Here In HICO

"If we could see ourselves as others see us"—you know the old saying. It has a new application, suggested to the writer upon the occasion of the last weekly meeting of the luncheon club, which meets in Hico each Friday at noon. And there is some little comment current on the futility of such organizations, we can't keep from broadcasting our own feelings about the matter. Sinclair Lewis is not a regular reader of this column anyhow, so we will take a chance on bringing forth his ridicule, and that of others of his followers.

It was a cold day when first we visited the Hico Lions Club, and were introduced as the new editor and proprietor of Hico's biggest and best weekly newspaper. Cold outside, but warm inside. Warmed by the natural heat of this sunny climate, nor by artificial heat generated by mechanical methods, it was with the warmth that radiates from those fortunate individuals who enjoy meeting together and discussing their mutual problems, fortunes and misfortunes, and who seem to reflect genuine hospitality in a most unmistakable manner.

When first invited to go up and get acquainted with the members of the local luncheon club, we were a little skeptical and dubious, but will have to admit "Go up here and listen for an hour to a lot of chatter that would put one to sleep?" we argued with ourselves. For, strange to say, that as the view we held then of such organizations (unfortunately shared by a large number of our fellow men).

But that was one of those famous wrong guesses that ought to be down in history as such. Upon our arrival at the meeting (we had at this time convinced ourselves that we "ought" to go as a matter of civic pride and a means of getting acquainted) we were surprised and pleasantly by the repetition of words used and the spirit shown by these Babbitts in their weekly get-togethers.

Optimism was displayed by each individual present at that meeting, and the tasks facing the business men and citizens were faced with courage and enthusiasm. It is just natural for men to like to get together and discuss things among themselves. When approached in this manner, mountains become level hills, and nothing is as bad as it seems. United thought and concerted action will accomplish in an hour what individualism, rum scum plugging along will do in a month.

Aside from that angle of a matter, however, is the really important phase of social progress. No one, unless he is out of the ordinary, likes to live himself, and though we meet with other on the street almost daily, and sometimes take time to "howdy" to one another, that is not comparable to an hour spent together around the dining table each week.

There is nothing selfish about organization to which we have referred. No one runs it and it has nobody or nothing. Its objects and principles are dictated by the wishes of the membership, and we have found a very commendable brand of consideration and every time we have visited the luncheons, which has been on every opportunity. While it is sometimes been impossible for us to attend on account of absence from town or other interruption of our Friday schedule, nevertheless we have attended with average regularity, and can't make ourselves think that the time has been wasted.

Changes in the name and manner of financing have lately been suggested within the club, and provided sufficient interest can be generated, Hico can have one of the liveliest and most active organizations of this type to be found anywhere. There should be representative from every business house in town, large or small, and each one should put his shoulder to the wheel and help attain the things which are sought and desired. The things accomplished are, favorably on the town as a whole, and there is no excuse for anyone not coming in and giving their whole-hearted support.

Think this over, Mr. Non-Member and Mr. Non-Attender. See if you can afford to sit on the sidelines when a berth is offered you by the team that is trying to carry the ball across the goal line for Hico and this section. Put aside your petty scruples and weak excuses—let's all get together and practice teamwork for awhile.

Dynamite Blast Is Fatal to Local Man

Dave Snoddy Hit By Rock While Digging Grave

The victim of one of the most spectacular and saddest accidents that has occurred in this vicinity in sometime, David Snoddy, age 31 years, the son of Cash Snoddy of Hico, died at the Stephenville Hospital Tuesday night shortly after 10 o'clock.

Mr. Snoddy and several others were engaged in digging a grave at the Hico cemetery Monday. The hard rock encountered made it necessary to place dynamite in the grave and blast through the rock. Several charges had already been exploded, and shortly after noon another load was placed. All the workers retired to what they considered a safe distance, but young Snoddy was in the path of a five-pound rock thrown by the blast, although he was about fifty yards from the grave. The rock struck him just above the eyes, hitting with sufficient force to knock him to the ground, and cutting a large gash in his head, at the same time fracturing his skull.

He was brought to town at once, and Dr. C. M. Hall administered all possible aid, but it was necessary for him to be taken to a hospital immediately. Accompanied by his father and several friends, he was driven to the Terrell Sanitarium at Stephenville with all haste, where everything possible was done to relieve his suffering, and improve his condition, but to no avail. He died at the hour mentioned above.

Electrical Wizard

John Armstrong Cygnon was a Midwesterner at Annapolis until his electrical experiments interfered with the Academy elevators and he was called to hire him but the President ordered him to West Point.

Keeping Up With TEXAS

Four boys have become official mascots of the house of representatives. They are Neal Duvall, Jr., son of Representative J. C. Duvall of Fort Worth; George C. Kemble, Jr., son of a former member of the house; A. G. Walker, Jr., son of Representative Walker of Vernon, and Louis Kayton Jr., nephew of Representative Harold Kayton of San Antonio.

Some 12,000 acres in Cherokee County were treated with poison against rodents in a two-week campaign waged by Dan E. Foster of the biological survey. Foster will spend the remainder of the month in Anderson County in a similar drive against crop pests.

Prohibition agents Saturday were completing a check of more than 500 cases of assorted liquors seized in a house on Avenue O 1/2 in Galveston Friday night. The liquor was valued at $35,000. Liquor and customs violation charges were filed against Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Faust, 4608 Avenue O 1/2. Various brands of whiskeys were stacked in a little room, almost completely filling it from floor to ceiling, except for a narrow passage down the center. Officers believe the cache was the clearing house for a large smuggling ring, where liquor was stored awaiting shipment into the interior by truck after having been brought to Galveston by boat.

Accidentally shot by her 10-year-old son, R. E. Jr., Mrs. R. E. Collins died a short time later at her home at Dalhart Friday night. The boy was playing with an automatic pistol in the home of Clarence Garrison, a neighbor, when the gun was discharged. The bullet went through windows of the two dwellings and struck his mother.

The Waco baseball team of the Texas League is no more. For the first time since 1922 Waco is without organized baseball. The Waco Club franchise has been sold to Galveston for $23,000. That is the price Waco paid for the franchise back in 1925 when a group of citizens raised the money by selling stock, Katy park, which was purchased by the Waco club several years ago with a down payment of $15,000, and $75,000 due in 10 years, will be doled back to William Abel at al, from whom the property was purchased.

Tossing him a nickel and his empty purse, with the remark "You may want this to call the officers with," two well-dressed men in a car sped away from V. E. Browning a Quarah traveling man who had stopped at a bar, turned to change a tire. They had stopped and ask Browning if they could be of any assistance, to which he replied in the negative. They then stated they would help him anyway, and when he turned to face them, a gun was leveled at him and he was commanded to hand over the money. Browning gave them his purse containing $21 and asked them to give him back his purse. They did with the nickel. The robbers had no car license on the car they were driving.

Major Gene Tunney

One of the first acts of Connecticut's new governor was to appoint Gene Tunney a Major in the Marine Corps branch of the state's naval militia, and designate him as personal aide to the governor. Gene was a U. S. Marine before he became world's champion heavyweight boxer.

Visiting Flier Escapes With Only Minor Injuries When New Plane Crashes In Fog Near Blair Field

Luncheon Club Has Enthusiastic Meeting Friday

The weekly meeting of Hico's luncheon club, composed of business men representative of many local business houses, held last Friday at the Midland Hotel dining room, showed an increase in attendance over the previous few weeks, and the lunchers and talkers were apparently in good spirits. After enjoying an excellent meal, various subjects relative to business were discussed, and an enjoyable hour of sociable recreation resulted.

A visitor for the luncheon was introduced in the person of Rev. L. P. Thomas, new pastor of the First Baptist Church in Hico, who was present at the invitation of J. W. Richbourg. After being introduced by his host, Rev. Thomas expressed his pleasure at being able to meet with his fellow citizens in this manner, and promised his heartiest cooperation with the club in all its endeavors. He stated that the city from which he had recently moved, Alvarado, had not been fortunate enough to have a luncheon club of this kind, but that he had worked with the Lions Club at Claude, Texas, where he had a previous charge, and had enjoyed the work immensely, fully realizing the benefits of same.

It was suggested by a member that in view of the fact that other pastors of the city had been invited to become members of the club, Bro. Thomas be made an "ornery" member also. Some discussion was had as to the appropriateness of the word used in this connection, but the matter was left as it stood, and Bro. Thomas accepted the title good-naturedly.

The committee on attendance, appointed a few weeks ago, was heard from, and their report led all present to believe that there would be an immediate increase in membership and attendance. This committee was composed of Messrs. Thies, Elkins and Brown, who each told of their individual efforts in this direction. They all concurred in the belief that if all members of the club would bring pressure to bear upon their friends and the business interests in general, a great improvement in attendance would result.

No plans have been made for the year's work as yet, but it is hoped that within a few weeks enough new blood may be injected into the club so that the year 1931 will see much good accomplished.

A Spartan biplane, piloted by M. K. Bailey, representative of the Spartan Aircraft Corporation of Tulsa, Okla., crashed here last Friday, January 19th, placing Mr. Bailey, who was the sole occupant, in the Stephenville hospital for a few days to recuperate from minor injuries. His condition had improved sufficiently Tuesday to allow him to continue his journey to Abilene with another representative of the company.

Two planes came over Hico shortly after noon Friday, apparently headed for Blair Field, the local municipal airport. The leading plane, a Spartan five-place cabin job, circled the field and landed safely. The weather, while not bad enough to be termed impossible, was extremely disagreeable, and a heavy fog hovered about the ground. When the flier took off from Waco, they reported that weather conditions were favorable and continued that way until they reached a point a few miles out of Hico. They had intended to stop here on their way to Abilene, and rather than turn back, came on in.

Upon the arrival of local citizens at the airport, Russell Reeves, pilot of the cabin plane, was out of his ship and surveying the surrounding country for signs of his companion's plane. Having seen him head for the airport, and called to give him time to land, he had seen or heard nothing from his plane. He and three other people got in an automobile and drove in the direction the plane had been seen, arriving at a point about a mile over the hill in a westerly direction just as Mr. Bailey was being disentangled from the wreckage of his plane, which had buried its nose in the ground with sufficient force to knock the motor clear of the plane. The pilot was immediately brought to town for medical treatment under the care of Dr. J. D. Currie, who said that his injuries were not so grave as at first feared, but advised that he be taken to a hospital where he might receive better attention until some of his wounds healed.

At the Stephenville hospital, where Bailey was taken late that evening, several stitches were taken in a long gash in his left arm, and other bruises and abrasions received treatment. He remained at the hospital until the first of this week, when he returned to Hico to see about his plane and transact other business.

Neither Reeves nor Bailey were able to give accurate information as to the cause of the crash, but stated that it was the result of a combination of circumstances, the greatest of which was the unfavorable flying weather encountered after their take-off at Waco. They said that it might have been possible that the motor quit on it into a spin. It was considered remarkable that Bailey escaped with such slight injuries, as the plane was a complete wreck. An insurance adjuster was in Hico Monday, and it is reported that he allowed a 90 per cent loss claim.

After arranging to have the wreckage shipped to the factory at Tulsa for salvage, and bidding good-bye to their friends formed in Hico through the unfortunate accident, Bailey and Reeves took off Tuesday afternoon for Abilene, from where they will continue on west to Big Spring and El Paso.

FUNERAL HELD WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, JANUARY 21.

Funeral services for David Snoddy were held at the grave in Hico cemetery, Wednesday afternoon, in the presence of one of the largest gatherings ever to witness a funeral in Hico. The floral offering bore eloquent witness to the esteem in which this young man was held by his many friends in Hico and vicinity, and the presence of the throng of sorrowing relatives and friends bespoke a tribute of no mean importance to his memory.

The services were conducted by Rev. L. P. Thomas, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Hico, who delivered a very eloquent and most fitting oration on the untimely death of this young man. He passed lightly over the details of the sad accident, the ensuing death and mentioned only casually the leading facts of his life. The majority of his talk was on Biblical comparisons, and he conducted the services in a most able manner.

David Snoddy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cash Snoddy, was born June 28, 1899. At the age of 18 he united with the Christian Church, of which he was a member until his death.

He was married on May 23, 1929 to Miss Nadine Malone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Malone of Hico. Their married life had been most happy, and it is indeed sad that the husband should be separated from his beloved wife almost in the beginning of their lives.

Other surviving relatives, besides the young and devoted wife, are his father, Cash Snoddy; four sisters, named Bessie, Cora, Minnie and Lillie E., who are respectively Mesdames Briley of Altman, Mann of Fort Worth, Joiner of Snyder and Jackson of Olin. The entire family have the sympathy of countless friends in their bereavement.

Pallbearers were Bob Hancock, Henry Hardin, Earl R. Lynch, H. E. McCullough, D. H. McMurray, Deck Bass and W. H. Gage. The remains were lowered into their last resting place amid the tears and sorrow of the crowd attending.

Mrs. M. H. Williams Buried Here Tuesday Of This Week

Mrs. M. H. Williams who resided in the northeast edge of Hico, passed away at her home Monday at the age of 57 years, having been born in the year 1873.

She was formerly Miss Dixie Squires and was married first to E. E. Elkins April 18, 1907. Mr. Elkins died August 16, 1909. She was then married to M. H. Williams in her year 1914. Mr. Williams preceded her in death by less than two months, he having died here Dec. 3, 1930.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at the cemetery by Rev. A. C. Haynes, and interment made in the Hico cemetery. The deceased is survived by a host of relatives and friends.

Scarifying and Scraping Is Putting Streets In A-1 Shape

Work that has been in progress for the past several days on the city streets has put same in fine condition, and with favorable weather, Hico's business and residence section will have streets as smooth as pavement.

Cole Hooper and Calvin Dilts have been scratching the surface of the main gravelled streets, and later going over them with the scraper, filling in the low places and knocking off the high ones. Several of the streets had become very rough, being covered with ridges caused by the dry weather, and the scraper would not penetrate them.

The city tractor and road machinery is being kept busy, and the results are very noticeable.

Newspaper Advertising "Carries the Ball"

Another aggressive advertising campaign, with newspaper display columns carrying the brunt of the attack, is promised for this year by R. K. White, advertising manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company.

Long one of the nation's leading advertisers, the Chevrolet organization lent its endorsement to the pulling power of the newspaper by using 6,700 dailies and weeklies to announce its new car in November, the largest newspaper schedule ever used by Chevrolet in one campaign since the inception of the company. This move was made despite sub-normal business conditions and the generally slackened promotional activities of manufacturers in and out of the automobile industry.

"We made this move," Mr. White explained, "because we are in direct accord with the frequently expressed view that the only way to make bad business good and good business better is to put abnormal effort into your activities when you face abnormal conditions."

"Not only did we carry the largest newspaper schedule we ever used, but we enlisted new forms of advertising to put our new car message across. Both the radio and the motion picture screen were aided this year. Both are new media in our program, and both were added because a manufacturer with a national market intensively cultivated cannot afford to overlook any new means of approach to that market."

"We are continuing to use the radio and the screen to supplement and buttress our newspaper campaigns just as we have always used national magazines, outdoor boards, direct mail and other media for the same purpose."

"The newspaper, however, continues to form the backbone of our campaigns, and for the present will continue to do so. It, in the parlance of the gridiron, carries the ball and the rest run interference."

High School Cagers Getting Ready for Red Hot Season

Basketball is at the present time the most interesting sport occupying the attention of the High School students, and the way they are going about it some good games are promised.

The lot across from the Higginbotham Lumber Yard has been lighted, and some good night games are promised. The boys were around this week seeking contributions from business men for the purpose of paying for the lights, and report good response to their request.

The first night game was played last Thursday night, when a local quintet of outsiders beat Iredell outsiders, 14 to 10.

Friday night of last week the High School first and second teams beat a team composed of local outsiders, the score being 12 to 4.

For the first time in eight years the local High School team was able to score a win over their ancient rivals, Carlton, when they went to that place Wednesday afternoon. The score was 34 to 19. Raymond Russell, forward, was the star of the game, and showed especially well, being high point man with a total of 18 points to his credit.

The boys promise some good games in the near future, and thank the citizens of the town who made it possible for them to have their games at night.

Last Member of Family of Three Died This Week

The curtain has rung down on a tragedy that involved one family whose last member has been called by the death angel. The last act, so far as earthly beings are concerned, closed this week, when Mrs. Frank Kilpatrick died at Olney, Texas, Sunday, January 18th, 1930, and was brought to Hico, her old home for burial this week.

Lola Christopher was born in 1900. She had five brothers and three sisters. Her mother died when Lola was three months old. She had one sister to die twenty-one years ago.

She was married six years ago to Frank Kilpatrick. Frank died at Olney, Texas, August 4, 1930. A baby girl was born on December 26, the day after Christmas, but lived only two days. The infant was brought to Hico for burial three weeks ago Tuesday.

Funeral services for Mrs. Kilpatrick were held at the Hico Cemetery Monday afternoon, January 19, conducted by Rev. A. C. Haynes, pastor of the Hico Methodist Church. Interment followed immediately afterward.

Surviving Mrs. Kilpatrick are her father, A. J. Christopher; five brothers, Will Christopher of Butte, Montana; Walter Christopher of Allison, Colo.; Wood Christopher of Olney; R. C. Christopher of near Fairy; and C. C. Christopher of Hico; and two sisters, Mrs. Lee Kendall of Graham and Mrs. Jim Killian of the Honey Creek community.

The News Review joins hosts of sorrowing citizens in extending sympathy to the bereaved relatives of the departed. May she find in heaven a reunion with her loved ones, and that happiness which doubtless escaped her on this vale of tears.

Mrs. Jessie Duncan, daughter, Miss Zella Mire, and son, Hador, of Chilton, were here Sunday, visitors of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Duncan.

No use going against that par- ticular current, there were too many others to struggle with, if one were to struggle at all!
Often, when Maggie and her father were alone, he would give her a fair idea of the case.
"You dearie," Len would explain in his mild, uncomplaining voice, "Ma's just quitin' things she heard when she was a little girl. She never saw your great-grand- mother's house, with those sam- plers and things." Your mother can't remember nothing about slaves and all that. I don't know as her folks ever had slaves, any- way. You'd like your grandmother's kitchen— wintery or summery, that was the place us boys liked to be! I remem- ber when a big storm would be comin' up—trees bendin' over, and planks rattlin' in the yard, and the old well-sweep creakin'— how we loved the kitchen then! There was a big open fireplace one side, but she hed her range built right across it, and there wasn't never a drop of anythin' spilled on that range—she kep' it like black glass.
"Oh, Pop! But why did you ever come away?"
"I d'no, Maggie. Jest got rest- less, I guess."
"Look here, Pop. If my grand- mother Johnson had nine children and no servants, how could she manage to keep the place so clean, and the stove shining so, and ev- erything? Ma says that no lady ought ever to do her own work, and she says it can't be done!"
"Well, maybe your grandmother Johnson wasn't a lady, Maggie. I hope I'm not a lady? Not like my grandmother Petheridge, I mean? Because," Maggie would rush on eagerly, "I'd love to have my kitchen always clean and orderly, and pies cooling on the window- sill, and jam all put up, and me in a nice clean gingham dress—and a big stiff white apron, sitting down on the side porch, rock- ing, like you said Gran'ma Johnson always did! And I'd like to believe in all those newspaper budgets, and system, and having a regular hour for everything." Maggie would conclude, expectant eyes on his face.
"Well—I don't know, dearie. Your mother hasn't real good health, you know. And your sister has to keep her hands nice. And then, of course, we're poor folks, Maggie. When you have to do without things—"
"Pop, we're not poor! Why, you and I—make more than two hun- dred a month, Pa. And there's bud- gets as low as one hundred!"
"Two hundred a month for four folks ain't much in these days, Maggie, when everything's gone up so high!" It was the automatic protest.
"But Pop—those budgets, and the lists the government sends out, and the newspapers and the mag- azines know how things have gone up, don't they?"
"Dearie, your Pop ain't much on mathematics." Len would say, passing a weary hand over his troubled forehead, shaking his meek, gray little head.
Ma approached on the subject of household reform, had much to say and very, very little to do.
"When I and your pop was mar- ried, beef was fifteen cents a pound! I remember that, because I said to the butcher, 'Ain't that a lot? I wasn't nothin' but an inno- cent, child—I'd never done any work with my own hands before. 'Keep them little hands like flow- ers!' our old doctor, Dr. Lovejoy, use' to say. He was a Southerner, too."
Maggie only listened respect- fully, feeling that if beef would only go down to fifteen cents a pound again, everything might yet be well. Meanwhile, the kitchen crew shabbier and shabbier, and water and grease and ashes dark-

THE GREAT ATLANTIC & PACIFIC CO. HICO, TEXAS

Washington
ADOLF MOBLEY
FOUNDER, WASHINGTON BUREAU

Special to The News Review
 WASHINGTON, D. C. — The reader outside of Washington would probably be surprised, in the midst of political affairs, if he were told that there is still an outside chance that there will be a third party movement in 1932.

Yet that is precisely true. This was definitely indicated in the statement by Sen. Norris, Nebraska, in declining an offer to head
 such movement. Yet the Lucas-Norris controversy has equal importance in indicating that there will be a serious battle for the republican nomination in that party's next national convention.

The western progressives are sure to unite in a vigorous attempt to nominate one of their number.
 They will have more senators and congressmen with them in an effort to gain control within the party than they would if they tried to oppose the eventual nominee
 with a third ticket.

Few experienced political observers in Washington, however,
 feel that there is any danger of President Hoover not being renominated by this party. For one thing the tradition of giving a president a second term is almost as strong as that which prohibits a third term.

For another, the president is in control of the party machinery and the 1912 Taft-Roosevelt convention battle showed that it is next to impossible to secure enough votes
 to defeat a presidential bid.

Finally, most of those prominent here think that general conditions will be considerably better by the time the conventions are held, and that this will consequently redound to Mr. Hoover's favor, just as the depression caused a swing away
 from him.

This being the case, the attention of the majority here is turned toward the possible democratic nominees. Upon the man that party nominates depends the attitude of the insurgent republicans.
 Only three democrats have been very prominently suggested, Gov.
 Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York, Owen D. Young of that state and Gov. Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland.

Each of these, it is conceded by everyone, is a real possibility for the nomination, and outside of them there are few who are even suggested. Roosevelt would undoubtedly carry more weight with the west than either of the others; on the other hand both Young and Ritchie have large popular followings.

In any event, the convention
 year promises to be far livelier
 than any since World War days,
 and with the outcome far more uncertain than in the 1928 election.

Of six states out of 48 which showed an increased rural population in 1930, as compared with 1920, three were of the New England group, census bureau final figures show. Even Massachusetts, urban population dropped from 94.8 to 90.2, while New Hamp-shire's declined to 58.7 per cent from 63.1 and Rhode Island's from 97.5 to 92.4.

Of the other states, two Delaware and Maryland, were in the South Atlantic section, and one,
 Arizona, in the mountain section.
 The Delaware urban decline was from 54.2 to 51.7, that of Maryland
 on to 59.8, and that of Arizona,
 25.2 to 34.4.

American wheat production will be on a domestic basis in five years, provided there are no radical changes in conditions, Chairman Alexander Lege of the farm board, said in a press conference
 here the other day.

Feeding 12 pounds of grain a day to cows before calving time
 had little more material influence on their condition than feeding
 four pounds a day to similar cows had, it was found in an experiment at the agriculture department's Beltsville farm near here.

In another experiment it was discovered that apportioned feeding of 31 Holsteins for 83 cow months and 40 Jerseys for 163 cow months resulted in an average daily proportion by the former of 35 pounds a day and by the latter of 21 pounds daily. The Holsteins declined in milk 8.2 per cent a month and the Jerseys 9.3 per cent. The system therefore appeared to provide sufficient nutrition, judging from weight gains and milk declines.

WEDDING CHIMES PLAYED AT WOMAN'S FUNERAL

CHICAGO, Ill.—By direction of Mrs. Celia Congreve, wedding chimes were played at her funeral shortly before her death she wrote
 as follows to her minister:
 "It will be a great day of rejoining for me, and I do not want you to wear a black stole for mourning. I do not want you to have a solemn hymn. I want the service to be as bright and cheery as possible, for I am only half of me here, and I am looking forward to the day of my death as the greatest day of happiness I can possible conceive, for then I shall be reunited with my dear husband."
 "Do not toll the church bells,
 but let us have the wedding
 chimes."

Announces Plan
 To Share Profits
 With Customers

L. L. Hudson is announcing in another space in this issue a new profit-sharing plan which goes into effect at once.

Through this plan customers are enabled to effect quite a saving on their grocery needs in the course of a few months time.

Turn to the back page, the regular position for Mr. Hudson's weekly messages, and read about this special offer.

RIDES 50 MILES WITH DEAD BABY IN ARMS

DENVER, COLO.—Mrs. Henry
 C. Chambers collapsed when she rushed into a hospital with her baby and was told by a sympathetic surgeon that the child was dead.

She lay in a stupor for 48 hours
 before she was able to tell her story. The baby was crushed by a falling plank on the Chambers farm 50 miles from Denver. Her husband drove to Denver over terrible roads with his wife beside him holding the child in her arms.
 According to the physicians, the child was undoubtedly dead when the tragic ride started but mother-love refused to acknowledge death.

POULTRY DEMONSTRATIONS MADE $1.80 PER
 HEN LAST YEAR

College Station.—The heavy hand of agricultural depression
 has failed to suppress the profits of Texas poultry flock demonstrations, 250 of whom have reported average net earnings per hen above feed cost of $1.80 for the year ending October 31st. Flocks aggregating 54,000 birds are included in the report which represents about half the total demonstration flocks in Texas supervised by farm and home demonstration agents. The average production of 142 eggs per hen is more than double the State average, and in large part explains why these demonstrations in Texas' 38,000-000 industry made good profits while many were little more than breaking even, in the opinion of E. N. Holmgreen, poultry specialist in the Extension Service, Texas A. and M. College and the United States Department of Agriculture.

It cost $1.70 to feed a hen a year in these flocks, including grain, manure and skim milk, and the cost of feed per egg varied from nine to 27 cents, with an average of 13 cents. On the other hand the cost of feeding a hen a month varied little throughout the year from its average of 14 cents, suggesting, says Mr.
 Holmgreen, that while fall and winter eggs are most profitable,
 all year production is much to be desired.

Sales of eggs accounted for 87 per cent of the total returns in these flocks, indicating the practical nature of the demonstrations.
 In no month was an average loss recorded, though the effect of the drought could be traced in some sections from the records, especially of those demonstrators who became discouraged and stopped feeding in the summer. Those who fed liberally the year around made more substantial profits and are now taking in greater profits than those who fitted feeding practices to weather or pocketbook, Mr. Holmgreen says.

CUT CLOTHING COSTS AND IMPROVED APPEARANCE

Wichita Falls.—Savings of nearly $30 per person have been made in five wardrobe demonstrations in Wichita county in which farm housewives cooperated with Miss Ethel Louise Webb, home demonstration agent, in carefully planning and budgeting the clothing expenditures for one year. It was found that by use of foundation
 patterns made according to home demonstration methods, by wise
 selection of materials and colors
 to suit the individual, and by making the garments at home, a total saving of $147.15 was made on the clothing of the five persons in the demonstrations. Most important was the fact that the clothes were of superior quality and fitted the individuality of the wearer.

The distribution of clothing
 costs for the demonstrators averaged $25.60 for outer clothing; $7.20 for undergarments; $13.49
 for dresses; $5.42 for head wear;
 $5.27 for footwear; and 70 cents for accessories, making a total of $57.70 per person per year.

 for the Home
 by Nancy Hart

PRUNE WHIP

There are several ways of making prune whip—all of them good.
 The simplest way is simply to beat prune pulp and juice into the stiffly beaten whites of eggs, and sweeten to taste. In the old days, sherry was sometimes added to this flavor, but it is sufficiently good as it is.

Another prune whip is this:
 Make a soft boiled custard, half fill the glass dessert dishes with it, and on top of it put a big island
 of the prune whip described above.
 Still other variations consist of adding shredded blanched almonds
 to the whip or adding diced orange pulp to it or crumbling macaroons
 over it or adding shredded coconut to it.

Then there is a baked whip, or soufflé. To make it remove the pits from half a pound of prunes, take out pits, and chop. Add the yolks of six eggs, a cup of crumbled lady fingers or macaroons,
 the whites of the eggs beaten stiff,
 and sugar to taste. Bake for fifteen minutes and serve cold with cream.

FUDGE

When the fudge comes from the fire, have ready for an ordinary batch, a scant teaspoon of gelatine dissolved in a little hot water. Add to the fudge—and see if the result is not a smooth, creamy mass. The gelatine is supposed to prevent granulating.

WHY YOU CAN NOT LOSE A CAT

Tradition has it that a cat can not be lost. Stories of unwanted cats who returned home despite the efforts of their masters to be-rid of them are many. And, so far, this feline faculty has baffled experimenters. One cat, Milton Fairman relates in Popular Mechanics, was taken in an open boat to the center of a lake. The oarsman continued to turn the boat in circles but Puss was always able to turn her head toward home and cry.

Science has but one explanation to offer for this rare faculty. The cat has some mysterious equipment which acts as a compass and enables it to retain the sense of direction. This "compass" operates independently of vision, hearing or smell and is apparently a muscle sense.

Farm Homes to be Attractive

Livingston.—Making sketches of their farm yards as they are now
 and as they would like them to be, home demonstration club women of Polk county have begun a two-year yard improvement contest. It is an outgrowth of demonstrations last year supervised by Miss Ruth Causey, home demonstration agent, in which it was found that improvement of yards is cheap and practical. The goals set by the women this year include the removal of all undesirable matter
 from the yards, making foundation
 plantings, screening undesirable views with plantings, and developing grass lawns.

MAN GETS RETURN OF $87,799 INCOME TAX

WASHINGTON, D. C. — An over-assessment of income tax to the amount of $87,799 in favor of Philip Welhausen of Yoakum, Texas, is announced by the Bureau of Internal Revenue, Treasury Department.

The overassessment for the taxable years 1927 and 1928 represents the abatement of deficiencies which the bureau has since, after consideration of additional data, submitted, determined that the net
 incomes which formed the bases
 for the assessment of the deficiencies in tax were erroneous and that no taxable income for the two years mentioned was received by the taxpayer.

The abatement allowed amounted to $33,387 for the year 1927 and $54,412 for the year 1928.

KEEP TREES WARM WITH AIRPLAN

Fruit crops grown in vari-parts of the world where frost in-menace are now protected from the perils of cold with airplan-
 which are used to warm the trees.

It has been discovered that ground frosts are unlike in cloud weather, since the clouds act as blankets and prevent the soil from giving up its heat. On clear night it has long been customary to protect orange, lemon and other citrus fruit trees by lighting smok-fires.

The heat of the fires is trying, but their smoke clouds pre-vide the necessary counterpane.
 Recent experiments have shown that airplanes can be used for covering up fruit trees for the night.
 The plane flies to and fro over orchard, emitting a dense cloud smoke, and the trees are kept warm.

People from various parts of the United States sent in expressions of appreciation, one of which was from Senator Shephard who was enjoying the number.
 Mr. Rodgers Sr. informed us Sunday morning that he had received a letter from his sister, Mrs. W. L. Gattis, had passed at his home in Cement, Hico, on November 22. She had had eaten a hearty breakfast that morning, but afterwards complaining of feeling ill, and died in a few minutes. Gattis was a former of Hico numbers of years ago. She had been engaged in farming for some time and will be remembered by many old timers. Mrs. Rodgers' first wife was named Gattis.

 With the kindness of J. R. we had the pleasure of looking over a week-long paper published in the city where he spent his days. It was the New Hico published at Hallettsville, in Lavaca County. It was sent him by an old friend, A. Moreland, who is the Fire Department and also fire marshal. Several articles were marked for attention, most of them to the activities of the town. We enjoyed very much the pleasure of looking over the paper and in the southern part of the state, and we are sure Mr. Moreland appreciated the interest of his friend.

She was accompanied as far as Eastland by some friends, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Deffenbaugh, who were enroute to Houston. Mr. Deffenbaugh is connected with the same company.

FAIRY ITEMS
 We are somewhat like Will Rogers in that about "all we know is what we read in the papers" and what we had quite a lot of bad weather, however the last few days have been beautiful cool and clear with a little taste of real winter.
 "Fairy" are up with their work and the ground too wet for work which is needed there, they are making their vacation and making a good one and going home.
 "Fairy" continued their good work in the care of the sick and the aged, and the children of the Hico, Mrs. J. C. Terrell and Mrs. L. Adair, who are also of the Hico.

Many Subscribers Save Money With Combination Offer

A lady called us over the telephone from Iredell Thursday, and insisted that we start the paper to her again at once. She stated that they had been without it for some time, but that they were very anxious to receive it in order to save money on their purchases of groceries, dry goods, hardware and other supplies. Some will say we are just talking. Her name will be disclosed upon request. We are glad to see this spirit among our subscribers, for we have known for a long time that they read the ads, but just naturally like to hear them express themselves.
 Numerous subscribers have been taking advantage of our clubbing offer with their other reading material, and in this way have saved themselves money on their subscriptions. One man who came in just the other day got his News Review for a nickel a year. He got the News Review and two other papers, the combined subscription price being $5.95, and gave us a check for $5.00 as per our clubbing offer. Why not get the News Review this easy way?
 C. ANZ's son came in Saturday and renewed for the paper, stating that they had moved from Route 7 to Route 4, Hico, on the Duffau road. He had not missed any copies of the paper on account of the move, thanks to the post-office bunch.
 MRS. EMALO HAMILTON has changed her address in Dallas to 4638 Live Oak Street, Apt. B. Not many of our readers know this charming young lady, who is a special friend of the editor's family, but she claims to be a thorough reader of our brain-child, deriving especial pleasure from Hog Jaw News.
 MARVIN E. BELL, until lately connected with the Hico Motor Company, and formerly an employee of the Barnes & McCullough Lumber Company, has temporarily deserted Hico, and dropped in recently to have the address on his paper changed to Carlton where he is putting in a new Pick-Pay-Pack grocery store. His time is out in a couple of months, but we were unable to talk him into renewing until he had to.
 MRS. J. P. CLEPPER, Route 2, was in Monday to renew the paper for another year. She said they did not want to miss a single copy of the paper.
 J. A. RICHARDSON and wife, Route 6, know a bargain when they see one. They came in Monday to renew for their News Review, and also took two other papers on our club offer. Mr. Richardson asked us if we would take a "hot" check. We would like to have a check on him for several times that amount, for we don't believe we would have to worry about it coming back from the bank. They brought the editor some tomatoes last fall, and are still enjoying the chow chow made from same.
 F. O. DAVES, Iredell, will keep getting the paper, Mrs. Daves' sister, Mrs. B. F. Turner, who had been visiting there, brought the money in Monday, together with instructions to mark their time up.
 P. M. RICE, Hamilton, enclosed a check for $1.00 in a recent letter to pay for his subscription. The Judge is all wrapped up in his plans for remodeling the court house, and can't spare the time to run around as much as he would like. However he gave this editor a very clear explanation of the plans one day this week while we were in his office, and treated us very courteously, as he always does his visitors.

 JNO. L. GORMAN, traveling salesman for the Southwestern Paper Company, who as one editor has described the situation, sell great gobs of paper and extend limited lines of credit to various newspapers, asked us to put his name on our mailing list. His address is 1812 8th St., Brownwood, Texas, where he wanted the paper to go. He also pays rent on a private box at the postoffice (this is for his wife's information) but wanted the paper to go to his home.
 S. T. GRISSETT wrote the news stand as follows: "Dear Miss Jonnie: Am sending a dollar to pay for the News Review. It has been coming in the name of Mrs. M. M. Grissett, but she has passed away. Please have it changed to S. T. Grissett, Hico Route 5."
 L. J. JORDAN, public weigher for this precinct, renewed his subscription recently through the news stand. He has an advertisement in this issue, announcing the establishment of a cream buying station at the Burlison Grocery.
 W. F. HERRICKS desires his address changed from Peary to Route 3, Hico.
 HARRY GLEASON writes from Tucumcari, New Mexico: "Here with you will find enclosed $1.50 to cover another year's subscription to your paper." From his letterhead we glean the information that he is in charge of distribution on Skelgas and Electrolyx Refrigeration in Guadalupe, Quay and Harding Counties, New Mexico.
 T. M. WOOD, Route 5, Hico, renewed this week through the news stand Miss Beulah and Miss Jonnie brought the money to us promptly.
 S. S. RAGSDALE writes from Walnut Springs: "I am sending you the money to renew our paper for another year, which is one dollar. We sure have enjoyed reading your paper last year. Thanks, Mr. Ragsdale, and may the coming months and years not change your feeling about the Hico paper."
 MRS. W. O. HOLTON changed her address from Route 4 to Iredell route 3, and wanted to renew if she could get the paper on Friday in time to read the advertisements before coming to Hico Saturday. We will try to accommodate her as nearly as possible, and if she will repeat her wishes to the local merchants, we may be able to hire another man or two through increased advertising, and get the paper out earlier.
 MRS. R. N. WELLS sends the paper to her son, B. F. Wells, Tuskegee, Ala., for six months. Mr. R. M. Bowles brought the subscription in to us, and we enjoyed his visit immensely, nearly framing up a fishing trip on account of the pretty weather at that time.
 H. LATHAM, Route 2, Hico, paid us his annual visit Thursday at noon, but disappointed us by not bringing some pop-corn as he had last year. He said he was sure it hadn't been but a few months since he had paid us, but with a young man like him time passes awfully fast. Dry Fork must be a prosperous community, for Mr. Latham had more money than Carter has oats, and will pay off like a slot-machine when convinced that he owes a debt.
 MRS. J. L. PRUITT, Iredell, visited the News Review office last afternoon Thursday, and renewed her subscription for another year.
 H. E. CHESLEY, well-known lawyer with offices at the county seat, sent us a check for $1.00 one day this week for renewal of his subscription.

MAIN STREET LOOKS AT BROADWAY L. ERNEST CAMP JR

YULETIDE
 New York has been called, in song and story, a "great, cruel city without a heart."
 But that statement was a hard one to believe during the Christmas season. In homes, prisons and charity lines, thousands were fed and given clothing. All New York participated in the spirit of Christmas. Never before was the need for help so evident, and never before has the city been so generous in making Christmas a merry one for those who were not fortunate enough, but certainly deserving, to have one of their own.
 The Municipal Lodging House served Christmas dinner to 8,100 jobless men and women. At three Salvation Army stations, thousands of needy men, women and children ate turkey dinners made possible by contributions of the public. The leading newspapers of the city waged intense relief campaigns, and several are continuing to maintain food supply trucks to feed those in the breadlines which form daily.
CHILDREN MADE HAPPY
 One newspaper alone fed 15,000 families, representing 85,000 persons. Special Christmas parties were held at many institutions, prisons, veterans hospitals and churches. Sailors at the Brooklyn Navy Yard were hosts to 150 children, and other children in the district were entertained on various ships. Restaurant proprietors gave generous meals free of charge to the hungry, and in similar ways hotels brought cheer to those who most needed it. In the Tombs and other city prisons and in Sing Sing, routine was forgotten for the day while prisoners enjoyed holiday dinners and unusual privileges.
 The spirit of Christmas giving reigned, and some charities laid foundations for a program of relief which will be effective the year around.
TWELVE MILES OUT
 One colored gentleman, however, was not satisfied with the quality of Christmas cheer being dispensed (in bottles) in New York. He announced his distrust of holiday liquor and said he was going out where gin was gin and not varnish or words to that effect. He accordingly set out in a row boat, his destination being 12 miles out. But his nautical career was cut short by a police launch, which overtook the lone sailor off Governor's Island and brought him back. Although he did not exactly achieve his goal, to him must go the credit of proving that a certain cigarette is surely a piker.

THEME SONG
 The musicians themselves did not know it, but everyone, in the crowded church did. The minister, preaching the sermon, was telling the Christmas story. He described that night in Bethlehem when the heavens opened and the angel choir began to sing. Just then he stopped, and the mellow strains of a German band, playing in a distant street, broke the silence with "Silent Night, Holy Night." He paused until the band finished the song, as he resumed, the instruments could be heard, very faintly now, playing "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing." The perfect theme song, unknowingly, but beautifully, rendered.

THE CROSS IN THE SKY
 The tower of the magnificent Chrysler building was most effectively used to proclaim the spirit of Christmas. In the topmost stories, after the rest of the offices were closed, certain windows of the building were left lighted to form a cross. High above the crowded streets shone the image of the cross, beautiful against the blackness of the night.
 But the height of something or other, anything you want to name, in fact, is the singing of Christmas carols from the 85th story of the Empire State building. This was done Christmas day.

DUFFAU NEWS
 Rev. Wattenburg filled his regular appointment here last Sunday morning and night. Due to the bad weather, the congregation was very small.
 Minnie Natchall visited Nancy Mae Campbell Sunday evening.
 Mrs. Betie Bowie is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Frank Robertson of Eastland.
 Miss Edith Trimble of Lund Valley spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Trimble.
 Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hefner and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Littleton and family.
 The many friends of Aunt Willie Damron were made sad Saturday morning when they received a message of her death. She was laid to rest in the Duffau cemetery beside her husband, Uncle John Damron. She had spent the past five years with her niece, Mrs. Lottie Robertson of Vera, Tex.
 Mr. and Mrs. Grady Arnold spent last Friday with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Arnold.

CARD OF THANKS
 We wish to thank the method of thanking our multitude of friends for their assistance and sympathy in our sadness and desolation caused by the departure from this life of our beloved husband, son, and brother. Every kindness is appreciated, and our thanks come from the depths of our hearts.

"Greater love hath no man than this—"

The writer has just heard of a rare instance of the great love of a grand-daddy for a wee little grandson. January 15th, was little Billie Royce Newsum's birthday. He was a little sick boy at the time and his grandmother, Mrs. John Parks, was over in Dallas, helping to nurse him back to health. Now Grand-daddy, Mr. J. P. Parks, was in Iredele remembering all the time that Billie Royce would be three on the 15th. So in the still small hours of the night, he, all unknown and alone, baked the big loaf birthday cake and dressed it up in "mile high" boiled icing and even places on it the three pink tapers and sends it to Dallas to his beloved grandboy.

H. C. Program Soon.

J. P. Clepper, president of H. C., announces that the regular meeting will be Friday, January 30, at the school. The program committee is working on two short plays and other numbers. You have an opinion to come.

Mid-Term Exam. Week.

The first half of our term for this year. We do know just yet who has made the grades. We hope everyone will start in Monday morning to do the last half better. If you are in low grades, now is your chance to start in raising it. Everybody, let's go now and get together for the rest of the year.

Our Play.

Tuesday night, several in community met at the school to practice a play that will be free January 30. The play is "Just Like A Bird."

Basket Ball Friday.

Friday is a pretty warm day. A large bunch is planning to play at the school house to play ball. We will have good fun if you wish to play, Friday.

Visitors.

Fairecloth, with some of her from the west, came by afternoon and took A. D. Steelman home. She had been sitting in the west and as she was not staying long, they were to be with them.

Weekly Honor Roll.

Bell Barfield is on the first grade spelling honor roll this week and L. R. Steelman on the second grade spelling honor roll.

This record: The entire school was on the spelling honor roll last week. Those making the record are: Alvin and L. R. Steelman, Juanita Worrell, R. D. and Elvis Vinson.

Finger is sore from Wilma Gene in the back. She has worn out a mirror under the girls behind him. Under what two of our girls are on a desk, and we like to know why they are off.

Don't know that West Texas place to grow beans if you don't climb the vines.

that boy o mine, he's one of those young feliers that's too smart to take advice and not quite smart enough to think it up for themselves.

After talking about me for a while, the conversation drifted to something else. I heard Mr. Herbert say: "I never could understand why a man should not be allowed to have more than one wife," and I remember hearing pa say this: "Well, after you're married, you'll realize that the law protects those who are incapable of protecting themselves."

We ate some popcorn and then went over to Mr. Moss' for a while. We talked a long time about the sermon we heard at church the Sunday before and Miss Mable said: "You know, I was sorry for Mrs. Moss Sunday morning when she had a terrible attack of coughing and everyone turned and looked at her. We all thought that Mr. Moss was asleep but about that time he spoke up: "You needn't worry about that. She was wearing a new spring hat."

I went home with Mr. Herbert the next day and when we got there, Illa Bell had on her cooking apron and was making candy. I think she felt a little too much stuck up and didn't want me to see her cooking 'cause I heard her romping on Fern in a babyish way like this: "J. W. will think that I am nothing but a cook in this household."

Fern must have been fed up on her nagging 'cause he sure did shut her up when he said: "Not after he eats supper, Babe."

I see Mr. Herbert coming so I must stop. Hope you can come to school Monday.

Your classmate,
J. W. JORDAN JR.

P. S. Dad went to Hico yesterday and hitched his team to a telephone pole.

HELPFUL HAND CLASS MET AT DR. HALL HOME

Helpful Hand, Class No. 3 of the Methodist Sunday School, met with Mrs. C. M. Hall and Mrs. Haines in the home of the former last Wednesday, Jan. 14th. The new President, Mrs. John Lackey, was absent and Mrs. Barrow, the vice-president, presided.

There were eighteen members present and three guests, the guests being Mrs. Joe Newsom, Mrs. Jim Barrow and Mrs. Ira Eakins.

The reports of the committees were heard, and the new welfare committee gave the most interesting report. There was no mistake in appointing Mrs. Grady Barrow, Mrs. Good and Mrs. Waggoner on this committee, for the certainly proved efficient. The splendid cooperation by so many was especially appreciated by the class.

When Food Sours

Lots of folks who think they have "indigestion" have only an acid condition which could be corrected in five or ten minutes. An effective anti-acid like Phillips Milk of Magnesia soon restores digestion to normal. Phillips does away with all that sourness and gas right after meals. It prevents the distress so apt to occur two hours after eating. What a pleasant preparation to take! And how good it is for the system! Unlike a burning dose of soda—which is but temporary relief at best—Phillips Milk of Magnesia neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

Next time a hearty meal, or too rich a diet has brought on the least discomfort, try—

SPRING PLANTING IDEAS

For this year's spring planting, we certainly hope that every farmer and gardener protests himself by purchasing the very best seed and putting it into the ground with every care. Such care means money for everyone in this community. Better crops on fewer acres has always been a pretty good agricultural slogan.

J. J. Leeth Visits Hamilton and Talks Of Public Affairs

(Hamilton Herald-Record) An especially interesting visitor in Hamilton last Tuesday was Capt. J. J. Leeth, of Hico. While in the city he paid the Herald-Record a business call, and we were especially glad to get his sound, practical ideas on matters of proposed public improvements as being unusually sound and practical in such matters.

In discussing the proposal of a remodeled or new court house in Hamilton, Mr. Leeth said, "I have been in Hamilton county fifty-four years. I was just twenty one when I came to this part of the state from Johnson county, where I was reared. I cast my first vote in this county and have never missed anything yet. There was not even a bridge in the county when I came here. The late J. J. Durham built the first bridge across the Leon river at Durham's crossing. It was constructed of rawhide lumber, and was a toll bridge, to cross which I have many times paid a toll fee of fifty cents.

"I have helped to build two court houses and three jails in the county, and I am ready and 'willing' to build another court house or repair the old one if it can be done. But I am not much for trying to patch up old things. They never look just right and are not as good as new ones. The stone in this building could be used to advantage in erecting a new and modern building, and I would like that better. But whatever the majority of the people say, and if the old house can be used to build to and can be made all right, I will be satisfied and will do my part. And say, I want a jail here that will hold bootleggers and gamblers. I have raised fifteen children and have sixty-five grandchildren and they are all good, decent folks and I don't want bootleggers and gamblers running around loose to possibly drag some of them into bad habits. This old county can stand to carry some bonds for public improvements; men need the work, and let's do the thing right while we are about it, and build a new, modern courthouse and a jail that will hold criminals. Hamilton county has been disgraced long enough by that old court house. Let's have as good as any other county has any way."

Mr. Leeth said he had been reading the local paper since the late C. M. Boynton became editor of the Herald. He said that he got in arrears on his subscription once to the amount of $7.00. He killed a nice, fat beef, dressed it, left the liver for his family to eat and brought the balance of the beef to Mr. Boynton to pay his subscription, and there was no money remaining back to him either, he said. Mr. Leeth laughingly said that Mr. Boynton never forgot to mention how delicious that beef was and how he and his family feasted while it lasted. Mr. Leeth is a good, loyal friend still to the Herald-Record, and always keeps his subscription paid up ahead, though he has never delivered a beef to us for $7.00. We appreciate the friendship of Mr. Leeth and of all his family, and we are always glad to have him visit us, and value his judgment in all affairs for he has always been a good, progressive citizen.

Home demonstration club women in Bee county sold native grape juice, watermelon rind garnishes, and blackberry jelly at the county fair in a booth prepared by local lumbermen. They got 20 cents per hour for their time and made a profit of $14.44.

Dental Offices of Drs. Baker & Baker Are Credit to Hico

A visitor to the dental offices of Drs. Baker & Baker in Hico is surprised at the greatly enhanced appearance of the suite of rooms in their new location over the Corner Drug Store presents. This firm, whose headquarters are in Hamilton, have maintained an office in Hico for seven years past. With the beginning of the new year they took a lease on quarters in the office building over the Corner Drug Store, and now occupy the front rooms of this location, where a fine view over the main street of the business section is afforded.

The entire equipment, and furnishings of the dental parlors have been improved and renewed, and Dr. C. C. Baker, who visits Hico on Friday of each week, showed a representative of this newspaper over his offices recently. One could hardly fail to catch a part of his enthusiasm and interest in his work under these circumstances. He has quarters for his dental offices which are indeed a credit to a town of this size, and in fact compare favorably with the best to be found in the larger cities of the state.

The feminine touch is shown in the furnishings, rugs and draperies of the suite of rooms, through the fact that Miss Mollie Herrington, the able office assistant of Drs. Baker and Baker, was called upon to help in their selection. The furniture is new, as are the draperies and floor coverings. The wall paper blends well with the atmosphere, and all the wood works painted snow white, completing the appearance of absolute cleanliness.

Miss Herrington, by the way, has had special training as a dental assistant and nurse under Bosworth of Chicago, and is very efficient in her work, being popular with all those who have occasion to visit this dental office.

To really appreciate the perfection attained by those in charge of the fitting and equipping of this project, one has to visit the place and see with his own eyes the care that has been exercised in the selections of instruments and fittings and the placing of same in the most satisfactory, and efficient manner. The electric sterilizer, the dental chair and unit with its lighting arrangement, the work tables and instrument cases, and the laboratory all seem to be just where they are needed, and no improvement could be suggested.

The reception room gives one the assurance of complete comfort, and the latest magazines and newspapers are kept upon the table at all times. Dr. Baker's hospitality is reflected in every inch of the space, and he is glad to have visitors at any time, whether they are in need of any dental work or not. A rest room has been constructed opening either from the reception room or the operating room, and he would be pleased to have those who would like to find a comfortable place to rest for awhile drop in and avail themselves of the conveniences to be found in his offices.

This firm of modern dentists invite the people of this section to visit the dental offices of Drs. Baker & Baker and get acquainted, visit for awhile, and feel assured they are welcome.

Dr. Baker Senior has charge of the Hico office and while he only spends Friday of each week here, will when conditions improve put in two days a week, if necessary.

Pioneer Citizen Of Hico Died Last Saturday

Had he lived until January 26th of this year, Stokley Ward Medford would have been 70 years of age, and would have had the unique record of having passed the majority of his life in the city of his birth, Mr. Medford was born in Hico, Hamilton County, Texas, January 26th, 1861. He passed away at his home here last Saturday morning, January 17th at 6:20 a. m. The illness which caused his death was short, he having been confined to his bed only a short time.

Mr. Medford was a member of a pioneer family of this section. His father came to this country in 1852 and settled at the place where J. P. Rodgers, Sr., now lives. What is now the business section of Hico was then a vast cotton patch, a part of the old Medford farm. Stokley was born in a house where the Alpinus Hotel now stands, and died within two blocks of where he was born. All of his life was spent in Hico with the exception of four years.

On September 7, 1878, Mr. Medford was married to Miss Sallie Sanders. To this union were born nine children, two having died in infancy. She died on Sept. 24, 1900.

On December 24, 1905, Mr. Medford and Miss Ola Lafon were united in marriage. To this union were born two children.

Funeral services were held Sunday, January 18, 1930, conducted by Rev. A. C. Haynes, assisted by Rev. J. P. Gilliam. Interment in Hico Cemetery followed immediately after the funeral services.

Surviving Mr. Medford are his wife and the following children: Mrs. L. H. Simpson, Lubbock; Mrs. J. C. Cox, Thornton; Mrs. Joe Harris, Cisco; Mrs. Charlie Langston, Hico; Mrs. Cecero Richie, Hico; Louie Medford, Waco; J. C. Medford, Wichita Falls; Frank Medford, Dallas. Four brothers also survive, namely, Zack Medford, of Hico; Sam Medford, Alexander; and Isom and Wade Medford of Wichita Falls.

The out of town relatives attending the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ewing and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Lafon of Cleburne; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Medford of Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Holton of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Medford, Waco; Joe Harris and family, Cisco; Mrs. L. H. Simpson, Lubbock; J. C. Medford, Dallas; Walter Lafon, Hamilton, and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Medford, Alexander.

"THE IDEAL GIRL"

What are the characteristics of the ideal girl? This will be the subject of the sermon at the Hico Methodist Church Sunday evening. Write to the pastor, Rev. A. C. Haynes, and tell him what characteristics the ideal girl should possess. The age of the girl is 7 to 14 years. If you know of some girl who possesses qualities which you admire, write the Methodist pastor about this girl. Excerpts from the letters will be read but the name of the writers will be withheld. How to end the Depression will be discussed Sunday morning.

32 Cents Per Day. For several years home demonstration agents have been reviving home industries among county women as a means of getting fuel for improving home standards living, and to give to these women a measure of financial independence. Some one has said that women don't make five cents an hour for their time at such work. That is open to question, but women can say "so's your old man!" for the Southern cotton farmer is said to have averaging only 32 cents per day for his time last year.
