The Elections held Saturday, April 7th resulted in an incumbent victory. The elections were held to fill two hospital board places, two school board places and three places on the city council.

The hospital board had two places to fill. Incumbents Claude Weathersbee and Aldine Williams won the election. Williams captured 679 votes in Floydada, 10 votes from South Plains, and 34 votes from Dougherty with a total of 723. Weathersbee received 646 votes in Floydada, eight votes from South Plains and 33 votes from Dougherty for a total of 687. Write-in votes were Joe Smith, 2; Robert (Shorty) Turner, 2; Selma Martinez, 2; and Panfilo Trevino, 1.

The Floydada school board filled two places with incumbents Bill Orman who received 648 votes and Harvey Allen who received 489. Other candidates were: Angelita Cortinas who received 207 votes, Bill Weir receiving 113 votes, Kenneth Pitts capturing 228 votes, and Freddie Morren who received 428 votes. There were 1105 ballots cast in this election.

The three places on the city council were filled in a very heavy voter turnout.

906 ballots were cast which is a possible city council election record. Incumbents Don Green and Leroy Burns will be joined by candidate Gary Carthel. Burns received 652 votes, Green received 638 votes, and Carthel received 654 votes. Eloy Felan, Jr. captured 246 votes and Tino Morales was awarded 275 votes. Write-in candidates were Oscar Garza who received 56 votes and Ginger Warren received 2.

The South Plains school board election had 10 ballots cast. Kelvin Cummings, Rogene Bethel, and Ira Henderson were the incumbents to fill the three places on the board. Each candidate received 10 votes.

The Dougherty school board election had 34 ballots cast to fill two places. Candidate Pam Overstreet received 14 votes. The second place was filled by write-in candidate Randy Pernell. He received 24 votes. Other write-ins were: Jerry McGuire with 12 votes, Ricky Pernell receiving 9 votes, Charles Overstreet with 3 votes, Randy Rainwater receiving 2 votes, and Pablo Torres and Mike Rainwater each receiving one vote.

MAYOR PARNELL POWELL administered the oath of office to the three new city council members in their regular meeting April 10th. Don Green, Gary Carthel, and Leroy Burns were elected to serve a two-year term in the city election held on April 7th.

Wood named principal

A new high school principal was named at Tuesday night's meeting. He is Ronnie Wood, who has been dean of Plainview High School for the past four years. He and his wife Dianne, who is an elementary teacher, were chosen by the PTA in Plainview this year as "Terrific Teacher." He was activity director and science teacher at Hereford immediately before. He had been with the schools there for 10 years. In the 1979-80 year he was chosen Hereford Teacher of the Year.

Wood was a 1963 graduate of Hobbs High School. He received a BA in Bible and History from Hardin-Simmons in 1968. In 1980 he received his Masters in Education from West Texas State University.

He and his wife have two children; a daughter, Melissa, 14, and a son, Kelly, 11.

His duties will begin June 15 at Floydada.

Other faculty members hired were Sharon Lockwood for high school math and computers. She has a master degree in math and comes to Floydada from Ralls after 10 years. Her husband has been teaching in the math department at Floydada.

Regenia Melton was hired as an assistant basketball coach. She will assist in tennis and girls track and some other duties at junior high. She has a degree in math and will graduate in May from West Texas State University.

The board then accepted the resignation of Claudia Dawdy who teaches fifth grade. Ron Dunaway, a high school science teacher, and Ellen Dunaway, who teaches third grade.

The board then decided not to elect new officers because Travis Jones was not present.

Business manager Tommy Cathey reported that as of March 31, the current amount of taxes collected were $865,528.38, which is 90.0%. The percent of taxes collected at this time last year was 88.5%. The amount of delinquent taxes if $28,778.22. Last years amount was $23,969.44.

Superintendent reported the next regular meeting will be held on Monday May 8 instead of Tuesday, May 7, due to the Baptist Senior Party.

A motion was then made by Don Hardy and seconded by Harvey Allen to cooperate federal funds with the Education Service Center for the block funds for Chapter II.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned.

Jail standards discussed

The Floyd County Commissioners met in a regular meeting on Monday, April 9, in the County courtroom. The meeting was called to order at 8:00 a.m. by Judge Choise Smith.

The first order of business was to pay the county bills. This was done with a unanimous vote from the court.

A motion was made by Commissioner Jack Lackey and seconded by Commissioner Bob Jarrett to change line item 15-610-450. It is to be increased $1800 and is to be taken from surplus. The vote was all for.

A motion was then made by Commissioner Thomas Warren and seconded by Jarrett to employ David Hart as a Deputy Sheriff. This is on the recommendation of Sheriff Fred Cardinal and will be effective as of April 6th. The vote was all for.

Commissioner Sam Spence made a motion to increase the food allotment one dollar to feed the prisoners in the Floyd County Jail. The increase would go from $4.50 to $5.50 for county prisoners. It would also go from $5.00 to $6.00 a day for out of County prisoners. This is upon the recommendation of Sheriff Cardinal and will be effective beginning April 1, 1984. This motion was seconded by Jarrett and was voted all in favor.

Sheriff Cardinal and Judge Smith then reported on the progress accomplished concerning the county jail inspection. Judge Smith, Sheriff Cardinal, and two commissioners will go to Austin to meet with the head of the Texas Jail Standards Board. This meeting is to comply with jail standards.

There being no more business, the court was then adjourned.

Floydada man draws 25-year sentence

Carlos Trevino, of Floydada, was found guilty Tuesday, April 10th in the 110th District Court with Judge George Miller presiding.

Trevino was indicted on November 22, 1983 for delivery of a controlled substance, namely heroine. The amount was less than 28 grams. He entered a plea of not guilty and has been held in the Floyd County jail for trial.

Trevino's lawyers were Sam Medina and Tommy Turner of Lubbock. The attorney for the state was Randy Hollums.

After deliberation the twelve person jury sentenced Trevino to 25 years in the State Penitentiary in Huntsville, Texas.

Trevino plans to appeal his case.

Chamber plans pageant

The Floydada Chamber of Commerce is making tentative plans to present a Miss Floydada Pageant on the night of Friday, May 25, which is the night before Old Settler's Day.

Whether the Chamber proceeds with the project will depend upon the number of girls who enter the contest. It was decided at a committee meeting on Tuesday, April 2, that a minimum of 15 contestants were needed.

Barbara Willis is in charge of distributing the application forms to those wishing to enter. There will be a $25 entry fee, which will be used to defray the expense of trophies, crown, decorations, printing, etc. To be eligible, contestants must be a student of Floydada High School next school term and must secure parental consent. Those who wish to do so may ask a merchant or an organization to be her sponsor and pay her $25 entry fee. The deadline for entry is April 16.

Impartial, out-of-town judges will conduct a private interview of all the contestants on the afternoon preceding the pageant. During the pageant, girls will model formal gowns and sports or casual wear. Although there will be no talent portion in the contest, the contestants as a group may perform a song-and-dance routine.

Trophies will be awarded to the top three contestants chosen by the judges. There will also be a plaque awarded to the girl chosen as "Miss Congeniality". The winner will be given a crown (which she may keep), a bouquet of roses donated by Williams Florist, the first place trophy, and will have her photo made by R Photography. She will also be presented in the parade on Old Settler's Day.

Other merchants who would like to contribute merchandise or gift certificates to the winner may contact Susan Garmis or James Williams. Girls who would like more information about the pageant, or who wish to enter, should contact Dana Stout, Barbara Willis, or James and Cindiann Williams.

Crusade slated Sunday

The local chapter of the American Cancer Society, through the help of many volunteers, will be conducting its annual residential drive this Sunday afternoon, April 15.

Edna Beth Tye, crusade chairman, reports that six neighborhood chairman will be leading their block workers in the door-to-door drive. The neighborhood chairman are Leora Younger, Pat Zimmerman, Anne Carthel, Jan Thayer, Kaye Orman, and Annie Taylor.

All workers will pick up their packets at 603 W. Mississippi, home of Judy Allen, ACS President, after 1:00 p.m. Sunday. Two weeks will be given for completing the campaign -- to allow for follow-up calls for those not home this Sunday.

Blair Davis is chairman of the business drive. He and his workers are already conducting the business drive.

Community chairman Norma Welch has a representative in each of the surrounding communities who will be making house-to-house calls in the Floydada area during the same time period.

The proceeds of the crusade will go for research, education and service. The ACS dollar in Texas is spent as follows: 28 cents for cancer research; 12 cents for professional education, fellowships and services; 27 cents for public education; 24 cents for service; 6 cents for program development and administration; and 11 cents for crusade materials. This amounts to $1.08 which reflects increased research allocations to Texas by our National Society.

Wyatt's art to be exhibited

The art work of renowned Western Artist, Kenneth Wyatt, will be on exhibit, April 17, through April 20, 1984 at the First National Bank in Floydada. All art work shown may be purchased and the exhibit is free to the public.

Wyatt of Tulia, Texas, is a Western Artist. But more than just a Western Artist, Wyatt is the West and has been all his life.

He is a premier artist and his works have been purchased by several celebrities and statesmen including Ken (Festus) Curtis, President Ronald Reagan, and Queen Elizabeth. Although Wyatt is tagged a Western Artist, he also paints beautiful landscapes and seascapes and other scenes from the past.

More than once, he has been asked the question: "When did you get started?" and "Why do you paint the West?" He always answers: (1) "When I was born!" and (2) "Because it's there!" And, he has been an influencing element to this area since his birth on July 17, 1930 in Wichita Falls, Texas.

Wyatt's dedication to his work and his lifestyle has led him to an interesting career that includes religion, public speaking, writing and art. He pastored a church at the age of 14. Since then, his pastorates have included a total of nine churches between 1944 and 1967. He is an ordained deacon and an ordained elder. Wyatt is a graduate of Stephenville High School, John Tarleton Junior College, Stephenville, McMurry College and did graduate work at Baylor University in Waco, and at Liff School of Theology in Denver, Colorado. Wyatt holds a Doctorate of Fine Arts from McMurry College.

Wyatt's representative, James Jolley, will be present to answer questions and guide the visitors through the exhibit. The exhibit will include oil paintings, sculptures in bronze and pewter, books filled with Wyatt's pictures and writings, and prints of his paintings.

Proposal on workers' compensation rulings explained by Senator Ray Farabee recently

Questions about the recent state district court ruling in Travis County that farmworkers cannot be exempted from workers' compensation protections and concerns about a proposal by a statewide committee on farmworker insurance were addressed Monday, March 26 by Senator Ray Farabee of Wichita Falls.

"Many people from the 30th District have questions about what the court decision will require of them. It is important to note that the court decision does not require farmers and ranchers to carry workers' compensation insurance on their employees. It does, however, remove important defenses employers have traditionally raised in lawsuits over farmworker injuries sustained on the job. This makes it easier to win a lawsuit against an employer and makes a suit against the employer harder to defend," Farabee stated.

Farabee said that before the February 23 ruling, farm and ranch workers in the state had the right to sue their employers for injuries received on the job but were required to prove that the accident had occurred due to the employer's negligence. Following the court ruling, workers are still required to prove that the employer was negligent, but traditional defenses, such as contributory negligence by the laborer, are no longer allowed.

The Senator noted that from a strictly legal point of view, the ruling has a narrow applicability at this time. Since there are about 365 district courts in Texas, and those courts are not bound by Judge Clark's decision, it is possible that cases in other district courts could be decided differently.

The Attorney General has appealed the case to the Court of Appeals. If the case is ultimately appealed to the State Supreme Court, the Court's decision will be binding for all of Texas, whether it affirms or reverses the district court decision. Because of the uncertainties of litigation for all sides, many would prefer to see this issue resolved by the Legislature.

The compromise legislation drafted by the Joint Committee on Farmworkers Insurance has been approved by most members of the Committee. Representatives of the Farm Bureau have not approved the bill. Senator Farabee outlined some of the major provisions of the compromise legislations:

*All migrant workers, those seasonal workers employed on truck farms, orchards and vineyards or those working for employers with payrolls greater than $25,000 in 1985, would be covered by the Workers' Compensation Act. The $25,000 threshold would be adjusted for inflation in subsequent years.

*Full-time workers would be covered by the Workers' Compensation Act, but their inclusion would be phased in over a ten-year period. Those working for a farmer or rancher with a gross annual payroll of greater than $100,000 in 1985, 1986 or 1987 would be added immediately. By 1995 all full-time workers would be covered, regardless of the employer's payroll. (Gross annual payroll does not include family members, partners or corporate shareholders.); and

*Migrant or seasonal workers covered by workers compensation would be prohibited from bringing suit against the owner or operator of the property for any injuries they may sustain.

In a recent State District court decision, Delgado vs. State, the court determined that farm and ranch laborers cannot be excluded from the Workers' Compensation Act. That ruling if upheld on appeal will change the way many farmers and ranchers insure their workers and will cause many who do not currently insure laborers to start doing so.

Concerns over this court decision and questions about a proposed bill dealing with farmworker insurance have prompted me to respond publicly to some of the most frequently asked questions. I hope that you find these answers informative and helpful.

What did the district court decision say?

Travis county District Judge Harley Clark held that it is "unconstitutional and unenforceable by law" to exclude farm and ranch workers and from workers' compensation coverage. This means that the current law excluding farmworkers from the Workers' Compensation Act is unconstitutional if Judge Clark's decision is upheld on appeal.

Does the new court ruling mean that farmers and ranchers employing laborers are required to cover their employees with workers' compensation insurance?

No. The decision places no requirements on farmers and ranchers, but removes defenses that they previously had been able to use if they were sued for injuries sustained while the employee was working for them. This change, coupled with the fact that there is no limit to the amount a farmer might be held liable for, creates strong incentives for farmers and ranchers to carry workers' compensation coverage.

What happens if employers don't carry the insurance?

If a worker is injured while working for an uninsured farmer or rancher, he/she may sue the employer. In order to establish the suit the farmworker must prove that the employer was negligent. Previously, the employer could raise "common law" defenses, such as the farmworker's contributory negligence. Those defenses have been removed by the court ruling, making it harder for an employer to rebut the negligence charge. Secondly, there is no limit on the amount that a farmworker can sue for. The bottom line is that farmers and ranchers have fewer defenses in injury suits and are not protected by any limits on the amount they could be sued and held liable for.

What are the changes that have been brought about under the new ruling?

As mentioned above, the main effect is that the defenses traditionally relied upon by employers have been removed. Now that farmworkers can be covered by workers' compensation insurance, there are really two possible situations a farmer or rancher can choose. One arises if he/she elects to cover his/her workers with workers' compensation insurance; the other situation appears if he chooses not to. The following chart shows the situation confronting an employer before the court ruling and those situations facing the farmers and ranchers now.

From the farmer or rancher's point of view, what are the trade-offs of getting the workers' compensation insurance coverage?

Workers' compensation insurance is more expensive than the employers' liability coverage that most farmers and ranchers carry, although rates will drop after May 1, 1984. The difference in cost varies depending on a mix of factors, including the type of worker insured (migrant and seasonal coverage is less expensive than full-time) and the employer's safety record. The cost is the factor that most employers will be looking at, at least initially.

There are some advantages to workers' compensation, however. The liability is limited by statute and is paid by the insurance company. The employer is not open to personal suit. If the employer is not covered by workers' compensation insurance, he could be sued for an unlimited amount, even opening the possibility of losing a farm (up to the homestead exemption) if the judge should find against him. Finally, the injured worker deals mainly with the insurance company and not the employer, so an employer should not have to spend much time in court or worrying about attorney's fees and court appearances.

From the farm and ranch workers' point of view, what are the trade-offs of workers' compensation coverage?

Coverage under the Workers' Compensation Act is a positive step for the farm and ranch workers as it provides them with an easier cause of action for compensation and a better chance of recovering damages. The trade-off for this change is the prohibition from filing suit against the employer and a limitation on damages. Farm and ranch workers will be giving up the possibility of large damage claims for a more certain and easier recovery of damages.

Is this decision final and binding, or can it be appealed to a higher court?

From a strictly legal point of view, the District Court decision has narrow applicability at this time. There are about 365 district courts in Texas. The decision by Judge Clark technically applies only to the actual parties in the case and is precedent at this time only for cases brought in Travis County. It is possible that cases in district courts in other parts of Texas would be decided differently.

The Attorney General has already appealed the decision to the Court of Appeals. If the case is ultimately reversed by the Supreme Court of Texas it would end up having no effect at all. If the case is affirmed by the State Supreme Court, however, it would then be binding for all of Texas.

Because of the uncertainties of litigation for all parties, many would prefer to see this issue resolved by the Legislature. Attorney General Jim Mattox has stated that appealing the ruling is an effort to give the Legislature some time to work out a compromise bill to include farm and ranch laborers in the Workers' Compensation Act.

What are the major provisions of the proposed compromise bill agreed to by some of the members of the Committee on Farmworkers Insurance?

The following are the major provisions of the compromise bill:

- *Farm and ranch workers are removed from the exemption under the Workers' Compensation Act;
- *Workers' compensation coverage is provided for migrant workers; seasonal workers employed on truck farms, orchards or vineyards; and seasonal workers for employers with payroll greater than $25,000 in 1985; (this figure will be adjusted for inflation in following years.)
- *Full-time workers employed by a farmer or rancher whose gross annual payroll is greater than $100,000 in 1985, 1986 or 1987 will be added. There is a ten-year phase-in of farms with smaller payrolls, so that by 1995 all full-time workers employed by a farmer or rancher will be covered regardless of the employers' payroll. (Gross annual payroll does not include family members, partners, or corporate shareholders.); and

*Migrant or seasonal workers who are covered by the Workers' Compensation Act are prohibited from bringing suit against the owner or operator of the property for any injuries they may sustain.

Floydada City Council installs new members

By Hope Warren

The Floydada City Council met in a regular meeting on April 10 in the council meeting room at City Hall. Members present were Mayor Parnell Powell, City Secretary Jimmie Lou Stewart, City Attorney Steve Hale, Frank Breed, Don Green, Leroy Burns, and new member Gary Carthel.

The meeting was called to order at 7:30 p.m. with an invocation given by Mayor Powell.

The first order of business was to approve the minutes of the previous meeting. After the council reviewed the minutes, a motion was made by Green and seconded by Breed for their approval. The vote was all for.

Jimmie Lou Stewart then informed the council that she had already canvassed the votes of the city election. This election was held to fill three places on the city council. This election was one of the highest in voter turnout. The total number of votes cast were 906. The election judge was John Key West. He was assisted by Adolfo Garcia. The three places were filled by Don Green, Leroy Burns, and Gary Carthel. There was a motion by Burns and seconded by Breed to approve the election returns. The vote was all for.

Mayor Powell then administered the oath of office to Green, Carthel, and Burns.

Cindy Dudley then met with the council to discuss the city summer baseball program. She reviewed last years program with the council and introduced new plans for this year. She plans to have dirt work done on the playing field. She also needs the no parking on grass rule enforced. The council discussed putting signs up to prevent parking on the grass. The council informed her that the light bill for the park lights was lower last year than in previous years. Mrs. Dudley then reported that the ice machine in the concession stand was broken. She had checked into prices and reported that a used machine would cost $630 with no guarantee, or one could be leased for three months from West Tex Beverage for $257. A motion was made by Burns and seconded by Carthel to lease the machine. Vote was all in favor. A motion was then made by Green and seconded by Burns to hire Cindy Dudley, a baseball coordinator, for three months. Her salary will be $2,000. The vote was all in favor.

Connie Galloway, who was representing the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, introduced a proposal to the council to put light on the Ralls and Lockney Highways as you enter the city limits. There would be 17 standard poles with two high pressure sodium lights of 50 watts. The state of Texas would furnish everything except the concrete at the base of the pole, underground wire, and labor. The cost for the state of Texas would be $26,000 but it was unknown what the city cost would be. The council decided to get an estimate before it made a decision.

A motion was made by Breed and seconded by Green to adopt a new Electric Rate Ordinance. The old ordinance had a change over tariff of $80 attached to it. This tariff was paid when a city resident or business changed from City Electric to Southwestern Public Service or vice versa. The new ordinance did away with the tariff. The vote was all in favor.

The council then decided with a motion made by Burns and seconded by Carthel to start taking bids on the airport construction work. The council was informed that the county and state funds are expected to be received within the next few days. They also learned the runways may need to be widened 10 feet. A favorable vote was cast to start advertising for bids.

A motion was made by Green and seconded by Carthel to go along with the recommendation of Daverman and Associates to change from 1200 kw demand to 1400 kw demand for the next 12 months. The power purchase is from SPS Co. The vote was all for the recommendation.

Vicki Rainer then met with the council. She is proposing a summer youth program. She would like programs of art and gymnastics at the Massie Activity Center, soccer, golf, and track offered throughout the summer. The council liked the idea but would need to put it in next years budget. The council asked her to come back when they are setting up the budget but will try for a few activities this summer.

A motion was made by Breed and seconded by Green to appoint C.J. Payne to a two year position on the Mackenzie Water Board beginning April 30. The vote was all for.

The council was informed that it was time to renew the city officials liability insurance. This covers the councilmen and all city employees. The annual premium is $1,339. A motion was made by Burns and seconded by Breed to renew the policy. A favorable vote was cast.

The council was then asked to consider property for demolition in the future for paperwork to be initiated. The council was not aware of any property but did discuss the Junk Car Ordinance. The council asked Steve Hale to check the ordinance. The council was asked by Mayor Powell to look for demolition property.

A motion was made by Breed and seconded by Carthel to authorize advertising a pick-up and two cars for sale. The vote was all for.

Steve Hale informed the council that Green and Carthel would need to sign a conflict of interest affidavit to make it legal for the city to buy goods offered by a business that a council member is affiliated with. The affidavit also secures that a councilperson cannot authorize payment or discuss options to buy from a business interest.

The council then decided to have Edd Henderson audit the books for the same price as last year.

There being no further business the meeting was adjourned.

Arts Assn. formation is possible in Floyd county

A small group of interested people from around the county met last Sunday afternoon to discuss the formation of a county-wide Arts Association. The proposed organization would be for anyone and everyone who enjoys or appreciates art in any form, (or who would like to develop a better understanding of the arts). The main purpose of the association will be to promote and encourage interest in all types of visual and performing arts throughout the area.

An ambitious calendar of events was presented for consideration which included drama (for adults and for children), musical programs, exhibits of varied types of art, contests, classes, mini-concerts in the park, a fund-raising auction, a consignment shop for area artists, etc.

The organization will be a division of the Floyd County Historical Museum Association, and as such will operate on a non-profit basis. An exhibit gallery, as well as space for classes and an office are planned, to be located in the presently unused portion of the Museum building.

The organizing committee was composed of: Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Wilson, of Lockney; Mr. and Mrs. Don Probasco, of South Plains; Mr. and Mrs. Doug Galloway, of Floydada; Mr. and Mrs. Carmel Eastham, of Dougherty; and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Hale, of Floydada. Each of these couples is planning to meet with friends and neighbors in their area to acquaint them with the plans and purposes of the Arts Association and to encourage their membership.

A general membership meeting is being planned for May 20th. Any who join before that meeting will be officially recognized as Charter Members of the organization. To join now, or for more information, contact Sara Probasco (983-3834).

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By Florence Van Hoose

Monday morning devotions were by Trinity Church. Ira Sullivan, Dartha Westbrook, Shirley Varner, Francis Rose, and Mary Poole sang with the residents. Then the Trinity Trio, Dartha, Francis, and Shirley, sang two special songs. I read the scripture and Francis had prayer with the residents. In the afternoon we enjoyed music therapy with Kim. Seventeen residents attended.

Tuesday morning devotions were by the Rev. and Mrs. Neeley Richardson. He spoke about How to Enter the Kingdom of Heaven. Fifteen residents attended. In the afternoon we had a good time of Bible Study. We studied about how Jesus reached out to others in Love and Compassion and talked about ways we can reach out to each other here in the Nursing Home. Ten residents attended. Alma Ruth Nelson had several visitors on Tuesday. They were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Nelson from Plainview, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Nelson from Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Thorton of Lubbock, Clara Patton of Amarillo and Mr. and Mrs. Will Hambricht of Floydada.

Wednesday morning devotions were by City Park Church of Christ. The singers were Perry Zumwalt, Lorilla Bradley, Elva Blum, Eunice Hardy, Ruth Walker, Beulah Baker, Mary Spears, Ruby Hartsell, and Eva Tackett. Perry Zumwalt spoke from Phillipians about forgetting those things that are past and reach forth to the things ahead. He challenged us to reach for those things that might seem to be unattainable at this time. His ministry was very inspiring. In the afternoon we played Bingo. Sue Thompson bingo'ed the most times and Ruth Benson, Lura Brashears, and Mrs. Bernie bingo'ed on the blackout game. Bananas and candy were the prizes.

Thursday morning at "coffeetime" we had a good time of socialization. Emmet Lawrence sang us a little tune, it went like this,

"Oh, if I had a needle and thread As fast as I could sew, I would sew you by my side, And down the river I'd go."

Emmet is 94 years of age and he still makes an owl every week, goes on bus rides, plays Bingo, and takes part in other activities of the Nursing Home. If you would like to purchase one of his owls they are available here at the Home for $12.50 each, and the money goes into the activity fund. Thursday afternoon we went on the bus ride. We went down thru Lakeview, into the canyon, and on to Crosbyton and bought everyone an ice cream cone. On the way back we drove around and looked at a house being built underground. That was very interesting to the residents. Those going on the bus ride were Lura Brashears, Emmet Lawrence, A.J. Huckabee, Beno Wilson, Ruth Benson and Iva Simpson. It was a beautiful day for an outing and we all enjoyed it very much.

Friday morning coffee time we had visiting with us Jessie Stewart, Mary Corley, and Nettie Adams. We enjoyed their company. Morning devotions were by Mary Corley and Nettie Adams. Mary spoke to us about Freedom in Christ. Seventeen were present. In the afternoon we made more bookmarkers in our craft class. The residents had just about given away all they had made.

Visitors have included: Charley L. Berry Sr., Winona Jackson, Hazel Bradley, Soila Reyes, Winnie and Ryeburn Neil, Deota Odam, Gladys Lawson, Doris Whitworth of Yantis, Texas; LaDonna Rosales, Mindy and Nicholas, Dorothy Neff, Ruby Gooch, Gladys Collins, Artie Webb, William C. Mooney, Springer, New Mexico; Estelle Eubanks, Ray and Lucille Nelson, Fred and Arlene Bradshaw, Mrs. Riley Teague, Ira Sullivan, Deota Odam, Beady Owen, Mrs. R.L. Neil, Edna Patton, Myrtice Rainer, Laura Turner and Brandy Martin, Lubbock.

Study Club remembers past April Fool kapers and jokes

The 1934 Study Club met Tuesday, April 3, in the home of Mrs. L.B. Stewart with Mrs. A.L. Wylie as co-hostess.

Roll call was answered with members telling of April Fool pranks that had happened. Several members remembered Helen Dunlap's kapers as she delighted in fooling her friends with pranks and jokes.

During the business meeting, presided over by Mrs. Bunch, the club voted to donate $50 to the Spirit of Sharing.

Mrs. Alan Benson then introduced the program by using descriptive adjectives using the person's name as she described her. Mrs. J.P. Moss was to bring the program and was absent due to the death of her son-in-law so members had to guess who Mrs. Benson described. Mrs. Simpson stated Mrs. Garland Foster who then brought a delightful program on "Lyndon Johnson - Hairdresser."

Lyndon Johnson, hairdresser, met Lyndon Johnson when he was vice-president. He was a beauty student at the time and the owner of the School, a friend of the Johnson's thought it would be a cute idea if one Lyndon Johnson presented the key to the city - Corpus Christi - to the other Lyndon Johnson.

So in 1961 at the age of nineteen the young flaxen blond hairdresser met the vice president and other national and local dignitaries. Both men came from pioneer Texas stock, grew up in small Texas towns, and each felt a destiny in life; one to be president, the other to be a hairdresser.

He now works at the St. Trapez beauty salon on Kirby Drive in Houston and plans his vacations to Acapulco, Monaco, the Caribbean, Spain and Portugal.

His average client comes in once a week for a shampoo and set and with extra a visit can be fairly expensive. "A Day of Beauty" which is the works will cost $190.

A delicious refreshment plate of ice cream, cookies, nuts and coffee or tea was served to Mmes. Milton Ashton, Alan Benson, W.H. Bunch, W.L. Davis, Dennis Dempsey, Garland Foster, Kyle Glover, J.S. Hale, Anthony Latta, Floyd Lawson, M.J. McNeill, W.O. Newberry, Vernon Parker, L.D. Simpson, G.W. Switzer, W.W. Trapp, J.R. Turner, Walton Wilson and Mrs. Burl Holt by Mrs. Stewart and Mrs. Wylie.

The meeting of April 17th will be in the home of Mrs. Wilson Bond.

TO CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY—Henry Ford, Sr. of Lockney will be honored with an open house for his 90th birthday Sunday, April 15, from 1-4:00 p.m. in his home, 520 Southwest 5th, Lockney. South Plains News

By Mrs. Murray Julian

South Plains, April 2nd:

This Tuesday morning is fair and cool after a lovely, wonderful rain and foggy weekend. We rejoice in a rain through two days last week-end, of about .80 total, and hopefully there will be more to help in the pre-watering of ground before planting time.

Wednesday, April 11, the Hobby Club of South Plains will have their April meeting in the home of Mrs. Sterling Cummings, who resides west of South Plains. Time is April 11, at 2:00 p.m. with Home Demonstration agent, Mrs. Mary True bringing the program for the afternoon.

Rev. Cecil and Joyce Osborne returned Saturday from Muleshoe, where they had visited in the home of her mother, Mrs. Corda Taylor, Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Osborne had spent the week before, down in Louisville, with the Osborne's children and families.

We offer our sympathy to the Marble families here on the death last Thursday in Weatherford of their cousin, Charles Byars. The funeral services were held at the White Funeral Home in Weatherford, on Saturday at 1:00 p.m. He had suffered a heart condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Don and Nancy Marble, Mr. and Mrs. Fred and Carolyn Marble and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Marble of South Plains went to Weatherford Saturday where they attended the funeral services for Charles Byar of Weatherford that afternoon. Attending the services were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Barber of Weatherford, who formerly lived here in Floydada and are well known. Carolyn and Fred spent Saturday night in Denton with the boys' sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. June and Marvin Wells, and they came back home on Sunday.

Mrs. Bonnie Moore, who formerly lived here in South Plains, has been in the Lockney Hospital from March 21st to 24th, and she went then to Plainview to spend from Saturday morning until Monday morning with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Herman and Mildred Thornton. She is home now and recovering from her recent illness.

Ray Smith is recovering from knee surgery which he underwent in Lubbock on Thursday of last week. His wife is well-known here at South Plains, as she formerly taught in the South Plains School. We hope he does well from the knee surgery.

Bill Staples, son of Mr. and Mrs. Annela and Howard Staples, and a junior in Floydada High School, won a trophy in the tennis tournament which was held last Friday and Saturday over in Denver City. Congratulations, Bill, on getting your trophy.

South Plains School will have its Easter egg hunt on April 19th, about 1:00 p.m. Pre-schoolers with their parents will be attending, also, and all the grades will take part in the egg hunt. This is sponsored by South Plains PTA.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan Kinnibrugh are going to Truscott this Tuesday to spend the night with his father, J.A. Kinnibrugh, and it is also the birthday of Sylvan's brother, John Kinnibrugh. They will be back home Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Fannie Bell McClure has been moved to Care Inn, which is near Evalina's, in Plainview and her son, Donald McClure of Houston, was here Friday to Sunday to visit his mother, and help get her settled in her new home.

South Plains, Monday, April 9:
Once again, the clouds and the firmament were so promising for rain, but we only had a little shower, and sprinkles around here. Today the wind is out of the east, so perhaps showers will come this week. The Saturday night clouds were so black, with lots of lightning.

The polls were open here at the South Plains voting place on Saturday with Mrs. Cecil Osborne and Mrs. Ruby Higginbotham presiding there over elections. School trustees already in office and new ones taking their place are Dwight Teeple, Rogene Bethel, Carlton Johnson, Howard Staples, Ira Henderson, Nathan Mulder, and Kelvin Cummings. President of trustees is Rogene Bethel, Dwight Teeple is vice-president, secretary is Kelvin Cummings, Carlton Johnson is in charge of buildings, Nathan Mulder is in charge of the kitchen, Ira Henderson is in charge of grounds, and Howard Staples is in charge of the buses.

We were glad to have Mrs. Peggy Roberts of Sterley and her mother Mrs. Epperson here at church services Sunday morning at the South Plains Baptist Church.

Seniors at Floydada High School in Floydada from the South Plains area in the spring graduating class are Stanley Sanders, Cindy Marble, Cindy Mulder, Raul Gonzales, Jr., Enrique Alvarez, and Mitzi Julian. Congratulations to each of them.

R.V. Bartlett of Fort Worth, brother of Mrs. Otho Sanders, died there in Fort Worth on March 30. His services were held in Fort Worth Monday morning, April 2nd, at 11:00 a.m. in the Greenwood Chapel. He was 67. Mr. Bartlett was taken to Wolfe City for interment. We extend our sincere sympathy to Mrs. Ophelia Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sanders and Layne, Mr. Roger Sanders of Cotton Center, and Mr. and Mrs. Iva and Curtis Sanders and Crystal who were all present for the services in Fort Worth. They went Sunday morning and returned Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan Kinnibrugh left here Saturday to spend the week-end in Iowa Park with their daughter Mrs. Marilyn Horne and Melissa. They went down in rain and report rain had fallen all around where they went. They came home Sunday night.

Mrs. Ruby Higginbotham went to Floydada Sunday to have dinner with her son, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Higginbotham, as they had all the members of their family home for the dinner with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Edith and Ray Dillard of Lockney were here at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan Kinnibrugh last Thursday night to have a birthday supper, celebrating the birthday of Edith Dillard.

South Plains Hobby Club members will meet on Wednesday, April 11, at the home of Mrs. Sterling Cummings who resides northwest of South Plains. Mrs. Mary True will be giving the demonstration, with the meeting taking place at 2:00 p.m.

Mrs. Dwight Teeple will be hostess at a Home Interior party on Thursday afternoon, April 12th, at 2:00 p.m.

Mrs. John Key West is home again after surgery in Lubbock. She is doing well after back surgery, and we all extend best wishes to her.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, in accordance with rules and orders promulgated by the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of a public hearing to begin at 10 a.m. on Monday, May 14, 1984, in the offices of the Public Utility Commission, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Austin, Texas, concerning proposals made by the company to add three optional services and delete two services from the list of local exchange services available to its Texas customers.

Proposed additions to the local exchange tariffs include an optional Local Measured Service under which all residence customers and single-line business customers could pay monthly rates less than flat rate for one-party service, with an additional charge for each completed outgoing call to be determined by the time of day, distance and duration of each call; and a subsidized LIFELINE local service to be made available to qualified individuals, as determined by the Public Utility Commission. The monthly rate for LIFELINE service would include an allowance of 25 outgoing calls per month, plus a charge for each additional call.

Proposed for deletion from the local exchange tariffs are one-element measured service offerings for residence customers and single-line business customers, but current customers would not be affected.

The company does not anticipate that these additional services will result in an increase in revenue to Southwestern Bell Telephone.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

Aviso al Publico

Por medio del presente aviso y en conformidad con las reglas y dictámenes de la Comisión de Servicios Públicos de Texas, la compañía Southwestern Bell Telephone anuncia la audiencia pública que se llevará a cabo a partir de las 10 de la mañana del día lunes 14 de mayo de 1984 en las oficinas de la Comisión de Servicios Públicos, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Austin, Texas, con respecto a la propuesta de la compañía, que consiste en agregar tres servicios opcionales y suprimir dos servicios de la lista de servicios telefónicos locales a disposición del usuario en Texas.

Las adiciones propuestas al arancel del servicio telefónico local incluyen un Servicio Medido Local opcional según el cual todos los clientes residenciales y los clientes comerciales con línea única pagarían tarifas mensuales menores que la tarifa fija para servicios de línea única, con un cargo adicional por cada llamada completa efectuada desde ese teléfono, establecido según la hora, la distancia y la duración de cada llamada; así como un servicio local subvencionado de LIFELINE que estaría disponible para determinadas personas, según lo establezca la Comisión de Servicios Públicos. La tarifa mensual para el servicio de LIFELINE incluiría 25 llamadas mensuales con un cargo adicional por cada llamada en exceso de 25.

Se propone suprimir del arancel del servicio telefónico local las opciones de servicio medido de un elemento para clientes residenciales y clientes comerciales con línea única, pero esto no afectaría a los clientes actuales.

La compañía no espera que estos servicios adicionales produzcan un aumento de ingresos para Southwestern Bell Telephone.

Toda persona que desee intervenir o participar en el proceso debe notificar a la Comisión lo antes posible. Las solicitudes de intervención, participación o información deben dirigirse a: Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Bits of Humor, Trivia, and an occasional Word of Wisdom

 Man over back fence to neighbor working away in his garden: "I had terrific luck with my garden this year...Not a thing came up!"

A great many prominent family trees were started by graft.
 Our forefathers ran a farm with less machinery than we use to keep a lawn.
 It is said that Americans squander ten billion dollars a year on games of chance. This does not include weddings, starting up in business, or buying used television sets.

According to a recent survey, there are only five real authorities on the game of bridge in this country. Odd how often one gets one of them for a partner.

Cheer up! These are the "good old days" you'll be sighing for about 20 years from now.

By Grace Lemons
 We only received .2 of moisture with the thunderstorms this weekend. At least it is trying and I am sure we will get some soon.

Easter Sunday at 2:00 p.m. there will be an Easter egg hunt at the Assembly of God Church grounds for all the children in the community. Bring some eggs and enjoy the hunt.

Sunday the 22nd at 6:00 in the evening, sandwiches will be served and followed by a film, "Sand Castles" at the Assembly of God Church. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Albert Mize Sunday. Grace Lemons visited them Thursday afternoon. Albert is doing about the same.

Janette Lackey who is a patient at the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock is on the critical list this week. Our love and prayers are with her and the family.

Grace Lemons was among those who attended the reception at the First National Bank Thursday honoring Mr. and Mrs. Ken Towery who have recently bought the Hesperian. Coffee, punch and cookies were served as the group visited and got acquainted with the new publishers. They are eager to have a better paper for the people of this area.

Edna Gilly visited Clara Tedd in Floydada Sunday.

Grace Lemons' brother, J.E. Anderson of Abilene is back at Lackland Military Hospital in San Antonio for another series of chemotherapy. His treatment began last Sunday and will be taking them for twenty-one days.

Mrs. Peat Kelley and Mrs. Belle Lemons visited Ernestine Gilly in Floydada Thursday afternoon.

Several from our community were in Floydada to vote on the school board and hospital board election Saturday.

Gladys Fortenberry flew to Lubbock from Oklahoma where she had been with a granddaughter, Pam and Jackie Hayhurst and Patsy Boone brought her home and spent Wednesday night with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Fortenberry.

If you cannot win, make the one ahead of you break the record.

Thank you to the voters in the Floydada Independent School District for your support and vote of confidence in the school board election.

Social Security

By Terry J. Clements
 People who get Social Security checks and who earned more than the annual exempt amount in wages from a job or in self-employment in 1983 have until April 16, 1984, to file an annual report of their earnings.
 The 1983 exempt amounts were $4,920 for people under 65 all of the year and $6,600 for people 65 or over any part of 1983. In general, a person has $1 in benefits withheld for each $2 of annual earnings over the exempt amount.
 The annual exempt amounts for 1984 are $5,160 for people under 65 and $6,960 for people 65 or over.
 A different test applies to people who get benefits because of disability.
 If you have a question concerning the annual report or any question regarding Social Security please call us at 293-4371. If you need to visit our office our address is 1401-B West 5th Street, Plainview.

Wheat crop check to determine topdressing

In areas where moisture is favorable, wheat is greening up rapidly. Now is the time to watch carefully for signs of insects, disease and nutrient deficiencies, cautions an agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

The dry fall and winter conditions have restricted growth, said Dr. Frnak Petr (cq), the agronomist. Consequently, not much nitrogen had been used and the incidence of wheat fields deficient in nitrogen may be less than in wetter seasons when more forage is produced and removed from the field of grazing, he said.

On the other hand, the increased cost of nitrogen plus the poor wheat prospects due to dry conditions last fall have resulted in many fields not receiving adequate fertilizer prior to planting. These are the fields to watch closely, he warned.

"Wheat foliage may appear light green when growth resumes after irrigation or rain if the weather is cool and cloudy. If this yellow-green color persists after several days of sunshine, you can be reasonably certain the condition is due to inadequate nitrogen," Petr said.

The presence of vigorous darker green wheat growth around cattle droppings and urine spots is added evidence that nitrogen is deficient. If the field had not been grazed, it is necessary to verify that the abnormal wheat foliage color is not due to disease.

Wheat streak mosaic virus has somewhat similar superficial symptoms, Petr said. "A close look at the leaves reveals an irregular mosaic or mottled pattern of yellowish and normal green if wheat streak mosaic virus is the problem."

Quite often the disease symptoms will be worse in the southwestern corner of the field where the virus-laden vector, the wheat curl mite, is carried to the wheat by prevailing winds. The presence of volunteer wheat, rangeland, or even a corn or sorghum field in the vicinity of the initial outbreak will aid in the confirmation of the diagnosis.

Dryland wheat fields that are deficient in nitrogen should be fertilized with 30 to 40 pounds of nitrogen, the agronomist said. Irrigated wheat fields that are showing nitrogen deficiencies symptoms should receive at least an initial application of 60 pounds of actual nitrogen. Under full irrigation additional nitrogen could be applied through the irrigation system.

The nitrogen can be applied in the dry form as ammonium nitrate, ammonium sulfate or urea. Nitrogen solutions can also be used effectively. Urea is usually less expensive than the other dry forms, but there is a risk of losing some of its nitrogen content when the urea is applied to the surface of moist clay soils, the Extension agronomist said. This loss is minimized if rain or irrigation occurs to move the urea into the soil shortly after application, he noted.

Topdressing or adding supplemental nitrogen to wheat should be done as early as the need is evident. Favorable response has been observed in the Texas Panhandle when the topdress applications was made as late as April 10 on dryland wheat.

In the Southern High Plains and Rolling Plains the topdress application should be completed by the end of March or earlier, Petr said. For irrigated water, earlier application of supplemental nitrogen would stimulate tiller production and possibly result in a greater yield response than if the topdressing were done after the tillers are formed. Midwinter and fall applications tend to stimulate vegetative production which could actually result in lower grain production on dryland if moisture becomes limited during the grain development period, Petr said.

"With the high cost of irrigation water, the importance of supplying enough nitrogen to the crop can not be over-emphasized. Nitrogen-deficient plants just will not yield well, even if ample irrigation is provided," he stressed.

He urged producers to obtain a soil test if in doubt regarding the nutrient status of cropland. "Your county agent has soil sample boxes and can mail samples to the Texas A&M soil testing laboratory serving your area," Petr said.

THE WINNERS of the Soil and Water Conservation Services contest were announced last week. They are: Cindy Mulder, (left), first runner-up; Karen Lloyd, winner; and Teresa Gentry, second runner-up.

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

An estimated 500 cotton producers and allied businessmen are expected to gather in Lubbock April 19 for the 27th annual membership meeting of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

The meeting will begin at 2:00 p.m. in the Banquet Room of Lubbock's Memorial Civic Center. Adjournment is scheduled for 4:30 p.m. Theme for the day will be "International Trade," with speakers keying on factors that affect the all-important export market for High Plains cotton.

Confirmed speakers on the program include M. Samuel Evans, Senior Commodity Analyst with USDA's Economic Research Service in Washington, and Robert J. (Bob) Boslet, President and Chief Executive Officer of Cotton Incorporated. CI has offices in Raleigh, North Carolina and New York City.

Tommy Fondren of Lorenzo, PCG President and General Chairman of the meeting, will give the President's annual report. The membership meeting will conclude with a report from PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson.

The 50-member PCG Board of Directors will convene at 5:00 p.m. for the election of 1984-85 officers. Current officers are Fondren, Vice President Gerald Caswell of Brownfield, and Secretary-Treasurer Bennie Claunch of Bula. Each of the three has completed two years in his current office and under PCG By-Laws none are eligible for re-election to the same position. Fondren automatically becomes Chairman of the Board, succeeding current Chairman Gary Ivey of Ralls.

Hightower plans bill hearing

Congressman Jack Hightower announced that two days of hearings will be held in the 13th Congressional District to give the public an opportunity to comment on the development of the 1985 Farm Bill now being planned by congressional committee.

Hightower, who will chair the hearings, has scheduled them for Monday, April 23, at 2:00 p.m. in Amarillo; and Tuesday, April 24, at 10:00 a.m. in Vernon. Both meetings will be held at the Texas A&M Research and Extension Center in those communities. Farmers, ranchers, agribusiness and all other interested representatives of farm concerns are invited to attend and testify, as is the general public.

"I want to give food producers and others in our part of Texas a chance to tell Washington exactly what they believe should be done to make our farm programs work better," Hightower said. "I will be taking the actual transcripts of everyone's testimony back to the full House Agriculture Committee, and it will become part of the record for the committee members to review as they develop the 1985 Farm Bill.

Individuals interested in testifying should provide a written copy of their testimony if possible. An official stenographer will also record testimony for eventual presentation to the House Agriculture Committee by Hightower. Those wishing to testify should contact the nearest Hightower District Office in: Amarillo, 806/376-2381; Vernon, 817/553-4321; Wichita Falls, 817/767-0541.

The number of people wishing to speak will be limited by the time available. Comments should be limited to no longer than ten minutes per person as much as possible.

Deadline for crop insurance announced

Decision Time On Crop Insurance
Some Texas Farmers have until mid-to late-April to decide on insurance for their 1984 crops. Although sign-up time is past for farmers in South Texas and in some other areas depending on the crop, farmers in central, eastern and far western areas have until April 14 to insure peanuts and until April 15 to insure cotton. Farmers in the plains and parts of north central Texas have until April 30 to insure cotton, but all other crops must be insured by April 15. Farmers can insure their crops for 50, 65 or 70 percent of the average yield and can select from several price levels, notes an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. Premiums depend on the percent coverage and price election as well as the risk area where the farm is located.

TDA to brief farmers and ranchers of ag bond benefits

Officials with the Texas Department of Agriculture will be in Lubbock on Friday, April 13 to meet with Panhandle area farmers and ranchers on how they can capture a greater share of consumers' food dollar through TDA's new Agricultural Development Bond Program. The meeting will be held in cooperation with the Texas Agriculture Extension Service.

Enacted by the 1983 Texas Legislature, Ag Bonds make low-interest loans available so that farmers and rancher-owned businesses can also process and market the raw agricultural products they produce.

Presently, raw agricultural products account for only 26-28 cents of consumer's food dollar, with the remaining 72-74 cents paid to the businesses which actually process and market the finished products. Most of these businesses are located outside of Texas.

Texas Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower says, "Our new Agricultural Development Bond Program is a sensible, inexpensive means of allowing farmers to help themselves. But it also has the clear public purpose of helping to lead a true, grassroots economic recovery in our state because of the jobs and new wealth that would be created by the additional food processing businesses."

"Panhandle commodity groups, vegetable growers and cattle ranchers can all benefit from this new program," says Sal Valdez, TDA's Director of Economic Development, who will conduct the meeting at Lubbock, along with Ag Bond attorney Katie Bond and a marketing specialist from TDA's Austin office.

The meeting on Friday, April 13 begins at 11 a.m. at the Texas A&M Research and Extension Service Headquarters, located one mile east of I-20 on FM 1492 in Lubbock. For more information about the meeting contact TDA's Lubbock District Supervisor, Lynn Kemper, at 806/799-8555.

Farmer reduce soil erosion

Farmers who took part in the U.S. Department of Agriculture's 1983 payment-in-kind programs reduced soil erosion by more than 20 percent on cropland taken out of production, Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block said.

Releasing a preliminary report on conservation benefits of PIK and acreage reduction programs, Block said soil erosion on an estimated 79 million diverted acres was lowered from an average of 7.4 tons to 5.8 tons per acre per year.

"That adds up to 121 million tons of soil that stayed on the land," he said. "While the chief goal of the PIK programs was to bring down production, other goals included reducing erosion on idle acres, improving wildlife habitat and conserving water."

The report, based on data from a sample of 4,300 farms in 227 counties, shows that about 35 percent of the diverted land provided suitable cover for wildlife. About 13 million acre-feet of water that would have been used to irrigate 8 million acres of cropland also were saved by the conservation use acreage programs.
