Need Permanent Tabernacle.

The period for revival meetings is nearly here once more, and the old question of building a permanent tabernacle is again up for discussion.

There is no question of the needs of such a tabernacle. The money paid out every two or three years by the different churches for temporary tabernacles, if combined, would build a permanent building.

No Cyclones.

A prominent gentleman of Amarillo while in Chicago recently was invited by some friends to a luncheon at the Noon-day club. After the luncheon was over and cigars served, the quartette began reminiscences about conditions in various sections of the country. One of the Chicago parties, who is a very distinguished lawyer and quite universally acquainted with conditions throughout the United States, asked the Texan if the part of the country about Amarillo was subject to cyclones. The gentlemen from Amarillo, with the promptness and degree of confidence that is characteristic of Westerners, replied, "Cyclones, Hell, no! The straight winds blow them all to pieces." The News would state that this is no reflection on Amarillo. We enjoy the same protection in Canyon.

TRY IT! SUBSTITUTE FOR NASTY CALOMEL

Starts your liver without making you sick and can not salivate.

Every druggist in town—your druggist and everybody's druggist has noticed a great falling-off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous. So people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle costs 50 cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel.

Where is the Profit Line?

The following communication is being sent out by Porter A. Whaley, secretary of the Panhandle Dairy Association of which L. B. Newby is chairman.

It emphasizes the importance of determining whether or not the cows on the farm are making a profit for the owner or are they being kept at a loss. A cow may be "a cow" but there are cows and cows and too often the farmers do not take the trouble to discover which are profitable and which are not. Mr. Whaley says:

Just as with every other business, the dairy farm must be operated with a view to profits. Aside from the question of money-making, the amount of profit is the measure of success.

The first step for the dairyman is to locate the profit lines, says the Texas Industrial Congress, or the average production each cow must make to pay all running expenses. If the farm is used for dairying exclusively, the problem is simple; if general farming is followed with the dairy cows as a side line, they still should pay their own operating costs and a profit.

In the first case, count the value of the land, livestock and all equipments and improvements, and charge into your expense column a fair rental on this land, all taxes, insurance and a fair depreciation allowance for livestock, buildings, and equipment, repairs, feeding costs, labor hire at prevailing rate, and every expense. Divide the total expense for the year by the number of producing cows, and the quotient will give you what must be the value of the output for each dairy cow in order for you to break even; it is your profit line. This does not cover interest on the investment, or the profit, which you have a right to earn. In case of a general farm, charge your cows with their part of the farm expense and divide the total by the number of cows to find the profit line.

The dairyman should remember that the milk and butter production is not the only credit item. The cow should be credited, also, with the calf she produces and the value of the manure, if used for fertilizer. The value of the calf is determined by the price it can be sold for, and the 12 tons liquid and solid manure, or the proportion of this amount actually used on the land, may be valued at $3 per ton.

If the production value of your herd is below the expense total, your dairying scheme should be changed. By keeping individual records on each cow it will be found what, if any, cows are producing above the average that constitutes the profit line, and what are failing to do so. A properly balanced ration from home-grown feed will help to bring the production value up even with the expense total; increasing the cows to the full number the land will carry under an intenser cropping scheme is also helpful, full use being made of skim milk in the shape of hogs and poultry; the herd

KEPT HER AWAKE

The Terrible Pains in Back and Sides. Cardui Gave Relief.

Marksville, La.—Mrs. Alice Johnson, of this place, writes: "For one year I suffered with an awful misery in my back and sides. My left side was hurting me all the time. The misery was something awful.

I could not do anything, not even sleep at night. It kept me awake most of the night... I took different medicines, but nothing did me any good or relieved me until I took Cardui...

I was not able to do any of my work for one year and I got worse all the time, was confined to my bed off and on. I got so bad with my back that when I stooped down I was not able to straighten up again... I decided I would try Cardui... By time I had taken the entire bottle I was feeling pretty good and could straighten up and my pains were nearly all gone.

I shall always praise Cardui. I continued taking it until I was strong and well." If you suffer from pains due to female complaints, Cardui may be just what you need. Thousands of women who once suffered in this way now praise Cardui for their present good health. Give it a trial. NC-133 should be constantly improved by getting rid of poor producing cows and replacing them with profitable ones.

The dairy farmer who doesn't know his profit line is an unsafe risk for a loan at the bank, or for a financial backer in other business. "Where is the profit line?" is the first question he should ask himself, and having found it his whole management should be directed toward lowering the expense total on the one hand by well considered economies and good handling, and raising the production value on the other by right feeding, making full use of fertilizer, building up the herd, growing his own feed, and selling a quality product to a quality trade.

It Pays to Raise Sheep.

That the sheep business is a paying proposition in this section of the country has been thoroughly demonstrated during the past year by Dr. Standifer. Last fall he and Lilburn purchased five hundred and thirty ewe lambs on the plains, paying the total sum of three thousand seventy five dollars for the bunch. These lambs were placed on the Standifer ranch a few miles west of Spur where they were grazed through the winter. Last week $2,538.70 was placed in the bank as the net proceeds of the wool clipped from these ewe lambs. Aside from the amount received for the wool, there are sixty two living lambs from these ewes, the lambs being worth eight dollars each, and the yearling ewes now having advanced in price to $12.50 each. Out of the bunch of ewe lambs there were only six head lost during the winter. Figure this out any way you wish, and the result is that the lambs have more than paid for themselves, the owners realizing a profit of more than one hundred per cent.

At the same time the sheep were purchased Dr. Standifer also bought one hundred head of white face cows paying $60 a round, or $6000 for the herd. Three of this number died, and with the increase and the price of cattle today less than twenty five per cent profit will be realized. The cows had to be fed while the sheep fattened on the grass behind the cattle.—Texas

A SILO ON EVERY FARM.

Economy may whisper in your ear, "Save the money you intended to spend for a silo." Conservation and patriotism scream from every corn-stalk, "Build a Silo."

To estimate the tremendous waste that takes place in the cornfields of the United States every year is to shudder at the appalling extravagance of the American farmer. It compels us to appeal urgently every year, and doubly urgently now that food for human beings and animal life and production is so essential. We wish we could say something that would impel every reader of Kimball's Dairy Farmer to practice economy to the extent of providing sufficient silage storage space this year to conserve enough of his corn crop so that every animal possessed on the farm could be liberally fed on silage every day this coming winter and every day next summer that the pastures fail to provide abundantly.

Last year the farmers of the United States received $2,295,783,000 for the corn they raised. This represented 63 per cent of the total value of the 1916 corn crop. Based on the price of corn, the 37 per cent which remained in the field after the corn was shucked contained, in feeding value, nutriment worth $1,348,317,000.

These figures show that feeding value to the extent of $12.72 remains on every acre of ground devoted to corn raising after the corn is shucked.

Every farmer who raises corn should ask himself the question and demand a satisfactory answer, "Am I getting $12.72 worth of value from each acre of my corn other than that which the ears bring?" He should do this from a strictly business standpoint because, unless he is exacting from his acres all they produce, he is suffering loss. He should do this because today the world is crying for food and before spring the world will be suffering for food. It is the patriotic duty of every man who grows an acre of corn this year to make the stalks and leaves serve their best purpose in food production.

The best means of accomplishing this is to ensile the largest possible portion of the crop and feed it judiciously to good animals. To save the price of a corn harvester, a silage cutter, and a silo, thus incurring the waste of that portion of the corn crop best for increasing and cheapening production, may be economy but, if so, surely it is false economy.—Kimball's Dairy Farmer.

Milks Seven Cows and Ships Cream.

I. G. W. Buck and wife and little boy were in from their farm across the Tule Wednesday. They came over to transfer their children to this district and expect to move this fall for the benefit of our splendid school. Mr. Buck is one of our stock farmers who is taking advantage of the splendid opportunities for dairying here and is making good at it. He says that at present they are only milking 7 cows, but are selling about $10 worth of cream per week, besides furnishing their family in milk and butter; and the calves and hogs they are raising on the skim milk amounts to considerable.—Silverton Star.

Killed By Bull.

Early last Saturday morning John Castello of near Carter, went to the home of his son for a bull, which he led back home, supposedly about 8 o'clock in the morning, but as he did not appear his wife became uneasy and seeing the bull in the field went out about eleven o'clock to see what the trouble was, and she found her husband mangled and crushed with life extinct. It was thought when taking the ring out of the nose of the bull it became enraged and threw him to the ground, trampling him to death.—Elk City (Okla.) Democrat.

Is Well Satisfied.

Mr. and Mrs. Del Blackwell were in town last Saturday getting supplies for their harvesting crew. Mrs. Blackwell, who is a bride of only a few weeks and never saw the Plains before expresses herself as well pleased with this part of the country, but says she is even more favorably impressed with her "Remeo" than with the country, though she never saw him until they met at the depot at Tulla.—Silverton Star.

Looking for the Remedy.

In order that the good cattle of the Southwest may be conserved and sold in territories where needed for stocking up instead of being sent to market for slaughter on account of the bad condition of the range, S. S. Jerdan, representing the department of agriculture, has been in Amarillo from Washington, D. C., arranging preliminary plans for the big problem facing the entire Southwest. Mr. Jerdan made a trip to Fort Worth to further the government's plan there, and returned to Amarillo to push his proposition before the shippers of cattle.

The disagreement smoldering between Germany and Austria may be described as a rift in the loom.—London Opinion.

World Famous Kilties Band of Canada to Play at the Chautauqua

Here is the Band that spent two years and threemonths in a grand world-tour, in which they traveled entirely around the globe, and played before kings, queens, princes, princesses, lords and ladies of royal blood in twenty countries. King Edward VII commanded them to play twice in his royal presence at Balmoral and Sandringham Palaces, and as a mark of his favor presented them with the Victoria Medal and the diamond-studded baton. They filled important engagements in the famous Crystal palace, London, and in a score of the notable halls and temples of the world, playing to crowds numbering as high as 170,000 people in a single day.

The Kilties were the favorite Band at the World's Fair in St. Louis, and at the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco, where they played to return engagements.

Now the Kilties are coming to our Chautauqua on a tour of many hundred miles over the big Chautauqua circuit.

They will appear here in all their regalia and splendor on the afternoon and night of the fifth day. It is the famous Kilties Band of Belleville, Ontario, with Murdoch J. Macdonald as Conductor and Pipe Major, and Jimmy Muir, soloist—fifteen men in all.

One of the biggest crowds of the year is expected in town to hear The Kilties at the Chautauqua on the afternoon and night of the Fifth Day.

The way to insure hearing the Kilties and the other attractions is to buy season tickets early, and plan to attend every session.

The locating committee for the new A. & M. College met in Austin Saturday and signed a joint agreement that the locating of the school at Abeline was fairly done. No sooner had they left their secret den than the three who have been contending they never had voted for Abeline made the same statements, and are ready to back up their assertions. Now just what is all this fuss about? If those fellows believe that the school is justly located, why do they come out from the second secret conference and make the same declarations as before? If they believe that something was wrong with the first ballot, are they not men enough to straighten the thing out? It is the most disgusting thing that Texas has witnessed for some time.

The war against waste is on. But while preaching to the women to economize in the household, why not do a little preaching to the men and ask them to save a few cigar nickels and contribute it to the Red Cross or buy Liberty Bonds, which will be offered again in September.

The injunction restraining the university regents from removing certain university professors has been dissolved, and it is expected that the board of regents will do some removing at their meeting today in Austin. At least they must do this or be removed by the Governor, who is strictly on the job with the big stick. The crisis of next year's term of school will no doubt be settled before next week by the regents.

It has developed that the United States has been furnishing the German army with much food through the little neutral countries over which German is hanging a heavy sword. But this source of food is now shut off by Uncle Sam, and judging from past experiences some of these little nations may be devastated as was Belgium. Anything is fair in war—according to Bill.

Whiskey has been placed in the "bone-dry" class during the period of the war. The President won his case in congress in allowing beer and wines to be manufactured during the war.

Morrel's Face Cut in Auto Smash
W. D. Morrel received bad injuries on the face and body Saturday night while coming from Amarillo in his car. When nearing the Carter place, a car with a big head light came up over the hill, the flash striking him full in the face with the blinding result that some many have experienced. He shut off his engine and turned out to meet the car, but being unable to see, the car was guided into the ditch. He kept it from turning over, but it struck an extended plank on the culvert, the impact having force enough to throw Mr. Morrel through the windshield, cutting a gash over his right eye which necessitated five stitches to be taken. He was badly bruised on the body through contact with the steering wheel. The machine was badly smashed up by the plank.

Ray McReynolds and Adren Jefferies were in the back seat and escaped uninjured.

People who have experienced the results of meeting cars with blinding lights are glad that the new auto law prohibits them, and they are willing to see the law strictly enforced.

THOSE "GOOD ROADS".

(From Southwest Plainsman)

At the moment of writing this, we are "resting easy" and doubtless doing "as well as could be expected" after a strenuous trip over the Ozark Trail from Amarillo to Las Vegas.

And believe us, that is some trip. We are firmly convinced that we shall be compelled to go through the remainder of our journey on this mundane sphere, deprived of fully two inches of our naturally majestic height and besides we are suffering from numerous dislocations of a more transitory nature. There were places on the road where we went over "bumps" that tied our floating ribs in a big bow knot and dislocated seventeen vertebrae. Then we went through ditches that caused an entire transposition of our internal economy until we chanced upon other bumps a little later, that bounced them together again.

However, we got here and we are not a bit sorry we came. Los Vegas is a beautiful little city. We like it and we like the hustling western spirit of the business men, who are behind the town. We like the cowboys and girls and thoroughly enjoyed the entertainment they put on. If you have never seen their show or this park, mark the date and be sure to take it in next year. "Its positively worth the trip! We couldn't say more!

But speaking of roads, there were many miles of natural Plains roads, over which it was possible to travel with all the speed desired. A rain at Amarillo Monday night, had laid the dust—also established a perfectly good mud hold just seven miles out of our own dear town (not on the Trail, however,) which we recommend that our folks get busy and fix up. All around Tucumcari it had rained also, and there was no trouble with sand in consequence. In many places the Trail boosters have allowed their enthusiasm to get the better of their judgment and have plowed up our perfectly good natural roads and left them unfinished. We are most heartily in favor of road work, but we believe that the leaving of a stretch of road before it has been properly finished is going to create a sentiment unfavorable to road improvement. For instance, many miles of good Plains roads were plowed and hastily thrown up in order that the work might be done in time for the Trail Convention. By reason of lack of rain, they could not be finished for that event and it is safe to say that they have caused many a farmer and car owner to say things that would not look well in print. One of the favorite evening drives for Amarillo folks is around the circle east of town by Famous Heights. That drive has been ruined because the Trail workers left deep ditches on either side of their road where it crosses the public road.

Before stazing out on this trip, we provided ourselves with official logs of the road and found sundry places where important items had been omitted. For instance there was no mention made of the aforesaid mud hole.

If it had said "avoid right, turn left through barb wire fence," we should not have ventured in where, indeed, "angles would have feared to tread." But there was no kindly warning to restrain us and in we went. Furthermore, we staid some time—long enough to become thoroughly familiar with the adhesive qualities of Plains mud. Other warnings might have read "eat when chance offers, lest you miss eating", "Depend not on the wayside spring for drinks", "Avoid trying to level the high centers", (this idea is all right, but it's hard-on your car), "Slow down, cow on main track," etc.

One particularly "onery" bit of road is the first long hill out of Cuervo. It is not only very long and very steep and very rough but the road is so crooked that it is next to impossible to make the ascent. Cuervo should do something for that hill right away.

However, with Las Vegas at one end of the Trail and Amarillo at the other end and Tucumcari in the middle, all boosting for the Ozark Trail and good highways, we have no doubt that great improvements will be made in the road from now on. The stretch of country between Tucumcari and Las Vegas presents unusual and very great difficulties in road construction and it will take some time to smooth them all out. In the meantime, the traveling public will have to be patient and we have no doubt that all will consider that the beautiful scenery amply compensates for the many trials of the Trail.

Row Crop Looking Better.

The rains of last week have made a great improvement in the looks of the row crop in the county. The stand generally is poor this year in spite of the fact that much of the crop was planted a second time.

The crop which was up pretty well before the rain, is now making a wonderful growth and will make good grain. Much of the late planted crop is coming better than was expected.

While the row crop is certain to be short this year, yet the farmers believe there will be plenty of feed and considerable grain if the rains will continue.

A good rain was reported in the south part of the county last night.

Miss MacClanahan in Recital.

Miss Elise MacClanahan of New York City gave a recital at the Normal auditorium Monday night under the auspices of the Red Cross. Miss MacClanahan is a niece of Miss Bell of the Normal faculty.

Miss MacClanahan is a dramatic soprano with a very charming personality and wonderful voice. Her recital was one of the best ever heard in the city and highly pleased the large audience which gathered at the auditorium. She has never appeared in Grand Opera, but her recital work has attracted much attention from the critics of New York and other eastern cities.

Tuesday evening Miss Kline entertained a number of friends in her honor. A delightful musical program had been arranged for the occasion, numbers being given by Miss MacClanahan, Miss Rowan, Dr. Ingham, Miss Ingham, and readings by Miss Brown.

Hon. Alf Taylor of Tennessee is one of the South's noted orators, who shares with his brother, the late much-loved Senator "Bob" Taylor, the great distinction of the Taylor name in his native state.

Few incidents in American politics have excited the wide-spread interest of the unique political rivalry, termed "The War of the Roses" between the two brothers in their campaigns for the governorship of Tennessee.

"Bob" became Governor and "Alf" was sent to Congress. After being returned several times, Alf broke the political record by voluntarily retiring from public life.

For many years Alf Taylor has led the quiet life of a country gentleman on his fine farm in Tennessee, but he has been induced to return to the lecture platform for a Chautauqua tour this summer.

Farmers Suffer from Wind and Hail

The barn and chicken house on the H. L. Mann place south of town was washed away and water flooded the residence to a depth of twelve or more inches. Luther Petty and family were compelled to vacate their house on account of the flood of water that came down "Sandhauler" creek and stood to a depth of several feet in the lower floor of the house.

The big orchards of D. B. Veatch and Taylor Wilson were completely stripped and every vestige of crop on their places destroyed. Flood water also materially damaged the C. H. Rowe home after the hail ruined the roof.

West of town and out of the path of the hail storm a heavy wind did more or less damage. J. M. Moreland's barn was wrecked and other farmers in that vicinity suffered considerable loss from the heavy wind. The new brick building of W. J. Ball at Alanreed, which was nearly completed, collapsed during the high wind and is practically a total loss. The entire south wall is in ruins and the rest of the building twisted out of line, while the entire roof and deck structure is a mass of splif and mangled timber.—McLean News.

A Severe Hail Storm.

A heavy hail storm visited the country northwest of Tulia, Tuesday evening. At some places the hail was lighter than others and did little damage, while at others the crops were entirely destroyed.

Henry Lofton had about four hundred acres of wheat destroyed by the hail and no insurance.

Among others who had wheat crops injured by the hail storm were: Howard Edwards, Parker Brothers, five hundred acres, and Mr. Poe, one hundred and fifty acres.

These may have been other losers, by the hail, but these were the only names reported.

The storm blew a terrific gale at this place. Telephone poles were blown down and some other slight damages were done to fences and chicken houses. The hail did not reach Tulia.—Tulia Herald.

Potter-DePew Company Composed of Real Artists

Some of the very best music and entertainment of the Chautauqua is promised by the Potter-DePew Concert Trio on the second day. The company is unusual in that its three members are all artists—each equally skilled.

Betty Potter, reader and cellist, has created a special field in the impersonation of boy types and characters.

She has played ten years as a concert cellist.

Opal Potter is a Conservatory Graduate in piano and dramatic art, and has appeared before the public professionally for years.

Dewitt DePew is one of the best known violinists in the West. He is above the class known as lycium violinists, having in his recital work won recognition from the critics and musical journals. Outside the large cities one is seldom privileged to hear so gifted an artist.

Altogether the Potter-DePew Trio give a program that would be hard to surpass. They are to give a full program in the afternoon and a concert prelude at night—Second Day of Chautauqua.

Notable Vocal and Instrumental Artists on Program

On every Chautauqua program there is a place for a musical organization of a strictly high type.

The Hungarian Quartet is composed of talented ladies who are fitted to give not only a musical program, but an unusually varied and sparkling entertainment.

Each of the members has had the advantage of the best training in their art that the world affords and many years of professional concert experience.

Their entertainments consist of Hungarian music, both vocal and instrumental, featuring the Hungarian harp, character sketches in costume, standard musical offerings by some of the best composers; also readings and pianologues.

The Hungarian Ladies' Quartet is to give two concerts on the third day of Chautauqua—afternoon and night.

E. J. Powell, Home-Town Crusader

On the opening night of the Chautauqua, E. J. Powell will give his community-building lecture, "The Home Town."
Mr. Powell is a town-doctor. He knows community troubles and how to cure them. A bundle of nerves and energy himself, he communicates his spirit to others. Commercial Clubs over the country say he's their best bet when it comes to getting things started.

OLDER BUT STRONGER

To be healthy at seventy, prepare at forty, is sound advice, because in the strength of middle life we too often forget that neglected colds, or careless treatment of slight aches and pains, simply undermine strength and bring chronic weakness for later years.

To be stronger when older, keep your blood pure and rich and active with the strength-building and blood-nourishing properties of Scott's Emulsion which is a food, a tonic and a medicine to keep your blood rich, alleviate rheumatism and avoid sickness. No alcohol in Scott's.

Newspaper Annoyances.

Here is something you might stick in your hatband: "If I owned a newspaper, what I would say in it just now would be a plenty," remarked a man the other day, says the Marion (O.) Tribune in a recent editorial.

He was invited to write what he wanted to say, with assurance that it would be printed if his signature accompanied it.

He very promptly declined the tender, remarking that "it would hurt his business." There are a lot of people willing, anxious in fact, for things to be said in the newspapers providing they hurt the business of somebody else and not their own.

What newspaper has not had this very same experience with this very same yellow tadpole of a citizen who splutters and splutters about what ought to be printed in a newspaper and what ought to be omitted? And yet when what ought to be responsible for the manuscript he wants you to publish, he whines like a sick dog, skulks behind this pretext and wobbles out of the office with a groan.

That is not all. He writes in that he will stop his paper if you don't print what he himself won't sign. Yet if you were to suggest to him that his threat to stop his paper is pure and simple coercion through a threat of blackmail he would howl like a tomcat with its tail stepped on.

The fellow who threatens to stop his paper is trying to do to the newspaper in a small way the very thing that he would condemn as criminal in a corporation that tried in any way to throttle the freedom of the press. Threatening to stop the paper is an attempt at intimidation.

But it is worse than that. Threatening to stop the paper is a confession of digoted intolerance on the part of the delinquent subscriber that pulls such a bone, for it means that he does not want the paper to have the courage of its own convictions after all, but insists that it shall have only the courage of the convictions of the stop-my-paper threatener.

Big magazines with circulation piling toward the million and great metropolitan newspapers are pestered with this pest who wants them to publish something and assume a responsibility for authorship which the pest is too big a coward to assume, and who threatens to stop his subscription if they do not do his bidding.

Why do newspapers have these annoyances? Well, why do hotels sometimes have bedbugs, and henhouses have lice?

GIRL MATCHED THE RIBBON

Little Tot Induces Gentleman With Remarkably Red Nose to Aid Her in Selecting Color.

A certain gentleman in Birmingham is the possessor of a remarkably red nose. He was in the town one day, and, having completed his business, was amusing himself by an inspection of the shop windows.

Whilst admiring some ties in a certain window and considering whether he should speculate or not, a little girl came out of the establishment, looked up at him, hesitated a moment, and finally caught him by the sleeve.

"Please, will you come into the shop with me, only for a minute?" she asked.

"Certainly," answered the gentleman, following her at once.

Arrived at the counter, the little one astonished everyone by remarking:

"There, miss, mavournt wants the ribbon the same color as this gentleman's nose."—London Tit-Bits.

The Kilties Are Coming

The Famous Kilties Band of Canada, that has toured the globe and tickled the ears of the world is coming to the Canyon

Chautauqua July 21, 4 & 8 P. M.

The Kilties are the Band that spent two and one-half years in a Grand World Tour, in which they played before Kings, Queens, Nobility and Commons in twenty foreign countries.

King Edward VII commanded them to play twice in his Royal Presence at Baltimore Castle and at his beautiful Sandringham Palace. They filled important engagements in the famous Crystal Palace, London, and in a score of the notable Halls and Temples of the world, where in one instance as many as 170,000 persons gathered to hear them in a single day.

They were the leading musical attraction at the Panama-Pacific Exposition in San Francisco and at the St. Louis World's Fair.

Now the Kilties are coming to our Chautauqua on a tour of several thousand miles over the Chautauqua Circuit. They appear in full Scotch Kilted Regimentals and complete Regalia and make a striking picture.

Mr. Murdoch J. Macdonald, the conductor of the Kilties, is a musician and composer of great ability. He not only knows music but can impart to those under him, his ideas of how compositions should be played.

Mr. Jamie Muir, is another special artist with the Kilties. His Scottish Jigs and Reels are a big feature of the program.

Mr. James Pearse, is the Tenor Soloist and Mr. Macdonald, as Pipe Major, introduces the Famous Scotch Bag Pipes.

Texas Holstein Makes Record.

Dr. J. D. McLean of Itasca owns one of the best milk cows in Hill county.

Now please note how carefully that statement is worded. We do not say the "best," but "one of the best." We've been here a long time.

This cow is a registered Holstein, with an official test of a little better than three pounds of butter daily, but of course that test was made under the most favorable conditions, and she is not expected to keep it up. However, the yield she is making now is almost as remarkable. She is kept in a dry lot and fed on dry feed. Her surplus milk is sold, and no effort is being made to make any more butter than the family needs. Dr. McLean at each milking takes out enough for his family needs, and sells the rest at wholesale price to one customer. He deposits the money received to a special account, after he has paid for the cow's feed. The bank deposit book shows this surplus account to be as follows: April 1, $1.65; April 9, $5.65; April 16, $5.05; April 23, $12.35; May 1, $5.75; May 11, $5.50; May 19, $5.90; May 25, $6.25; June 7, $9.85; June 16, $5.00. Total, $69.95.

It's time now to report the "best" cow in the county. The owner is requested to bring his bank book and show deposits as proof.

Dr. McLean owns this cow and one registered bull and one-third interest in another registered bull.

The orphans' home of which Dr. McLean is president recently bought a registered cow that Dr. Tenny owned, and the nucleus of a Holstein herd for the Home.

The Holsteins have of recent years acquired a great reputation as dairy cattle, and some members of this breed have brought remarkably high prices.

Living at Home and Making Good.

J. H. Knapp, living ten miles northwest of Panhandle, is another one of Carson county's farmers who is "living at home and making good."

While in town Wednesday making his regular semi-weekly cream shipment he stated to the Herald that he was now shipping two cans of cream each week, which are bringing an average weekly return of about $10.

—Panhandle Herald.

A Small Twister Passes Through.

A small twister came through this part of the country last Tuesday evening doing some damage to property and hurting two or three persons some. A barge was blown off a wagon two or three miles northeast of town hurting Mr. Rollins pretty badly and almost killing Jack Lane. Two or three others barely escaped being hit by the barge as it went over.

Jack and Mr. Rollins and possibly another one or two were in the barge and when the wind struck they jumped out and tried to get out of the way but Mr. Rollins was struck by it and Jack was caught under it, the edge of it coming over on his head, cutting a severe gash which it took several stitches to sew up, and he was unconscious several hours. At last account he was doing as well as could be expected. Dr. Breaker gave surgical and medical aid.

Lee Lane and Miss Clara Porter were driving home in a buggy, and when the wind struck the buggy it was turned over a time or two, bruising the occupants up considerably, but they caught the horse which broke loose from the buggy and led it on down the road. Neither of them was hurt seriously.

Several granaries and sheds were blown over and other slight damage done. Wiley Bomar's granary was blown over, as also was J. B. Porter's and a water-tank was blown a considerable distance at H. J. Patton's. —Silverton Star.

PAINFUL EFFECT OF Rheumatism, Lumbago, Gout.

It is now asserted with confidence that these painful effects due to uric acid in the system are entirely eradicated. A new remedy, called "Anuric," has been discovered by Doctor Pierce, which he finds is 27 times more potent than lithia, and is the cause of a drainage outward of the uric acid with which it comes in contact within the body. It will ward off back-ache, headache, and the darting pains and aches of rheumatism, lumbago, neuralgia—of those diseases which are caused by too much uric acid, such as gout, asthma, sciatica, renal calculus. "Anuric" prolongs life because old people usually suffer from hardening and thickening of the walls of the arteries, due to the excess of uric acid in the blood and tissues.

Alf Taylor, of Tennessee, Coming Noted Orator and Statesman at Chautauqua

Chautauquans will doubtless look forward to the coming of Hon. Alf Taylor with keen enjoyment. The distinguished Tennessean is to speak at the Chautauqua on the night of the Second Day.

Many will recall in this connection "The War of the Roses," which designation was given to the remarkable campaign for the Governorship of Tennessee in which the opposing candidates were the brothers, Alf and Bob Taylor. Bob became Governor while Alf went to Congress. Both became nationally famous as public speakers, resulting in their making a tour of the largest cities of the country in a joint lecture—Bob taking as his subject, "Dixie," and Alf taking as his, "Yankee Doodle."

Hon. Alf Taylor's ability as a speaker has been demonstrated at some of the greatest public occasions in the country for the past quarter of a century. While not the entertainer that "Fiddling Bob" was, his great talents are none the less marked. His oratory needs no accessories because it is clothed in its own natural hearty, majesty and power. A man of great intellectual capacity and ability, charm of manner and nobility of soul, his appearance here will make him many new friends and add new luster to the Taylor name. Hear him on the Second Night of Chautauqua.

Berkeley Sextet in Costume Sketch

These young ladies make up the Berkeley Sextet who have been secured for the Chautauqua. They are an Entertainment-Orchestra, giving orchestra numbers, costume songs and sketches, solos, choruses, and all sorts of other good things.

To make the Sextet—the pick of several successful musical companies was taken and combined into this all-star combination. Towns, everywhere they go, say "Give us the Berkeleys back. They were the hit of the program."

The Berkeleys will give two programs at our Chautauqua on the Fourth Day.

CHAUTAUQUA TO BRING H. V. ADAMS

It's a mighty good Chautauqua that has H. V. Adams on its program. Dr. Adams lectures here on the third night, and he is conceded to be one of the very best Chautauqua lecturers in the country.

Adams has the mild manners of a May morning, but when aroused expresses himself with the force and keenness of a fast-driven wind from the West, whence he comes. He carries his audiences by the spell of his earnest eloquence with him into another world of sheer delight. When he stops and goes away he leaves the whole audience saying: "There's a manly man, and 'Isn't the Chautauqua great?"

Dr. Adams' best known lectures are "Grapes of Gold" and "Who's to Blame." Plan to hear him on the third night, without fail.

The Teas Bros. sold a grass fat steer to L. S. Palmer last week which weighed 1340 pounds on the Wichita market and brought 11 1/2c, a total of $154.10. They also sold at the same time three dry cows that averaged 1185 pounds and brought $8.75 per cwt, or $103.83 per head.—Canadian Record.

Drowned While Bathing
A Miller, who lives on the old Capt. Good place in Wanders creek valley, had the misfortune to lose his seventeen-year-old son, Clarence, by drowning Monday night.

The boy had been chopping cotton all day on the S. P. Clark farm, and after dark went to a dam across the creek four miles west of Chillicothe. A pond has been formed there, and he must have been wading as he could not swim, and struck a deep hole. His clothes lying upon the bank first attracted attention to what had happened.—Quannah Tribune. Chief.

Cattle Frozen in June.
R. H. Harle, a cattleman of North Ft. Worth, shipped a train load of stock from that city to Montana about the first of June which arrived at their destination just as the last blizzard of the season swooped down upon that section. It arrived in the night and the next morning several of the horses and cattle, worn out by the long trip, were found frozen to death.

YES! LIFT A CORN OFF WITHOUT PAIN!

Cincinnati authority tells how to dry up a corn or callus so it lifts off with fingers.

You corn-pestered men and women need suffer no longer. Wear the shoes that nearly killed you before, says this Cincinnati authority, because a few drops of freezeone applied directly on a tender, aching corn or callus, stops soreness at once and soon the corn or hardened callus loosens so it can be lifted out, root and all, without pain. A small bottle of freezeone cost very little at any drug store, but will positively take off every hard or soft corn or callus. This should be tried, as it is inexpensive and is said not to irritate the surrounding skin.

If your druggist hasn't any freezeone tell him to get a small bottle for you from his wholesale drug house. It is fine stuff and acts like a charm every time.
