JERRY WILLIAMS, BILL MUSSER IN STATE MEET FRIDAY-SAT.

Jerry Williams and Bill Musser, two outstanding Lockney Longhorn athletes, will represent their school in the state track meet at Austin Friday and Saturday.

Williams, 100-yard dash star, and Musser, mile run specialist, qualified for the state finals by winning first or second place in the Region I meet at Lubbock two weeks ago.

The two athletes, along with Coach Elvin Lyon, left after school Wednesday and spent Wednesday night in Abilene. They will arrive in Austin today (Thursday) and plan to work out this afternoon.

The speedy Williams entered the state meet last year but failed to reach the finals. This is Musser's first trip to the Austin meet. According to local coaches, many of the boys who competed in the Class A finals last year return for another try this year. Sidney Garton of New Boston, one of the fastest sprint men in the state, will run against Williams.

Charles Ogden and Bill Patterson, Floydada, will also seek honors in the state meet. Ogden will enter the high jump and Patterson the high and low hurdles. Ogden placed in the Class A finals last spring and should be among the winners again this year. Abernathy's A. C. Harris also qualified for the state meet by winning first place in the regional 440-yard dash.

Red Raider Relays
Williams and Musser entered the Red Raider Relays at Lubbock last week end and showed up well. Some of the finest athletes in the state competed in the meet and the local boys were matched against boys from higher classification schools.

In the 100-yard dash, Jerry ran fourth. Undeclared Alton Thyngerson of Pampa won the event with a time of 9.8. Everyone that placed above Jerry is in a different class and will not face him in the state meet.

Bill ran seventh in the mile but registered his best time of the year. He finished ahead of Dennis Richardson of Seminole who beat him in the Region I finals.

The two Lockney athletes' performance in the Red Raider Relays gives an indication that they will be hard to beat in the state meet this week end.

Local Coaches At Coaching School

Elvin Lyon, Troy Lemley and R. L. Rhoten, Lockney coaches, attended a coaching school at Texas Tech, Lubbock, last Friday and Saturday. Some 244 coaches registered for the two-day school.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY.

Don Hatch will leave Saturday for Saint Louis, Mo., where he will visit the Purina Research Farm along with a number of other dealers in this area. He expects to return Wednesday.

R. C. Mitchell and W. D. Lacey, Floyd County Swine Breeders, have consigned three pigs each to the Swine Testing program at A. & M. College starting May 5th.

The two men along with County Agent Cecil Lewis will attend the Seventh Annual Swine Short Course and Carcass Contest at College Station May 5 and 6.

The wearing size pigs will be put on feed in pens of three and will be fed until they reach 200 pounds. At that time two of them will be slaughtered and carcass information gathered. The dressing percentage on each pig will be determined also the length of carcass will be measured, width of fatback, percentage of primal cuts will be determined, size of loin eye (back muscle) will be measured, the pound of feed per pound of gain determined and other valuable information gathered.

These characteristics of the pig, most of which are inherited and transmitted to offspring, will give the breeder some idea as to whether they are breeding the correct meat type hog for the market.

The third pig, a boar, will be brought back home for use in the owners herd or will be offered for sale to some other breeder.

This testing program is sponsored by A. & M. College in cooperation with the Texas Swine Breeders Association. R. C. Mitchell is immediate past president of the state association, having served in that capacity for two years. David Rumsel of San Antonio is the president this year.

EDITORIAL

But let all those that put their trust in These rocks; let them ever shout for joy, because Thou defendest them. — Psalm 5:11.

ACCORDING to the files of The Lockney Beacon this city was incorporated in the year 1908, sometime in the Fall. Some talk has been heard of plans to observe the 50th anniversary of this event but as far as we know nothing has been done as yet. It would be a good time for the citizens of the city to get together and organize a celebration of some kind. We would like to see all the first city officials recognized and honored, some of course, are no longer living but some special recognition should be given to those who are living. It is an opportunity to throw a big party. Let's get started.

WHAT CAN be done when one tries to show by the fine celebration last week for Mrs. Alice Baker. A half dozen or less local women planned and carried out the affair and it couldn't have been better prepared. It was a success from every standpoint.

BEST WISHES to those high school students who carry Lockney's colors to the state Interscholastic League meet this week end. We trust that they may be able to do their best and that their best may be good enough to win honors for the students and their school.

SCHOOL PROBLEMS, both local and state-wide are many and varied. Having been a member of some committees studying these problems we have about reached the conclusion that there isn't a very good solution to many of them. It seems there is a turning of sentiment all over the state toward the levying of a general sales tax, mostly for school purposes. It will be a nuisance but it is about the only source left without levying too much taxes on local property owners. What the legislature will do about the problem will be interesting to watch.

SAW A SIGN which said "Courtesy Costs Nothing." Made us wonder if the author knew what he was talking about. Courtesy does cost something. It costs considerable effort, some time, constant vigilance for oneself and a sincere desire to do what is right. There is a vast difference between real courtesy and a little superficial politeness. Anyone can tip his hat, open the door for a pretty girl or say "thank you." Not belittling those things but they are not as close to courtesy as a genuine consideration for others. That is courtesy. When we really consider the rights of other people, their right to their own opinions, their right to do the same things we do, then we are courteous. These other things are possibly the product of courtesy and consideration.

IF YOU HAVEN'T already made your reservation today for the Teachers' Appreciation banquet, Friday evening, we ought to express our appreciation to those in the teaching profession who guide the minds of our boys and girls in the various fields of learning. Friday evening is the opportunity you have of showing that appreciation.

FREE PLANTING conditions are excellent says the headline in the newspaper. Surely that is correct but so much depends upon the weather during this month of May. If it continues unswayed and rainy we can get into the water boat we were in last year. If it turns all pretty and settles down surely this will be one of the best crop years we have seen. If Old Man Weather will just treat us right in May we'll be in good shape.

IN HOMETOWN AMERICA

With Our EXCHANGES

AN OLD IDEA, BUT STILL A GOOD ONE

Occasionally you hear someone say "Sure, he's guilty or he wouldn't have been arrested." Likewise, we are often inclined to try a man in the courts of public opinion, before his case ever appears on the court dockets, and some officers even become irate when a jury fails to agree with their charges.

These things are, of course, contrary to the thinking within our constitution, which guarantees every citizen the right of trial by jury. A case appearing before a Grand Jury this week proves how wrong one can be on this subject.

A New Mexico man, charged with indecent exposure, went to considerable expense to secure counsel, contact scores of persons at a farm sale he was attending at the time of the crime and then, at his own expense, went to Austin and voluntarily took a lie-detector test to support his claims of innocence. Confronted with this evidence, the grand jury "no-billed" the man without hesitation. It was apparently a definite case of mistaken identity. The incident in our opinion, is definitely enough to make us think twice before condemning a man before he is tried. It could, after all, just as easily have happened to you or I as the man from Clovis. Furthermore, if there had ever been any question as to the right of trial by jury, it should no longer exist. Without this right, Americans would find themselves in the same position with people of those nations dominated in the past by Hitler, Stalin and other dictators. — Howard Brand.

CHALLENGING MEN

You may call this a challenge to all men. At least, I invite any answers in their defense.

Mrs. James Son, talented book reviewer of Plainview was over here after night. I was asking her a few questions about her work and asked her if her husband had ever heard her perform.

"No," she replied. "James has never heard me do a book review. In fact, I guess he hasn't ever heard me speak at all in public. You know, men are never in my audiences. (And this is the important part, men.) They would never go for this type of thing. If I were going to speak to men, I'd have to choose something amusing."

"Men think seriously all day, and if they are to sit and listen to someone for an hour or so, it must be entertaining, and something which does not require their thinking." Mrs. Son elaborated, and I took her word for it. But is that really the way it is, men?

Would you really be bored and uncomfortable listening to a book review, or a poetry reading? — Korye Martin in Oton Enterprise.

BAYLOR SETS EXAMPLE

Baylor University offers a sparkling example of what can be done to answer the nation's challenge to American education without relying on government handouts. During the Baptist institution's one hundred and thirtieth anniversary celebration recently, it was announced that a new physical science building would be constructed. The estimated cost will be a whopping one to one and a half million dollars.

Thus Baylor, already an acknowledged leader in the liberal arts, soon will increase its facilities for furthering the nation's scientific education. The significance of this, inevitably is magnified by the clamor for more and better scientific that has resulted from Russia's leadership in missile technology. But the true importance of Baylor's plan is that it depends on none of the typical federal subsidization schemes currently being suggested.

Also noteworthy is the fact that Baylor's expansion program is not something that blossomed in the psychological wake of the Sputnik. It has been a continual process, accelerating in response to increasing demands for higher and better facilities of higher education. In the last decade this has meant $29 million in improvements on Baylor's campuses at Waco, Houston, and Dallas — all without benefit of government-financed crash programs. — Fort Worth Star Telegram.

Dear Editor: I note that when Lane Turner's young daughter was in custody for performing a public service, the newspapers printed some of Lane's love letters to her gigolo, and these were read with gusto by many.

Even including my kindly neighbor who says back when his character was being built, if he had got caught reading somebody else's private mail, he would have got the tar wheeled out of him.

But all he got in this case was a sore neck from reading Miss Turner's letters while trying to make it look like he was reading on another page. D. E. SCOTT

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin, Tex. — If you drive a car, 1958 will be a good year to pay close-than-ever attention to how to drive it.

Under Gov. Price Danieles "Texas plan" to reduce highway tragedies, the spotlight will be on individual driving practices as never before.

Governor Danieles is heading a drive to mobilize all the state's resources to combat "the threat of public disaster. Annual loss of life, health and property in traffic accidents," he said, "is greater than the loss sustained in all our natural disasters combined."

"Five-point 'Texas plan' involves (1) cooperation between all safety and enforcement officials; (2) formation of local traffic safety councils; (3) public education to the problem; (4) road improvements as hazardous spots and (5) more rigid enforcement and certainty of punishment for violations, especially drunken driving and speeding.

Last year 2,530 persons were killed in traffic and 122,000 were injured. Even so, 1957 rate of fatalities to miles traveled was down — from 0.25 deaths per 100 million miles in 1956 to 0.23 deaths per 100 million miles in 1957.

Department of Public Safety Director Homer Garrison Jr. attributes the reduced rate to lower average speed. Texans saved 11 lives, he said, by slowing down average speed by 1.5 miles per hour.

Goal for 1958 is more ambitious — to save 25 lives a day for each Texas county.

It's up to every Texan, said the governor, to "accept traffic safety as a do-it-yourself project."

TOWARD SAFER ROADS — An important arm of the anti-accident campaign is a $45,000,000 program to resurface some hazardous spots in the highway system.

Governor Danieles and State

Highway Engineer DeWitt Green formally launched this work by placing a "drive carefully" sign by a narrow bridge on a farm road near Austin, scene of previous accidents, the bridge is to be widened.

State Highway Department allocated $25,000,000 to the emergency safety construction fund, and $18,000,000 will come from federal funds.

MONEY HUNT — Gloomy predictions abound as government and industry leaders look toward the state's 1959 financing problems.

A "conservative estimate" by Sen. William S. Fly, chairman of the Texas State Tax Study Commission, is that $25,000,000 per year in new revenue will be needed just to maintain present state services.

Latest report by the Tax Commission calls the situation "a fiscal crisis of major proportions" and "not a temporary condition."

State and local taxes have tripled since World War II, says the report, but not fast enough to keep pace with spending needs. This is attributed to a sharp upsurge in population, especially in the under 18 and over 65 brackets. These ages require expensive services (education, pensions) but not little in taxes.

Oil industry spokesmen served notice that oil, even if it falls out of its present slump, cannot produce nearly enough revenue to save the day.

Charles W. Alcorn, president of Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, predicted a need for as much as $65,000,000 a year in extra revenue. "Even if all imported crude oil were cut off from the U.S.," he said, "we would stand to gain only about $20,000,000 a year."

MORE NEEDED — Further complicating the fiscal picture are statements, such as that of the State Board of Corrections, that it will need more money from the Legislature next year.

Chairman H. H. (Veto) Colfield said the Board will ask for $1,000,000 in building funds and a $1,500,000 increase in its operating budget.

State prisons are overflowing, says Mr. C. E. Ellis, with more to come. Prison population (10,400) has doubled in the past seven years while population as a whole increased 24 per cent.

ANCHORS AWEIGH — After 115 years, Texas again has a Navy.

Governor Danieles has reactivated the Texas Navy and called on the some 280,000 owners of powered craft to join up. Nuclear Galleys and Fish Commission's 180 boats.

Their purpose will be to defend, if necessary, the 104 miles of shoreline claimed by Texas and assist with civil defense in time of disaster.

A large early response by boat owners and previously commissioned admirals "convince me we're going to have the largest Navy in the world," said the governor.

Texas had a vigorous, if small, navy in the days of the revolution and Republic. It thwarted Mexican efforts to blockade the Texas coast and boldly raised Mexican ports. It ended its last expedition in 1843 and after annexation was incorporated into the U.S. Navy.

20,000 NEW JOBS — State Highway Commission will start taking bids next month on $20,000,000 in "extra" road building projects made possible by the new federal aid bill.

Texas gets $21,000,000 in federal funds plus up $12,000,000 in state money.

These extra projects will mean 20,000 new jobs in the state, says Commission Chairman Marshall Formby. Each million-dollar project brings an estimated $1,000 a day for six months into the affected community, he said.

"Times have been so good since World War II," commented Formby, "that most people have forgotten the impact of a highway dollar."

SHORT SHORTS — Major crimes committed in Texas increased from 1943; in 1956 to 116,899 in '57, reports the FBI. It was an increase of approximately 11 per cent for Texas compared to 8 per cent nationwide. Unemployment figures moved up again in Texas. Employment Commission's latest report: Total number of persons filing claims was 91,328 compared to 91,214 for the previous week. Total payments were $1,875,520 compared to $1,830,794. Texas Court of Criminal Appeals has the task of deciding whether Promote Benjamine Cage got a fair shake in the trial that brought him a 10-year sentence on charges of embezzling $100,000. Defense attorneys contend the money, withdrawn from IGT Corp. and channeled through a maze of Cage enterprises, never went to Cage personally. Prosecutors retort the route was purposely devious. Building construction awards for March increased 29 per cent — almost three times the expected 10 per cent seasonal increase. Dollar-wise, construction for the first quarter of '58 was within one per cent of the same period in '57, says the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. But allowing for higher costs, the volume was four per cent below '57.

Academia was the name given to a series of philosophers who taught at the Athenian Academy.

REPORT SAYS COUNTY AFFAIRS ARE WELL MANAGED

Two facts relative to the administration of the affairs of Floyd County were brought into bold relief last week by the report of the independent auditor filed with the County Commissioners Monday.

(1) Floyd County is getting to be a big operation, with funds handled in excess of $500,000 per year;

(2) Demand from the public for services of various types never ceases to expand.

Perhaps a third facet of the operation should be added by the statement that somehow or other the commissioners managed to meet the growers demand for services at the county level without raising the level of taxable values and (quoting the auditor) "at an overall net increase of $1,929.79, in assets."

The report was signed by C. A. Niemier and Pierce, accountants. They have been making an audit of the county's accounts for several years at a cost to the county of $525.

Principal increased services, cost of which came out of the county funds, during 1957, included:

Hospitalization insurance for employees of the county, $2,000;

Floyd County's proportionate part of the salary of a 110th District parole officer, $996;

Fire protection, and insurance costs incident to it, for rural homes and business property, afforded through contracts with the cities of Floydada and Lockney, $2,000;

County's proportionate part of the services of a government trapper, $1,929.

The figures are in round numbers and represent a total of $11,216.

A sketchy briefing of the auditor's report for the year shows:

The county had a beginning balance in all funds of $167,934.70;

Its total receipts were $664,104.23;

Its total disbursements were $712,154.44.

The ending balance in all funds stood at $119,884.49, with $50,000 in U. S. Treasury bonds.

Bonds retired in 1957 totalled $37,000. Bonds due in 1958 are $38,000 with an interest bill of $22,327.50.

The county's bonded debt at the end of the year was $982,000, plus warrant and lease agreements of $39,198.70.

10 CLUES TO CANCER

Clue No. 4, Prophylaxis

The patient has a small cancer, and the surgeon removes it easily. Some time later, however, there is a recurrence of the cancer — perhaps in distant parts of the body.

This common tragedy — the escape of a few cancer cells — costs many thousands of American lives each year.

Researchers have found in animal experiments that cancer recurrences often can be prevented by administering anti-cancer drugs during and following surgical removal of the tumor.

Now these prophylactic measures are being tested on human patients in 20 clinical centers throughout the United States.

Farm Labor Day Set At Floydada

The Plainview office of the Texas Employment Commission will send a representative, J. W. Bradley to the Floydada Chamber of Commerce office each Thursday morning from 9 to 12 o'clock for the purpose of placing farm labor in the area, according to announcement by Bill Day, Plainview manager.

Bradley will spend Wednesday morning in Tulla at the Courthouse for the same purpose.

The Plainview TEC office has farm labor day there each Friday afternoon.

In Lockney farmers and laborers may get together at the office of J. D. Copeland in the Ferguson building on North Main Street. Mr. Copeland is representing the Lockney Chamber of Commerce office in the matter and invites farmers who need hands or laborers who want work to notify him at his office any day in the week.

Dear Editor:

I note that our economics experts say the $1 million U.S. aid going to the Dominican Republic is not really costing us anything.

On account of that country's boss is sending his son to school here and he is spending the million each year right back where it came from.

My college-broke neighbor says if the government wishes to send somebody to school, it could send his son for less money. In fact, he doesn't believe his boy could dissipate more than, say, half a million a year, although very talented in that field.

R. A. Lockney Seeks Trace Of Relatives

Ray A. Lockney of Oklahoma City was in this city Tuesday seeking some trace of his great-uncle, J. F. Lockney for whom the city was named. Mr. Lockney said that his sister was attempting to trace the history of the family and that they did not know what had happened to his great-uncle after he left Lockney about the turn of the century. As far as The Beacon could ascertain no one here was able to give him any information about the matter.

J. F. Lockney, according to meager reports, edited a newspaper at old Maysbaw in this county about 1890, later moved here but left around 1900. Rumors say he moved into New Mexico but nothing definite is known concerning the place. Anyone having any information concerning Mr. Lockney may contact The Beacon office and we will forward it to the Oklahoma City man.

Dear Editor:
I note that since the French designers have got women in the bag, so to speak, they are also trying to get funny with what menfolks have to wear.

Like, for instance, they are building pants without any pockets, so we won't be bulging our elegant hip lines with cigarette lighters, bunches of keys, wads of money, etc.

My fault-finding neighbor says this new style may be a big treat for the ladies, but with pocketless pants, what is a man going to fumble in when the coffee check comes?

Dear Editor:
I note that people who save their money and pay off their debts are being deplored by pretty near everybody from President Ike on down, or up, whichever way you may see it.

These anti-social habits are supposed to be the main cause of the present condition of unboom in business.

My prudent neighbor says he was taught to save for a rainy day, but this practice is now outmoded. Government has taken us under its wing and is not only going to protect us from our rainy days, but will see to it we have plenty of same to be protected from.

Staple, Better Packaged on Old South Visit

Two striking staple cotton and packaged bale—were today by 36 Texas High cotton producers, ginners and businessmen who returned Thursday from a three-day tour of cotton and synthetic textile mills in South Carolina. Among the group were George Webster, ginner and Jerry Cooper, farmer, both of Lockney.

Roy Forkner, Lubbock ginner, who was chairman of the Texas Cotton Producers Ass'n, sponsored the mill tour, said visits and with textile mill officials bore out the fact that textile mills prefer cotton from which to produce fiber goods, and the future use of cotton may hinge on longer staple and better packaged bale.

The 36 men left Lubbock Monday in five airplanes for Greenwood, S. C. for a three-day tour of textile mills. Greenwood, Ware Shoals and Anderson under the sponsorship of the American Cotton Manufacturers Institute.

Visits were made to the legal Textile Corp., Ware Shoals, where they saw a plain cloth mill, carding, spinning and weaving operations which used print cloth, sheeting and linings; to one of the largest finishing and bleaching plants in the nation located at the Ware Shoals plant; to Abney Mills, Southside plant where blended fabrics, cotton and rayon were produced; the Owens-Corning Fibers Corp.; the Lowenstein Cotton & Storage Corp.; and the Mathews Plant of the Greenwood Mills.

F. E. Grier, president of Abney Mills, who has visited Lubbock and the South Plains, told the Texas cotton producers and businessmen, that the fact that they — the cotton producers — were becoming concerned with cotton prices instead of Federal loan prices, was a healthy sign. He added that cotton may be pictured as not competing successfully with synthetic fibers in a time when success depends on competition.

Forkner told Grier and other textile officials that the purpose of the textile mill visit was to give Texas cotton producers a chance to see what happens to the cotton we grow. He also told the mill officials that High Plains producers through the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. were attempting to remedy the quality of cotton produced here and improve it.

Textile officials were officially invited to visit Lubbock and this area next fall when the textile industry's Spinner-Breeder Conference will be held in Lubbock, Oct. 20-22 in conjunction with the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Cotton and Cottonseed Advisory Committee's meeting. More than 300 textile executives, officials and others are expected for that conference, Forkner said.

When the Texas group visited the Lowenstein Cotton & Storage Corp. at Anderson, Robert W. Smith, vice president, who buys as much as 375,000 bales of cotton annually, took the group through his warehouse, specifically showed them neatly packaged bales of synthetic man-made fibers stacked next to ragged, dirty, poorly packaged bales of cotton.

"Better packaged bales of cotton could cut mill waste on cotton and perhaps result in more cotton being used," Smith told the group. The cotton storage official buys cotton for 16 mills in South Carolina.

P. Silas Bailey, vice president of the South Carolina Textile Manufacturers Ass'n, told the group at a dinner Tuesday night that "Cotton consumption may continue to fall because of a shortage of quality cotton and a price high enough to make cotton noncompetitive with other fibers."

"No segment of the cotton industry can be independent of the other segments," Bailey said. "If we are going to hold our share of the textile market and increase that share, we have got to work together to produce a superior product.

"You Texans may think the High Plains grow large quantities of cotton, and you do, but I might add that we South Carolinians can consume more cotton than the High Plains can produce. In fact, we consume more cotton than any state produces — with the exception of Texas," he continued.

In South Carolina there are about 6 1/2 million spindles, representing about 30 per cent of all textile spindles in the U. S. Normal cotton consumption in South Carolina is about 2 1/2 million bales of cotton each year — about 30 per cent of all cotton consumed in the nation.

In conclusion Bailey complimented the Texans on the recent program of the Plains Cotton Growers for quality improvement among cotton producers.

The three-day tour was concluded Wednesday with a lunch at the Greenwood Mills, where J. A. Chapman, first vice president of the ACMI, told the group that work towards a longer staple — one inch or longer — and a better packaged cotton bale could make cotton King for many years to come.

The High Plains farmers and businessmen returned Thursday.

Those making the textile tour included six directors of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., three officers of the Plains Ginner Ass'n, and cotton producers, ginners and businessmen from ten High Plains countries, plus Jim Crook of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

For a real colonial flavor use molasses in place of sugar in baked or boiled custard. 1/4 cup of unsulphured molasses, two cups of milk, three eggs, 1/4 teaspoon of salt and one teaspoon of vanilla is a good basic recipe. The secret for a smooth, velvety textured custard is controlled heat. If you like the baked custard texture, place the custard cups on a rack in a pan of water. Set the dial at 212 degrees and cover the pan. The steam will cook the custards in 20 to 30 minutes.

CROSS ROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

I note some cynical commentators making cracks about the latest temporary increase in the national debt limit.

They say this will be just like some of the old taxes we are still paying which were going to be temporary, but turned out to be permanently temporary.

My trusting neighbor says he is sure Congress means what it says this time, though and the new $280 billion debt limit will be strictly temporary, same as the old $275 billion limit didn't last long.

Cotton Carnival Set May 8-9-10

There is considerable interest over the area in the High Plains Cotton Carnival, May 8-9-10 in Plainview.

Mrs. R. L. Thornton of Plainview, chairman of the talent show, said several entries have come in.

The talent show is scheduled at 8 p.m. on the final night of the three days' Cotton Carnival which begins May 8. Site of the carnival will be the Plainview Cooperative Compress, two miles east of town just off U. S. 70.

There will be $25, $15 and $10 cash prizes for the three top places in three divisions of the talent show, Mrs. Thornton said. Divisions will be based on ages.

Persons wishing to enter should contact Mrs. Thornton by telephone, Capitol 4-5718 or write her at 112 W. 9th St. Name and age of the entrants and a brief description of the number should be given. Persons over the High Plains region are eligible.

Several entries have come in for the Miss Cotton Contest to be held on the opening night of the carnival. Miss Mildred Cox has charge of this part of the program.

A style show is set for Friday night, second round of the trio of programs. Carl Green and Jack Payne are co-chairmen.

Business firms and other organizations have reserved spaces for 100 booths for display of various items and demonstrations in connection with the production and processing of cotton.

More than 95 per cent of vehicles involved in fatal accidents on U.S. highways in 1957 were in apparently good condition.

Horatio Alger wrote more than 50 books about poor boys who made good.

HOME AGAIN

Mrs. Mary Weiland is at home again after two months visiting relatives in East Texas and the coastal area. Among the places she visited were Freeport, Baytown, Houston, Pasadena, Victoria, Garland, Yorktown and Cuero. She returned home Friday.

Corn Tests Are Underway At High Plains Station

In order to determine if corn can be planted early in the High Plains area to diminish the damage caused by the southwestern corn borer and the corn ear worm, The High Plains Station of the Texas Research Foundation has set up five different dates of planting.

The first planting, according to Dr. Johnny H. Davis, Associate Head of the Station, was made April 9 and the second on April 24. Subsequent plantings will be on or about May 5, May 20 and June 20. These tests are being conducted to determine if the date of planting can be utilized to eliminate these insect problems.

The five white varieties planted represent early, mid-season and late maturing corn. They are TRF3, TRF9, TRF13, Texas 17W and Funks 9779W.

Corn Variety Tests

One hundred and forty-seven varieties of corn were included in the corn yield tests planted April 24 at the High Plains Station. Each variety was planted in two row plots 25 feet long and each plot was replicated four times.

Three separate tests are under way each with 49 varieties. Included in the tests are: (1) Standard commercial yellow and white Hybrids (2) Experimental and commercial yellow and white varieties and (3) 49 experimental white varieties developed at the Texas Research Foundation; these include early and mid-season white varieties not previously tested in this area. White corn sells at premiums due to short supply.

Lawrence J. Gundy, corn breeder from TRF was assisted in the planting by Delbert Langford and Billy Gene Warren of the High Plains Station.

Texas ranks fifth in the nation in number of air passengers carried each year.

Dear Molly,

*Dear Molly,
On Mother's Day I'd like to be able to give you a thousand and one frills and furbelows. Instead, I will give you only a corsage to wear to church, and this letter.
For on this Mother's Day, I'd like to say some of the things husbands sometimes forget to say I'd like to tell you how much I love you, and how proud I am that you're my wife as well as our daughter's mother.
When I saw Cathy walking out of Church School last week, it did something to me. She's learning right from the start some of the things I missed, and I have you to thank for it. I wasn't much of a churchgoer when we got married, you know that...
and even if I had nothing else to be grateful for, I could never forget that it was you who taught me what the Church means.
I am grateful for so many things... and above all else,
I am grateful to God for bringing us together. In church this morning my prayer will be one of thanks... for yesterday for to lay for always.*

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

New Farm Maps Available Soon

Floydada — New aerial maps of Floyd County, made on Oct. 2 of last year, are in the process of being checked for accuracy, a job which has been underway for some time and should be about completed.

The maps, made under contract with ASC, take the place of maps several years old. They show, of course, the changes which have been made in farm layouts, plots and improvements up-to-date.

Farmers who want copies of the aerial section which will include their farms may have them at $2.50 a map. The maps are 27 inches by 28 inches. Those who want them should contact Thos. J. Hutchins, office manager of Floyd County ASC Committee.

May Is Transfer Month In Schools

May is transfer month for students who attend school out of their home district. Supt. H. H. Nicholas said this week.

Those students who are in grades not taught in their home district and wish to attend another school must make application for transfer during this month, otherwise tuition will be charged, he said.

Dear Editor:
I see where Governor Daniel has reactivated the Texas Navy.

He says this move is necessary in order to defend Texas' 10 1/2-mile seaward boundary since the Federal philanthropists have quit-claimed to the world everything out beyond the three-mile line.

All Texans with their own boats are invited to join up, which will make this the world's cheapest and biggest Navy, with 286,000 boats and admirals.

Thieves Caught In New Mexico

Three men who broke into the Lunch Box Cafe at Floydada last week were apprehended at Alamogordo, New Mexico, the day following the break in members of the Floyd County Sheriff's department said. The men broke open a juke box and carried off a cigarette machine, breaking it open on a rural road between Lockney and Floydada and taking the money and cigarettes from it.

The men are from Georgia and Tennessee, officers said. Thieves also broke into Kirk Hardware at Floydada and stole some pistols last week.

1958 'Woman Of The Year' Acclaimed At Club Ceremony

This sophisticated evening ensemble by Cel Chapman is one of many beautiful fashions in the all-cotton wardrobe of Jean Carter, 1958 Maid of Cotton. The slim sheath and graceful stole glow with subtle-colored flowers printed on Everglaze cotton satin. Like her other fashions, the dress is packable!

ARE YOU A GOOD MANAGER?

Qualities business executives look for in future executives are the ability to plan, sound thinking for wise decisions, the ability to inspire other workers and creative ability. Margaret Spader, home service editor for the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association says these same qualities make a good homemaker, too. Through practice, homemakers can develop judgment and the ability to quickly analyze situations in the home. "Such administrative skills make them valuable assets in the business world when family responsibilities decrease," Miss Spader says.

Use of electric power in Texas began in the 1880's. First power plant was at Galveston.

Bad driving conditions prevailed in less than 15 per cent of the fatal highway accidents in the U.S. in 1957.

53,000 Americans were injured in car-bicycle mishaps in 1957.

A total of 38,700 Americans were killed in 1957 traffic accidents.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:
I see where the Supreme Court has decreed that illegal businesses like bookmaking, gambling, etc., have got a right to deduct their expenses such as rent and cop hire and just pay taxes on their net profits.

My hopeful neighbor says now that the rights of sinners to a fair shake from Uncle Sam's tax takers have been come to the rescue of, maybe the rest of us will get a break soon.

Such as getting to deduct what it actually costs to raise a new taxpayer, instead of being kept on the old pre-inflation $600 a year flat tire system.

And Winner Each Win In State

pair of outstanding Lock-Longhorn athletes — Jerry Williams and Bill Musser — waded up well in the Class A track and field meet at Austin last week end. Williams fourth in the 100-yard dash, Musser placed fourth in mile run.

The speedy Williams reported off to a bad start in preliminary heat Friday but in third which qualified him for the finals. Sidney Garton of New Boston set a new record of 9.6 seconds in his preliminary race Friday and tied record in the finals Saturday. Garton got off to a bad start in the finals setting a better mark. James Parkerson, West Columbia, and Donald Weston, San Antonio Central, ran second and third in the 100.

A strong finish by Musser enabled him to finish behind leading state champion Dale Gery of Coleman and Jerry Gerson of Cleveland in the 200 yard qualifying heat. Beryl Roberson finished one-two in the finals and George Robinson, Jasper, came in third. The runner's time was 4:36.4.

The Longhorns tied for 20th place in the team standings with eight points. Floydada tied with 19 and Tulsa tied for 39th place with one point.

Floydada boys claimed one state place and tied for another. Patterson set the pace in the 120-yard high hurdles. Patterson's time was 15 seconds. Charles Ogden tied Charles Parker, Taft, for first place in the high jump with a leap of 4 ft. 2 in.

A. C. Harris of Abernathy qualified for the finals in the 90-yard dash but failed to place. Dalhart's 440-yard relay team, Region I champions, won first place in Saturday's finals. Coach Elvin Lyon accompanied Musser and Williams to Austin. The trio left after school Wednesday and returned Sunday afternoon.

Jerry and Bill are both seniors and they ended their high school eligibility at the state meet.
