Students appeal to the ayatollah

The note: Students in Terry High School wrote letters to the Ruhollah Khomeini urging Iranian Moslem leader to free the Americans held hostage in the Embassy in Tehran. They felt that chances were slim of receiving mail, so they elected the ayatollah himself. All the students wrote the Iranian some of the better letters are here. The letters are addressed to Khomeini, in care of the Iranian Embassy in Washington, D.C.)

Dear Sir,
I've written this letter to you to talk about the American men and women you are holding hostage there in Iran. I don't think it's right for you to be holding Americans hostage, just because you want the Shah back. Well personally, I think you should let the hostages go, since we do not have the Shah in our country.
Respectfully yours,
Jason Duane Hill

I would like to express my concern for what has happened in Tehran. I feel that if your country wants the Shah back, they should take only legal action. The hostages would probably like to go home for the celebration of Christmas. I would like to thank you for returning the 13 hostages. This that you have done is absolutely absurd. So please, at least let them have a Christmas of their own.
Just please remember the people you have are from the land of the free home, the home of the brave.
Respectfully Yours
Susan Pinner

No injuries in turnover

An Oklahoma man escaped injury early Friday morning when his 18-wheeler overturned on Matador Highway about two miles east of Floydada. Joe Schowengerdt, 23, of Frederick, Ok., told Department of Public Safety troopers Keith Gross and Joe Lopez that he was approaching the city on his way to Lubbock with a load of cotton seed when the truck edged onto the soft shoulder. The steering spun out of control, Schowengerdt told the troopers, then locked. The truck began to skid in the soft dirt and overturned, spilling engine oil and cotton seed into the bar ditch. The two troopers remained on the scene to deter oncoming traffic away from the obstacle until wreckers were able to remove the truck. The driver of the truck did not receive a citation, according to Trooper Lopez.

Cotton crop poorer than expected

With the cotton harvest 98 percent complete, evidence mounted in Floyd County this week that local farmers would not fare so well this season as in past years. An informal survey of county gins revealed that the yield was less than expected, as was the overall quality of the crop. Estimates of the quality and quantity of cotton by ginners ranged from "not as good as last year" to "terrible." Floyd County extension agent Jett Major reported that area farmers planted a total of 241,000 acres in cotton this year. After the hail and rain earlier this year, only about 160,000 acres, or two-thirds of the total planted, reached the harvest. The north and west sections of the county suffered the worst losses from the bad weather, Major noted. The best yields came in from the southern part of the county, he said. "It looked good on the stalk," Major said Friday, "and I estimated that it would yield about a bale or a bale and a quarter to the acre, but actual yields are averaging a little less than a bale to the acre." "A lot of trash in the lint reduced the yields quite a bit," Major said. "It was certainly not an exceptional year. We had the darndest weather I ever saw this year. One punch after another really hurt the farmers." But there was a bright spot for some farmers. Many who lost their cotton crop early in the year switched their acreage to soybeans and produced a very good crop. According to Jett, farmers who made the changeover planted an estimated 60,000 acres of soybeans. The most soybeans reported planted in the past was in the neighborhood of 20,000 acres, Major said.

Dear Sir,
I'm from Lockney and I watch the news most every night and I've seen the hostages and the guards making sure no one comes in. As a Christmas home I would like to have the hostages home for Christmas and to have Christmas just like all other Christians. All the people you have as hostages have families too. How would you feel if you were captured by some other country and they wouldn't let you go for Christmas. How would you feel? If you think about it, you might remember what Abraham Lincoln said, "Those who deny freedom to others, cannot long retain it." I think that you probably don't want to have World War III just like we don't want to.

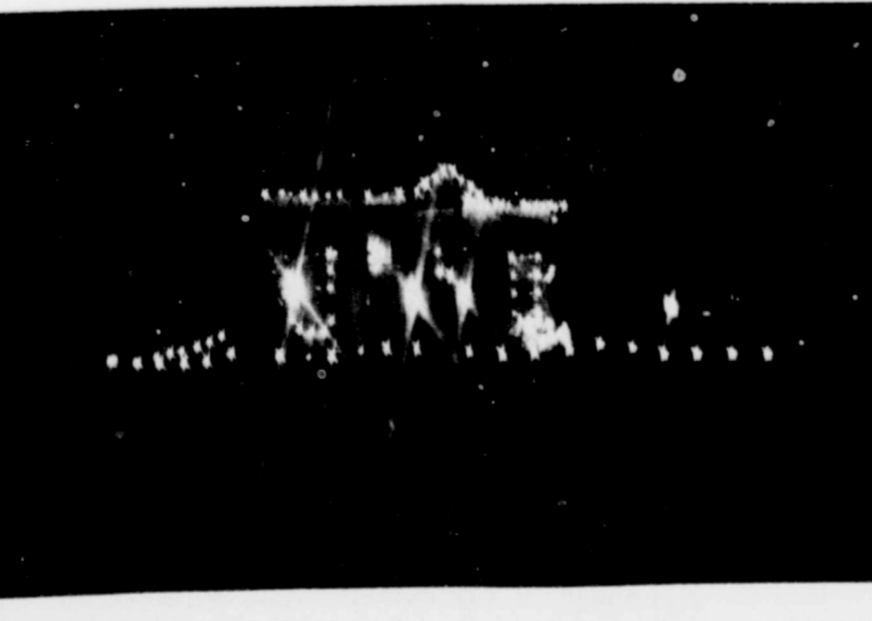

The families of the hostages and their parents are very worried. I'm sure, and I know they want them out, for all Christians. Please think about it. If you had Christmas you would want to be out. Please change your mind.
Sincerely Yours,
Shandra Bybee

Dear Sir,
In my opinion, what you are doing isn't very nice. Now, we haven't done anything as mean as this to you. God doesn't appreciate people who are mean. If you love God, you will want to go to heaven. I don't think that you should keep holding our innocent people hostage. How would you feel if we kept you hostage? I don't think you would enjoy it too much, now would you? All I can say is that your actions are very childish. May I ask you to at least give them a Christmas, mainly if you don't plan to let them go in time for Christmas. If you were a Christian you wouldn't like having Christmas all by yourself and they don't either. All I want for Christmas is for you to think twice about this whole mess and let all those poor, innocent, scared, and lonesome people go.
Respectfully Yours,
Angie Gaskins

Mama Mattie

I remember Mama
 So very well.
 Each day of her life
 Had a story to tell.
 She cared for Daddy
 As a good wife should do.
 But she also cared
 For Grandma, too.
 She did so at times
 When she was in pain.
 But she never
 Never did complain.
 A jolly, happy person
 Was she.
 And I can still hear her
 Tease and laugh with glee.
 Memories are treasures that
 We have to store.
 And I know you have
 So many more.
 So when you are lonely
 And feel so sad,
 Think on memories and
 Be very glad.
 Her life was pleasant
 Her life was rare,
 Now she's in Heaven
 With no pain or care.

Longhorns lose double overtime

High School's Hustin finally bowed 66-61 to Mulehorn Mules in a double-overtime game Thursday night in the gym. The score was tied at the end of regulation and at 57 at the end of the first overtime period.

"Both teams played a super game," Lockney Coach Koester said. "Both teams were all out, and all the kids enjoyed the contest," he added. "It was the best game of the year."

Four of the five Lockney starters scored in double figures. Jeffrey McCormick was high for the 'Horns with 21 points. Arnold Alaniz and Steve Warren managed 12 each, and Nick Christian netted 10. Mike Northcutt led the Mules with 28 points (18 in the first half), and James Atwood scored 13.

The kids played hard and well.... We just didn't hit the basket at the right time," Koester declared.

Lady Horns beat Mules

Lockney High School girls' team turned in their best performance so far this year Thursday night when they defeated Muleshoe 44-37 in a double overtime game. The Muleshoe team set an 11-1 record going into the game and they'd defeated "...some good people," Sharp said. "...it's fortunate to win the game.... it is one of the better teams we've had all year."

The Lady Horns break until after Christmas. At 4 p.m. December 27, they play Pampa in the first round of the Slaton Tournament.

attempts and hit 67 percent from the line.

"We finally put together four quarters of good basketball by all five people," Sharp said after the game. I thought our post people did a good job of defending their big (6-1) people."

Rebecca Evans, with 16 points, led the scoring. Julie Frizzell scored 10, Penny Sterling and Tammy Hayes six each. Shelly Dunham paced Muleshoe with 13 points.

Lady Horns win JV game

Lockney junior varsity girls edged Muleshoe's JV team 42-41 in basketball Thursday afternoon. The game was close all the way. The Lady Horns were ahead at the end of each period. (12-10, 20-18, 27-27.)

Probably Lockney's best game this year, coaches said. The JV team girls showed a lot of poise when it got close.

Rhonda Brotherton scored 16 points, high for the game and a career high for Brotherton. Patricia Torrez put in 12 for Lockney. Kay Reay added six. Gingie Wilson netted four, Elizabeth Mathis notched three points, and Martha Gonzales got one.

Boys outscore Mules

Lockney junior varsity outscored Muleshoe's JV team 56-36 here Thursday afternoon. Junior McDonald scored with 21 points. McDonald and Phillip Kidd were top Lockney scorers. Tyke Dipprey went five-for-five at the free-throw line.

Coach Greg Fuiten said he was very pleased with the impressive win, the fourth victory of the season for the JV boys.

A Muleshoe-Lockney rematch is scheduled January 3, when the Longhorns travel to Muleshoe.

More letters to Khomeini

Dear Sir,
I am writing this letter because I feel very strongly about this situation in Iran. I am not trying to make anything worse, but I do care very much about what is happening to the hostages in Iran.

I would like to know all about this situation and how it got started. I don't think any of this is right. Why would you take innocent people just because of the Shah. You accuse him of stealing money, and all kinds of things that you say belong to you. Well, the Shah has the right to take anything because he owns Iran. Practically everything in Iran belongs to him.

President Carter is really trying to negotiate with Iran but you just want the Shah. I really do respect you, but this really does bother me.

The hostages in Iran really want to come home. I wish that all of the hostages were free and I also wish we could come up with a solution to all of this.

Respectfully yours,
Veronica Martinez

Dear Sir,
I am behind the United States government all the way.

You have no right to hold Americans hostage, because they did not do anything to Iran. In other words, it is not right at all. You should not try to kill the Shah. All he tried to do was to bring airplanes and cars and other things into Iran. "Please let our people go!"

I don't think you are a good religious leader. All you are doing is leading Iran's people into wanting to kill the Shah. The Shah did do a few wrong things, but not as many as you and your followers think so. The Shah is dying of cancer, even if Iran and its people don't think so. If you have "murdered" any Americans or Iranians, it is a sin here in the United States and you will be punished and no one else.

Sincerely yours,
Terri Hill

Dear Sir,
I would like to requote one of Abraham Lincoln's most famous quotes for your benefit, "Those who deny freedom to others, do not deserve it themselves, and cannot long retain it." So I'm asking you to let the hostages go and forget about the Shah. What's past is past. If the Shah is returned to your country, you would kill him anyway, and I don't think that's right. If you were to kill or hurt the hostages or even put them on trial, you could possibly start World War III, and nobody wants that to happen.

Respectfully Yours,
Paul Castro

Dear Sir,
Everybody here in school and the United States thinks you are doing something wrong. I think so too, because I watch the news everyday. Our government is trying their very hardest to think of a solution. In Iran you are breaking the International law which I'm sure, you don't care about. We cannot run the Shah over to you and your people. The government in the United States cannot do that. I hope you understand my letter, and I hope you and the United States work something out. I'll continue to watch the news.

Respectfully Yours,
Evelia Elias

Dear Sir,
I think this country and your country have enough problems without your people causing this trouble with the American hostages. I don't see what all of this is solving. The Shah isn't in American anymore, and even if he was, nobody could make him go to Iran. Because this is a free country, we can't force anybody to go anywhere. I don't see why you should hold innocent people responsible for something our country can't do anything peacefully about. We've tried to deal peacefully with you. I think it's about time you let them go. They've suffered enough. As Abraham Lincoln would say "Those who deny freedom do not deserve it themselves and cannot long retain it."

Sincerely,
Crissy Carthel

Dear Sir,
I think the situation in Iran is a very bad example on your country. The way you're treating the Americans there is definitely not the way we're treating your people here. I would like to know, why did the students only take a certain group of Americans and not all of them? I hope that your next move is the right move, in not hurting any of the hostages.

Respectfully yours,
Marie Hernandez

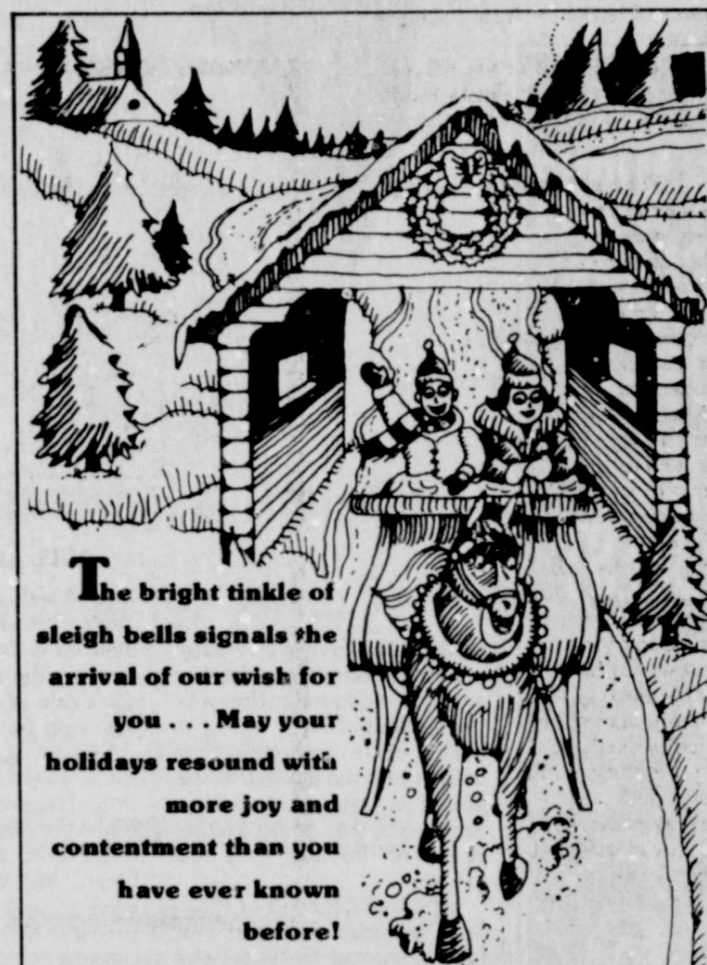

Dear Sir,
I think that your being unfair by letting those students continue to hold our American people. In case you didn't know, you're breaking international law. As Abraham Lincoln once said, quote, "Those who deny freedom to others, do not deserve it themselves, and cannot long retain it." If you continue holding the hostages, you may have to find that out the hard way.

I'm sure sir, that Muslims have religious holidays just as we do. On December 25, we celebrate the birth of our lord and giving the hostages their freedom would be the best Christmas present you could give to those hostages and the people of the U.S.

I hope you can see my point.
Respectfully yours,
Stephanie Bybee

Miss Howard, Reid married in Lubbock

Miss Kathryn Suzanne Howard became the bride of Allen Reid on Friday November 23 at 7:30 p.m. in the Melanie Park Baptist Church in Lubbock. Brother Hardy officiated at the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Howard of Floydada. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. B.C. Bennett of Lubbock.

The bride was escorted down the aisle by her father. She wore a formal length gown of white embroidered lace with long cathedral train, fitted bishop sleeves and square neckline. She carried a bouquet of one dozen tiny red roses, trimmed with miniature white mums, baby's breath and white lace.

"Something old" was a three strand pearl necklace belonging to the bride's mother. She borrowed a ruby red ring from Nancy Barker and her wedding attire was "something new."

The bride presented her mother and the mother of the groom a miniature yellow rose as she was being escorted out of the church by the groom.

Mrs. David Barker of Floydada was maid of honor and Linda Crass of Lubbock was bridesmaid. They wore identical burgundy floor length dresses and carried bouquets of roses and mums.

Rick Perkins of Oklahoma was best man and Gary Perkins of Lubbock was groomsman.

Ushers were Eugene Howard, brother of the bride, and Scott Hardy of Lubbock.

Organist was Jerrie Proctor. Soloist Mark Hardy sang "The Wedding Song," accompanied on his guitar.

Candlelighters were Deanne Howard, sister of the bride, and Sheryl Bennett, sister of the groom.

Decorations of the church included a large white unity candle at the center of the altar on a gold candle stand with fifteen small white candles on a large gold stand forming the background. On each side of the altar was a basket of freshly cut flowers.

Special guests attending from Floydada were Mrs. Dan Hagood, Mrs. Ralph Rucker, Mrs. Randy Bertrant, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lloyd, Mr. and Mrs. David Barker and Mrs. Lloyds' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kee-see of Lubbock.

El Progreso members enjoy Christmas party

El Progreso Study Club members met in the home of Mario Brock recently for the club Christmas party.

Delicious refreshments, made by Hazel Johnson, were served as the guests arrived.

After Pauline Sams told the Christmas story "The Raggy Cloak," gifts were exchanged with secret pals.

Those present were Ann

L.C.C. Associates have Christmas party in Smith home

The Lockney L.C.C. Associates had their Christmas party on December 17 in the lovely home of Dorothy Smith. The meeting was opened by everyone drawing a scripture and then reading it to everyone else. There was no business to discuss.

Janie Carter read an entirely different version of "Twas the Night Before Christmas." All those present contributed to the story. Gifts were exchanged in the traditional manner by drawing numbers and then choosing the gift. Everyone always looks forward to this. All kinds of Christmas goodies were served along with hot punch and coffee.

"Merry Christmas" was wished by all present to all present, who were: Alma Baxter, Cheryl Bradley, Faye Sams, Tommie Williams, Wynona Allison, Mary Glenn Degge, Mavis Reecer, Janie Klein, Myrl Wolford, Annabel Bramlet, Leo Montandon, Cindy Ward, Carol Huggins, Miss Carter, Mrs. Smith, and guest Carolyn McDaniel.

Susan Savage, Donald Hyepock Wed

Susan Diane Savage became the bride of Donald Monroe Hyepock on December 3. The bride is the daughter of Jessie Savage of Lockney. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Hyepock of Bonham.

The 1:30 p.m. ceremony was conducted in the groom's parents' home. The maid of honor was Donna Hyepock, and the best man was Jerry Hyepock.

The bride's sleeveless dress was made of white chiffon with a V neck. She borrowed a fingertip veil from her sister, Elizabeth. Her something new was a heart locket, a gift from the groom. She carried a bouquet of white silk daisies and yellow rosebuds.

After going to Dallas for their honeymoon, the newlyweds are making their home in Greenville.

Saving Energy

Reduce Hot Water Consumption . . . One easy method of reducing hot water consumption in your home is to wash only full loads of laundry. Also, use water level or load size devices on your clothes washer.

FTA Christmas party held in Melanie Foster's home

The Lockney Future Teachers of America held its annual Christmas party Monday night at the home of Melanie Foster. The party was planned by Melanie and her committee members, Rhonda Brotherton, Gingie Wilson, Devra Baker and Tammy Williams.

FTA members enjoyed playing games in the basement before and after eating goodies brought by the members.

The FTA members and their sponsor, Mrs. Tommy Sherman, would like to thank the Fosters for their hospitality.

Roy Clark is set to act as one of the hosts for 'The Sensational, Shocking, Wonderful, Wacky '70s,' a two-hour NBC-TV special airing New Year's Eve.

The show, produced by Dick Clark, recaps the 'decade without an identity,' looking at not only the entertainment side, but the news events, the heroes, and those who have left us during the '70s.

On a recent appearance on 'The Tonight Show,' Roy Clark commented on some of his earlier hit records. Many of our readers have asked about a source for those first hit recordings. The Roy Clark Collection—two complete albums of Roy Clark hit singles on one eight track tape—is available along with an 8 x 10 photo and a career bio sheet, for $9.95 postpaid from Writers Country Enterprises, Box 2112, Asheville, N.C. 28802.

TERRI MARQUIS

Artist of week is Terri Marquis

Terri Marquis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Marquis, is artist of the week at Art Southwest in Floydada. A landscape she painted in oils may be viewed this week in the studio/gallery. She has been taking lessons from Winnie Cartheil for about six months.

Terri is a freshman at Floydada High School. Among her hobbies are playing basketball and the piano. She has a brother, Troy, who is a senior at FHS.

Reinforce school education

Include a variety of nutritious foods in planning meals at home, advises a foods and nutrition specialist, Mary K. Sweeten, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Children are better able to retain nutrition knowledge learned at school when it is reinforced by favorable nutrition practices in the home, she points out.

Media Center First Baptist Church Floydada

BY BETH PRATT

Slow down and read a special story to your children during the holiday season. The Mysterious Star by Joanne Marxhausen is a tender story, aglow with mystery and wonder. It enlightens the heart with the true meaning of Christmas.

Christmas stories are available in the media center. Select one that will add to the joy of the season. The time you spend to read a story to your children may well be the most significant gift you can give them.

As Jamie's father reads the Christmas story, Jamie runs to the window and looks for the Christmas star. Jamie's father tells him that if he keeps looking he will find the star, but not in the sky.

The next day Jamie begins his long walk to find the star. Along the way he finds others in need: a friendless little girl whom he comforts, a lonely old man on a park bench with whom he shares his peanut butter and jelly sandwich, and others in need to share his love. It will warm your heart to see that in giving himself to others, Jamie does indeed find his star.

Both programs of Christmas music presented by the adult choir and the children's choirs last Sunday will be available in the media center. We are adding these to our permanent collection of cassette tapes because of the excellent quality of both programs. Those of you who missed either of the services can find out what you missed by checking out these tapes.

In January and February we will be doing an inventory in the media center. A nice Christmas present for the library staff would be the return of all overdue media. It would certainly simplify the inventory procedure. We also will welcome volunteers to help with this inventory.

Raising our voices in a song of thanksgiving for this festive season and our lasting friendship

The Senior Citizens met Thursday December 20 for their Christmas dinner. There were 73 members, one new member and 19 visitors.

The program was presented by a chorus from the Della Plain community directed by Mrs. LaVada Garrett, a teacher from junior high school. Participating were Annie Taylor, Gertie Campbell, Goldie Jacobs, Lou Williams and Tarvia Williams. A poem was read by Lou Ann Williams.

Following the program a bountiful meal was enjoyed by the group and gifts were exchanged before the meeting was adjourned.

The Senior Citizens wish to express their sincere gratitude to all the citizens of Floydada who have taken time and effort to bring programs and entertainment to them during the past year. Also a special thanks to those who gave gifts and donations to the fund drives.

NEEDLEWORK NEWS & NOTES

Quilt Care

Careful laundering, proper storage and attention to repairs will prolong the life of quilts and quilted items. To wash a quilt by machine, use a mild detergent and gentle agitation. Avoid bleach, harsh detergents or too much detergent because chemicals weaken textiles. Do not spin dry. This strains the stitches.

Store quilts by rolling them up in clean sheets. Don't use plastic; it doesn't breathe.

Beef producers to vote on research program

Beef producers will vote early in 1980 on whether they want a nationally coordinated beef research and information program.

The upcoming referendum was announced today by assistant secretary of agriculture P.R. Smith. He said beef producers will be asked to register for the referendum between Jan. 28 and Feb. 6.

They'll vote by secret ballot Feb. 19-22.

The order issued by the Department of Agriculture authorizing the program provided for a beef board of up to 68 producers to administer the program. There would be as many as five non-voting consumer advisors to the board.

Each state or geographic area would be represented on the board in proportion to its share of the U.S. cattle industry.

The program would be funded by assessments based on the value of cattle sold. During the first two years of the program, assessments could be up to two-tenths of one percent of the value of cattle sold (20 cents per $100).

After two years, the board could recommend an increase up to five-tenths of one percent of the value of cattle sold (20 cents per $100).

After two years, the board could recommend an increase up to five-tenths of one percent.

All sellers in the marketing chain would be assessed. The buyer at the point of slaughter would deduct the total assessment and forward it to the board. Any producer could request and receive a refund of the assessment paid.

Ray Fitzgerald, administrator of the department's Agricultural and Conservation Service, said his agency will conduct the referendum. The department's Agricultural Marketing Service would monitor the program.

Rules for registering and voting in referendums have changed, noted Fitzgerald. He said the department determined that 10 days (8 working days) would be sufficient for all producers to register and that the four-day voting period would result in a more efficient voting procedure and reduce administrative costs.

A similar order, issued in 1977, although favored by 56.4 percent of voting producers, did not receive the required two-thirds approval. Since that time, the Beef Research and Information Act has been amended by Congress so that a majority of producers will be sufficient for approval of the order.

Following the change in legislation, beef industry organizations proposed a new order. A public hearing has been held in five locations. Based on the hearing testimony, the department issued a recommended decision and order in September.

Comments were accepted for 45 days and were considered in developing the order announced today.

Producers may register and vote at local ASCS offices. Registration and voting can be completed by mail if information and ballots are requested in advance.

The order and notice of referendum is scheduled for publication in the Federal Register Dec. 14.

Copies of the order can be obtained from the Livestock, Poultry, Grain and Seed Division, AMS, Room 2610-S, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

Referendum rules can be obtained from local ASCS offices or from the Emergency and Indemnity Programs Division, ASCS, Room 4095-S, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

Farm Bureau Facts

INTEREST RATES

In November, the Farm Bureau Report quoted an article from DO-ANE's AGRICULTURAL REPORT to the effect that state usury laws limiting interest rates charged by state banks in Arkansas, Texas, and California had been pre-empted until July 1981 by a law signed by President Carter on November 5. However, it appears from studying the text of the law that it would apply only in Arkansas.

This is because the law pertains only to states having a constitutional provision that all contracts for a greater annual rate of interest than 10 percent shall be void. Arkansas is the only state with such a provision. The Texas Constitution specifies in Article 16, Section 11 that the legislature shall fix maximum interest rates, with the 10 percent annual limit applying only where the legislature is silent. Therefore, Texas interest rate ceilings on agriculture loans are not affected by the new federal law.

FARM PROGRAM COSTS

Printed on pages 292-293 is the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Commodity Credit Corporation's annual report for the fiscal year ending on August 31, 1979. The purpose of this article is to provide information to county Farm Bureau members as to the reported cost of agricultural programs.

The reported cost of all the programs for the fiscal year ending on August 31, 1979, was $4,727,975,980 which is 97.69% of the $4,840,016,103 reported for the fiscal year ending on August 31, 1978. These figures include storage, handling, transportation and sales expense.

Net inventory loss for the current fiscal year was $333,360,099 including $119,096,845 donated commodities. Losses related to the total dairy products inventory $204,721,202 in 1979 is 61.4% of all inventory. Total dairy products inventory $139,619,960 in 1979 is 61.4% of all inventory. Total dairy products inventory $139,619,960 in 1979 is 61.4% of all inventory.

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

The Cotton Subcommittee of the House Agriculture Committee December 29 will hold what has been referred to as "all-purpose" hearings in Lubbock. Hearings will begin at 9 a.m. in Lubbock's Civic Center and must be concluded by 1 p.m. to allow subcommittee members to meet plane schedules. Witnesses are being asked to limit oral statements to 10 minutes each.

Subcommittee Chairman David Bowen, Democrat of Mississippi, has said the committee expects to hear comment from all segments of the industry on "administrative and legislative effectiveness in handling the current cotton program, with emphasis on target price, loan and set-aside decisions; expansion of U.S. cotton export markets and future opportunities in this area; the farm structure issue, on which hearings now are being conducted by USDA; the impact of government regulations, such as OSHA cotton dust standards, and the need for continuing government research efforts to meet problems such as cotton dust, poor yields and energy shortages."

legislative and other policies previously adopted by its 53-man Board of Directors.

PCG President Joe D. Unfred of New Home has called a meeting of the organization's executive committee for December 18, at which the principles of established PCG positions will be used as the base for formulating a comprehensive statement.

At its most recent meeting the PCG Board voted to recommend to USDA (1) a 15 percent voluntary set-aside with set-aside payments sufficient to attract producer participation, (2) loan and target prices at the highest levels permitted by law, (3) new legislation that will prevent the loan in 1980 from falling below the 50.23-cent level of 1979, and (4) continuation of loans on seed cotton stored in ricks or modules.

The Board also approved a proposal that would allow the Commodity Credit Corporation commercial export sales program to become self-supporting instead of depending on annual appropriations to provide funds for credit to finance agricultural exports. This could be done by allowing loan repayments, which now go back to the U.S. Treasury, to go into a CCC capital credit account and be used for future loans.

Under "other matters of concern," the PCG statement is also expected to reiterate its board resolution expressing strong support for Cotton Incorporated.

NAMES COUNTY COMMITTEES

ASCS reports on agricultural stabilization

COTTON DISASTER: If, because of weather conditions, your farm did not make a good crop, you may be eligible for a low yield payment. An application must be made within 15 days after harvest on each low yielding farm and while the crop residue is still apparent.

COTTON PRODUCTION: ASCS-503 cards were mailed to all farm operators. Please take these to your gin and get them filled out. Check the number of bales and total production. Sign them and bring them to the ASCS county office soon.

SMALL BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION: Producers who have sustained economic losses from natural weather disasters and who are interested in an SBA loan, may visit the SBA Satellite Office in Floydada at the Farm Bureau Office each Thursday from 1:00 P.M. until 3:00 P.M.

LONG TERM AGREEMENTS: A sign-up period for LTA applications has been set for January 14 through 18. This is for long term conservation contracts not to exceed 5 years. The same practices as the ones listed under our regular ACP will be cost-shared.

WOOL INCENTIVE PROGRAM: If you have sold any wool or unshorn lambs this year, you should bring in your sales invoices now and file for your incentive payment. January 31, 1980 is the final date for applying for 1979 marketing incentive payment.

1980 ANNUAL PROGRAMS: The ASCS has the following programs available in Floyd County: Agricultural Conservation Program, CCC Loan Program, Bee Indemnity Program, Emergency Feed Program, Wool Incentive Program, Feed Grain, Wheat and Upland Cotton Program, Peanut AA and MQ.

HOLIDAYS: This office will be closed Tuesday December 25 in observance of Christmas Day and on Tuesday January 1 in observance of New Year's Day.

ELIGIBILITY FOR PARTICIPATION: Eligibility for participation in all programs administered by ASCS is established under law without regard to race, color, religion, sex or National origin.

COMMITTEE ELECTIONS: Effective January 1, 1980 the County and Community Committeemen are as follows:

"C" COMMUNITY: Edwin E. Teeter, F.L. Montandon, Jr., Oscar Golden.

Cotton Today

COTTON HEARINGS SET: The House Cotton Subcommittee will hold field hearings on "the state of the industry," Chairman David Bowen (D-Miss.) has announced. Schedule is as follows: Dec. 27, 10 a.m., High School Auditorium, Greenwood, Miss.; Dec. 29, 9 a.m., Civic Center, Lubbock, Tex., and Jan. 4, 9:30 a.m., Picadilly Inn, Fresno, Calif.

1,567,900 a year ago.

SENATOR TO ADDRESS NCC MEET: The ranking minority member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, Sen. Jesse Helms (R-N.C.), will address National Cotton Council delegates at New Orleans next month. Helms practiced a successful career as a journalist and broadcaster before beginning his first term in 1973. NCC's annual meeting is set for Jan. 27-29 at Hyatt Regency Hotel.

EXPORTS CONTINUE STRONG: Sales of 263,700 running bales of upland cotton during the week ended Dec. 2 brought the season's total to 7,234,100. China purchased 122,200 bales for 1979-80 to bring its total commitment for the year to 2,117,400. Other major buyers were Taiwan, 28,200 bales; Japan, 27,700; and Hong Kong, 25,000. The week's exports of 170,600 bales were the highest this marketing year, pushing the season's total to 1,878,000, compared with

CLINE TO CHAIR MEET: Lloyd Cline, Lamesa, Tex., cotton producer, will serve as general chairman of the 1980 Beltwide Cotton Production-Mechanization Conference January 9-10 in St. Louis. The meeting is sponsored by the National Cotton Council in cooperation with other groups.

AND COTTON YESTERDAY: Cotton was grown in China as a decorative plant in 700 A.D.

Research News Report

Growers who want to know the latest research information about energy use and production in agriculture will want to mark their calendars for February 14, 1980. That day marks the Annual Crop Production and Utilization Symposium at the Texas A&M Research and Extension Center at Amarillo, according to Dr. G.B. Thompson, director of research. The event will start at 9:30 in the morning and continue until 3:50 in the afternoon.

The keynote address will be "Energy...What Lies Ahead," by T.B. Pickens, president of Mesa Petroleum.

According to Dr. B.A. Stewart, research director at the USDA Agricultural Research Center at Bushland, the rest of the program will be presented by USDA and Texas Agricultural Experiment Station scientists, and Texas Agricultural Extension Service specialists, but not at Bushland, Amarillo. Subjects to be discussed include: Energy Use in Agriculture, Capturing the Energy, Efficiency, Pumping, Fertilizers and Energy, Energy Use in the Home, Energy Use in the Farm, Energy Use in the Business and Service Industry.

Dr. Paul Luper, co-chairman of the committee, says "The symposium will bring together the best of energy research in Agriculture, from insights gained from the Symposium,"

Bentsen beef import bill okayed

Washington, D.C. — The Senate Finance Committee on Thursday approved the Bentsen Counter-cyclical Beef Import Bill.

The bill was originally introduced by Senator Lloyd Bentsen in early 1978 and was given overwhelming approval by Congress later in the year, but was vetoed by the President. A slightly modified version was introduced in the new Congress this year.

"It appears that we have finally reached the goal of a reasonable and workable counter-cyclical beef import bill. The House last month approved this compromise proposal 352-48 and the administration, during Finance Committee hearings in September, testified in favor of it," Bentsen said.

"This legislation will bring needed stability to the cattle industry, helping both consumers and producers of beef by helping to even out the jarring boom-to-bust cycles of the cattle business. I will give our country a stable, predictable and reasonable meat import policy which we have needed for a long time."

The counter-cyclical bill passed by Bentsen will help beef importers and producers by providing a more predictable market for domestic beef imports when the market is tight. The bill will also help to stabilize the price of beef in the United States.

The Finance Committee's legislation amends the law passed by the House in 1978 and the White House in 1979.

"Both the Administration and the cattle industry would benefit from the enactment of this bill," Bentsen said. "The bill will help to stabilize the market for domestic beef imports and will help to stabilize the price of beef in the United States."

While we are waiting for Christmas to come we go shopping buy some presents, a Christmas tree, maybe even a new dress. But does that really mean Christmas? Well, to some it does but to other people they think that Christmas is a time for relaxation, eating and visiting your kinsfolk.

Well to me what Christmas is all about is love. Isn't that what brought the world together? But now all we really and truly need is love. I guess everybody forgot what love is all about because look what's happening in Iran. Don't people care anymore? No matter how you feel about Christmas don't forget the saying, "Peace on Earth Goodwill to Men."

Christmas from a Shepherd's Point-of-View
On this first Christmas night where a star shines so bright.

A bright star shines over the head of a baby in a manger, not a bed.
I cannot see much from where I stand,
I come a little closer to give them my lamb.
Now I can see a boy, playing a drum,
The voice of a kind king says, "Come."
An angel sits at the front of the manger,
I trip, but when I get up she shows no anger.
This child truly is the son of the Lord.
This child we stand around and adore.
On this first Christmas night where a star shines so bright.

Senior Citizens have Christmas dinner

Religious and popular Christmas selections were performed by piano students of Mrs. Dell Gray on December 16 at the First Baptist Church in Floyd da. Presented in Mrs. Gray's first recital, since moving from Lubbock earlier this year, were Devyn Neeley, Shane Orman, Jane Willson, Libby Anderson, Joey Thayer, Shayla Moore, Paige Cannon, Jeannie Jackson, Lori Higginbotham, Jill Smith, Jill Willson, Angie Anderson, Jeff Matsler, Mary Ann Rainer, Misty Orman, Anna Leta Bradshaw, Terri Marquis, Greg Thompson, Troy Marquis, Kay Lyn Rainer, Treva Hambright, Terri Lloyd, Shawnda Sanders, and Troy Neeley. Guest vocal soloist, Bobby Rainer, accompanied by Troy Neeley, completed the student segment of the program. The finale, featuring Mrs. Gray on piano and her husband, Bill, on drums, consisted of a medley of popular Christmas numbers. A reception for students, parents, and invited guests was held following the recital.

Serving a Bishop at a Yuletide gathering

Entertaining friends and family adds to the many delights of this festive and glorious season! Unusual food or drink not only offers a unique touch to your gathering, but will start the conversational ball rolling as well. A drink called a Bishop, very popular in Northern European countries is colorful and appropriate.

Strongly resembling mulled wine, it is a spicy concoction of heated port wine (or sherry or bordeaux, if that's what's on hand), spiked with cloves and the peel of lemon or orange. The proportions of the ingredients we leave to your individual taste and imagination... Skoal!

Gold, Frankincense and Myrrh... Gifts For a King

"They (the wise men) saw the young child with Mary his mother, and... presented unto him gifts: gold, frankincense, and myrrh."

Matthew 2:11 St. Matthew tells us that the Wise Men selected these exotic treasures, above all others, as their special offerings to the baby Jesus. They were the first Christmas gifts of all.

The gifts brought by the Three Kings all had magical associations: gold for the sun mystery, frankincense as the smoke-maker, and myrrh, the healer. The Wise Men were also believed to have had occult powers.

The Magi, kneeling in tribute, express the love and awe Christ evokes in all who believe in Him. The Bible names the gifts... gold, frankincense and myrrh. Each has its obvious worth; there are rich, symbolic meanings as well.

Church scholars consider the gold to mean love or Christ as King of the World; the frankincense, prayer or Christ as the King of Heaven; the myrrh, suffering or a symbol of Christ's approaching sacrifice.

The Bible does not mention containers for the gifts, artists over the centuries have created them. A casket holds the gold coins, a vessel for the frankincense, an urn for the myrrh.

Today we easily recognize the value of the gold, but we are not as familiar with the value of frankincense and myrrh. These two aromatic resins, used in making incense, were very costly at the time of the Birth of Christ. To this day they are used at many Christian altars.

An old poem which expressed the ancient belief that "incense owns a deity neighbor" is further evidence that frankincense and myrrh were worthy gifts for the Prince of Peace.

Sending holiday gifts by mail

If you're sending packages to distant dear ones, there are ever changing post office rules and regulations that you'll want to be mindful of. Wrapping parcels can be tricky, keep these rules in mind when mailing gifts.

A strong fiberboard box, banded with reinforced tape is a must. Fill the box completely... if the gift doesn't fill it entirely, stuff crushed newspapers or other light filler around it. Then reinforced fiberglass tape or heavy gummed tape should go round the package at least twice in each direction, securing end flaps.

Masking tape or transparent stick tapes are not acceptable, and staples are surely a "no, no!" Twine or string is frowned on too, since it can come loose and fall off the box entirely! When your package is completely secure, write the address, in smear-proof ink, on a label that is glued on well.

Parcel Airlift has a special rate for gifts going to military personnel abroad, and international air-parcel-post rates have remained the same.

There are some options on the kind of shipping you can use. Books are thoughtful gifts and you can take advantage of the special Post Office book-rate to send them. Fourth class mail will arrive as promptly as parcel post. If you're a last minute mailer, air-mail and Express mail will speed your packages on their way! But remember that Express Mail covers only larger cities where good air-service is regularly available.

Discarding your Christmas tree—a happy ending

Wondering if there is any tradition concerned with when a Christmas tree should be dismantled and taken down? January 6th, Epiphany or Twelfth Night, marks the traditional end of the holiday and used to be observed by the burning of the tree and greens.

However there can be a happier end for your tree... one you will enjoy and find rewarding. Setting your tree up outdoors and hanging it with popcorn strings and suet makes a beautiful, natural bird feeder. Think of the fun you'll have observing your lively feathered friends through the months to follow!

MERRY CHRISTMAS!

Heavenly music floats triumphantly over the reverent and tranquil Christmas landscape... Its glorious sounds ringing melodiously through the stillness. As all celebrate this season of eternal peace and love, we send sincere thanks to dear friends for their faith and trust.

A Prized Personal Collection of Dolls Shows Favorites From Around the World

By Marie S. Miller

Favorite Christmas dolls...and big are cherished all over the world. Treasured collection dolls are being and varied as lands from which they may be anything, from delicate china to corn cookie dough, but what they look like and what they cost, they are young and old.

People in all parts of the world collect dolls. Among the many notables who enjoyed this hobby we find Victoria, future Queen of England the late Queen Marie of Roumania, Eugene Field the poet, Montezuma, bold Aztec emperor. Rosemary Sullivan of New York, has a large, fascinating collection of old and contemporary dolls. Three time president of the National Doll and Toy Collectors Club of New York City, she is as enthusiastic about collecting today as when she first started. A Chinese bride and groom, bought when she was ten years old were the beginning of a life-long hobby. The proud possessor of 450 dolls, Mrs. Sullivan says she buys each "just because she likes it."

The National Doll and Toy Collectors Club of New York City, one of 550 branches of the United Federation of Doll Clubs in the United States, was the first doll collectors club. It was founded in New York City by Mary Lewis in 1937. Today there are doll clubs in 17 countries abroad, as well.

A visit with Mrs. Sullivan is like a trip to Toyland, that merry, magical place so dear to all our hearts! Her dolls are a colorful and exciting feast for the eyes. A large, beautiful doll, resting easily in an old wicker rocking chair, has long, golden hair and is wearing girl's clothing that was fashionable at the time she was made, about 1918-1920. Her pretty rosy face is American bisque china.

Old dolls, prized by collectors, tell us a great deal about how people lived long ago. Fashion dolls, which appeared originally in France about 600 years ago, were sent abroad to show what fine clothes the French could make, and were wearing. Only the very rich could afford them and they were very popular among the well to do in the American colonies. Fashion dolls were not "play" dolls for children, but rather for chic ladies, for whom they took the place of fashion magazines.

Mrs. Sullivan owns an exceptionally fine French fashion doll. Made about 1870, it has a delicate bisque face and soft kid body. She is dressed in a finely detailed, white morning dress, brown side-button shoes, and a smart chapeaux tops her beautiful, blond coiffure. A fringed parasol completes her wardrobe, and mademoiselle has her own trunk!

Playdolls with more child like proportions appeared in the late 1800's and Mrs. Sullivan has many of these "babies." A Scotch boy in full regalia, stands out handsomely in his clan plaid kilt. Next to him, is a Hungarian bride doll, in a festive dress native to the village from which she comes. She has a pretty painted face and wears red leather boots, a brightly printed challis outer dress, silk apron, scarf, and an elaborate head dress of flowers, gilt ornaments and ribbons.

A glass case shows a group of authentically costumed Japanese figures. Mrs. Sullivan explains that the figures must be part of the display. Richly dressed emperor and empress dolls are placed on the highest shelf, so that none can look down at them. Serving maids, musicians and other figures are arranged in order of their importance, with household and trousseau articles.

These are festival dolls, not play dolls, that adorn this handsome show. The Japanese pay the highest honor to their dolls during the three day Festival of Dolls held in March each year. The celebration is sometimes called the "Girl's Festival," because all Japanese girls celebrate their birthday at this time, even if it falls on another day. The festival dolls are brought out only for this special occasion, when the children proudly exhibit their treasures and entertain friends who come to visit them. Tea is served to family, friends and the dolls. Japanese children look forward to this holiday, much as children in other countries look forward to Christmas!

A family of English "Pearly" dolls, a pair of contemporary Thai dancing figures, soft, loveable stuffed dolls that represent children of different, ethnic backgrounds, a miniature Henry VIII complete with royal jewels, are fascinating to see!

Dolls are more popular today than ever. Skilled craftspeople design new dolls and create entire wardrobes and accessories for them. The National Institute of American Doll Artists is one such talented group. Dolls created by any member are documented and may not be copied or entered into any competition. They are considered works of art and quite unique. Several of these highly prized dolls are in Mrs. Sullivan's collection, one modeled after her daughter.

At holiday time it is not unusual to find Mrs. Sullivan's dolls exhibited in libraries, clubs, museums and department stores. Hopefully you'll come across some of them, so you too can share the pleasure of their charming company.

Proper shoe care
Proper care of shoes will prolong their wear-life, says Nancy Brown, a clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Polish before wearing to protect from dirt or wetness, she recommends. If they do get wet, stuff with paper and allow to dry at room temperature, Miss Brown adds.

On family policy
When integrating children from previous marriages into a new home, parents and stepparents need an honest and effective family policy to follow.

Otherwise, somebody gets left out, says Dorothy Taylor, a family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The Divine Glory of the Madonna and Child Celebrated by a Great, Distinguished

The Madonna and Child takes precedence over the most important art subjects that the Christian religion has inspired. Sculptors and painters produced their greatest works portraying the Madonna and Child during the Renaissance, and it was in this period that the Della Robbia family founded their famous school for terra cotta sculpture in Florence, Italy.

The Della Robbia Family

Three generations of this prominent family continued in their craft. Luca, his nephew Andrea, and Andrea's son Giovanni. Much of their work, done in relief, was designed to be placed in a building, over a door or against a wall.

Original Use of Color

It was Luca who introduced glaze over pigment on terra cotta, using vivid blue for backgrounds and opaque white for figures and details, sometimes picked out in other colors as well.

A Legacy to Prize

Luca Della Robbia (1400-1482), born in Florence, started his career as a goldsmith, before he turned to sculpture. He is best known for his work in terra cotta and his figures of the Madonna and Child are prized by museums and collectors all over the world. In his will, Luca left his secret for successfully glazing terra cotta his nephew Andrea.

Famous Works

Thanks to his uncle, Andrea Della Robbia (1435-1525) made wide use of terra cotta.

He too was born in Florence, where one of his outstanding works may still be seen, in the Hospital of Innocents. Fine examples of his work can be

Some Old, Some New, Some Borrowed, Many Blue

It seemed, for a good many years, that the traditional Christmas colors of red and green would be changed to blue and white. In one field, at least, they did.

It began in 1895 when Harold Bing of the Bing & Grondahl China Company of Denmark decided to launch a new tradition based on the legend of an old one. The old: the Christmas-time giving of decorated wooden plates to the common folk by those folk less common. The new: The Christmas-time giving of decorated porcelain plates by anyone who could afford the 50¢ price to anyone they wished.

The plate was called "Behind the Frozen Window," and the date was inscribed on its rim. Bing utilized a then-recently developed technique of hand painting cobalt blue underglaze on bas-relief porcelain when producing the plates. The plates were well received by the populace, the innovative technique was duly appreciated, and the coloration became known as "Copenhagen blue on white." That first plate, by the way, issued at only 50¢ is now quoted by the Bradford Exchange in Niles, Illinois as being worth over $3,000.

Mothers: Feed Hungry Children

Even a single dollar can provide food for a child who's very hungry. Hundreds of thousands of Cambodian children are facing death from starvation. They are trying to exist on bark, leaves and roots. There is virtually no medical care, and clothing, medicine, shelter and educational materials are in incredibly short supply.

You can help bring food and medical supplies to the suffering children of Cambodia.

Fortunately, a Christian humanitarian agency, World Vision International, is trying to help. Besides working in Cambodia the agency is also involved in an extensive relief and medical program helping Cambodian refugees along the Thailand border. It needs, however, over $5 million worth of supplies. You can help by responding to its international appeal to raise that money. Contributions can be sent to World Vision International, Box O., Pasadena, California 91109.

venomous beasts. Even as late as the mid-1700's, National Wildlife reports, many European medical authorities thought mistletoe would cure epilepsy. Since mistletoe attaches itself so firmly to a tree that it cannot be blown down, they reasoned, an epileptic could not fall down if he consumed the plant regularly.

As it was thought that mistletoe possessed magical powers, it's not surprising that the plant was long forbidden in Christian churches. It was thought to be tainted with heathenism. But the Druids — the woody priests of the ancient Celts — considered mistletoe to be a warm refuge for the woodland spirits during the cold weather. They gathered and hung the plant throughout their dwellings. This primitive practice may be the origin of the western tradition of decorating homes with greenery at Christmas time. Centuries ago, on the sixth day of a new moon, a white-robed priest armed with a golden sickle could be seen harvesting mistletoe. The Druids believed the plant was too sacred to be collected by just anyone. Traditions change, of course, and today anyone willing to venture out into

A very personal collection of treasured Christmas toys

All year round Norma and Irv Bahrt enjoy their Christmas things, toys and decorations reminiscent of holidays past, all gathered patiently and lovingly. Mrs. Bahrt, an enormously talented painter, began collecting Christmas mementos as a girl. Mr. Bahrt joined her in her never ending search when they were married.

In their large assortment of Yule treasures is a tiny sled, originally used as a pencil box. A Christmas scene is painted on it, the soft colors muted with age. Another find is a little girl called Daisy who speeds along in a horse drawn sleigh, the sleigh making music as it moves.

things because of their old style and flavor. She says "I love the faded colors, quaint scenes and fashions because they tell how people lived long ago." Mr. Bahrt tells about having thrown out a set of old quintuplet dolls that Mrs. Bahrt owned when they were first married, some twenty-five years ago. About three years ago he finally was able to locate another set of quintuplets for which he had to pay $600... considerably more than the original dolls cost!

The Bahrts never have too much of Christmas and they keep their lovely things where they can see and enjoy them every day, winter and summer.

Beautiful old music rings through a tuneful Yuletide

Hand bells, instruments several centuries old, are enjoying a popularity in this country that they have never known before. The playing of hand bells, their tones mellow and pure, accompanies many candlelight carol services in churches at the Yuletide season.

The change ringers of England, who rang tower bells by pulling ropes, are said to have invented hand bells about three hundred years ago. To keep warm and to spare their neighbors, they practiced at home, and so improvised the original hand bells.

Padding on the clapper and a spring mechanism prevent the bell from ringing more than once when it is thrust forward. The quality of the sound can be varied by swinging the bell after it rings, but this takes an advanced player. A really adept bell ringer can manage more than two bells, by picking up and putting others down on a table in front of him. Bell ringers wear gloves so they will not tarnish the highly polished bronze surface and so spoil the tuning.

There are two foundries in Pennsylvania that manufacture hand bells in this country. The foundry that produces the most hand bells abroad, is in London, where most of the work is still done by hand. The bronze bells are tuned precisely, to notes in a chromatic scale, ranging over as many as five octaves. The smaller they are, the higher the pitch; the larger they are, the lower.

Hand bell music has been likened to that of an organ, warm and ethereal, and it surely adds a unique flavor to the stirring and harmonious sounds of the holiday!

Baroque Christmas Tree Glorious Holiday Tradition

MAGI AND HIS RETINUE—From the collection of Christmas creche figures, second half 18th century. The Metropolitan Museum of Art, gift of Loretta Hines Howard, 1964.

The great dimly lit hall is filled with an aura of magic and wonder . . . one feels thrust back in time. Crowds ebb and flow through its vast recesses but the Medieval Sculpture Hall of The Metropolitan Museum of Art is hushed. Towering and magnificent, a twenty foot, blue spruce, the focal point of the Museum's annual Baroque Christmas display, stands resplendent with angels and cherubs and Neapolitan creche figures.

First exhibited at The Metropolitan Museum of Art, in New York City, over twenty years ago, this handsome holiday spectacle has become a firmly established tradition for New Yorkers and out-of-town visitors.

Usually on exhibit through December and January, the annual Christmas display is the result of the generosity and unflagging enthusiasm of Loretta Hines Howard, who began collecting creche figures in 1925, and soon after conceived the unique idea of combining the German tradition, of decorated Christmas trees, with the Southern European custom of sarcophagi. During the Middle Ages the custom was nurtured by the Nativity dramas presentation was first presented to the public in 1957 and again in 1958, when Mrs. Howard loaned her collection to The Metropolitan Museum. She gave the collection to the complex installation each year. The Metropolitan's Baroque Christmas Tree and Crèche display includes three basic elements that constitute the traditional 18th-century Neapolitan crèche scene, or Presipio (from the Latin word meaning "manger"): the Nativity with angels, shepherds and their sheep; the procession of the three Magi and their retinue of Orientals and Moors; and the scene at the Inn has been enhanced by a charming group of animals . . . sheep, goats, horses, a camel and an elephant, with background pieces of dramatic stage settings, including the ruins of a Roman temple and several houses around a village square.

The practice of home crèche display was the culmination of a long tradition of the visual depiction of the birth of Christ, beginning with the earliest Nativity scenes on fourth century sarcophagi. During the Middle Ages the custom was nurtured by the Nativity dramas pre-

STOCKING STUFFERS

Many people put off buying small stocking stuffers until the very last minute. Christmas stockings are as much a part of the holiday as decorating the tree, family dinners and gifts, and should be chosen with that in mind. How about some of the following?

- Mini-puzzles for children and adults.
- Finger puppets for the little kids. Imaginative ones are available in stores or try crocheting them yourself.

- Key chains with appropriate hobby charms or nameplate.
- Small change purse or miniature bank.

- Toasty sleep-sacks rolled into a colorful ball.
- Art supplies, box of crayons, safety scissors.
- Soft sculpture dolls.
- Pretty nail barretts.
- Multi-purpose Swiss knife.

Christmas Tree Holiday Tradition

and personally supervises the installation each year.

The tradition reached the height of popularity and artistic excellence in mid-century Naples, where noble families would outdo each other in presenting elaborate displays. Here, the finest sculptors, including Giuseppe and Angelo Viva, carved nativity scenes and shepherds and their flocks, and the three Magi and Orientals and Moors; and the bustling merchants, rich burghers sitting in the Inn at Bethlehem. The scene has been enhanced by a charming elephant, with background stage settings, including the manger and several houses.

This dazzling spectacle, depicting the birth of Christ, is a long tradition of the visual arts, beginning with the Middle Ages and the Nativity dramas pre-eminence, and by the increasing number of free standing figures.

The first home crèche was in Amalfi in the 1560's.

Surprise! Surprise! Have a Hearty Barbequed Christmas Dinner!

How about a Christmas barbeque!

The Christmas holidays are celebrated in many parts of this country, and around the world, in warm and often tropical climates. How appropriate to ask friends and family to share a Christmas barbeque dinner! This recipe for an unusual and tasty main course, and some of the trimmings, should add variety to a heretofore traditional menu.

After serving your favorite hors d'oeuvre and holiday portions try this barbequed honey glazed pork loin . . . you may never serve anything else at Christmas again!

Barbequed Honey Glazed Pork Loin:

About 3 hours before you plan to serve, prepare outdoor covered grill, using manufacturer's instructions for indirect heat cooking.

Glaze: Stir 1/2 cup honey, 1 teaspoon ground ginger and 1/4 cup brandy together in a bowl. Mix well and set aside.

Roast: Rub 1 tablespoon salt and 1 teaspoon cracked pepper into a 4 1/2 pound double loin pork roast. Insert meat thermometer into middle and place roast on grill, over drip pan, with fat side up. Roast 2 1/2 hours on covered grill, adding more briquettes to sides of grill every hour, as directed by manufacturer. Baste meat often with Honey Glaze during last 1/2 hour of cooking.

Set meat on previously heated platter, remove strings and let stand about 15 minutes. While waiting to carve roast, set out salad and trimmings.

Grilled Scalloped Potatoes:

Peel a medium size potato for each serving. On squares of aluminum foil, lay thin slices in overlapping layers and dot with 1 tablespoon butter, salt and pepper. Add 2 tablespoons milk. Seal package with double fold and cook on grill, close to coals for about 15 minutes. Test for tenderness and if necessary reseat for longer cooking.

Orange slaw or a salad combining fresh orange sections, avocado slices and romaine lettuce will add piquant flavor and holiday color to your delicious feast. Enjoy! Enjoy!

Kids...Fun-To-Make Christmas Presents!

When you give a gift you make yourself it shows you really care. Surprise Mom and Dad, or a special friend, with a set of brightly colored coasters or a gay Christmas tree ornament! They're a snap to make and you'll probably find the supplies right around the house. If not, they cost very little to buy.

THINGS YOU NEED:
Corrugated cardboard
Christmas gift wrap or cards
White glue
Paint brush
Colored yarn if making decorations
Varnish and scissors

Cut a circle from the cardboard, about 3-3/4 inches in size. Trace around the rim of a wide glass or jar for this. You need 1 circle for each coaster or ornament. Cut same size circle from the gift wrap or colored greeting card and glue onto cardboard circle, pressing down from center to outer edges. When glue is dry apply 1 coat of varnish—let dry overnight. Apply a second coat of varnish and let dry again overnight. (Clean the varnish brush after you use it so it doesn't get hard). You now have a pretty waterproof coaster. A set of four makes a handsome gift!

If you want to make tree decorations, continue as follows: Glue colored yarn around edge of finished coaster. Cut a 5 inch piece of matching or other color yarn and glue onto back of coaster making a loop at the top. Now it's ready to hang on your tree or to give!

FIRE SAFETY TIPS FROM SNUFFY

A SAFE AND SPIRITED HOLIDAY

During this year's holiday excitement, your children can be a big help in keeping your home safe from fire.

"Make fire safety a part of your holiday plans," advises Snuffy, the Burger King Talking Fire Engine. "Ask your kids to keep a look out for 'hot spots' (fire hazards)." Watch for burning cigarettes left unattended by guests, or wrapping paper and flammable decorations placed too close to an open fire, candles or exposed light bulbs.

Trimming the tree can provide fun-filled hours for the family, but make sure that all decorations are fireproof and that artificial trees are fire retardant. Evergreens should be freshly cut—shedding needles are a sure sign of dryness.

Place your tree in a non-tip stand in an area away from drafty exits and sources of heat. Natural trees should be kept in water and discarded after a maximum of two weeks. Your kids can check the water level daily and replenish it when necessary.

Throw your tree out. Don't try to burn it in your fireplace. Trees are unseasoned green wood, difficult to burn, and produce a great deal of smoke. Also, don't build roaring fires with gift wrappings. This could ignite the soot in the chimney and cause an explosion.

Holiday lights, inside and outdoors, are a great way to brighten up the holidays. Have your children help check last year's lights for worn or frayed wires and loose or cracked sockets. When purchasing new sets, look for the Underwriters' Laboratories label to ensure that the lights have been checked for fire hazards.

Notable Christmas Birthdays

What do Clara Barton, Evangeline Booth, Maurice Utrillo and Sir Isaac Newton have in common? Something very special! These famous people all share the same festive birthday . . . December 25th!

Clara Barton, best known for helping found the American Red Cross, served as its president for many years. She was born on Christmas Day 1821 in Oxford Massachusetts. In 1854, she became the first woman clerk in the U.S. Patent Office, a fact which does no doubt please feminists today. Soon after the outbreak of the Civil War, Clara Barton began the work of carrying supplies to soldiers and nursing wounded men on the battlefields. Her deeds attracted national attention and she was known as "The Angel of the Battlefield." It was Miss Barton who realized that the Red Cross could be helpful to civilians as well as to soldiers in times of calamity.

Evangeline Booth, born on Christmas Day 1865, was the seventh child of William Booth, founder of The Salvation Army. She gained recognition as a musician, composer and orator in her native England. Miss Booth became national commander of The Salvation Army in the United States in 1904 and served until 1934. During World War I the Salvation Army Lasses, under her guidance, spent Christmas as well as many other days, ministering to the needs of American Doughboys in France.

Sir Isaac Newton, English scientist, astronomer and mathematician was born on Christmas Day 1642 at Woolsthorpe, Lincolnshire. As a boy at school he made many youthful inventions, though considered a poor student. Newton, a modest man, made many significant discoveries. By passing a beam of sunlight through a prism, he showed that white light is made up of the rainbow's colors. He constructed a reflecting telescope to use in his studies. And he was the first to state the laws of gravitation.

Maurice Utrillo the French painter, a Christmas child, had little cheer or happiness in his life. He was born December 25, 1883, son of an unknown father and a mother who was a model for many of the painters in Montmartre. Utrillo was very shy and drawn both as a child and adult. The streets and buildings of Paris furnished much of the subject matter for his best paintings. Reproductions of many of his works, particularly those of the sparkling white dome of the Montmartre Church of Sacre Coeur, are used by the thousands every year on Christmas cards.

Make sure the lights you plan to use outside are specifically labeled for outdoor use. Since outdoor lights are not designed for prolonged exposure, remove them as soon as the holiday season is over.

Don't use electric lights on metal trees. Sharp metal edges could cut the cord insulation. Use colored spot lights to illuminate the tree instead. Floodlights get quite hot, however, so keep them away from small children and fabrics.

Don't overload extension cords or light strings, and never run the wires under rug; where they can become worn or frayed without your knowledge. Teach your kids to unplug the lights from the wall outlet (by grasping the plug, not by pulling on the cord) before you leave the house or go to bed.

Be careful cooking that big dinner too. Kids like to help, but keep them away from the stove. Close oven doors, turn pot handles in and wear tight fitting sleeves when working near lit burners.

Don't buy highly combustible toys or those that require flammable liquids. Look for the UL label on electric toys, and make sure that toys which might generate sparks are kept well away from the tree.

Don't let your family fall victim to a holiday fire. Following these suggestions from Snuffy can tip the scales in favor of holiday fun.

GREETINGS

The delicate sounds of Christmas bells sound the jubilant music of a festive holiday. As their melody echoes we chime in with our fervent thanks.

'Great' Ideas Dept.

Because some ills are accompanied by a loss of appetite, some people have had the "great" idea that fasting would cure all ills. Medical experts point out that, in most cases, this idea is strictly from hunger.

In what is probably an effort to improve conditions for workers, the government had some "great" ideas about regulating the cotton industry. Economics experts point out this would raise clothing prices and so hurt a lot of working people. Many people are writing their legislators to learn their opinion of these unneeded regulations.

Some people once had the "great" idea that the best way to cure a toothache was to eat a mouse.

Instead of taking out French doors, create the illusion of more space in a room by covering glass panes with mirror foil.

NEWS OF BOOKS

For many, giving that "perfect gift" has always meant giving a book. But a book can be a very personal thing. The problem: What kind of book should you give? The solution is often Give-a-Book Certificates. What are they? The co-sponsors of this unique new way to give books for gifts, the American Booksellers Assn. and the National Assn. of College Stores, explains: "It is a plan enabling the public to buy a gift certificate from one bookstore and redeem it either at the same store or another participating store anywhere in the U.S."

To make the gift even more personal and meaningful, attractive gift cards — there are 12 to choose from — accompany the certificates. The next time you're in a bookstore, you might like to ask whether it plans to participate in this program — or already does.

The Miracle of Christmas

The merry rejoicing at Christmas, celebrating the Birth of Christ, seeks to recapture the glory and wonder of the Nativity. People everywhere come together in warmth and goodwill, recalling the Source of the Spirit that binds them together.

Although Christmas is celebrated all over the world, it is not really known whether or not Jesus, as a boy, ever had a birthday party. Jews of His time did not celebrate birthdays... such observances were for kings and other important people, who lived in palaces. With or without birthday parties, Jesus had an enchanted childhood, so say the legends. One such story says He made mud-pie birds one rainy day, and as He finished them, they flew away. For having bowed down to give its fruit to His Holy Mother, Jesus rewarded a palm tree by having a cutting of it planted in Paradise.

The Magic of Christmas is happily contagious, transforming the world in an atmosphere of brotherhood and anticipation. Its magic brings families together, inspires a spirit of generosity and giving, and fills the heart with a heady lightheartedness long remembered from one's childhood.

For it is in childhood that the magic of the Yuletide is felt most keenly. The air quivers with excitement and the promise of things to come. Pungent smells fill the house and little ones can hardly sleep, for listening to the furtive sounds of mom and dad tinfoiling and whispering and wrapping, far into the night.

An old French proverb says "Miracles happen only to those who believe in them." Surely, we can all believe! Surely we can reinforce our faith in miracles!

A Merry Christmas to All

The Year That Was 1979

As we start our Christmas celebration and look forward to 1980, we of Martin & Company wish to thank in a big way the International Harvester Dealers of Floydada, Matador, Silverton, Plainview, and Ralls. These dealers have sold us needed parts so we could get going in 1979.

We also wish for a Happy Christmas and a better New Year to our several hundred customers who have made the 1979 year our greatest sales of parts in my 60 years in Floydada.

In 1978, I cancelled the Harvester contract by mutual agreement. It was never put in writing that we could continue getting repairs until someone took my place as the I.H. Dealer. This could have been easily done by mutual agreement as the contract states. It seems like you have to owe something to get this extension. Mr. Garlock, District Manager, and Mr. Arrington, Sales Manager, asked that the Dallas management grant this request.

On 1-1-79, all undelivered orders were cancelled and all shipments stopped. It was up to us to get help from other dealers and supply companies.

I believe every supply company in the U.S.A. asked for our business. We have purchased parts by the thousands of dollars at a time. The I.H. parts strike of 11-1-79 showed our customers that a part didn't have to be in an I.H. box to be the same as what I.H. puts out. The strike has been a help to us as far as bats, brushes, bearings, pulleys, and many other items.

Early in 1979, many of our customers traded for other makes of machines. Many people thought I have been mistreated and some of our help began looking for a new job.

Our new repair help have made many errors in their work especially not tightening bolts. This caused some customers to be unhappy but we have always tried to correct these errors at our expense. We believe in 1980 these things will be corrected.

Last week we were presented with a 100 year plaque. It showed that I.H. had appreciated Martin & Company over a 60 year period. It seems that the head office of I.H. would like for us to be some part of I.H.

Two business families, Martin & Company and I.H.C., have spent a lifetime together. Several years ago I.H. adopted some help to change a successful businessman's way of operating. In 1975, I.H. wrote me that I had to get a new manager to operate my business and I had to move out of town and build a new building plus other changes. These demands didn't suite International Harvesters old friend of many years. So after four years, I just cancelled the contract with no offers to sell my business. I just had to take other means to operate the business which so far has been very successful.

MERRY CHRISTMAS TO ALL!

"A Nest For Jane"

A Christmas Story
by Alfred Walker

The snow was merely the lock pin in the tragedy which I had visited on Jane. The opening scene was played at the beginning of last summer when I first began to think seriously about retiring. I was only fifty-two — too young to retire. I had always loved the law and retirement would definitely mean a reduction in income. My friends thought I was kidding. Not Jane; she knew me too well. I did fool her though. She thought I was going through a phase — some sort of male menopause — which would pass in due time.

She patiently discussed the idea with me, at least once a day, all summer. I like the practice of law, I admitted; and I enjoyed our friends — our entire life style. Yet I fancied that I was shackled to a treadmill — not an unpleasant treadmill as treadmills go — but a treadmill none the less.

I wanted off. I wanted to walk along new trails, and I wanted to begin while I was still young enough to see them.

As we gather together to share the blessings and joy of the holiday with those we love, we greet old friends and say thank.

Specifically, I wanted to go to the mountains and write a book. (Well, doesn't everybody want to retire and write a book?) We had acquired the cabin in the Sacramento mountains of New Mexico, about seven years previously. It was 600 miles from Austin but we gladly made the long trek at every opportunity — two weeks in the summer and a few days at Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter. It was our haven of rest, our sanctuary of beauty, peace and restoration. The cabin hung on the side of a mountain in an extremely remote region. There was no electricity. The nearest neighbor was seven miles away. The roads were little better than deer trails. We loved it.

It was back to nature — chopping wood, hauling water, fishing, hiking, improving the cabin, discovering the habits of the deer, bears, elk and turkeys. The beauty and majesty of the place made for a mysterious simplicity that restored the soul. To Jane I admitted that I did not know how to write a book, but I reasoned that in our mountain paradise, I would patiently learn how. Strictly to myself, I reasoned that I could do almost anything in the land of mountain top experiences. And what of failures? In that place even failures would be fun.

While you happily dream of the sweet delights of a sugar plum world, we hope its fairy tale magic fills your holidays with dazzling delights.

tains was a dream from fantasy land. We chopped down our own Christmas tree and decorated it with strings of popcorn and homemade ornaments — angels, Santa Claus and animals. There was enough snow for sledding and inner tubing, and the ice was solid for skating. We played cards, sang, exchanged gifts, and ate and ate in front of the fireplace where the friendly pine log fire snapped its approval.

All too soon the afternoon came for the girls to depart. The dark snow clouds were already gathering. Jane wept. She's always a bit teary eyed when the kids leave, but she had never broken down before. I tried to console her by admitting that I too was experiencing a case of post-Christmas emptiness. With firm conviction and confidence I assured her that our reaction was normal and would quickly pass. All we needed to do was stay busy. At my urging, we took a hike in the falling snow.

When we returned to the warmth of the cabin, Jane was uncommonly silent. I didn't push. At length she blurted, "We don't have a home!" And she began to weep again. I was astounded.

"What do you mean?" We have a home right here in the mountains.

"No, we do not," she firmly declared. "This is an isolated vacation spot. It's a temporary retreat. It's bad enough to be separated from my family and all of my lovely things that I've accumulated through the years. But the thing I can't seem to endure is that we don't have a home. We don't have a place to go back to."

I didn't offer further argument. She's tired, I thought. She'll be O.K. in a day or two. I persuaded her to drink a cup of hot chocolate and put her to bed. As I kissed her good night, she sobbed, "I just want a home."

I turned out the gas lantern and sat staring into the fire. Home. Maybe home is where the heart is, and Jane's heart is not here, I mused. My mind was suddenly crowded with thoughts about home.

I remembered how desperately homesick I was when I first went away to college. At the end of the first two months I hitch-hiked home. I covered the 300 miles with eighteen different motorists. Most of the rides were rather short and some were rough and uncomfortable. But my heart was light. I was going home!

I recalled, too, those homesick days in the army. I wasn't the only one either. Always the main topic of conversation was of home — what we had done at home and what we were going to do when we got back home. Yes, and I thought of the only Christmas I had been forced to spend away from home. I was a man then, but I vowed never to be away from home on Christmas again.

On and on the thoughts poured in — the songs of home, the poems of home, the stories of home. Finally came the revelation that should have come much sooner. "If homesickness is so horrible, how much more horrible is 'no home' sickness!"

We will go back to Austin tomorrow, I resolved, and establish a home. The next time we come up here, we will have a home awaiting our return. It was then that I had shone the flashlight out of the window and experienced the chilling realization that "tomorrow" might well be a month away.

I waited an hour and checked again. Already the fleecy stuff was six inches deep on the porch railing. If it snowed all night and drifted the least bit, we would never get out.

When I crawled into bed, Jane was tossing and turning. I cuddled her in my arms and she seemed to relax. If it doesn't drift, we might make it, I thought. Sometime in the night, the wind got up. I heard it whipping the loose vent pipe which protruded

The hitch was that autumn rolled to a close and we still had not managed to lease our house. It seemed that our price was too high. I was despondent because we wanted to get the house leased and get moved to an apartment before Christmas. We had laid definite plans to have Christmas with our daughters in the mountain cabin. The children were looking forward to it as much or more than we. We would allow nothing to interfere. Our further plan was for the girls to return immediately after Christmas but we would remain for several weeks, possibly months. It was the last part of the plan that was going down the drain. Since the house had not been leased, Jane and I would be forced to return immediately. We would not commit ourselves to the new life until the house was leased.

Just as I had resigned myself to an indefinitely postponed starting date, a tenant dropped out of the blue — four days before Christmas. He wanted to move into the house on December 29th. I was ecstatic. We could now stay in the mountains after Christmas. HOW? — my misty eyed Jane wanted to know. We didn't have time to locate a suitable apartment, much less to move in, before our departure for the mountains.

True, I admitted. But we could move out and store our furniture somewhere. Then, after we came down out of the mountains in the spring, we would find a nice apartment. Jane reluctantly but gracefully agreed. After all, a bargain is a bargain. I wasn't living up to my end completely, but I was close enough that she didn't have the heart to make a point of it. And so it was that we feverishly packed and moved all our personal effects and household articles and stored them in a warehouse.

Greenery and Berries—A Word of Caution!

Decorating with holiday greenery and bright red berries is an old and lovely tradition. However these bright plants are naturally filled with potent chemicals and can be dangerous. Ancient living closer to the earth and more familiar with plants than most of us, knew about the "good and bad" in leaves, cones and buds. Romantic mistletoe is for kissing under and decoration, but the pale green leaves and waxy white berries contain natural poisons, and are dangerous!

The yew berry, pinkish red and translucent, is also poisonous when eaten. Oddly enough yew berries have no harmful effect when eaten by birds. Our feathered friends have enzyme systems that render the poison found in yew berries, harmless!

Holly berries, shiny and sparkly red are far less dangerous, but can also upset the stomach.

It is important to discourage infants and children from tasting the tempting looking berries of holly and yew and Jerusalem cherries, whose attractive fruit is potentially dangerous. Its chemicals are capable of inducing vomiting, paralysis and could be fatal in sufficient quantities.

So remember... a word to the wise... and most important, to little ones!

Midst the glow and glimmer of Christmas we are reminded of the many dear friends we cherish. We hope our friendship will continue to burn brightly through this and every season.

Greeting cards have colorful, historic sources

Each year researchers come up with more and more fascinating information about the origins of Christmas and New Year greetings.

Greeting cards are usually made of stiff paper or cardboard, but cloth, vellum, leather, celluloid, metal, wood, clay, cork, and new materials have been added to their designs. Cards and their messages vary in size. In 1929 an inscribed grain of rice was presented as a Christmas greeting to the Prince of Wales, and in 1924, President Calvin Coolidge received a Christmas card that measured 21 x 33 inches!

In ancient Egypt the New Year was celebrated by the exchange of symbolic presents such as scent bottles and scarabs inscribed "an ab nab" ("all good luck"). The Romans exchanged strenae, originally branches of laurel or olive, often coated with gold leaf. Symbols of seasonal good will, such as a Roman lamp and the figure of Victory surrounded by strenae, were combined on objects of baked clay, with the inscription "Anno Novo faustum felix tibi sit" ("May the New Year be happy and lucky for you"). The acknowledgment of the New Year with the exchanges of good will continued in Europe through the early days of Christianity.

In the 15th century, master wood engravers produced engraved prints which had the same intent as the modern Christmas and New Year cards. One of these shows the Christ Child with halo, before a cross holding a scroll on which appears "Ein gust selig lor" ("A good and happy year"). During the 18th and early 19th centuries, copper plate engravers were producing prints and calendars for the New Year and greetings by merchants and tradesmen were common.

Recognized as the first Christmas card is one designed in England by J. C. Horsley, in 1843 for his friend Sir Henry Cole. An edition of 1,000 copies was placed on sale at Felix Summerly's Treasure House in London in 1846. They were printed by lithography on stiff cardboard, in dark sepia and hand colored. The design shows a family party in progress, beneath which is the greeting, "A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to You."

A similar card was designed by W. M. Egle of London and produced as an etching in 1848. While this card is more elaborate, its design suggests a relationship to the Cole-Horsley card. The same may be said of an American Christmas card of the same period, designed by R. H. Pease of Albany, N.Y., which bore the inscription, "Pease's Great Variety Store in The Temple of Fancy." Sentimental cards were exchanged and collected in the United States from 1830 to the Civil War and many have survived... among them an "expanding heart" Christmas present or greeting card in purse form, dating from about 1859.

Today you can say Merry Christmas in Macedonian, Greek, Hungarian, any one of 32 languages plus Braille. There are greeting cards available in our polyglot nation in Polish, Spanish, Japanese, Armenian, Croatian, Chinese, Macedonian, Portuguese, Greek, Swedish, Norwegian, Hungarian, Lithuanian, to name just a few. Distributed throughout the United States, many are produced in this country, others come from abroad.

It was noted by one of the manufacturers of these Christmas cards, that whenever there is turmoil or a revolution in a foreign country, the sales in that language soar. Since type faces in some languages are unavailable, many of the exotic messages are photographed from the originals. In the case of some Chinese messages, a waiter in a Chinese restaurant who is also an artist, wrote the greetings on a piece of paper from which they were photographed and reproduced.

That Doggie in the Window Giving a Pet for Christmas

If you've been eyeing a cuddly bundle of fur frolicking in the window of your neighborhood pet shop, with thoughts of the happy surprise it will be for someone, come Christmas morn, there are some important questions you'll want to ask yourself, and answer, before taking a pet home.

There are more considerations involved than just "love at first sight," since puppies become dogs in very short order, so it's important to choose one that fits into the home he or she will be part of.

Will he or she be living in an apartment or house, with small children, what is your income? Some breeds can't tolerate the rough-housing of little children, some purely bred animals are more tense and independent than others. Buying a pure bred can be expensive to start with, and the first year with any dog involves a license, inoculations, collar, leash, dishes, toys, grooming utensils, and food.

The American Kennel Club in New York City will be happy to send you a free list of breeders, if it's a pure bred you're after. For a mixed breed, or possibly a pure bred found straying, try your local SPCA or animal shelter. There is usually a wide range of choices and you'll be saving an unwanted puppy or dog from being "put to sleep."

Although male dogs are more popular than females and usually cost more, females will usually adjust to pethood more readily. And a female can be spayed to spare you the problems of mating and a litter. Look for a clean, glossy coat, white teeth with firm pink gums, eyes that are alert and not runny. Avoid a puppy with a pot belly, it could be a sign of worms, and one with the sniffles or who seems itchy.

Any owner or agency should be able to give you proof that the animal has had at least one shot and a deworming. Find out too, as much as you can about the breed and full size of the dog you are adopting. Stop at the veterinarian's on your way home for a thorough going

The Pinto Mule

These two-colored mules were worth their weight in gold in Hanksville.

By Chris Jensen

Around the turn of the century a lot of unusual things happened in Hanksville, Utah, on the Dirty Devil River. Cattle rustlers, horse thieves, train robbers, the lam, footloose cowboys and sand-scoured ranchers, plus a peppering of the English dudes who managed the big spreads around the Henrys, mingled with the townspeople. Dutch Cassidy, in his Sunday best clothes, often came over from his nearby Robber's Roost hangout to visit with the merchants and ranchers. Zane Gray was searching throughout the remote areas gathering materials for his western stories. And, years later the old-timers, talking about these things, would shake their heads and hint mysteriously about a lot of other things that "went on."

But these things didn't seem unusual to the natives. Pinto mules did, though. Not that the people of Hanksville were strangers to mules. The road from the railhead, about 50 miles away, straggled and jerked across the desert at the base of the San Rafael Swell. Along the way three quicksand-bottomed streams had to be forded. Sandstorms often obliterated the narrow road and if a wagon slipped off it sank fast into the deep sand and it might take hours to pull it out. Between the monstrous jagged claws of the San Rafael Swell there was some feed and a few ranches but the trails were rough and narrow. The roads to the big spreads around the Henrys led up through stream beds and over narrow trails scratched on the faces of precipitous canyon walls. So, pack mule trains were the best answers to any freight hauling. Sometimes there were as many as 20 mules in one of these trains and there were a lot of trains. Little wonder that the breeding of mules became a big business in Hanksville.

With the mares dropping these hybrid beasts by the dozens it shouldn't seem unusual that a mutation should take place.

And it did. One day a mule colt was born with white markings—a pinto. According to all the rules of mule breeding this should have been impossible—but there it was! In the barber shop, in the saloon, in the blacksmith shop, in the livery stable, in Charlie Gibbon's store, at casual street gatherings and in the homes the unusual event was discussed and analyzed. Some advanced, what they thought was, a scientific theory. And, they could have been right. Some saw the event as a "sign" that something disastrous was going to happen to the country and especially to Hanksville. It is possible, too, that a few interpreted the "sign" as the coming of something good and wonderful.

Immediately, a number of ranchers and drovers wanted to buy that pinto mule. But, no matter how high the price offered the breeder refused to sell. While the unusual creature did bring a good many curiosity seekers that were pests it also brought some that were buyers. Things might have settled down had not, about a year later, the same combination of mare and jack produced another pinto mule.

This time the owner was interested in selling—to the highest bidder. The bidding was brisk. The lucky new owner hinted he had paid plenty but would never mention the exact price. The pinto mule was placed at the head of his string.

In anticipation of another pinto mule being born drovers, ranchers and even thirty-dollar a month ranch hands placed orders for the next colt and at astronomical prices. Several ranch hands pledged their entire year's wages to be able to own such an animal. Trading of these pledges ran the prices up even more. So, not only was owning such an animal a thing to be greatly desired, but a good investment as well. Dozens of eager buyers were always ready with cash on the line.

And, a few more pinto mules were born. The fortunate owners flaunted their prize possessions. A pack train drover would often realign his train at the edge of town with the pinto mule at the lead carrying no pack at all. Then the train would walk at its slowest pace down the main street the drover making sure that as many as possible would get to see his treasure. A cowboy or ranch hand would tie his pinto mule to the most prominent hitching rail in town. Then stand around and brag about his prize to whatever envious and admiring townspeople that gathered there.

Thus, and probably the only time in history, owning a mule became a status symbol. And that did seem unusual even to the natives of Hanksville □

IT'S A FACT!

More than a million Southeast Asian refugees need homes. Tens of thousands are living on the sea in overloaded and under-supplied boats. Many nations are ignoring the tragic plight of these people. A few countries are not.

In the forefront of nations that are offering homes, jobs and education to these refugees is Argentina. An estimated 5,000 refugees will be arriving in Argentina, and the people of that country are finding them the jobs and the homes they need. That could take some of the burden off the U.S.

Blackeyed "Beans"

For New Year's Day

Prepare blackeyed "beans" for a traditional New Year's feast.

That's correct, this ever-popular New Year's dish is not really a pea—it's a bean, a foods and nutrition specialist, Marilyn Haggard, says.

But, tradition dictates that blackeyed peas are known as peas—and will probably continue to be called peas.

Whether pea or bean, no New Year's day celebration would seem right without them, the specialist points out.

Miss Haggard is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

PREPARATION
When preparing blackeyed peas, soak the peas before cooking to reduce cooking time.

First, boil them in water for two minutes, remove from the heat and soak for one hour.

Now, they're ready to cook.

Or, to soak the peas overnight, start with the two-minute boil—the brief boil will keep them from souring and help prevent hard skins.

Then, leave the peas to soak until the next day.

SEASONING
Season with one teaspoon salt for each cup of dry peas, the specialist continues.

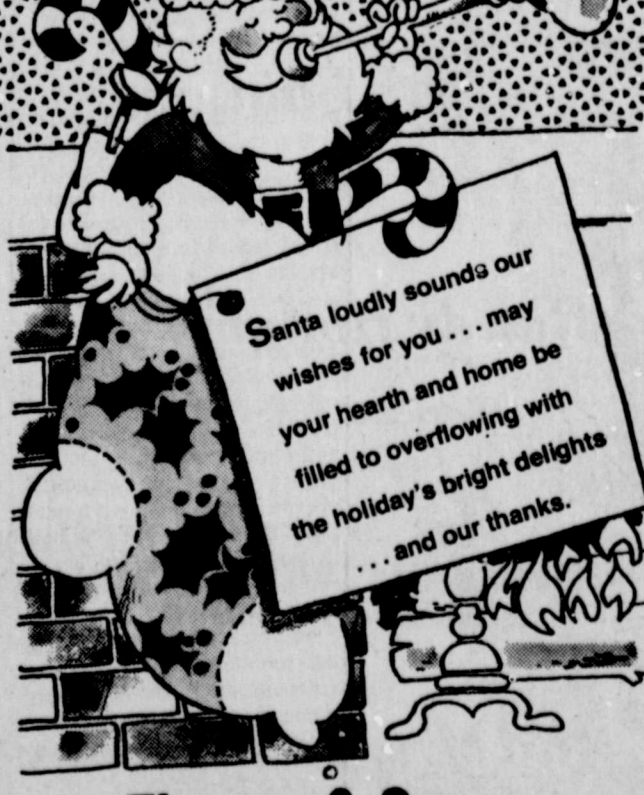

Salt pork and bacon are old standbys for seasoning, but chopped ham or smoked turkey left from the Christmas celebration are great also.

Add pepper, garlic and oregano in small amounts—one-fourth teaspoon per pound of dry peas—to enhance flavor.

SLOW COOKING
In the slow cooker, soak the peas overnight, then cook the soaked beans in water on "high" for two and one-half hours.

Reduce control setting to "low", add seasonings and meat and cook for eight to 10 hours.

Merry Christmas Holiday Plants,

Decorations

Hazardous

With the holiday season rapidly approaching, care must be taken to insure that in all the hustle and bustle that accidental poisonings do not occur, warns the Texas State Poison Center. "Holiday plants and decorations can cause considerable problems," warns Michael Ellis, director of the Texas State Poison Center.

"Plants, such as the poinsettia, Christmas holly, mistletoe, and the Jerusalem cherry can all cause problems if left where small children can get to them," Ellis noted. "Although the poinsettia is not the deadly plant it is often misrepresented as, if the leaves or stems are eaten or chewed on, frequently we see fairly severe vomiting and diarrhea. This in itself can cause dehydration problems in small children."

"If holly berries are eaten they can produce severe vomiting and diarrhea, due to a number of extremely irritating substances found in both the red and green berries. Mistletoe, on the other hand, has proven deadly when ingested in any quantity," Ellis noted. "The bright red berries of the Jerusalem cherry can be mistaken for tomatoes by small children, and the consequences may prove severe."

"Since we know that small children are attracted to plants, and particularly those with bright red colors," Ellis said, "they should be placed high enough that small hands cannot have access to them."

This means that places like the coffee table are definitely out as areas to display these plants."

Other holiday decorations can pose problems, also. "Christmas tree ornaments, such as older bubbling lights, contain methylene chloride, which if consumed by small children may prove quite toxic," notes Ellis. "each year we are consulted about children eating glass Christmas tree balls, and the possibility of the mouth or the gastrointestinal tract being cut or injured is very real."

Merry Christmas

We wish you joys to remember, memories to treasure and love to share at Christmas and always. With full hearts we say thanks.

Flowering Bulbs To Grow In Time for Joyful Gift Giving

Some of the most fragrant, beautiful plants to grow and give are flowering bulbs. They can be forced into winter bloom easily and are available at flower shops, nurseries and often in five and ten cent stores. Paper white narcissus will bloom in 6 to 7 weeks, hyacinths in 10 to 12 weeks, amaryllis in 4 to 6 weeks. Plant to give them just as the flowers are about to open. They are welcome gifts that make a colorful display in any home!

Paperwhite Narcissus—Place 4 to 6 bulbs, about 2" apart in a shallow bowl containing colorful pebbles and water. Twist bulbs gently and firmly into pebbles so they stand straight, and are about 1/2" under the top surface of the pebbles. The bowl need not be deep, 4" to 5" will do. Set to root in cool, dark spot for about 4 weeks or until tops have sprouted. Keep water level always to base of bulb. Move to a bright or sunny window sill or shelf. Continue to water. Blossoms though short lasting, are wonderfully fragrant and lovely.

Hyacinths—Follow directions for paperwhites using only two or three bulbs to pot. Hyacinths prefer a slightly cooler place to hibernate while rooting and take a few weeks longer to sprout. Their beautiful, varied color blooms make a handsome centerpiece.

Amaryllis—These large bulbs with their striking lilylike blossoms come in many vivid colors. Plant 1 bulb to a pot filled with average potting soil, leaving one-third of the bulb exposed. Keep in a sunny, bright window, watering sparingly until stem appears. Increase water as bud expands.

The Robin - A Symbol of the Spirit

The robin, long familiar as a harbinger of spring is also a centuries old symbol of Christmas. One of the earliest English Christmas cards shows a robin in a snowbank, and one is tempted to ask what this cheery bird has to do with the holiday. Legend has it that the robin played a vital part in the first Christmas, so it is not unusual to find him portrayed on Yuletide cards and decorations.

The Holy Family was not alone when they took refuge in the stable at Bethlehem. According to legend, a small brown robin, perched on a rafter, watched the three Magi present their gifts to the newly born Christ Child. The bird seemed to sense that something unusual and wonderful was taking place, and noticed, after the departure of the Three Kings, that

Merry Christmas!

Making Old Fashioned, Spicy Gingerbread Men Cookies...

One of the special and most delicious customs at Christmas is snappy, spicy gingerbread men cookies. Since the whole family loves them, why not have the whole family join together in a happy baking spree? Here's our quick 'n' easy recipe:

- Gingerbread Cookies:
1 cup packed brown sugar
3 eggs
1 cup margarine or butter, softened
1 1/4 cups molasses
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon baking soda
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1 teaspoon ground allspice
1 teaspoon ground cloves
1 teaspoon ground ginger
3 cups all-purpose flour plus 5-6 cups (to be used later)
8" gingerbread man cookie cutter

Early in day: In a large bowl with mixer at low speed, beat first 11 ingredients, until just mixed, constantly scraping bowl with rubber spatula. Increasing speed to medium, beat 2 more minutes, scraping occasionally. Using a wooden spoon, stir additional 5 to 6 cups of flour into dough, to make it stiff. Divide dough in half and wrap in plastic wrap. Dough can be used immediately or refrigerated for up to two days.

Preheat oven to 350° F. On a lightly floured surface roll half the dough with a lightly floured rolling pin, until 1/8" thick. With gingerbread man cookie cutter, cut as many cookies as possible. Using a pancake turner, arrange cookies on lightly greased cookie sheet, handling carefully. Bake 12 minutes until cookie edges are firm; loosen cookies

"Mommy how many days 'til Christmas?"

Once the winter air is filled with the festive, expectant sounds of the holiday, youngsters begin to catch the feeling of excitement! The hardest part for them is waiting. A Christmas chain can be a helpful, fun part of the pre-holiday season, for little ones not up to reading calendars. All it takes is some leftover Christmas gift wrap, scissors and some paste. The youngsters can make their own chain if you provide a blunt end scissors.

Cut strips from gift wrap about 1" x 6", one for each day until Christmas. Paste the strips into circles, linking them to form a chain. Tape or tack the chain on the wall, at the child's eye level, someplace easy to reach.

Let the child tear or cut a link off every night. As the holiday nears, she or he will have some sense of the time until the great day!

from sheet and remove to wire rack to cool.

Reroll scraps and using remaining dough, repeat.

Using white frosting, prepared or your own home made favorite, and raisins, decorate gingerbread men.

Recipe makes about 2 dozen cookies.

TURKEY FILLED POTATO BOATS

Scoop out baked Idaho potatoes leaving 1/2 inch shell, using half a large potato per portion. Mash and season scooped potato pulp and set aside. Heat diced turkey in cream sauce. (Use your judgment as to amount of sauce according to quantity of turkey you are using.) Fill scooped potato shells with turkey mixture. Fill pastry tube with mashed potato mix and squeeze to form a border around each potato boat. Bake in 400° oven until brown.

This is a great dish for youngsters since it is easy to manage and doesn't need any cutting up. Try a little grated cheese over the top of each boat before putting in the oven, for extra zip.
