MASS MEETING CALLED FOR SCHOOL AMENDMENT MONDAY

RANDALL COUNTY CITIZENS URGED TO VOTE FOR SCHOOL AMENDMENT IN ELECTION NEXT TUESDAY.

Mrs. C. R. Burrow, county chairman of the Better Schools Campaign has called a mass meeting of the citizens of Randall county to be held at the court house next Monday night to discuss the school amendment to be voted upon in the general election of Tuesday. President J. A. Hill and others will address the voters of Randall County upon the importance of voting in favor of the amendment.

Mrs. Burrow has engagements at several school houses in Randall County for meetings Sunday afternoon. Speakers will visit these school houses in favor of the amendment. She is trying to get in touch with every school house district in the county and send out speakers for that date.

As Educational Center of the Panhandle-Plains country, Randall county should vote solidly in favor of the school amendment.

The future of the free public schools of Texas is at stake, and the adoption of the school amendment next Tuesday will save the schools from the menace which threatens to destroy their efficiency.

Attend the mass meetings, and vote for the amendment next Tuesday.

HAPPY POSTOFFICE MAKES NEW RECORD

Inspectors Place it High in Grade—Postmaster Miller Responsible for High Rank of His Office.

Uncle Sam has a postoffice in every town on the map but there is but few of these town that are in Happy's class that can boast of having the second best kept office in the state and that is what Happy has, according to the inspectors who pronounced it one of the best in its class. It has just been promoted in recent years to a third class office and it is steadily growing and hopes are that it will soon be due another promotion.

At present it has something over five hundred patrons and there is a steady call for more boxes every day. It is well equipped with everything, including the latest devices in combination lock boxes some of which has just recently been installed.

William F. Miller, who has been postmaster and one of Happy's foremost citizens for the past six years, is responsible for the post office's high standing and his service while in this office has been very satisfactory to every one, as he has done everything possible to give the very best service to his patrons which reason can be said of very few other postmasters. There is one thing that is a cinch, notwithstanding how fast Happy grows it can never outgrow its post office or postmaster.

She was very complimentary of the work being offered in the schools and stated that the faculty was especially strong. USE MORE MILK DRIVE

Rosier cheeks, brighter eyes, plumper bodies, keener minds and better health for the children of the Panhandle—these are the aims in "Use More Milk" drive beginning the next Trades Day, Nov. 8, in Canyon. The Randall County Commercial League is putting on the campaign thru the Agricultural and Home Economics Departments of the West Texas State Normal College, in an effort to get every child in the Panhandle to use at least a pint of milk each day in its diet.

The people of the Panhandle have long been able to feed their live stock so as to win championships in Kansas City and Chicago, but they have been content to let their children "just grow." The "Use More Milk" drive is a start toward scientific feeding of children.

Statistics show that a large per cent of children are underweight. In one county where a survey showed 69 per cent were underweight a campaign was started; in one of the schools fifteen out of twenty-four were underweight when the test began Jan. 28, though they had re-

DAIRY DEMONSTRATION IN CITY NOV. 8TH

Trades Day Feature Will be Dairy and Milk Handling—Of Great Interest to All Citizens.

The Panhandle needs more dairy cows. There is no stock on the farm that will return as much value in production for the amount of feed fed as the dairy cow. With milk selling at fifteen cents per quart and butter fat around sixty cents per pound, and feed plentiful and cheap, there should be a big profit in keeping cows this winter.

Any cow that is worth keeping must give over four thousand pounds of four per cent milk per year. Many will give over twice that much. It costs but little more to feed a high producer than a scrub.

Can you answer these questions?

How much milk does your cow give per year (not counting the foam)?

What per cent of butter fat is this milk?

How many germs in this milk?

Are you feeding a balancing ration?

Can you feed a cheaper ration and get as much or more—milk?

The writer has kept a grade Jersey-Hereford cow in town for the past year, paying current prices for every bit of feed used, at an expense of $70.00. This cow has produced almost five thousand pounds of four per cent milk and has made a net profit above all expense $160.00. If this can be done on a low grade animal, what can be done with a good one?

If you are interested in milk cows, come to the Dairy Demonstration at Randall County Court House next Trades day.

The time of Miss Botsai is so largely taken up with meetings in the various communities of the county that no more day classes will be given in Canyon.

ELECTION ON PAVING BONDS TO BE HELD SATURDAY

CITIZENS OF CANYON WILL DECIDE AS TO PAVING THE PUBLIC SQUARE OF CANYON.

The special election on the paving proposition will be held in Canyon next Saturday, Oct. 30.

There is no doubt about the election being in favor of the issuance of bonds for paving the public square, but it is very necessary that a big vote in favor of the bonds be polled.

All property holders in the incorporation of Canyon will be allowed to vote, both men and women.

The attorney general holds that married women whose husbands pay a property tax will be allowed to vote in all elections which have for the purpose the issuance of bonds.

The people of Canyon have been thinking for ten years about paving the public square. Saturday is the time for action.

Let every progressive citizen vote Saturday for the paving bonds.

COMMERCIAL LEAGUE MEETING TO BE HELD FRIDAY NIGHT

The regular monthly meeting of the Randall County Commercial League will be held at the News office Friday night of this week at 7 o'clock.

All members of the League and Canyon boosters are urged to attend the meeting.

SEVENTEEN PAY POLL TAX UNDER NEW LAW

Only seventeen poll tax receipts were issued in Randall county under the provisions of the new law extending the time of payment of poll taxes to the 22nd of October.

Reports from all over the state indicate that very few women who had not paid their poll tax in January took advantage of the new law.

FINE VEAL HIDE NOW WORTH 42c—HIDES 2c LB.

The hide of a choice 250 pound calf sold in Canyon this morning for 42 cents. The same hide one year ago would have been worth $6.30. The calf was fat, and the hide the most desirable on the market.

Men who have not been handling cattle little realize what the cow man is up against today. Leather is higher and harder to get than ever before yet here has been a tremendous slump in the price of hides, until the lowest price in the history of the country now prevails. At the present prices, it does not pay to skin the animals.

WAYLAND DEFEATS NORMAL; INSTITUTE HERE SATURDAY

The Normal football team was defeated by Wayland at Plainview Saturday by a score of 14 to 0.

The strongest team which will play the Normal in Canyon this season comes Saturday from the New Mexico Military Institute. The team has defeated Wayland, but the Normal is going hard after Saturday's game. The game will be played on the Normal field.

Man Burned at Umbarger

While filling his car at Umbarger last Monday night by the aid of a lantern, a traveling man was badly burned and his car almost burned up when the gas caught fire. Joe Frielmel's store was threatened by the flames. The man was taken to Amarillo for treatment.

Legion Meeting Tonight

A business meeting of the American Legion has been called for tonight at the club house by Post Commander H. C. Gamble.

THREE AMENDMENTS ON BALLOT FOR GEN. ELECTION

The voters of Texas will vote upon three amendments to the state constitution at the general election next Tuesday. All three amendments have meritorious features and should be approved by the voters in the election next week.

The first amendment would allow cities of under 5,000 to increase the tax rate of the corporation by vote of the people. Under the present constitution towns under 5,000 has a tax limit of 25c on the $100 valuation, while towns of 5,001 population may have a limit of $1.50. Just why such a distinction should be made, no one can see. Vote of the amendment.

The second amendment refers to the school taxation limit, which has been discussed so much in the state, and it would almost be a crime against the children of Texas to vote against this amendment.

The third amendment has to do with the salaries of county officers. They are now paid by fees, while the amendment seeks to set a definite salary. For small counties, the salary scheme would hardly be profitable, but for the larger counties it is very desirable. Most of the county officials of the state naturally oppose the amendment.

ANOTHER GOOD RAIN FELL IN RANDALL COUNTY TUESDAY

A good rain fell in Randall County Tuesday night of this week. This following the rains of last week put the ground in excellent condition for the big wheat crop.

The wheat raisers are highly pleased with conditions. There is an excellent deep moisture from the heavy rains of August. The present moisture is enough to get the crop started. It will require only a little moisture during the summer and spring to make a good yield next year. A wheat raiser was discussing the condition yesterday and stated he had never failed to make wheat in years with a good moisture to start like there is today.

Fined for Pistol Toting

A couple of young sprouts came from Amarillo a few weeks ago armed to the teeth to protect themselves against the natives. In court last Friday they aid a fine of $100 each and expenses. John Foster and Irvin Barranger were the names of the men.

THE SCHOOL TAX AMENDMENT

Salvation of Texas Schools Depends On Passage of Amendment Nov. 2

On November 2, the people of Texas will express their approval or disapproval of a proposed constitutional amendment which seeks to apply to our system of public education the traditional doctrine of local self government, and which, if carried, will have a far-reaching effect on the education of all the people.

The merits of the proposed amendment may be best understood thru a brief study of three things: 1. The present sources of revenue for public education; 2. The present condition of the schools; 3. The principle involved and the probable effect of the proposed amendment.

1. The fathers of Texas wisely created a permanent state school fund now valued at more than $72,000,000. This endowment produces a revenue of approximately 2.6 per cent annually, or about $1,872,000. This revenue becomes a part of the available school fund and is apportioned among the school districts of the state according to scholastic population. The fathers also created a county school fund which is now valued at approximately $12,000,000, but not all the counties share in the benefits of this fund, and the revenue derived therefrom is relatively insignificant for the most of the counties of the state.

A further source of available revenue for the maintenance of our schools is $1.00 of each of the poll tax paid, a variable sum, thus far less than $1,000,000 annually.

To supplement these available funds the state levies an ad valorem tax of thirty-five cents on the one hundred dollars of property valuation. Only about twenty cents of this, however, is used for the support of the schools, the remainder of the proceeds going for the purchase and distribution of free text books.

From these various sources the state last year collected a revenue sufficient to apportion $8.50 to each child within the scholastic age. By special appropriation of the Legislature the scholastic apportionment this year will be increased to $14.50, the highest point reached in the history of the state and sufficient to give Texas favorable rank among the states in the amount expended per scholastic.

Foreseeing that the state revenues might not be adequate for the proper support of the schools, constitutional provision was made for their local support up to a maximum of fifty cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of property. Many schools have availed themselves of this privilege of local taxation for the maintenance of their schools, and now supplement the state scholastic apportionment from their own property values.

2. In spite of these various sources of support, however, the public school system, as a whole, finds itself today threatened with utter collapse because of insufficiency of funds. With the exception, it may be, of a few city systems, which operate under special law, there is scarcely a school district in Texas that has adequate funds with which to maintain a creditable public school. It is true that during the past year many communities managed to maintain their standards because they resorted to private subscription, raised property valuation, or went in debt. But many other communities cut short their terms, employed inferior grade of teachers, and otherwise reduced their standards. With a shortage of more than 2000 teachers last year, 50,000 children in Texas did not attend school.

More significant, however, than any of these conditions is the rapid degeneration of the teaching profession. It has been authoritatively asserted that, "About eighty per cent of the teachers in our rural schools are mere boys and girls, and about fifty per cent of the country teachers hold only a second grade certificate. Many taught last season without any certificate, in violation of the law . . . about 400,000 Texas children were taught by teachers whose preparation was not above the eighth grade . . . In the last few years, the percentage of men teachers in Texas has been reduced from forty-four per cent to seventeen per cent. Figures obtained during the last few months indicate that about thirty per cent of last year's men teachers have left the profession permanently."

Not only is the above quotation true, but added to it and intensifying its significance is the further fact that promising young men and young women by the thousands have been turned away from the teaching profession because of the low salaries paid teachers and the general disrepute into which the profession has fallen by reason of lowered standards. Attendance at the teacher-training institutions fell off noticeably last year. The West Texas State Normal College is the only exception to this statement. That our growth here took place in spite of general indifference to teaching is shown by the fact that not a single male student in this school last year would definitely commit himself to teaching as a life work. Drove of young people graduate from high schools each year and rush to all other kinds of institutions of higher learning, many of which are poorly prepared to do good college work, but the number of such young people who do find their way to a teacher-training institution is relatively negligible, and many of those who do come to such schools come with some other purpose than that of preparing for teaching as a career. This unfortunate state of things is immediately due to the disrepute in which teaching is held—a disrepute which is largely due to the lack of money with which to support adequately our common school system. Public education as it exists today in this state is too fortuitous to be attractive to a large number of ambitious and capable young people. Consequently the depletion of the ranks of the teacher constitutes a real menace to the state.

Along with the increase in salaries must go a corresponding increase in the requirements for entering the profession. Standards of preparation must be set up (for admittedly we have none as things are) and the profession of teaching must come to represent real culture, power, and technical skill. Until this shall be done many people will continue to question whether our schools are really worth what they already cost.

3. The proposed amendment looks toward the correction of these conditions. In the first place it seeks to guarantee to each school district the traditional American right of local self-government. By what accepted principle, for example, has the state of Texas the right to say to Amarillo that she cannot spend enough of her own money to support her own schools according to her own standards? As the constitution and law now stand the state virtually says to each district in Texas: "I want you to educate your children, in fact, you must do so, and I will give you $13.50 per scholastic for that purpose, but you must not add too much to this sum. To be specific, you can only contribute annually only fifty cents of each $100 worth of property." I submit that this does violence to every purpose for which the state created a public school system and is in direct opposition to our long cherished principle of local self-government.

In the second place, the proposed amendment, in allowing each district to regulate its own tax rate for school purposes, will enable needy communities to maintain their school terms for nine months and without lowering of standards. We should be able to attract a greater number of competent young people to the profession, because the schools would have a more dependable foundation and general teaching conditions would be vastly improved in the course of a few years. To be sure the tax rate would not necessarily be increased, but the potential revenue of the schools would be so enlarged as to give stability to the whole system of public education.

On the other hand, if the amendment should fail, we may expect that the Legislature will cease to make additional appropriations to supplement our available school funds, the per capita apportionment will drop back to its old level of $7 or $8. School terms will be reduced in length, salaries of teachers will be reduced, and Texas will become the permanent home of dense ignorance, where political and social corruption will play hide and seek ad libitum.

Vote for the Better Schools Amendment on November 2, and thus array yourself with those who believe in America and who are determined to preserve its institutions, regardless of cost.

High School Notes
 Things have been lively the past week in the interest of the amendment for better schools, which is to be voted on the second of November. Several songs have been learned which we intend to sing election day. We will do our part, you do yours by voting for the amendment November 2nd.

Another group of thriving musicians entertained us during the chapel period Saturday the 23rd. The participants were: Amogene Fooler, Frieda Cheatham, Sue Smith, Louise and Carrie Guthrie, and Mildred Flynn.

The Seventh Grade "Rough Riders" and "Night Riders" threw a good deal of everything in their debate last Saturday entitled: "Resolved that Foreign Immigrants should be excluded for a period of twenty years." The Night Riders failed to throw enough mountain tops to make the necessary impression on the judges and as a consequence lost the debate. But both sides deserve the highest of praise for the thoroughness with which they covered such a broad subject. The Affirmative (Night Riders) was represented by: Cleveland Jones, Morcene Smith, and Sue Smith. The Negative (Rough Riders) were: Charles Boone McClure, and J. A. Edwards. If the Seventh Grade keeps up at the rate that they are now traveling they will soon be the champion debaters of the school.

The long-pending football game between the High School and Tulia came off Tuesday. The game was interesting from start to finish which is proved by the score, 13 to 13.

The High School literally carried their opponents off their feet in the first quarter and the first two minutes of play netted a touchdown but the goal kick failed.

Burnette intercepted a forward pass immediately after the kick-off and the next down brought another touchdown and a successful goal kick. This left the score 13 to 0 in the High School's favor in the first seven minutes of play.

Tulia's star seemed to be Haygood who broke through repeatedly and in many cases downed his man for a loss.

Too bad, totally unnecessary fumbles was practically all that kept the High School from being victorious.

The lineup was as follows:

Tulia: L. E. Lindsay; L. T. Cantrell; L. G. Vaughn; C. Pierson; R. G. Tate; R. T. Ramsey; R. E. C. Haygood; L. H. T. Haygood; R. H. Jennings; Q. Gardner; F. Goss.

A man said the other day that Canyon could not support a hospital and therefore he would vote against the issuance of bonds. Of course, as long as Canyon has no hospital the people cannot support one, and so long as we make no effort to get a hospital, the people will be fully convinced that it will be impossible to run one. If experience of other towns count for anything, Canyon is plenty able to support a hospital. Canadian has a fine hospital. There are two at Plainview and two at Lubbock. Clarendon has had a hospital for a number of years. The town of Spur with 600 less population than Canyon has a very fine hospital. Canyon has had enough patients in the Amarillo hospital during the past year to pay the running expenses of a hospital, and lives could have been saved right here in the city if there had been a hospital to care for the sick. The News maintains that any man talks foolishness who places the matter of a few dollars against the possibility of saving one human life, and any doctor in Canyon will testify that had there been a hospital in Canyon several lives would have been saved in the past twelve months.

Editor Loomis' middle name is Hard Luck. Loomis runs the Canadian Record, and was incidentally selected by the republicans of this district to defeat Marvin Jones for re-election. Loomis has done some campaigning over the district and spent some money. His name was properly certified to the state secretary, but plans miscarried, and his name was not placed on the ballot. Consequently his friends in the district will have to write his name on the ticket, which most republicans will forget to do next Tuesday.

Some people are confused as to the elections to be held during the next few days since there are three. Saturday will be the election on the paving bonds. Next Tuesday is the general election and at the bottom of the general election ballot is to be found the three amendments to be voted upon. The third election comes on Nov. 20, on the hospital proposition.

A president will be named next Tuesday. While Cox has succeeded in turning the tide somewhat during the past two weeks, there is but little doubt as to the outcome. The people want a change. The change may not be of evident benefit, but when a majority of the people favor the change, they are sure to get it.

A vote for the school amendment in the election next Tuesday is a vote for the future usefulness of the children in Texas; a vote against the amendment is a wilful act to cripple the next generation, yoking it with a chain of ignorance. The school amendment is the second one at the bottom of the general election ballot.

Mrs. M. S. Allen

Sister Allen was born Dec. 8, 1844, in Hart County, Kentucky, married at the age of nineteen to James E. Allen.

To them were born seven sons and four girls. All the children except one, a little girl who died when a year old, are living and with the exception of two were with her in her last illness. Her husband died years past and she has lived a widow up to her death.

She was converted a few months after her marriage and since then has walked with God, as a faithful member of the Baptist church, and lived to see all her children Christians and church members.

She was an old-fashioned mother and wife who loved in a strong constant common sense, self-sacrificing way. There was about her nothing of that shallow sentimentality, so oftentimes called love, that gives way to grief and which is used as an excuse for neglecting all duties and making one a burden on others. No, she wiped away her tears and faced the future with determination and faith.

She believed in a practical parental authority that has given the world a splendid group of law abiding and industrious citizens.

Loved her Lord devotedly and His Church and church life had a large place in her plans.

She approached death without fear and with a rapturous spirit of anticipation. To her, death was just God's plan of bringing her to His Glory-land, to which she looked and of which she did love to talk.

The following are the children of Mrs. Allen: L. G. Allen, Canyon; Rev. J. D. Allen, Greenville; Mrs. O. R. Rutledge, Roswell, N. M.; Mrs. P. A. Griffin, Coleman; R. L. Allen, Amarillo; F. P. Mr. and Mrs. Ongawa are Japanese actors and musicians of great skill and national reputation. They are playing a second engagement at Baylor University this season. Professor Armstrong, head of the English Department, has the following to say of them: "They give a most artistic performance and they are in every way charming. They have the highest commendation and they have proved themselves by actual performance here in Baylor." Jane Osborn-Hanna of the Chicago Grand Opera Company says of them: "It was with great pleasure I witnessed your charming Japanese play. It was one of the most artistic and interesting performances it has been my privilege to attend in many a day." These are but typical examples of the high praise which the press from our largest cities accords these gifted Japanese actors and musicians.

The program for the evening follows:

Will Sow Sweet Clover

A gentleman from Roswell having about 10 acres of river land, says he is going to scatter sweet clover seed over it, following the practice of Kansas farmers who are sowing this valuable forage on every available piece of land not subject to cultivation. It is claimed that it will grow wherever weeds will, and it is equal to alfalfa for pasture. A farmer on the upper Cottonwood tells me that he has taken in $1000 for sheep pasture and $1000 worth of seed on 25 acres of this sweet clover, on dry land. It would seem that this would be of value on land for which we have no water.—"Uncle George" in Hagerman (N. M.) Messenger.

VOTE AND WORK FOR THE SCHOOL AMENDMENT ON NOVEMBER 2ND.

(By Annie Webb Blanton, State Superintendent of Public Instruction.)

NEED OF MANY WORKERS.

It is when we try to inform the people of Texas as to the merits of any measure that we realize that Texas is not really a state—it is an empire. Compare the Lone Star State, with its 252 counties, with its neighbor, Oklahoma, which has 77 counties, or with tiny Delaware, which has three. It soon becomes obvious that to give adequate publicity to even the most meritorious measure, an army of workers is needed.

When we remember, further, that the general attitude in Texas has been to vote against constitutional amendments, we realize that, the patriotic citizens of Texas must go out into the highways and byways to arouse the necessary enthusiasm for the educational amendment to make it the notable exception to the rule its friends all predict it will prove to be.

NATURE OF THE AMENDMENT.

Texas now has a district tax limit of fifty cents on the hundred dollars of property valuation. Only two states, Texas and Virginia, have so low a limit. Half of the states of the Union have no limit on the tax that districts may vote for school purposes. The unjust side of this tax limit is that while large cities are exempt from this provision, the village school and the country school are shackled by its terms. The proposed amendment to article 3 of section VII of the constitution will grant the same privilege to all schools—it will permit the country school district as well as the city to vote for its schools such support as it deems necessary.

THE AMENDMENT DOES NOT RAISE TAXES.

The proposed amendment does not raise taxes, nor does it permit any school board to increase taxes. It simply leaves each district free to continue its present support to its schools, or to increase this support, if it chooses. Before any tax can be increased, the rate must be decided by a vote of the taxpayers of the district. This amendment is, therefore, a measure of local self-government.

ATTITUDE OF THE POLITICAL PARTIES.

The state democratic convention of 1920, at its recent meeting in Fort Worth, endorsed the passage of this amendment as a part of the platform of the democratic party. The republican candidate for governor, in a recent address, stated that he would prefer that the people of Texas should fall to vote for him than to fail to vote for this amendment. At this writing, other parties have not expressed their attitude.

A MISTAKEN IMPRESSION.

A few persons have expressed the opinion that, since their districts receive from the state more than they pay to the state, it would be best to vote against the amendment, and let the state support their schools. The mistake in this is (1) that the state can not and will not continue to support those who do not help themselves and (2) that such an attitude is condemned by most of the right-minded patriotic citizens of the state. The four million dollar appropriation was made by the legislature to tide over the emergency until the amendment can pass. The legislature will have no convenient surplus next year, to appropriate for the tax rate has been lowered. Moreover, many members of the legislature have declared that, if the people vote down this amendment in November, they will make no more appropriations to the schools from the general revenue. Some of them have asserted that they will even vote to discontinue the two-million-dollar appropriation for rural schools. If the amendment fails to pass, the schools will have no recourse. Two thousand of them closed their doors last year. Our teachers will flock to other states, where a living wage is offered. Many have already gone.

STATE SUPPORT THE SAME FOR CITY AND COUNTRY SCHOOLS.

The politician frequently harps on the difference in support of country and city schools. This difference lies in local support. The state gives the same per capita for the country and the city child. It favors the country child, in that it makes a special appropriation of two million dollars for rural schools. While Texas stands tenth in state support of schools, it ranks as forty-fourth in local support. Shall this continue?

OUR RANK IN EDUCATION.

The Russel Sage Foundation in its recent investigation of all the states of the Union ranks Texas as thirty-ninth in education. Shall a state that is first in size, first in agricultural products, third in production of oil, and seventh in wealth be satisfied to remain thirty-ninth in education?

DANGER TO DEMOCRACY.

Texas is about ten per cent illiterate. Twenty-five per cent of our children do not advance beyond the fourth grade. The average is the sixth grade. That means that, in future, we shall have a sixth-grade citizenship. The only safeguard of the democratic institutions founded by our forefathers, the best protection against bolshevism, the wisest economy for the state, is education. Give the country boy and girl a fair chance! Work and vote for the Better Schools Amendment on November 2nd.

Why Not a Fighting Chance?

There is none of America's boasted "equality of opportunity" for the children of Texas today.

Two boys, let us say, are born into the world, equal mentally, physically, and morally.

One goes to school in a shanty, presided over by a poorly paid, poorly educated girl in her "teens" who has so many "grades" that real teaching is impossible. The boy is without the advantages of good books, manual training shops, experimental apparatus, physical examination, physical training, or the inspiration of a well balanced, cultured teacher of high ideals.

The other boy attends a well-supported two or three-room country school, presided over by professionally-trained, experienced teachers. Later he is sent to the consolidated rural high school made possible by the foresight and progressiveness of the community's patrons and trustees. This school is equipped with a good library, shops, gymnasium and a plot for experimental farming. There is a physical director and students are examined so that any incipient eye, nose, throat or other bodily trouble is arrested before becoming chronic.

The two boys, born "free and equal," in neighboring communities reach the age of 24. One, possessing the assurance that is the hand-maiden of wholesome knowledge, has developed into a vigorous, contented, progressive, dependable farmer; an honor to his community, his state, and his country.

The other is a shiftless, diseased, dissatisfied, shame-faced ne'er-do-well, a burden to his family and a menace to his community.

Whose is the blame?

Remember that the difference in support of schools rests with the local patrons, not with the state.

The state gives the same per capita to every child in Texas; but it favors the country child in that it makes a special appropriation of $2,000,000 for rural schools.

"Why Can't We Have Good Schools in the Country?"

One of the school supervisors of the state department of education recently talked to a young girl on the train, who lives on a farm in the black land belt. She was a girl of about fourteen, whose square little body and straightforward sincerity of eye indicated unusual physical and mental strength. She said she loved her farm home although the work of cooking, canning, washing and ironing, sewing and sometimes working in the field was heavy. She did not mind the work, but she wanted more than anything to go to school in order that she might be a teacher.

The year before she had finished the sixth grade which was as high as the school in her district went.

The family of her best friend had moved to town in order that the children might have good schools, but her father wanted to stay in the country. Then with a catch in her voice she asked, "Why can't we have good schools in the country?"

This question the state superintendent passes to the voters. Those who believe that the country children ought to have as good schools as the city children will vote for the Better Schools Amendment which is a local option measure permitting each school district to make such provision as it chooses for the support of its schools. Most cities now enjoy this privilege under the terms of their charter. The constitution limits the power of country districts.

Let the voters give these districts the power to have good schools in the country.

For Your Earnest Consideration.

School reports show that twice as much money is being spent in the cities for the education of negro children as is being spent in the country districts for the education of white children. Cities are not limited by the constitutional restriction on local taxation. On November 2nd the country districts will be given the same local self government privileges if the Better Schools Amendment carries.

During the late war one of our boys, returning to camp from an afternoon off, was stopped by the sudden call of "Halt!" from a sentry. "Halt!" exclaimed the soldier. "Don't halt me, I'm a half hour late as it is." So when the mosquitoes cry "Halt!" to the Educational Amendment, we reply, "Great Heavens, men, our state is half a century late with this thing now."

R. E. L. Sherrard of Dallas made arrangements last summer to take a company of Boy Scouts to the harvest fields. The boys were frequently called to get up at an early hour and help with the lighter duties about the farm. On the first Sunday in September Bobby Wilson, age 11, arrived at the farm. On Monday morning before daybreak he was awakened by one of the farm hands.

"What's the idea of getting up in the middle of the night?" said Bobby.

"Hurry up!" said the other. "I'll show you how to milk cows."

Bobby sat up with a puzzled expression on his face, gazed thoughtfully out into the darkness, then asked: "Do you have to sneak up on them?"

Adult illiteracy is proportionately three times higher among native born children of native born parents than among the native born children of foreign born parents. This indicated the low level of country schools.

Raise the level by voting for the Better Schools Amendment.

Wayside Items

On account of inclement weather no services at church Sunday last.

Heavy rains have fallen pretty well over the country. Road are heavy and farm work at a standstill.

Estimated the greater part of the feed crops have been cut, considerable quantity yet to be shocked.

Leonard Helms of Wayside and Miss Mary Rosh of Amarillo were married at the residence of the bride's parents, Oct. 17, 1920. They spent a week at Wayside and may go to California in the near future.

J. T. McGehee, wife and sons, J. T. and Homer left home Thursday for the Dallas Fair, returning Tuesday. They report a good time and immense crowds of people.

All are invited to a Halloween party at Wayside Public School building next Saturday night, Oct. 30. Wizzards and witches are requested to wear masques. Fortune telling is expected to be one of the features of the entertainment.

Payne Bros. with Mrs. Wm. Payne were hosts to a house party last week end. Mrs. Lena Duncan and Miss Bertha of Plainview, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Payne and sister, Miss Flossie Payne of Goodnight, and Miss Cora May of Wayside had a most enjoyable visit at the Payne home.

J. S. Sluder and wife with J. W. Sluder and wife visited with S. C. Sluder and family Saturday and Sunday last.

W. R. Franklin and father, W. G. Franklin, and their families who left Wayside for Arizona the latter part of August this year reached Mesa, Arizona, after traveling 1236 miles using 117 gallons of gas. They found a fine country, good schools, excellent water, but no place equal to the Plains. Mrs. W. R. Franklin writes after they have finished sowing their wild oats they may be expected back on the Plains. Good part of the population are Mexicans and Indians. All attend the same school. Mormons are numerous and teach in the public schools. However, Arizona ranks 3rd in the United States in schools.

Misses Zorah Wesley and Birdie Lou Lane of Canyon Normal spent Sunday at Wayside with home folks.

Come to Canyon to live.

Birthday Party

Happy Texas, Oct. 25.—Last Thursday evening a most enjoyable social affair was given at the attractive home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Francy, about seven miles from Happy. Mr. Francy's birthday was the occasion of the party.

After the guests had arrived, gifts presented and congratulations offered, all were given an opportunity to draw for partners in a progressive game of dominoes. Quite a number of the guests had not attended such a party for many years and had to renew their knowledge of games, social customs, etc., but old recollections soon came to their rescue and all entered into the entertainment with much interest and pleasure.

After the game of dominoes was concluded and refreshments, consisting of delicious sandwiches, cakes and grape juice had been served, the winners, Mrs. Zoellars and Mr. Baker were each awarded a paper of pins, while Mrs. Baker and Mr. Harrison, who bore the distinction of having lost every game were presented with a package of cough drops.

Mrs. Francy was assisted in entertaining by her daughters, Misses Nellie and Fern Francy and Miss Mildred McManigal.

The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Fongken, Mr. and Mrs. Greenfield, Mr. and Mrs. Strong, Mr. and Mrs. Seth Whitman, Mr. and Mrs. Vester Whitman, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Currie, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Currie, Mr. and Mrs. Zoellars, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. F. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Baker, Mrs. McManigal, Mr. and Mrs. Uselding.

To some of the new comers it was especially interesting to listen to stories of earlier life on the Plains, with its very few and primitive social gatherings told by some of the pioneer ladies, who through all their years of isolation have clung to their early culture and training and are now enjoying the rewards of these years of labor and waiting, since all now own from one to a half dozen sections of this fine land and realize that this section of country will soon develop into one of the most progressive in the State with the best of social and educational environments.

A GUEST.

Baptist Students' Conference
The first Baptist Student Conference ever held in Texas convened at Brownwood, Oct 22 to 24, 1920.

The following students represented W. T. S. N. C. and the Canyon Baptist Church: Ruth Thompson, Dixie Lee Brumley, Lillian Atkins, Elva Fronbarger, Paul Johnson and James Dockery.

Twenty schools of Texas, both denominational and state, were represented. The Canyon delegation, with the exception of Huntsville Normal, made the longest trip.

These young people left Canyon on Friday morning and were joined at Plainview by a large group of Wayland College students. At Buffalo Gap, they were again reinforced by fifteen or twenty students from Simmons College at Abilene. All the way down they made the old train rock with college yells and songs. They arrived in Brownwood in a good spirit to receive all the good things that awaited them.

Howard-Payne College of that city entertained them so royally that when the hour of departure came all were loath to go.

The convention was called and planned by Dr. J. P. Boone, the head of the Baptist Student Department of Texas. This department has for its purpose the care and development of all Baptist students, whether they are in state or denominational schools.

The program was greatly inspiring and helpful. Many great Baptist leaders and speakers were there and every delegate who attended came away fired with zeal and determination to do all they could to further the spirituality of the school from which they came.

These young people will make their report of the trip and convention at the morning hour Sunday at the Baptist church. Come and encourage them in their efforts and show the student body of the Normal that the Christian people of Canyon welcome them into their churches and will stand by them in all religious work they undertake.

INVESTMENTS, COMMERCIAL FARM AND CATTLE LOANS.

We wish to again call the attention of our patrons to the fact that unless they have a regular monthly account with us, it will be impossible for us to open an account with them in order to charge a small item. The loss of time in making these small collections amounts to more during these times of high expense, than the item amounts to. Matter phoned in for the want column must be paid for before the day of publication if the party has no regular monthly account.

Baptist Church

The Young People's Union of the Baptist church, together with the young people from a number of other Baptist churches of other communities will have charge of all the services of the Baptist church here next Sunday, both morning and evening. At the morning services the students who attended the Baptist Student Convention at Brownwood last week will give a report of what they believe to be one of the most helpful meetings they ever attended. Let all the people attend these meetings, especially the young people of the town and schools. The exercises can but be inspiring to all those who are interested in the church work of our young people.

B. F. FRONABARGER, Pastor.
