He was one time head of the Department of English at Emory Henry College of Virginia. He is forty-one years of age. He has a wife and two daughters who will come to Canyon with him.

Doctor Munson is a very active individual in all activities of his community. He is a member of the Methodist Church South.

Miss Haines has been granted a year's leave of absence and will study in Columbia. Her work will be taken by Miss Lura M. Dean, who is now in the University of Chicago. She has been a successful teacher in the kindergarten work in Wisconsin, Ohio and Nebraska.

Miss Haines has for the past four years been director of the Kindergarten-Primary Department of the Texas State Teachers Association.

THE FABLE OF TUT

Three thousand years ago lived an Egyptian King named Tut-Ankh-Amen. It sounded like a stutter and the Gang at the Luxor Golf Club called him "Tut."

When Tut reached the Cake Eater age and got his hair plastered back right—he died. Dying was one of the leading Egyptian indoor sports and Tut's death was a Major Event. They slipped him into a swell tomb in the Valley of the Kings.

Three thousand years later a Party of Snoopers dug up Tut's Tomb and all the junk buried with him. The Advertising men took charge of Tut and in a few weeks have given him a Rep which makes Charlie Chaplin's, "Doug's" and M. "Day-by-Day" Coue's look like a last year's almanac in comparison.

Dead for 3,000 years! Lost! Forgotten! Then, Bang! Advertised—and the whole world hollers for more news of Tut!

If advertising can thus put life into a Dead one—what can't it do for a Live One—For a Live Business—For Your Business?

They could have dug up a hundred Tuts in the desert and if they had kept the good news to themselves—only a few Bald-Headed Historians would ever have known it.

You can have the best merchandise in the world. But if the world does not get hep to it—the business will sleep along peacefully.

New Press of the News Here and Will be Up by End of the Week

A big car load of machinery came in yesterday billed to the News, and it is the new Optimus press.

The draymen are sweating (and probably cussing a little on the side) unloading the 18,000 pounds.

An expert pressman and press erector will arrive Friday from Dallas to put the new press in operation.

The old press has been sold to J. M. Adams, owner of the Plainview News and Lockney Beacon. This press was installed fourteen years ago, and has given most excellent service. It is ideal for newspaper work, but does not fulfill the needs of this office owing to the large variety of job work and book work being produced in this plant.

With this new press, the News will be the best equipped printing plant in the Panhandle, and Canyon business men can feel safe in entrusting all their printing to this office.

Radish Weighs 2½ lbs. and Otherwise a Whopper in all Proportions

Mrs. L. A. Pierce brought to the News office Friday a radish that weighed 2½ pounds, 13 inches around and 11 inches long. The radish was of the Crystal White variety, and in spite of the big size was good to eat.

Mrs. Pierce stated that she had a radish patch and paid no attention to it, and discovered these large radishes Thursday. She was surprised to find them so good, and brought two to town to show.

Mrs. Pierce states that the barley on their place made 30 bushels to the acre.

On the Jesse Pierce place, Joe Bedenk had 250 acres of summer fallowed land which made 40½ bushels to the acre.

Mrs. Pierce states that crop conditions are the best in the west part of the county she had ever seen.

Buffaloes Break Corral, but Herded Back by Students-Faculty

There was a great scurry of students and faculty members yesterday when it was discovered that the two buffaloes at the College had escaped from their pen and were at large in the fields south of the campus.

Headed by President Hill and Prof. Stafford, scouts were organized, which spotted the escaped mascots at the Hardin place, and the animals were stalked, as in the Indian days, and finally reduced once more to a state of captivity.

If the buffaloes were able to speak, they would probably state they had a bully good time while at large and enjoyed the pursuit of their captors.

FARMERS WANT BUSINESS MEN AT ANNUAL PICNIC

PLENTY OF EATS AND FREE COLD DRINKS SERVED.

Picnic Will be Held at Bates Place on Second Saturday in August This Year.

George Frank stated yesterday that all business men of Canyon were most cordially invited to the farmers picnic to be held on Saturday, August 11th, at the Bates pasture. Mr. Frank states that many people got the idea last year that the picnic was only for farmers, and that many did not come who would liked to have come.

Free lemonade and ice water will be served on the grounds. A big basket dinner will be served at noon.

Four or five speakers are being selected, who will greatly entertain the crowd.

HUNDREDS OF BAPTISTS COMING TO THE ANNUAL ENCAMPMENT AT CETA CANYON SOUTHEAST OF THIS CITY

The annual encampment of the Panhandle Baptists started Tuesday night with several hundred people camping at the Assembly Grounds southeast of Canyon.

Tuesday was a very busy day with cars coming from all of the surrounding towns, and hundreds of people trying to make a comfortable camp in which to live until next week.

It is thought that every town on the Plains is represented, and very large delegations are present from the larger towns.

Rev. B. F. Fronabarger, manager of the Encampment, stated a few days ago that he expected fully 5,000 people to attend the encampment this year. From present indications the attendance may be even higher.

The program started off Tuesday night according to schedule and those attending the meetings the past two days have greatly enjoyed each number of the program.

67 New Students Enroll in Second Part of Summer Session

The first term of the summer school ended July 17. Examinations were scheduled to finish by that time. The teachers and students had only one day between the two terms.

Wednesday, July 18, was spent in registering new students. Old students who had any changes to be made in their program had Wednesday at their disposal for that purpose.

Sixty-seven new students have enrolled up to date. Twelve summer normal students have transferred from summer normal work to credit work.

The prospects for this summer's graduating class indicate that it will be the largest yet to receive degrees from the West Texas State Teachers College. Thirteen degree students are already in line for their reward. This increase in degree graduates indicates, to some extent, the great amount of growth of the West Texas State Teachers College.

Forty-eight individuals have made applications for diplomas. This number indicates that the ratio of diplomas to degrees issued by the West Texas State Teachers College is decreasing. Thus degree training is rapidly becoming recognized as being, not only important, but essential to students who attend this college.

Li Yuan-Hung, president of the Chinese Republic, whose resignation had been demanded by the militarists, fled from Peking by special train on June 13 to Tientsin, and on his arrival there was held a prisoner in the railway station. He was charged with having the government seals in his possession; he denied having them, but the troops were ordered by the governor of the province to keep him under guard until the seals were found. Li became president of the republic in 1916, but resigned a year later when there was a temporary restoration of the Manchu emperor. About a year ago he was recalled to the presidency, but factional troubles and financial difficulties handicapped his administration from the start.

Mount Etna, shaken by an earthquake, has burst out in a new eruption. Lava thirty feet deep and a mile and a half wide swept down over orange and lemon groves. No loss of life has yet been reported, but several thousand persons have had to flee from their homes. More serious in its destructiveness, so far as can be judged from the meagre reports, was an earthquake in Persia, which overwhelmed a number of villages and killed most of the inhabitants.

Tittle and Matney Win "Doubles" in Tennis Tournament

The tennis doubles have been played. The tournament ended Wednesday evening when J. C. Tittle and V. Matney won from Poole and Roper three consecutive sets by a score of 6-2, 6-1, and 6-2. Poole and Roper defeated Golden and Reed in one of the best games in the preliminaries. Each team winning one set and playing the deciding set to a score of 9-11. There was evidences of good playing throughout the tournament. The parcel form of tennis played by Tittle and Matney had a great advantage over the style used by their opponents and made them easy winners from the start.

The prizes have not been awarded to date but probably will be when the finals in singles are played off.

The State Board of Education, composed of the Governor, his appointee the Secretary of State, and the Comptroller, held Saturday that the text-book awards made in December, were legal and ordered Superintendent Marrs to fulfill the provisions of the new contracts. This was to be expected, as Governor Neff is a party to text-book contract awards, and his secretary will vote with him on the question. So far as we are concerned, we do not believe that members of the commission were bought up, or that the awards were crooked. Undue influence was used, to be sure, as is always the case in such big contracts. It is very likely that few of the commission ever had any particular business experience, and being charged with making changes in the text-books, made a wholesale change before they realized what they were doing. Inexperienced people in such great authority are most likely to make a botch of public affairs. We are inclined to be charitable with members of the commission. But the whole idea of free text-books is a farce and a fraud perpetrated upon an unsuspecting people who have deep in their hearts a desire to do everything possible for the cause of education. There is no such a thing as "free text-books" in Texas. The money that buys the so-called free text-books comes from the salaries of our public school teachers. A thousand times rather than the state teachers living on a decent salary have efficient and highly prepared with no text-books, rather than a lot of up-to-date text-books and half provided for teachers. There is no more sense in free text-books than there is in free clothing or free shoes, or free lunches for those who attend school. We are robbing the children in teacher efficiency simply to say that something is free.

Carl C. Magee criticised a judge in New Mexico and was railroaded through a district court under the charge of criminal libel, and given a penitentiary sentence, as well as several contempt fines. Magee did not for a moment stop "pouring it on" the gang which was persecuting him. He asked for no mercy, but the Governor came to his rescue and unsolicited put a stop to the whole disgraceful procedure by pardoning Magee in every instance. Every once in a while some judge gets the idea that the records of the court are sacred and a thing not to be criticised by mere man. While it is true that every man should have respect for the law of God and of man, the law does not contemplate that the acts of judges are human and may be wrong the same as any other common individual, and to refuse the right of the press or other individuals to point out these mistakes if unjust and wholly un-American.

G. O. P. was handed a wallop last week in the Minnesota election with the election of the farmer-labor candidate, Magnus Johnson, over the former governor who had the support of President Harding. The republicans will have a bare majority in the senate when it meets in December, and this majority consists of LaFollette and his followers, which make the republican majority very doubtful. The distress of the farmers in Minnesota, and the present price of wheat is the thing that

TEXAS BANKER USES FERRASAL

One of the most widely known financiers in Texas is Mr. T. J. Cole, President of the Texas Mortgage Co., of Dallas, who writes: "I am pleased to say that I have used Ferrasol for indigestion and acid stomach and I believe it to be the best remedy I have ever tried for such troubles. I know of no other remedy for indigestion, constipation, and kidney trouble where due to acidity. Yours truly, (Signed) J. T. COLE." 60c per box at Jarrett Drug Co. 12 elected Johnson. Nominally safely republican by a very large majority, the farmers repudiated the republican party and voted their choice. G. O. P. is going to have a rocky road to travel during the coming year, and unless the signs of the time materially change, the democratic or independent party will elect the next president. The republicans promised too much in 1920 to have accomplished so little.

Minnesota is republican by a very large majority. The republican farmers repudiated the party candidate, and many Texas democratic papers are happy that the republicans have lost out in Minnesota. Such a sudden change. Last fall these same Texas papers were calling down the wrath of the democratic gods upon those who refused to support a candidate that a faction of the party tried to pan off upon the whole. A thing that was criminal for a Texas democrat last fall is now a glorious thing for a Minnesota republican to do today.

For many years the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad has systematically followed the crop conditions in the territory served by its lines. The record proves that a poor corn season occurs every seventh year. While there has not been an absolute failure every seven years, taking the five states of Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska together, there has been a marked reduction in the yield. Bible readers know that the Mosaic law decreed a rest of the soil every seven years.—Plainview News.

Whether the revolt of the farmers in Minnesota will have any effect upon prices is yet to be seen. Manufactured prices still remain practically at peak wartime, which farm products are sold below pre-war times. There is something wrong with our prices or with our system of marketing.

A flaming headline Monday announced that the broke farmers were a menace to the nation. Right under this headline was another telling that the bricklayers had a new contract of $18 per day for eight hours work. That is enough to make farmers, or any other class of people a menace.

PRECAUTION

When the trial of a certain case in a New England country court was about half through, the evidence in favor of the defendant was so overwhelming that the judge broke in and ordered the jury to return a verdict of not guilty. ADVERTISE FOR BUSINESS

Canyon merchants will be interested in the following taken from the Denton Record-Chronicle. Some of them will want to apply it to their own business.

"In an article in Printers' Ink, a writer tells of the small beginning made by national advertisers who have come to be among the biggest users of advertising space in the country. The Hupp Motor Co. for instance, set aside $100,000 as its first advertising appropriation; probably it spends as many thousands today as it spent dollars then. William Wrigley, now probably the largest individual space user in the world, invested his whole capital of $22 in advertising, and he enumerates a number of others starting out with advertising appropriations ranging from a few hundred to a few thousand dollars.

"The lesson the writer reads from the showing is: 'Even the smallest appropriation, if it is wisely placed, will bring results. It is not the size of the beginning, but the consistency of the effort that counts,' and the advertising publication adds to that pertinent question, 'Why not apply the same principle to your business?'"

Negro Dialect Stories Told in Pleasing Way By Famous Entertainer

The many-sided life of the plantation Negro was charmingly portrayed Monday evening in the College auditorium by Mrs. Josephine Obenchain of Dallas to a small but appreciative audience. By way of introduction Mrs. Obenchain stated that Negro folk lore is very interesting, and moreover, has distinctive qualities of rhythm, harmony, and grace which lead critics to place it in the class with folk literature of other nations. It was pointed out that the lovable plantation "Uncle" and "Mammy" are being replaced with a new type of Negro, and therefore many writers and readers are endeavoring to preserve the true dialect and the most representative folk songs of the race. The reader also prefaced her selections by giving personal sketches of some of the authors. Mrs. Obenchain has achieved much in interpreting Negro literature, and her efforts carried the minds of her hearers back to plantation days "in the land of Cotton."

Hudspeth Hall Fund is Growing

The summer students responded generously to the opportunity to contribute something to the Mary E. Hudspeth Hall Fund last week. Six hundred and fifty dollars ($650.00) was pledged and in this amount there were several twenty and twenty-five dollar contributions. The highest donation included in the pledges, however, was one hundred and fifty dollars pledged by a member of the graduating class of 1923—a student who is planning to "title" for the Mary E. Hudspeth Hall instead of for the Church—she considers the Hudspeth Hall project a Christian undertaking in itself as its motives are so high and worthy.

Most of our faculty members have shown their faith and interest in the undertaking by making substantial contributions to the building fund. Some of the contributions being notably large. They believe in Ex-Students and are in sympathy with all their work.

FUQUA-KISTLER

Mr. Merie Kistler of Muleshoe and Miss Everal Fuqua of Wildorado were married in Amarillo, Saturday evening, July 21, at 8:15 o'clock.

Mr. Kistler is from Muleshoe, Texas. He has been with us for the last three years. He has established for himself while here in college the reputation of a worth while student.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Fuqua of Wildorado, Texas. She graduated from the high school of that place this year, and came to the West Texas State Teachers College this summer.

The couple will leave Tuesday morning for Long Beach, California, where they will visit for some time. Mr. Kistler said that it was their intention to return to Texas in the near future.

THE CRAZE FOR ANTIQUES

We wonder whether at any other period of the world's history there was anything like the present rage for "antiques." If such a rage ever existed, it must have been during the decay of the luxurious Roman Empire. By many people old things are valued for their age and their consequent rarity at prices that to the unilluminated seem ridiculous. The museum spirit is abroad in the land. The work of an "old master" though it may have lost its beauty or never had any to boast of, will bring thousands of dollars in the auction room whereas living artists suffer under supercilious neglect. Do you remember the discussion over the wax bust of Flora in the Berlin museum? So long as it was supposed to be the work of Leonardo it was "priceless." Since it was found to be the work of an English sculptor of whom few have heard no one talks about it any more. It is as beautiful as ever, but it has lost its value for the collector.

Since anything old that has the flavor of history or of quaintness is worth a good deal of money, the production of spurious antiques by cabinet makers and jewelers and craftsmen has become a considerable source of income all over Europe—and to some extent in our own country. Not one in ten of the wonderful prizes for which wealth and un instructed enthusiasm open their purses are genuine. Tapestries, oak and mahogany furniture, wrought silver and gold, illuminated manuscripts, all are skillfully counterfeited and palmed off on the gullible purchaser. It is probable that even the most intelligently conducted museums contain some frauds. Some of them are loaded down with them, and indeed one critic says that they all are. Let us hope that he exaggerates. Meanwhile modern creative art in all of those fields languishes for lack of a public that knows what wood work is and wants to encourage it. If the money that prosperous Americans spend each year on imitations and inferiorities could be diverted to the artists who are really capable of making beautiful things, now and here, the occupation of the counterfeiter and the auctioneer would be diminished, and something might be done to rescue art from the discouragement and futile eccentricity into which it has of late fallen.

ABRUPTNESS

Abruptness of speech is a characteristic of a low order of civilization. The savage is seldom fluent: he makes known his desires and communicates his thoughts with ungracious brevity. Persons of little education usually share to some degree this trait of the savage—not only because they are churlish in disposition, but because they are limited in their command of language and have not been accustomed to the exchange of verbal courtesies and amenities.

When we encounter a person who has had the advantages of education and of association with cultivated people, and who is nevertheless abrupt in speech and manner, we usually think him "grouchy" and rude. Often we are justified in our interpretation of his behavior; but sometimes a person who is abrupt in manner and curt in speech is the victim of excessive diffidence instead of being deliberately forbidding. A fear of saying too much, of not finding the right and appropriate words, a misgiving about the value of the thought that is seeking utterance, sometimes causes people to say less than they should and produces an effect of abruptness, of lack of geniality, when such an expression is the last that the speaker wished to make. So, in judging persons who seem at times unpleasantly abrupt, let us not hastily convict them of rudeness; give them at least the benefit of the doubt until they definitely show that they are not entitled to receive it.

Those who are misjudged because excessive diffidence makes them appear churlish and on their guard should remember that such diffidence is a form of egotism. They think too much about themselves and the impression that they will make on others.

In Paris any person who throws waste paper, refuse or litter of any kind or in the smallest amount on the streets is subject to arrest for breaking the law. The gendarme is likely to hand the offender a slip of paper, somewhat similar to the card our police hand to an offending automobile driver, that obliges the person to appear at a certain time before a magistrate. The punishment sometimes seems severe for a slight offense, but the result is clean streets.

At the League Baseball Park in Springfield, Massachusetts, the owners have installed a microphone and made arrangements with a local radio station to broadcast one baseball game every week. The microphone is not far from the home plate; radio listeners within the range of the Springfield station will here the "spit" of the ball against the catcher's mitt, the decision of the umpire, the crack of the bat and a description of each play by a nimble-witted reporter.

That motor ships run with oil will supplant steamers, is the prediction of many persons in the shipping business. Whatever the final verdict may be, many companies are experimenting with the new type of vessel. An authority says that since the beginning of the year more orders have been placed for motor ships than for steamers. Several of the steamers that the United States Shipping Board has sold are to be converted into motor ships, and at least one company is building a large passenger liner of the motor type.

SOME NEWSPAPER RULES

A Texas newspaper recently issued the following rules, which explain themselves.

Fifty cents per line will be charged for all ordinary notices of business men who get their job printing in another city; 25 cents per line will be charged for like notices to all business men who do not advertise; while all delinquent subscribers will be charged 15 cents per line on passing out to the New Jerusalem. Advertisers and cash subscribers will receive the best in the shop free-gratis when they shuffle off.

Those who extend the paper no support whatever, and go around knocking the editor of the paper, or lambasting the community and its citizens, drop banana pebbles on the sidewalk, spit like a dime or try to sell us a gold brick, will be given the truth, which won't look good in print, when they give up the ghost.

Better send in your orders for job printing and advertising, pay your subscription, get to boosting this paper and its editor and speak in glowing terms of the town and its people, for an epidemic of hog cholera is said to be abroad in the community.—Chill-cothe News.

A dog that was brought before a California court for having bitten a child seemed doomed to death in spite of an excellent reputation for good conduct. But the defense pointed out that the dog had bitten the child to save a bone, and on that evidence the judge ordered the case dismissed. "What more valuable property could a dog have than a large juicy bone," declared the judge. "Anyone trying to deprive a dog of such property has violated the latter's most sacred property rights, and it is an invasion which the dog has a right to prevent with force." From now on, it seems, a dog may gnaw his bone in security.

In an age of specialized service relatively few people perform a given task, and few workers profess to do anything outside their experience. Untrained men cannot run railways, run printing presses, lay bricks or even mine coal. The system is wonderfully productive if every man does his part faithfully, but the balance of the whole social structure is always in the hands of a few.

Lipscomb County Students Perfect Organization

Students from Lipscomb County who are now attending the College here, met in chapel Monday morning for the purpose of organizing a Lipscomb County Club. The following officers were elected:

President—L. Blau.
Vice President—Leah Baldwin.
Secretary and Treasurer—G. H. James.

Reporter—Bryant Baker.
Entertainment Committee—Elsie Russell, Leona Parker, Reta Baldwin.
About twenty-four individuals joined this organization. Everyone is looking forward to many enjoyable times during the long summer months.

With the rising of the sun one pleasant morning of this week, over a score of Lipscomb county members were joyously on their way to one of the pleasure resorts of Canyon, Mr. Wragge's place. After a delightful plunge and boat ride, everyone did his duty in partaking of an appetizing breakfast. This is one of the many enjoyable times that the Lipscomb County Club expects to have.

The Consolidated County Institute

The people of the Panhandle are waking up to the fact that there is a big gathering to be held at Canyon, September 3-7, when teachers from more than twenty counties get together and have a week of intensive study preparatory to the work of the year. It is the largest bunch of folk that meets in this section. They are there to work and they find plenty to do.

Those who attend this year have a treat in the specialists who are to meet them and tell them the best and latest methods in various lines. The departmental plan is followed so that if a teacher is weak in any certain line he may concentrate his efforts and bring his work to a higher standard. Each of these departments is under the direction of an expert.

Study this list and see if you do not feel proud that you are to be one of the attendants: Horn, Fling, Carothers, Miss Hibbets, Miss Lipscomb, and Supt. Marrs.

There will be a steady succession of recitations with two general assembly hours each day. These will usually take the form of a lecture by some one who can bring a real message to the students. For instance, Supt. W. P. Horn, who has been for many months in Mexico, will talk on "The Republic to the South of Us." H. H. J. Fling, Department of Education of East Texas State Teachers College, will have for one of his lectures "Community Building or Meeting the Demands of the Child." The sectional lectures of W. H. Carothers of the Department of Educational Administration includes such practical topics as "The Boy and his Problem," "The Vocabulary of the Teacher," "Factors in an Effective Recitation," etc. These will be well worth hearing. Besides these each teacher has helpful discourses and conferences.

A feature of interest to the teachers is that those who attend may get reduced rates, one and one-half fare, by getting a certificate when buying the ticket if this ticket is bought from Sept. 1-3. Ladies may write Travis Shaw, secretary about accommodations at Cousins and Huntleigh Halls. These will be specially attractive.

The Panhandle teachers and trustees and county superintendents will find something special for which they should go to this institute.

Everybody is to meet everybody else there.

George Ritchie, a former student of the College, who has been attending the University of Texas since he left here, has been making good in track. He has been on the regular Longhorn track team for the last two years. He with nineteen others are to receive the gold shoes which will become the standard track awards of the University of Texas.

Class of '22 Enjoys Week-end Picnic

The class of '22 enjoyed a week-end reunion at the Baptist Encampment Grounds last Saturday night. Miss Ritchie and others were the invited guests.

The party started for the grounds late Saturday evening. The party arrived some two hours later. When the party had assembled, all the '22 graduates who are in Canyon were there with the exception of Mr. A. D. Payne, who was detained on account of his brother being in town. Swimming, boating, and other recreational activities were engaged in. Plenty of cool spring water and a bounteous supply of eats made the party a treat and gave to the following individuals a chance to renew the old ties of '22: Reck, Montfort, Mills, Mr. and Mrs. Powell, Mr. Tarilton and family, Cearley, Swayne, and Lester Hill and wife.

Child-birth

Here is a wonderful message to all expectant mothers!

When the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was he who first produced the great remedy, "Mother's Friend."

Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says: "With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used Mother's Friend and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes. Use 'Mother's Friend' as our mothers and grandmothers did. Don't wait, start today, and meanwhile write to Brookdale Regulator Co., Bk. 46, Atlanta, Ga., for a free illustrated book containing information every expectant mother should have. 'Mother's Friend' is sold by all drug stores—everywhere."

Scurry County Club Enjoys Big Picnic

The end of the first summer term was celebrated by the Scurry County Club by an outing and picnic at Wragge's Pleasure Park Tuesday.

Some thirty Scurry County students gathered at the home of Mrs. Pat A. Johnson as a rendezvous. From this meeting place, the crowd departed on its way to the swimming pool. The crowd assembled upon the bank of the pool at 6:30 o'clock for consultation as to who were "going in." Ray Daniels, the chaperon, "hit the water" first. Others followed. After some time in the pool, the swimmers heeded the call for "supper" by hastily dressing themselves in preparation for the evening meal. The lunch was carried to an elevated knoll where it was spread. Ice tea and ice water in plentiful amounts made the delicious lunch more pleasing to the appetite. Mrs. Ray Daniels furnished the fruit salad which everyone so enjoyed.

UNHEALTHY

A Negro resident of San Francisco had saved his money and moved to the outskirts, where he bought a small farm and prospered exceedingly in raising vegetables and fruits.

"Why don't you keep chickens, too?" his former employer asked him when he journeyed to town to buy groceries. "Nossuh. Ah done decided not to," he replied. "To tell yo' de troof, Ah lives in a cullud neighborhood, an' chickens don't do well there."

Few men can succeed on a farm that is not a real home. The two are inseparable, and in that fact perhaps lies one of the secrets of good farming. The better home generally leads the way to the better farming.

Letting a man go wrong because he is your friend is as foolish as spoiling a child because he is yours.

The End of "Endless" Days

DOING farm work with an Allis-Chalmers tractor means more than raising bigger crops at less expense. You can do more and better work in less time and put an end to working days that hold you on the job long after dark.

Whatever the work to be done, you go into the fields with an Allis-Chalmers tractor and finish up on time! The powerful valve-in-head motor is as finely built as the engine of a motor car or truck. Rated conservatively, it is capable of developing and maintaining a power surplus which overcomes emergencies on either drawbar or belt. Two large side-inspection plates give quick access to crankcase; valves are easily reached for grinding or cleaning of carbon by simply removing cylinder heads.

All we ask is the opportunity to give you a demonstration of what an Allis-Chalmers tractor will do on your farm. Come in—ask us for the proof—and for details about our easy time-payment plan.

THE RETORT SUSPICIOUS

"I'm sorry, but this bill is so dirty that I'm afraid I can't use it," said the trolley conductor, passing back to the passenger a grimy piece of paper, originally intended to represent a dollar.

"Well, then," the passenger snapped, "if you can't use it, why don't you turn it over to the company."

Be sure to look for Cousin Jebediah, Miranda, Cassy, Jupy, Flossy, Trix, and Aunt Sophia, in "The Union Station" at the College auditorium, Saturday night, August 4. Benefit Mary E. Hudspeth Hall.

At a dinner given in Moscow by the heads of the American Relief Administration departments some of the most prominent Bolshevik leaders not only for their services to Russia but also extolled the American relief workers expressed the hope that their benevolent activities might lead to a closer friendship and understanding between the two countries. On the same day in Moscow, Zinoviev, chairman of the executive committee of the Third International, declared to the Swedish and English delegates who objected to anti-religious propaganda, "Our programme is based on scientific materialism, which includes unconditionally the necessity of propagating atheism." So long as the Bolshevik regime persists in its peculiar propaganda it is idle for the leaders of it to try to court American friendship.

Senator David A. Reed of Pennsylvania thinks that the two chief problems of the next congress will be immigration and the equalization of income-tax burdens. He points out that the present system of taxing incomes discriminates in favor of the person whose income is unearned—that the man who works for his living may be taxed as high as 58 per cent of his income, whereas the man who lives on his investments may escape with a tax of only 12½ per cent. Senator Reed will reintroduce the bill to restrict immigration to five per cent of the nationals of each European country resident in the United States in 1890. Under the present law the restriction is three per cent of those resident in the United States in 1910. Senator Reed's proposal would mean many more immigrants from the northern European countries and many less from southern Europe.

A draft of a proposed liquor treaty extending the right of search and seizure to the twelve-mile limit, but not changing the territorial limit of three miles fixed by international law, is reported ready for submission to the leading maritime powers by the State Department. It provides that foreign ships carrying liquor may enter American ports if the liquor stores are sealed when the twelve-mile limit is passed and that the United States shall have the right to search and seize vessels carrying liquor within the twelve-mile limit. Meanwhile, by a ruling of the Treasury Department, ships of foreign nations that are compelled by law to furnish their sailors with a wine ration are entitled to bring in as "medicinal supplies" such stocks as are necessary for that purpose.

A grocer in Tulsa went to a deputy sheriff whose word he knew he could trust for information as to a certain Lew Diggs, who had applied for credit at his store.

"Good mornin', sheriff."
"Mornin'."
"You know Lew Diggs?"
"Yup."
"What kind of a feller is he?"
"Purty fair."
"Is he honest?"
"Oh, sure, I should say so. Been arrested twice for stealing, and acquitted both times."

It is always the new man who will tell you that advertising does not pay. If a man has business experience he knows better. Let some beginner run a card in the newspaper, announcing the fact that John Smith sells groceries and if a big run does not follow his laud statement he is ready to denounce newspaper advertising. Of course, successful advertising must have some brains behind it. In reality it is salesmanship on an extended scale. Where a salesman can but talk to one customer at the time, the newspaper talks to a thousand. If the argument and personality of the salesman are good, he is going to make some sales, and the same thing will happen when newspaper salesmanship is applied.—Quannah Tribune-Chief.

A critic of our churches says that they are "dominated by a lot of old hens?" Does he refer to the lay members?—Nashville Southern Lumberman.
