A Small City with Big Industry - A Bright Spot for New Industry

RANGER, TEXAS, THURSDAY, MAY 31, 1962

Around Town

By Dwaine Dennis

The Monday evening rain was a welcome relief to Ranger and the area. Reports within the city limits vary from one-half to three-fourths of an inch of moisture.

The extremely dry spell was broken by a squall line that moved into Ranger from the southwest. Strong winds and a small amount of lightening accompanied the rain. No wind damage has been reported at this time.

Area farmers and ranchers report that the moisture will help a great deal, but more is desperately needed. Some ranchers report that if more rain is not received soon, they will be forced to start feeding their livestock.

Runoff from the rain was not enough to help fill the low stock tanks in the area.

The cold weather and diminishing winds was also welcomed by area residents. The strong winds that have blown almost constantly for the past month, has dried the vegetation and kept the fishermen off of the lakes. Fishing should pick up considerably if the wind continues to lay.

The weather has been so dry in fact that we have heard reports that the Baptist are planning on sprinkling and the Methodists will be giving rain checks.

Have you noticed the lights at the entrance of Main Street?

Four of the six decorative street lights at the Main Street entrance have been repaired, plus the installation of spotlights on the poles whereby they shine on the flower garden on each side of the street. This certainly adds to the attractiveness of Ranger and the Ranger Garden Club is to be congratulated for completing the project.

Now all we need is to have the other two light poles repaired and cut the weeds behind the flower garden.

Cisco, our neighbor to the west will join New York, Chicago, Washington, D. C., and other points north and east on June 1 in operating on Daylight Saving Time—moving the clock ahead one hour for the summer months.

Purpose of the action, according to Chamber of Commerce Manager Larry Milner, "is to give our fishermen more time to fish, our swimmers, skiers, bridge players, and other lovers of leisure more time for their favorite sports". Milner said a survey of the town showed that a large percentage of business men favored the experiment. Others agreed to give the plan a try for at least a week.

"We can always turn the clocks back again if we're not happy with Daylight Saving Time," Milner said. He stated that Cisco will be the only town in Texas on Daylight Saving Time and probably, the smallest town in the United States. He admitted that Ciscoans would likely have to figure out when to watch their favorite television programs, catch a bus or train or meet somebody in the town, or on down Highway 80, the interstate highway that passes through the Central Texas town.

Milner admitted that the whole program is designed to call attention to the recreational opportunities of the Cisco area.

Splash Day Set For Friday

Splash Day at the Ranger Municipal Swimming Pool will be held Friday, June 1, according to City Commissioner James Ratliff. As an added attraction for Splash Day, everyone will be admitted free.

Pool hours will be from 2 p.m. to 7 p.m. on Tuesday thru Saturdays. Sunday hours are from 2 p.m. until 6 p.m. The pool will be closed all day Mondays.

Swimming lessons will be taught by Dean Richey this year. Lessons will be available to holders of season tickets. Three separate classes will be conducted by Richey, one for beginners, intermediates and a n-d senior swimmers.

Persons interested in swimming lessons should contact Richey at the Municipal Pool.

Dwayne Thompson will manage the pool this year. Life guards will be Terry Townzen and Richey.

Season tickets will be $5 each and single admission charges will be 35 cents for adults and 20 cents for children.

Memorial Program Draws Large Crowd

Approximately 225 persons attended the annual Memorial Service at the Evergreen Cemetery Sunday afternoon at 3. The Memorial Service is sponsored by the Ranger American Legion Post and Auxiliary Unit.

James Ratliff was master of ceremonies. Ratliff introduced Bob Lodal, 17th District Commander of Mineral Wells, who in turn introduced the speaker, Joe Matthews of Fort Worth. Matthews is candidate for National Commander of the American Legion. The program honored 218 Ranger men who served their country in the armed services.

Flags were presented by Post Commander, Bob Patterson and Dwayne Dennis. Mrs. Elsie Fondville was in charge of the seating of the Gold Star Mothers and Mrs. Oma Ewing was chairman of the flower girls.

Following the Memorial Service, a reception was held in the American Legion Hall honoring the Gold Star Mothers present and the guest speaker.

The oldest Gold Star mother present, Mrs. Era Alstap of Dallas and the youngest Gold Star mother present, Mrs. Pearl Salter by Mrs. Joe Matthews. The plants were given to the Auxiliary by Mrs. Jack Roberson. Dipping the reception piano music was furnished by Nicki Ewing and a Claret duet was given by Jan Griffith and Cathery Pletch of Fort Worth.

Graduation Exercises Held Monday Night For Seniors

Large crowds were in attendance at the Baccalaureate and Graduation Exercises held in Ranger on Sunday and Monday.

Mr. Richard Russell, minister of the First Christian Church, was speaker for the Baccalaureate services held in the High School auditorium Sunday night.

Mr. Russell told the graduating seniors that the gospel of Christ was relevant to their every need. He said that it is easy to ride the tide of the world and not to back it, but he advised the seniors to stand up and do their best. "In these critical times," Mr. Russell said, "it demands the very best of everyone."

Summer Band To Be Held In August

Bill Auvenshine, director of the Ranger High School band, announced today that summer band sessions will be held in August this year for a four week period.

The exact date for the first session will be announced at a later date. Auvenshine said that practice would be held five days each week and that two sessions would be held each day.

The senior band will practice from 8:30 to 9:30 each morning and the beginner band will practice from 10 until 11 each morning.

Auvenshine also said that several instruments furnished by the school are available for use by students. He said that anyone interested in learning to play one of these instruments to contact him at the band hall in August.

These critical times," Mr. Russell said, "it demands the very best of everyone."

Continuing, Mr. Russell told the graduating class that they can have courage in facing the future today. He said that we should "so dedicate ourselves in the present so that we may mold the future."

As a final thought, Mr. Russell told the seniors that they should have courage, seek something like unto the gospel and use what you have to the best advantage.

Promotion certificates were presented to 67 sixth graders of Young School at 10 a.m. Monday by Boone Yarborough, principal. Mr. Yarborough presented the DAR Award to Jimmy Watkins, for maintaining the highest average in American History. Awards are presented by the Charles Crawford Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The sixth grade class sang the class song with words by Elaine Windham, a member of her class.

At 10:45 a.m. Monday, the Junior High School class received promotional certificates. Charlie Garrett, high school principal, presided.

The Junior High DAR American History Award was presented to Johnny McGee, by Mr. Garrett. Various teachers in Junior High recognized students with 90 or above averages for the year.

G. B. Rush, superintendent of schools, presented Shellene Scott with the DAR Award during Commencement Exercises.

Paul Hinds Receives Commission

Fourteen of the 1962 Hardin-Simmons University graduates received Army commissions along with their degrees during commencement exercises at 10 a. m. Monday.

In the group are two who will receive Regular Army commissions as a reward for their outstanding military and scholastic records in H-SU. Both listed as Distinguished Military Graduates, they are Paul T. Hinds, 319 E. Main, Ranger, and William W. Roby Jr., 4726 Archer, Corpus Christi.

The other 12 will receive Army Reserve commissions. The 14 commissions were presented by Lt. Col. Joseph E. Stopp, professor of military science, during the commencement exercises. All the new officers will embark on periods of active duty with the Army in the next few weeks.

Library Sets New Time

Mrs. C. E. May, Sr., librarian for the Ranger Community Library announced today that during the Library summer months the library would be opened from 9 a.m. to 12 noon, Monday, Wednesday and Friday. This new time will start Friday, June 1.

Voting Saturday Will Determine Local, State Demo Primary Victors

Polls will open 8 a.m. Saturday for the Democratic runoff election and the ballots are short ones.

There are six races for Ranger voters to decide on.

Absentee voting has been heavy, indicating a heavy turnout Saturday. A total of 275 votes had been cast absentee in County Clerk Johnson Smith's office before the deadline Tuesday. Only 192 were cast in the primary.

Drawing the most interest and speculation were the governor's race on the state level and the district clerk's race on the county level.

Voters, county-wide, will make a choice between Roy Lane, seeking re-election, and Ann Justice, seeking her first term, as district clerk.

In the May 5th primary, Lane lacked 173 votes for a plurality over Justice and B. M. Bennett. Lane had 2,721; Justice, 1,928; and Bennett, 966.

The other local races are precinct decisions with two commissioners run-offs and one justice of the peace.

Gubernatorial candidate John Connally, who got 1,522 county votes in the primary, is expected to lead his opponent Don Yarborough, who got only 562 votes here the first go-around.

Connally included all three county towns, Ranger, Eastland, and Cisco on his whistle-stop state-wide railway campaign, and was "given" Ole Rip in Eastland, and he promised that he would name this county the pilot site for his urban industrialization project, if elected.

The other state races which all the county will vote in are lieutenant governor — Preston Smith, and James Turman; attorney general — Waggoner Carr and Tom Reavley; Congressman-at-large — Woodrow Wilson Beat and Joe Poof. In Ranger, incumbent Ruby Springer is opposed by M. D. Underwood for Justice of the Peace.

The two commissioner's court posts will be filled from the Gorman and Cisco precincts.

Carl Lamb, seeking his second term, as Cisco and Scranton's commissioner, is opposed by C. B. Dill in the runoff. Lamb got 656; Dill 667; in the primary.

Dick Foster of Gorman and Glenn Justice of Carbon are vying for the Gorman precinct commission post. Both are seeking their first term. Justice has 299 and Foster, 328 on May 5th.

Voters in Kokomo, Deedemona, Carbon and Gorman vote in that race.

Underwood had 312 votes to Springer's 295 in the primary.

County Judge John Hart was successful in downing two opponents in the primary without a run-off, and County Clerk Johnson Smith, County Treasurer Ellen Justice, County School Superintendent H. R. Garrett and County Surveyor R. T. Magness Jr. had no opponents.

A. E. Crawley of Ranger defeated A. J. Blevins Jr. as county Democratic chairman in the first Demo vote. Also successful were State Rep. Wayne Gibbons and State Sen. Tom Creighton. There are no Republican run-off races.

ATTENDS GRADUATION

Mrs. Verga Higdon has returned from Colorado City after attending the high school commencement exercises of her granddaughter, Sharon Thompson Allard.

The meeting will be in the form of a prayer service, with Rev. Brooks, pastor in charge of the service.

The public is invited to attend both meetings.

Merriman Baptist Revival Opens June 1

FORMER COACH Morris Jeffries Decorates Home In Football Theme

Morris Jeffries, former principal and coach, during the 1958 school year at Young Elementary School, has applied his experience as a football fan and coach to his home at 435 Pine. Mr. Jeffries has completely redecorated the five room house on Pine Street into a complete football and sports theme.

The ex-coach of Young School served as head and assistant coach for 13 years previous to his job in Ranger, in San Marcos, Kille, and other Texas towns. He coached the Captain, New Mexico, High School team to state championship in basketball during this period of time.

Mr. Jeffries is an ordained minister and previously taught math in addition to principal and coach duties at Young School. He was born in Eden, Texas and played high school football at Hedley, Texas, after which he attended Southwestern Teachers College at Durant. He resigned from the Ranger Public School system only last year to devote full time work to the project in his home and other interests.

Mr. Jeffries stated that the idea for a football theme for his home originated when he received a copy-right for his invention of ball point pens strung in the manner of a goal post and stuck into a miniature styrofoam football field. He decided to carry out the football theme with the miniature ball point football goals throughout the house and build the other ideas from the original thought. He began his work in mid-December of last year, gathering material from Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma, and Texas.

The living room of Mr. Jeffries home has been converted into an "Oklahoma room." The coffee table is in the shape of the state of Oklahoma and contains a built-in radio. The colors of the University of Oklahoma are carried out. Other football teams are also represented in the living room through an Albany Lions Band hassock in red and white. Deak Walker, famous SMU back-fielder in 1947, is portrayed in football decorations in the room. Mr. Jeffries stated that his favorite football player of all time was Walker and said that "much had been built around his memory."

We are pleased that you have come to attend these exercises which formally mark the close of our high school training.

A very common motto for a graduating class expresses the idea that the past is forever gone, but the future is still our own. Our high school days are forever gone, but the basic education we have received is a foundation upon which to build our future. With the experience and knowledge gained here in high school, we go forward to work for the realization of our hopes for the future.

We wish to express our appreciation for the training that we have received at the expense of the people of this community, this state, and our nation, to fit us for the activities in the days and years ahead.

We realize that an educational foundation is necessary for all American youth, facing the future in this world which demands workers with technical knowledge, a general knowledge of the world in which we live, and an understanding of the people who live in this world of ours.

As the years of high school close for us, we think about the places we shall take in today's world. We believe that every person counts for something. As young graduates from high school, we have set our aims high. We hope to accomplish great things in our future.

It is said that a hero long ago wept because there were no more worlds to conquer. How little he knew of life as it really is! Never will it be true that there is nothing more to be done, that every thing has been accomplished, and that there is no room for future conquest.

When one thinks about the great accomplishments that have been made in farm equipment, transportation, communication, household appliances, medicine, and science, can he doubt that still greater advancement is not possible? Who knows but what some member of the class of 1962 will make a great contribution to one of these fields.

We graduate from high school at a time fraught with momentous opportunities for making a better world, if man can learn to use the discoveries of science for the betterment of all mankind. Atomic power, the scientists tell us, can be the world's greatest opportunity, or the world's largest disaster. Only by confidence and understanding among all people can human advancement keep pace with scientific achievement.

To further prepare ourselves for our future in this demanding world, some of us plan to go to college, others of us will go to technical schools or will go into the business world. Because we are going to be of some importance in the world, we all view life after graduation as an opportunity.

Our hopes for the future are probably the hopes of all youth. We look forward to the opportunity of becoming citizens, active in the affairs of government, business, and community life.

In seeking our places in today's world, we hope that we never lose sight of the fact that wherever we are, each individual is important. We hope that we can so adjust ourselves to our work and our associations that we shall be able to be considered successes, successes so far as income is concerned, and successes in our ability to live with our own personalities and enjoy life because of what we are within ourselves and for what we know ourselves to be.

We members of the senior class of 1962 have faith in the future. We shall be guided by faith, by courage, and by hope. We feel certain that it can be said of our class in the years ahead that we helped to contribute something of use to the world — that we served the world and time as worthy graduates of Ranger High School.

By Jill Watkins
1962 Salutatorian
Ranger High School

Perhaps no single night in the life of a boy or girl is more important than Commencement. The daily grind of school work is over, the spotlight of public interest is turned on the graduates. The entire community expresses congratulations and good wishes—life is rosy indeed!

In accordance with the commencement theme from time immemorial, someone is selected as salutatorian and told to prepare an address which will, in effect, salute everyone who has contributed in any way to the progress of the class now graduating. I was chosen for the class of 1962 in Ranger High School.

As everyone knows, there are many different kinds of salutes—the firing of guns, the ringing of bells, the dipping of flags—and each has its own particular significance. Of bells, we can't fire guns, ring bells, or dip flags here tonight, but our salute is just as sincere as if it were accompanied by all these symbols.

Members of the School Board, members of the faculty, parents, ladies and gentlemen, I stand here tonight confronted with the difficult task of saluting all those who have had any thing to do with our school lives, and you must realize that includes a great many people.

First, perhaps, we should salute the members of the school board, men who devote uncounted hours to the business connected with operating a school system. I am afraid for us we have taken the trouble to realize—or even to attempt to realize—the thought and energy you have put into this work. We have been quick to criticize and have not hesitated to complain loudly and at length when things did not suit us. As we go out into the world and take our places in a community, it is possible that we may become school board members; and when we do, undoubtedly we will look back and see how patient, how understanding, and how efficient you were in conducting the affairs of the Ranger school system. May we, before we extend our thanks and offer you sincere salutations?

Then there is the faculty, including all who have taught us since we were in his first grade. There have probably been times when you thought we didn't appreciate your efforts, when you wondered if, after all, it was worth your while to come here day after day, trying to teach us what, apparently, we had no desire to know. Tonight, as we look back over our high school days, we are sorry for the times we were indifferent; and we realize as never before how much you have done for us. Some of us must have been real trials to you, "thorns in the flesh", if you will accept that term. We hope that with you, as with us, this graduation time will blot out all unpleasant memories and leave you thinking kindly of us as a class and as individuals. When some of us are teachers, no doubt the desire to salute you will return many times, although we know full well the opportunity has gone forever. Perhaps, though, we may do for someone else what you have done for us, and in that way the salute will go on and on. Once more, members of the faculty, we salute you!

Our parents too, merit salutes tonight. While each of us should have thanked them many times for all they have done for us, I have the sneaking feeling that we have fallen down there even more than in other places. So as part of this salutatory speech, I want to emphasize the fact that our parents have contributed to our progress more than any others. Even when we have failed, they have given us encouragement and have reached out helping hands all along the way. All too frequently we take our displeasure, if not our wrath, out on our families. Our teachers may see that side of us occasionally, but our parents out us with it all the time. We wish we could go back and erase such outburst from our memories as well as yours, but since we can't, we hope that our words tonight, as well as our actions in the future, will convince of the sincerity of our salute and give you confidence that we are not as bad as we seem, and that you deserve credit for whatever we may accomplish later. Parents, we hope you will accept this belated expression of gratitude, a sad reminder that as long as we live, we will cherish the memory of your goodness, and will do our very best to be worthy of your faith in us.

It would be impossible to list all the reasons for saluting our friends. You have shown an interest in our school affairs. You have supported the Bulldogs in football, basketball, and other activities. You have been generous with your praise and have stood behind us when the score was against us. You have given us financial backing when we needed it most. We may have failed to see how much you were helping us, but tonight we want to go on record as recognizing your work, and to let it be said that we salute you.

Schoolmates, we salute you from the grade schools on up. We can remember how wonderful seniors were in our eyes when we were in the lower grades, and we assume children have not changed much since then; so, it is intirely possible that we have been more or less idolized. Were we always a kind and thoughtful as we might have been, or did we flaunt our superiority in others faces? We wish to admit that we have not always lived up to the best and highest in this respect. Despite our differences, we have always had a common bond—the interests of Ranger High School. May the years yet to come give each of you an even greater desire to make our school the very best. We will try always to be interested in your progress.

Perhaps our own class should be saluted, too, and this is the hardest of all. Many of us have been together from the beginning of our school lives. We know each other as well as it is possible for one human being to know another. We know the weaknesses as well as the good sides. Day after day we have sat in the class room, sharing our disappointments as well as our joys. How I would like to tell of your achievements, your hopes, your dreams; but I cannot. May the memory of this night, of these last days in Ranger High School, bring you increased desire to forge ahead as you go on to even greater things. As salutatorian for the Class of 1962, I salute every one of you.

It would take many, many hours to mention all those we would like to salute, but I must draw this to a close. We are here tonight. No one knows what will come next, but we can rest assured that, in the future as in the past, there will be many who are willing to help us. May we always be just as willing to express our gratitude and extend our friendship!

THANKS

This will express my very sincere appreciation to the people of Eastland County for the fine vote of confidence that I received in the first primary Election. You can be every sure that I will try hard to merit this kind of endorsement.

Average Of 100 Farm Ponds Are Built Annually

On the farm fishing is a delightful side benefit of the conservation program in this area. Approximately 100 new farm ponds are built in this vicinity each year for stock-water. More than half of these are stocked with game fish by the federal and state fish hatcheries. The yearly production of fish in these ponds is tremendous. The recreation value of these ponds to farm families and their city friends can not be measured.

Fortunately, the conditions for storing clean abundant stock-water are also ideal for fish growth. The best ponds for both are located on the gass, are relatively deep, and have a minimum of shallow water along the edges. The provision of wide spillways to control the overflow to a shallow depth prevents the escape of fewer usable-size fish.

Large mouth bass and redear sunfish have proven to be the most desirable combination for farm ponds in this area. Channel catfish are also used in many ponds. Heavy fishing is most desirable and most pond owners welcome their friends to fish. If ponds are not avily fished, the fish population rapidly depletes the food supply which results in stunted fish.

Research shows that an acre of pond water needs 300 to 500 man hours of fishing each year to keep fish production at a maximum. All small unusable size fish that are caught should be discarded as each fish removed means more food available for those remaining. Some pond owners are using commercial fertilizer to increase their fish production.

Civil Appeals Court Ranks Eighth in State

Ranking eighth among the 11 state appellate courts in the number of cases disposed of in 1960 was the Eleventh Court of Civil Appeals of Eastland, which handles cases in the Abilene area.

The Texas Civil Judicial Council's report on 1960 judicial statistics shows that in the Eastland court 88 cases were disposed of during the year, compared to 137 for the Fourth Court at San Antonio, which was the leader. The Eastland court was also eighth in the number of cases filed during the year with 55 cases, compared to the leading San Antonio court with 199 cases. The Eastland Court handled an average of about 29 cases per judge. Statewide, the 11 courts wrote 1,032 opinions.

Ever add up what you could LOSE?

You have perhaps often added up what you are worth.

Ever add up what you COULD LOSE? It might perhaps be several times what you are worth.

Example: you may injure somebody, and the law may take all you're worth and attach your future income for years to come.

Example: your house may burn and it may cost you twice its original price to replace it.

Sometime add up all the losses you MIGHT have and you'll see that you are underinsured at many points — against theft, fires, lawsuits, embezzlement, interruption of business, etc.

Gloomy? Well, the purpose of the American Fore insurance policies we write is to end this kind of gloomy thinking.

Morris Jeffries -

sent on the Texas map with miniatures of oil, cattle, flour feed, wheat, citrus fruit, and gas plus a small miniature of the University of Texas.

The front bedroom of the Jeffries home is called the "SMU Room," and is decorated in the SMU red, blue and white colors. Goal posts frame the windows, and each curtain has SMU lettered on it. The school-colored bed has a goalpost headboard. The Jeffries ball point pen on a football field and a Mustang ash tray decorate the dresser. Kyle Roves, number 44, a famous SMU backfielder, is portrayed in the room. The middle bedroom carries out the Ranger High School theme with colors of maroon and white throughout. The maroon day couch has a jersey covered pillow with Abe Anderson's number 66 on it. Anderson was a well known Ranger Bulldog.

Ex-bulldog Charles Massegee, number 22, is also represented. A small miniature golf course in the form of the state of Oklahoma is laid out on the floor complete with golf greens, obstacles and pars. The buffalo, oil, mines, lakes, recreation, cattle and industries of Oklahoma are portrayed. A maroon and white Ranger Bulldogs Band hassock decorates the bedroom.

The back bedroom of Mrs. Jeffries home is the "Baylor Room," and is decorated in green and gold colors with lamps in the form of goal posts to light the room. The bed has a football shoe and a helmet at the headboard with a large football for the headboard and a large bear silhouette at the footboard. A miniature bear lies on the bed.

Mr. Jeffries points out the bathroom as the Breckenridge room. The towels are shaped as goalposts with "Bucks" written on each towel. Small ten-gallon hats are the curtain tie-backs and bucking broncos and cowboys are portrayed on each wall. Green and white school colors are carried out.

The kitchen is the Indian Room, and Mr. Jeffries stated that McMurry or any Indian mascot team could be portrayed in the kitchen, through the lettering on the chair backs. A football field is carried out on the kitchen table, complete with players, spectators (35 miniature Indians on the bleachers,) a homecoming Indian princess and an Indian chief to crown the queen. The players are represented by small red helmets in the positions of the Young School players with their numbers. The red Indian trash can, clock, decorated curtains and red and white lights complete the Indian kitchen.

Mr. Jeffries stated that he recently brought the players from the 1958 Young Colts team to his house. The boys were very much impressed with the football theme throughout the house.

Mrs. J. R. Suddarth of McACombs spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. R. A. Jones and sister, Mrs. Verga Higdon.

The hall was decorated throughout with fresh and artificial flowers. The refreshment table was centered with a large arrangement of gladiolas and poppies centered the registry table. Guest included Troy Bowen, 5th Division Commander elect and Mrs. Bowen, 17th District President of the Auxiliary, Sweetwater; Craig Laine, Post 382, Fort Worth; Mrs. B. O. Lodal, 17th Dist. Chaplain, Mineral Wells; Mrs. Joe Matthews, Department Membership Chairman, Fort Worth.

$270,400 Is Bond Quota

Eastland County's goal in the 1962 Freedom Bond Drive will be $270,400.00 in Series E and H bond sales, Guy Parker, chairman of the volunteer bond committee for this county announced today.

Sales from the first of the year through June will count toward the quota. The intensive drive will be centered in June.

But besides dollar sales, the participation of more families in a regular bond-buying program—with extra purchases during the drive period—is urgently needed, Parker said.

And he added: "The question for each of us is: What can I do to help the cause of peace and freedom? It is a question of survival of our way of life against a triple threat: military, ideological and economic."

"Selling more Savings Bonds helps our Treasury meet the mounting costs of keeping the peace—in a way that braces our economy against the strains that defense puts upon it. And we know that a strong economy is the base upon which our military and ideological force both rest."

"We have to keep showing the uncommitted peoples of the world that our kind of economic system, under the four freedoms, still far exceeds the benefits for more people than does the communist way. Propaganda won't prevail over positive proof."

We, the undersigned citizens of Ranger, Texas, are proud to be identified with this community. We are proud of its schools, churches, industry, businesses, homes and everything that makes Ranger a desirable place to live.

We are vitally concerned about the morals, happiness, safety and prosperity of all our citizens.

We believe that our community has a brighter future without the legalized sale of beer and wine.

TO THE PEOPLE OF EASTLAND COUNTY
I have made a hard and vigorous campaign for the Office of District Clerk, and have enjoyed seeing you. I have campaigned strictly on my own merits and not at anytime have I attempted to elevate myself at the expense of my opponent, or anyone else.
The fact that the records show that my opponent has held this office for nearly eighteen years, and has been paid $77,715.00 is certainly the privilege of the people to do so; but, this is a Democracy and I sincerely hope that you will yield to our known Democratic principles June 2nd, and elect me as your next District Clerk. It can be said in these modern times this is primarily a woman's job, as 100 counties of our State have women District Clerks, and 95% of the State have women Chief Deputy District Clerks.
I thank you profoundly for your courtesies to me at all times during the past four months of active campaigning. You have certainly been kind to me.
Your vote will be greatly appreciated.
