Blood bank at Lockney Hospital

A blood bank will be conducted from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. today at Lockney General Hospital.

People between 17-and-65-years-old may donate blood. People over 65 years old may be accepted as donors at the discretion of the hospital.

You must weigh at least 110 pounds to give blood and it must have been at least eight weeks since you last made a donation.

You may not give blood if you have or had:

- Hepatitis
- Current active disease of heart, lung, kidney, liver, stomach
- Internal malignancy (cancer) within past 10 years
- Diabetes requiring insulin
- Habituation to injectable drugs

You may be temporarily deferred from giving blood if you have had:

- Acute symptomatic flu, cold, or upper respiratory infection
- Close contact with hepatitis in past 6 months
- Tattoos in past 6 months
- Active infection or disease presently requiring medication
- Vaccinations in past 24 hours; some vaccinations have longer deferral periods

It's Not Easy

Few people keep Liquid Paper in their medicine chests. Unless you do a fair amount of typing and are prone to mistakes, you probably don't even know of the miracle substance which covers all sins on the printed page and lets you have a second try at getting it right.

Most of those familiar with liquid paper probably keep it handy in a desk drawer near the typewriter. I can't even keep my typewriter on my desk at home, much less Liquid Paper in the desk drawer. The typewriter must be restored to its place on top of the refrigerator after each use and the miracle error fixer returned to the medicine chest.

You see I am the proud parent of a toddler who thinks she is a secret agent for the FBI. She must not only investigate every object within reach, but must take it apart for hidden secrets. Some things like a typewriter and Liquid Paper can't survive such close inspection.

All critical items must be kept in places not accessible to little hands. Along side the Liquid Paper in the medicine chest are the household glue, scissors, needles, and thread, kitchen cleanser, and floor wax. Usually there isn't enough room left for the toothpaste.

City will offer bounty on stray dogs and cats

The City of Lockney will begin offering bounties on stray dogs and cats at the end of the month.

Mayor J.D. Copeland said the city will begin offering $5 for each stray dog and cat on Tuesday May 26, the day after Memorial Day.

Copeland said at the monthly City Council meeting that the strays should be taken to veterinarian Dr. Paul Glasson where they will be placed in the city pens.

Copeland said Glasson will issue a receipt to the person bringing in the dog or cat. The receipt, Copeland said, should then be taken to city hall for payment of the bounty.

Copeland said owners of licensed dogs brought in will be traced through the license number.

Stray dogs and cats brought in, Copeland said, will be held three days before they are destroyed.

Copeland said that, in effect, "we're deputizing everyone as dog catchers," in an effort to clear up the city's stray dog and cat problem.

A similar bounty program in Abertown proved successful in remedying that town's problem with strays.

In other action at the council meeting, city attorney Paul Lyle reported he had sent out 57 letters to people who have not paid their taxes.

There is about $20,000 in delinquent city taxes outstanding and about $15,000 in delinquent Mackenzie Water District taxes outstanding.

Lyle said lawsuits will be filed against those who do not pay their delinquent taxes soon.

In other action, the council: —elected Councilman Pat Frizzell as mayor pro tem.

—authorized the city engineer to advertise for bids for seal-coating a number of streets including sections of West First, East Second, West Second, West Third, and Bryant Streets. The seal-coating, which will cost about $25,000 will be done this summer.

—decided not to extend the distance outside the city limits for which the city will provide water service from one to one and a half miles.

—heard a report from Councilman Paul Reecer that some downtown merchants are complaining that the streets are dirty and are not being swept frequently enough. Mayor Copeland said street cleaning efforts have been hampered recently because of wet weather.

—heard a report from Mayor Copeland that dead trees will be pulled up Friday, May 22 in connection with the city's trash pickup May 22 and 23.

Remodeling planned at county courthouse

The county court room looks oddly bare. The court bench has been sent to Huntsville. Right, to the state prison.

A repair shop at that institution employs inmates who redo furniture from court rooms and police stations.

There will also be some remodeling done to both the court room and County Judge Choise Smith's office.

Most of the work will be repair and painting. There will be a partition removed and the jury box will be extended.

County Commissioners voted at the Court meeting Monday to award the remodeling job to Audry McCormick.

Commissioners also accepted bids on a used Galion from West Texas Equipment Company, Lubbock, and a used motor grader from Yellowhouse Machinery Co., Lubbock.

Bids were also accepted on four automobiles from the state department of public safety.

Fred Thayer of Behner and Company, accountants in Floydada, met with the court and with County Tax Assessor Jonelle Fawver to discuss an audit of the county tax books.

The in-depth audit will be the first of its kind made by Thayer in Floyd County.

The audit is being requested by the county court in order to comply with revenue sharing requirements.

In 1976 a major amendment was made in the Revenue Sharing Program requiring financial information and tax audit from counties.

Commissioners agreed to put off a motion until Thayer presents a proposal at the next court meeting in June.

Landscape & Gardening

BY KEN LANGLEY

(Editor's note: Landscape and Gardening will be a weekly feature written by Ken Langley, Assistant County Agent, and scheduled to run into the late summer.)

While it's best to seed some vegetables directly in the home garden, others do best if transplanted.

In this area of Texas tomatoes, peppers and eggplant should always be set out in the garden as transplants. The reason for this is the weather. These vegetables are somewhat fickle when it comes to ideal environmental conditions for setting fruit. Bloom and fruit set must occur before temperatures get too high. Setting out transplants after danger of all frost allows these plants to bloom during ideal conditions and to set a bountiful harvest during optimum weather.

You can also transplant such so-called "cool season" crops such as cabbage, cauliflower, broccoli, lettuce and onions. This allows them to mature under ideal conditions and also saves growing time in the garden. Using transplants can lessen the garden growing time by several months or more. However, setting out transplants of crops such as okra, squash, cucumbers and melons offers no real advantage and is usually not a recommended practice.

What about the "how" of transplanting? Handle transplants like eggs! Make every effort to avoid undue stress to young plants. Be sure plants do not suffer from lack of moisture, wind damage or excessive heat prior to and immediately after transplanting. Most plants that are available locally will be growing in plantable containers such as peat pots or peat cubes. If possible, plan to transplant during late may be delayed greatly. When filling the hole with soil at planting, leave a slight depression around the plant to hold additional water from spot watering or from rainfall. Also protect young plants for a week or so from high wind and excessive heat. This can be done easily by placing a shingle, board, milk carton or some similar protection on the windy or sunny side of the plant. A can placed around the transplant when it is set in the garden will also prevent damage from pesky cutworms.

Breeding and testing for hybrid cotton

Agrigenetics Corporation of Denver, Colorado, has announced the implementation of a breeding and testing program for the development of hybrid cotton.

Several cotton hybrids will be farmer tested at ten (10) locations on the South Plains of Texas. Yield results from these test plots will be evaluated following harvest to determine which hybrid will be put into production during 1982.

The Agrigenetics cotton project is being handled by R.C. Young Seed & Grain Co. of Lubbock, Texas, a division of Agrigenetics. According to the Agrigenetics cotton project leader, Keith Arnold, several hybrids will be included in the 1981 Texas Agricultural Experiment Station tests.

GSPA launches farmer-to-farmer campaign

Maby Foreman, president of the National Grain Sorghum Producers Association (GSPA) has announced an intensive farmer-to-farmer effort to reach and enlist every sorghum farmer in the nation.

Foreman, an Oklahoma farmer and rancher, said it is essential that sorghum growers be represented in Washington, D.C. as feed grains provisions of the 1981 Farm Bill are written. "Never before, has it been so important for farmers to speak up," Foreman said. "Never before, has it been so necessary for them to combine their voices in unity to reach their common goals. The economic and political mood of the nation demands it."

"GSPA has operated for more than 25 years on a very small budget," Foreman continued, "but it has been acclaimed as one of the most successful and effective farm organizations. In 25 years, the organization has added BILLIONS of dollars to sorghum farmers' incomes—$250 MILLION, in last year alone. Every sorghum farmer in the nation has shared in these benefits, and the time has come that we must have their support to continue the work."

Foreman said every member of Grain Sorghum Producers Association will be asked to contact other sorghum farmers in his community, tell them about GSPA's work and ask them to help him keep it going. The success of GSPA's work is directly related to the participation of farmers. "We expect this to be a landmark year in farm legislation, especially for feed grains. Export market development may be even more important," Foreman said. "We simply must not let sorghum farmers be ignored because they were not represented."

Sorghum farmers will participate in market team

(LUBBOCK)—Three sorghum growers will be chosen to participate in a Sorghum Farmers Market Development Team to Mexico next fall as part of Grain Sorghum Producers Association's market development work. The team will work with U.S. and Mexican Government officials, Mexican grain importers and the Latin American Director of U.S. Feed Grains Council.

The National Grain Sorghum Producers Association (GSPA) began feed grains foreign market development in 1958, with offices in Rome, Italy and Bogota, Colombia. It was from this effort, that U.S. Feed Grains Council was formed to work with USDA's Foreign Agriculture Service to promote overseas sales of all U.S. feed grains. GSPA has continued to work on foreign market problems that are specific to sorghum.

Mexico is now the second largest volume buyer of U.S. sorghum. Even larger purchases are likely if some problems can be solved. This will be the work of the Sorghum Farmers Market Development Team.

Three GSPA members will be selected for this expense paid (travel, meals and lodging) trip at the end of GSPA's current membership campaign. One winner will be chosen from each of three categories of members. The winner of Category I will be the GSPA member who has contacted and enlisted the most GSPA new members and membership renewals before the end of the campaign on October 1. The winner of Category II will be chosen by drawing from the names of the first one thousand GSPA members who renew next year's membership in advance. (GSPA's next fiscal year begins October 1, 1981.) The winner of Category III will be chosen by drawing from the names of the first one thousand new members to join GSPA.

All sorghum farmers are eligible to compete for a position on the Farmers Market Development Team. GSPA members will receive details in the mail and will contact sorghum growers who are not GSPA members.

Grain embargo lift good for Texas farmers

(COLLEGE STATION) — Lifting the U.S. grain embargo against Russia is good news to Texas farmers, maintains an economist in marketing and policy with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Dr. Ron Knutson pointed out that with the wheat harvest less than two months away, this move should provide added market strength at harvest.

"In the short to intermediate term, it should mean grain price increases in the range of 5 to 7 percent. The longer term impacts, while more important, are more uncertain," Knutson, who earlier had served as a member of President Reagan's transition team, said.

"Under the long-term trade agreement, if the Soviet Union wants to buy over 8 million metric tons of wheat and feedgrains, it must consult with U.S. officials," he added.

"This process of consultation or negotiation will now begin, and involves:

1. Additional quantities of wheat and feedgrains that we will allow the Soviets to purchase through September 30.
2. Development of a new long-term trade agreement specifying minimum purchase by the Soviets over a period of up to five years.
3. The quantities the Soviet Union is advised it can purchase after September 30, over and above the minimums specified in the long-term trade agreement.

The Reagan administration has already indicated a desire to negotiate a new long-term trade agreement. Ideally, this should be completed by September 30, 1981, when the old agreement expires, Knutson said.

"Another uncertainty is just how much grain the Soviets might want to buy from the U.S. after the embargo experience. Feedgrains and soybeans should be no problem in this regard. World supplies are tight, and we supply about 80 percent of this market," he said.

Wheat is more uncertain. Argentina, Australia and Canada already have trade agreements with Soviets. The French also want to sell. The wheat market will likely be the most difficult to recover—but the most important to Texas since wheat is our largest grain source of income," Knutson added.

Grain dust explosion research needed

"We need help in trying to identify the causes and conditions that trigger dust explosions in Texas grain elevators," according to Bill Riffe, Stratford Grain Company, Stratford, Texas, and president of Texas Grain and Feed Association. "We really don't think we need more inspectors until they can identify all of the causes and conditions," he continued.

Riffe pointed out that state and federal money could be put to better use in grain dust explosion research and in educational programs to help the elevator owners and operators after the causes and conditions are definitely identified. "It's sheer folly to think that an elevator owner-operator would knowingly allow conditions to exist in an elevator installation that could be the cause of a fire or explosion. There are many reasons why they would not allow them to exist," concluded Riffe.

In a statement by Ray Nolen, Executive Vice President of the Texas Grain and Feed Association, it was pointed out that elevator owners cannot afford to allow their elevators to explode or burn. "First of all," he said, "it usually puts them out of business for an extended period of time, which means a loss of profit, but more important than the loss of business and capital investment, is the possible loss of human lives or crippling injuries among employees. The employer invests large sums of money in training employees before they reach their maximum productivity, plus workmen's compensation insurance premiums and insurance premiums on the elevator installation. No one in his right mind would risk the lives of employees and these major investments by knowingly allowing the causes and conditions that trigger dust explosions to exist in their grain elevators or feed mills. For that reason, and no other reason, we need help in research and education. Top

BOXELDER BUGS IN HOME LANDSCAPES

Boxelder bugs can be a yearlong problem to homeowners. In spring and summer, they feed mainly on different seed-bearing shade trees, and later in the year, they can become a nuisance in the home.

While they rarely do serious damage to host trees such as Boxelder and Western Soapberry (sometimes mistakenly called Chinaberry), the pests suck plant sap from tender twigs, leaf stems, flowers and seeds, sometimes causing distorted leaves. Also, their presence in large numbers on trees, lawns, patios and sides of houses can be a disgusting sight to homeowners.

Adult boxelder bugs are about 1/2-inch long and have a dull black body with red markings on the "shoulders" and in an inverted "V-pattern" across the wings. The bugs pass through several immature stages before becoming adults, going from a nearly solid, scarlet red color to mostly blackish with red markings.

On trees, lawns and the exterior of homes, sprays of carbaryl (Sevin), diazinon or chlorpyrifos (Dursban) can be effective when applied thoroughly according to label directions. This is especially true when populations are mostly of immature nymphs. Repeat applications may be necessary for control.

When host trees drop the fall, boxelder bugs seek protected areas. Often they will invade the sides of homes, lawns and crevices in tree bases and overwinter in tubular or other items.

Effective caulking of homes can keep boxelder bugs from becoming an indoor pest. ever, insecticide sprays should be used to control them in attics where they are gathering. Carbaryl can be used effectively in attics. In addition, toxic products which contain DDT (DDVP) can be used in attics. As with all products, be sure to read all label directions.

Smaller, self-sufficient farms seen in the future

(COLLEGE STATION) — Cotton and cattle will continue to lead Texas' $10 billion agriculture industry in the years ahead, but the era of the suburban farmer is at hand.

Within the next 20 years, many rural areas will be broken into small tracts of no more than 10 or 20 acres, said Dr. W.E. Black, economist in marketing and public policy with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

For the most part, these will be single-family homesteads, owned by city people who prefer the country life.

"We'll see more of a self-sufficiency type of agrarian economy," Black said. "Such a family would keep a cow or two, raise its own vegetables, maybe even market some of its surplus."

This type of rural land use pattern is developing in most rapidly growing metropolitan areas, Black said. The urban regions are eventually ringed by small "country estates" owned primarily by the affluent who have big-city jobs and rural lifestyles.

As a result, Black said, it's the medium-sized farms nearest the cities that are being broken up into smaller tracts. Meanwhile, there will be more consolidation of large commercial farms; they will be fewer in number and larger in size.

These developments toward fewness and bigness continue. In 1976, for example, 2 percent of Texas farms and ranches produced 54 percent of the state's food and fiber, he noted. By 1990, the state's top 2 percent will management of grain and feed firms will eliminate the causes and conditions just as soon as they can," Nolen concluded.

Small, self-sufficient farms seen in the future produce nearly 70 percent of agricultural products. Nationally, the number of farms is declining while corporate farms are increasing. Corporate farms are now only 7 percent of the total but they already account for all farm production.

Corporations, Black said, are looking for ways to integrate — for bringing production, processing and transportation under one management.

More farm families are incorporating for tax purposes as it concerns the farm from one generation to the next.

Black said the cost of more than double between 1990. Leading the way are transportation and labor.

"And I think we've seen farmers being paid not to produce, largely because of vigorous demands by the government for food."

Currently the United States has a $28.5 billion surplus in agricultural products, most of which is exported that much more than imported this year.

"To the extent that we are going to continue to have a balance in agriculture, we

Brock, Evans chosen king, queen

Byron Brock and Rebecca Evans were chosen as prom king and queen at the annual Lockney High School junior senior prom last weekend.

A mural on the wall behind the sidewalk cafe represented a city skyline at night.

A gazebo was in the northeast corner and was used for picture-taking sessions.

Brock and Evans were chosen through balloting at the prom.

Crepe paper streamers of blue stretched from the center ceiling of the building to the side walls to form a canopy.

Prom guests dined at quartet tables set up in two areas decorated to resemble a patio and a sidewalk cafe.

Winners of four other honors were chosen by secret ballot of members of the junior class which hosted the annual end-of-school fete.

Those honors went to Monty Smith and Julie Ferguson, most representative; John Cummings and Julie Frizzell, most popular; John Fortenberry and Sharon Spencer, most friendly; Adrian Ramirez and Rebecca Evans, most likely to succeed.

"Midnight at Monte Carlo" was the theme of the prom which until this year has been a seated banquet followed by a prom.

Instead cafes were set up on the east wall of cafeteria to serve fried chicken strips, pizza, pigs-in-a-blanket, sausage balls, lemonade, tea, and sweet goodies.

Fruit punch was dispensed from a "bar" in the main room and one in the casino area where fathers of junior students served as dealers. Other fathers were "bar" attendants.

About 10 sophomore students were waitresses and waiters and also worked in the "cafes". The boys wore black pants and white shirts with black garters on their arms. The girls wore pink leotards, white tights, and pink and white bunny ears and white bunny tails.

Junior Class president Ralph Scheele welcomed the senior students, the faculty, administration and school board to the prom.

Dinners honor grads

Main Street Church of Christ honored members of the graduating classes of Lockney eighth grade and high school with spaghetti suppers recently.

Waiters and waitresses for the supper for the younger group were Johnny and Janice Wisdom, Don and Shirley Sutterfield, Travis, and Phyllis Hayes and church minister Jerry Klein. Following the supper, the Wisdoms directed games, and volleyball was played until dark.

About 50 students, principal and Mrs. Raymond Lusk, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Aufulf attended the eighth grade fete.

John Peck of Plainview and former superintendent of the Lockney schools was after-dinner speaker at the supper for the high school seniors and their sponsors Cherilen Russell and Marsha Sharp.

Servers that night were Bill and Mary Sherman, Roy and Linda Kidd, Ham and Mildred Gammage and Jerry Klein. At both suppers, the students were seated at tables covered with red cloths and centered with candles. Mrs. Red Archer was in charge of decorations which included graduate silhouettes on the walls of the fellowship hall.

Janie Carter was in charge of supper invitations and the kitchen staff was headed by Mrs. Wayne Bramlett.

The annual dinner to honor the members of the Lockney High School graduating class was held recently at the San Jose Catholic Church.

The theme for the dinner was "Mexican Fiesta." Small pinatas hung from the ceiling and wall decorations include large sombreros and a serape and the Mexican flag. Colorful paper flowers in vases were placed on the tables and at each plate setting was a guitar-shaped menu and a miniature sombrero and a serape.

Menu featured enchiladas, rice, beans, hot sauce and tostados, and Mexican cookies ban de polvos.

About 47 seniors, class sponsor Marsha Sharp, Superintendent and Mrs. W.H. Hallmark and principal James, and Mrs. Poole attended the dinner.

Welcome was by Parish Council president Felipe Gatica. Preparing the meal were Eilda Leal, Maria Arellano, Margarita Gonzales, Hope Perez, Theresa Stennett and Felicita Castro.

Abby Hendricks honored with bridal shower

Miss Abby Hendricks, bride-elect of Jerry Don Battey, was honored with a bridal shower on May 9 in the home of Mrs. Melvin Lloyd of Floydada.

Receiving guests were Mrs. Lloyd, Miss Hendricks, Mrs. Buddy Hendricks, mother of the bride-elect and Mrs. Jerry Battey, mother of the prospective groom. The bride-elect and each of the mothers wore a corsage of blue silk flowers.

Kathy Battey, sister of the prospective groom, presided at the guest register.

The serving table was covered with a navy blue cloth. A basket of silk spring flowers in various colors was used as the centerpiece and presented to the bride-elect. Coffee, punch, cookies, fruit picks and mints were served from copper and crystal appointments.

Serving the guests were Angie Anderson and Debra Allen, aunt of the prospective groom.

Terri Lloyd and Karen Lloyd assisted with the gifts which were displayed in the sun room of the Lloyd home.

Miss Hendricks received a set of cookware as a special gift from the hostesses.

Hostesses were Janet

Elizabeth Armstrong hostess to Wesley Anns

A salad supper was enjoyed in the home of Elizabeth Armstrong Monday night, May 11, by the Wesley Anns.

Chairman Jewell Martin called the meeting to order and secretary Ann Smith read the minutes of the last meeting.

Doris Drysdale gave a book review on "Origin of Words" by Wilford Funk. She quoted, "Words are communications in many languages. Words can hurt or inspire. Words can cause wars, friendship or love. Many words have the same pronunciation but are spelled differently and have different meanings, as in two to and too. Most words in doctor's prescriptions are of Greek origin. Words is the basis of all knowledge."

The couple plan to be married on June 6 at 7 p.m. at the First Baptist Church in Floydada.

Those enjoying the evening were Julia Baker, Margie Fowler, Diana Glover, Lula Green, Bennie Leibfried, Jewell Martin, Lorena McKinney, Ann Smith, Helen Solomon, Margaret Springer, Lena Mae Watson, and guests Emma Lou Whitaker, and Doris Drysdale and hostess Elizabeth Armstrong.

Cattlemen may be heading for increased herds and returns. Dr. Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing economist, says 1980 was a trend-setting year for the cattle industry. He reports cows and heifers are being held back to rebuild breeding herds.

Because of this desire to enlarge herds, fewer calves will be available for the feedlots - a trend which could drive up cattle prices. "With expansion in the cattle industry, prices for feeder cattle and calves will likely be strong during the next couple of years," believes Uvacek. He reminds consumers, less knowledgeable of the cattle industry, that this trend will probably result in higher prices at the market. However, a strengthening in finished cattle prices will result in an improved cattle industry, as a whole, which is good for the entire nation.

Bureau

Farm Bureau is supporting efforts to bring about recovery and reduce over-reliance on government, according to a report by Floydada, president of the Floyd County Farm Bureau.

McCormick said Texas Farm Bureau leaders have personally contacted members of the Texas delegation to inform them of Farm Bureau policies on economic recovery and regulatory reform.

He said Farm Bureau's goal is to (1) budget reductions to balance the budget, (2) tax reduction, (3) regulatory reform, and (4) restraint.

"A year ago, our Farm Bureau organization was involved in meetings across the state trying to work out a way to deal with the farm income crisis," McCormick said. "Most people at that time thought that agriculture would not survive unless we stopped inflation, reduced government income taxes, and government interference in the market, such as the grain export program."

The major change since then is that we now have a chance to see these reforms in effect. So the bi-partisan economic recovery plan now before Congress are a step toward putting our economy back on a path of returning some freedoms to the people," he said.

McCormick said Farm Bureau members are willing to take the brunt of spending cuts, but that they are assured that cuts are targeted.

BY SHELLY HARRIS

I've held it back as long as I can. I have been snickering behind my hand for the past month absolutely delighted to see egg dripping from the Washington Post's face.

Now being referred to as "Pulitzergate" is the embarrassing incident of bestowing a Pulitzer Prize for a bogus newstory.

As near as I can tell from the multitude of words being written about the fraud (someone figured that the Post itself ran over 16,000 words) is this:

A fledgling reporter, Janet Cooke, with a flare for words and a "burning ambition" wrote a story about seeing an eight-year-old heroine addict shoot-up.

The Post then put on its "freedom of speech blinders" and took its stand behind the reporter protecting her source.

The source turned out to be her imagination. Between the printing of the story and the truth revealed, Janet won a Pulitzer Prize for journalism on the story.

She was tripped up because she had also falsified her resume. The Post didn't check that one either, another newspaper clued them in.

It isn't only the Post. Look at the wild reporting done by the film media after President Reagan was shot. Three gravely false statements were reported as fact in the first few broadcasts. Certainly the reporter's intention was not to deceive, but they did not take time to verify their information.

All this investigative reporting and on-the-spot reporting brings about a condition of pressure. The goal becomes speed and sensationalism. Accuracy, truth if you will, is often shoved aside in the rush.

Perhaps this fiasco with the Pulitzer will alert those of responsibility in the metro newspapers. Perhaps it will serve as a warning to the beginning journalist.

One article said that the incident would have two-bit editors smirking all across the country. Guess that shows what I am.

As a country editor I have to check, double-check, and re-check my facts and still my reputation for responsible reporting goes on the line each press day.

What it all boils down to is that the press not only has a responsibility, but so does the reader. Or the viewer for that matter.

In forming opinions based on news coverage the reader must also use discretion, and consider the facts intelligently. In other words if your sick don't go to the National Enquirer for a diagnosis.

Even in small weeklies like ours where we have more control of our coverage errors slip in. I'm sure you've noticed the hint of yolk on my face from time to time.

Your page

We hope to make this editorial page a regular weekly part of our newspaper.

Nothing would please us more than to have guest editorials from you, the readers. Your neighbors in Floyd County are interested in hearing what you have to say.

Your viewpoint on matters that interest you would be a fine addition to this page.

If some of you prefer to write letters to the editor, that would be great. We invite you to give us your opinions, comments and criticisms.

Don't worry about your writing ability. What you have to say is what counts.

There are limits, of course, to what we can print. We are liable for whatever is printed in our paper. That includes the contents of letters to the editor as well as signed opinion pieces. Therefore, we cannot print anything that would put us in jeopardy of a liable suit.

Any piece that was controversial would have to be verified. It would also have to be within the limits of good taste.

Everything we use must be signed. If you would rather not have your name printed with the letter or editorial that's fine with us.

But to blindly give creditability to an unsigned correspondence doesn't make much sense. Anonymous letters go in the waste basket at this newspaper.

One newsman puts it this way, "I sign my newspaper and if you're going to use it, you need to sign your letter to the editor. Whether you sign it or not I've got to be responsible."

Bureau backs recovery plan

Farm Bureau is supporting bi-partisan efforts to bring about economic recovery and reduce over-regulation by government, according to Delma McCormick of Floydada, president of the Floyd County Farm Bureau.

McCormick said Texas Farm Bureau leaders have personally contacted members of the Texas delegation in Congress to inform them of Farm Bureau's policies on economic recovery and regulatory reform.

He said Farm Bureau's policies call for (1) budget reductions leading to a balanced budget, (2) tax reductions, (3) regulatory reform, and (4) monetary restraint.

"A year ago, our Farm Bureau organization was involved in a series of meetings across the state trying to deal with the farm income crisis," Delmas McCormick said. "Most participants at that time thought that agriculture could not long survive unless our nation stopped inflation, reduced regulations, lowered income taxes, and put a stop to government interference in our markets, such as the grain embargo. We said then that these reforms would also be beneficial to the entire nation."

"The major change since then, in addition to the ending of the embargo, is that we now have a chance to put these reforms in effect. Some of the bi-partisan economic recovery programs now before Congress are a start toward putting our economy back in shape and returning some freedoms to individuals," he said.

McCormick said Farm Bureau has informed President Reagan that farmers are willing to take their fair share of spending cuts, but that they must be assured that cuts are targeted throughout all federal spending programs with special emphasis given to so-called entitlement programs which take up the bulk of non-defense spending.

In this regard, Farm Bureau urged the President to reconsider his exemption of seven major entitlement programs from budget cuts. Specifically, Farm Bureau asked that annual cost-of-living adjustments in all entitlement programs be held to 75 percent, rather than 100 percent of the consumer price index.

"Such as restraint would keep the annual increases to program recipients more in line with the earnings of those who support these programs without cutting anyone completely out of regular benefits," the county farm leader said.

Delmas McCormick said the kind of economic recovery package supported by Farm Bureau will have the following positive effects:

- (1) Reduce inflation.
- (2) Reduce burdens imposed by non-productive regulations.
- (3) Reduce the heavy tax burden on American taxpayers.
- (4) Reduce the size and role of the federal government and its intrusion into private lives.
- (5) Reduce interest rates by reducing inflation and government's need to borrow.
- (6) Increase real incomes by spurring capital investment and enhancing productivity.
- (7) Improve U.S. competitive position in world markets.
- (8) Provide the basis for creating new jobs.

The Rev. Michael O'Connor's

Perspectives

A centuries long conflict rages in Ireland. The distressing part of the entire conflict is that this war is being waged in the name of religion, even though it is essentially a political conflict.

Men starve themselves to death, claiming to be political prisoners, and when they die, violence erupts on the theory that is really the British fault the men died.

Sometimes, I wish I could hop a plane to Ireland and go try to talk some sense into those people. But the hatred runs deep, and it is being fostered in the children.

Teaching children to hate others when they have no capacity, to understand the reasons why they are supposed to hate is a terrible act.

The effect, however, is precisely the one hoped for by the parents: insurance that the conflict will go on and on, and no one will be able to "Talk sense" into them.

While we look down on our poor Irish brethren, we in this country do the same things they do, short of violence. Political ideas are wrapped in religious cloaks, hatred and bigotry between people who believe virtually identically continues because of denominational labels, and we teach it all to the children.

If there is ever to be any end to the conflict, short of Jesus coming again, we have to quit brainwashing our children. Instead we must teach them how to think for themselves, how to evaluate situations and people and come to intelligent, rational solutions.

Otherwise, we, too, shall find ourselves in the midst of a blood bath which has no end in sight.

Capitol Comments

BY FOSTER WHALEY
State Representative

On May 6, the House approved a $26.55 billion budget after a three-day debate that caused a lot of sparks to fly.

A Dallas representative and I teamed up to knock a requested $2 million off the bill for a solid waste disposal pit for the City of Irving. We suggested the City of Irving do as the other cities of the State have done — pay their own way using the $3 million they collected in the one cent city sales tax in 1980. When we finished, the Irving Representative pulled his Amendment down.

I also discovered the religious colleges of the state had given out (over the last two years) $1.3 million in grants to out-of-state students. I successfully placed a rider on the bill prohibiting this. I followed with an amendment to cut their $36 million budget by 5 percent over the next two years. This failed by an overwhelming vote.

I am convinced this matter should be taken to the courts and totally prohibited. Many of the Representatives of the Independent Colleges and Universities of Texas (ICUT) strongly oppose furnishing text books to parochial schools on the basis of separation of church and state. This program started in 1972 with less than $1 million of state tax money approved. They requested $45 million for the next two years. The House held it to $36 million. I will bet my life the Senate version will have $45 million in it for this. The compromise between the House and Senate version will result in a figure higher than $6 million.

The chairman of the Senate Finance Committee is from Abilene where several of the religious institutions are located. At least we have stopped them from pumping $1,300,000 to out-of-state students. $26 million of our tax dollars went to these religious colleges over the last two years. The sad thing is we sent $1,300,000 to out-of-state students.

This is one of the reasons I am initiating and referendum. This would be thrown out at the ballot box. The heads of ICUT have to sign a statement "We do not adhere to any particular religious belief in our hiring practices."

Wayne Peveto has come out with a 110-page, band-aid bill for his Senate Bill 621 that was passed in the 1979 session in hopes of patching up this big mistake. We have had a few calls asking us not to support House Bill 602 by Lynn Nabers. This would repeal the Peveto bill that has caused chaos in the local ad valorem taxes of the State. But, right now, our phone is ringing off the hook saying get rid of the Peveto bill. Just about every rural legislator voted against this Peveto bill in 1979.

It was the big city legislators with Governor Clements' endorsement who got its narrow approval in 1979. The House approved it by two votes and the Senate by one. Now it is the city legislators (who voted for the bill in 1979) who are shaking in their boots. The people, connected with the taxing entities from the big cities (who lobbied the Peveto bill through in 1979) testified before our Constitutional Amendments Committee on several bills to give relief. All four legislators carrying legislation voted for the Peveto bill in 1979. The smaller counties have not had as much trouble as the larger ones.

The sad thing is that much of the work that some counties have done with one common appraisal district could have been done before the Peveto bill was passed. The fact is, a number of taxing entities were already in the process of using the data from another entity appraisal. The City of Pampa has provided the basic appraisals for both the county and the Pampa Independent School District for years in a most satisfactory manner.

U.S. Congressman and Senators have to stand for their decision with reference to taxing and spending matters.

Legislators of Texas also have to stand for their decision in spending and tax matters.

But, the supporters of the Peveto bill make no bones about telling you we have insulated the appointed boards that set your taxes on the local level.

This is counter to the philosophy of a democracy. I believe it is counter to the philosophy of most of the tax paying citizens in my district. It is also counter to my philosophy.

Margie Savage's

My Savage World

I simply had to Take out the trash.
It was piled so high
It could no longer be mashed.

It had rained
Of late
The whole yard
Was a lake.

How would I get
Through that slime?
I would just have
To take my time.

I stripped off my socks and my shoes
Down to my bare feet.
The mud squished through my toes
But I wasn't going to be beat.

The mud was getting higher and higher
All the way to my knees
It was cold and slimy
But I would not freeze.

I got to the gate
And gave it a shove
It gave with a swish
I fell on my face
With a thud.

I was muddy from my toes
To my curls
I trudged back to the house
And there found a water hose
Which I unfurled.

I washed me all off
In that cold icy stream.
I'll have to admit,
I didn't look like a dream.

My husband had come in from work
And there he watched
With a smirk
On his face.
Then and there we had
Us a chase.

He ran from the door
Which he should
Not have done
I tackled him.
All in good fun.

I sat on his head
And said,
"Do you promise to take
Out the trash
For the rest of your life?"
He said, "Yes, yes
Both day and night."

The next day
A big package
Was delivered
From the store

A trash compactor
Sat by the door.

With a note that read,
"From your knight in
Shining armour.
Your are some persuader."
Signed, "Darth Vader."

MRS. JIMMY JOHNSON

Irwin-Johnson exchange double-ring marriage vows

Sheili Irwin and Jimmy Johnson repeated double-ring wedding vows Friday evening, May 8th, in the Oakwood Baptist Church in Lubbock.

The Rev. W.J. Farley Jr. performed the 7:30 ceremony before arched candelabras and greenery.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Sherman D. Irwin and Mr. and Mrs. C.W. Johnson all of Lubbock. The bride's parents are former Floydada residents. Her mother is the former Auden Turner, daughter of Mrs. Valree Turner and the late V.D. Turner of Floydada. Her father's parents were the late F.C. Irwins of the Fairview community.

The bride wore a formal length gown of white organza fashioned with a Queen Anne neckline edged in Chantilly lace. The fitted bodice was of matching lace, adorned with seed pearls and long Bishop sleeves of lace with deep cuffs. A deep ruffle of lace in the front and back of the A-line skirt held tiers of lace ruffles which cascaded into a chapel length train.

Her headpiece was a lace and pearl bandeau holding a fingertip lace edged veil of imported illusion.

She carried a cascade bridal bouquet of silk daisies and a Bible belonging to her grandmother Turner, which she brought back from her trip to the Holy Land. Folded inside the Bible was a handkerchief belonging to her late great grandmother, Mrs. R.F. Medley.

The bride completed her wedding attire by wearing a diamond drop belonging to her sister, Mrs. Don (Kim) Vogel of Flagstaff, Arizona.

She also carried out the traditional "something blue," with a satin ruffled garter made by Juanita Keller of Lubbock.

Mrs. Vogel served her sister as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Suzanne Whorton of Dallas and Sherry Huckabay of Lubbock. They were gowned in floor length blue floral ensembles styled with spaghetti straps and fitted bodice. They carried white daisies.

The groom was attired in a white tuxedo. His brother, Connie Johnson of Lubbock was best man. Groomsman were Neil Cavanaugh of Levelland and Leonard Nail of Lubbock. Ushers were Patrick and Michael Irwin, both of Lubbock and both brothers of the bride, and her brother-in-law, Don Vogel of Flagstaff, Arizona. Nephews of the bride, Justin Vogel of Flagstaff and Colby Vogel of Flagstaff was train bearer.

Scott Yarbrough of Levelland was soloist.

Mrs. Bruce Kinast of Lubbock, cousin of the bride, registered guests. Among the special guests were grandmothers of the groom, Mrs. Tommy Edwards of New Orleans, Louisiana, and Mrs. Rita Richards of Sundown, Texas and grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Valree Turner of Floydada.

RECEPTION

A reception in the fellowship hall of the church followed the wedding ceremony.

Tammy and Trava Gentry of Floydada and Ginny Hillburn of Lubbock served the three tiered bridal cake and punch. Coffee and chocolate cake was served from the groom's table by his sister, Waynette Johnson and Rita Nail.

The bride was graduated from Monterey High School and South Plains Junior College. The groom was graduated from Levelland High School and attended South Plains College. The couple will make their home in Lubbock, where both are employed, upon their return from a honeymoon trip to South Padre Island.

Elma Mata-Ronald Amason married in Lockney May 9

Miss Elma Mata daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arturo Mata of Lockney became the bride of Ronald Eugene Amason, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe T. Amason Jr. of Amarillo on Saturday, May 9.

The wedding took place in the First Spanish Baptist Church in Lockney with the Rev. Glean Smith officiating the double-ring vows.

The altar setting was an arch decorated with greenery and had baskets of white mums and daisies, one on each side.

Mrs. Gloria Garza of Plainview played traditional wedding marches and accompanied Miss Tammy Luna who sang, "More," "We've Only Just Begun," and "Let It Be Me."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of white bridal satin fashioned with a high neckline. Long slender sleeves with a flare ruffle at the wrist. The empire bodice had an overlay of brussels lace. The full A-line skirt flowed with a chapel length train. A triple ruffle of lace formed the hemline of the skirt and train.

The headpiece was a corona holding a chapel length veil of matching lace. Her bouquet was of a heartshape, it had a white orchid in the center surrounded by white carnations.

Her gown was borrowed and she wore the blue garter. Her maid of honor was Linda Mata, the bride's sister. The bridesmaids were Mrs. DeLeon from Plainview, Teresa Carroll from Odessa, Anna Araujo and Caye Ford of Lubbock. They wore baby blue formal dresses and carried blue silk carnations with a blue ribbon hanging down with small daisies on the ends.

Julie Ann Rader of Amarillo was the flower girl. She wore a short length baby blue dress with white short gloves and carried a small basket full of rose pedals and accented with a blue satin streamer.

Ring bearer was Johnny Brent Carroll of Odessa, who carried the two rings on a pillow decorated with lace.

Joe Amason, brother of the groom, served as best man and Mr. DeLeon from Plainview, Arthur Mata of Lockney, Pat Carroll, Odessa, and Mike Sparga, Lubbock, served as groomsmen. Elogio Mata, brother of the bride, and John Carey, a friend of the Amason family, were ushers.

Mrs. Mata chose a beige embroidered dress with gold trimming around the neckline for her daughter's wedding, while the bridegrooms mother wore a light baby blue dress. Both had white accessories and corsages of white carnations.

RECEPTION

A three tiered wedding cake decorated with rosebuds and blue flowers and punch were served, following the ceremony, from a table laid with a beige lace cloth. The bouquets of the bridesmaids made the centerpiece.

The groom's table was covered with a white lace cloth. His chocolate cake was made to resemble a Bible, which had the names of the couple written on one side and a scripture on the other. Coffee was also served.

The wedding cake was served by Mrs. Virginia Owens from Lockney and Mrs. Nancy Hollyfield served from the groom's table. Mrs. Joe Rader of Amarillo was the guest registrar.

After a short wedding trip, for which the bride wore a short length beige dress, the couple plan to reside in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

Out of town guests present were Ms. Jo Rader of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Celia Gleason, Amarillo; Mrs. Ora Mae Sellers, a grandmother of Amarillo; and Mr. and Mrs. Troy Sellers, Oklahoma City.

Film of engineering feats viewed by 1929 Study Club

The 1929 Study Club, Floydada, met in the film room of the Floyd County Library, Thursday, May 7, with Mrs. Ben Whitaker as hostess. Her sister, Mrs. G.M. Armstrong was her guest.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Vance Campbell, Mrs. Ben Whitaker, second vice-president, conducted the business session. Mrs. C.M. Meredith moved that the club send an additional $25 to Girlstown to further assist in their rebuilding from the fire that destroyed a dormitory, and the club voted approval.

Members brought books from their homes to donate to the library's used book sale to be held on Old Settler's Day, May 23.

Mrs. Whitaker circulated a beautiful get well card to be sent to Miss Anne Swepston, club member, who was to come home from a Lubbock hospital the day of the club meeting.

Club members paid their yearly dues to Mrs. Meredith.

Mrs. Jackie Walls, Floydada librarian, showed a film about remarkable Americans, "They Said It Couldn't Be Done." The inspiration of Mt. Rushmore, the ongoing carving of Chief Crazy Horse's Statue; the first steel bridge, across the Mississippi at St. Louis; the Brooklyn bridge designed by an engineer paralyzed, and brain damaged by a stroke but determined to complete his assignment; the Golden Gate Bridge paid for by San Francisco taxpayers to overcome tides and depths ten stories deep below the water for pilings; the Erie Canal that gave the Irish immigrants jobs and joined the Great Lakes to the Atlantic Ocean; the Chinese coolie-built union Pacific railroad that linked the nation; the Panama Canal that helped solve the mystery of malaria as well as provide passage between the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans proved the impossible could be done. The music of Woody Guthrie provided a background to early silent movie film clips by Thomas Edison of many of these engineering feats. The film was narrated by Lee Marvin.

Refreshments of tea sandwiches, cake, and glasses of pineapple coke punch were served.

A donation was made to the library fund to help purchase a micro-film reader. Members present included Mmes. H.O. Cline, C.W. Denison, C.M. Meredith, W.B. Parrack, S.W. Ross, Ben Whitaker, and Mrs. Q.D. Williams.

1929 STUDY CLUB held a meeting in the Floyd County Library to view a film on things they said couldn't be done.

MRS. MAX DAVID JONES

Kim Lee and Terri Frazier residing in Lubbock following wedding

Mrs. Kim Lee and Terri Frazier of Lubbock, who were making their wedding trip to the bride's home in Lubbock, are now residing in Lubbock. The bride is Terri Elaine Kinard of Mr. and Mrs. Kinard of Lockney, Texas. The groom is Mr. Duane Frazier of Lubbock. The bride is a graduate of South Plains High School and is employed as a secretary for Rolo Distributors.

Miss Katrina Frazier of Lubbock; Mrs. Norman Hamilton, Mrs. C.R. Woodward and Mrs. John Wines, all of Lubbock, and Mrs. Denise Ripple of Slaton. Guests were registered by the groom's sister, Miss Duanna Frazier of Lubbock.

RECEPTION
A long table, covered with a white cloth, held both the bride's and groom's cakes. The traditional wedding cake surrounded by three satellite cakes topped with the bridal attendants' bouquets was at one end with crystal appointments. The other end held the groom's cake, a peach candle and floral ring and a silver coffee service.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her dress was of candlelight satin with an overlay of lace on the bodice which had a Queen Anne collar, sheer sleeves and a contoured, high waistline dipping in back. Self-fabric buttons closed the gown in back. Lace appliques were scattered over the lower part of the skirt and the chapel-length train. Hemline of the gown was trimmed with pre-gathered lace and scalloped lace. Her cream-colored veil was held by a lace-covered headpiece and was edged in scalloped lace.

The bride's bouquet was fashioned from spring flowers interspersed with baby's breath and streamers of peach ribbon. The bride wore a diamond pendant, a gift of the groom, and carried her bouquet atop a Bible, a gift from her grandmother. In her shoe were pennies minted in the birth years of the couple. Completing tradition, she wore a blue garter. Following the wedding, a reception was held in the church fellowship hall. Assistants were the bride's aunts, Mrs. Joe Priddy of Ralls, Mrs. Bill Kinard and Mrs. Dallas Kinard, Mule-

Pierce-Jones repeat wedding vows

Miss Dixie Jo Pierce and Mr. Max David Jones were united in marriage on Saturday May 2 at six in the evening in the A&M United Methodist Church in College Station, Texas. Reverend Bob Waters performed the double ring ceremony in a colorful formal setting of shrimp and buttercup yellow. Wedding music was provided by Bob Hostetler with vocal selections by the bride's brother, Rick Pierce, who sang, "Sunrise, Sunset," "Lord's Prayer," and "Song of Ruth."

The bride is the daughter of Dewey Pierce of Ham-burgh, Germany, and Mrs. Nadine Pierce of Houston, where Mrs. Pierce is a Counselor at Spring Woods High School. The bride's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Willis of Floyd-dada, Mrs. Clara McMakin of Grand Saline, Texas, and the late Mr. A.D. Pierce. The bride is a graduate of West-chester High School and Texas A&M University.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norbon F. Jones of Houston, where Mrs. Jones is a Counselor for Alvin ISD. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Clay B. Ogle of Sweeny, Texas, Mrs. Norbon F. Jones of Wharton, Texas, and the late Mr. Norbon Jones. The groom is a graduate of Alvin High School and Texas A&M University.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore her mother's candle-light satin wedding dress. The exquisite full-length gown was designed and created by her mother, Mrs. Nadine Pierce. The bride's floor-length veil with blusher and her cascade bouquet of orchids, roses and greenery completed the look of bridal elegance.

Following tradition, the bride wore her wedding gown as something old. Something new was her veil, something borrowed were some gold tear drop earrings, belonging to her late great-grandmother, and something blue was the garter.

Maid of honor was Jody Naquin of Houston. Bridesmaids were Virginia Morris, the groom's sister, of Alvin; Diane Morris, of College Station; and Shirley Kindig of Dallas.

Best man was Jay Pfister of Alvin. Groomsman were Clay Jones, Ross Jones and Steve Torres. Candlelighters were Johnny Weinbaum and Scott Jordan.

RECEPTION

A reception was held at the church and featured a three-tiered fountain cake adorned with silk flowers.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Hugh Gardiner, Molly Enloe, Kerry Ogle, Linda Burke and Valerie Duffey.

The bride selected a lavender three-piece suit with matching accessories for her traveling outfit. Mr. and Mrs. Jones will reside in Alvin, Texas.

MRS. FRANKIE GRAVES

Linda Jones-Frankie Graves united in May 1st candlelight ceremony

Miss Linda Jones and Mr. Frankie Graves, both of Lockney, exchanged marriage vows in a candlelight ceremony performed at 7 p.m. on May 1 at the First Baptist Church in Lockney, with the Rev. John Jenkins officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Jones of Lockney and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Weidon Graves, also of Lockney.

The bride wore a gown of white organza over white taffeta draped in flowers of lace and covered with pearls. It had large puffed sleeves with lace cuffs and was trimmed in Chantilly lace. The train was completely accented in flowers of pearls and Chantilly lace. The chapel length veil had a large ruffle of lace trimming it.

Serving as maid of honor was Penny Taylor, cousin of the groom, of Lockney, and bridesmaids were Sandra Barton, cousin of the groom of Plainview; and Cathy Hill, of Lockney. Flower girl was Dona Smith, niece of the groom of Ralls.

Attendants dresses were street length sundresses made of light blue dotted Swiss.

Kenneth Lockridge, of Plainview, was best man. Darrell Barton of Plainview, and Gary Hill of Lockney served as groomsmen!

Escorting guests to their seats were Bobby Jones, brother of the bride, and Glenn Graves, brother of the groom, both of Lockney. Jason Jones, nephew of the bride of Amarillo, was ring bearer. Candlelighters were Debbie Jones, and Eugene Jones, niece and nephew of the bride.

A graduate of Lockney High School, the bride is employed by Page's Thrift-way of Lockney. The groom, also a Lockney High graduate, is employed by Tye Manufacturing Company in Lockney.

Attending at a reception following the ceremony were Christine Jones, Mary John Jones, Lou Jones, Naomi Jones, Bessie Walker and Glenna Jones.

For traveling, the bride chose a blue slack suit and casual attire.

Messages presented to Mothers

Children were present for church services in South Plains for the morning message, including Dee Earle and Mark Sanders, Shea and Dane from Floydada.

Mrs. Gertrude Smitherman of Floydada was a morning church visitor at South Plains with Mrs. Mammie Wood. Mrs. Wood's daughter, Mrs. Juanell Teague of Lubbock met them in Plainview and all had lunch together.

Mrs. Ruth Smitherman entered the Central Plains Hospital in Plainview this Monday morning, May 11, and will have major knee surgery May 12. We hope a very successful and good surgery for Ruth, and a fine recovery.

Evangelist will speak

The Reverend Paul H. Pipkin, veteran missionary radio evangelist among Asia's millions, will be guest speaker Sunday, May 17, 11:00 a.m. at the First Assembly of God Church, 701 W. Missouri. The Rev. Jim Guess, pastor has announced.

Reverend Pipkin and his wife, Violet (soloist and accordionist), began their overseas career in Peking, China with an assignment to reach Chinese youth for Christ. With their ministry in word and music they were able to reach thousands of students through Radio Peking, Youth Crusades, and English Bible classes at Yenching University. Mr. Pipkin was one of the last western

P.M. Clubs (Portable Missionary Radio Clubs) on more than 40 islands of the Philippines. Each club was loaned a battery-operated, pre-tuned radio which was designed to receive only the Christian radio programs. Later, Mr. Pipkin was assigned to direct the Japan Radio Department and the Taiwan Radio Department of the Assemblies of God.

Pastor Guess extends a cordial invitation to the public to hear Paul and Violet Pipkin speak and sing. You will be thrilled to see their film, Bible study curriculum exhibit, and to hear more about this exciting ICI ministry to a world in crisis.

Public Notices

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed proposals addressed to the Honorable Mayor and City Council of Lockney, Texas, will be received at the office of the City Secretary, City Hall in Lockney, Texas, until 9:00 A.M., C.D.T., June 4, 1981, for furnishing all necessary materials, machinery, equipment, superintendence and labor for placing a seal coat, consisting of one application of asphalt covered with aggregate on approximately 33,000 square yards of street pavement. The estimated quantities are:

10,000 gallons of asphalt
275 cubic yards of aggregate

Bidders shall submit their bid on the forms attached to the specifications and must submit therewith a Certified Check issued by a bank satisfactory to the Owner, or a Proposal Bond from a reliable Surety Company, payable without recourse to the order of the City of Lockney, Texas, in an amount not less than five percent (5%) of the largest possible bid submitted on the project as a guaranty that the Bidder will enter into a contract and execute bond and guaranty in the forms provided within fifteen (15) days after notice of award of contract to him.

The successful bidder must furnish bonds on the forms attached to the Specifications in the amount of 100% of the total contract price from a Surety Company holding a permit from the State of Texas to act as Surety of other Surety of Sureties acceptable to the Owner.

Information for bidders, proposal forms specifications and plans are on file at the office of the City Secretary, Lockney, Texas, and copies can be secured at the office of the Consulting Engineer, A. C. Bowden, 1716 Avenue M, Lubbock, Texas, upon deposit of $10.00 as a guarantee of the safe return of the plans and specifications. The full amount of the deposit will be returned to the Bidder on submission of a bonafide bid on the work, with such plans and specifications, or upon returning the plans and specifications immediately after examination of same, but before the time of receiving bids and advising the Engineer that a bid will not be submitted, otherwise, the deposit shall be forfeited. Suppliers may secure copies of the plans and specifications as outlined above, but will be given five (5) days after bids have been received to return said documents to the Engineer's office before the deposit shall be forfeited. No obligation is assumed to return the deposit under other conditions.

FIX-IT FACTS

If the old home has a sad need of an orbital sander, there's no ultra-modern, relatively fast and most efficient way of clearing away damaged paint, wear protection, and breathing the dust. An orbital sander is a sanding. Another effective way of paint removal is in various sizes. The area to be scraped off any spots. Always wear gloves and clothing scraps of hot paint.

Lockney Care Center News

BY VICKIE HUTTON

LOCKNEY CARE CENTER residents and staff celebrated "Crazy Day" Monday as part of Nursing Home Week by dressing "crazy." The Center will have an open house from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday.

The new look to our home is finally completed. We are ready for National Nursing Home Week, which continues through Sunday and our Open House, this Sunday from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m.

We invite everyone to come and join in on all the activities this week. We are really becoming experts at making our craft dogs, during our bus trip Monday we went to Plainview to shop for more yarn.

We have dogs in every color imaginable. If you haven't ever seen a pink, orange, or yellow dog come see ours. They are selling for $3. Those enjoying the trip were Sally Carpenter, Myrtle Burke, Donnie Hester, Mary Jo Fielding, Myrtle Payne, and Alma McDonald.

Our lucky bingo winners this week were Bill Holt. We had a special treat after bingo Friday. The Prayer and Share Sisters from Rock Creek gave a lovely Mother's Day Party. We enjoyed homemade ice cream, angel food cake and punch. We thank these lovely ladies for their thoughtfulness and time.

Our birthday honorees this month are Mamie Wofford, Pablo Salguero, Edna Thomas, Alpha Kitchens, and Kay Mitchell.

We thank the ladies of the Main Street Church of Christ for giving another lovely birthday party. Special is the only way to describe these lovely ladies.

Thursday, Richard Lanham, Sally Carpenter, Myrtle Burke, Donnie Hester, Mary Jo Fielding, Euna Bradshaw, Bertie Bradley, Myrtle Payne, Alma McDonald, Laverne Christian, administrator; Shirley Stansell, Director of Nurses; and myself attended the Senior Fun Carnival at Wayland Baptist College in Plainview. Richard Lanham, Donnie Hester, and Mary Jo Fielding participated.

Richard Lanham won third place in the wheel chair races. The only drawback was he was beaten by a little girl. He sure got a lot of teasing. We all had a great time. Myrtle Payne said her favorite part of the day was lunch. She was in hog heaven when she saw they were serving fried chicken.

Myrtle Burke is a senior citizen at the Lockney Care Center. She is a member of the SPAG and is very proud of her participation in the Senior Fun Carnival at Wayland Baptist College in Plainview. She is a member of the church and is a member of the church choir. She is a member of the church choir and is a member of the church choir.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

BY DOROTHY NEFF

We would like to thank the Bates McClung family for sharing some of their beautiful flowers with us. Our prayers are with them during the loss of their loved one.

The Park Florist was busy Friday delivering beautiful flower arrangements to the Mothers in our home. Our mail has also doubled this week with all the Mothers Day cards.

Mrs. Susie Mooney has enjoyed visiting with her son, Conwall of Springer, New Mexico, this week.

We honored our lady residents with a Mother's Day party Friday. Ruth McIntosh and Evelyn Huggins served cake and punch to all the residents. Everyone had a nice time.

Oldest mother present was Susie Mooney, youngest mother was Juanita Bailey each lady was given a wishing well filled with dried flowers. After the party everyone enjoyed a movie.

We have two new faces in our home. Mrs. Willie Mae Russell and Mr. Leonard Elliott, both of Floydada. If you know either of these people please come by and visit with them.

Our bus trip this week took us to Silver Falls. The wild flowers were in full bloom so we picked everyone a bouquet. Those enjoying the trip were Geneda Roberts, Juanita Bailey, Iva Simpson, Emmitt Lawrence, Verna McSwain, Sue Thompson and Victoria Asher. We also stopped by and picked up Velva Pricer and Jean Kendrick.

The residents would like to thank Sally Galloway for showing Cinderella to us.

We enjoyed it because it was our own fifth grade children performing.

Mrs. Clara Williamson is enjoying her new color T.V. she received for Mother's Day.

Someone has brought several bouquets of roses to our home which we have enjoyed very much. Whoever, thanks a lot.

Many thanks to our visitors which included: Mr. and Mrs. Luther Lancaster, Lois Jones, Charley L. Berry Sr., Dena Myrick, Raymond and Etta Love, Cephus and Imogene Fortenberry, Emma Pate, Donell Weeks Pittman, Andra Pate, Ronnie Ledbetter, Bruce Campbell, Doris Snodgrass, Clara McNeely, E.G. Freeman, Sherry Colston and Zane, Mrs. O.G. Mayfield, Maurice and Ella Goodwin, William C. Mooney, Helen Johnson.

Melba Bradley and family, James Russell and family, Jo Lee Ellis, Peggy McKinney, Dana Ellis, Doris Snodgrass, Marion Bailey, Jack and Babe Dillard, Hazel and Kim Bradley, Betty Shirey, Worth Gwendolyn Howard, Helen Solomon, Helen Johnson, Lois Jones, Paula and Melinda Wilson, Marilyn Cooper, Charley L. SeedTec sunflowers make the most of a little water

Here in the High Plains of Texas, a little water has to go a long way. But now, you can make the most of a little water by planting SeedTec sunflowers, the drought-tolerant crop that thrives in hot, dry weather.

Cut your irrigation costs and conserve water.

By planting SeedTec sunflowers now, you can cut irrigation costs and conserve one of your most valuable resources—water. With only one or two waterings, your SeedTec sunflowers can have the moisture they need for excellent performance. Compare that to the expense of irrigating corn or sorghum, and you'll see why SeedTec sunflowers are the logical alternative to high pumping costs and dwindling water supplies.

Cut your total production costs.

On irrigated land, sunflowers cost less to produce than corn, cotton or sorghum. And while sunflower production costs are low, the world demand for sunflower oil is high. So sunflowers offer excellent profit potential.

Cut nutritious silage from SeedTec sunflowers.

SeedTec sunflowers make great silage, and you cut it. In fact, sunflower silage contains protein and fat than corn or sorghum silage. Yet sunflower silage costs less to produce.

To make the most of a little water this year, contact your SeedTec dealer today.

Rainey, Ferguson recipients of Carr Scholarships

Two Floydada area students are the recipients of Carr Academic Scholarships for 1981-82 at Angelo State University.

Jeffrey Rainey of Floydada received a $1,000 award and Julie Ferguson of Lockney also received a $1,000 award.

Rainey, who ranks among the top students in his class, has served as a class officer. He has won sports scholastic awards and also was football captain. He plans to major in computer science.

Ms. Ferguson has served both the honor society and FCA as president. She's been active in band, basketball and track. She plans to major in physical education.

These students are among approximately 200 distinguished high school students from throughout the state and nation who have been selected to receive Carr Academic Scholarships for 1981-82. Another 250 Carr Academic Scholarships are being awarded to currently enrolled undergraduate students at Angelo State.

This scholarship was created by the late Mr. Carr to provide academic scholarships to assist worthy and deserving students to pursue their education at Angelo State University.

Mr. Carr bequeathed to the Board of Regents, Texas State University System, for the use of Angelo State, all of his interest in oil, gas and other minerals with the provision that these properties be held in trust for the establishment of the Carr Academic Scholarship program.

Nothing beats the sizzling, flavored taste of something from the grill... and no grill can beat the fun, convenience and economy of a versatile gas grill.

Gas Grilling is versatile

You can sizzle a steak, grill a burger, smoke a ham, barbecue a bird, roast an ear, even bake a potato. You can cook many different foods a variety of ways, many at the same time on a versatile gas grill.

Gas Grilling is delicious

You get that great outdoor smoked flavor without the charcoal mess. No lighter fluid is needed and a gas grill requires very little clean-up. There's no wait either, because gas grills reach cooking temperature... fast.

Center celebrates Mothers Day

BY MRS. J.E. GREEN

Mothers Day was a beautiful day, only a bit colder than expected. But still not freezing. We understand fruit is still not killed in this area, nor in New Mexico at son Clyde's.

Churches had beautiful programs and gave corsages for the youngest, oldest, and the mother with most children present.

Several of our people were out of town for the weekend and haven't returned yet.

The Anthony Latta's were in Ruidoso for the weekend. The Pucks had company for Mothers Day: Mrs. Badgett's daughter, Mrs. Allsup and teenage sons Shannon and Heath Allsup of Ft. Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. Hal Thomas spent Tuesday in Lubbock. Saturday their children Sue and Milton Mensch and son David of Lubbock spent their Mothers Day here. Sunday the Thomas' were in Post visiting his sister and husband in the local Rest Home. Miss Vera Meredith company were: Mrs. Thompson, Bro. and Mrs. Clay Muncy.
