Armed Forces Day At Webb Air Force Base

Between 8,000 and 9,000 Big Spring and area residents assembled at Webb Air Force Base Saturday to take part in celebration of Armed Forces Day. Upper photograph of the stands erected along the ramp gives evidence of the attendance. In the lower scene is one of two crack maintenance crews which competed in a breathtaking engine change contest at the celebration. The winning team removed the engine from a T-33, replaced it with another and had the plane fired up and rolling in the record breaking time of three minutes 37 seconds.

Crackdown Threatened To Halt Military Feud

WEAPONS ON DISPLAY

Skill of so many American young men in the field of science and mathematics offers the greatest hope this nation has for survival in these modern days, J. B. Thomas, president of Texas Electric Service Company, told a crowd of 8,000 Big Spring and area citizens at the Webb Air Force Base Saturday.

Armed Forces Throw Doors Open To Public

WASHINGTON, May 19 (AP)—The newest in airplanes, guided missiles and other instruments of war were shown throughout the nation today in what Secretary of Defense Wilson called an "exhibition of power for peace."

dreds of military bases across the nation and abroad.

Thomas declared it is good that American youth was learning to speak the language of science and mathematics "otherwise they might have to learn to speak Russian."

Webb officers and men hung out the welcome mat for the big open house. An elaborate entertainment program was presented for the visitors and throughout the entire day, the public was given every opportunity to better acquaint itself with the development and advancement of modern aviation.

Many types of aircraft were on display and the men, women and children were given full opportunity to inspect the modern weapons at close hand. Officers and student pilots at the base, assisted by non-commissioned officers and airmen, stood by to answer any questions the guests might have to ask.

ROADS JAMMED
Activities began at 9 a.m. Long before that hour, the highway from Big Spring to Webb thronged with motor cars. Air police were on duty to handle traffic inside the base and guide visitors to the parking areas reserved for cars.

Stands had been erected along the east side of the ramp. Ranged across the north end of the ramp was the display of aircraft ranging from a tiny two-passenger helicopter to a giant cargo transport.

At the east end were ranged row after row of the T-33's used in the base-training program.

On the runway to the west, lines of airplanes which were to participate in the flight demonstrations were ready for their part in the day's activities.

Initial feature was the arrival of all of the military personnel at the ramp followed by the formal parade and review.

In the reviewing stand, Col. Charles M. Young and his special guests, including Thomas, watched the marching airmen.

Decorations
Three airmen were awarded citations and medals.

They were S-Sgt. David C. Tatum, for outstanding work with the hydraulic section, 440th Fighter Interceptor Squadron; M. Sgt. O. E. Bice, for exceptional work as safety technician with headquarters, 163rd Air Base Group, Wheeler Field, Tripoli; and a bronze star to T-Sgt. Richardo Rocha, by direction of the President, for meritorious service in ground combat against the enemy in the European Theater of Operations on Feb. 27, 1945.

A special "surprise" award was made—Jimmie Greene, veteran Big Spring Chamber of Commerce manager, was called from his seat in the reviewing stand to be elevated to "fighter pilot." Col. Young pinned the traditional wings on the coat lapel of the Chamber of Commerce official.

Fly-overs of planes from numerous squadrons were scheduled for the afternoon.

Army, AF In Dispute Over Nuclear War

WASHINGTON, May 19 (AP)—A double crackdown was threatened today to halt a public feud among the U. S. armed services—a great dispute over how the nation should prepare to defend itself in the nuclear age.

After unnamed sources, evidently within the Army, passed documents to newsmen charging that the Army's emphasis on air power could lead only to "national disaster," there were these quick developments:

1. Secretary of Defense Wilson called the public policy row "a most unfortunate business" and said he would look into it personally. Hinting at possible action, he said the armed forces "don't have to practice psychological warfare on each other."

2. Sen. Chavez, (D-NM), chairman of a Senate Defense Appropriations Committee, warned that Congress might cut the funds of the armed forces unless "petty jealousies" are done away with.

Although the Army-Air Force differences are the latest to boil over, there are hot disputes also between the Navy and Air Force.

Recently the Air Force declared the Navy's big carriers could deliver only a "small" strategic punch. The Navy, backed by President Eisenhower and Secretary Wilson, has pictured its aerial might as tremendous.

Sharply worded staff studies circulating in the Pentagon were quoted today in several newspapers, including The New York Times, New York Herald-Tribune and St. Paul Pioneer Press. Some represent the views of individual staff officers, some the settled official opinion of an armed service.

One Army paper said: "Although we have expended a large share of our national resources for military and related purposes, our outlay has not been correctly related to the nature of the threat. The President has said that a thermonuclear war is 'unthinkable.' He has called for the ability to meet a variety of threats to the world," Tompkins said.

"Yet we continue to pour excessive manpower and money into an Air Force which has been substantially neutralized and which pleads for more money, more money, more money. We continue to divert large quantities of our military manpower into a Navy that is seriously threatened by a nation with practically no naval experience or tradition."

This was a reference to Russia, with its large fleets of submarines. There were also contentions that the Air Force and Navy do not have needed capacities to transport and supply Army forces.

DEMO CONVENTION

Lyndon Due For Meeting

DALLAS, May 19 (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson headed for Texas today, hoping to wrap up his victory package from home state Democrats at a state convention Tuesday without political static.

The Senate majority leader still has some local problems to whip before he can lead Texas' 56-vote delegation to the national convention as a fully united decisive force in national Democratic affairs this year.

Johnson left Washington in a private plane for his Texas ranch home this morning. One of his assistants in Dallas said Johnson indicated he would arrive here tomorrow afternoon.

His headquarters here has been functioning under full steam since Thursday. Johnson would like to avoid a fight at home and at the national convention in Chicago over such explosive issues as segregation, civil rights and labor. He wants the Texas and national parties to charge down his "path of moderation" as the best possible route to victory over the GOP next fall.

Two days before the convention, it appeared that the team of Johnson and House Speaker Sam Rayburn had already solved some of the pre-convention problems that for a while threatened to set off some fireworks.

Most of the demands for recognition have been coming from the liberal wing of Johnson's coalition of liberals and conservatives. Talk in Washington was that labor has been persuaded to go along with the senator in nailing down future leadership of the party in Texas within a group that could be counted on always to support the national party's presidential ticket.

Johnson and Rayburn pooled their political power in precinct and county conventions earlier this month to whip Gov. Allan Shivers, who balked at the party in 1952. Johnson's selection Tuesday as Texas delegation chief is assured. He will also go to the Chicago convention in the role of Texas' favorite son candidate for the presidential nomination.

The 47-year senator is being increasingly talked as a possible darkhorse candidate should the national convention deadlock. Regardless of that, he and Rayburn are expected to play leading parts in the national party's effort to persuade the South to stay in line this year.

Johnson's chief problem in the state convention is to satisfy the widely diverse elements in the coalition that followed him in wresting party control from Shivers. Johnson's close lieutenants believed he had the answers to satisfy everybody—that he and Rayburn had enough honors in hand and political futures in the bank to make most of the possible dissidents at least reasonably happy.

The primary purpose of Tuesday's convention is to pick delegates to the Aug. 29 national convention in San Francisco.

Ernest Schreiber, 47, owner of Schreiber's Snapshot Service, Linden.

William Furst, attorney for Stern and Hindman, said yesterday the charges against the group were "blown up fantastically into an apparent case of espionage."

The defense lawyer said his clients "apparently... obtained mailing lists of military personnel so they could be solicited for uniforms."

Tompkins issued his statement today after a conference here with U. S. Atty. Raymond DeTulfo.

He told newsmen it would be "unfair to draw any inference" that the document was to be used for espionage.

MARATHON COURT SESSION

Davis Gets Suspended 5-Year Term In R. L. Childers Death

MIDLAND, May 19 (AP)—A marathon 26-hour court session terminated at 11 a.m. Saturday in 142nd District Court here and Ray Davis, 36-year-old former Big Spring, was set to all practical purposes a free man.

A jury found him guilty of murder—but murder without malice and gave him a five-year sentence, suspended on his good behavior. The state had charged Davis with murder with malice in the shotgun death of R. L. (Bob) Childers, uncle of Davis' former wife. Childers was shot to death in the Wyoming Hotel in Big Spring on March 27, 1953.

This was the third trial for Davis. In the first trial he had been found guilty of murder—and his punishment fixed at 20 years in prison. On appeal, the verdict was set aside. At a second trial in Big Spring, the jury was unable to reach a verdict and a mistrial was entered. Trial of the case for the third time was moved to Midland on a change of venue.

The stocky garage mechanic received the verdict calmly and with no expression of either satisfaction or disappointment.

Calloway Huffaker, Tahoka, his attorney, buried his face in his hands and wept as the jurors announced their decision.

Huffaker, his eyes red and his face drawn after the record-setting 26-hour continuous session of the court, had pleaded with District Judge Perry Pickett, only 10 minutes earlier, to send the jury to bed to rest.

When this plea was denied, Huffaker immediately moved for an order declaring a mistrial.

Again Pickett overruled the defense attorney.

"Almost at the same moment, a deputy sheriff stepped forward to advise the court that the jury was ready to report.

When District attorney Warren Burnett had closed his argument at 1:20 a.m. Saturday, the judge asked the jury if it wanted to go to bed and begin deliberation Saturday forenoon. The 12 men, weary after five days of hearing testimony in the case, said

Medics Think Lahun Insane

GALVESTON, May 19 (AP)—Two University of Texas psychiatrists testified in the sanity hearing of Ellis Lahun Jr. today that the former airman who is accused of murder should be confined to a maximum security asylum.

Dr. William B. Barnes and Dr. Austin Foster both said the defendant is insane at the present time and also was insane on June 23, 1955.

Lahun, 26, of Altus, Ark., is charged with murder on that date of three Dickinson, Tex., residents.

Outcome of the sanity hearing will determine whether he will go to trial on the murder charges.

The two psychiatrists of the university's medical branch said Lahun is a paranoid schizophrenic, a split personality.

Barnes said it was unlikely that the defendant will ever be cured. He added that the possibility of Lahun feigning the mental illness symptoms during his examinations at the University Hospital were about one in a million.

Dist. Judge Donald M. Markle ordered the hearing into a night session as the defense continued to present witnesses. Court will recess Sunday and reconvene Monday.

Because of his mental illness, the psychiatrists said, the defendant "did not know the difference between right and wrong and was not aware of the consequences of his actions."

Lahun is charged with the slayings of Mrs. Ruby McPherson, 42; her son, George, 12; and her mother, Mrs. Zola Norman, 63. The three were found dead in their Dickinson home after they had given Lahun a ride.

He was arrested at Nogales, Mexico, about a week after the killings.

Quick Settlement On Farm Bill Seen

WASHINGTON, May 19 (AP)—Quick settlement of Senate-House differences over the latest draft of an election year farm bill was forecast by some House leaders today.

There was even a chance the House would accept a bill passed by the Senate last night without further wrangling.

Stolen AF Document Was Classified Data

NEWARK, N. J., May 19 (AP)—Asst. U. S. Atty. Gen. William F. Tompkins said today the document allegedly stolen by an Air Force sergeant is "of the utmost intelligence significance and contains information affecting the national defense of the United States."

"It contains a complete directory of the United States Air Force bases and organizations throughout the world," Tompkins said.

"The listings are in various categories and constitute a complete world wide listing of Air Force components," he added.

Tompkins said the information in the document is within the meaning of the United States espionage laws. "Its transmission or the revelation of its contents in any matter to an unauthorized person is prohibited by law," he said.

The document was recovered and is now in government hands. Sgt. Harold E. Brill, 28, of the Manhattan Beach Air Force Base in Brooklyn, was arrested by FBI agents Thursday night and accused of the theft of the document.

Also arrested the same day were three New Jersey businessmen, charged with conspiracy to steal the secret paper.

The businessmen are Sidney M. Stern, 38, and Seymour Hindman, 38, both of East Orange, owners of the Distinctive Emblem and Uniform Corp.; and Bryant

Ernest Schreiber, 47, owner of Schreiber's Snapshot Service, Linden.

William Furst, attorney for Stern and Hindman, said yesterday the charges against the group were "blown up fantastically into an apparent case of espionage."

The defense lawyer said his clients "apparently... obtained mailing lists of military personnel so they could be solicited for uniforms."

Tompkins issued his statement today after a conference here with U. S. Atty. Raymond DeTulfo.

Texas GOP Sets Formality

HOUSTON, May 19 (AP)—Texas Republicans on Tuesday are to go through the formality of endorsing President Eisenhower for a second term.

The 1956 GOP state convention will be in sharp contrast with the stormy affairs that have prevailed in presidential election years since 1952.

Tuesday's convention is expected to move rapidly. The only indication of lack of harmony comes from a flock of resolutions several county delegations are expected to offer on legislative proposals for inclusion in the party's platform.

Compared to the 1952 convention in Mineral Wells, the Tuesday meeting in the Sam Houston Coliseum is expected to be more of a political rally. In 1952 supporters of the late Senator Robert A. Taft took control but the state's Eisenhower backers took their fight to the national convention and won.

The primary purpose of Tuesday's convention is to pick delegates to the Aug. 29 national convention in San Francisco.

Suspended Term Given Hamilton

MERIDIAN, Tex., May 19 (AP)—Norman Hamilton walked out of the courtroom a comparatively free man today after being convicted of murder without malice.

Echoes Of Prohibition Era

Flower cars, 33 of them, loaded with some $10,000 worth of sprays, wreaths and other displays, stretch five blocks through Bath Beach section of Brooklyn for funeral procession of Joseph Anastasio. Anastasio, who died Sunday, May 13, belonged to the notorious longshore clan. Local residents said it was the grandest funeral since burial of mob boss Frankie Yale in 1928.

AT YMCA

Recreation Plans For Summer Set

The program has been mapped for the annual city-wide summer recreation project for local youth, Bobo Hardy, YMCA executive, announced Saturday.

Registration for various phases of the program is set for Tuesday at the YMCA. The program will be conducted during June and July under general supervision of the YMCA staff and with funds provided by the city, school district, United Fund and YMCA.

This year's program is being planned in three phases, Hardy announced. Enrollment in each phase will be limited because of scarcity of facilities and supervisory personnel.

The enrollment will be on a "first come, first served" basis, said Hardy. Parents are required to accompany their children to the YMCA for registration which opens at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday. Schedules will be distributed at that time.

The "Fun Club Program" will make up the first phase of the project. Five clubs will be formed, at junior high school, the ABC Park (westside), Washington Place School, Kate Morrison School and Lakeview Elementary School. Hours will be from 9 a.m. to noon.

Activities will include eight hours of swimming, 16 hours of arts and crafts, four trips to local points of interest, instruction in tumbling, archery, softball, basketball and other sports, and movies.

The entire fun club program will be wrapped up in "Olympic Day Games" July 31.

Hardy will be director of the fun club activities. Truett Mobley will be assistant director and in charge of aquatics. Marilyn Forson will be game room director and Johnny Johnson and Jimmy Ray Smith will assist with the various playground programs.

Joan Young will serve as director of girls' work. Mrs. Nadine Hodnett will be arts and crafts instructor and Gary Tidwell also will instruct.

At each fun club there will be two adult supervisors and an arts and crafts instructor. First six sessions of the swimming phase of

Gaming Law Raid

CORPUS CHRISTI, May 19 (AP)—Twenty-one agents of the Internal Revenue Service raided establishments at nearby Flour Bluff and Padre Island this morning, seizing pinball machines they said were used in violation of gaming laws.

Seven business places were raided, four in Flour Bluff and three on Padre Island.

Public Relations On Medic Program

Effective use of public relations will be pointed up for members of the Permian Basin Medical Society Tuesday.

W. E. Syres, Austin, public relations association for the Texas Medical Association, is to address the physicians. His topic will be "Combating Criticism through Public Relations." Syres has worked with the state society for several years in this special field.

A dinner is set for 7:30 p.m. for members and their wives. Dr. Preston Harrison, president, will preside, and the program chairman is Dr. T. J. Williamson.

Woman, 92, Lies Helpless 3 Days, Aid Is Too Late

DENVER (AP)—A lone in the house with her splintered daughter, a 92-year-old woman lay helpless at the bottom of a staircase for two days and three nights before help came. Then it was too late.

Mrs. Mary Camblin died Thursday night in Colorado General Hospital. Attendants said death was caused by exposure and dehydration.

Detective Capt. Fred Zarnow quoted her daughter, Miss Nellie Camblin, 61, as saying she "never thought" to call police, neighbors or some other source of help. She said her mother fell on the stairs last Sunday night. A doctor arrived Wednesday morning. Zarnow said the daughter told him she gave her mother an occasional drink of water but no food.

Baccalaureate Set At Forsan This Evening

FORSAN, May 19 (AP)—Forsan senior class will hear an address by the Rev. Gage Lloyd, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Big Spring, at 8 p.m. Sunday. The exercises will be in the gymnasium of the Forsan High School.

The baccalaureate sermon will officially launch the commencement activities for the Forsan graduates. They will receive their diplomas Friday evening.

There are nine seniors in the 1956 graduating class. Student council members will serve as ushers at the baccalaureate. Invocation will be pronounced by C. V. Wash and the benediction will be by the Rev. Allen Forbis, pastor of the Forsan Methodist Church.

Jeanette Taylor, music teacher for the school, will play for the professional and recreational. The high school chorus will sing "The Green Cathedral," and "Send Forth Thy Spirit."

On the evening of May 25, the nine seniors—Patsy Shoultz, Mary Lou McClrath, Mary Lovell Fletcher, Jerry Lynn Stephenson, Bobby Ruty Henderson, Mary Beth Gaskins, Shirley Faye Henderson, John Weldon Ratliff and James Buchanan — will be presented with their diplomas.

Mrs. William T. McDonald, Fort Walton, Fla., a graduate of Forsan school, will be the speaker. Dr. W. A. Hunt of Howard County Junior College, will also speak.

Miss Taylor is pianist for the occasion. There will be two musical selections by the high school chorus, and the student council members will again serve as ushers.

The exercises open with the invocation by O. W. Fletcher. Patsy Shoultz, salutatorian, will welcome the parents and guests. Mary Lou McClrath will deliver the valedictory address. Joe T. Holladay, superintendent, will submit his recommendations to the graduates and the diplomas will be presented by C. V. Wash.

Benediction will be by the Rev. R. O. Sullivan, pastor of Forsan Baptist Church.

Mule Had To Learn Greek To Help Foreign Relations

WESLACO, Tex., May 19 (AP)—Ever hear the one about the Missouri mule that had to learn Greek so he could help Uncle Sam's foreign relations?

It's a favorite anecdote of Dr. Harry Lund on his educational-recreational TV program, "Let's Talk Spanish," heard each Tuesday night over KRGV-TV.

For his stories, Lund draws on a wide experience which includes graduate work at the University of Madrid and free-lance reporting in Europe. It was while free-lancing after the World War II that he came upon the story of the mule.

Uncle Sam was trying to help the Greek farmers by sending mules to Greece to help in farming and rebuilding. But the Greek farmers couldn't do anything with the mules, because the critics couldn't understand Greek. Someone in the diplomatic corp solved the problem by teaching the mules the Greek equivalents of "get up," "whoa," "gee," and "Haw".

Most of Lund's stories have one obvious moral—it's a good idea to know more than one language.

"Guest artists" also brighten up his program. They have ranged from a 6-year-old who could speak Spanish and English almost perfectly to a goat that understands French, English and Spanish.

'Atomic Device' Exploded

Observers aboard the HMS Narvik watch action at Monto Bello Islands off the coast west of Australia in what the British Supply Ministry said was the successful explosion of an "atomic device." Nature of the device was not disclosed. The test was attended by about 1,000 British servicemen, including a Royal Air Force task team of 24 aircraft and 500 mechanics and flyers.

AT ASSEMBLY

Jr. High Pupils Due Recognition

Big Spring Junior High School will look back on a year's activities Tuesday at 10 a.m. and also recognize those who have achieved honors in the process.

Those having attained high academic honors as well as in extra-curricular activities will be cited. Athletic department honors were passed out at a previous banquet. One of the highlights of the Tuesday program will be the announcement of the American Legion awards by Principal Tom Ernest.

In one of the year-end activities, the Band Booster's picnic was held Saturday evening at the City Park. Not only did the junior high players share in this, but youngsters in the 6th grade group as well.

Earlier, the Ninth Grade graduation banquet was held (Tuesday) in the Settles ballroom with 211 taking part. Bill French, student body president, was master of ceremonies. Invocation was given by Roscoe Newell, assistant principal. In a skit were Judy Reagan, Peggy Isaacs, Toni Thomas and Sharon Creighton. Mr. and Mrs. Forest Gambill presented music selections, and Glenda Greenwood read the class will and Judy Cagle the class prophecy.

Seventh, eighth and ninth grade volleyball teams and tennis players, with their coaches, Anna Smith, and Billie Clyburn, will be guests Monday evening at the Quarterback Club's annual spring banquet for the volleyball teams. It is set for 6:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria. Coach Carl Coleman will be master of ceremonies and W. C. Blankenship, superintendent, will preside. Program has been announced for 8:15 p.m. May 23, and this year dedication is to W. S. Blankenship, who is retiring as superintendent of schools. Mike Jarrett will play the professional and Beverly Osborne the recreational; Don Payne will ask the invocation and Franklin Williamson will pronounce the benediction.

A sextet—Judy Shields, Pat Rogers, Janice Kirby, Mary Orlphant, Janice Downing, and Dolores Baird—accompanied by Beverly Alexander will sing. Sherry Lou Coats will speak on "Peaceful Living in Society." Ronnie King, president-elect of the high school student council, will welcome class members to high school; and R. L. Weaver, county judge, will speak on "Peaceful Living Within the Law." Graduates will be certified by Ernest and introduced by Newell and Charles Caraway of the faculty. Robert Stripling and Tom McAdams, board members, will pass out the diplomas.

Departmental highlights of the year include: BAND—Under direction of Homer R. Robbins, the band played for all 9th grade and some other football games, for P-TA program, Band Boosters' Club meetings, in parades and in contests. Twenty band uniforms were purchased out of proceeds of the tag day and fruit cake sales ($2,300 together).

CHORAL—The chorus, made 11 formal appearances, including a visit to Knott. There were specials by the seventh grade choir and by select groups, including the ninth grade sextette. There were appearances at assembly programs and in the district contests.

HOMEMAKING—Girls under Mrs. Roberta Wiley and Mrs. Wanda Allen carried out numerous projects, held a public installation of officers, attended church in a group, sponsored Family Day; carried Christmas cards to the state hospital; entertained their Dads with dinner; helped the Salvation Army, took part in the district and state meets.

EXPERIMENTAL ENGLISH—Twenty-three students with average mental test grades but below normal in English grades raised their grade placement from 8.1 during 12 weeks of special study under Mrs. Marie Johnson. Tests indicated an upgrading of 1.5 years in instructional level within the period.

EXPERIMENTAL MATH—Here 30 pupils took a remedial program in mathematics under Mamie Clanton with such results they asked to continue the class all year. The grade level here was increased in 11 weeks from 7.3 to 8.4.

SCHOOL PAPER—Sponsored by Mrs. Kitty Holley and Nelda Cook, the "BOUNDUP" was issued regularly, furnishing broad school coverage.

YEARBOOK—The Yearbook, "El Palomar," sponsored by Lore Williams, developed the "Little Yearling" theme. Mike Jarrett was editor. A party for signing copies of the book will be held Tuesday from 3:30 to 6 p.m. in the gym.

PE AND RECREATION—Under direction of Dan Lewis, Carlos Humphrey, Billie Clyburn and Anna Smith, this group had a program ranging from games to talk and exercises to variety programs for the VA Hospital. The girls' tumbling team appeared on TV and gave other programs.

STUDENT COUNCIL—Sponsored by Velma Blagaves and Bernard Rains, the council worked closely in cooperation with the faculty in working out school program and special affairs. Bobby Evans was the president, Mary Read the vice president.

FFA—The chapter, under sponsorship of Edward Seay, entered numerous teams in district and area contests. It also took part in the annual father-son picnic Thursday at the City Park.

DRIVER EDUCATION—Jack Everett and John Moreland reported 280 pupils completed the year's course, with 19 making perfect grades. So far the junior high program has produced 785 licensed drivers.

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Post said today actress Rita Hayworth has signed an affidavit charging her former husband, Orson Welles, with failure to contribute to the support of their daughter Rebecca for the last 8 1/2 years.

A judgment of $22,450 from Welles will be sought in California Supreme Court next week.

Lamesa Manager Believes Water Supply Adequate

LAMESA — City Manager Carroll Taylor said he believes Lamesa will have sufficient water to meet consumer demands this summer, providing the water level in the wells doesn't drop too drastically. While not overly pessimistic about maintaining a supply of water until the Canadian River water flows into mains here a few years hence, Taylor said, "It is 1957 and 1958 that worry me right now."

Committee Heads Named At Stanton By C-C President

STANTON—Committee chairmen have been named for the Martin County Chamber of Commerce by Bernard Houston, president. Chairmen include Gerald Hanson, agriculture and livestock; Lila Flanagan, budget and finance; Elmore Johnson, education; D. R. M. Dellman, health; Bob Haislip, fire prevention; S. W. Dawson Hospital Architects Named LAMESA — The Dawson County Commissioners Court Friday afternoon named Butler-Kimmel of Lubbock as architects and Allen & Allen of Lamesa as associate architects to design and supervise construction of the new county hospital.

Both firms offered to assist the court in the selection of a site which would be the most economical, considering the initial cost, utilities, engineering, etc. Butler said he felt that construction might be started within six months if funds are approved under the Hill-Burton act in June or September. No definite commitment has been made by the federal government, but a spokesman for the state department of public health told Lamesans that Dawson County still has a top priority for supporting federal funds.

Blankenship Lauded For 28 Years Of Service To Big Spring Schools

"Supp" W. C. Blankenship was lauded Friday night for 28 years of service to Big Spring as superintendent of its schools. He also was presented with gifts of appreciation by former board members and by teachers.

After June 30, Blankenship will become superintendent emeritus of the Big Spring system, and in so doing will likely be only superintendent emeritus in the state. More than 300 people turned out for the dinner honoring him at the Cosden Country Club and heard tributes paid from half a dozen of his friends and long acquaintances.

Blankenship, his bride of four years when they came to Big Spring, sat beside him through the affair, wearing a beautiful orchid given by the faculty. "I am overwhelmed by the friendship and honor expressed in this occasion," responded Blankenship. "I appreciate it more than I can ever tell. I will try to tell you through service to you and the community, for I have no intention of leaving Big Spring. What has been accomplished is because of you and your wonderful children, and the spirit of Big Spring. I have had the most gracious school boards any superintendent ever had. It is because of them and a great faculty of loyal and dedicated teachers, not because of me, that we have been able to do what has been done."

Blankenship was lauded Friday night for 28 years of service to Big Spring as superintendent of its schools. He also was presented with gifts of appreciation by former board members and by teachers. Tech Planning Research Unit For Business

LUBBOCK—Funds for the establishment of a Business Research Bureau at Texas Tech will be solicited by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Chamber and Tech officials announced Friday.

The proposal, approved by directors of both institutions, will be first step in creating a service to supplement present business information on 132 West Texas counties within WTCC boundaries.

The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research and similar services have promised their fullest cooperation with the new Tech Bureau, the officials emphasized.

The new agency will supply monthly and periodically more expensive and detailed information on West Texas business than other hard-pressed services have been able to provide.

Benefits will include information to help West Texas companies determine more accurately where distribution and sales should be emphasized and long-needed facts for companies considering expansion in the area.

Under the program announced today, the WTCC will solicit $20,000 annually to organize and operate the Bureau during its first three years. Subject to availability of funds, Tech will assume the responsibility of operating costs at the end of the three years.

As soon as the funds are raised, the division of Business Administration at Tech will employ a staff, acquire necessary facilities and begin operation, according to Dr. George Heather, dean of the division.

First service planned is a monthly "West Texas Business Report," containing both details and summaries of numerous business conditions such as wholesale and retail sales, bank debits, building permits, postal receipts and employment figures.

Later will come special publications on such subjects as "Land Tenure in West Texas," "The Market for Short Staple Cotton," and "The Future of the Petroleum Industry in West Texas."

Ultimately, the Bureau will undertake certain types of contract research such as economic and marketing surveys, locational studies and others.

Tech Honors 2 Big Spring Men

Two Big Spring men shared in the top five awards of the architecture and allied arts department at Texas Tech during the past week.

James Nuckels, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Nuckels, received an award as the outstanding third, fourth or fifth year student in advertising art and design. The department faculty presented him with a special book.

Carl A. Preston, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Preston, was named the outstanding second-year student in architecture. He was presented with a book by Nolan E. Barrick, head of the department, on behalf of Olen Puckett, Big Spring architect.

Other awards included George DuSang, El Paso, outstanding graduating student in architecture; Gerald Worrall, Lubbock, outstanding fourth-year student in architecture; Fred Griffin, Plainview, outstanding third-year architecture student.

Knott 8th Grade Gets Certificates At Commencement

KNOTT, May 19 — Eighth grade graduates of the Knott school received diplomas at commencement exercises Thursday evening.

Speaker for the occasion was Chaplain C. O. Hitt of the Veterans Administration Hospital in Big Spring. Supt. W. T. Bolin presented the graduation certificates and R. Moreau, elementary principal, presented other awards.

Valedictorian of the class was Ann Ulmer and Salutatorian was Neva Jackson.

Special music was provided by the Big Spring Junior High choral group. Ann Shortes played the processional and recessional. Invocation was by George White and the benediction was said by Moreau.

Receiving the certificates of graduation into high school were Alice Day, Neva Jackson, Joyce Robinson, Ann Ulmer, Mary Ann Rodriguez, Loy Ditto, Ronald Shaw, David Herrera, Frank Sanders and Ben Riggins.

Former Envoy's Daughter Marries

NEW YORK, May 19 (AP)—Jean Ann Kennedy, daughter of former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, was married today to Stephen Edward Smith of New York.

The ceremony was performed by Francis Cardinal Spellman in Our Lady's Chapel at St. Patrick's Cathedral. A reception for a small group of family and friends was held at the Plaza Hotel. The newlyweds, each 28, will honeymoon in Europe.

Smith is an executive of the New York transportation firm of Cleary Bros. Inc., which was founded by his grandfather.

Wide-Awake Towns Will Have No Trouble Attracting Doctors

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Staff Writer

Does Texas have enough doctors? Yes, says the Texas Medical Assn. after a three-year survey. Are these doctors where they can do the most good? Not always, said the TMA, particularly in small towns of northwest and South Texas.

Those are the principal findings of the Texas Doctor Distribution Surveys released today to The Associated Press. It is the first such statewide effort by a medical association in the United States to probe for its own shortcomings.

"We wanted to establish a definite program, to show people we were interested," said Dr. M. O. Rouse of Dallas, president of the TMA. "Anywhere physicians had not met their responsibilities in Texas we wanted to know about it."

"We found that doctors are more critical than their patients," Rouse said.

Among other things the surveys showed that more starting doctors want to be general practitioners, that rural doctors make more at the start of their careers than city physicians, and you can't keep a doctor happy if his wife doesn't like a town or city.

"If we could take 42 doctors out of the July crop of interns and residents and place them strategically, there would not be any Texas community without a doctor," Rouse said. "And those communities without doctors are largely without hospital facilities, and steam laundries, as well."

The TMA is proud of its census of Texas doctors for two reasons. First, because they found there was no serious shortage of doctors as some critics claimed. Second, because Texas doctors pitched in wholeheartedly to help with the survey and to correct as soon as possible any pressing need for medical attention.

"Today's doctor is bringing better medical care to us than as many as three times more patients than did the generation of doctors which preceded him," said Dr. Chester Callan, a tall, slow-talking country doctor from Rotan, largely responsible for the survey.

"We're bringing the patient to the concentration of modern medical facilities, not taking a black bag to the patient."

Callan and his TMA committee on rural health and doctor distribution found that most Texans, 83 per cent, live in counties where there are one or more doctors for each 2,000 residents. The statewide ratio is now one doctor to each 1,226 persons.

Based on the trend since 1940 it is estimated there will be one doctor for each 724 Texans by 1975.

"And you may see some doctors out trying to drum up business when that day comes," Callan says.

community needs a doctor worries Callan.

"I know the people in these small towns. They are good people and they've been good to me. But in some places they don't play fair with the local doctor. They want the local doctor to be on hand for their cuts and burns but if it's something serious they immediately head for the big city hospitals. Maybe that local doctor could have handled the surgery in his clinic just as well as the big hospital."

And then there is the doctor's wife.

"Being the doctor in these one-doctor towns means you are virtually a prisoner seven days a week, all year long. You can't leave. Doctors' wives don't like that."

"Most doctors' wives are college trained. They want social and entertainment advantages. They want good schooling for their children."

"Those are just some of the arguments we get from both sides. It all boils down to this. A place that is a good place to live won't have any trouble finding a doctor."

Youth Accused Of Kidnaping

Fort Worth authorities were due this weekend to pick up an 18-year-old Tarrant County boy accused of kidnaping a Fort Worth girl Tuesday.

The two were taken into custody Friday by A. E. Long, county juvenile officer. The boy said they were headed for Mexico to get married. The girl's parents came for her early Saturday.

Officers here said the boy is accused of assaulting the girl's mother and kidnaping the girl from the family home in Fort Worth.

CHIEF SAYS Precautions May Prevent Burglaries

Summertime brings on a rash of vacations. And in the same line, vacation time brings on a rash of burglaries.

Chief of Police C. L. Rogers said that if the police department is expected to keep the city free of burglars, it must have the support of the population, especially through the vacation period.

Anytime a person leaves Big Spring, he should contact the police department. Thus, the department can check his address periodically for suspicious characters and situations. In notifying the police, vacationers should tell when they are leaving and when they will return.

In addition, Rogers urged citizens to lock their houses before leaving. Many people in a rush to leave occasionally forget to lock a door or window, which is just an invitation to burglars.

If the citizen has notified the police, however, patrolmen can check and locate the open access before the vandal does. To keep from arousing suspicion, vacationers should have their newspapers suspended and ask neighbors to pick up their mail. A yard cluttered with old papers is like hanging a "No one at Home" sign on the door, the police chief said.

The same is true of milk and other deliveries.

If possible, the electric current, water, and gas lines should be disconnected, Rogers said. A pipe could break or a water heater explode and cause serious damage if utilities are on.

Vacationers should leave their out-of-town address with the police or neighbors — or both — so emergency messages could be forwarded.

Most important, though, is for the citizens to remember to notify a house that appears to be temporarily empty. They can then make their entry, ransack the home, and make their escape long before the crime is detected when the person returns home.

Cooperation will pay off, Rogers said, in two ways. First, the invitation will be removed; and second, the police will know where to look for aspiring burglars.

Felony Charges Filed On Three

Felony charges were filed against three persons in Justice Court Friday. Bail was set in two cases.

Charged with forgery was Alford M. Crump. Bill Merrick, complainant, alleged that Crump forged a check for $312.70 and passed it to the Big Spring Motor Company Thursday.

Henry W. Stormes was charged with desertion of four minor children in a complaint signed by Minnie Lou Stormes. William Gerald Cutworth was charged with second offense drunken driving. His truck was involved in a collision on U.S. 80 east of Coahoma Thursday.

Bail for Cutworth and Willie Miles, who is charged with forgery, was set at $2,000 each.

New C-C Members, Directors To Hear Dr. Jordan Grooms

Dr. Jordan Grooms, First Methodist pastor, will address Chamber of Commerce directors and new members at the directors' luncheon Monday.

About 40 persons enlisted as Chamber members in the past few weeks are being invited to the luncheon, along with members of the Round Up Club, membership agency.

Dr. Grooms is to talk on responsibilities and benefits of Chamber of Commerce membership and leadership. The meeting will be held in the organization's offices in the Permian building.

Suicide Ruled In Texan's Death

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., May 19 (AP)—Suicide was ruled yesterday in the Thursday night shooting in a Colorado Springs motel of H. L. Waters, 50, of Kilgore, Tex.

The Kilgore man's pajama-clad body was found on a bathroom floor and an automatic pistol under the body. Coroner William Joss said the shooting was "definitely a suicide."

The victim's wife was questioned after the occupant of an adjoining cabin told police he heard the couple arguing prior to the shooting. Waters was Kilgore representative for the Cavins Corp. of Houston, Tex.

Director 'Pleased' With Reception Of 'Born Yesterday'

Around 200 persons witnessed the production of "Born Yesterday" at the Howard County Junior College auditorium Friday night and another sizable crowd was on hand for the second performance Saturday evening.

The play was the first major production of Big Spring's fledgling Civic Theatre, an association of amateur stage artists.

John Davis, director, said he was "extremely pleased" with both the performance of the players and the attendance.

The drama group had presented some one-act plays for selected audiences previously, but "Born Yesterday" was the first public presentation.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR Urges Guidance For Kids In Main St. Drag Races

Dear Mr. Editor:

Maybe I have no right to write in answering Mr. William's letter but who are the crazy drivers on Main Street? They are myself and a few others just a few years ago. We are a little older and a little wiser as to how close death is in a speeding car.

What do the kids need? Adult guidance, more adults working with auto clubs, YMCA and Boy Scouts. Why is it so easy for people to holler about these crazy kids when actually they don't know them.

It is a Police Department's job to curb reckless driving but unless the residents want to pay for more policemen then a certain percent of law enforcement is left up to them.

These kids are just kids with energy to spend and nowhere to spend it except drag racing on Main Street. Let us remember to do our part in helping out before we start talking about ourselves a few years ago.

Demo Delegates Set For Meeting

Accommodations have been secured in Dallas for Howard County's 14 delegates to the Texas Democratic Convention Tuesday, Frank Hardesty, leader of the group, reported.

Hardesty said some members of the delegation will go to Dallas Monday and others will follow early Tuesday. Howard County has seven votes in the convention. All are pledged to support of Sen. Lyndon Johnson as chairman of the Texas delegation to the national convention and as "favorite son" nominee for president.

Court Sets Hearing On Freeman Motion

The Court of Criminal Appeals, Austin, has set May 30 to hear Bernie Freeman's motion for a new hearing on appeal of his conviction on fraud charges.

The court recently affirmed the decision. Freeman's attorney then asked a rehearing.

Freeman was found guilty last December of having embezzled county funds during the time he was county tax assessor-collector in the last part of 1952.

Bullet Through Window Hurts Girl

FORT WORTH, May 13 (AP)—Lucy Ortega, 16, was wounded here early today by a wild-firing gunman who shot into her home and hit her as she lay in bed asleep.

The girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ortega, is the second person wounded here by a shot fired from outside a residence.

6 Die In Crash

WINNIPEG, Man. (AP)—Two Royal Canadian Air Force planes collided at 1,500 feet over suburban Charleswood, late yesterday and crashed into a farm field. Six airmen, including four student pilots, were killed.

DO IT YOURSELF Novel Planter Box Easy To Construct

By BILL BAKER

How about a new wheelbarrow planter box for your front yard? Or one for your garden? It's an item that really adds interest to your home.

Even if you've never had wood-working experience, you'll be able to build this planter box yourself. With the help you'll receive in your pattern package 115, even a child can produce a professional-looking finished product.

In the pattern package you'll find complete directions. Exact-size paper pattern pieces duplicate most sections of the planter, making it possible for you to tack, trace and cut without chance of error.

The package also gives details on how to cut the top off a nail barrel following: send your name and address (clearly printed), together with only fifty cents (50 cents) in check, cash or money order, to Bill Baker, Big Spring Herald, P. O. Box 1111, Los Angeles 33, California. When you write, be sure to ask for Pattern 115.

Is There a Cure for Diabetes?

There is no cure for diabetes.

Ever since diabetes was discovered about 1552 B.C., some 200 years before the birth of King Tut, charlatans have claimed they had a "cure." Beware of all such claims. In 1921, however, a dependable treatment, although not a cure, was developed for diabetes. This preparation is Insulin.

Your physician is thoroughly familiar with this product and how it is employed to control diabetes. If he finds Insulin necessary in your case, we can supply it in exactly the right strength.

school awards. Graduation certificates will be given to 21 pupils by C. V. Wash. Valedictory address will be by Linda Kay Camp. Salutatory talk will be given by Ella Beth Story. Doyle Griffith will speak on "My Task," and the invocation will be said by Howard Story. Jeanette Taylor will play the procession and recessional. The benediction will be by S. R. Bills. The exercises will start at 8 p.m.

Udall Citizens Put City Together Again

UDALL, Kan., May 19 (AP)—In a few terrifying seconds this town almost disappeared last May 25. On that day the worst tornado in Kansas history swooped suddenly on this little prairie community, killing 82 of its 756 people, crippling scores more, sweeping away more than 100 homes and inflicting 2 1/2 million dollars property damage. No building in town was left whole. Today—just a year later—Udall looks almost like a bright new housing development at some big city's edge. Almost there still are scattered homesites littered with debris, most of them because of delays in estate settlements. And Udall's trees still are skeletons, storm-stripped. This new Udall is modern—and it's the safest town in the country, says its 70-year-old banker, Udall-born Tracy Hildebrand. "Seventy-five per cent of our new homes have storm shelters. The rest are being planned. We've a big one under our new high school, big enough for 150 people." Near the high school is a wood-nath watch tower. There the Ground Observer Corps posts a nightly sky watch to warn of approaching storms. Udall's rebuilding is a story of courage. It is also a story of unselfish sharing by thousands of Americans, including servicemen overseas. If any one man is to be credited most for the town's comeback, people here say, it's 38-year-old Earl B. Rowe, boss of an oil field drilling crew, and Udall's mayor. Rowe is married and has three youngsters. When the tornado struck without warning, they prayed as their home blew away around them. They received only minor injuries, although they were hard hit financially. "The year since the tornado has brought the hardest work Udall's people have ever tackled. They have erected 135 new homes. Rebuilt the business district, recruited new merchants for those who died, restored those who survived. Already nearly 400 of Udall's people are back, and more are building."

Pope Overrules Test Tube Babes

VATICAN CITY, May 19 (AP)—Pope Pius XII told delegates to a World Fertility Congress today that artificial insemination for human beings is not morally permissible. Such practice, said the pontiff, surpasses the limits of the rights acquired through the marriage contract. The 80-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church made it clear he referred to test tube procedures of inducing conception. He said this must be rejected as "immoral and absolutely illicit." The pontiff recalled that he gave a similar opinion in September 1949, when he declared artificial insemination "must be discarded outright." This does not mean, however, he said, that certain artificial means may not be used to aid either the conjugal act or enable it "to arrive at the natural act that normally completes its proper end."

Roosevelt May Wed Office Clerk

WASHINGTON, May 19 (AP)—Congressional sources said today Rep. James Roosevelt (D-Calif.) intends to marry Gladys Irene Owens, a part-time clerk in his congressional office, in June. Roosevelt, in Los Angeles for two House subcommittee hearings, declined to comment. His divorce from Romelle Roosevelt becomes final next month, Roosevelt said, adding: "But I never comment on my personal affairs." Miss Owens was reported to be in Washington but could not be reached for comment. Mrs. Roosevelt—who once accused her husband of misconduct with a dozen women—won her interdictory decree last June 21 on an amended complaint charging extreme cruelty. The divorce, under California law, becomes final in one year.

Experts Agree Red Menace Grows With Anti-Stalinism

WASHINGTON, May 19 (AP)—A symposium released by the House Committee on Un-American Activities today warns that the new Soviet campaign of anti-Stalinism presents a menace to the free world greater than Stalinism itself. The new Russian leaders, who have denounced the dead dictator, were described as still pursuing his goal of world domination but by subtler methods—seeking to lull, divide and undermine the free nations. The committee asked 39 educators, writers, veterans' organization leaders, labor union heads, ex-Communists and others to write their views on anti-Stalinism and the recent 20th Congress of the Soviet Communist party. The views were published in the symposium which the committee entitled "The Great Pretense." In a summation at the end of the booklet, J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said: "When the Communist smirk begins to change to a smile, as is the case right now, we would be well advised to refocus our sights. Behind those changing spots, the same bad blood still flows through the leopard's veins." Hoover repeated his warning that Communists in America are trying to work through front organizations.

Ike To Undergo Physical Exams

WASHINGTON, May 19 (AP)—White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said today President Eisenhower will undergo one or two further physical examinations during 1956. A reporter had asked whether there would be another checkup before the Republican convention Aug. 29 or the beginning of the campaign. The press secretary said it was fair to assume that the future examinations will check Eisenhower's heart and that Dr. Paul Dudley White, Boston heart specialist, probably would take part.

Robber Slain After Killing Store Detective, Patrolman

CLEVELAND, May 19 (AP)—A robber killed a patrolman and fatally wounded a store detective today in a wild foray of gunfire on the edges of Public Square. Converging policemen killed the gunman, identified as Frank Williams, a huge Negro about 40 years of age, as he fled. Williams was caught trying to steal a purse in the S. S. Kresge Co. just east of Public Square in the heart of the city. Patrolman Joseph Haydu, 34, a traffic patrolman, was summoned and tried to grapple with the man, but a store employee reported "he was shot before he had a chance to draw his gun." Taking the patrolman's service revolver, Williams ran from the store, into the Higbee Co., another department store on the southwest side of the square. In pursuit was Charles Holley, a guard for the Kresge Co. He had only a moment to warn the Higbee store detective, Frank Begin, 58, a cousin of Floyd L. Begin, bishop of the Cleveland Roman Catholic diocese. Begin was cut down by the robber's bullets and died a few minutes later in Lutheran Hospital. The pursuit led eastward on Prospect Ave. and near Webster Court a police bullet killed Williams. Scores of clerks, customers and bystanders heard and saw at least a part of the running fight.

Contract Let On Stadium; Completion Due By Aug. 15

Contract was let Friday by Big Spring school trustees for construction of 9,888-seat stadium stands on the Howard County Junior College campus.

The stands, installed, will cost $94,861. Central Texas Iron Works of Abilene is the contractor. James M. Davis, sales representative for the firm, said construction probably can be completed by Aug. 15. Contract calls for completion in 105 days.

Trustees also told their architects, Atcheson, Atkinson and Fox of Lubbock, to proceed with plans for field lighting, public restrooms, pressboxes and fencing for the stadium which is to be constructed out of $149,000 in bonds approved by voters last Tuesday.

Dr. P. W. Malone, chairman of the HCJC board of trustees, said the college group is planning tentatively to move an old shop building into the stadium area to serve as a field house for athletic teams.

He also said the junior college probably will help out in providing other facilities, at least on a temporary basis. These include ticket booths, concession stands and a public address system.

The Central Texas bid was the only one received on erection of the steel stands. Architects said plans were distributed to five other firms.

Davis said steel for the stands is available in his company's yards in Abilene and Waco. The contract with Central Texas provides for erection of the steel, installation of wood seats and foot rests, construction of ramps, and the installation of chain-link fencing along the backs and ends of the spectator stands.

The seating will be evenly divided on the two sides of the stadium, each side to have a capacity of 4,944 persons. Spectators will enter on ramps from underneath the stands.

Central Texas submitted an alternate bid of $112,300 less from erection of stands which would seat 8,488 persons. Trustees decided to accept the 9,888-seat offer, however, after estimating that lighting, restrooms and other essential facilities can be acquired with the $45,000 of bond funds remaining. Temporary ticket offices, concession stands and accessories of that nature can be used until permanent structures are available.

Trustees estimated that lighting for the field will cost in the vicinity of $38,000 and that pressboxes and public restrooms can be provided with remainder of funds available now. The playing field area will be prepared and sodded by regular maintenance crews of the public schools and junior college.

School officials hope to have the stadium in usable condition by Sept. 28 when Big Spring High School opens its 1956 home football season in a game with Snyder.

The stadium will be constructed so that stands will front on the new cinder track at the junior college. The site is adjacent to the local television station near the east end of the HCJC campus and is surrounded by several acres of parking space. It will be accessible from Eleventh Place, Kentucky Way and from an east-west street through the college campus.

The stands on both sides of the field will be 27 seats high and will extend approximately the length of the playing area.

The new stadium will hold more than twice the number of spectators that can be accommodated in the existing facility. The increased seating is expected to be necessary this fall when Big Spring engages in Class 4-A athletics for the first time. The Steers will be in a district with Abilene, San Angelo, Midland and Odessa.

School authorities plan to use the old stadium as a practice field and for B-team and junior high games. Plans now call for demolition of the wood bleachers on the east side of the old field.

Football teams will use the field houses at the old stadium, at least temporarily, for suiting-out and dressing purposes. The team houses at the new plant will be used only for half-time repairs and conferences.

Temperamental Weather Is Against Area Fishermen

Summer is having an awfully hard time staying, and the temperamental weather is still working against the fishermen in this area.

At Lake J. B. Thomas, however, the past week has been a big one for the trotline boys. Jack and Buck Graham of Coahoma caught 25 catfish in two nights, and most of them weighed in between three and 12 pounds.

Henry Moates brought one around to Hiram Reid for weighing, and the fish tipped the beam at 18 pounds. That qualified as one of the largest of the year.

Crappie and bass started up again during the week and Reid noted several nice strings. Some were fishing successfully from the boat dock on Sunday.

Dewey Martin reported fishermen in from Thomas looking for the new Sonic after others there had been getting red hot results with trolling and using this bait.

There was another report, this one unconfirmed, of a 16-inch bass being hooked at Moss Creek Lake.

Ben McCullough and Richard McCullough took in the boat races at Wichita Falls a week ago and Ben won first place in the big runabout class. Richard captured a second and a trio of third places in the hydraplane events. They plan to participate in races at Fort Worth two weeks hence. Races are being slated for Moss Creek Lake on July 1. This lake is long and narrow, providing an ideal situation for spectators.

John Knox and Lucian Saunders went to Granite Shoals below Buchanan within the last fortnight. Water was too high for much effective fishing, but they did hook one 24-pound yellow cat. They can still talk about that.

School authorities plan to use the old stadium as a practice field and for B-team and junior high games. Plans now call for demolition of the wood bleachers on the east side of the old field.

Football teams will use the field houses at the old stadium, at least temporarily, for suiting-out and dressing purposes. The team houses at the new plant will be used only for half-time repairs and conferences.

Big Winner

Whitey Ford (above) has become the bell wether of the New York Yankee mound staff. He recently won his sixth decision and has yet to suffer a reversal. Ford won 18 games for the Yanks last season.

Plans now call for demolition of the wood bleachers on the east side of the old field.

Football teams will use the field houses at the old stadium, at least temporarily, for suiting-out and dressing purposes. The team houses at the new plant will be used only for half-time repairs and conferences.

American Li'l League Is Set To Launch Campaign

Competition in the American Little League will get under way Tuesday evening and continue through July 20, after which the champion will compete in the city playoffs.

Four teams will again challenge for the crown. They are the Cubs, sponsored by Coca-Cola and managed by Johnny Hobbs; Piggy-Wiggly, sponsored by Piggy-Wiggly Super Market and managed by L. K. Bartlett; Cabot Carbon, piloted by R. C. Brooks; and the Flicks, sponsored by R&R Theatres and managed by N. L. Peterson.

Each team is set for the race, with a maximum of 15 players assigned each club. Several of the boys were signed out of the spring workouts conducted recently.

Following is the playing roster of each club:

CUBS

Eagles Oust 'Dogs, 8-3

ABILENE, May 19 (SC) — Abilene defeated Midland for the second time in a row in the bi-district baseball playoffs here Friday, winning, 8-3.

Robert Carothers blasted a three-run homer for the Eagles in the third. Abilene trailed at the time, 3-1.

The win was Abilene's ninth in a row and qualified it for the State Tournament at Austin. Last year, Abilene was state runnerup to Paris.

Abilene managed only six hits off Jim Owens but handed him his first defeat of the season.

Midland 300 000 0-3 4 1
Abilene 103 130 x-8 6 1
Owens and Samford; Schmidt, Scott and Gregory.

Tatum To Canada

EDMONTON, Alberta, May 19 (AP)—John Tatum, 21-year-old center from the University of Texas, signed with the Edmonton Eskimos of the Western Interprovincial Football Union today.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Harold Bentley, who doubles as an assistant football mentor and head track coach at the local high school, was praised recently by Coach George McAllister of HCJC, who said the local townspeople probably didn't realize how able a man they had in Harold. "He did a lot with a little the past season," McAllister said, "and he'll do more for track in the future, if he's encouraged. Harold is always listening for ways to improve and making valuable use of the lessons he has learned." McAllister, incidentally, credits the German track shoe his athletes used to the fact that the Jayhawks had no foot problems the past season. George is toying with the idea of working out an improved hurdle, maintaining that all now being manufactured are not as good as they could be. Among George's plans to make the HCJC track the "most talked about" in West Texas is an electrical timing device, fool-proof, in which spectators would be able to keep posted on results without waiting for judges' decisions. The HCJC mentor will never be satisfied with the Jayhawk track successes until the school's program equals that of Victoria JC, usually considered the state's best. Bob Satterwhite, father of the Big Spring Steers' second string football quarterback, says track helped Billy Bob more than any other single endeavor. Track isn't emphasized very much at the school now but Lamesa High School ruled as the Regional champion twice in the '30's, first in 1934 and again in 1936. Eddie Hammond, the former Longhorn League umpire who made Big Spring his home, now manages a sandlot baseball team in Odessa. The Monahans Lobos, who meet Sweetwater and Lamesa on the football greensward next fall, will run off a multiple offense under their new mentor, Bob Henderson. In his seven seasons as head football coach at Midland, Tugboat Jones saw his teams win 44 games while losing only 26.

Oklahoma U Congratulates Tom Black

Average pay of the the Sooner State league player is $175, which may be a tipoff on why the circuit isn't plagued with as many financial problems as some of the other circuits around the country. . . . Too, each of the teams in the Class D League have a major league connection. . . . Once after his University of Washington football team had thrashed California, 55-0, Gloomy Gill Doble made every man on his squad take 20 laps around the field. . . . After he had won first place in the pole vault Texas Junior College Conference track and field meet recently, HCJC's Tommy Black received a warm letter of congratulations from the University of Oklahoma athletic department. . . . Harold Davis, the HCJC basketball mentor, is inclined to think that material will be harder than ever to come by, after having completed a couple of weeks of spring workouts. . . . Most of those invited will never fill the bill as junior college players. . . . Billy Maxwell,

Brown Is Headed For Midwestern

Wiley Brown, at 6-foot-9 the tallest basketball player ever to perform for HCJC, will attend Midwestern University at Wichita Falls rather than ACC next season. . . . Midwestern offered Wiley a summer job plus more concessions than did ACC. . . . Jimmy Joe Robinson, Wiley's teammate the past season, may also attend Midwestern. . . . Henry Franks, the former head coach at Tulane, is now farming. . . . He owns and operates a 200-acre irrigated ranch in Frio County, near San Antonio. . . . A Chicago newspaper (the Daily News) says a Southwest Conference school president is in danger of losing his job because of commitments he made to certain newspapers in his area in back Texas Tech for entry into the conference, when his school trustees were against the move. . . . Could that be Willis Tate of SMU? . . . Billy Capps, the former Big Spring, recently prevailed upon his Phoenix Arizona-Mexican League boss to purchase Al Jimenez, who hit 39 home runs last year, from Midland. . . . There's talk a round-the Big Spring boy who has won close to $10,000 on the golf trail this year, recently fired a record-breaking 62 on the Preston Hollow course in Dallas, which will host the pros in the Dallas Centennial and Texas International Opens this year. . . . Some football observers are predicting that Marquette will land among the Midwest's top ten teams this fall, so intense and successful has been Johnny Druze's recruiting campaign. . . . Amarillo High School recently blanked the Berger Bulldogs, 35-0, in baseball. . . . Quella's mare considered just about ready to go to the starting gate, surprised everyone, including her trainer, by dropping a foal at Lincoln Downs near Chicago recently. . . . Don McNew, Snyder's fine catcher, wound up hitting .411 for Speedy Moffet's baseball team. . . . The Detroit Tigers may one day have a battery named Klick and Klick. . . . Pitcher Andy Klick and catcher Bernard Klick are both in the Detroit farm system.

A lot of money? Sure is!

And it's the sum that people of the United States spent in 1955 for their copies of daily and Sunday newspapers. That's an average of over $25,000,000 every week!

People spent this huge amount simply because they want to read newspapers . . . because they want the complete information, instruction and entertainment they get in newspapers and nowhere else.

All of which is eloquent testimony to the importance of newspapers in people's lives . . . and the value of newspaper space to buyers of advertising.

Garden City Sets Graduation Events

GARDEN CITY -- Baccalaureate for the senior class of Garden City High School at 8 p.m. today in the First Methodist Church will usher in a round of year-end events.

Commencement is set for Thursday, and the eighth grade graduation will be held on Friday evening.

Commencement is set for Thursday, and the eighth grade graduation will be held on Friday evening.

At the senior sermon to be preached by the Rev. Lee Crouch, minister of the church, Rob Childers will work the invocation, and Jim Nelson will read the Bible lesson from the Old Testament. Senior girls will sing "Onward Christian Soldiers" and Jimmie Smith will read the New Testament Scriptures. The Senior Class will say a prayer in unison, and Doyle Little will play both the processional and recessional.

The Rev. Crouch is to speak on the subject, "Why Are You Here?" At the commencement exercises Thursday, Mrs. R. Ricker will play both the processional and recessional, while Dale Hillger will give the invocation and Eddie Engle the benediction.

Latrell Venable will deliver the salutatory address, Patsy Gotcher will read the class history, Kay Mitchell the class prophecy, Eugene Davee the class will, and Darlene Drews will bring the valedictory address.

B. L. Murphy, high school principal, will present the graduates, and W. A. Wilson, superintendent, will make the presentation of diplomas. The class song, "Moments to Remember," will be sung by the senior girls.

Dr. W. A. Hurt, president of Howard County Junior College, is to speak at the eighth grade exercises Friday at 8 p.m. Doyle Little will play the processional and recessional, Robert Quintana will bring the salutatory, and James Nelson Cook the valedictory. Roy Tharnton, elementary school principal, will introduce the graduates, and E. L. Murphy, high school principal, will announce awards. W. A. Wilson, superintendent, will present the diplomas to:

Water Usage Hits 7 Million Gallons

Water consumption gauges measured above the seven million gallons mark here Friday for the first time this year.

The reading for Friday's period— which ended Saturday morning at 8 a.m. — was 7,140,000 million gallons.

The consumption had been rising steadily from 5,513,000 gallons last Monday, hitting the peak of the week and the year Friday. Tuesday's reading was 5,765,000 gallons, and the consumption Wednesday was 6,869,000 gallons. Thursday it nudged the seven million mark with 6,981,000 gallons.

Billy Evans To Give Piano Concert At HCJC Tuesday

Billy Evans, talented young pianist, is to be presented Tuesday evening in concert by the Howard County Junior College music department. The public is invited.

Billy, who is a junior in Big Spring High School, has won the highest ratings in the National Piano Playing Auditions for the past five years. He has studied under Mrs. Nelle Frazier, under Jack Hendrix and under his brother, Larry Evans, who has won considerable acclaim as a pianist. Larry currently is in the Armed Forces overseas.

When he completes his school work, Billy intends to continue his studies with the objective of becoming a concert pianist. Beth Miller Harrod, Estes Park, Colo., judge for the recent national piano auditions here, observed that he is a "gifted, wonderfully talented pianist and can go as far as he desires."

Included in his offerings Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the College auditorium are several selections from Bach, including "French Suite No. 2 in C Minor," "Allemande," "Courante," "Sarabande," "Menuet," and "Gigue." From Mozart he will play "Sonata in A," "Theme and Variations," "Mennetto" and "Rondo." The Chopin series includes "Fantaisie Impromptu," "Trois Etudes, No. 1," and "Etude, Op. 10, No. 12." The concluding group embraces Debussy's "Sounds and Perfumes Turn in the Evening Air," Ibert's "The Little White Donkey," and the March from the "Love of the Three Oranges," out of Prokofiev's Opus 33.

BILLY EVANS

French Apologize

LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio reported that French authorities have apologized for an attack by hostilities on a Soviet book exhibition in Paris and promised to reimburse for the damage suffered.

ABC Club Hears 'Tall Tales'

P. D. O'Brien, speaking before the American Business Club at the organization's regular luncheon Friday at the Settles Hotel, left the gathering in good humor.

He confined his talk to "tall tales" after several members of the club had been called upon by Toastmaster Allen Orr to recite unlikely stories they had heard or professed to experience.

J. B. Apple was awarded a prize — a fresh biscuit — for telling the best story.

It was announced that past presidents of the club would hold a special meeting at the Wagon Wheel restaurant at 7 p.m. Tuesday. Jerry Mancil was introduced as a new member of the organization.

AF Recruiter Sets Schedule For Area

The Air Force recruiting station has been re-established in Big Spring.

Sgt. Jimmy R. Howard is in charge of the office in room No. 13 of the post office basement.

Sgt. Howard's schedule calls for him to be in Big Spring on Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday of each week. He will make a trip to Colorado City and Snyder on each Tuesday and to Lamesa on each Thursday.

Church Opens New Parsonage

LAMESA — Another milestone in the growth of the Bryan Street Missionary Baptist Church was marked when the pastor, the Rev. E. L. Jones, and Mrs. Jones moved into the new brick veneer parsonage, valued at $17,000. The parsonage is located just east of the church on North Second.

Rev. and Mrs. Jones first came to the church in 1944 and with the exception of 18 months during 1952 and 1953 when he was pastor of the congregation in Crockett, they have served the Bryan Street congregation. They have one son, Clifton, who has been in the Air Force for the past three years.

The membership of the church has grown from 11 members when the church was organized back in 1921 to more than 400 members at the present time. The church property is now valued at more than $95,000. One charter member, L. T. Middleton, still has membership in the local church.

On Wednesday evening, following the regular mid-week service at the church, 100 members of the congregation were present for the housewarming at the parsonage. The final moving in was completed at this time.

Uncle Ray:
Readers Flood Mail
With Fox Sentences

By RAMON COFFMAN

Judging by the letters which have been flooding my mail, many typists and students of typing read this column. People from coast to coast have written me about sentences which contain all the letters of the alphabet.

Several short ones — shorter and better than those I gave — have come to me. Above all, I have been swamped with an old-time sentence about a red fox. There are several versions of this sentence, and it runs in length from nine to 11 words. Perhaps the most common one is this:

"The quick brown fox jumps over the lazy dog."

Another version is:

The quick, graceful red fox jumps over the lazy dog's back.

Another:

The quick, graceful red fox jumps over the lazy brown cow."

Another:

"A little brown fox jumps over the lazy dog."

One reader added a touch of humor by saying that if he hadn't been a "lazy dog," he would have put his letter paper in a typewriter, instead of using pen and ink.

A completely different sentence was provided by Miss Ruth Nelson:

"A quick movement of the enemy would jeopardize six gunboats."

I was glad to get the last sentence because I had grown tired of reading about the fox. That fox seems to have been jumping over one or more dogs for at least 50 years!

Another old-time sentence (about packing a box) appeared in several other letters.

Just to help the cause, I have prepared this eight-word sentence which contains all the letters in the alphabet:

FOXY GRANDPA QUICKLY JUMPED OVER THE WILD ZEBRAS.

Many newspaper readers will remember Foxy Grandpa. He seemed as spry (in the comic pages) as a college athlete.

Seen In Garden Pilgrimage

IT SMELLS HEAVENLY is the description applied to the garden of Mrs. Norman Read, 503 Washington, and pilgrimage visitors this afternoon will probably agree. Planted in a formal garden at the west side of her house, are various types of roses—climbers, floribundas, grandifloras, hybrid teas and others. Opposite these is a collection of rose bushes flanked by iris beds. Very appropriately, this garden is the exhibit of the Rosebud Garden Club.

A HAVEN FOR BIRDS is the garden of Dr. and Mrs. Allen Hamilton, 1807 Main, entry of the Big Spring Garden Club, for the Garden Pilgrimage this afternoon. The peaceful atmosphere, as well as the great variety of geraniums, honeysuckle, iris, lobelia and fruit trees, attracts many kinds of birds. Be sure to see the clever little feeders for hummingbirds that Mrs. Hamilton makes. (Photos by Keith McMillin)

A NATIVE SETTING is the background for the Carl Strom home, 510 Westover Road, above, which guests will visit this afternoon on the Garden Pilgrimage. Displayed at the request of the Council of Garden Clubs, the garden has a background of mesquite and native cedars. An unusual accent is given by a banana tree and a magnolia tree. Various kinds of cactus blend with ocotillo, and yucca plants have been groomed into the shape of trees. You'll find color in the roses, petunias, geraniums, dusty miller and other flowers.

MOST UNUSUAL (for this section of the country) are some of the flowers and plants in the garden of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Lane, 1604 Nolan, above, which will be visited this afternoon during the Garden Pilgrimage. Here, guests will see heather, forget-me-nots in blue, of course, but also white ones! A yellow calla lily looks almost too perfect to be real, and there are several of the newer varieties of petunias. This yard is the entry sponsored by the Spaders Garden Club

ROSES AND QUEEN ANNE'S LACE in profusion will greet callers today at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. McGinnis, 1206 Eleventh Place, pictured at right. Entered in the Garden Pilgrimage by the Planters Garden Club, the front of the house faces a hedge of scarlet floribunda roses combined with the white of the Queen Anne's lace. To the side is an iris bed, which has just completed its richest blooming period. The patio at the back of the home is adapted to informal entertaining or just loafing.

BIG SPRING HERALD

Sec. II Big Spring, Texas, Sun., May 20, 1956 Soc.

REMEMBER THE GARDEN of your grandmother? Then you'll enjoy a trip to the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Sullivan, 1315 Wood, pictured at right, this afternoon on the Garden Pilgrimage. Here, you'll see a collection of the good ol' standbys such as were used in all the gardens of yesteryear. A mimosa tree and a loquat tree reign over the scene where roses, phlox, poppies of several kinds and petunias nod and sway with pansies, calendulas, verbena, pinks, snapdragons, gladioli and daisies. Sponsors of this yard are the members of the Council of Garden Clubs.

Plans July Wedding

The engagement and approaching marriage of Peggy Hayworth is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hayworth, 789 Abrams. She will be married to Franklin Kirby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Y. M. Kirby, Parkview Addition, in a July wedding; the date is to be announced. Vows will be exchanged at the home of the bride's cousin, the Rev. Curtis Tomlin, who will officiate at the rites. Betrothal Announced

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. King, 1400 Benton, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Peggy Joyce, to Jim Fleming of Fort Worth. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Fleming, 6904 Robin Hood Lane, Fort Worth. Vows will be exchanged June 19 at 3 p. m. in Wesley Memorial Methodist Church. (Photo by Barr).

Bridal Tea Given For Jan Baggett

The John Davis home was the scene of a bridal tea given Saturday evening for Jan Baggett, bride-elect of Richard Deats. The couple will be married on June 2. Miss Baggett is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Baggett; parents of the prospective bridegroom are Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Deats.

Other hostesses for the tea included Mrs. R. W. Thompson, Mrs. Anthony Hunt, Mrs. Arnold Marshall, Mrs. Horace Garrett, Mrs. Jordan Grooms, Mrs. Wesley Deats and Mrs. John Dibreil.

Mrs. Davis greeted guests and presented the honoree, Miss Baggett, and the senior Mrs. Deats. Mrs. Wesley Deats and Mrs. Fred Stitzell displayed the gifts, and Mrs. Garrett presided at the guest register.

Mrs. Grooms served refreshments from a table laid with a white cutwork cloth.

An all-white arrangement centered the table. This was made of a tiny toy piano combined with a sheet of music, "I Love You Truly"; (the honoree is a music major in SMU). A miniature piece of music on the piano bore the names of the couple.

Miss Baggett was attired in blue polished cotton frock with matching pumps.

Rainbow Girls

Principals in the Rainbow tea given Thursday evening in the garden of Mrs. Norman Read, were Frances Reagan, at left, Betty Jo Anderson, Jacqueline Smith and Mrs. Don Williams. Miss Anderson, grand service for the Grand Assembly of Rainbow Girls, was the honoree.

GARDEN CITY—Officers of the Garden City High School pep squad have been elected for the 1956-57 school year. Drillmaster will be Kathy Crabtree; the majorettes Sunn Bednar and Alice Clark; cheer leaders, Darlene Hansen, Wanda Williams, Dorothy Lynch and Cora Beth Overton; bass drummer, Mary Ruth Ashill; snare drummers, Jo Ann Maxwell and Doyleene Little. President of the squad will be Carrel Northcott; vice president, Linda Pettus; secretary-treasurer, Marceline Gill.

Charles Seydler, Miss Dawson Wed

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Dawson of Fort Worth have announced the marriage of their daughter, Donna, to Charles Seydler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Seydler of Big Spring. The marriage took place in March. Both are students in Howard Payne College in Brownwood; he is a senior and she is completing her sophomore year. They expect to continue their school work this summer.

Keep 9-Year-Olds Busy At Parties

NEW YORK — A party for 9-year-old children will fall apart unless constant activities are offered that try the guests' skills and use up their energies, a national magazine says in the latest of the series on "How To Give Children's Parties." Some of the rules which should be observed when planning a birthday party for 9-year-olds are: Plan party around an outdoor theme; carry theme in games, decorations.

Invite limited number of guests. Nine is ideal, of same age and sex. Plan for adult friend to help mother. Schedule party from noon to 3 p. m. Serve simple luncheon. Plan both indoor and outdoor games. Gather game equipment, inexpensive prizes, favors and candy. The magazine suggests this timetable for the three-hour party, using a cowboy theme: Arriving guests inspect opened presents and are branded (10 min.); go outside for treasure hunt (20 min.) and cowboy games (30 min.); eat luncheon inside (30 min.); after indoor project (20 min.) run outdoor "rodeo" relay races (30 min.); come inside for siesta. Indoor games, snack, favors and prizes (40 min.).

Church Of Christ
LAMESA — Under the supervision of the Elders of the Lamesa Church of Christ, a five day school will be held at the church beginning May 28 and going to June 1. W. T. Hamilton, minister, announces that classes will be held for all age groups of the church, including one for the adults. Each class will have a picnic at the close of the school which will emphasize Bible study throughout its program. Classes will be held from 9 to 11 a. m. daily.

HI-TALK

By Mary Sue Hale

With the end of school in sight and the beginning of summer swiftly approaching, a whirl of last-minute activities filled this past week and weekend.

It was a weary and sunburned, but contented band of seniors that returned at the midnight hour last night from their senior trip which consisted of 22 hours at Carlsbad, N. M., including time spent going to and from.

Transportation was provided in the form of school buses for the journey. Upon arrival at Carlsbad, immediate recreation was a tour of the caverns. Attending sponsors were Harold Bentley, Robert Dyer, Mary Herring, Mrs. Wilene Humphries, L. B. Brackeen, and Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Williams.

Following the tour, which was provided free by the caverns, the group suddenly found themselves with time to lunch, swim, dance, or enjoy other recreation facilities available in Carlsbad.

From the graduating class of 185, about 325 seniors made the trip.

Customary tears filled the eyes of seniors and underclassmen Friday morning as the senior class members attended their last BSHS assembly as students. Serving as MC was Tom Guin, student body president. Reminiscing with the class history, from the eighth grade to the present state, was Sally Cooper. Substituting for a senior class president, Rodney Sheppard, was Bennie Compton, senior vice president, as he delivered the farewell address. Next on the program was Lydia Corrales, accompanied by Julie Rainwater on the piano, singing "My Happiness." Adding a humorous touch to a memorable occasion was a skit, "Great Pretender" by Clyde McMahon and J. D. Adams.

As tradition would have it, the seniors left their seats to join forces at the front of the auditorium in singing a song of farewell which was composed for the occasion by Eunice Freeman. In the meantime, the juniors filled the seats vacated by the seniors in the center of the auditorium. Joining hands and encircling the seated students, the seniors then hummed while Eunice sang another farewell song.

Bennie Compton announced that the traditional gift left by the graduating class of '56 would be a bronze plaque which, in the design of the BSHS senior ring, would be installed in the foyer of our high school. This plaque will be installed before the beginning of school next fall.

Tom Guin presented to next year's student body president, Ronnie King, with the ravel which he will use during next year's student council meetings.

Preceding the Friday assembly was a recognition assembly held Tuesday. Those students who have achieved academic, athletic or extra-curricular distinction during the past school year were recognized publicly.

Pointing out athletic recognition were coaches Carl Coleman, Harold Bentley, and Johnny Johnson. Also announcing athletic students worthy of distinctive recognition was Arah Phillips, girls' volleyball coach, who was given a standing ovation for her service and the honors she has brought home to Big Spring. Miss Phillips is leaving the high school at the end of the year to become director of women's PE at HJC.

While Dell McComb listed academic recognition, Mrs. Betty Ratliff read recognition for outstanding students, club officers, and various honor winners. Combined with last minute cramming for approaching final exams, many departments at BSHS are trying to "beat the clock" — literally speaking. Racing with time could be said of many chemistry students, as they diligently seek their unknowns. Equally hasty are many of Mrs. Nancy Annen's Home Economics girls, as they stitch finishing touches on garments that they have made this six weeks.

The Shop boys are less frantic, as they have finished the larger amount of projects with a minimum of lagers. The boys are now busily refinishing the work benches that will be used for next year's shop students.

Almost a trademark of senior classmen for the past weeks has been, "Seniors beat the Juniors!" or with the juniors, vice versa. The occasion of course was that of the annual Senior-Junior football game. Seems that the eyes proved their point, for the final score added up to 31-6, seniors favor.

After the wedding out had been done, the victor of the boy's PE department, under the coaching of Johnny Johnson, was determined this week as being 3rd period of

Garden At Lane Home Is Scene Of Wedding

A garden wedding at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Lane, 1004 Nolan, united Patricia Joanne Gregory and Earnest Wayne Kennedy in marriage, Thursday evening.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Gregory, 602 W. 17th, and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kennedy, 1610 Nolan.

The informal, double ring ceremony was read by Lyle Price, minister of the First Church of Christ. The bridal party stood on a patio surrounded by lights placed in trees.

A prelude of organ music was played by Betty Earley, who included "I Love You Truly," "Because" and the traditional wedding marches.

Mr. Gregory gave his daughter in marriage. While brocaded satin made her ballerina length dress, which featured three-quarter sleeves. These were complemented by net mitts encrusted with pearls.

Pearls also trimmed the white satin headdress to which a veil of net was attached. The bride carried white roses atop a white Bible.

FOLLOWS TRADITION

In the wedding tradition, she used the Bible of her sister, Mrs. Russell Slaydon Jr. of Palmdale, Va., for something old; something borrowed was a handkerchief of her sister-in-law, Mrs. H. V. Gregory of Fayetteville, N. C.; the bridal gown was new, and the bride wore blue garter. This had been supplied by her sister-in-law, Mrs. J. N. Gregory of Daytona Beach, Fla.

Maid of honor, Sharon Dale Lewis, chose a frock of blue antique taffeta with white accessories. She carried a nosegay of roses, tinted blue.

Serving as best man was Bob Newsom.

Following the nuptial rites, guests gathered at the home of the bride's parents for a reception. The tea table was covered with a white lace cloth over pale green with an arrangement of spring flowers.

The three tiered cake was served by Marcella Hill, Mrs. Gerald Cox was at the guest register.

WEDDING TRIP

When the couple left for a wedding trip to points in southeast Texas, the bride was attired in a light blue linen suit. She used white accessories to match the white trim on the suit. Her white rose corsage was from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Gregory has been a student at Howard County Junior College after her graduation from the local high school. She was a member of the girls' quartet, the cappella choir and the Lass-O Club. She was one of the cheerleaders, also.

The bridegroom is a Big Spring High School graduate and attended HCJC. He is now a member of the Texas Star Route Mail Carriers' Association.

The couple will make a home at 1102 Aylford.

First Grade Of Forsan Rides Train

FORSAN — To celebrate the approach of the end of school, pupils of the first grade rode the train to Colorado City Friday. They were accompanied by their teacher, Mrs. W. O. Averett, and several mothers. Room mothers went to Colorado City by car to return the group to Big Spring Park for a picnic lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lancaster and two children have moved here from Knapp. He is employed as a bookkeeper for Amerada Oil Company.

Mrs. H. L. Greer was honored with a miscellaneous shower in the annex of the Methodist Church. The Greer home recently burned. Hostesses were Mrs. M. Miller, Mrs. Carl Bankston, Mrs. H. L. Gibson, Mrs. H. G. Huestis, Mrs. B. Z. Cozart, Mrs. J. D. Martin, Mrs. Gene Huestis, Mrs. Roy Walraven, Mrs. W. F. Shannon and Mrs. Steve Huestis.

Vacation School To Start May 28

FORSAN — Children of the community are invited to attend the Methodist Vacation School to be held at the church May 28 for five days. Registration will begin at 9 a.m.

The pastor, the Rev. Allen Forbis will be the director of the school. Mrs. Robert Cozart will be in charge of the beginners and primary department, with Mrs. J. C. Ray assisting her.

Mrs. Forbis will teach the junior department, assisted by Mrs. D. M. Bardwell. The intermediate department will be supervised by Mrs. Hamlin Elrod and Mrs. H. G. Huestis.

As a final event of the school, a program has been planned for the evening of June 1. This will be combined with the regular family night activity held each month at the church.

A shower was held for members of the adopted family of the Fire Ladies Auxiliary Friday afternoon when they met in the home of Mrs. Riley Knightstep.

Here's Opportunity To Use That Skill

EAST LANSING, Mich. — Here's a suggestion for the housewife who is looking for an unusual way to use her new electric skillet.

Try sukiyaki, a Japanese dish, is the recommendation of Grace Masuda, American-born Japanese instructor in the home economics department of Michigan State University.

The ingredients, attractively arranged, can be carried to the table on a platter and the dish can be cooked while the family or guests watch.

Soy sauce should be added in cooking, but she advises that the sauce is salty and no additional salt is needed.

Heat the skillet and melt 1 inch cube of suet or 2 tablespoons of butter. Add 1 pound of top sirloin beef, sliced paper thin, and brown over a high heat until almost done.

Cover and cook over low heat about five minutes, stirring gently, then add 1/2 cup soy sauce. Increase the heat and cook five minutes more, stirring once or twice.

Serve immediately with hot, fluffy rice. The recipe serves four persons.

Miss Masuda suggests green pepper, Chinese cabbage, dry onions, carrots or green beans as other vegetables that can be used.

Forsan Club Gives Game Party Friday

The closing event of the club year for the Forsan Study Club was the Game Night Party given Friday evening at the school. This was a benefit affair for the picnic ground at the Forsan Park. The club will buy benches and tables.

Games of canasta, chess and 42 were played. In charge of arrangements were Mrs. Sammie Porter, Mrs. W. O. Averett, Mrs. Charles Wash and Mrs. C. C. Brunton.

First Christian VBS

LAMESA — First Christian Church will hold its Vacation Bible School from May 28 through June 8, according to the Rev. Rush Barnett, pastor. Mrs. Richard Groh will be director for the school, and classes will be held for children of pre-school age through the Intermediate department. Closing services are scheduled for Friday evening, June 8.

Want Chrysanthemums This Fall? Start Now

By ANNE LEFEVER

May is the month in which to prepare for the riot of fall color provided by chrysanthemums. These hardy plants provide late blooms when all other flowers have finished their season.

If you have chrysanthemums in your garden now, there will be clumps that you can divide and spread to other locations.

For cuttings, take about 2 1/2 inches from the top of a shoot, cutting 1/2 inch below a leaf joint. Remove all leaves on the lower part of the stem. A dusting of hormone powder will be beneficial to the cutting.

Insert the end in a flat or flower pot of sand and peat moss, and place in a light airy location. Keep the soil moist. Most of the cuttings will root quickly. From a flat, they should be placed in a pot about 10 days before they are set out in the garden.

Chrysanthemums are hungry and thirsty plants, and during the first growing season, they should have plenty of food, especially nitrogen. The location where the plants are to be placed should be well-fertilized with barnyard fertilizer, leaves, compost or other organic material.

Choose only sturdy plants for transplanting. These should be actively growing four to six-inch cuttings that have good roots. Space them about two feet apart; firm the soil about the plants, and pour water around the stem to settle the dirt around the roots.

After the plants resume their growth, which will probably be about a week or a little less, add a

Cafeteria Menu
 FORSAN — A two-day menu has been announced for the Forsan cafeteria. On Monday, pupils will be served buttered noodles with meat spinach, salad, cake and milk. Tuesday's lunch will be pork loin and gravy, sweet potatoes, salad, apple pie and milk.

Methodist Women Plan Conference Activities

Many activities are being planned for the visiting women of the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference when members convene here this week.

On Monday evening Dr. and Mrs. Jordan Grooms of the First Methodist Church will have as their 6:30 dinner guests Bishop Wm C. Martin of Dallas, Dr. and Mrs. Orion Carter, of the Big Spring district and superintendents Hubert Thomson, Abilene, E. D. Landreth, Amarillo, Edmund Kirby, Pampa, Luther Kirk, Plainview, Marshall Pheasant, J. E. Shewbert, Lubbock, E. E. White, Childress, and Vernon Henderson, Brownfield.

Wednesday will be the beginning of the social activities for the women with a luncheon slated at 1 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Carter, 421 Edwards Blvd. Guests will be the bishop's wife and the wives of the district superintendents. In the evening following the church hour, this same group will gather at the Grooms home for an informal visiting hour.

On Thursday evening at 6 the All College Banquet is to be held at the Settles Hotel. Heretofore, dinners have been held for each of the Methodist colleges but in order for the people to be together the one dinner will be held honoring all colleges.

Women of the First Methodist Church will be hostesses to the visiting women with the traditional conference tea from 3 until 5.

Presbyterian Theme

LAMESA — The theme for the Vacation Bible School at the First Presbyterian Church this year is "The Bible." Classes will be held each day from May 23 through June 1 from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. On the concluding day of the school picnics and exhibits of Bible School work will be staged. Mrs. Elred Scott is general chairman.

Francys Rice, James Cauble Jr. Exchange Double Ring Vows

Before an arch of palms and candelabra, centered with a basket of yellow gladioli, Francys Rice became the bride of James Cauble Jr. Saturday evening. Informal double ring rites were read in East Fourth Baptist Church by the pastor, the Rev. Maple Avery.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Rice, 205 Princeton. Mrs. Pearl Cauble, Route Two, is the mother of the bridegroom. Wanda Lou Petty, a cousin of the bridegroom, sang "Because" and "O, Promise Me." She was accompanied by Mrs. Bob Simpson, organist, who used "Liebestraum" as background music during the ceremony.

BRIDAL GOWN
 Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in diamond white silk taffeta designed on princess lines by Bianchi. Crossed bands of tulle, hand-embroidered in seed pearls, accented the empire bodice, fashioned with low neckline. White taffeta gauntlets complemented the short sleeves.

Unpressed inverted pleats made the bouffant waist length skirt. A veil of French illusion, edged in lace and seed pearls, was fastened to a heart-shaped tiara of pearls. The bride's flowers were white roses in heart-shaped arrangement, combined with lace and ribbon. These were carried atop a white Bible.

In her shoe was a penny, milled in 1887; she wore a strand of pearls and matching earrings. Informal double ring rites were read in East Fourth Baptist Church by the pastor, the Rev. Maple Avery.

Fashion Shop Popular At State Hospital; More Clothes Needed

By LUCILLE PICKLE

Interest in the Fashion Shop at the Big Spring State Hospital is growing by leaps and bounds, but those who are operating it wonder at times if the people realize that the patients to whom the clothes are given are expecting to wear them outside their rooms.

While most of the clothing is wearable, some of the apparel is fit for nothing more than polishing the floor. Recently when one box was unpacked there was a man's suit, the coat of which was wearable but both knees were out of the trousers. Also there was a pair of work pants—covered with grease. There was an enormous box of socks, but when the workers went through to pair them, not one matching pair could be found.

There is a great need for underclothing for the women. Some wearable garments have been sent on the other hand too much is sent that is dirty, the elastic is completely gone in the panties and the bras and some of the slips are ragged and unwearable.

Many of the dresses have been stripped of the pretty buttons; the zippers removed and some of the costume jewelry is sent with the catches gone, only one earring, etc.

NECESSITIES FURNISHED
 This shop was opened with the idea in mind of helping those patients who are able to work in the hospital; patients who are eligible for furlough and other patients who have no family to provide their clothing needs. The state furnishes only the barest necessities and if the patient's family doesn't provide for them, they are at the mercy of the people who send clothing to the hospital.

The Women's Forum staffs the Fashion Shop each Thursday of the month and supervisors bring those patients who are needy to the shop, where they are outfitted to the best of the shops provisions. No one is denied anything that they want.

In view of the fact that this is a sort of therapy it is very important that the patients are provided with something that they can be proud of and something they can call their own. It isn't very encouraging to be offered dirty, ragged clothing.

CLUBS BRING CLOTHING
 Several clubs and organizations which include the AAUW and the 1905 Hyperion Club have gathered good clothing and brought it to the hospital. Dozens of attractive styles have been made by Methodist Church groups in Lubbock, and boxes have been received from Odessa and Midland as well as from many individuals in Big Spring.

The need for shoes, hose and underwear for both men and women is great. The patients who are able to attend church services and the socials enjoy having a nice outfit and they can have it if a lot of good hearted people help.

If you have some good, clean, wearable clothing that you have outgrown or have grown tired of wearing, don't forget these people who have no way of providing for themselves.

Bring the gifts to the Information Desk in the Administration Building and it will be sent to the Fashion Shop.

Steps In Freezing Food Are Shown
 Five successful steps in freezing food were pointed out in the program for the Volunteer Home Demonstration Club when the members met in the home of Mrs. C. R. Porter Friday afternoon.

Elizabeth Pace, in giving the demonstration, listed the importance of quality, careful preparation, proper packaging, loading the freezer and length of storage.

During the social hour Mrs. Carl McKee won the game prize. The hostess used the 23rd Psalm for the devotion. Roll call was answered with "What to do in the yard this month."

The June 1 meeting will be held at 2:30 in the home of Mrs. Carl Peterson.

Eleven members and the demonstrator, Miss Pace, attended.

Nazarene School Set
 LAMESA — Mrs. Billy Spruill of Abernathy will be superintendent for the Vacation Bible School at the Church of the Nazarene this year. The Rev. William C. Emberton, pastor, has announced.

A former member of the local congregation, Mrs. Spruill directed the school last year and will direct the school at her church in Abernathy before coming to Lamesa to supervise the local workers.

Dates for the school have been set from June 25 to June 29, and the morning sessions will be supplemented by a program Friday night for parents of the children who attend the school.

Use For Vines
 Vines serve many purposes. If your garage is not particularly attractive, try two climbing roses one at each side of the door, at the corners of the building.

If your porch faces either the morning or afternoon sun, a vine can shut out the glare, keep it cooler and more comfortable in hot weather. And if you pick a vine that sheds its leaves, you let the full winter sun shine in during the winter months when you really want it.

To Be Photo Finish?
 Reed Benson, son of Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson, told a luncheon meeting his father is "running neck and neck" with the much traveled Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. He said his family keeps a mileage record of the travels of each individual member.

Flatten Cookies
 You can flatten small balls of cookie dough by pressing them with a floured fork in two directions to make a crisscross pattern.

Miss Day Honored At Bridal Shower

June Anne Day, bride-elect of L.L. John Gustafson was the honoree at a bridal shower Friday evening in the home of Mrs. Charles Harwell. The prospective bridegroom is at Stewart Air Force Base, Tenn.

Date for the wedding is set for June 16 in the First Christian Church.

Cohostesses for the party were Mrs. Lucian Jones, Mrs. James Felts, Mrs. Wayne Gound, Mrs. R. E. Hempel, Pat Bouchette and Ned Cook.

Mrs. Skalicky Shows How To Etch Glass
 Mrs. Jim Skalicky of the Fairview Home Demonstration Club was guest speaker for the Center Point HD Club Thursday afternoon. The women met in the home of Mrs. Duane Griffith.

Mrs. Skalicky gave a demonstration of glass etching. Mrs. H. S. Hanson showed how to make a burlap rug. Mrs. J. W. Brigrance gave a report on the recent council meeting.

Twelve members were present with three guests, Mrs. Skalicky, Mrs. Henry Fehler and Mrs. Paul Bishop. At the next meeting, with Mrs. C. E. Prather as hostess, a demonstration on frozen foods will be given.

Lamesa Girl Honored
 LAMESA — Kay Wiggins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Wiggins, has just received word that she has been given a $625 scholarship from Southern Methodist University. She received this scholarship on scholastic standing and leadership ability. Kay, who is majoring in music education with a minor in voice, has a grade average of 3.8 out of a possible 4. She will be a senior this fall.

Engagement Told

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. McElrath of Forsan are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Mary Lou, to Jesse Louis Overton, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Overton of Forsan. The Rev. J. M. Stagner of Edgewood, a former resident of Forsan, will officiate at the ceremony, planned for June 2 in the Baptist Church. (Photo by La Hel)

Miss Harris Is Wed To Alvin Tyler

LAMESA — In a double ring ceremony read Saturday morning, Shirley Mae Harris became the bride of Alvin Tyler. The couple's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Harris of Rt. A, and Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Tyler of 902 N. 1st, Lamesa.

The Rev. Fred A. Blake read the exchange of vows in the parsonage of the Klondike Baptist Church. Baskets of roses were used as the setting for the ceremony.

Kathryn Beaman furnished the traditional wedding music and also accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Bernice Beaman who sang "I Love You Truly."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a dress of white embroidered tulle designed with an elongated waistline terminated in points from which fell a full skirt. Her fitted bodice featured a sweetheart neckline and cap sleeves. She wore a small white hat covered in flowers and carried a white orchid.

Fay Barton, maid of honor, wore a street length sheath dress of cotton satin in a light shade of blue. Her accessories were blue, and she wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Jim Ford, Lamesa, was the best man. When the couple left on a wedding trip to Ruidoso, the bride wore a navy blue linen sheath with pink accessories.

The bride is a spring graduate of the Klondike High School, where she was majorette and class favorite for two years. She was also a member of the Future Homemakers of America, Future Teachers Association and annual staff.

The bridegroom attended the Lamesa Schools and is employed with Precision Exploration Company. Following their wedding trip they will be at home at 301 1/2 N. 1st in Lamesa.

The pattern, which is custom made, is sized with retail measurements for accurate markings that preserve the tissue for re-use. Although the sweater is not included, fabric allowance for the trim is.

It is recommended that you add the sweater, for it not only completes the look but will be a handy accessory for breezy days. Denim, linen, pique or cotton gabardine are suggested for wear now, but you'll want to make it again in flannel or lightweight tweed for fall.

Size 10 bust 34, waist 24, hips 35, length from nape of neck to waist 16 1/2 inches; size 12 bust 35, waist 25, hips 36, length from nape of neck to waist 16 1/2 inches; size 14 bust 36 1/2, waist 26 1/2, hips 37 1/2, length from nape of neck to waist 17 inches; size 16 bust 38, waist 28, hips 39, length from nape of neck to waist 17 1/2 inches; size 18 bust 40, waist 30, hips 41, length from nape of neck to waist 17 1/2 inches.

Size 12 requires 3 1/2 yards of 36 inch material for dress and 1/2 yard of 25-inch material for interfacing.

To order Pattern No. 1185, state size, enclose $1.00. Airmail handling requires 25 cents extra. Address American Designer Patterns, P. O. Box 535, G. P. O. Dept. B-5, New York 1, N. Y. 144-page Pattern Booklet XII—50 cents. If paid by check add 4 cents.

Lamesa Methodists Tell Date Of School

LAMESA — Mrs. Henry Norris is director for the First Methodist Church Bible School. Activities will begin with the Sunday School hour on June 27, and each department of the school will hold its closing service the following Sunday.

Department heads include Mrs. W. A. Stephens, nursery, Mrs. R. S. Wilton, kindergarten, Mrs. J. V. McKay, primary and Mrs. F. F. Salsler, juniors. Weekday school hours are from nine to eleven each morning.

Workers from the Clark Methodist Church, whose youth will attend the Bible School of the First Methodist Church, will be assisting. The Rev. Charles J. Cooke, pastor of the Clark Church said.

'ROUND TOWN With Lucille Pickle

If there is anything on earth as dear as good friends and a sense of humor, let me know.

Friday evening several hundred good friends of Superintendent Blankenship gathered to let him know how much they thought of him and his wonderful wife. If Big Spring people never do anything else, I'm glad they have got together to let him know they appreciate the headaches and the heartaches he has suffered for their children and our town.

The teachers gave Mrs. Blankenship an orchid which was her first. It was beautiful but not as much so as the smile that was on her face the entire evening.

One of the nicest parts of the program was the sixth grade set that sang three numbers. They are a lovely group of girls that are at the sweetest age. They seemed sincere, were so well poised and they sang beautifully. Here's hoping they stay as sweet as they are!

While the general theme was one of good cheer and praise, there were a lot of misty eyes, but the tears were from the genuine affection this couple's close friends feel for them.

I was very proud of being asked to sit by them which was exactly all I did but I love them as much as if I had given them something of great material value. I'm glad they are not moving away.

Big news broke at the Roy Tidwell home Saturday morning when Cpl. Buddy Cosby called to tell the folks he had become the father of a daughter. Mrs. Cosby, the former Pat Tidwell, gave birth to Cynthia Ilene at 4 a. m. Saturday at Beaumont Hospital in El Paso.

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Cosby.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Moldenhauer and their four children spent last weekend in Amarillo with the Marvin Jensen and Rex Johnson families.

Mrs. Ed Hart finally arrived in Japan after being on the high seas for two weeks. She landed at Yokohama and was met by her husband. They flew to Chitose AFB where they met Capt. and Mrs. George F. Williams and their family. Capt. Williams is a Big Spring man and at one time was employed at the Robinson grocery store. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Robinson are parents of Mrs. Hart.

The Harts are living in a housing unit at Crawford Field near Sapparo which is 25 miles from Chitose where he is stationed. So far, Mrs. Hart likes living in Japan just fine.

When Jan Baggett sets up house-keeping she will have a dear treasure in her china. Her grandmother, Mrs. Ruby Baggett of Electra, has almost completed a service for eight which she has painted and fired mostly in her spare time for the past five years. Mrs. Baggett took lessons in Vernon and has made a twelve service set for her daughter and another eight place set for another granddaughter.

The patterns she has chosen are original and Miss Baggett's is a wild rose. She is still working on the set which lacks the soup and bread and butter plates.

Jan will be married to Richard Deats on June 2.

Mrs. Bob Science of Corpus Christi is visiting in the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hale, Jr.

Mrs. J. F. Wheat is hoping to get to see President Eisenhower when he speaks at Baylor University on Friday. She is leaving Thursday for Waco to get her twins, Sue and Walt, both of whom are members of the Bands and Rhapsody in White, a mixed chorus, that will sing for the presidential appearance.

I hope the band doesn't get as flustered this time as it did when President Truman received a de- grease at Baylor. They had been practicing "Hail to the Chief" for weeks. Then they played it at the wrong time, and Mr. Truman walked on stage to some other number. However, I wasn't too familiar with "Hail to the Chief" so I was just as happy as though everything had gone off according to plans.

I'm working at the Herald office temporarily so if you have any little tidbits call me there and I will be very happy to hear from you—and you—and you.

Mrs. R. C. Hale who has been visiting with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Boykin, returned to her home in Carrollton Saturday. She was accompanied by two other daughters, Annie Hale of Dallas and Mrs. Roby Gravely and Sandra Kay of Fort Worth.

Straight Shooters NEW HAVEN, Conn. — When it comes to shooting, look out for the girls!

Ten secretaries employed at a big gun factory here have formed their own rifle team, and are threatening the records of men and women shooters alike.

The girls, members of the Winchester All-Secretary Rifle Team, have been shooting only a few months, but recently won their first match by defeating the local Notre Dame Academy team. They shoot against both men and women in competition, and will challenge any similar team in the country.

Eager Beavers To Work At Hospital

Members of the Eager Beavers Sewing Club will work at the Veterans Hospital Tuesday and Thursday of this week according to plans made at the meeting Friday. The group met in the home of Mrs. R. G. Barnett.

On Tuesday afternoon they will take the wheel chair patients out for an hour in the sun, and on Thursday their work will be in central supply.

At the next meeting scheduled in the home of Mrs. A. B. Jernigan, 707 E. 16th, at 2 p. m. the women plan to make cancer bandages.

Pack That Fine China Carefully

If you're worrying about packing fine china and valuable glass when you move, better make up your mind that time and patience pay off in the project.

Well-qualified to give advice on the subject is Charles B. Smith, a Philadelphia expert on antique Wedgwood. Smith, who has been packing his own fine china pieces for a trip to the New York Coliseum and the International Antiques Exhibition and Sale offers these tips:

1. Keep cartons small and pack light. No matter how well china and glass are padded with newspaper, weight increases pressure on bottom pieces and chances of breakage are greater.

2. Be sure to pad the bottom of the carton with crushed newspaper. Eight double pages are a minimum for a two-foot square box. Open the newspaper fully, then crush.

3. Be extra careful to pack sides of pieces so that they do not touch or rub. Corrugated paper is the best bet for packing between objects. If newspaper is used, be generous with it.

4. Do not pack a carton until it bulges. This causes rocking and unevenness which may result in damage.

5. The carton should be sturdy and well-sealed at corners.

6. Finally, pack plates on edge with several folds of paper wrapped in opposite directions under each piece. That way each plate bears its own weight and is protected on all edges.

Years ago Smith had a $50 breakage loss because of careless packing. It was an expensive lesson then, but now he thinks it was worth every penny — he hasn't had a damaged piece since.

MRS. JAMES T. DOTSON JR.

Wedding Vows Taken By Couple In Lamesa

LAMESA — Bettye Jean Johnson became the bride of James T. Dotson Jr. Saturday evening, in a garden ceremony read at Mrs. A. G. Barnard's home, 407 N. 16th.

The couple's parents are Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Johnson Jr. of Sulphur, Okla., and Mrs. James T. Dotson Sr. and the late Mr. Dotson, Nashville, Ark.

W. T. Hamilton, minister of the Lamesa Church of Christ, read the double ring ceremony before an arch entwined with lemon leaves and flowers, and flanked by baskets of white gladioli and peonies.

Mrs. Barnard played the traditional wedding music and also accompanied Mrs. Glenn Murry, Odessa, who sang, "Because," "The Lord's Prayer" and "At Dawning."

Sharon Beth Leatherwood of Lubbock, niece of the bride, was the flower girl and wore a yellow nylon dress.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length dress of Chantilly lace. It was fashioned with a scooped neckline and outlined in seed pearls, and an overskirt of lace over paper taffeta. Gauntlets over the hands completed the ensemble. Her bridal hat was encrusted with seed pearls and attached to a fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a white orchid showered with lilies of the valley atop a white Bible.

Matron of honor was the sister of the bride, Mrs. Wayne Leatherwood of Lubbock. She wore a dress of pink nylon net fashioned after the bride's. Bridesmaids were Mrs. B. K. Johnson, Lamesa, and Mickie Whisenant, Lubbock. Their dresses were of blue net over satin with fitted bodices which featured short jackets. Their tiny stand-up hats had half veils attached. The attendants carried colonial bouquets of white majestic daisies.

Coy Dotson, Walridge, Ark., was his brother's best man. Groomsmen were Ross Woodson and Charles Davis, both of Lamesa.

Following the exchange of vows, a reception was held on the lawn. The serving table featured the attendants' bouquets and a tiered wedding cake. Mrs. George Norman Jr., Mrs. Robert R. Martin of Lubbock, served, and Mrs. Charles Davis registered the guests. The couple was assisted in receiving the guests by their parents and the feminine attendants.

When the couple left on a wedding trip, the bride wore a white embroidered laces sheath dress with a navy finger tip duster. She chose navy and white accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid.

Guests attended from Brownfield, Abilene, Odessa, Lubbock, Big Spring, and Little Rock, Ark.

The bride was graduated from Lamesa High School in 1949. She has been the traveling instructor for General Telephone Company of the Southwest and at the time of her marriage, was located in Brownfield.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of Arkansas. He was stationed at Webb Air Base in Big Spring from 1952 to 1955. Since then he has been employed as a pharmacist at Evans Pharmacy in Lamesa. The couple will make their home in Nashville, Ark., where he has purchased a pharmacy.

Year End Meeting Is Held By Forum

The Woman's Forum concluded the year's work at the meeting Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. E. P. Driver with Mrs. C. M. Boles as cohostess.

Reports were heard from the project committee on the work at the Big Spring State Hospital. Workers stated that more men's shoes and sport shirts are needed as well as large sizes in dresses and underwear.

Mrs. C. E. Thomas, Jr., announced that a war bond bought by a club now disbanded had offered the cashed bond to the Forum to further the work at the hospital.

Announcement was made that old white sheets are badly needed for bandages for the cancer patients aided by the County Welfare Association. They may be taken to Mrs. Neil Norred or to the Welfare office.

Mrs. Carl Benson, program chairman for next year, discussed possible program topics and plans for socials.

Report from the City Federation was made by Mrs. Gil Jones.

Seventeen members were served refreshments.

CAMPUS CHATTER

By Margaret Pierce

It seems that the library has suddenly become popular with a great many of the Jayhawkers. We are wondering if the cause couldn't be the usual end-of-school, last minute rush on term papers!

The Sigma Delta Phi Club sponsored a barbecue and hayride last Friday night. There was a big turnout with the following attending: Willella Hanks, Marvin Wise, Lucy Jacobs, Robert Roberson, Janet Hogan, Phil Gore, Betty Richardson, Lael Roberts, Peggy Bradford, Jimmy King, Jackie Bills, Jimmy Merrick, Evelyn Cummings, Harold Baker, Shirley Ward, Jim Allen, Marjion Harrison, Jimmy Joe Robinson, Jo Ann Watkins, Kenneth Honeycutt, Laverne Cooper, Bob Garrett, Loretta Bennett, Ronald Farquhar, Tom Barron, John Dale Curtis, Barbara Abbott, Alvin Baker, Bob Patterson, Tommy Birkhead, Jimmy Burkholder, Homer Lucas, and Mr. John T. Clements, sponsor. "A good time was had by all!"

Our congratulations to Martha Winans who sang her way to a music scholarship at Hardin-Simmons University for next year. Martha visited the university last week-end to try-out for the scholarship.

A style show was held Wednesday morning during Activity Period. It was given by the Lass-O Club and featured members of the organization. The clothes were furnished by Margie's Dress Shop. Stage decorations were the courtesies of Good Housekeeping Furniture and Faye's Florist. Modeling the clothes were Willella Hanks, Marliou Staggs, Yvonne Peterson, Margaret Pierce, Louise Burchett, Edna Harell, Rita Gale, Belva Jo Wren, Jo Ann Watkins, Barbara Norwood, and Betty Hester. Alice Ann Martin was the dreamer in the stage show.

The Sophomore ball will be held next Friday night in the SUB. The graduation banquet will be held the following Tuesday night in the high school cafeteria.

Wedding Of Lamesa Girl Announced

LAMESA — Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Olds have told of the wedding of their daughter, Bobby Merrill, to Thomas Derrell Cowley of Big Spring. The couple was united in marriage Tuesday, by the Rev. E. L. Jones in a single ring ceremony read in the Bryan Street Baptist Church parsonage.

The bride chose for her wedding a dress of white faille designed with an elongated waistline, Peter Pan collar with buttons down the front. Her full skirt was worn over crinoline. She wore blue accessories and carried a white Bible. Her corsage was of pink rose buds. Audrey Neugent was the maid of honor. Her dress was of turquoise with a corsage of white carnations.

Wayland Gillett was best man. Following the exchange of vows a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Gillett.

The bride attended the Lamesa schools, and prior to her marriage, was employed at Caldwell News Photo. The bridegroom attended school in Farmington, Mo., and was stationed with the Air Force at Webb Air Base in Big Spring. The couple left immediately on a wedding trip to visit his parents in Farmington, Mo.

Chess Under Difficulties

Learning chess is hard enough, Mrs. H. C. Wisner thinks, but when one of the chess men is used as a teething ring by four-month-old Cherie, that does it! Maybe it looked like licorice to Cherie and she was disappointed in the taste; immediately after the picture was snapped, she registered a strong protest—and the game was at an end!

Search On For Chess Player; See Lt. Wisner

Is there a chess player in the house? Lt. H. C. Wisner, 1604A Virginia, is wondering about that, since he has just finished six chess games by mail. Now, he'd like a game at a shorter distance—say, just across the board.

Mrs. Wisner has been a pupil of the lieutenant, but she doesn't like to have to do the deep thinking that it takes to keep up with her husband in the game. She much prefers to sew, do needlepoint and leatherwork. She's learning to swim, too.

Both of them are amateur photographers. "He does the picture-taking," Mrs. Wisner remarked, "and I do the over and under-developing." Cherie, their young daughter, is very much opposed to their photographic activities when she is the subject.

Wisner, a meteorologist at Webb Air Force Base, is an instructor. (Here's hoping he'll instruct the boys to bring us some rain!) He has a degree in mathematics from the University of Utah, Salt Lake City, and a degree in meteorology from the University of Washington. He was a member of a chess club in Seattle.

It was while they were working as students at an amusement park that the two met. Mrs. Wisner, then a student at Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah, was employed during the summer months and Wisner was her employer.

She maintains that that was the only time he has been "the boss."

22-Year-Old Mom Returns To School Between Chores

WALTERBORO, S. C. — When 22-year-old Mrs. Lanier Hudson returns home in the afternoon, her 4-year-old daughter asks: "What did you learn in school today, mommie?"

Mrs. Hudson stopped school in the 10th grade to be married. She made up her mind long ago to finish high school and took a correspondence course last year. This year, she enrolled in the 12th grade of the Walterboro High School and will graduate in June.

Included in her subjects are bookkeeping, typing, shorthand, history, and glee club. Her teachers say she is a good student.

Mrs. Hudson's little girl, Cynthia Gail, is kept during school hours by her mother, Mrs. E. V. Kimbrell, who lives just across a road and who thinks the whole idea is just wonderful. Cynthia also likes the idea of her mother going to school but can't understand why she can't go with her.

Mrs. Hudson, who says she has ample spare time doing the house work and minding her child, goes to school daily at 8:45 a.m. She returns home to eat with her mother and daughter at 12:30 p.m. and goes back to school at 1:15 for another hour.

Housework is done in the evening and early in the morning. A rigid schedule is followed.

Company in school for Mrs. Hudson is her 15-year-old sister, Myrna Loyd, a sophomore, and her 16-year-old brother, E. V. Kimbrell, a junior. Another sister is in college and another brother is in grammar school. Her husband is a civilian employee at the Parris Island Marine Corps Recruit Depot.

but he always comes up with the reminder that he gave her a salary raise just before they were married.

Sackcloth--No Ashes--Is In Style

Just look what's happened to burlap! It has progressed from the farm to Fifth Avenue, and from potato sacks to high fashion garments.

Latest fashionable arrival in the sackcloth ranks is a group by Dan Barkin for style-conscious gals. Soems Barkin went sightseeing in a supermarket and became fascinated by potato sacks. He liked the texture of the burlap and he liked its sturdy no-nonsense quality. So he went tearing back to his designing board and turned out a whole collection in burlap.

Among the ten smart coats in the well-known farm fabric are two embroidered styles glamorous enough for important summer evenings.

One is a mandarin style with slash pockets and three-quarter sleeves, embroidered in various sizes of multicolored rings, giving a tapestry effect. The other, gently flared, features white embroidered scrollwork all over the burlap. The designer incorporates all currently popular silhouettes in the group, which includes slim, straight styles, back interest, classic box coats and fitted models.

The burlap comes in bright, clear colors such as Chinese red, black, turquoise, emerald green, sun gold and egg shell.

"Potatoes have been dressed in high-fashion burlap long enough," says Barkin. "Now the city girl has her turn."

And a girl who really fancies burlap may find accessories such as handbags to match.

Miss Anderson Feted At Tea Shower In Lamesa

LAMESA — Miss Betty Anderson was honored with a gift tea Friday evening in the home of Mrs. Cecil Martin. Cohostesses were Mrs. Joe Hamilton and Mrs. Carter Kelly.

The bride's chosen colors of blue and white were used in the decorations, with the serving table being laid with a white lace cloth over blue. Centering the table was an arrangement of white roses with white streamers coming from it with the names of the couple and their wedding date written in gold.

Miss Anderson is the bride-elect of Roy D. Andrew. Their wedding will be an event of May 26 in the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. J. O. Anderson of Seminole.

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

SECTION III BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, MAY 20, 1956 SECTION III

Yes, Sir! Real Wet Water!

Big Spring, long dry, has suddenly shown flickering signs of life. The famous landmark, once a gushing stream pouring from a rocky shallow cavern, has started dripping water once more. Shown is the pool of water already collected, along with rain runoff. At the rear are small trickles which are coming from fissures in the rocky wall.

Trickle In Big Spring Tickles Big Springers

By SAM BLACKBURN

It's a good trickle — if you can do it. And a better one if it keeps on trickling.

"Big Spring," legendary watering place of the Indians and pioneers and congregating spot for the early settlers in Howard County, is running again!

A pool of water is slowly forming in the "pothole" at the base of the rugged cliff. Back in the cavern portion of the spring, the ceilings are heavily saturated and a constant "drip drip" of water feeds the pool. At one end, out of the rocky wall, a jet of water, comparable in size to that of an open faucet, patters down into the reservoir.

AT LONG LAST!

So, technically at least, Big Spring has come to life after years of complete inactivity. How long ago since the spring ran water is a debatable issue. Estimates run back as far as 30 years.

There is a story that once upon a time, after the spring had dried up, it suddenly revived. Amusement was expressed by those who saw the miracle. Investigation into the source of this crystal fluid was made and lo — the mystery was solved.

A leak had developed in an old city water reservoir nearby and the escaping water had worked its way through crevices in the rock to emerge at the spring. When the leak was repaired, the spring promptly dried up.

Told of the new revival of life at the Big Spring, Herbert Whitney, city manager, mused on the possibility that another break in some water line in the vicinity might have occurred.

When the city punched down water wells in the general vicinity of the Big Spring years ago to supplement the water supply of the city, the famous fountain promptly shut down business.

The wells near the spring have not been pumped in some time, Whitney said.

"WATER TABLE RISING?" It is possible, some observers think, that cessation of the use of the wells may have permitted the water level in the spring area to build up — perhaps to the point where it has brought the spring back into operation.

Skeptical folk stubbornly insist there is something wrong — that the revival of life in "Big Spring" is not a normal thing. Not enough rains have fallen, they insist, to restock the underground streams which once fed it.

Regardless, the spring is running again.

Census Report Shows 'Services' Gross $4 Million Here In 1954

Howard County's 185 "service establishments," as defined by the Bureau of the Census, had total receipts in 1954 of $4,009,000. Combined yearly payroll of these establishments was $1,081,000 — the pay checks going to 496 employees of whom 490 worked full time in the pay period ending on Nov. 15.

These figures were revealed in the preliminary report of the Bureau of the Census of the U. S. Department of Commerce.

Proprietors actively engaged in the operation of unincorporated businesses in Howard County at that date numbered 185.

The report of the census bureau is broken down into three categories.

One is called the "personal service" division and includes such businesses as barber and beauty shops, cleaning and dyeing plants, laundry and laundry services; garment alteration and repair establishments; funeral services; photographic studios, shoe repair shops and shine parlors as well as other businesses which provide service to their customers.

In this bracket, Howard County reported 67 places and receipts, were $1,295,000.

Second division is classed as automotive services. The establishments bracketed in this group are general automobile repair shops, battery service shops, tire repair shops, body repair shops, paint shops, automobile rentals, storage garages, parking lots, auto laundries, and other miscellaneous automotive services.

Twenty-five establishments in Howard County were listed as primarily engaged in automotive repair, parking and other automotive services. These had a gross income of $461,000.

Establishments classified as "all other services" numbered 93 and had receipts of $2,333,000. This group includes business services, miscellaneous repairs, amusement and recreation, motion pictures, hotels, tourist courts, motels and camps.

Martin County is credited with a total of 26 establishments, including 12 who have paid employees. Total receipts for all were $273,000 and the firms having payrolls contributed $206,000 of this total.

Annual payroll was $52,000 to 27 paid employees. There were 25 proprietors actively engaged in operating their establishments. Personal service bracket showed eight establishments with receipts of $95,000. Two automotive places were listed and receipts not declared. There were 16 other establishments. Report on receipts in these establishments was also withheld.

Mitchell County had a total of 76 businesses reported of which 34 had payrolls. Total receipts for all places was $1,158,000. The establishments with payrolls provided $983,000 of the total. Annual payroll was $230,000 to 135 employees. Seventy-nine proprietors were listed as actively participating in the operation of their establishments. Thirty-three personal service places reported receipts of $378,000; automotive services, six in number, contributed $57,000 to the total receipts. All other service places numbered 37 and had receipts of $723,000.

Scurry County reported a total of 130 establishments of which 64 had payrolls. Total receipts were $2,193,000 and the payroll places accounted for $1,719,000 of the amount. Annual payroll was $429,000 to 294 workers. There were 144 proprietors who were actively engaged in operation of their businesses. Forty-six personal service establishments showed $683,000 in receipts. Seventeen automotive services had receipts of $255,000. Sixty-seven other places accounted for $1,255,000 of the annual receipts.

Only three establishments were listed in Sterling County with total receipts of $55,000. There was no official breakdown on the three groups. Glascock County reported three establishments with no figures on receipts. The Boarden County report in the census booklet was blank across the board.

He Didn't Need Jets For Assist

SUMTER, S.C. (AP)—A junkyard employe said he heard a peculiar noise as he was using an acetylene torch on a supposedly empty Jato (jet assisted takeoff) bottle.

He took off. So did the Jato bottle.

There was a loud blast and four minor fires were set. One was about half a mile from the junkyard.

The employe, Leon H. Osborne, escaped injury.

The noise, smoke and fires gave rise to rumors that a jet plane had crashed in the area.

Don't Let That Fly Get Started

The weather is so utterly unpredictable these days that it gives us some pause to observe that summer is upon us, that from now on we will have consistently warm to hot weather.

That means many things, but one thing for certain is that it means flies. So far, unseasonable northers and the prolonged drought have combined to hold down the fly menace, but one of these fine days there will be a new hatch — and we'll be off to the races. While the odds are against it, we might even have rain, and that would stop up matters.

Over and over again, sanitarians have demonstrated that the only real effective way to control flies is to never let them get started. Flies defy mathematics when it comes to the processes of reproduction. The potential progeny of one fly within the compass of a single season is almost beyond calculation.

Flies are far worse than a mere nuisance. The fly that perches on an infected neighbor will gladly rest on your food; the one that munches on excrement will make your baby's fingers his roost; the one that swarms over an uncovered garbage can will placidly settle on the edge of your milk glass.

We talk about "summer complaint"; we ought to more honestly talk about fly complaint.

The method of effectively controlling the fly menace is simple — cleanliness and carelessness. First of all, see to it that your premises are kept clean and that the garbage containers are kept covered.

This will eliminate places for flies to feed and breed. If you live in town, for goodness sake be considerate enough not to keep livestock. If you must keep chickens or pets, make sure that the refuse is gathered systematically and properly shielded from flies. Nothing makes a better breeding spot for flies than animal manure.

Spraying your garbage cans or dusting them with DDT periodically is a good step. It won't hurt to spray or dust around your doors and screens, too. Then make sure your screens are in good repair.

The city can be of great help by operating its DDT sprayer, but at best this is just an auxiliary step. Another area in which the city can be of assistance is by insisting on enforcement of the ordinance requiring garbage cans to be covered — and once they are covered to require the garbage crews to see that lids are put back tightly or securely on the cans.

Merchants could help, too, by stocking standard lids as well as cans and lids. Fully half the trouble comes from people who secretly rebel at the idea of having to buy and entire new garbage assembly simply because the lid got blown off or got mashed.

One final word — when picnicking, please be considerate of others. Alongside of some people on outings in public places, pigs are good housekeepers. Just think of the other fellow in the park or the ones who may be using that spot tomorrow. Leave the tables and grounds like you would want to find them.

Johnson Seen As Likely Veep Nominee

WASHINGTON — Out of these four names will come the nominee on the Democratic party's ticket this year for the presidency—Messrs. Stevenson, Harriman, Kefauver and Truman.

That's the way the situation looks today—less than three months before the national convention meets in Chicago.

The chances of a "dark horse" are remote. For it is apparent that what is developing in the contest for the Democratic presidential nomination is not a "dark horse" setup. It is out of a deadlock between factions with deep-seated cleavages that a "dark horse" customarily emerges.

The friendship, however, between the principal candidates this time add the close association among the leaders is such that any candidate might yield to the other without a trace of bitterness.

The strongest campaigner in the group is Harry Truman. If it is considered by the Democratic leaders generally that President Eisenhower is really invincible this time, there would be much more of an inclination to let the former President make the race. The politicians—with the exception of those in the South—could agree on Truman faster than on anybody else.

Most of the talk about Truman has arisen from the belief that a stalemate would develop. But the forces of Harriman and Stevenson could readily get together, and so could the forces of Harriman and Kefauver.

At the moment Stevenson is in the lead. He has more strength within the party organizations than has Harriman or Kefauver. But the Democratic nomination in 1956 is not as valuable as it will be in 1960. Stevenson might consider he would have a better chance four years hence than now. It could influence him at the last moment to let a Harriman-Kefauver ticket go to the country and take its licking.

The main reason why the Democratic nomination seemed worth contending for this time was the prospect a few months ago that Ike wouldn't run on account of his illness. But, as the President now appears to be getting better and better in health, the Democratic nomination may become more valuable to Harriman than to Stevenson. The New York governor has plenty of his own funds to contribute to the race.

Also, he would not go out of office at Albany if defeated for the presidency.

At present writing, the South holds the balance of power. There will, of course, be a fight at the Chicago convention on the civil-rights issue. Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas could become the vice-presidential nominee either with Harriman or Stevenson. The Texas senator has behind him the powerful Sam Rayburn, speaker of the House, who, if it were not for his 74 years, would be the logical second man for the ticket this year.

As it is, Speaker Rayburn can have a good deal to say about the second place on the ticket. If selected for the vice-presidential nomination, Mr. Johnson would not have to resign from the Senate or from his position as majority leader during the campaign. He would merely leave from the Senate floor to the rostrum in the event the Democratic party were successful at the November election. Certainly his heart ailment would be less of a handicap in the Vice President's chair than if he were to remain as party leader in the Senate.

So it may be a Harriman-Johnson ticket or a Stevenson-Johnson ticket if Senator Kefauver doesn't want second place or if his convention forces aren't strong enough to get it for him. Obviously a coalition of Stevenson and Harriman forces could control the majority of the Chicago convention and name the ticket.

So, whichever way the situation is viewed, the names for the top place are Stevenson, Harriman and Kefauver, with Truman as a compromise choice of all three, especially if there is a feeling on the part of the organization leaders in the populous states that only the former president can make the kind of campaign needed to win. A Truman-Johnson ticket cannot be crossed off as impossible, for there is an awareness in the Northern cities that something must be done to placate the Southern wing of the party—and Sam Rayburn and Harry Truman are close friends and political allies.

A Look At Politics

Ten States Hold Key To Control Of U. S. Senate

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON, May 19 (AP)—Ten states which will elect 11 senators appear to hold the key to control of next year's Senate. In all, there will be 35 contests this fall involving seats now held by 18 Republicans and 17 Democrats.

Although both parties will campaign vigorously in other areas in an effort to chip away the other's strength, opposing strategists feel the outcome largely will be settled in these states:

New York, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Kentucky (two seats at stake) Ohio, Iowa, Idaho, Nevada and Oregon.

In these vital contests, Republicans will be risking six and Democrats five seats they now hold. The Senate now is divided 48-47, with one vacancy to be filled by appointment of Democratic Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler of Kentucky. To gain control, Republicans would have to take a net of one seat away from their opponents and re-elect Vice President Nixon. Nixon then could break a 48-48 tie vote and give the Republicans organizational control of the Senate.

Outside of the crucial states, there are at least six in which the GOP is expected to have some difficulty in retaining its present hold. These include California, Colorado, Wisconsin, Indiana, Illinois and Utah.

Democrats face Republican opposition in varying degrees in Washington, West Virginia, Oklahoma, Missouri and Arizona but GOP hopes are not particularly high in those areas.

Democrats apparently can rack up as certain to remain in their hands seats in North Carolina, South Carolina (2), Arkansas, Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana and Florida.

Republicans are confident of retaining seats they now hold in North Dakota, South Dakota, Kansas, New Hampshire and Vermont. With some candidates not yet nominated and the general election five months away, here is how the situation seems to stand in the critical 15 states:

NEW YORK — Democratic Sen. Herbert H. Lehman will be the object of an all-out Republican attack to defeat him. If Eisenhower's popularity holds up, Republicans think they can gain a seat with a strong candidate. Underground efforts still are continuing to get former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey into the race.

KENTUCKY — Two Senate seats are at stake since the death of Democratic Sen. Alben Barkley. Republican John Sherman Cooper, ambassador to India and former senator, is almost sure to go after one. Republicans think they can gain one, possibly both, if Eisenhower comes close to carrying the state as he did in 1952.

OREGON — President Eisenhower is credited with judging Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay into the race for the Republican nomination to oppose Democratic Sen. Wayne Morse. Philip Hitchcock is giving McKay a battle for the nomination. Republicans want to beat Morse, a former Republican, more than any other candidate. Eisenhower policies are an issue. Democrats now top the GOP in vote registrations.

CONNECTICUT — Democrats think they have a real chance of turning out Republican Sen. Prescott Bush. Eisenhower's popularity and business conditions in October may play a large part in the result.

MARYLAND — This will be a battlefield with Democratic former Sen. Millard Tydings campaigning vigorously against Republican Sen. John Marshall Butler. It will be a vindication battle for Tydings against Butler, who defeated him six years ago with the help of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy.

PENNSYLVANIA — Democrat Joseph Clark, former mayor of Philadelphia, is lined up for a vigorous campaign against Republican Sen. James Duff. On the basis of their 1954 victory in the governor's race, the Democrats have high hopes of sinking Duff.

OHIO — Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche is generally believed to have an edge over Republican Sen. George Bender. An unanswered question is whether Lausche can attract in the Senate race the Republican votes credited with helping him gain five terms as governor.

IOWA — Democrats say Eisenhower's popularity is suspect in the state and predict that a revolt against low farm prices will unsettle Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper. Republicans say the farm situation is better, believe Hickenlooper will pull through.

NEVADA — Democrats are making desperate efforts to get Sen. Alan Bible to reverse his decision not to run again. Republicans probably will settle on Rep. Clifton Young as their candidate; they believe they have a good chance to pick up a seat.

IDAHO — Republican Sen. Herman Welker has primary opposition and some trouble within his own party. The GOP hopes the Democrats nominate former Sen. Glen Taylor, who won the nomination in 1954 but was defeated handily by GOP Sen. Henry C. Dworshak. Both sides say this one is up in the air.

Around The Rim

The Passing Of The Little Country Church

Had an opportunity the other day to see one of those old-time country churches. I mean more than a century old, when fashioning of timbers must have been done by hand, and much of the construction itself represented manual labor of hour upon hour, day upon day.

Old enough to be an antique. Not one of the cheaper frame structures common to the western frontier when people, with little worldly goods to share with the Lord, had to erect simple places of worship.

Old enough to reveal the artistry of crafts gone by, to be mellowed by countless suns and rains, to be worn by the tread of footsteps of the faithful long since gone.

Done in a Gothic theme, of course. Of simple lines, of plain rectangular shape, with a little outside porch that opened directly into the sanctuary. High windows of stained glass. Rows of straight-backed wooden pews, arrayed primly on each side of the center aisle leading directly to the altar — another simple device of hand-carved wood.

Overhead, the exposed rafters and cross members, of sturdy dimension, colored by age alone. The steeply pitched roof lines.

And, of course, outside and over the little porch, the steeple, square and stiff, but with a spire that has a grace all its own. And in the belfry the traditional bell that beckoned the flock to devotional hours, that gladdened announced the Sabbath morning, that pealed happily to proclaim a marriage, or tolled mournfully to announce a funeral.

All of this in a setting of natural beauty, of course. You have to go back to the older regions to find the little country church that exists now mostly in paintings. To towns that have settled comfortably into an unhurried existence. Where 'tis pleasanter to recall fond memories of the past than it is to press over the hill to the future. And invariably in this sort of town great trees surround the country church, to cast their cooling shadows in the summer days, to lend protecting boughs when winter comes.

Oh, it brings nostalgia, to see this evidence of customs gone by.

No need, of course, to find fault with the handsome edifices that are today's churches. Cushioned benches and air-conditioning are welcome things, and carpet on the floor adds a hush. But one may wonder if, generations ago when the congregation perforce sat stiffly erect on those hard wooden pews, the parson's ominous warning of hellfire and brimstone might not have evoked graver response than might be true today. Certainly, worship was a thing to be taken seriously, and the atmosphere of the little country church must have lent something to this.

It's a pity, in a way, to know that this example of early Americana, this piece of tradition of the freedom of worship, is passing from the scene.

The sentimentalists might be moved to campaign to preserve their little country church houses, and even if the congregation grows, must move into larger and more modern quarters, perhaps a patron saint — even a community fund — could acquire these properties, and retain them as sort of museum pieces. Many a town I know would be the better if, on one of its central corners, a little country church still stood, with doors open for any who cared to enter for meditation.

This is part of our richest heritage. It seems a shame to lose it.

Soviet Initiative In Military Thinking

Returning to Washington after two weeks in London and Paris, I cannot help feeling that we may be missing one of the main points of the Soviet decision to demobilize about a million men. "I do not think," said Mr. Dulles at his press conference on Tuesday that "what the Soviet Union is here doing . . . is calculated appreciably to alter their military power." Mr. Dulles was implying that for this reason the Soviet move had no bearing upon the military policy of the NATO countries. Since the Soviet military power will be just as great as before the reduction, the menace to be guarded against will be just as great as ever.

This is not, I believe, the way the Soviet announcement will be read in Western Europe. The question there is more likely to be this: If the Soviet Union can demobilize something like a quarter of its men under arms and still be just as powerful as ever, how many men could be demobilized — or, in the case of the Germans, not conscripted — without making Western Europe less secure.

The more it is proved by Mr. Dulles that the Soviets have lost nothing by economizing military manpower, the more impressive will be the example they have set. For Britain, France and Germany are short of industrial manpower. Military service is regarded as a wasteful and tiresome thing. The action of the Soviets will be judged not so much as a gesture for peace but to see whether it is an example of military realism.

The question is whether in the revolution of military technology amidst which we are living the Soviet Union is seizing the initiative in the strategic thinking about that revolution. There has been much discussion here in Washington as to whether the Soviet Union has a lead in certain fields — as for example guided missiles. But what we need to ask ourselves also is whether the Soviet Union is adapting its high policy more quickly than we are to the new military developments.

The Soviets have been ahead of us in realizing the political consequences of what happened in 1949 when they broke their monopoly and began to develop nuclear weapons. They saw, as our official policy-makers so long refused to see, that the unavoidable consequence would be the growth of neutralism in all countries that do not themselves possess nuclear weapons. When a country is unarmed for modern nuclear warfare, it has no deterrent power and no defensive power, it must move towards a neutral position between the nuclear powers.

The Soviets saw this and very promptly made their own the encouragement of neutralism. This piece of military realism on their part has increased enormously their political influence in Asia. We have just begun to come around to it in the past few months. In the visit of President Soekarno of Indonesia and the coming visit of Pandit Nehru, we are beginning to try to repair the damage of an ill-judged policy.

Thanks to Churchill's genius, the West was ahead of the Soviets in realizing the political consequences of the second military revolution, that of the hydrogen bomb. This second revolution had led us to the acknowledgement at the summit meeting in Geneva that the great nuclear powers themselves are in a military stalemate and that they cannot contemplate war as an instrument of their policies.

We are now in a third phase of this evolution in strategic thinking. It has to do primarily with the adaptation of Western European military policy to the military stalemate which was acknowledged at Geneva. The NATO army is in trouble because of a growing skepticism as to whether it reflects a right estimate of the coming military situation. I was surprised to find how far this skepticism has gone, how deep is the questioning in high quarters abroad as to the true military value of much that never has been questioned before. As an example of how drastic the re-examination is, there is serious thought being given in Great Britain to the abolition of Fighter Command — of the glorious service which in 1940 won the Battle of Britain. The argument today is that Britain cannot be defended successfully by interceptors against the modern super-sonic bombers. The re-examination does not stop there. It has begun to reach out towards the ground forces in Western Germany.

It is against this background, I believe, that the Soviet action needs to be interpreted. The question is not really whether the Soviets are beguiling and deceiving us but whether they are going to persuade Western Europe that they know how to show the way to security and prosperity. Certainly in this matter of reducing military personnel, the door on which they are pushing is already ajar.

Mobile Band

CUSTER, Mich. (AP) — The Brandenburg and Buffenbarger band, its founders proudly say, is like no other band in the land. It plays in parades but the boys don't like to march. So a neighbor pulls them in a tractor and wagon.

The eight-man band was organized by Sewey Brandenburg and Bill Buffenbarger just because they figured this western Michigan village (pop. 200) needed one.

They like to boast that their music may not be good but it's loud. The band was practicing in Brandenburg's garage one when a windstorm blew away the roof and two walls.

"At least, I guess it was the wind," said Brandenburg. "But I'm afraid we loosened that building up considerably with our practicing."

Bringing Out The Best Within Us

A friend of mine was once lunching with the late Henry Ford. The great automobile manufacturer asked him, "Who's your best friend?"

My friend started to name some people who might fall into this category. But Ford just shook his head and reached into his pocket for a pen.

"No," Ford said, "I'll tell you your best friend is." And then he took the pen and wrote these words on the tablecloth, "Your best friend is the person who brings out of you the best that is within you."

I heard the other day of a charming, even significant, compliment a man gave his wife on their wedding anniversary. I wish I had thought of it and said it to my own wife. This man told his wife, "I not only love you for what you are, I love you for what I want to be when I am with you."

People can have a great creative effect on each other. We interact with other people and this causes things to happen to us. The great figures of history — Jesus, Moses, Gandhi — possessed to a higher degree this quality of being able to lift people out of themselves and make something better of them. They did not give people something they did not have before, but by their example and human nature brought out of people the best they had within them.

The times, too, can often bring out the best in us. The more they demand of us, the more we seem able to give. During the darkest days of the American Revolution, Thomas Paine wrote: "These are the times that try men's souls. The summer soldier and the sunshine patriot will, in this crisis, shrink from the service of their country; but he that stands it now, deserves the love and thanks of man and woman. Tyranny, like hell, is not easily conquered; yet we have this consolation with us, the harder the conflict, the more glorious the triumph. . . . And these times brought out the best in the American colonists and gave us the freedoms we prize in the United States today.

Each of us is a mixture of good and bad. These forces are often engaged in conflict within us, and indeed we are involved in this struggle throughout our lives. When we employ right thinking, faith, and character to bring out the tremendous potential of good that is within us, we are then filled with pure joy because we have mastered ourselves, and scarcely any happiness equals that.

But, when we settle for our worst, or less than our best, we begin to feel vaguely unworthy and unhappy. Inevitably, we must explain to ourselves why we are not living at our best. We try to justify this fact to ourselves unconsciously by a process called rationalization. By this we mean the impossible effort to make the irrational into a rational concept and to make black appear to be white. In other words, we lie to ourselves. And such lying to oneself causes inner conflict, leaving one pathetically mixed up. Nevertheless, we all try this unhappy process at one time or another.

Fortunately, there is a power which, in effect, is the best friend of each of us. That power is God. It is amazing what his creative force can do in bringing the best out of people. God can take a person who is mixed up, in conflict, overcome by his weaknesses, and make him into a well integrated, strong, and effective person. Through a process of personality change, the best in an individual becomes uppermost. Perhaps this is the ultimate meaning of life on earth, to bring out the best within us.

Door-To-Door Car Salesmen On Way Back

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Remember the automobile salesman who used to call on you before the war, but hasn't been back since?

Well, automobile salesmen are calling once again in all places. Flint—a car manufacturing center of 163,143. And what's more, they're doing their peddling door-to-door.

The campaign was launched by Flint auto dealer George G. Spaulding in a move to boost lagging car sales.

Spaulding says his sales went up 30 per cent the first week. He explains: "I've heard it said many times that 'if cars are so hard to sell, how come a salesman has never called on me at home and tried to sell me one?'"

Using teams of salesmen working both sides of the street, Spaulding set out to sell door to door. Some householders, he says, were so startled at having a car salesman call they were "shocked" into signing an order.

But even with his foot in the door a salesman can't close a car deal on the spot. It might involve an appraisal, a credit rating or some other matter.

To avoid the chance of a hot prospect cooling off, Reie the salesman consults the head office. Spaulding sends the "head office" along on the sales trip.

Two platoons of 13 men each go out on alternate weekday nights with an assistant sales manager. Each man is assigned to one side of a street, working from 4 p.m. until dark.

When a prospect is turned up, the sales manager can make an immediate appraisal if a trade-in is involved and close the deal on the spot. A station wagon used to transport the sales crew is also available for demonstration rides.

Silo Poison

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — University of Minnesota researchers are conducting experiments on the "silo gas" which killed three Minnesota farmers in 1955. The gas was identified as nitrogen oxide. Farmers were warned against going inside silos during-filling or for at least a week or 10 days after

Bible Words for Today

LUKE 6:31, 36. — "And as you wish that men would do to you, do so to them . . . Be merciful, even as your Father is merciful." (RSV)

These two summarizations by Jesus of our ethical obligations are terse and clear. The former is termed the Golden Rule because it is such a majestic guide for our relations with our fellow men when it is kept in its context. It is so necessary to apply, it in all our inter-personal relations.

The latter is the motive and driving power for this way of living. We are to do as God does. "He is kind to the ungrateful and the selfish." He is merciful as the Old Testament declares in so many places. To be like Him we, too, are to treat others with the same kindness and consideration. Then when we love our neighbor as ourselves, we are better informed about the course we are to pursue and how we are to proceed in all our dealings with them.

All of our ethical obligations are contingent upon our conviction and spirit when fashioned after God's Fatherly character, and practiced as loyal sons of His, as Jesus did. Upon this foundation the integrity and honor of human life rests.

Take your problems to Church this week -millions leave them there!

This morning at the market a reporter questioned me:

- Q. You're a home maker and mother?
A. Yes.
- Q. Do you and your family attend Church?
A. Every week, unless prevented by illness.
- Q. Surely you don't take the children when they're small?
A. Oh yes. It's been proved that habits formed during the first five years establish a pattern for life.
- Q. When it's raining or snowing doesn't it often seem best to stay home?
A. No. Bad weather doesn't usually keep us from doing other things we want to do. Besides, children go to school on rainy days so why not to Church and Bible School?
- Q. Then you feel regular worship is good for a family?
A. Not only good but necessary. Religious training is the fourth R, and the most vital part of our learning to live.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

First Love Is Lost

Susan Hayward is shown in a romantic scene with Ray Danton in "I'll Cry Tomorrow." Miss Hayward portrays the life of Lillian Roth, a Broadway star who turned to alcohol after the death of her fiancé, played by Danton.

TOPS ON TEE-VEE

Jack Benny Program For 6:30 On Channel Four

John Nesbitt's true story of a man's desperate race to develop a synthetic insulin for his diabetic wife unfolds on "Telephone Time" this afternoon at 4 p. m. on KBBT-TV. You'll see Osa Massen as Eva Saxl, and Steven Geray as Victor, the husband.

A call from an all-night disc jockey awakens Jack Benny at 4 a. m., thus beginning an exhausting day for the Waukegan wit on "The Jack Benny Program" to be seen at 6:30 p. m. What Jackson goes through with in the early hours shouldn't happen to anybody. Later in the day, after a shattering experience with Rochester, Don Wilson and The Sportsmen drop by to plague Jack further with a hilarious rendition of "Red Red Robin."

GISELE MacKENZIE

Gisele MacKenzie swaps networks for an evening to star in "The Hat With the Roses" on "General Electric Theater" at 7 o'clock. Singing star of the "Hit Parade," Miss MacKenzie portrays an algebra teacher at a small girl's college, who finds it difficult to be friendly with the people around her. One girl in particular makes life difficult and when both find themselves at the school during a holiday, the girl tries to make her the butt of ridicule by sending her a ludicrous hat with roses on it.

ED SULLIVAN GUESTS

Marcel Marceau, France's outstanding master of pantomime, leads off a glittering array of talent on "The Ed Sullivan Show" which Channel Four carries live from the CBS network at 9 p. m. Other guests will include singing star, Teresa Brewer; England's number one singing sensation, David Whitfield; the veteran comedy team of Smith and Dale; Maria Tallchief and Nicholas Magallanes and their dancers from the City Center Theater; and the outstanding French singing group, Les Petits Chanteurs de Granby.

CINEMA COMMENT

Again, it's a good movie week in Big Spring, both with new films and old ones making the second engagement. There is a pleasing lack of double-bills.

"The Harder They Fall" stars Humphrey Bogart, which should be attractive enough. Like John Wayne, Bogie has a large personal following, mainly because even in the poorest movies the old veteran carries himself with aplomb. Bogie's latest is the inside story of the fight rackets.

One of the top new films for the week is "Lease of Life," a British prize-winner. A Protestant religious movie, an indication of its worth may be had in the comment of the "Catholic World," a church publication: "... this is one of those rare films — a total joy."

Among the older films worth seeing again: "Artists and Models," a girly Martin and Lewis comedy; "Not As A Stranger," a medical drama; "Night of The Hunter," which you should see from the first; "Picnic," one of the top films of 1956; and "Rose Tattoo," for which Anna Magnani won the Academy Award.

"Rock Around The Clock," billed as the true story of Rock 'N Roll, doesn't have much of a plot, but the music makes up for it. There wasn't room for both.

"Top Banana," a Phil Silvers comedy, is also lacking in much of a story, but the girls, gags, girls, music and girls make a plot beside the point.

After a long wait, Big Springs finally may see the film for which Susan Hayward almost won the Academy Award. "I'll Cry Tomorrow" is the story of Lillian Roth, the Broadway star who turned alcoholic, slid to Skid Row, and was re-made through love. Highly recommended for those who enjoy emotional drama.

True Story Of Lillian Roth Is Sahara Feature

"I'll Cry Tomorrow" is a film with plenty of emotional impact. It is the story of Lillian Roth, the Broadway star who rose to fame, then plunged into 16 years of alcoholism. The film is the story of how Miss Roth rose above her weakness.

Starring Susan Hayward and Eddie Albert, the movie shows at the Sahara Drive-In Theatre beginning Thursday.

Miss Roth was a beautiful girl, deprived of a normal childhood by an ambitious mother, probably the beginning of her emotional instability. When she lost her "first love" by death a short time before they were to be married, Miss Roth began the downhill slide. First it was drinking to help her forget, then drinking to wash away the sight of her vanishing audience, finally drinking in remorse and self pity.

Lillian recovered from a drinking bout one morning to find herself married to an immature aviation cadet. He soon left her. Then she bounced into a marriage with a brutal sadist, whose treatment pushed her to attempt suicide. The attempt failed, but then along came Curt McGuire, a former alcoholic who helped Lillian back up from the gutter. In the final scene, Miss Roth appears on television to tell her story in an attempt to encourage other unfortunates.

Anyone who saw that original telecast won't forget it. People who see the movie based on Lillian Roth's life won't forget, either. Miss Hayward came close to winning an Academy Award for her performance.

Showing on a double bill with "I'll Cry Tomorrow" is an atomic adventure film, "Uranium Boom," with Dennis Morgan and Patricia Medina.

Westminster Head Finds Movie Work

Canon Edward Carpenter of London's famed Westminster Abbey had never dreamed of working in the movies, but it happened in the filming of "Lease of Life." Rev. Carpenter, however, does not appear on the screen. Instead, he was employed as a technical advisor to assure religious authenticity in the film.

Hall of Fame, Frisch played in eight World Series and two All-Star Games, and managed the St. Louis Cardinals, the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Chicago Cubs during his career.

Rock 'N Roll Story

Lisa Gaye and Earl Barton dance to modern rhythm in this scene from "Rock Around The Clock," as Bill Haley, behind the microphone, provides the music.

Rock 'N Roll Fans Should Enjoy 'Rock Around Clock'

Fans of the current Rock 'N Roll craze should enjoy "Rock Around The Clock," playing Thursday through Saturday at the Ritz Theatre.

All the top figures in the latest "new sound" are in the film: Bill Haley and his Comets, the Platters (Ernie Freeman Combo), Tony Martinez and his band, Freddie Bell and his Bellboys, Alan Freed, Johnny Johnston and Alix Talton. Some of the numbers include: "Rock Around The Clock," "Rock-A-Beat," "Boogie," "See You Later, Alligator," "Happy Baby," "Razle Dazle" and "R-O-C-K."

The story, following the development of Rock 'N Roll music, finds

Johnston, an unemployed band manager, running into a small town band, Bill Haley and his Comets. Johnston notes how the teen-agers are packed in to hear Haley's new rhythm. He also meets and falls in love with Lisa Gaye, partner to her brother in a dance duo.

Johnston packs off with his discoveries to New York to get the aid of a woman booking agent, Alix Talton. But Alix wants Johnston himself, and begins tossing obstacles in the way. In spite of all this, however, the band succeeds and Alix is left holding the bag.

'Big Knife' Is Inside Look At Movie Colony

"The Big Knife," playing Wednesday and Thursday at the Jet Drive-In Theatre, is a story of violence, greed and ambition. It is a peek into the private life of a big-time film star, the people around him and the forces that motivate them.

It also gives Jack Palance, known mostly as a screen villain, a chance to play the hero. He is ably supported by a cast including Ida Lupino, Wendell Corey, Jean Hagen, Rod Steiger, Shelley Winters and Ika Chase. The story is based on a controversial stage play by William O'Connell.

The camera Hollywood turns on itself—doesn't make a pretty picture, but then it's not as bad as the picture presented by the so-called expose magazines. "The Big Knife" is the story of a man who refuses to surrender his integrity despite forceful pressure on the part of a powerful producer in a big studio. The film won an award at the Venice Film Festival.

Johnny Johnston Is World Traveler

If any song could theme Johnny Johnston's life, it's the classical "A Wandering Minstrel I." Johnston appears in the film "Rock Around The Clock."

Johnston left school in Kansas City for the West Coast, traveled to Central America. From there he went as a mess boy on a liner to Hawaii, Australia, China and Japan. He worked as a bellboy back to Chicago, and toured Midwest taverns with a ukelele.

Later, Johnston migrated between New York and Hollywood and he slowly rose to fame in radio, TV and movies.
