Governer Lee

"I can't eat this garbage!"
shouted the enraged diner.
"Call the manager!"
"Won't do no good, mister," said the waitress. "He tried to eat a whole pig and he couldn't do it, either!"

Every day, out of thousands of newspaper typewriters flow billions of words for print.

And—there are all kinds of stories. Humorous. Tragic. Heartwarming. And a few are unusual.

One of the most unusual bits of prose to reach our desk of late, originated from the trusty mill of a Dallas newsman—Ralph Moncrief.

We believe you'll agree—especially if you're a sports fan.

Just read it for yourself.

In these difficult days when men find it hard to make a decision, it is a heart-warming experience to see a man step out and take his stand on an issue in which he believes.

One young man who has done
just that is Bill Forester, the nodest, handsome captain of the 1952
Southern Methodist University Southeast. He took the issue of Jesus Christ, weighed it carefully and decided in his favor. Since that day, Bill's life has been a flaming testimony for his Lord.

As long as he can remember, Bill's life has been subjected to Christian influence. Raised in a home where Christ was preeminent, Bill attended Sunday School and church regularly. His spiritual life was far above the average, yet he felt he was not serving his Lord as he should.

So in 1949, during a revival in his church, Bill dedicated his life to Jesus. It was no easy matter for him to make his all-out-for-Christ dedication; there were days, weeks and months of thought and prayer before the decision was reached.

He knew it was possible that he might be held in derision by his football buddies and friends; but he said for his courage, he reached the right answer.

Once he had made his decision,
life took on new meaning for Bill.
Everywhere he went, the classroom, the dormitory, the football field, there also went his Jesus.
His life became an inspiration to his teammates, and several of them became active workers in their respective churches.

Asked by his church to teach a class of Junior boys he accepted the assignment. It has been hard to tell who receives the greater joy from this Sunday by Sunday contact. Bill or the boys. During the football season Bill played in some rugged games, sometimes hundreds of miles from Dallas, but most of the time Sunday morning found him on hand for his class.

In the winter of 1951, an unusual occurrence took place in the Junior department of Bill's church. A young SMU beauty from Sweetwater, Texas, Ann Whorton, began being seen with him on Sunday mornings, and his class. For a time the boys resented the intrusion; but it wasn't long before Ann had won them over,
and then she didn't dare miss a Sunday.

Came June and the summer holidays, Ann went to Sweetwater and Bill left for camp to take a counseling position. He stayed a week. Returning to Dallas he told his family he just couldn't make it without Ann. The proposition being favorable with "her," the young couple drove to Rockwall, Texas, on June 7, and were married in a private ceremony.

Bill's life for Jesus had made a lasting impression on Ann. Of a different religious faith, she decided that what Bill had she wanted, too. Following their wedding ceremony, the newlyweds had a soul searching conference with Bill's parents; and Ann was baptized into the faith of his church.

Immediately afterwards, the two left for California where Bill spent a month in the Air ROTC.
Then to Burnet, Texas, and camp Longhorn where they finished the summer as counselors. September found them back in Dallas for the first semester at SMU.

On the football field, Bill is a holy terror. He plays rough, but clean, ball. His sportsmanship is not hard to detect. Many times

Rosenthal Gets Third Term As Cisco's Mayor

The tie in the mayor election race in Cisco was settled Tuesday night with the incumbent mayor, G. C. Rosenthal, being declared re-elected.

The ruling was made by the City Commission after Police Commissioner Joe Britain asked that his name be withdrawn from a runoff election scheduled for April 22.

Britain told the City Commission he expects to be engaged in a business proposition which will allow him to devote sufficient time to the duties of mayor in case he won the special election.

Rosenthal and Britain each received 401 votes in the April 7 balloting during a heavy turnout of Cisco voters. The City Commission cancelled the special election after declaring Rosenthal re-elected.

New city officials will take oaths of office for new terms April 28. New commissioners are Albert Hansen and Ace Lucas. Britain will serve out the one year remaining on his present commissioner term. Rosenthal will start his third term as mayor.

Assure Food Supply

Eastland Countians were advised today that their gardens will be the key to success in 1953.

"Put that garden plot to work now," urges George I. Lane, supervisor of the Eastland County unit of the Farmers Home Administration. "I know," he adds, "that at this time every family is out of processed vegetables." The curb board is "raw," so said Mather Hubbard. Well, we all know now that a good hammer-axe will take over the assignment of home produced foods and start to replenish the pantry with all kinds of processed foods.

These foods, Lane pointed out, will come out of the ground.

"This assignment should have the cooperation of the entire working family," the FHA supervisor declared, and urged each individual to ask himself or herself these questions:

1. Is your garden large enough?
2. What will you plant and how much?
3. Do you have enough commodities to put up the required 125 cans per person?
4. Have you studied your canning chart on processing these foods?

"I am sure all progressive home-makers attend Home Economics Demonstrations to keep up with improvements over the old way. We hope to be visiting you to see in the near future," Lane said. Then he offered the list of suggestions:

TOP RANKING—Crippled by polio since he was three months old, Alvie Donahoo, now 18, walks along with other scouts attending a week-end bivouac at Ft. Hood, Tex.

This outing was just another "walk" for Alvie who hikes right along with Explorer Post 95 when they go out in the field from their home in Hamilton, Tex. Overcoming the crippling effects to his right side, Alvie has earned enough merit badges to become a top ranking scout.

Singing Convention Draws Big Crowd According To Late Report

The Eastland County Singing Convention drew one of the largest crowds in the history of the organization, when they met last Saturday and Sunday in the auditorium of the Eastland high school.

This convention has become an annual affair in Eastland, although it was a quarterly meeting of the group. They have met in Eastland the second Sunday in April for many years and the Chamber of Commerce and public spirited officials have co-operated to make it a great occasion.

Some of the most outstanding singing groups that contributed to the program were the Coleman Trio from Coleman; the Rhythms Quartet from Stephenville and the Gospelaires Quartet, a local group that is fast becoming a favorite of many.

Many other singers and song directors were present, representing eleven counties in this area.

Thugs Haul Off Safe With $200 Cash At Cisco

Thugs stole a 300-pound safe containing $200 cash and a large number of Western Union blank drafts from the Western Union office at Cisco Tuesday night.

J. H. Chambliss, office manager, discovered the theft when he opened for business Wednesday morning. The theft occurred between 7 p.m. Tuesday and 7 a.m. Wednesday.

The manager became aware the safe had been moved as he prepared to open it under a desk. The safe was loaded into a car or truck parked in a court behind the building, an investigation revealed.

Searches ground indicated some difficulty was encountered leading to the heavy safe. Entrance to the building was made through a back door after a night lock had been broken.

Investigating officers included M. L. Perdue, Cisco police chief; Frank Tucker, Eastland County sheriff; and Allan Jones, constable. Western Union officials from a district office arrived in Cisco early today to assist officers.

Committee Okays Bill To Abolish 91st Court

Solons Approve Merger Eastland With 90th District

Abolishment of the 91st District Court of Eastland County and consolidation with the 90th District Court which currently consists of Stephens and Young Counties under terms of the proposed state-wide redistricting bill was approved Wednesday in Austin by the House Judiciary Committee.

Two new districts would be added, 10 changed in some manner and 10 left unchanged. One district would be discontinued.

One new district would be the 129th Judicial District to be made up solely of Ector County. Ector presently is under the 70th District with Midland. The bill would leave Midland alone in the 70th District.

The other new district would be the 129th. It would be composed of Bandera, Kerr and Kendall Counties, taken from the current 98th District, and Kinola County from the 112th District.

The district to be dropped would be the 91st which presently consists of Eastland County. It would be combined with the 90th District which consists of Stephens and Young Counties.

Rep. Omar Burkett, Eastland, has a bill before the House now to combine the two districts but is delaying action pending final disposition of the redistricting bill.

Under the new bill the 51st District would be made up of Coke, Irion, Sterling and Tom Green Counties. It currently contains Schleicher which would be transferred to the 112th District.

Other proposed changes are:

- The 88th District would continue with Madina, Real, Uvalde and Zavala Counties and pick up Dimmit County from the present 49th District.
- The 52nd District would lose Comanche and Bosque Counties and be made up only of Coryell, Hamilton, Lampasas and Mills.
- The present 83rd District of Pecos, Jeff Davis, Presidio and Brewster Counties would be increased in size by adding Culberson County which is now in the 34th District.
- The 106th District would lose Garza County and be composed of Dawson, Gaines, Lynn, Terry and Yoakum.
- Two counties would be added to the present 112th District. They are Reagan and Schleicher Counties, to be added to the current counties under its jurisdiction of Crockett, Pecos, Sutton and Upton.
- Garza County would be added to the 132nd District along with the present counties of Borden and Seely.
- Districts that would not be affected by the redistricting bill, House Bill 865 introduced by Joe Kilgore of McAllen, are:
- The 32nd District with Mitchell and Nolan Counties.
- The 33rd District with Blanco, Brewster, Llano, Mason, Menard, San Saba and Gillespie.
- The 35th District with Brown, Coleman and McCulloch.

County Farm Bureau To Have Queen Contest

Many counties over the state are already making plans for the big state-wide Farm Bureau Queen contest, which will be sponsored by the Texas Farm Bureau Federation this year, according to A. Z. Myrick, president of the Eastland County Farm Bureau. Inc. The contest will be held in December in Chicago.

Beautiful watches will be awarded to the winners of the district eliminations.

The Queen will be chosen in November at the annual state convention in Mineral Wells.

These contests are designed to give recognition to the charm and loveliness of farm and ranch girls and to give rural youth an opportunity to become better acquainted with the organizational policies.

Rules of the contest will be published at a later date or just as soon as the county organization plans are completed. It is hoped that each community will have one or more entrants in the county contest, Myrick said.

Frankly Speaking —Lot of Franks!

When Warrant Officer Allen C. Mayer of Columbus, Ga., goes to the meat market, he orders his frankfurters by the mile instead of by the pound.

Mayer, who purchases the meat for nearby Ft. Benning, said that if all the franks the soldiers ate during the month of February were placed end to end, the string would run 13 miles.

is invited to attend. There will be plenty of music and refreshments.

It has been announced by Mr. Zolie Koonce, president of the Desdemona Cemetery Association, that the Semi-Annual country working will be held on the 15th of April. Mr. Koonce also said the Association would furnish pit barbecue, bread, pickles and 10c drinks. The ladies are asked to bring the dessert. The men to bring good sharp shoes. Mr. Koonce stated also that more land is needed and it is hoped a good crowd will be present in order that this new business may be properly taken care of.

NO MONTHLY CRAMPS... not even on the VERY FIRST DAY!

Doctors' tests show amazing preventive relief of pain, backaches, nervous feelings

Women and girls who suffer from the functionally-caused cramps, backaches and headaches due to menstruation—who feel upset and irritable on certain "particular days" every month—may be suffering quite needlessly!

Such is the conclusion from tests by doctors in which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound stopped or gave amazing relief of such distress in 3 out of 4 of the cases—even on the very first and worst day of the period!

Yes! Medical evidence proves Lydia Pinkham's Compound in action. It exerts a remarkably calming effect on the uterus—without the use of pain-killing drugs!

The effectiveness of Lydia Pinkham's needs no proof to the millions of women and girls whom it has benefited. But how about you? Do you know what it may do for you?

Take Lydia Pinkham's! See if you don't get the same relief from cramps and weakness... feel better both before and during your period!

Get either Lydia Pinkham's Compound, or new, improved Tablets, with added iron! Lydia Pinkham's is wonderful for "hot flashes" and other functional diseases of the "change of life," too!

For the Men Who Succeed—

A natural in "go together" sandwich combinations is Underwood Deviled Ham, all fine ham, zestfully seasoned. Here are simple suggestions for blending and extending deviled ham that will win praises from the entire family.

Mix together 1 can Underwood Deviled Ham and 1/2 cup spicy applebutter. Spread generously on bread slices. Makes 1/2 cup filling, or enough for 4 sandwiches.

Combine 1 can Underwood Deviled Ham, and 1/2 cup crunchy peanut butter. Spread on bread. For something extra special, spread one slice bread with this filling and a second slice with a tablespoon of tangy orange marmalade. Put together to make a yummy sandwich. Recipe makes 1/2 cup filling, or enough for 4 sandwiches.

Chop 2 hard cooked eggs and combine with 1 can Underwood Deviled Ham. Spread on bread or toast. Makes 1/2 cup filling, or enough for 4 sandwiches.

After running rough-shod over an opposing player he returns and helps the player up with an encouraging slap at the end of the play.

In his high school and college football career, Bill has never been seriously injured. The reason, he believes, is his faith in God to see him through any situation and to protect him from all harm.

At the beginning of the 1952 season Bill received considerable mention for All American. However, the SMU team never could get rolling as it should and he missed making the mythical eleven. He did receive national recognition for his fine playing.

Bill is an all-around athlete. He is a star trackman and continues to work out in off seasons to keep up his speed for football. He won the discus trophy at the 1952 Drake Relays and is the proud possessor of the ROTC sports achievement award at SMU. He is a active member of his church basketball team.

At the end of the 1952 football season, Bill was drafted by the Green Bay Packers for a professional football career. It looks as if Uncle Sam will beat the Packers to the draw and draft him for a couple of years in the Air Force before he has an opportunity to perform for the professionals.

Although Bill did not make All American at college, he is All American for his God. It matters not whether he is drafted into the Army or the professional football ranks; Bill will play the game according to the rules laid down by his God and his Jesus.

Who's Fighting Benson? Nation's Chamber Asks

WASHINGTON—It's clear already that the new Secretary of Agriculture, Ezra Benson, has a fight ahead of him. When he said (in St. Paul) that he opposed price supports which merely encouraged inefficiency, he was accused of being no friend of farmers. When he continued dairy price supports, he was charged with yielding to politics.

In search of the truth about the new Secretary, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States turned to an old-time cattlehand. His name is William B. Wright, once a Montana cowboy, now partnership owner of a livestock ranch near Death, Nev.

Wright said it is not the real ranchmen who are making trouble for Secretary Benson. "Any clamor for government aids," he said, "will come largely from those who have recently moved in on the fringe of the industry."

"At the moment, Secretary Benson is under attack by organized mischief makers who want to prevent any basic re-examination of our national farm policy. A part of this attack on him has been the charge that in continuing dairy supports at 90 per cent of parity for a year... he was being influenced by politics. This is false and every business man in America should understand it. Under existing laws, basic farm commodities must be supported at 90 per cent of parity. This includes such grains as wheat and corn which form the bulk of the feed used in dairy production. In fairness to dairy producers the Secretary could do no less than he did..."

Spring Cleanup: Time to Get Rid of Rats

CLEAN UP RUBBISH STACK FIREWOOD NEATLY

Rubbish piles afford protection for hiding and underground breeding.

RATPROOF YOUR BUILDINGS

Ask your county agent for a bulletin on ratproofing methods.

With little extra effort you can rid your farm of rats and mice while you do your regular spring clean up. This 1-2-3 plan, using warfarin bait, enables you to reduce the rat and mouse population to a minimum, and then keep it there.

PLACE RAT BAIT

A few permanent bait stations will keep rats under control.

Spring cleanup time is an ideal time to bring rats and mice under control, according to pest control specialists.

For best results, they recommend this three-point program:

One—Remedy poor sanitation.

Two—Ratproof buildings.

Three—Place rat bait according to directions.

Good sanitation demands the removal of rubbish piles of all kinds, because they afford protection for hiding and underground breeding. Lumber and firewood should be piled on racks at least one foot from the ground—never directly on the ground. Insofar as possible, feed of all kinds should be protected.

Corn cribs, granaries, cellars, houses, warehouses, and other buildings should be ratproofed to keep the rats out. Bulletins which describe ratproofing methods may be obtained from the local health officer or county agent.

Baiting is the third and most effective blow in the Spring anti-rat campaign. Outstanding among the available poisons is warfarin, a powerful substance discovered in the laboratories of Dr. Karl Paul Link, Biochemistry Dept., University of Wisconsin, by Drs. Mark A. Stahmann, Miyoshi Ika-wa, and Link. Warfarin bait is highly recommended because: It kills both rats and mice; the potency of the poison is consistent; it is a slow killer, and does not cause "bait shyness"; rodents do not develop a tolerance for warfarin; it may be purchased as a concentrate or as ready-mixed bait; and warfarin is relatively safe to use.

In using warfarin bait, it is important that it be made available to the rodents at all times. Bait stations—shallow containers protected with a board or a wooden box—are normally examined and replenished at least every 48 hours. A limited number of permanent bait stations may be used to kill newcomers and control re-invasion.

Spring Blossom Tarts For Your Tea Tray

Spring Blossom Tarts for the tea tray seem like chef's creations, but the tart shells are made with pastry mix and the filling consists of only two ingredients, semi-sweet chocolate morsels and evaporated milk. A bit of whipped cream and a morsel of semi-sweet chocolate completes the tarts in simplest style.

Semi-sweet chocolate has a lighter, more delicate flavor that is perfect for spring desserts, and this chocolate is convenient to use whether whole or melted. Semi-sweet chocolate is most familiar to America in the famous Chocolate Crunch Cookies in which the morsels of chocolate stay whole during baking. But the delicious flavor is good in recipes that require melted chocolate, and semi-sweet chocolate morsels are efficient to use when a recipe requires melted chocolate since they are in small pieces that simplify the melting process.

Spring Blossom Tarts

1/2 package pie crust mix
1 package semi-sweet chocolate morsels
1/2 cup (1 small can) evaporated milk
1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped and sweetened

Follow directions on package for preparing pie crust. Fit pastry on back of small muffin pans, or fit into small tart pans. Prick with tines of fork. Bake in a hot oven (425°F.) 10 to 12 minutes, or until delicately brown. To prepare filling reserve 1 tablespoon semi-sweet chocolate morsels to use as garnish; put remaining morsels and evaporated milk in saucepan over low heat. Cook slowly, stirring until mixture is blended. Bring to a boil, and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture is slightly thickened, about 3 to 5 minutes. Fill pastry shells; garnish with whipped cream and a chocolate morsel.

Murder she yelled

By Joseph Shollie

THE STORY: Rocky Stone, a small-time tuckerman, was thinking enough to get himself bumped off at High Hill, a vacation resort, and the proprietor, Al Kemmer, tries to protect his place's good name by moving it to rival summer lodge. Another complication is that Al's girl friend, Kitty Lane, is intensely jealous of Midge Burnett, a girl.

WHILE Al Kemmer went to talk to Kitty Lane, I captured Midge. She didn't seem over-anxious to dance with me and even after I told her Ritchie just wasn't her type, I hadn't softened up anything in her face. She said she had the next dance with Ritchie after we made a few half-hearted turns and the record spun to its end.

I didn't stay to watch her cross over to Ritchie. I went out on the cool, dark porch. I walked past the row of huddled night-lovers.

Twenty yards away across the grass, the office window showed an oblong of light. Al was having himself a session with Kitty. I stepped off the porch. It didn't make sense for me to go over there. But there was a hard, vicious feeling in me—I wanted to see another man taking a lacing. From a woman, particularly.

Before I could hear what he was saying, another man's voice broke in. "Suppose you were in my position. . ."

I pushed through the partly open door—no inhibitions around High Hill. Seated beside the desk, his back to me, was Dave Fields. He swung me a look. His forehead was ruffled, a washboard.

Dave held out his hands, palms up, taking me into the gesture. "You people are his friends. Maybe he'd listen to you a lot sooner than to somebody in his own family."

"I'm sorry," Al said. "I got my own worries, without getting mixed up with the Fields family. . ."

"I'm very busy—talk to me tomorrow." Al's eyes closed, he waved Dave away.

"Thank you," Dave said stiffly. "I appreciate your co-operation." He marched through the doorway. "Don't mention it," Al said to his retreating back.

He scarcely waited till Dave had cleared the mail room. "Crazy!" he burst out. "You ever see such a family? A bunch of lunatics."

He soothed himself with a fresh round of chewing gum. "I hire Eddie Fields—I think I'm just hiring a comic. But no—I get his wife for the same price—and all her advice about how I should run my business. Then I get his brother, and his troubles."

"You talked to Kitty yet?" Al shook his head. "The crazy chimo was laying for me. I thought it's Kitty sitting in here, but it's this hard-luck Charley."

NEXT morning after breakfast, I went to the office. Al was lost in another subject. What it was startled me no end.

"That little Burnett—" he said, "she's an absolute dream."

His mouth drooped tenderly; his deep, lagoon eyes were soft and liquid.

"You planning to marry her?" I growled.

His eyelids leaped. "No, no, don't be crazy." Then his eyes became reflective again. "But if I did get married, I'd more want it to be somebody like her than . . . I'll tell you, Morrison. I just discovered there's a difference between women."

"You're getting sophisticated." "You don't understand what I'm talking about. What I mean is, they have a different effect on your nerves. This Burnett girl—I noticed when she was singing last night—she relaxes me. Like a phenobarbital. Now, Kitty—I didn't realize it before, but she actually makes me more nervous. She's a nice kid, but—"

"Kitty give you a hard time?" I inquired. He ripped open a stick of gum and put it in his mouth.

Al glanced at me, then down at the gum wrapper he was crumpling. "Always headaches. . . In a way, I don't blame Kitty. She's been with me a long time, and . . . You know the way women across the room and leaned back wearily in his swivel chair. "Morrison, I'd like to do something for Kitty—something nice. All these years she's worked for me. . . Anyway, Kitty's young—only 37—she ought to get herself a nice fellow and take out a license."

Al was eyeing me weirdly. "I'd be willing to settle a nice piece of change on the right fellow," he said softly.

"That's swell. I'll look around for you. Sure. . . Say—I've got somebody for you. Leo Ritchie. Perfect."

"I said a nice fellow, not a jerk that can't pay his bills."

even at ages 60 and over, the death rate is not as responsive to seasonal variations as it was in former years."

The current situation among the very young is in sharp contrast to that of a century ago, when the death rate, particularly in densely populated areas, was highest during the summer months because of major outbreaks of diarrhea and other intestinal diseases. With improvement in milk and water supplies, garbage disposal, and sanitary conditions in general, the summer peak gradually subsided.

Even after the turn of the century, the statisticians point out, infants and young children still succumbed in largest numbers during the summer. In 1907-1911, the death rate in New York State for children under five years of age was two fifths higher in August than the average for the year as a whole. By contrast, currently the summer months are the safest of the year, for children as well as adults.

CITY MANAGER GOVERNMENT IS INCREASING

CHICAGO—Veterans in nine cities approved the adoption of the city manager form of government in October and November elections, the International City Managers' Association reports. Eight cities turned it down.

The association said cities and counties with manager form of government in the United States and Canada now total 1,124.

The nine cities which recently adopted the plan: Santa Ana, Calif.; Evanston, Ill.; Oak Park, Ill.; Westchester, Ill.; Wood River, Ill.; Hopkinsville, Ky.; Arlington, Mass.; Bemidji, Minn.; and Tacoma, Wash.

Proposals to abandon the city manager plan were defeated in Holton, Kan.; Brookfield and Nevada, Mo.; and Ashtabula, Wis.

The association said more than one-third of all cities in the United States over 25,000 population now have the city manager form of government, and almost one-third of all those between 10,000 and 25,000.

Labor-saving and dual-purpose features receive greater emphasis than ever before in today's furniture fashions. As you transplant spring into your own home ask to see these special furniture features.

The grouping shown above provides maximum comfort for family living or for guests, and for short or long-legged persons.

Two love seats have been combined to form an extra long sofa. Love seats are of all foam rubber and spring construction, seat, back, and arms.

The coffee table, nicknamed "The Rat-Trap Table," has six inset stain-resistant Vitrolite panels and a lower shelf, which provides storage for magazines and three cushions. Cushions serve dual-purpose, as floor seating units, or on top of table for comfortable occasional seating. Vitrolite panels come in either red, white, black or beige.

Full-up occasional chair has adjustable sliding seat, which gives seating depths from 19 to 21 inches.

Lamp table has cork surface with exposed wood in either light or dark "meuble" finish.

These furniture items, as well as many others, were designed to cut down on the homemakers daily chores.

Public Urged To Keep Hands Off Wildlife

The Executive Secretary of the Texas Game and Fish Commission asked the populace to "keep their distance" during the Animal Kingdom's rearing season.

He said Texans can contribute mightily to the wildlife family by not trying to make pets of wild creatures or by trying to domesticate eggs of any kind.

"The sad part of the mistakes people make in molesting the birds and beasts," said the Executive Secretary, "is that they think they are helping out. Well, there are rare cases when they can, I repeat these cases are very rare."

"Any baby animal or bird deserves a chance to be restored to its natural protectors, if it actually does get lost or does seem to need help. People see stray creatures, such as a fawn. Maybe they are overwhelmed by an irresistible impulse to 'save' the fawn. Generally if left alone, the animal will be found by its mother. Of course there are extraordinary instances where the mother deer is killed by a car, or some such, where a fawn may be saved. But even then if they do survive and are named as pets, they usually become a nuisance and sometimes harmful. Furthermore, it is unlawful to pick up fawns."

The Executive Secretary said taking or handling or even "looking at" wild bird eggs may be disastrous. Some birds, such as wild turkey, will not return to a nest which has even been approached by humans. He added that although eggs placed under a domestic bird to hatch, the incident circumstances nature since anything hatched under such circumstances invariably is lost to the cause of wildlife.

Winter Threat To Life Shows Big Decline

Winter's added threat to life is much less marked than it was forty years ago, according to the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company's statisticians.

A study of the monthly variation in deaths shows the winter peak in the mortality curve to have flattened noticeably since the early years of this century. The change is attributed in large measure to the remarkable progress made in the control of pneumonia and other respiratory infections.

"The leveling has not been an evident at the older ages as in other periods of life," the statisticians observe, "particularly because respiratory complications still contribute to the death of many aged persons with heart and other degenerative diseases. However,

Seasonless Wools Knit for Sun or Storm

BY GAILE DUGAS, NEA Woman's Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA)—Keeping pace with other fabric developments, wool has shed its traditional uses and come into far wider fashion acceptance. Within recent seasons we've come to see wool as a fabric to be worn any time of the year.

Wool can be as light and airy as silk chiffon or as thick and curly as fur. It's cut into dinner and evening dresses, sunshirts, swim suits, leisure fashions. It goes into a suitcase for the winter vacation in the sun and stays at home to brave the winter storms.

Relax In Old Rockin' Chair, Says Executive

STAMFORD, Conn. — Thomas E. Saxe, Jr., a businessman, believes that grandma had the right idea on how to relax.

All she had to do to rid herself of tension and worry was to plop down in her favorite rocking chair and rock her troubles away.

That's just what Saxe and some 2,000 members of the Sittin' Starin' n' Rockin' Club are doing.

The members include such persons as Mary Martin and Ezio Pinza of stage fame, baseball's Ralph Kiner and football's Frank Leahy.

The club is Saxe's brainchild. He thought up the idea while vacationing in Florida. His friends joined and they told others about it.

Today, Saxe carries on a club business by mail, but there isn't much to worry about. The club motto is "No Dues—No Don'ts."

Saxe, who operates a restaurant chain, gives each new member a record of the club's theme song, a miniature rocking chair, a six-month calendar (the regular ones are too long), a "license" to operate.

More Jobs Than College Grads For This Year

With the supply of engineering graduates even more critically short this year, women seniors with math and science backgrounds are being eagerly signed up by industry as engineering assistants, says the family economics bureau of the Northwestern National Life Insurance Company.

A preliminary report on the company's 18th annual survey of employment prospects for college graduates, now underway, says that while demand is hitting another peak, the class of '53 is definitely smaller than last year, and 75 to 80 per cent of the males are eligible for military service.

In an attack on the engineering personnel shortage from another flank, many large companies are re-surveys their requirements for certain borderline technical jobs for which they have formerly demanded engineering degree men in an effort to shift some of the work to non-technical graduates, the report says.

The recent elimination of wage and salary ceilings by the government has enabled various large companies to boost their starting salary offers, average levels for the June class of '53 will probably be 5 to 10 per cent better than last year, the report says.

This means around $209 to $325 a month for business and liberal ate a rocking chair, and a drinking glass embellished with the club emblem.

arts graduates, and $325 to $375 for engineering bachelors on a 40-hour basis; many companies work a 44- or 48-hour week and pay more in proportion.

Large employers are interviewing men regardless of military status, the survey finds; some go as far as to say it makes no difference whether the man can start work before or after his year of service. Smaller concerns, however, filling only a few openings, seek draft-exempt men.

SHE'S GOT A FUR COAT—The penguin at right, seems to be the topic of jealous conversation for her more formally-clad companions at London's zoo. Farmers Falsely Blamed For High Prices For Food

Farmers are being falsely blamed for high food prices and indulging in "get-rich-quick" schemes at the expense of consumers, J. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation, declared this week.

The state farm leader referred to an announcement by W. B. Bain of Dallas, marketing administrator for the North Texas area, as an example of what often happens in the case of food prices. The announcement appeared in the April 8th edition of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Bain reported that milk producers in North Texas will get 44 cents less per hundred weight for Class 1 milk in April than they received last month. The newspaper report stated that the April price of $5.85 was down 77 cents, or about 1 1/2 cents less per quart, from the February price; yet, there has been no reduction in the price paid by consumers.

"This is an excellent example of what is happening to the farmer's share of the consumer's dollar," Hammond said.

"Farm prices have tumbled, but the retail prices are staying up." "Last year the farmer received only 45 cents out of every dollar's worth of produce he sold. The consumers should concern themselves with the 55 cents difference between prices paid to the farmer and prices paid by the consumer."

"This is the first time in history that an important labor union and a university have cooperated to give rank-and-file members a chance to express their opinions confidentially and to receive a scientific analysis of those opinions," said Warner Bloomberg, Jr., who is directing the poll for the university.

QWU officers call the survey an unusual experiment in union democracy and plan to extend the investigation throughout their union after the present sampling has been completed in about a year.

"This is a real grassroots affair," said Carl J. Peterson, president of Local 395 here. "When the results are analyzed and sent back to us, every member will receive a printed copy."

Seek Opinions CIO Members

CLEVELAND, O. — Some labor unions have been attacked for being undemocratic, but the CIO Oil Workers' Union is giving its members a chance to let off steam in a scientific way.

Thousands of OWU members in Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and Kentucky have been asked to fill in a 70-point questionnaire on all phases of their union — its procedures, officers, contracts, and the like.

No one need sign his name to the questionnaires which will be turned over to the University of Chicago's Industrial Relations Center for analysis.

If there are strawberries on your table, spring is here! For there is no surer sign of spring—nor any more welcome—than fresh, plump, red strawberries. Whether, like one of Mother Goose's heroines, you sit on a cushion and sew a fine seam as you munch your strawberries, sugar and cream; or whether you leave your cushion for the kitchen and concentrate on this beautiful Strawberry Bouquet Pie, you are on your way to a treat! And although you'll probably think this coconut beauty is almost too lovely to eat, you'll be sorry if you don't—'cause under the mesage of luscious berries and the topping of snowy, tender coconut is a smooth creamy filling with still more berries!

Strawberry Bouquet Pie

- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup sifted flour
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 2 cups milk
- 1 cup shredded coconut, cut if desired
- 2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
- 2 tablespoons vanilla
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1 baked 9-inch pie shell
- 2 cups strawberries
- 1/2 cup cream, whipped
- 1/2 cup shredded coconut
- Mint leaves

Combine 1/2 cup sugar, flour, and salt in top of double boiler; add milk gradually, stirring until smooth. Add 1 cup coconut. Cook over rapidly boiling water 15 minutes, stirring constantly. Mix small amount of mixture with egg yolks, return to double boiler, and cook 2 minutes longer. Remove from heat. Add vanilla and butter. Cool. Cut 1 1/4 cups strawberries in halves and place in pie shell; then fill filling. Chill.

Before serving, spread pie with whipped cream, sprinkle with 1/2 cup coconut. Garnish with remaining whole berries and mint leaves forming bouquet design in center of pie.

Dove Outlook Reported Good

The Executive Secretary of the Texas Game and Fish Commission reports generally favorable conditions for mourning doves in Texas.

He said field studies show a high dove population at this time but added that some of the birds apparently are merely stopping over enroute to northern nesting areas.

"The present population of mourning doves indicates that we should have another good hatch of birds, particularly if moisture conditions continue to improve," said the Executive Secretary. "Of course, there are many deterrents. Any trend toward violent weather would be costly since the flimsy dove nests, containing eggs or young, are vulnerable to the elements."

The director added that the current healthy condition of the mourning dove flocks has accelerated the banding program. He said an increasing number of individuals are assisting wardens and other field men in this vital routine "since they realize the profound effect banding has on efforts to learn more about migration and other habits of doves."

Open Space Is Big Factor In Clearing Slums

Planning experts believe that the lack of public open spaces contributes to development of slums.

"Hundreds of square miles of residential subdivisions, containing no more open space than the minimum amount required in private yards, are being developed every year in the United States," according to the American Society of Planning Officials.

ment have taken place, it is almost impossible for a city to provide sufficient open space without demolishing buildings or redeveloping the area, the society said.

It asks many cities and counties to incorporate in their subdivision regulations a requirement that some land be dedicated for public purposes.

Municipalities should buy land in advance of residential development to insure that public open spaces such as parks are provided in newly developed residential areas, the society said.
