OSCAR ECKHARDT, LONGHORN STAR, JOINS COACHING STAFF OF BUFFALOES PROSPECTS GOOD FOR FOOTBALL TEAM

Two new coaches have been added to the coaching staff of the College, and with fifteen letter men in prospect for the fall season, the Buffaloes have never had a brighter prospect for a championship team.

The coaching staff at the Teachers College will be greatly strengthened by the addition of Oscar G. Eckhardt, Jr., University of Texas football and baseball hero, and Alvin R. Jackson, the present Freshman coach at the University of Oklahoma. With these two men and Prof. W. E. Lockhart working with head Coach S. D. Burton, the Teachers College will have one of the strongest coaching staffs of any college in the T. I. A. A.

A telegram was received by President J. A. Hill Sunday from Oscar Eckhardt accepting the position of Assistant Coach to the Buffaloes. Jackson, who will teach in the College and do some coaching on the side, accepted the first of last week.

Oscar Eckhardt is recognized as one of the greatest football and baseball men in the Southwest. Many coaches recommended him for the All-American football team last fall. Walter Camp gave him honorable mention on his All-American mythical team. He is one of the greatest athletes ever turned out by the University of Texas, having been a half-back on the football team of that institution for four years and a baseball pitcher and left-fielder for three years. Eckhardt was recognized everywhere last fall as being one of the best punters in an American university. He is also the University's star performer on the mound.

Eckhardt will coach the backfield of the Buffalo football teams, and Coach Burton will throw the major part of his attention to the development of the line. He will act as head coach in baseball and as assistant coach in all other sports. Billy Disch, University baseball coach for many years, gave Eckhardt his unqualified endorsement as a coach.

It is not known exactly where Jackson will be used on the coaching staff, but in all probability he will assist in football, basketball and track. He comes here highly endorsed by the Dean and the head of the department of Mathematics of Oklahoma University, Benny Owen, O. U. head coach, gives Jackson his unqualified endorsement as a coach in football, basketball, track and all indoor sports.

Jackson, besides coaching, will teach three or four courses in the Department of Mathematics. He holds a B. A. degree from the University of Oklahoma and only lacks a little completing his work for an M. A. He is a member of the Phi Beta Kappa fraternity. He has had several years of teaching experience.

The new men will begin work with the Buffalo teams at the beginning of the football training season next fall.

Gin Manager Here; New Machinery to be Shipped at Once

O. W. Degarimore arrived Monday from McKinney with his household goods and is ready to start work on the new gin in Canyon.

A rumor was started in Canyon last week that only a second hand outfit would be brought to Canyon. Mr. Degarimore states that this is absolutely a false statement. A new gin was bought from the Murry people in Dallas three months ago, and will be shipped to Canyon just as soon as the building can be erected. The gin will be one of the most complete in West Texas and modern in every respect.

Hill, both men having attended Texas University at the same time. The speaker took for his subject the value of Christian creeds. He stated that no creed is obsolete or outworn when it grows out of personal experience. The importance of creeds to the teacher was particularly stressed. The sermon was arranged around a suggestive creed which was applied to practical living conditions. This creed is: I believe in the fatherhood of God; I believe in the words of Jesus; I believe in the clean heart; I believe in the unworldly life; I promise to trust God and follow Jesus. Each point in the creed was expanded and driven home with apt illustrations.

Degree graduates and faculty members formed a procession which entered the auditorium at the beginning of the exercises. Everyone in the procession was dressed in the cap and gown signifying the highest degree held. This was the first time that faculty members have worn the degree insignia at commencement.

Ex-Student Tries Out for Olympic Mat Team of U. S.

Austin, Texas, May 20.—Walter Craddock of Austin, captain of the wrestling team of the University of Texas, left Austin tonight for New York City, where he will compete in the Olympic tryouts, which will be held there to determine the wrestling team to represent the United States.

Craddock wrestles in the heavy-weight class. He weighs close to 190 pounds, and is by far the best wrestler in the Southwest Conference, never having lost a match, and never failing to get a fall. He played football at the University in his freshman year.

Walter Craddock attended the West Texas State Teachers College in the summer session of 1919. He went from here to the University of Texas where he has been a student practically ever since that time. He has been a member of the University wrestling team for the past three years. His friends here wish him success in winning the right to represent the United States as heavy weight wrestler at the Olympic Games.

Shifting shoals of a sinking coast line on the Atlantic seaboard from the Florida Keys to Chesapeake Bay are proving treacherous. Charts now in use along this stretch of coast are antiquated and a re-survey is to be made to bring them up to date.

Complete Le Mirage Staff is Announced; Work Starts at Once

With the completing this week of the annual staff for next session the year-book begins to take definite form in the minds of its makers. Work will begin at once—in fact editor Evetts Haley already has a number of ideas worked out for the next publication. The art work and other departmental detail work will be practically finished during the summer months. Haley and his faculty adviser, Miss Jennie C. Ritchie, have announced the following selections for the 1924-'25 staff:

Dick Hughes, Associate editor.
Mitchell Jones, athletic editor.
Stella Rusk, literary editor.
Louise Walker, organization editor.
Margaret Lowndes, Allene Tate, art editors.

Davis Hill, Raymond Thompson, College Life editors.

Eva Robertson, typist.

Almost without exception the students selected for Le Mirage have had experience and training which especially fit them for the positions. In view of the fact that the staff will be unusually well organized and will begin work almost six months before the customary time, it is expected that the next yearbook will be the best-planned annual that has appeared, and in addition it will require less arduous effort on the part of those who do the work.

A message by cable from London girdled the earth in eighty seconds. It was sent direct by telegraph from London, by cable to Halifax, then over telegraph wires to Bamfield, British Columbia. From there it was cabled to Sydney, Australia, relayed across that continent by land wires, and sent by cable to Dublin, whence it was relayed to Capetown, which in turn sent it back to London, England, via the Azores.

When wolves threaten a herd of musk ox, the attacked animals form a circle of deadly down-drooping horns which proves impregnable. A bull may rush out in an effort to pierce a wolf, but he is never lured too far and soon returns to the circle, backs into place and resumes his defensive attitude.

RESULTS THAT LAST!

Proven by Canyon People.

Thousands of kidney sufferers have tried remedy after remedy with only temporary benefit. That's mighty discouraging! But one kidney remedy has earned a reputation for lasting results and there's plenty of proof right here in Canyon.

Read the experience of one who used Doan's Pills years ago and now makes her endorsement even stronger.

Mrs. W. W. Clonch, 1601 3rd Ave. Canyon, says: "I had a dull ache across my back most all the time, and it was hard for me to do my work. When I stooped, sharp, stinging pains caught me in my back and shoulders. I had headaches and dizzy spells and my kidneys acted irregularly, too. I bought Doan's Pills and three boxes cured me of all this trouble."

On March 5, 1924, Mrs. Clonch said: "Doan's cured me some years ago and the cure has lasted."

SESAMES WILL CONTINUE WORK DURING SUMMER TERM

Instead of electing hold-over officers for the vacation period as formerly done, the Sesame Literary Society on Saturday started a new custom by voting to continue the regular activities through the summer session. Miss Eva Robertson was chosen as president of the society; Ruth Newton will be vice president; Laura Sweetman, secretary-treasurer; Pearl Richards, reporter; Annie Mae Caldwell, parliamentarian; Carola Hetler, sergeant-at-arms.

Activities of the Sesame Society will be varied to suit the summer program. The year-round program is expected to keep society interest at the maximum and result in better training as a consequence of the change.

THE NEED OF TALKING

Shy persons are nearly always embarrassed on meeting strangers, by what they feel is the necessity of finding something to say. Usually they are unable to think of anything that is not flat and commonplace; and rather than utter a remark that they feel would stamp them in the stranger's mind as stupid they remain silent and wait for some one else to introduce a topic that will be of common interest. Sometimes relief of the desired sort is forthcoming, and sometimes it is not. When it fails the commonplace utterance seems finally less painful than a prolongation of the silence.

What the shy person seldom learns, however frequent the experience, is that commonplace speech may be as useful as brilliant epigram or scintillating wit—usually indeed more useful—in establishing a friendly relation with other human beings. Talking as a means of impressing your individuality is not altogether dependent on the value of the thing said. The mere act of speaking, the play of the lips, the light that flashes from the eyes, the sound of the voice reveal the speaker as silence cannot reveal him. It would be absurd, of course, to minimize the importance of good talk, of having something genuine and interesting to say, but most persons, and especially most persons who are shy do not emphasize sufficiently in their minds the value of opening a conversation in even the most trite and obvious way, with a commonplace or a triviality, if nothing better suggests itself. It is through such openings that sympathetic ideas and emotions often make their way from one mind or heart into another.

As everyone knows, there are some persons who when they are with others feel it incumbent upon them to be always talking. It is all right to begin to talk out of a desire to be companionable; it is all wrong to talk on and on and on for no other reason than a desire to be companionable. Once companionability is established, speech ceases to be an obligation; it comes spontaneously, and it ceases at will. In the society of a silent person a man can always take refuge in his own thoughts; in the society of an incessant chatterer there is no refuge.

Child-birth

WHEN the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was he who first produced the great remedy, "Mother's Friend." Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says:

"With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used 'Mother's Friend' and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes."

Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did. Don't wait, start today, and meanwhile write to Bradford E. Regulator Co., 224-25 Atlanta, Ga., for a free illustrated book containing information every expectant mother should have. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all drug stores—everywhere.

EDUCATION FOR ALL

In some way America must continue to provide the opportunities of liberal education for the average man. We must train leaders, we must give of the best to the best, but democracy needs not simply a chosen few but the elevation of the standards of life and thought among the masses of the people to the fullest extent practicable.

We need not simply technical and professional schools, business and commercial schools, vocational training, but wide opportunities for liberal study for those who may not be intelligently the most promising. If our existing universities and colleges are compelled to restrict their numbers, others must be supplied. No one who desires and who is reasonably prepared to take advantage of higher education should be denied it in our great democracy because of lack of resources.—Secretary Charles E. Hughes, in School Life.

To prevent overcrowding of students' time by too many activities outside of the curriculum, the faculty of Cornell College, Mount Vernon, Iowa, has appointed certain of its members to an events committee. This committee will consult with other members of the faculty and with representatives of the student body in an effort to bring about a proper proportion between the time spent in study and in outside campus affairs.

SHORT CUTS TO OMNISCIENCE

The present problem of higher education, as we see it, lies in the fact that learning is being hopelessly outstripped by discovery. There was a time when the sum of discovered facts was so small that it did not half occupy the time of the learned. A reasonably diligent person could hope to learn everything that was so, and still have abundant leisure in which to learn things that were not so. These were the golden days of higher education, when the scholar could enjoy an easy sense of superiority while waiting for the plodding investigator. All that has been changed by the speeding up of science. Knowledge is now moving so fast and in so many directions that the learner finds himself hopelessly in arrears and running round in circles. He is falling so far behind that it is now fairly plain that he can never catch up. The days of omniscience are past and gone forever.

The substitute for omniscience that is now most in vogue is the synoptic survey, invented by Mr. H. G. Wells. This depends upon the laws of perspective. The sum of human knowledge can easily be brought within the compass of a single human mind, if the mind is only placed at a sufficient distance. The whole is then foreshortened and abridged, the details disappear, and only the grand mountain-peak contours remain.

In this way the history of the cosmos from the year 2,000,000 B. C., when the earth sprang from a spiral nebula, down to the Japanese earthquake of 1923 A. D.; or the whole development of human civilization and culture; or the aggregated contents of all the sciences, can easily be knocked down and carried off by what the French so aptly call a "coup d'oeil," or blow of the eye. The popularity of this new educational instrument is abundantly attested by any recent book catalogue, and by the development of general "initiation" and "orientation" courses for freshmen.

The great danger of these new methods is that they may succeed too well. A freshman who has completed a year's work comprising, let us say, a course on the cosmos, a course on universal history, a course on thinking, and a course on character, would, educationally speaking, have little left to live for. To prevent professional unemployment and a disastrous depreciation of the educational plant, it is desirable that these new ideas should be carried only very gradually into effect.—Harvard Alumni Bulletin.

He: May I call you Revenge?
She: Why?
He: Because "revenge is sweet."
She: Certainly, if you will let me call you Vengeance.
He: And why call me Vengeance?
She: Because "Vengeance is mine."

"Y" GIRLS HOLD ANNUAL ELECTION

WINNIE MAE CRAWFORD WILL BE NEW PRESIDENT.

Young Woman's Organization Has Done Excellent Work Throughout This College Session.

In the annual election held Friday by the Young Woman's Christian Association, Winnie Mae Crawford was elected president of the College organization. Miss Crawford is a Junior and by reason of her experience and training is particularly well-qualified for the position. She has held offices in the "Y" for several years and in addition attended a number of summer conferences of the Association.

The other officers named are: Vice President, Madge Day; Secretary, Ruth Newton; treasurer, Faye Lockhart; undergraduate representative, Louise Walker. The cabinet officers not named above will be appointed by the president at the opening of the Fall quarter, when the organization will begin its new program of activities.

While some Y. W. C. A. work will be done during the summer session, no plans for the summer have been made by the present organization. It is likely however, that the girls who remain for the short session will form a temporary organization.

Past Year Was Profitable
Consistent work has been done by the girls organization throughout the past regular session. With very few exceptions meetings have been held every week. The attendance has been uniformly larger than that of any previous year. The programs have been planned usually by the students themselves, but the speakers presented were chosen from the faculty and prominent citizenship of this section. Miss Mary Adaline Lamb, faculty adviser, assisted the cabinet in planning its meetings and other activities. Subjects of timely interest to college girls were chosen, and music formed a vital part of the exercises.

The officers of the Y. W. C. A. during the year just closing are: President, Stella Stanfield; vice president, Madge Day; secretary, Ann Mammsett; treasurer, Faye Lockhart; programs and meetings, Lois Graham; social chairman, Louise Walker; reporter, Eppie Irons; music, Byrd Mitchell; annual representative, Bessie Walker; publicity, Alice Magee.

Powerful electric locomotives operating in the Rocky and Cascade mountains pull the train up the grades of the Continental Divide. In their descent these same locomotives electrically brake the descent, and in so doing generate additional power which is returned to the line, making up in part that which is lost in ascending. Electrification does away with dirt, smoke and noise and doubles the capacity of a line, speeds up service, saves hauling immense quantities of coal, and is advantageous in every respect.

College Purchases Large Bus for Use of Athletic Teams

The big sixteen-passenger bus, known as the "Tout Suite" bus, has been purchased by the College. The big bus will be used by the College to carry athletic teams, the band, and picnic parties to various towns over the Panhandle and West Texas.

The bus has been used very little and is practically as good as new, although it was purchased at nearly half price. The bus is an enclosed car and will carry sixteen passengers without crowding. Its upholstery is excellent, its engine high-powered, and it is considered to be one of the best buses of its kind manufactured. A man will be put in charge of the car, and he will keep it in good mechanical condition and drive it when needed.

The bus was formerly used to haul passengers between Canyon and Amarillo.

EARLE S. SPARKS RECEIVES PH. D. FROM HARVARD

Earle S. Sparks, who graduated from the West Texas State Teachers College several years ago, recently received his doctor's degree from Harvard University and is now acting head of the Department of Economics at Tufts College, Wesley, Mass. The student paper of that institution has the following to say of Mr. Sparks:

"Prof. Earle S. Sparks, acting head of the department of economics, has recently received the degree of doctor of philosophy from the Economic Department of the Harvard Graduate School of Arts and Sciences.

"Dr. Sparks, who is completing his third year at Tufts, graduated from the State Normal School at Canyon, Texas, received a bachelor's and a master's degrees from the University of Texas, and his master's and doctor's degrees from Harvard. He became acting head of the department here when Dr. H. A. Wooster left at the end of last year to head the economics department at Oberlin College.

"A book on "Agricultural Credit in the United States" by Dr. Sparks will be published in the near future."

In a letter to President J. A. Hill, Dr. Sparks says: "My mind often turns back to Canyon to think of the many enjoyable moments of my life that I spent there. I shall always value the early inspirations and truths which came to me from my teachers and associates in Canyon. Will you give my best regards to my teachers who are still associated with you."

"WHO'S WHO IN CANYON?"

It behooves every man and woman in Canyon to spend their money where their homes are, where they pay taxes. The merchants of larger cities do not pay in Canyon, nor do they contribute to the growth of this community. If you spend a dollar here you know that money will benefit someone else and still in turn benefit you. Cast your money on the waters of trading at home and it will come back to you in many fold. When a man chooses a town like Canyon to make his home and derives his income from the town he owes it to himself to keep his dollar in his own community. Investigations show that there is little need for a resident of Canyon to do any trading away from Canyon. Join the buy at home movement if you do not already belong. There are many arguments in favor of buying at home there is one fact that cannot be disputed, that is to be the personal interest of every citizen of the town to do his or her trading at home. Keep your money where you will get another look at it. Become acquainted with your home institutions with an intimate understanding of Canyon industries you can better understand why you should keep your dollar at home. How many people realize that right here in Canyon can be had everything that a community needs. Suppose this city should suddenly be cut off from the entire world for about thirty days, who would you buy your requirements from? Canyon of course. Then if your merchants are prepared to supply you in time of emergency it is the duty of every citizen of Canyon to patronize them at normal times.

A number of newspapers are crying for the appointment of a Texas man to become president of the university. That is well and good if the proper man can be found in Texas. If the proper educator can not be procured in Texas, what is the matter of importing one. The plea is made that a Texas man will better understand the education needs of Texas. Is education so much different in Texas that only Texans understand education in this state? Perhaps if Texas had followed the lead of other states in education, we would not stand 38th down in the line in education, and it would not now be necessary for our advanced students to go to the east or the west to get advanced training. And furthermore, if Texas would take warning from some of the sister states in education, perhaps we could keep for Texas children a few of the great educators who have been in the state, but have been called to responsible positions in other states. The News trusts that the regents will call the biggest educator in America to head the university—whether he lives in Texas or not.

It is stated that Floydada has the largest per capita high school graduation this year of any town in West Texas. One out of every 27 citizens of Floydada were in the graduating class. Canyon is second in the list with 1 out of every 39; Lubbock 1 out of every 53; Brownwood, 1 out of every 63; Childress 1 out of every 27; Amarillo 1 out of every 185. Our neighboring town to the north has the lowest per capita high school graduation in this section. While the percentage of graduates in Canyon this year was not so large as Floydada, yet Canyon has the largest per capita high school attendance of any town in the state, according to Austin school officials.

The candidates for governor are now out on the road, and several of them will visit Canyon within the coming few weeks. Hear these men. They have ideas about our government at Austin. These ideas may not be worth a whoop to the voter, but before casting a ballot in the primary, each voter owes it to himself and to his state to hear every possible side of the political questions discussed. He is then free to make his choice as the merits of the issues and the ability of the candidates.

If your property was on fire and the fire department was disabled because some ignoramus had run over the fire hose and burst several sections, you certainly would be in favor of hanging that person without trial or ceremony. Yet that thing may happen right here in Canyon. If the practice of running over the fire hose is continued, the whole department will have to be used to protect the hose, rather than fight the fire.

Harry Koch says: "People find it too easy to say, 'Charge it,' and then too hard to pay it." Those too little words, "charge it," has wrecked the hopes of many a man and woman from every amounting to anything in the world, and has broke more business firms than anything else. It is more important sounding to "charge it" than to pay the hard cash.

Congress is to adjourn soon. The investigators have had a merry time during the past few months—and the investigated are still at large and enjoying peace and plenty.

The commission on "free" textbooks has met and modestly spent a quarter to half a million of dollars for new books, whereas the commission two years ago tried to spend from one and one-half to two millions for books that were not needed. The supreme court in a recent decision evaded the question of legality of the contracts, and the state may yet have to pay for the unnecessary purchases to two years ago. At least the state had improved in to quality of the textbook commission to such an extent that the members used a little sense in the expenditure of the children's money.

The battle between the ex-students and the regents of the university waxes greater every day, with demands of the ex-students for the resignation of Chairman Starks from the board of regents. It is reported that the regents recently turned down a well known educator because he was a republican—as though a man's religion or politics had anything to do with his qualifications as an educator. If this report is true, the university needs a new board of regents.

If the republicans follow the leadership of Prexy Butler in the Chicago convention, and declare for a wet program, the democrat candidate will have easy picking in November. However, President Coolidge has not spoken, and will not fall for the wet stuff. Even if Coolidge is having a hard time to control his party, he is recognized as a capable, clean and honest man who will not fall for the wet program just to win the applaudit of some of his party leaders.

The only difference is that Lynch made his while Pope married a rich wife. Pope found fault with some university professors teaching but one hour per week but failed to state that some of these men are kept busy for many hours with research work or looking after the teaching of several assistants. Retail Merchants Will Hold Meeting in Canyon on August Fifth Canyon will be the birthplace of a new Panhandle-Plains organization of a scope of usefulness equal to any now in existence, if plans of the local Chamber of Commerce materialize according to expectations when a gathering of retail merchants of the section is held here August 5.

Following the visit here Monday of H. W. Blackburn of Amarillo and T. J. Coffey of McLean, prominent Panhandle clothing men, it was decided that this date would be most generally acceptable to the retail merchants for a convention at which organization might be taken up.

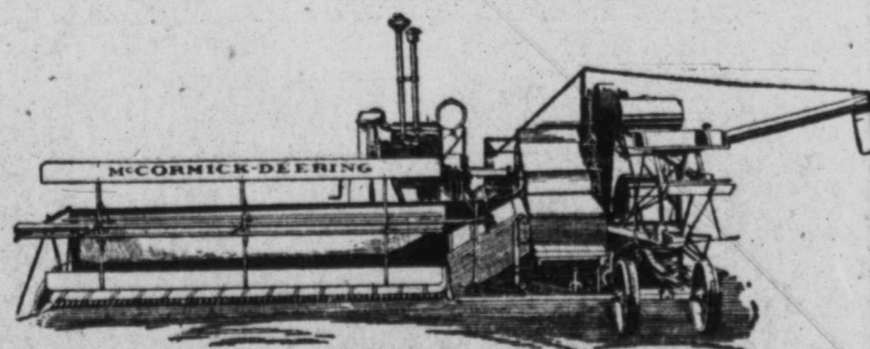

Letters are now being sent out by the local Chamber to leading retailers in the principal cities and towns of the Panhandle-Plains territory, inviting them here on that day and offering every assistance in the formation of the Panhandle-Plains Retail Merchants Association.

Talks on constructive subjects, such as co-operative advertising, trade-at-home campaigns, credit information and the like will be made by men whose own interests have been benefited through a study of these phases of merchandising. A trip to some local pleasure resort and a banquet may be features of the gathering, which is expected to make history for the retailers of the great Plains section of Texas, with its far-reaching uniformity of interests.

The complete program, convention hall and other details of the event will be announced as plans mature, it is announced by Louis E. Hart, manager of the local Chamber of Commerce, who is now working out with the local directors the best means of handling the gathering.

Stop that Eczema!

AMAZING results have been produced by S. S. S. in cases of eczema, pimples, blackheads and other skin eruptions. If you have been troubled with eczema, and you have used skin applications without number, make a test yourself, on yourself with a bottle of S. S. S., one of the most powerful blood cleansers known. S. S. S. makes the blood rich and pure, and when your blood is freed of impurities your stubborn eczema, rash, tetter, skin eruptions, pimples, blackheads, blotches and acne are bound to disappear. There are no unproven theories about S. S. S.; the scientific results of each of its purely vegetable medicinal ingredients are admitted by authorities.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Whitewash Formula

County Agent J. W. Jennings gives the following formula for whitewash: Slake quicklime with enough water to make a thick paste. While it is slacking add, for each bushel of lime, a pint of lard or other grease and a cupful of salt. Add the water slowly to the lime, but do not flood it. After it is reduced to a white powder, add enough water to bring the solution to a thin creamy consistency, and strain through a piece of burlap. It is advisable to add 4 ounces of some coal tar disinfectant to each gallon of the mixture. Have all surfaces clean before applying.
