WILD DOGS OF INDIA.

They Are Very Shy, Very Cunning and Very Seldom Shot.

Mrs. Nora Gardner describes an experience while hunting big game in the central provinces of India as follows: "We had been shooting for some months and up to a certain date had had very good luck. Tigers and other beasts were all plentiful, and our bag was a good one. Suddenly our luck changed. Blank day followed blank day, not because we had missed easy shots or had to reproach ourselves for losing wounded beasts, but simply that we had seen nothing in the shape of a wild animal to shoot. Pachmark, the hot weather station of these parts, was just above us, so my husband and I, with a few servants and baggage coolies, started to climb up the hill. He and I were riding a little in front when he drew my attention to a number of kites and vultures circling in the air just ahead. Here this, of course, meant carrion or a dying beast of some kind, and we went on a 'syce' to see what it was. The man came creeping back on all fours. 'Wild dog, sahib! Wild dog!' he said.

"My husband got his rifle as quickly as possible. He crept forward and suddenly came in the pack, making off nearly 300 yards away. He took a hurried shot at the last in the pack and missed. The rest galloped off to the right, the one he had aimed at going to the left. While we were bemoaning our luck the 'syce' touched my husband. 'Look, sahib! He comes back!' And, sure enough, away to the right we saw the dog going back to join the pack. How he crossed the track without our seeing him is a mystery. He was already 200 yards off. My husband made a most brilliant shot and 'got' the dog just as it was crossing the bank to the river.

"Wild dogs are not only very shy, but very cunning, and very seldom shot. They do an immense amount of damage. As soon as a pack takes possession of a jungle everything else leaves it. Even a tiger will go if he smells wild dog. This accounted for our recent bad luck and the little game we had seen lately. The one we got was a young dog, rather like a fox, but with longer legs and body, thinner brush and rounder ears. There were six in the pack, and they were devouring a young buck they had just pulled down."

Why Does the Earth Revolve?

That the earth "do move" is a fact that has been demonstrated in a variety of ways, but exactly why it does so is not so easy to explain. The astronomers are not agreed upon this question, and "when doctors disagree" where are the common people to look for explanations, answers and solutions to such queries? One school of these star wise men claim that the original initial centrifugal force given the globe was directed in a line slightly to one side of the center, which would, of course, cause the great globe to rotate on its axis, and by what is known as the "law of inertia" it would "continue to so revolve at a uniform rate of speed until arrested by some outside forces." Others claim that the motion of daily rotation is a compound resultant of the general motion of the earth in its orbit and the attraction of the sun.

What She Was Taking.

He came with the best of recommendations as a butler. He had the flowing suavity of the plantation house servant, fortified by that impressive air that is associated with the English flunky.

"Henry," said his mistress, "if any one calls I am not at home. I am going upstairs to take my massage treatment, and then I shall rest for at least three hours."

A caller came, and this is what Henry told her:

"Ah'm sorry, mum, but Mrs. Dodson is not at home. She's busy taking huh Masonic treatment."—New York Press.

Will Make a Big Difference.

It will not make any difference to you a thousand years from now whether you lived in a mansion or a cottage, wore tailor-made clothes or hand-me-downs, sported silk socks or woolen, ate canvas-back duck or Hamburg steak, slept in a hand-carved bed or an iron one, traveled by automobile or trolley, owned a fast horse or a plug, belonged to a fashionable club or were a stay-at-home, walked on velvet carpets or ingrain, used solid silver or plated, sipped green turtle soup or tomato, had a million in the bank or none at all, but it will make a mighty big and eternal difference if you are a man of honor or a scoundrel, truth-teller or a liar, brave fellow or a coward, worker or a loafer, humane employer or a sweater, conscientious working man or shirker, believer in God or an atheist.

Ed. F. Hale.

YOUR HOME PAPER.

It may be small and poorly printed; it may be light weight intellectually when it comes to dealing with questions of National and State importance, it may be short on news and scant in many other ways, but it always deals, within its capacity, with those things that make up your home life—the little things which, in the long run, makes the sum total of all our lives. It is the home paper that heralds your advent into life; it follows you along the journey through time, overlooking your frailties and recording your merits, and frequently when the end is reached libels the angels by sending you (through its columns) to dwell in a paradise "not made with hands, eternal in the heavens."

It has been frequently, and The-News thinks truly, said that it requires a special person, one fitted by nature for the business; one full of the milk of human kindness, broad in conception, but liberal in application and possessing a charity toward others that is almost boundless in its reach. Speaking of this individual, the home newspaper man the Portland Oregonian says:

"He may meet you as a stranger, yet along with his best friends, chronicles your success and sorrows wherever you may be, and those who would otherwise forget you, are ever and anon reminded of your existence by an item in your home paper. Others may deceive and defraud you, but your home paper never forgets you.

"Possibly you do not deserve decent treatment by the paper, but you get it just the same, and if it should at any time say things to cause your fur to turn the wrong way, study a moment and see if it has not at various times said many nice things for which you fail to give it credit."

PLANT TREES.

Not many years ago Iowa was one vast prairie; now trees, forest, fruit and shade are visible everywhere. In the majority of instances not only are good fence posts obtained from these growths, but firewood as well. Nothing appears more home like than to see residences, in town and country alike, encircled with groves of trees. Not only do trees add to the pleasure and satisfaction of the home, but they enhance, far above their cost, the value of the property.

Experience has shown that trees will thrive on the Plains as well as on the prairies of Iowa and western Kansas, and all who own land here, whether only a lot in town or sections outside, should plant them without further delay.

Plant trees! Plant them

whether you intend to live and die here or not, nothing you can do will pay you so much in every way as the setting out of trees.

Get ready now to plant trees. They can be bad, "Plains raised" and very cheap, all about here. Now is a good time to secure them and next month will answer fine for setting them out. Plant trees, that the scripture may be fulfilled in which it is said that "every man can sit under his own vine and fig tree" in Randall County--if he will.

The Dallas-Daily News celebrated the passing of its 20th year with a fifty-two page edition Sunday, giving, aside from its usual everyday and Sunday features, some very interesting reminiscences connected with its birth as a newspaper, its surroundings at that auspicious event and its journey since. It has indeed something to be proud of in its so far unparalleled success as a newspaper in this State.

Holland's Magazine, published at Dallas, Texas, is rapidly taking a high place in mazedom as the most fitting Southern representative of magazine literature.

PERSONAL AND OTHER MATTERS THAT CONCERN OUR CITIZENS.

Texas, and the Panhandle part of it at that, carried off the first, second and third prizes on calves at the Kansas City Fair and was well up on other classes of cattle. Black, of Amarillo, took first and third, and C. C. Slaughter the second prize on calves.

THE RAILROAD.

Practically nothing new has developed since last issue of The News unless it be, perhaps, the work of the Santa Fe civil engineer corps Sunday and Monday, in making some changes in the west end of town, laying off switches etc. So much for the facts.

On the other hand, however, dame rumor has had a great deal to report. Tom R., for instance, says that he has excellent authority for the statement that Tallmadge & Co. have fourteen more automobiles on the way here and that they, including the ones already here, will be put in operation over the right of way, which is immediately to be prepared for that purpose. Should this prove true it will beyond doubt relieve to a very great extent some of our South Plains brethren of their well grounded fears about runaway teams and smashed up loads, and in addition furnish rapid transit for those seeking slices of Swisher and Hale County dirt. It is decidedly important from this standpoint alone, for to credit some seemingly truthful reports from down that way, we must believe that land in those counties is "advancing in price hourly." It is even said that on the strength of all this that one of our local real estate firms will at once put in an opposition railroad (automobile) leading out from the eastern extreme of town.

There are many other things flying around, but until our reporter can get a better grip on them, The News will halt.

Mrs. Pat Young.

The Baptist Ladies will have their next Tea at Mrs. Pat Young's next Wednesday afternoon between the hours of 4 and 6. Everybody invited—charges ten cents.

A. A. Huter presented this office with a seven pound sweet potato, Monday, the product of his garden.

Sunday, Mrs. Sam B. Lofton left on a visit to friends and relatives at Childress and Fort Worth. She took the children along and expects to be absent about a month, during which time Mr. Lofton is going to back, so he says.

The Rev. J. D. Ballard's section, east of Judge Lair's in the "Block," and the two sections joining it on the east were sold Monday to a northern purchaser of $8 per acre. Out of this Mr. Ballard gets $6 per acre and L. T. Lester, owner of the one next on the east, $6 50 per acre, the overplus going to the dealers.

Died—Mrs. Mattie Burkhalter Jones, reported last week as very low with cancer, died on Saturday morning and was buried in the town cemetery. She leaves surviving her three children, one girl and two boys, who will remain with their grandmother Burkhalter in the Brooks house, purchased by Mrs. Burkhalter sometime in the summer. Mrs. Jones was a widow and resided in Montague county from whence she came here last spring seeking to recover her health.

Last week The News gave the names of only ten members of the Canyon City Band. Lon and Grady Gentry and Clifford Reynolds were left out. This raises the rank to the fateful number, thirteen. Better add another boy or turn one out. And if addition suits you best, how would a News reporter answer for No. 14?

Of Interest to Travelers.

"I travel in the southern states," says Mr. E. E. Cross, of Melfa, Va. "While driving I had a sudden attack of cholera morbus, with severe cramping pains in the stomach. A customer of mine at the first store I stopped at recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and two doses set me right. I now carry a bottle of this remedy in my grip constantly as do many other traveling men. I unhesitatingly recommend it." The constant change of drinking water and diet often causes disorders of the bowels. For this reason no one should leave home on a journey without a bottle of this remedy. It is almost certain to be needed. For sale by S. V. Wirt, Druggist.

The T. C. Simms three sections, west of town, are reported sold to M. L. Snap, of Stephenville, at $9 per acre.
