Keep Dairy Cows Comfortable

A comfortable cow puts more milk into the bucket. A shelter shed deep enough to keep cows dry in cold, rainy or snowy weather is the best means of providing comfort, says M. U. May, county agent of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

Good dairy cows need to rest, but they won't lie down in mud unless they are exhausted. Exhaustion lowers milk production about as much as wet and cold do. On that account the floor or earth under the shed should be higher than the ground outside and slope outward so that rain which blows in from the open side will run back to the outside. To assure dryness the floor should be of caliche.

May says that it is a good rule to make the depth of the shed twice its height at the front. The length should be regulated by the number of cows and whether they have horns. Dehorned animals need 30 square feet of floor space each, but those with horns should be allowed 45 square feet. Dairy cows require somewhat warmer shelter than fattening steers.

"It is not possible to get maximum milk production unless cows are sheltered from cold, May explains. "It is not necessary to build anything expensive for a shed made of bundles would keep the cows warm. Texas is short of milk as well as the nation and if we in Castro county are to produce our part we must furnish better shelter and see that our cows get plenty of roughage and water especially on these cold days we are having now."

OFFICE TO BE CLOSED SATURDAY JANUARY 30

The news has received word that the office of Dr. R. F. McCasland of Tulia, Texas will be closed Saturday January 30, he states, "Since there are so many people coming from Dimmitt, this notice might prevent some from making a worthless trip."

ME THODIST CHURCH

"The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof; the world and they that dwell therein." To whom else can we go for succor in time of need. "If the Lord be God, serve Him, if Baal then serve him." That's a fair proposition. If the church means more to our community then it is but fair that we give it our first and best thought and service. Go to church Sunday. There are three churches in Dimmitt you owe it to God, to your family, yourself and your country to stand by them with your presence, your support and your influence.

Next Sunday we will begin the Study of Latin America. You are cordially invited to attend these services each Sunday evening at 8:00 o'clock.

SOCIAL SECURITY BOARD TO REMAIN OPEN ON SATURDAYS

In order to stretch man-hours and make manpower go as far as possible in serving the public, the marillo, Social Security Board field office will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. each day of the week including Saturday according to Dewey Reed, manager.

"In the past it has been the custom of all Social Security Board offices to close at noon on Saturday. This practice has been abolished for the duration and a complete working force will be on hand to look after the applicants for Social Security account numbers, claims, and other matters connected with the administration of the Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance System."

The Amarillo Social Security Board Office is located in the New Post Office Building, and individuals having business with the office will find it open for the entire work day each Saturday.

4-H CLUB MINUTES

The president called the meeting to order and the secretary read the minutes and called the roll. Then the recreation leader had a game for us to play (heavy heavy hangs over thy head.) Then Miss Grindstaff gave out some information on how to fulfil their offices more correctly. Then she found out who wanted to be demonstrators.

Miss Grindstaff gave us some copies of the program for this month. She showed us a sun bonnet and a mitten. Then she demonstrated how to blanket stitch. Then the meeting was over.

CATTLE LICE TAKING TOLL IN COUNTY

Cattle lice are taking their toll in beef this winter over Castro county according to M. U. May, county agent of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service. Several people are dipping and spraying their cattle to control lice and also to control the ox warble or wolves found in the backs of cattle. Two general sprays or dips are used one being a commercial oil spray and the other a spray or dip made up using 10lb. of derris or cube powder 100 lb. of wettable sulphur mixed with 1000 gallons of water. People using either of these sprays are getting good results and their cattle are reacting to the treatment. Ullman Hunter of the Jumbo community used the sulphur, cube mixture in his dipping vat in September and dipped some 1000 head at a cost of around 4 cents per head and states that his cattle have done good all fall and no lice have been found on the cattle since dipping.

Wolves or ox warbles in cattle back can be controlled by dusting equal parts of derris or cube and wettable sulphur on the cattle back or sprayed or washed with a mixture of 5 lbs. of derris or cube to 10 lb. of wettable sulphur to 100 gallons of water. Ox warbles cause tremendous loss in hides of cattle slaughtered beside the annoyance of cattle affected by them.

EMERGENCY CROP LOANS

Emergency Crop Loans, known generally as "the seed loans", offered for many years in this county by Emergency Crop and Feed Loan section of the Farm Credit administration, are now available to farmers in need of financial assistance for the production of vitally important food crops and normal crops for 1943, according to announcement of W. E. Farwell, Manager of the Dallas Office.

Applications for the loans are being taken in this County by Joe Hastings at Courthouse under direction of Field Supervisor H. L. Kinsey.

Funds obtained under these loans may be used to cover the cost of preparing the land and to purchase seed, fertilizer and supplies incident to the production of the crop. A first mortgage on the crops to be grown is the security required on the crop loans.

As in the past, borrowers will be required to agree to plant a large garden for home use and a balanced crop program will be encouraged. This year, however, particular emphasis will be laid upon the patriotic utility of all growers to produce food crops and oil-bearing crops outlined by the department of Agriculture as all important goals in meeting the urgent war needs.

Loans are also available from this Agency to purchase or produce feed for livestock. A first mortgage on the livestock to be fed is the security for that type of loan.

Applicants who can obtain loans from banks, Production Credit Associations, or on reasonable terms from other sources, are not eligible for Emergency Crop Loans

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

Secretary of Commerce Jesse H. Jones today announced the appointment of Burt C. He succeeds Richard B. Johnson, who has resigned.

Took special courses while in the U. S. Army in 1917 and 1918 at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Ohio State University, University of Pennsylvania, and University of Texas, and also went through the Officers Training School.

Mr. Blanton did engineering work in New York while attending the Pratt Institute in 1915 and 1916 and did similar work in St. Louis in 1919. In 1920-22 he was director of operations in Mexico and Central America for the Briggs-Weaver Machinery Company of Dallas.

He was self-employed as consulting industrial engineer and business economist in Dallas and during the past 20 years has made more than 600 specific surveys for clients presenting a complete cross-section of business, commerce and industry in Texas and the Southwestern States.

Problems relating to the war effort will have first priority, and problems peculiar to small business and its integration with the war production program will receive special attention.

Mr. Blanton also will promote the study of industrial and commercial problems, both war and post war, by private enterprise and by university schools of business and departments of economics.

Mr. Blanton will be located at the Dallas Regional Office of the Department, of which Mr. Carl F. Bartz is Regional Manager, 1101 Commerce Street in the Dallas Chamber of Commerce Building.

RUBBER BOOTS ARE ELIGIBLE FOR CERTIFICATES

Employers who need rubber boots or rubber work shoes for the use of employees doing work essential to the war effort, public health or safety during disaster are eligible for rationing certificates to permit the purchase of such footwear. Henry Stalcup, chairman of the Castro County War Price and Rationing Board, reported today.

"Employers faced with such an emergency may now apply to the local War Price and Rationing Board," Mr. Stalcup explained. "The Board will report the matter immediately to the state OPA Director and obtain his permission to issue a certificate for the needed number of pairs of rubber footwear. The employer must retain title to the footwear, however."

This new procedure is permitted by an amendment to the rationing regulation governing rubber boots and rubber work shoes to furnish to his employees unless he had done so in the past.

EXCESS SPEED DANGEROUS ON NEW WAR TIRES

Driving at excessive speed on new war tires of reclaimed rubber was likened by Lubbock district OPA officials today to driving "with a charge of dynamite under each wheel."

Attempting to avert accidents which might result from higher speeds on war tires, district officials warned that "war tires will not stand speeds in excess of 35 miles an hour even though they are capable of delivering thousands of miles of troublefree service if operated according to factory specifications."

Although war tires are labeled with a warning they should not be used at higher speeds, numerous motorists who buy tire never see the warning, since it is destroyed by the dealer when the tire is mounted, officials said.

"To the layman, the new war tire appears to be equal in durability to the tire manufactured prior to Pearl Harbor," they explained. "It is true that the ply construction is the same, the tread design and depth the same, but this tire will not stand heat and friction. In West Texas, where distances are so great, excessive speed constitutes one of our major problems in tire abuse."

The only tires being manufactured for passenger cars are of reclaimed rubber and may be sold only to persons who obtain certificates from their War Price and Rationing Boards.

"WAKE UP AMERICA!"

Should Compulsory Arbitration Replace the Strike and Lock-Out?

Moderated by FRED G. CLARK
General Chairman
American Economic Foundation

As debated by
Raymond H. Bannell
Vice-President, Hartford Steel Ball Company, Hartford, Connecticut.
Prof. William L. Nunn
Chairman, N. J. State Board of Mediation; Prof., Labor Economics, Newark University.

MR. BANNELL OPENS: In post-war America the organized strike and lock-out should not be revived! They must be prohibited by law. We know our democracy, based on the premise "might does not make right," is on trial. Democracy will still be on trial after the war. We will have seen the collapse of the concept "might makes right."
To revert to pre-war methods of settling grievances through the economic leverage of strikes and lock-outs is to prove we have gained little from the terrible experiences of this war.
Once the grievances of management and labor have been established they should be referred to an impartial individual, or tribunal, mutually agreed upon. The arbitrator, or tribunal, should have authority to make final determination of the dispute. If the parties cannot agree on this procedure of voluntary arbitration the law should compel them to plead their cases before a judicial body with power to enforce the award.
This is the peaceful method. Management and labor should resort to it as a definite example we have learned "might does not make right." We cannot convince beaten, bewildered peoples of the world we are capable of leadership unless our own house is in order.
PROF. NUNN CHALLENGES: It is because I believe in democracy that I oppose legislation to outlaw strikes and lock-outs. Neither England nor America in this war has found it necessary to prohibit by law either strikes or lock-outs. If such legislation, which is advocated by my opponent, is desirable during peace it clearly should be even more desirable while the nation is fighting for its very existence. Actually, one of the issues of this war is the right of workers to organize and bargain collectively for wages, hours and working conditions. No such right exists in the totalitarian countries; these are democratic institutions.
MR. BANNELL REPLIES: The right of workers to organize and bargain collectively for wages, hours and working conditions is unquestioned. These rights are truly democratic. The right to collectively enforce demands by force, through the strike or lock-out, and thereby dismiss the orderly methods of adjudication, is not democracy. Legislation compelling disputants to place their grievances before an impartial tribunal when voluntary methods have failed, is most desirable in war or in peace. Victory gained by strike or lock-out is not proof that the side which lost is wrong, or the side which won is right. It merely demonstrates the theory "might makes right."

PROF. NUNN OPENS: Admittedly, strikes and lock-outs are wasteful of economic resources; are destructive of community values; breed dangerous forms of class warfare. Even so, I cannot agree they should be prohibited by law in the post-war world. One cannot outlaw differences of opinion. Since these differences are going to continue, those who argue for legislation to outlaw strikes generally wish to see established some form of compulsory arbitration centering around Industrial Relationship Courts. The picture usually given is that the participants of a dispute appear before impartial judges and plead their respective cases around a chancery table; finally they are required by law to abide peacefully by the decision. However persuasive this may sound, the whole idea rests upon assumptions which are alien to our economic and political institutions. Wages, hours, seniority clauses, working conditions, policies of hiring and firing—and all other controversial issues—in the field of industrial relationships will be established by law under any such system of compulsory arbitration. In my opinion this is industrial autocracy. I favor the extension of existing mediator and arbitration agencies on the federal, state, and local levels, short of compulsory arbitration, because I think such plans lead to industrial democracy.
MR. BANNELL CHALLENGES: Professor Nunn indicates a preference for establishing standards of wages, hours and working conditions. Standards such as these must be inevitably set anyway if we are to enjoy industrial peace. A final determination of grievances arising between unions and managements can be obtained only by submission of the controversy to an impartial body—be it private or judicial—authorized to render an enforceable award. Strikes and lock-outs gain nothing. They are economic wars, the barbarous method for settling disputes. It certainly is not alien to our economic and political institutions to refer differences of opinion to tribunals for final adjudication.
PROF. NUNN REPLIES: Over the last two decades this country has been evolving an industrial relations policy. It does not call for the setting of wages, hours and working conditions by government. The government merely determines MINIMUM standards, and says the actual standards are to be set by collective bargaining between unions and employers. The job of government is to maintain a balance through such laws as the Norris-LaGuardia Act, the National Labor Relations Act, etc. If government removes from labor the right to strike, no semblance of balance will be maintained because labor will have lost its chief economic force.

TEACHERS AND STUDENTS OF D. H. S.

Getting down to business, I want to ask every student and teacher to help the Journalism students put out a better paper. Without your cooperation don't expect everything to be of the best.

If a reporter comes to you wanting to know something or asks you to do something which will be for the paper, do not put him off with a "Ah, I don't know anything." After all the reporters are doing all this for your benefit, and they have the work of putting all the material to gether. If you do not give all you know, and can, what can you expect to be written up?

The teachers should help out for they play an important part in what the paper is. When the student of the Journalism class ask for some information on what you have been doing in class, please

NEW MUSIC TEACHER

The students of Dimmitt Schools now have a chance to resume their private music lessons. Mrs. S. C. Huckabay is giving music lessons in the high school music room. If you are interested in starting or resuming music lessons, see Mrs. Huckabay.

SNOOPER SNOOPING

Snooping around the halls, camp us, theatre and thereabouts of Dimmitt we find twosomes, foursomes, and lonesomes.
It was no unusual thing to see Wana with C. C. at the show Tuesday night.
Joe and Callie seem to always patch up their little misunderstandings to last a little longer. They were together again Friday at the ball game. Charles and Sue made this a foursome.
Gene and Mary Nell couldn't make up their minds but it sounds like they have them made up now and its not for the best.
There were a number of lonesomes seen at the ballgame Friday night.
Leo and Marilyn made a striking couple at the show Tuesday night.
We wonder why Jo Ella went to Wichita Falls over the week-end. Oh yes, we remember—That's where Harold is!
Harriet is happy again. Johnny's home!

Mrs. Ola Wright visited her sister, Miss Sarah Brashears in Amarillo last week.

What makes the study hall such a dreary place to be?
What "line" all the kids used Friday night to take their cars to the ball game?
Why all people don't have the same amount of "smart" so we wouldn't have to attend school?

WHO'S WHO

She's a cute red headed senior 5'6" tall with green eyes. She came to Dimmitt at the first of this year after attending three high school years in Waho.

Her ideal boy is John Payne. Her ideal girl is Betty Grable. She had rather read good fiction books, skate and go to the show than anything. Her favorite food is frozen malts. Her favorite drink is cherry coke. In case you haven't guessed she is Virginia Anderson.

GREEN PASTURES

"Please find me something about pasture," said a small voice at the library. A Library assistant may expect anything, so obligingly she went to the catalogue to find something about grazing lands and field and rural haunts of bovine and equine.

First she looked under "P". Nothing there, then followed a search through meadow, field, grass even horse and cattle.
"Do you suppose," she finally asked another assistant "Could you find this youngster a book about pastures?"

"Why, of course" was the reply. And a second search was begun. "Why don't you look under 'L'?" asked the meek little voice.

"Why in the world would I look under 'L'?"
"Well, his first name was Louis, wasn't it?" The assistant sat weakly in a convenient chair.
"Who would ever have suspected he meant the great scientist, Louis Pasteur?"

DO YOU BELIEVE IN SECRET MARRIAGES? WHY?

Mary Evelyn—Why not, I might want to do that myself sometime.
Harriet—Well, it sounds exciting Sue—What in the heck do you want get married for if you're going to keep it a secret.
Mary Alice—Wouldn't it be more fun to let people know it? Are you kidding?
Marvin—No, because what's the use of getting married if you keep it a secret?
Mr. Blaine—Sure, if it will keep you from having a charivari!

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

At Midway, in the Coral Sea and from General MacArthur's headquarters in Australia, the Navy patrol bombers are searching out enemy bases, ships and transports and "completing their mission." The Navy Patrol Bomber costs about $750,000.

Our factories are turning out hundreds of these bombing ships. Yet it is only through your investment in War Bonds and Stamps you can do your share to help provide patrol bombers for our rapidly increasing air force. Invest at least ten percent of your income every payday in these Government securities and do your bit to win and shorten the war. Our airmen are depending on your help.

COMMERCIAL LAW

A commercial Law course was started in the Dimmitt High school with the beginning of the second semester. Miss Ruby Morris is teaching the course.

There are five girls enrolled so far. They are: Wilma Ruth Dixon, Mary Evelyn Behrens, Beatrice Ferguson, Helen Caison and Harriet Huckabay.

Although these girls may not get sufficient knowledge to become lawyers, they will know more about legal terms and how to operate a business if necessary. Now with women taking a more important part in financial affairs, this training will probably come handy in the future.

HALF—HALF

The first semester ended January 5, 1943, and the last semester is under way. The records of all the students is clear, and the lost books were either found or paid for.

For the seniors this will be their last period at school here and for some, their schooling they will ever have.

The Juniors are not far from graduation and in a few days the Freshmen will be leaving here.

Due to the war, some schools have closed and others will be closing, so if you want to learn as much as you can, now is the time to start, cause who knows this school may have to shut down itself, but there is no danger now of such a thing.

Now that the last semester has begun lets all get down to work.

BEAT FRIONA

The Dimmitt Bobcats and Bobbies will play the Friona Chiefs and Squaws here Friday night, January 22, at 8:00 o'clock. The Bobbies have been downed by the Squaws once this season due to lack of practice.

The Bobcats won both their games with the Chiefs and are looking forward to another victory.
Come out and boost your hometown team!

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Wright and Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Brannan were business visitors in Plainview Saturday.

Mrs. Penn—No, because I think the person will be letting themselves in for a lot of trouble.
Miss Rudkins—No, because if I marry someone I won't be ashamed of him.

Miss Merritt—It depends on whether I get a chance to get married secretly or not.

Hazel—Sure I believe in them, but I think eloping will be more fun!
Miss Morris—Sure do. Why? well why do people get married?
Genevieve—Yes, if it's the right person.

Joe W.—Yes, if her parents are against it.

Mary Nell—I wouldn't know! I never have been secretly married!
Callie—If I were getting married I wouldn't be ashamed of it. But I don't even think of such a thing at my age.

Lillie—No, because I would be afraid someone would know all of the time.

Dorothy S.—Yes, I might want to try it sometime.

Patsy Lou—I like secrets! Need I say more?

John Curtis—No, if you don't want it known, why marry?

Kenneth—Yes, who wants to go see the preacher Saturday night?

(Answer before 12:30 Saturday. This is the deadline!!)

Joe Richard—No, because I'd probably have too much trouble with her dad, when he found it out!

BOBCATS WIN AND LOSE

After winning eleven games in a row, the Bobcats met a stumbling block last Friday night and dropped an overtime decision to the Hereford Whitefaces 14-13.

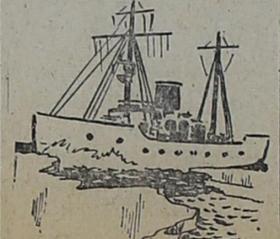

The Whitefaces, defending district champions, were a cool serious quintet, and this in connection with an off night for the cast was the determining factors which put the first blot on a perfect season.

Wilkinson, and Birdwell tied for scoring honors with six each. Curtis high scoring forward, failed to make a point. Weems and Hill starred for Hereford.

In a preliminary engagement the Bobcat B. team sparked by Cook, took the Hereford B team into camp 17-6.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

It is imperative that the ship lanes be kept free of ice. With American troops occupying Iceland and the Navy using the northern route for transportation of supplies to Russia, ice breakers are essential to Naval operations. The ice breaker is a specially constructed ship with heavily armored bows and powerful engines that crush the ice floes rather than ram through them.

Ice breakers of the Kickapoo class operating in the North Atlantic cost approximately $10,000,000. You can help our Navy build these ships by investing at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every payday. Enroll in the payroll savings plan or apply at the nearest bank or postoffice. U. WOMEN AT WAR

Bessie

"All right, Bessie," said the boss of the little factory which was making jackets for soldiers. "Did you want to see me about something?"

The thin middle-aged woman stood up from the chair in the outer office and looked earnestly at the boss with her huge, grave gray eyes.

"It's about this ten percent pledge," she began.

"Oh, that's all right, Bessie," the boss said. "I'd been meaning to speak to you about that. We don't expect you to pledge ten percent of your pay for War Bonds like the others are doing. We know you have a hard time making ends meet since Jake died. Eleven kids, isn't it? That's quite a lot of mouths to feed. Let's see, you make $25.50 a week including overtime, don't you?"

"Yes, sir, but..."

The boss smiled.

"Don't give it another thought, Bessie. You've got your hands full now. Uncle Sam knows you haven't got a penny to spare. Don't let it worry you. We understand."

The boss turned to go back into his private office.

"But what I wanted to say was..." Bessie raised her voice and the boss looked around. "I wanted to say, would a dollar a week be too little? You see, after we get the living expenses paid, there's just about a dollar a week left. Would they be willing to accept a dollar a week?"

"They'd be more than willing," the boss said quietly. "They'd be proud."

Bessie looked relieved.

"All we have to do is scripp a little," she said. "I'd feel just terrible if we couldn't give something."

Back in the boss's office a representative of the Treasury Department was waiting. The boss shut the door and sat down.

"I've just seen the greatest single sacrifice I know of," the boss said. "Listen, if you want to hear what American women are made of..."

(Story from an actual report in the files of the Treasury Department.)

Are you making a sacrifice? Are you buying War Bonds, People's Bonds? Join a payroll savings plan at your office or factory.

War Stamp Sales Over Half Billion Dollars, Album Drive Opens

U. S. Treasury photo

Appealing Margaret C. Russell of the War Savings Staff tucks up this new Treasury poster which will be seen from coast to coast. It pictures retailers slogan, "SAY YES." A drive is underway for Americans to buy additional War Stamps to fill albums and convert them into War Bonds.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The nation's retailers from the tiniest hamlets to the mighty cities are acting as a spearhead in a great Treasury Department campaign to sell the additional War Savings Stamps needed to fill more than 100,000,000 albums now in the hands of the American people.

According to a report released by the Treasury Department today, sales of War Savings Stamps totaled $559,777,000 for the period from May 1, 1941, through November, 1942.

Stamp sales have risen from less than three million dollars per month when they were first introduced to the public to an average of more than fifty million dollars per month at the present time.

The Treasury's slogan, "A half-filled album is like a half-equipped soldier." has been adopted officially by retailers for the campaign.

The importance of the drive is seen in the fact that a War Bond potential of nearly two billion dollars hangs in the balance.

Every War Stamp album, converted into a People's Bond, for which the purchaser pays $18.75 and which matures to $25.00 value when held for 10 years, adds its force to the war effort.

The Treasury Department is counting upon the country's school children to play a powerful role in the success of the SAY YES drive. The volume of stamp and bond sales is at the rate of $200,000,000 for the current school year.

DO YOU WANT A BABY?

New Vitamin Combination Brings Hope to Childless Homes

Nothing equals a baby to bring complete unity and happiness into the home and tie husband and wife together in a stronger bond of enduring love and mutual interest. Divorce is rare in the homes of couples that have children.

Unhappy wives, childless due to relievable functional weakness may now enjoy the desires and activity of Nature's most wonderful creation—a normal, fully-developed, vigorous woman. A sensational new vitamin treatment specifically for women may be just the thing needed by the childless wife and quickly bring the happiness of a baby in the home. It is, of course, absolutely harmless.

If you are childless due to functional weakness and lack normal vigor—if you wish to eliminate one of the great causes of unhappy marriages, by all means try Perlex for one week. To introduce this new vitamin combination to a million women quickly, the Perlex Company, 314 N. Michigan Ave. Chicago, Illinois, will send a full $2.00 supply for only $1.00 and a few cents postage. Send no money—just your name and address. Perlex comes in a plain wrapper—directions are very simple and no diet or exercise is required.

MID-TERN EXAMS

Our generation is surely going to be more bald headed than our fore-fathers were. The reason? Mid-terms! Wednesday morning we were all a-dither. Wednesday evening we were all bald. Bitten finger nails and hair torn out by the roots were strewn abundantly about. Children, hagar-eyed and brain-sore listlessly dragged their feet toward home, leaving the janitor to carry out the bundles of paper that had been started, crossed out, and started again.

Future President of America, Take heed! We the students do hereby decree that we shall elect unanimously any candidate for the presidency who will use as his platform the abolishment of examinations.

Our Freedom Is Priceless

By JOSEPH E. DAVIES Former Ambassador to Russia and Belgium.

(Written for the Treasury Department in connection with the Retailers' "SAY YES" campaign to complete the nation's 100,000,000 partially filled War Stamp albums.)

What I myself saw in my four years in Europe gave me a new realization of the priceless rights which we here enjoy.

No secret police can in the night whisk us away, never again to be seen by those we love.

None of us can be deprived by any party, state or tyrant of those precious civil liberties which our laws and our courts guarantee.

None of us can be persecuted for practicing the faith which we found at our mother's knee.

None of us can be persecuted, tortured or killed because of the fact that an accident of fate might have made us of the same race as the Nazarene.

No American can be placed by any party or government in a regimented vise which takes from him or her either freedom of economic opportunity or political religious liberty.

What would the millions of unfortunate men, women and children in Europe give to be able to live and enjoy such a way of life?

Well, in this war, those are the things in our lives which are in jeopardy. Our boys are dying to preserve them for us.

Then we can do no less than to "say yes" and fill those war stamp albums. It is our duty and privilege to help the secretary of the treasury, Mr. Morgenthau, in his magnificent effort to do the tremendous job of getting the money to keep our boys supplied with the weapons with which to fight our fight.

Surely that is little enough for us to do on the home front.

Joseph C. Grew Warns

Half-Effort Will Not Defeat Japan

By JOSEPH C. GREW

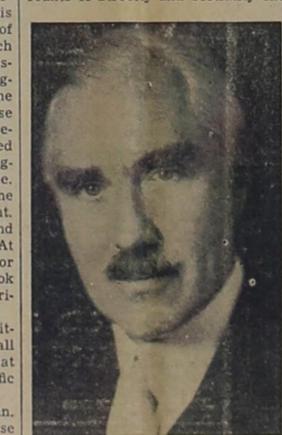

United States Ambassador to Japan until the outbreak of war, and author of "Report From Tokio."

(Written for the Treasury Department in connection with the Retailers' "SAY YES" campaign to complete the nation's 100,000,000 partially filled War Stamp albums.)

WASHINGTON, D. C.—In describing one of the big air battles over Guadalcanal a recent newspaper account tells of an American flyer who parachuted from his crippled plane to the waters of Lunga Bay. The Navy craft which picked him up next went to the rescue of a Japanese pilot seen struggling in the water nearby. As the rescue boat reached the Japanese flyer he suddenly pulled out his revolver, aimed it at the drenched American pilot, and pulled the trigger. The cartridge failed to explode. Then the Japanese officer turned the gun on himself with suicidal intent. Again he pulled the trigger and again his revolver failed him. At this point an American sailor knocked him out with a boat hook and pulled him aboard the American craft a prisoner.

Almost daily one reads eye-witness stories such as this one, and all of them clearly demonstrate that war with our enemy in the Pacific cannot end in compromise.

For ten years I lived in Japan. The truth as I know it from close observation is this: Nothing less than the exertion of our maximum capacities, individually and collectively, in a war of offense will bring our beloved country safely to the longed-for haven of victorious peace. The Japanese are pawns of a senseless but mighty militarism—fact shines clear. We must utterly crush that machine and caste and system. If, however, we Americans think that collectively and individually we can continue to lead our normal lives, leaving the spirit of self-sacrifice to our soldiers and sailors, we shall unquestionably run the risk of a stalemate with Japan. I do not have the slightest doubt of our eventual victory. But I do not wish to see the period of our blood, sweat and tears indefinitely and unnecessarily prolonged. We must not fail to realize that we are up against a powerful fighting machine, a people whose morale cannot be broken even by successive defeats and untold economic hardship, a people who gladly sacrifice their lives for their Emperor and their nation. We must also remember that Japan did not start this war without carefully laid military plans for victory over the United States and a peace dictated by their war lords at the White House.

This is a total war, the only answer to which is a total American victory. It is a war in which half measures of any kind mean incredible waste of material, energy and human life. In this sense a half-filled War Savings Stamp album is symbolic of a half effort. There are, I am told, roughly 100 million partially complete War Stamp albums now in circulation. These uncompleted Stamp albums are, in a measure, like a 100 million threats to a speedy and victorious peace.

On the other hand, for every War Savings album completed and cashed in for a Bond, you the owner have helped some soldier or sailor take a forward step on the uphill road to total victory. U. S. Treasury Department

Washington is laughing about the young Eastern OPA official who, discussing steer rationing with a group of western livestock men, observed: "I suppose this will apply equally to both kinds of steers." "What do you mean, both kinds?" asked one of the cattle raisers. "I mean to the females, as well as the males," was the innocent's answer.

Cotton clothes for cold climates. The Army is working on this now. Wind resistant, it's made warm as air by placing soft, light layers of insulating material between a cotton cover. An idea for us, ladies?

War-working wives and husbands, many alternating day and night aours, also alternate in their kitchens, nutrition authorities report. By using self-raising cake flour (which has baking powder and salt already added) they can whip up hot breads and cakes in a jiffy.

More about horse meat! Scientists praise its nutritional values; Boston eats it; French restaurants served it regularly as "boeuf," and many an American tourist never knew the difference!

WFB says gas-fired and oil-burning water heaters will be manufactured next year only for use in war housing or other war projects.

Over 50,000,000 pounds of American seeds have been purchased to replant Allied farmlands, the Department of Agriculture reports.

Your magazines will be thinner. A flat 10 per cent reduction in amount of print paper used by each publisher has been recommended by the Magazine Industry Advisory Committee to WPB.

Poultry consumption has hit a new high as meat gets harder to buy... Some farm-slaughtered meat is being shipped to city folk by their country cousins. OPA concedes the impossibility of policing rural meat supplies.

The new ration book scheduled to appear in late January "will be as hard to counterfeit as a $20 bill," to defeat black markets and bootleggers. "Safety paper," which can't be duplicated, etching of plates as intricately as for Government currency, guarding against theft of either paper or plates, are among precautions taken by the Government Printing Office.

With meat increasingly hard to get, it's a problem to make it go far enough these days. Here is a meat loaf recipe recommended by a home economist friend of mine: Grind 1 lb. raw beef or ham with 1/2 lb. each veal and lean fresh pork. Season with 3/4 tsp. salt and 1/4 tsp. each celery salt and pepper. Mince, add 1 small onion. Over meat pour 1 1/2 cup milk or water and 1 cup pan-toasted quick or old-fashioned oats. Also 2 tsp. baking powder. Mix with large cooking fork. Place in well-greased loaf pan. Press down firmly. Bake 350°—50 minutes. Turn out onto tray and invert on to heat after 10 minutes. Let stand 5 minutes and nut

Next hand towels will be skirts underwear and caps. The Army already has a corner on sheets and pillow cases.

It's a rosy world for the neck-and-gun crowd, at least, tank drivers! Goggles with five interchangeable lenses—clear, amber, green, light and dark red—a official Army equipment. Protect against dust and glare and are "adaptors" for adjusting eyes quickly from a strong light to darkness.

Many department stores turn to self-service to ease the serious personnel problem. With a sign to "serve yourself just as you do in a super market," a Boston store has introduced this procedure in several departments.

In addition to possible rations of wool clothing by Fall, men may lose their coat lapels as well as cuffs, and we women may have to give up another skirt pleat.

Wooden-soled shoes will soon clank on London sidewalks! Uppers will be mostly of suede. And we over here, facing leather shortages, will be wise to conserve what we have by giving our shoes the old shinol which both polishes and protects.

"A-la-mode" is out of mode for pie these days. Restaurants are saving ice cream.

One food manufacturer has a billion busy bees making honey to help offset the sugar shortage.
