It's Not Easy

BY CAROL LEA CLARK

er realized until I had a child that the best thing about being a parent is deprivation. I understand that the Chinese have a couple of thousand years used a torture that consists of preventing prisoners from sleeping. They could learn lessons from my daughter. I think that my cute 22 month old has through the night twice, both while she was staying with my mother. It is a good night if she only up two or three times. I really had on nights when I can go to sleep, but sometimes I find myself starting at the clock at two in the morning wondering when I will wake up next.

My family was living in New York shortly after our daughter was born. I seriously considered suggesting to her as a spokesperson for a bank which featured the all night cash machines and had the slogan, "the machine that never sleeps."

My mother reassures me by telling me that this trait of non-sleeping runs in my family. My sister didn't sleep until she was six, and then would go through periods of waking up in the middle of the night. I think that my daughter finally learned to play solitaire to the time between two and six in the morning. I wonder how old my toddler will have to be to teach her to play solitaire.

Lockney Merchants meet next Monday

the Prairie Assoc. meets next week

The annual meeting for the Lone Prairie Gas Association will be held Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Lockney elementary school cafeteria. The meeting will be for the election of directors for the coming year, and other business.

Floyd Gas Assoc. meeting scheduled

The Floyd County Gas Association will hold its annual meeting next Thursday, January 29, in the lobby of the First National Bank in Lockney. Two major items are on the agenda for the meeting: assessment of dues per meter for repairs and up-keep of the line and the new line installed for the Alder-Ayers area.

annual band concert Sunday afternoon

The annual Lockney winter band concert will be presented Sunday at the elementary school. The concert gets underway at two o'clock in the afternoon with a performance by the fifth grade band followed by performances by the sixth grade band, the junior high school band and the senior high school band.

The concert will be preceded with a luncheon in the elementary school cafeteria. Serving will begin at 11:45 a.m. and continue until 1 p.m. There will be a $3 charge for adults and $1.75 for children 12 years-old and under.

LOCKNEY ELEMENTARY SCHOOL TEACHER Carolina Castro teaches 79 elementary school children in the bilingual program. The kindergarten through fifth graders receive special tutorial help in the English language reinforced by the teaching of major concepts in their native Spanish.

Expanded bilingual program? Ruling may affect Lockney

Federal Judge Wayne Justice's ruling that the state must provide bilingual instruction to Spanish-speaking students at all grade levels will affect Lockney's schools, but it's not yet clear how much.

Lockney school superintendent W.H. Hallmark says that he will "wait and see what the final ruling will be by Judge Justice."

If Texas schools are required only to provide bilingual education to Spanish speaking students who are deficient in English, then Lockney will be able to comply without much difficulty according to Superintendent Hallmark.

"We're already doing that," Hallmark says. "But, if schools are required to provide bilingual classes for all Spanish speaking students then all the school districts in Texas will be in trouble, not just Lockney. There aren't that many certified bilingual teachers."

Current regulations require schools to provide certified bilingual teachers for kindergarten to third grade in school districts with 20 or more Spanish speaking students with limited English proficiency in a single grade. Judge Justice ruled that the current plan was "inadequate" and that the additional cost of providing bilingual education for all students was no excuse.

hundreds of thousands of Mexican-American children in Texas will remain educationally crippled for life, denied the equal opportunity which most Americans take for granted.

Lockney now has the required certified bilingual teacher for grades kindergarten through three, and also has a Spanish speaking aid for the bilingual teacher.

In addition, all the kindergarten through third grade teachers have completed a one hundred hour course designed to help them support the work of the bilingual resource teacher when the students come back to the regular classroom.

Hallmark says that the Lockney schools "have been concerned about this (language problem) all along and that the school system has "done more than our share" to help students who are deficient in English speaking ability.

He cites the example of the four Vietnamese children who were being sponsored by a local family and were in the Lockney schools for several months. One of the teachers in the school who spoke French worked closely with the Vietnamese children who also understood French.

"You should have seen those children's faces light up when our teacher first spoke French to them," says Hallmark.

According to Superintendent Hallmark if a Spanish speaking student starts in the bilingual program at the kindergarten level, he should be able to function well in regular school classes by the fourth grade. "That's what the bilingual program is designed to achieve," says Hallmark "otherwise it's not doing it's job."

If a Lockney child still needs help after the third grade, then bilingual teacher Carolina Castro continues to help the child as a resource teacher.

Or, if new students come into the Lockney School District in upper grades not speaking English adequately they will be given help by Ms. Castro if they are elementary school age, or by a Spanish speaking aide in the high school.

The ruling by Judge Justice has been criticized by the Association of Texas Professional Educators spokesman Mike Morrow as, "not only educationally unrealistic but will also perpetuate segregation of Hispanics and Anglos."

ATPE state president and teacher of 30 years says, "the unkindest thing that we can do to our Spanish-speaking students is to create an atmosphere that is totally unrealistic to the world they must face upon graduation. The fact is that for individuals in this state and country to succeed, they must be proficient in English, both written and spoken. One of our main objectives, therefore, is to teach English."

The Lockney schools try to solve the student's English language problem by an approach of giving each individual student as much and what kind of help as he or she needs. Superintendent Hallmark believes it "only delays the number of years to become proficient in English if students are kept in a separate bilingual program more years."

High Plains District probes water supply

In an unprecedented investigation, the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District, which includes Floyd County, is seeking to confirm the availability of additional ground-water reserves still in storage in the dewatered areas of the Ogallala Formation which would come near to or equal the quantity of water already pumped from storage by gravity which is approximately 200 million acre feet.

If the assumption is confirmed, the second phase of this study will include methods to recover this water.

The water that is estimated to still be in storage in the dewatered section is capillary water held by surface tension around the clay, sand and gravel deposits of the formation already exhausted of its free water reserves by gravity pumping.

The amount of water that hydrologists speculate may be contained as capillary water in the formation could rival the estimated 500 million acre feet of water originally thought to be recoverable from the Ogallala Formation in Texas.

If their theories prove correct, an additional 500 million acre feet of water may still be clinging to the wetted sands and other materials in the geologic deposit when the formation will no longer yield water to wells through the natural forces of gravity.

The value of this additional water, if capturable by some method of secondary recovery and estimated at $100 per acre foot, could be as much as fifty billion dollars.

One idea for recovering this capillary water involves the drilling of small diameter wells down into the formation to below a clay lense, sealing the well and then injecting compressed air into the existing water table below.

This will theoretically result in the release of the capillary water, allowing it to move by the force of gravity down to the existing water table for capture.

A simple air compressor propelled by a wind driven device similar to the old time windchargers on the High Plains, could provide power for such a secondary recovery operation, and take advantage of the natural winds of the area to conserve energy.

The total volume of water in storage in the Ogallala Formation can be calculated as the product of the volume of saturated material times the porosity, or the ratio expressed in percentage of void space to total volume.

Unfortunately, much of the water will not drain from the formation material by the forces of gravity for capture by wells. Therefore, the quantity of water in storage that is available to wells by gravity flow is computed by multiplying the volume of saturated material by the specific yield, the quantity of water that the formation will yield under the force of gravity if it is first saturated and then allowed to drain — the ration being expressed in percentage of this water to the volume of material drained.

The specific yield of the Ogallala Formation in Texas is about 15 percent. On hundred feet of saturated material would contain about 15 acre feet of water per surface acre. An acre foot of water is 325,851 gallons.

Suspect arrested in Lockney auto theft

Quick thinking by four Lockney teenagers recovered Dr. W.J. Mangold's car before he even knew that it was stolen over the weekend.

Lockney Police Chief Bill McConnell says the four teenagers, Philip Kidd, Mike Stennette, Mark Vincent and Johnny Rodriguez spotted the car parked on a caliche pit road off West Locust Street on the extreme western edge of town.

At first the boys thought that the driver might be having car trouble, but when they approached the car, they recognized it as possibly belonging to Dr. Mangold, according to McConnell.

The four teenagers, after talking to the boy in the car were unable to get an explanation of what he was doing with Dr. Mangold's car.

Two of the teenagers persuaded the boy in the car to leave with them and they drove the youth to the police station. The other two teenagers drove Dr. Mangold's car to the police station.

McConnell says Dr. Mangold was unaware his car had been stolen until notified by police.

The 16-year-old boy is being held in the Hale County Jail at Plainview pending hearing on probation violation after allegedly stealing the car sometime Saturday night.

He is charged with probation violation, possession of a stolen car, public intoxication and two counts of aggravated assault. He was on probation in connection with a burglary in Lockney last year.

Lockney Police Chief Bill McConnell and Floyd County Deputy Sheriff Don Pennington were treated and released at the Lockney General Hospital after they were bitten during a scuffle with the youth.

The police officers were bitten while trying to handcuff the youth to take him to the Hale County Jail.

Two are charged in Hiway 70 robbery

Two Plainview men were charged with aggravated robbery after they allegedly took about $200 in a holdup at Hiway 70 Texaco in Lockney.

The identities of the two suspects were not available at press time.

Jean Strickland, who runs the combination service station and convenience store, was working Tuesday night about 6:30 when a man entered and asked about getting something to eat.

Lockney Police Chief Bill McConnell says the man continued to discuss getting something to eat with Mrs. Strickland while waiting for another customer to leave the store.

When the other customer left, McConnell says, the man announced the robbery and said he had a gun.

McConnell says the man held his hand under his sweater as if he had a gun, but no weapon was ever seen by Mrs. Strickland.

"He said he had a gun," Mrs. Strickland says, "but I didn't wait to find out. I just told him to take what he wanted from the cash drawer."

The man went behind the counter, McConnell said, shoved Mrs. Strickland a couple times, and emptied out the cash drawer.

"He told me to lie down behind the counter and not to get up because there would be somebody watching me after he drove away," Mrs. Strickland says.

After the man left the store with the loot, Mrs. Strickland says, "I peered over the counter and saw the license number," on the get-away car driven by another man.

Mrs. Strickland called McConnell who issued an all-points-bulletin for the vehicle.

About 20 minutes later, the car and the two men were spotted by Hale County Sheriff's deputies on a side road about five miles north of Plainview in Hale County.

McConnell says the two men offered no resistance when taken into custody by the Hale County Deputies.

The allegedly stolen money was found in the car.

McConnell says no gun was found on the men or in the car, but one man had a pocket knife with a large blade.

DR. GARY MANGOLD stressed the importance of physical fitness to the Lockney Business and Professional Women's Association during their January meeting at Strickland's Restaurant. The club enjoyed a roast beef dinner and made plans for their "bosses" banquet planned for February.

seems likely at the time I write this the hostages will be released soon. I hope that will be the answer to our prayers, and the only resolution we can wish. But I wonder what our response to this whole ordeal will turn out to be.

For a while, this country experienced a surge in national pride. When the hostages were first taken, the general response was, "How could this happen in the greatest country in the world? What has happened to America?"

People, even some long time activists of mine, (who could hardly be described as patriots) began to feel patriotic stirrings.

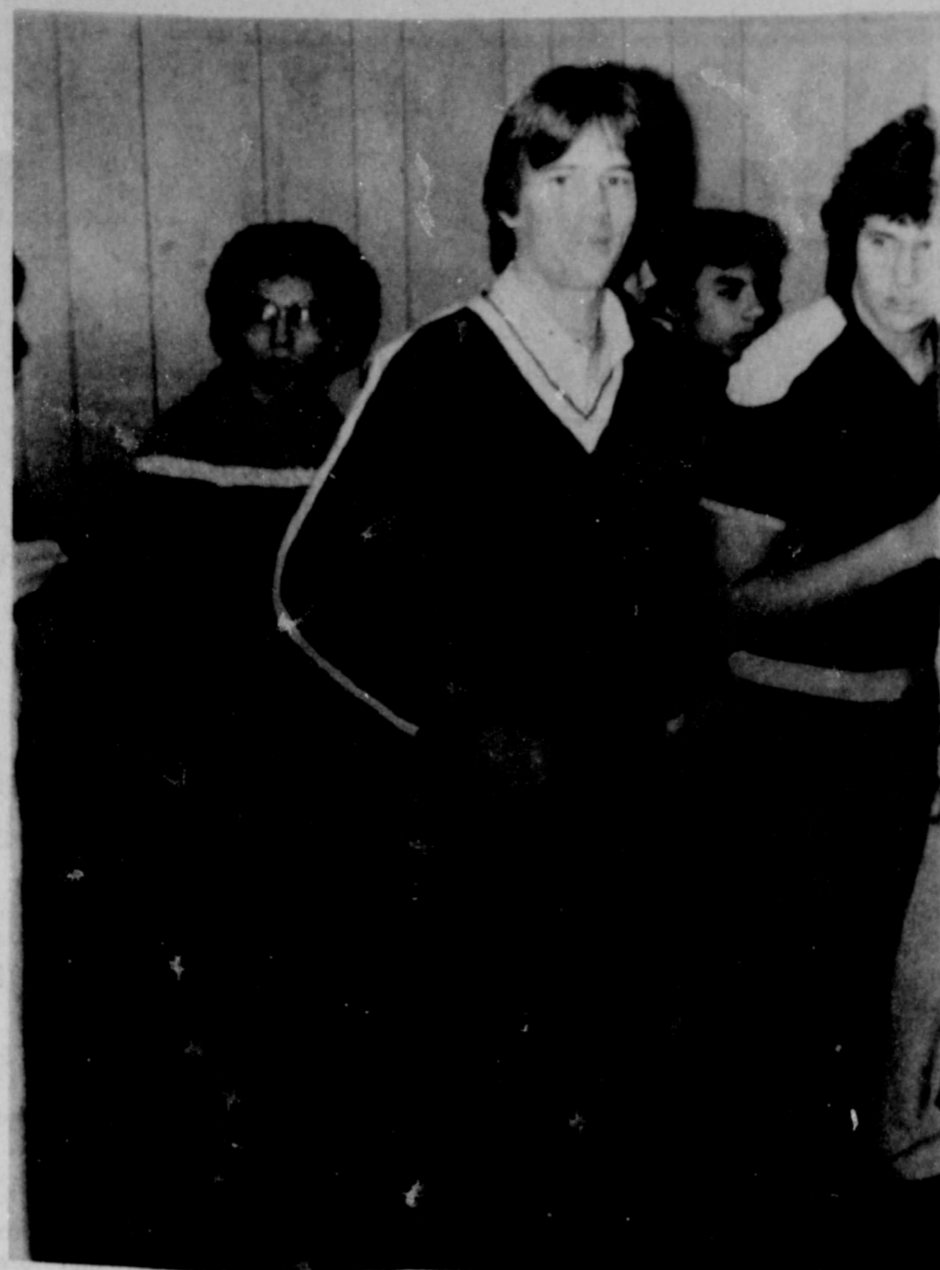

As time went on and on, and the hopes for a quick resolution to the crisis seemed remote, the fervor died down. Now, I expect the renewal of the patriotic spirit.

What disturbs me that with a rise in nationalism comes the belief that God is on our particular nation's side. A strict reading of the scriptures shows that even the nation Israel, God was not to be considered their God just because they were Israel. It is clear, especially in the New Testament, that those people are God's who are willing to obey Him. Thus the New Testament speaks of a new nation, which is not a nation, but those people who have responded to the Gospel, wherever they may reside.

An anonymous letter to Diognetus, written from the second century, describes the early Christians as living in the world, but not being citizens of the world, even of their native lands, in which they are described as being strangers.

To think improper then, for Christians to claim that America is a "Christian nation", for it implies somehow that Christians are superior, certainly not a Christian thing to do, and it implies that citizenship in this world is somehow important to us.

When the hostages are let go, it will be because their passports say "America, and they America, and they have special to God, but because of the one who sent His Son to "set captives free". Think about it.

MRS. GARY KEITH PHILLIPS

Fortenberry - Phillips united in double ring ceremony

Miss Marcia Ann Fortenberry and Gary Keith Phillips exchanged marriage promises in a ceremony held Saturday evening in the Lone Star community home of Bill and Mary Jo Sherman, uncle and aunt of the bride.

Elder Joe Jackson, Cone, minister of the Primitive Baptist Church in Floydada, directed the ceremony that united in marriage the children of Eddie and Gayle Fortenberry and D.J. and Alameda Phillips, all of Lockney.

The bride's brothers, Sam and John Fortenberry, served as ushers and seated guests in the living room of the Spanish-style adobe home. Guests were registered at a table in the entry hall by the groom's niece, Miss Dana Laceywell of Bryan. An ecru cloth covered the table which was centered with an arrangement of pink and burgundy carnations, baby's breath and fern. Special guests were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Elsie Sherman, and the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Roxie Workman.

Mrs. Mike Mathis was pianist for a pre-ceremony program of music and played the traditional marches. Soloist was Mrs. Ricky Mosley who accompanied herself on the guitar as she sang "If" and "One Love."

ATTENDANTS Members of the wedding party included matron of honor Mrs. Sam Fortenberry, sister-in-law of the bride; bridesmatron Mrs. Steve McPherson of New Home; best man Ronnie Aston and groomsmen Terry Scott of Lazbuddie.

Mrs. Fortenberry and Mrs. McPherson were dressed in identical gowns of dusty pink quiana fashioned with bateau neckline, dolman sleeves and gathered skirt that draped to the floor. Each carried a lighted votive candle nestled in a bouquet of pink carnations, baby's breath and greenery. The bouquets were tied with burgundy ribbon streamers.

The groom and all male attendants wore burgundy tuxedos with pink shirts. The groom had a pink rose boutonniere and the attendants' lapel flowers were pink carnations.

Children in the wedding were candlelighters Chad Laceywell of Bryan and Phillip Glasson; ring bearer Jerod Glasson and flower girl Jennifer Fortenberry. The boys are nephews of the groom and the little girl is the bride's niece.

Miss Fortenberry's dress was of white dotted swiss over pink crepe. The floor-length dress was designed with rounded neckline trimmed with a ruffled collar, high waistline and long sleeves gathered at the cap of the sleeves. She carried a rose petal-filled white basket lined in pink crepe and tied with pink ribbon streamers.

Mrs. Roy Turley, mother of matron of honor Mrs. Sam Fortenberry, handmade the dresses of her daughter, here granddaughter and bridesmatron Mrs. McPherson.

GIVEN BY FATHER The bride was escorted by her father, Eddie Fortenberry, down the long, brick-paved central hallway that led into the dual living and sun room. The lower-level sun room was used as the nuptial area. Lighted twin spiral candelabra, adorned with greenery and pink satin ribbons, decorated the area as did hanging baskets of potted plants. The flickering candlelight complimented the heavily-plastered walls of the adobe home.

The bride's dress was a white gown of chiffon knit and Alencon lace. The beaded Alencon lace bodice featured a Queen Anne neckline with sheer inserts on the shoulders. Beaded Alencon encircled the empire waistline. Sheer chiffon knit bishop sleeves were shirred to wide Alencon lace cuffs which were edged in crystal-pleated ruffle. More of the lace was applied to the sleeves. The A-line skirt swept to back fullness forming a chapel-length train. Lace motifs were scattered along the skirt's front hemline. The hemline of the skirt and train were edged in lace and a crystal-pleated flounce accented the train.

To complete her ensemble, the bride wore a silk illusion veil caught to a beaded Alencon lace Camelot capulet. Lace motifs delicately were scattered at the crown of the fingertip-length veil which was edged in lace and double rows of veiling cord.

The bride's bouquet was of gardenias, pink sweetheart roses and baby's breath accented with white ribbon streamers tied in love knots. The wedding bands of the bride's great-grandmother, the late Marcia Meriwether, married in 1902, and the groom's grandmother, Roxie Workman, married in 1907, were tied in the bouquet. "Something old and something borrowed" were the wedding bands, "something new" was the bride's dress and "something blue" was a garter.

RECEPTION The wedding reception was also held in the Sherman home. The table was covered with an ecru lace cloth over burgundy. A silver candelabra with pink candles, surrounded by the bride's and the attendants' bouquets, served as the centerpiece.

The three-tiered wedding cake was iced in white, trimmed with pink and burgundy roses and topped with a bride and groom figurine. Silver and crystal appointments were used to serve the cake and pink punch.

Reception attendants were Dana Laceywell; Kay Sherman, cousin of the bride; Mrs. Bill Sherman and Mrs. Tommy Sherman, aunts of the bride; and the groom's sisters, Mrs. Paul Glasson and Mrs. Ronnie Laceywell of Bryan.

After a wedding trip to Red River, New Mexico, the couple will be home at 306 W. Washington in Lockney.

The bride was a 1975 graduate of Lockney High School and a 1979 graduate of West Texas State University where she earned a degree in animal science and was a member of Alpha Zeta, agriculture honor fraternity. She is an employee of Lockney General Hospital.

The groom was a 1970 graduate of Lockney High School. He attended WTSU and is now engaged in farming in the Lone Star community.

The groom's parents were hosts for the rehearsal dinner at K-Bob's Restaurant in Plainview Friday night. The bridesmaid luncheon was in the home of Mrs. Roy Turley in Lockney the morning of the wedding day.

MR. AND MRS. TERRY ROBERTS

Bice - Roberts wed

Lisa Lynn Bice, Floydada, and Terry Lane Roberts, Lockney, exchanged wedding vows Friday, January 16, at Lockney.

The bride was dressed in a pale lavender dress with matching jacket and wore a corsage of white baby mums with tiny seed pearls. She is employed by Thompson Drug in Floydada. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Joy Reese and Mr. and Mrs. Bice, Vigo Park.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lockney, and is employed by Sterley Gin in Lockney. Following a wedding reception in the home of the First Baptist Church, 400 S. Wall in Lockney, the bride and groom will reside in Lockney.

Study Club hosts quilting bee

An old fashion quilting party was held at the Senior Citizens Center by the members of the 1956 Jr. Study Club and their guest, Mrs. Ollie DeFreese, grandmother of Connie Wideman from Ralls, showed the members quilts which she and several of her friends have quilted.

Under the experienced supervision of Mrs. DeFreese and Mrs. Ethel Cross, the members, most for the first time, worked on a quilt for which they had made the squares. A new appreciation for this timeless art was soon experienced by the group.

The quilt squares in shades of rust, brown and beige calico prints were made by the members in December. Each square has a house and shrubs appliqued on it, with each member adding personal touches to her square.

Sharon Vickers sewed the squares together forming a quilt top before Pat Battey and Joyce Anderson helped to stretch the fabric on a quilt frame. Pat and Joyce have been making quilts for several years.

During the business meeting, Sharon reminded department chairmen that their reports are due on the first of February.

Judy Dunlap and Jan Thompson served refreshments that helped set the mood of a quilting bee with tea cakes, oatmeal cookies, finger sandwiches and hot apple cider served from a table covered with a quilt that Judy's grandmother had made for her when she went to college.

Barnett - Adams plan January 31 wedding

Mrs. Frances Barnett of Floydada and Mr. and Mrs. James W. Adams of Plainview are proud to announce the engagement and upcoming marriage of their children Kimberly LaShawn to Jimmy Dewayne.

Miss Barnett is a 1979 graduate of Floydada High School and has attended West Texas State University for two years.

School. He is now employed for Lillie Hoffman Cooling Towers.

Mr. Adams is a 1978 graduate of Plainview High

DeWitt presents program

The first meeting of the year for the Homebuilders Extension Club was held January 13, in the extension meeting room with president Gladys Widener presiding.

The program for the afternoon was "Womans Guide To Social Security."

Roll call was answered with "What was your favorite age and why?" Mrs. Muri Mayfield was elected alternate and Mattie Norrell delegate to the district meeting.

Announcement was made that council meeting date had been changed to January 22 at 2 p.m.

Lillian Smith introduced the guest speaker Miss Virginia DeWitt from the Social Security office.

A most interesting program was given by Miss DeWitt.

One of the helpful hints she left with the group was, if you have wondered how many quarters you have to work to be eligible to apply for security under your own social security number, is take your date of birth add eleven and you will have your required number of quarters.

Miss DeWitt is in Floydada each second and fourth Wednesday.

The meeting adjourned to meet January 27 in the home of Lillian Smith on "Families and The Law."

Refreshments were served by Gladys Widener to members, Inez Walker, Evelyn Latta, Obara Biggerstaff, Muri Mayfield, Blanche Williams, Lillian Smith, and guests Wilma Colston, Barbara Willis and Virginia DeWitt.

WOOL SWEATER CARE
Hand-wash wool sweaters at home to keep care costs down. Although most woollens require dry cleaning, wool sweaters are an exception. Before washing a sweater for the first time, trace an outline of it on heavy paper. Use a pencil or pen that will not fade or run when wet. Label the paper pattern, and keep it to use each time the sweater is washed. To wash a sweater, use lukewarm water and a mild detergent. Avoid using too much detergent — it's hard to rinse out of the sweater. Never use chlorine bleach on wool. Pretreat any spots with a diluted detergent solution. Soak the sweater for five to ten minutes, then gently squeeze the suds through the sweater several times. Avoid scrubbing, twisting or stretching the sweater while it is wet. Squeeze out suds. Rinse the sweater at least twice in clear, lukewarm water. Handle the garment carefully. Squeeze out excess water after last rinsing. Lay the sweater on a dry terry cloth towel, and roll the towel up. Let towel absorb water for a few minutes. Place the paper pattern of the sweater on a dry towel or sweater drying rack. Place the sweater on the pattern, gently shaping the sweater to match the pattern. Let the sweater dry away from direct heat and sunlight. When sweater is almost dry, turn it over to allow underside to dry more rapidly. Handle with care, and do not stretch sweater while turning it.

TEN WAYS TO CUT FOOD COSTS

Cut food costs 10 easy ways.

First, pack your lunch. You not only save money, but you know what you are eating in terms of calories, protein and other key nutrients. Eat more meat substitutes. Dry beans, peas and nuts are nutritious when used in the right combination. Or, add small amounts of meat, poultry or fish to the meat substitute to insure nutritional adequacy. Prepare more food from scratch. If you work and don't have time for tedious preparation on workdays, try preparing food on the weekends, freeze it and reheat after a busy day at the job. Eat fewer meals outside the home. Plan for meals eaten at restaurants and make them special occasions and something to look forward to. Drink more water — it's cheaper than soft drinks, alcohol, coffee or tea, and it is calorie free. Plan for a garden, and grow vegetables at home. Buy store brands or generic products. The store or house brand is cheaper and for most products, they are just as acceptable as the nationally advertised product.

When taking a trip in the car, plan on a picnic instead of a stop at a fast food establishment. Use unit pricing when selecting products. Often the larger size package is not the most economical. Use leftovers or planned-overs. Dollars are saved by not wasting food. Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

For older persons on a fixed income, H&R Block has the right answer to this and other questions regarding special tax credits and deductions for those taxpayers. If you itemize, the answer is TRUE. Are the tax advantages in a Keogh plan only applicable on a pay-out basis or can I withdraw a large lump sum and still realize some tax savings? The tax treatment is different on lump-sum withdrawals from Keogh plans as opposed to pay-outs. However, there is still a definite tax advantage through a Keogh plan by way of a generous tax break as opposed to other investments. With the lump-sum withdrawal, the break occurs only when payment is made in one taxable year for the entire balance of your Keogh plan after participation in the plan for five taxable years. Distribution can only be made: 1) after the owner-employee reaches age 59½; 2) in the case of the death of the owner-employee; or, 3) if the owner-employee becomes disabled.

A GOOD MATCH is the single most important key to fuel savings. That match is between tractor gear ratio, engine speed and load. The rule to follow is: Don't overload the engine by using too high a gear ratio. Pulling the maximum load your tractor can handle dictates operation of the engine at rated speeds and with the gear ratio indicated by the load. In other words: Don't ask the machine to do more than it's capable of. When doing drawbar work, matching the tractor with the implement isn't as critical from a fuel efficiency point of view as when doing PTO work. The engine rpm can be reduced, and the tractor shifted up to a higher gear to obtain good fuel economy when working with low loads. Research indicates that matching the tool and the tractor saves fuel and increases the number of acres worked per hour. Next week, saving fuel by "keeping 'em down on the farm."

Become a profit-making writer.

Since the beginning writing checks meant you can spending, spending, spending. But not anymore. Now start earning, earning, earning, at the same time. You can open a checking account that pays interest. It actually lets you make money on all the money in your checking account, the same as you do on money in a savings account. Of course, anything that great is bound to be a little complicated. Because exactly how much you earn depends on things like number of transactions, minimum balance, average balance, etc., etc. That's why it pays to talk things over with us first. We understand modern checking because we're A Full Service Bank, and that's where it was invented. No two ways about it. We have the most professional experience when it comes to making sure your checking always stays simple and convenient, which is why you got it in the first place. After all, it shouldn't be a pain to make a profit.

BY J.D. PEER
 The prices of wild furs in Texas are not very stable according to reports from fur buyers as the 1980-81 fur-bearing season gets underway.

One Central Texas trapper said that prices could be a little less than last year and that they should go higher until the end of December.

At that time, the trapper will have to watch for a steady decline in prices and sell his furs before the prices drop.

Experience has taught this Texas trapper to sell when the prices level off and the furs are in prime condition.

The open season for taking pelts for sale started November 15 for mink and muskrat.

The mink season will run through January 15, 1981, and the muskrat season will continue through March 15, 1981.

The fur-bearing season on the remainder of the legal animals including badger, beaver, nutria, opossum, otter, racoon, ringtailed cat, skunk and wild civet will be from December 1 through January 31, 1981.

Texas residents taking these fur-bearers for sale or barter or those who sell these furs are required to have a $5 Texas trappers license.

There are also licenses for non-residents, retail and wholesale fur-buying, beaver & otter trapping outside the county of the trappers residence.

Trapping has a place in Texas wildlife management as long as it is done by the rules and common sense.

There are areas in Texas that have high populations of fur-bearers and trapping and hunting of these animals makes good sense both for the landowner and other wildlife.

This harvest will not only keep the animals in balance, but will provide recreation for thousands of residents and produce monetary returns to boot.

There are persons opposing trapping and hunting. Their reasons might be valid to them but not to the responsible trapper. Most trappers have seen overpopulations of wild animals that are starving due to an unbalanced ratio of predators and food.

The responsible trapper obtains permission before trapping and avoids setting traps in areas where domestic animals may be caught.

These traps are set daily (morning) and checked frequently.

These trappers are farmers and ranchers who have a personal interest in trapping and hunting. It is the responsibility of the trappers to take and seasons violations to the P&WD game warden.

The future rests upon the trapper and his field with the and the wildlife.

USDA: no barley, wheat payments

The U.S. Department of Agriculture will make no deficiency payments on the 1980 crops of barley and wheat, according to John Goodwin, associate administrator of USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Goodwin said such payments are not required under the 1980 feed grain and wheat programs because market prices have been well above established target price levels of $2.55 for barley and $3.63 for wheat. During the June through October marketing period the national average market prices were $2.59 per bushel for barley and $3.89 per bushel for wheat.

Goodwin also said the final 1980 national program acreage for barley has been increased from 7.9 to 8.3 million acres and the national program acreage for wheat has been increased from 70 to 75 million acres. The national program acreage represents the number of acres of a crop needed to meet estimated demand and assure desirable carryover levels, Goodwin said.

He said the allocation factor for both wheat and barley is 100 percent. The allocation factor is computed by dividing the national program acreage for a crop by the harvested acreage.

If 1980-crop deficiency payments for corn and sorghum are required, they will be made next April, Goodwin said.

Soil fertility program Monday

The Floyd County Extension Service and the County Crops Committee would like to invite all Floyd County producers and interested individuals to attend their annual Soil Fertility Day Program which will be held at the Massie Activity Center in Floydada on Monday, January 26, beginning at 7:00 p.m.

Each year some of the major production problems confronted by producers in the county are addressed at the annual Soil Fertility Day Program in an effort to assist producers in learning new and improved methods of controlling and/or eliminating many of the obstacles limiting effective and profitable production of major crops in the county.

This year's program topics include:

- Weed control in cotton and grain crops
- Use of Trichogramma wasps in boll-worm control
- Use of infra-red photography in solving soil fertility and weed control problems

Soybean growers can win trip to Mexico

Soybean grower members of the American Soybean Association (ASA) can earn an expense paid trip to Mexico by participating in the 1981 ASA/Mobay Membership Contest. The contest, recognizing top membership recruiters, is sponsored by Mobay Chemical Corporation, makers of Sencor. Winners will participate in an expense paid market development study mission to Mexico where they will visit major ASA market development projects.

"The contest runs from October 1, 1980 through May 31, 1981," says B.B. Spralling Jr., a soybean producer from Roba, Alabama, and ASA vice president of membership. Eleven (11) expense paid trips for two to Mexico will be awarded to contest winners and spouses to spend five days in Mexico. The market development study mission will leave St. Louis, Missouri, at the conclusion of the 1981 ASA National Convention on August 4 and will return to St. Louis August 8.

The expense paid trip will be awarded to the top soybean grower volunteer salesman and spouse from each of the ten ASA field service regions. In addition, one trip will be awarded to a new member and spouse selected by drawing from names of all new members joining from the ten regions during the contest period.

To be eligible, participants must submit a list of newly signed members on the official contest verification form available with contest rules from all ASA regional field offices or from the state soybean association membership secretary.

New members are defined as soybean growers who have never belonged to ASA or whose ASA membership has lapsed 90 or more days. Volunteer soybean grower salesmen must be ASA members and personally sign all membership verification forms. Contest winners will be notified by June 23 in order to obtain a Mexican tourist card and make travel plans.

Many problems face Ag Secretary

(COLLEGE STATION) — "The greatest challenge the new Secretary of Agriculture will likely face is winning support for his producer-oriented policy proposals within other agencies of government."

Several of the major issues confronting Agriculture Secretary John Block are of direct interest to other government departments, according to Dr. Ronald D. Knutson.

Knutson is an economist in policy and marketing with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. He also has been serving on the staff of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Transition Task Force for the incoming Reagan administration.

Knutson said agricultural issues where conflicts are likely to occur among agencies of government include lifting of the Soviet grain embargo, increases in food prices, and proposals to increase price and income supports that have the potential for adding to government outlays.

Knutson, in an address before the Texas Farmers Union in Dallas, said that two major changes will occur within the USDA as a result of the election of Ronald Reagan as President and appointment of Block as Agriculture Secretary.

"First, USDA policy proposals and decisions will be more market-oriented. In this situation, forces of supply and demand are the prime determinants of farm prices and income," said Knutson.

This contrasts directly with the Carter administration farm policies where prices of major food and feed grains have been maintained in a relatively narrow range, mainly through low release and call levels within the government-controlled but farmer-held reserve, the economist explained.

"Second, USDA policy proposals and decisions will be more producer-oriented. In this type of farm policy, decisions are made primarily on the basis of their impact upon producers. This also contrasts with the Carter administration where policy decisions have been heavily influenced by consumers and consumer impacts."

"In other words, the trend toward consumerization of the USDA will be interrupted," Knutson said.

These changes will have significant implications for farmers and their organizations, the economist noted.

"While farm income will be higher in a market-oriented environment, farm prices will fluctuate more—and risk will increase," he predicted.

"In addition, with primarily a producer clientele, it will be critical that the new Secretary have a broad unified base of producer support. Without such support base, the Secretary's position in winning the assistance of other agencies for his producer-oriented proposals will be undermined," emphasized Knutson.

Deadline nearing for SBA farm loans

"During the months of December and January the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) made arrangements for representatives from the Lubbock Disaster Office to meet with Texas agriculture producers and related businesses at various locations to provide information about the SBA disaster program and make applications available for persons to apply for low-interest recovery loans," said John H. Fall, Branch Manager of the SBA Lubbock Disaster Office.

Fall continued, "The farm disaster loan program is designed to provide low interest recovery loans for losses sustained during the 1980 production year as declared by SBA's declaration #1900."

Declaration #1900 expires February 12, 1981, and physical loss applications must be received by the SBA Lubbock Disaster Office by the close of business or postmarked by midnight. The deadline for economic injury disaster loan applications is May 12, 1981.

For more information, interested persons may contact the SBA Lubbock Disaster Office, located at 720 Texas Avenue, by calling (806) 762-7481.

Rep. Stenholm supports multilateral agreement

(DALLAS). Congressman Charles Stenholm (D-Texas) appears to be among a growing number of farm state lawmakers who support multilateral trade agreements, according to statements made to members of the Texas Farmers Union meeting in Dallas.

Noting that the U.S. did not sell one single bushel of grain in world markets in 1980 at a price above the cost of production, Stenholm told the statewide farm organization's audience that officials of other exporting nations such as Canada and Australia "are asking when we Americans are going to stop selling our grains so cheap."

"The U.S. controls sixty percent of the world wheat market," noted the second-term congressman and member of the U.S. House Agriculture Committee. "That means we are poor businessmen if we can control a market but cannot increase our own profitability."

However, he quickly added that farmers don't have control of their markets, pointing out that ninety percent of the world's grains are traded by just four of the largest companies, three of which are foreign-owned, and the fourth partially under foreign control.

"We're going to continue to see the export market touted as a solution to the farm problem, and certainly it is," he said. "But the days of productive agriculture in this country are numbered unless there is a change in policy."

While advocating a higher price for farm goods, Stenholm also spoke of farmers against seeking trade agreements through federal programs.

"Farmers cannot take a back seat in this congress and state farm goods, Stenholm said. "The idea of more money for anything in Congress is going to be difficult just keeping what's there from being difficult enough."

On the positive side, the congressman said the state would be having a veteran of the Texas Revolution, "Kika" de la Garza, as House Agriculture Committee chairman. He is also "very pleased" with the appointment of John Block to the position of Agriculture Secretary, although he said he was not sure about his (Block's) background.

Stenholm also said he had heard that fuel costs would rise by a dollar per gallon in a relatively short time, but, rather than suffering from diesel costs, farmers should "get the 16-20% return they deserve because of the definite price of 'gasohol' (ethanol) relative to the price of oil."

Bentsen calls for meat import quotas

Senator Lloyd Bentsen on Thursday urged the President to keep meat import quotas in place during 1981.

"I urge you to consider both the consumer and the producer impact of your proposed decision on the 1981 meat import quotas and then to negotiate voluntary restraint agreements with meat exporting countries," Bentsen said in a letter to President Carter.

"According to the Department of Agriculture's own estimate, the amount of meat that would be imported without any restraints is only 11 million pounds above the trigger level of 1,447 million pounds. Such a small amount of meat will have very little, if any, impact on consumer prices."

"On the other hand, any action to suspend meat import quotas will have a large effect on the American cattle rancher. Cattlemen have been severely hurt in recent years by drought, by low cattle prices and by astronomical increases in operating costs. They are now rebuilding their herds to produce meat for future years and a suspension of quotas at this time would discourage producers and the future meat supplies. From the point of view, this action is pushing a drowning man under. He comes up for a breath of air and you push him back down."

"In addition, I view this action as a violation of the Meat Import Act of 1979, which I authored. I supported, as did the industry, a compromise on Presidential discretion in order to win passage of your initial veto. However, this promise contains specific language directing that 'special weight be given to the health of the domestic industry.' In view of the very large benefit and the fact that these quotas may be suspended next year if I believe that the intent of this law is not to be suspended in this situation," Bentsen said.

"I believe it is in the best interest of all concerned not to suspend the import quotas and I urge you to negotiate voluntary restraints instead," Senator Bentsen said.

Christmas my parents gave me a new coffee cup. How many are always dirty? I wash dishes at night. It's never a clean coffee cup. My husband says, "You only wash two or three times a week. I wash all the dishes are always dirty. I wash dishes at night. I spend half my time washing dishes."

When I have a dishwasher I have clean dishes. Someone else has to scrape the dishes, load them, turn it on, and then use it is finished.

That's still a lot of work, especially if you have a little leprechaun who stops the dishwasher. The dishes are really clean and have little "yucks" all over them.

I don't mean to say that my husband help with the dishes. He washes dishes, but I never
