

COURT OPENS MONDAY BUT LITTLE BUSINESS TRANSACTED

District Court convened Monday at the court house, but adjourned Tuesday afternoon until next Monday when the petit jury will come, and the criminal docket will be tried.

Judge Umphres stated Tuesday that it was likely very little civil business would be transacted during this term.

The grand jury was selected Monday, consisting of the following men:

- J. E. Park
W. W. Kuehn
M. O. Slack
Peter Meyers
J. W. Hancock
Sterling Coffee
C. A. Elder
Andy Costley
R. E. Baird
R. M. Rusk
J. B. Gamble
S. M. Downing

The following are the bailiffs: 1. D. Coffee, A. W. Hancock, W. W. Kirkpatrick, W. C. Leonard, R. A. Dobbs.

TWO BILLS RETURNED BY THE GRAND JURY TUESDAY

The grand jury returned two bills Tuesday. The body recessed Tuesday night until later in the term when it will meet and continue the work.

Leslie Nobles of Amarillo was indicted for rape. This is the case which was given a preliminary hearing two weeks ago in the county court.

Lee Waters was indicted for assault with intent to murder. It will be remembered that Mr. Waters shot at O. S. Brown on the streets of Canyon last fall.

WEATHER VARIED TO EXTREME DURING THIS WEEK

The weather man has been on a rampage this week, and dished out a little of all kinds, excepting the brand with moisture.

From Thursday until Monday the weather was warm and spring-like.

Monday afternoon a norther tried its best to stir up something, but dust was the only resultant. The temperature was not as cold as the usual norther.

Tuesday was nice and warm. Yesterday morning there threatened to be a storm, with good prospects for rain, but toward night the wind started to blow and kept up considerable of a gale all through the night.

This morning is colder than it has been for a considerable time, but it is still cloudy.

Hopes to Close for Club Grounds

Rev. B. E. Fronabarger is making an appeal to the shareholders of the Canyon City Club to set a price on their club shares in order that he may determine whether or not Canyon will get the Encampment Grounds for the Baptists of Northwest Texas, or whether the church will have to look to another town for a location.

The Club Grounds have been chosen as the most desirable place. It appears that some of the members do not wish to sell their shares for less than $100 each, whereas the market value during the past few years has never run more than $50 or $55. At $100 per share, the club grounds would amount to $7500, which the directors offered to take a short while ago.

The Baptist Associations voted to pay as much as $6000 for a location, feeling that town pride ought to cause each shareholder to put in his stock at about market value, in view of the fact that the Baptists will spend several thousand dollars in improvements on the grounds, and that shareholders will have the same privileges of the grounds as they have had in the past, with no annual dues to pay for upkeep.

Rev. Fronabarger reports that so far he has had great success in getting reductions made on the price of shares, and wishes to dispose of the matter at the first possible moment.

Lewis Hardin to Aviation

Lewis Hardin of this city has enlisted in the aviation corps of the army. He will soon leave for the training camp.

Six Boys Leave for Camp

Six boys from Randall county left Saturday morning for San Antonio to enter the new army.

The following men were selected by the local board for the last quota of the first draft:

- Walter John Hess, in charge,
George Schaeffer,
Baxter Jordan,
Julius Kuehn,
Reginald Alfred Witt,
Jesse Paul Hileman.

Writes from Camp

George Baxter Jordan wrote the following upon arriving at Camp San Antonio:

Camp Travis, February 25, 1918. Mr. C. W. Warwick, Canyon, Texas

My dear friend:

We arrived in San Antonio Sunday at 1:15 p. m. We were given the very best attention enroute. We were cheered all along the way by whites, negroes, Mexicans and all who could waive a hand—many places by enthusiastic Red Cross girls, who presented us with flags, smiles and cheering words.

After we were detained and were being maneuvered over the camp to keep us out of conflict with the camp traffic, we passed Sergeant Ben A. Terrill, giving orders to a bunch of fellows. Later we came face to face with Sergeant C. F. Hunt, who was well stocked with questions about home and also informed us that there were only three Canyon boys left in Camp.

Today the Camp was kept alive with the yells of seasoned troops who had just returned probably from the last long hike "on this side." We were told by our Lieutenant that these men only six months ago were just raw recruits like us.

We will be kept in detention for fifteen or twenty days as some of our boys have the mumps.

Very truly yours, GEO. B. JORDAN.

Few Attend Meeting

Very few people attended the feed and food meeting at the court house Tuesday night. County Demonstrator, together with an A. & M. College lecturer were here in the interest of greater food production in Randall County this year.

Come to Canyon to live.

Artists Course at Normal

The advance sale of tickets for the Zoellner String Quartette Concert to be given Monday evening, March 4, indicates a large audience.

We are indeed fortunate in securing an organization such as the Zoellners, who by the way, are playing only such towns in our territory, as Wichita, Kans., Oklahoma City, and Roswell. Also the price of season tickets, $1.00, enables us to hear this organization at a ridiculously low figure.

While the Zoellners are not "Victor Artists" they have for many years made excellent records for the Columbia Graphophone Co.

Their program, which has been chosen from a very extensive repertoire, will beyond doubt, prove exceedingly interesting as well as instructive, and entertaining.

The following is the program:

- 1. Quartet. Op. 14 No. 1—Haydn
Allegro moderato
Andantino grazioso
Monueto Allegro.
Finale Vivace.
2. Two Sketches for String Quartet
—Eugene Goossens
a. By the Tarn
b. Jack O'Lantern.
3. Quartet. Op. 28—Edward Naprawnik.
Vivace
Larghetto
4. Quartet. Op. 96. (American Quartet)—Dvorak
Allegro ma non troppo
Lento
Malto vivaco.
Vivaco ma non troppo.

Miller for Re-Election

E. T. Miller has authorized the Randall County News to announce that he is a candidate for re-election to the office of District Attorney, subject to the July Democratic Primary.

Mr. Miller was elected to the office two years ago and has made an excellent official. He has handled some of the most difficult criminal cases the district has ever been called upon to dispose of, and has looked after the interest of the state well. He submits his candidacy to the people upon the merits of his past term in office and wishes to stand for re-election upon this record.

Perhaps some time there will be a kickless day.—Columbus Dispatch.

PROBABLY END RED CROSS SECOND MONDAY, MARCH 12

A few days ago Fed Hettler says he had a two-row lister which he wanted to give to the Red Cross. He was told to bring it to town, which he did Tuesday.

The lister was sold yesterday for $80 and the funds placed in the Red Cross treasury.

If you haven't cash with which to help in the Randall County drive for $10,000, the local chapter will accept articles which may be turned into cash.

The Red Cross drive has been at a standstill almost during the past week on account of no checks being on hand to carry on the campaign. A number of individuals have one or more checks on hand yet unsigned and are looking for the fellows who have not yet come across.

The people of Randall county are very greatly interested in the campaign. They believe that the monthly payment plan is the only way of carrying on the Red Cross work and men from all over the county are asking to sign up twelve checks when they come to Canyon.

It is hoped that the checks will be here by the first of the week so that the campaign may be carried to every part of the county next week. If the checks arrive so that the county campaign can be made next week the three prize Aberdeen Angus heifers will be given away on March 12, the next Trades Day. Definite announcement will be made in next week's issue of the News regarding the date. Watch for this announcement!

Every man, woman and child ought to be in Canyon on the date of the drawing for the three heifers. Three persons are going to receive some mighty pretty heifers in that drawing. If you haven't any tickets on them as yet, get busy today. One ticket goes with each dollar you subscribe to the Red Cross fund.

The following men will make the campaign in the different school districts of the county next week, if the check-books arrive:

- No. 1—W. E. Bennett, W. J. Flesher.

- No. 2—E. C. Pritchard, Grady Oldham.

- No. 3—L. W. Scott, S. B. McClure.

ARE YOU BACKING THIS MAN WHO IS AT THE FRONT?

SIGN UP WITH THE RED CROSS TODAY!

- No. 4—T. V. Slack, A. A. McNeil, J. B. Gamble.

- No. 5—Will Cage, Oswald Kusze, C. R. Flesher.

- No. 6—Andy Costley, Henry Weber, J. W. Reid.

- No. 9—Ralph Rusk, F. E. Culp, C. N. Harrison.

- No. 10—Geo. Schaeffer, J. E. Winkelman, C. H. Jarrett.

- No. 11—Henry Beckman, Albert Faird, Dr. S. L. Ingham.

- No. 12—Adam Walker, O. E. Sherer, R. L. Marquis.

- No. 13—C. F. Griner, C. R. Burrow.

- No. 16 and 17—M. B. McManigal, J. H. Garrison, J. A. Guthrie.

- No. 18—C. L. Gordon-Cummings.

- No. 19—J. W. Hancock, C. D. Lester.

- No. 20—G. M. Peet, J. B. Gamble.

- No. 14 and 21—Wm Michael, T. V. Reeves.

Financial Assistance for Farmers. THE OFFICERS OF THIS INSTITUTION HAVE MADE A CAREFUL STUDY OF THE PROBLEMS WITH WHICH THE FARMERS OF OUR SECTION ARE CONFRONTED. THOROUGHLY FAMILIAR WITH LOCAL REQUIREMENTS, THEY ARE ALWAYS READY TO MEET THE FARMER MORE THAN HALF-WAY IN HIS PLANS FOR BIGGER AND BETTER CROPS. APPLICATIONS FOR FINANCIAL ACCOMMODATION ARE INVITED AND RECEIVE PROMPT, COURTEOUS ATTENTION.

WILLIS RE-ELECTED TO HEAD THE CANYON PUBLIC SCHOOLS. Superintendent J. E. Willis was re-elected for the coming year by the school trustees at the meeting held last Thursday night. Mr. Willis is serving his first year as head of the public schools of Canyon. He is a school man of prominence in the state and has given complete satisfaction in the administration of the school during the past year. R. W. Bruce's Child Dead. Ida Bernice, the three year old child of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Bruce, died last Wednesday, February 20 at the family home, 808 Jefferson St., Amarillo, after an illness of three weeks. The funeral services were held at the family home Thursday afternoon at three o'clock, conducted by Dr. Fassett, pastor of the Amarillo Baptist church and Rev. B. E. Fronabarger, pastor of the Canyon Baptist church. Mr. and Mrs. Bruce moved to Amarillo only a few months ago from their farm near Ralph. They have many friends in this county who are grieved to hear of their sorrow and extend to them their heart-felt sympathy in their hour of sadness.

FEDERAL FOOD PROGRAM WEEK'S CALENDAR AT A GLANCE. WHAT'S ASKED OF THE HOUSEWIFE. In the calendar of wheatless meals and meatless meals the only "off meals," so to speak, are the noonday meals on Sunday, Thursday and Friday. Supper throughout the week is to be wheatless. Breakfast throughout the week is meatless. In order that the housewife may have the days clearly in mind, the following simple calendar of days is issued by E. A. Peden, Federal Food Administrator for Texas: Table with columns for Breakfast, Dinner, Supper and rows for days of the week.

"The College and Its Mission"

FOUNDER'S DAY ADDRESS

by

R. B. COUSINS

February 17, 1918.

The lesson of the morning is meant to be an exposition of the meaning of education, its claims and contributions. The subject is approached through a brief survey of the relation of the schools and colleges, the purveyors and instruments of education, to other agencies.

The four basal institutions that have been developed by civilization and that have contributed to its development are the church, the State, the home, and the school. These institutions are parallel forces working for the good of the human race. They are the expressions of man's best thoughts and the summary of all that has been preserved of his labors. While not the youngest, the home is the tenderest and the most sensitive to influences, good or bad, that affect communities. If these institutions were conceived as an arch, the home would be the key stone. If they were arranged in a building's form, the home would be the "corner stone." In a beautiful Greek myth, Antaeus was the son of Poseidon and Ge, or Neptune and Earth. He was a great wrestler and could not be overcome so long as he was in touch with his mother Earth. Just one touch of her relieved his pain and restored his strength. Hercules found his secret, and lifting him off the earth strangled him in air. Many boys and girls, tempted and wayward, have had their strength renewed again and again by contact with a godly mother in a Christian home. If they lose this connection, they may lose all.

If these fundamental institutions should be arranged on a level, let the home be in the center and the others be armed forts around her to protect her, "and to permit none to pass and repass but such as are duly qualified" to enter her sacred precincts.

Being human institutions, each has its weakness as well as its strength, each needs, and can help the others.

The State is the expressed will of the strongest. In our republic, thank God, it is the will of the majority of those who make and must obey the laws. But even democracies have their short comings. The laws of the State represent the collective mind and heart of the home, the church, and the school in the State. It these laws be unjust or against public good, the law makers were either ignorant or selfish, and the school and the church have partially failed. All civil laws are compromises. They never express the highest intelligence or the strictest justice, because the face of the ignorant and of the unjust must not be ignored nor obscured in a composite picture of the life of a community. The law shows the face of the republican, the finger marks of the democrat, and the whiskers of the populist. The whiskers must be allowed to show in the picture or be removed before the picture is made! The State has rights and an individuality of its own which neither church nor school may or can violate, with impunity, although school and church should express a higher form of thought and purpose. But the State must respect and encourage the church, and it has no greater duty measured from any quarter than to build schools. Every constitution adopted in Texas provides for the building of schools as of prime importance,—schools of all grades and kinds. President Houston, the first president of the republic of Texas, declared that a dissemination of intelligence among the people is necessary in a free republic. President Lamar said: "The educated mind is the guardian genius of democracy. It is the only dictator that free men acknowledge, and the only safety that brave men desire." In a speech before the Alabama Polytechnic College in 1899, Dr. J. L. M. Curry, statesman, patriot and educator, said: "Education is the paramount obligation of a republican, representative government, the first duty, the only wise policy of a democracy. While rudimentary education for all cannot be safely neglected nor postponed, it would be a criminal and dangerous error to limit it to primary forces. Higher education is indispensable to a country's glory."

Whatever else a State may neglect, it cannot neglect with safety the proper education of its people.

"The church is of God and will be maintained to the end of time" is a quotation familiar to some of you. The Church taught the state the idea and the necessity of government, and gave her the outlines to be followed. The Church is the primal agency, and the paramount force in the hands of an overruling Providence in shaping states and civilizations. It has made itself felt in every era, generation, and crisis. It has made mistakes, awful and grievous, and has written them in the blood of brothers slain! It has at times been dark, with excessive heat. Often times, those who would be the best friends of God and of his Christ have been their greatest enemies. It has always happened, and it seems involved in the nature of the case, that when the civil governor assumes the role of priest or preacher and presides at the altar, or when Pope, Cardinal or Bishop grasps the reins as civil governor, the fires of persecution break out, gibbets rise, and the land mourns. To work against this emotionalism which has played so large a part in the history of the church, and at times a part so dark and bloody, the schools have "touched the elbow of the church to warn her of approaching danger." The response is the denominational college and university! The larger the infusion of intelligence in the doctrines and polity of the church, the less there is of that emotionalism which leads to schisms, debates, and wars,—and persecutions. For war is fed by the emotions of men gone mad, from which come persecutions and abominations.

Living Organisms: Let us not forget that institutions, state, school, and church are living organisms, subject to the law of growth. Any political party, or church, or school organization that refuses to readjust itself to new conditions will die, and must be burned or buried out of sight.

"Time makes ancient good uncouth
He must upward still and onward
Who would keep a breast of truth."

Real Enemies: Education need not fear industrialism nor trade schoolism if intelligent leaders seek righteousness and truth. The Republic is in no danger from socialism if the propagandists are intelligent American patriots. The church need not fear the "Higher Criticism" for "high brows" may require it, if the critics be men of higher learning and consecrated intellect. The dangerous enemies to education are ignorant, untaught teachers and half educated enthusiasts, who see only half the truth and imagine they are allwise; the dangerous enemies of the State are the untaught and unlimited democrats who blunder into positions of power; the deadliest enemies to the church, are the pulpit pounder who thinks he is expounding the scriptures, and the untaught dogmatist who has hopelessly confused his opinions with truth.

Says David Starr Jordan: "Wisdom is knowing what one ought to do next; virtue consists in doing it; and, religion is the feeling or attitude which braces us up to our duty when it is easier to stand aside or let the part assigned us slip aside by default." "The positive phase of religion is the feeling of being at home in God's universe," said Donald Hankey, the student in arms. "There is nothing else so dangerous as ignorance at work," said Carlisle. The author of that terse statement had not known the German government as we know it, else he would have said: There is nothing so dangerous in so large a way as armed selfishness that has profaned religion into blasphemy, prostituted philosophy and put out the eyes of the people. Ignorance is the brutish mother of a foul brood, and Selfishness is the sire. The German state has for two generations, dictated to the schools, the pulpit, and press, prescribing what shall be taught, preached and printed. It has prostituted learning, blasphemed God perverted religion and muzzled the press.

The Trenches: The American home, the school, and the State have gone to the trenches with the boys. Our treasures are there. The preacher's boy has always done his part. The church stripped of ceremony and schismatic creed has gone to the training camp, with the ambulance to the battle front, canteen and hospital. The religion of the future will be that that has stood the hot fires of the trench, and only he will be worthy to teach the philosophies or preach "the way of life" after the war is over, who has been "over the top" with the boys. The young preacher who takes advantage of the federal government's mistaken kindness, and claims exemption from the draft because he is a preacher, shall have no audience "when the boys come marching home." The college will become the glad and ardent propagandist of the religion that has passed through the trenches. The fires now destroying a mad world shall release the weights that have been placed on the Christ by sectarian bigotry, and He shall "run and leap" as an athlete stripped of his handicap!

Industrialism: What shall we teach? The old "Trivium," Latin, Greek, and mathematics, and the "Quadrivium," making "The Seven Liberal Arts and Sciences" offered the course for the "gentleman's son." These were accepted as the complement of educational materials. The old problem was how to put these in reach of the masses. Private philanthropy and the church had failed, due to no fault, but to impossibilities. Then came the struggle for compulsory taxation, which should lay the burden of education of all the children on the property of all the people. In those days, the cry of injustice arose in the taking of one man's money to educate the other man's child. When justice appeared and that contest was won, it was found that the enrollment and attendance in the schools were disappointing. Compulsory taxation demanded compulsory attendance. The argument was valid and the plea was granted. Now the question logically arises with urgency, are the subjects offered, best for the wage earner's son, as well as for the son of the capitalist? A changing point of view gives rise to new questions, whose answers seem criticisms of the existing order of things. Hence, arises the demand for industrial education in all the schools. Industrial schools and colleges are now in the lime light, and all colleges and universities must listen to the call for the "practical education" or have their supplies cut off. The Commissioner of Education of the United States, now makes weekly, appeals, through the cosmopolitan press for emphasis on industrial subjects in all the schools. The federal government has recently passed an industrial school bill, known as the Smith-Hughes Act, appropriating $500,000 for the current year, and increasing yearly until 1926 when the amount shall become and remain, an annual appropriation, of $3,000,000 to be divided among the states, pro rata, requiring each state to appropriate as much from its treasury as it receives from this fund. The commission to handle this fund, headed by Secretary of Agriculture, D. F. Houston, once president of the University of Texas, declares the purpose to be, to help educate children for gainful occupations, to assist each to earn more for a day's labor. Texas has cordially accepted the conditions, and all the schools of certain grades and kinds are to introduce industrial subjects as their main lines of effort. The old curriculum is to be subordinated to the new. The committee says: "Since industrial education is demanded by the national welfare, it is proper that the federal government should stimulate the states in providing this new and needed form of education for the people."

Lesson From Germany: It would seem that we have learned this lesson from Germany, whose accomplished purpose through the schools is to "cut and fit" every man in the empire, into some form of service. Talents are discovered in the child and he is "educated" to do what he can do best, so that in times of war he can find his place, promptly. Edwin Markham's poem, "The Man with the Hoe," relieves the wooden sound of the voices now demanding the industrializing of the schools with a patriot's love and a poet's ardor:

"Bowed with the weight of centuries he leans
Upon his hoe and gazes on the ground,
The emptiness of ages in his face,
And on his back the burden of the world.
* * * * *

Down all the stretch of Hell to its last gulf
There is no shape more terrible than this —"

The American schools are responsive to the demands of the times, and are hastening to the duty of ameliorating hard conditions and promoting better ones. But the State dare not put out its own eyes, by a failure to make reasonable provisions for those children who are capable of following the old paths to the Olympus of the old gods!

TRUE EDUCATION: It was Goethe who said that some people regard education as a goddess seated on a high and heavenly hill, while others see it as the family cow doing her part by producing butter to feed the family. In this figure the industrialists seem to have the advantage. On first view they have, for the babes must have the milk and the cow gives it. They say that we can do without goddesses, but not without cows. But it is not true that had there been no goddesses, and none that dwell "on high and heavenly hills," men would have been but cows?

A short time ago, a "practical man" in high office asked a college president what he meant by "higher education." The college man said, "It is that kind that is higher than you have." This is good wit, but may not be a good answer to the question. In a book which he called Psychological Foundations of Education, Dr. W. T. Harris has answered the question from the mental point of view, and President DeWitt Hyde has answered it from the ethical or religious point of view in his book which he calls, "God's Education of Man."

Dr. Harris points out the three stages of intellectual development which he calls primary, secondary, and tertiary,—or the grades, high school—college, and university. In the first stage, the learner deals with individual objects. He learns single things. He sees and knows only the simplest relations of one thing to another. He makes no inferences regarding groups or classes. His question is how, rather than why in its deeper sense. His imagination is limitless. His classifications are few and crude. While there is no strong line of demarcation between this lowest and next higher forms of psychic action, still the powers are different. The student begins to compare and classify in the upper grades. In the high school, the learner delights to see relations, and begins to form abstractions. Arithmetic enlarges and generalizes into algebra which expresses old arithmetical ideas in new and general forms. Geometry is peculiarly a high school subject. The student is not interested in points, lines, and angles, as he was in earlier stages in birds, dogs, fairies, and heroes, but he is interested in the relations of lines to points or to each other. The equalities and inequalities are the things of interest, regardless of how large or how small each may be. Grammar offers a comparison of parts of speech, making classifications, and groups. Composition and rhetoric call for the same mental forces in the study of relations. These subjects are characteristic of the second stage of development. This is the first form of higher education. In the third or final stage, the high school and college have done their work and the post-college or tertiary or university stage requires thinking of objects as groups. Known relations are familiar and new and unknown relations suggest themselves. Individual objects are interesting, only because of what they suggest. The man is now full grown, and may add some new fact, principle, or procedure to his special subject. He has learned the fruits and flowers of the garden and orchard near the house. He takes this classified knowledge with him into the forest beyond the fence, and finds new and hitherto unclassified specimens, brings them in and reduces them to their proper place in the categories. The child's thought is a memory of individual objects. The high school student struggles with the relations of individuals or small groups. The developed man may have a thought that involves a system or a science. One statement may fill a volume when fully explained. This is higher education, the highest attainment of the mind. It may come through the college or without it. Civilization has made its progress from simple primitive conditions to its present complexities, through the processes of higher thought. Inventions in machinery are made by the man who knows the simple things of the simpler machines. Medicine in its various forms is based on comparison and inferences from known facts or groups of facts. Sociology and economics are inferences from scattered experiences, thought into groups. The comparisons of the republics of the world would be a higher education subject. The comparison of the Latin and the Greek literature would not be a subject for the grades.

Religion: The corresponding stages in ethical or religious development are: First, the fear of punishment; second, the hope of reward; third, Love. The child obeys because he fears punishment. The evangelist starts sinners towards Heaven by threatening them with hell. The pastor feeds his half grown flock on the promises which appeal to the masses of men. He exhorts us to pay the tithe, and win God's favor so that we may go to Heaven when we die, and wear a crown and sit on a throne or sit by the river of life and rest throughout eternity! The preacher does the best he can for us. Unfortunately, many of us never get beyond this secondary stage of Christian development. Those who pass into God's university are moved neither by fear of punishment, nor the hope of reward, but are moved by Love, love to God and good, and their fellow man. They keep the commandments because they love God without any other incentive. They live and move and have their being in love. They would not sin, because they love God. "Who sins against God, sins against me, for the Father and I are one."

Owen Meredith has expressed the thought in these words:
"That man is great and he alone
Who serves a greatness not his own
For neither praise nor self;
Content to know and be unknown,
Whole within himself."

The physical parallel is easy, childhood has its joys, its laws, its life. The youth is scarcely like the child or the man. He is just a boy, lawless except for his own laws. He has a world of his own, morally, intellectually, and physiologically. The third stage, is that of manhood, when "he comes to himself," evolved from the preceding stage, but entirely different from it.

The underlying process in all these gradations, of mind, heart, and body, we call education. It can not be bestowed or brought,—it is an achievement. It can not be shortened to a few weeks or a few months. It comes only with years of growth. "Training" is the quick mastery of tricks or formulas to apply to some a narrow range of actions. Education is not that, but it is the flowering and fruiting of life in its greatest enlargement through a period of years. The college is the epitome of the world. Here cultured growth may be found. The student here finds the level of the race. He approaches it, passes it, and raises it, in turn.

Men grew when there were no schools. They grow now in some instances unaided by the schools. But the school is the place where the experiences of the race have been brought together and made usable by the youth.

The College and Genius: Shakespeare was superior to all colleges, of all times. That is true. "He knew little Latin and less Greek," but he would have been forgotten but for the colleges which have made his genius available to students. Thomas Edison has taught the colleges and universities electricity. They in turn have given him their degrees and have furnished an army of men to teach men his science and his inventions. Edison, no less than Shakespeare, owes his immortality to the college. He thinks, naturally, as most men are trained to think. It is a waste of time to have a child study Shakespeare. He thinks for the high school, college, and university man.

But "genius knows no law," and he who assumes genius and spurns the help of the college, takes a hazardous risk for winning a high place in the world and a good name for himself.

The Appeal: "Who neglects learning in his youth, loses the past and is dead to the future." (Euripides)

The college with its libraries, laboratories, tradition; and faculties are the treasures of the world's true riches. Here the rare thoughts of its rare men are preserved for the youth of the land. It is the lock and dam on which the new generation is elevated to the level of the race by participation in the thought and actions of men of all times and climes. It is the training camp for entering life's battles. It is the place where the arms and armor are kept for the youth who will enter the list as a knight. It is the one opportunity for him who would save time and means in making a man, or a woman of larger mould.

Its Patrons: Washington was a scholar, and he urged congress to create a national university at the capital. Jefferson, the father of formulated American Democracy, was one of the best scholars of his time, and although the author of the Declaration of Independence his proudest achievement was the founding of the University of Virginia. While politics is not attractive to men of scholarly habits, it may be of interest to you to know that by actual count, every member of the Supreme Court of the United States, at present, is a college-bred man. All of President Wilson's cabinet are college men, except Mr. Redfield, Sec'y of Commerce. Forty-nine United States Senators are college graduates, sixteen others had college training, twenty-five have had only a common school education. Remember that the product of the college goes largely to the offices and desks of the professional men, railroads, large commercial houses, and factories, and then look at this list of great men now before the American public,—Theodore Roosevelt, a Harvard man; William Jennings Bryan, A. B., A. M., LL. B., Illinois colleges, Chicago; and Frank Arthur Vandilip, Y. M. C. A. and Thrift campaigns fame, one of the greatest of American financiers, A. M., from the University of Illinois; John R. Mott, Ph. B. from Yale; Thomas Nelson Page, Ambassador to Italy, is from Washington and Lee University; Walter Hines Page, Ambassador to England, from Randolph-Macon and John Hopkins; Herbert Hoover, A. B. from University of California. About eighty per cent of the Presidents of the United States have been college-bred,—an unbroken line since Cleveland. A greater number of college men today are prominent in public life, than ever before in our history. Our times are redeemed and glorified in the eyes of the world by the great American President who embodies in his person the best traditions of the Christian home, of the untrammeled college, and the democratic state. He is in charge of the affairs of more than half the world. His god-like intellect must solve the involved problems of the mad empires. In his sense of disciplined justice, a tired world finds hope of lasting peace.

Its Mission: The mission of the college is to grow men to their full size. The history of the world bears testimony to success of its high purpose. Its labors give its own definition of the relative term "practical." It would seem that those institutions that produced a Bryan, Roosevelt, and Wilson, were just as "practical" as those that teach how to fatten hogs.

Finally: The college is not the bond slave of the home, the church, nor the state, but it is the ally of them all. The school is the microcosm that surrounds the home, through which the youth should pass on his way to his work. It is the faithful friend and co-laborer of the church, and the protagonist of those doctrines of the church that will stand the test of the trenches. It is a fountain pouring its health-giving stream into the arteries of the State. The colleges are to-day giving their service in most remarkable efficiency at the nation's capital. The war first drew on the colleges for potential officers for the civilian army that "sprang to arms over night." In this time of awful stress and strain, the government has called for the product of the college, and has not been disappointed. The American college has justified its existence by the offerings that it brings to the country's altar in this fateful hour.

The college is the mind, the church is the heart, the State is the will of the people. Each has its place and its part, and neither can say to the other, "I have no need of thee." The people laugh and the land flourishes when each performs its function freely and faithfully, and all guard the home.

THE WEST TEXAS STATE NORMAL COLLEGE:

In a closing paragraph, hear a personal reference to our own beloved institution. As one who is intimate with its heart beats from its "immaculate" conception to this good hour, let me bear testimony to the truth that no unholy desires or impulses have breathed a foul breath upon its white robes. What has been done about it, in it, or for it, has been from as high and unselfish a purpose as ever took form in the brain and heart of men. It stands to-day an offering up on the altar of our country and of God. It has unfolded, like a rose in bloom. It has proceeded on its predetermined course to cooperate with the church, strengthen the state and bless the homes of men.

Its Unwritten Motto: "Veritas et lux." It should continue to develop into a professional college of the first rank. Its courses of study should expand to meet the increasing demands of the times. Its industrial departments should expand to meet all the rational demands for this kind of work in this part of the State. Its fine arts departments should be enlarged to meet the cultural needs of the students of West Texas. Its college departments should pay college salaries and employ men and women of the highest preparation and performances. Its purpose will not be accomplished until every room in every school in the Panhandle has a trained teacher, employed at a good salary for nine months in the year, in a good house, well equipped for the best work of all kinds; until every home shall have felt the thrifty touch of its industrial departments, and the refining influences of its fine arts departments, and the benign impulse of all its labors.

A Little Sound Advice Will Help Many a Sufferer in Canyon.

No woman should consider herself healthy and well if the kidneys are weak. Poisons that pass off in the secretions when the kidneys are well, are retained in the body when the kidneys are disordered. If the kidneys and bladder become inflamed and swollen. This is often the cause of bearing-down pains, lameness, backache, etc. Uric poisoning is also frequent cause of headaches, dizzy spells, languor, nervousness and rheumatic pain.

When suffering so, try Doan's Kidney Pills, a remedy that has proven effective in thousands of such cases. Let a Canyon woman tell of her experience.

Mrs. M. A. Higginbotham, says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at the Holland Drug Co. several years ago for kidney complaint and they proved very satisfactory. They cured me of the trouble and I have not been bothered since. Another of the family has also used Doan's Kidney Pills with the same good results."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Higginbotham had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

A man blew into Hereford last week and threatened to put in a pool room. There was a great wave of remonstrance, and resolutions were adopted at a public meeting. A few weeks ago Canyon was threatened by the same kind of a pest. The owner of the proposed joint has failed to show up. It would be a very fine idea to have a pool hall election before any hall opens up in Canyon. Under a conflict in the law and decision of the courts, civil and criminal, after a hall once opens, if the owner is smooth enough, he may defeat a pool hall election. But with the election being held before anyone is interested, the county may be made forever immune from such nuisances.

It might also be well in planning your war garden to make war on the marauding chickens of your neighbor. It is seldom that the raiser of a garden will let his own chickens get into his own garden, but he is strictly unbiased about the fate of the other fellow's garden.

Says Watoga Lady, "As To What Cardui Has Done For Me, So As To Help Others."

Watoga, W. Va.—Mrs. S. W. Gladwell, of this town, says: "When about 15 years of age, I suffered greatly. . . Sometimes would go a month or two, and I had terrible headache, backache, and bearing-down pains, and would just drag and had no appetite. Then . . . it would last . . . two weeks, and was so weakening, and my health was awful. My mother bought me a bottle of Cardui, and I began to improve after taking the first bottle, so kept it up till I took three. . . I gained, and was well and strong, and I owe it all to Cardui. I am married and now have 3 children. . . Have never had to have a doctor for female trouble, and just resort to Cardui if I need a tonic. I am glad to testify to what it has done for me, so as to help others."

If you are nervous or weak, have headaches, backaches, or any of the other ailments so common to women, why not give Cardui a trial? Recommended by many physicians. In use over 40 years. Begin taking Cardui today. It may be the very medicine you need.

of wheat for the 1918 crop at $2.20, the same price as the 1917 crop. This was done in order to head off legislation which was being proposed in which the price was set at various amounts, ranging up to $3.00. The effect of the agitation was to cause a stoppage in the shipment of wheat to the mills, awaiting a higher price. It was estimated that a large number of mills would have been forced to shut down had not this action been taken.

Praises Company G.

The following order from Camp Bowie is of great interest to the people of Canyon owing to the large number of Randall county boys who are in this company:

2nd Battalion, 142nd Inf. Camp Bowie, Texas. December 6th, 1917.

Company Commander, Officers and enlisted men of Company G:

The Battalion Commander takes this opportunity to express to the officers and enlisted men of G Company, 142nd Infantry, his recognition and appreciation of the magnificent esprit de corps displayed by that organization under trying conditions.

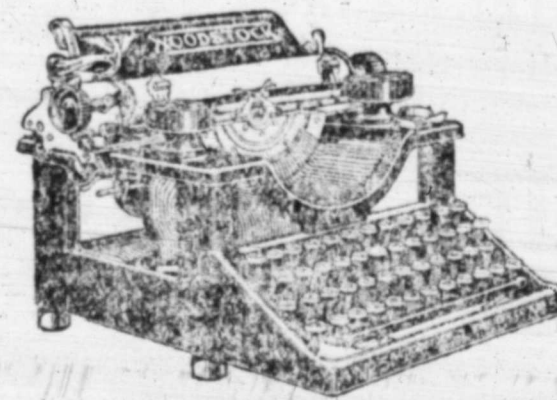

Official records show that G Company has had only one case of absence without leave since entry into the service, a record that is not equaled so far as information is available, by any other organization at this station. While this record is a source of pride to the Battalion Commander it must be and should justly be immeasurably more so to the members of this organization. Such spirit so consistently displayed by this organization though thousands of miles away from the glory and sacrifice of battle is yet a guarantee to the superior officers of this organization of the conduct and glorious service such men, will and beyond any doubt, render on the bloody fields of France.

W. L. CULBERSON, Major, 142nd Infantry.

Women Love Babies

It is woman's nature to naturally respond to the charm of a pretty child. Who does not admire babies? The longing to possess a baby is often outweighed by the inherent fear of the period of distress. There is a most wonderful external preparation known as "Mother's Friend".

It is a safe external massage which relieves pain and discomfort at the crisis; makes elastic those fibers and muscles which nature is expanding, and wonderfully soothes the inflammation of breast glands.

It enables the expectant mother to preserve her health and strength, and she remains a pretty mother by having avoided the suffering and danger which would otherwise accompany such an occasion. Every nerve, muscle and tendon is thoroughly lubricated. Get a bottle today from the druggist, and write to the Bradford Regulator Co., Dept. G, 200 Lamar Building, Atlanta, Ga. They will mail you an intensely interesting little book, "Motherhood and the Baby". The book is free. Every woman should herself aid nature in her glorious work. "Mother's Friend" makes it possible for you to do so and should be used regularly without fail night and morning.

FOR YOUR WAR COOK BOOK

Louisiana-Rice Corn Bread.

Rice improves either plain cornbread or cornbread made with eggs and milk. Use it in both. Cornbread made with eggs and milk is rich in protein and makes a good meal served with a little gravy. This recipe from Louisiana is not extravagant for the housekeeper who has an abundance of eggs and milk.

3 eggs
1 pint milk
1½ cups cold boiled rice
1½ cups cornmeal
2 tablespoons melted fat
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder.

Beat eggs very light; add ingredients in order named; beat hard and bake in shallow greased pan in hot oven.

Mexican Frijoles.

Soak one pint of beans over night. Boil them four hours. Heat two tablespoons drippings in a frying pan; add beans; cook them ten minutes, mashing slightly. Serve with sauce made by the following recipe.

Chicken "Pilau".

The rooster is the foundation for that famous dish of chicken and rice which the French call "Pilau". The combination has remained an American favorite through all the changes of spicing. The Florida boys, who love to concoct this stew when camping in the woods, call it "Perlew".

Make it by boiling the chicken until the meat comes off the bone. Season well, and add enough rice to thicken the stew. Cook until the rice is soft. The stew should be thick enough to eat with a fork.

The stew served with a green salad or stewed fruit makes a complete meal, as the rice takes the place of bread. The Spanish, who are very fond of this chicken and rice combination, add pimientos just before removing the stew from the fire, and the 'stew, when served, is a complete one-piece dinner.

Sauce for Frijoles.

Rub together one cup tomatoes, one small onion and five green chilies until they form a paste. Add one-half teaspoon salt. Cook the mixture just long enough for it to become heated through.

Simple Sugarless Dessert.

Hot rice or hasty pudding (cornmeal mush) served with a sweet sauce makes a simple wholesome dessert. Chopped raisins or dates may be added to either but no sugar is needed. Here are a few easily made sauces:

Honey Sauce.

1 cup honey
1-4 cup water
1 tablespoon butter substitute
1-4 teaspoon salt
1-4 teaspoon cinnamon
A dash of nutmeg
Juice of 1 lemon or 2 tablespoons vinegar.

Boil together 15 minutes. The juice of one orange and grated peel may be used instead of lemon and seasoning in this recipe.

Great saving may be made by a careful handling, especially of perishable crops, and this one year we cannot afford to divide with the insects.

Life Wisdom.

We can finish nothing in this life; but we may make a beginning and bequeath a noble example.—Samuel Smiles.

Honorable old age is not that which standeth in length of time, nor is its measure given by number of years; but understanding is gray hairs unto men, and an unspotted life is ripe old age.—Book of Wisdom.

Every man is divinity in disguise, a god playing the fool.—Emerson.

In every work of genius we recognize our own rejected thoughts; they come back to us with a certain alienated majesty.—Emerson.

Should a day come when you stand in profoundest need of another's sympathy, would you go to him who was wont to greet the passage of beauty with a sneering smile?—Maeterlinck.

It is a shame for the soul to be first to give way in this life, when the body does not give.—Marcus Aurelius.

Kindness is wisdom. There is none in life but needs it and may learn.—Bailey.

Shipping Regulations Amended.

Amendment 3 Bureau, of Animal Industry order 245, effective January 2, 1918, which provides for interstate shipment of hogs for purposes other than slaughter, makes some changes, one of which doubtless will stimulate trade in stock hogs to no small extent. Amendment 1 to this order effective July 1, 1917, required that hogs given the "simultaneous inoculation method" of treatment for preventing of hog cholera be held under supervision for a period of seven days before shipment. The new amendment eliminates this period of supervision and provides practically the same restrictions as for hogs treated by the "Serum alone method". All such shipments, however, must be made to states, the regulations of which provided for the segregation of imported hogs for at least three weeks, and subject, of course, to all other state regulations at destination. Minimum dose of serum and of virus are also designated in the new order.

His Sheep Topped the Market.

S. M. Swearingen, of Happy, passed through Amarillo last week, on his return from Kansas City where he marketed 116 head of sheep. His ewe lambs, ewes, yearling weathers and rams topped the market—and brought him $1,557. These sheep were fed out on wheat screenings, corn and cold pressed cake and were an exceptionally fine lot.

Mr. Swearingen is an enthusiastic sheep grower and couldn't resist the opportunity to invest in more flock improvers. He bought 14 head of registered animals at a cost of $875—which we suspect means that he will carry off another bunch of blue ribbons at the fair, this fall.

He got the best that he could buy from the best show flocks in Kansas, Missouri, Iowa and Indiana.

FARMERS WARNED OF NEW SWINDLE

MAN IS ADVERTISING THAT HE WILL ORGANIZE FARM LOAN ASSOCIATIONS FOR $500.

SMALL TOWNS MAKE RECORD

Ahead of Cities in Buying the Smilage Books—American Soldiers Lost on Tuscania Protected by Government Insurance.

Washington.—Another scheme for swindling the farmers of the United States has been discovered by the federal farm loan board. A man advertising himself as an authorized organizer of national farm-loan associations is sending out advertising matter emblazoned with the national flag, stating that he will organize such associations at $500 each, and will teach others the trick for a certain sum of money. His advertisements have reached farmers and business men over a large part of the United States. He claims to be so busy organizing national farm-loan associations that he needs help, but will take time to teach others for a monetary consideration.

All such representations are fraudulent. In order to borrow under the farm-loan act, it is necessary for farmers to organize co-operative national farm-loan associations in their local communities. It is a violation of a ruling of the federal farm loan board, published more than a year ago, for a national farm-loan association or a joint-stock land bank to spend any money for promotion purposes. Associations thus organized will not be chartered by the federal farm loan board. Farmers are warned therefore against anyone asking a fee for his proffered services in connection with applying for a loan under the federal farm-loan act.

Results of the smilage campaign, which put books of theater admission coupons on sale in nearly every town and city in the country, show the small towns and villages far ahead of the cities in overselling their proportionate quotas of books.

Pilot Rock, Ore., was the first town in the country to send in a check. Laurens, Iowa, a town of 900 population, took in $100 before the first smilage book was received. Titonka, Iowa, with 200 population, bought $63 worth of books, the largest sale in proportion to population yet returned.

The coupons in smilage books are exchanged by the soldiers for admission to entertainments in theaters built in the camps by the commission on training camp activities. Admission charges range from 10 cents to 25 cents, or from two to five smilage coupons.

Any American soldiers lost on the torpedoed transport were protected by United States government insurance and government compensation. Those who had not applied for insurance were covered by automatic insurance, which is payable to a wife, child or widowed mother. The automatic insurance aggregates about $4,300, netting $25 a month for 240 months. Insurance that had been applied for is payable to a much larger class of beneficiaries and can go as high as $10,000, netting $57.50 a month for 240 months.

The compensation in case of death, given by the government without charge and regardless of rank or pay, ranges from $20 to $75 a month, based on the number of dependents. Payments under the compensation feature of the military and naval insurance act in case of death are payable to a widow, children, or dependent widowed mother.

The automatic insurance ceased on February 12, but the compensation feature of the act is a separate provision. The scale of compensation in case of death follows:

- (a) For a widow alone, $25.
- (b) For a widow and one child, $35.
- (c) For a widow and two children, $47.50, with $5 for each additional child up to two.
- (d) If there be no widow, then for one child, $20.
- (e) For two children, $30.
- (f) For three children, $40, with $5 for each additional child up to two.
- (g) For a widowed mother, $20. The amount payable under this subdivision shall not be greater than a sum which when added to the total amount payable to the widow and children, does not exceed $75.

To meet the shortage of small silver change in Norway a large issue of one-crown notes (at normal exchange the Norwegian crown is worth 26.8 cents United States currency) has been put in circulation.

The United States public health service is carrying on a campaign along sanitary lines in areas adjacent to 28 military camps. Complete sanitary organizations work to prevent the spread of disease from the civilian population to military forces, and to protect civilians from communicable diseases where they have occurred among troops.

The organizations include physicians, sanitary engineers, nurses, attendants and laborers. Methods undertaken include inspection of all establishments handling food supplies.

The committee on public information has received the following excerpt from a speech in the German reichstag by Herr Ledebour, joint leader of the independent socialists:

"Again has an opportunity been neglected to satisfy the world's longing for peace. It is plain that a step backward has been taken and that the political authorities have completely adopted the military views of the conservatives. It is very disquieting for friends of peace to hear the chancellor say that we now have a free hand in the west. Czernin's speech is a striking refutation of Hertling's, for Czernin accepts Wilson's proposals as the basis of understanding, whereas the chancellor rejects them. We hope nevertheless, that we shall soon have the negotiations, which Czernin's action permits us to expect. We can not agree to Czernin's and Kaehlmann's interpretation of the right of self-determination. We want general peace on a democratic foundation. The pretended popular manifestations in the occupied territory were brought about under the influence of the German administration. The creation of the kingdom of Poland was a tremendous mistake. The German government must give up its false methods, and we shall soon have peace in the east. The true opinions of nations can only be expressed by a referendum after evacuation. The Fatherland party wanted to replace Hertling with Prince Buelow, but that is no longer necessary. Militarism has won the day, and the proletariat must force peace on the basis of the reconciliation of all nations."

Complaints have been made to the pigeon section of the signal corps that carrier pigeons of the racing-homer type, being trained throughout the United States for communication service with the American army, have been shot by persons on hunting expeditions.

Because of the important part carrier and homing pigeons are playing in the war, and the need for their breeding and development in this country, the war department has considerably expanded the pigeon section of the signal corps. Homing pigeons constitute one of the most effective means of communication in the army.

Any pigeon in the air may be a carrier pigeon flying from a loft under government supervision. Its destruction may be a serious loss to the American army. Anyone coming into possession of pigeons labeled "U. S. A.—18," indicating they are being trained for army purposes, is requested to report the fact at once to the office of the chief signal officer, land division, Washington, D. C.

Special courses of training for athletic instructors have been established at Camp Kearney, Linda Vista, Cal. One lieutenant and one noncommissioned officer from each company have been detailed to take the courses which include boxing, wrestling and calisthenics. The classes are held three times each week, and the officers in turn instruct their men.

Two athletic fields have been laid out at Camp Lewis, American Lake, Wash., and stands with seating capacity of from 10,000 to 15,000 persons built at a cost of $3,000 each. The expense was met with funds derived from athletic contests and entertainments given by the men.

Attendance at boxing at Camp Upton, Yaphank, N. Y., to which officers and noncommissioned officers have been assigned, has been made compulsory.

According to a late report, of the 1,800,000 women engaged in agriculture in the United States, 750,000 are under twenty years of age and 1,050,000 are negroes. A majority of the woman workers are found in the Southern states.

The lines of work in which women will be likely to increase their farming activities, according to the report, are vegetable gardening, poultry raising, butter making, hog raising, etc. It is suggested that women who know how to operate motorcars may with little additional training operate tractors.

Now that American troops are taking their places in the trenches, attention is again directed to an estimate by the secretary of war, that the losses up to June 1, 1917, of the British expeditionary forces from deaths in action and from wounds amounted to but 7 per cent of the total of all men sent to France since the beginning of the war.

The ratio of losses of this character today, because of improved tactics, is less than 7 to every 100 men.

It is the opinion of the United States food administration that the gross maximum profit for wholesalers in flour should not exceed from 50 to 75 cents per barrel. The profit to retail dealers in original mill packages should not exceed from 80 cents to $1.20 per barrel, depending upon the character of service performed. Where retailers sell in amounts less than the original mill packages, the gross profit should not exceed 1 cent a pound.

Women with a fluent knowledge of French are being trained in several cities for work in France as telephone operators with the expeditionary forces. They will not be sent over in one unit, but ordered to go in groups from time to time. No information can be given as to the locality in which they will be stationed.

Men who are capable of handling horses are still wanted for the veterinary corps. They must be physically fit and hot of selective-service age.

Captain Casement on Tuscania.
Capt. Dan D. Casement of Manhattan, Kans., well known as a Hereford breeder and as an extensive cattleman, was on board the Tuscania, the United States transport recently sunk by a submarine off the coast of Ireland. Captain Casement was one of the first survivors of the ill-fated vessel to reach land and immediately cabled Mrs. Casement of his safety. This message reached Manhattan several hours before the newspapers received the news of the sinking of the Tuscania.—American Hereford Journal.

ARE GERMANY'S SILENT ALLIES

They will help the Kaiser. They will kill American soldiers.

Every bit of waste, every extravagance takes force the power America must put into the war to win. Every penny spent for luxuries and unnecessary things is a penny lost to the production and purchase of food, clothing, supplies, ships, and munitions for our soldiers.

As long as we spend wastefully, Germany will receive silent but powerful help from America; just so much farther away is the Day of Peace.

Don't spend thoughtlessly or unnecessarily. Save! With high wages and plenty of work for everyone there never was such an opportunity to help to help yourself and help your country.

Save to help the Government. Lend your savings to your Country—

A New Sweet Corn.
That eastern varieties of sweet corn do not succeed well in the arid southwest is a matter of common knowledge among the truck growers and market gardeners. Such varieties as Stowell's Evergreen, Oregon Evergreen and the Country Gentleman which produce all right for us around Denver are so uncertain and generally unproductive in Arizona that they are but seldom planted there. In consideration of this fact Professor Freeman of the experiment station at Tucson had to go to work and propagate a native sort that would do. He found some grains of Squaw corn in the Papago villages and has developed them by hybridization and otherwise into a very acceptable variety which is called the Papago. The average weight of the Papago ears is more than twice that of the eastern sorts.—Field and Farm.

"FORGET SELF; BE AMERICANS, DO YOUR PART"

—William G. McAdoo.

RICH AND POOR, OLD AND YOUNG CAN SERVE AND MUST AID TO BRING VICTORY

"We have a great deal of money to raise and it cannot be raised by bankers alone.

"The banks of this country have not the resources to sustain America's needs in this war and to enable America to extend to our Allies who are fighting with us the essential aid which they must have to enable them to go on with the war.

"The rich people of this country alone cannot do it. The men of this country alone cannot do it. The women of this country alone cannot do it.

"But all of us, the people of the United States, by disregarding partisanship, forgetting selfish interest, thinking only of the supremacy of the right and determined to vindicate the majesty of our ideals and to secure the safety of America and civilization, can do this great and splendid piece of work.

"Our business these days is to think only in terms of America; to forget self; to forget ambition; to forget partisanship; to forget everything except right and justice and triumph for America's cause and the suppression forever of those infamous things which have cast civilization itself into the darkness during these last three horrible years.

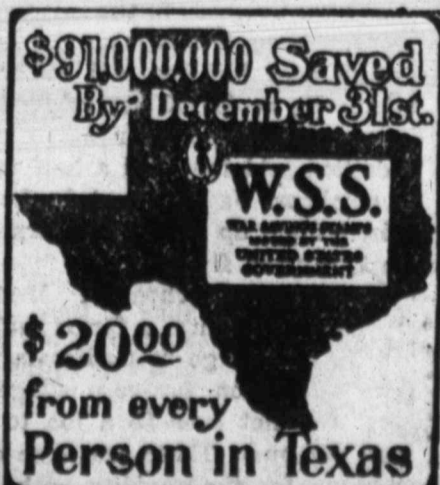

"Every man, woman and child in this country who wants to serve can serve and each can serve in a very simple and effective way. Every twenty-five cent piece invested in war savings stamps is a loan to your Government and every twenty-five cent piece will do something to help."—From speech delivered at Washington by William G. McAdoo, secretary of the United States Treasury.

STAMPS SHOULD BE IN ALL TEX. CASH DRAWERS

The Government wants thrift and war savings stamps sold in every store, in every bank and in all places frequented by the public. To become an agent it is only necessary to obtain an application blank from the County Chairman or State Director of the National War Savings Committee, sign it and mail to the State Director at Dallas, Tex. Stamps may be obtained from the Federal Reserve Bank or through the local bank or postoffice. In becoming an agent there is no loss liability as the thrift stamps are always convertible into War Savings Stamps which are worth more every month and can be cashed at the postoffice at any time at what they cost plus interest.

Equal Rights A Myth.

Attorney General B. F. Looney has made a ruling that aliens are ineligible to be notaries public. The attorney general must have been in a very serious vein when he dictated the opinion, which states that it is expecting entirely too much of human nature to require an alien enemy who owes allegiance to a government at war with this government to faithfully live up to the observations of his oath. Why should an alien be appointed notary public? Why should an alien be permitted to hold land? Why should a man who refuses to become a naturalized citizen be granted special privileges?—Ft. Worth Record.

For the simple reason, Mr. Fort Worth Record, that an alien can come into Texas, live one year, and with no other qualification whatever, walk right up to the polls and vote just as big a ticket as any man can. And the reason is that the politicians of east and southern Texas want it this way, so they can bring in and vote just as many negroes and Mexicans as is necessary to control the elections. We people in the West believe that citizenship is an honor and to vote is a sacred emblem of liberty, bought by devotion to our state and our flag, and that it should not be a pawn placed in the hands of politicians to be bartered away to illiterate degenerates. But the political losses who rule Texas say otherwise; and we in the West are not given recognition and have no redress from being ruled by such a class of voters.—Slaton Slatonite.

The defeats and disappointments of virtue bring with them no gloom or distress, for they do but serve to calm and enlighten our thoughts.—Maeterlinck.

Umbarger Notes.

The weather is tolerably warm but still very windy.

Clint Abbott has moved to the J. Fink place last week which he has leased for this year.

Ed Avers intends to move to the C. Friemel place, soon. That is the place from which Clint Abbott moved.

A great number of relatives gave Mrs. E. J. Friemel a surprise party Sunday, as she celebrated her birthday.

Miss Francis Beckman visited with her parents the last part of this week. She returned to school Monday.

Walter John Hess from Umbarger left Saturday. He is in the first draft of soldiers and ready and anxious to serve his country.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bedenk were business callers in Amarillo Friday.

Miss Anna Eriemel who has been staying with her sister, Mrs. M. Hollenstein, who was shot some time ago but is now doing very well, returned home Friday.

Mrs. P. Friemel was given a surprise party Sunday in honor of her 67th birthday. Those present were John Battenhorst and family, E. J. Friemel and family, C. Friemel and family, John Bedenk and wife, Joe Friemel and family, Mrs. George Frank and children, Leo Stocker and family, Miss Laura Barend, Ernest Weynand and Otto Potzemmy and family.

John Battenhorst, Sr., has gone to San Antonio on business.

Mr. Paul Artho entertained a company of gentlemen friends last Friday.

Several families in Umbarger have been sick with the measles but are now all well again.

Rev. J. J. Doyle drove to Happy Sunday to give the Catholics in Happy their monthly services.

Nick Hollenstein and wife celebrated their fourth wedding anniversary Sunday. A large circle of friends were present and spent a pleasant afternoon.

M. Hollenstein and P. Friemel sold a carload of kafir corn last week.

E. J. Friemel is papering his house. M. Hollenstein was in Amarillo Sunday to see his wife, of whom he is happy to report, her condition is much improved and she will soon be able to come home.

The price of eggs is running very low now so many people are setting their incubators.

Belgium Baby Sewing Circle

The women of Umbarger are seriously thinking of their country's name, and are now trying to live up to it. One by one they are considering and beginning to realize the foreign countries' needs.

Mrs. W. L. Brodie and Miss Florence Croughan first saw the directions for making "Belgium Baby Clothes" and at once undertook to make six little outfits.

Of course something was said about it to others, and now several women are interested enough that they are making several bags.

Mrs. Bennett has made one child's outfit and in a few days will have several more bags ready.

Mrs. Tucek has made one child's outfit.

Mrs. Durham will have her bags

To Resist the Attack

of the germs of many diseases such as Grip, Malaria, means for all of us—fight or die. These germs are everywhere in the air we breathe. The odds are in favor of the germ, if the liver is inactive and the blood impure.

What is needed most is an increase in the germ-fighting strength. To do this successfully you need to put on healthy flesh, rouse the liver to vigorous action, so it will throw off these germs, and purify the blood so that there will be no "weak spots," or soil for germ-growth.

We claim for Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery that it does all this in a way peculiar to itself. It cures troubles caused by torpid liver or impure blood. Liquid or tablets. All druggists. Tablets, 60 cents. Send Dr. V. M. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., 10 cents for trial package.

FOBT WORTH, TEXAS.—"It is with pleasure I write saying, over 40 years ago I was in business in Cayuga Co., New York, and sold Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines and always found they gave my customers entire satisfaction. I think every household should have these remedies on hand. By using them and following the directions many doctor bills will be saved. I most certainly recommend them to one and all. I came to Texas a number of years ago. I still keep Dr. Pierce's medicines in mind, and the 'Golden Medical Discovery' I can honestly say has no equal. I always keep a bottle on hand to take when I feel a little out of sorts, and especially as a spring tonic."—H. L. Downs, O. L. V. College.

ready in a few days.

We are hoping to get a few more women interested in this work.

Although Mrs. Brodie has very little time for sewing of any sort, as she works in the store, but this does not keep her from contributing largely to each bag, as well as bearing the postage expenses for sending the packages away. She seems to think this is very little for her to do.

Besides this, Mr. and Mrs. Brodie work for the government every day, and when a contribution is called for for some worthy charity, they are always there "Johnny-on-the-spot."

Mrs. Brodie and Miss Croughan for the past months have been sending large boxes to the Reynolds Presbyterian Orphanage at Albany, Texas.

Although Umbarger is a very small country town, this has not kept the postmaster, Mr. Brodie, from selling a large number of War Saving Certificates.

We certainly wished there were more of the same kind of people who are not afraid to do something and not be praised for it.

If there were more people like Mr. and Mrs. Brodie who do their work for their country, because they love it, not because they wanted to be praised. Contributed.

Methodist Church.

Sunday School at 9:45. We need you at Sunday School. The race with Hereford on the per centage basis puts us a little to the disadvantage on account of our larger enrollment, but we must put Canyon away ahead during this month, which will close the contest. Be sure to be on hand Sunday.

Preaching at 11 o'clock followed by Communion.

Junior League at 4 o'clock.

Senior League at 6:45.

Evening service at 7:30. This will be a Patriotic Service in honor of our boys who have gone into service. Special announcement of this service appears separately.

Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30. The Prayer Meeting during March will be in the hands of the Woman's Missionary Society.

Everyone is cordially invited to all our services.

R. A. STEWART, Pastor.

Why They Build Silos.

Twenty-five tons an acre has been by no means uncommon for silage production in the irrigated districts of northern Colorado in the last two seasons. Sam Crowley, on the Letford ranch near Milliken, did better than that. He made 100 tons of first-class corn silage from four acres and in addition sold four and a half tons to a neighbor. James Flood, in the same district, put up 100 tons of corn silage in 1916 from five acres.

In the neighborhood of Berthoud, in Larimer county, a farmer sold out in the fall to go to California. He got $15 a ton for corn silage that cost him not over $5 a ton to grow and put up. These are some of the reasons for the rapidity with which silos are being built in the irrigated

CALOMEL SALIVATES AND MAKES YOU SICK

Acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver and you lose a day's work.

There's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel when a few cents buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone—a perfect substitute for calomel.

It is a pleasant, vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and can not salivate. Children and grown folks can take Dodson's Liver Tone, because it is perfectly harmless.

Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury and attacks your bones. Take a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone instead and you will wake up feeling great. No more biliousness, constipation, sluggishness, headache, coated tongue or sour stomach. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tone acts better than horrible calomel your money is waiting for you.
