Hood late Saturday for Corsicana, where he will spend the weekend

Mrs. Besley was stunned by the stroke of lightning. The child was not hurt.

Towry In Top List At Tourney

WAXAHACHIE, June 11 (UP)—Two rounds of match play were scheduled today in the Waxahachie County Club invitation golf tournament after a pair of blistering seven-under-par 63's were turned in yesterday for medal honors.

The red-hot rounds were fashioned by Gene Towry of Dallas and North Texas State and Willard Crenshaw and placed them in the co-favorite's role along with defending Champion, Dick Martin, and last year's runnerup, John Shive of Waxahachie, who also posted a 63 earlier in the week in qualifying play.

Farmer Killed By Lightning

BONHAM, June 11 (UP)—Riley Besley, Ector farmer, was killed instantly when struck by lightning yesterday while he was plowing a field on his farm.

The 32-year-old man had been working on a tractor with his child a few moments before the bolt struck. He had just told his

"God the Preserver of Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 12.

The Golden Text is: "The eternal God is thy refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms" (Deuteronomy 33:27).
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "I have set the Lord always before me because he is at my right hand, I shall not be moved" (Psalms 16:8).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Truth and Love come nearer in the hour of woe, when strong faith or spiritual strength wrestles and prevails through the understanding of God" (page 567).

Negro Convict Escapes Prison

SUGRA LAND, Tex., June 11 (UP)—A negro convict serving a 10-year sentence for murder and burglary sawed his way out of Central Prison Farm No. 1 near here early today.

A spokesman identified the escapee as Eddie Harold Childs, 21, from Jeff Davis and Brewster Counties. He entered the farm Oct. 10, 1948.

Childs was assigned to a kitchen and dining room group, and had reported for work at 4 A. M. He was missed by a guard.

Prison officials said he left the ground about, and presumably was still dressed in his prison uniform.

You ought to be driving a 1949 PONTIAC

Two of America's Most Popular Motor Cars

Pictured above are typical examples of the two smart and separate lines of cars which bear the current imprint of Pontiac goodness—the Streamliner and the Chiefain De Luxe Sedan Coupes.

Each is in such demand that, on its own, it ranks among America's most popular cars today. That two cars of such decidedly different appearance should each enjoy such wide acceptance is easy to explain. THEY'RE BOTH PONTIACS!

While each has its own individualized smartness, both offer all the great basic Pontiac virtues. Both are conspicuously beautiful. Both carry the well-known promise of Pontiac quality—long life, dependability, and fine performance. Both afford the smooth, enjoyable performance of Pontiac's two great engines—the power-packed straight eight or its equally famous six-cylinder companion.

Finally, both represent unusual values—a very fine product at a very low price. Either one you choose will make you mighty happy.

State Laws May Be Invoked To Close Pine Bluff

PINE BLUFF, Ark., June 11 (UP)—A modern-day Sunday is expected here tomorrow, but Pine Bluff is fearful that the state's pot of blue paint may be applied.

The city's own Blue Laws were in large measure repealed at a special meeting of the council yesterday. Seventeen ordinances banning various kinds of activity were knocked out of the books in short order.

While the council was striking restrictions on Sunday work and play, however, it was learned that the state has similar laws which might be enforced.

A pair of lawyers representing a bakery—which stayed open on Sunday until the Baker's Association cracked down—started the to-do by hailing four newspaper vendors into court. They were fined under old laws.

And the warning went out that other besmirchers of the Sabbath would face the same sort of suits until the blue laws went off the books.

The old state law, which everyone had forgotten about, bans gainful labor on the seventh day. There was little chance that state authorities would take any action here, but somebody might choose to demand that it be enforced.

A minister warned the city council that "your children will live to regret your action" in striking the old laws, but the council went ahead. Most of the things it decided to permit are in the "essential work" and "recreation" categories.

ON A LIMB—Willys of Hollywood, president of the Hosiery Designers of America, measures the shapely legs of movie star Virginia Mayo in Hollywood, Virginia was picked by the hosiery designers to head their annual list of moviestown's loveliest legs. Anyone disagree?

The resolutions, adopted by the city councils, were signed yesterday by Governor Beauford Jester.

AUSTIN, June 11 (UP)—A constitutional reprieve for a 30-day stay of execution was granted General Kerzee, a Dallas negro, by Governor Beauford Jester yesterday.

The governor's action moved the scheduled execution date from July 11 to Aug. 10.

Kerzee, 37, was found guilty of slaying Gladys Scott, 38 on June 11, 1948.

Radar Use Reversed

WEST SPRINGFIELD, Mass., (UP)—Radar, employed in some states to trap automobile speeders, will be used here to forestall them. Radar will aid in a scientific survey of traffic. From the results recommendations will be made for the location of traffic signs to control speeding.
