A QUICK READ OF THE NEWS

Annihilation war: Rats 1, cat 0

In a failed attempt at biological warfare, a cat sent in by the county to end a family's nightmarish battle against a rat infestation in Spring Hill, Fla., curled up on the water bed instead, waiting to be petted.

"Cats have always seemed to be a good predator for rats and mice," said Frank McDowell III, a Hernando County code enforcement officer.

Apparently not Jambalaya, a brown and white feline.

"He's good for nothing," said Matthew Monahan, a high school senior whose family has killed 63 rats in their home since April.

Jambalaya was the county's first attempt at rat control, but proved a feline failure. "He just lies wherever he lands," Monahan said.

"I guess I need to get them a better cat," McDowell said. "Something more aggressive."

Man gets 21 years in cat killing

A Milwaukee, Wis., man who shot his cat to death because it hissed at him has been sentenced to 21 years in prison.

Louis Wesela, 48, was convicted in May of being a felon in possession of a gun. The judge cited Wesela's 26-year criminal record when he sentenced him Tuesday.

Hekilled the cat in January after an argument with his wife, whom he accused of having an affair.

According to testimony, Wesela first threatened her with the gun, firing a shot into the ceiling.

Later the same day, he became upset with the cat because it hissed at him and shot the pet as it hid under a bed.

Among his past crimes, said assistant U.S. attorney Paul Kanter: armed robbery, beating a man with a tire iron, hitting an undercover agent with a bottle during a drug-related robbery, hitting two people in a car wash and damaging a public works vehicle with a hammer.

It's 1-0! Mules turn back Portales 31-14

By KEVIN WILSON
Journal Sports Writer

The sun set just before 8 p.m. at Muleshoe High School. That was the last time the Portales Rams saw the light. Instead, they saw the black of the Muleshoe Mules.

The men in black took advantage of early Ram mistakes and stormed out to a 21-0 lead en route to a 31-14 victory Friday night.

Running back Chris Vela led all rushers with 83 yards. His only touchdown, a 14-yard run, was the first of three touchdowns in a span of 4 minutes.

After Portales fumbled on its own 32, the Mules scored again on a 16-yard run by Danny Ramirez. The two-point conversion made the score 14-0.

Ramirez had a huge role in the next drive as well, returning a punt to the Portales 17. Two plays later, Jeff Bruns scored from seven yards out.

The Rams couldn't seem to gain any ground for much of the second quarter as junior quarterback Cody Johnson threw two straight inter-

DPS enforcing stronger law on use of seat belts

SPECIAL TO THE JOURNAL

The Texas Department of Public Safety began enforcing the revised seat-belt law Sept. 1.

The new law requires that children under 15 years of age be properly restrained throughout the vehicle. (The law formerly imposed the requirement only for children under 4.)

Senate Bill 60 was sponsored by state Sen. Mike Moncrief, D-Fort Worth, and co-authored by Sen. Florence Shapiro, R-Plano, and Sen. Eliot Shapleigh, D-El Paso.

"There just hasn't been enough publicity about the new law yet," DPS Director Col. Dudley M. Thomas said. "We will be stopping motorists for violating the new seat-belt law and taking appropriate enforcement action. "We urge Texans to start complying with the new law today — seat belts should be a no-brainer by now," Thomas said.

"We're also asking adults to set a good example by wearing their safety belts at all times," he added.

Some other facts about the new seat-belt law:

- The new law also extends the seat-belt requirement to one-ton pickups for children under 15. Children under 4 already were covered;
- The law clarifies "seat belt" as meaning both the lap and shoulder belt when the vehicle is so equipped;
- Punishment for violating the law is the same — a fine of $25 to $50;
- For those 15 years of age and older, safety belts are required only in the front seat of vehicles. However, the DPS strongly recommends universal seat-belt usage; and
- The law requiring children under 2 years of age to be in an approved car safety seat remains in effect.

Fifty-two percent of those killed in traffic crashes in 1997 were not wearing seat belts. (Figures for 1998 are not yet available.)

Wuerflein named region's florist of year

By RONN SMITH
Editor

Betty Wuerflein of Muleshoe is this year's florist of the year for the West Texas New Mexico Florist Association.

The group's large territory includes all of New Mexico, the Texas Panhandle, east to Wichita Falls and Abilene, and parts of Texas to the south and west of those cities.

The annual honor is awarded by a committee from the floral industry. According to a newsletter, the criteria can include "outstanding contribution to the local community," recruiting new members for the association, "furthering standard practices by continuing education of new florists and the floral industry," and new merchandising and promotional ideas.

Wuerflein's award was presented during the association's convention Aug. 7-9 in Amarillo.

Also during the convention, Wuerflein — the owner of Decorators Floral and Gifts — won first place in the association's Silver Cup Competition for original floral designs.

Her entry consists of red tropical flowers with greenery and perches atop a computer terminal displaying a picture of the arrangement on the screen.

The design won a certificate plus a $500 scholarship from the association that can be used for continuing education in the field. As florist of the year, she was presented a silver pitcher engraved with her name and the honor won.

Clements' day

Muleshoe High School junior Bret Clements postmarks mail (above) Friday with the special cancellation he designed to honor the Rotary Club's Labor Day Team Roping. Postmaster Lionei Garza looks on. Just prior to that, more than 100 people turned out to honor Clements and hear letters from artists and politicians all the way up to Gov. George Bush. Artist Jim Ward spoke in person. At left, John McClanahan tickles Mayor Robert Montgomery as he reads about the lighter side of Bret, composed by the young artist's mother.

School contact leads to sharing of health woes

SPECIAL TO THE JOURNAL
HOUSTON — Kids in a classroom share books, pencils, secrets and, too often, illnesses.

"Washing hands frequently is the best defense," said Dr. Jan Drutz, an associate professor of pediatrics at Baylor College of Medicine.

He encourages parents to teach their children to wash their hands periodically throughout the day, particularly before eating or handling foods.

Common classroom illnesses include upper respiratory tract infections, chicken pox, conjunctivitis or pinkeye, head lice and scabies.

Drutz offered these suggestions:

- Make sure all children have up-to-date immunizations. He also recommends the chicken-pox vaccine, though it is not always mandatory for school registration.

- Teach children to limit contact with classmates who appear ill.

"Advise the child: 'If you're sitting next to Johnny and Johnny is coughing and sneezing, try not to sit too close.' You can't completely avoid him, but try to stay at some distance," Drutz said.

- Contagious skin conditions like scabies and head lice can spread quickly through a classroom.

"Scabies is not uncommon. It's a mite that burrows under the skin and causes intense itching. We see whole families infected because it spreads through close contact," Drutz said.

Suzanne Nichols of Muleshoe shows the design that won her a second place in a local competition and Betty Wuerflein a first place in a regional competition.

Each entrant was given an hour to assemble their design during the competition.

Teen dies of asthma attack at school

A 14-year-old student at Gattis Junior High School in Clovis died Monday of an asthma attack that began while she was at school.

Two teachers tried to help Sarah Upton when the attack started at the beginning of a seventh-period science class. That class followed a physical-education class in which school officials said Sarah took only two turns at shooting a basketball, walking the first time and jogging the second. Teachers were aware of her asthma, officials said.

She reportedly was talking normally with other students as the science class began, but then was stricken and did not improve when given medication.

She died at Plains Regional Medical Center less than an hour after the arrival of an ambulance and her mother.

Sarah's father, Samuel Upton, is a senior master sergeant assigned to the 27th Supply Squadron at Cannon Air Force Base.

Littlefield wooing dairies

The city of Littlefield, which has already experienced some success in attracting the dairy industry, is reported to be working with half a dozen more dairies that have expressed interest in locating there. Two dairies are already located to the west of Littlefield.

Littlefield officials say the effort is area-wide and that any economic growth in the area benefits everybody.

Muleshoe's Economic Development Corp. recently agreed to provide a $150,000 loan to help an expansion of Boehning Dairy, near the Bailey-Lamb county line.

And a group of dairymen recently announced plans to build a cheese-making plant at Clovis as part of the area's expanding dairy presence.

An admitted mistake by Mules coach David Wood helped put new life into Portales, however. On fourth and 15, the Mules attempted a fake punt. When the fake didn't work, the Rams received the ball on the Mule 49, the first time the Rams had been in Muleshoe territory all night.

A 35-yard strike to junior Gabriel Montoya put the Rams at first and goal. On the next play, senior Dathan Culpepper took the ball in four yards. After Johnson ran in the two-point conversion, Portales seemed to have a new spark.

Although Wood admitted that faking the punt was not a good idea, he felt justified with it after the game.

"We're going to take advantage of what they're going to give us," Wood said, reasoning that the Rams did not expect a fake.

What may have helped Wood feel better was his defense. Twice, the Mules turned back the Rams from inside their own 30. The defense was especially tested because the offense lost three fumbles in the second half.

The Mules played against the clock in the fourth. A drive of 2:37 ended with Ramirez's second score of the game, a 27-yard reception.

Just over two minutes later, the Mules took advantage of another Ram fumble. Senior Ryan Hodge hit a 36-yard field goal to end scoring for the Mules.

With the score 31-8, Portales got a break. A fumble on the kickoff was recovered by Ty Griffin, who went 60 yards untouched for the score. Unfortunately, it was too little, too late for the Rams. After the two-point conversion failed, the Mules ran out the clock for a 31-14 win.

Dominating the game early was a prerogative for the Mules, according to Wood.

Portales coach Glenn Johnson said there were many missed opportunities, but the victory was not due to luck.

"We played a very good football team," Johnson said. "A team that has the potential to go the distance."

The win puts the Mules at 1-0 while Portales now drops to 1-1 on the year.

PUBLIC NOTICE
BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS
Special Election
NOVEMBER 2, 1999

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

HJR 44 - HJR 44 proposes a constitutional amendment that would ensure a clear succession in event of vacancies in the offices of Governor and Lieutenant Governor. Specifically, the amendment would provide that if after qualifying for the office, the Governor is temporarily unable to serve, the Lieutenant Governor shall act as Governor until the Governor is able to serve; but if the Governor is permanently unable to serve, the Lieutenant Governor shall become the Governor for the remainder of the unexpired term. The amendment would require a Lieutenant Governor who becomes Governor to forfeit the office of Lieutenant Governor. The amendment would also provide similar succession procedures when a vacancy occurs in the office of Governor before the newly elected Governor qualifies for office, and when the newly elected Governor is temporarily unable to take office. The amendment also would provide that if there is a temporary vacancy in the office of Lieutenant Governor, the President pro tempore of the Senate will fill the position; but if there is a permanent vacancy in the office of Lieutenant Governor, the President pro tempore of the Senate shall serve as Lieutenant Governor only until such time as the whole senate can convene to elect one of its members to perform the duties of Lieutenant Governor. Finally, the amendment would provide that if the Lieutenant Governor, while temporarily exercising the powers of the Governor, becomes temporarily disabled or unable to serve, the President pro tempore of the senate shall exercise the powers and authority of the office of the Governor until such time as the Governor or Lieutenant Governor resumes those powers and duties.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to revise the provisions for the filling of a vacancy in the office of governor or lieutenant governor."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

SJR 12 - SJR 12 proposes a constitutional amendment that would resolve conflicts between the Texas Constitution and federal law relating to the definition, rules, and procedures of reverse mortgages. The amendment would define "reverse mortgage" in part as an extension of credit made against the homestead of a person who is 62 years or older, or whose spouse is 62 years or older. It would expand the list of circumstances under which payment of principal and interest become due and the procedures involved in foreclosure, and would require certain advances to be made according to specific terms in loan documents, including advances by the lender, on behalf of the borrower for payments necessary to protect the lender's interest. Finally, the amendment would require the Texas Supreme Court to promulgate rules of civil procedure expediting court-ordered foreclosures of reverse mortgage liens.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment relating to the making of advances under a reverse mortgage and payment of a reverse mortgage."

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

HJR 62 - HJR 62 proposes a constitutional amendment that would simplify and clarify the language of the Texas Constitution. The amendment would make no substantive changes, but would eliminate duplicative, expired, out-of-date, and ineffective terms.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to eliminate duplicative, executed, obsolete, archaic, and ineffective provisions of the Texas Constitution."

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

HJR 4 - HJR 4 proposes a constitutional amendment that would broaden the definition of charitable organizations. The amendment would exempt from ad valorem taxation the property of any organization engaged primarily in public charitable functions, and it would allow such an organization to conduct additional activities to support its charitable functions.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to authorize the legislature to exempt property owned by institutions engaged primarily in public charitable functions from ad valorem taxation."

PROPOSITION NO. 5 ON THE BALLOT

SJR 26 - SJR 26 proposes an amendment that would remove the restriction prohibiting state employees who receive all or part of their compensation from the state from serving as members of a governing body of a school district, city, town, or other local governmental district unless the state employee receives no salary for such service. The amendment would allow state employees to receive compensation from the governing bodies of which they are members.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment allowing state employees to receive compensation for serving as a member of a governing body of a school district, city, town, or other local governmental district."

PROPOSITION NO. 6 ON THE BALLOT

SJR 22 - SJR 22 proposes a constitutional amendment that would increase the maximum size of an urban homestead, which is a homestead in a city, town, or village, from one acre to ten acres and require the urban homestead to be composed of either a single lot or several lots that are adjacent to one another. The amendment also would provide that the urban homestead must be used as a home or as both a home and place of business, whereas current law does not require that an urban homestead that is used as a place of business be used also as a home.

Current law further allows a person to secure a home equity loan on their homestead, provided that the loan does not overburden the homestead. That is, the principal amount of the home equity loan, when added to the total of the outstanding principal balances of all other indebtedness secured against the homestead, does not exceed 80 percent of the fair market value of the homestead on the date the extension of credit is made. The proposed amendment would clarify current law by specifically allowing home equity loans on all or part of urban homesteads of up to ten acres and subject such loans to the same requirement that the refinanced or new loan not overburden the homestead.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment increasing the maximum size of an urban homestead to 10 acres, prescribing permissible uses of urban homesteads, and preventing the overburdening of a homestead."

PROPOSITION NO. 7 ON THE BALLOT

HJR 16 - HJR 16 proposes a constitutional amendment that would provide that if an employee is delinquent in paying court-ordered spousal maintenance, a portion of that employee's wages may be withheld to pay the spousal maintenance. Current law allows such withholding, or garnishment, only for payment of delinquent court-ordered child support.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing garnishment of wages for the enforcement of court-ordered spousal maintenance."

PROPOSITION NO. 8 ON THE BALLOT

HJR 95 - HJR 95 proposes a constitutional amendment that would provide that the adjutant general, who is appointed by the Governor and who serves as the governing officer of the state military forces, serves as long as the Governor wishes the appointed person to serve in that capacity rather than serving a specific two-year term set by the legislature.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to provide that the adjutant general serves at the pleasure of the governor."

PROPOSITION NO. 9 ON THE BALLOT

SJR 10 - SJR 10 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the legislature to create a judicial compensation committee to make recommendations for salaries for the justices and judges of the Supreme Court, the Court of Criminal Appeals, the Courts of Appeals, and the District Courts. The amendment would mandate that the recommendations become law if neither the Senate nor the House of Representatives rejects them by majority vote.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to create a judicial compensation commission."

PROPOSITION NO. 10 ON THE BALLOT

HJR 74 - HJR 74 proposes a constitutional amendment that would provide that the commissioner of health and human services, who is appointed by the Governor, serves as long as the Governor wishes the appointed person to serve in that capacity rather than serving a specific two-year term set by the legislature.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to provide that the commissioner of health and human services serves at the pleasure of the governor."

PROPOSITION NO. 11 ON THE BALLOT

HJR 69 - HJR 69 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize a county, city, town, or other political subdivision to spend public funds or extend credit to purchase nonassessable property or casualty insurance from a mutual insurance company authorized to do business in Texas. Under current law, a political subdivision is generally prohibited from spending public funds or extending credit to become a stockholder in a corporation but is permitted to purchase nonassessable life, health or accident insurance policies from a mutual insurance company authorized to do business in Texas. This amendment would authorize a political subdivision to also obtain non-assessable property and casualty insurance from such a company.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment permitting a political subdivision to purchase nonassessable property and casualty insurance from an authorized mutual insurance company in the same manner that the political subdivision purchases life, health, and accident insurance."

PROPOSITION NO. 12 ON THE BALLOT

SJR 21 - SJR 21 proposes a constitutional amendment that would exempt from ad valorem taxation a leased motor vehicle that is not used by the lessee primarily to produce income. The amendment would provide that the legislature also may limit the ability of a political subdivision to subject such a vehicle to taxation.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to authorize the legislature to exempt from ad valorem taxation leased motor vehicles not held by the lessee primarily to produce income."

PROPOSITION NO. 13 ON THE BALLOT

SJR 16 - SJR 16 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the legislature to allow the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board to issue and sell general obligation bonds in an amount not to exceed $400 million in order to finance educational loans to students. The amendment also would authorize the Legislature to limit the amount of interest the bonds can bear and establish procedures for the investment of the bond proceeds. The proposed amendment would specify the method of repaying the bonds.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment providing for the issuance of $400 million in general obligation bonds to finance educational loans to students."

PROPOSITION NO. 14 ON THE BALLOT

HJR 29 - HJR 29 proposes a constitutional amendment which would authorize the Legislature to require the board of regents of the state university and boards of trustees or managers of the educational, charitable, and penal institutions of the state, whose members serve six year terms, to be composed of an odd number of three or more board members (for example, 5, 7, or 9 members). The proposed amendment would allow approximately one-third of members of boards whose membership is not evenly divisible by three to be elected or appointed every two years. The amendment also would allow the Legislature to set the composition of constitutionally required boards, whose members serve for a term of six years, to a number divisible by three so that exactly one-third of the board members may be elected or appointed every two years.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to provide that a state board, commission, or other agency shall be governed by a board composed of an odd number of three or more

HJR 36 - HJR 36 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow spouses, by an agreement in writing, to convert all or part of their separate property into community property. Separate property is primarily the property owned or claimed by the spouse before marriage and the property acquired by the spouse during the marriage by gift or inheritance. Community property consists of the property, other than separate property, acquired by either spouse during marriage.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment permitting spouses to agree to convert separate property to community property."

PROPOSITION NO. 16 ON THE BALLOT

HJR 71 - HJR 71 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow a county with a population of 50,000 or more, rather than 30,000 or more, to be divided into four to eight justice of the peace and constable precincts. The amendment also would allow a county with a population between 18,000 and 50,000 to have two to eight justice of the peace and constable precincts, rather than the current maximum of five precincts. Furthermore, the amendment would limit Randall County to not less than two and not more than six precincts. Finally, the amendment would set a minimum of four precincts for any county that as of November 2, 1999, is divided into four or more precincts.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to provide that certain counties shall be divided into a specific number of precincts."

PROPOSITION NO. 17 ON THE BALLOT

HJR 58 - HJR 58 proposes a constitutional amendment which would require the board of regents of the University of Texas System to manage investments of the permanent university fund (PUF) according to the standards of a prudent investor. Generally, earnings from the PUF are distributed to the available university fund (AUF) and then ultimately distributed to the public university systems of Texas. Under the amendment, the amount distributed to the AUF would consist of distributions, as determined by the University of Texas System board of regents, from the total return on all investment assets of the PUF, instead of consisting only of the dividends, interest, and other income of the PUF minus administrative expenses. The amendment also would provide guidelines for minimum and maximum amounts to be distributed to the AUF, and require that the board of regents manage distributions to the AUF in a manner that will provide the AUF with a stable and predictable stream of annual distributions and maintain the purchasing power of the PUF investments and annual distributions to the AUF.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment relating to the investment of the permanent university fund and the distribution from the permanent university fund to the available university fund."

I Still Pray at Football Games, But It's Getting Tougher

Prayer at football games. I admit I've had ambivalent feelings about it. It's always struck me as a bit odd, a little humorous, and certainly ironic that two minutes before we send kids out on the field to knock the living daylight out of their opponents, and to do what is inherently dangerous (I mean, do we really expect to run 200-lb kids headlong into 200-lb kids and nobody eventually to get hurt?), we ask God to bless the glad my kids are playing. And I do pray, and I plan to keep on praying.

But the large majority of West Texas towns playing football last night did not pray publicly before their games. They had little choice. The 5th Circuit Court of Appeals said they shouldn't and an always helpful ACLU said publicly that they'd be happy to help sue any district who did. The ACLU believes, you see, that the Constitution not only prohibits our government from establishing a particular religion, but that it also prohibits the government from allowing anything that smacks of religious activity. Like praying at football games. They're not even comfortable with moments of silence (somebody might pray, you know), as they themselves are rarely ever silent and tend to be religiously irreligious.
I wish they'd been told by the court to get a life, get a real job, find something more pernicious to fight than kids praying at football games. I wish they'd been laughed out of court. The ACLU is a humorless group and takes itself very seriously which makes it vulnerable to humor. I think their latest victory will be struck down. For now school districts and superintendents have little choice but to follow a stupid ruling which has the effect of law, even if it's a very bad one, but they and we should certainly speak loudly to lawmakers about what we think about that law.
One of our guys last night went head to head against an offensive lineman who weighed 310 pounds. Don't tell the ACLU, but I'll bet our kid prayed. Even the ACLU isn't big enough, mean enough, and nasty enough to stop that.

carnage. Even if I pray before I choose to run my car into a brick wall, I still wonder if God's response might not be, "Fool! If you get hurt doing that, well, what really did you expect?"

One preacher, years before preacher-led prayer at football games was as illegal as axe-murder, supposedly prayed, "God, we thank you for your traveling mercies. We pray for your protection over both teams. And we pray for grace for our opponents to accept the tail-kicking they are about to receive."

But, seriously, I do pray personally before games. I pray, logically or not, that my kids, our kids, and the other kids won't get hurt. And that we'll all, fans and kids alike, behave. I'm thankful that our town has athletes and coaches who are not only winning but who make us proud because they do it with class. And I do enjoy the games. And I'm

Actkinson, Anderson married in May 22 ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson pose at their May 22 wedding

Kristopher Lance Anderson and Kimberly Jill Actkinson were married May 22 at Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church in Farwell.

The Rev. Beth Harrington, pastor of the church, officiated the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Actkinson of Farwell and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bryant of Las Cruces, N.M.; Peggy Vineyard of San Antonio, Texas; and the late Mr. and Mrs. Theo Actkinson of Muleshoe.

The bridegroom is the son of Dr. Ron Anderson of Farwell and Karen Haiduk of Santa Fe, N.M., and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Haiduk of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Warner of Pampa and the late Mr. and Mrs. E.L. Anderson of White Deer.

Guests were registered by Christy Alexander of Austin and Whitney Jackson of Houston at a table covered with white linen accented with chantilly lace and satin ribbon tulle, holding a vase of white calla lilies.

The altar area was flanked by two white pillars swagged with white tulle and each topped with cascading arrangements of white calla lilies, white Lady Di roses, dendrobium orchids, delphiniums, white larkspur, English tea ivy and petite lemon leaf.

Two brass candelabras accented the front sides of the altar area and were adorned with English tea ivy. Pews were marked with white candle arrangements of white calla lilies, petite white roses and English ivy.

Each pew was swagged with white lights in tubes of gathered tulle. Above the pews the wooden arches held flower arrangements of white calla lilies and white roses swagged with garlands of English ivy draped with white lights and tulle.

Pre-nuptial selections were played by organist Jane Ann Jones of Littlefield. The ceremony began with Schubert's "Ave Maria" as grandmothers were seated, and Bach's "Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring" as mothers were seated.

The bridal party entered as Jones played Pachelbel's "Canon in D." The ringbearer and flower girls entered to "Dance of the Blessed Spirits" by Gluck, and the bridal processional was "Here Comes the Bride" by Wagner. A vocal selection of "Her Prayer" was composed for the occasion and sung by Carrie Pierson of Houston while the bride and groom took communion.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride entered the church wearing a designer dress with a bodice of white Venice lace with Sabrina illusion neckline and a full tulle skirt hemmed with satin ribbon.

For her headpiece and veil, the bride chose a small cluster of pearls on a comb with a cathedral length veil bordered with satin ribbon. She carried a traditional elegantly styled bouquet of white calla lilies, white Lady Di roses, dendrobium orchids, English tea ivy and petite lemon leaf.

In keeping with tradition, the bride's "something old" was a white handkerchief trimmed with lace that had been made as a bonnet for her as an infant by the late Judy Jones; "something new" was a string of pearls given to her by the groom; "something borrowed" was a set of matching pearl and diamond earrings and a ring belonging to her mother and "something blue" was a pledge pin given to her by her sorority sisters. In her shoe, the bride carried two pennies given to her by her mother and minted in the birth years of the bride and groom.

Serving as the maid of honor was Lacey Actkinson, sister of the bride from Farwell.

She wore a formal-length gown of pewter crepe with satin trim. The fitted gown featured a satin-trimmed round neckline with a scooped back, with matching crepe and satin stole and a bouquet of white calla lilies.

The bridesmaids and bride's matrons wore the same gowns as the maid of honor and carried matching bouquets. They were Brandi Gressett of Lamesa, Angela Roswell of San Antonio and Robbi Actkinson and Alyson Actkinson, the bride's sisters-in-laws from Farwell.

The flower girls were Peyton Adams of Arlington and Claire Sigler of Edmond, Okla., both cousins of the groom.

The ringbearer was Landry Actkinson, nephew of the bride, of Farwell.

The best man was Brock Anderson, brother of the groom from Farwell. The groomsmen were Matthew Williams of Texico, Mark Hicks of Lubbock and Jeff Actkinson and Greg Actkinson, brothers of the bride from Farwell.

Ushers were Leland Brockman from Fort Morgan, Colo., Josh Erwin and Neal Haynes from Lubbock and Billy Rogers from Costa Mesa, Calif.

The bride's mother wore a fitted cobalt crepe formal-length dress with a tier lace bodice. The groom's mother wore an ivory silk bead-trimmed suit.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the Holiday Inn in Clovis.

The five-tier wedding cake of Bavarian cream with different layers of raspberry and apricot filling, along with a layer of Italian cream cake, were topped with white buttercream icing, fresh petite white roses, white stock, mini-calla lilies, larkspur and English ivy, trimmed with strands of white pearls.

Assisting in serving were Amber Grigsby of College Station, Texas; Jill Brackeen, cousin of the groom; Lacy Greenstreet of Lubbock; Meagan Lee of Arlington; Amanda Dent of Houston; and Haley Key of Dallas. Robin Gregory coordinated.

Bottles of bubbles wrapped in white tulle for the bride and groom's departure were distributed from a white basket of layered lace and pearls by Micah Christian, Shelby Christian and Melissa Howard, all of Farwell.

After a trip to Hawaii, the couple will live in Lubbock. The bride is a 1994 graduate of Farwell High School and a 1998 graduate of Texas Tech University, with a bachelor of science degree in human development and family studies. She is employed at the Child Development Research Center at Texas Tech University.

The bridegroom is a 1993 graduate of Farwell High School and a 1997 graduate of Texas Tech University with a bachelor of science degree in entomology. He is entering his third year of law school at Texas Tech this fall and is working on a master's degree in crop science.

The bonds, and the tax rate necessary to pay those bonds, were approved by the voters of this district.

 The Rate to Maintain the Same Level of Maintenance & Operations Revenue & Pay Debt Service does not reflect revenue available to the district in the 1999-2000 school year for the pay raise for classroom teachers, full-time librarians, full-time counselors, and full-time school nurses enacted by the 76th Legislature. The estimated cost of the pay raise for the 1999-2000 school year is $45,000.

NOTICE THREE WAY I.S.D. TAXPAYERS

The Three Way Independent School District adopted the 1999-2000 budget after a public hearing on August 30, 1999. The "NOTICE OF PUBLIC MEETING TO DISCUSS BUDGET AND PROPOSED TAX RATE" — the adjoining ad — is required pursuant to Education Code Section 44.004, to be published before the adoption of the tax rate and after September 1st for the tax year 1999.

Bush names Nelson education chief

AUSTIN — Gov. George W. Bush reviewed 11 candidates for state commissioner of education and recently appointed James E. Nelson of Odessa to the post.

Nelson, 49-year-old lawyer who has no experience as a public school teacher, replaced Commissioner Mike Moses effective Sept. 3. Moses, a longtime professional educator, will become deputy vice chancellor for the Texas Tech University System.

Nelson has served as a trustee of the Ector County (Odessa) Independent School District, including two terms as president, and is chairman of the State Board of Educator Certification, the agency that licenses teachers.

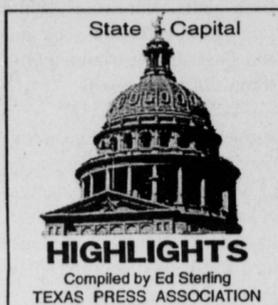

He also has served as president of the Texas Association of School Boards. In a capitol news conference, Bush referred to Nelson as an "educational entrepreneur."

"I wanted somebody who understands that when we find success, we praise it, and when we find failure, we are willing to challenge the status quo. I believe Jim is that person," Bush said.

Nelson's annual salary as commissioner will be $164,748. His appointment will expire in January 2003.

Benchmark rate hearing set

Texas Insurance Commissioner Jose Montemayor will decide whether to increase the benchmark rate for auto insurance after a Sept. 8 public hearing in Austin.

Texas insurance companies cite growing costs of vehicle repairs in asking for an 11.4 percent increase in standard rates for insurance.

Among those companies asking for a benchmark increase are Farmers and State Farm, the two largest auto insurers in Texas.

But the state's consumer advocate, the Office of Public Insurance Counsel, says the rates should decrease by 4.8 percent because profits are up and insurance losses are down, The Dallas Morning News reported last week.

The benchmark represents a premium under which companies are supposed to be able to earn a reasonable profit. Regulated companies can charge up to 30 percent above or below the benchmark rate.

On the other hand, county mutual auto insurers, which don't turn away drivers with less than perfect driving records, operate independently of the benchmark rate.

Jonathan Klein, a spokesman for Progressive Insurance, a county mutual, said his company has no plans to increase rates.

Accountability ratings

New ratings through the Texas Education Agency's school accountability system are available online at www.tea.state.tx.us/perfreport/account/99/index.html.

The 1999 accountability ratings are based on dropout rates, student passing rates in the Texas Assessment of Academic Skills and attendance figures.

Data tables show information used to determine the rating for any campus or district.

Searchers simply "click" on campus, district or state data tables to get the information. Information on charter schools also can be accessed.

Judge rules for early voting

U.S. District Judge David Hittner of Houston has thrown out a lawsuit challenging the right of Texas to vote early in federal elections.

Secretary of State Elton Bomer, the state's chief elections officer, praised the decision.

"Early voting in Texas generally accounts for about 30 percent of the ballots cast on a general election day.

"More important, early voting provides Texans a convenient means of letting their voices be heard. I am happy the court agreed early voting in Texas enhances our right to vote," Bomer said.

Other highlights

More than 1.7 million Texas are expected to be on the Medicaid rolls in the fiscal year that began Sept. 1, according to the state budget. The program will cost $19 billion over two years, including more than $7 billion in state funds.

Created in 1965, Medicaid pays medical bills for low-income, older and disabled people with no other access to health care.

If approved by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission this month, waterfowl hunters will get a 107-day season and 20-bird daily bag limit for light geese and a 74-day season and six-bird daily bag limit for ducks across the state.
