Spirited Longhorn Gridders Will Open Season At Hale Center Friday

LOCAL FOOTBALL enthusiasts will get their first look at the 1959 edition of the Lockney Longhorn eleven under game conditions Friday night when the Big Red battle the Hale Center Owls there. Kickoff time will be eight o'clock.

The Longhorns showed up fairly well in a scrimmage against Tahoka and Idalou at Idalou last Saturday afternoon, local coaches stated. Coaches said the club was showing improvement. The defensive unit looked good and the offensive eleven moved the ball better.

Making up the coaching staff this year are Elvin Lyon, beginning his second season as head mentor, backfield coach R. L. Rhoten, who served as junior high mentor last season, assistant coaches Troy Lemley and Bobby Davis, a recent addition to the staff.

Naturally little is known about the Hale Center team since it is their first contest of the season. The 'Horns and Owls should be fairly evenly matched with both eleven being short on experience. The Hale Center club reportedly has several returning starters in the line, but has a young backfield.

The Big Red has received setbacks due to the usual number of boys dropping from the squad for varying reasons. One of those who turned in his suit was a starter.

The Longhorn squad is short on older boys this season with only eight numeral winners returning from last season's squad which won four, lost five, tied one. Eight seniors and eight juniors are on the squad.

Nucleus of the team will be formed by four starters from last year's team — tackle Dan Smith, end Oyama Buchanan, quarterback Bill Mangold, fullback Terry Clark (a halfback in 1958). Another highly regarded prospect is Wayne Cooper, a letterman at center who saw considerable action last year.

Although the Longhorns lack both experience and weight, their attitude has been exceptionally good. Several younger boys have been pushing the older boys for starting positions, making for keen competition.

Five seniors, six juniors and possibly one sophomore will be in the starting offensive lineup for the Big Red Friday night.

Probable offensive lineup with approximate weights will be:

Position	Name	Weight
RE	Oyama Buchanan	160
RT	Dan Smith	190
RG	James Davis	165
C	Wayne Cooper	170
LG	Mickey Mosley	165
LT	Joe Carthel	165
or	Ricky Coils	165
LE	Lewis Eiland	150
QB	Bill Mangold	150
HB	Joe Allard	145
HB	Doyle Freeman	145
FB	Terry Clark	155

The probable defensive unit will include: ends, Coils, Eiland; tackles, Carthel, Cooper; middle guard, Mosley; linebackers, Smith, Freddie Gant, 150; backs, Buchanan, Allard, Freeman, Billy Dan Rolling, 145.

Enrollment At Local Schools Up 44 Pupils

Enrollment at the local schools is up 44 over the first day enrollment of 1958, according to figures released to The Beacon Tuesday. Total enrollment on Tuesday of this week, the second day of school, was 986 compared to 942 on the first day of school last year.

Everyone of the four schools in the Lockney system showed an increase in enrollment. The enrollment by schools for this year (second figure) are as follows:

High School — 230 — 227.
Junior High — 147 — 130.
Grade School — 543 — 525.
Colored School — 66 — 60.

In the first grade a record 131 pupils were enrolled this year.

The school faculty is complete and the school is going full blast. Supt. H. H. Nicholas said Wednesday.

City Paving To Cost $1.58 Foot

Property owners must pay $1.58 per lineal foot for each side of the street in the paving program which is being sponsored here by the Lockney Chamber of Commerce, J. D. Copeland said Wednesday.

Bryan & Hoffman, a reliable paving firm from Plainview has been given a contract to pave some six or seven blocks in the C. & H. Development Co. subdivision in West Lockney and will also do the paving on other streets if present plans work out, Mr. Copeland said.

The quoted price includes the services of an engineer who will work out the paper grade and drainage, Merriman Isbel & Bowden of Lubbock are engineers for the job.

The same firm will install curb and gutter where desired, the price on this being $1.73 per lineal foot which includes a 24-inch base and 6-inch riser.

Mr. Copeland said that it appears now that about 20 blocks may be paved in West Lockney on Southwest 6th, Southwest 7th and Southwest 8th streets, all running north and south. Some paving will be done on east and west streets if property owners are interested, he said.

All property owners who haven't been contacted and are interested in paving should contact Mr. Copeland.

MOVE TO PLAINVIEW

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Harris and daughters, Charlotte, Shirley and Sheryl, moved to Plainview Saturday. Mr. Harris is connected with Gifford-Hill Western Company. They occupied the Sid Thomas residence here the past year.

Rhodes Gins First Cotton Here Tuesday

The first bale of 1959 cotton to be ginned in a Lockney area gin came in Tuesday afternoon and was ginned at Lockney Co-operative Gin. The cotton was grown by L. L. Rhodes on the Judson Miller place, four miles north and two miles east of Lockney. The seed cotton totaled 1750 pounds, the lint weighed 490 pounds and the seed 900 pounds.

For the first bale the Lockney Chamber of Commerce will award Mr. Rhodes a $100 cash premium, and in addition the Co-op Gin will gin the cotton free and buy the lint at 50 cents per pound, according to Mondell Mills, manager.

Rhodes also ginned the second bale here, that being ginned at Hi-Plains Gin on Wednesday afternoon. It was Gregg cotton and turned out 482 pounds of lint from 1,500 pounds of seed cotton with 850 pounds of seed. The Hi-Plains Gin will buy the bale at 50 cents per pound and gin it free. The Beacon was told.

There is quite a bit of cotton open in this area. The Beacon was told Tuesday, although the real cotton harvest is still some time away. One farmer in the Aiken area was reported to have 20 bales open in an 80 acre patch.

First Cotton Bale

The first bale of 1959 cotton to be ginned in Floyd County was ginned at Davis Gin in Floydada on Thursday, August 24. It came from the L. D. Gilbert farm, over in the far northeastern part of the county under the caprock.

Gilbert's bale weighed 410 pounds and was ginned from cotton planted April 11 and grown on dry land. The Floydada Chamber of Commerce awarded him $100 cash premium for the bale.

Fair Officials Are Urging Community Exhibits

Floyd County Fair officials are especially anxious that quite a number of community exhibits be on display at the Floyd County Fair this year and are doing everything they can to encourage every community in the county to work up an exhibit. Spaces will be furnished by the Fair Association.

If any community needs any help from fair officials or the county agent in getting their exhibit together, they are invited to ask for it.

Prizes are offered for every entry made in this department with first prize being $25.00, second prize of $20.00, third prize of $15.00 and all other entries getting $10.00 each.

Each community must show 25 different kinds of agricultural crops and the exhibits will be judged on attractiveness, neatness and general arrangement of the exhibit as well as quality of products.

CHIEF PHILIP WHITECLOUD and his family of Indian Dancers will appear at the Floyd County Fair here next Thursday.

Fair Plans About Complete

Barbecue And Parade Will Launch Fair

A big free barbecue sponsored by the Lockney Chamber of Commerce and the First National Bank and a parade on Thursday of next week, will launch the Floyd County Fair. The barbecue will be served by "Smoky" Hewitt and his crew of Plainview in the street in front of the City Hall and preparations are being made to serve 800 or 900 people, according to R. L. Knox, chairman of the barbecue committee.

Formby Will Speak

Marshall Formby, Plainview attorney and former chairman of the State Highway Commission, will speak to the crowd immediately following the barbecue. A platform will be arranged in front of the City Hall Park Formby has announced that he will seek the office of Governor of Texas in the 1960 Democratic primaries and his candidacy is being pushed by many in this section.

Also furnishing entertainment at the barbecue will be "The Texas Wanderers," a string band directed by Woodie McDermitt of Lockney. The band is composed of five members and was just recently organized.

The big parade is being arranged this year by Dillon Patterson, local manager of the Pioneer Natural Gas Co. He said Wednesday that he was expecting some 15 or 20 floats of various kinds, commercial, clubs and organizations, and would be happy for everyone interested to prepare a float for the parade. It will form at Parker Super Market and start moving southward down Main Street at 2 p.m.

Lockney and Floydada High School Bands will be in the parade as will Chief Philip Whitecloud and his family of Indian Dancers. They will be in full ceremonial dress.

Horses and riders are invited to enter, as many as wish to, but no organized riding is expected, Mr. Patterson said.

The Chamber of Commerce is offering a total of $42.50 in cash prizes to be divided as follows: First place club or organization float, $15.00; 2nd place float, $10.00; first place child entry, $7.50; 2nd place child, entry, $5.00; 3rd and 4th place child entry, $2.50.

No prizes will be given on commercial floats.

Those who wish to enter any kind of float are asked to contact Mr. Patterson by noon Wednesday of next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Dement of Hereford spent a few days last week here visiting Mr. and Mrs. Woodie McDermitt and family.

Preparations are nearing completion for the sixth annual Floyd County Fair, September 10, 11 and 12, with fair officials and other interested persons spending Monday and Tuesday of this week at the fair grounds getting the grounds and building in shape to receive the exhibits. Officials are enthusiastic and are expecting this fair to be "bigger and better" in every way. New entrance arrangements are about complete as is the big outdoor platform from which much of the fair entertainment will be presented.

Starting off the Fair will be the big free barbecue at noon Thursday and the big parade at 2 p.m. the same day. These are described in a separate story in this issue.

The fair officials have scheduled outstanding entertainment features for the fair this year, all of it free except for the gate admission to the fair grounds. Briefly the features are:

Thursday night, Chief Whitecloud and his Indian Dancers. Friday night, talent show with cash prizes.

Saturday night, big gospel singing under the direction of Joe Reeves.

Chief Whitecloud Here

Perhaps one of the most exciting attractions at the fair will be the Philip Whitecloud Family of Indian Dancers from Albuquerque, N. M. The group consists of Mr. and Mrs. Whitecloud and their five children and they are rated as tops in the entertainment field.

A switch in plans will bring them to Lockney Thursday instead of Friday as originally planned. They will appear in the big parade starting at 2 o'clock and then will present their show of Indian dances and songs on the big open-air platform on the fair grounds starting at 7:30 p.m.

In the program the Whitecloud family will present an original Hoop Dance, designed by Mr. Whitecloud himself. Tribal dances of various kinds will complete the program.

The groups will appear in colorful tribal costumes and set up their teepees on the fair grounds.

The Whiteclouds are nationally known entertainers, having appeared as far away as Coney Island, at Cincinnati, Ohio, and on the Red Skelton CBS television show televised from Hollywood.

The talent show to be held Friday evening will begin at 7:30 p.m. and will be staged in the tent or on the big open air platform on the fair grounds. Cash prizes will total $150.00.

There will be three divisions in the contest, one for children up to 8 years of age, another for children from 9 through 13 years of age and the third for those 14 years of age and up. Prizes will be $25.00 for first place, $15.00 for second place and $10 for third place in each division.

Entries must be made not later than 3 p.m. Friday and all contestants will take part in the audition at the Lockney High School auditorium at the same time Friday. The committee in charge of this contest is composed of Mmes. R. B. Holt, E. J. Foster and Alma Holmes.

Gospel Singing
Joe Reeves is expecting the old time gospel singing to be "bigger and better" also. This is to be Saturday evening starting at 7:30 and many out-of-state singers will be present as well as those from this area of West Texas. Last year the affair attracted an overflow crowd and this year even more are expected.

Mr. Reeves said this week that among the outstanding singers and directors who have promised to be here are Lawrence Deavers of Snyder, Tex., one of the best directors in the South, and Mrs. Deavers, the popular Campbell quartet from Lubbock and Levelland; the Sisk family quartet from Levelland; the Mitchell - Covington quartet from Lamesa and the Gillispie Family from Whiteface. In addition a group from Hereford and a large number from Amarillo and Lubbock are expected as is a teenage girls trio from Levelland, "The Three Notes." Mr. Reeves is hoping that the "Friendly Five Quartet" from Vernon and the "Gospel Quartet" from Dill City, Okla., will attend.

Mr. Reeves promises comfortable chairs and a good supply of song books. He said that everyone will be invited to join in the singing and many of the songs will be familiar to everyone.

To add to the singing there will be many good piano players present. Mr. Reeves said, including Buster Keeton of Lubbock, Mary Sue Smith from Amarillo, Mrs. Nell Conn from Childress, Mrs. May Wood Kelly of Lubbock, Mrs. Buck Lancaster of Plainview and others.

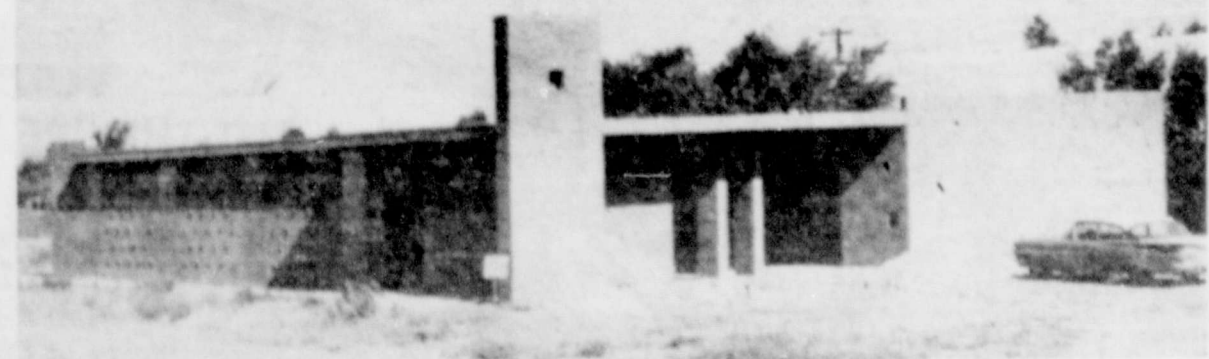

Other special events include the tractor driving contest on Saturday afternoon and the special women's program at the same time. The tractor contest is described in another story in this issue.

Commercial Exhibits
Fair officials said that week that demand has been good for commercial exhibits space and that they are considering adding additional room for this purpose. These will be housed in the big east room of the fair building as in past years. Some outside commercial exhibit space may be sold, it was said.

The agriculture exhibits and the various women's departments are expected to be better this year judging from the amount of interest expressed, fair officials say. The livestock exhibits will be about the same as last year.

Carnival Here
A major carnival will be set up for the week on the fair grounds, furnishing rides and other entertainment for the crowds.

BUILDING CONTINUES AT RAPID PACE IN LOCKNEY VICINITY

Building both residential and commercial, continues at a rapid pace in Lockney and the surrounding community. Residential building is setting the pace just now, with six or seven extra nice homes being under construction or in the stage of completion. Commercial building includes the First National Bank's new home, which has been a building for some months now and the Plains Floral Shop's new office and display room which was just started recently.

According to The Beacon's hurried estimate, total cost of construction now under way in this community is well above a quarter million dollars and is probably closer to $400,000. In addition more building is in the offing but definite plans have not been made or contract has not yet been let.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Simpson are adding what promises to be a very attractive office and display room to the Plains Floral Shop's physical equipment. The new building will be 28 by 46 feet and is setting just in front of the old office building, facing West Poplar Street. The building has a concrete floor, wood siding and five large aluminum frame display windows, 5 feet by 10 feet in addition to several smaller windows. It has 1,344 square feet of floor space and will house the office, and the refrigerated cases where flowers are kept fresh. The Simpsons also plan to add a line of ceramics and gift items when the new building is completed. Roy Reed is the head carpenter on the job.

The bank building is coming along slowly, but the outside walls have been finished and the roof put on. Interior work is now underway. Bank officials say that it will probably be October 15 before they can move in, maybe later. Killingsworth Construction Co. of Dimmitt is contractor on this job.

At Patterson Grain Co. here four tall storage tanks are being finished this week. The tanks or barrel-like storage bins each have a capacity of 17,000 bushels. Company officials say they expect to have them in use by September 15. Conveyor equipment is being installed now.

Rumors of more commercial construction are floating around but The Beacon could get no definite on plans. These rumors concern two or possibly three business buildings on Main Street.

Residential Building

Lockney will soon be known as the city of fine homes if the present rate of residential building continues. No less than five new homes are now under construction within the city

EDITORIAL

I said in my haste, I am off from before Thine eyes; nevertheless, Thou hearest the voice of my supplications when I cried unto Thee. — Psalm 31:22.

IS IT SINFUL to make a profit? Over and over again we read where labor leaders or members of the liberal political factions criticize industry or business for making a profit. They leave the impression that such a thing is wrong, as if business or industry could or would operate on a non-profit basis. Naturally the profits of big business are large because they have tremendous investments. Most of us would say that five per cent would be a fair return on any kind of investment but five per cent of a billion dollars amounts to a lot of money. We don't hold for excessive profits. Of course there are some who do try to make excessive profits and they are in the wrong. But for the most part competition in business and industry holds prices down to the minimum allowed by good business practices.

EVEN LOCALLY we find at times that some object to the merchant making a profit. We would remind those that this great country, the United States of America, was founded and built on the free enterprise, profit system of business. It has grown to be the greatest nation on the face of the earth under this kind of system. The profit system encourages individual initiative and industry.

TEACHER SALARIES

Few non-school people realize the seriousness of the teacher shortage. However, the wonder in Texas is that the shortage is not even more acute. Texas ranks in 31st position among the 50 states in average salaries paid teachers.

Since 1957, Texas has granted the smallest pay raises to teachers of any state in the union — she ranks 50th!

Oklahoma on the east pays an average teacher salary $490 above the Texas average.

Arizona, a little farther west, pays an average teacher salary $1,118 above the Texas average. We'll not even bring up California where the average annual salary is $1,940 higher than Texas or New York where the average is $2,040 greater than in this wonderful land of oil wells and Cadillacs.

We all know how wages have risen since 1957 — yet a teacher's salary in Texas has risen .4 of one per cent during that time. — H. M. Baggerly in Tulsa Herald.

RIGHT-TO-WORK LAWS

One provision of the Taft-Hartley Act authorizes the states, if they so desire, to enact right-to-work laws — laws that prohibit union shop contracts under which men and women must join and pay dues to the union, whether they want to or not, in order to hold their jobs.

Nineteen of the states have passed these laws. As a result, the AFL-CIO started an intensive campaign some time ago to persuade Congress to repeal this Taft-Hartley provision. That campaign was a flat failure, and has, apparently, been totally abandoned.

Now, reports The Wall Street Journal, the AFL-CIO has a new strategy. It will work in the states in efforts to get the laws repealed at the state level. Top labor leaders, the newspaper goes on, have approved a plan to fight for repeal in three states as of now and to survey five more to determine if the effort should be made.

The AFL-CIO has every right to do this, just as it has every right to carry on its many other political activities. But those who see right-to-work in a different light also have the right, and the obligation, to fight for their side of the controversy. In many instances, labor's legislative successes have resulted from the fact that there was no organized and effective opposition. The labor strategists had things all their own way. They'll continue to have it their own way if business and other groups shirk the elemental responsibilities of self-government. — Petersburg Journal.

PAYING THE FIDDLER

Considering all the modern benefits we now enjoy but must pay for, it is no surprise that the cost of living has gone up. We call it inflation, but it could also be called cost of security, both personal and national.

In the price of everything we buy and consume are the taxes paid by corporations, and the taxes levied for social security, unemployment insurance, old-age pensions, and public education. Paid directly, but included in the price, are huge taxes on liquor, cigarettes, gasoline and hundreds of so-called luxuries.

In view of this, how is it possible for prices to get back to the 1940 level? The public apparently considers social security and unemployment that ever happened next to liberty and the vote. Given a gainful job and a respectable old age, the average citizen seems content. It is amazing how little grumbling the man of modest means does. — The Imperial Magazine.

"Some people think it's a recession when they can't afford a new car to tow their boat." — Steve Still.

Dear Editor:
I see where there is some talk about setting up a schedule to retire the national debt in 100 years by paying off one per cent of same each year.

My installment-slave neighbor says this is pretty long terms, but starting in on such a program might give creditors a little hope, like when he slips his banker $5 or $10 and another speech about his good intentions.

But says he figures anybody who gets to where he needs 100 years time to pay up a debt, has overbought.

CHURCH RITES UNITE JEAN WOFFORD, JIM CURTSINGER

Wedding vows uniting Miss Peggy Jean Wofford and Jimmie Glenn Curtsinger were solemnized Friday evening, August 28 at 8 o'clock in the sanctuary of Lockney Methodist Church. Friends and relatives filled the church to capacity for the impressive and beautiful service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wofford, Lockney, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. (Dub) Curtsinger, 112 Avenue D, Hereford, Texas.

Officiating for the double-ring rites was Arthur B. Watkins, Church of Christ minister of Lubbock.

Arched cathedral candelabra and Hawaiian foliage formed the background for altar arrangements of spiral and graduated candelabra interspersed with white standards of emerald foliage, white gladioli and aqua centered white mums. Bows of aqua satin accented the flower and candle arrangements. Centering the altar scene was a white kneeling bench which held an heirloom Bible belonging to the bride's grandmother, Mrs. O. D. Wofford, Plainview. It was opened to Ruth 1: 16-17. The bridal aisle was marked with a white carpet flanked by floor standards holding a single white taper accented with an aqua satin bow.

The organ prelude was played by Mrs. Cletus Lewis, Lubbock, cousin of the bride. Mrs. Lewis also played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied Miss Patsy Perryman, Plainview, who sang "Because", "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Candlelighters were James Ray Wofford, brother of the bride, and Miss Carolyn Belt, her cousin.

Miss Kay Golden, Lockney, attended her cousin as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Hope Cox, Lockney, Anita Durham, Plainview, Loy O'Brien, Bovina, Kay Feathergill, Lubbock, and Dot Haynes, Littlefield, a former college roommate. Miss Jann Wofford served her sister as junior bridesmaid. All the bride's attendants and the soloists were dressed identical. They wore street length frocks of aqua silk organza fashioned with a long fitted torso featuring brief sleeves and a scoop neckline filled in with aqua lace. Accenting the billowing skirts were silk organza cummerbunds caught at center-back with double bows extending into long streamers trim-

Entering on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage, the bride wore a magnificent formal gown fashioned of Alencon lace over bridal satin. The molded colonial bodice featured a portrait neckline flecked with iridescent sequins and seed pearls and long petal point sleeves. The scalloped tunic overskirt, also enhanced with iridescent sequins and pearls, featured tiers of pleated nylon tulle which extended into a full length chapel train. Her fingertip length veil of silk illusion was attached to a small pillbox hat embroidered with iridescent sequins and pearls. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. Her pearl backed groom. Best man was Wade Douglas, Amarillo. Groomsman were Jerry Curtsinger, brother of the bridegroom, Ronnie Hinds, Nevada, Mo., Bill McFarland, Moundville, Mo., and Donnie Renfro and Bill Callaway, Hereford, both cousins of the bridegroom.

Ringbearer was Keith Kitchens of Hereford.

Ushers were Fred Lookingbill, Steve Slagle, Loy Gene Smith and O. C. Renfro, all of Hereford. In addition to these, James Ray Wofford and Jerry Curtsinger escorted the mothers of the bridal pair.

Mrs. Wofford, mother of the bride, was dressed in dusty rose lace with matching accessories. Her corsage was white gardenias.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

During the few weeks young Texans of the thousands will troop to their classrooms. Many will be entering a new world. There'll be 250,000 first-graders, some college freshmen. In towns across the state children will take their swim in the city pools. Many will re-set their alarm clocks and re-figure their budgets. Parents of the incoming freshmen — most of whom got their own schooling at rock-bottom depression prices—face a most will regard as an awfully expensive future. The average cost for a Texas college student is $1,100 a year — not including a car, clothes, dates, etc. In the larger cities it may run $1,500 a year. For four years the average is about $5,000. But hardly any other investment can be expected to return such handsome dividends. Statistically, the college graduate can expect to earn $100,000 more in his lifetime than the non-graduate. Aside from the students and the parents and teachers who are affected, "back to school" has a wider impact on the economy. Employment will jump as many of the jobless are absorbed into the operations of the dormitories, boarding houses, lunchrooms. Retail stores look to the brisk sales since Easter in the annual re-outfitting that ranges from blue jeans to book satchels, calicos to crayons. Real estate, customarily, also has a flurry as families try to "get located" before school starts.

WHY GO BACK — Why go back to school when you can stay out and earn some money? Texas Board of Pardons and Paroles has some sobering sobering answers. Its annual report shows that of 1,186 prison inmates released during the past year, only 119 had completed high school. Only six were college graduates. Percentage is about the same for those persons still in prison. Overall, the Board feels that people who complete their education and are therefore able to get useful, better-paying jobs are much less likely to run afoul of the law.

ALL BUT THREE — Gov. Price Daniel signed the huge new state appropriations bill, but he exercised his constitutional prerogative to scratch out some items. Daniel vetoed appropriations for (1) a $216,000 home for old folks; (2) a $200,000 tourist advertising program by the State Highway Department; and (3) $1,033,590 for interim legislative expenses.

He vetoed the old folks home, said the governor, because "the hospital board does not have responsibility for seniles and state policy should be to get these unfortunate people into private rest homes near their families rather than making them permanent patients of the state hospital system."

As to tourist advertising, the governor said that the Highway Department already is spending twice this much from other funds, and the appropriation would reduce activities. Daniel said he saw no need for the interim legislative expense money inasmuch as $330,000 had been appropriated in a separate bill for future legislative expenses.

Legislative leaders replied perhaps the state isn't supposed to be responsible for housing the aged, but the fact is it has some on its hands. They're now housed in the 50-year-old Confederate Home in Austin. It has been labeled a fire trap. Legislative expense money was to be used to put a new carpet and provide offices for House members. Rep. Bill Heatly of Paducah said he felt it was "unprecedented for the executive branch to tell the legislative branch how to finance itself."

DIVIDING IT UP — Now that all state agencies know how much money they'll have for the next two years, governing boards have been busy deciding how to make the most of it.

Dear Editor:
I see where a reporter says at a nudist colony where he went in his professional capacity the folks put on their clothes of an evening when the mosquitoes came out.

My meditating neighbor says he is glad to hear this, on account of it supports his theory that every creature was put here on earth for some useful purpose.

Says he has heretofore sort of had his doubts about mosquitoes, but now sees that these little insects are here to incentive folks to keep their clothes on.

666 increase in its $44,174,865 appropriation for salary increases on a merit basis. All in all, some 10 branches and services are a part of the A&M system. New student apartment buildings on the main campus are in the offing.

VET LAND PROGRAM SLOWS — Texas Veterans Land Program will have to be stopped down to a trickle from now until after November, 1960. State is running low on money for this program. It has authority to sell bonds to raise more money. But with the interest rate on the bonds limited by the law to 3 per cent nobody wants to buy the bonds. In the general election in 1960, the voters, may, if they choose, raise the interest the state can pay to 3 1/2 per cent and make possible the sale of more bonds.

Of course, if the state has to pay more interest on its bonds, it will have to go up on the interest it charges veterans — probably to 4 per cent.

Under the plan, the state buys and re-sells it to the veterans on a long-term, low-interest contract. It's the only "bonus" to Texas veterans. But it has resulted in the purchase by veterans of 1,997,404 acres of Texas land at an average price of $69.39 per acre.

SUIT OVER HAY SEEN — In the midst of plentiful rain, State Agriculture Commissioner John White has a problem arising from the 1953 drought-relief program. White says the U. S. Department of Agriculture plans to sue Texas for some $12,670 which the USDA claims it overpaid for shipping hay to Texas.

Longhorns Exes Are Working Out With College Squads

Several former Longhorn stars began college grid workouts early this week.

Big John Hansi is regarded as one of the outstanding sophomores on the Texas Tech Red Raider squad this season. John is presently holding down a berth on the second team. Tech workouts began Tuesday morning.

Speed merchant Jerry Williams, a sophomore halfback at West Texas State College, is showing up well. Although the smallest man on the Buffalo squad (5' 8" - 155 pounds), Jerry is also the fastest. He was clocked at 9.6 in the 100-yard dash during high school days.

The ex-Longhorn ace saw some action on the varsity as a freshman last season. WT workouts began Monday.

For the first time in many seasons Texas Tech and West Texas State will not clash on the gridiron. This will prevent former Lockney teammates from competing against each other.

Bill Race is working out at West Texas State this week. The school has invited some 50 athletes to try out for 20 available football scholarships. Race was an all-district fullback for the Longhorns last season.

Kenneth Callaway tried out for the Panhandle A&M (Goodwell, Okla.) squad which began workouts Monday. However he suffered a knee injury in the first practice session and was forced to drop out.

Two members of the 1958-59 Longhorn basketball squad have also received scholarships. Milton "Moe" Mickey, 6' 5" center, will attend Texas Tech and Jimmy Minter, 6' guard, will be at Clarendon Junior College, Clarendon, Tex.

And fourth, the animals weren't handled properly when loaded and unloaded. Some truckers — and farmers too — used clubs, shovels and sticks. More than half the hogs and a fourth the cattle were mis-handled as a result. Thompson says the only proper way to urge livestock along is with canvas slappers or electric prods, as clubs will injure the flesh.

In order to avoid losses Thompson urges growers to make sure their livestock are hauled by reliable truckers. And be on hand when your cattle, hogs or sheep go into and out of the truck. Until sold, it's still your livestock. Producers eventually pay for these injuries, despite hauling insurance, he adds.

Over 2 1-3 Million Acres Contracted In Conservation Plan

College Station. — Over two and one-third million acres of farm and ranch lands in the Plains areas of Texas have been contracted for cost-share assistance under the Great Plains Conservation Program, reports Lynn Pittard, extension assistant soil and water conservation specialist.

As of June 30, 1959, approximately $5,500,000 had been obligated to the landowners for assistance by the Program. In the 78 counties now participating, Pittard says more than 1300 contracts have been signed. The contracts are for three to ten years duration.

This voluntary program applies in the Great Plains area and provides cost-share assistance for many soil and water conservation practices such as brush control, range reseeding, constructing wells and ponds for livestock water and severing of ditches.

Pittard pointed out that the program has several advantages. It is flexible and can be modified to meet the particular individual's needs. There is no limitation on assistance except on irrigation. Crop allotments are not affected during contract and the program may be used in combination with other government cost-share plans.

At present, range work such as: reseeding, range chiseling or pitting, controlling brush or shrubs, and initial establishment of a permanent vegetative cover accounts for well over half of the fund distribution.

Other practices that come under the program are: planting trees and shrubs, establishing permanent waterways, constructing terraces and diversion ditches, waterspreading terraces, reorganizing irrigation systems, and land leveling for irrigation.

For a more thorough explanation of the program, Pittard advises obtaining L-410, "The Great Plains Conservation Program—What is it?", from local county agents or the Agricultural Information Office, College Station.

Careless Hauling Results In Much Livestock Loss

College Station. — Careless hauling and handling of livestock can cost producers a lot of money, says U. D. Thompson, extension animal husbandman. A recent USDA study shows the loss from careless hauling of livestock amounts to about $100 million annually for the nation.

Four major causes account for most of this loss, says Thompson.

First, almost a fourth of all trucks hauled either too many or two few livestock. Animals shouldn't be crowded but the load needs to be fairly snug to avoid shifting. Marketing agencies and most truckers have charts which tell how to load according to type of animal and available floor space.

Second, only half of the loads were partitioned by type of animal. Horned cattle were seldom partitioned, resulting in much bruising and crippling. Partitions need to be put up between animals of different sizes and types, the husbandman says.

Third, almost 30 percent of the trucks had little or no bedding, leaving the danger of animals slipping or falling. Floors need to be "slip-proofed" with sand, shavings or sawdust, and a straw covering should be used to absorb moisture.

POWER LINE TO PROSPERITY

It took miles of wire to carry electricity to the isolated farmhouse above. But the cost of this electrical service was shared equally by the members of the rural electric cooperative who live in more populous areas. They were keeping a pledge to serve members anywhere regardless of cost. This democratic plan of sharing the load brought an electrical revolution to remote Texas areas and a new way of life to the rural community.

But it is imperative that the Electric Cooperatives of Texas continue to serve the more populous areas they helped to develop. There are certain areas served by the cooperatives that are adjacent to towns and cities. Take these away and you run the risk of prohibitive electric rates for thousands of Texas farms and ranches. Where the rural electric cooperatives were first to offer electric service they must be allowed to serve.

TAIL-WATER WASTE IS REDUCED IN DISTRICT

Lubbock — The High Plains Underground Water Conservation District reports that the waste of agricultural "tail-water" within the bounds of the District is not nearly so pronounced this year as it has been in years past; however, the District adds that there is still room for needed improvement.

District officials state that waste of agricultural water is not only unwise from an economic standpoint but that other implications are involved as well.

First, if waste of irrigation water is tolerated, additional pumping costs are involved. The cost of pumping and distributing water that is ultimately unused results in higher operating costs which unnecessarily cut into annual profits.

Secondly, waste of irrigation water requires of the landowner a part of his capital investment for which he receives no monetary return. When irrigated farm land is purchased, the water in storage beneath the farm represents a very real and actual part of the market price of the farm. Consequently, when a portion of the water is pumped but is not used to produce a crop, which in turn produces income, then the expenditure of that part of the capital investment returns zero dollars. The landowner has given away a part of his original investment.

Thirdly, and perhaps the most important, implication involved in the waste of irrigation water, is the effect it has politically. In Texas underground water is private property. However, there are many persons from throughout the state that believe underground water should be owned by the state government and be apportioned to various users of underground water in quantities determined adequate by a central controlling agency. It can readily be seen that irrigated agriculture could perhaps be in a most disadvantageous position should an appropriate doctrine be advanced in Texas. In other states that have doctrines of public ownership of water resources, municipal and industrial water uses are generally deemed to be more necessary uses than are agricultural uses. Consequently, waste of agricultural irrigation water is dangerous because it weakens efforts to maintain private ownership of underground water.

There are many other reasons why waste of water is unwise and unprofitable. The reasons mentioned here are only a few.

The High Plains Water District asks that each irrigator think about these implications of waste and then devise a plan whereby he can use for beneficial purposes all the underground water pumped to the surface from beneath his land.

Ford Tells Of Testing Program

Henry Ford Jr., supervisor in the Lockney School system, told the Lockney Rotary Club last Friday noon of the testing program that has been in use in the local schools for the past three years.

Mr. Ford, who is in charge of the testing program, said that the project tests the progress of the pupils from year to year, tests the pupils ability, tests the curriculum and also tests the teaching methods used by the various teachers.

When the testing reveals a weak spot in the curriculum, then changes are made in the method of presenting the subject or more emphasis is given the subject to overcome that weakness, Mr. Ford said.

The supervisor presented a graph to the Rotarians showing the progress of a certain section through the past three years, and told of the methods used

Mud Flaps Are Required On Dual Wheels

Austin — Enforcement of a new Texas state law requiring "mud flaps" on the rear of dual-wheeled vehicles at all times will begin August 10, it was announced today by Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Department of Public Safety.

"Our patrolmen have been instructed to start filing complaints for violations of this law effective August 10," Garrison said. "We feel commercial vehicle operators have had sufficient time in which to comply with its provisions."

The law which formerly applied only when the pavement was wet, now requires protective flaps on the rear of certain vehicles to protect drivers in back of them. It was passed by the 56th Legislature.

Under regulations issued by the Department of Public Safety, Garrison said, the flaps may be made of metal, rubber, rubberized material or other substantial material rigid enough to prevent mud, slush, gravel or other matter from being thrown from the rear of a dual-wheeled vehicle into the windshield of a vehicle following.

The statute applies to all road tractors, trucks, trailers and semi-trailers. Exempt are buses, school buses, truck tractors operated alone, pole trailers and vehicles operated on private property. Penalties for violation of the new law range up to $200, plus Court costs, Garrison noted.

More lives were lost in the Civil War than in any other war in which the United States has been engaged.

About one-third of the world's total coffee consumption is used by the people of the United States.

ATTENTION FARMERS

Fall sowing of alfalfa should be done very soon and we are frankly urging the planting of more acres of alfalfa for the economy of this area in a crop rotation plan. More acres of alfalfa are needed locally for use in dehydrating and National Alfalfa will be in the market for sun cured baled next season as a supplement to our dehydrating operations. We will be pleased to have you come in and discuss with us the potentials to be realized through a planned rotation program with alfalfa as the base in your soil building program.

Plains Cotton Growers Make Plans For Year, Elect Officers

Lubbock. — More than 500 delegates and visitors attending the third annual meeting of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. August 28 in Lubbock, heard directors re-elect W. O. Fortenberry as President, and adopted a 1959-60 budget of some $174,000, and heard three top leaders of the textile industry.

Also returned to office were Wilmer Smith, New Home, Vice President, and Roy Forkner, Lubbock, as Secretary-Treasurer. Fortenberry and Smith have headed the organization for the three years it has been in existence and Forkner was re-elected to his second term.

The key to the future of the nation's cotton industry is "in the hands that fashion government policy on imports," J. M. Cheatham, President of Dundee Mills, Inc., Griffin, Georgia, and first vice president of the American Cotton Manufacturers Institute, told the PCG membership. He said the long-range outlook for both raw cotton and textiles is favorable if textile imports can be brought under "fair and reasonable control."

Bill Foreman, Public Relations Manager, National Cotton group that the public generally has a distorted image of the farmer. He said the farmer is suffering a loss of prestige and influence as a result. He urged a "grassroots campaign" to achieve better understanding of agriculture. He said that in the eyes of many of the 88 per cent of the population that doesn't live on the farm, farmers are "hayseeds, bandits and the biggest hogs at the public trough."

Actually, he declared, farmers are good businessmen, efficient suppliers of essential commodities at a reasonable cost and good citizens.

F. Marion Rhodes, Director, Cotton Division, Commodity Stabilization Service, U.S.D.A., Washington, D. C., told PCG members that "The cotton legislative program is moved in the right direction."

"This year we have more flexibility in both production and pricing. Domestic mill consumption should continue to improve and our exports should be back to a fair share of the world market by the end of 1959-60," he said.

Fortenberry, in announcing the PCG's largest budget in its three-year history, pointed out that the budget includes $10,000 for an educational program based on quality, $5,000 for the PCG's monthly publication, $10,000 for national promotion and advertising of area cotton and $2,500 for an all-cotton style show. Cotton research is earmarked for $46,000, including $20,000 for fiber and spinning research on the area crop at the pilot plant at Texas Tech College. Other grants include $10,000 for cotton breeding, $5,000 for fertilization studies, $7,000 for crop production practices, $2,500 for water conservation studies and $1,500 for a harvesting economics study.

Also included in the budget are $76,700 in operating expenses, $2,000 for a crop quality survey, $2,500 for tests with an electronic cotton classifier, and $20,000 for emergency and other purposes.

New directors installed at the business session include Eddie Dempsey, Borden County; J. E. Minyard and Bill Boling, Briscoe County; Ray Joe Riley, Castro County; J. M. Rankin, Crosby County; Ross Lumsden and V. O. Busby, Lamb County; and Virgil Travis, Terry County. All other 36 directors were re-elected.

Fortenberry also announced the appointment of committee chairman for the coming year. These included Bon Jones, Lubbock, Research Committee; M. A. Elms, Jr., Littlefield, Finance; Earl Eeds, Plainview, By-Laws; Weldon Gregg, Plainview, Pilot Spinning; Orville Bailey, Anton, Public Relations; Guy Nickels, Sudan, Marketing; J. D. Smith, Littlefield, Labor; Roy Mack, Lubbock, Scholarships; and Roy Forkner, Lubbock, Legislative and representative to the American Cotton Producers Associates.

In the Treasurer's report, Forkner presented a balanced financial statement showing total assets of $208,658.30.

In commenting on the annual meeting Fortenberry told directors attendance was the largest ever attained at any of the two previous annual meetings. A total of 541 persons were registered and officials estimated many did not get registered.

TEST YOUR FISH I. Q.

According to Margaret Spader, home service editor of the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association, fresh fish is sold in 5 different forms. Whole fish, sometimes called "round" is fish as it comes from the water. Drawn fish, like drawn chicken has been eviscerated, usually with head and tail removed. Fish steaks are cross-section slices of large, dressed fish, boneless except for a short backbone piece. Fish fillets are sides of fish cut lengthwise away from the backbone. Fillets may be skinned; however, those with the skin left on are usually more moist when cooked.

Habitual Traffic Violators Will Lose License

Austin. — The Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety cautioned today that a new state law provides for the suspension of the license of any driver convicted of four moving traffic violations within a 12-month period.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., said the new law, passed by the recent Session of the Legislature and signed by Governor Price Daniel August 5, for the first time defines the term "habitual violator." The definition is as follows:

"The term 'habitual violator' as used herein, shall mean any person with four or more convictions arising out of different transactions in a consecutive period of 12 months, or seven or more convictions arising out of different transactions within a period of 24 months, such convictions being for moving violations of the traffic laws of the State of Texas or its political subdivisions.

Garrison said if a justice of the peace or other designated magistrate finds a driver to be an habitual violator, the Department of Public Safety is authorized to suspend the driver's license for any period up to one year.

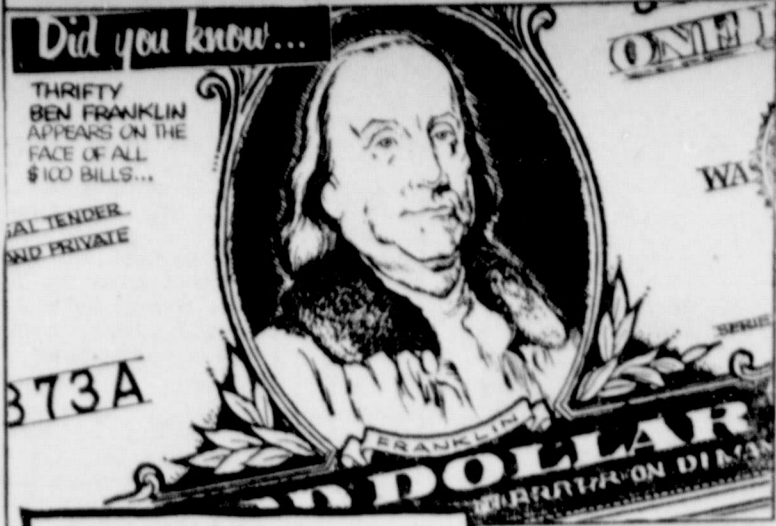

The new law also establishes detailed procedures for appeals of persons whose licenses have been suspended and requires the courts to give priority to the setting of such cases. It designates local prosecuting attorneys to represent the state in such appeals cases.

PLEASE DO EAT THE CENTERPIECE

One centerpiece that makes a graceful addition to any course on the menu is a mound of grapes. Clusters of green, red and deep purple grapes need no further introduction as a snack, appetizer or dessert. Margaret Spader of the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association suggests that you look for plump berries, firmly attached to the stem when you buy grapes. The stems should be supple, not brittle or the grapes will shatter easily.

HOW OVENS BREATHE

The oven of a modern range is designed with vents through which steam from baking foods escapes. The vents are provided to help regulate the flow of heat and keep the air in the oven circulating. They are usually located at the top and back of the oven. The steam is discharged through louvers on the front of the range panel. This protects the wall behind the kitchen range.

BUYING TIP FOR T-SHIRTS

If you are troubled with excessive shrinkage of some T-shirts after laundering, take a good look at the construction of the shirt. Recent research indicates that shirts knitted with loops that are slightly wider than they are long shrink less than those knitted with long loops. Cotton knits should be dried at medium or low temperature in the clothes dryer and removed from the dryer before thoroughly dry.

ATTENTION! Butane Users

EFFECTIVE SEPT. 1, 1959, all taxes on Special Fuels, including BUTANE, PROPANE, and DIESEL-KEROSENE will be collected generally at the wholesale level as required by law.

Every person who delivers special fuels into fuel supply tanks or in bulk quantities for redelivery into fuel supply tanks or motor vehicles must secure a permit under the new state law that becomes effective Sept. 1, 1959.

Persons, including farmers, who will use all special fuels OFF THE HIGHWAY may purchase tax-free without securing a user's permit by furnishing the signed statement; (shown at right) that none of the fuel will be delivered into fuel supply tanks of motor vehicles. If such a person uses such special fuels in a highway vehicle, he must either have his vehicle serviced by retail dealers who will issue him an invoice showing the date, quantity, highway license number and speedometer reading on each "fill-up," or he must secure a permit to use special fuels purchased tax-free in such highway vehicles, keep records, and pay taxes on the amount used in the vehicle.

After Sept. 1, 1959, it will be unlawful to transport special fuels in a cargo tank which has a connection by pipe, tube, valve or otherwise with the carburetor, or to operate with special fuels any motor vehicles licensed for highway travel, on which a speedometer is not kept in good operating condition at all times to correctly measure and register the miles traveled by such vehicle. At the same time, it will be unlawful to make bulk sales of special fuels to any person who is not a licensed supplier, is not a licensed dealer or user, or who does not furnish a signed statement that none of the special fuels purchased tax free will be delivered or permitted by him to be delivered into the fuel supply tank of a motor vehicle.

ONLY ONE STATEMENT IS REQUIRED FOR THE CALENDAR YEAR. TAXABLE USE IN VIOLATION OF SUCH PROMISSORY STATEMENT WILL FORFEIT THE RIGHT TO PURCHASE SPECIAL FUELS TAX FREE FOR ONE (1) YEAR UNDER PROVISIONS OF THIS NEW STATE LAW.

It is important that we, as dealers, and you, as users of special fuels, comply with this new law. We invite you to come in to our office for further information.

This Statement Is Required By Law On All Tax-Free Sales

Date _____

I hereby declare that as a consideration for the sale of special fuels tax-free to me during the period _____, 19____, to December 31, 19____, that none of the special fuels so purchased tax-free will be delivered by me or permitted by me to be delivered into the fuel supply tank of a motor vehicle in Texas; and that the taxable use of such fuel without securing a Users permit will forfeit the right to purchase special fuel tax-free for a period of one year.

When it comes to sheer intrigue, I say dandelions are the world's cleverest weeds.

First they hide beneath their yellow blooms, figuring I'll mistake them for flowers.

Then when I have spent most of the summer rooting them out, the last cunning survivors always enlist the help of my own youngsters to plant a bumper crop for next year.

But there are weeds more serious than dandelions—weeds which like the tares in Christ's parable are planted by an Enemy. These are my real concern when I think about my youngsters. I want no evil to choke or twist the character of my sons and daughters. Nor do I want them to spread the spores of evil that will undermine the character of others.

I believe that God meant me to seek truth and moral courage through the teaching, preaching and fellowship His Church provides. Every Sunday I share these blessings with my family.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Tractor Driving Contest Will Be A Fair Feature

A tractor driving contest will be another feature of the Floyd County Fair here on Sept. 10, 11 and 12. County Agent Cecil Lewis is in charge of the contest and will lay out the course on the fair grounds in southeast Lockney.

There will be three divisions divided by ages as follows: 9 to 13 years of age, 14 to 18 years of age, and 19 years and over.

A seven-inch loving cup will be given the winner in each division, Mr. Lewis said Wednesday.

The contest will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock and all contestants must register with the contest superintendent before entering. Tractors and other necessary equipment will be furnished.

Judging will be based on time consumed in driving the course, stakes knocked down or moved, skill and safety in driving.

It is the first child for the young couple and the Nicholas' first grandchild, of course. The paternal grandparents live at Slaton.

Court Splits On F-M Road Placing

The Floyd County Commissioners Court, in session Wednesday morning, voted to accept four miles of farm-to-market road paving from the State Highway Commission but split on where the paving should go. The vote was two to two with County Judge J. D. McBrien breaking the tie in favor of placing the road in Precinct 1 tying together the Allman and Harmony communities. The Beacon was told. This was following a recommendation by District Engineer Cram of Lubbock.

Commissioner Bob Jarrett of Lockney and Commissioner Carl Plumlee of Precinct 3 wanted the paving used to hard-surface the road from Sterley east to the Floydada - Silverton highway. A delegation of people from the South Plains community met with the Court Wednesday morning asking for this connection. However Commissioners John B. Fowler of Precinct 1 and Bill McNeill of Precinct 4 were in favor of following the District Engineer's suggestion and thus the vote on the matter resulted in a tie with the judge breaking the tie.

Commissioner Jarrett contended that Precinct 2 has less farm-to-market road than Precinct 1 and yet 45 per cent of poll taxes were paid in this precinct. He pointed out the need for the road by people of Sterley and South Plains.

The pavement will run south from the Roy Hale home on Farm Road No. 789 south to the Allman Gin on Farm Road No. 54. This is in the extreme southwest corner of the country.

Commissioner Jarrett said Wednesday that plans are being completed on 3 1/2 miles of paving from Providence north on Farm Road No. 2310 and also the paving of a connection from the Ewald Quebe home on Road 2310 west to connect with a paved road in Hale County.

Mrs. A. L. Bigham and sons, Billy Don and Jerry spent Wednesday until Saturday visiting the boys' grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Bigham at Cleburne. Before returning home they visited Lake Whitney and

High Plains Buys C & L Parts Supply

Owners of the High Plains Motor Co. here have purchased the C & L Parts Supply and will move the parts stock to the building next door to the motor company soon. The Beacon was told by Gene Hammit Wednesday.

The deal has been underway for some two or three weeks and plans are to form a corporation with a number of farmers taking stock, it was said. The corporation will own both the motor company and the parts firm.

Hammit and C. C. Reed, who have owned the motor company in the past, will retain an interest in the new firm but others owners have not been determined as yet, Hammit said Wednesday.

Cleon Wylie and Leonard Finley were owners of the parts firm. Finley is staying with the parts firm in its present location for a few days but will go to work in the parts department at Johnson & Johnson here some time this month. Wylie has accepted employment at Jackson Tire Co.
