President Harding is to call a conference on unemployment. Big business men have insisted for months that factories would not open until the government passed the tax bill in order that business might see what was expected. Business has been clamoring for a lower railroad rate. It is indicated that Harding's so-called conference amounts to calling of the republican chiefs together in order that the President may impress upon them the necessity of action when congress re-convenes. Congress objected to dictation from President Wilson, and the republican majority did nothing, Harding as a member of the senate was one of the objectors. Harding as President has suggested action on the part of the leaders of his party, but six months have been consumed in doing nothing. Harding is becoming alarmed. The radical changes promised by the republican party last fall during the campaign have not transpired. They are not going to transpire. Harding sees danger ahead in the congressional elections next year. Its awful to promise and not be able to deliver the goods.

The most common remark in reference to a man who has made considerable money is, "What a lucky cuss." Luck played little part in his success. Back a few years ago, no doubt that man had little better opportunities than the average of us. But he took advantage of his opportunities. To have money, one must save money. The wealthy man of today would not have any more money than the average of us unless he had been willing in his younger life to make the sacrifice of saving—and saving requires genuine pluck and sacrifice. The government is urging the establishment of saving accounts by all school children. It is a good idea. We trust the school of Canyon will take an active part in developing the young people of Canyon into savers rather than spenders.

A Denver bank clerk stole $78,000 and fled with a woman who was not his wife. The bank will not lose the money as it is well insured. The man hunting hounds of half a dozen agencies are upon the trail of the unfortunate pair. They will leave no theory of suspicion uninvestigated which might lead to the arrest of the robber. The little pile of stolen money will melt as a snow ball on a summer's day. The man will soon become tired of his new plaything, or she will leave him when she sees the end of the money, and then the story will end in prison. Dishonesty never pays. The evil doer sooner or later must meet his sin and pay the penalty.

Six per cent interest looks like a mighty small rate of return for money that might bring from twenty to a hundred percent. There are thousands of investors who have lost the savings of a life time during the past year by falling for get-rich-quick schemes. Probably the majority of these were warned by their bankers against the scheme which swindled them. Safety first when you have a little spare cash. There are hundreds of safe investments at low rates of interest. There are few safe investments which promise big rates of return.

Henry Ford was pronounced the miracle man in railroad circles when he took hold of a little 400 mile road which was losing money, increased wages and reduced freight rates, at the same time making money. It is now discovered that Henry diverted about $2,000,000 in business from the Ford plant to this road which it had not received under former ownership. Adding this amount of business to any small junk line ought to help the owner, to make a little money.

A lot of high priced farm machinery has been bought in Randall county the past year. It will be in good shape and ready to go next summer if properly housed through the winter. If given only the protection of a barbed wire fence, its value will be greatly decreased through the winter.

Dull people in business very often makes business dull, says the Lubbock Avalanche.

Taking the educational system out of the hands of the politicians is the biggest job confronting Texas today. The people can end such disgraceful events as transpired in Austin this summer only by adopting a constitutional amendment giving the state schools a definite constitutional tax rate which will allow a steady support rather than subjecting the schools to the whims of a bunch of men who know nothing of the educational problems of the state. There never has been a time in the history of the state when the voters were more interested in the cause of education. There is no excuse for further sleeping on the job. Steps should be taken now to insure the submission of the amendment.

Taxes are assessed to be paid. Most people pay their taxes when they are due. Those who do not pay should be forced to do so. Randall county, the city of Canyon and the school district all have delinquent taxes. It is hard for those who pay their taxes promptly to see many refuse to pay their taxes and get away with it.

Canyon's greatest need right now is more houses. Real estate men believe fifty to a hundred houses could be filled in Canyon within a few days. Men are building garages to use as houses during the winter. There ought to be several men financially able to put up several rent houses to take care of the pressing condition.

The issue of September 22 of this paper will be called the Randall County Fair Edition. Several thousand extra copies will be printed to distribute all over the Panhandle country telling the people of the Randall County Fair. Every advertiser should plan to get some space in this edition. We are now at work on the edition.

Automobile prices took another tumble this week. Those which did not announce a decline in price may be expected to do so within a short while. Manufactured articles have been out of reason in price in comparison with the raw material.

Drive into Colorado and every highway is called a "scenic" highway. If a highway would be built through the Palo Duro Canyon, the Plains country would have a scenic highway that would be worth much to this section.

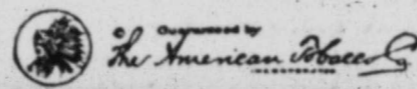

Canyon has built more houses this year than any two years since 1910. The so-called financial depression in Randall County is fast becoming a thing of the past. Optimism always wins.

A number of public sales have been held in Randall county this fall. The price of all articles offered has been surprisingly good, and cash payments have been the rule rather than the exception. Conditions in the Panhandle-Plains country were never so bad as in other sections, and are rapidly improving. Confidence always wins.

The American Bar Association has passed a resolution criticising Judge Landis for holding his job on the bench and at the same time accepting the job as baseball arbiter. Fortunately Judge Landis cares not a tinker's dam what the gentlemen of the bar think of him.

There are a lot of weeds in Canyon which need cutting. Cut them now. It will be the last time they will need cutting this year. Do the job well now, and help beautify the town.

Get ready for the Randall County Fair September 28, 29, 30.

Fact and Comment

Pointed remarks often merit blunt answers.

The trouble with family trees is that so many of them are shady.

When you have experienced evil men you become tolerant of the eccentricities of the good.

The discovery by Dr. Charles Russ, the English bacteriologist, that the rays from the human eye have power to set matter in motion is nothing new. Many a boy has found it out when his father first looked at him and then at the woodpile.

Government irrigated lands in Wyoming that are to be opened for homesteading include 222 farms of the North Platte project, to open on September 9, and 57 farms of the Shoshone project on September 16. The two projects cover about 19,000 acres. For sixty days no one but soldiers of the great War will be permitted to make filings.

A stereotyped plate is called a cliché, from which comes the use of the word for any rigid form of phrase or expression. Profanity or bad language is a cliché, dreary, stale, a sure sign that the user has not enough education to express himself otherwise. Not long ago a British magistrate dismissed a man charged with using bad language, on condition that he should take a course in the classics.

The interior of Baffin Land, according to Eskimo tales, should furnish one of the richest and most enchanting fields of research in the north. It is said to have high mountains, beautiful lakes and great mineral deposits, and to be the breeding ground for immense numbers of waterfowl. The primary purpose of the MacMillan expedition is to explore that unknown country and to do field work in zoology, botany, geology, meteorology and terrestrial magnetism.

Frequently enough the answer to the often asked question, "What is the spirit of amateur sport?" is evasive. In the recent polo matches in England the American captain rode the seventeen-year-old Tenby, veteran of three international championships, during one of the chukkers. Old Tenby, who a little later died on his way home, did his turn with credit, and, although he no longer had "the legs" of the younger mounts, there was no horse at Hurlingham that tried harder for the American victory. If you understand the sentiment that led the player to let that honest, stout-hearted pony gallop once more in the game of his youth, you will grasp the difference between desiring to win in any event and desiring to win after some other things are assured.

That the wild ancestor of our Indian corn is a Mexican grass called teosinte has long been the surmise of botanists; but it was left for Mr. Luther Burbank to find the proof.—In 1903 he planted some teosinte, which bears tiny ears, two to four inches long, on corallike kernels in a husk with no rachis, or cob,—and he has produced by selection and breeding during the subsequent eighteen years a corn of familiar appearance, with fourteen rows of large kernels round a cob of good size and length. Not the least important part of this latest plant-breeding triumph is the fixing of an improved variety of teosinte that can be grown even in the Northern States, where it is reported to produce ensilage in excess of any other crop.

Over alternate layers of chopped cooked spinach and cooked noodles sprinkle grated cheese and seasonings. Pour over all a cupful of milk and bake.

If you haven't the regular fruit labels, passe partout makes a good substitute. Cut it the required length and write name on it and it is ready for use.

The kitchen window should have its pot of parsley for winter garnishing.

Cuba's pineapple crop is 900,000 crates, valued at $4,500,000.

No. 123

The State of Texas, to the Sheriff or any Constable of Randall County—Greeting:

W. J. Flesher, administrator of the estate of M. A. Bingaman, deceased, having filed in our county court his final account of the condition of the estate of said M. A. Bingaman, deceased, together with his application to be discharged from said administration, you are hereby commanded, that by publication of this writ for twenty days in a newspaper regularly published in the County of Randall—you give due notice to all persons interested in the account for final settlement of said estate, to file their objections thereto, if any they have, on or before the October Term, 1921, of said County court, commencing to be holden at the court house of said county, in the county of Randall, on the 3rd day of October, A. D. 1921, when said account and application will be considered by said court.

Strictly 30 Days

Owing to rigid terms now made by the Whole Sale People, which is one and two weeks on Groceries, and strictly 30 days on Dry Goods, together with the wheat failure which has put us with every dollar out on our books that we can possibly carry, we are now forced to go SPOT CASH, or strictly 30 days. After serious consideration, we have decided to put our business, so far as profits are concerned, on a cash basis, and still make our terms 30 days. In other words, we are continuing to sell on 30 days time at spot cash prices. We fully realize that we must make our prices compete with any other cash store and have marked our goods accordingly. In fact, if our prices are not 20 or 30 percent under cash prices made in Amarillo we will not ask you for your business; but it will pay you to get our prices before you buy your Fall goods. Some declines run as high as 60 per cent under a year ago.

We are sorry, indeed, that we are forced to put our credit business on a 30 day basis, but under present existing conditions it cannot possibly be avoided, and in the future, we will continue to sell on credit after 6th of each month only those who have settled previous month's bills. Please do not ask us to sell you on longer terms for we positively cannot.

We want to thank you very kindly for your past patronage, and if prices and quality prevail, we know we will continue to serve you in the future.

LOOK OUT FOR THE CARS

DO YOU know of anyone who is old enough to read, who has not seen that sign at a railroad crossing?

If everyone has seen it at some time or other, then why doesn't the railroad let the sign rot away? Why does the railroad company continue to keep those signs at every crossing?

Maybe you think, Mr. Merchant, "Most everybody knows my store, I don't have to advertise."

Your store and your goods need more advertising than the railroads need to warn people to "Look Out for the Cars."

Nothing is ever completed in the advertising world.

The Department Stores are a very good example—they are continually advertising—and they are continually doing a good business.

If it pays to run a few ads round about Christmas time, it certainly will pay you to run advertisements about all the time.

It's just business, that's all, to ADVERTISE in THIS PAPER

Train Hits Wheat Wagon

A wagon loaded with wheat belonging to J. L. Johnson and driven by two small boys, Jack Morris and a companion by the name of Richardson, was struck by the local freight train from the west Wednesday. The wagon was pulled by two big mules and the boys were unable to control them. Both back wheels of the wagon were smashed and the wagon torn up but both boys had presence of mind enough to jump and escaped without injury.—Hereford Brand.

Luxury

Amarillo News: Plainview and Hereford and Tulla and Canyon have no water problem, but they are somewhat shorter on gas than Amarillo. Here's hoping that Amarillo gets more water and that every other community in this portion of the State couples up intimately with adequate natural gas supplies. We believe that it will be accomplished, too.

State Press in Dallas News—If Amarillo has a surplus of gas—meaning the merchantable gas, not the oratorian—then it urgently behooves Canyon, Hereford, Tulla, Plainview, and also Lubbock and Snyder and Canadian and Clarendon, to lay their plans and their pipes to procure a portion of same. There is no greater luxury in a chilly climate than an abundance of fuel gas. To have heat as readily as one has light is luxury such as Julius Caesar nor King John nor Cleopatra nor Solomon in all his glory nor Shakespeare nor Little Bo Peep never had. Caesar had to take his bath in cold water half the time because there was no warm water in the palace. Result little bathing. The same was true of Queen Elizabeth, who lived in a cold, damp, illy-ventilated castle and is reputed by some historians to have preferred the perfumery bottle to the bath tub. If Kings and Queens of the useter years had been granted gas fires, electric lights, moving pictures, summer ice and soft drinks, such as may be had by any commoner today, history would not be what it is, mostly a record of wars. In the bad old days, which ended not so very long ago, the people of all ranks, Kings, Queens, and whatnots had little to do except gorge themselves with roasted meats, drink hard liquor and make war. The lack of comforts at home, the need of amusements, the natural craving for sweets in the tough old times of the battle ax and rough-neck knights naturally induced fighting. War was about all the people knew.

"How are you today, Sandy," asked the landlord of his Scotch tenant.

"Vutra weel, sir, vutra weel, replied Sandy, "if it wasna for the rheumatism in my right leg."

"Ah, you must not complain, Sandy. You are getting old, like the rest of us, and old age does not come alone."

"Auld age, sir?" exclaimed Sandy.

"Auld age has nothin' to do with it. Here's meither leg just as auld an' it's soond and soople yet."—Rotarian.

THE U. S. NOBBY TREAD

Where the going is specially heavy with snow, mud or sand, in hilly country where maximum traction on the road is a factor, no other tire tread yet devised is quite so effective, or so wholly approved by motoring opinion, as the U. S. Nobby Tread.

Its very simplicity—three rows of diagonal knobs, gripping the road—is the result of all the years of U. S. Rubber experience with every type of road the world over.

If every one listened to experience, how much they'd save

STOP and talk to the next man you see with U. S. Tires on his car. Ask him why.

Most likely you'll hear an interesting story about his tire experiments—before the answer was found. Money wasted. Promises unkept. Trouble on the road—humorous to every one except the man who went through it.

Finally U. S. Tires. And U. S. Tires ever since.

Perhaps it's the experience of U. S. Tire buyers that makes them more emphatic in their preference than ever this year.

When these men have tried most everything by the way of "staggering bargains", "hurrah discounts", "discontinued lines at less" and so forth they know what not to get.

They want a fresh, live tire. With a good reputation. That's everything it says it is. With the people behind it who back it up.

There are 92 U. S. Factory Branches. Your local U. S. Dealer is drawing upon them continually to keep his stocks sized up, complete—to give you service. Whenever he gets one or a hundred tires from a U. S. Factory Branch, they are newly made this season's tires.

Sold to you at a net price. Full values. Square-dealing. A reputable maker. A reputable dealer. The whole transaction as befits the leadership of the oldest and largest rubber organization in the world.

How to Break Up Broody Hens

If the broody hens are not to be used for hatching chicks they should be broken up just as soon as they begin setting. Go through the house each evening removing any hens that are on the nests. Have a supply of colored leg bands and set aside one color to indicate broodiness. After banding the broody hens put them in a clean, airy, dry brood coop and feed lots of dry mash and green feed. Be sure that the hens are supplied with clean drinking water. After three days confinement put the hens back in the flock. If in a few weeks and particular hen has three or four leg bands on indicating broodiness, sell her because she is a cull. Some birds will go an entire summer without becoming broody while others will have only one or two bands. They are good hens.—Southwest Poultry and Swine Breeder.

The Rented Home

By Walt Mason

The money you have paid for rent is gone beyond recall, though you have paid it for a tent, or for a stately hall; some landlord took it cent by cent, and left your bundle small. Some landlord took your iron men and left you feeling sore, for you were needing every yen to buy things at the store; and every month he came again, and took away some more. You've bought that residence, lack, you poor misguided gent! You've bought the blamed place front and back, and by the strain you're bent; and still the landlord owns the shack, and bones you for the rent. Not yours the roof-tree overhead, not yours the cistern pump; the landlord owns the fence and shed, the whole works in a lump; when you can't pay him you must tread the pathway to the dump. When you are sick or out of luck the landlord stern appears and clamors loudly for each buck for which you're in arrears, and hauls your dunnage in a truck to soulless auctioneers. A sane and prudent weight is he who in his own shack dwells, though it may plain and humble be, not built for blooming swells; we see him 'neath his vine and tree, and note he's wearing bells.

Served Him Right

R. G. DUNN & CO. SAY FAILURES ARE DECREASING

R. G. Dunn & Co. report that business failures are declining. They have fallen from 1,895 for the whole country in January, to 1,200 in June. The prospects are bright for continued decrease. The note of improvement is beginning to drown out the chorus of alarm.

One of the financial experts says that many of the failures, although it may seem unkind to say so, are excellent signs of returning business solidity, for they have occurred where business had been built upon inflated standards and conducted along unsound, wasteful lines.

This sort of business is gradually disappearing, as it should. The firms which weather the depression will be of the type entitled to endure because their methods are sound and represent real service to the public in return for the profits reaped.

In the meantime deflation goes rapidly on. It is said, by those in a position to know, to have traveled as far in one year since the world war as it took several years to cover after the civil war.

It is rather a painful process, to be sure, but maybe it will mean that the return to normal business conditions will be all the more rapid. It will do no harm to hope for it, and to plan for it, at any rate.

Investments That Pay

Little stories of farm profits are always interesting reading and The Brand this week obtained a few figures from J. E. Cockrell, who lives on the Dr. Heard farm three miles north of Twenty-Five Mile Avenue, that are full of facts to ponder over.

Mr. Cockrell had a bunch of pigs that he weaned at eight weeks of age and began to feed on ground kafir soaked in milk and water. The pigs began growing at once. He sold eighteen head last week at eight and a half cents per pound. Each pig consumed on an average of twenty-one bushels of grain, in self-feeders.

His profit on each pig was $6.45, or he received enough from the pigs to make his grain sell for $2.00 per hundred. The best price for grain during this time was ninety cents per hundred and lower most of the time.

Mr. Cockrell milks six head of cows and sells enough cream to pay the grocery bills for two families. He says that the skim milk fed to the pigs is worth more than the cream at its present price.—Hereford Brand.

CUT YOUR MEAT BILL

Every family is greatly interested in cheaper living costs—we are here to help you solve that problem.

Unfortunately all cuts of a beef are not the same. Unfortunately there must be front quarters of a beef as well as the more choiced hind quarters. If all cuts of the beef were the same with no waste, meat would be cheaper.

If properly cooked the meat of front quarters is as good as that of the hind quarter. It takes a little longer and a little more pains necessary to cook the front quarter, but the meat is good and wholesome.

Front quarter meat is much cheaper than hind quarter. Cash in on a little time by buying these cheaper cuts of meat, drawing your pay from the saving in the price of meat, and add this saving to your bank account for other purposes. We are anxious to help you save this money.

Shower for Bride-Elect

On Wednesday evening Misses Blanche and Helen Croson gave a kitchen shower for Miss Thelma McGee. The dainty color scheme of pink and white was most tastefully carried out.

The guests had all arrived when Miss McGee came. She was met at the door by friends who led her to the seat of honor which was decorated with pink and white. Then to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Miss Helen Croson, tiny Margaret Gery Croson and C. O. Croson dressed in pink and white entered the room carrying a laundry basket. They placed it before the bride-to-be chair and she was invited to investigate the mysterious package, which proved a bewildering assortment of pretty and useful gifts.

Later the honoree tossed a large pink balloon in the midst of the large gathering of friends to see who would be the next bride. Miss Thelma Black captured the balloon.

At a late hour refreshments were served to a number of guests.

Buie Leaves for Hereford

Sept. 3, 1921.

The Editor, Randall County News: When the west bound train passes thru at 6:50 tomorrow morning, I shall step aboard for Hereford, thus surrendering my citizenship of Canyon. During my stay in this pleasant town I have had many conflicts with many persons, who could not see as I saw. Yet I leave without the slightest hard thought against any person who may have differed with me during my stay in Canyon, and pray success to everyone who may merit the same, based on the deeds done. Success to the Randall County News. B. FRANK BUIE.

Novel Advertising Proves Too Novel

A rather amusing incident occurred here last week, when a traveling show man, who, with his troupe was holding forth at a local theatre, decided to put on some novel and at the same time cheap advertising. It proved rather hard thought against any person who would call out in strenuous tones that the show was about to begin; another volley and again he would again call forth to all those within hearing that the big show would start immediately. He got by with it for a time—a short time. Many local people thought by the successive shooting that there was a fire, and came forth to investigate.

When in the midst of his advertising orgy, local officers appeared on the scene and informed the offender that such rough stuff didn't go here, and that his presence was desired at the Mayor's office, where he donated $25 to the treasury of the city. Such is the result of cheap advertising and publicity—it usually costs more than it is worth; regardless of the price. We've seen it tried many, many times, with the same result. There is a time and place for all things.—Pampa News.

There have been many such cases in other sections of the Panhandle in the past few years, but this is the first reported in Randall county.
