Killer Of Two Police Arrested

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 15 (UP)—A negro auto thief who shot and killed two suburban overland policemen with their own guns was arrested here today and readily confessed the slayings, police announced.

The negro was identified as John Louis Johnson, 26, who shot his way to short-lived freedom after he and his brother-in-law were arrested in a stolen car.

The arresting officers, Sgt. Pelham C. Scott, 48, and patrolman Edward C. Juetteman, 30, of the Overland force, were killed in a melee which broke out after the two men were taken to the Overland police station.

Police said Johnson surrendered meekly when they broke into the mid-town room of a woman friend to which he had fled after the shooting.

Detectives started an immediate search for the Overland officers' guns which Johnson said he threw in a sewer near the house where he was captured.

A stolen car Johnson used to make his way back to the city was recovered. Johnson said he took the machine in St. Louis County after leaving Overland by street-car.

Information leading to Johnson's arrest was supplied by Arnold Cheeks, 28, the slayer's brother-in-law and accomplice in the auto theft which brought Johnson's original arrest.

Suggests Cotton Airlift To Aid Plains Farmers

LAMESA, Tex., Oct. 15 (UP)—Sam Allen, president of the Dawson County Farm Bureau, has proposed a cotton airlift for south plains farmers who are hampered by a lack of storage and compress facilities which keeps some of the bumper crop from qualifying under the government's loan program.

Allen said Dawson County's total yield would total 150,000 bales. The crop was coming in, he said, at a rate of 15,000 to 18,000 bales per week, while compress facilities were able to handle only 6,000 bales per week.

Indoor storage was becoming an acute problem, and to qualify for a government loan, the cotton must be in indoor storage. Allen said he had contacted a commercial airline proposing the airlift to warehouses in New Orleans and Memphis. He still must work out details with the commodity credit corporation before the project is undertaken, he said.

Claims Thornton Killer Gave Him Beating

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Oct. 15 (UP)—A 53-year-old itinerant treated for facial bruises today at Santa Rosa Hospital told San Antonio police the same man who killed famed oilman Tex Thornton at Amarillo June 22 was responsible for his beating.

Police said the man's story was incoherent and that they were holding him for several hours, at least, to question him in more detail about how he received his injuries and the implications connected with the Thornton mystery.

The man, who gave his name as San Antonio, when questioned as to how he knew his assailant was the same man who killed Thornton in an Amarillo tourist cabin, said:

"Hell, I was with him."

Police however, in piecing together the problematical circumstances, believed a young man and young woman Thornton had picked up as hitchhikers were responsible for the fatal bludgeoning.

The itinerant told police he had met Thornton's killer while hitchhiking and was with him at the time of the slaying.

Communists Claim Victory In Convictions

By H. D. QUIGG

NEW YORK, Oct. 15 (UP)—Communists hailed the conviction of 11 of their leaders for revolutionary criminal conspiracy today as "the turning point" which will swing masses of Americans to embrace communism.

They denied that the verdict would drive the party underground.

William Z. Foster, national chairman of the party, whose ill health prevented his trial with the others, denounced the verdict as evidence that the capitalist system is "bewildered and doomed."

While their attorneys prepared to file appeals to be carried to the United States Supreme Court, the convicted men remained jailed in the Federal House of Detention awaiting sentence next Friday. They face maximum sentences of 10 years and fines of $10,000 each.

The five defense attorneys and Eugene Dennis, general secretary of the Communist party who acted as his own attorney in the trial, also must begin serving short jail sentences for contempt of court starting Nov. 15.

"The fight for freedom has only begun," the Communist Daily Worker said today in an editorial, "and there are millions of Americans reading and discussing this frameup of the 11 Communist leaders today who are stirring to take part in the fight."

"This verdict must be the turning point. It is now more than ever possible to rally the kind of movement which will throw the verdict back into the teeth of the men who plotted the frameup."

The newspaper called up on the 80,000 members of the party to send wires demanding the immediate freedom of the 11 leaders to President Truman and to Attorney General J. Howard McGrath.

Mental Health Program Praised

BAYTOWN, Tex., Oct. 15 (UP)—The citizens committee for mental health drew praise today from E. M. Kirkpatrick, Jr., of Baytown, president of the Texas Jaycees.

He said formation of the committee is an important step toward informing the public of the need for improvement in handling the state's mental health problems.

Earlier this week, Gov. Allan Shivers asked approximately fifty Texas Jaycees to serve on the committee. The group, to be composed of some 300 citizens, has as its aim better treatment for the mentally ill.

The immediate goal of the Jaycee committee as well as the citizens committee on mental health is passage of the proposed constitutional amendment providing for waiver of jury trial in cases for the commitment of the mentally ill to state hospitals.

The amendment is one of ten to be voted on at the Nov. 3 election.

Case March Has New Slogan

AUSTIN, Oct. 15 (UP)—Case March, formerly law school professor and three-time candidate for governor, had a new slogan today for his 1950 gubernatorial campaign.

The cry: "For Every Man, A Tax-Free Home!"

March said the slogan exactly suited his plan of freeing the small-home owner of all taxes. Which meant, he said, "state, county, city and school taxes."

Under the candidate's program, the load of taxes would be shifted from the "little man" to the big property owners.

The result, he said, would be more money for the state.

March credited former Gov. Pat M. Neff with having suggested both the slogan and the program.

GREEN SNUBS LEWIS ON STRIKE SETTLEMENT PLAN

By United Press

With more than 1,500,000 workers on strike in the coal and steel dispute, AFL President William Green and CIO president Philip Murray gave John L. Lewis the cold shoulder today on his plan for a giant alliance to press labor's fourth-round welfare demands.

Meanwhile, the nation was virtually assured that it would not suffer a big meat packing strike such as halted production in 1947.

Three unions—one CIO, another AFL, and an independent unit—reached agreement with Swift & Co. for bracket 1/2 cent to 15-cent pay increases to 42,500 workers in 45 plants. The agreements were expected to set a pattern for the entire industry.

RED UNITS MOVE INTO CANTON

HONG KONG, Oct. 15 (UP)—Chinese Communist troops occupied downtown Canton early today and 40,000 British troops in Hong Kong immediately went on a full war footing.

British Army convoys loaded with barbed wire rolled out to the border between the Crown Colony and China proper and dispatch riders began carrying sten guns as permanent armament.

One unconfirmed report said advance Chinese Communist forces had pressed south of Canton to a point only 44 miles north of the British border, but the report could not be confirmed.

The report was carried by the Chinese language Singat Daily News. It said Communists occupied Sheklung, on the Canton-Kowloon railway about midway between Hong Kong and Canton.

The British army planned to meet the Communist threat by staging a large-scale show of force Sunday in the rural areas adjacent to the Chinese-British border.

A telegraph message from Canton said Communist troops entered the former Nationalist capital in force during the night and took over the downtown business area today.

Communications were resumed after a temporary breakdowns last night when Nationalist demolition squads served power lines.

Truck Load Of Fish Put Into Lake Hagaman

H. H. Vaughn, chairman of the lake committee of the Ranger Country Club, announced Saturday that a truck load of fish was emptied into Lake Hagaman Friday afternoon.

Vaughn stated that the fish were seven to eight inches long and were about half and half cat and bass. The fish were furnished by the Cisco Hatchery of the Fish Game and Oyster Commission of the State of Texas.

Stocking of the lake with the fish was arranged about three months ago when Vaughn, M. L. King and A. N. Larson visited the Cisco Hatchery and made arrangements for the fish. More fish will be placed in the lake this fall and more of a smaller type will be placed in the lake in the spring.

Vaughn stated that stocking of the lake should make it one of the best fishing spots in the area.

AWOL Soldier Turned Over To Military Police

Officers from Carswell Air Base in Fort Worth were in Ranger Friday to take into custody Pvt. J. W. McLean of Fort Bliss, near El Paso, who had been picked up here late Wednesday by Ranger officers.

The local officers held the soldier here after they determined that he did not have furlough papers. The discovery was made when officers stopped to investigate a parked car that aroused their suspicion. The soldier stepped from the car and was asked to produce his furlough papers. When he could not produce them, he was taken to city jail where it was established that he was AWOL.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 (UP)—Between 1,000,000 and 1,500,000 and 1,500,000 workers are in for a raise.

They will get the increase under provisions of the 74-cent minimum wage bill which is close to becoming law. The measure was drafted yesterday by a conference committee which ironed out differences between senate and house versions.

Both houses are expected to approve the measure early next week and send it to the White House for President Truman's signature.

The bill will carry out Mr. Truman's campaign pledge to boost the minimum for workers in interstate commerce from 40 to 75 cents an hour.

The president suffered a setback however, when the conferees refused to extend the coverage of the wage-hour act. Their final bill would add to the number of workers exempt from the law.

Sen. Claude Pepper, D. Fla., said the new version should increase the wages of at least 1,000,000 workers and perhaps of as many as 1,500,000. Other workers would benefit as wage scales are adjusted to maintain job differentials.

The final version also would exempt from provisions of the law employees of retail firms doing more than 50 per cent of their business within a state, newsboys, western union messengers and taxi cab operators.

It also would broaden the present exemption for small newspapers. Present law exempts employees of weekly and semi-weekly papers with less than 8,000 circulation, most of which is in the county publication. The new bill would extend the exemption to dailies and weeklies of less than 4,000 circulation, most of which is in the home or adjoining counties.

HONG KONG, Oct. 15 (UP)—Chinese Communist troops occupied downtown Canton early today and 40,000 British troops in Hong Kong immediately went on a full war footing.

British Army convoys loaded with barbed wire rolled out to the border between the Crown Colony and China proper and dispatched riders began carrying sten guns as permanent armament.

One unconfirmed report said advance Chinese Communist forces had pressed south of Canton to a point only 44 miles north of the British border, but the report could not be confirmed.

The report was carried by the Chinese language Singtao Daily News. It said Communists occupied Sheklung, on the Canton-Kowloon railway about midway between Hong Kong and Canton.

The British army planned to meet the Communist threat by staging a large-scale show of force Sunday in the rural areas adjacent to the Chinese-British border.

A telegraph message from Canton said Communist troops entered the former Nationalist capital in force during the night and took over the downtown business area today.

Communications were resumed after a temporary breakdown last night when Nationalist demolition squads served power lines.

The final version also would exempt from provisions of the law employees of retail firms doing more than 50 per cent of their business within a state, newswires, western union messengers and taxi cab operators.

It also would broaden the present exemption for small newspapers. Present law exempts employees of weekly and semi-weekly papers with less than 5,000 circulation, most of which is in the county publication. The new bill would extend the exemption to dailies and weeklies of less than 4,000 circulation, most of which is in the home or adjoining counties.

Truck Load Of Fish Put Into Lake Hagaman

H. H. Vaughn, chairman of the lake committee of the Ranger Country Club, announced Saturday that a truck load of fish was emptied into Lake Hagaman Friday afternoon.

Vaughn stated that the fish were seven to eight inches long and were about half and half cat and bass. The fish were furnished by the Cisco Hatchery of the Fish Game and Oyster Commission of the State of Texas.

Stocking of the lake with the fish was arranged about three months ago when Vaughn, M. L. King and A. N. Larson visited the Cisco Hatchery and made arrangements for the fish. More fish will be placed in the lake this fall and more of a smaller type will be placed in the lake in the spring.

Vaughn stated that stocking of the lake should make it one of the best fishing spots in the area.

Killer Of Two Police Arrested

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 15 (UP)—A negro auto thief who shot and killed two suburban overland policemen with their own guns was arrested here today and readily confessed the slayings, police announced.

The negro was identified as John Louis Johnson, 26, who shot his way 15 short-lived freedom after he and his brother-in-law were arrested in a stolen car.

The arresting officers, Sgt. Pelham C. Scott, 45, and parolman Edward C. Juetteman, 30, of the Overland force, were killed in a melee which broke out after the two men were taken to the Overland police station.

Police said Johnson surrendered meekly when they broke into the mid-town room of a woman friend to which he had fled after the shooting.

Detectives started an immediate search for the Overland officers' guns which Johnson said he threw in a sewer near the house where he was captured.

A stolen car Johnson used to make his way back to the city was recovered. Johnson said he took the machine in St. Louis County after leaving Overland by street-car.

Information leading to Johnson's arrest was supplied by Arnold Cheeks, 28, the slayer's brother-in-law and accomplice in the auto theft which brought Johnson's original arrest.

Suggests Cotton Airlift To Aid Plains Farmers

LAMESA, Tex., Oct. 15 (UP)—Sam Allen, president of the Dawson County Farm Bureau, has proposed a cotton airlift for south plains farmers who are hampered by a lack of storage and compress facilities which keeps some of the bumper crop from qualifying under the government's loan program.

Allen said Dawson County's total yield would total 150,000 bales. The crop was coming in, he said, at a rate of 15,000 to 18,000 bales per week, while compress facilities were able to handle only 6,000 bales per week.

Indoor storage was becoming an acute problem, and to qualify for a government loan, the cotton must be in indoor storage. Allen said he had contacted a commercial airline proposing the airlift to warehouses in New Orleans and Memphis. He still must work out details with the commodity credit corporation before the project is undertaken, he said.

Attorneys Of Communists Convicted of Contempt

Defense attorneys George W. Crockett, Jr., left, Harry Sacher, center, and Abraham Iserman, right, were among the six convicted of contempt of court after a jury had found their clients, the leaders of the Communist party, guilty of conspiring to teach and advocate the overthrow of the United States government. This trial, held in New York City, has been proceeding for the past nine months. (NEA Telephoto.)

Communists Claim Victory In Convictions

By H. D. QUIGG
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, Oct. 15 (UP)—

Communists hailed the conviction of 11 of their leaders for revolutionary criminal conspiracy today as the "turning point" which will swing masses of Americans to embrace communism.

They denied that the verdict would drive the party underground.

William Z. Foster, national chairman of the party, whose ill health prevented his trial with the others, denounced the verdict as evidence that the capitalist system is "bewildered and doomed."

While their attorneys prepared to file appeals to be carried to the United States Supreme Court, the convicted men remained jailed in the Federal House of Detention awaiting sentence next Friday. They face maximum sentences of 10 years and fines of $10,000 each.

The five defense attorneys and Eugene Dennis, general secretary of the Communist party who acted as his own attorney in the trial, also must begin serving short jail sentences for contempt of court starting Nov. 15.

"The fight for freedom has only begun," the Communist Daily Worker said today in an editorial, "and there are millions of Americans reading and discussing this frameup of the 11 Communist leaders today who are stirring to take part in the fight."

"This verdict must be the turning point. It is now more than ever possible to rally the kind of movement which will throw the verdict back into the teeth of the men who plotted the frameup."

The newspaper called up on the 80,000 members of the party to send wires demanding the immediate freedom of the 11 leaders to President Truman and to Attorney General J. Howard McGrath.

Mental Health Program Praised

BAYTOWN, Tex., Oct. 15 (UP)—The citizens committee for mental health drew praise today from E. M. Kirkpatrick, Jr., of Baytown, president of the Texas Jaycees.

He said formation of the committee is an important step toward informing the public of the need for improvement in handling the state's mental health problems.

Earlier this week, Gov. Allan Shivers asked approximately fifty Texas Jaycees to serve on the committee. The group, to be composed of some 300 citizens, has as its aim better treatment for the mentally ill.

The immediate goal of the Jaycees committee as well as the citizens committee on mental health is passage of the proposed constitutional amendment providing for waiver of jury trial in cases for the commitment of the mentally ill to state hospitals.

The amendment is one of ten to be voted on at the Nov. 8 election.

Caso March Has New Slogan

AUSTIN, Oct. 15 (UP)—Caso March, formerly law school professor and three-time candidate for governor, had a new slogan today for his 1950 gubernatorial campaign.

The cry: "For Every Man, A Tax-Free Home!"

March said the slogan exactly suited his plan of freeing the small-home owner of all taxes. Which meant, he said, "state, county, city and school taxes."

Under the candidate's program, the load of taxes would be shifted from the "little man" to the big property owners.

The result, he said, would be more money for the state.

March credited former Gov. Pat M. Neff with having suggested both the slogan and the program.

GREEN SNUBS LEWIS ON STRIKE SETTLEMENT PLAN

By United Press
With more than 1,500,000 workers on strike in the coal and steel dispute, AFL President William Green and CIO president Philip Murray gave John L. Lewis the cold shoulder today in his plan for a giant alliance to press labor's fourth-round welfare demands.

Meanwhile, the nation was virtually assured that it would not suffer a big meat packing strike such as halted production in 1947.

Three unions—one CIO, another AFL, and an independent unit—reached agreement with Swift & Co. for bracket 1 cent to 15-cent pay increases to 42,500 workers in 45 plants. The agreements were expected to set a pattern for the entire industry.

Although tickets can be secured at the time of the barbecue, it is hoped that all who can will do so immediately, Clark reported.

The loud speaker is to be furnished through the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hollifield of the Firestone Store in Eastland. E. R. Eudaly, Ft. Worth will speak to the group.

Someone to Love

By IRENE LONNEN ERNHART

THE STORY: Jenny Potekas meets Tod Decker, who is in a hospital, where he was treated for a brain injury. He breaks the news that his fiancée, Liz Conover, had eloped with another man. Although Jenny is not one of Liz's best friends, she is a close friend of Tod's. When Tod hears the news, he becomes so upset that Jenny is "holding" Jenny thinks that Tod will attempt to hate her for having told him the news.

THE least he could do was buy Jenny a drink, Tod said, so they stopped at a small bar near the station. It was dimly lit and almost empty. The usual juke box played softly and monotonously from a corner.
 While Jenny toyed with a cocktail, sipping it slowly and making it last, Tod downed three drinks in quick succession.
 She had to keep explaining it over and over to him, just what Liz had said on the phone. He couldn't quite believe it. But after the drinks, he quit talking about Liz all at once, and seemed to notice her for the first time.
 "You look cute, Jenny. I like that little hat with the whatamacallit tied under your chin." He grinned at her amiably, signaled the waitress for another drink, and continued to talk, his voice blurred over so slightly now. "We used to have some pretty good times together before I ever met Liz, didn't we, Jenny?"
 Jenny nodded. She knew he was tight, but nonetheless it pleased her that he recalled how things used to be between them.
 "Remember when you and I and your Pop used to go out Sundays to the shack and fish all day, and go swimming?"
 She nodded. Quick tears sprang into her eyes for no reason at all.
 "Remember the time, Jenny, we rented a boat and went down river fishing and I forgot to tie the boat?"
 "And the current took it off, and we had to walk all the way back," Jenny put in laughing, "and we thought we were going to have to pay for the boat?"
 "Yeah, but they found it later so we didn't have to pay after all." He moved his glass in circles on the table, reflectively. And then he looked up and said, "How is Pop, anyhow?"
 Jenny swallowed and looked down in silence for a moment, and then she said, "Pop's dead, Tod. I thought you knew."
 "Oh! Sorry."

"We used to have some pretty good times together before I ever met Liz, didn't we, Jenny?" Tod asked.
 and continued, "Sometimes I think it would be better to have only married girls in the shop, except even married ones have their ups and downs these days. They're always getting babies or divorces or worrying about finding a place to live!"
 Jenny changed the subject by asking if she could bring the suit back and exchange it for something else. He agreed amiably.
 That night she took her courage in both hands and phoned the Duncan apartment. Tod's sister Harriet answered.
 "No, Jenny, we ain't got the faintest idea where Tod went. Joe said he thought he saw him get in a taxi yesterday day near Madison street, but he couldn't be sure. Ma raised Cain that day when he came home and said he wasn't going to marry Liz Conover. Course you couldn't blame Ma, now could you? She's had a hard life, and we was all lookin' forward to better times with Tod married into the Conover family." She cleared her throat. "It's just like Ma said—"
 Jenny broke in. "If you should see Tod, will you tell him I phoned?"
 "Oh, Well, yes, I guess I could," Harriet said, sounding miffed at having her recital cut short.
 After she had hung up, Jenny sat there a moment, her hand knotting the phone cord. Madison street. The very worst part of town, peopled with derelicts and bums, every other doorway a pool-room or tavern, dim stairways leading up to 50-cent flophouses. It couldn't have been Tod that Joe saw. Or could it? Madison street would be a good place to hide if you were hurt and discouraged and didn't want to run into anyone you knew. She lay awake in the darkness a long time that night, thinking about him and wondering. And through the long week that followed she tormented herself with a thousand speculations about him, visiting him sick and miserable and lonely in some hideous ramshackle about town, without money or without anyone to talk to.
 And then one day she saw Tod again, quite unexpectedly.

"You look cute, Jenny. I like that little hat with the whatamacallit tied under your chin." He grinned at her amiably, signaled the waitress for another drink, and continued to talk, his voice blurred over so slightly now. "We used to have some pretty good times together before I ever met Liz, didn't we, Jenny?"
 Jenny nodded. She knew he was tight, but nonetheless it pleased her that he recalled how things used to be between them.
 "Remember when you and I and your Pop used to go out Sundays to the shack and fish all day, and go swimming?"
 She nodded. Quick tears sprang into her eyes for no reason at all.
 "Remember the time, Jenny, we rented a boat and went down river fishing and I forgot to tie the boat?"
 "And the current took it off, and we had to walk all the way back," Jenny put in laughing, "and we thought we were going to have to pay for the boat?"
 "Yeah, but they found it later so we didn't have to pay after all." He moved his glass in circles on the table, reflectively. And then he looked up and said, "How is Pop, anyhow?"
 Jenny swallowed and looked down in silence for a moment, and then she said, "Pop's dead, Tod. I thought you knew."
 "Oh! Sorry."

"We used to have some pretty good times together before I ever met Liz, didn't we, Jenny?" Tod asked.
 and continued, "Sometimes I think it would be better to have only married girls in the shop, except even married ones have their ups and downs these days. They're always getting babies or divorces or worrying about finding a place to live!"
 Jenny changed the subject by asking if she could bring the suit back and exchange it for something else. He agreed amiably.
 That night she took her courage in both hands and phoned the Duncan apartment. Tod's sister Harriet answered.
 "No, Jenny, we ain't got the faintest idea where Tod went. Joe said he thought he saw him get in a taxi yesterday day near Madison street, but he couldn't be sure. Ma raised Cain that day when he came home and said he wasn't going to marry Liz Conover. Course you couldn't blame Ma, now could you? She's had a hard life, and we was all lookin' forward to better times with Tod married into the Conover family." She cleared her throat. "It's just like Ma said—"
 Jenny broke in. "If you should see Tod, will you tell him I phoned?"
 "Oh, Well, yes, I guess I could," Harriet said, sounding miffed at having her recital cut short.
 After she had hung up, Jenny sat there a moment, her hand knotting the phone cord. Madison street. The very worst part of town, peopled with derelicts and bums, every other doorway a pool-room or tavern, dim stairways leading up to 50-cent flophouses. It couldn't have been Tod that Joe saw. Or could it? Madison street would be a good place to hide if you were hurt and discouraged and didn't want to run into anyone you knew. She lay awake in the darkness a long time that night, thinking about him and wondering. And through the long week that followed she tormented herself with a thousand speculations about him, visiting him sick and miserable and lonely in some hideous ramshackle about town, without money or without anyone to talk to.

Speaking on the Subject of Quality—
... it is always an appreciative compliment when so many of our customers tell us they like our abstracts. They must for many of them have been doing business with us for more than a quarter of a century and still are. There is no secret attached to this expression of confidence. A quality product produces confidence. And we are proud that we have both—the confidence of a host of customers and a quality product to sell them.

Christian Science Services
"Doctrine of Atonement" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 16.

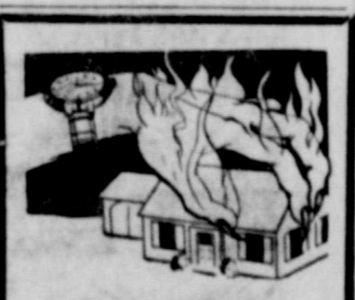

The Golden Text is: "All things are of God, who hath reconciled us to himself by Jesus Christ, and hath given to us the ministry of reconciliation" (11. Corinthians 5:18).
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For he is our peace, who hath made both one; and hath broken down the middle wall of partition between us" (Ephesians 2:14).
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus aided in reconciling man to God by giving man a truer sense of Love, the divine Principle of Jesus' teachings, and this truer sense of Love redeems man from the law of matter, sin, and death by the law of Spirit,—the law of divine Love" (page 19).

"LAKE ERIE" SPRANG A LEAK—Senators got a jolt when the water from a huge painting of the Battle of Lake Erie began to trickle out of the picture and flow in the general direction of the Potomac. Explanation: The Senate roof was flooded to prevent fires while renovation workmen used blow torches. The water leaked through on the painting, inflicting considerable damage. The sailor at left appears to be debating the problem as workmen examine the damage.

Bulldogs Take First Conference Game

DETERMINED LINE PAVES WAY FOR 25 TO 7 VICTORY OVER DUBLIN

After seeing Dublin take an early first quarter lead of seven points, The Ranger Bulldogs scored twice in the second, and twice in the fourth periods to win their opening conference game 25 to 7. Perfect blocking and brilliant defensive play by the Bulldog line gave them the needed margin to defeat the Lions.

The Bulldogs received the opening kick off and worked the ball up to mid-field before being forced to kick. Edly McKinney, who did some nice kicking throughout the game, kicked out of bounds on the Lions 13 yard line.

With Gilbreath, Wiggins and Ables carrying, the Lions worked the ball up to their own 41 yard line. Then Ables handed off to Gilbreath, who slashed over left guard, broke into the secondary, cut to the left sideline and went 59 yards to cross goal standing up for the Lions only score. Ellis converted for the extra point.

After an exchange of kicks Dublin was threatening again. Ables on a bootleg play carried from the Ranger 39 to the 10 for a first down, and putting the Lions in scoring position. The Lions came out in spread formation, tried to run and were stopped cold. Passing next, Ables tried to hit Gilbreath, but it was knocked down. Two other ground plays failed to gain and the Bulldogs took over on downs.

McKinney got off a beautiful kick to get the Bulldogs out of Dangerous territory going 64 yards to the Lions 26. Ables shot a long pass to Gilbreath which was intercepted by Buddy Hamrick on the Lions 47 as the quarter ended.

The Bulldogs really went to work, covering the remaining 47 yards in seven plays to score. The line opened holes that were enormous, and gave the backs good down field blocking. Camacho got five and Hamrick picked up 13 around the ends. Camacho circled end again to the 15. Hamrick and then Camacho hit the line again to move the ball to the 5. Williams carried straight over center the remaining yardage to score. Stiles failed to convert.

Taking the Bulldogs kick the Lions, with Ables passing, and Gilbreath running worked the ball to the Ranger 30, where the Bulldogs took over on downs. Hamrick picked up 11 yards to the 41. Hamrick's pass to Stiles was no good. Williams, on a pitch out, swept right end to get 9 yards, and McKinney hit the line for 6.

Camacho took a pitch out sweeping left end, found his blockers who were doing a whale of a job on the 33. The Lions failed to gain on three downs and were forced to kick. Simpson returned the kick to the Dublin 45. Ranger received a 15 yard penalty for clipping which put them back to their own 42. Camacho took a pitch out from Hamrick, circled wide to the left, picked up perfect blocking and raced 58 yards for the score. It was hard to find a Dublin man on his feet as Camacho crossed the goal. Hamrick failed to convert and the Bulldogs led 25 to 7.

After the kick the Lions took to the air and were moving down the field, when Billy Simpson intercepted a pass on the Ranger 20 and did a nice bit of running to return it to the 40. The Bulldogs were starting another drive and moving down the field as the game ended.

The credit goes to the Ranger forward wall for their smart defensive work and precision blocking for carrying the Bulldogs to their third consecutive victory. Defeating the Dublin Lions 25 to 7.

Old School Bell Retired
MARTINS FERRY, O. (UP)
 —The old school bell will lose its final home this summer when the north building is razed to make way for a modern one. The bell railed children to classes for the past 80 years. It also has sounded for every blaze in town since the fire department was organized 60 years ago.

Military Prisoner Recaptured After Jumping From Plane

Rajk, 2 Others Hanged Saturday

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Oct. 15 (UP) — László Rajk, once Hungary's No. 2 Communist, and two other men were hanged at dawn today for crimes pinned on them in one of the biggest Communist treason cases since the Moscow purge in 1939.

The foreign minister announced that the death sentence given three of the eight defendants were carried out at 6 A. M. (midnight EST).

All three were convicted of spying for the Tito Regime of Yugoslavia and for Western powers. The espionage charge was the keystone of an intricate web of intrigue spun around the defendants in the week-long trial.

The defendants were charged with conspiring with Marshal Tito and American agents to overthrow regime of Hungary.

Next was Cpl. William R. Walton, 39, Decatur, Ga., also based at Camp Hood. He married Matha Elise Mockel, 27, of Oberheimweg. The phone shook in his hand as he asked her, "are you scared, honey?"

Last was PFC. Billie P. J. J. Kins, 22, Nacogdoches, Tex., stationed at Carswell Airforce Base here. His bride was Ursula Eberhardt, 21, of Bad Kissingen. He was so happy over the ceremony that he talked with her an extra minute. The minute cost him $5. The phone tolls cost Murphy and Walton $16 each, and Judkins, $20.

Hats And More Hats

Hats of highest ranking Naval officers rest beneath a model of the B-36 while the owners of the hats decry excess Naval economies and high appropriations for the Air Force super bomber at the House Armed Services Committee's unification hearing in Washington Friday. Among the hats are those of Adm. Denfeld; Adm. Kinkaid and others. (NEA Telephoto.)

the Navy's power and to deprive the nation of the sea strength it needs for its security.

Navy officers told the committee that Defense Secretary Louis Johnson's unification policies were hurting—not helping—the nation's overall defense strength.

They were particularly bitter about Johnson's order cancelling their giant supercarrier for Naval Aviation.

The defence department, the Army and the Air Force will present their rebuttal next week. Besides Johnson and Collins, others who will testify include Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the joint Chief of Staff; Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, and Air Secretary, W. Symington.

They were expected to defend their unification policies and to assure the lawmakers that, contrary to its fears, the Navy has been assigned a leading role in overall war strategy.

Symington, it was believed, will make an earnest effort to combat the Navy's argument that the Air Force is putting too much confidence in its B-36 Super-bomber.

ARMY CHIEF OF STAFF BEING ORDERED HOME

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 (UP) —The Army ordered its chief to staff, Gen. J. Lawton Collins, home from his Far Eastern trip to help answer Navy charges that unification has been a failure.

Collins originally planned to return to Washington late this month. But Army Undersecretary Tracy S. Voorhees told him last night to cut short his tour so that he could testify before the House Armed Service Committee next week.

The committee has been holding hearings on the Navy's claim that the Army and Air Force have combined to whittle away

3 Wed German Brides By Phone

FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 15 (UP) — Three GI bridegrooms said today that writing letters to their respective brides of only one day was a poor way to spend their honeymoon.

But, they sighed, it was better than having no brides at all.

The three soldiers were married to their German sweethearts in a Trans-Atlantic telephone wedding ceremony yesterday by the Rev. A. B. Lightfoot, pastor of the Sylvan Heights Baptist Church here.

The grooms were nervous, the pastor was calm.

Cpl. William J. Murphy, 29 New London, Conn., stationed at Camp Hood, Tex. was first to say his "I do" over the telephone.

His bride, Christine Anna Odenheimer, 19, was in Frankfurt.
