LIVINGSTON FARRAND IS NEW HEAD OF THE RED CROSS

That the Red Cross will continue as a large and active Humanitarian Agency is assured by the recent announcement that Doctor Livingston Farrand has accepted the Chairmanship of the Central Committee.

Red Cross officials feel no doubt as to the future success of the Red Cross under the leadership of Doctor Farrand. Doctor Farrand's achievements in the Educational and Medical World have been such that he will bring to this work a broad knowledge of the many activities embraced in Red Cross service. As Executive Secretary of the National Association for the study and prevention of Tuberculosis, as Treasurer of the American Public Health Association and as Editor of the American Journal of Public Health, he enters upon his new office with a fund of knowledge and experience relating to the most generally recognized relief factor—public health.

Since our entrance into the war Doctor Farrand has been in charge of the Tuberculosis Relief Work in France. To carry on this work Dr. Farrand was on leave of absence from the University of Colorado, the presidency of which he resigns to become the head of the Red Cross. In making the announcement of Doctor Farrand's appointment, Mr. Henry C. Davison, Chairman of the War Council, stated that the Red Cross has secured as its future head the man of all men best fitted to carry on this work, and that on March 1st, when Dr. Farrand assumes his new duties and announces the Peace Program of the Red Cross, every Chapter in the country will realize that Red Cross work will and must go on.

JOHN MEYERS WRITES INTERESTING FROM FRANCE

Evry, Aube, France, Jan. 18, 1918. Another week gone by and I have not had a line from any of you. It has been more than three weeks since I've had a letter. Hope everything is o. k. and that its nothing more than the rail service of the hum, same as usual. The mail has been awful slim for all of us since New Years. I know you folks at home, are writing me a letter every week, the same as I've been doing but I'm not as lucky as you are in getting them. I'm surely glad mine come to you so regularly and in such short time, never more than a month old and the one that came in sixteen days after I wrote it, surely got a hump on itself. We seem to get newspapers so much quicker than the letters. I saw by one of the Ft. Worth papers that it had been 8 degrees below zero at Amarillo the middle of December and it told about the snow you had there. Seems to me you are having a bad winter on a scant feed crop. It surely will be hard on the stock and I'm hoping you folks pull through alright.

The papers we see tell us so much about the influenza epidemic and I'm hoping you will all dodge that. It surely must be bad when it gets started in a family. There has been quite a bit of it over here among the A. E. F.

Say, Sis, I surely have some steady job now, since I own a Dodge. Uncle Sam issued one to our Company. The machine is charged up to me so I suppose it's mine. Have had it six days and I've been on the go every day and all day and sometimes borrow part of the night. One of the other Lieutenants got a trip back to the States so Lieut. Carrol and I took him over to Troyes yesterday. I was surprised at the size of the place and it's some town. It made us think we were back in Ft. Worth when we saw the street cars, electric lights, etc. We saw an honest to goodness theatre once more and took in the show before we started back to camp.

This was the first town of any size we've been in since we started for the front last fall and I had to pinch myself once or twice to see if I was still awake. Have been in those sleepy little towns so long and before that was in all that wrecked and ruined country that I'd almost forgotten how to act when I'd get back in a busy city again. It was such a relief to get in a town where so many people could "parlez-vous" English. Believe me, we are going to see some of the larger cities soon. The Lieut. has several good trips planned for us, one to grand Paris. We have to make a trip to Dijon next week and he's going to try to find an excuse to get into Chaumont if we have time.

Oh, Sis, you should see this boat we ride around in. It resembles a

HOLD-UP GANG IS BUSY IN AMARILLO; HURT LAST VICTIM

That hold-ups are becoming a nightly occurrence and that they are being perpetrated by two young men, one of whom "draws a bead" upon the victim while the other searches him, is indicated by the latest reports in police circles in Amarillo.

Tuesday night, it is said, a young man was held up by the men on the corner of Sixth and Lincoln streets and relieved of a small amount of cash.

Wednesday night a hold-up is said to have occurred at the corner of Seventh and VanBuren about 8 o'clock in the evening when the victim was relieved of $11.50.

Last night Walter Hurt was haulted at the point of a pistol at the corner of Tenth and Van Buren and a small sum of money taken from him.

The police are following clue after clue and it is believed that an arrest will be made shortly.—Amarillo News.

zebra more than anything else. The loudest camouflage you ever saw. I know every color of the rainbow and lots of bright yellow stripes on it. We should worry about that though.

Am learning the roads, towns, and country in this part of France in great style. Can take my road map and the pass I always carry now and go almost any place they can mention. Lately I've been gathering all the machine guns and automatic rifles in the Division that need attention and bring them back to the repair shops where they are cleaned, repaired and tested. I inspect and bring them in, a load at a time. I usually carry about 1200 pound loads and you can't have any idea how much ground the 36 Division covers. The boys are billeted everywhere, in towns and just wherever a barn or anything with a roof over it can be found.

I wish you could step in and hear some of the "ragging" going on tonight. I know it would tickle you to hear some of the boys. They are guying one of our kids here about a letter he wrote to his folks about our experiences in October and November on the Champagne and Verdun fronts. They had it published in the Fort Worth paper. We got it over here and the boys are teasing the poor kid to death. He's so mad now he wants to clean house and I don't blame him very much. We are fighting men of the A. E. F. and not newspaper correspondents, so don't enjoy having the whole country reading some of the letters we write home. Every word he wrote was the gospel truth and it's lucky for him as the boys would kid him to death if it wasn't.

To date, I've never gotten one copy of the Randall County News you sent me. I suppose they are piled up some where with a lot of other mail. We all wish they would do better by us about our mail. It isn't giving us a square deal and one hears almost as many cuss words about the mail service as one does about the rain. It's still at it, pelting down almost seven days in a week and it gets mighty old to all of us.

Well it's bed time for me, and tomorrow is Sunday, but that's just the same as any other day as they have been keeping us busy Sunday as well as Monday lately. We are working as hard now as we ever worked and I can't see why.

I surely hope I'll find a letter when I go to the post office in the morning. That is one of my daily jobs now. I take all the daily reports to Divisional headquarters and go by the post office to get our mail and also take our mail there. Our 111th is about twenty kilometers from there and that's only a little fraction of my daily jaunt since I've been elected official driver of this outfit.

With love and best wishes to all, I am always, your old bud, JOHN.

FRED H. IVES HEAD OF AGRICULTURAL DEPT. WILL DO EXTENSION WORK IN THIS SECTION

Prof. Fred H. Ives, head of the Department of Agriculture Central State Normal College, at Edmond, Oklahoma has been secured to head the Agricultural Department of the West Texas State Normal College, and will take charge March 1st.

This department has been vacant the past year, following the death of W. H. Geller, formerly in charge of the department. With the large number of young men in the army, the department was left vacant until the appointment of Prof. Ives. The work of the department will now be broadened out to cover every phase of agricultural work, including extension work among the farmers of this section. Prof. Ives will cooperate with the county agent in developing the agricultural resources, in experimental work and in giving lectures to farm organizations. Prof. Hill states that the services of this agriculturist will be open to the farmers. This apartment fulfills a great need in this part of West Texas and The West Texas State Normal is to be congratulated upon securing the services of this man.

Prof. Fred H. Ives is a graduate of the Oklahoma State Agricultural College, where he majored in Animal Husbandry; was also a student in the College of Agriculture of Illinois for one year and was at the Kansas Agricultural College at Manhattan for one semester. While at the latter school he specialized in veterinary work and poultry. After his graduation he was employed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in farm demonstration in Oklahoma for three years. In this position he organized Boys' and Girls' Agricultural Clubs, addressed county association meetings of teachers and supervised the work of the county agents. For six years he has been at the head of the Department of Agriculture of the Central Normal, one of the largest normals in the southwest. He is 29 years of age, has a wife and three children. Is a member of the M. E. Church and takes a leading part in Sunday School work, also is a Mason. When Mr. Ives comes with his family the first of the month to make his home in Canyon, he should be given a warm welcome for he will make an excellent citizen.

CITY WILL TAKE OVER AND OPERATE WATER PUMPING STATION

At a meeting of the city council Monday night, A. J. Arnold cancelled his pumping contract and turned the plant back to the city. The city immediately took steps to operate same. The latest type of Fairbanks Morse engine has been purchased by the city and with the purchase of other equipment at an outlay of $5,000 expected to soon have the water pumping plant in first class condition and will be able to supply the city with all water it will need in the near future.

The equipment has been in a very bad condition and many times in the past few months the city has been without water. Mr. Arnold stated that it was impossible to continue pumping at the present rate and the condition the plant was in. The patrons of the plant will be glad to hear the improvements have been made.

The Wonderful Call When Baby Comes

Like the Blast of Heavenly Trumpet When Call of Motherhood Is Felt.

Of all the most vital times in a woman's life the coming of baby is fraught with the greatest meaning. Care should be exercised to insure that the crisis is passed in safety. Apprehension is avoided by the timely use of Mother's Friend, a preparation of penetrating oils and medicinal ingredients, which renders the muscles, cords, tendons and ligaments pliable, and thus tension is avoided. The usual nervousness, nausea, bearing-down and stretching pains are counteracted and the period is one of calm repose.

The broad, fat abdominal muscles relax with ease, and when baby comes the time at the crisis is less and pain and danger is avoided.

Thousands of women for half a century have used this penetrating external application, prepared especially for expectant mothers, and every woman awaiting the crisis should give nature a helping hand.

Write the Bradford Regulator Company, Dept. F. Lamar Building, Atlanta, Georgia, for their Motherhood Book, of great value to all women, and obtain a bottle of Mother's Friend from the druggist and begin its application regularly night and morning.

Sergeant John D. Reese, who enlisted from this city last summer while serving as County Attorney for this county has been awarded the distinguished service cross for extraordinary heroism in action at Roche, France, on Oct. 27, 1918. The order conferring the award says: "Though he was suffering from illness and had been told to go to the rear, he for three days remained on duty as a runner, and when almost exhausted went forward with his company in attack, voluntarily accompanying a liaison patrol on a dangerous mission."

Sergeant Reese is a member of Company L, 142d Infantry, Thirty-Sixth Division.—Farwell State Line Tribune.

To Consolidate Schools

We are glad to announce that everything is working satisfactory toward the consolidation of three school districts in the south and southeast part of the county, where the good people intend to build a school the whole county will be proud of. They are the Graves, Groves and Newberry districts.

We understand that it is the intention of the patrons to consolidate the 75 sections in an Independent District, and issue bonds in the sum of about $10,000 for the erection and equipment of a nice brick building, and a home for the principal.—Brownfield Herald.

Good Roads for Lea County

D. H. Coleman of Knowles will have charge of the work of road building as field man in this county this year. H. W. Stoneham, county surveyor, will have direct charge of all road work. Both men are road enthusiasts and know how to build them too. These men being backed by a live board of county commissioners who see the economy of good roads assures the Lea county people of good roads in the near future.—Lovington Leader.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS CONSTITUTION READ

PRESIDENT WILSON DECLARES IT IS PRACTICAL AS WELL AS HUMANE DOCUMENT.

Paris.—President Wilson was the central figure of the plenary peace conference Friday when in person he read the covenant establishing a league of nations.

The president was received with military honors as he arrived at the foreign office and the large crowd which had congregated gave him a cordial welcome as he passed through.

Premier Clemenceau, who is president of the conference, called the conference to order and President Wilson rose and addressed the meeting.

"I have very great pleasure," said President Wilson as he began, "in presenting the report of the commission which has framed the constitution of a league of nations. I am particularly happy to be able to say it is a unanimous report, signed by the representatives of all the powers on the committee."

The results, said President Wilson, embodied the judgment of fourteen nations represented on the commission, and these fourteen nations were a representative group of the conference itself.

"This is a union of will in a common purpose. It is a union which can not be resisted and, I dare say, one which no nation will attempt to resist."

The president pointed out that the document was no "straight-packet." It was elastic and not a vehicle of might, he said. It was yet to be developed and as yet care should be taken as to the clothes put on it. While elastic, yet it was definite.

"It is definite," continued President Wilson, "as a guarantee of peace. It is definite against a renewal of such a cataclysm as has just shaken civilization."

"We are done with annexations of helpless peoples, at times accomplished in the past for the purpose of exploiting those peoples."

Too often in the past, the president added, the world had seen the lands of helpless communities appropriated for political purposes.

"And so," he added, "while this is a practical document, it is, above all, a human document. It is practical and at the same time it is designed to purify, to rectify, to elevate."

Hobby Plans to Finance University.

Austin, Texas.—Governor Hobby in a special message sent to the legislature has submitted an act to authorize the board of regents of the university of Texas to issue and sell bonds in the name of the university of Texas, and obligate the board of regents for and in behalf of the university to pay such bonds, providing for a payment of interest on such bonds and creating a sinking fund to redeem them at maturity out of the annual rentals and interest and other income of the lands and bonds constituting the permanent fund of the university, declared to be a trust fund for those purposes. The proceeds of the bonds are to be distributed for the use of the university and A. & M. college, according to certain percentages.

Plans To Raise Loan.

Washington, Feb. 18.—Short term notes, maturing in from one to five years, would be offered in the forthcoming Victory Liberty Loan Campaign, instead of long term notes, under a tentative agreement reached today by the house ways and means committee to fix the terms of the loan by legislation rather than to give Secretary Glass wide discretionary powers to determine them as he had asked.

At the same time Secretary Glass in a statement explained that the intensive popular campaign would be conducted as planned, regardless of the terms arranged by congress and that it would start not later than April 21. The secretary had asked congress for authority to issue either bonds or notes as market conditions at the time might warrant, but members of the committee concluded that a new loan issue would necessarily carry with it such a high rate of interest that financial markets might be adversely affected for some time.

Under the tentative agreement of the committee, reached in executive session at which assistant Secretary Leffingwell of the Treasury was present, Secretary Glass would be given discretion of issuing any one or several of four kinds of notes to be prescribed by the legislation. The quantity of these non-negotiable securities would be limited to probably $7,000,000,000 of which the Treasury now plans to issue only about six billions.

Amarillo Laundry Co. Amarillo, Texas

TO ALL LAUNDRY SHIPPERS AND AGENTS:

Gentlemen:—Owing to the great advances in express rates, amounting to an average advance of 120 per cent since the Government took over the railroads and express companies, the laundry plants have had to re-adjust their prices in order to meet the advances in laundry work handled through agents. The Laundry Plants of Texas were no exception and of course the plants of Texas were forced to do as all others plants have done, re-adjust their prices.

These new lists and re-adjustment has been adopted by the State Association and is not a local adopting. Every laundry plant in the State will work under this re-adjustment beginning Monday morning, February 17, and it was only after careful consideration by all laundry plants and the fact that every plant doing shipment business were losing money on account of the great advances in express rates on top of the great advances in labor and every commodity entering into the laundry business not to say anything of the demands made upon us all for war work and extra taxes, was this re-adjustment adopted. Until the re-construction period is over we cannot hope for lower prices but you may rest assured that the LAUNDRY OWNERS ALL OVER THE COUNTRY will be only too glad to again adjust their lists as soon as conditions will allow them to do so.

We know that we will have your cooperation in this new order of re-adjustment and we are sure that after only a short time the patrons will become accustomed to it and you will have no trouble at all.

Yours truly,
PANHANDLE LAUNDRY OWNERS OF TEXAS

Got Leases in Gaines County
Messrs. Jesse Ainesworth, H. K. Linsley and A. L. Gurley representing the Triangle Products Company, of Clovis, N. Their leases call for actual development in the next twelve months.—Seminole Sentinel.

MET DEATH AS BRAVE SOLDIER

Last of "Fighting Washingtons" Killed in Skirmish of Civil War.

SERVED UNDER GENERAL LEE

Col. John Augustine Washington, Virginian, "Went With His State" and Breathed His Last in Historic Gray Uniform.

MOUNT VERNON, Virginia, the former home of George and Martha Washington, and the most interesting mansion in the United States, has had a continuous interesting history connected with it, aside from the associations with the first president of the United States and the first of the first ladies of the land.

Colonel Washington, who had become proprietor of the paternal estates on the Rappahannock, acquired the magnificent domain of Mount Vernon upon the death of the widow of his half brother, Lawrence Washington, and shortly after his marriage he began to occupy it and it was his home up to the time of his death.

Upon the death of Martha Washington, on May 22, 1802, about 4,000 acres of the Mount Vernon estate, including the mansion, were inherited by Judge Bushrod Washington, the third child of John Augustine Washington. Judge Washington was a justice of the Supreme court of the United States, and took up his residence at Mount Vernon, where he dispensed a liberal hospitality and kept intact his inherited landed estate to the time of his death.

Judge Washington had no children, and following the example of his illustrious uncle, he provided for his wife during her lifetime, and then disposed of his estate to his nephews and nieces, giving specific directions and leaving the mansion house and Mount Vernon farm proper, with restricted bounds, to his nephew, John Augustine Washington, and Mount Vernon was inherited by this John's son of the same name, from whom the home and 200 acres were purchased in 1856 by the society which now controls it and cares for it.

The work of obtaining the necessary funds—$200,000—for the purchase was started by Miss Pamela Cunningham of South Carolina, who became the first regent. The vice regents each appointed state committees and the money raised was nearly all in dollar subscriptions. The greatest amount of money raised by any individual was the profits accruing from the lectures on Washington delivered in most of the large cities by Edward Everett.

The last private owner of Mount Vernon was Col. John Augustine Washington. On the breaking out of hostilities between the states, Colonel Washington became a volunteer aid, with the rank of colonel, on the staff of Gen. Robert E. Lee, and was killed September 15, 1861, while conducting a reconnaissance on the turnpike along Elk Water river, Randolph county, West Virginia.

The following account of his death is not contained in history, but was related by Col. J. H. Morrow, who commanded a brigade of four regiments under Gen. George B. McClellan in the West Virginia campaign at the time, and in whose arms Colonel Washington expired. General Lee had established his headquarters at Brady's tollgate on the old state turnpike. The bluffs on the opposite side of the river from the old road had been heavily picketed by Federal soldiers for several miles, extending from Colonel Morrow's camp below quite up to Brady's gate.

Owing to the mountainous character of the surrounding country, General Lee was imperfectly informed in this regard, and directed Colonel Washington, with a detachment, to proceed by the new road to the forks at or near Brady's gate and then down the old road, cautioning him not to venture beyond a certain point. Washington, however, it appears, probably actuated by overzeal and anxiety to be able to report valuable information, went beyond the point indicated.

His movements along the entire route on the old road were, it seems, fully observed by the pickets, and immediately after he finally started on his return a volley was delivered from the picket line and Washington was seen to fall from his horse, which galloped away with the retreating escort.

Colonel Washington was apparently the only one stricken by the volley. Colonel Morrow states that he was standing but a short distance from where Washington fell and hurried to the spot and discovered him to be an officer of rank. He knelt by him and raised him so as to enable him to recline against his breast, and directed one of his men standing near, and who wore a felt hat, to run and fill it with water from the stream. Colonel Morrow bathed the wounded man's forehead and endeavored to press water between his lips from a saturated handkerchief, but he could not swallow, as blood was flowing from his mouth and nose, and in a few minutes later he was dead. His death marked the end of the fighting Washingtons.—Philadelphia Press.

A Coated Tongue? What it Means

A bad breath, coated tongue, bad taste in the mouth, languor and debility, are usually signs that the liver is out of order. PROF. HEMMETER says: "The liver is an organ secondary in importance only to the heart."

We can manufacture poisons within our own bodies which are as deadly as a snake's venom.

The liver acts as a guard over our well-being, sifting out the cinders and ashes from the general circulation.

A blockade in the intestines piles a heavy burden upon the liver. If the intestines are choked or clogged up, the circulation of the blood becomes poisoned and the system becomes loaded with toxic waste, and we suffer from headache, yellow-coated tongue, bad taste in mouth, nausea, or gas, acid dyspepsia, languor, debility, yellow skin or eyes. At such times one should take a pleasant laxative. Such a one is made of May-apple, leaves of aloe, jalap, put into ready-to-use form by Doctor Pierce, nearly fifty years ago, and sold for 25 cents by all druggists as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

STOCKTON, CALIF. — "For constipation, sick headache, an inactive liver, indigestion and biliousness there is nothing to equal Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. I have tried other things but like the 'Pellets' best of any."—Mrs. F. C. FIELD, 329 S. Grant Street.

Demobilizing The Government.

We are demobilizing the army; when and how are we going to restore the government to a peace footing?

All the powers that were entrusted to the President, acting by himself or through agents whom he chose, were conferred as war powers and were to be exercised for the sole purpose of promoting success in the war and what is much the same thing—of removing obstructions and obstructions. Now actually the emergency has passed, although technically there is only a breathing space in the war, since peace has not yet been declared. So the powers are still within the President's discretion. A few of them he no longer exercises although he holds them in abeyance; others he has relaxed; some he still keeps in full force.

This is no place to discuss the wisdom and necessity of retaining control over the railways for a term of years after the war, or of taking over, just as the armistice was signed, the telegraph and telephone lines, which were under private management during the whole period of the fighting; but those two facts of the present situation show that government circles holds to the theory that the war is still going on, and that the emergency has not passed. The government is not demobilizing.

Daniel Webster once said, when he was virtually apologizing to himself for favoring a measure that could be defended only on the ground of urgent temporary need, that "the medicine of the Constitution must not be made its daily food." That sentiment should be echoed to-day by every American who values the liberties bequeathed to us by the fathers. We know and admit that the country is as little prepared for peace in 1919 as it was prepared for war in 1917. That does not justify our representatives in Washington for their neglect then or for their failure now to move toward peace in paths that can be trodden without previous preparation. When we see the Administration withholding from citizens, from corporations, from enterprise rights they enjoyed without question before the war, and when Congress shows itself indifferent to demands for the restoration of such personal rights as interfere with no national interest, there is danger that our old liberties may be lost before we realize that they are in danger.

Eternal vigilance is still, and always will be, the price of liberty.—The Youth's Companion.

Who Gets This Money?

Often has the problem of the nickle's worth of wool in a $50 suit of clothes been debated, but it has remained for W. B. Sands of Montana to expose the graft in wool. Somebody has evidently been pocketing a lot of easy money, but the identity of the beneficiary, although suspected, has not been actually disclosed. Briefly stated, Mr. Sands sent by express 100 pounds of wool worth 50 cents per pound in 1917 to the mills at Fergus Falls, Minn., with instructions to spin it into yarn suitable for making soldiers' socks. Two pounds of wool made one pound of yarn, making the cost $1. Spinning cost 30 cents, and express charges 29 cents, the total cost of the yarn being $1.59. He sold it to the Red Cross people, who pronounced it superior to yarn bought at $3.50 per pound, which the dealer had asserted was supplied at cost.

Last year Mr. Sands repeated the experiment, sending wool worth 60 cents per pound. The spinning cost had been advanced to 50 cents, making the cost $1.70, exclusive of transportation, but had freight service been utilized 10 cents per pound would have covered it, making the yarn cost $1.80 per pound delivered in Montana. He was advised by a storekeeper at Chinook that all-wool yarn was off the market, but was offered a half-wool product at $3.40 per pound. From these figures a ready estimate may be made of the enormous profit somebody, located between the wool-grower and the women who all last summer tirelessly knitted soldiers' socks and sweaters, pocketed. Neither the sheepmen nor the railroad got the money, nor is either benefitting by the extortionate prices now being charged for shoddy-loaded, inferior fabrics sold by conscienceless dealers under verbal "all-wool" guarantees.—The Breeder's Gazette.

Amendments will be Voted on in May.

On page eight of this issue we are publishing for the state, copies of the amendments to the constitution to be voted on the 24th day of May, 1919. These amendments are to change the constitution so as to permit equal suffrage, to permit the state to aid citizens or family men to buy and improve homes, and the third amendment is one to make the state "bone dry." These amendments should be carefully read by all voters so that they may be thoroughly posted on their content. They are three of the most important that have come before the people in several years.

The weatherman has, at last, begun to get a comprehensive view of the aquatic needs of the Plains. Just as the snow had cleared away, and the ground began to crust, he has sent us more rain and more snow. There is no foreseen reason why the Plains will not produce the greatest wheat crop in its history this year.

A Real Superintendent of Schools.

There are two kinds of superintendents today in charge of our school system—the dictator and the administrator. The dictator is one who takes the position that he is entirely responsible for all of the constructive policies of the school and that these things must emanate from his own brain, or he may attempt to show liberality by having all new plans submitted to him for approval so that the public may know that he is controlling affairs. Such a policy indirectly chokes the springs of originality and resourcefulness, for instead of feeling free to give full expression to the plan as is conceived in the teacher's own mind, she must color it to harmonize with his ideas. Instead of exercising her wit in pioneering into new fields of thought, these are employed in a painful endeavor to interpret his mind correctly. His interpretation of loyalty to the system is loyalty to his ideas. He tells the teachers and the board that a school system cannot be managed unless one man has full power to determine the policies.

He knows that it is easier to direct teachers who religiously follow his orders than to guide those who are forever devising new plans and creating new ideals. It is easier because it requires less mental effort and alertness as he is his own standard; and because the danger of revealing his own weakness as a superintendent is more remote. It takes a man with real ability, depth of character, and an unselfish desire to have the public served with all of the dynamic forces employed to be a leader among teachers creating thoughts and constructing plans. This may be answered by saying that the teachers are encouraged to take the initiative and freedom in their work, but when properly analyzed it means the initiative and freedom exercised by the gold-fish in an aquarium—the freedom to move within circumscribed limits.

The real superintendent is one who is an administrator and not a dictator. He possesses agreeable personal characteristics and a presumptuous professional knowledge which attracts teachers to seek his counsel and suggestions. But it must be borne in mind that this is an attractive process and not one set up by force. The teacher is free to consult him if he so desires and she is made to feel that absolute freedom. The superintendent's attitude toward the teacher carries with it the unmistakable impression that among their other duties they are employed to think and construct. They are made to feel that before their plans are to be criticized they must bear evidences of failure as a result of a trial. Such a superintendent realizes that it is human nature for a person to throw his heart and energies more-enthusiastically into a plan of his own creation than into that of another.

The Mississippi River is not formed from that little spring in Lake Itasca. If that were its only supply of water, this little stream would have lost itself in a desert not far distant from its source. But here are many streams having their origin in many springs and fed by many rivulets that form the Mississippi system. That great river does not direct the policies of the Missouri, the Ohio, the Arkansas, et cetera, and all of their branches with their respective sources, but it gathers its waters from all of the lands under its influence and converges them into a mighty stream. It must be remembered, however, that this river is broad and deep and capable of performing its function. This is a democratic system, for the Mississippi does not hand its waters down to its tributaries but rather it stands in a position to serve them. And because it performs this humble service, it does not lose any of its dignity, respect, or confidence. Sometimes the task grows big, for the springs do bubble and charge, but somehow it seems to be equal for the occasion. If it should fail, then a new bed must be made, for these rivers must find free expression.

The public school system is made up of the superintendent, the board, teachers, pupils and citizens. The superintendent is entitled to some of the rights of the initiative, just a little Lake Itasca in the system. And in addition, if he is big enough, he is honored with the tremendous task of giving a big expression to the wealth of ideas which his generous and inviting nature has stimulated and caused to flow through the medium of his personality.—J. E. Dufflo, Professor, Department of Sociology, West Texas State Normal College.

The Panhandle Teachers' Association will meet at the West Texas State Normal College on April 4th and 5th. A large and enthusiastic attendance is expected, as some of the noted educators of the state will speak. Among them are Miss Annie Webb Blanton, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Mr. Marcus H. Duncan, Superintendent of the Amarillo City Schools, Mr. H. T. Musselman, Editor Texas Teachers' Journal, and our own President, Mr. J. A. Hill.

CALOMEL SALIVATES AND MAKES YOU SICK

Acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver and you lose a day's work.

There's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel when a few cents buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone—a perfect substitute for calomel.

It is a pleasant, vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and can not salivate.

Children and grown folks can take Dodson's Liver Tone, because it is perfectly harmless.

Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury and attacks your bones. Take a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone instead and you will wake up feeling great. No more biliousness, constipation, sluggishness, headache, coated tongue or sour stomach. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tone acts better than horrible calomel your money is waiting for you.

"Hearts of the World."

D. W. Griffith's supreme achievement is a love story the many of the episodes were taken in France on the immediate battle fields.

Noyon and Ham, scenes of terrific fighting even now, were used by the Griffith forces as background for many wonderfully sweet love scenes. The front line trenches around Noyon and Ham, then but eight miles in the rear, are seen in the great production.

The quiet winding main street of Noyon, that peaceful village in Picardy where Griffith starts his romance is now battered and deserted. But when Griffith and his stars, Robert Harron, Dorothy Gish and Lillian Gish first arrived it had survived two tides of Huns; one going toward Paris, and the other going toward Berlin. Griffith came after the receding tide. The Germans had not anticipated it and seemed to have prepared to stay all winter and summer. There is something strange about the Germans according to Griffith; they seem to crave anything French, no matter how small its value they will risk their lives for it.

Many scenes were made at Compeigne, France, toward Paris from Noyon, and some on the British line. All, however, were made under the auspices of the British war office.

"Hearts of the World" is announced for Monday, March 3 at the Olympic matinee and night.

The glorious musical score specially written for the production and interpreted by a splendid special orchestra will add largely to the charm of the entertainment.

Rheumatism Relief—25c.

Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets), Are Helping Thousands Who Tried Expensive Things Without Result. It's Guaranteed.

There are three vital processes of human existence—the digestion of food, the extraction of nourishment from it and the elimination of waste. Poor digestion and assimilation means failure to derive full nourishment from food and that in turn often means impoverished blood, weakness, anemia, etc. Poor elimination means an accumulation of waste matter which poisons the body, lowers vitality, decreases the power of resistance to disease and leads to the development of many serious ills.

Rheumatism—due to some interference with the process of elimination, failure to get rid of certain body poisons—cannot be expected to yield to any medicine that fails to correct the condition responsible for it. Could any reasonable person expect to rid himself of rheumatic pain as long as rheumatic poison is allowed to remain in the body?

Think of this. It explains the success of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) in so many cases. Where other medicines have failed. Thousands are using NR Tablets every day and getting relief—many pay five or ten times as much for uncertain things? A 25c box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets), containing enough to last twenty-five days—must help you, must give you prompt relief and satisfactory benefit or cost you nothing.

Nature's Remedy is not only for the relief of rheumatism. It improves digestion, tones the liver, regulates kidney and bowel action, improves the blood and cleanses the system. You've tried the expensive medicines and doctors, now make the real test. You'll get results this time. Just try it. Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

How Petroleum is Formed.

Some of the elements of oil geology were briefly discussed by W. E. Wrather. He explained the organic theory, showing how oil is formed by the slow decomposition of vegetable or animal matter, this made possible by its being excluded from the air being covered with water.

"The gas from a mucky swamp will form from 70 to 90 per cent natural gas of the same quality as that which comes from an oil-well," he said. "This bears out the organic theory. Some of the vegetation producing oil consists of trees. In Southern Louisiana I have seen them drill at 3,000 feet through large logs light as cork, in process of decomposition."

Mr. Wrather explained how oil is a combination consisting mainly of carbon and hydrogen. Each of these being acquisitive, other properties are drawn into the combination. As the proportion of carbon and hydrogen vary the result is either gas, oil or a solid, such as coal. Refining is the process of segregating the different products of crude oil, he explained. He gave as an example the oil fields in Central Ohio, where the producing formation was limestone. Sulphur occurred in the oil, rendering it objectionable for lubricating purposes, as the sulphur tended to corrode metals. It was only after long experimenting that a chemist figured out a simple formula that would eliminate sulphur.

The specific gravity of oil is its direct comparison with water as to weight, it was explained. This is usually expressed by what is known as the Baume scale. The gravity of the oil of the Burkburnett field is from 38 to 42, he said, and from this 38 per cent can be made into gasoline. The remainder, however, is not very good for lubricating purposes. The exact opposite maintains in the Ranger field. The crude there is remarkably free from sulphur, Mr. Wrather said, and compares more favorably with the Pennsylvania crude for lubricating purposes than does that of any other field in the United States.

"Ranger came in just when Pennsylvania fields were weakening and this was most fortunate for the world," he said. He pointed out that the Ranger crude would make no more than 14 or 15 per cent gasoline.

"A question most frequently asked a geologist is whether oil occurs in streams or lakes underground," Mr. Wrather said. "The oil is produced from a saturation of sand or other substance. If in a hard sand-like rock, as at Ranger it is not given up rapidly, it is often necessary to 'shoot the wells with nitroglycerin to obtain a more ready flow and it usually takes many years to exhaust such a field. Loose sand, on the other hand, gives up the oil rapidly."

"It would seem, however, that there are instances where oil occurs in streams or lakes, judging by a well in Mexico that had a production record of 300,000 barrels a day. To show the vast amount of oil that can be taken from some fields, I have estimated that in a few months oil was secured from a Kansas field that, if placed on the surface, would have meant a lake 5.5 feet in depth over the entire producing area."

He explained briefly how some oils when found have a beautiful amber, cherry or mahogany color and a pleasant odor, requiring little refining to rid it of impurities. He also discussed briefly the domes, anticlines and synclines caused by a warping of the earth's surface. These, especially the domes and anticlines, he said, form catchment areas for oil, and to locate them is the job of the oil geologist.—Quannah Tribune-Chief.

"GERMANY MAY BE REDEEMED"—HOOVER

TRAIT MOST LACKING, HE SAYS, IS REGRET FOR MISERY BROUGHT ON WORLD.

FOOD SITUATION NOW SAVED

Problem Now is in Connection With Feeding of 200,000,000 People Under German Rule.

Paris.—Herbert Hoover, speaking at a dinner of the Circle Volnay, made an extensive review of the work of the commission of relief in Belgium and northern France. He related experiences of the American delegates with the German administration of occupation, said that, despite the depth of feeling which he had formed from two and a half years of intimate experience with the then ruling classes of the German people, he was not prepared to say that the German race was beyond redemption or that it was not the duty of the allied countries to endeavor to build up that people to such decency as would warrant their admittance into the league of nations.

"There is perhaps one step outstanding today in their progress in that direction—more lacking than any other," said Mr. Hoover, "and that is total abstinence from any expression of regret. If the 70,000,000 Germans were to shed the tears of Niobe for the next 1,000 years, they could not wash away the human misery which they have been responsible in Belgium and northern France alone."

"The population of the occupied territories, after four years of endurance have come out alive and healthy. They are, however, suffering from mental apathy. ### How to Ship Furs

After your catch has been skinned and the pelts stretched and dried, the furs are ready for packing and shipment. Each skin, when placed in the bundle, should lie perfectly flat and should be thoroughly cleaned. One skin should not be placed inside another or it may be overlooked. In general, furs should not be folded or rolled, for this destroys much of the good effect of the stretching.

Furs should be shipped either by express or by mail, never by freight. If shipped by express the furs should be packed securely in a burlap bag or sack and the sack tightly sewn up. The burlap allows the air to get through and at the same time protects the furs fully. If sent by mail, the furs should be first wrapped in cloth and then in strong paper. The bundle should be fastened well, but not sewed up so that it is impossible for the postal authorities to inspect it if they wish, for then first class rates will be charged.

Each bundle or package should be carefully marked for shipment. The large fur firms offer trappers any number of their shipping tags free. The tag consists of outside and inside tags, on which the trapper writes his name and address. One tag should be placed on the outside of the bundle and the other on the inside. In this way, if the outside tag is torn off in transit, the trapper has still his name on the inside and his shipment will not be lost.

A few of the large fur houses not only buy furs but also sell complete lists of trappers' supplies. Arrangements are made so that the trapper may buy whatever supplies he may need with his actual fur shipment and is not then necessitated to send cash with his order.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:
Section 1. That Article 16 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by striking out and repealing Section 20 thereof and substituting in lieu of said Section 20 the following:

Section 20. The Legislature shall enact laws to enforce this section.

(b) Until the Legislature shall prescribe other or different regulations on the subject, the sale of spirituous, vinous or malt liquors, or medicated bitters, capable of producing intoxication, or any other intoxicant whatever, for medicinal purposes shall be made only in cases of actual sickness, and then only upon the prescription of a regular practicing physician, subject to the regulations applicable to sales under prescriptions in prohibited territory by virtue of Article 598, Chapter 7, Title 11, of the Penal Code of the State of Texas.

(c) This amendment is self-operative, and until the Legislature shall prescribe other or different penalties, any person, acting for himself or in behalf of another, or in behalf of any partnership, corporation or association of persons, who shall, after the adoption of this amendment, violate any part of this constitutional provision shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and shall, upon conviction in a prosecution commenced, carried on and concluded in the manner prescribed by law in cases of felonies, be punished by confinement in the penitentiary for a period of time not less than one year nor more than five years, without the benefit of any law providing for suspended sentence. And the district courts and the judges thereof, under their equity powers, shall have the authority to issue, upon suit of the Attorney General, injunctions against infractions or threatened infractions of any part of this constitutional provision.

(d) Without affecting provisions herein, intoxicating liquors are declared to be subject to the general police power of the State; and the Legislature shall have the power to pass any additional prohibitory laws, or laws in aid thereof, which it may deem advisable.

(e) Liability for violating any liquor laws in force at the time of the adoption of this amendment shall not be affected by this amendment, and all remedies, civil and criminal, for such violations shall be preserved.

Section 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors for members of the Legislature at an election to be held throughout the State of Texas on the fourth Saturday in May, being the twenty-fourth day thereof, A. D. 1915. At said election, the vote shall be by official ballot, which shall have printed or written at the top thereof in plain letters the words, "Official Ballot." Said ballot shall have also written or printed thereon the words, "For Prohibition," and the words, "Against Prohibition."

All voters favoring said proposed amendment shall erase the words "Against Prohibition" by making a mark through the same, and those opposing it shall erase the words

"For Prohibition," by making a mark through the same.

If a majority of the votes cast at said election shall be "For Prohibition," said amendment shall be declared adopted. If a majority of the votes shall be "Against Prohibition," said amendment shall be lost, and so declared.

All the provisions of the General Election Laws as amended and in force at the time of said election shall hold shall govern in all respects as to the qualifications of the electors, the method of holding such election, and all other respects, so far as such election laws can be made applicable.

Proposed Amendment to the State Constitution, Giving the Legislature Power to Give or Lend, or Authorize the Giving or Lending, of the Credit of the State for the Purpose of Assisting Citizens, Heads of Families, to Acquire or Improve Their Homes.

(House Joint Resolution No. 19)

To amend Section 50, Article 3, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, to provide that the Legislature shall have power to give or lend, or authorize the giving or lending, of the credit of the State for the purpose of assisting citizens who are heads of families to acquire or improve their homes; authorizing the State to acquire, improve, sell or lease real estate or assist such citizens to acquire or improve their homes upon terms and conditions prescribed by the Legislature; authorizing the Legislature to create such agencies as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this section; providing that obligations created under this section shall never be taxed; and providing that the Legislature shall have authority to provide a method of securing any deferred payments for lands purchased hereunder, and that such obligations shall be secured in addition to the usual liens by an annual assessment collected as a tax against the land; and providing that the Legislature shall have no power to relieve any person from any obligation entered into under this provision or any statute enacted thereunder; and providing for the classification of lands acquired under this Act, and limiting acreage sold to any one person where lands are classed as agricultural.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Section 50, of Article 3, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, be so amended that the same will read and hereafter be as follows:

Section 50. The Legislature shall have no power to give or lend, or to authorize the giving or lending, of the credit of the State in aid of or to any person, association, or corporation, whether municipal or other, or to pledge the credit of the State in any manner whatsoever for the payment of the liabilities, present or prospective, of any individual, association of individuals, municipalities or other corporation, whatsoever, except that the Legislature shall have the power to give or lend, or to authorize the giving or lending, of the credit of the State for the purpose of assisting native born or naturalized citizens who are heads of families and who will become in good faith actual occupants, to acquire or improve their homes; and for this purpose the State is authorized to acquire, improve, sell or lease real estate or assist such citizens to acquire or improve their homes upon such terms and conditions and in such manner and subject to such limitations as the Legislature may from time to time prescribe. Provided that no land shall be acquired by the State under the terms of this amendment to the Constitution until the said lands are examined, and the value of said lands is appraised and ascertained as to its actual value for agricultural purposes, by a commissioner hereby authorized, composed of the Governor, Attorney General, Land Commissioner, Comptroller of Public Accounts and the State Treasurer, and their report shall be available to all prospective land purchasers. This Legislature shall have authority to create by law such agencies as may be deemed necessary to effect the purposes of the Act. Obligations created under this section shall never be taxed, and the Legislature shall have authority to provide a method of securing deferred payments for lands purchased hereunder, and in addition to the usual liens may secure the same by an annual assessment collected as a tax against the land; provided, however, the Legislature shall have no power to relieve any person from any obligation entered into with the State under this provision or any statute enacted hereunder. The terms of this Act shall not apply, or be extended to any person who is not a bona fide resident citizen of the State of Texas, and who has not been such citizen at least two years prior to the extension of such aid, nor shall the terms of this Act ever be applied to any lands outside of the State of Texas. Provided further that all land acquired by the State under the provisions of this section for which the State may lend its credit shall be classed as agricultural lands or otherwise, and if classed as agricultural lands, then no more than 200 acres shall be sold to any one person under the provisions herein.

Section 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the State of Texas at an election to be held throughout the State of Texas on the 24th day of May, A. D. 1915, at which election all voters favoring said proposed amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words: "For the amendment to Section 50, Article 3, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing that the Legislature shall have power to give or lend, or to authorize the giving or lending, of the credit of the State for the purpose of assisting citizens who are heads of families to acquire or improve their homes; authorizing the State to acquire, improve, sell or lease real estate or assist such citizens to acquire or improve their homes upon terms and conditions prescribed by the Legislature; authorizing the Legislature to create such agencies as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this section; providing that obligations created under this section shall never be taxed; and providing that the Legislature shall have authority to provide a method of securing any deferred payments for lands purchased hereunder, and that such obligations shall be secured in addition to the usual liens by an annual assessment collected as a tax against the land; and providing that the Legislature shall have no power to relieve any person from any obligation entered into under this provision or any statute enacted thereunder; and providing for the classification of lands acquired under this Act, and limiting acreage sold to any one person where lands are classed as agricultural." and those opposing it shall erase the words, "For the amendment to Section 50, Article 3, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing that the Legislature shall have power to give or lend, or to authorize the giving or lending, of the credit of the State for the purpose of assisting citizens who are heads of families to acquire or improve their homes; authorizing the State to acquire, improve, sell or lease real estate or assist such citizens to acquire or improve their homes upon terms and conditions prescribed by the Legislature; authorizing the Legislature to create such agencies as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this section; providing that obligations created under this section shall never be taxed; and providing that the Legislature shall have authority to provide a method of securing any deferred payments for lands purchased hereunder, and that such obligations shall be secured in addition to the usual liens by an annual assessment collected as a tax against the land; and providing that the Legislature shall have no power to relieve any person from any obligation entered into under this provision or any statute enacted thereunder; and providing for the classification of lands acquired under this Act, and limiting acreage sold to any one person where lands are classed as agricultural."

"A question most frequently asked a geologist is whether oil occurs in streams or lakes underground," Mr. Wrather said. "The oil is produced from a saturation of sand or other substance. If in a hard sand-like rock, as at Ranger it is not given up rapidly, it is often necessary to 'shoot' the wells with nitroglycerin to obtain a more ready flow and it usually takes many years to exhaust such a field. Loose sand, on the other hand, gives up the oil rapidly.

"It would seem, however, that there are instances where oil occurs in streams or lakes, judging by a well in Mexico that had a production record of 300,000 barrels a day. To show the vast amount of oil that can be taken from some fields, I have estimated that in a few months oil was secured from a Kansas field that, if placed on the surface, would have meant a lake 5.6 feet in depth over the entire producing area."

He explained briefly how some oils when found have a beautiful amber, cherry or mahogany color and a pleasant odor, requiring little refining to rid it of impurities. He also discussed briefly the domes, anticlines and synclines caused by a warping of the earth's surface. These, especially the domes and anticlines, he said, form catchment areas for oil, and to locate them is the job of the oil geologist.—Quannah Tribune-Chief.
