

WINNIE ANDERSON AND PAT THOMPSON

POPULAR YOUNG PEOPLE MARRIED ON MONDAY NIGHT.

Ceremony Performed at Home of Bride's Parents N. W. of city. Will live in Canyon.

Monday night the marriage of Miss Winnie Anderson to Mr. Pat Thompson took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Anderson, three miles northwest of the city at eight o'clock, Rev. J. J. Hutchison, pastor of the Christian church, officiating. The wedding march was played by Miss Grace Winder. The bridal couple was unaccompanied.

The simple but impressive ceremony which was used united two of the most excellent young people of Canyon. Both are widely known and both hold the respect and highest esteem of an exceptionally large circle of friends. The bride is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Anderson and came here with her parents from Illinois three years ago. She is a very popular young lady and has many friends who unite in wishing her all the happiness of a wedded life. Mr. Thompson has lived in Canyon five years and is engaged in the lumbering business. He is an energetic young man and among his friends are numbered every business man in Canyon.

After the ceremony and hearty congratulations by the guests, a very fine three course dinner was served.

The gifts to the bridal couple were very number and were very beautiful.

The guests were; Mr. and Mrs. N. Thompson, father and mother of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Thompson, Mrs. Mallard, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Conner, Misses Cecil Reid and Grace Winder and Rev. J. J. Hutchison.

The News joins with the large number of friends in wishing these splendid young people a long and happy wedded life.

Who Wants Magazine?

In the next issue of the Panhandle Magazine there is going to be a great deal about Canyon and there will be a large number of local illustrations. The number of magazines sent here will be very limited, but if a special order is sent in by next Monday a larger number may be produced. Every one wanting copies should phone the News office AT ONCE. Every land firm ought to have a bunch of them. Send in your order today. Mr. Gunn was in the city Tuesday collecting data and getting illustrations.

Be a booster for the magazine and for Canyon.

Will Move to Canyon.

Mrs. Viola R. Onthank, of Grinnell, Iowa, was in the city last week on the excursion and traded 230 acres of Iowa land to C. O. Keiser for two sections east of the city. This was Mrs. Onthank's second trip to the Panhandle. She will move here during the winter to improve her land.

Will Move Here.

C. R. Burrow has sold the Garrison place on West Evelyn street to G. W. Avent, of Hamilton. Mr. Avent will move here the 15th of next month.

GREAT PANHANDLE EXHIBIT AT THE CHICAGO LAND SHOW

When the United States government statisticians sent broadcast the fact that three-fifths of the people who have settled the West and South came from within one night's ride of Chicago, they placed a responsibility upon the aggressive citizenship of America's second city. Backed by cold, indubitable figures they held Chicago answerable for the establishment of some reliable educational medium that would accurately inform the millions wanting land of the great acres in turn needing them. This was in 1909. November of that year brought into being an exposition the fame of which has traveled to the very ends of the earth. It serves a dual purpose: gives the great army of the land hungry an opportunity to study the fields offering self-support and self-contentment, and by encouraging emigration to new territories educates a band of trade missionaries who boost the commercial supremacy of Chicago.

The United States Land & Irrigation Exposition has been a success from the first second of its inauguration. On November 18 it will open up in the great Coliseum for the third time. History cannot fail to repeat itself. December 9 is bound to record a three weeks' success, the value of which will never be known till someone is born who can compute the tremendous material advantages contained in an influx of thousands of eager, earnest men from the congested non-producing centers of northern and eastern population to the broad, fertile but untitled regions of the South and West.

This great show has been truly called "a revelation of the scenic opportunities in land of the United States." It has been described as all out of doors indoors. It tells of the development of the land industry, revealing all the important things which are being done by the government and by private enterprise in reclaiming deserts and wet lands and to make the business of farming more certain and profitable.

Models of farms illustrate the best methods of farm management. Relief maps demonstrate irrigation systems, explain drainage and show transportation facilities; pictures, photographs and transparencies tell of the transformation of lands from an undeveloped condition to a state of intensive cultivation. Experts from many agricultural colleges are there with knowledge of all phases of new agriculture. Lectures with colored views and moving pictures show the opportunities as they exist in the localities described.

The decorations of the Coliseum for the Land Show in 1910 cost $40,000, and transformed the building into a fairyland. All the exhibit booths were covered with pergolas, from which hung apple blossoms and autumn leaves. The windows were darkened and the scenic artists were able to give the effect of a beautiful blue sky.

The advertising by the exposition management in Chicago papers and farm journals throughout the country was responsible for the tremendous attendance at the exposition. The purpose of the advertising is to create a desire for land; the exposition is only incidentally mentioned.

One of the most interesting exhibits at the Land Show last year represented the Texas Panhandle. Every effort should now be put forth to the end that 1911 will not only duplicate but surpass the success of 1910. With abundant harvests, inexhaustible soil fertility, ideal living advantages, charming social conditions and no end of indications for continued prosperity, let us all combine to dispel the clouds of prejudice and ignorance about our country. We need settlers, and we can get them if we but make the plain, unvarnished truth known from coast to coast.

W. E. Gunn, secretary of the Texas Panhandle Publicity association, was in the city on Tuesday to perfect arrangements for the Canyon display to be embodied in the general Texas Panhandle exhibit at the coliseum. Those who have creditable samples and are willing to have them exhibited should communicate at the earliest possible moment with F. P. Luke who has kindly consented to superintend the assembling of the local display and its shipment to Chicago. Last year the collection of crop samples was put off until the last moment with the result that some of the crops were not shown in all their excellence. By anticipating the coming of the Land Show it will be possible to present to the visitors there the very perfection of the Panhandle products.

While in the city Mr. Gunn secured a number of photographs of the Canyon district and collected valuable data regarding the possibilities of this region. The pictures and descriptive matter will appear in the October number of the Texas Panhandle Magazine, many thousands of which are to be printed for use during the three weeks of the Land Show.

INTERURBAN OUGHT TO CONNECT TOWNS

AMARILLO AND CANYON SHOULD PUSH THE PROJECT.

A Park on the Canyons will Mean a Great Deal for Both Places Can be Done.

A prominent man from Amarillo was a caller at the News office yesterday and said that he was working for the Amarillo-Canyon interurban and asks that every citizen in Canyon give the project his best support. This gentleman has figured long on the plan and believes that he can make it go through if given the proper support from both towns. He says that he is sure that the financing of the road would be of no trouble if the two towns would undertake the financing themselves.

His plan is to establish a large park on the canyon where the citizens of both towns can go for picnics and days of rest. He proposes that it be governed so that any person can go there and not be molested with indecent amusements, being more of a park for rest than for amusement. He points out Colorado Springs as an example for this park and says that the plan could be carried out. He pointed out the fact that neither town has any place of recreation and is greatly in need of the same.

This gentleman also had a great deal to say of civic pride and says that he notices the lack of it very much in both places. He remarked at the weeds growing on the vacant lots and said that if the people of Canyon would band together and demand that they be cut there wouldn't be a weed in town within twenty four hours. He pointed out the fact that every weed, whether on your own property or on the property of your neighbor, simply knocked so much value from your property in the eyes of the prospective buyer, and at that rate many of the lots about the public square especially were not worth ten cents.

PECANS ON HICKORY TREES.

Prof. T. S. Minter Exhibits Samples of fine Paper Shell Pecans from Palestine.

Prof. T. S. Minter, head of the agricultural department of the Normal, has demonstrated the advisability of grafting the pecan buds on young hickory trees and thus raising pecans. Mr. Minter is exhibiting samples of the Paper Shell pecan which he raises on the hickory trees in his grove near Palestine, Texas. Mr. Minter grafted pecan buds on 900 young hickories but two fires damaged his forest so that only about 200 of the trees are yet alive. Mr. Minter says that this is the best way to raise the pecan as they grow so much quicker on the hickory. The pecan tree is naturally very slow of growth. The trees of Mr. Minter have been photographed by the A. & M. College.

BUSINESS MEN'S POPULAR VOTING CONTEST

Diamond Ring, Organ and Other Valuable Articles Given away by Certain Canyon Firms.

A number of enterprising business men of Canyon have interested themselves in giving away absolutely FREE, a beautiful Diamond Ring, Gold Watch, Organ and other handsome gifts. The organ is to be given to the organization receiving the greatest number of votes and the diamond ring and other articles to individuals from time to time, receiving the greatest number of votes.

The plan is a novel one and commends itself to the public, there being no outlay on the part any one other than the people who are doing this to stimulate cash trade, and at the same time bestow valuable gifts that will be permanent advertisement for them.

Briefly stated the plan is this: Each firm that is interested in the contest is provided with voting tickets, and for ten cents worth of goods purchased or work done, issues a ticket entitling the holder to one vote. The ticket can be voted for the church, school, lodge or club and any individual of the purchaser's preference.

A 10 cent purchase entitles holder to one vote, 20 cents to two votes, $1.00 to ten votes, $5 to 50 votes and so on. Tickets can only be had from firms who have secured an interest in contest and on cash purchases. Number of votes on each ticket should be made with ink or indelible pencil. No charge whatever is made for tickets. You vote for the organization and individual of your choice on each ticket. Each week the votes will be counted and the standing of contestants announced in the RANDALL COUNTY NEWS. A disinterested committee will be selected to count the votes. At the close of the contest, February 24th, 1912, the organ will be awarded the organization having received the greatest number of votes, and the diamond ring to the individual receiving the greatest number of votes from beginning to end of contest.

The following firms will supply tickets free of charge on lines of goods mentioned and explain all about the contest:—

- Turk & Armstrong Dry Goods Co., Dry goods, Notions, Clothing, Shoes and Millinery.
- Stewart & Ballard, Staple and Fancy Groceries. Everything good to eat. Thompson Hardware Co., Shelf and heavy Hardware, Stoves and Ranges, Implements, Buggies, Wagons, Windmills, Harness and Saddles.

REMEMBER—That you can get tickets ONLY at places above mentioned, that all tickets voted will be kept until close of contest and will be subject to investigation at any time, insuring a fair contest. No lady connected with any firm in contest will be permitted to enter contest as a candidate, and no salesman is permitted to solicit votes from customers. The News is the only paper giving votes.

FIVE HANDSOME SPECIAL GIFTS

- FIRST SPECIAL GIFT—Is a pretty umbrella for the lady getting the most votes by Oct. 24th 6 p. m.

IT IS "THE COALMAN'S ENEMY"

Burns all the gases in coal which in soft coal amounts to more than half the fuel and which are wasted up the chimney with the ordinary under-draft stove. The two top drafts discharge highly heated air into the combustion chamber with a rotary motion, which moves it with the rising gases more thoroughly than is possible with a single draft and these gases are thus oxidized and burned. The stove has a larger positive radiating surface than any other stove of the same diameter. Its handsome appearance with door surfaces milled air tight are additional points in its favor and are not found in any other hot blast. Avoid so-called air-tight having side feed doors, they never make good.

Let us show you this remarkable stove.

American people are very egotistic and indeed they have a right to be, expecting when it comes to the question of annexing Canada. The average American thinks Canadians would jump at the chance. It was on this ground largely that the reciprocity bill was defeated. Canadians have always been true to the English government and haven't much more time for the United States than they have for a rattle snake.

According to the talk of the politician, the defeat of the Canadian reciprocity will mean the defeat of Taft. They say that it was a bad bargain for the United States. Now how on earth could this be the case when the agreement was rejected by Canada because they were getting the short end of the deal? Too many of our so called statesmen are nothing more than petty politicians.

It is ten months yet until election, but there is a dozen or more candidates in the field for state offices. A man who announced himself now (or is FORCED to do so by his friends) will have to emit a lot of the invisible, odorless and tasteless mixture of gases, commonly known as hot air, in order to keep himself before the "dear" people.

The Canyon News is congratulating itself on being now located in its new brick building. The News is one of our most valuable exchanges, and the Herald rejoices with them. The News enjoys the distinction of being in its own building—arranged and built specially for their demands. —Talia Herald.

Judge W. F. Ramsey has announced himself as a candidate for governor. He is a prohibitionist. Will H. Mayes, of Brownwood, has announced as a candidate for lieutenant governor. Mr. Mayes is editor of the Brownwood Daily Bulletin.

It is said that Champ Clark's annexation speech defeated the Canadian reciprocity bill. If Champ could say something that would impress Americans as greatly as he did the Canadians he might be president some day.

We hear much these days about political rest, but who is willing to grant it. The politicians will not allow such a thing and even if they were willing would the people allow it?

Secretary Wilson might as well act as president of the national brewers association. He might find his calling, since his day of usefulness in the cabinet far passed.

A woman can run around town all week with no hat on her head but on Sunday she must put on an affair that covers a quarter section in width, and twice that high.

Uncle Joe Cannon is in the race again. Uncle Joe always has good wind in a political race.

J. A. Crawford—An Appreciation.

By R. B. Cousins.

We lament the death of J. A. Crawford whom we buried from sight in Dreamland cemetery on the 19th day of the current month. It seems a pity that a man so young, courageous and strong and one who has made such a gallant fight for a worthy place among men of the first rank, should be cut down by the Reaper, just as he was getting into position to enlarge his usefulness and his happiness. God does not see as man sees, and the issues of life and death are with Him. "Crawford's" work is done, and he did it well.

When he was about nineteen years old he graduated from the Jacksboro high school. J. Alvin Crawford saw through the mists of the future the vision of a bright manhood and in spite of poverty, he took his journey to a business college, 300 miles away. While there the writer first knew him. Before graduating from the business college he left to make for himself a few dollars wherewith to further his educational aspirations. In answer to a telegram from the writer, Prof. F. A. Glenn, now deceased, sent J. A. Crawford to Huntsville to take the position of stenographer in our campaign headquarters. He took what money he could save from that employment and went to Austin to attend the state university. On reaching that place he found employment at a boarding house, washing dishes and doing chores for his board using what little money he had to pay his fees and buy his books.

Some time after he entered the university the writer assumed control of the state department of education, and invited J. A. Crawford to become "stenographer and filing clerk" in that office at a salary of $1200 per year. This would seem to give him a place to rest and to cease his efforts. A young man of a lower order of mind and character, would have been satisfied with this achievement and would have "clothed himself in fine linen and fared sumptuously." Not so with Crawford. He dressed plainly and continued to live in greatest economy. He arranged his work so that he could continue his study in the university, working "over time" and into the night when necessary in exchange for an hour a day for his recitation in the university. He studied law and made 15 units of credit in the university, and then stood the bar examinations before the supreme court of the state, making a record equal to the best that ever took that examination.

He was always a hard worker and he bore hardships and privations like the hero that he was, without ever a word of complaint. His life shows to young men that they can choose their own course and win a splendid manhood, or they can live in ignorance and move through life on a low plain.

He was faithful to every trust. No task was too difficult nor too long for him, when he could meet an obligation or oblige a friend.

He was accurate and rapid at his work from force of habit. He knew as much school law as any man in Texas. He had a legal mind that would have done credit to a supreme court judge. He had integrity and character enough to be trusted with the sacred interests of men. He knew not how to be otherwise than honest, sincere and manly.

In his private life he was as a good woman. He did not visit saloons or kindred places. He was too busy and had too much self respect to haunt the loafers corners or the streets after "work hours." His lips were clean and pure. He was a devout member of the Christian church.

His charity account was larger than that of many a man of wealth. His last crowning act was to bring his mother and the two younger children to Canyon to live with him while the children, a sister and a brother, attended the schools in Canyon.

A good man has gone to his reward. His memory is a blessing and an inspiration to those who knew him. "Peace to his ashes. Rest to his soul."

Lubbock, Tex., Sept. 20, 1911.
Mr. C. W. Warwick,
Canyon, Texas.

Dear Mr. Warwick:

Yours of the 18th conveying to me the sad intelligence of the death of our mutual friend Mr. Alvin Crawford received and read with deep sorrow and regret. Please express to Mrs. Crawford and other members of the family for me, my sympathy in this sad hour for them. I have known Mr. Crawford from boyhood to manhood. As a boy he was honorable, honest, truthful, polite and courteous. As a school boy he was studious, obedient, energetic, kind and polite to his schoolmates, in other words, had all the good qualities of a typical American boy. While he was attending my school in Jacksboro I often thought of the possibilities wrapped in that boy and looked forward to the time when he arrived at manhood, believing that he would be a great factor in the development and advancement of some of the great institutions of Texas. As a school boy he was eccentric in his ways, but when you understood him, you could see peeping from under those ways of his, a strong personality that drew people close to him, and made him many friends. In school he seldom lost an opportunity to improve himself intellectually and to assist others when necessary. I considered him a noble young man, one worthy of the confidence and esteem of the people where ever he lived. He was a man of great moral worth and intellectual power, and in his death the struggling youths of the country have lost a friend, the state a noble citizen, the schools of Texas, and especially the West Texas State Normal, a great worker and the mother a loyal and obedient son. May God bless and comfort the mother and give her courage to bear her troubles in this her great loss. With best wishes, I am

Very truly yours,
J. K. WESTER.

Texas Needs Great Men.

VI. BUILDING.

CAESAR built the Appian way and advanced Roman civilization to the zenith of its glory; Pericles found Athens a city of mud and left it a city of marble. Trace all the world movements for progress to their source and we will find a great man. The inspired thought of our builders has moved the wheels of civilization since the beginning of creation and the dawn of a glorious development that will illuminate the universe awaits the appearance in our state government of men who are builders.

THE APPIAN WAY.

We need empire builders who can civilize our virgin soil, organize the untamed forces of progress and give to raw material the touch of genius, as well as traverse the State with macadam highways, gird it with bonds of steel, improve our waterways, make the State throb with industrial life and build a thousand cities. Texas needs great men.

A. AND M. EXHIBIT.

Will Be on an Elaborate Scale and Instructive.

Fifty Counties Have Reserved Room in the Spacious Agricultural Building and Competition Promises to be Quite Keen.

The Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College is an institution belonging to the people and is making an effort to carry the results of valuable experiments to the people through what is known as the extension department. With this in view Superintendent C. M. Evans has arranged for an extensive exhibit and demonstration to be placed at the State Fair of Texas.

These demonstrations and exhibits will be of such a nature as will illustrate the fundamental principles of the various branches of scientific agriculture. They will be in charge of experts from the college at all times, who will take special pleasure in giving any instructions called for along these lines. In fact the main idea is to maintain a bureau of scientific agricultural information supplemented by experimental demonstrations.

(1) The exhibit will include specimens of pigs that have been fed on various rations, demonstrating the value of a study of feeds in the economic production of pork. (2) A large number of pot plants grown in soil containing the various kind of plant foods and fertilizers, showing the effect of increasing the plant food by use of manures and fertilizers. (3) Various demonstrations showing the profits from the results of crop rotation. (4) Exhibits of the various insects, that are beneficial and harmful to the Texas crops in different stages of their growth. (5) The various classes and grades of cotton. (6) The grades and various classes of corn and other grains, etc.

Many valuable bulletins will be available for the asking and all inquiries will be cheerfully answered. It is hoped that all farmers coming to the Fair will avail themselves of the opportunity of seeing these demonstrations and of questioning the experts in charge. The exhibit will occupy the east end of the manufacturers' building.

On October 24th, a Stock and Grain Judging contest will be held in the lecture tent for farmer boys and girls. The lecture tent is next to the Auditorium building. A splendid premium list is being arranged for. Any boy or girl under twenty-one years of age is eligible to enter. In addition to the premium list offered in the contest, lecturers will speak on the judging of livestock, the judging and grading of grains, etc., to all the contestants. Premium list will appear later.

All who expect to enter in the contest should send in their names and application to Professor C. M. Evans, superintendent of Agricultural Extension department, Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, College Station, Texas, as soon as possible.

SYDNEY SMITH, Secretary State Fair of Texas.

ART LOAN COLLECTIONS.

The well known artist, Mr. Julian Onderdonk has been in New York since the first of July, personally making selections from the collections of all the noted artists of the world.

The State Fair purchases annually $2500 worth of these pictures which are selected and passed upon by a special committee of expert art critics. The many noted artists who formerly were prone to send their work so far away, are now glad to do so as the purchase of one of their paintings is considered a mark of honor as well as a sale. Suffice it to say that the greatest and best will be seen in the beautiful art gallery and a treat is in store for the lovers of art.

Many other departments of varied educational features will be seen.

The great State Fair has steadily grown to such a size and proportion that a visitor instead of spending only one day, as of old, in seeing the sights, must remain several days to see all of this wonderful Fair and Exposition. Remember the dates, Dallas, October 14-29.

HANDSOME PRIZE LIST.

Twelve Day Butter Test in the New Dairy Building.

The State Fair of Texas, Dallas, October 14-29, has just issued a handsome prize list for the Dairy Demonstration Department, which is a new educational feature, and is attracting unusual interest among the breeders and owners of dairy cattle throughout the state.

A new and thoroughly modern Dairy demonstration building has just been completed, in which will be held a twelve-day test for butter fat. The test will be under the supervision of a member of the Dairy Division, United States Department of Agriculture.

The complete record of feed consumed and butter fat produced by each animal, will be kept and bulletined daily.

President Kiest and the Veteran secretary, Captain Sydney Smith, have given thorough and personal attention to every detail and declare it the intention to make this show to Texas and the Southwest, what the National Dairy Show of Chicago is to the North and Northwest.

These prize lists containing detailed rules and regulations will be mailed promptly to any one making application.

SHEEP DIVISION.

In addition to the classes for the various breeds for which premiums have been offered heretofore, there has been added a class this year for Hampshire and other breeds. Premiums have been offered by the American Association of that breed.

Come to Canyon to live.

STILL LEADER

Texas continues to lead the procession of her sister states in the matter of acreage, tillage, variety of crops and production. The Panhandle leads all Texas and with the steady increase of new and sturdy citizens, the opening up of virgin lands to plow and successful cultivation, will show a magnificent gain with each succeeding year.

Panhandle alfalfa is now being fed out in the less fortunate districts of other states which have suffered from drouth and heat. During the coming fall and winter Panhandle Kafir corn and Milo maize will acquire new markets in different sections of the country. Their excellence as a balanced ration for all kinds of stock will be demonstrated in heretofore new territory, the markets thus acquired will be permanent and will broaden as their superiority as an all-round feed is recognized. Many of our Randall county farmers are now planting Milo maize on the same ground from which they have just taken a crop of oats or wheat and will realize a second substantial dividend from their land. Our forage crops will help to supply the deficiency in the hay crop of other states and need only this opportunity for a trial in order to be given high rank in that class of feed.

The torrid wave which recently held sway over the Middle West and East, taking heavy toll in the lives of babies and adults, was tempered by our altitude and cooling showers into the most favorable growing weather for crops. Contrary to the general opinion of those not familiar with our climate, that our geographical location is conducive of extreme summer heat, the Government records for eighteen years show our average temperature for the months of June, July and August was 74.2 degrees and each year a larger number of people come to the Panhandle to enjoy the delightful summer.

Our climate is particularly favorable for diversified farming and stock raising, our soil is rich and productive, our rainfall ample in normal seasons, an inexhaustible supply of pure water is obtainable at a reasonable depth.

I have a number of choice farms in Randall and adjoining counties, improved and unimproved, and at the figure at which they can be bought now are certain to prove a most profitable investment.

A New Settlement

And How It Came to Be Made

By CAROLINE A. TRIPP

Copyright by American Press Association, 1922

There were portions of the wild and woolly west—or what was formerly the wild and woolly west—for the silken mantle of civilization is fast spreading over the whole land—where the dividing line between honesty and dishonesty was not distinctly marked. The privations were great, and many of the people found it difficult to make a living. There was no law to keep the honest separated from the dishonest, and this alone tended to obliterate the dividing line.

One day two plainsmen went to a land office to enter some land. While there one of them told the following story:

"Last week," he said, "me and Josh was movin' toward the mountains on a prospecting trip. We had two good ridin' hosses and a pack hoss. One day we found a fine campin' ground beside a stream whar the trout was jst jumpin' outen the water to be ketchid, and we concluded to rest thar a couple o' days. So we pitched our tent and got out our cookin' kit and cal'lated to spend the time like nabobs.

"The next afternoon, when we was layin' off smokin' our pipes, we saw a couple o' men comin' outen the timber on the crick. Ketchin' sight of us, they turned at fust, but we hollered to 'em to come on, and they jined us. They was youngish chaps, neither ov 'em havin' yit growed a beard. We offered 'em the demijohn, but they didn't seem to relish liquor much; mebbe they wasn't old enough to have learned. We offered 'em pipes, but they didn't seem inclined to smoke neither.

"They told us they was in camp in a patch of timber a ways down the crick, and after stayin' awhile with us they went away.

"What d'ye s'pose them kids is a do-in' over yere?" says Josh when they was gone.

"They're hoss thieves," I says. "Hoss thieves. They don't look nuthin' like hoss thieves."

"Like enough they belong to some family as is mighty hard up, and the only way for sich in this yere country to make a haul is to run off hosses, sell 'em and stock up. We'll picket the stock strong tonight, fur it's my opinion these young fellers 'll try to stam-pede 'em."

"We made everything as fast as we could. The moon was full, and the country was lit up like day. Me and Josh smoked till near 9 o'clock, it must 'a' been, then turned in. We was awakened by hearin' the stock rubbin' this way and that way tryin' to break the ropes, and we heard whoops like Indians, only they was more like squaws and paposes than bucks. Then come shots. The hosses was nigh crazy with fright, but we had tied 'em so strong they couldn't get away.

"Josh," I says, says I, "them young fellers is doin' what I said they'd do. Get your gun and let's go for 'em."

"I don't want to kill a boy fur a hoss," said Josh, "especially if he's starvin'."

"Well, we can't let 'em do what they like with our property. Come on."

"We lit out to whar the sounds come from, and the first thing the kids knowed we was right on 'em. They run, and we chased 'em. One of 'em tripped and fell. I sat on him while Josh chased the other and after a hard run brought him in. We took 'em to camp and in order to frighten 'em told 'em we was goin' to hang 'em to the limb of a tree.

"They knowed well enough that's what's done to hoss thieves, and they believed we was in earnest. What d'ye s'pose they did. They begun to cry. This give us such contempt fur 'em that I says to Josh, says I: "Sich salvellin' yunkers oughtn't to be 'lowed to live. They'll never make men, and the women wouldn't have 'em around. Let's string 'em up shore."

"Then one of 'em said, wrightin' his hands: 'We hain't men; we're gals. Our folks is starvin' over thar, and we tried to git yer stock to sell 'em and git somepin fur the children."

"Me and Josh looked at each other. 'I be doggoned,' says I, 'if ever I saw sich hoss thieves before. What luck we didn't shoot at 'em."

"I told you," says Josh, 'I wouldn't like to kill one of 'em."

"We give up the tent to 'em and the blankets and made 'em as comfortable as could, and Josh and I built a fire and lay down by it for the rest o' the night. Next mornin' we give 'em a fine breakfast ov hard tack and bacon washed down with coffee. Then we told 'em we'd go and see what we could do fur their folks. We found jst what the gals said we'd find. There wor three families in a mighty bad way not only fur food, but other things.

"When the gals got on their own clothes they was good lookin', and I offered to marry one if Josh'd marry 'other and settle down and take care of the hull crowd, see'n there warn't no men among 'em, the men havin' been killed off either by Indians or fur hoss stealin'. Josh agreed, and we flipped up fur fust choice. Josh won it, but I didn't keer, since they was both fine gals.

"We axed 'em if they'd agree to our plan, and they said they didn't see how they could help themselves.

"We jst been married, and we're goin' to make a settlement on this land we're squatted on."

nights of earnest forceful preaching Rev. I. A. Smith and Rev. G. R. Fort closed a very successful revival at Beula Monday night. Rev. Fort did most the preaching. Visible results: about 80 conversions and reclamations, 18 uniting with the Meth. church, one giving his hand for the Baptist church, about 18 professions at a single service, Sunday night. In the beginning very poor congregations came out, after much persuasion on the part of the preachers, goodly crowds assembled and the results were very gratifying. Much good was accomplished. A young men's prayer meeting led by Hester Gilham for Wed. night at the church was appointed, also a woman's prayer meeting to meet at school auditorium sometime. The last service was very affecting, bidding goodbye to Bro. Fort who had labored so earnestly among us.

Ernest Wilson and Miller Currie accompanied Rev. Fort to Plainview on Tues. to enter Seth Ward college. Will, James and Earl Wesley may follow later.

Rev. Smith immersed W. I. Lane in M. L. McGehee's stock tank Monday afternoon.

W. H. Hamblen bought of Payne Bros. 100 head of cattle recently. They were delivered and branded at J. M. McGehee's Monday. Anona.

Mr. Currie has been raised in this community and is a young man of sterling worth, who numbers his friends by his acquaintance, who join in extending their congratulations to him in winning such a lovely bride, and wish for the young couple a long and happy life filled with its choicest blessings. A Friend.
