Jury Asks For Restatement Of Charge In Hiss Case

REQUESTS EXPLANATION OF TYPES OF EVIDENCE

By H. D. QUIGG
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, July 8 (UP)—The Federal Court jury in the Alger Hiss perjury trial asked today for a re-statement of that part of the judge's charge relating to corroborative and circumstantial evidence.

The jury foreman, Hubert Edward James, sent the note to Judge Samuel H. Kaufman at 11:40 A. M.

The judge took the bench eight minutes later, read the note aloud, and then sent the court stenographer to his office to get a transcript of the charge.

In charging the jury yesterday, Judge Kaufman explained that federal law on perjury required the government to present one witness alleging the perjury, plus corroboration of that witness' testimony.

The government produced former Communist Spy Courier Whittaker Chambers who testified that while Hiss was a high state department official in 1937 and 1938 he turned over to him numerous state department secret papers for delivery to a Communist spy ring.

For corroboration, the government produced 47 copies and paraphrases of state department documents and two strips of microfilm photographs of state department originals documents all of which Chambers testified Hiss had given him.

The judge, defense and government attorneys agreed on what portion of the charge should be reread to the jury. It was the 12:02 P. M.

The jury had six hours and it sent out instructions.

The jury at 10:30 P. M. and 45 minutes reporting no verdict.

Hiss said the jury to take instructions reach a verdict.

Federal Judge Kaufman instructed the jury whether they were former Communists Whittaker Chambers.

Hiss was indicted of perjury for denials of federal grand jury that (1) he gave documents to Chambers for delivery to Russia and (2) he faced a maximum sentence of five years and a fine of $10,000 on each of the charges.

The jury was taking a recess after receiving the P. M. EDT verdicts for the exhibits for the spy papers Chambers as Hiss of delivering to him an Woodstock Typewriter on Hiss and his wife were as of typing copies.

In an hour long charge jury Judge Kaufman pointed out that Chambers was "the person who testified that the defendant furnished, delivered, transmitted to him secret materials belonging to the state department."

"The testimony of Chambers reminded them, 'is not taken like that of a disinterested witness. It was the defendant's own testimony which through the defendant's indictment, perjury, and it would be natural for Chambers, in such circumstances, to sustain his original position, there Baltimore Times 4-11-49, by the defendant, interested in the result of this prosecution, to affect the outcome of suit."

Kaufman was reported to have brought against Hiss for calling him on a radio broadcast.

The judge then sent the jury of the numerousing the trial in which admitted that he himself in previous to fore the same grand indicted Hiss.

Mystery Killer Sought In Death

MIDLAND, Tex., July 8 (UP)—Midland authorities today were confronted with their second murder mystery in less than 18 months as they sought last night's slayer of Homer A. Stillwell, 28, an oil scout.

Stillwell, employed by Stanolind Oil and Gas Co., was shot to death in his front yard about 9 P. M. as he stepped outside the house to investigate a commotion raised by the family dog.

Stillwell's roommate, also a Stanolind oil scout, was shot to death under equally mysterious circumstances in March of last year as he was reading a newspaper at night.

The roommate—Dick Erickson—was shot through the head by an assailant who fired through a window. The body was found by Stillwell upon his return to the room.

Stillwell's wife—married less than a year—told authorities that shortly after her husband left the house, she heard loud talking and shouting.

She said she thought it was neighborhood children. Then she said she heard a noise that sounded like firecrackers.

When her husband failed to return to the house, she went into the yard where she found his body near the sidewalk. Stillwell was dead of two gunshot wounds in the chest.

Police Chief Dick Ellington said a head injury and also wounds on his arms and knees indicated Stillwell had scuffled with his assailant before being shot.

Neighbors told Ellington they heard what sounded like several shots at about the time Stillwell was killed.

Two Ranger teenage boys have been turned over to the sheriff's office in Eastland and are being held in the county jail pending grand jury investigation of charges filed in Justice of the Peace Charlie Robo's court in Ranger.

Chief W. G. Pounds stated today that charges of burglary and theft have been filed against the two boys. They are reported to have entered a room at the Grand Hotel and taken property from there and sold it.

Chief Pounds also stated this is not the first offense for the boys and that another boy held in the case has been released after a good lecture from the chief.

Ralph Wagner Outspells Lions To Win Prize

Ralph Wagner was the last to be standing Tuesday when A. N. Larson staged an old-fashioned spelling bee at the regular meeting of the Lions Club held in the Gholson Hotel.

R. V. Galloway, retiring president, and R. V. Thomas Jr., president, headed the team. Last to go down on Galloway's team was L. L. Bruce while Wagner outspelled them all and took home an ever-sharp pencil as prize for his victory. J. A. Bates held out until almost the last for the Galloway team and slow to go down on the Thomas team were Thomas, Joe Nussle, T. J. Anderson and Wagner. Don Ervin was presented a speller for being the first one to miss a word.

In the business session of the club, various plans relative to attendance at club meetings were discussed and all referred to the attendance committee which is composed of Joe Dennis, L. L. Bruce and Saule Perlestein.

The club will go as a whole to Strawn Tuesday to attend the regular meeting of that club which the Ranger club recently assisted in organizing. Club members to be at the Gholson Hotel Tuesday at 11:30 o'clock and from there, go to Strawn for the noon luncheon.

Major General Harry Vaughn, right, military aide to President Truman, arrived in Washington from a trip to Guatemala, to be greeted by a battery of newsmen. He was displeased with reporters questions and irked by photographers. He asked one of the photographers, "how would you like a poke in the nose?" At center is Col. Cornelius Mara, assistant to Vaughn. (NEA Telephoto).

IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM ON AT ATHLETIC FIELD

Extensive improvements at Ranger's all-round athletic field in Hodges Oak Park, plans for which have been underway for sometime, are now in progress and committees working on the project say that it will be one of the most outstanding fields in West Texas when completed.

At the present time a seven foot cyclone wire fence is being placed around the field which embraces approximately two city blocks. The fence will be topped by a two inch pipe finish. The fence will enclose the football field, softball, hard ball field and track field. Gates will be conveniently located in the fence to allow easy access to the field and adjacent parking space and an evergreen hedge is already being planted just inside the wire enclosure.

A big gate has been placed in the northeast corner of the field for convenient approach to the visiting team's fieldhouse which has already been built in the corner of the field and which is being improved.

It is also planned to plant cottonwood elm and Arizona cypress trees at intervals in the field. High spots on the field will be leveled and dirt from these used to fill in the low spots. The football field has been sodded with Bermuda grass which already has a fine growth. To protect the field for games, the softball field is to be sodded with Bermuda for practice.

In addition to these improvements the lights at the field will be lowered for better lighting effects and new reflectors installed to increase the lighting.

The project is a joint effort of the school board who athletic committee is headed by A. W. Warford and S. A. Hightower, the Quarterback Club of which E. F. Arterburn is president, the city of Ranger and various organizations in town who are contributing to the expense of the effort. Donations of at least $50 have already been contributed by the Quarterback Club, American Legion, Elks Club, Chamber of Commerce and Softball committee.

Well... I Dunno, But...

Georgia has nothing on us. Yesterday was peach day at our office and we really took home the goods.

First, in come O. H. Dick, one of our publishers with a whole sack full of the most delicious peaches and the gang feasted on them all day.

While Dick's peaches were sure fine, you haven't seen anything until you see those peaches that R. J. Rains has grown on a tree back of his poultry yard. While chickens and such are R. J.'s specialty, he does right well by peaches.

When we got home, we took a tape measure try as we might we couldn't squeeze a single one down to less than 10 1-4 inches in circumference and one measured 10 1-2 inches around. And besides that, they are absolutely delicious.

Now that is givin' our famous hen fruit a run for its money.

Al Larson staged a spellin' bee at the Lions Club Thursday and it was a sight the way the victims fell by the way side. Among the first to sit down was this writer and try as we may, we can't think of a single alibi for not spellin' that word. Frankly, we thing 'cat' would have stumped us in that contest.

But Ralph Wagner just stood up there and dared Al to give him one that was too hard to spell and came off with the prize. We won't say who got the speller for further study.

One of the few remaining pre-ol boom landmarks in Ranger has "bit the dust" and made way for replacement.

The old picket fence at the L. L. Neal home, which Mr. Neal says was at least 40 years old was torn down this week and will be replaced by a brand new colonial model.

The fence hid behind it one of the oldest homes in Ranger still standing. According to Mr. Neal the home was built by C. R. Brock, what year he doesn't recall. But it was purchased by Dick Hodges way back before 1911, because that's when the Neals acquired it and where they have been living ever since.

The fence was repaired during the oil boom and once had to undergo a big face lifting when a driver attempted to run his automobile through the front of it.

The old landmark was built before there was any necessity for surveying property in the community and Mr. Neal reports that when it was first put up it was built to include old trees that are now on the W. D. Conway lawn.

When the Conway property was surveyed for property lines it was found that the fence was three feet over on that property and another phase of the old fence's history was enacted with its backtracking three feet.

Sizzling Heat To Continue

By United Press
 Texas was expected to continue baking under a July sun today, although scattered thundershowers were predicted to result from unstable atmospheric conditions.

No relief was expected from the heat which yesterday saw the mercury climb to 100 degrees or more in most parts of the state. Skies were partly cloudy throughout the state.

The hottest place in Texas was Wink with 104 degrees. Other readings included Wichita Falls, Sherman, Childress, and Big Spring, 102; Wichita Falls and Clarendon, 101, and Dallas, Houston, Fort Worth, Laredo, and Mineral Wells, with readings of 100 degrees.

Light rainfall was reported during the 24 hour period ending at 4:30 A. M. today at Clarendon, Lubbock and Big Spring.

The lowest maximum temperature yesterday was 88 at Marfa. Galveston reported last night's minimum of 78, and Ozona, in southwest Texas, had the overnight low of 62.

Gorman Farmer Has Complaint Regarding Peanut Allotment

By Buena Van Winkle
Telegram Correspondent

J. J. Brown, who owns and operates two farms in the Gorman and New Hope Communities, filed what seems to be a justifiable complaint this noon about peanut allotment. Mr. Brown, as do numerous other farmers, has been practicing the row stripping method because it was recommended first by the government agents, and then because after he had tried it, he found that it really was beneficial to his land. Strip crop help to hold the soil and after the peanut crop is harvested, the land is left in a better condition for the next crop.

summers here will not allow another crop to be planted until the following spring, so that without the strip rows there remains about three or four months for the farmers' land to be lifted and deposited across the fence, out into the road, or over in neighbors' field or pasture. There goes what is left of his fertilizer which he had applied the preceding year, and also what of stubble & chaff that may have been left of the peanut crop he harvested, and he is faced with the task of building within the short time of early spring and until planting time to build his peanut land up to where it will grow anything at all. Well, as we said, Mr. Brown is throughly sold on the idea of strip cropping.

The new AAA allotment program Brown believes penalizes farmers who have been planting along this line for very many years. This briefly is the way it works. A farmer who has been planting his peanuts solid without regard to whether his land rolls or blows away, or without caring if a legume such as peas planted in strip rows might be building his soil sufficiently to pay for cutting down his peanut acreage to give space to the strip crop, that farmer is only cut the basic 22 per cent on his allotment. But, the farmers who have been using the strip crop practice are cut off the

Prairie Princess In Rodeo Queen Contest

Miss Marilyn Roberson, 19-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Roberson of Breckenridge, who is competing with five other contestants for the title of queen of the Stephens County Rodeo July 6 through 9. Marilyn is representing the Veterans of Foreign Wars. A student at Southwestern University at Georgetown, Marilyn has already established a reputation as a beauty. She was recently chosen as "Dream Girl" of the University chapter of Kappa Sigma Fraternity. She is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority.

strip crop before the allotment cut is taken and that cut back amounts to about 25 per cent, since they plant 2 rows of strip to 8 rows of peanuts. Then after the 25 per cent is deducted, then the farmer is given his regular 22 per cent reduction on his remaining acreage. That amounts on a 200 acre farm to about 83 acres off, whereas, if the farm had been planted solid to peanuts, the reduction would only amount to 44 acres.

Caution Urged In 2.4-D Use

COLLEGE STATION, July 8.—Reports continue to come in from different sections of the state that show proper precautions are not being followed in the use of 2.4-D.

Orchards have been defoliated, tomato and other truck crop have been and are being hurt, and cotton is being damaged in almost every section of the state says M. K. Thornton, extension agricultural chemist of Texas A. & M. College. The users of 2.4-D must remember, he adds, it will not only kill the weeds that are objectional but may also damage desirable plants around the house and farm.

Here are some precautions that should be followed by every user of 2.4-D, as worked out by a committee of Texas A. & M. College research and extension workers for your protection. They say don't use 2.4-D dusts under any conditions. They drift easily and far. Ester forms of 2.4-D are not recommended because they give off fumes readily. Small liquid spray particles may drift in air current and delayed drift effects may occur following changes in direction of the wind. For ground sprayers, use nozzles producing coarse spray particles and use pressure below 40 pounds

Better Get Rid Of Lazy Hens

COLLEGE STATION, July 8.—It is a direct loss to the poultry producer to feed non-layers during the summer months, says W. J. Moore, associate extension poultry husbandman of Texas A. & M. College, and it's also one of the reasons poultry producers are not doing a better job of maintaining high egg production during the summer months.

He advises poultrymen to sell the non-producers just as soon as they are noticed. Chances are they'll not come back into production until late fall or early winter, and during this time, feeding them is a dead loss.

Hens that show a shrunken, dried-up comb, yellow beak, new feathers, yellow shanks and yellow vents should be culled and sold. Hens that lack vigor and spend their time loafing should also be removed from the flock. A good produce has to eat good feed and drink lots of clean cool water and they can't do this unless they rustle. Of course, the poultryman must do his part by supplying this feed and water, added Moore.

The poultry producer who does a good job of culling continuously per square inch. Do not apply 2.4-D with ground equipment in wind velocity greater than 5 mile per hour when susceptible crops are within 1/4 mile downwind or 1/2 mile upwind.

DeLeon Peach, Melon Festival Set July 21-23

With the finest crop of peaches ever grown in this section and with prospects for a bumper crop of watermelons, DeLeon is throwing its annual Peach and Melon festival and homecoming on July 21, 22 and 23.

More than 200 horses will feature the parade and floats sponsored by merchants and business leaders in the community will be two miles long, according to those in charge.

Square dancing, fiddler's contest, free water melon slicing will be feature events.

Crowning of the festival queen will be well paid, and at the same time he'll be following one of the important practices of efficient poultry farm management, concludes Moore.

AMATEURS HOLDING OWN WITH PROFESSIONALS

By Ed Fite
 United Press Sports Writer
 FORT WORTH, July 8 (UP)—Amateur golfers, often looked down on by their professional counterparts, held their head high today — they had whipped a select team of professionals in the annual Texas Cup matches.

The 12-man amateur team downed the pros 10 to 8 yesterday over the sun-drenched River Crest Country Club course. It was their first victory since 1941 and their fifth in all in the 17-year-old classic.

The amateur team's victory was a particularly sweet one, for this reason:

The Texas Professional Golf Association picked the amateur aggregation, and at the time there was some question about the strength of their selections.

But yesterday's victory justified their picks, particularly since two amateurs who came through — Royal Hogan of Fort Worth and Jack Munger of Dallas — had been regarded as possible weak links.

It was Hogan, elder brother of Bantam Ben Hogan, who scored a vital 2-and-1 victory in the final match of the afternoon to clinch the crown for the Simon Pures. The victim was Don Murphy of Texarkana, who led two up during the morning round.

And Munger blasted out a 6-and-5 margin over Graham Ross of Dallas. Ross was subbing for the injured Wally Harden of El Paso.

Still another blow to the pros' but not an unexpected one, was the absence of Lord Byron Nelson, who didn't achieve golf immortality by tilling his Roanoke Farm, and Ray Hill of Shreveport.

They were forced to decline appearances because they were in the east. Their alternates — Murphy and Gene Mitchell of Plainview — lost matches which could have tilted the scales in their usual fashion toward the pros.

Even at that, the professionals managed to put on an afternoon performance that threatened to outdo the exploits of a horatio alger hero.

At the end of the morning's round of 18 holes, they led in only three of the 12 matches.

Paced by Frank Champ of Lake Charles, La., they then began stroking the ball in the manner for which they are paid. For instance, Champ was five-down at the half way mark in his match with San Antonio's Joe Conrad, but at the wind-up he halved the round.

The match billed prior to the singles as the day's "hottest" — pro Ray Gafford of Fort Worth vs. Earl Stewart, Jr., of Longview — also saw a gallant comeback.

Gafford was three down through the 31st hole, but won nos. 14, 15 and 18 to finish all square.

Other results:

Pro Charles Klein, Amarillo, defeated Reynolds Smith, Dallas, 2 and 1.

Billy Maxwell, Odessa, downed Pro Elroy Marti, Houston, 6 & 5.

Pro Jack Harden, El Paso, defeated Don Cherry, Odessa, 7 & 6.

L. M. Crannel, Dallas, defeated Pro Breard Sims, Dallas, 6 & 5.

Pro W. A. Stackhouse, Laredo, nosed out Ed Hopkins, Dallas, 2 and 1.

Morris Williams, Jr., Austin, whipped Pro Tod Menefee, San Antonio, 5 and 3.

Bob Watson, Wichita Falls, defeated Pro Gene Mitchell, Plainview, 1 and 4.

Two Games In Ranger Today

A double slate of baseball was scheduled for Ranger today with the first game between DeLeon's American Legion Junior Baseball team and Ranger's Junior team.

Statistics show that Ranger, Breckenridge and Stephenville are tied for the junior championship in this district and the game this afternoon paves the way for the final game Monday with Pottsville. After Monday's game finals will be played between the championship contenders.

The second game is tonight at 8:15 o'clock at the Ranger field when the Rangers will meet a team from Moran. This is a softball game and promises to be a thriller.

The pipeline is the southern portion of a war emergency line. It was sold for $279,000 cash to Southwestern Independent Gas Pipeline Co., of Houston, which has operated it on lease. The firm previously purchased the northern portion of the line from the government.

Firemen Hunt Bees NEWPORT, R. I. (UP)—Authorities used a novel method to get rid of a swarm of 25,000 bees that settled on a hedge in front of Miss Ruth C. White's grocery store. They called the fire department, which laid hose lines and drove off the bees with streams of water.

"Issues raised in this report are appropriate for editorial comment," L. A. Wilks, WTCC service director wrote to Texas editors, in pointing out high spots of the report. They range from the menace of inadequate water for domestic use to the question of the relative value of big power dams to numerous small dams for impounding domestic water. Local Chambers also have been asked to convene their boards or water committees to study the report.
