SENATOR COFER OPENS CAMPAIGN

FIRST SPEECH FOR STATEWIDE PROHIBITION MADE IN CANYON.

Leader of the Prohibition Forces in the Senate Makes Strong Plea for Prohibition.

Senator Robert E. Cofer, of Gainsville, brother of Miss Margaret Cofer, of the Normal faculty, and leader of the prohibition forces in the state senate, was in the city Tuesday night to deliver the first address of the campaign for the state wide prohibition election which will be held in Texas on July 22. The meeting was held in the district court room, which was packed to the doors, more than fifty people leaving the building on account of not finding standing room.

County Chairman A. N. Henson presided at the meeting. In his opening remarks, Mr. Henson pointed out the fact that local option had been enforced in this county as well as in any county in the state. Mr. Henson introduced Judge J. C. Hunt, representative from the 109th district in the state legislature, who in turn introduced the speaker of the evening. "It gives me much pleasure to listen to a man whose heart and soul is in the work and I assure you that no man in the state has his soul more in the work than Senator Cofer."

In his opening remarks, Mr. Cofer paid a great compliment to Mr. Hunt for the work that he had done in the legislature. He expressed his sincere thanks for such a large and enthusiastic audience and hoped that the influence manifested would spread from county to county until July 22 when a great victory would be won.

Mr. Cofer stated that the question before the people of Texas today was not one of personal liberty, but narrowed down to whether the public was to allow wholesale and retail liquor to continue. "The business is wrong. The liquor men even do not defend it. The U. S. supreme court says it is not right, but that the state may license and may destroy it at any time. Are you in favor of the saloon or against the saloon? When you cast your ballot at the election, it will be a vote to signify whether you favor liquor or are against liquor."

The senator pointed out that the business has never been justified. All arguments in that line have been answered years ago. He also pointed out that this is no contest between local option and state wide prohibition as the anti would have people believe. The saloon interests do not like local option, but are trying to hide under its protection during the present fight.

"The liquor traffic lays heavy on the women and children of the land and any such institution must perish." The senator expressed the belief that pure politics would so exert itself that a great victory would be won at the polls, a large majority in north Texas and a small majority in south Texas.

The water company received a shipment of meters this week and Manager C. M. Ackerman is installing them in the residences. The company intends to place them in all residences and business houses.

IMPROVEMENT WORK BEGUN.

Plows and Scrapers Busy this Week Leveling up Court Yard Preparing for Grading.

Work was commenced Tuesday afternoon on the improvements in the court house yard. The first work done was to plow the portions that were too high and to scrape these bumps into the low parts of the yard. Work will begin at once on the curbing so that the filling may be soon accomplished.

A contract has been let to replace the four inch sewer tile that now connects the court house with a six inch one. This work will start this week.

TAKES TWO OUT OF THREE GAMES

CANYON BASEBALL TEAM TAKES HEREFORD TEAM TO TRIMMING.

First Game is 5 to 2; Second, 9 to 4; While Hereford Takes the Last 12 to 3.

Last Friday and Saturday the Canyon high school ball team took the first two games of a series of three from the Hereford aggregation on their home grounds, one game being played on Friday and a double-header on Saturday, Hereford winning the last by an easy margin. The local boys seem to have been in high batting practice for nearly every man featured with the stick at some time or other throughout the series.

"Hud" Prichard, the mainstay of the high school on the slab, did some great work, especially in the first game, making fifteen Herefordites throw down the bat in disgust. "Sticks" Reynolds, who pitched the second game, showed up in fine form, allowing only four hits and getting nine strike-outs. The Hereford team didn't seem to understand the little fellows bends and curves.

Those of the Canyon team doing effective work with the stick were: Prichard, R. Shotwell and Black.

The boys report a very pleasant trip and are expecting a series of three return games from Hereford in the near future. It is thought the locals will take all three games on their home diamond.

Below is a brief outline of the games:

MACHINERY IS NOW IN FINE WORKING ORDER.

J. A. Edwards Has Bought up Entire Stock and Will Operate First-Class Mill.

The Eagle Milling Company, which has been tied up for the past few months on account of defects in the machinery, has gotten everything in good working order and is now making flour daily. It was found that the flow had been made for soft wheat, instead of hard wheat as is raised here, and after these connections had been corrected the mill has been running very nicely.

A deal was made Tuesday whereby J. A. Edwards bought out the other partners in the business and will conduct the mill himself. Mr. Edwards has placed M. S. Craven in charge of the milling department and J. C. Black will have charge of the books.

CASE DECIDED IN FAVOR OF DEFENDANT

C. BURROW VS. FRANK A. WHITE TRIED AT AMARILLO.

Second Trial of Local Case is Decided This Week in District Court Favor Defendant.

On change of venue, the case of C. R. Burrow vs. Frank A. White, Receiver, was tried on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, resulting in a decision in favor of the defendant. This was the second trial of the case, in the first trial the jury failing to agree.

The case grew out of an accident to the plaintiff on the night of Nov. 4, 1909. Mr. Burrow entered his home, and turning on the switch of the electric lights had the first finger on his right hand burned so that it was necessary to amputate it, the second and third finger burned so badly that he lost almost the entire usage of his hand, and his left hand which had rested on the telephone transmitter was burned very badly. The nerves of all his fingers were more or less paralyzed. Mr. Burrow sued Frank A. White, Receiver for $10,000 damages. The case was tried in Canyon one year ago and the jury was unable to reach a decision. On a change of venue the case was taken to Amarillo where it was tried before Judge Browning.

In this trial the defendant attempted to involve the telephone company, but after the testimony was heard it was agreed that the company was no party to the accident. The plaintiff laid the blame to a defective transformer. The case will be appealed by the plaintiff.

The witnesses from this city who testified in the case were: Mrs. Ethel Park, Miss Earlene Garrison, Ewing Prichard, Duff Caraway, Elbrige Gatewood, Drs. Griffin and Wilson, Tom L. Miller, O. C. Davis and Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Burrow. Attorney W. J. Fleisher appeared for the plaintiff.

N. E. McIntire spent Sunday with his family in Hereford.

GOOD RAIN FALLS CROPS LOOK GOOD

HALF INCH RAIN MONDAY NIGHT SOAKS GROUND WELL.

Wheat Coming up very Fine.—Much Oats being Sown.—Ground in Excellent Condition.

Another excellent rain Monday afternoon and night put the finishing touches on to what is so far the finest spring season the Panhandle has seen for many years. Since the heavy February rains and the sleet following a crust had formed over the ground which threatened to work hardship to the wheat crop. The slow, steady rain of Monday night, however, was sufficient to soften this crust in fine shape, and to soak down to the moisture caused by the subsequent rains. Those who examined the ground Tuesday found it to be in better condition than they have seen it for years.

For the past two weeks the farmers have been very busy putting in their oats, and the rain of this week will bring it out very fast. It is estimated that more than twice as much oats will be sown in Randall county this year than ever has been sown here.

The wheat is looking fine. Last week it was just coming through the ground, but now it is well up and the green fields of wheat can be seen on every hand.

Alfalfa is growing nicely. Some reports that fields which were very thinly seeded last year are coming out this spring very strong, and that fields they had thought of plowing under have come out in good shape since the rains.

Much millet is also being sown in this county.

There has been a great sale of garden seeds at the stores the past week. Everyone owning a piece of ground has been inspired to put in some garden this year.

The fruit trees are looking very fine in their coats of bloom. Should the weather continue very warm, a great fruit crop will be raised in the Panhandle.

Condition in general could not be more favorable for a bountiful crop this year. Rains have come at exactly the right time, and the weather has been favorable for growing.

Captured Big Eagle.

E. H. Mayes was in the city yesterday with a big Mexican bald eagle which he had captured in the canyons east of the city. Mr. Mayes captured the bird by poisoning. This was done Tuesday, and yesterday it was slowly recovering from the effects of the poison. Mr. Mayes had the bird tied in the back of his buggy by the feet and wings. A movement was started to buy the bird and keep him alive, but the business men generally were afraid to tackle the proposition of caring for a live eagle.

Petty Thievery.

Two instances of thievery have occurred this week that ought to set the officials to work in earnest to find the culprit who is menacing the people of Canyon. The first instance occurred on Friday afternoon when the residence of W. O. Bennett was entered through a window and the rooms ransacked. Nothing was missed, however. The other instance occurred Tuesday afternoon when the Geo. Ditto residence was entered through a window and the house ransacked. The following coins were taken: one $2.50 gold piece, one silver dollar with a hole near the edge, one half dime and a small amount of change. At the Bennett home a boy was seen by two different people, but there is no clue to the Ditto robbery. It is hoped that the culprit will be taken by the officers.

LATER.

On Wednesday City Marshal Jowell got track of the money that was stolen from the Ditto home and arrested Will Cavett. After his arrest young Cavett turned over to the marshal the gold piece, the silver dollar and a number of old coins. Cavett is under arrest charged with burglary and will be tried Saturday before Judge Scott.

Brakeman Arrested.

E. C. Peck, a brakeman on the Santa Fe, was pulled off a freight Monday morning charged with breaking into a freight car, stealing six sacks of flour and selling it to people living near the depot. After an examining trial lasting nearly two days, he was dismissed Wednesday by Judge Scott. The officials are still working on the case.

Cota Items.

We had another good rain Monday. Just what we needed for the wheat as it will loosen the crust which was forming on the ground. Quite a crowd attended the dance at White Currie's Thursday night. TEXAS PANHANDLE MAGAZINE.

The first issue of the Texas Panhandle Magazine reached Canyon last week, and is pronounced by all who have read it as being a very great success. The editor of this magazine is Walter E. Gunn, of Chicago, who made a trip through the Panhandle during the winter and worked up the proposition.

The magazine will be devoted to the development of the entire Panhandle. The aim of the editor is to set forth the advantages of the Panhandle in their true light, and to show to the homeseeker the splendid opportunities afforded by the Panhandle country.

The articles in the first issue of the magazine are well written and ring true with genuine Panhandle spirit. The number is well illustrated with cuts from all the leading cities and places of interest.

OLD HEADS COULDN'T COME BACK.

Team of 'Experienced Ball Players Cross Bats with Normal Team Saturday on Campus.

A team composed of old and at one time efficient ball players and officially designated as the "Old Heads," met defeat at the hands of the Normalites Saturday afternoon on the Normal campus. After the dust and smoke of battle had settled and the scorekeeper sufficiently survived over his strenuous work, the score stood 18 to 11. It was impossible to keep account of the errors and hits, but it's safe to say that the Old Timers' error column ran high into the twenties while their hits ranged hardly above ten.

The most striking features of the game was the hitting of the teachers and the inability of the Old Heads to stop the ball, but once and awhile an old timer would spit on his hands and drive the ball to the tall and uncut.

On the whole this exhibition of the national sport was enjoyed not only by the players but the several spectators as well.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Last Friday afternoon was a great time for the third and fourth grade pupils. For several weeks they have been working very diligently making and arranging their work for exhibition. The work consisted of written lessons in spelling, arithmetic and geography besides map and picture drawing. Then there were houses, wagons, boats, baskets, needle work and several other things, all of which were made by the pupils themselves. When everything had been placed in order and the judges had pinned a blue ribbon and a pink ribbon on the best and second best of every sort, the door was opened and the mothers who had been invited came in to see the work and also to listen to the beautiful program that had been prepared for the occasion. Several of the teachers and the Senior class were also invited to attend. The visitors praised the work very much, the baskets, drawing and needle work receiving special attention. Refreshments of cake and candy were served. After a very pleasant hour all slowly departed saying many words of praise to both teacher and pupils, which gave them a new determination to do their best to hold the record of excellency.

The Senior class was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Rogers Thursday evening. The features of the evening were contests, shadow drawing and several other games that made the evening pleasant. Music was furnished by Miss Jessie Smith and Misses Gladys and Mabel Rogers. Refreshments of fruit and cake were served.

An Untortunate Situation

By JOHN TURNLEE

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

The only definite feature respecting my attentions to Phoebe Constant was that they were unwelcome to her father. Mothers are less apt to take definite ground with regard to their daughters, especially men friends, and the only opposition to my being devoted to Phoebe came from her father. Mind you, I was not engaged to her. I was not sure that I wished to be engaged to her, and she had not indicated that she wished to be engaged to me. This matter of love is usually considered as something that comes suddenly, turning a couple from indifference to a wild passion for each other. I admit that there are many such cases, but mine was not one of that kind.

One day Phoebe wrote me a note suggesting that if I had nothing special on hand for the evening I'd better come to see her. I did so and found that her father had gone on business to a neighboring town and would not be at home before 11 o'clock. If there is anything needed to bring about a love affair it is something clandestine. The fact that Phoebe had sent for me to be with her while her father would know nothing about it inspired me with a more tender feeling for her. Indeed, it opened the bud of love. For the first time in my life I put some warmth into my words and bearing toward her and received a corresponding response. When I left her I felt that we had made a beginning in a new relationship.

Mr. Constant kept a large dog on his premises which was unchained every night at 10 o'clock. Not wishing to make my presence during Mr. Constant's absence especially known among the servants, I did not suggest any delay in unchaining the dog, intending to leave just before 10 o'clock. At five minutes before 10 I said good night to Phoebe—no kiss; I hadn't got that far, only a pressure of the hand—and started down the walk leading to the gate. I hadn't gone more than half way before I saw a black mass moving in another part of the yard and knew it for the dog. I was about ten steps from a tree, which I reached in five long ones and, making the jump of my life, caught a branch and drew myself up to a safe place.

Either my watch was wrong or the dog had been let out ahead of time. It did not matter which was the case. I was a prisoner in a tree near a walk along which Mr. Constant would pass when he came home. If the dog had barked Phoebe would have heard him and suspected that I was in trouble. But he did not utter a single growl. I saw no way to attract the attention of any one in the house, and, as to coming down into the jaws of the fierce brute below me, it was not to be considered. When he found he couldn't reach me he simply lay down and waited.

My position was unpleasant in more respects than one. That first sweet passion of love which had entered by blood I found delicious. I knew that a young woman about to enter upon a love affair is very sensitive to any noble or ignoble attitude the man in the case may occupy. I dreaded to be caught by her father upon a tree like a thief, guarded by a watchdog. It was a contemptible position for me and would place Phoebe in an unenviable attitude with regard to her father, indicating that she had received me clandestinely during his absence.

If I could only think of some ingenious way to escape the dog or, better yet, some daring stroke to overcome him I might not only avoid losing prestige, but gain it. I looked about me for a means of escape. The trees were very thick, but toward the gate not thick enough to admit of my passing from one to the other and out of the grounds. Toward the house the prospect looked more favorable. I determined to try it. Better be caught like a burglar than a sneak thief.

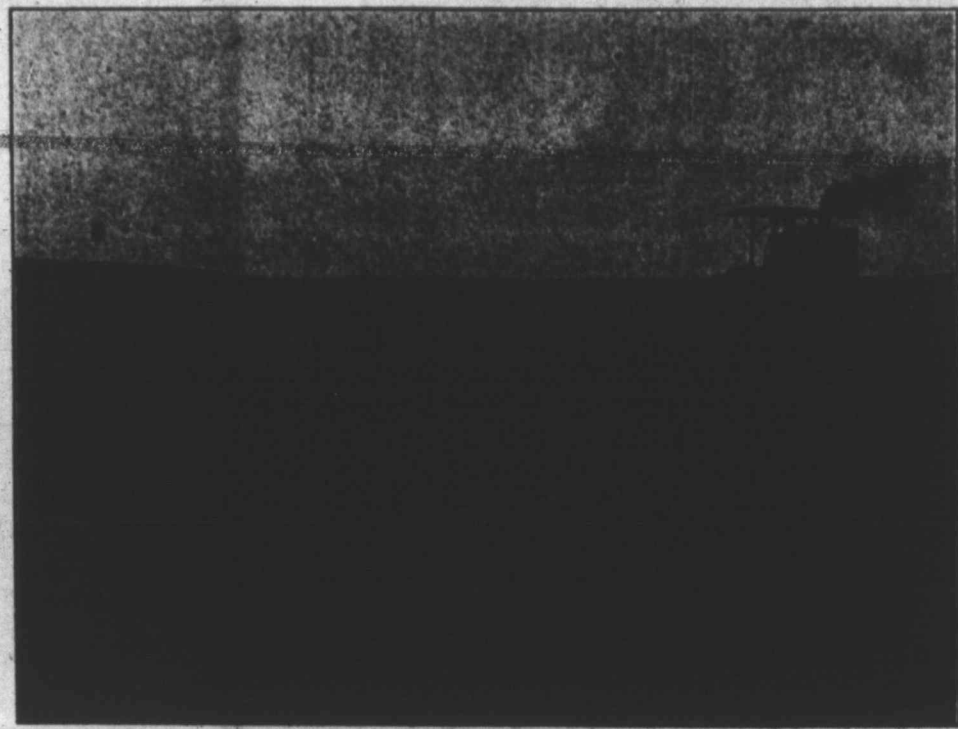

By climbing from branch to branch and making some desperate leaps, the dog following me, I finally gained the roof of the house. When I got there I couldn't get back for the limb from which I dropped, relieved of my weight, sprang upward beyond my reach. I found myself in a sort of roof pocket directly in front of a window.

It seemed to me that I had not improved the situation. I had got rid of the dog, but had been cornered on the roof. In any event I must stay where I was till relieved by human help. I heard a train come in at the station half a mile away, and in about twenty minutes Mr. Constant came in at the gate and spoke to the dog. I rejoiced that dogs can't talk and this one couldn't give me away. Then the front door closed, and the next development was a bright light in the window before which I was standing and from which I could not move. And what was my horror to see Mr. Constant beginning to disrobe.

He advanced at once to draw down the shade and, seeing a man on the narrow ledge of the roof outside the window, was about to turn for some weapon for defense when, placing my face against a pane, I implored him by my expression to desist. The light shone on my features, and he recognized me.

That was the end of my attentions to Phoebe Constant. She never quite satisfied her father but that there was some mystery about the matter greatly to my discredit, and she could never again think of me as a lover.

THE LAND OF VARIETY

IN NO OTHER agricultural district between the Great Lakes and the Gulf, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, can a farmer have a greater variety of crops from which to choose, than here in the Panhandle! Winter wheat, spring wheat, oats, millet, cane, Kaffir corn, Milo maize, and even King Cotton, are proven successful producers in this region where altitude and latitude, soil and rainfall are combined to make a gigantic farm, the possibilities of which have only been partially revealed. "Diversification," the slogan of the modern farmer, can nowhere be practiced to a greater extent, nowhere will it yield greater benefits than in Randall and adjoining counties.

Apples, peaches, plums, pears, every variety of berry, any kind of vegetable, melons of the most delicious flavor, are easily produced here, and yield in wonderful quantities.

For stock raising there is no better country or climate. Horses, cattle, hogs and sheep are brought to maturity at much less expense, than they can be raised in the East or North, where the severity of the winters entails a heavy feed bill and much confinement---while here our mild winters require only occasional shelter. The young can come at any month in the year without danger of loss. Poultry and dairying are sure to become great revenue producers, for we have here all the natural advantages which the hen and the cow require in order to give best results.

Pure, sparkling water, obtained in inexhaustible quantity at a reasonable depth is another of our big assets. Our rich soil, capable of enormous production, of a depth which insures its wearing quality, needs only the plow and planter to convert it into a vast factory of food products which can be kept in operation the year round.

Our people here are from the best classes of citizenship---they are coming from every section of the Union, and "Old-timer" and "New-comer" alike are imbued with that spirit of progress which is fast pushing the Panhandle into the front rank of agriculture.

With the establishment of the West Texas State Normal, controlled by a faculty graduated from the best colleges and universities of the United States, our education facilities are ample.

As a place to make a home, as a place for investments which will yield big dividends and steadily increase in value, there is no section of the country which today can offer the opportunities awaiting you here in the Panhandle. Come and investigate.

We have a choice collection of farms, improved and unimproved, all nicely situated in regard to markets and railroads, which we can offer at prices sure to please you.

Do you know that of all the minor ailments colds are by far the most dangerous? It is not the cold itself that you need to fear, but the serious diseases that it often leads to. Cookery Notes

Panned Oysters.
For these favorites use casseroles or cocottes a little deeper than those used for shirring eggs. The squatty little brown ones with handles are ideal for this purpose. Butter them lightly and lay in each a round of toast cut to fit the bottom of the dish. This may be stamped out of bread with the cookie cutter or empty baking powder can, discarding the crusts and toasting the rounds. Moisten with a little oyster liquor, lay six or seven good sized oysters on the toast, sprinkle lightly with salt and pepper, dot with bits of butter; add if you like a tablespoonful of cream, though this is not an essential; set in an oven of steady heat and bake about ten minutes or until the oysters ruffle and crisp. Then serve at once in the pans in which they are cooked, setting them, of course, on a plate so as not to injure the table. Pass lemon with them and serve more toast as an accompaniment or thin slices of buttered brown bread.

Chocolate Layer Cake.
For a layer cake with a filling of chocolate cream mix half a cupful of butter with a cupful of sugar. After creaming add two beaten eggs and half a cupful of milk. Lift two teaspoonfuls of baking powder with one cupful and a half of flour and stir the moist ingredients into it. Let the mixture bake in two or three layers and when cold spread them with the following filling: Grate a quarter of a pound of chocolate. Melt it and add a quarter of a cupful of sugar and a teaspoonful of cornstarch. Measure out one cupful and a half of milk. Add a little to the mixture and put the rest over the stove to boil. When it boils add the mixture and continue to cook till it thickens, being careful to stir it constantly to prevent lumps from forming.

For Leftovers.
The squash leftover from dinner may be used up in pancakes. Have ready about a pint of cold mashed squash and add a tablespoonful of butter, a little salt, half a cupful of milk, an egg and half a cupful of flour sifted with a teaspoonful of baking powder. If the batter is too thin add more flour or if too stiff more milk. Drop the batter by teaspoonfuls on to a hot buttered griddle or a soapstone one and bake like other cakes of the kind. Serve the cakes directly from the grid with butter. If there are leftover corn and stewed tomatoes in the larder mix them, and when they begin to boil flavor with a little onion juice, half a teaspoonful of sugar and serve very hot.

Spiced Sweet Potatoes.
For this dish the potatoes must be perfectly sound and of fine flavor. In different ones are not for this festive occasion. Select those of uniform size, wash clean, boil tender, skin and stand aside to become cold. Cut into quarter inch rounds, place a layer on the bottom of a buttered dish, dot with bits of butter and sprinkle with a mixture of brown sugar and cinnamon. Alternate layers of potato and seasoning until the dish is filled, finishing with plenty of butter. Cover and stand in the oven until thoroughly heated through, then uncover and brown. Serve at once without redishing.

Cream Puffs.
One cup boiling water poured on one-half cup butter and put in saucepan on stove. When boiling add one cup of flour, beating all the time. Let boil five minutes. When cold add three eggs well beaten; drop on buttered pans and bake thirty minutes.

Cream Filling.—One-half cup of sugar, three great spoons of flour, one egg poured into one pint of boiling milk; flavor. Make a small hole in the side of the puffs with a knife and fill with the cream. This makes twelve.

Care of Earthenware Casseroles.
A point emphasized by the manufacturers of the best earthenware casseroles is that before using at all they should be placed in a pan or large kettle and completely covered with cold water. Bring slowly to a boil and then remove the pan from the fire, letting the ware cool in the water before taking out.

Avoid changing the temperature from hot to cold or cold to hot abruptly, lest the ware be cracked.

A Fig Dessert.
How about molasses fig pudding? Do you know it? If not you might try it out on the family.

Mince very fine one half pound of figs and mix them with one half pound of finely grated bread crumbs, six ounces of soft butter and enough molasses or best sirup to make into a paste. Butter a mold and fill it with the mixture, then boil or steam for one and one-half hours. Serve with cream, either plain or whipped.

Ginger Puffs.
One cup molasses, one cup sugar, one cup sweet milk, three-fourths cup butter or part butter and lard, one egg, one tablespoon soda, one tablespoon ginger, one tablespoon cassia, four and one-half cups flour. Drop in spoonfuls in a greased pan. You may think there is too much soda, but there is not.

EPISCOPAL MEETING LAST NIGHT.

Bishop Temple Unable to Attend Services, but Rev. Edwin Weary Preached Sermon.

The meeting of the Episcopal church which was announced last week was held at the Presbyterian church last night, but Bishop Edward A. Temple was unable to be present, having been called to Waco on matters of business. Rev. Edwin Weary was present, however, and preached a very splendid sermon to the congregation which had assembled. Bishop Temple plans to come to Canyon within the next month, the time to be set later.

191 students enrolled for this term, 128 girls and 63 boys. President Cousins was back at the Normal Tuesday after an absence of two weeks attending to the interests of the Normal at Austin. He reports a fine trip and the business completed satisfactory. Miss Anna Lee Howren has been unable to attend school this week having a slight case of chicken-pox. Olive Travis entertained her father Wednesday and Thursday of this week. Mr. Travis was a welcome visitor at the Normal Wednesday. Senator Cofer gave a short talk Wednesday at Chapel on the advancement of the religious influence in the schools in Texas. A baseball game was played on the Normal campus Thursday between the Normal and High school. Fay Scott was sick Tuesday. The Barrett-Browning Literary Society has a new banner up in their hall. The cooking department of the Domestic Art began Tuesday. Mr. Price has started work at the Normal. Prof. J. G. Miller has given an order to the Thompson Hardware Co. for the carpenter tools that will be used in the manual training department. Prof. Miller is sending out lists of gymnasium and track equipment that will be bought by the Normal, asking for bids on the same by the various sporting goods houses. He hopes to have all the equipment here within a short time. Work has commenced on the athletic field in order to get the field in shape for the coming field and track meet which will be held among the high schools and colleges of the Panhandle. Prof. Miller will issue a call next week for all track men to appear for work on the track team. He hopes to work up a good team for the contests.

Pleasantview Items.

Oh! Such a nice shower of rain fell Monday. Just what the wheat and oats needed. It will help to bring the wheat out as the ground had crusted in some places. Peach trees are in bloom here. It is late for them to bloom, but by being so late we may have a big peach crop. Bro. Younger filed his regular appointment here Sunday. Our school will be out Friday of this week owing to the district being behind in finances. The funds will allow only seven months in this term. Pleasantview school is looking for the Johnson school up Friday to play another game of ball and have a good time as Pleasantview visited them and enjoyed themselves so well. They hope to entertain them and return the compliment. Rowe Wakefield was on the sick list this week but is out again. School election the first Saturday in April. Be sure and be on hand with your vote. Booster.

STUNNING FOULARD FROCK

Just What the Girls Will Consider a "Dear" Little Dress.

OF BLUE AND WHITE FOULARD

Custom cannot state the infinite variety of the blue and white foulard frock which as regularly as the spring season comes around bobs up prettier and smarter than ever. Such a rejuvenation has taken place in the frock pictured. The design is neat and attractive, and the blue is the new "king's blue," which is bright and becoming in tone.

The skirt is very like the plaited jupes of several years ago, but the blouse waist is extremely up to date with its natty sailor collar and black satin tie.

The American Woman.

The most spoiled women in the world are the American women. No one disputes this, not even the American woman herself. She accepts it with complacency.

But are the grounds for her complacency justifiable? Is it to her credit that the man spends his last dollar that she may be indulged; that she occupies the position of a spoiled darling rather than as helpmeet and companion; that her days vacillate between rest cures and a mad search for excitement?

Are not the American men responsible for this helpless attitude of the American woman? Have they not in their desire to guard women from every pin prick really crippled them and spoiled their efficiency as assistant burden bearers?

The attitude of the American woman has become definitely frivolous. She wastes her abundant vitality on things not worth while; she bends her keen mentality upon the attainment of social prestige, with its endless and life destroying competition; she recklessly saps her strength in a hundred ineffectual ways.

But her ambition is frivolous, her energy spasmodic, and the expression of both is futile, because the objects upon which they are spent are not worth while. Why not give her insight and her vitality to the men of her family in their struggle for success? And let her make of society a relaxation, not an object; let her use it as a graceful ornamentation, but not as a foundation.

Who is to blame for so unjust a situation? Both. The American man because he foolishly shields the woman from every wind that blows, making of her a fragile orchid of hot-house beauty when she should be a hardy garden rose. And the woman is to blame for shutting her eyes to life's serious aspect, for chasing butterflies in the fair gardens of convention day in and day out, when she might be climbing, side by side, with the man to the high mountain tops in the land of fine achievement.

Good Things to Know.

In preparing grapefruit for the table if you will roll the fruit before cutting you will find that it is improved. It not only makes the fruit more juicy, but loosens the pulp and gives it a far better flavor.

A convenient broom holder is made in this way: Take a square of cloth a little larger than will cover the brush of the broom. Put a hem an inch wide in each end and run a tape or string in each hem, then all that is needed to have a broom cover is to lay cloth over the broom, draw the string at each end and tie.

If all the reserve corks are too large for the bottle try soaking one in hot water. It will go easily into the bottle and leave no space for air to get in. Before hemming heavy table linen rub hem with dry white soap and needle will go through more readily.

Try putting lemon juice on rust spots and then applying a hot iron. If rust does not disappear try again.

Good to Live By.

There is only one way to get ready for immortality, and that is to love this life and live it as bravely and faithfully and cheerfully as we can.—Henry van Dyke.

1911 Spring and Summer Style Display

These Clothes Will "Make Good"
Their Claims To Superiority.

On every hand you are beset with clothing claims—yet there can be but one best. PUT OUR TALK TO THE TEST.

The quality of Goldman-Beckman (Cincinnati) Clothes is expressed in their creative designing and their expertly chosen fabrics—and these features augmented by a great organization of master tailors.

Isn't it logical that when these great fundamental factors are systematically united these clothes excel?

To be becoming a suit should fit well—right design and careful tailoring. To be high value the fabric must be expertly selected for the greatest intrinsic worth at the price—and the business volume must be large enough to permit judicious manufacture.

All these essentials Goldman-Beckman Clothes embrace.

So when we invite you to our spring display we have something more than ordinary to interest you. Not that we have $20.00 suits on sale at $10.00. But that we have here for you the highest type of clothes that $10.00—$15.00—$20.00—or your price—will buy. Challenge this claim with your own careful judgment by a personal call when convenient.

Just a word about fabric patterns. For the spring season Goldman-Beckman had a few novelty weaves produced especially for their trade. Of these fabrics we fortunately secured a representative showing. Necessarily, however, this division of our display is limited—better come early if you can.
