2 In Hospital Result Of Car Crash Monday

Wm S. Echols of Blackwell, and O. M. Henderson of Sweetwater, are in the Eastland Memorial hospital as the result of injuries sustained in a car wreck three miles east of Eastland about 10 o'clock Monday morning. Neither of the two is believed to be seriously injured, but are being held for observation.

Slick pavement was given as the cause, as neither of the men were driving at a rapid rate of speed.

The '50 Ford pickup headed west began spinning as it made the hill and curve, and the '51 Studebaker was unable to get out of it's patch. The Studebaker was a complete wreck and the pickup was badly smashed.

It takes 34 muscles to frown, and only 13 to smile. Why make the extra effort?

Bill McComas says that the Lions - Rotary basketball benefit for the March of Dimes—it'll be unrec'd at the Recreation Bldg. in downtown Ranger on Thursday, the 9th—is really going to be a dog-and-kill that fans will really get their money's worth. We'll rickie out details and added features of the night's fun from day to day. In the meantime, circle that date—Thursday, Feb. 19—on your calendar! ... Joe Dennis, The Times publisher, noted a flock of geese flying northward over Ranger early this morning. "Don't look as if we're going to have any winter weather," Joe said. ... Have you seen my operation? Some 10,000,000 Americans will undergo operations within the next year. . . . Dictation is what a man gives his secretary and takes from his wife. . . . The Cisco Industrial Foundation is not only a great community - building idea, but a very sensible and workable plan of development. The Ciscoans are now angling for location of a big plant which may employ 500 or more workers. And—the odds, right now, are terrifically in their favor. What helps Cisco will help the rest of the county. . . . A Cisco citizen remarked the other day that it "would have been nice if Cisco had joined Eastland and Ranger in their big dam and water supply project." The Ciscoan added that that city faces a water problem, will have to do something about it in the future. There has been talk, he said, of a dam and water supply near Cisco. The cost: About $500,000. . . . Did you know: Al-

Rotarians, Lions MOD Cage Battle Set For Feb. 19

The fur will fly and fans will roar during one of the city's most hilarious athletic events ever staged when this-clash of the Ranger Lions and the Ranger Rotary Clubs collide in a basketball benefit for the 1953 March of Dimes at the Recreation Bldg., in downtown Ranger next week.

Plans for the court battle between the rival Ranger civic clubs were mapped Monday.

The big duel is slated to be unrec'd on Thursday evening, Feb. 19.

In addition to the action on the hard-wood, there'll be other activity of special interest to sports fans. A concessions stand will dispense hot dogs, cold drinks, candy and peanuts.

Also there'll be a big cake and pie auction.

All proceeds, of course, from the night's fun will go to the current 1953 March of Dimes campaign which continues in progress.

Lem Rushing, Ranger laundry operator and civic leader, is the city's '53 MOD chairman.

Admission to next week's basketball benefit will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

MRS. HAL HUNTER
Ranger Woman Speaks to Ciscoans Monday

RHS Teacher Speaks At Cisco Women's Meet

Mrs. Hal Hunter of Ranger was presented by Beta Upsilon chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma in a program on "International Relations with Austria," before the City Federation Monday at 3 o'clock at the Federated Women's Club in Cisco.

Mrs. Hunter is widely known as an educator. She was listed in Who's Who in American Education in 1945-46, 1946-47, and again in 1951-52. She has had works published in "Modern American Poetry," and has contributed, by invitation, to various professional magazines such as the "Texas Outlook," and others.

For the past twenty years, up to the fall of 1952, Mrs. Hunter was on the faculty of Ranger Junior College as an instructor, and Guidance Counselor. In September, 1952, she went into the English Department of Ranger High School.

In her work with Delta Kappa Gamma, she has proved herself a forceful, interesting and well-informed speaker.

Cpl. M. R. Maynard Is Enroute Home

Army Cpl. Melvin R. Maynard, whose wife, Bonnie, lives in Albany, Texas, is enroute home from Bremerhaven, Germany, for release from active duty.

Stationed overseas since last April, he has been serving as a supply clerk at the Bremerhaven Port of Embarkation.

Corporal Maynard entered the Army in March, 1951 and was stationed at Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md., before his European assignment.

He is a former employee of the Coca Cola Co., of Eastland. Maynard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin L. Maynard, of Carbon.

Let's Keep 'Em Crossed—

Bulldogs Battle Jackets Tonite

Coach Sam Aills' 1953 Ranger High Bulldogs, now desperate to remain in the red-hot scramble for the District 10-AA basketball title, jump into the frying pan tonight over at Stephenville, when they clash with the Stephenville Yellow Jackets to determine the winner of the recently-ended loop round-robin play.

The featured 10-AA cage clash, a hard-fought encounter to break the Ranger-Stephenville tie for the top spot in the schoolboy league standings, is slated to get underway at 7:30 p.m.

"My boys are ready," Coach Aills said today. "And," he added, "I believe they're in the mood to fight—and to win."

In preparation for tonight's all-important tilt, the RHS cage men lashed their ambitious charges through a rugged three-hour drill yesterday.

Nine Maroon & White squadmen are due to make the journey to the Stephenville court tonight, and scores of fans are expected to follow the RHS hoopers to the enemy city for their showdown battle.

Coach Aills had his offensive and defensive strategies pretty well doped out this morning and had made up his mind definitely regarding his starting five with exception of one of the guard spots.

Roddy Carter and Chico Mendoza, stellar marksmen, will start at the forward slots, tall Tommy

Cloudy Skies May Drop Rain Today, Tonight

The weather picture for Eastland County was a big question mark at noon today.

Late Monday, the U. S. Weather Bureau had forecast arrival of a few cold front by 8 a.m. this morning. But at 8 a.m., Eastland Countians enjoyed their usual mild, spring-like weather, although skies were heavily overcast.

Possibility of thunder showers appeared strongly at mid-day, and—according to reports of weathermen—rain is due for the section today or tonight.

The Wednesday forecast calls for continuing cloudy skies, cooler temperatures—and also rain.

This afternoon's high mercury reading was tonight in the 30s, slightly above freezing.

Warmer weather was due for Wednesday afternoon with the temperature forecast to hit a peak level in the low 50s.

The West Texas outlook: Tuesday mostly cloudy and cooler except in the Del Rio-Eagle Pass area. Rain and snow ending in the afternoon. Wednesday mostly cloudy and cold.

2 Wildcats Are Announced For Rising Star Area

Location of a new Eastland County wildcat was announced late Monday.

The new test has been staked one mile north of Rising Star as the Frank W. Young of Springfield, Ill., No. 1 Charles W. Ballew.

Site for the No. 1 Ballew is on a 69.7 acre lease, 1,297 feet from the south and 165 feet from the east lines of the northeast quarter in Section 11, Block 2, ETRR Survey.

The wildcat, to be rotary-drilled, is scheduled for a depth of 1,900 feet.

Another location in the Rising Star vicinity also was staked over the weekend.

The No. 1 G. T. Butler Estate was spotted seven miles southwest of the Eastland County community in nearby Brown County. The test is being put down by James S. Smith of Wichita Falls.

Slated for 1,900 feet with rotary, it is 2,250 feet from the north and 1,650 feet from the west lines of the Benson Survey.

The lease is composed of 112 acres.

3,106 Texans In January Draft

State selective service headquarters reported Monday that 3,106 Texans were drafted into the Army during January.

Voluntary enlistments totaled 2,848, making a total of 5,954 men entering the various armed forces during the month.

All the January draftees went into the Army. The Air Force led in enlistments with 1,079, followed by the Army with 732, the Marine Corps with 521, the Navy with 503 and the Coast Guard with 13.

No Arrests Here Over Weekend
Ranger's police front continued quiet—absolutely quiet—over the weekend period, Police Chief W. G. Founds reported Monday.

"There were no arrests, not even for drunkness over the weekend stretch," the RPD head said.

DR. CALVIN W. HARRIS ISSUES STATEMENT OF CANDIDACY FOR OFFICE OF RANGER MAYOR

Dr. Calvin W. Harris, Ranger physician and civic leader who announced as a candidate for the office of Mayor of Ranger late last week today issued a formal statement regarding his candidacy for the city's highest office during the municipal election on Tuesday, April 7.

The Ranger physician is the only applicant thus far to announce for the office which will be vacant following expiration of the present term of Mayor Price Crawley. The present city head, recently appointed to the board of directors of Texas Southern University by Gov. Allan Shivers, will not be a candidate for re-election to the city post.

Here is Dr. Harris' statement: "It has long been my firm conviction that in the immediate foreseeable future Ranger has within its grasp manifold opportunities for increasing in population, industrial development, trade, and commerce and thereby furthering the financial and moral welfare of its citizens. The attitude of our citizens reflects an urgent desire for more rapid progress in this direction—this is mirrored by our determination to provide ourselves with an adequate water supply, improvement of roads leading to the city, trades day activities and others. But we also know that these acts alone will not suffice unless we exert a strong executive effort to promote the general welfare, and preserve and improve that standards of our society for our posterity. It is mandatory that a strong executive branch of the city government aid and assist the people and their representatives in directing the course of this growth at the same time providing an honest and forthright management of our existing municipal governmental organization. With these convictions recommending us to singleness of purpose, major contentions cannot sustain among us.

"My decision to enter the race for mayor has not been an easy one. I have been admonished and encouraged by scores of friends and acquaintances, but the final choice was mine alone.

"I have not identified myself with any group or faction and have no intentions of doing so, but will exert sincere and judicious effort to work and cooperate with any and all to accomplish a smooth, progressive, and efficient administration.

"In accepting the challenge of this office I do so humbly and with a deep sense of personal responsibility to the citizens of Ranger whom I shall, if elected, serve.

"With these convictions, I therefore have offered my name as a candidate for mayor of the city of Ranger and, if I am elected, pledge you the maximum in honesty, physical and mental ability, together with utmost integrity, to our common goals shall be achieved.

"Calvin W. Harris, M. D."

Eastland County Citizens Are Stirred; Eastland, Ranger, Cisco Groups In Spirited Opposition

The announcement that Omar Burkett, state representative of the 76th District—comprised of Eastland, Callahan and Shackelford Counties—has submitted a bill to the legislature calling for consolidation of the 91st District Court of Eastland with the 90th District Court of Breckenridge in Stephens County aroused spirited opposition today in Cisco, Eastland and Ranger.

Reports this morning indicate that Rep. Burkett's bill, which stumped many when it was first disclosed over the weekend, has stirred up a "hornet's nest" in the Eastland County area.

Feeling was especially torrid at Eastland, county seat of the county, where petitions now are being circulated in opposition to the proposed legislation—House Bill 269.

And opposition to the measure was reported gaining momentum by the hour.

The current wave of controversy, an overwhelming quantity of which is in heated opposition to Rep. Burkett's proposal, was set off Sunday when the Cisco Daily Press carried a news story detailing the purpose of the bill.

When contacted by Ted Mayer of the Press staff for a statement on the bill, Mr. Burkett said that the measure was in keeping with his pledge to do everything within his power to cut expenses in an all-out effort to keep from raising taxes. He said that a lengthy study of the situation in the 90th and 91st Courts showed him that the transfer would not overburden the 90th District Court in that neither office had sufficient work to merit a full-time judge.

Mr. Burkett explained his intentions by saying that Eastland County would not be penalized by the consolidation because the presiding judge of the 90th District Court in Breckenridge would come to Eastland County to hear the cases due for trial. He further said that there were two retired judges living in Eastland who could be called to sit on the bench at times when the docket might be heavy.

Under the new bill, the judge of the 90th District Court would preside over cases filed in Eastland, Stephens and Young Counties. He said that the proposal was in the form of a local bill and indicated that he thought it had a good chance of passing. Mr. Burkett said that the passage of the bill would eliminate the office of judge of the 91st District Court, and would eliminate the need for court reporters and other employees now used in court. He said that it would not effect the office of district clerk.

Mr. Burkett said in the press interview that passage of the bill would save the taxpayers considerable, and said that he submitted the bill after talking with almost 300 Eastland County people, including many lawyers, who were for the proposal. It was recommended by the State Bar Association in a study of the court situation a year or two ago.

Other bills submitted by Mr. Burkett recently, also designed as money saving measures, included one which would change the present State Board of Control from a full-time three man affair. He said that he believed that the affairs of the board could be handled on a part-time basis at great savings to the state.

He also submitted a measure that would reduce the State Game Commission from nine members to three members. Mr. Burkett said that he believed that a streamlined commission would increase the effectiveness of the board and at the same time release money for other uses, eliminating the need for tax increases.

He expressed himself as bitterly opposed to House Bill No. 3, recommended by Governor Shivers, changing existing school measures. He said that the bill would eliminate many of the smaller schools, such as the ones in his district.

Bank Holiday Next Thursday

The Commercial State Bank, Ranger, will be closed all day Thursday, Feb. 12, in observance of Abraham Lincoln's birthday, a legal bank holiday, it was announced today by officials of the bank.

All patrons are requested to transact all important business tomorrow—Wednesday—since the bank will not be open again until 9 a.m. Friday.

Country Club Meets Tonight

Members of the Ranger Country Club will meet out at the club tonight for a short business meeting and dinner, T. C. Wylie, president, announced early today.

All members, the Country Club head said, are requested to attend tonight's event.

Rebs Are Still Red Hot—

San Angelo quintet could be a cork horse in the race.

Ranger gets another crack at San Angelo at Ranger Tuesday night. If the Rams win, they will be tied with ASC for the league leadership when they come to Arlington Saturday.

The Tarleton State Plowboys haven't won a league game yet, but the Stephenville quintet is improving and could play a major role in the title chase by knocking off some of its favored rivals. The Plowboys play Schreiner at Stephenville Thursday and go to Denton Friday for a non-league game with the North Texas State Frosh.

At present, Barney Aaron, Schreiner's line forward, is far ahead of all conference scorers with a season total of 293 points in 20 games.

Band Boosters Postpone Meet Until February 17

The Ranger High Band Boosters Club will not meet tonight as had been previously scheduled, it was announced this morning.

The RHS band-backers instead will meet Thursday evening, Feb. 19, club leaders said.

The meeting tonight was postponed due to the basketball game between the Ranger High Bulldogs and the Stephenville High Yellow-jackets to be played over at Stephenville.

Six Injured In Auto Accidents During January

Eastland County had a "deathless" January on the highways, but six persons were injured in automobile accidents during the first month of 1953, a report of the 13-county Abilene district of the Texas Department of Safety revealed today.

Month's total for the 13 counties in the district: Three persons killed, 40 injured, and total property damage amounting to $40,760.

The three fatalities—one in each of three counties—occurred in Jones, Taylor, and Shackelford Counties.

Taylor County had the greatest number of accidents with 19 and a total of $8,840 in property damage. Eight persons were injured in the county.

Second in injuries in the district were Callahan and Eastland Counties with six personal injuries each. Jones and Nolan Counties reported five injuries each, Scurry four, Mitchell and Stephens two, and one each in Fisher and Shackelford Counties.

There were no injuries in Haskell or Stonewall Counties. Stone-wall County did not have any accidents during the entire month. Haskell County had one in which $850 in property damage was done.

Rating highest in property damage over the district was Jones County with a total of $9,245. The damage occurred in four accidents of a total of nine in the county. Five persons were injured and one died in the county in four accidents.

Callahan County reported $6,115 in property damage in seven of a total of 13 accidents. Six persons were injured in six accidents. There were 78 accidents in the district during January.

Texas Gets Total $182,854,000 In Government Contracts During 1952

DALLAS — Texas firms were awarded 910 unclassified Federal government contracts for materials and supplies amounting to $182,854,000 during the calendar year 1952, according to figures just compiled here by the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions of the U. S. Department of Labor.

The Texas total included 198 prime contracts and 712 contracts on which Texas firms acted as suppliers in whole or in part, Regional Director William J. Rogers said. For the five states of Region VIII, there were 1,630 contracts of both types, valued at $348,760,000.

Such figures were compiled from weekly reports of contract awards made to the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions which are charged by law with enforcement of both the Fair Labor Standards Act (or Wage-Hour Law) and the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act.

Covered by the Texas contracts was a wide variety of items, supplies, articles, and equipment needed chiefly for the defense forces of this nation and its allies. Included were such varied commodities as gasoline, rice, aircraft parts, raw cotton, helicopters, hot tamales, sugar, jet fuel, flour, and wire rope.

Totals for firms in adjacent Southwestern states during the year just passed were as follows: Arkansas — 22 prime contracts and suppliers on 67 contracts. Total: $89,949,000.

Louisiana — 50 prime contracts and suppliers on 294 contracts. Total: $89,849,000.

New Mexico — 23 prime contracts and suppliers on 94 contracts. Total: $4,499,000.

Oklahoma — 59 prime contracts and suppliers on 201 contracts.

Total $63,245,900. Totals for five states — 352 prime contracts and suppliers on 1,278 contracts. Total $348,760,000.

Performance on all such government contracts is governed by the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act which sets basic standards for work done on government contracts exceeding $10,000. It requires certain minimum wages, restricts child labor, prohibits convict labor, and requires safe and sanitary working conditions.

It requires that the contractor be a manufacturer of or a regular dealer in the materials, articles, or equipment called for by the contract. In recent times, however, the Secretary of Labor has made certain exceptions, authorized by the law, and permitted contracts to go to production pools formed by smaller manufacturers.

The law authorizes the Secretary to determine prevailing minimum wages in the particular or similar industry, and the contractor may not pay less than this determined prevailing wage rate. Thus far he has established more than 50 such minimum wage levels, the latest of which was $1 an hour minimum for the cotton, silk, and synthetics branches of the textile industry.

Boxing Gets New Type Of Clock

A new type of clock that virtually replaces a timekeeper at ringside has been installed at the Laurel Garden boxing arena at Newark, N. J. at a cost of $10,000.

The clock, specially built for the specifications of boxing, has a 30-inch dial and is operated by push-button controls at ringside.

During three minute rounds, the clock face automatically flashes a daylight blue color and during one-minute rest periods, it flashes a red color. A bell siren announces the end of rounds and a buzzer sounds at the 10-second point before the beginning of each round.

State Athletic Commissioner Abe J. Greene called the innovation a "great contribution to boxing" for spectators as well as for television viewers.

Sothis HOUSEKEEPING

I fondly hope that no starry-eyed bride takes it amiss when I mention that life after Lehigh isn't all sweet music. In the course of your housekeeping career you are sure as shopping you'll acquire a list of pet peeves that might give you aching the blues! Take the problems that threatened to send me shrieking into a straight jacket... the moisture drip in our otherwise well-behaved bathroom. That's a situation that might not occur to a lass about to tally down the aisle but tanks do have a way of dripping on and on until a good many irritating moments are spent mopping up those annoying puddles. And it's not only the mops and fuses: it's the resulting rust, floor rot, and mildew that complicate the picture.

If I sound grim I will serve to highlight the fact that I felt like Christopher Columbus when I discovered a way to and de-structive moisture drip end for all! It's so simple without tools and adjustable grips hold the tray securely in place on the underside of the tank. The same grips make it possible to merely slip out the tray for easy cleaning. To make certain that the worry-free attachment will be available to everyone, the manufacturer has made the tray in two models to fit most tanks. All in all, Veri-Neet is the one sure, easy, sanitary and economical way to get moisture drip off your peeve parade.
It could be that other headaches for the housewife are as simple to cure: I'll keep on the hunt and let you know!

New Deer Tag Is Considered

The Texas Game and Fish Commission tentatively decided to replace the present paper deer tag used by hunters.

Meeting in quarterly session in Austin, the Commission agreed that a proposed new metal tag would be preferable. The Commissioners reported the present paper tag is too difficult to affix permanently to a carcass, as provided by law, and also held that the paper tag sometimes is reused.

The theory behind the tag, according to the executive secretary, is to identify the owner of harvested deer and to prevent any individual from taking more than two deer per season under the general law.

The commission postponed discussion of a proposed law permitting a block of Hill Country counties to experiment with a limited doe harvest as a means of balancing the deer herds. Two Marble Falls men—Vern Dillon and Jack Crownover—appeared before the commission to suggest that the present system for taking buck deer is preferable.

The commission approved purchase of the J. C. Gambill Wildlife Refuge near Paris, subject to final sanction of the United States Fish and Wildlife Service which would provide three fourths of the funds under the Pittman-Robertson Act. It acted after the executive secretary reported that a minimum of 411 acres should be added to the present 702-acre refuge to make the area manageable. The commission also agreed to study possibility of using part of the refuge for propagating quail.

The commission postponed action on increasing the Gene Howe Restoration Area near Canadian and also delayed consideration of proposed pass construction on the Gulf Coast, pending further study.

Harvey B. Richards of Houston, representing the Texas Field Archery Association, advocated a special bow and arrow big game season and was advised to prepare a bill with such provisions for legislative action.

The next regular meeting will be held in Wichita Falls in April.

Woman's Bird Carving Hobby Big Business

Mrs. Earl Gleason took up model bird carving as a hobby 10 years ago. By Christmas this year, she expects to have her total up to 1,000. Mrs. Gleason, a grandmother, has become known as the "bird lady of Pierrepont." She carves her life-sized models from blocks of basswood or poplar which her husband cuts-for-her in the surrounding woods. Bird lovers from all parts of northern New York come to view her collection. The hobby, she adds, has developed into a profitable gift business.

And a gal typewriter jockey, Gloria Wilson, down Houston way, sat down at her mill the other day and banged out the following interesting paragraphs regarding same:

Beware all you unmarried folks, Dan Cupid is sharpening the points of the arrows in his famous quiver getting ready for that great romantic feastday, St. Valentine's Day, which will be here Saturday!

We all know the legend of this mischievous little cherub whose wandering arrows sometimes are caught by a freak wind causing some of the most unusual of romances to begin... and whose arrows more often purposely bind two hearts that formerly were antagonistic!

Expressions of sentiment and affection are winding their way through the mails and are being readied for personal delivery by oldsters whose love has weathered the storms of time as well as youngsters who have yet to experience their first storm on the sea of love.

And even the very young are attuned to the love that marks the season with crude — yes destined to be cherished forever — home-made valentines being carefully put together "for the mommy and daddy I love best."

Gifts of perfume, candy, and flowers are special tokens of affection annually given in homage to loved ones. But perhaps the most frequently exchanged remembrance is the paper valentine.

Let's Be Sweethearts Again!

THIS year's Valentines are chuckle-full of romantic notions about what to do when you're in love. Whimsical but right to the point is the coy muppet in pajamas who asks, "Will You Be My Valentine?" Wistfully, she adds, "If you need some time to think, send me back this box of pink." Two teen-agers display more obvious affection by sharing a St. Valentine's Day kiss, with Dan Cupid looking on. A survey with the fringe on top is recommended for sentimental journeys. So choose your partners, everybody, and mail your Valentines in plenty of time for Saturday, February 14!

Actually, valentines first made their appearance around 1400... a time when St. Valentine's Day was controversial because its origin was linked to the pagan feast of Lupercalia.

The temper of the times, and the keen eyes of anxious chaperones made it advisable to send these early valentines anonymously — and a young lady might easily believe her card came from six other fellows.

But by the time the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries rolled around, Father Time had broken the pagan feast link and valentines were considered a genuine proposal of marriage.

Rival suitors were frequently judged by the ingenuity of their valentines as they had to be carefully made with love birds, cut-out hearts, pressed flowers and original verses.

Soon ghost writers opened shop to help the hapless swains and a series of pamphlets with foolproof verses, and learned tips on how to make bigger and better valentines were issued.

at least 1 1/2 years of work under social security, either as an employee, or in covered self-employment now has in enough time to qualify for payments upon retirement. Any such persons are urged to check up on their rights now, particularly if they are not now in some type of work that is covered under the law.

Persons who are 75 years of age or over and who have worked the required time, can qualify for payments now, whether they have retired or not, since there is no retirement condition after this age is reached.

In any case where a worker has died, some member of his family should check with the Social Security Administration as to whether any payments may be due. This should be done in any case where the worker had been under social security at any time, and in any case where he had military service during World War II or later.

Persons needing information on any of the above points are invited to call at the time and place shown above. Mail inquiries may be addressed to the Social Security Administration, Abilene, Tex.

High Federal Taxes Hamper Plant Expansion

Surveys made recently in eight States disclose that high Federal taxes are having a markedly adverse effect on the expansion programs of large numbers of manufacturing companies over the country, according to a bulletin of the national affairs department of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The report stated that manufacturers have been cutting back or abandoning plans which they had made for construction of new plants or purchase of new machinery and equipment. In a large majority of these cases high Federal taxes were given as the major reason for such action.

The surveys were made in Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Missouri, New Jersey, Ohio, Virginia, and Washington. Together, they contain 21 per cent of the nation's population and 27 per cent of its manufacturing industry.

The WTCC bulletin stated that an examination of the survey reports from the eight states tends to establish the following general conclusions applicable to the country as a whole:

1. Billion of dollars worth of plant expansion plans have been cancelled by manufacturing companies in the United States within the past 1 to 18 months because of high Federal taxes.
2. This huge cutback in expansion plans means that several hundred thousand fewer new jobs will be created in industry.
3. It is principally the small and medium-sized companies whose growth is being stifled by the tax demands of the Government.
4. The majority of companies whose expansion plans have been affected by high taxes place the greatest blame on the so-called excess profits tax for destroying their incentive to grow.

Methodist Men Get Charter

tor of the church, Frank Deaton, Crawley, and Floyd Killingsworth. About 60 members of the Methodist Men's Club and guests attended the charter presentation banquet. The horsed'vise and beef dinner was prepared by Odzie, V. V. and Charlie Cooper, and a group of Ranger Junior College students—Don Bryson, Eugene (Soko) Sutton and Bill Blackstone—provided the musical entertainment for the evening program.

Bill To Boost Expansion Of Brazos Group

Legislation of importance dealing with the acute water problem in a major part of Texas is incorporated in House Bill 177 introduced by Representative Allison of Mineral Wells.

Passage of this bill will change the official name of the Brazos River Conservation and Reclamation District to Brazos River Authority.

The legislation would permit the Brazos River Authority to construct conservation dams for municipal, industrial, and irrigation uses by issuing revenue bonds.

Mr. George Chance, Chairman of the Brazos River Authority Board, stated today, "The Brazos Board believes several multi-purpose reservoirs might be constructed in the Brazos watershed to improve the water situation."
