Cause me to hear Thy loving-kindness in the morning; for in Thee do I trust; cause me to know the way wherein I should walk, for a lift up my soul unto Thee. — Psalm 143:8.

WE LIKE the Governor's tax program — that is as much as we can like any program. It is probably the best that can be worked out at this time. Especially do we like the part referring to natural gas. Seems to us that some legal way could be found to force natural gas to carry a larger share of the tax load. It is surprising but informed sources tell us that five other states — New York, Michigan, Indiana, Ohio and Illinois — collect from two to nine times as much in taxes per thousand cubic feet on Texas natural gas as Texas itself collects. Something needs to be done about that.

COTTON ACREAGE in Mexico is down about 30 per cent this year, the powers that be tell us. That amounts to about $50,000 acres which might be big enough to affect the price on cotton in the U. S. Another source predicts that cotton exports from this country will be up considerably.

SILLIEST THING in the world is the government's refusal to allow Stanley Yankus to raise feed for his own chickens or Evetts Haley Jr. to raise wheat for his own use. Sure it's the law but that doesn't keep it from being silly. This isn't the first silly law that has been put on the books. It all comes from the idea that the government must look after us all lest we stomp our toe and fall. Individual initiative no longer can be considered an asset. We must let the government tell us what we should or should not do.

JOHN FOSTER DULLES was a great and good man, regardless of his political affiliation. He was also a casualty of his service to his country just the same as any other person who died in service. History will record his name among the great statesmen of the age.

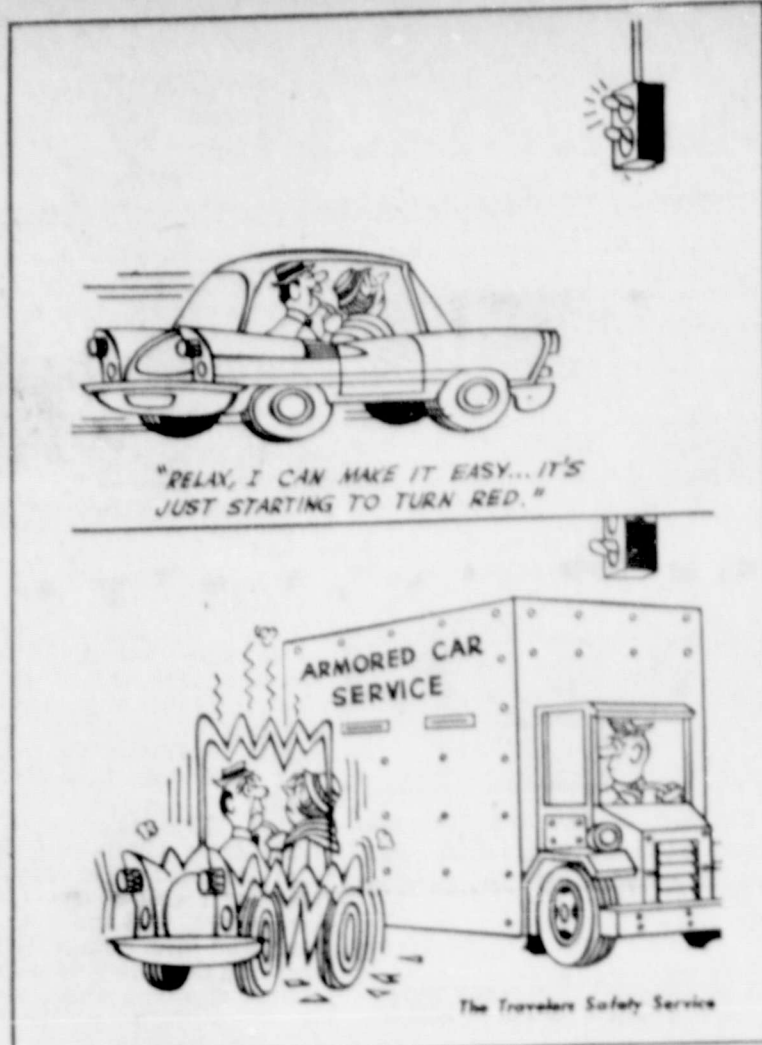

ONE COLUMNIST points the appearance of three headlines on page one of a large daily newspaper on the same day. They were: "Gromyko Warns West To Give In or Risk War"; "Hoffa Threatens Nationwide Strike"; and "Big Manhunt for Death Threatener." The pattern is the same — "Unless my demands are met, I will do so and so." It is the mark of the fool — the spoiled brat — the selfish. We can expect such of the Communist leaders — but Mr. Hoffa will live to rue the day he uttered that famous statement.

MANY NORTHERN leaders have shed many a crocodile tear over the plight of the colored man in the South, and as a result have set about to correct same by law. Admitting that Negroes are often mistreated, yet we do contend that the situation is being gradually corrected, and will eventually take care of itself. But the correction may come too late for Southern states and too soon for Northern states. The Negro population is gradually shifting to the North, and thus the Northerner may some day have to live by his own laws much to his own dismay. Informed sources say that many Southern cities are losing Negro population. Included in the list are: Jackson, Miss., Birmingham, Ala., Atlanta, Ga., Tampa, Fla., and Houston, Tex., among others. On the other hand the population of Newark, N. J., is one-third Negro, an increase in colored population of 108 per cent since the census of 1950. Many Northern cities are worried about the problem brought about by the fast increase in colored population, and are trying to prepare their citizens for the change.

MORE THAN 800,000 Americans have been cured of cancer and are still living, an officer of the American Cancer Society reports. Another 900,000 who have undergone treatment are in a five-year observation period at the end of which they will be judged as cured if their symptoms do not recur. Where the cure rate was one in 10 cancer cases in 1913, it is now one in three. Early diagnosis is vital.

LIVESTOCK FEEDING PROGRAM STILL OFFERS PRACTICAL ANSWER ON MILO
Milo has provided the "564 Question" in this area during the past few months following lowered government props on that commodity for the coming year. As a result, some producers declare they will be ruined, while a few predict that most of our grain will be moved out on a cash price basis.
No one, it seems, has a sure-fire guaranteed answer to the argument. However, we were talking with a feed lot operator this week, and he made the following statement:
"I cannot find enough milo to feed out cattle — even at $2 a hundred."
Considering the source, we admit that it sounds like an old maid telling a mother of 12 how to rear children, but honestly a general livestock feeding program in this area provides our only practical answer.
In the first place, this country is a "natural" when it comes to livestock. Highly important is the fact that Texas now provides one of the nation's best beef and pork markets — and this was the factor which previously hampered such a program. Add to these two items, the insufficient loan support price and the milo grower seems to have been forced into an era of prosperity.

Small, on-the-farm feeding programs are highly practical and profitable. Large scale feed lots have been profitable in the past, and will continue to become more profitable in the future.
In California swine feeders can pay market prices up to $2 a hundred and haul grain from Deaf Smith County to California, then why can't local swine feeders profitably produce and feed their own grain — especially with ready markets in Amarillo, Lubbock, Ft. Worth and Dallas? Meanwhile, possibility of two profits is always better than a questionable loss on government loan grain.
Incumbent with a shift into livestock feeding will come an element of possible loss, along with plenty of hard work. No one especially appreciates these two factors but, when you stop to think about it, they are still the same two factors faced by the people who moved into this country a half century ago to establish a veritable empire on the Staked Plains. They are also the same two factors which threatened and plagued the Pilgrim fathers who landed at Plymouth Rock to establish the American colonies.
Hard work along with an element of risk, in fact, are the basis upon which the United States of America were created — and upon which this country has prospered to become the most highly civilized and mightiest nation in the history of mankind. — Hereford Brand.

PEDDLERS COME

Soon after the first tulip blossoms, also does the peddler, and Peryton's streets have been visited thus far by an assortment of peddlers with their wares.
Some are nice, most are a nuisance. Some are a fraud.
Traditionally, the encyclopedic salesman goes from door to door. So do magazine salesmen. Lately, so do vacuum sweeper salesmen, peddlers with fruit and vegetables, peddlers with shrubs for your yard, saleswomen with piece goods and dresses, those with cosmetics, jewelry, foodstuffs and what not to sell.
There are those who come from door to door and announce in solemn tones that they have discovered termites under your house, said bad news unearthed by the "free" inspection, and for a mere $200 you can get rid of the termites with a guarantee.
Others roam the streets, armed with saws and hatchets, pointing out the dangers of decayed tree limbs which are a danger to life and limb as well as being unsightly and for a mere $25 the tree can be trimmed. Likewise you.
There is something about the peddler that somehow must be the American way of life. P. T. Barnum had it down right when he said "there's a sucker born every minute," and the peddlers know it too.
How about you? — Ochiltree County Herald.

I see where the King of the Zulus had to get a divorce from his wife here the other day on account of she was in the habit of treating him like a husband instead of like a King.

CHEVY BESTS

Independent experts and official facts and figures prove Chevrolet's ahead of the field in seven big ways.

BEST BRAKES... In direct competitive tests of repeated stops from highway speeds, conducted by NAS-CAR*, Chevy out-stopped both the other leading low-priced cars—and why not: Chevy brakes are far larger, built with bonded linings for up to 66% longer life. BEST TRADE-IN... Check the figures in any N.A.D.A.† Guide Book. You'll find that Chevy used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two." BEST STYLE... Popular Science magazine sums it up: "The fact is, in its price class the Chevy establishes a new high in daring styling..." It's the only car of the leading low-priced three that's unmistakably modern in every line. BEST ECONOMY... No doubt about this: two Chevrolet Sixes won their class in the famous Mobilgas Economy Run, got the best mileage of any full-size car. BEST ROOM... Official dimensions reported to A.M.A.‡ make this clear. For example, Chevy front seat hip room is up to 5.9 inches wider than comparable cars. BEST ENGINE... Every motor magazine has given Chevy's standard V-8 Corvette V-8's unstinted praise. Sports Cars Illustrated puts it: "This device is surely the most valuable fully responsive engine available today at any price." BEST RIDE... You'll be able to tell this year instantly. But Motor Trend's prize expression it this way: "... smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class."

LIGHTHOUSE ELECTRIC MUST RAISE RATES, MANAGER SAYS

Floydada. — Manager Melvin Henry of Lighthouse Electric Cooperative is doing an unpleasant chore this month, about the most unpleasant job that a manager of a concern can have, he says.

It is to notify the members of the Lighthouse Electric that it is going to be necessary to raise the cost of their electric service.

The rate adjustment is going to be effective when the present contract with the power company which furnishes energy to the Lighthouse expires. This date is July 1.

"Our suppliers have officially notified your board of directors that any power purchased beyond this date will be at a 25 per cent to 30 per cent increase in price, the exact amount to be determined at a later date by fuel clause adjustment," Henry wrote his members last week.

A new rate schedule approved by the board of directors has been adopted by the Rural Electric organization. It will be put into effect with the billing period beginning the 15th of June and ending the 15th of July. Mr. Henry wrote the members, and the first bill at the new rate will be received by users on August 1.

Henry's explanation of the decision reached by the board was couched in the following language:

"After many months of negotiation with power companies and investigation of possibilities of building our own plant the Directors came to the conclusion that our only alternative at present was to accept this power cost increase. It was further determined that the Cooperative would have to have a net increase in revenue in order to meet its obligations.

"This was an extremely hard decision for your Directors to make as they are having to raise the cost of electric service to their friends and neighbors

FINALIST — Eight-year-old Kathy Kearney of Memphis, Tenn., named Mid-South Little Miss Cotton, will compete for the national title in Memphis. Kathy and 18 other regional winners between 6 and 16 years old will be honored guests at Memphis Cotton Carnival, May 22-24.

Dear Editor: I see where Congress has got a committee which is going to study out how to reduce tax rates without cutting down on revenue.

My people-wise neighbor says they can get this result with no strain, by cutting income tax rates in half and publishing each taxpayer's reported income in his home town paper.

Says at this reduced rate, a man could impress his neighbors by paying a little extra tax, and not have to go in debt for a boat or a big car or a fancy house in order to up his social standing.

But once the technique has been perfected and proved safe, it may greatly simplify control of mosquitoes. Meanwhile, you will have to go along with old methods if you're interested in a summer relatively free of mosquito depredations.

Despite being more costly and difficult, the old methods do work. They consist of spraying inside the house with aerosol bombs, and keeping your back yard free of tin cans, old tires, grass cuttings and anything else that can breed or harbor mosquitoes. New Method Of Killing Mosquitoes Is Discovered

There is a brand new wrinkle in the mosquito killing business. Early reports suggest that the pesky household critters can be gone in without the fuss and bother — or health hazard of old-fashioned flit guns or mist bombs.

The new method has been described in the May issue of Public Health Reports, the monthly journal of the U. S. Public Health Service. It consists simply by putting a bag of insecticide in the room during the mosquito season. It was discovered like this:

Scientists at the Communicable Disease Center laboratory in Savannah, Georgia, left work one afternoon. Inside the large lab room when they left was an unopened bag of insecticide.

Also in the room were some adult mosquitoes on which the scientists had been conducting tests and experiments, as part of the constant international struggle against malaria and other forms of mosquito-borne disease.

When the scientists reported for work next morning, most of the mosquitoes were dead. Immediately they suspected that the sealed bag of insecticide — or rather the fumes from it — were responsible for killing the mosquitoes.

In days following they confirmed their theory. They found that the fumes killed the mosquitoes even when the insecticide was enclosed in a paper bag with a polyethylene liner. Subsequent work showed the method worked even in well ventilated rooms.

The most effective chemicals tested with malathion and DDVP, used in combination or separately. Both have been widely used against mosquitoes in recent years.

More study will be required and specific techniques will have to be worked out before the method can be generally used, investigators say.

as well as their own. With farm prices as they are this was a very unpleasant and thankless job for them.

"This Cooperative, while not designed to make money, must pay expenses and their decision was a must in the interest of keeping your Cooperative on a sound business basis."

On April 18, when the annual meeting of the cooperative was held, the rate situation was discussed and the possibility of a rate raise voiced. At that time the report showed 3,129 members on 1,710 miles of line.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. — Whether and how the state's tax problem is met now depends largely on the Senate.

House members, apparently eager to "get the monkey off their backs," passed out most of the program recommended by Gov. Price Daniel.

Biggest milestone was House passage by a 71-to-56 majority of the governor's "package."

As finally passed, it would raise $150,000,000 in two years — only about $10,000,000 short of the governor's goal.

Included in the "package" would be an increased levy on natural gas, a new franchise tax on interstate corporations and bigger taxes on tobacco, liquor, automobiles, utilities, etc.

Some members bitterly criticized the bill as dangerous to Texas' industrial future and a product of the labor-liberal lobby. But most seemed to agree that it is "the only way to avoid a general sales tax or income tax."

Senators showed no apparent desire to set a speed record on the first money-raising bills sent them by the House. Book-keeping bill, designed to erase part of the $65,000,000 deficit by changing the accounting procedure, was sent off for an Attorney General's opinion on its constitutionality.

A bill to increase the corporation franchise tax for one year only — also to ease the deficit — was set aside. Better to wait for the whole program, the Senators decided, than to work at it "piece-meal."

Senate did take one step forward, however, when Sen. Crawford Martin of Hillsboro introduced the abandoned property bill which had bogged down in the House taxation committee.

SWITCH-AND-CUT TEAM —

ELECTION CHANGES URGED — Study leading toward a complete revision of the Texas Election Code is the goal of a House-passed resolution.

Rep. Harold Parish of Taft is sponsor.

If passed by the Senate, the resolution would provide for a 15-member committee to draft recommendations for the 1962 legislative session.

Making up the study panel would be three House members, three Senators, the Attorney General, the manager of the Texas Election Bureau, three persons named by the governor and four persons named by the national committee members of the Republican and Democratic parties.

ALL ONE JOB — Two House committees — taxation and appropriations — would be merged under a resolution proposed by Rep. Truett Latimer of Abilene.

One committee of 31, called the House Ways and Means Committee, would replace the two 21 member groups.

Latimer declared that since money raised and money spent have to come out even, it would be more logical to have the decisions made jointly rather than separately.

FARM - MARKET ROAD CHANGE — State's pressing money shortage may bring about a change in the favored budget position farm - market roads have had for the past 10 years.

Since the Colson-Briscoe Act was passed in 1949, the General Revenue Fund has been automatically nicked $15,000,000 a year for F.M. roads. Goal was to build 35,000 miles of all-weather rural roads.

Rep. Richard Slack of Pecos has introduced a bill to take F.M. road spending out of the State Highway funds rather than from General Revenue. It would not cut farm road spending, but would reduce the money available to the Highway Department for state highways.

Sen. Neville Colson, Navasota, co-author of the 1949 act, opposes any alteration in the program. Even though more than 29,000 miles have been paved, she said there are still school bus and mail routes that are not "out of the mud."

Farm Bureau opposes, as well as others who say that it will lead to an increase in gasoline taxes to make up the cut in highway funds.

Those favoring the change argue that the farm road program has had creamy spending for a long time, but that with general revenue going $65,000,000 in debt, it can no longer be afforded.

TELEPHONE SERVICE IN ALASKA

Someone asked the other day about telephone service in our 49th State, Alaska. A little research tells me that Alaska has 34,000 telephones in use, now being served by 13 private and municipally-owned companies.

This is the only State without Bell System telephones, but Western Electric, suppliers of ours, was the prime contractor for government in providing major defense communications.

Anchorage, with a 60,000 population has over 40% of Alaska's telephones and is operated by a municipally-owned company.

Long distance service within the new State and to the United States is handled by the Alaska Communications System, a branch of the U. S. Signal Corps.

VACATION HINT

When you stop in the middle of your vacation this year to remember friends or family back home, why not give the "wish you were here" greeting a new twist.

Do it with a Long Distance call. It's more fun that way, and you can catch up on the news at home, too.

And remember to call station-to-station. It's cheaper — you can make three calls for the price of two.

BUSY TELEPHONES

With school out for the summer, telephones in many houses will probably be getting a real workout.

There'll be calls from the children's friends at most any hour of the day — to round up the group for a game, to arrange to meet at the movies, or to compare notes on a new bike or the latest record album.

Whatever the call, the telephone is always there to help teenagers — and small fry, too — have more fun during vacation.

If you have children whose friends keep the phone ringing at a merry clip, make it easy for your youngsters to answer without running through the house. Extension telephones will do the trick.

Why not call the telephone company for a home extension telephone today? The cost is low, just $1.00 a month plus installation.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

Ten lawmakers — five from the House, five from the Senate — have the difficult task of making one package out of the different spending bills passed by the two houses.

Sen. William S. Fly of Victoria and Rep. Bill Heatly of Paducah head the group. House-passed appropriation bill is more than $20,000,000 larger than the Senate's. Conference Committee's task will be to cut a handle off here, tuck a little on there until an acceptable compromise is reached.

In past sessions, this piecing together process has taken several weeks. Even on a day-and-night schedule, this committee will be hard-pressed to finish its job before the present session ends in mid-June.

More than different spending ideas separates House and Senate. Each house used the bill to express its ideas on how the State Board of Insurance should operate. House says full-time; Senate, part-time. Unyielding views have been expressed on each side.

Other members of the committee are Sens. Floyd Bradshaw, Weatherford; Ray Roberts, McKinney; Crawford Martin, Hillsboro; and Wardlow Lane, Center. Reps. John Huebner, Bay City; Truett Latimer, Abilene; B. H. Dewey, Bryan; and Jesse Osburn, Muleshoe.

TO PLAY'S THE THING— French couturier Maggy Bouffé fashions a sheer pink, lilac and white checked cotton into a chic pull-out. A wide belt and deep cuffs add drama.

NOT YET, DOT DECIDES — Democrats of Texas threw a lot of bricks at U. S. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson at their Austin convention, but stopped short of an open drive against his nomination for President.

State AFL-CIO President Jerry Holleman headed off resolutions, saying "this is not the time."

DOT did agree to change its name to the Democrats of Texas Clubs (DOTC). It had been frequently criticized for having a name that could be confused with the official Texas Democratic Party organization.

Despite their official "wait and see" attitude about presidential nominees, the delegates made their sentiments clear. They cheered when Adlai Stevenson's name was mentioned and applauded criticism of recent legislation designed to help U. S. Senator Johnson.

ATTENDING A. C. C. — Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kidd left Sunday for Abilene where they will attend Abilene Christian College. They began classes this week. He will be in school from 7 to 12 a.m. and will work for Anderson-Clayton Company from 1 to 8 p.m. Mrs. Clyde Baxter accompanied the couple in her own car and helped move some of their things. She will return home Wednesday. Linda is a 1959 graduate and Roy was a member of last year's senior class.

Lubbock Christian College Awards 41 Diplomas

Lubbock Christian College granted diplomas to 41 graduating students in her first commencement ceremonies at 8:00 p.m. Friday in the college auditorium. Waggoner Carr, Lubbock, Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives, gave the commencement address.

Virgil Trout, minister of the University Church of Christ, Albuquerque, New Mexico, delivered the baccalaureate sermon Sunday night, May 24. His subject was "The Great Questions."

Twenty-four of the graduating class are from cities in Texas; seven are from Lubbock; and five from other states. One graduating student is from Japan and another is from Johannesburg, South Africa. None of the students were from Lockney.

Congress May Limit Price Support Loans To $50,000 For Each Farmer

The outlook for cotton farmers faced with a Congressional move to limit price support loans to $50,000, appears very dim, officials of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. said Monday after returning from Washington where they conferred with both Representatives and Senators and had a special session with Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson.

Wilmer Smith, Vice President of the PCG, and George W. Pfeifferberger, Executive Vice President, were in Washington last week to attend the Universal Cotton Standards Conference when news of support loan limitations broke.

Pfeifferberger explained that they worked with representatives of the National Cotton Council in opposing such limitations. He added that a Senate proposal is due for presentation some time this week and calls for action on price support limitations to start in 1961. An earlier House measure called for such limitations to begin this crop year.

Smith, Pfeifferberger and Ed Bush, of the Texas Ginners Association met with Senator Johnson last Wednesday to express opposition to the limitations measure and ask that a committee be set up to study effects of such a proposal.

Johnson gave the group little assurance that such a committee could be instigated and Pfeifferberger said the group asked, "That if Congress seemed limitations on farm participation in price supports inevitable and $50,000 is the ceiling that the Congress believes is necessary — then we would like to see the $50,000 amount for non recourse loans to any one farmer applied only at the time the loan is called."

"This means that a farmer could obtain recourse loans in excess of $50,000 during the marketing year to facilitate orderly marketing, but he would be required to reduce his loan balance by the end of the marketing year to a maximum of $50,000," Pfeifferberger added.

"Our group is still strongly opposed to price support limitations, but the outlook in Washington is dim and if they are to be instigated, we feel such a program as this would at least help our members," Smith explained. "Recent publicity on huge farm surpluses have caused a build-up of public opinion that has been expressed to Congressmen and little hope is now seen of forestalling such a bill as this one on limitations," Smith added.

Pfeifferberger said that no study on what effect such a limitations measure would have on the entire cotton industry has been made. It could affect our farmers in many ways and we feel it should be investigated more before the measure becomes law, but such a study now seems impossible before passage.

The National Cotton Council reported Monday that because of the far-reaching implications and unknown effect of limitations, Senator Stennis (D-Miss.) proposed that no limitation be imposed until Senate Agriculture Committee could study the problem. When this effort failed, Stennis attempted to soften impact of committee action. His proposal would provide that $50,000 limit would apply only to type of loans CCC now makes which do not have to be repaid by the farmer. No limit, however, would be placed on amount of recourse loans farmers could obtain from the CCC. Stennis' effort failed in full committee on a tie vote. Later, on the Senate floor, Stennis discussed this proposal and urged Senators to study it for action on the Senate floor this week.

Smith said that PCG officials agreed with Council analysis which stated that limitations would: 1. Destroy the orderly marketing system. 2. Depress prices and hurt all farmers, particularly small ones. 3. Increase rather than decrease government stocks of farm commodities. "While $50,000 sounds like a large amount, remember this represents gross, not net, income to a farmer. Cotton thus forced on the market, instead of being orderly marketed with the aid of the loan, will depress market prices and hurt all farmers," Smith said.

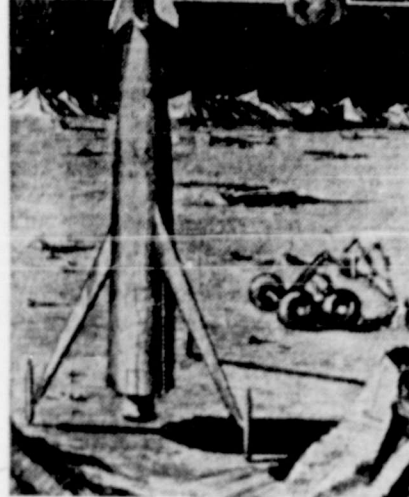

Pfeifferberger said PCG officials are continuing their vigil on the limitation proposal and will do all possible in the fight against this program. Texas Congressmen George Mahon and Walter Rogers, along with Senators Johnson and Ralph Yarborough, voted against the limitation measure and have tried to help fight such action.

Picture Of A "COTTON MAN"

Maybe he grows cotton . . . or gins it . . . or sells it . . . or spins it. Maybe he never saw a bale of cotton in his life. Either way, he's still a "cotton man," for most of his apparel is cotton-made.

His wash-and-wear cotton suit is a miracle of neatness. It is home-washable, drip-dries quickly, and stays beautifully unwrinkled through many hot-weather wearings.

He chooses cotton for his shirts, underwear and socks, because he likes its cool, comfortable absorbency. He likes the thrifty ruggedness and durability of cotton for work clothes and sports wear. Even at night he's a "cotton man" in cool cotton pajamas.

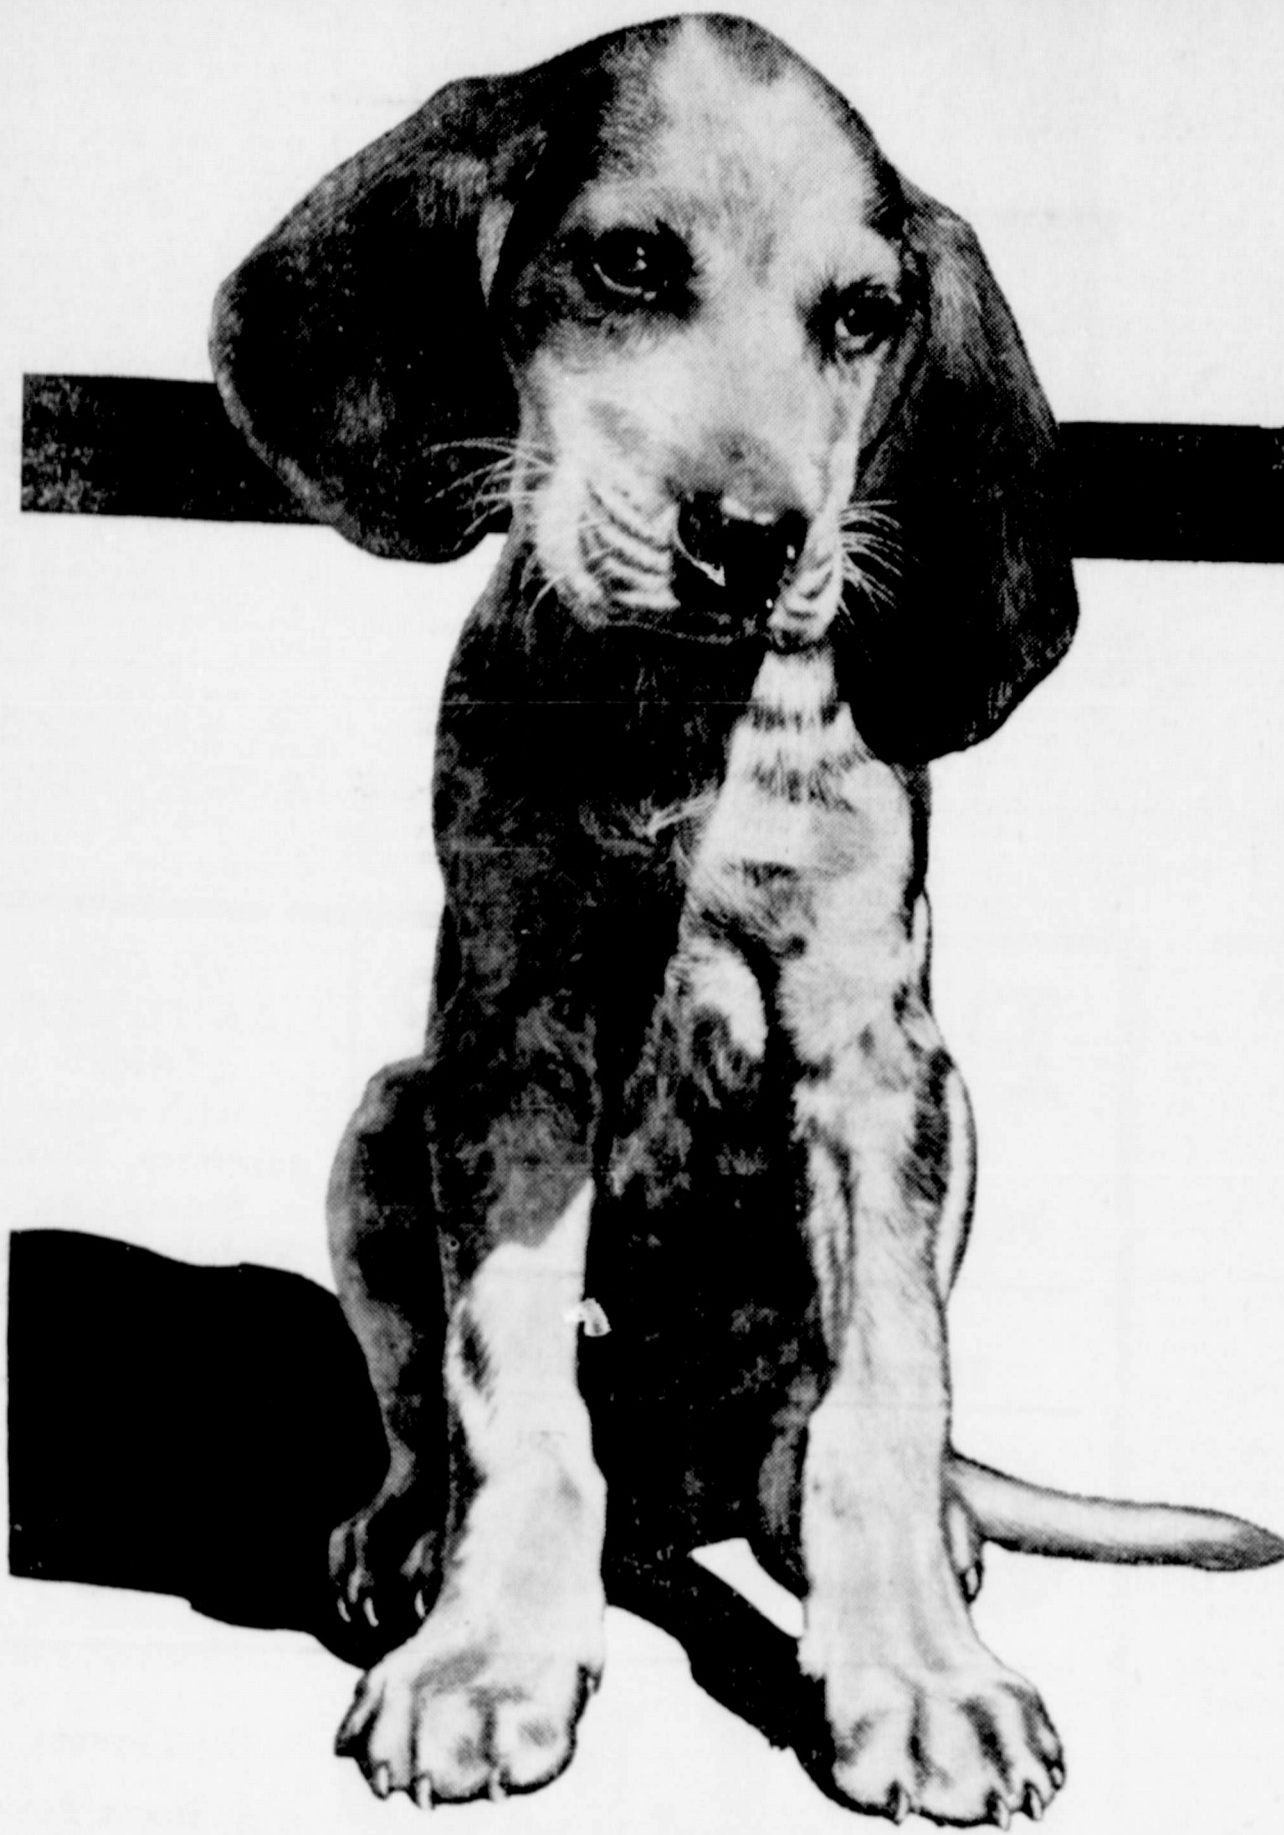

He prefers cotton, because no other material is so cool, comfortable, washable, economical and good-looking.

Come to think of it, aren't you a "cotton man" too?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	1 Kings	19	9-21
Monday	Revelation	13	1-18
Tuesday	Revelation	14	1-20
Wednesday	Revelation	15	1-8
Thursday	1 Kings	21	1-16
Friday	1 Kings	21	17-29
Saturday	1 Kings	22	1-23

You can't help loving this little pup. Maybe it's because he seems so out of proportion. If he somehow were able to flap those ears he might fly away.

Perhaps there is a little fellow in your home who is "all ears" in another sense . . . a youngster who takes in everything that's said, including some things he isn't meant to hear.

Most children are eager to listen . . . hungry to learn. That is why the early years are so important in the molding of a child's character. The things he hears, whether right or wrong, make a deep impression on his mind. They are soon reflected in his actions and words.

Wise parents take advantage of the Church's program of religious education in implanting those early impressions. They know there is no surer builder of character than religious faith.

NOW . . . while your child is eager to hear and to learn, bring him to church . . . and support the Church in its great undertaking.

Pair Join Seniors In Colorado Springs

Mrs. Lena Sue Babitzke and Miss Lawauna Taylor boarded a plane at Amarillo Sunday evening at 7:13 and arrived in Colorado Springs, Colorado, at 7:30 mountain time. They were accompanied to Amarillo by Lawauna's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Taylor and son, Jerry. The pair called Mrs. Babitzke's parents at 8:30, our time, that they had arrived safely and both enjoyed the plane trip. This word arrived before the Taylors returned home from Amarillo. The two were met by Mrs. Babitzke's husband, Bo, and taken to the Wildhorn Ranch, 46 miles from Colorado Springs, where they joined the vacationing LHHS graduates.

Mrs. Babitzke and Lawauna had planned to make the trip on the bus with the seniors but both were ill and unable to travel when the bus left Thursday night.

In the telephone conversation home Sunday at noon Mr. Babitzke said the students were having fun and were all blistered and saddle sore. They were to leave Wildhorn Ranch Tuesday morning and go to Denver, then enroute home they would visit places of interest at Colorado Springs and Manitou.

McAdams Return From Kentucky

Mr. and Mrs. Carl McAdams returned Tuesday from a month visit with their daughter, Mrs. W. L. Cooper, at Lexington, Ky. They had quite an experience on their return trip, first being delayed by a faulty motor in a plane and then being forced to fly home by way of Chicago because of the delay.

The McAdams enjoyed their visit very much, seeing a lot of scenery and places of historical interest in addition to their children and grandchildren.

Old houses, one built as early as 1834, the home of Henry Clay, and old Fort Harrod, were among the many interesting sights. Mr. Mc enjoyed visiting the horse farms.

The McAdams are especially proud of their grandchildren, two of whom are stars in Little League baseball at Lexington.

DITTO DRESSES—Like big sister, like little sister in these identical petite fashions by Voila. Taking a cue from the American flag, the crisp white cotton dresses are trimmed in red and blue. A reversed sailor collar with a knotted tie in back lends a nautical flavor to these smartly styled outfits.
