

Interesting Account of Heavy Fighting by One of Randall's Doughboys

Somewhere in France, Nov. 28, 1918.

My Dear Alex, Hope you are well and happy. I can say that for myself.

Today is thanksgiving, how ever no turkey and cranberries, yet one of the most important of my life. I have more to be thankful for this day than I ever expect to experience again in my life.

I have been in the big game since Sept. 12th. On this famous morning the 90th division went over the top along side other American divisions of the American first army on the St. Mihiel salient in the Toul and Nancy sections.

As I did not have an opportunity to mail this on our trip now I will finish and mail it out. Well we were hiked from Juvigny France thru Trimborg passing through many nice cities.

We crossed the Maselle river on Dec. 6th at 9:00 a. m. bands playing and the Stars and Strips waving freely to the breeze. We followed the Maselle river up to near Geralsstein.

The Germans as a whole have treated us fine now and then we run across a German who has operated field guns or machine guns against us and we have some great times exchanging experiences.

Give my regards to the family, with best wishes for all. Sgt. George with best wishes for all.

The following tax receipts were issued by Collector Worth Jennings up to February 1st:

There were 12 exemptions issued in Precinct No. 1. Few women paid their poll tax as there is no primary in which they may vote this year.

Consider the bad year we have just had Collector Jennings states he is well pleased with the tax receipts coming to his office.

JUDICIAL BILL PASSED ON PENDING SENATE LAND BILL

HON. FRANK BUIE, SENATOR

We have closely read S. B. No. 109, together with the report of the Committee, that it do pass, hence permit us to say that it should not pass, because it gives the Commissioner of the General Land Office both legal and discretionary powers, far too great in one man.

(1) All lands located by virtue of alternate certificates.

(2) All lands located by virtue of non-alternate or straight Certificates.

(3) All lands sold under Act July 14th, 1879.

(4) The bill authorizes the Commissioner to recognize the original work of the original surveyor, by looking to the original corners and lines, calls for natural and artificial objects, calls for the corners and boundaries of other surveys or by the maps and other records in the general land office.

(5) The bill should not give one man the discretionary power to disturb one portion of the state and leave the other portion undisturbed.

(6) The acts of 1887, page 107, and act of 1889 page 103, went just as far as the Legislature thought at that time, it had the power to go, and this bill repeals those acts and in effect says to the people of Texas, when you buy lands from Texas, the state reserves the right to ignore the acts of the state surveyor and Commissioner of General Land office, fifty years after their official acts are done.

Dangerous legislation, and may you not act before you think.

Respectfully submitted, B. FRANK BUIE, Canyon, Texas.

President Hill Outlines Development of West Texas State Normal

Institutions are the instruments with which men accomplish their collective purposes. Governmental institutions express man's aspirations for social order and were originally created to bring about such peaceful relations among men as would make for orderly and consistent progress.

Institutions, then, are created by the people for the people, and are not ends in themselves. They are only agents or instruments to be used for the betterment of certain ends.

I have said this much about public institutions, in general, in order to get a background for what I wish to say about the West Texas State Normal College in particular.

The West Texas State Normal College is now in its ninth regular session, having opened its doors in September, 1910. It has given instruction to 8376 students, many of whom have come for several years.

There is, perhaps, a greater percent of self-supporting students at the West Texas State Normal College than at any other educational institution in the State.

But the school does not depend entirely upon this method of interpreting and serving the public needs. Members of the faculty are almost constantly on the field in some official relation. Not a year has passed since the Institution was opened that members of the faculty have not delivered dozens of addresses to teachers' institutes, high school classes, women's clubs, commercial organizations, farmers' meetings, etc.

Beginning with the opening of the spring term, February 24, the institution is offering, among others, the following services:

A lecture course of quality, quantity and balance, illustrated lectures and addresses to clubs, schools teachers' meetings, churches and farmers' gatherings and a teachers' bureau whose services are free to both teacher and school authorities.

We realize that this institution belongs to the people and the people are entitled to the best that is in us. They have here the best single school house owned by the state and its equipment is rapidly approaching perfection.

I believe in boys and girls, the men and women of a great tomorrow; that whatsoever the boy soweth the man shall reap. I believe in the curse of ignorance, in the efficacy of schools, in the dignity of teaching, and in the joy of serving another.

I believe in wisdom as revealed in human lives, as well as in the pages of a printed book; in lessons taught not so much by precept as by example; in ability to work with the hands as well as to think with the head; in everything that makes life large and lovely.

I believe in beauty in the schoolroom, in the home, in daily life, and out of doors. I believe in laughter, in love, in all ideals and distant hopes that lure us on. I believe that every hour of every day we receive a just reward for all we are and all we do.

ATTENDANCE IN NORMAL GROWS YEAR BY YEAR

It should be of interest to the people of West Texas to know that the West Texas State Normal College has had a remarkable growth during its nine years of existence.

Five hundred and ninety-eight uniforms of the Hohenzollerns were left by the Kaiser in Berlin. What the so-called government of Germany will do with them is not yet known.

Those of us who are past middle age are prone to eat too much meat and in consequence deposit lime-salts in the arteries, veins and joints. We often suffer from twinges of rheumatism or lumbago, sometimes from gout, swollen hands or feet. There is no longer the slightest need of this, however, as the new prescription, "Anuric," is found to give immediate results as it is many times more potent than lithia, in ridding the impoverished blood of its poisons by way of the kidneys. It can be obtained at almost any drug store, by simply asking for "Anuric" for kidneys or backache. It will overcome such conditions as rheumatism, dropsical swellings, cold extremities, scalding and burning urine and sleeplessness due to constant arising from bed at night.

Send to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for a 10c. trial package.
BRADNER, CAL.—"I recommend Doctor Pierce's Anuric very highly. I have suffered for the last three years with catarrh of the bladder, having tried every remedy I heard of but without relief. I saw Anuric advertised in the paper, and like a drowning man I grabbed at a straw I thought I would try it also. Well, I did with great success, as it relieved me almost immediately, before I had taken half of the trial package, and having great confidence in the remedy I immediately sent to your drug store and bought a full-size package. You can see by examining the bottle from any disease of the bladder or kidneys, try this remedy and you will be cured. I have great faith in Dr. Pierce's Anuric."

FOUNDED HALF A CENTURY AGO

National Prohibition Party Organized in Chicago by 500 Delegates.

EARLY STANDARD BEARERS

Eighteenth Amendment Has Never Been Favored by Leaders Because of Odds of 10 to 1 Against Its Passage.

The National Prohibition party is just fifty years old, its semi-centennial falling on September 1, 1919. It was born in Farwell hall, Chicago. The convention numbered about 500 persons from 19 states.

James Black.

plans, an order of total abstainers organized in 1851 at Utica, N. Y., were also working to this end.

The call for the Chicago convention originated May 29, 1869, in the grand lodge of the Good Templars at Oswego, N. Y., which appointed a committee to convene a national gathering to organize a political party favorable to prohibition legislation. This committee consisted of John Russell, Detroit, Mich.; Daniel Wilkins, Bloomington, Ill.; J. A. Spencer, Cleveland, O.; John N. Stearns, New York, and James Black, Lancaster Pa. At this convention the party was organized, a platform was adopted and a national committee was appointed, with John Russell chairman.

The first national nominating convention assembled in Columbus, O., on Washington's birthday, 1872. It named James Black for president and John Russell for vice president. Black was one of the founders of the National Temperance Society and Publication house, an organizer of the famous Ocean Grove (N. J.) Camp Meeting association and a prominent Good Templar. Upon his death in 1893 he left his "temperance library" of 1,200 volumes to the National Temperance society. Russell, the "Father of the Prohibition party," was a Methodist minister and a leading Good Templar. His newspaper, the Peninsular Herald, was the first to advocate the formation of a separate political party for prohibition.

Notwithstanding the worthiness of the cause and the candidates, the public support at the election of 1872 was not enthusiastic. The total of the votes received by Black and Russell was but 5,697.

In 1876 Green Clay Smith of Kentucky and Gideon T. Stewart of Ohio were the candidates. They polled 9,737 votes. In 1880 Neal Dow of Maine, with H. A. Thompson of Ohio as running mate, appeared to the country. General Dow was widely known as the author of the Maine prohibition law, but he succeeded in getting only 10,366 votes.

Candidates and Their Vote.
 The Prohibition convention of 1896 split the party over woman suffrage and money. The "free silver" minority formed a Liberal party, with Bentley of Nebraska and Southgate of Illinois as its standard-bearers. They polled about 13,000 votes.
 The feature of the Prohibition campaign of 1900 was a tour of the country by the candidates and a corps of speakers by special train. In 1912 the Prohibition convention renominated the candidates of 1908. The candidates since 1884 and their vote are as follows:
 1888, Clinton B. Fisk, New Jersey, and J. A. Brooks, Missouri, 249,945 votes.
 1892, John Bidwell, California, and J. B. Cranfill, Texas, 270,710 votes.
 1896, Joshua Levering, Maryland, and Hale Johnson, Illinois, 130,753 votes.
 1900, John G. Woodley, Illinois, and H. B. Metcalf, Rhode Island, 200,460 votes.
 1904, S. C. Swallow, Pennsylvania, and George B. Carroll, Texas, 258,205 votes.
 1908, Eugene W. Chaffin, Illinois, and Aaron S. Watkins, Ohio, 263,231 votes.

1912, Eugene W. Chaffin, Arizona, and Aaron S. Watkins, Ohio, 268,927 votes.
 1916, J. Frank Hanley, Indiana, and Dr. Ira Landrith, Tennessee, 214,340 votes.
 The National Prohibition party, curiously enough, has been rather opposed to prohibition by constitutional amendment. In the last Year book (1916) we read:

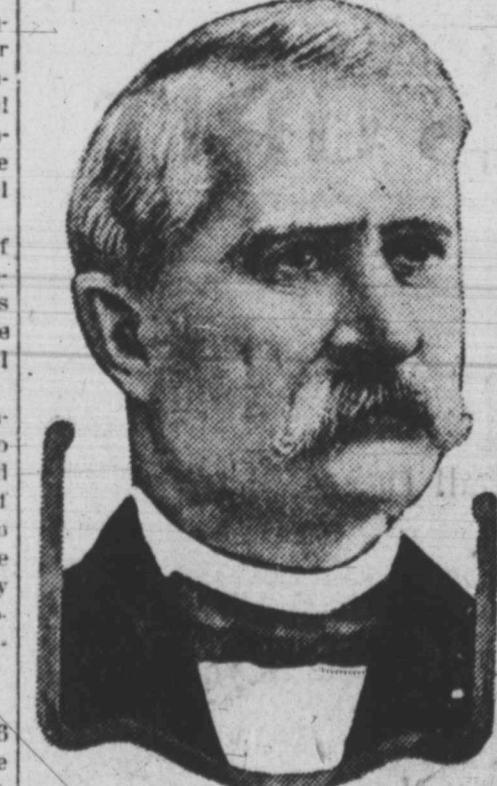

"Although the Prohibition party may be said to be committed by platform declaration to the adoption of a national prohibition amendment, when placed in power, the program of the party has never contemplated agitation for a nonpartisan amendment to be enforced by administrations not favorable to prohibition. . . . The general opinion seems to favor admitting the desirability of the amendment as the end to be accomplished, at the same time emphasizing its impracticability as a method, and denying its necessity as a condition precedent to securing national prohibition. . . . The odds are so overwhelmingly against the ratification of an amendment that they cannot possibly be overcome through any reasonable expenditure of time, money and effort so long as the liquor traffic exists to fight for its life."

The National Prohibition party is certainly right about the apparent odds against the adoption by congress of a constitutional amendment and its ratification by the states. There have been 1,757 amendments to the Constitution proposed and 18 of them have been passed. Herein lies the marvel of the ratification of the eighteenth amendment in about thirteen months.

It has been figured that the chance against the passing of an amendment are 10 to 1. The case is put thus:
 The chances against ratification are 2 to 1 in the house of representatives, and 2 to 1 in the senate, and, therefore 4 to 1 in congress. That is: Should the measure pass either house by unanimous vote, the one-third opposition in the other house would block it in congress as a whole; in other words, the resolution must be supported on the two chances in each house, while if the opposition score on its one chance in either house, the measure fails. The chances in the state legislatures are 6 to 1 against the resolution; hence, in the congress and the legislatures combined the chances are 10 to 1 against passage. In other words, the measure might pass both houses of congress unanimously, and be defeated as a whole by the one chance in the states. It might pass either house of congress and all of the legislatures unanimously, and be defeated by the one chance in the other house of congress.

St. John Makes a Stir.
 John P. St. John was the first Prohibition party candidate to make a real stir in the political world. What he did in the campaign of 1884 was long remembered. St. John was born in Indiana and in the Civil war was lieutenant-colonel of the One Hundred and Forty-third regiment, Illinois volunteers. He was twice elected governor of Kansas on the Republican ticket and was defeated for re-election to this office in 1882 by anti-prohibition Republicans, who thought him too warm a friend of the temperance cause.

Frances E. Willard and a delegation of women presented an enormous petition to the Republican national convention, urging consideration for the prohibition forces. The story of that time was that the petition was not only laid on the table but thrown on the floor, where it was found the next day, much the worse for wear.

Anyway, Miss Willard took her grievance to the Prohibition party. The Prohibition party offered the nomination for president to St. John, with William Daniel of Maryland for vice president. St. John accepted the nomination. He was an effective speaker and campaigner and he went out, after blood—and especially Republican blood. He carried the way into New York, considered a "double fail" state in the exciting struggle of that campaign between James G. Blaine and Grover Cleveland.
 St. John jumped the Prohibition vote from 10,366 votes to 150,626 votes. What is more, he polled enough votes in New York to defeat the "Plumed Knight" in that state and, as it turned out, in the nation. The feeling of the time is indicated by the fact that St. John was burned in effigy in more than 100 cities.

Uncle Sam's Wheat Problem
 With the demand for cheaper living cost becoming more acute the problem of handling the 1919 wheat crop of the United States under the guarantee basis price of $2.26 a bushel appears more formidable each day. Already it is recognized that, in view of prices prevailing on the big surplus crops of Argentine and Australia, wheat in the world's $1 a bushel. Canada intends to plant a large acreage of spring wheat and probably will remove all price regulations. The United States, if it expects to sell wheat in export channels, must meet the world's level.

That the government intends to stand firm on its contract with the farmers and see them through safely on the immense acreage of winter wheat which they were told to plant is evident. A bill is framed by the department of agriculture, now pending in congress, appropriates $1,250,000,000 to enable the government to buy the coming crop. The contemplated purchase includes spring wheat, which is yet to be sown.

Conferences between grain interests, millers and government officials have begun to wrestle with the question of handling the crop, but no definite program has been formulated. The most popular idea is that the market should be freed from all restrictions and wheat allowed to sell on its merits, the government to pay the farmer the difference between the guarantee price and the selling price. One suggestion provides that the federal obligation or loss should be liquidated in bonds, but this would be impractical. It would be unjust to the producers, many of whom borrowed money with which to seed winter wheat, and who will need cash for repayment.

Considering that the spring wheat crop has not been sown it seems hardly fair that farmers in the northern regions should exert themselves in raising a product to sell at an artificial price to the detriment of their own government. However, these men are said to have put a lot of money into fall plowing, according to federal instructions. To ask them to turn their acreage to other crops would be absurd, yet there are some spring wheat farmers who probably will go slow on wheat under the circumstances and try oats, flax rye or corn.

During the time in which the government was forced to make the pledge of $2.26 for 1919 wheat there were strenuous efforts to secure a guarantee of $2.46 or $2.56. The senators and others behind this proposition are now keeping very quiet. It would be nice in these gentlemen to come forward and tell the country how to meet the financial difficulty now confronting the government.—Drover's Telegram.

Public Highway Progress in Scurry
 A petition was circulated and liberally signed here last week asking the State and National Highway Commission to authorize the establishment of another government Highway through Scurry county. This petition was forwarded to Representative M. E. Rosser at Austin and he promptly went before the commission and presented the matter and the Highway was authorized.

This highway comes from Albany in Shackelford county, through Anson, Jones county, Roby, Fisher county and comes into Scurry county near Camp Springs, thence through Snyder to Gail in Borden county and to Lamesa in Dawson county. The Highway number 7 already established comes from Sweetwater into Scurry county near Pyron in the southeast, though Hermleigh (Foch) to Snyder; from here to the northwest to Post City. The commission has already appropriated $82,900 to this highway. Mr. Kemp who has been active in these enterprises says we hope before long to get another from south to north, coming from Colorado to Dunn to Snyder, thence to Clairemont in Kent county, thence to Spur in Dickens county, there to connect with another already assured through that county.

These are said to be standard McAdamized roads and with these three trunk roads through Scurry county and all laterals put up in standard condition Scurry county will have a system of roads as good as the best in West Texas.—Snyder Signal.

He was just past twenty-one years of age at the time of the shooting and leaves a wife and baby. Wantland is a middle aged man, a widower with four children; he was charged at the preliminary trial with assault with intent to commit murder and is under $1,000 bond, but, we understand has not yet been indicted by the grand jury; his trial may be held at the March term of court.—Portales (N. U. S. LED MOVE FOR TEMPERANCE

When the movement which has now brought about prohibition began in the United States it was called the "temperance movement" and the phrase "temperance question" embraced all the problems in connection with the use and abuse of alcoholic drink. Temperance, of course, primarily means moderation, while prohibition, as used in this connection, means a form of summary legislation abolishing the manufacture and sale of alcoholic liquors. In the early days "temperance" was loosely used; sometimes it meant moderation and sometimes total abstinence. Many of the first crusades were against "spirits"—distilled liquors as distinguished from wines and beer. Early temperance pledges were often framed to draw this distinction. However, the word temperance as used in the titles and constitutions of reform organizations soon came to mean total abstinence.

This temperance movement, which shows signs of bringing about prohibition in many parts of the world, began in the United States. The temperance pledge was in existence before 1800. Possibly the first temperance society was organized by the farmers of Litchfield county, Connecticut, in 1779. In 1808 a society was formed in Saratoga county, New York; the 43 members were pledged not to drink rum, gin, whisky, wine or distilled spirits except by a physician's advice, in illness or at public dinners, under penalty of 25 cents.

The Massachusetts Society for the Suppression of Intemperance was organized in 1813. The American Temperance society was founded in 1829. Thereafter organizations of various kinds came thick and fast, many of them securing large memberships. Among them were the Sons of Temperance of New York (1842), Order of Rechabites (1835), Society of the Washingtonians (1840) and Good Templars (1851).

In 1873 began the Woman's Temperance crusade in Ohio. Women held prayer meetings in saloons in this campaign against alcohol. This movement grew so strong that in 1874 in Cleveland the National Woman's Christian Temperance union was formed. The same year Francis Murphy's Blue Ribbon Temperance mission attracted public attention.

John B. Gough.

Prohibition — or temperance — has made many men and women famous; probably some of these foes of liquor and the saloon will be remembered for all time. Among the names familiar to most Americans in this connection are those of John B. Gough, Neal Dow, Frances E. Willard and Carrie Nation. All four made their mark in widely differing ways and the personality of each is interesting.

John B. Gough attracted public attention first. He achieved world-wide fame and furnishes a remarkable example of what in these days is called a "come-back." He was born in Sandgate, England, in 1817, and died in Frankford, Pa., in 1886.

A Quaker in Worcester, Mass., induced him to sign a total abstinence pledge. This was the turning point in his career. He set out to tramp New England, lecturing on temperance at 75 cents a lecture. He delivered 336 lectures the first year—and found himself locally famous. He mingled the pathetic and humorous so successfully and made his lectures so entertaining that thousands who had no interest in temperance went to hear him. For the next 17 years he spoke only on temperance and addressed more than 5,000 audiences, making two long temperance campaigns in England. He had the power over an audience that comes from experience, purpose and natural eloquence. Robert J. Ingersoll at his best could sway an audience no more completely than this reformed bookbinder. Next Gough turned his attention to general lecturing and made a fortune. His books have been translated into many languages.

RED CROSS HOME SERVICE MEETING IS IN SESSION IN AMARILLO FED'L BLDG.

The American Red Cross Conference on Home Service for the Panhandle Region convened yesterday afternoon exactly at 2:30 in the Federal Building in the room formerly occupied by the Surgical Dressings Committee at Amarillo.

Mr. E. T. Lawler, chapter chairman of Potter county, called the meeting to order, welcomed the delegates and introduced Rev. George W. Shearer of Childress, who opened the meeting with prayer. Lon D. Marrs chairman of the Amarillo home service section then presented Miss Elizabeth Wood, of St. Louis, who presided at the conference which ensued.

"Organizing for efficient Home Service" was the topic of an address by Miss Helen Pearson, who drew out from those present a great many questions and practical suggestions. Proper publicity, accurate knowledge and accessible records were found to constitute the chief needs. Workers and funds are generally available.

Miss Susan E. Ramsey led the conference on information service, and demonstrated the range of information that Home Service can give to families of enlisted men and to discharged soldiers, sailors, nurses, etc. Delegates were shown how to give full information, regarding allotments and allowances, insurance, compensation, lapsed insurance and vocational training for disabled men.

These matters will be further discussed today. The morning conference will begin at 10 and the afternoon at 2:30, and the latter session will conclude the conference. Today's leaders will be Miss Wood and Miss Shirley Ferguson.

As far as possible delegates were met and taken to their various destinations by a volunteer motor corps consisting of Mrs. G. J. Nunn, Mrs. Ward, Mrs. Kilgore and Miss McAfee. A half dozen homes were opened to the entertainment of delegates, a large portion of the visitors, however, were entertained by their respective chapters at the hotels.

Mrs. E. E. Pickrell, Secretary of the Potter county Chapter, registered the following out-of-town delegates as well as the full membership of the Amarillo Home Service Section: Mrs. Margaret B. Geyer, Canadian; Rev. Geo. W. Shearer, Childress; J. W. Leggett, Childress; Geo. A. Lider, Floydada; Miss Jennie Knorrp, Groom; Mrs. L. R. Bradley, Hereford; Mrs. J. H. Pittman, Hereford; S. A. Henry, Lockney; Mrs. E. L. Haughton, Memphis; Miss Della Wilson, McLean; Mrs. Florence G. Armstrong, Plainview; Mrs. Fannie Hedgecoke, Plemmons; Mrs. Lee Green, Slaton; Mrs. A. W. Sternberg, Tulia; Miss Irma Sigler, Tulia; I. A. Smith, Crosbyton; Mrs. J. I. Kendrick, Mrs. W. W. Davis, Mrs. J. R. Ross, Mrs. H. G. Hendricks, Lon D. Marrs, Rev. E. C. Seaman, Amarillo.

One of the features of the conference yesterday was an address by Capt. J. D. Jackson, examiner in charge of the local office of the U. S. Employment Service, whose organization secured the hearty endorsement of the conference.

THE DALHART VIEW

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce with Porter Whaley as organizer, has been launched, and Mr. Whaley has been holding district meetings at various places over the western part of the state. The organization, as its name implies, is intended to promote the interests of all West Texas rather than any particular section. Headquarters will be in Fort Worth. The promoters hope to secure a fund of $50,000 for publicity and organization purposes. Each county is entitled to one vote in the organization. While local organizations of this character are a necessary factor in community development, our information is that organizations of the magnitude and scope of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce do not accomplish much. In its attempt to serve the people of a large area, it fails to concentrate its forces in any locality for fear other places will accuse it of favoritism. Advertising, of course, is profitable in a general way, but we doubt whether the Panhandle section would reap much benefit from an organization that has Ft. Worth as its base. We understand that Mr. Whaley has resigned to accept the secretaryship of the Chamber of Commerce at Wichita Falls, Dalhart Texan.

Red Cross Annual Report

The following shows what the local Red Cross Chapter has been doing the past year. It is a report to be proud of. When compared with the report of the Potter County Chapter which is many times larger, it will show that this Chapter has indeed, done an enviable year's work.

Backache is a Warning

Canyon People Should Not Neglect Their Kidneys.

Backache is often nature's most frequent signal of weakened kidneys. To cure the pains and aches, to remove the lameness when it arises from weakened kidneys, you must reach the cause—the kidneys. If you have pain through the small of your back, urinary disorders, headaches, dizzy spells, or are nervous and depressed, start treating the kidneys with a tested kidney remedy.

Doan's Kidney Pills have been proved good and are especially for weak kidneys. Doan's have been used in kidney trouble for over 50 years. Read Canyon testimony.

Mrs. A. R. Crank, W. Evelyn St., says: "At times my back was weak and ached constantly and my kidneys were disordered. I was bothered this way terribly until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. Now it is very seldom I have any of these symptoms and when I do, I use Doan's and always get good results."

Panhandle Press Meets at Vernon
The Panhandle Press Association will meet in Vernon April 11 and 12. This includes all of Texas north and west of Wilbarger county, reaching as far south as the Texas & Pacific Railroad at Sweetwater. Lee Satterwhite of Panhandle is president and Sam M. Braswell of Clarendon is secretary of the Association.

Last year's meeting was held in Amarillo. Some of the press men thought Vernon was too far to one corner of the bounds of the association to entertain a meeting but because of the enthusiasm manifested by the town, it was selected over Plainview. Wilbarger is the last county down the Denver within the bounds of the Panhandle Press Association.

The entire program has not been arranged. It will include music by Miss Catherine Pierce and Edwin Lisman if he is in Vernon at the time and a trombone solo by Weldon Teagarden. Mayor Harry Mason will deliver the address of welcome, and Rev. W. T. Rouse will offer the invocation.

Local entertainment features will be worked out, so that the newspaper men will be sure to go home feeling that they were repaid for their trip to Vernon. Meetings will be repaid for their trip to Vernon. A held Friday afternoon, Saturday morning and afternoon, in the library building for the discussion of various newspaper and printing problems.

If the weather permits, an automobile trip will be arranged to Burk Burnett Saturday afternoon. A picnic supper will be served en route, and the return trip made Saturday night. A visit to Burk Burnett's wonder oil fields will perhaps influence some to come to Vernon who might otherwise feel that they could ill afford to make the trip.

Vernon entertained the Northwest Texas Press Association last August and it was the statement of visiting newspaper men generally that the meeting was the most helpful, from the standpoint of digging down into practical problems, that they had ever attended. The visitors were also unanimous in their praise of the informal dinner, after which bathing was indulged in by those who cared to swim at the lake of the Hilcrest Country Club which as one of the newspaper men said "is fed by real live springs."

Representatives of the press in Vernon are working to make the meeting here the best in the history of the Association, both from the standpoint of attendance, entertainment, and helpful discussion.—Vernon Record.

The Slatonite editor has been requested by leading authorities over West Texas to print our article on a division of Texas into four states, in pamphlet form for the purpose of circularizing the state and educating the people as to the real results and benefits that may be derived by all the state in a division. While we agree that this should be done yet we are not financially able to undertake the task ourselves; in fact, it would prove such a large educational job that it might bankrupt one man of ordinary means. One paper has suggested that West Texas should per-

SUNDAY SCHOOLS AND CHURCHES TO OBSERVE AMERICA SUNDAY FEB. 9

Throughout the Eleventh Federal War Savings District, Sunday, February 9, will be observed at America Sunday in the churches and Sunday schools, it was announced yesterday at District headquarters of the War Savings Division of the War Loan Organization.

A special sermon, having for its text "Save and Have," pointing out the continued need of saving money and lending it to the Government in the purchase of War Savings Stamps and other Government securities, will be delivered by the pastors of churches in Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Louisiana. Appropriate exercises, at the Government's request, will be held in the Sunday schools.

"Three of the biggest factors in the war savings work are the banks, post offices and churches. I am delighted with the response of the ministers and Sunday school superintendents of the district to the Government's request that they observe America Sunday," Frank M. Smith, Federal District Director of War Loans, declared today. "Replies have been received from more than 7,280 ministers, saying that they will deliver a special sermon next Sunday on the science of intelligent saving and wise spending."

"The watchwords in the 1919 savings campaign are 'Thrift is Power; Save and Succeed.' It is one of the expressions of Benjamin Franklin, American apostle of thrift, whose likeness is on the 1919 war savings stamps. The person who saves his earnings intelligently and invests them wisely is always prepared to take advantage of a good opportunity when it presents itself and he is protecting himself against a possible rainy day. Before the war some of us thought it beneath our dignity to save, but the war taught us it is what we save rather than what we spend that counts."

GIRLS! LEMON JUICE IS A SKIN WHITENER

How to make a creamy beauty lotion for a few cents.

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quart of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold creams. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, whitener and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any drug store and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands.

Scientists say great stress should be laid upon the remarkable influence which the mother's happy pre-natal disposition has upon the health and future of the generation to come.

There is a splendid preparation women for over half a century have applied before the child's arrival, known as Mother's Friend. This is a most grateful, penetrating remedy that at once softens and soothes the myriad of broad, flat abdominal muscles under the skin of the abdomen. By its regular use during the period the nerves, tendons and cords are relaxed and there is an absence of nausea, bearing-down pains, strain and general discomfort more often than otherwise experienced when nature is unaided.

By the use of Mother's Friend night and morning the muscles relax with ease when baby comes, the time at the crisis is shorter and pain and danger is naturally avoided.

Write the Bradford Regulator Company, Dept. E, Lamar Building, Atlanta, Georgia, for their Motherhood Book, and obtain a bottle of Mother's Friend from the druggist, by all means, and get into condition to meet the crisis.

The meeting of the Agricultural Advisory Committee, together with special representatives of the swine producers, representatives of the live stock commission men, and the packers sharing in foreign allotments, together with the officials of the Food Administration, for the purpose of recommending the February price basis for hogs, took place in Washington January 29th. Mr. F. S. Snyder, chief of the Meat Division of the Food Administration presided. A price of $17.50 for the average of packers' droves was recommended for the month of February.

This Is Better Than Laxatives
One NR Tablet Each Night For A Week Will Correct Your Constipation and Make Constant Dosing Unnecessary. Try It.
Poor digestion and assimilation mean a poorly nourished body and low vitality. Poor elimination means clogged bowels, fermentation, putrefaction and the formation of poisonous gases which are absorbed by the blood and carried through the body. The result is weakness, headaches, dizziness, coated tongue, inactive liver, bilious attacks, loss of energy, nervousness, poor appetite, impoverished blood, mallow complexion, pimples, skin disease, and often times serious illness.
Ordinary laxatives, purges and cathartics—salts, oils, calomel and the like—may relieve for a few hours, but real, lasting benefit can only come through use of medicine that tones up and strengthens the digestive as well as the eliminative organs.
Get a 25c box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and take one tablet each night for a week. Relief will follow the very first dose, but a few days will elapse before you feel and realize the fullest benefit. When you get straightened out and feel just right again you need not take medicine every day—an occasional NR Tablet will then keep your system in good condition and you will always feel your best. Remember, keeping well is easier and cheaper than getting well. Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) are sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

Maximum Food Production Necessary
DALLAS, Texas, Feb. 1.—"Governor Hobby asserted recently that the American people can always be trusted to do the right thing," said Harry Oimend, chairman of the Texas Industrial Congress, "and the Food Administration is evidently of the same opinion, for it has promised the hungry people of Europe that we will ship them 20,000,000 tons of foodstuffs during 1919. This is more than three times the amount of food exported by the United States before the war."
"If we as a nation and as individuals of men, women and children, there will be something for every American, big and little, to do in producing more food this year than we have ever before produced in one year. We shall not only have to produce more but we shall have to produce food in every possible way and largely supply our own tables with fruit and vegetables produced in home gardens so as to permit us to export the less perishable foodstuffs."
"We may confidently assume that the farmer and the stock raiser will produce field crops and livestock to the limit; that our food factories, packing houses and canneries will operate to their full capacity; that hotels, restaurants and housekeepers will repeat their efforts of last year to conserve food, and that there will be more home gardens cultivated than in 1918."
"Organizations that are promoting the cultivation of home gardens estimate that we shall have double the number that were cultivated in the United States last year. The Texas Industrial Congress, which began its annual garden campaign in December, and which is registering Texas gardeners in the Patriotic Garden League of Texas, says that it is receiving large numbers of garden pledges daily, and the fact that these pledges are being voluntarily made, not only by the boys and girls in the schools, but by their parents also, indicates that our people are fully aroused to the sacred duty of feeding the hungry world."
"The Congress is sending out many letters and bulletins urging gardeners to make adequate preparation for spring planting, so as to increase the yields. The earlier the seed bed is prepared, the more moisture will be stored in the soil and the better the prospects for a good garden this spring and summer."
"The plentiful use of well-rotted barnyard manure, thoroughly worked into the soil, is being encouraged; it is one of the best fertilizers that can be used for the home garden, and is generally available. It adds humus which makes the soil porous, thus permitting the sun and air to permeate the ground. Any organic matter that can be worked into the soil, such as leaves, stalks, etc., is beneficial, as it contains much plant material. Commercial fertilizers are also advisable if the gardener understands the soil well enough to determine what fertilizing elements are most needed."
"A garden properly tended will yield the average family food to the value of $25 or $50, and one million gardens in Texas, which is approximately one for every family, would add to the State's productive wealth from $25,000,000 to $50,000,000. It is estimated that Texas spends annually $200,000,000 in the purchase of food supplies from other states that it could produce; if every family, therefore, who can have a garden, will do so it will materially reduce this economic loss to the State."

Go-ta-ni Bean, New E. Africa Product
Announcement has been made here of the production of a new kind of bean, the "go-ta-ni," which is described as yielding two crops per year, with high percentage of albuminoids and oil, while the moisture is low. The owner of the estate at Changamwe, where the experiments have been made, calls the product a cross between the Madagascar butter bean and the Canavalia ensiform. It is credited with a yield of 22 hundred-weight (2,464 pounds) of dried marketable beans per acre during the 1916 season. The Mombasa Times, in an article on the subject, gives the following details:
The period for maturing is five months. The plant is a standard perennial and attains an average height of 2 feet 6 inches. It is extremely hardy, being both a drought and insect resister. The foliage is dense and if planted one foot apart in drills, the rows being three feet apart, they entirely prevent the growth of weeds. At this distance 63 pounds of seed will plant an acre. The seed readily germinates. When six inches high they should be hoed, after which they require no attention until the crop comes off. Planted between young coconuts, palms, coffee, sisal, etc., they do away with at least two cleanings per year, while their foliage offers excellent shade and protection to young plants.
The pods attain a length of 14 to 16 inches and yield 14 to 16 perfect beans, which are 3-4 to 1-2 by 3-3 inch in two dimensions and 1-2 inch thick. They are white externally, the hilum being brown. The interior is a pale yellow, and they possess an agreeable flavor. On a sample sent to England 18 pounds $87.00 per ton was offered. This works out at 19 pounds 6s ($96.36) per acre every six months. As the crop can be picked, threshed, and bagged on the land it should prove one of the most profitable products grown in the colony.

The advantage of the perennial legume of this nature are manifold and cannot be overestimated. For planters it reduces the tremendous cost of cleaning to a minimum and brings the plantation into an almost immediate paying concern. It gives a good return in six months with very little outlay.
There is nothing in the chemical analysis to indicate that the material is unfit for food; on the contrary the beans should provide a nitrogenous food of a concentrated kind, the protein content being nearly equal to that of dried beef. No prussic acid has been detected in the macerated product, nevertheless if the material has not been used before as food for human beings or animals it would be advisable to ascertain by experiment that no poisonous substance is present.—The Bean Bag.

Hold Your Moisture
Numerous farmers have asked my advice as to the best means of preventing the escape of the moisture that has been put into the soil by the winter rains and snows. Having visited several fields, I find that in most instances the surface soil is full of small cracks or fissures, and thru these the moisture will escape very rapidly till something is done to prevent it. Of course, if we should have even a light rain immediately, these crevices would be closed, but those who have been here many years have learned that the best course to follow is one that takes into account dry, instead of wet weather.
In my judgement the thing to do right now, is to prepare a mulch and fill up these cracks as quickly as possible, thus holding the loss of moisture from evaporation down to the minimum, for it is the moisture, for it is the moisture, that which FALLS, that makes the difference between success and failure in producing crops. It would appear that the quickest means to accomplish the desired result, is a drag harrow while the disk harrow would, in all probability prove more effective. The main idea is to create the mulch and close these crevices as soon as possible, using such means as your judgment dictates.
I believe that by applying proper methods of conserving the moisture we now have, there is sufficient to give all spring crops a fair start, even if we do not get more before planting.
Heres' hoping the year 1919 will be more generous than the last two years have been. W. T. Howard, Garza County Agent.

Raising Belgian Hares for Meat
"Much interest is being manifested throughout the state in raising Belgian hares for a family meat supply," said W. C. Barriekman, Secretary of the Texas Industrial Congress, today.
"The Congress is receiving many inquiries daily as to how to grow these and other varieties of domestic rabbits. It is only within the past few years that the value of the hare as a meat producing animal has become generally known, and it is a matter of general surprise when people learn that a good breeding doe will produce 300 pounds of meat in a year."
"Almost every family can maintain a pair of rabbits, and by so doing materially add to the meat supply."
"The doe should not be bred until she is at least eight months old. The buck should be a good one, as in breeding we look to him for color, and to the doe for size and shape."
"After breeding, the doe should be placed in a hutch where she is to raise her family. They may be expected in thirty days from the time of service. A nest-box in as secluded a spot as possible should be placed in the hutch. It should be about eighteen inches long by twelve inches high. It should have a cover so that the top can be removed, and the young rabbits examined after the doe has littered. Not more than four litters of eight or ten rabbits should be raised a year."
"The young rabbits grow very rapidly, and double in size in a very short time. Their care is not difficult. The mother doe takes nearly all of the responsibility but the needs an extra allowance of food, and it should be of a milk producing kind."
"As soon as the young rabbits come out of the nest-box they should be fed bread and alfalfa hay. When they are six weeks or two months old they should be weaned. Rabbits should be fed as regularly as other animals, twice a day. They should not have more grain at a time than they will clean up in half an hour after feeding. If possible, alfalfa hay should be kept before them all the time. They are cleanly in their habits, and are fond of almost all vegetables. Oats and hay, however, form their main supply. Plenty of fresh, clean water should be kept before them at all times."
"Almost any kind of building that is reasonably warm in winter will answer for shelter. If possible, however, the rabbits should have a grass runway, and it should be protected from dogs by poultry netting. Especial care should be taken to make the hutch rat-proof, as rats are extremely destructive of the young rabbits."
"The principal value of the Belgian hare is for its meat, which is white like the breast of a chicken. It will dress a pound for every month of its age up to six months."
When proper attention is given to feeding, housing and cleanliness no trouble will be experienced in keeping rabbits in a good healthy condition, as they are not subject to disease.
"There are families, that can have neither a garden nor poultry, but almost every family will find it profitable to have a few rabbits."

No Worms in a Healthy Child
All children troubled with worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 6c per bottle.

Making Money on the Farm
Mrs. W. P. Thornhill, who lives seven miles north of town kept books on her butter, eggs and chickens from October 31, 1917 to Oct. 31, 1918, and they showed the following results in the sale of produce.
Butter ----- $236.10
Eggs ----- 60.95
Chickens ----- 288.35
Total sales ----- $585.40
Mrs. Thornhill has quite a nice flock of Buff Orpington chickens, the hens averaging 112 eggs apiece in ten months.
The above figures are not altogether record breakers, but they are a good showing on what can be accomplished, and we doubt if there are many housewives who can duplicate the results.—Miami Chief.

Gist Goes to Dairying
Byron Gist has been spending a week in town, having come in with the finest bunch of 21 Holstein heifers the Panhandle has seen. He picked them from a lot of over 170 on the Sudan ranch. By getting them so close, they are acclimated and have been vaccinated. Mr. Gist has been able to see that this was an ideal dairy country and lost no time in getting a herd.
These cows freshen about May and when they do there will be some cans of milk going creameryward from this place. The people to buy in order are: R. C. Goodwin, 1; Bob Lacey 1, Merle Morgan 4, H. L. Morris 2, Harry Muphy 1.—Vega Sentinel.

TRY IT! SUBSTITUTE FOR NASTY CALOMEL
Starts your liver without making you sick and can not salivate.
Every druggist in town—your druggist and everybody's druggist has noticed a great falling-off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.
"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle costs but a few cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.
Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel.

Shot and Killed Horses

Last Saturday night someone shot and killed two horses belonging to Rev. Howell, of Mofax, and shot an eye out of a mare belonging to Irvin Ogden Jr. and also a burro belonging to Rev. Howell. Mr. Howell and Mr. Ogden had been to Mills and were unable to get home that night and on arriving home found the horses missing. They went in search of them and found they had been driven from a feed stack a mile or more further from home and then shot where no one could hear the shots and where it might cast suspicion on parties who it is known had nothing to do with it. The animals had been at large only once before this winter and that by accident, so there was no just provocation for the crime.—Roy (N. M.) Spanish-American.

CONDUCT OF RANGERS BEFORE LEGISLATURE

BORDER TOWN DELEGATIONS APPEAR BEFORE JOINT COMMITTEE

Austin, Texas.—With Representative W. H. Bledsoe of Lubbock presiding, the joint committee appointed to investigate the state ranger force met Friday morning in public session and heard Representative Canales read his specific charges, giving names and dates and alleging offenses ranging from intoxication to second degree murder. With his written charges, to which he makes oath, on information, he filed various exhibits made up of affidavits, and gave the names and addresses of approximately fifty witnesses whom he desires to have summoned. Process for those witnesses have been issued.

The hearing has begun, not with testimony bearing upon the charges, but with general statements of conditions along the border by prominent men who reside in that section of the state. All agreed that the rangers are essential to the protection of life and property, but made certain admissions, sometimes voluntarily and sometimes under the examination of Mr. Canales. The adjutant general's department was not represented, although W. D. Cope, the assistant adjutant general, was called into the hearing room and informed that the committee would welcome a representative of that department. When the hearing adjourned, Chairman Bledsoe stated on behalf of the committee that its members are no longer in doubt as to the need for the existence of the ranger force and that they will not wish to hear any more general statements.

Mr. Bledsoe said the committee wishes to extend a cordial invitation to any citizen who knows of any specific act by rangers which constitutes improper conduct or criminal conduct to come forward and testify or indicate his willingness to testify so that he may be summoned.

PROVIDES COMPULSORY ARBITRATION, OF ALL INTERNATIONAL DISPUTES

Paris.—Leon Bourgeois, French delegate on the society of nations has presented to President Wilson, Premier Clemenceau, Premier Lloyd George and Premier Orlando the text of the proposal for the formation of the league as agreed upon by the international organization embracing the American, of which William Howard Taft is president; the British, of which Viscount Grey is president; the Italian, French and other associations.

M. Clemenceau previously had asked M. Bourgeois to obtain an agreement on the details among the advocates of the project in all countries, and the plan presented was in response to this request. It provides for compulsory arbitration in all disputes without exception; the limitation of armaments and a series of penalties against nations provoking war. Detailed provision is made for the organization of a society of nations, to which all countries giving guarantees of loyal intention will be admitted.

It also provides for court of nations, and authority is given for the use of all necessary means to enforce the mandates of such court.

"Military Necessity"

The Turk payed the war game very much as his friend, the Hun, only more so. Here are two Armenian orphans. Their father was one of the thousands of Armenians butchered in cold blood as a measure of "military necessity", and when the entire Armenian population was later exiled to the desert by the Turk, the mother died of starvation and brutal treatment.

To save the lives of four million such refugees—Armenians, Greeks, and Syrians—the American people will be asked to give at least $30,000,000. The week of February 3-14 has been set for the campaign in the Southwest.

Immediate Relief Necessary.

These tragic stricken people of the Near East need food so badly that they fight for carcasses and garbage as for delicacies.

That's hunger for you.

To relieve the sufferings of the subject peoples of Turkey a nationwide campaign to raise $30,000,000 will be conducted by the American Committee for Relief in the Near East. The dates of the campaign for the Southwest will be February 3-10.

Farmers Want Amendment
 The annual meeting of the Nelson National Farm Loan Association was held at Harry A. Nelson's residence January 14th, 1919 and elected directors as follows: C. W. Bowers, Miami; F. W. Osborne, Pampa; W. S. Paris, Miami; and L. J. Seitz, Moquette.

C. W. Bowers was re-elected president; F. W. Osborne, vice president and Harry A. Nelson, secretary-treasurer.

The secretary-treasurer reported that since the organization of the association, March 25, 1918, to Jan. 14th, 1919, he had received $4,044.88, and paid out $3,964.84, leaving a balance of $80.02. The Jan. 1st, 1919 statement from the bank of Miami, showed a balance on deposit to the credit of the association amounting to $79.12. All debts of the association to date are paid and there are no delinquent members. For the quarter ending Dec. 31st, 1918, they have closed twelve loans amounting to $56,820.00. Ten loans will more than likely be closed in the next thirty days amounting to $67,130.00. The association is anxious to get all of the desirable loans it can from eligible residents of Roberts, Gray, Wheeler and Hemphill counties.

The association unanimously resolved to urge our representative in the legislature to vote for the submission of a conservative amendment of the homestead law, that will enable our farmers to freely obtain the benefits of our rural credit system, and that a copy of this resolution be furnished the press for publication.

Other minor business was transacted whereupon the meeting adjourned. Respectfully submitted, Harry A. Nelson.—McLean News.

THE ORANGE CYPRIA

A Story of Lincoln
 by Olive Harper

CANNONS were booming down the valley and at intervals there was the sharp rattle of musketry. Bodies of soldiers, some in blue and some in gray, were seen in places along the valleys and broken ground. But they were all far from the little rain-washed crevice on the side of the mountain where an old negro stood scanning the distant scene as well as his half-blind eyes would permit. After looking he would return to the farthest end of the crevice.

"Is de fitin' all over yit, so's we kin go 'long, Lonzo?"
 "I reckon hit 'll never git done," said the old man, nodding his head to the frightened woman, who crouched down into the smallest possible space.

It was no wonder she was afraid, for the war had swept away the last member of her old master's family. And nothing remained of the fine plantation and home but blackened chimneys, for the tide of war had swept back and forth over it until all was gone.

Alonzo went to the edge of the little rift in the mountainside and looked down the valley, but his bleared eyes were filled with tears he dared not shed, and his broad chest heaved with the sobs he held in check. Finally he cleared his throat with a mighty effort and said:

"I reckon we might git ober the ridge fo' dahk, but we got ter creep mighty close to de gully tel we reach de timber. Mebbe we fin' a fahmeh w'at'll give us a bite an' let us sleep in hees 'ba'n. Come."

With many groans the woman rose to her feet, tottering with weakness, for since the sweeping away of her master's family, the destruction of the plantation, and the death of their children these two had suffered terribly from privation. For the last three days they had lived entirely upon wild fruit. But they struggled onward toward Washington, where in their simple hearts they believed the good, the tender, the human Lincoln would make them welcome.

They had their Sunday garments in little bundles, and in her bosom carefully wrapped from injury or contamination was an orange cypria. Its rich colors and beautiful form had so charmed her that her young mistress, whom she had loved and nursed with the unselfish devotion of a dog, gave it her. She held it in her hands the night she died and when Lureeny had asked if it were not very precious the dying girl said:

"Yes, Lureeny, it is precious, very precious. Cousin Godfrey brought it to me, and he has gone where I shall soon follow. Never part with it so long as you live, and when you die give it to the best person you know."

Then she kissed the cypria. In that moment her eyes closed, and her last sigh drifted into the beautiful shell. Now Lureeny was going to give this precious thing to her hero, the compassionate Lincoln. Who but he was worthy of this gift over which had swept the pure breath of the maiden who died of a broken heart? Sometimes Lureeny put the shell to her ear and the soft breath of her young mistress seemed to be sighing inside.

Days the poor old couple journeyed on, weary and disappointed that the way was so interminable. At last they reached a height from which they could see in the distance the goal of their efforts, the city of Washington. They both lifted their hands in joy and thankfulness. It was more beautiful than they had dreamed.

"Oh, Lonzo, it is like the new Jerusalem. But I see too plum tucked out to go on tonight. We'll eat a snack, an' den we'll try t' go on in de mornin'." "I reckon Mass' Linkum 'll say 'bout us," said Lureeny, who had been sitting on the ground, leaning back against a tree.

tree an' I'll cubber you up wid our bes' cloze."

The feeble eyes of the old man were clear enough to see that Lureeny was very weak and weary. She replied:

"You hasn't got a hit o' sense. But, I duz feel kinder chillin'! Tears like sumplin in hyaf is plum wore out, des like a oie clock mos' run down. And, if we tu'n 'em inside out—"

Lureeny felt strangely weak and cold. A chill such as she had never felt before numbed her by degrees. So strange did she feel that she called her husband.

"Lonzo, I is awful col'. I reckon I's gwine ter die right now, in sight of de promise lan'. Lonzo, ef dat is so, I want you to take dis yere 'ginge cippurus to Mass' Linkum, an' tel him to keep it till de longes' day he live, and den give it to de bes' pussion he know, an' tel him 'bout de chilluns, an' dat I axed him to befrin' you. You've been a good man to me, 'Lonzo—"

Here the husky voice broke off and Alonzo was alone.

Who could depict the grief and anguish of the poor old man as he sat that long night through beside the dead form of his wife? In the morning some other refugees came along and helped him to bury her wrapped carefully in her "store clothes."

Then Alonzo started on his mission. Days of misery, anxiety, hunger, cold and rebuffs passed, but always the white head and wrinkled face haunted the grounds. He was not allowed to see the president.

At last, one day, worn out by his sufferings he sank at the foot of a tree just as the joyous voice of a child was heard. The boy was none other than Tad, the Benjamin of his father's heart. Tad saw the poor old man vainly trying to rise and went to him frankly and fearlessly. Young as he was he saw that the old man was in a sad state and asked if he wanted anything.

"Yes, young massa, I wants to see Mass' Linkum. I done got sumplin berry precious fo' he all, but dey won't let me see him."

"Well, you come with me," said the lad, with spirit.

Alonzo could scarcely totter to a place where the boy seated him on a bench saying:

"Wait here a minute. I'll bring him."

Tears streamed down the old man's face. He was weak from hunger and exposure, and the death of his wife was a great blow. He fumbled in his pocket and brought out the shell, and thinking that the cloth around it was too soiled he threw it away, and then before him stood the tall form, with

100 Per Cent Banking Connection

The man who does all of his banking business with one bank receives more benefits and better service than the man who splits his accounts among several.

By centralizing your business you deal with only one set of officers; the confidential details of your affairs are known to the fewest number of persons.

Further, by centralizing your business you establish a credit rating—an invaluable asset—which will be unknown if your resources are scattered.
