"COWBOY BOB" saved many a cowboy this last weekend at the 26th Annual Floydada Rodeo

Pitts named Queen

Floydada's 26th Annual Rodeo wound down Saturday night after three big nights of bull riding, barrel racing and wild cow milking. Rodeo fans were entertained by some of the finest cowboys and cowgirls around. Some contestants came from as far as Oklahoma and New Mexico. Local residents took pride in every local cowboy and cowgirl. It takes a lot of time and money to enter a rodeo. Local entries were Duncan Woody, Brett Marble, Jamie McNeil, Jay Walker, Monty Lyons, Belinda Billington, Clinton Ware, Kevin Roberts, Gail Kring and Rick Hrbacek. This year for the first time, wild cow milking was included in the rodeo. Thursday night the winners were Bobby Jack Dempsey, Dusty Burselson, and Burch Lobin. Friday night the team of Mark Beedy, Todd Beedy, and Alvin Martin won. Saturday night Gary Bennett, Derrell McCandless and Tommy Turner took the honors. Saturday night was highlighted by the crowning of the rodeo queen and announcing the winner of the half of beef. The 83-84 rodeo queen announced

Palace has new owner

The Palace Barber Shop has a new owner. Ronnie Blackerby of Plainview took ownership Tuesday, July 24. Blackerby is a native of the Providence Community and attended all 12 years of school in Kress. After high school he attended Lubbock Barber

RONNIE BLACKERBY

College. Blackerby says when he was attending barber college, it wasn't hard to learn the technique because the "buck and flattop" haircuts were the "in" thing. Since then he has attended numerous hair styling schools and now does men's hairstyling as well as barbering. Blackerby has tried several different lines of work including farming, oil field equipment, and working for Woforth Manufacturing. An old gentleman once told him, "A trade can never be taken away from you." Blackerby believes this wholeheartedly. "We will always need plumbers, carpenters, mechanics, and barbers." Blackerby and his wife Marilyn have two children living at home and have four grandchildren. The Blackerby family will not be moving to Floydada right away, but he says he wants to eventually. He said, "I feel you should live in the town you work in." Ronnie believes in "sticking to tradition." He won't be changing the name of the Palace Barber Shop. He hopes to carry on the tradition of fine barbering since 1915 and invites everyone to come by and visit with him.

Goens visit museum

The artist is Ophelia Kirk Goen. She painted this picture in 1907 while attending Carr Burdette, a girl's Christian college in Sherman, Texas. Mrs. A.O. Carr was her teacher. She graduated in 1908 and moved to Floyd County with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.T. Kirk. She married W.S. Goen in 1913 and established Park Florist and Greenhouse in Floydada in 1930. This painting is loaned to Floyd County Museum by her son, Elton Goen.

This week Mrs. Goen's grandchildren and great grandchildren were visiting from Ft. Walton Beach, Florida. Bob Goen is a 16 year veteran of the United States Air Force. He and his family are stationed at Eglin Air Force Base, the largest Air Force base in the free world. Bob and family visited Floyd County Museum Tuesday afternoon. The entire family was impressed with the museum and were really interested in the part their family played in Floyd County. Bob and his wife said they had "never really noticed" this painting until after Mrs. Goen passed away. The painting hung in Mrs. Goen's dining room. Even family members are not sure of the setting for this painting. If anyone does recognize this scene, they may contact either the Floyd County Museum or the Hesperian.

paper, it doesn't give her much time for recreation but she enjoys playing tennis and listening to music. Rosemary also enjoys traveling and has recently returned from a trip to Las Vegas. She is experienced in almost every phase of the newspaper business. She said out of all the things to do at the newspaper, "Typesetting is my favorite." Typesetting was the first skill she learned at the paper. Rosemary loves people and is a very personable young lady. She says she has truly enjoyed meeting so many different people the past 3½ years. "I can't always recall everyone by name, but I enjoy meeting them and will try to be of assistance to all our customers." Rosemary is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gonzalo Gonzales. She has a sister Isabell who is employed at Perry Bros. and a younger brother Adam, a second grader. Carolyn Redding, publisher of the Floyd County Hesperian and Lockney Beacon, said upon making the announcement, "Rosemary is one of the most efficient and dedicated employees I have ever had the pleasure of working with. We are proud to make this well-deserved promotion."

Water rates double

The Mackenzie Municipal Water Authority Board has sent a 100 day notice to the City Council that the City will start receiving water, November 1, 1983, at the city water meter to supply water demands of the city water customers and that monthly payments to MMWA for this water will commence on September 1, 1983. At a special meeting of the City Council on Monday, August 1, 1983, the Council voted to pass an emergency water rate ordinance in order to finance these new monthly water payments to Mackenzie Municipal Water Authority. It was the unanimous decision of the City Council to leave the 1983 City tax rate at 40 cents - no increase. It will be necessary to double the present water rate to keep the city tax rate at 40 cents, to pay the Mackenzie monthly payments and to finance the local water department operations. The old water rate is as follows: For connections using 5/8"3/4" water meters: First 2,000 gallons (minimum) $7.00 All over 2,000 gallons - $1.00 per 1,000 gallons. The new water rate will be as follows: First 2,000 gallons (minimum) $14.00 All over 2,000 gallons 2.00 per 1000 gallons.

Cockrell roasted during celebration

Postal employees and their spouses "roasted and toasted" a fellow worker, John Cockrell, at a covered dish retirement supper. The occasion was held in the community room of the Lighthouse Cooperative.

Postmaster Ed Wester in his remarks before presenting Cockrell with a plaque pointed out that Cockrell is one of the few postmen who have remained city carriers throughout his entire career. Cockrell's route was about 13 miles long.

Cockrell's last day at work was Friday, August 29. He retired after having worked 24 years. He began his service February 13, 1959.

The postal couples brought salads and homemade ice cream.

Those attending in addition to the retiree and his wife Geneva were: Gary Wilson, Doyle and Dorothy Turner, Jerry and Julie Finley, Ed and Jo Wester, Paco Garcia, Bill and Julia Baker, Burl and Doris Huckabee, Sam and Audrey Spence, Ronnie and Aleen Evans, Wayne and Pansy Finley, Harold Wayne and Geneva Bennett.

Roy and Sharon Kinard, Freddie and Lovita Morren, host couple, George and Lee Finley, John and Carolyn Redding, Joyce and John Speer and Ed and Kyla Warren.

Brooks, Dudley exchange wedding vows, July 31

Miss Sheila Ann Brooks of Odessa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brooks, and Rickie Lynn Dudley of Odessa, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Dudley of Lockney and Gail Johnson of Amarillo, exchanged wedding vows Saturday night at 7:30 p.m. in the First Baptist Church. Officiating for the double ring vows was Elder Vernon Venable of Clovis, New Mexico, great uncle of the bride.

Selected nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Weldon Davis, organist, and Jennifer Davis, pianist. Soloist, Leslie Davis, sang "The Wedding Song" and "The Twelfth of Never."

Guests were registered in the church foyer by Susan Thames of Midland. The register table was set with the bride's book, red feather pen and miniature bride and groom on a brass and marble pedestal.

The altar area featured a brass arch entwined with greenery and decorated with large white bows flanked by seven branch candelabra on each side adorned with white bows and streamers. On each side of the altar rail were arrangements of lemon leaf ivy and glass globes with red candles.

Pew markers were large red bows tied with white silk flowers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white satin with an overlay of organza. The fitted bodice of satin and Alencon lace was appliqued with seed pearls and sequins accented with a yoke of Alencon lace and point d'esprit. The high neckline featured pleated ruffled trim. Long fitted lace sleeves with button closures had matching pleated ruffled trim. On the skirt were strips of Alencon lace and ruffle pleated trim cascading to a chapel length train. She wore a fingertip length veil of illusion attached to a lace caplet.

She carried a nosegay bouquet of white silk roses and red rosebuds, baby's breath and white streamers. In her bouquet, she tucked a silk handkerchief belonging to her great grandmother Evie Welty. The handkerchief was brought from China. She also followed tradition and used her maternal grandmother's wedding ring for something old. Something borrowed was the silk handkerchief, new was her wedding dress and blue was a lace and ribbon garter made for her by her mother. She wore pennies in her shoes coined in the year of her and the groom's birth.

Miss Glenda Wilson of Lubbock, cousin of the bride, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Cindy Brooks of Canyon and Ronda Brooks, sisters of the bride. They wore street length sundresses of red and white dotted swiss accented with straps tied in bows at the shoulders. The dresses were styled with blouson bodice and flounce ruffle at hem featuring a wide sash tied in a bow at the center back waistline. Each wore a ruby necklace, a gift from the bride, and carried a long stemmed red rose tied with white ribbon streamers.

Flower girls were Amy Shofner of Lamesa and Rachel Wall, cousins of the bride. They wore red and white dotted swiss dresses styled as pinafores with shoulder ties and a large ruffle at the hem. Each carried white wicker baskets filled with red silk flowers and tied with red and white bows and ribbon roses on the handle. They had red and white ribbon barrettes with ribbon streamers in their hair.

Candlelighters were Robin Brooks, sister of the bride, and Melinda Wilson, cousin of the bride. They wore dresses identical to the bridesmaids and each wore a wrist corsage of red silk roses.

Herbert Dudley, father of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Richard Smotherman of Amarillo and Jerry Thames of Midland. Serving as ushers were Billy Shofner of Lamesa, uncle of the bride, and Kenny Venable of Olton, cousin of the bride. Leland Vanable of Olton, cousin of the bride, was the ring bearer. He carried a white satin and lace ring pillow made by the mother of the bride.

The groom was attired in a white tuxedo with tails and a lapel boutonniere of white silk roses. Groomsmen wore gray tuxedos with white shirts and red silk rose boutonnieres.

A reception honoring the couple was held in fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table was laid with a white cloth with lace flounce, appointed with silver and crystal. Centering the table was a large colonial candle-octagon lamp, flanked by the flower girls' baskets and the bride's bouquet. The three tiered chocolate wedding cake with white icing featured a stairway filled with red flowers spiraling to the top which held a Precious Moments bride and groom figurine. Mrs. Roger Noble of Lubbock and Buni Zabielski of Roaring Springs presided at the table.

Coffee was served from a silver service on a round table covered with a red linen cloth. Centering the table were crystal tulip candleholders with red candles encircled with a red and white silk flower ring at the base. Mrs. Neoma Wall, aunt of the bride, served at this table.

Net bags filled with bird seed were distributed by Robin Brooks, sister of the bride.

A rehearsal dinner was held Friday evening in fellowship hall of First Baptist Church.

The bridesmaid luncheon was given in the home of Mrs. Paul Brooks, grandmother of the bride, at noon Saturday. She was assisted by Mrs. Billy Shofner of Lamesa, the bride's aunt. Pickup foods and melon balls were served. Attending were bridesmaids, Ronda and Cindy Brooks; maid of honor, Glenda Wilson, Robin Brooks, Amy Shofner, Rachel and Neoma Wall, Susan Thames; Mrs. Thomas Brooks, mother of the bride; and the bride.

Honored guests for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. E.M. Venable of Olton, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brooks, grandparents of the bride, and Mrs. Virginia Dudley of Turkey, grandmother of the groom.

Ken Barker culminates early photographic education by winning achievement award

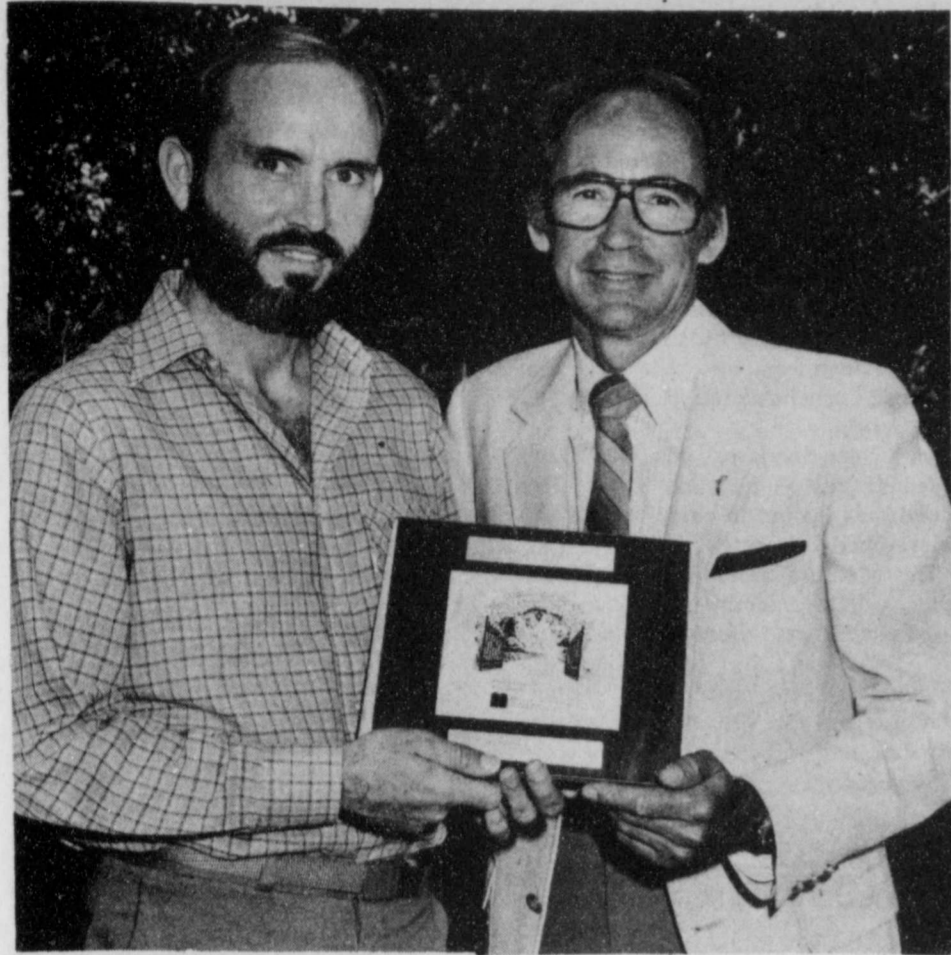

Sailing a 32 ft. cutter from Anchorage to Seattle is a far cry from photographic education but for Ken Barker of Floydada, the transition has been smooth. Recently the adventurous photographer culminated his first year of studies at famed Brooks Institute of Photography, Santa Barbara, by claiming the First Year Achievement Award.

Barker, whose parents, A.L. "Shorty" and Ethel, are well known in Floydada, entered Brooks Institute, October 1981. He will graduate December 1984 and intends majoring in industrial/scientific photography. The cutter which he sailed from Alaska to Seattle is currently moored in Seattle, where he became well-known among the sailing fraternity.

Brooks Institute president, Ernest H Brooks II, said the award was made to Ken Barker in recognition of his quality performance, attitude and understanding of the photographic craft.

Brooks Institute is recognized as one of the leading schools of photography in the world and among its students are representatives of up to 35 different countries.

KEN BARKER, left, is presented with First Year Achievement Award by Brooks Institute president, Ernest H. Brooks II.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

BY WINONA JACKSON

The Nursing Home "family" is increasing every day. Mrs. Nora Norris is the newest addition to our family. We are very happy to have Mrs. Norris with us.

Our Monday started off with Wendy's tea time of fellowship, coffee and cookies. Right after tea time the volunteers are usually here to share the devotion time with us. This Monday, Ernestine Pleasant sang for us again, and everyone always enjoys the happy singing which the Assembly of God volunteers bring to us. Monday afternoon Kim was here with music therapy. I was doing Wendy's nails when suddenly I heard the music of "The Streak." I couldn't believe what I saw in the lobby...twenty-two residents swaying colorful handkerchiefs in tune with "The Streak." What fun Kim brings to us!

Tuesday, Neeley and Zelma were here for devotions and the "banana break". Tuesday afternoon, Irene, Halie, Mrs. Bernie, Lura, Addie, Una, Emmitt and Francis Childs shared their wisdom during Bible study.

On Wednesday there were twelve volunteers here with Br. Zumwalt to share devotions with us. On Wednesday afternoon the residents were up early from their naps to play bingo. Una and Emmitt were the big winners with Ona, Bennie, Addie, Lura, Iva, Hallie, and Kermit close behind. Ona was the black-out winner.

Thursday I was surprised to have twenty five present for devotions. Bro. Bungus is on vacation and I led the devotion time...with a lot of help with the singing. Thursday afternoon Evelyn took Lura, Emmitt, Una, Addie, Bennie, and Iva to the Baptist Encampment on the bus "outing." We enjoyed seeing the growing crops. Lura commented, "the bus trip helps us forget our troubles." This it does! And as our chauffeur drove everyone back to the nursing home door, we remarked how nice it was to be back in the cool home again with a meal all prepared and a bed waiting for a welcomed night's sleep. Wendy had a special "outing" Thursday night...she went to Petersburg to attend a tent revival. The residents appreciate these special times out which their families and friends arrange for them. Lura visited her daughter, Maxine Jarboe, one afternoon and Alma Ruth Nelson enjoys the outings which her family and pastor provide for her.

On Friday, Clara McNeeley's daughter from Houston was here to visit her. Mary Corley is ill and we have certainly missed her at devotion time on Fridays. Emmitt made his two-hundred and sixtieth owl on Friday morning as Lura was busy crocheting some more trim for the owls. Friday afternoon we

Baptist women meet August 1st

Monday evening, August 1st, in the fellowship hall of the Calvary Baptist Church in Floydada, the Baptist women met for their monthly August Bible study.

Director Mildred Haile conducted the Bible study on Priscilla and Aquila, one being a layman and the other a housewife. Each one present had a part in the program. Prayer calendar was given by Hazel Powell.

Those sharing in this month's study were: Mildred Haile, Hazel Powell, Edna Patton, Irene Wexler, Beady Owens, Deetta Odam, and Alma Ruth Nelson.

watched a movie... "Snowbound," which helped ease the heat...outside.

We were saddened this week by the death of Annie McCragren. Annie was a lovely and sweet lady who had been with us only a short time, but long enough for us to love her.

A special thanks to all the visitors and volunteers who have been with the residents this week...everyone's family is "our family," and welcomed...always.

Lakeview News

By Joyce Williams

The Mt. Blanco-Lakeview community homecoming was held Sunday at the Lighthouse Electric building in Floydada.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Harrison, the Bill Smiths and Odell Breeds were among those who attended. All enjoyed the cool interior of the meeting room and the convenience of the kitchen at the REA building.

Weather is still very hot and dry over our community. A passing car raises a cloud of dust for a mile, so powdery are the roads.

At Roaring Springs, signs are posted limiting campfires to small sizes, due to the dry conditions of prairie grass and brush.

Mrs. Bud Pope, Deming, New Mexico, and Mrs. Jack Johnson visited Mrs. Dee Adams Saturday afternoon. The Pops have been visiting relatives and friends around Floydada. Bud and Mae stopped in New Mexico and visited their son, Rex, on their way to Floydada. Rex is working on a ranch between Roswell and Tatum, New Mexico. The Pope's daughter, Diane Jamison, moved to Deming in May.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Britton and Delwyn Britton of Earth, visited Mr. and Mrs. Odell Breed Monday and spent the night with them. Mr. and Mrs. W.M. Hambright came out to visit Odell and their daughter, Janell Breed, Monday morning while it was cool.

A West Texas Company seismograph crew out of Jacksboro, Texas has contacted local landowners in Lakeview for permission to run their thumping trucks alongside their property lines. Their markers are posted running north and south of the Lakeview gin. Also Carl Mooseberg and Howard Bishop have been contacted about leasing their land, and for options to lease.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Watson and children have been keeping little Tyrel Fuller while his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rick Fuller, are on vacation.

Brodie Towler visited his grandparents, the Odell Breeds, from Friday through Thursday, while his parents, the Jerry Towlers of Lubbock, were in Dallas.

Mrs. Q.D. Williams returned home Friday from attending a two week Home Ec teacher's seminar at Texas Tech University in Lubbock.

Mrs. Nora Norris, age ninety-five and a half, was the guest of honor this past week-end as her children met for a family reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Norris in Floydada. Relatives who visited Saturday and Sunday included: John and Vina Largent of Midland; Weldon and Era Mae Seigler of Springdale, Arkansas; Oleta Faye Potts, Lakewood, California; C.M. and Bobbye Norris, Carlsbad, New Mexico; Dale and Sherril Largent of Houston (son of John Largent) and children; Sherry, Leann Largent and Cindy L. Reed of Houston; Shannon Norris, of Amarillo; Leslie and Anne Patrick, Jeff, Jarrod and Joanna of Kirkland, Washington; Connie and Debbie Norris of Carlsbad, New Mexico; Bill and Katrina Waters, Tracy and Wesley, all of Carlsbad, New Mexico; Jon Norris (C.M.'s son) of Carlsbad; Mrs. W.J. Wilkes, Floydada; Claude and Anna Mae Hartsell, Zapata, Texas; Bill and Elsie Largent, of Houston; Gladys Crawford, and Rachel Taylor of Crosbyton; Morris A. Powell of Pampa, (Morris' wife was a sister of Vina Largent and wanted to see them all); Henry and Mary Osborne, Amarillo, and the host family, Bill and Ozena Norris.

Mrs. Dean Watson has been helping at the business office of the Floydada Livestock Sale Barn this summer. The Dee Adams are busy in their fields. Lots of hoeing and some watering going on over our community. Cotton looks beautiful.

Mr. and Mrs. Randy Bertrand took their daughter, Angie, to Lockney Thursday morning for the 4 a.m. departure of Floyd County 4-H students to Kentucky. The young people traveled in two suburban vehicles driven by Kenneth Brosech and Warren Mitchell of Lockney. They arrived in Nashville, Tennessee for a week-end tour of Opryland, and historic sites in the area. Others from Floydada included Chad and Shannon Edwards, children of Mr. and Mrs. Craig Edwards, and Becky Reeves, daughter of Keith Reeves. They planned to stay a week, returning home from the 4-H exchange visit this week-end.

Holt Bishop ate Sunday dinner with his son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bishop and Greg. His father, Earl Bishop, is now a patient at Caprock Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. James Williams, Ashleigh and Austin helped make a years supply of pickles Saturday at the Q.D. Williams. It only took about three hours. Time will do the rest.

Mrs. Lucille Custer went to Lamesa recently to join her sister, Adelle Whisenant, and niece, Carla Womack, on a trip to San Antonio. They took Carla's son, Chris, to summer camp near Kerrville, Camp Stewart. The ladies returned home by Fredericksburg to buy peaches. However, the fruit was selling for $24 to $32 a bushel. They decided to just buy a few pounds to snack on and let that be that.

Mrs. Mike Bishop, Mrs. Monte Williams and Mrs. Trina Simpson conducted a garage sale Saturday and are very pleased with their results.

Mr. and Mrs. Duane McClintock, Mr. and Mrs. Dayne Goughly and children, Rance and Lacy, were Sunday dinner guests in Levelland of Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Guess, Amy and Brian.

Mr. and Mrs. Dayne Goughly are preparing to move into their new home in Floydada at 906 W. Ross. They purchased the land from the Massie estate and had a new house built in Lubbock and moved to the site. It was finished this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lanny Glasscock helped as officials at the Floydada Rodeo this past week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Randy Bertrand, daughter, Misty and her guest, Janie Schinder went to Lubbock Friday to eat dinner and see the movie, "Snow White." However the next movie they could get tickets for proved to be a long wait so they settled for "Krull." Recently, the Bertrands vacationed in Tres Ritos, New Mexico in their camper. Also from Floydada were Jim and Pat Cornelius, and Roger and Jo Ann Gooch.

Mrs. Nora Norris was admitted to the Floydada rest home last week. Her friends are invited to come by and say hello to her.

The McClure family of Mt. Blanco recently held a family reunion at the Crosbyton School Cafeteria, July 16 and 17. This was the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of C.A. "Con" McClure and the 99th birthday of the grandmother of the clan. Their descendants decided to make it a centennial celebration. Although both the honorees are deceased, they live on in their children, 101 descendants. Seventy-eight brothers, sisters, in-laws, cousins and second cousins met to renew family ties. On Sunday a worship period was conducted by Jerry McClure, son of the late Weldon McClure.

Among the visitors were Mrs. Rachel Taylor, John Taylor of Grimwell, Iowa, Joe Taylor of N. Hollywood, California, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Taylor, Barbara James and Michael. Also Mrs. Weldon McClure, Jerry and Frances McClure, Rachel and Martha of Oxford, Ohio; Wayland and Margaret Jones, Floydada; Julie Hickerson, Rhonda and Leslieanne of Lockney; Steve Jones of Anthony, New Mexico; Greg Jones, Lubbock; and Amy Jones, San Angelo.

Very hot dry windy weather continues. Light showers Sunday morning left about .4 of an inch in the canyon. Willow trees growing along ditches and lakebeds are starting to die due to lack of water.

Tom Taylor is home from the Lubbock hospital where he was treated for broken bones from a horse falling on him. He is running the ranch from a wheelchair for the next few weeks, south of Crosbyton.

FARM NEWS

Project 2002 final results presented at Soybean Expo

U.S. farmers could be called on to plant nearly 100 million acres of soybeans by the year 2002, according to the results of a study presented at Soybean Expo in Nashville, Tennessee. The resulting 4.2 billion bushels from this planted acreage, based on a projected average yield of 46 bushels per acre, would be the U.S. contribution to a projected 7 billion bushel world demand for that year. This compares to the highest U.S. soybean production to date of slightly more than 2.2 billion bushels in 1982.

The study, "2002: A Blueprint for Soybeans", was an unprecedented 18-month joint project of Elanco Products Company and the American Soybean Association (ASA). Elanco is the manufacturer of Trellan and Surflan herbicides. ASA is a farmer-funded, farmer-controlled single commodity organization dedicated to improving the profitability of U.S. soybean farmers. Project 2002 involved more than 200 experts including farmers, economists, molecular biologists, barge company executives, seed and chemical company specialists, government officials, processors and trade officials.

According to Elanco President Vaughn Bryson, "2002" was undertaken to provide a forum for industry-wide dialogue on the critical, long-term issues that will impact soybeans; define the alternative futures for U.S. soybean production and acreage; and develop strategic guidelines to help soybean farmers shape their future. "In addition to the projected need for increased U.S. acreage and average yields, 'Project 2002' also defined other key factors which will impact our soybean industry," said Project Manager Dennis Sharpe. "These factors were world economic growth, other oilseed competition, soil conservation policies and biotechnology. In fact, the 'wild card' in charting the soybean's future is biogenetics."

Sharpe informed the audience of approximately 2,000 attending the EXPO General Session of the strategic recommendations for soybean farmers and the U.S. soybean industry which were based on these factors.

"Farmers should resist government efforts to impose trade restrictions or sanctions, acreage controls, soybean reserve policies or even guaranteed prices," cautioned Sharpe. "The U.S. farmer must be positioned to take advantage of sudden market opportunities, as well as adopt strategy to maintain or increase his share of the world market."

He said efforts must be made to expand exports into Eastern Europe, the Middle East, Southeast Asia and China, as well as exploring new export opportunities with established customers such as the Common Market countries and Japan. Capital investments from industrialized countries in developing nations, research into customers preferences, technical support and continuing consumer education are suggested tactics for increasing export demand.

Sharpe warned farmers to pare down production costs and increase productivity. Conservation policies, new production systems and products should be adopted where they prove cost effective. He also said "Project 2002" recommended a recommitment to basic research with care to fund the most soybean-intensive and yield-enhancing proposals.

"Finally, 'Project 2002' recommends farmers, processors and others in the soybean industry take an active interest in biotechnology developments," stated Sharpe. "A special industry task force is recommended to monitor this vital area and facilitate research specific to soybeans."

"Elanco realizes the soybean farmers' future profitability is important to the future of Elanco," said Vaughn Bryson. "Elanco and ASA believed very strongly that a coordinated approach, rather than one that was piecemeal, was the best way to identify what lies ahead for those involved in the U.S. soybean industry."

ASA representatives indicated the results of "Project 2002" would be presented to Secretary of Agriculture John Block and other USDA and government officials, as well as to the European oilseed processing industry.

Plainview Young Farmers to host Ag Commissioner

Tickets are now available for a Plainview Young Farmers-sponsored program featuring Texas Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower.

The program will be on Thursday, August 11, in the Hale County Agriculture Center in Plainview. Tickets are priced at $5 each, which includes a barbecue meal. Serving will begin at 6 p.m. with the program starting at 7 p.m.

A press conference with Hightower will be held prior to the program. Hightower will be speaking on "Current Agricultural Issues Facing West Texas" with a question and answer session to follow his presentation.

In addition, a benefit drawing for a three-wheel motorized spray rig will be held immediately after the program.

Tickets for the banquet are available from the three Plainview banks, City National Bank, First National Bank and Hale County Bank, or by writing Plainview Young Farmers, Box 1180, Plainview, Texas 79072. A limited number of banquet tickets will also be available at the door.

Tickets for the benefit drawing on the spray rig are priced at $2 each and are available from any Plainview Young Farmer.

Hightower is in his first term as Texas agriculture commissioner, after defeating incumbent Reagan Brown in the Democratic primary and then Republican Fred Thornberry in the general election last November.

A native of Denison, Hightower grew up in Grayson and Fannin counties. While in college he worked as assistant general manager of the Denton Chamber of Commerce.

He graduated from North Texas State University and studied international relations at Columbia University. He has served as legislative aide to the Texas Senate Agriculture Committee and worked on rural development issues for the Rural Housing Alliance.

In 1970, Hightower founded the Agribusiness Accountability Project to investigate the impact of monopolies on farm and food policies. He became editor of the Texas Observer in 1976 and, in 1980, made an unsuccessful bid for the Texas Railroad Commission.

CONTROL WHITE GRUBS IN LAWNS
May or June beetles have completed emergence from the soil and females are now laying eggs in lawns around the county. White grub worms which hatch are beginning to feed on grassroots in home lawns. Once grubs begin feeding, control measures should be taken.

Treatment time varies with the particular area of the state and ranges from early July in South Texas to mid-August here in the Panhandle. Homeowners here in Floyd County should treat between late July and mid-August if white grubs are a problem. Timing of application is critical for adequate control.

White grubs in excessive numbers can heavily damage lawns. Check for white grubs by cutting a square foot section of sod with a shovel and examining the roots and soil to a depth of 4 inches. Examine at least one square foot of sod for every 1,000 square feet of lawn area. Chemical treatment is needed if there are two or three grubs per square foot of sod.

Diazinon or dursban provide adequate control and should be used at recommended rates given on the chemical container label. The granular form is easier to apply and to wash into the soil than liquid or spray formulations. After using granules, drag the grass with a tow sack or water hose to knock them down to the soil. Then apply about 2 inches of water to soak the granules into the soil. Olfanol, a new white grub insecticide, works well but may not be locally available in some areas.

The key to white grub control in home lawns is proper timing of chemical applications and getting the insecticide through the grass to the root zone where grubs are feeding.

Further information is provided in the publication, "White Grubs in Texas Turfgrass," available at the County Extension Office.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, or national origin.

USDA offers special "Harvest for PIK" cotton loans

The U.S. Department of Agriculture will offer special "Harvest for PIK" loans to cotton farmers who do not have enough upland cotton under CCC loan to satisfy their PIK requirements. Everett Rank, executive vice president of the Commodity Credit Corporation, announced.

Rank said a special procedure will be available for those producers who are required to harvest 1983 cotton for PIK but do not want a regular loan. Two options are available at the time the loan is made: the producer may receive the PIK cotton immediately and the proceeds from sale of cotton to CCC after the PIK availability date, or receive the proceeds immediately and the PIK cotton after the PIK availability date.

CCC will pay warehouse storage charges through the date the producer redeems his loan to satisfy his PIK requirements unless the producer elects not to pay the loan service fee.

"With this procedure," Rank said, "producers will be permitted to obtain their PIK commodities before the PIK availability date but will not receive payment for 1983-crop cotton sold to CCC to satisfy PIK requirements until the PIK availability date."

Rank said CCC also will offer to purchase cotton that has been ginned but has not been classed and is not stored in an approved warehouse. In this instance, the purchase price will be based on the 1983 loan rate for the base PIK quality for the area where PIK was earned. The cotton purchased by CCC will be used to satisfy the producer's PIK on a pound-for-pound basis.

Rank said producers should contact their local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office for further details on their loans, which will be available soon.

Safe Use of Harvesting Equipment
Harvest is the culmination of a big investment. Keep it free of costly mishaps.

- Check your operators manual for proper procedures.
- Keep shields in place and stay clear of unguarded moving parts.
- Turn off power before unclogging or servicing... wait for moving parts to stop.
- Adjust ground speed to field and crop conditions.
- Be sure work crews are trained and competent.
- Keep children and non-workers off and safely away from harvesting equipment.
- Watch for overhead power lines when operating tall equipment.
- Have a safe harvest.

Goat show added to fair

A dairy goat show for junior and senior does has been added to the livestock judging calendar of the 66th annual Panhandle-South Plains Fair this fall.

Shiela Nixon of Hilmar, California, will judge the new competition, according to Steve L. Lewis, fair general manager.

Walter A. Brown will be show superintendent, Laura Faye Appleton, secretary and Ken Smith, ring steward. This show is sanctioned for Alpine, Nubian and all other purebred breeds by the American Dairy Goat Association and its rules will govern all phases of competition.

Only American Dairy Goat Association, American Goat Society and Canadian Goat Society registered, recorded or applied for animals may be shown in an official ADGA Show.

Non-returnable entry fees of $5 per head must be sent prior to September 20 to Mrs. Appleton at Route 1, Box 16, Abernathy, Texas 79311.

Showmanship judging is slated for 8:30 a.m. on September 24, date of the show and opening day of the eight-day fair run. Junior does will be judged at 9 a.m. and senior does will follow.

Groups to be judged by breed are junior get of sire, senior get of sire, produce of dam, best three females, dairy herd and dam and produce.

The premium list includes $10, $8, $6 and $4 for first through fourth spots in individual classes and $5, $4, $3 and $2 for group classes.

Cash awards of $50 and trophies will go to the best junior doe, best senior doe (best of the three grand champions of each breed) and best udder in the show.

Meanwhile, negotiations for top entertainers to open and close the 1983 exposition continue, Lewis said. Contracts for the September 24 and October 1 dates have not been finalized and will be announced as soon as they are completed.

However, the remainder of the card is firm, with Reba McEntire and the Maines Brothers scheduled to co-headline shows at 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. on September 26.

It will be the only show featuring an opening act. All others will be one-hour shows with no intermission at 7 p.m. and 9 p.m. daily. Those include Larry Gatlin and the Gatlin Brothers band, September 27; Ronnie Milsap, September 28; Conway Twitty, September 29 and Mel Tillis, September 30.

Tickets for all shows are $7 and $9 and may be obtained by writing to Show Tickets, P.O. Box 208, Lubbock, Texas 79408. Requests will be processed in the order in which received and orders will be filled after August 1.

Mail order requests must be accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope.
