COUNTRY EXCELLENT SAY THE VISITORS

DURING PAST WEEK MANY LAND MEN HERE TO INVESTIGATE.

Randall County is Said to Have a Better Show This Fall than Any of the Reliable States.

Last week was excursion week and many men who have land here, took advantage of the low rates to see their possessions. Several called at the News office and expressed their surprise at seeing everything in such good condition while all through the crops are in bad condition. From all sections of the country came the same reply—"Corn will not make half a crop. It is very discouraging indeed." On the other hand, all united in saying, "We never expected to find crops in half so good condition as they are. Randall county looks better than we have ever seen it."

A. A. Sams, of Indianola, Ia., who owns land south of town expressed himself as well pleased with the outlook. "Pastures are all gone," says Mr. Sams speaking of the north. "The corn will only make half a crop. It has been very hot and dry during all the summer."

Geo. F. Thede, of Durant, Iowa, Henry W. Thede, of Sunbury, Iowa, and Wm. Broders, of Stockton, Iowa, called at the News office, and expressed their pleasure at finding everything in such prosperous condition. They report the same conditions as did Mr. Sams. All these men own land here.

Reports from Kansas show that the corn crop will be a failure. A month ago the corn in south and east Kansas was in very bad condition and the different visitors this week say it is gone now.

The Dakotas have been struck, so callers inform us. There was no wheat, and this is the one staple crop for that country.

Taken all in all, Randall county seems to be more fortunate this year than most of the other states which have been termed absolutely reliable. Kaffir corn and milo maize are in the best of condition. Alfalfa has prospered well. Millet and broom corn can not be beaten. There is sure to be a bountiful harvest this fall.

Classes Entertained.

The Philathea and Baraca classes of the Methodist church were entertained at the S. S. Coffee home Friday night. On account of the length of the business meeting, the program could not be given. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

Moving to Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Wansley left this week for Weatherford, Okla., where they will make their future home. During their four years stay in this county Mr. and Mrs. Wansley have made a host of friends who are sorry to see them depart, but offer their best wishes for them in their new home.

Sister-in-Law Dead.

Last week Mrs. J. P. Winder received the sad news of her sister-in-law's death. She was the wife of Mrs. Winder's brother, W. C. Lee, of Ryan, Okla. Mrs. Winder was unable to attend the funeral.

NEW PIANO TEACHER.

Miss Virgie Kelly, Sister of Mrs. R. B. Cousins, to Make this City Her Home.

Canyon gained another resident this week of whom she can justly feel proud. Miss Virgie Kelly comes here to take up the piano work for the College. Miss Kelly has had wide experience and comes to us with the highest recommendations. To add further interest, she is a sister of Mrs. R. B. Cousins and will make this her permanent home.

Shotwell-Coston.

At 3:45 o'clock Sunday afternoon Miss Elsie Coston and Mr. Saron Shotwell of Canyon, were quietly at the bride's home on Lee Avenue. Only relatives and a few intimate friends were present. The out-of-town well wishers were: Mrs. J. I. Wallace and daughter, Bessie, and Mr. Jack Hofer of Amarillo, and two Misses Shotwell of Canyon, sisters of the groom.

The bride's bouquet was of white carnations and she looked very girlish and lovely in a dress of soft gray. After Rev. Shore had said the beautiful and solemn words that made the two "sweethearts forever" all went to the dining room and joined in a merry round of toasts and good wishes for the happy pair. The bride received a number of beautiful presents.—Hereford Recorder.

Took Money and Skipped.

Foreman Cornley, of the plumbing gang is missing, and so is one week's pay for the men on the job. Last Saturday when the weekly check came in, instead of dividing among the men, Cornley cashed it and took the train for Amarillo. From that time hence his whereabouts is unknown. P. E. Fosdick, of Ft. Worth, of the firm of Fosdick & Greenway, who have the plumbing contract, came Tuesday to look after the matter. He reports Cornley as having delayed the work somewhat, but they are not more than a week late. E. L. O'Grady is now foreman and is getting along fine with the work.

Putting in Fence.

L. G. Conner returned Tuesday night from the J. W. Ayler land fifteen miles east of town, where he has charge of fencing nineteen sections of land. Cedar posts are used, these being cut in the canyons. Most of the land will have a four wire fence.

Mr. Conner says it is extremely hard to find the section corners among the brakes of the canyons. "If you want to see something big," says Mr. Conner, "just go to the canyons." A force of eight men are at work, and the fencing is progressing nicely.

To Panhandle S. S. Workers.

You may be a great distance from the central part of the State and the great expense heretofore has probably kept you from attending our big state-wide convention in the spring, but we are endeavoring to bring one right to your very door, so that you will not have to travel very far nor go to much expense in attending one of these great conventions. Don't fail to come to Canyon and hear the world Adult leader, W. C. Pearce and many other experts. Don't fail to be present on Monday night, September 12, and stay until the closing session Wednesday night.—Texas S. S. Star.

COUNTY COURT IS IN SESSION

REGULAR AUGUST SESSION TRIES CASES THIS WEEK.

Judge Henson Fined Two Witnesses for Non-Appearance.—Curry Brothers Not Guilty.

The county court was in session last week, took up the jury trials this week. The first case was State of Texas vs. Miller and A. M. Curry, charged with tearing down a wire fence for J. O. Turner. The case took up all of Monday, and after two hours of deliberation the jury found the defendants, not guilty. A. S. Rollins appeared in behalf of the defense while county attorney Scott and assistant W. J. Fleisher appeared for the state.

The judge fined two witnesses for non-appearance and gave the deputy sheriff a fine of $10 for not giving proper notice to another witness.

In the probate court the estate of Allen S. Bassett was under consideration. Mrs. Florence Bassett was appointed administratrix, giving the proper bonds.

The annual report of E. M. Riggs, guardian of Anna B. Jordan et al, was examined and approved.

The annual report of Ola Ridgeway, guardian of Valua Gregory, was examined and approved.

In the civil court proceedings the case of W. B. Penhale vs. I. Mantz was continued.

In the case of L. T. Lester et al vs. J. W. Cowart, judgment for $250 was rendered for the plaintiff. In this case Attorney F. M. Ryburn, of Amarillo, acted as special judge, Mr. Henson being disqualified as a party to the suit.

J. T. FLORA DEAD.

Young Man Who has Lived Here but a Short While Succumbed Saturday.—Very Short Illness.

J. Tom Flora, a young tailor, died very suddenly Saturday morning at ten o'clock at the home of Jack Brock. Mr. Flora had been ill but a few days and his death came as a great surprise to his friends.

He had come from Virginia but a few months ago. The body was shipped home, to Boon Mill, Va., Sunday evening being accompanied by Tom Bowman. The body was prepared by W. F. Garner of the Thomas Furniture Co., being embalmed in splendid condition.

Rhubarb Samples.

Monday morning S. B. Lofton brought to the News office some very fine samples of rhubarb, which he raised at his home in the west part of town. The stalks were from 14 to 16 inches long. This is an exceptional record as the rhubarb was only planted this spring and this is the third crop of the season. Mr. Lofton reports his other garden stuff in excellent condition, tomatos being as large as saucers.

The case of L. T. Lester et al vs. J. H. Hall was settled out of court.

The case of M. S. Melroy vs. W. H. Gray was tried Wednesday before a jury and judgment for $150 rendered for the plaintiff.

The case of M. M. Olin vs. Robt. G. Griffith was continued.

No cases were tried after Wednesday, and none will be in court until next week, when another special judge will try more of the Normal subscription cases.

NEW MILL TO BE FINISHED SOON

$35,000 FLOUR MILL OF CRAVEN MILLING CO. TO BE OPENED.

The Machinery Has Been Delayed for Some Time, But to be Ready for Business in Month.

The Craven Milling company has been experiencing some delays in getting their machinery, but it is now certain that it will be here this week, when a large force of men will be put to work in locating the machines and getting things in order.

The Craven mill is a building 30x50, two stories high, with a store room 30x50, one story high in which there are now 15,000 bushels of wheat ready for the mill. Apart from this building is the engine room 18x30, one story high, in which is located one of the finest engines in the west. It burns crude oil, which is much cheaper than gasoline and produces greater power.

The machinery of the Craven mill will be the finest in the west. It is an absolutely new thing and can do all kinds of work. The primary object of the mill will be the making of flour but its activities will not be limited alone to that. Corn, Milo, Kaffir, buckwheat and rye will also be handled. In fact they are so fixed as to be able to handle any kind of health foods, which will be an exceptional record.

All the grinding, separating and purifying will be done on the first floor directly under the eye of the miller. Mr. Craven says it will be one of the cleanest mills that could be found anywhere. Each machine has its own fan and dust collector, so that the dust will not be blown out of doors, nor nothing go to waste.

The Craven mill when complete will cost $35,000. Those owning it are, J. A. Edwards, J. N. Black and J. F. Craven. Mr. Craven will have charge of the mill. He is a practical miller, having been in this business for 40 years. He comes here from Dalhart, and is a native of Arkansas. He is a very pleasant man to meet, and takes great interest in explaining the mill. Mr. Craven says that they are going to fan all seed wheat brought to them free of charge. He urges the farmers to take advantage of this opportunity, for in so doing great benefit is derived by the farmer.

This is another enterprise of which Canyon can feel proud and which each resident ought to take a lively interest.

Ice Cream Supper.

An ice cream supper was held at the Tom Slack home Tuesday, in honor of Mrs. Slack's brother Jas. Cleveland. A very large crowd was present, and was provided with abundance of cream and cake. Mr. and Mrs. Slack are royal entertainers, and all present enjoyed themselves very much.

J. W. Randall Here.

J. W. Randall has returned from his summer vacation, and is preparing to take up his school duties again at Trigg, District 6. Mr. Randall has been at the Normal at Clarendon part of the summer and has lately come from Ft. Worth where he visited. He reports that a 10 foot extension is being built on the school house where he is to teach.

WHAT THE KIDNEYS DO.

Their Unceasing Work Keeps Us Strong and Healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily, when unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gout, gravel, disorders of the eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right you will have no trouble with your kidneys.

Mrs. S. A. Hendrix, of Quanah, Tex., says: "I suffered for several years from kidney trouble and at times the pains across the small of my back and hips were so severe that I could hardly get around. The kidney secretions were unnatural and caused much annoyance. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box and had taken only a few doses before I was relieved. The contents of the box disposed of my trouble and for that reason, I highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to other kidney sufferers."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, Sole Agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's and take no other.

THE FALL TAILOR MADE.

Styles That Will Lead
Later in the Season.

A SMART TAILORED SUIT.

Women are much interested in the tailored suit for fall and early winter wear. How is the new tailored suit to be made? This is the problem. We have been "hobbled" and tied in until the limit of discomfort and ugliness has been reached, so that it is refreshing to hear that lines are to be relaxed and bobble bands discarded when fashion settles down for the autumn season.

That coats will be short is an established fact. Skirts will be straight, but comfortably built. Of course many women will follow the extreme styles and wear the narrow tied in skirt, but as a rule the new skirt will show a wider knee girth. The best tailors say the popular six piece skirt is the one to be desired and the simplest to make. This skirt should have heavily welded seams and be worn short, well above the ankle.

The new tailored suit, according to accepted lines, is a typical model of what a mannish suit should be—more so than any that has been worn for several seasons. Less material is required for this suit than for the plaited model. The salesman will tell you to buy seven yards of double width material, but this is nearly a yard more than is needed if the material is well cut. The suit illustrated is a smart example of the new tailor made.

A Public-Private Stenographer.

"I am a married woman living in a small town," said a woman recently, "and my husband's work is of such a nature that it has its dull and its busy season. During the former the family purse sometimes gets very low, and I am glad to say that I have been able to help replenish it by making use of the business experience I had before marriage."

"I am a stenographer, and, being the only one in the town, I have many opportunities to make money by taking depositions, reporting conventions and doing amanuensis work."

"I also teach shorthand and type-writing and am seldom without one or two scholars. I often do work for the guests of the hotels here too. This work pays very well, and in our town, being a small one, a public stenographer (which I might say I am, although my office is my home) is often very much in demand."

Girls' Camps.

Summer camps in the mountains and woods are the things now for young girls and boys whose parents are off on trips to Europe, or obliged to be separated from them. The camps are conducted by experienced chaperons, who watch over the young people, planning interesting days for them, with a division of time for study, sport and social life. Thus the children fortunate enough to go to these can lead a wholesome life, and their parents, conscious that they are being well taken care of, can attend to their affairs elsewhere.

For Eyelet Workers.

When making large round or oblong eyelets or those that are petal shaped, all difficulty may be obviated by working first and cutting away the central material afterward with tiny manicure scissors. If carefully done by this method the laundering will have only a beneficial effect upon the eyelet instead of wearing it out.

NEXT YEAR'S REUNION.

It had been the plan of the local reunion committee to make this year the last soldiers' reunion for Canyon. Just before adjournment, the veterans passed a resolution to assemble once more, and thanked the people for this year's good program. It is now clearly up to the local committee to reciprocate by responding with one of the biggest reunions that Canyon has ever seen. The program this year was arranged with the view of pleasing the soldiers rather than entertaining the careless on-looker. That it was a success along this line is shown by the way the old soldiers received it. But there is no reason why Canyon should not have a greater reunion next year, showing the soldiers a fine time, and in addition furnish some good attractions for others.

It has been suggested that we have a fair in connection with the reunion. That this would be a great success, there is no doubt. No part of the country can produce a better agricultural display than Randall county. None produces better stock and poultry. We can have a wonderful fair with a little effort on the part of every Canyon and Randall county resident. The soldiers have made the start. Will the local committee take the next step? We think they will.

CANYON, NOT CANYON CITY.

The name of this town is Canyon, not Canyon City. This has been the case for some time, but few people realized it. The postoffice has always had the name Canyon, but the railway station was named Canyon City, until a law passed by congress last year required all stations to have the same name as the post-office. It will save a lot of trouble if every one will get in the habit of calling our town Canyon. For instance, Postmaster Hunt reports a money order laying in the office drawn on Canyon City, Texas. There being no such town he cannot pay the order. Every Canyon citizen ought to see that he sends no letter out under the date line of Canyon City, and thus eliminate the confusion existing abroad in relation to our name.

Congressman R. L. Henry in a very long and drastic speech opened the campaign against Senator Bailey last week. The remarks of the congressman show clearly that it is a question of jealousy and a desire for the senator's position that prompts Mr. Henry to speak in the manner he does.

Tomorrow will occur the election in Amarillo on the local option proposition. It has been a long and bitter fight. Prominent men have been on both sides, and no matter the result, business is likely to be tied up for some time by hard feelings.

We are in receipt of some complimentary tickets for the Texas-Oklahoma fair to be held at Canadian September 6-10. The program is a good one, and the list of premiums very extensive. A large company from Canyon will probably attend.

Nick Longworth is after Uncle Joe's position in the house. May heaven have mercy on the poor congressmen should Nick ever get there. Talk about czars!!! Uncle Joe is a saint compared with that chap—the man of more good looks than sense.

A number of exchanges have said nice things about the paper we have been giving our readers. Many thanks brothers. We don't know any of you but hope to meet you soon.

THE PARAGRAPHER.

Last week was society week.

Fishing parties galore these fine days.

THE JOHNSON CORN BINDER

We feel fortunate in having secured the agency for a CORN BINDER that is recognized even by competitors to stand without a peer, and are now in position to furnish you with a CORN HARVESTER that will meet the demands in every particular.

The JOHNSON is the most simple constructed machine of its kind on the market today, having all of the machinery in direct view of the operator thereby enabling him to work and adjust any part with the greatest of ease. Other Binders have the machinery concealed thereby giving great difficulty in making the necessary adjustments to meet the demands of certain conditions—such as low corn—tangled or otherwise.

The people of the Panhandle as a whole have experienced great difficulty in getting a binder with which they could handle rank stalks in the high winds which we have in this section. With the JOHNSON this difficulty is overcome and we especially invite the closest of inspection and criticism to this particular feature of its kind.

DRIVE WHEEL

Our drive wheel is larger than on any other machine—40 inches in diameter thereby giving you a greater power and with the spindle dimension that we have insures the lightest draft machine of its kind.

CONVEYOR CHAINS

The conveyor chains running with five folding fingers carry the corn to the binder attachment. Just before the needle passes around the bundle, automatic gates, (FOUND ONLY OF THE JOHNSON) release the fingers. These fold and keep the incoming corn from crowding.

The JOHNSON cuts the grain as low as the lowest and as high as the highest.

Our prices are RIGHT, our terms are RIGHT and the machine is RIGHT. Come in and let us show you the merits of the JOHNSON.

The JOHNSON is not in the TRUST.

Resolutions Passed.

The following were the resolutions passed by the soldiers last week at the reunion:

We, the undersigned committee appointed at the meeting to draft resolutions expressive of the sorrow that prevade our ranks by the death on Dec. 22, 1909, of Comrade Jesse S. McClure, late of Armstrong, Texas, beg leave to submit the following:

Resolved, That in the death of our beloved comrade we mourn the absence from our ranks, one of God's noblemen, who was born in Grayson county, Va., on Apr. 22, 1836, came to Texas in 1858, settling in Tarrant county, near Ft. Worth, and finally moving to Armstrong county, where he lived a consistent Christian until death. He enlisted in the 7th Texas Cavalry Oct. 1861, but later joined the 3rd Kentucky cavalry under Gen. John Morgan and was captured on Morgan's raid in Indiana, and was imprisoned in Camp Chase and other prisons. He was paroled in 1865. Bro. McClure was 73 years, 8 months and 5 days old. His wife preceded him about 7 years.

Second, That in the death of Comrade McClure this camp mourns the loss of one of its most conspicuous and beloved members, faithful and true at all times, his family, a kind and indulgent father.

Third, That a copy of these resolutions be spread on the minutes of this camp, a copy be forwarded by the adjutant to the family of the deceased, and that a copy be furnished the Confederate Veteran for publication, and also our local paper at Canyon.

J. C. PIPKIN,
T. C. COFFEE,
W. F. HELLER,
Committee.

This same committee submitted the following resolution:

Your committee on memorials beg to submit the following report on the death of Comrade Slack:

His surviving wife has furnished us with the following facts: Oliver P. Slack was born in Virginia in the year 1830, and moved to Texas in 1858, first settling in Farien county, where he lived for forty years. Moved to Randall county in 1903, making his home a few miles south of Canyon. He died on March 1st, 1910. He united with the Baptist church about 12 years ago and ever after lived a consistent Christian life. He was married twice, and leaves a wife and eight children to mourn the loss of a devoted husband and kind father, and this camp a good and faithful member.

He enlisted in Stephens cavalry in 1862, serving most of the time on the frontier fighting Indians.

He served his country faithfully and was true to every responsibility ever placed upon him, and leaves to his children the priceless heritage of a good name.

Points For Mothers

Nervousness in a child may be either inherited or brought about by, or it may be derived from, causes purely physical or mental, or of these allied. But, however occasioned, it is a malady of a peculiarly sad kind and one which makes it beholden on those having charge of children so afflicted to treat them with special care. One of the commonest forms is fear of darkness, which as time progresses becomes tantamount to mental torture. In some cases this may be inherited, but it far oftener comes from stupid people talking in the hearing of very young children of newspaper and other reports of horrors or from brainless nurses telling the wondering and fearful child tales of bogies and goblins and 'witches. It is no wonder that the active brain of the nervous child exaggerates all this nonsense in the loneliness of the darkened room. Timidity in the presence of strangers is perhaps the least serious symptom of the nervous child. It is rarely more than a sign of supersensitiveness and can soon be cured by care and kindness and the gradual accustoming of the child to the presence of those other than its relatives and friends. The use of nerve tonics and foods may have an appreciable benefit, for undoubtedly the brain becomes weakened by the continued process of exhaustion, but in a large percentage of cases moral measures are of more utility than physical. When the primary seat of mischief is the brain the evil is seldom due to chemical or structural defects. More frequently there obtains that which may be expressed in the words—wrong action. The mental state of a child who is afraid of the darkness is a quite natural result of very wrong influence. It is to be a greater coward than the child to threaten it and leave it alone with conjured up horrors. Let it be played with in the dark and told tales to make it laugh before it settles down to sleep and let his dalling ears hear known and beloved footsteps in and near the room. Never at any time of the day, by any chance, talk of any 'horrible happening which took place in the dark in the hearing of a nervous child.

Five P's For the Mother.

A trained nurse gave to a mother what she called her "five p's" for keeping children well. Here they are:

Pure milk, pure air, plenty of sleep, proper clothing and perfect cleanliness.

These few rules cover most of the necessities in hygienic child rearing.

The importance of pure milk cannot be overestimated. Except for infants, cows' milk should answer every need, but mothers should know where it comes from and how it is cared for after it enters the house. The best milk is quickly contaminated if left without a cover in a hot place.

The strongest children are those who live most in the open air. Naps in day-time can be taken in a sheltered porch. Well wrapped, a child does not take cold, even in cold weather. At night every window should be open wide. See that enough bedclothing is supplied or colds may result.

Plenty of sleep is essential. Babies should be put to bed by 6 o'clock each evening and sleep through until the next morning at 7. A nap during the day should be given.

Not all children are amenable to such rules, but they should be trained into better sleeping habits.

Proper clothing includes that which keeps a child warm without overheating. Less bundling is thought necessary than formerly. Wool should be worn next the skin for the first two years, but it should be light weight.

Perfect cleanliness is a matter of daintiness as well as hygiene. Nothing is more shocking than a dingy infant or child.

Cooling Lemonade For the Children.

It is an excellent plan in warm weather to keep some lemons always on hand and allow the children to make lemonade for themselves. From eight years or even somewhat less they can easily do this. A mother I know, when she feared her little folks were playing too long in the sun and heat, instead of calling them to come stay indoors, would suggest their having some lemonade. They thought it great fun to make it themselves, and this occupied, with the drinking of it, considerable time. Two or three lemons often served for a large pitcher of the cooling drink.

Mother Goose Primer.

A departure from the ordinary primer is an excellent plan in warm weather to keep some lemons always on hand and allow the children to make lemonade for themselves. From eight years or even somewhat less they can easily do this. A mother I know, when she feared her little folks were playing too long in the sun and heat, instead of calling them to come stay indoors, would suggest their having some lemonade. They thought it great fun to make it themselves, and this occupied, with the drinking of it, considerable time. Two or three lemons often served for a large pitcher of the cooling drink.

A QUEER UNIVERSITY.

Calvo Man the World's Oldest Educational Institution.
 "When we think of Harvard or Yale, the former dating from 1636 and the latter from 1791, we think of them as old universities," says a writer in the American Educational Review; "but when we pass to the other side of the world we discover that even the oldest American universities are in reality very young institutions."
 "The oldest educational institution in the world is the University of El Ashar, Calvo, founded in the year 955 by the great Saladin. It is the central seat of learning for the whole Mohammedan world, as well as a fountain of spiritual life. It occupies an ancient mosque in the Arab quarter of Calvo, surrounded by a confusing maze of narrow streets where the population is made up of representatives of every race that follows the prophet."
 "The old mosque covers several acres and consists of a series of courts surrounded by long cloisters with low roofs supported by forests of columns. The floors of red tiles are covered daily by a multitude of men and boys, squatting in semicircles around their teachers, who sit with their backs to the columns lecturing in monotone."
 "The chancellor of the university is always a descendant of the prophet and is usually a man of ability and learning. He occupies apartments in El Ashar and is not only the supreme educational but the ecclesiastical head of the church of Egypt."
 "There is no organization similar to that in modern universities. Any reputable man who desires to teach can obtain the privilege by application and is assigned a column where he may sit and impart the truth as he thinks proper. His fame or ability will attract more or less students and disciples, who pay him fees according to their means."

THE SCOLD'S BRIDE.

Brutal Punishment to Which Women Were Once Subjected.
 The brank, or scold's bridle, or goggin's bridle, was neither more nor less than a muzzle. It was in general use in Great Britain from the sixteenth to the eighteenth century, and in Scotland as well women were muzzled for certain offenses, some at least of them more imaginary than real. The instrument of torture, even a dog's leather muzzle, is uncomfortable. How much more the scold's muzzle! It consisted according to a high authority, Mr. W. Jewitt, of a kind of crown or framework of iron, which was locked upon the head, and it was armed in front with a gag, a plate or a sharp cutting knife or point, which was placed in the poor woman's mouth so as to prevent her moving her tongue, or it was so placed that if she did move it or attempt to speak it was cut in a most frightful manner. With this cage upon her head and with the gag firmly pressed and locked against her tongue the miserable creature, whose sole of fending perhaps was that she raised her voice in defense of her social rights against a brutal and besotted husband or had spoken honest truth of some one high in office in her town, was paraded through the streets, led by a chain by the hand of a bellman, the handle or the constable or chained to the pillory, the whipping post or market cross, to be subjected to every conceivable insult and degradation, without even the power left her of asking for mercy or of promising amendment for the future, and when the punishment was over she was turned out from the town hall or the place where the brutal punishment had been inflicted, maimed, disfigured, bleeding, faint and degraded, to be the subject of comment and jeering among her neighbors.—London Family Herald.

Colors of the Stars.
 Although there is no relation apparent between the two phenomena, yet it is interesting to recall the fact that among the stars certain colors appear to characterize different stages of change, or evolution. Red stars, according to the testimony of the spectroscope, differ widely in their constitution from white or yellow ones, and it has been thought that varying colors may give a clew to progressive changes in the heavenly bodies. Sirius, for instance, is said to have changed from red to white, and some have suspected that Arcturus is fading from red toward yellow.

A Fairly Good Appetite.
 Kaffirs, North American Indians and the fat boy in "Pickwick" may well be quoted as fearful examples of voracity, but even their gastronomical feats are exceeded by the full grown Bakimo, who will daily eat twenty pounds of flesh and oil if he has the chance, while on the authority of Admiral Saricheff a Yakut of Siberia has been known to consume in twenty-four hours "the hind quarter of a large ox, twenty pounds of fat and a quantity of melted butter for his drink."

To Be Avoided.
 "There's Wilson! Let us turn back. I've no desire to meet that fellow again! Last week I asked him to lend me five pounds."
 "Well, he certainly might have done so; he has plenty of money."
 "Yes, I know—and he did lend me the five!"—London Mail.

A Strategist.
 "That fellow is a greater strategist than Napoleon ever was."
 "As to how?"
 "He got a two-dollar raise of salary a year ago and hasn't told his wife about it yet."—Fitzburg Post.

MUSIC AND ART IN THE NORMAL SCHOOL

By R. B. COUSINS.

All subjects taught in Normal schools should be presented from the teachers standpoint. Every subject and only those subjects that are demanded by the people in their schools, or that should in the nature of the case, go into the common schools should be offered in the normals because these schools are established and maintained primarily for the purpose of training teachers for the profession of teaching in the schools that lie nearest the homes of the people. All these subjects therefore that are demanded by the nature of a man in society form the curriculum of the normal school.

The statement that subjects should be presented from the teacher's point of view implies that the teacher should know the subject thoroughly and know how to present it progressively, so that the growing mind of the learner can master it with the greatest possible ease and rapidity.

All teachers find in this work great need of the power to draw pictures of objects, simple or complex. The primary teacher finds her strength multiplied when she has acquired facility in drawing on black board or paper subjects which she wishes to present her classes. The teacher of geography or history to develop the art work into a school, furnishing this later form of art it would be necessary to charge a tuition fee for same.

The same line of thinking determines the kind of music that should be furnished and that is furnished by the normal schools in Texas. Singing is a natural form of expressing thought and feeling. It is common among all men both as nations and individuals. All children should be taught to read music and to understand its simpler forms and to sing. The teachers in all the grades contribute to the development of their pupils along all desirable lines by means of singing. The music that is offered in the normal schools should be such and only such as the teachers will need in their respective places. But should there be a demand for music, instrumental and vocal, in its more extensive forms, the authorities of the normal school will make an effort to furnish the people who desire it with the highest quality of instruction in either form of this fine art. As in the case of drawing, however, the more extended the study of music for its own sake and for the sake of the individual who pursues it, is beyond the purpose of the state in furnishing musical instruction in the normal school and there-can scarcely proceed without the power to present absent objects and scenes with accuracy and vividness, without drawing them with crayon or pencil. The teacher of no grades find greater use for the power to draw than the teacher of all sciences in all grades of the school. Therefore the department of drawing in every normal school should be strong and attractive. It would be easy to enumerate a multitude of reasons both practical and esthetical in favor of teaching the subject of drawing, and of expanding this work into the wonderful art of the man who can make things live and breathe on canvas. However, this article is written to say that the duty of the normal school, as we conceive it in Texas, has been discharged when drawing is presented thoroughly for its uses to the teacher, and to say further that should there be a demand for art in the higher sense, the normal school authorities will endeavor to furnish facilities of the highest quality to the people who desire these fine arts. But art of this character is not furnished by the state free of charge and hence should the authorities undertake fore will be a matter outside of the state's control, and would be paid for by the people who receive instruction in it. It is probable that the departments of music and of art can be expanded in a few years into large and strong schools which will meet the demands for these forms of education.

President R. B. Cousins.

Our conception of the work of the West Texas State Normal college is that it must offer instruction of the best quality in ordinary school subjects, such as English, mathematics, history, the sciences and the usual foreign languages. In addition it must offer sane, sound, thorough instruction in the manual arts of handling tools, cooking, sewing and of agriculture. There must be developed a model school for observation and practice in the art of teaching. This last is of supreme importance. Along with this work there should be offered, as a separate matter, instruction of the best quality of higher forms of the ordinary fine arts, as music and painting. These last cannot be furnished free by the state, but the normal school should house, if necessary, and encourage these departments.

The Panhandle Invites Inspection.

She leads the great Southwest in the richness of her productions. That she has created a stir in the agricultural sections of the north and middle west, is evidenced by the gathering together of the banking interests of the older states, to combat the tide of immigration which is steadily coming this way. A visit to Canyon City and surrounding territory will convince you that the loudly proclaimed stories of drought are without foundation. Our hundreds of acres of Milo Maize and Kaffir Corn, just now entering the maturing stage, are a complete refutation of the drought stories. The market quotations of Indian corn compared with the quotations on Kaffir and Maize show that the last two named command the greater price.

There is no country that is better equipped naturally for the production of broom corn, than in the Panhandle. Professor Shaw, of the Wisconsin Agricultural College, makes the unqualified statement that any land which will successfully produce broom corn is worth two hundred dollars per acre.

As a stock raising and feeding country the Panhandle is not surpassed; the cool, pleasant summer, free from the tormenting fly, and the mild winters, full of sunshine, make it an ideal location for both the raising and finishing of all kinds of stock.

The production of all fruits peculiar to the temperate zone is bountiful and the quality is of the best. All kinds of vegetables are most successfully grown here, and melons attain prodigious size and are of the most delicious flavor.
