

DAY POWER WILL START IN CITY JANUARY FIRST

Test Run Will Be Made For the Normal, and if Satisfactory Contract Will Be Closed.

Canyon will have day electric light power beginning about January 1st. For a number of months the question of power to run the machinery at the Normal has been under discussion between President R. B. Cousins and the Canyon Power Company.

Under the terms of the agreement, a test run of sixty days will be made. One of the big motors in the ventilating system of the Normal will be moved to the pumping station of the school, and the power company will furnish the power to pump the water and to run the motor for the ventilating of the building.

At the termination of the sixty day test run either party is at liberty to terminate the contract. If the test is satisfactory to both parties, a contract will be entered into continuing to September 1st, after which time permanent arrangements are expected to be made possible.

Auto Wreck Saturday.

While going to Amarillo Saturday afternoon, the George W. Masters Dodge car was badly smashed when a Ford ran into it, in spite of the fact that Mr. Masters was doing all he could to get out of the way, and the road was wide at that particular place.

In the car with Mr. Masters were Levi Angel, Misses Irene Angel and Doris Winkelman, all of whom escaped without injury, but Mrs. J. E. Winkelman was badly jarred, while Morton Angel received a bad hit on the side of his head, while on his left hand the skin on one finger was split open, almost the full length of the finger.

In spite of the wrecked condition of the car Mr. Masters was able to get back to town with it. The Ford was badly demolished, and the occupants thrown out.

Annual Election Saturday.

There is some politics going on in the Normal this week. Saturday will be the annual election of officers for the student annual publication, Le Mirage. Seeing what the suffragettes accomplished in the national election, prominent in this election on Saturday will be the Suffragette ticket, which was put out by a majority of the young ladies of the schools. There will also be a democratic and independent ticket in the field.

Politics are warm, and the election will be very interesting. Prof. R. L. Marquis has been appointed by the faculty to oversee the election, which will be by ballot.

WAYLAND TAKES BING END OF SCORE IN LAST GAME

Normal Closes Season in Defeat at Plainview Against the Wayland Baptist College

The last game of the season, so far as the Normal team is concerned was won Saturday by Wayland by a score of 20 to 0. The game was played at Wayland. The Normal was eliminated weeks ago from the Panhandle championship race, but the boys kept hard at work in the hope of coming back strong against the teams who were figuring in the championship led. Clarendon College has the championship cinched and undisputed.

The Normal was outclassed by the Wayland team in the game Saturday, the Plainview boys keeping the ball in the Normal territory at all times, their goal never being in serious danger.

The Normal team was made up largely of new men this team, and the school does not go into the business of making football players or football teams. Coach Shirley has accomplished all that could have been expected, as all of the opponents this team have had exceptionally strong teams.

NEWS EARLY NEXT WEEK

Owing to Thanksgiving, the News will be published on Wednesday of next week. Correspondents, advertisers and others interested in getting news to the paper please keep this in mind and get everything to the office one day earlier than usual.

Large Crowds See Picture.

Probably over two hundred people from Canyon visited Amarillo last week to see the picture, "The Birth of a Nation." This is by far the greatest picture that has visited this section of the Panhandle, and the people turned out in capacity houses for each show during the three days stay in Amarillo.

The picture is marvellous and thrilling. The acting is fine and the setting is perfect. Laying aside the question of art and the story of the play, the picture is well worth seeing from the scientific standpoint, relating the wonderful possibilities of the motion picture.

Owing to the length of the production, the picture would have become tiresome had it not been for the great music of the orchestra and the accompanying noises, which kept the audience at attention.

At Methodist Church Sunday.

We extend you a very cordial invitation to worship with us at both of our services Sunday. Come and bring all the family, babies and all. We assure you a hearty welcome. The subject for Sunday morning will be, "The man who changed his mind."

At the evening service the sermon will be on "The Rich Fool." Put your shoulder to the wheel and help to move all our church interests. Things are opening up for a good year and the church needs us all now. Don't forget to pray for the power and leadership of God's Spirit.

R. A. STEWART, Pastor.

M. M. M. Club

The Merry Maids and Matrons entertained their husbands and a few friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Redfearn Thursday night. The house was tastefully decorated with large white chrysanthemums, and tally cards of autumn leaves were used. After a very pleasant evening spent at forty-two refreshments were served of pressed chicken, brown bread, fruit salad, bread and butter sandwiches, fruit cake and coffee. Guests of the club besides members and their husbands were Mrs. Lowrance and Miss Rambo.

Harbison Truck Earned.

The auto truck belonging to J. A. Harbison caught on fire Friday morning as a load of goods were being brought from Amarillo. Since the freight rates have been raised to so great an amount, much of the goods from Amarillo to Canyon are brought overland, and Mr. Harbison had his truck thus engaged. The fire greatly damaged the truck, but it is hoped that it will soon be fixed up.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our gratitude for the material and affectionate consideration given us by our friends in the sickness and death of our husbands and father.

Parent-Teachers Association.

Miss Lamb announces the Parent-Teachers Association Friday, November 24 at 3:30 p. m. in the Normal auditorium. The members of the Training School faculty will have charge of the program. Miss Kline will sing. A large attendance of the patrons of the Training School and all interested in Child Welfare are urged to be present.

Business Men's Meeting.

A meeting of the Canyon Business Men's Association will be held at the News office tonight at seven thirty o'clock.

Miss Frankie Geber was a business caller in Amarillo yesterday.

THANKSGIVING SERVICES THURSDAY BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. R. A. Stewart of the Methodist Church Will Preach—All Churches Unite.

The Thanksgiving service in Canyon on next Thursday will be a union service of the churches at the Baptist church. The following announcement comes from the pastors of the city:

The annual union Thanksgiving Day service will be held at the Baptist church at 10:00 o'clock Thursday morning, November 30, Thanksgiving Day.

Following the local custom the pastor most recently coming to the community will preach the sermon, Rev. R. A. Stewart, the new pastor of the Methodist Church, thus becoming the speaker of the occasion.

Representatives of the various churches will serve as a committee on music, and an attractive service of song is promised. This committee is composed of I. A. Shirley, representing the Christian Church, Cleveland Baker of the Baptist church, S. L. Inglish of the Presbyterian church, and C. W. Warwick of the Methodist church.

GOOD SNOW FALLS-TUESDAY; WEATHER REMAINS WARM

A three inch snow-fell in Canyon Tuesday, the second snow of the season. The weather remained quite warm, and by today most of the snow has disappeared.

The snow will make a little moisture for the growing wheat, which is indeed cheering for the farmers. The weather is doing fine, but all of moisture received this winter will do much to insure a good crop next spring.

Market for Jack Rabbits.

Welton Winn, of the state agricultural department, writes the News that he has received notice from the headquarters at Austin that arrangements are about completed by which the people can secure a good price for jack rabbits where they can be supplied in car lots. Mr. Winn says that when the arrangements are completed, it will be a fine thing for West Texas. He believes that by cooperation of all the people of Randall county, we can furnish a few cars and it will be a good thing to rid the country of the rabbits. He trusts to hear something definite from the department before long.

MRS. H. E. MULDROW DIED IN ARIZONA LAST FRIDAY

Former Resident of Canyon and Sister of J. H. Archambeau of This City.

Word was received Monday in the city of the death of Mrs. H. E. Muldrow at the family home in Arizona. Mrs. Muldrow had been in failing health for some time, but nothing was thought serious until Friday when J. H. Archambeau received a message that his sister could not live for more than a few hours. She died that night.

The Muldrow family left Canyon a few years ago for Arizona on account of Mrs. Muldrow's health. For a number of years before leaving here she had not been strong. The change of climate improved her, but after the death of her daughter in Arizona, she did not improve.

The funeral services were held on Monday.

Mrs. Muldrow was well known in Canyon as a host of friends who are grieved to know of her death. They extend to the family their heart felt sympathy in their hour of great sadness.

Mrs. Muldrow's father, Mr. Archambeau was with her from his home in Missouri. Her husband, H. E. Muldrow, son, Edwin and daughter Miss Ruby survive her and were at the funeral in Arizona, while her brother, J. H. Archambeau is a resident of Canyon.

COMMISSIONERS IN SESSION BONDS OF OFFICERS APPROVED

The county commissioners closed the business of their session Friday by swearing in the new county officers. All those who were elected in the July primary now have taken over the duties of their office.

The commissioners appointed Henry F. Miller and Ed Wesley school trustees for district number ten instead of C. W. Bryan and Elmer Wesley, who had removed from the district.

The reports for the various county officers were approved.

Gibson Buys Building.

J. M. Gibson has bought the building at the southeast corner of the square in which he has been located for a number of years. He has a five year lease on the lot, on which the building stands.

There will be an election of officers for the College Annual for 1916-17 Saturday afternoon beginning at 3:15. The election will be held as a regular primary, the candidates' names being printed opposite the different offices. Every student in the Normal School is a qualified voter, excepting the Training School. The following are the offices to be filled:

- Editor in Chief, Associate Editor, Literary Editor, Business Manager, Joke Editor, Social Editor.

On last Friday afternoon the students were called together for the purpose of organizing a Students' Association. Mr. Ted Reid was elected Temporary President, and Miss Polly Smith, Temporary Secretary. Campaign speeches were made and nominees for the different offices for the Annual were made. Democrats, Independents and Suffragettes representatives were nominated for places on the staff of the Annual, Miss Ada Terrill was elected permanent President and Miss Louise Gilbert, Secretary, of the Student's Association.

Guenther Program.

The Guenther program touching local school affairs will be as follows on Saturday: Song—"Alma Mater." "School Pep"—Lester Vick. Speech on Local Political Affairs—Earl Black. "Discourse on the Corridor Course"—Chas. Lofton. Vaudeictory—Retiring President—Ben A. Terrill. Inaugural Address—Ted Reid, President.

Debate, Resolved, That the Normal Schools of Texas should offer the A. B. degree in their courses of study Affirmative—Ernest Atkins; Negative, Beverly Sportsman, Wilbur Hall.

Cousins Program.

The following is the program for the Cousins Literary society on Saturday: Emperor in his third year at Armaiden (Current Opinion)—Leslie Owen. Debate, Resolved, That students who participate in the intercollegiate athletics receive a better training for the life after college than those who do not. Affirmative, C. R. Weaver, L. E. Jones; Negative, James Younger, Vernon Parker. Quartette, arranged by C. R. Teague.

What is a college for?—Preston Greenshaw.

Jokes—Spencer Whippo. Speech—Elbridge Gatewood.

Seniors Entertain Sophomores.

Monday evening the Seniors were entertained by the Sophomores at a tacky party for an hour—it seemed but in reality three—of fun and frolic. After the assembly in the auditorium where everyone by meeting each other became properly adjusted to enter into the spirit of the ideal Sophomore tacky party. Tacky folks were there from the society sport to Musty Suffer, who of late is becoming very popular in the minds of the students. The range of races included the whites, the reds, the yellows, and the "blacks," who on this occasion equalled if not excelled the whites in the program which was carried out.

The musical numbers of the program are especially deserving of note. The orchestra played two splendid numbers and "Sambo" sang a vocal solo which typified the negro traits. After a number of informal games in the gymnasium, lemonade, candy and chewing gum were served. The party leaves its impress upon the minds of Sophomore and Seniors alike and does much toward strengthening the friendship between the two. The subject to be debated by the

I. N. HICKS PASSED AWAY SATURDAY—ILL LONG TIME

Was All Time Resident of Canyon and This Section of State—Funeral Held on Sunday.

I. N. Hicks died at the family home Saturday evening after an illness of months duration. The family were well aware of the fact that his days were numbered every since it became impossible for him to leave the home several weeks ago.

Mr. Hicks was a long time resident of this country and is well known by both the old timers and the newcomers. He has been affiliated with a number of businesses in Canyon, but during the past few years he has been retired from active business, but dealt in real estate to some extent. He was always a booster for Canyon and was faithful in the performance of any act that would be for the benefit of his town.

Mr. Hicks was born in Jackson Tennessee August 9, 1846, being at the age of seventy years when he passed away. He was married to Miss Carrie Payne Brown on January 8, 1878. Six children were born to the union, five sons and one daughter. Two of the sons have died, Harry, the eldest, in infancy, and Homer, after the family moved to Canyon. Mrs. Hicks, the wife and mother, together with Nash, J. P., Louis and Miss Neva, remain to mourn the death of the husband and father.

The family came to Texas thirty-three years ago, living at Sherman for two years, in Wilbarger county for five years and coming to Randall county twenty six years ago. He united with the Cumberland Presbyterian church in this city in 1895 and has remained a faithful member until his death.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. David H. Templeton of the Presbyterian church. The order accompanied the funeral.

N. C. Hicks was a member of the Normal on Saturday and arrived a short time before his father's death. Miss Neva did not arrive home from Lipscomb until after her father had passed away.

The people of Canyon extend sympathy to the sorrowing family in their hour of bereavement.

Inter-Normal students will be: Resolved; "That the U. S. government should enforce the arbitration in unsettled disputes between organized capital and organized labor."

There will be a joint Thanksgiving program of the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. Thursday night, Nov 30 in the Normal auditorium

CANYON MEN IN AMARILLO URGING THE FARM BANK

There was a great response to the call from Amarillo for the farmers and business men to come to Amarillo on Tuesday afternoon to attend the hearing before the commission who is making a tour of the country for the purpose of establishing twelve farm loan banks. The commissioners explained the purpose and working of the bank, and asked many questions regarding this country and the conditions. The meeting was opened for the purpose of questions from the farmers, and the variety was indeed great that was asked.

It was stated by the commissioners that they wished the farmers to know that it would make no difference to them where the banks were located—that the benefits would be the same to one and to all. Amarillo put up a great plea for the bank, and it was urged by men from other Panhandle towns.

A large number of Canyon men attended the meeting and reported that they were well paid for their time spent with the commissioners.

SIMPLICITY

Power were mine to wield control
Of Time within my heart and soul.

Saving from ruin and decay
What I hold dearest, I should pray;
That I may never cease to be
Wooded daily by Expectancy;
That evening shadows in mine eyes
Dim not the light of new surprise;
That I may feel, till life be spent,
Each day the sweet bewilderment
Of fresh delight in simple things—
In snowy winters, golden springs,
And quicker heartbeats at the thought
Of all the good that man has wrought.
But may I never face a dawn
With all the awe and wonder gone,
Or in late twilight fail to see
Charm in the stars' old sorcery.

DRIVEWAY RIOT OF COLOR

Seaside Road of Rio de Janeiro is One of the Most Famous in the World.

Stirring the Bay of Guanabara is a seaside drive which seems to condense in its four miles the very essence of beauty. It is the Avenida Beira Mar, the famous Avenida of Rio de Janeiro. The massive emerald mountains which skirt the bay makes a fitting setting for the semicircular sweep of the drive, with its stately homes, its luxuriant gardens and the blue and white breakers that beat its flanks.

The eye meets a riot of color wherever it turns. Overflowing the gardens, covering the walls and falling in veritable cataracts from the houses, tropical flowers lavish themselves in a lovely abandon. Begonias and pinks, jasmine and dahlias, azaleas, camelias and chrysanthemums are everywhere. Beautiful oysters, thousands of roses and delicate orchids abound. And all seem to be singing together in a chorus of brilliance and fragrance.

With such an inspiration it is no wonder that human flowers also flourish along the drive, and one catches tantalizing glimpses of dark eyes and laughing red lips in flower-framed windows.

For all its perfection, work on the Avenida Beira Mar was begun not more than ten or twelve years ago, and completed in a few years—a feat which is little short of marvelous when one considers the infinite time and money and red tape usually necessary in the completion of any great public work.

Statistics are hard, colorless things applied to the Avenida Beira Mar. One thinks of it rather as an idea of beauty which materialized somehow in a form far surpassing the expectations of its creators. They builded better than they knew and the memory of what they built will linger long in the hearts of those who have seen and idled along the most beautiful of driveways.

WROTE MANY POPULAR BOOKS

J. Fenimore Cooper Was One of the Most Popular of the Early American Authors.

Have you ever read any of J. Fenimore Cooper's stories? If you have not, then a rare treat awaits you, for he is one of the most interesting of American writers.

Cooper was not only born in September, but he died in September; within one day of his birthday. He was born on September 15, 1789, and he died September 14, 1851.

Cooper was one of the most popular of all our authors, and his stories have been translated into nearly all the languages of Europe, and into some of those of Asia. He was termed "the American Scott," and he was much admired by the great French novelists—Victor Hugo and Balzac.

J. Fenimore Cooper had a varied existence from the time he was a boy. He entered Yale college at the age of thirteen. Three years afterwards he joined the United States navy, but marrying at the tender age of twenty-two, he settled down at Westchester where he began to write. At first he gave his books to the world without his name attached, but soon he signed his stories. In 1829 he went to Europe and wrote there until 1833, when he returned to America. His best book is, according to popular taste, "The Last of the Mohicans." He wrote in all over 30 long books.

Two Casts of Mind.

There are two casts of mind and two classes of writers which stand out in more or less marked contrast to each other at all times. We name them "ceux qui agitent le monde, et ceux qui le civilisent," classical and romantic, the men of clearness and calm and the men of magic and enthusiasm, the walkers in the broad streets of life where the fine palaces and fair prospects are, and the walkers in the by-streets where squalor and eccentricity hug their independence.

The one sort finds everything interesting, even the ugly, and sometimes especially the ugly; the other averts its eyes, as far as it may, from disease and disorder, and ugliness and irrationality.

That is what Goethe meant when, with some injustice to himself as well as to other people, he declared that the classical was the healthy and the romantic the diseased.

Coin-Worked Electric Fans.

There is now on the market an electric fan which can be operated only by placing a coin in its slot, whereupon it operates for a certain length of time, according to the amount of current which the owner desires to supply for the money paid, says the Scientific American Magazine. When a coin is dropped into the slot a clock mechanism is wound up in the base of the fan. For a nickel, for instance, the fan may operate one hour, either constantly or intermittently, according to the wishes of the user. Several coins can be dropped in at one time, insuring several hours' use of the fan.

Not Forgotten.

"Did you meet anyone you knew on your visit to your old home town?"
"Oh, yes. Almost the first man I ran across was old Farmer Brown, whose orchard I used to rob twenty-five years ago."
"Did he remember you?"
"I should say he did. He handed me a bill for the apples I had stolen."

Smith Writes of Normal.

The following was written by Ben F. Smith state fire inspector, and the publisher of the Lockney Beacon.

"The publisher spent last Saturday and Sunday at Canyon on official business for the State Insurance Commission. In the afternoon of Saturday we visited the Canyon Normal and was the guest of President R. B. Cousins and other members of the faculty. It is always a pleasure to visit this magnificent school. We had been over the building on other occasions, but it always proves an inspiration to one to know something of what is going on in this temple of knowledge. Prof. Cousins informed us that the enrollment was over five hundred, and the work this session most successful in the history of the school. Every teacher and every pupil is just as proud of the school as if it was his individual property. The faculty is an able one, and the student body is made up of fine boys and girls. We visited Prof. Terrill in the Manual Training Department and spent an hour most pleasantly. Prof. Terrill has his hands full and is doing some fine work. He teaches a system peculiar his own. Instead of starting a boy or girl out sawing notches and boring holes he puts them to making some useful article. He is seen here and there instructing his pupils on this and that piece of work; teaching them how to use their tools, etc. Many very pretty and useful pieces of furniture is turned out in this department, all the work of our boys and girls. If you ever happen to be in Canyon for a day just make it convenient to visit the College and you will come away impressed with the fact that you, as tax payers have invested well and into one of the finest schools in Texas. The writer considers Prof. Cousins the best school man in Texas, and has associated with him an able faculty."

LITTLE JIMMY MUCH KISSED

Disclaimed Any Intention of Rubbing Off Caress of Noted Woman—Was Trying to Rub It In.

Little Jimmy had reached the conclusion that everybody in the world had kissed him or wanted to very badly. He could not help being a boy that all the ladies wanted to pet and bestow their kisses upon. In fact, Jimmy longed for the day when he would have a say, so in the matter of being kissed. One day a famous woman came to call upon his mother. Jimmy chanced to enter the parlor and was directed by his mother to come up and see the noted Mrs. So and So. Jimmy knew what was coming, but he could not prevent the occurrence. The visitor took him by the hand and gently gathered him up into her lap, and as she let him down to the floor again she graciously bestowed a kiss upon his pouting lips. Jimmy jumped away from her and began to rub his lips in a vicious manner.

"What, you are not rubbing my kiss off, my little man?" questioned the woman. Jimmy was puzzled for a few moments, then replied:

"No, ma'am; I'm just rubbing it in," and then vanished through the door.—Louisville Times.

 "What of it?"
 "It is mere flattery."
 "Well, maybe it is," said the girl, "but it sounds good. I'd rather listen to that sort of talk than literary conversation or opinions about the length of the war."

Everybody Welcome

Even though you do not want to buy a new range right now, it will be worth your while to attend this demonstration and know all about the Majestic Range. You are placed under no obligation to buy.

During this week we will have a special demonstrator from the Majestic Factory to explain how the Majestic is made and why it is absolutely the best range; why it lasts longer and cuts down repair expenses; why it bakes bread evenly, top, sides and bottom without turning; why it uses little fuel and saves waste. He will explain its labor saving construction and why it heats an abundance of water good and hot—a mighty convenient and useful thing to have a big supply of hot water on hand isn't it. To buy a range by mail is almost certain to end in disappointment and loss of money. It may be "exactly as represented" yet not what you thought it was nor what you wanted.

Here you can see every part of Majestic—you can know what you are getting before you buy. Decide now that you will discontinue using that old, worn-out range. You will save money in fuel, repairs, and cooking. Buy a Majestic—the range with 25 year's reputation. The demonstrator will answer any question relating to stoves.

Thanksgiving Proclamation.

Washington, November 17.—President Wilson today formally by proclamation, designated Thursday, Nov. 30, as Thanksgiving Day.

The President's proclamation follows:

"It has long been the custom of our people to turn in the fruitful autumn of the year in praise and thanks to

Almighty God for His many blessings and mercies to us and to the nation.

"The year that has elapsed since we last observed Thanksgiving has been rich in blessings to us as a nation; but the whole face of the earth has been darkened by war. In the midst of our peace and happiness our thoughts dwell with painful disquiet upon the struggles and sufferings of the nations at war and the people upon whom war has brought disaster without choice or possibility to escape on our part. We cannot think of our own happiness without thinking of their pitiful distress."

"Now therefore, I Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America, do appoint Thursday the 30th day of November, as a day of national Thanksgiving and prayer and urge and advise the people to resort to their several places of worship on that day to render thanks to Almighty God for the blessings of peace and unbroken prosperity which He has bestowed upon our beloved country in such unstinted measure.

"And I also urge and suggest our duty in this our day of peace and abundance to think in deep sympathy of the stricken people of the world upon whom the curse and terror of war has so pitilessly fallen, and to contribute our abundant means to the relief of their sufferings.

"Our people could in no better way show their real attitude toward the present struggle of the nations than by contributing out of their abundance to the relief of the suffering which war has brought in its train."

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be fixed.

"Done at the city of Washington, the 17th day of November, in the year of our Lord 1916, and of the independence of the United States the 41st.

"WOODROW WILSON.

"By the President,
 ROBERT LANSING, secretary of State."

A Period of Inflation.

Wheat $1.75 to $2 a bushel.
 Flour, $10 to $12 a barrel.
 Corn, $1.25 a bushel.
 Cotton 20 cents a pound.
 Potatoes $1.50 to $2 per bu.
 Print paper, double or treble the former price.

Wages up correspondingly, labor scarce, munition profit excessive, other manufacturers, like many farmers, caught short their earnings reduced and prospects dubious. Never were things so abnormal. Why?

1. Crop shortage throughout the world. Even the grain soon to be harvested in South America badly cut by drought.

2. The war, which may last for one two, five years yet. This most awful conflict in human history may yet embroil the United States, for it can never permit the German policy of seducing Russia and Japan into an alliance with Austria and Germany against the rest of the world.

3. The nations at war are on an inflated paper money basis and to pay for munitions their gold pours into the United States in an unprecedented flood.

4. Result: abnormally high prices that may prevail for fully another year for all produce. It is the farmers' golden hour.

5. Food is short and values so high that it behooves producers to utilize every scrap. Waste not, want not, even little potatoes, windfall apples, wormy fruit, waste hay—everything which usually is a must be saved. The market pay for such stuff as much quality sells for usually.—F. Home.

Whenever You Need a General Tonic Take Grove's

"The Old Standard Grove's Tasteless chill Tonic is equally valuable as a General Tonic because it contains the well known tonic properties of QUININE and IRON. It acts on the Liver, Drives out Malaria, Enriches the Blood and Builds up the Whole System. 50 cents."

McAdoo Boomed For President By Sells.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Cato Sells, United States commissioner of Indian affairs, arrived here Saturday proudly carrying the young but promising presidential boom of William G. McAdoo, son-in-law of President Wilson and secretary of the treasury.

"McAdoo sentiment is so apparent and universal," Sells said, "that if the next Democratic candidate for President were chosen now it is my opinion that he would certainly be the present secretary of the treasury. Throughout the West, Secretary McAdoo is given credit for much of the progressive legislation enacted during the last four years. He is regarded as a constructive statesman of exceptional ability, courage and human sympathy. The west wants him for President.

The Randall County News
Incorporated under the laws of Texas
C. W. Warwick, Managing Editor
Entered at postoffice at Canyon, Texas, as second class matter. Office of publication, West Houston St.
SUBSCRIPTION, $1.50 PER YEAR

A traveling man told the News on Friday that the worst piece of road he had found on the Plains was between Canyon and Amarillo.

The roughest and most uninviting road from Slaton to Amarillo is that same road north of Canyon, and we have wondered how long Randall County will allow that obstruction to stand against public travel along that highway.

Every available acre in the Panhandle should be put to feed crop next year. The world will cry for food stuffs of all kinds during the coming year.

Maas Rankin says that she is only the first woman of the great number who will sit in the congressional halls. And we have faith enough in the statement of a woman to believe every word she said.

To the County Commissioners of Randall County: The home people as well as the strangers say that Randall county has the worse roads of any county on the Plains.

If a railroad company or a big corporation expects to spend fifty dollars or even ten dollars on improvements, they get expert advice on the contemplated improvements.

Thanksgiving comes on next Thursday. The Panhandle has a right to be thankful for its prosperous condition, while the country at large can be thankful this another Thanksgiving that we have escaped from the world war which is engaging Europe.

The lower house of congress is republican by a small majority but there are enough progressive independents so that the democrats will have little trouble in passing progressive legislation.

Paul Waples was killed in Ft. Worth Friday, his car being hit by an interurban. Mr. Waples was one of the big men of Texas and his death is a great loss to the state.

Perhaps Mr. Hughes has decided to wait in his congratulations of election to Pres. Wilson as he did in telling the republicans his willingness to become a hundred percent candidate.

The eight hour law threatens to become as great a problem as the threatened strike. Bet that Hughes is really glad he does not have to deal with it.

William J. Bryan is going to devote his time during the coming four years to national prohibition—and he will just about accomplish the end in that time.

We suggest that the suffrage party of the Normal invite the cooperation of Congressman (Miss) Rankin in Saturday's election.

Some of those political leaders of New York ought to take Greeley's advice and see how we grow politicians in the west.

The people are interested in good roads. The commissioners must take some steps put Randall county's roads in perfect condition.

It is said that eggs are worth 8 cents each in Germany, but that hasn't induced our hens to do any good for the country.

Mr. Hughes may be a 100 per cent candidate but he only a 1 per cent politician, or he would have shaken hands with Hi Johnson.

Suppose those winners of election bets will keep out the democratic national committee with that deficit?

Villa and Hughes seem to be the only notables who have not congratulated Wilson.

Let 'er know.

A burglar arraigned for sentence in New York courts recently asked that he be not sentenced on the 13th of the month as it was unlucky. The judge complied.

Judge Wadhams, of New York, recently suspended sentence on a woman accused of burglary, because her tubercular husband was barred by law from work as a garment cutter while there was no law to limit families and the woman was forced to steal to feed six children her husband and herself.

A young woman was arrested in New York recently for stealing jewelry worth $1,000. She was engaged to be married within a month and stole to get a wedding trousseau.

FAMILY AVOIDS SERIOUS SICKNESS

By Being Constantly Supplied With Thedford's Black-Draught.

McDuff, Va.—"I suffered for several years," says Mrs. J. B. Whitaker, of his place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble.

Ten years ago a friend told me to try Thedford's Black-Draught, which I did, and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old.

I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine they ever tried.

We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught.

Thedford's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea, headache, sick stomach, and similar symptoms.

It has been in constant use for more than 70 years, and has benefited more than a million people.

Aerial Mail Routes of Value
Possession of Machines and Experienced Aviators Would Be Bulwark of Safety to Country in the Event of War.
By HENRY WOODHOUSE
Governor of the Aero Club of America

In its defenses the United States is like a man, who is "land poor." It has abundant resources, men, machinery, wealth, but these do not constitute military and naval strength until they have been refashioned. Above all, men must be trained and disciplined, for even in the ranks of the private soldier and the common sailor national defense today requires an amazing amount of technical knowledge that cannot be acquired offhand.

In all of the startling revelations of the great war overseas no fact looms up more clearly than the value of aircraft for both defensive and offensive purposes. They are the eyes of the army and the navy. Without aeroplanes it is now impossible to conduct a successful campaign or to defend a city.

An army without aerial scouts and aerial auxiliary can be corralled and slaughtered like a herd of sheep; a harbor or naval station without aerial defense is at the mercy of every puny submarine and cruiser. England had 400 aeroplanes when she broke out; Germany had 1,000. The former is building 1,000 a week; the latter 400 a week.

If the United States had aeroplanes employed in carrying mail, it would, in the possession of these machines and experienced aviators, have a great bulwark of safety—experienced and trained aviators, who knew the country, already in the service of the nation. Some such provision is absolutely necessary to the safety of the nation since congress will not provide sufficient aeronautical equipment for either the army or the navy.

U. S. Should Have at Least 5,000 Powerful Aeroplanes.

In its first call for proposals for carrying mail by aeroplane, the government selected eight routes, one between New Bedford and Nantucket, Mass., and seven routes in Alaska. Each of these routes presents great difficulties, especially in winter.

On the route from Seward to Iditarod, Alaska, 380 miles, for which the first bid has been received by the post office department, the aeroplane will save the government $34,558 a year, and it will advance the mails between the United States and the Nome district from twenty to twenty-one days.

Not is the saving in time limited to a few towns. By making these aeroplane routes the trunk lines for mails for points north of Iditarod, a saving of time will be made throughout a tremendous area, and persons who had to wait days for mail drawn by dogsleds will, with aeroplane service, be able to get it within a few hours.

In winter this aeroplane trunk line will relieve the expensive, difficult and roundabout service from Cordova to Fairbanks, to Tanana, to Unalakleet, to Solomon and Nome, of a considerable burden of the mail now carried. The winter mail for the Nome district is carried from Chitina via Fairbanks to Tanana by horse-drawn wagon or sled, and from Tanana to Nome by dogsled, a total distance of about 1,500 miles.

Will Be Important Factor in Development of Alaska.

The flying machine promises to be one of the most potential factors in the future development of Alaska—and of all places where the run of commerce is slow on account of lack of fast transportation. It needs neither roads nor rails nor bridges, only landing places at convenient intervals.

Appreciating the fact that with 5,000 trained aviators, duly equipped with aeroplanes—even mail-carrying aeroplanes—this country would be in the position of the porcupine, which goes about its daily pursuits peacefully, harms no one, but is every ready to defend itself. We would like to see as many as possible out of this number in use for peaceful purposes.

The rapid adoption of the aeroplane for mail routes there is just one obstacle, and that is the tremendous demands being made on the your structures for equipment for the nations at war. The people of the United States need aeroplanes in the postal service, both for the saving of time and money, and for the insurance which they give against war.

Canyon Testimony Remains Unshak'n.

Time is the best test of truth. Here is a Canyon story that has stood the test of time. It is a story with a point which will come straight home to many of us.

R. E. Hileman, prop. bicycle repair shop, Canyon, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills gave me positive relief from lameness across the small of my back and weak kidneys. I am quite free from all these troubles since I used them." (Statement given January, 1911.)

On November 13, 1915, Mr. Hileman said: "I still have the same faith in Doan's Kidney Pills today as when I gave my former recommendation. They have never failed to relieve me when I have used them."

Restless Rich Women Could Find Contentment in Helping Others

By LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

There's never a heart, however downcast, However dreary and lone, But hath some memory of the past To love and call its own.

Not to know contentment is one of the saddest plights a woman can be placed in. To have so much money that her every wish may be gratified is a doubtful blessing to many a woman. Many a wife of wealth does not know what a happy home life means.

The majority of rich women spend their time as they like and make no complaint if their husbands do likewise. If he is satisfied to spend three or four evenings a week at his different clubs, entertaining his coterie of congenial friends on his yacht or motoring trips for weeks at a time, she makes no demur. They are both in the mad pursuit of pleasure, if it takes them by different routes.

Whose fault is it? Even children do not bind them to the four walls of home. The boys are sent at an early age to preparatory schools and then to college, and girls likewise. Even their vacations they elect to spend with their girl or boy chums, explaining: "Why should we go home—father or mother is never there. One is in the mountains for the summer the other, who cannot endure mountain scenery, is at the seashore."

Few of the restless rich women set any tasks for themselves. Once in a while one hears of an Anne Morgan who is an exception to the rule, who sees to it that many a struggling working girl, too poor to afford a vacation, gets a few weeks' outing at her expense before planning where she will go herself. It was she who started the cult among the rich of making the lives of the working class happier, more worth the living. Some few followed in Anne Morgan's footsteps. The majority, soon wearied of making personal efforts to bring joy into lonely lives, contenting themselves by sending a check when it was impossible to evade it, to be used or not used for the purpose designated. It did not matter much to them. It was therefore left with the few to carry on the good work.

There would be less restlessness among rich women and more contented hearts if each one would set an allotted task for herself of bringing joy (at least one poor, deserving household, finding employment for a brave lad who could not find employment because of lack of influence, or keeping a sick mother whose starving brood, clung to her skirts, to tide over the cruel weeks of illness) in her own home without having to break it up, her children placed in institutions to be gathered together again about her knee; perhaps never.

Restlessness would soon vanish if women would but make themselves as useful as ornaments in this great busy workaday world. To each one is given an allotted task. Those who shirk will be held accountable later on.

Greatest Telescope in World. Now Building, to Weigh Above 500 Tons

Several years ago the Canadian government decided that it wanted the largest telescope in the world, to be set up in the clear air of Vancouver for photographing thousands of stars that had never been photographed before—stars almost inconceivably distant. Light travels at the rate of about 186,000 miles a second; yet some of the starlight to be snared by the Vancouver instrument has been speeding through space for perhaps a million years since it left home, says a writer in the American Magazine.

Of course the job was given to Brashear. A gigantic parabolic mirror—the largest ever made in one piece—was cast in France. It weighed in the rough 4,965 pounds and was 73 inches in diameter. Nearly 400 pounds of glass had been taken from that lens when I saw it in Doctor Brashear's shop, where it is kept in an underground chamber, protected from all air currents. When it is completed and mounted, the telescope will weigh more than 500 tons.

An Individual Lifeboat.

"Carry your own lifeboat." Is the motto of an Italian inventor, G. Piperno, who has visited England with what is probably the most ambitious lifesaving appliance on record.

When not in use the apparatus is packed into what looks like a man's suitcase, measuring 24 inches by 16 inches by 8 inches, and weighing 20 pounds. When disaster is imminent the passenger brings the suitcase on deck, breaks the seal, and the apparatus opens out and becomes a small boat.

If it is necessary to abandon the ship, the passenger steps into his private boat, closes the outer cover, and launches his craft by hurling himself overboard. Then, according to Mr. Piperno, the apparatus rights itself in the water, the top cover is thrown open, and the occupant finds himself sitting in an absolutely unsinkable ship.

For Outdoor Wear.

Washable satin skirts are prettily finished by belts and folds of colored corduroy.

Some of the quiet, prim-looking little dress bodices are almost childlike in simplicity.

Among leather handbags favored colors are brown, blue, green, amethyst, gray and purple.

A well-cut, very simple suit of navy serge is given undeniable smartness by white braid bindings.

The military belt is fashionably made of suede, with strapings of black patent leather and a small buckle.

Some of the prettiest sports suits have coats of gray silk stockinet, trimmed with the same material as the skirt—striped Japanese crepe, heavy weight.

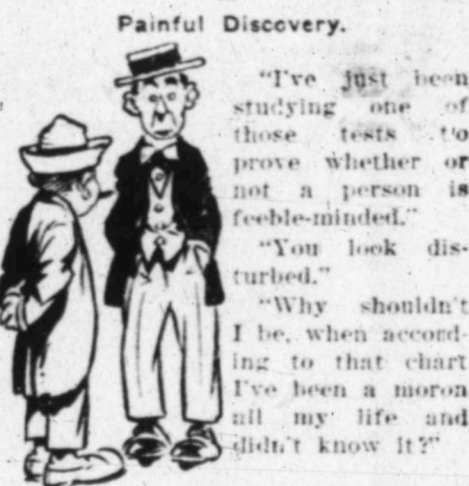

Get Rid of the Flies.

Flies are a menace to health as well as an extreme annoyance. They thrive and propagate themselves in filth. Therefore, clean up every place about the premises, especially manure piles, that might furnish a breeding spot.

A Few Smiles.

The Exception.
"Ability to make friends easily is a great help to a man who is running for office."
"That depends on the office he's after."
"Yes?"
"The presidential nomination seems to fight shy of a man who's a good mixer."

Painful Discovery.
"I've just been studying one of those tests to prove whether or not a person is feeble-minded."
"You look disturbed."
"Why shouldn't I be, when according to that chart I've been a moron all my life and didn't know it?"

Roughing It.
"Those young women are evidently taking their military training seriously."
"No doubt of that."
"Yes?"
"Why, there isn't a hair-dressing parlor in thirty miles of their camp."

His Opinion.
"Do you think the average girl will accept a man as soon as he proposes?"
"As soon as he proposes? Great Scott, man, she'll accept him as soon as he begins to propose."

Brilliant Success.
"Was the charity ball a success?"
"I should say so. The debutantes had about ten thousand dollars worth of fun and two hundred dollars was raised for the poor."

Appropriate.
"What is the name of your dog?"
"Macbeth."
"That's a curious name for a dog."
"He howls a great deal at night. I got the idea from that quotation 'Macbeth does murder sleep.'"

A Real Friend.
"Dodge volunteered to lend me some money."
"Did you take it?"
"No. That sort of friendship is too good to lose."

A Flight Every Day.
"Do you think Patrice will marry that young aviator?"
"Can't say. However, she seems much taken up with him."

Use for Old Magazines.
Magazines are often thrown away because of the rapidity with which they accumulate. Since most readers care to save only certain articles, a good plan is to tear the magazines apart, removing the desired articles and binding them in a separate volume. If this is carefully and systematically done, and an index prepared, the volume will be of value and interest.

GET MIXED ON LANGUAGE

Many Foreigners Find it Hard to Master the Intricacies of the English Tongue.

A notice has been seen in a shop window in Norway which reads: "English spoken here; American understood." In foreign countries where English tourists foregather some very quaint notices have been seen at various times.

In Milan cathedral there used to be a notice—it may be there now—which read: "Appeal to charitable. The Brothers, so-called, of Mercy ask slender arms for the hospital. They harbor all kinds of diseases, and have no respect to religion."

Japan has the most harmonious notices displayed. Nearly every shop in Japan exhibits a placard, printed in English, advertising goods, some of which are very comical.

"Horseshoe maker instruct by French horse leech," you read; or "if you want sell watch, I will buy; if you want buy watch, I will sell. Yes, sir, we will, all will. Come at my shop, Watchmaker."

A Japanese laundry company announced: "We most carefully and cleanly wash our customers with cheaper prices. Gentlemen, 75 a hundred, ladies 85 a hundred, while a certain dandy announced that they sold "Extracts of fowls."

ALL HONOR TO THE PEANUT

That Lowly Vegetable Has at Times Aided Armies to Fight Great Battles.

About the lowly "goober," or peanut of commerce considerable romance is woven. Incidentally, it might be stated, 516,654 acres were planted to peanuts in 1899 in the United States and 883,887 acres in 1909, an increase of 68.4 per cent in ten years.

It is a matter of American history that Marion's men sustained life and fought the British on a diet of baked potatoes plucked from the Carolina fields in the stirring years that followed 1776. It is likewise a matter of record that Yankee and Southern alike raided the "goober" fields of sunny Virginia, Georgia or Alabama, as the case might be, in the war between the states when chickens, pigs or greener "garden sass" was not available.

Ministering Angel.

To the sick man the divine reveals itself in many a way; it fills his sickroom. He does not ask that angels shall minister to him, for woman's hands smooth his pillow, bring him a marvelous beverage called milk, and a delicate, transparent, glittering mass of bubbles that dance in rainbow colors within the tumbler.

Name Stuck to Him.

The Post School for Soldiers gathered for the afternoon session. The teacher was the chaplain. The lesson, he said, was about the adverb. "What is an adverb?" There was an eloquent silence. At last a weary voice ventured: "That's a word what ends in ly. I learned that back in Missouri."

Bulbs Exude Poison Gas.

A vessel with a cargo of nothing but bulbs from Holland was recently unloaded at Hoboken. About two years ago two stevedores died as a result of unloading such a vessel. They were asphyxiated by the carbonic acid gas generated by the bulbs in the hold.

AN INFORMAL TEA

By LOUISE OLIVER.

Cornelia set out her favorite tea service of black-and-gold china upon the tray, lighted the samovar and got the tiny cakes Dasie had left for her, and while waiting for the water to boil opened a fresh box of caramels and tore the wrapper from her latest favorite magazine.

She filled her cup and took a sip, pulled her chair nearer to the table, prepared to enjoy her feast to the full. Bang! The door of the living-room opened like a gunshot, breaking a jardiniere, and explosively closed again.

Cornelia sprang up, and in spite of her astonishment managed to get out: "Come over here by the fire and take my chair. You're freezing."

"I guess I surprised you!" grinned the newcomer. "Rather!" answered Cornelia with a smile.

"You see, it was this way," he explained hastily, "I live in there," jerking his head toward the wall, thereby indicating the companion flat to the one Cornelia occupied. "My bath is across the hall, and when I was through the spring lock on my door had slipped and I couldn't get in."

"I'll lend you my topcoat and a hammer. I'll have to leave the rest of your rescue to the gods."

"No need when a goddess is so kind."

An opened and closed window, a sound of splintering glass, and the robe was gone.

A week later Cornelia was chaperoning a bevy of young girls to a pond to skate. For a while, they skated in pairs, but when the girls decided to crack the whip, Cornelia declined and went upon a little excursion of her own up a tiny stream that appeared to be frozen solid.

"Faith, it's the goddess!" said a familiar voice in her ringing ears. Cornelia's departed senses returned with a jump.

The tall Irishman was carrying wet little Cornelia to the seminary, and the little adventure was over for the day.

Put not for the next, and the next, and so on ad infinitum, for Dennis had to come over to the little flat every day to inquire for his neighbor and bring a rose of two. And then he got to stopping longer, and finally sitting for an hour or so. And then one evening he said: "Cornelia, darling, I've been thinking that something was meant when we saved one another from an early grave."

THROW OFF MUCH MOISTURE

Remarkable Amount of Water Exhaled From Skin of Full-Grown Man in Twenty-Four Hours.

The skin of a full-grown man exhales in 24 hours, in ordinary circumstances, from one and a half to two pounds of water in insensible perspiration. When, in hot weather, or in undergoing violent exertion, the perspiration becomes sensible, and instead of exhaling in a gentle moisture is thrown off in large drops of water, a much greater weight is disposed of in this way.

The action of this exhalation takes place through glands. It does not seem so strange that the human body can throw off nearly two pints of water daily, so gradually and so gently that it is not felt as moisture, when we remember how many glands there are and how very small each atom of moisture must be. On the back, the thighs and legs there are about 500 perspiratory glands to the square inch of skin; on the breast, the forehead, neck, forearm and back of the hand and foot, about 1,000 to the square inch, and on the sole of the foot and on the palm of the hand, 2,700.

It is estimated that the number of perspiratory glands over the whole body is not less than 2,300,000, and as each tubular coil in the glands when unraveled is about one-fiftieth of an inch in length the entire extent of tubing used to throw off perspiration is not less than 153,000 inches, or nearly two and one-half miles.
