PRESIDENT ENDS SOUTHERN TOUR

Final Reception is Given at New Orleans

MISSISSIPPI IS SILENT

Only State Making No Demonstration of Greeting, Is Traversed in Darkness

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 26.—President Roosevelt's train left Kenner at 8:20 o'clock and was switched from the Illinois Central main track at Harahan.

President Roosevelt arrived at the Stuyvesant dock promptly at 9 o'clock and was given an enthusiastic reception.

Gratitude for the immeasurable service he rendered in her successful struggle against the yellow fever epidemic was the dominant note in the splendid welcome which New Orleans extended to President Roosevelt today.

Traveling toward his southern journey's end, the President traversed through the night the whole length of the state of Mississippi. He left it after darkness had fallen and left it before the day dawned, so there was no opportunity for a friendly demonstration by citizens of Governor Vardaman's state.

Toured Harbor on Steamer

The program arranged by the local committee contemplated a popular reception when the President had completed his tour of the harbor at New Orleans docks, where a commodious ocean-going Southern Pacific steamer awaited him.

It was promptly 9 o'clock when the train ran into the docks and there was enthusiastic demonstration from the steamer as the President ascended the great levee of the Poplar street district.

A brief levee held, during which he was presented to a large majority of those who filled the steamer's decks. The President manifested the pleasure he felt over the distinct cordiality of his reception.

When the boat landed at 10:25 o'clock he was escorted ashore and helped into an open carriage drawn by four horses. With him rode Governor Blanchard, Mayor Behrman and Secretary Loch, and John C. Skyles, Harry Stuart, Grady, James Douglas and Otto Winter, who followed Colonel Roosevelt, were rough riders in the war with Spain, and served as a special mounted escort.

On the streets the scenes were almost a replica of those of the carnival season. The weather was ideal. Never before has New Orleans been more elaborately decorated.

NEW ORLEANS was glad he had come to visit her. On Canal street, between Liberty and Cadburne, for four squares there was a solid mass of colored people.

At the city hall opposite Lafayette Square, on which acres of people were gathered, a broad platform had been erected and as the head of the line reached the hall the entire line of civilian and military organizations preceding the President's carriage opened ranks and the carriage drove through.

Negotiable Instruments for Various Amounts Bear Names of Business Men

Fifty checks to which the names of some of the best known business men in the city were signed, the amounts varying from $1.50 to $200, according to the police, were found in the possession of a middle aged man giving the name of George Francis, who was arrested Wednesday afternoon by Officer Snow of the city police department.

Shortly before noon, the police report, the man appeared in the W. P. Lane furniture store, at Fourteenth and Houston streets, requesting that a check for $15 be cashed. He was told, they say, that the establishment could not do this for him, and he finally offered to take $10 for the check.

It's all right to abuse the men who amount to a good deal of course; but suppose there were no better men in the country than those referred to by political orators as "Fellow Citizens?" What would the country amount to?

Meanwhile the clerk measuring the man continued to measure and kill time until the chief and the cashier arrived.

Plans $11,000,000 University While $20 Check Presented in California Is Under Investigation

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—A dispatch to the Tribune from St. Louis, says:

"If the plans of Mrs. Charles F. Joy, wife of the former St. Louis congressman, are carried out, an $11,000,000 university of which the object will be the study of occult and psychic phenomena, the human soul and all the arts and sciences of the new thought not recognized by established schools, will be built overlooking the Pacific near Santa Barbara, Cal. In addition to the university, Mrs. Joy proposes to establish a sociological colony, where the science of life and the laws and duties and responsibilities of parenthood will be studied.

"A site overlooking the Pacific near Santa Barbara, Cal. for the school and 20,000 acres in Arizona for the colony have been offered for the institution. When the time arrives, Mrs. Joy says, she does not fear the funds will not be forthcoming.

"The age of prejudice and bigotry is fast passing away," said Mrs. Joy last night, "and the world is willing to be informed on what really is meritorious. This is the foundation upon which the school will be established.

"My plan is to bring about the founding of a university in which the great trinity—the human soul, mind and body—will be properly trained, each in conjunction with the other and not the sacrifice of one by ignoring the other, as now too largely prevails.

"It is intended the new school will be a twentieth century institute for the unprejudiced discovery of every power of nature available for the benefit of man. It will make a scientific investigation of so-called psychic phenomena and will stimulate the invention of mechanical instruments capable of registering psychophysical forces. I believe that under the progress possible by such a university, the time will come when we shall be able to furnish scientific proof of the existence of soul, proof of which is yet lacking."

AMUSEMENTS

"The Liberty Belles" at Greenwall's Thursday matinee and night had a good patronage at both performances and pleased the management so well they will play return engagements Saturday matinee and night.

The Belles have an evanescent quality about them like the aroma of rare spices, which is sometimes blown away by the vigorous action of the play, only to return and make the audience wonder whether they are seeing just musical comedy, or something infinitely more delightful.

This peculiar quality (the press agents state) when he calls the play dainty and bewitching is never assertive enough to get the audience off its underpinnings in a wave of enthusiasm, but is content to hover around the lines, the music and the fetching scenic effects.

The whole result is apt to leave the hearer pleased in an uncertain sort of way, because the effect is now in musical comedy. We have been used to having the jokes pounded in with slapsticks, the songs shouted in sing-song rhythm until the gallery knows them well enough to whistle the chorus, and the scenery flooded with glaring calcium until it looks like a harbor during a gale.

Leaving out this new quantity in the Liberty Belles there are numbers of features which give the audience plenty of chance for self-assured applause. There are an abundance of clever imitations by Will Conley, Virginia Lovick and Herbert Carter. Virginia Lovick's impersonation of George M. Cohan's recitation of "Life's a Funny Proposition" took well, as did Will Conley's animal imitations and Carter's eccentric dancing.

"When Johnny Comes Marching Home" to Greenwall's opera house Friday night, Oct. 27.

The entire production will be presented with all its elaborate details of scenery, mechanical and costume effects and superb cast that characterized the long run which the piece enjoyed at the New York theater, in fact the opera will be brought here direct from New York.

The opera has more action, more popular songs and more scenic effects than any musical piece that has been produced in years. The music ranges from grand opera to ballads, the choruses are strong, well voiced and keep beating.

One of the quaint costumes worn in "When Johnny Comes Marching Home" full time throughout, while an air of patriotism pervades the entire work. The company includes W. T. Carleton, the eminent baritone-manager; W. P. Carleton, a splendid baritone and an able and worthy successor to his distinguished father; Miss Gertrude Vaughn, Miss Bertha Darel, J. Francis, Donald Mackenzie, C. D. Burr, Miss Jean Salsbery and a large chorus of beautiful young women and handsome young men, who are also vocally of a high order of merit.

"WHEN JOHNNY COMES MARCHING HOME"

At Greenwall's opera house Friday night, Oct. 27. The Dallas News said: There is novelty in the comic opera called "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," and this applies to costumes as well as to music. It is in the hands of a capable company at the head of which is the veteran, W. T. Carleton, and its reception last night was quite favorable.

The music ranges from pieces which are quite difficult to ragtime and practically all of it is quite good. The hit of the evening, however, was "Ma Honeysuckle Gal." This is intended as a negro song, and is sung by C. D. Burr and the "plantation chorus," whose faces are blacked. There is little of the negro melody about it, but the peculiar, swinging refrain and the eccentric dance with which it is accompanied was instantly received in a very favorable manner.

W. T. Carleton, the head of the company, is 55 years old, and his son, a stalwart young fellow, appears in the title role. The elder Carleton came to America with Marcius Gray in October, 1872, to support Clara Louise Kellogg in English opera. His stage career is an interesting one, and he has sung practically all the important male roles in opera which are adapted to his voice. That he can still sing in a most pleasing manner was attested last night by his efforts in the duet with Miss Jean Salsbery entitled, "When Our Lips in Kisses Met" and in the solo, "Years Touch Not the Heart."

The younger Carleton, who appears in the title role, sang several selections excellently, among them being "My Own United States." Miss Gertrude Vaughn is an excellent singer, and her numbers, "Patriotism" and "In Sprintridge," both difficult, were well rendered.

Miss Bertha Darel is a very vivacious young lady, whose singing loses nothing by comparison with the other members of the cast. She had much to do, singing three times in the first act and twice in the second. Probably her best song was the one entitled "Did He? No, He Didn't," which was given with chorus.

The comedy element was introduced by James Francis, and his work was really delicious. His song, "I'm So Upset," got many encores, and the eccentric dance which followed it was as good as the song.

"WAY DOWN EAST"

Joseph R. Grismer's excellent elaboration of Lottie Blair Parker's story, "Way Down East," which comes to Greenwall's opera house Monday and Tuesday nights and Tuesday matinee, Oct. 30 and 31, is one of the few plays that has a true stamp of lasting popularity. It attracts the theatergoer and wins to the theater hundreds upon hundreds of those who are rarely seen within a place of theatrical amusement. The main theme of "Way Down East" is the oft-told story of a trusting woman, who, being deceived by a mock marriage, endeavors to rely upon her own ability for support, and when all her trials seem to drag her down, she is saved by the madness of a true friend.

JEFFERSONS IN "THE RIVALS"

Richard Brinsley Sheridan's comedy, "The Rivals," will be the bill at Greenwall's opera house Thursday matinee and night, Nov. 2, and will be presented by Joseph and William W. Jefferson. There is no need to go into details as to the capabilities of the above stars. They have served their apprenticeship under the tutelage of their father, the beloved "Dean of the profession," the late Joseph Jefferson, which means that they are worthy of going before the public in the parts they have been playing for the past five seasons with their father. Joseph will play Sir Lucius O'Trigger; William W. will play Bob Acres.

"LIBERTY BELLES" RETURN

Local theater goers who were unable to attend the performance of the Liberty Belles, the charming musical comedy on its first here last Wednesday, will have another opportunity to witness one of the daintiest and most bewitching musical offerings ever seen in this city.

That's why Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will do. A tonic for the sick and weak. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. J. P. Brashear.

DAILY TELEGRAM TO SELL FOR 2c A COPY

Price Reduction Marks Policy in Line with Metropolitan Journals' Success

Retail price of The Daily Telegram beginning with the issue of today will be 2 cents.

This announcement, coming as a surprise in newspaper circles of the state, is made following the decision of the paper to follow the lead of the big eastern and northern dailies in publishing up-to-date papers at popular prices.

In such cities the action has met with unqualified success, increased sales and a wider scope of influence following in every instance.

The announcement is also significant in that The Telegram is the first Texas paper carrying Associated Press reports to announce such a reduction. This feature, together with all others that have contributed to the rapid growth of The Telegram under its present management, will be continued, the addition of others being made from time to time as in the past.

Under the new price list, the only change made is in the daily issue. This edition will still be delivered by carrier, together with the Sunday paper, as at present, for 10 cents a week. Price of The Sunday Telegram will continue at 5 cents. The rate monthly by mail will be continued at 50 cents.

Price reduction has marked the growth of all the great eastern dailies, being attended in every instance, not by reduction in the paper, but by increased features as the circulation spread more widely touching new interests.

This policy will mark The Telegram under the arrangement and Fort Worth will have still another hold on the northern and eastern visitor in presenting a cosmopolitan paper at a popular price. Price today is 2 cents.

AUDITORIUM CIRCUS COMES TO A CLOSE

Horse Show Leading Feature of Final Performance on Railroad Reservation

With a lightly attended closing performance Wednesday night the Auditorium circus comes to an end. No announcement of financial returns has yet been made and several days, it is expected, will be required to ascertain the exact result.

Performance Wednesday night differed materially from that of Tuesday, the tournament being displaced by the horse show, which was received with greater applause than any of the acts of the Campbell show proper.

A number of the best horses in the city were seen in the show, all wearing Auditorium white and yellow. Among those in the line were Mrs. Godwin and Mrs. James Anderson, Hard Butler and Mrs. Butler, W. C. Stonestreet, Charles Eain, J. E. Hovenkamp and Frank Hovenkamp, Verdo Wood and Miss Katherine Stripling, Brown Harwood, John Reeves and Miss Margaret McLean, Alff Purvis and Jack McLean.

The animals all appeared in fine fetes and danced about the ring as though blue ribbons and fame depended upon their showing. Each contestant was greeted with hearty applause. Standing out brightly in the circus features was the work of the peanut vendors. From Captain Paddock with his girl assistants to John Miller, Frank Schaefer, Frank Jones and Harry Hendricks, those present learned in unmistakable ways of the value of peanuts especially when of the Auditorium brand.

Finally with the completion of the sales Elizabeth Reynolds drew from a jury box the numbers winning gifts offered by Captain Paddock to purchasers of his peanuts. A diamond ring was donated with bag 604, a gold watch with bag 384, jewelry to the value of $25 with 893 and a cut glass bowl with 407.

The committee supervising the drawing consisted of Mayor Highsmith of Mineral Wells, E. W. Tempel and E. W. Taylor. Acts of the Campbell show itself were well received by the audience, the black wire performance including a rhythmic cake walk on the bit of steel being one of the most skillful acts seen in this city. Japanese jugglers were also found to be promoters in their line, while the riding of Cossacks excited wild applause.

But light attendance marked the afternoon performance at the circus grounds, the majority of those present being school children.

GRATEFUL MOTHER CURED AFTER YEARS OF SUFFERING

Pe-ru-na Proves a Reliable Remedy For Mothers and Children.

Mrs. J. P. Regnier, 754 W. 20th street, Chicago, Ill., writes:

"I am anxious to show my gratitude for what Pe-ru-na has done for me, and hope this will reach the eyes of some woman who has suffered as I did."

"For two years I had intense pains regularly every month, had headache and backache. At such times I was hardly able to be about, and felt very weak and worn-out."

"I am now feeling very well, but would not be without Pe-ru-na in the house."

"When I see my children are not feeling well and have a little cold, I at once give them Pe-ru-na, and they know it does them good so they take it without any trouble."

"I am a new woman since I began taking Pe-ru-na."

"My friends say, 'How well you look!' and I tell them what made me well, so some of my friends are going to try it themselves."

Mother and children take the same remedy.

Certainly this is one of the best recommendations that Pe-ru-na can have.

There are many families in all parts of the country who use Pe-ru-na, from the oldest to the youngest member of the family.

The reason for this is that catarrh in some form or phase afflicts the older people as well as the young.

MANY people cannot escape the conclusion that Pe-ru-na is a cure-all, that is to say, that it is a remedy for many kinds of diseases.

This is not true, however. The true explanation is that catarrhal diseases are numerous. That catarrh leaves no portion of the body untouched. That it simulates in its ravages many different diseases.

Pe-ru-na is the universally recognized remedy for catarrh.

THIRD WARDERS HEAR FRANCHISE ARGUMENT

Democratic Club Listens Discussion of Arlington Heights Line's Ordinance

At a meeting of the Third Ward Democratic Club Wednesday night in the hall connected with the store of Fred Haberzette, 801 East Front street, at which A. H. McCarty occupied the chair, a report of the committee appointed to ask certain questions of W. P. Lane, in view of his candidacy for the legislature, was adopted as satisfactory and the committee was authorized to call on the Arlington Heights Street Railway Company to come into the city upon and over certain streets, which will be voted upon by the people under the referendum at an election to be held for that purpose Nov. 5. As discussed at length at the meeting.

Attorney R. P. Cook, who was chairman of the committee appointed to ascertain Mr. Lane's views on certain questions, made a verbal report. The committee asked Mr. Lane the following questions: Are you in favor of the referendum and, if elected to the Texas legislature, will you use your best efforts to see that it is kept inviolate in the charter of Fort Worth? Do you favor the ownership of public utilities by municipalities, and, if elected to the Texas legislature, will you use your best efforts to see that the provisions of the charter of Fort Worth regarding the right of this city to own public utilities are kept inviolate? To each of these questions he reported Mr. Lane answered unequivocally, yes.

Franchise Discussed

The discussion of the Arlington Heights proposition was opened in a few words by Judge J. C. Martin. Judge Martin suggested that L. C. Cole, a representative of the Arlington Heights Company, who was present, address the meeting in an explanation of the proposition in detail. Mr. Cole, after expressing his pleasure in being permitted to meet with a democratic club, said that Ohio, his home, democrats were somewhat rare, but had their fighting clothes on and out of season. He was glad to see that, here in Fort Worth, democracy had such evident strength and good quality. Continuing he said in part:

"Stopping in your beautiful city several months ago on my way further south on a business trip, I was struck with the evidences of constant growth on every side. At that time I had no idea that I would ever become interested in any such thing as a street car system here.

"Becoming acquainted with several gentlemen here, I saw that whatever capital was invested here would more than likely be profitable and it was thus that I became interested in the Arlington Heights Street Railway Company and succeeded in interesting friends of mine in the proposition.

Not Street Car Venture

"Now, as to the proposition itself. Strictly speaking, it is not a street car venture. If that were all it is to it, I must confess that it would not have appealed to me and I very likely would not have become interested in it. But there are other considerations: the electric light and water works in Arlington Heights are other ventures. We expect to invest in the street car system, electric light and water works system and a pavilion to be built at the lake, approximately $250,000.

"The street car line expects to be running cars in the city within thirty days. The line is practically built in the city limits and, now that we are knocking for admittance, it hardly seems hospitable to say to us, 'You cannot enter here.'

"We have a car line which carries about seven miles for 5 cents. This, at the present time, cannot be considered a profitable business venture, but we have such faith in the future of the city that we believe in five years' time there will be the number of people living along the route to be traversed by our line necessary to make it a paying proposition. I think the Fort Worth will reach out and include all the growing suburbs existing in the course of these years. For these reasons we are willing that the investment prove a minimum loss until that time when we shall be in a position to pay for the franchise tax.

Mr. Cole then sketched the proposed route, as contained in the franchise application.

Bonus Given Line

"As to a franchise tax," he said, "this is one criticism. Some people may object to the line passing along the street in front of the door. Probably that is because they gain no special benefit from the line. Probably if the line was strictly a city car line there would not be heard any such objection. We have heard that at that had it not been for a donation received from people in Arlington Heights. This donation, I am frank to say, amounted to $18,000. The money is to be used for the electric light systems into one company was to make it a success. We also propose to build an elegant pavilion, as I have said. Now, if that seems fair to ask us to pay a franchise tax when there are companies operating in the city of whom no such tax has been asked. This is a proposition that must be buried. If there is no franchise tax for Arlington Heights, then we will probably never realize a cent on the investment. But, if there is a future in store for Fort Worth, then there is a future in store for Arlington Heights, and the street car line will give us the city of Fort Worth as the coming city of the southwest."

Stuart Harrison Speaks

Stuart Harrison, being called for, responded in a few words, saying in part: "Gentlemen: I am glad to see that you people of the Third Ward Democratic Club are disposed to thoroughly discuss the question."

WORK A PLEASURE

"Postum Food Coffee has done more for me in two years," writes a Wisconsin student, "than all the medicines and treatments I had employed to overcome the effects of the coffee poisoning that was killing me by degrees. I had all the familiar symptoms, and suffered all the well-known tortures. My stomach was wrecked and I could not eat. My head ached almost continually. I became the nervous victim of insomnia, and the only remedy for study deserted me. Of course this came on gradually, and without suspicion, for a long time, as to the cause.

"Two years ago a friend enthusiastically urged me to quit using the old kind of coffee and to drink Postum Food Coffee. I have never regretted acting upon the advice. As soon as the coffee poison was eliminated, the strengthening and nourishing properties of Postum began to build me up.

"Each day I gained a little, the color came back to my cheeks, my limbs rounded out with new flesh, my complexion grew fair and clear again, my digestion improved, and now I can eat anything at any time, the nervous insomnia has left me and I sleep soundly at night and wake up refreshed. I have no more headaches, and mental work has become a pleasure to me." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

COTTON BELT TO BUILD EXTENSION

Road to Be Run from Gatesville to Hamilton in a Short Time

While in this city a few days ago President Britton and party of the Cotton Belt system made no reference to the real mission that brought the head of the road to Texas, but it has since leaked out.

It is now learned they were here to look after the extension of the line from Gatesville through southern terminus, Hamilton, a distance of over fifty miles.

It is well known that the Cotton Belt has been expending large sums of money in Texas to better the line from Texas to Tyler, and the late trip of the officials was also for the purpose of looking over the work under construction at different points on the line, but the most essential part of the late trip was to look after the Gatesville-Hamilton extension, which is to be commenced soon.

The Cotton Belt has entered into an agreement with the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe, giving the latter one permission to run its trains from McGregor to Waco, a distance of twenty-five miles, over the Cotton Belt tracks. The agreement, however, is a temporary contract pending the building of a Santa Fe track and Waco facilities.

SUICIDE HAD PLANNED CREMATION IN DETAIL

Young Woman Had Long Talk With Undertaker Before Taking Her Life

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—That Miss Anna E. Scott, the girl who killed herself in Atlantic City Saturday because of grief over her friend's sudden death, had with careful deliberation arranged for her funeral, even to the point of choosing her coffin, became known when a friend of the suicide called at Aldred's undertaking shop.

Telling John Aldred, Jr., that she expected a friend to die within two days, she discussed calmly the best method of disposing of her own body and informed the undertaking that she would notify him when she was needed. He said that her friend's name was Anna Smith.

"She does not want to be buried," said Miss Scott, "but has told me that she prefers cremation. She asked Aldred how much it would cost to cremate the body and on being told the terms said they were satisfactory.

"Now I'd like to see a coffin," she said. Aldred led her to the rear of the shop and showed her several caskets.

"A plain one will do," she said and it was agreed that a pine board coffin with no embellishments would be used.

"I'm going away tomorrow," said Miss Scott, "and you will probably hear from me on Saturday. Now don't forget, I want the body cremated and I'll get that you get the money."

The suicide left a message summoning the undertaker to take charge of the body of "Anna Smith," and a note to a friend in which money for the services of the undertaker was enclosed.

It will be the first full-sized dirigible ever built, being 100 feet long and fourteen feet wide. Already tests have been carried out with motor and Mr. Wilson and occupants are able to propel the machine at a speed approximating fifty miles an hour. Mr. Wilson has written to the admiralty asking for agreement to study for study despatched a cruiser with wireless telegraph apparatus to follow the airship, and he is developing the expedition.

During the next few months he hopes to make daily flights to test his machine.

AMUSEMENTS

"The Liberty Belles" at Greenwall's Thursday matinee and night had a good patronage at both performances and pleased the management so well they will play return engagements Saturday matinee and night.

The Belles have an evanescent quality about them like the aroma of rare spices, which is sometimes blown away by the vigorous action of the play, only to return and make the audience wonder whether they are seeing just musical comedy, or something infinitely more delightful.

This peculiar quality (the press agent stabs at when he calls the play dainty and bewitching) is never asserted enough to get the audience off its underpinnings in a wave of enthusiasm, but is content to hover around the lines, the music and the fetching scenic effects.

The whole result is apt to leave the hearer pleased in an uncertain sort of way, because the effect is now a musical comedy. We have been used to having the jokes pounded in with slapsticks, the songs shouted in sing-song rhythm until the gallery knows them well enough to whistle the chorus, and the scenery flooded with glaring calefactors until it looks like a harbor during a gale.

Leaving out this new quantity in the Liberty Belles there are numbers of features which give the audience plenty of chance for self-assured applause. There are an abundance of clever imitations by Will Conley, Virginia Levick and Herbert Carter. Virginia Levick's impersonation of George M. Cohan's recitation of "Life's a Funny Proposition," took well, as did Will Conley's animal imitations and Carter's eccentric dancing.

One of the funniest features of this year's production is the singing of "America" by a quartet which apparently would be recalled a score of times if the verses didn't give out.

"WHEN JOHNNY COMES MARCHING HOME" The W. T. Carleton Opera Company will bring the latest comic opera success.

THE BEST DOCTOR

Rev. B. C. Horton, Sulphur Springs, Texas, writes, July 15, 1902: "I have used in my family Ballard's Snow Liniment and Household Syrup, and they have proved certainly satisfactory. The liniment is the best we have ever used for headache and pains. The cough syrup has been our doctor for the last eight years." Sold by Covey & Martin, 20 Main street, opposite Hotel Worth.

"When Johnny Comes Marching Home," to Greenwall's opera house Friday night, Oct. 27.

The entire production will be presented with all its elaborate details of scenery, mechanical and costume effects and superb cast that characterized the long run which the piece enjoyed at the New York theater, in fact the opera will be brought here direct from New York.

The opera has more action, more popular songs and more beautiful scenery than any musical piece that has been produced in years. The music ranges from grand opera to ballads, the choruses are strong, well voiced and keep beautiful throughout.

One of the quaint costumes worn in "When Johnny Comes Marching Home."

At Greenwall's opera house Friday night, Oct. 27. The Dallas News said: There is novelty in the comic opera called "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," and this applies to costumes as well as to music. It is in the hands of a capable company at the head of which is the veteran, W. T. Carleton, and its reception last night was quite favorable.

"WHEN JOHNNY COMES MARCHING HOME"

The music ranges from pieces which are quite difficult to ragtime and practically all of it is quite good. The hit of the evening, however, was "Ma Honeyuckle Gal." This is intended as a negro song, and is sung by C. D. Burt and the "plantation chorus," whose faces are blacked. There is little of the negro melody about it, but the peculiar, swinging refrain and the eccentric dance with which it is accompanied was instantly received in a very favorable manner.

W. T. Carleton, the head of the company, is 55 years old, and his son, a stalwart young fellow, appears in the title role. The elder Carleton came to America with Maurice Grau in October, 1872, to support Clara Louise Kellogg in English opera. His stage career is an interesting one, and he has sung practically all the important male roles in opera which are adapted to his voice. That he can still sing in a most pleasing manner was attested last night by his efforts to refrain and the younger Carleton, among them being "My Own United States."

Miss Gertrude Vaughn is an excellent singer and her numbers, "Fairytale" and "In Springtime," both difficult, were well rendered. Miss Bertha Darel is a very vivacious young lady, whose singing loses nothing by comparison with the other members of the cast. She had much to do, singing three times in the first act and twice in the second. Probably her best song was the one entitled "Did He? No, He Didn't," which was given with choruses.

The comedy element was introduced by James Francis, and his work was really delicious. His song, "I'm So Unset," got many encores, and the eccentric dance which followed it was as good as the song.

"WAY DOWN EAST"

Joseph R. Grismer's excellent elaboration of Lottie Blair Parker's story, "Way Down East," which comes to Greenwall's opera house Monday and Tuesday nights and Tuesday matinee, Oct. 29 and 31, is one of the few plays that has a true stamp of lasting popularity. It attracts the theatergoer and wins to the theater hundreds upon hundreds of those who are rarely seen within a place of theatrical amusement. The main theme of "Way Down East" is the oft-told story of a trusting woman, who, being deceived by a mock marriage, endeavors to rely upon her own ability for support, and when all her trials seem to drag her down, she is saved by the manliness of a true friend. The story is unfolded in the picturesque surroundings of a New England village that brings into the quaint and lovable characters which give such delightful local color to this play.

JEFFERSONS IN "THE RIVALS"

Richard Brinsley Sheridan's comedy, "The Rivals," will be the bill at Greenwall's opera house Thursday matinee and night, Nov. 2, and will be presented by Joseph and William W. Jefferson. There is no need to go into details as to the capabilities of the above stars. They have served their apprenticeship under the tutelage of their father, the beloved "dean of the profession," the late Joseph Jefferson, which means that they are worthy of going before the public in the parts they have been playing for the past five seasons with their father. Joseph will be Sir Lucius O'Trigger; William W. will play Bob Acres.

"LIBERTY BELLES" RETURN

Local theater goers who were unable to attend the performance of the Liberty Belles, the charming musical comedy, on its visit here last Wednesday, will have another opportunity to witness one of the daintiest and most bewitching musical offerings ever seen in this city.

The company will return to Fort Worth on Saturday, Oct. 28, for two performances, matinee and night.

Price Reduction Marks Policy in Line with Metropolitan Journals' Success

Retail price of The Daily Telegram beginning with the issue of today will be 2 cents.

This announcement, coming as a surprise in newspaper circles of the state, is made following the decision of the paper to follow the lead of the big eastern and northern dailies in publishing up-to-date papers at popular prices.

In such cities the action has met with unqualified success, increased sales and a wider scope of influence following in every instance.

The announcement is also significant in that The Telegram is the first Texas paper carrying Associated Press reports to announce such a reduction. This feature, together with all others that have contributed to the rapid growth of The Telegram under its present management, will be continued, the addition of others being made from time to time as in the past.

Under the new price list, the only change made is in the daily issue. This edition will still be delivered by carrier, together with the Sunday paper, as at present, for 19 cents a week. Price of The Sunday Telegram will continue at 5 cents. The rate monthly by mail will be continued at 50 cents.

Price reduction has marked the growth of all the great eastern dailies, being attended in every instance, not by reduction in the paper, but by increased features as the circulation spread more widely touching new interests.

AUDITORIUM CIRCUS COMES TO A CLOSE

Horse Show Leading Feature of Final Performance on Railroad Reservation

With a lightly attended closing performance Wednesday night the Auditorium circus came to an end. No announcement of financial returns has yet been made and several days, it is expected, will be required to ascertain the exact result.

Performance Wednesday night differed materially from that of Tuesday, the tournament being displaced by the horse show, which was received with greater applause than any of the acts of the Campbell show proper.

A number of the best horses in the city were seen in the show, all wearing Auditorium white ribbons and yellow. Among those in the line were Mrs. Godwin and Mrs. James Anderson, Hard Butler and Mrs. Butler, W. C. Stonestreet, Charles Fain, J. F. Hovenkamp and Frank Hovenkamp, Verdo Wood and Miss Katherine Stripling, Brown Harwood, John Reeves and Miss Margaret McLean, Duff Purvis and Jack McLean.

The animals all appeared in fine fettle and danced about the ring as though blue ribbons and fame depended upon their showing. Each contestant was greeted with hearty applause.

Standing out brightly in the circus features was the work of the peanut vendors. From Captain Padlock to his girl assistants to John Miller, Frank Scheuber, Frank Elser and Harry Hendricks, those present learned in unmistakable rings of the value of peanuts especially when of the Auditorium brand.

Finally with the completion of the sales Elizabeth Reynolds drew from the box the numbers winning gifts offered by Captain Padlock to purchasers of his peanuts. A diamond ring was donated with bag 694, a gold watch with bag 384, jewelry to the value of $25 with 893 and a cut glass bowl with 407.

The committee supervising the drawing consisted of Mayor Highsmith of Mineral Wells, E. W. Tempel and E. W. Taylor.

Acts of the Campbell show itself were well received by the audience, a slack wive performance including a rhythmic cake walk on the bit of steel being one of the most skillful acts seen in this city. Japanese jugglers were also found to be promoters in their while the riding of Cossacks excited wild applause.

But light attendance marked the afternoon performance at the circus grounds, the majority of those present being school children.

GRATEFUL MOTHER CURED AFTER YEARS OF SUFFERING.

Pe-ru-na Proves a Reliable Remedy For Mothers and Children.

Mrs. J. P. Regnier, 754 W. 20th street, Chicago, Ill., writes:

"I am anxious to show my gratitude for what Peruna has done for me, and hope this will reach the eyes of some woman who has suffered as I did.

"For two years I had intense pains regularly every month, had headache and backache. At such times I was hardly able to be about, and felt very weak and worn-out.

"I am now feeling very well, but would not be without Peruna in the house.

"When I see my children are not feeling well and have a little cold, I at once give them Peruna, and they know it does them good so they take it without any trouble.

"I am a new woman since I began taking Peruna.

"My friends say, 'How well you look!' and I tell them what made me well, so some of my friends are going to try it themselves."

Mother and children take the same remedy.

Certainly this is one of the best recommendations that Peruna can have.

There are many families in all parts of the country who use Peruna, from the oldest to the youngest member of the family.

The reason for this is that catarrh in some form or phase afflicts the older people as well as the young.

MANY people cannot escape the conclusion that Peruna is a cure-all, that is to say, that it is a remedy for many kinds of diseases.

This is not true, however. The true explanation is that catarrhal diseases are numerous. That catarrh leaves no portion of the body untouched. That it simulates in its ravages many different diseases.

Peruna is the universally recognized remedy for catarrh.

A NEW KIND OF CIGAR FOR YOUR NICKEL

The "Anna Held" quality, such as you expect only in a three-for-quarter cigar, is developed through skillful selection, curing, grading, fermenting and blending of the tobacco leaf before it reaches the factory.

"Anna Held" Cigar

The different varieties of leaf required to produce such a perfect, well-balanced smoke are packed and fermented together for two years in immense "stemmeries" erected especially for this purpose at a cost of over a million dollars. This exclusive preparatory system produces a real blend, combining the characteristic flavor and goodness of each grade, and insuring the rich, smooth, uniform flavor you'll find in the "Anna Held." One trial will prove it!

THIRD WARDERS HEAR FRANCHISE ARGUMENT

Democratic Club Listens Discussion of Arlington Heights Line's Ordinance

At a meeting of the Third Ward Democratic Club Wednesday night in the hall connected with the store of Fred Haberzelle, 801 East Front street, at which A. H. McCarty occupied the chair, a report of the committee appointed to ask certain questions of W. P. Lane, in view of his candidacy for the legislature, was adopted as satisfactory and the committee was directed to apply to the Arlington Heights Street Railway Company to come into the city upon and over certain streets, which will be voted upon by the people under the referendum at a meeting to be held for that purpose Nov. 4, was discussed at length at the meeting.

Attorney R. P. Cook, who was chairman of the committee appointed to ascertain Mr. Lane's views on certain questions, made a verbal report. The committee asked Mr. Lane the following questions: "Are you in favor of the referendum and, if elected to the Texas legislature, will you use your best efforts to see that it is kept inviolate in the charter of Fort Worth? Do you favor the ownership of public utilities by municipalities in the Arlington Heights proposition, and if so, will you use your best efforts to see to it that the provisions of the charter of Fort Worth regarding the right of this city to own and operate the same are kept inviolate? To each of these questions he reported Mr. Lane answered unequivocally, yes.

The discussion of the Arlington Heights proposition was opened in a few words by Judge J. C. Martin. Judge Martin suggested that L. C. Cole, a representative of the Arlington Heights Company, who was present, address the meeting in an explanation of the proposition in detail. Mr. Cole, after expressing his pleasure at being permitted to meet with a democratic club, said that in Ohio, his home, democratic growth on a query side. At that time I had no idea that I would ever become interested in any such thing as a street railroad here.

"Becoming acquainted with several gentlemen here, I saw that whatever capital was invested here would more than likely be profitable and it was thus that I became interested in the Arlington Heights Street Railway Company and succeeded in interesting friends of mine in the proposition.

Not Street Car Venture "Now, as to the proposition itself, I am speaking, it is not a street car venture. If that were all there is to it, I must confess that I would not have appealed to me and I very likely would not have become interested in it. But there are several considerations: the electric light and water works in Arlington Heights are other ventures. We expect to invest in the street car system, electric light and water works system and a pavilion to be built at the lake, approximately $250,000.

"The street car line expects to be running cars to the city within thirty days. The line is practically built. It is a franchise is not a very valuable, but the fact that those favoring it admit that they expect it to become very valuable in future years, while the rights of the people are not protected in its provisions, in itself the most potent argument that could be urged against the franchise.

Value Will Increase "I am opposed to any proposition which admits on its face that the streets of the city will appreciate in value, but which involves the profit of such increased valuation being appropriated by a street car promoter or any other corporation operated as a public utility. The fact that such increase is fast becoming apparent, so much so that the cry of this city has been 'the streets are going up', and the people may say what disposition shall be made of public property, makes conditions in Fort Worth in the near future similar to those which have been known to exist and which today do exist in other larger places where the operation of such public utilities mean so much from a financial standpoint.

Matter of Fares "It may be true that a 5-cent fare is not now an excessive charge, but will this condition always exist? The time has come when the people are asking the Mayor Tom Johnson of Cleveland for reduced fare will be gone over again in this city. I am opposed to a franchise tax in principle, but am in favor of any franchise tax that will be returned to the people in reduced fares. For years the mayor of Cleveland has been in the fight for a reduced fare and today he is no nearer the solution than when he began.

"As this proposition now stands, I shall vote against it; but, should it be defeated and come up again in a modified form which conforms to the ideas I have cheerfully, I want to see a street car line to Arlington Heights, but I want to see the rights of the people protected in the franchise granting a company the privilege of coming into the city.

Stuart Harrison Speaks Stuart Harrison, being called for, responded in a few words, saying in part: "Gentlemen: I am glad to see that you people of the Third Ward Democratic Club are disposed to thoroughly discuss it is one of the Real Jobs Given Us

Would Sail to Pole in New Airship London Man Wants British Government to Send Cruiser to Follow Aerial Expedition (Special Cable to The Telegram—Copyright, 1905, by Hearst News Service.) LONDON, Oct. 26.—Edgar Wilson of Pimlico declared that he may make a voyage to the North Pole in an airship which he is building.

The flying machine when completed will be similar to that described in Jules Verne's "Clippers of the Clouds." It will be the first full-sized true airship ever built, being 100 feet long and fourteen feet wide. Already tests have been carried out with motors and Mr. Wilson and occupants are able to proceed in the air at a speed of approximately fifty miles an hour. Mr. Wilson has written to the admiralty asking the government to assist him by dispatching a cruiser with wireless telegraph apparatus to follow the airship, and he is developing the expedition.

During the next few months he hopes to make daily flights to test his machine.

COTTON BELT TO BUILD EXTENSION Road to Be Run from Gatesville to Hamilton in a Short Time

While in this city a few days ago President Britton and party of the Cotton Belt system made no reference to the real mission that brought the head of the road to Texas, but it has since leaked out.

It is now learned they were here to look after the extension of the line from Gatesville, the southern terminus, in Hamilton, a distance of over fifty miles.

It is well known that the Cotton Belt has been expending large sums of money in Texas to better the line from Texas-arkans to Tyler, and the late trip of the officials was also for the purpose of looking over the work under construction at different points on the line, but the most essential part of the late trip was to look after the Gatesville-Hamilton extension, which is to be commenced soon.

The Cotton Belt has entered into an agreement with the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe, giving the latter line permission to run its trains from McGregor to Waco, a distance of twenty-five miles, over the Cotton Belt tracks. The agreement, however, is a temporary contract pending the building of a Santa Fe track and Waco facilities.

SUICIDE HAD PLANNED CREMATION IN DETAIL Young Woman Had Long Talk With Undertaker Before Taking Her Life

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—That Miss Anna E. Scott, the girl who killed herself in Atlantic City Saturday because of grief over her friend's sudden death, had with careful deliberation arranged for her funeral, even to the point of choosing her coffin, became known when a friend of the suicide called at Aldred's undertaking shop.

Telling John Aldred Jr. that she expected a friend to die within two days, she discussed calmly the best method of disposing of her own body and informed the undertaking that she would notify him when he was needed. She said that her friend's name was Anna Smith.

"She does not want to be buried," said Miss Scott, "but has told me that she prefers cremation. She asked Aldred how much it would cost to cremate the body and on being told the terms said they were satisfactory.

"Now I'd like to see a coffin," she said. Aldred led the way to the rear of the shop and showed her several caskets.

"A plain one will do," she said and it was agreed that a pine board coffin with no embellishments would be used.

"I'm going away tomorrow," said Miss Scott, "and you will probably hear from me on Saturday. Now don't forget, I want the body cremated and I'll see that you get the money."

The suicide left a message summoning the undertaker to take charge of the body of "Anna Smith," and a note to a friend in which money for the services of the undertaker was enclosed.

Hitherto I have spoken chiefly of the obligations resting upon white men. Now let you remember on the other hand...

The colored people have many difficulties to pass through, but these difficulties are accounted for only by the policy of reason and common sense is pursued.

It is gratifying to note that in Texas the negroes have already imbibed the infection of the President's suggestions.

The man who buys Texas land at prevailing prices is truly buying up treasure against a rainy day.

The Auditorium census was a success. But everybody knew that would be the case before it was pulled off.

Get the Sunday Telegram next Sunday, and you will find that you have just a little more than value for your money.

Mississippi must feel awful lonesome in her solitude, while all the other states are doing and have done her.

The Dallas fair will open for business Saturday, and those who are cognizant of real conditions say it will be bigger and better this year than ever before.

A Kentucky woman proposes to donate every egg laid by her hens on Sunday to the church, and some overly-righteous church member will no doubt object on the ground that the eggs are tainted.

The railways are objecting to Commissioner Colquitt passing on the proposed reduction in lumber rates, on the ground that he has disqualified himself by already publicly declaring in favor of the reduction.

THE FUTURE OF FORT WORTH. That Fort Worth is forging to the front faster than any other Texas city is a fact too clearly apparent to admit of any kind of argument.

Fort Worth is growing these days as the city never grew before. New buildings, representing enormous outlays of capital, are continually being erected for business purposes.

Fort Worth is growing these days as the city never grew before. New buildings, representing enormous outlays of capital, are continually being erected for business purposes.

Strong efforts are being made for the bringing of a number of large factories to this city, and it is one of the most timely movements that was ever inaugurated.

Public choice could not fall upon an able or purer man than Judge Bell. He has been often tried and never found wanting.

hoped this particular enterprise will be landed. Any factory that can be successfully operated in this city will be worth much to Fort Worth.

It took me in the first place to the duke, to whom I recounted briefly what had happened. When I had finished he sat for several minutes deep in thought.

It is a question of construction. You are young, and these things are all new to you. The prince might have been trying you, or something which you did not hear or have forgotten might throw a different light upon his actions and suggest to me that you will leave the matter entirely in his hands.

As I left the room I came face to face with Blenavon. He addressed me with hesitation, almost with respect.

"Can you speak in French, Mr. Ducaine?" he asked. "I will not detain you long."

"I am at your service, Lord Blenavon," I answered. "I will not detain you long."

"Most inopportune," I said, "I am afraid I am sorry, Lord Blenavon, that I cannot accept the explanation of the prince's behavior."

"I have nothing to apologize for," I answered calmly. "I am at your service."

"The man who has been tried and found wanting should be passed up. The idea is to select only the very best material that is available."

Referring to a collection that had been dragged for some time in a minister in his pulpit Sunday said: "If the members will stop in the collection box the amount they spent attending the circus the collection will be made up."

The "older statesman" idea sounds pleasing as a mere statement, but some of the names that have been mentioned suggest the possibility that somebody other than the popular voice is behind the name.

The Reporter states the case very plainly and voices public sentiment in its expressions. The people have grown weary of existing conditions, and propose to resort to the best method of preventing such contingencies in future.

The bite of a pretty girl may be as deadly as the bite of a rattlesnake, as the German professor asserts, but no Texas girl will shy at it. It is the "kick" of a pretty girl that breeds misery down this way.

Colonel Richard Wynne should make the race for attorney general. He is an able lawyer, he is close to the people of Texas, he was a gallant soldier and all Texas have confidence in his honesty and sincerity.

When you get ready to figure on whom you will support for governor, don't forget Judge C. K. Bell of Fort Worth.—Bonham Favorite.

strange quarter. My door was pushed a few inches open, and I heard Lady Angela's voice.

"Are you there, Mr. Ducaine? May I come in?"

"I could answer her stood upon the threshold. I saw the delightful little smile fade from her lips as she looked in. She hesitated and seemed for a moment about to retreat.

"Please come in, Lady Angela," I begged, eagerly.

"She came slowly forward. "I must apologize for my abominable country manners," she said, resting the tips of her fingers for a moment in mine.

"I am Miss Moyal," Blanche answered, quietly.

"Of course, dear me. I ought to have recognized you. We have been neighbors for a good many years."

"I will wish you good afternoon, Mr. Ducaine," Blanche said, turning to me.

"Good afternoon—your ladyship," she added, a little awkwardly.

"I am afraid it is rather a bother to you to leave your work," she continued.

"In that case," I answered, "of course I shall be delighted."

"She pointed to Blanche's carriage, away from the other side of the village. It was all lit up."

"Have you heard anything of our new neighbors?" she asked.

"Only their names," I answered. "I do not even know that they had arrived."

"There is only one woman, I believe," she said. "I have met her abroad, and I dislike her greatly. I hear that my brother spends most of his time with her, and that he has dined there at least three nights. It is not safe or wise of him, for many reasons. I want to stop it. That is why I have asked you to come to us."

"It is quite sufficient," I told her. "If you need me for any reason I will come. I am two days' ahead of my work."

Just as we came in sight of the road we heard the thunder of hoofs behind. We turned around. It was Blenavon, riding side by side with a lady who was a stranger to me.

This laxative makes strength

Most physics you have taken no doubt have left you weak. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is an exception, because, while it is a laxative, it is at the same time one of the greatest stomach tonics ever compounded.

A physic which leaves you weak is dangerous, because it soon becomes necessary for you to take a drug of some kind before the bowels can be induced to act properly.

When this condition is reached, the patient has lost his strength and may become the victim of all sorts of stomach disorders.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin contains a great deal of pepsin, as its name indicates, and so strengthens the weakest stomach that it can properly and voluntarily perform all its functions.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is pleasant to take and it never causes griping or pains of any sort, and in all cases of stomach disorder is undoubtedly the finest preparation known.

All druggists sell Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at 50 cents and $1.00 a bottle.

Money back if it doesn't satisfy.

JAMES J. HILL SEEKS GULF PORT

Son Here Returning from Inspection of Wharf Properties at Galveston

James J. Hill Jr., vice president of the Northern Pacific, and son of the president of the Great Northern, accompanied by Vice President Miller of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy system, who has been in Texas this week, passed through Fort Worth Wednesday en route north.

It has been known that the Quincy has been anxious to get a gulf outlet for many years and the presence of these two railroad men in Galveston revives the story which, from what it learned has grounds for belief. Messrs. Hill and Miller made a careful investigation of the wharves and harbor facilities in the latter city, according to the statement of Mr. Miller.

The Great Northern recently authorized the issue of $25,000,000 of new stock, and while these gentlemen did not admit it is believed that this sum, or a part of it, is to be used in securing a gulf outlet. The Burlington and the Great Northern control a large tonnage, the bulk of which has always gone to the Atlantic seaboard. This condition of things will be materially changed should the two systems succeed in reaching the gulf coast through extensions and connections, which it is believed that the Quincy is to attempt. It is estimated that the visit to Texas. Already the work has been started. The purchase of the Hamilton and St. Joseph is the first step southward and gives an entrance to the lines into St. Louis. It is estimated that traffic arrangements have been made with the Kansas City Southern and added to this the pending purchase of the Gulf and Interstate road, would permit the Hill line to reach the Gulf at Galveston. Mr. Miller admits nothing that is positive as to the intentions of his company, but made no attempt to disguise the fact that he and Mr. Hill inspected the wharf, harbor and railroad facilities at Galveston.

FREE METHODISTS TO HOLD CONFERENCE

General Superintendent Hogue to Attend Annual Session at Greenville Next Week

The Free Methodists of Texas will hold their annual conference in Greenville, Nov. 1 to 5. The conference will be attended by General Superintendent Rev. Wilson T. Hogue of Evansville, Ill., who comes for the first time to preside during the annual session.

The state is divided into four districts, and is in charge of three district elders, who are elected by vote of the conference annually.

The conference is composed of the preachers from the various circuits, together with lay delegates, elected by their respective circuits to represent them in the annual conference.

Following the organization of the conference, will be the report of the preachers and the reports of the various committees, such as committees on Sunday schools, reforms, publications and on education.

The most interesting part of the proceedings is the appointment of the preachers for the following year, which takes place usually just before final adjournment.

A new feature will appear this year in the annual session, which is a Sunday school convention, to be held on Friday afternoon of the conference week. Some of the best Sunday school workers in the state will take part.

Rev. W. H. Winters, pastor of the local church, expects to go to Greenville next Tuesday, to assist in committee work, as he is a member of the board of examiners in the course of study for licentiates.

ELIOT TO CENSOR COLLEGE FOOTBALL

President of Harvard Will Have Seat Near Side Lines During Game with Yale

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 25.—President Eliot of Harvard has determined that brutality and unnecessary roughness shall cease in football played by Harvard teams or that football itself shall be eliminated from the athletic curriculum of the university.

At the Yale-Harvard game in the Stadium next month President Eliot will sit near the side line as a critic of the play. If there is any slugging he will recommend to the corporation that Harvard cease playing intercollegiate football. The corporation could undoubtedly so vote, and President Eliot left out would receive a stunning, if not a knock-out blow.

President Eliot is no warm friend of football as played today. His reports have frequently been hostile, but he has yielded to public opinion. In his recent resolve he was backed up by President Roosevelt and influential members of the faculty and corporation.

MANY FRAUDULENT NAMES ON ROLLS

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25.—Announcement was made by the police department last night that it receives of twenty-two of the forty-two wards of the city showed that 15,861 names were illegally on the latest voting lists of these wards. The director of public safety said that his department would make every effort to prevent the voting of the alleged fraudulent names, and that the whole power of the police would be directed toward securing an honest election. The canvass made by the police during the summer months in all wards resulted in striking from the lists more than 20,000 names.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL

Few People Know How Useful It Is in Preserving Health and Beauty

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant that nature has provided, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectively cleans and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth, and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges, they are composed of the finest powdered Willam charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from its use, but on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician in speaking of the benefits of charcoal says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, but although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

RAILROAD RUMBLING

The American Railway Association will begin an important meeting in Chicago today and its action on several questions will be awaited with considerable interest throughout the whole country. One of the leading matters to be considered will be that of car service.

The recommendation will be offered changing the rule regarding per diem, making the charge 30 cents a day for detention of foreign cars, instead of 20 cents a day for thirty days, and $1 for every day thereafter.

President Ben L. Winchell of the Rock Island is being mentioned for vice president of the association.

The association will consider among other matters: Trade rules and service, safety appliances, statistical inquiry, standard cipher code and the transportation of explosives.

MAY RESTORE RATES

Traffic Officials to Consider Grain Tariffs

At a meeting of traffic officials now being held in Chicago an effort will be made to restore grain rates to their normal condition. The corn rates will occupy nearly the entire attention of the meeting. The rate from Omaha to St. Louis is now 2 1/2 cents, and should be 17 cents. From Omaha to Chicago the rate is 10 cents, whereas, normal is 11 cents. Now that the roads are having difficulty to move the grain they believe they are foolish to carry it at reduced rates.

HAS PRESIDENT CHANGED?

Raleigh Speech Declared to Show New Idea

President Samuel Spencer of the Southern Railroad, who has taken a prominent part in representing the railroads at the matter of rate legislation, made this statement regarding President Roosevelt's speech at Raleigh on railroad legislation:

"The President's speech indicates that he is not disposed now to insist that the railroads should have power after complaint and hearing to fix only a 'maximum rate,' nor an absolute rate, unalterable thereafter by the carrier, as provided for in the Esch-Townsend bill. This appears to follow the opinion of the attorney general of May 5, in which it was held that congress could constitutionally empower a commission to fix 'maximum' rates which it regards as just and reasonable."

American Steel Companies Being Underbid by French and German Companies

J. A. Rathbone, a Mexico investor, who is now in the city, declares American goods are being supplanted in that country. He says a report made to the state department at Washington by Consul Kaiser at Mazatlan, Mexico, indicates that the United States is losing heavily in the Mexican trade that it ought to have and suggests a reason for this condition of affairs. His report has special reference to the purchase of steel by the Republic Pacific for its extensions in the Republic.

NAVY LIFE NO FUN FOR BOYS

Sixty Days Satisfies a Fort Worth Recruit That Posters Are Misleading

L. H. Evridge is back from a short service in the United States navy training yards at Norfolk, and says that he has had plenty. "Inaptitude" was the grounds for his honorable discharge. Young Evridge was in the employ of Uncle Sam just sixty days and put in this short time on the training ship Franklin. He enlisted as a second-class yeoman. In the Norfolk navy yards there are at the present time 2,500 young men in training for the navy, 2,000 of whom are apprentice seamen, while the remainder are in the artificer class.

YOUNG WOMAN'S CASE PUZZLES PHYSICIANS

Bitten by Dog Thirteen Years Ago, She Is Apparently Suffering from Rabies

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Apparently suffering from rabies—she was bitten by a dog thirteen years ago—Amanda Jones, aged 27, was taken from her home to a hospital yesterday and will probably be sent to Bellevue for further observation of one of the most extraordinary cases in the experience of physicians.

According to her family, the patient when 14 years old was bitten on both hands by a dog, but the wounds were cauterized and no ill effects developed until last June, when she suddenly developed all the usual symptoms of hydrophobia and became so violent that the combined strength of four men would hardly suffice to keep her in restraint. She recovered from this attack and was in good health until a week ago, when the spell recurred. Removed to a hospital she apparently recovered, but Monday night the same symptoms reappeared. Foaming at the mouth and barking like a dog, the young woman rushed about the apartments wrecking furniture and threatening to injure anyone who approached her. She was only controlled by the use of opiates.

The physicians are puzzled by the case. They are inclined to believe that the disease is a kind of epileptic hysteria, itself of rare occurrence.

WHITE BOY WOUNDED IN RACE RIOT

It is thought that Cecil Lyon, national committeeman and chairman of the state republican committee, will be among the guests of the evening. An invitation will also be extended to Web Flanagan of Austin, internal revenue collector for Texas, an old party leader.

Anniversary of Roosevelt's Election to Be Observed at Meeting Here

The second Tuesday in November, the anniversary of Theodore Roosevelt's election as President of the United States year ago, the Roosevelt Central Republican Club of Fort Worth now has under way plans to give an anniversary banquet in honor of his election and administration.

Definite arrangements are not announced at the present, but will be announced upon completion of all plans connected with the affair, which will be given at a downtown hotel.

It is thought that Cecil Lyon, national committeeman and chairman of the state republican committee, will be among the guests of the evening. An invitation will also be extended to Web Flanagan of Austin, internal revenue collector for Texas, an old party leader.

It is expected that about one hundred guests will be present and the club expects to make the occasion one that will be long remembered by those present.

OF INTEREST TO THE CATTLEMEN

NEW INSPECTION SYSTEM

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The new plan for putting the cost of meat inspection labels on the packers is to go into effect Nov. 1. At the same time, Secretary Wilson will try to extend the federal inspection service to small and independent packers. This involves a tremendous effort on the part of the department because of the manifold difficulties in the way of expanding a system that has hitherto been confined to the large concerns engaged in exporting meats.

The very small packer who kills a half dozen steers a day will necessarily be left out. But a vast number of those who applied for inspection will be taken in. Efforts have been made to get the small packers to group their business together so as to make a number of animals sufficient to justify furnishing an inspector and a force of microscopists. This has not worked well, however, and it will be necessary to limit the extension of the service to houses that have in themselves business enough for an inspector.

Secretary Wilson has under consideration an application from the Cudahy packing house at Milwaukee for a force of federal inspectors and microscopists to be paid by the packing house and not by the government. The law officers of the department and department of justice will be asked to determine whether the secretary has the right under the law to allow such service to be paid for by a private concern. There might be danger in the precedent of allowing federal salaries to be paid in this way by a private concern that would benefit from the service rendered. There is some reason to believe, however, that there is authorization in the interstate commerce act for such a proceeding.

It is practically settled that if the law can be satisfied, the experiment will be tried with the Cudahy Company at Milwaukee and probably in time congress will be urged to extend the same system to the other packing houses of the west. It is not improbable that a middle course may be decided on under which some houses will go on as now and others may avail themselves of the plan proposed by the Cudahy concern.

BUYING TEXAS CALVES

J. D. Rogers of Bloomberg, Ohio, was the stock yards on Tuesday attending to the shipping out of twenty-three carloads of high grade Hereford and Angus steer calves, bought by him in the Midland country. The calves were received the local yards on Monday and Tuesday and shipped out Tuesday evening. Mr. Rogers obtained 800 of them from George D. Elliott of Midland, and the others were bought in smaller lots from several other cattlemen of that section, Olessa and Monahans. They cost him from $11 to $13 per head, and their size and quality went to prove that the Midland country is now producing some excellent cattle.

Mr. Rogers has been an annual purchaser and feeder of Texas calves for the past five years, but heretofore has made his purchases in the Panhandle. "The Midland country is certainly coming to the front," he said to the Live Stock Reporter, "in the raising of fine cattle. I cannot say their calves are any better than the Panhandle calves, but they are as good as any feeder could ask for. These high grade Texas calves are very popular with feeders in the section of Ohio where I live, and our feeders have taken many prizes with them at the International and other shows. Ohio will never produce enough calves of the beef type to supply our demand for feeders, dairying having such a firm hold there, and I look for the trade between Ohio feeders and Texas breeders to expand in future years rather than diminish. There are no better feeding cattle raised anywhere than on the Texas plains, and nowhere else is as large a supply available. Texas should, and doubtless will, produce more and better feeding stock every year and the trade with corn belt and eastern feeders, which has grown so rapidly in recent years, will doubtless expand still further."

Mr. Rogers said that Humphrey Jones, one of Ohio's most prominent cattle feeders, and a regular feeder of Texas bred calves, expected to soon lay in a supply of 1,000 head of Texas calves.

CATTLEMEN NEED CARS

"There are about 150 carloads of cattle being held for shipment along the Rock Island railroad near Liberal, Kan., with not a car in sight to move them," said S. R. Myers, a cattlemen of Sabetha, Kan., yesterday. Mr. Myers himself has about twenty-five cars of cattle on the range near Liberal awaiting means of transportation.

"Some of the cattlemen have been holding their stuff for several weeks. They drove the cattle in from many miles back on the range expecting that they would be able to get cars soon. Instead, they have been delayed. The loss to them is necessarily heavy, but the railroad company does not appear to be able to relieve the situation. My theory is that the company has a shortage of motive power rather than a dearth of cattle cars. There is a great deal of merchandise of one sort and another on the move over that line right now and in fact so much of it that apparently the company can't find time to handle anything else.

"The ranchmen are viewing the situation philosophically, however. They naturally regret that the conditions aren't better. When they bring their cattle in to the stations for shipment they expect to have it moved soon. But when the company cannot do it, they simply put the cattle on the range along the line and hold them until the cars are provided. This means necessarily a great deal of shrinkage but there isn't any other thing to do. Cowboys with a camping outfit hold the cattle on the range."

FAVOR TEXAS STEERS

The Lake Tomb Cattle Company, with ranches near Fort Yates, N. D., is stocking up its range with two and three-year-old steers. President Tomb favors the Panhandle steers and a few days ago bought a string of 500 in Kansas City and shipped them to the northwest. The price is not given, but it is a question whether they brought as much as if the purchaser had been compelled to come to Texas after them. When receipts are heavy the man who wants to buy very sensibly reasons that he can do better than if he came down and spent two or three weeks on the range. A good way to stop the northwestern man from coming down to trade is to notify him that you have shipped everything to market and if he wants bargains he can go there and get them.

BIG BISCUIT MAKERS LIKELY TO CLASH

North American Company Reputed to Be Making Plans for War on The National

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Concerning the passing of the control of Austin Young & Co. of Boston to the North American Biscuit company, which is owned by the Dostoy Well interests at a reported price of $250,000 the Journal of Commerce says, besides involving the Boston market, a story was told in local trade circles yesterday that the North American Biscuit company intended to invade Chicago. It was with the view of extending its operations that the North American Biscuit company recently increased its capital stock from $4,500,000 to $9,000,000. This company has plants in Kansas City, St. Louis, Minneapolis and Dallas, Texas and is a growing competitor of the National Biscuit company.

A new departure has been started in the east among a number of independent cracker bakeries by which they expect to obtain the products that enter into the manufacture of crackers etc., such as flour, sugar, lard and eggs, at a reduced cost. To this end the various independent cracker associations claimed to be composed of upward of forty to fifty members have appointed Louis Fuller purchasing agent, covering the territory this side of the Mississippi river.

FEW CATTLE WILL BE FED IN TEXAS

Meal and Hulls Reported Too High for Profitable Feeding—Cattle Movement Light Live Stock Agent Brooks of the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe does not look for any great amount of feeding to be done in Texas this winter because of the fact that cotton seed feed is entirely too high. Meal is selling for $20, while $3.50 is the price of hulls. These high prices is one of two reasons why there will be fewer cattle fed in Texas this season. The other is that northern feeders are filling their pens with cattle to be fed on cheap corn, which is abundant in the corn belts of the north.

The commission men inform Mr. Brooks that there is a very light demand in Texas for feeders this winter, and the prediction is made that there will be less than half as many cattle on feed in this state in comparison with the number last season.

Referring to the movement of cattle Mr. Brooks said today that there was considerable young graded stuff going north from the San Angelo country along the Santa Fe. He looks for quite a heavy movement of this character of stuff for the next few weeks.

The Frisco also reports considerable movement along its line in the Brownwood country. Similar reports come from West Texas and also from the Pecos country.

SUN GETTING SMALLER BY 16 INCHES DAILY

Despite Shrinkage, Sir Robert Ball, Says Inhabitants of Earth Have No Cause for Worry

(Copyright, 1905, by W. R. Hearst.)
LONDON, Oct. 25.—The sun grows smaller by sixteen inches every twenty-four hours. Such was the startling statement by Sir Robert Ball, the Irish astronomer, to an audience at the Bishopgate Institute. A few moments later he calmed the apprehensions of his hearers by stating that the sun was in no immediate danger of becoming a black spot in the heavens, but would in all probability last for a few million years.
"Ten million years ago," said Sir Robert, dealing with the period as though it were more than an ordinary lease, "the sun was nearly a million times wider than it is at present because of the fact that it is getting colder and because of the principal that a red hot poker is wider than a cold one."

Showing the tremendous combustion that is going on in the sun to keep up its heat, Sir Robert declared that if all the coal in the earth were put into the sun it would last less than the tenth thousandth part of a second in that tremendous conflagration.

"Fortunately," said the astronomer, "it is not the combustion alone that the sun's heat is due. It is a process of contraction. The particles of the gigantic orb produces such a tremendous friction that the heat from this friction is equal to the burning of 800,000 globes of coal."

"Of late," proceeded Sir Robert, "the idea has prevailed that the sun's energy is due the presence of that mysterious agent—radium. If that is so radium exists in the sun in the same proportion that it exists in the earth than instead of the paltry twenty-four million years allowed to the sun because of combustion of friction we can rest comforted in the belief that it will warm this old earth for one billion years, by which time most of us will be beyond the reach of the solar energy."

LAWTON OPENS NEW CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

LAWTON, Okla., Oct. 25.—The formal opening of the new quarters of the Chamber of Commerce in the newly completed city hall will take place on Nov. 3. It will be one of the greatest meetings held in the city since its organization. A large number of guests will be invited from out of town to participate in the deliberations and the festivities of the evening. Among these will be Captains Dade and his staff of the Thirtieth cavalry, officers from Fort Sill, Hon. J. W. Haddon, superintendent of the Comanche Indian school, Hon. John B. Blackman, United States Indian agent at Avasdarker, District Judge F. E. Gillette and his staff of court officials, and all the city officials.

LIVES DEARER THAN OUR VERY OWN

How many lives dearer to us than our very own have been placed in needless jeopardy by failure to provide against and forestall the great suffering which too frequently accompanies and follows the bearing of children? That would do anything within our power to obviate the possibility of such an happening is too patent to admit of question; therefore—mark well this fact—a liniment, by name, has been devised, whose function it is to prepare in advance the muscles and tissues intimately associated with parturition.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

This liniment is for external application. By its use the parts are relaxed and enabled to withstand not only the actual strain brought to bear on them during accouchement, but also to rally from this ordeal and speedily regain their normal proportions and tonicity. It is not irritating to the most sensitive surfaces, and is applicable to all cases. It is not enough to call it Mother's Friend—it's the friend of the whole family. $1.00, all druggists. CIRCUS DAY DRAWS BIG CROWD TO CITY

Thousands Line Sidewalks to See Morning Parade of Forepaugh-Sells Aggregation

An ideal day heralded the arrival of the Forepaugh-Sells circus. Daylight had just broken when the first section of the special pulled in and as usual there was a crowd with a cheering welcome. The unloading was witnessed by a throng of local and out of town people, every train bringing into the city visitors to swell the list of those already here.

The Forepaugh-Sells parade, which attracted great crowds of spectators to the streets this morning was a gorgeous pageant of attractive horses, wonderful wild animals and a wealth of novel features, many of which were unique and interesting.

A body of trumpets and mounted heralds led the parade, followed by a military band and a number of chariots of allegorical significance, embellished in gold and bright coloring. A group of helmeted knights in picturesque costume mounted upon richly caparisoned horses followed. The second division, led by a hand chariot, consisted of an equestrian display, horses, a large boat carrying fourteen Russians, men and women costumed in the gowns worn at a Russian wedding feast, three herds of elephants, including "Congo" and "Zetta," two African war elephants said to be the only two of this species in captivity, a drove of camels, followed by a float bearing a group of Japanese in their holiday dress, two tandem teams of great beauty.

The crown hand leading the third division created considerable merriment; a body of mounted Hussars, two Roman racing chariots, drawn by eight prancing steeds; a number of allegorical floats; a military display representing the American armies of the wars of 1776, 1812, 1848, 1861, 1898, open cages containing lions, tigers and other wild animals.

The fourth division consisted of a military band, many elaborately decorated floats, several open cages of pure white albino bears, the performing Shetland ponies and many other interesting features.

An immense crowd attended the opening performance. Elephants danced, clowns cut merry capers and the laugh of the small boy resounded through the vast arena where many thousands of his mothers, fathers, sisters and brothers kept him company.

A series of interesting historical groupings in which nearly 1,000 actors, horses, elephants and camels portrayed the changing scenes incident to the opening of the Panama canal opened the performance after the spectators had passed an hour in the monster menagerie.

Following the spectacle which vanished like a mirage, twenty-odd elephants bounded into the three rings, and performed all manner of difficult tricks. A shriek from the host of children welcomed the regiment of clowns which broke into the hippodrome oval as the elephants swung their unwieldy bodies back to the menagerie. The reign of joy continued until the menagerie specialties began when every one was breathless at the daring performers who did impossible things on flimsy trapeze high in the air. Wonderful equestrian acts came next. Bud Gorman's string of Kentucky thoroughbreds, beautiful gave evidence of Mr. Gorman's tireless patience. His equina wonders received warm approval. Julia Lowande gave an exhibition of equestrianism which won hearty applause.

There will be a farewell performance tonight at 8 o'clock.

SMALLEST ROAD FRISCO FEEDER

Three Men on Payroll of Exeter and Cassville Line—A Money Maker

One of the smallest and most unique steam railroads in this country is located in Missouri, with terminals at Exeter and Cassville. It is just six miles long.

Exeter is a small town on the Frisco near Monticello, and the pigmy road makes connection with the Frisco. The entire equipment of the road consists of two small engines, two combination baggage and passenger cars and one freight car. On the company's payroll are three men, an engineer, who is his own fireman, a brakeman and a third who fills the office of conductor, agent, expressman and express agent. The line has been operating for twelve years and is said to be a paying institution.

Cassville is six miles east of Exeter, the track being down grade the entire distance. Each day the engine pulls the two coaches up the hill to Exeter, and upon the arrival of the first passenger train on the Frisco main line, leaves for Cassville with one coach, carrying passengers and freight.

On the arrival of a later passenger train on the main line of the Frisco, any passengers for Cassville are placed on board the coach, which is in charge of the brakeman, and the return trip made, gravity being the motive power. The pace is slow, owing to the frequent application of the brakes to prevent the car getting beyond the control of the man in charge. No one has ever been killed or injured on this novel road, although the freight car once got away from the employees and coasted down the hill from Exeter to Cassville, wrecking some of the terminal buildings.

NO MORE EXILE FOR CONSUMPTIVES

The encouraging news recently chronicled in the daily press in reference to the inhalation treatment for tuberculosis is causing widespread discussion among physicians. It is known as the Bensonizer treatment, and was originally used in St. Louis. Subsequently experiments were conducted on a charitable basis in the tenement districts of New York city, among the poor people, where consumption is seen at its worst. After experimenting during the past year under the supervision of a member of the city board of health it has been shown that out of one hundred cases over 65 per cent were successfully treated—a record which is remarkable considering the adverse conditions surrounding the patients. The treatment consists of an instrument, or nebulizer apparatus, by which various healing and antiseptic oils are transported into medicated air and breathed into the lungs. This destroys the tubercle bacilli without irritation to the patient, heals the affected lung tissue, and allows nature to complete the cure.

A movement is now on foot to establish a sanitarium in the vicinity of St. Louis, where this treatment will be used exclusively but those who prefer can purchase the instrument, with proper remedies and use it in their homes thus avoiding the necessity of leaving the family circle—it now being a well-understood fact that consumption is curable in any climate under proper treatment.

In the office of the Bensonizer Sanitarium Co., 514 Granite block, St. Louis, several instruments are on exhibition for the purpose of demonstrating the treatment, and the profession and the public are invited to call or write and investigate the treatment and procure copies of descriptive booklets and pamphlets. It has long been maintained that if a germicide could be inhaled without harsh effect, it would be the ideal treatment for pulmonary tuberculosis, hence the medical fraternity is much interested in recent developments and results. The medical journals are favorably commenting on the Bensonizer treatment, and it would seem that at least a weapon has been found with which to successfully combat the "Great White Plague."

JEROME CHEERED BY JOHN D. JR.'S CLASS

Fifth Avenue Baptist Sunday School Boys Enthusiastic Over District Attorney

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr.'s bible class took a plunge into politics last night, declaring for Jerome and cheering the candidate's name to the echo.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., in person led the cheering. It was his first appearance before the class in nearly a year and the big auditorium of the Fifth Avenue Baptist church was comfortably filled.

Rev. Dr. Rufus P. Johnston, pastor of the church, addressed the class on "Our Young Men." The speaker outlined the career of a certain young man of Missouri who had done his duty and won a governorship.

"Hoary for Folk" yelled the bible class.

Switching to Philadelphia, the orator drew a second picture, which the audience welcomed with cheers as that of Mayor Weaver.

"Even here in your midst," Dr. Johnston said, "there is a young man who is honest, fearless and sincere; a young man who has done his duty so well in public office that the political parties will not have him. The young man I refer to is not like one of those little puppets who dance at the end of a string."

"I will not mention any names," continued Dr. Johnston, and the house rang with cries of "Jerome!"

"I think you all know whom I mean, and I advise all here—every member of this class—to see that your ballot is cast for that young man."

Governor Montagu of Virginia, Mr. Rockefeller's guest, spoke on "Higher Citizenship in a voice of rare oratorical effect. Mr. Montagu spoke for nearly an hour on the duties of citizenship and patriotism. "If I were to criticize the American people," he said, "not in censure, if you please, I would say, 'They do not take interest in public affairs. They only take an interest when it is too late to take an interest.'"

"Citizenship is founded on patriotism, patriotism on morals, and morals on Christianity," he said. "Perhaps we have thought too much of liberty, too little of duty to our fellow men. These debts are as tangible and real as promissory notes. My liberty stops where your rights begin."

to do the work I want to do. When I sail in November with my wife and children I will be virtually on vacation. I do not mean by this that I shall be idle. On the contrary, I will be very busy, but I will be following my own ideals, and not working to order."

"For six months I have been working in colors, and I find that I can not continue to draw in line and give the time I am able to do as I please. I estimate myself most fortunate. I may be abroad a year; I may remain two years, or three. I do not know. I have not mapped out the minor details of the move I have decided upon. I will stay just as long as I feel that I am approaching more nearly to the ideals I have set up in my heart. I want to reach the limit of my possibilities in color."

"First I will go to Spain. After a time in that country I will visit Italy, and from Italy I will go to France. I know that I will not return to America before next summer, but I will certainly visit my home then, and if I assure you I will be glad to get back once a year at least."

"Have you chosen the masters under whom you will study?" Mr. Gibson was asked.

"I have not. There is plenty of time for that."

"That Mr. Gibson is thoroughly in earnest, and that the step he has taken in refusing to renew the contracts that bring him in anywhere from $65,000 to $75,000 a year, is the result of no sudden whim, but the offspring of desires long cherished, was proved by his every word and gesture."

"There's nothing more for me to tell you," he said, when he had made the bare announcement that he meant to go abroad to study art. "I've simply come to a point where I have enough to take care of my family and educate my children, and I feel that if I can do better work in broader fields by giving a few years to study I can do so."

"Will your friends see nothing of your work while you are abroad?" he was asked.

"That depends," he replied. "As I told you, I am not to be idle, but am going to do the work I want to do. If anybody wants the work I want to do, I assure you I will be very glad of it. If nobody wants it, then I am afraid there won't be much of it seen for awhile."

Mr. Gibson talked with the unaffected frankness of the schoolboy who has passed his "exam" in the preparatory school and is about to enter college. It is said that he has been drawing $25,000 a year from Collier's, $20,000 from Life, and that the royalties from the book of sketches that he published every year were at least $20,000.

Poor footing was afforded in the sawdust ring, making the men extremely careful in the work and thus detracting from their speed. Harris suffered most in this respect, going down twice more through the condition of the ground than the force of Dale's attack.

Both men opened cautiously in the first, beyond a few light body blows, no action marking the round.

With the second round, Dale went after his man in a determined fashion, at the same time ducking a number of vicious swings for the jaw. Trouble in foot work resulted in much clinching in the round, Harris' body blows in this state of the game constituting his sole advantage.

In the third there was a general exchange of light blows at the opening, followed by some slow work as the heavy going began to tell on the men. This round was all Dale's, as he was able to land and get away almost at pleasure.

Dale showed improved work over his former appearance in this city and appears to be developing into a fast boxer.

SIDEWALK NEED FELT GENERALLY

South Side Not Alone in Lack of Suitable Paving for Pedestrians. Work Being Pushed

Residents of the south side who are taking up the campaign for more sidewalks, declare that their part of the city is by no means the only one not suitably paved for pedestrians.

The central portions of the city, including streets that must be used by many people in going to and from business, they declare, are found unpaved in as many instances proportionately to the area covered as are unpaved sections south of the railroads.

In this connection, the city itself is mentioned as an offender, the lack of sidewalks about all but a small portion of the city hall being made the subject of frequent comment.

Southsiders, however, are not contenting themselves with referring to conditions, but are acting actively to work to build the walks in their portion of the city.

A trip about the streets shows that such work is indeed progressing rapidly and that the movement has been taken hold of in good shape.

IRON AND STEEL IN ACTIVE DEMAND

Bookings for Present Month Almost Up to Record-Breaking Rate for September

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—The Iron Age says today:

Bookings of finished iron and steel continue on an enormous scale, and thus far this month are nearly up to the record-breaking rate of September. The pressure in many quarters is enormous and the plants are provided with work for long periods.

In the eastern steel trade there has been another outburst of buying of basic pig iron for delivery during the winter, and fully 55,000 tons have been taken at advancing prices with negotiations for at least half as much more. A scarcity of pig iron for steel making is developing in the Chicago district, and it is likely that iron may be shipped from lower lake ports to that district by water before navigation closes.

The United States Steel Corporation has secured options at $16 and $16.50 on practically all the Bessemer pig available in the Mahoning and Shenango valleys, until the end of the year, the only exception being one lot of 10,000 tons held by a merchant. These purchases of iron are necessary in spite of the fact that the steel corporation is operating all its blast furnaces except those of which two are out for repairs.

In the steel rail trade a number of fair orders have been booked. Inability to make prompt deliveries of structural material continues to be the only serious phase of the situation in that branch. The amount of business done in bars has been large and sellers are holding back. Among the orders for merchant pipe just placed is one for a thirty-three mile line in Louisiana.

The cast iron pipe shops are very busy, with some large work coming up, including

STOCKS

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Early London cables responded to our weakness of yesterday. The local market ruled rather irregular throughout the early session. In the initial trading Locomotion and Reading were the most prominent issues, the former touching 7 3/8, and soon went to 1 opened 3 1/4 higher and soon went to 1 point above last night's closing figures. Metropolitan continued to show weakness, going off 1 1/4 points during the first hour. The volume of business was fair. Sales to noon were 434,500 shares. Amalgamated Copper today paid its quarterly dividend of 1 1/4 per cent. The market grew weaker during the last hour of trading and closing figures were right at the bottom. The heaviest losers among the rails were Canadian Pacific, with a decline of 1 1/2 points, and Illinois Central, with a decline of 1 1/2 points. Louisville and Nashville, Missouri Pacific, New York Central, St. Paul and Union Pacific all showed losses of a point or more. Brooklyn Rapid Transit declined a point and Metropolitan an of 1/2. The balance of the list are off from 1/2 to 3/4 on the day.

Mr. Downard holds a franchise from the city of Ardmore to furnish gas to that city, and hopes to be able to get the natural gas from the P. Dolliver well that has been recently struck near Ardmore. The gusher that struck about twenty miles from Ardmore on the Santa Fe land near Wheeler has a capacity of 2,000 barrels of oil a day and also has a natural gas pressure of 2,000-3,000 cubic feet of gas a day. This is the first large well near Ardmore, although there are several smaller wells in that vicinity. Use of the asphalt in paving Ninth street in this city, is contemplated.

LOST ARTICLES

If something were missing in your office, you would naturally ask your employees or your associates to help you find it. Isn't it just as natural when you have lost anything in the city at large, on the street, in the cars, or at the hotel, to tell other people about it, and let them help you? The most effective way of advertising for lost articles is to use the Lost and Found columns of The Telegram.

Support was poor and prices were at the lowest in the last hour, finally closing at a loss of 25 to 27 points. Spots are unchanged, with middling at 16 1/2. Sales amounted to 200 bales.

THURSDAY'S RECEIPTS. Cattle, 1,300; Calves, 1,300; Hogs, 2,300; Sheep, 2,300; Horses and mules, 6.

THURSDAY'S REVIEW AND SALES

Over 4,000 head of cattle came on the market today, making 21,250 for the first four days of the week. Trading was very slow to start and the volume of business done before noon was very small. For some reason unexplained packers were slow in offering bids.

Cows and Heifers

Cow stuff was very common and when selling began it was on a reasonably steady basis. Nothing better than $2 was paid before noon. Sales: No. 1, 11; No. 2, 11; No. 3, 11; No. 4, 11; No. 5, 11; No. 6, 11; No. 7, 11; No. 8, 11; No. 9, 11; No. 10, 11.

Calves

The big run of calves met with more application for prices advanced 250 choice vealers commanding $4. Heavy calves were in no better favor than they were on yesterday. Sales: No. 1, 11; No. 2, 11; No. 3, 11; No. 4, 11; No. 5, 11; No. 6, 11; No. 7, 11; No. 8, 11; No. 9, 11; No. 10, 11.

Hogs

A good run of hogs came in, around 2,300 head. Here, as in the cattle trade, bidding was slow to start, buyers waiting in the hope of a better price. Early arrivals were mostly light weight. The good hogs came in late. Buying began with prices unchanged on pigs and lights and no offers on good hogs. Later bids were tendered on a basis low, with best Oklahoma selling at 45. Sales: No. 1, 11; No. 2, 11; No. 3, 11; No. 4, 11; No. 5, 11; No. 6, 11; No. 7, 11; No. 8, 11; No. 9, 11; No. 10, 11.

Sheep

Three loads of sheep came in the pens, but no trades were made up to noon. A few wagon sheep of good quality sold steady. Sales: No. 1, 11; No. 2, 11; No. 3, 11; No. 4, 11; No. 5, 11; No. 6, 11; No. 7, 11; No. 8, 11; No. 9, 11; No. 10, 11.

TRADE NOTES

In some branches of sheep farming the line is at the most profitable part of the flock. When wethers constitute a good portion of the flock they should be kept separate from the ewes.

No other meat producing domestic animal after poultry is capable of producing so large a number of young in a year as the hog. The size of litters varies with breeds and with location and feed.

Besides improving the appearance of the horse, grooming stimulates the skin to action and provokes circulation of the blood.

Soundness is an essential feature in the make-up of a driving or riding horse when placed upon the market.

One of the effects of a high corn feeding on breeding stock is the lessening of procreancy and fecundity. When the composition of forages furnish a more or less varied diet and consequently a better balanced ration, high fecundity may be expected.

There is no farm industry that tends more surely to profit than sheep in hands suited to grazing, especially where weeds on bushes interfere with successful cultivation or on lands too rough to till easily.

There may be some doubts about the does, but there should be no doubt whatever about the breeding of the sire, if you want a good breed, and you want any branch of the goat raising industry.
