Snow Melted In Search For Clues

A civilian defense worker uses a weed burning device to melt the top layer of snow in an effort to find clues to the death of three women found in a cave in Starved Rock State Park near Ottawa, Ill.

Police Sift Clues In Brutal Slayings

OTTAWA, Ill. (AP) — Authorities today ordered a roundup of known poachers for questioning in an investigation of the brutal slaying of three prominent women.

Men sifted snow through a huge screen today in the hope of finding additional clues to the killer or killers.

The tree limb was blood-smeared and authorities said it could have been used in the bludgeoning-slaying of the women.

U.S. Hopes To Hike Export Business By Spending Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government hopes that by spending about 10 billion dollars to promote exports it can increase the foreign sales of American industry another two to four billion dollars a year.

The current rate of export shipments, Ray said, is about 18 billion dollars a year. This, if sustained, will be an increase of about 2 1/2 billion dollars in 1960 over the total foreign sales of 1959.

Pharmacists of the Big Spring area completed a conference here Thursday evening with 20 qualifying for certificates. Twelve of them were from Big Spring.

U.S. Opposes Dixie Limit On Referees

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration threw its weight today against the Southern-sponsored idea of limiting powers of proposed federal voting referees to federal elections.

Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers said that if state elections were exempted from such a civil rights law "it would be an open invitation for the establishment of segregated elections for state officials, thus denying Negroes their clear constitutional right to vote without discrimination in such elections."

Rogers set out this view in a letter to Rep. William M. McCulloch (R-Ohio) who is leading the battle in the House for the administration's civil rights program. The letter was made public at the Justice Department.

Snow Tapers Off In U.S.

By The Associated Press. Snow ended in most of the storm-swept sections in the eastern half of the country today and heavy rains tapered off in drenched areas of central Florida.

In Florida, thunderstorms rumbled from the water-soaked central section east and southeast toward the lower East Coast area. Tornadoic winds were reported earlier in the south end of Edgemoor Key, at the entrance to Tampa Bay, and at Yankeetown, about 70 miles north of Tampa. No injuries were reported.

Inseparable In Life, And Death

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — For nearly all her 42 years, Bertie Balding had been cared for by her mother.

At the age of 6 months, Bertie Balding was paralyzed by polio. Her mother, Daisy May Balding, insisted that she alone take care of her daughter.

Air Disaster Kills 63 People

Reunion In Rome

Actress Gina Lollobrigida and her husband, Dr. Milko Skofic, both kiss their two-year-old son, Milko Jr., on the couple's arrival in Rome. Skofic flew from the Italian capital to Paris to greet Gina on her arrival from New York. The couple denied rumors of marital trouble. They recently announced they would make Canada their legal residence.

TELL CITY, Ind. (AP) — Investigators today picked up bits of human flesh and scraps of metal to try to find why a Northwest Airlines plane exploded and then crashed Thursday, killing all 63 aboard.

R. L. Oare, 47, of South Bend, Ind., board chairman of Associates Investment Co., the parent firm of Associates Loan Co., with small loan offices all over the United States and Canada.

"It's obvious the plane came apart in the air," said Ed Slattery, Civil Aeronautics Board information officer. "We will go through all the possibilities, including a bomb."

Oare was also board chairman of Emmco Insurance Corp. and vice chairman of the Associate Board of Lay Trustees of the University of Notre Dame.

Eight federal investigators concentrated their ground search around a still-smoking crater, where the main part of the turbo-prop plane's wreckage plunged 25 feet deep.

Sgt. Joe L'Brien of the Indiana State Police said the plane was heard from over Scotland, Ind., about 60 air miles from the crash scene. He said the pilot reported no trouble. The plane went down at approximately 4:20 p. m. Eastern Standard Time.

The huge hole was dug in a five-acre field on a hill farm a mile north of the Ohio River at the southern end of Indiana. The scene is midway between Louisville, Ky., and Evansville, Ind.

CAB pathologists started trying to identify victims. None aboard was listed as a Texan.

The tail assembly of the plane was found in rough hill country a mile and a half east of the central crash scene.

Witnesses first heard aerial explosions—to one the sound was like 16-inch artillery shells, to another like the noise of a shotgun—and then saw a wing break through the clouds, followed by the main body of the plane.

The plane had been flying southeast from Minneapolis to Miami. It was the third Lockheed Electra to crash within the past 13 months.

Some residents snatched up pieces of wreckage for souvenirs before police blocked off the area.

State Police were ordered to help search a wide area for bodies. They had to bring in portable power and communication units. Light became the biggest problem as dark settled over the hills.

A detachment of 50 Indiana National Guard troops was alerted to aid the troopers.

Some bodies were believed buried by the impact in the snowy, muddy ground.

"We'll have to use earth-digging machinery to get out some of the bodies," a coroner's official said.

Police said they investigated and were convinced the call was a prank.

Dixie Solons May Leave Demo Party

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Jamie L. Whitten (D-Miss) says he and 31 other Southern Congressmen may leave the Democratic party if they don't get better treatment from the House leadership.

Republican House leadership of running roughshod over the South for political purposes.

Whitten, who has been a representative for 19 years and is a member of the House Appropriations Committee, declined to identify other members of his group.

He said his group is pledged to take whatever steps it feels necessary "not merely to prevent another reconstruction era in the South but to save the nation from destruction."

Nothing in the rules would prevent Southern Democrats from voting with Republicans when the new Congress is organized next year.

Whitten said that if the political division of the next House is as close as expected, a group of Southern Democrats would hold the balance of power on election of officers. The House now has 280 Democrats, 152 Republicans and 5 vacancies. Whitten said his group "can make its weight felt in committee makeup."

Whitten made his threat during the civil rights debate after accusing the present Democratic and

As for the Senate, Whitten said at least 18 Southern senators presumably would go along in a revolt against the Senate leadership if they thought it necessary. The Senate now has 64 Democrats, 35 Republicans and a vacancy to be filled soon by a Democrat.

Aged Man Beaten, Assailant Sought

A 64-year-old man was reported beaten during an altercation at the Liberty Cafe late Thursday.

E. T. Sewell, 209 W. 2nd, was taken to Big Spring Hospital for treatment following the fight. He was treated and released for minor injuries to one eye.

Police were looking for an unknown assailant who was involved.

Big Spring Banks Report Figures Up

All figures were up moderately over the comparable date for a year ago, three Big Spring banks reported Friday in response to the bank call.

Deposits were up by a quarter of a million dollars, loans by more than three-quarters of a million. Cash gained by half a million dollars and total resources were up nearly $400,000.

The call by the U. S. Comptroller of Currency was for condition at the close of business on March 15, 1960.

The three banks had loans of $10,220,994, a gain of $882,988 over a year ago and about half a million less than at the end of last year.

Deposits aggregated $33,496,839.18, a gain of $272,651 over a year ago and little less than $300,000 off the year-end pace.

The figures by individual banks follow: FIRST NATIONAL — Loans and discounts $5,431,555.76, deposits $15,517,625.09, cash $4,344,551.92, total resources $17,150,501.59. In addition the bank held $2,823,113.76 in U. S. bonds and $4,016,386.90 in municipals and other bonds.

Cash stood at $10,850,175, which was $536,161 more than a year ago and little over $300,000 under the Dec. 31 figure.

STATE NATIONAL — Loans and discounts $3,160,164.97, deposits $11,696,528.79, cash $3,926,010.80, total resources $12,570,625.29. In addition the bank held $2,937,894.60 in U. S. bonds and $2,366,121.96 in other bonds. It also had $158,170.81 in cotton acceptances.

Youth Charged

A felony charge of disfiguring was filed against Ronald Gene Erickson, 18, left, who talks with reporters in a Houston police station. The charge was in connection with the March 7 beating and cutting of a Negro man by four white youths. Erickson said he signed a statement for police but that it was false and made only in the belief it would lead to his release from jail.

DEAR ABBY

LET HER WALK

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: No names please. I am a respected business man. I have in my employ an attractive young woman who is divorced. When I go home in the evening I pass her apartment.

My wife says that under no circumstances should I take this woman to work or give her a ride home. I feel that my wife is being very small and narrowminded. These orders came as a result of my giving this woman a ride home one evening. I have so far respected my wife's wishes. Do you think she is being fair?

NAMELESS DEAR NAMELESS: You owe your wife more than you owe your employer. Respect her "small and narrow-minded" wishes.

DEAR ABBY: Dr. A. has been our family physician for years. We are not satisfied with his services and would like to switch to Dr. B. I have heard that it is unethical for a doctor to treat another doctor's patient. Can you tell me how to go about making this change? No one in the family is ill at this time.

DISSATISFIED DEAR DISSATISFIED: First tell Dr. A. that you are dissatisfied with his services and want to make a change. Then go to Dr. B. and tell him that you were formerly Dr. A's patient, but informed him that you were making a change.

DEAR ABBY: Please, please, please print this. It's too late for me, but maybe it will help someone else. I had a nice home and good parents. Of course I thought they were bossy and old-fashioned because they didn't want me to go with a certain boy of a different faith who had a bad reputation. So I listened to my boy friend and didn't let my parents push me around. I lied and cheated and finally married the guy. He "understood" me. My parents didn't. How dumb can a 23-year-old girl get?

Three months ago I buried my mother. I broke her heart, Abby. She just gave up. I was her only daughter and I betrayed her. I am still married and now who do you think is pushing me around? My idol, who taught me how to lie and cheat is now lying and cheating on me. If I ever have children, I pray to God I never have a daughter. My message is: Girls, listen to your parents. They love you.

"KNEW IT ALL AT 23; KNOWS NOTHING AT 26"

DEAR ABBY: Three of us girls would like to know if you think it is wrong to neck with a boy in the show. We have asked our mothers and they said if they saw us kissing a boy in the show it would be the last movie we would ever see. Are they old-fashioned or are we too young? We are 13.

THREE GIRLS WITH ONE QUESTION DEAR GIRLS: It is not proper to kiss a boy in the show at ANY age.

"What's your problem?" For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of the Big Spring Herald, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's pamphlet, "What Every Teen-Ager Wants to Know," send 25 cents and a large self-addressed, stamped envelope in care of this paper.

Self-Destroying Art Machine Has Its Moment

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro is building up a powerful armed force in a nation confronted with economic headaches and a shortage of foreign currency.

The revolutionary regime has launched a fund-raising campaign for arms, trumpeting that they are needed for defense against foreign aggression.

But some Cubans believe Castro, mindful of the island republic's turbulent history, is taking precautions against potential enemies at home.

"If Castro felt certain of his hold on the people, he wouldn't be calling for arms," these Cubans say. "But he knows from experience that the same crowd who cheers him today will turn upon him as they did on other Cuban leaders when the situation gets difficult."

The government has used the explosion of the French freighter La Coubre while delivering munitions in Havana harbor to spur a funds-for-arms campaign that began more than six months before.

By official estimate, some two million pesos (equal to dollars in Cuba but worth much less on the world market) were raised before the La Coubre tragedy which took between 80 and 100 lives.

ETSC Students Find Extinct Texas Animal

COMMERCE, Tex. (AP)—Bones found by East Texas State College students in the Iron Bridge Reservoir have been identified as an animal extinct for 35,000 years.

Identification of the antelope-like animal was announced this week by Hazel Peterson, instructor in geology at ETSC.

The remains, which include the skull and some vertebrae, are the second found in paleontological history, she said.

Miss Peterson termed the discovery in East Texas "very significant" and said the Smithsonian Institute is "most interested in the discovery area."

The bones were discovered last October by Miss Peterson and a group of geology students on a field trip in the area now inundated by the Iron Bridge Reservoir southeast of Commerce and 35 miles east of Dallas.

Miss Peterson said the actual discovery was made by Ray Love, a student from Greenville.

"He noticed a bone sticking out of the mud and gave it a tug," Miss Peterson said.

Further investigation produced the skull, antlers and sections of the backbone.

One other bit of remains of this 35,000-year-old animal is known to exist. It is in the museum at Southern Methodist University in Dallas but is not as complete as the current discovery, Miss Peterson said.

The skull now being restored by ETSC geology students indicates the animal was about the size of a small burro with the appearance of an antelope.

Outboard Theft Ring Uncovered

MIDLAND (AP)—An outboard motor theft ring has been broken with the arrest of four men, Police Chief Harold Wallace said Thursday.

Three men were jailed and a fourth was released on bond. A warrant was issued for the arrest of a fifth, believed to be in New Mexico.

Jailed were Joseph Johnson, 22; David Bennett, 20; and Richard Pruitt, 21. Donald Forsythe, 19, was released under bond. Five outboard motors, including four stolen from Midland residents in the last month, were found in a raid on the residence of an Odessa oil company employee.

Perry Mason's DA Foe Fired Without A Hearing

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Actor William Talman, the hapless district attorney who always loses the case on the Perry Mason TV Show, lost his job Thursday.

CBS fired the 45-year-old actor shortly after he pleaded innocent to a misdemeanor charge of lewd vagrancy. The network gave no reason for the action.

Talman and six others are accused of gambling—without garments—at a Hollywood party last week. His trial was set for April 25.

"I am innocent of having committed any crime or doing anything immoral," Talman said.

His attorney, Harold Rhoden, commented: "Talman has not been tried as yet for any offense. He has not been found guilty of any offense. Yet here CBS, producers of all things—the Perry Mason Show—has found Talman guilty before he has a trial—a violation of the doctrine of the show. The producers fired a man without giving him any hearing at all."

Talman had told investigators he dropped into the party for a drink. Another defendant, actress Lola De Witt, described the affair as "just a compatible social gathering."

Miss De Witt, who pleaded innocent earlier, is scheduled to stand trial April 8.

Others entering pleas Thursday were Richard Riebold, identified by officers as the host; James H. Baker, TV producer; Peter N. Hespelf and his wife, Suzanne; Willie Jean Donovan and Peggy Louise Flannigan.

Riebold also faces a marijuana possession charge. Officers said marijuana cigarettes "were placed around the room the way a host places regular cigarettes out for his guests." But they said there was no evidence any had been smoked.

The Perry Mason Show, a popular courtroom series, is filmed, so Talman will be seen in a number of shows already completed.

Airing Continues

WASHINGTON (AP)—Opponents of proposals to impose import quotas on shrimp continued today their efforts to convince the Tariff Commission such action is unnecessary.

It ran half an hour, with a whoosh! The section tumbled sideways to the ground. Then second, waving a red and white pennant, ran outside. A third, with a klaxon that didn't work, scooted out from under and dashed for nowhere. A fourth part collapsed.

NOT ALL PERFECT It did not quite live up to the billing. It was Tinguely in person, with a band of helpers, who put most of it together in the afternoon. But it did paint its own pictures, and it spoke its own words, from a record, explaining what it was all about. Some bottles were supposed to crash to the ground and didn't. The balloon was scheduled to burst but failed to. The fire did get out of control and was extinguished at the sculptor's request.

Tinguely in his less experimental moments has done some sculpture highly praised by people who should know, and his work is widely circulated in Europe.

The spectacle was praised, sight unseen to be sure, in releases handed out in advance and signed by Alfred H. Barr Jr., the museum's curator of collections, and by Marcel Duchamp, who in his day created no less of a stir with his revolutionary "Nude Descending a Staircase."

Collision Fatal

DALLAS (AP)—An auto-train collision Thursday took the life of Jack Roy Swain, 60, whose car was struck by a Texas & Pacific switch engine.

FASHION FINDS AT FISHER'S

WE TIP OUR EASTER BONNETS to Vogue Magazine's March issue which happily turns out to be a breath-taking brochure of Fisher's beautiful fashions. Page after page pegs brand names carried by Fisher's as leading designs for the Spring season. A symphony of color in muted tones heralds L'Aiglon's illustration of a Vogue frock available in three shades at Fisher's. It's the American shirtwaist of ribbon silk in ice-cooled colors striped with white. The price? $29.95.

SEE FISHER'S FANCY FEATHERWEIGHTS... Spring suits and silk slub dusters... favored locally because of chilly mornings and cool evenings 'way into the Spring season. Selections in suits include every weave from cotton to light-weight wool with sizes ranging from 8's through 20's. Beautiful featherweight dusters, rustling with taffeta linings are available in blue, black and beige at a low $35.

THE MODIFIED CLOCHE is catching milady's eye this Easter... and it's so easy to see why. Soft straws that really hug the head are styled with becoming halo brims and accents in jeweled clips or flower trim. Beiges and natural straws are wise choices that combine nicely with a number of ensembles.

SOME OF THE PRETTIEST GLOVES IN THE EASTER PARADE this coming season will bear Fisher's labels. In addition to soft kids and pretty suede cottons, Fisher's is showing nylon stretch gloves in colors to match your Easter outfit. Loveliest new arrival is the slim elbow length glove in airy embroidered eyelet. In white, they're tagged $2.50.

DIG THOSE CRAZY ITALIAN HATS that are taking the country by storm! In line with more casual living, they've dreamed up some dillies... and here are but two you'll find at Fisher's: Shredded wheat straws in cocoa brown with natural band, $5.95; rainbow straws that combine a hat-full of colorful fun with sassy straw braids perched up under the brims, $4.95.

WHAT'S NEW IN GIFTS? Fisher's windows indicate the entertaining arrow points out-doors. Right now, the store is displaying a handsome wrought-iron tea cart designed especially for patio entertaining. Also available is a white wrought iron tid-bit table with white leather-covered stools, so appropriate for covered patios and sun porches.

PAJAMAS AT THE CASUAL SHOPPE have really gone Hawaiian and here's the trend they've taken. PJ pants have become treader trousers in matched sets that feature tops in torrid prints... A new personality in sleepers that's still practical. The price, $6.50, sizes 32-38.

A Devotional For Today

Out of the depths I cried unto thee, O Lord . . . There is forgiveness with thee, (Psalms 130:1,4.)
PRAYER: We thank Thee, O God, for Thy Son Jesus Christ, who so loved us that He gave His life that we may be cleansed from our sins and live in newness of life. Forgive us our sins of thought, word, and deed. Help us to walk uprightly by Thy spirit today. In our Saviour's name. Amen.

Reunions Of Convenience

The third reunion of families separated and scattered by communism's march across Europe recently took place in New York. The husband-father and his daughter had been in the United States and the mother-son in Lithuania.

Twenty years ago the parents and an infant daughter went to Lithuania for a visit, and were caught there by the Communist seizure of that country. The father and mother were allowed to return quickly, but the mother, who was born in Lithuania, was refused permission to leave. Presently the son was born, and mother and son endured "a miserable existence" during the twenty years the family was separated.

This and two other reunions of families came as a result of appeals to Premier Khrushchev during his visit to this country last year. He had promised to do what he could.

We can but rejoice with these people over their good fortune, not forgetting for a minute that Khrushchev's intervention was good publicity, calculated to build up his image as a humanitarian, a man of peace and goodwill.

But three families out of the millions dispossessed and destroyed by the march of communism hardly constitutes adequate rectification of one of the most sordid chapters in human history.

Nor does it offer any relief or encouragement to the tens of thousands of mother and son separated, scattered and in many cases destroyed like so many chattels.

It is no time for mawkish sentiment about K's generosity. If he hadn't found it good propaganda, there would have been no reunions.

Castro May Get His Comeuppance

President Eisenhower's announced intention of asking Congress for discretionary power to cut the bonus we pay Cuba for Cuban produced sugar is not, he insists, aimed at the Castro regime for its anti-American antics, for all other suppliers of sugar to U. S. consumers would be subject to the same reductions.

Nonetheless, the administration move probably will get a tremendous uproar out of Castro, and all sorts of accusations of meddling in Cuba's internal politics.

We must import sugar to keep domestic supplies readily available. It is conceivable that Castro's wild economic experiments, such as seizing American-owned sugar plants and mills, for instance, could easily reduce the amount of sugar available to our consumers—unless we take steps to obtain fresh supplies from producers other than Cuba. (Several other Latin-American countries are eager to fill the hiatus, at almost any price, bonus or no bonus.)

Any serious reduction in the amount of sugar we take from Cuba, along with the inevitable cut in the amount of the bonus, would undoubtedly put a crimp in Castro's free-wheeling financial transactions. Sugar is his main dependence, producing about half a billion dollars a year in revenue, and take even half that sum away from him and he'd be sunk.

Castro's comeuppance might be incidental to a cutback in the bonus we pay him, but it could be quickly decisive. We can see no reason why we should take his continual insults without doing at least a little something about it.

David Lawrence Indictment Of Soviet Anti-Semitism

WASHINGTON—Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, Democrat, of Connecticut, has made a startling revelation of the extent to which the Soviets have carried on an intensive campaign of anti-Semitism. As a former executive trial counsel at the Nuremberg war crimes trials, Mr. Dodd has no illusions about Nazism and the traces of its bigotry which may remain in both West and East Germany today. But his exhaustive analysis—comprising more than 10,000 words—just presented to the United States Senate points the finger of blame for the recent "swastika epidemic" on the Soviet government itself.

"The Kremlin," he says, "has conducted and is conducting today an anti-Semitic propaganda strongly reminiscent of Goebbels and Streicher."

Mr. Dodd praises Chancellor Adenauer and the West German government for the progress it has made in the denazification of West Germany, and adds that the record of the Adenauer government on anti-Semitism is beyond reproach, even though there is much still to be done in Germany.

a thousand times more damnable.

"How does the free world react to the merciless persecution of the 3,000,000 Jews in the Soviet Union? It closes its eyes to it. Instead of protests and indignation, we witness demands for increased trade with the Soviet bloc, for stepped-up cultural exchange programs, for state visits by the Soviet terrorist-in-chief."

THE CONNECTICUT senator explains that he cannot escape the feeling that the evidence of Communist involvement in the swastika-painting episodes unearthed by the West German authorities "tells only a small part of the story." He continues:

"Since the end of the war the chief breeding place of the virus of anti-Semitism has not been Germany nor has the chief instigator been the neo-Nazi movement. The chief breeding place has been, and remains today, the Soviet Union. The chief instigator is the Communist International."

Sen. Dodd notes that "for some strange reason, the terrifying story of persecution of the Jews under Communism has not penetrated the public consciousness of the world." He gives example after example of what is going on inside the Soviet Union in the operations of anti-Semitism. He says with respect to the Soviet Union:

"SO FAR AS IS KNOWN, no Jew is to be found in the foreign service of the Soviet Union, among the higher ranks of the armed forces, or in the various military academies. Jews are also excluded from leading posts in the Communist party, from the central party newspapers and the foreign section of the Soviet press. Jews are progressively being excluded from admission to the universities."

Mr. Dodd declares that, as he was finishing his analysis, he received a communication from a group of professors of the social sciences division of Fairleigh Dickinson University, who had toured the Soviet Union last summer. He says they had been "appalled" by the many evidences of Soviet anti-Semitism. They wrote:

"Our observations have led us to the unhappy conclusion that anti-Semitism in the U.S.S.R. is not an atavistic remnant of Czarist Russia, but the official policy of the government of the U.S.S.R."

BUT THE CONNECTICUT senator charges that East Germany, on the other hand, has opened its ranks to the most vicious Nazis and Nazi collaborators, and that the same thing is true in other countries taken over by the Communists.

"We must make people understand," declares Sen. Dodd, "that anti-Christianism goes with anti-Semitism, as godlessness goes with totalitarianism. It is no accident, in my opinion, that the two great godless movements of our time, Nazism and Communism, should both be vehemently anti-Semitic."

Sen. Dodd says that in many countries, including the United States, there is a residue of anti-Semitism, but that nowhere in the world are Jews oppressed as they are in the Soviet Union today. He declares:

"BETWEEN THE BRUTALITY OF Soviet anti-Semitism and the brutality of Nazi anti-Semitism, there is little to choose. About all that is lacking so far is the gas chambers. For this deficiency, the Communists have made up, at least in part, by employing Siberia and the firing squads as substitute instruments of death."

The crimes that have characterized Soviet anti-Semitism have not been perpetrated by hotheads or juvenile delinquents. They have been perpetrated, or else instigated, by the Soviet state itself—first under the command of Joseph Stalin, and then under the command of the present prime minister, Nikita Khrushchev. In my opinion, this fact makes these crimes

OFF THE PAD

James Marlow The Danger Of West Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP)—At this moment the Soviet Union and the West are trying not to touch West Berlin with anything longer than a 10-foot pole. They will have to get a lot closer soon. That city is potentially the hottest spot in Europe.

It will be at the heart of the summit conference in May. No one is predicting the conference will produce a solution on the city satisfactory to both sides.

Perhaps the most that can be hoped for in the foreseeable future—say for a couple of years away—is a reluctance by the Soviets to push too hard in their drive to shake West Berlin out of the Allied camp.

If they do push—by trying to force the Allied troops out or shutting off the city from the West—shooting may follow. And that kind of shooting could hardly be limited to one city.

IT IS THE BELIEF of the Eisenhower administration that there can be no limited war in Western Europe—such as was possible in such a faraway spot as Korea—and that any war there will mean general war.

It was almost 16 months ago that Premier Nikita Khrushchev told the West to get its troops out of West Berlin, which, although tied to West Germany, lies 110 miles inside Communist East Germany.

The departure of the troops no doubt would weaken the will of the West Berliners to resist the encroachments of the Communists all around them. The loss of the city would not be fatal to the West. But it would be a psychological disaster.

This week West Germany's 84-year-old Chancellor, Konrad Ade-nauer, came here, talked with President Eisenhower about the stand the Allies would take on Berlin at the summit, and went away feeling reassured.

HE AND THE President issued a joint statement that they were agreed any settlement with the Soviet Union on Berlin must preserve the freedom of the West Berliners.

But when the Allies—including Eisenhower—sit down with Khrushchev in Paris next May their firmness in standing together against damaging concessions to the Soviets will be tested.

At this moment Khrushchev—following pretty much the peaceful line he took at his Camp David meeting with Eisenhower here last fall—is quiet. But there is absolutely no indication he intends to back down on Berlin.

All the heat now being generated about Berlin may evaporate a bit—because for reasons of their own the Soviets are willing to let it evaporate—but it is unbelievable they will subside permanently.

To have the free and prosperous city of West Berlin deep in the heart of Communist Europe is like permitting a capitalistic cancer to flourish in the body of Marxism.

In short, West Berlin should continue to be both a hot spot and a sore one for years to come, even though nothing violent happens in the meantime.

NEW YORK (AP)—Scientists foresee a future when the population explosion will skyrocket the earth's census from 2½ billion people to maybe 10 or 12 billion.

So if you think it's crowded on the bus going to work now, think how crowded it is going to be by the end of the century, or even the next decade.

In that sardine world coming, life will be more streamlined. There won't be space for a lot of the foolishness we find now for now. We'll have to start doing without the nonessentials.

Here's one man's partial list of things he's willing to start doing without right now:

Coloratura sopranos.
Atomic fallout.
After-dinner speakers.
People who mail you small live turtles on your birthday.
All guitar players under 70 years of age. Those over 70 don't play rock 'n' roll tunes.
Wives who tell a husband, as he goes out the door in the morning, "Have a happy day at work."
Girls who wear lavender lipstick and needlepoint heels that get caught in subway gratings.

All millionaires who give interviews in which they claim their success is the result of lifelong thrift and hard work.

All beatniks who can write poetry only while they're on public relief.

All landlords who have pets in their own homes but won't let their tenants keep them.

Press agents who say "I used to be a newspaperman myself."

Homing grills, purposeless parsley, fruit in cocktails, paper pasties on lamb chops, and that last glass of water the waiter brings when he's priming you for a big tip.

Video commercials which make the human insides look like a cross section of a boiler factory.

Back-seat drivers who always know a short cut.

All apostles of diets and other self-appointed authorities on how to give up the pleasures you can't do without.

What's on your do without list?

Take A Card . . .

DES MOINES (AP)—Some Des Moines men who lunch together frequently have hit upon a new scheme for deciding who pays the tab.

At the end of the meal, each man puts a credit card, face down, on the table. The waiter is asked to select one card. The owner of that card gets the bill.

ZIONSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—M. L. Barrett ran a classified ad in the Zionsville Times, seeking swarms of bees for four vacant hives he had. One morning he checked the hives and found a swarm of bees had moved into one of them. They didn't say whether they had read the ad.

To Your Good Health Quinsy Can Be A Painful Disease

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.
"Dear Dr. Molner: I would appreciate some information about quinsy. I know it has something to do with the glands. What are the symptoms and is it curable?"
—M. J. K.

Quinsy comes from the Greek word meaning "to choke."

It is, medically, an abscess that forms about the tonsils (and may involve the base of the tongue). Swelling of the neck is enough to be visible. Obviously there is swelling inside the throat, too, making it difficult to swallow and changing the sound of the voice.

You may say from this, "Oh, it's a bad case of tonsillitis." No, quinsy is more severe in that free pus forms, although, as with acute tonsillitis, glands in the upper part of the neck swell and are tender.

A true attack of quinsy requires urgent treatment, the important early step being an incision to release the pus which has formed. Along with that, antibiotics are used to combat the infection.

What are the glands in the neck that swell? These are lymph nodes which I discussed recently, although after M. J. K. wrote the above letter to me.

Lymph nodes, often called the body's "first line of defense against infection," are scattered throughout the body, in the neck, armpits, abdomen and elsewhere. When an infection begins its evil work, the blood stream carries harmful material to the lymph nodes and it is filtered out.

At such times the lymph glands (or nodes) become enlarged and tender—which explains why the neck glands behave thus in an attack of quinsy (or tonsillitis).

Usually, the swelling goes down, once the infection has been overcome, and the tenderness disappears. In some instances the glands may remain somewhat enlarged, enough so they can easily be felt, although the tenderness is gone. This does not mean that anything needs to be done about it. It's just an aftermath from the heavy duty under which the gland has been laboring.

Of course, if the swelling in the gland is from some other cause, then it may mean that medical treatment is needed. But not when the swelling is merely a residue from a battle with an infection.

"Dear Dr. Molner: What are the dangers of drinking raw milk?" It saves us $7 a week on groceries. My husband insists that we use it, but I'm scared.—Mrs. B. A.

Let's put it this way. Would you take a thousand-to-one chance on your family's health? On your children's? They drink milk 365 days a year, 1,000 times in their lives. Raw milk may be safe 1,000 times, or some other number of times. But one day, some year, a germ is present. Among the possibilities are such things as diphtheria, scarlet fever, enteric fever, undulant fever, tuberculosis. It's like playing with matches, or beating trains at the crossing, or ignoring traffic lights. Lots of times you get away with it, but you only have to lose once to be tragically sorry. By the way, are you sure you meant saving $7 a week? That's a lot of milk if you use four quarts a day. $7 a week buys all of it. To SAVE that much, you must use gallons a day!

URGENT TO MRS. M.: A running ear, especially when it has such an odor, is a warning that you should have medical attention at once. That's an infected ear!

Measles can be fatal to young children! For an explanation of the seriousness of this disease, write me in care of the Big Spring Herald, requesting my pamphlet, "Measles, the 'Harmless' Killer," and enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim The Rights Of Women (And Men)

Some thoughts of the Constitution, the Declaration of Independence, women's rights, and equality before the law:

There was a young fellow who staked his claim to a girl. He warned all other males not to poach, and told his girl she belonged to him and not to date anyone else. The girl objected, but the guy kept his storm warnings high.

Another young man, home from college, took an old friend out for a Coke. The old friend turned out to be the girl. The would-be boyfriend assaulted the visiting collegian, and got whipped. The defeated swain returned with a couple of pals and stomped the interloper.

Because of that idiotic popular notion that it's chicken to call the cops, the case never saw the courts.

The idea of staking out claim to a woman descends directly from older historical eras when women were property that could be bought, sold or stolen. In later eras, men recognized good traits of character in themselves other than brute strength. Many women recognized them, too, and came to prefer men of maturity, courage, education, intelligence, good character, wealth, or personality.

During the same historic period, men began to recognize each other's rights, and shed much blood to establish equality and justice. Eventually, these liberties were extended to womankind.

The way things stand now, it is a woman's prerogative to choose the man she'll marry, and the man she'll go out with. All but the sillier type choose on a more substantial basis than brass.

When a man uses violence to protect his home as long as there is no other way, he stands justified by law and by custom. But there is something wrong with any man who uses violence to gain something that is not his. He has trampled the rights of the woman, his rival and an orderly society. He has broken the law.

Such a man almost always is lacking in those qualities that draw admiration from either sex, and he falls back upon the only way he knows. He is not to be pitied—there are many attractive qualities that can be developed by anyone mature enough to try.

The collegian should have called on the law, not after he got stomped, but after the first assault was made, even though he won that first battle.

This is supposed to be a civilized, law-abiding society. The apemen will run things only so long as they're allowed to.

Inez Robb The Numbers Racket Has Us Whipped

It is a depressing thing to be a prophet without honor at home plate, especially when one—meaning me—has got hold of a good thing.

Four years have collapsed since I suggested a sensible solution for the pyramiding numbers racket with which John Q. Citizen wrestles both in public and in private. At that time, my reform program was sparked by a new passport, with a long, involved number, just as I was beginning to remember the number of the old passport.

Now, I have just made application for a new passport and am faced with still another new, five or six-digit number, when the number on the expiring passport has just begun to seem familiar. Man does not live it up by bread alone in this modern world, he lives by numbers—passport, Social Security, driver's license, car license, air travel card, credit cards by the dozen, safety deposit box, charge plates, telephone, and, if he is a newsman, a police card. And that's only the beginning.

Further, I'd suggest that John Q. have his number tattooed on the sole of his right foot for ready reference. It would certainly save time and trouble if the citizen called upon for his Social Security number, for example, (and I have never known anyone who could remember his) could simply take off his shoes and case his sole.

If a citizen could only be assigned a good, basic number, as a woman buys a good, basic black dress or a man a good, basic navy suit, he would feel that sense of peace and security so essential to his well-being. His number would disappear and he (or she) would stop beating the kids and snapping at the help.

But this idea is so sensible that it is never going to get any place at all, except in my dreams. We are just going to go on piling up numbers and confusion until the final count-down.

IN THE MEANTIME, it is a pleasure to report that the passport division of the State Department speeds and polishes up its services annually. It takes two days to get a passport now instead of two weeks. That is, it takes 48 hours if the applicant will pick it up in person; it takes about a week via the mails.

Furthermore, the passport office in New York, even this early in the tourist season, is jumping. Although I arrived only 20 minutes after the office opened, I had to wait in line. Business was booming, with persons of all shapes, creeds, color and financial status in the line-up. The dowager in the pink coat followed the beatnik with the sideburns and the sneaker.

One and all, Uncle Sam has a message for us. It is contained on big wall posters that admonishes us travelers to "make a friend for yourself, for your business, for your country."

I think Uncle is too modest; he should have put the country in the lead. First things first.

Copyright, 1960, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.

LIFE IS NO longer a bowl of cherries; it's a bingo mixing bowl, with the numbers going round and round and coming out in complete confusion. The average citizen either has to have a mind like an I.B.M. machine or carry with him a card index for such emergencies as a difference of opinion with the gendarmes.

You can't tell a citizen without a score card; what's worse, the citizen can't tell himself! We are victims of a split numerical personality, and any head shrinker knows how dangerous that can be.

As a confirmed rugged individualist, I am unalterably opposed to regimentation in any form. But blessed if I don't feel that life would be simpler if Uncle Sam assigned every citizen a permanent number at birth, a number to go on passport, license plates, Social Security card, etc., etc.

THEN, IF I were Uncle, I'd go a step is an it-can't-happen-here stock market. Stocks aren't held on thin margins as in 1929 and even in 1937. Therefore, declines won't take a succession of stop-loss sales. Banks and brokers won't have to force overboarded customers to sell.

That is true. But nervous inexperience might cast doubt on people's minds about their savings, threaten their ultimate security (food, clothing and shelter) and you get a run on a bank. Improperly advised investors may be using Wall Street as a repository for emergency funds. Yet Wall Street is one of the last places to put money people will want in a hurry or for a specific purpose.

THE BEHAVIOR OF THE new investors during the present decline is a double test: first, of themselves and their understanding of the risks they took, and second, of the brokers and salesmen who got them into stocks.

If the brokers, salesmen and the entire Wall Street apparatus, including New York Stock Exchange advertising, did their job well, small investors won't panic.

J. A. Livingston Many New Stockholders Affect Wall St.

In about eight years, the number of stockholders in the United States has doubled. Approximately three quarters of a million persons, formerly tucked away in E-bonds, banks, and savings and loans, have been annually won over to Wall Street's world of risk. That's a tribute to Wall Street's merchandisers. But it raises a question: Will these newcomers try to use—misuse—Wall Street as a bank?

Back in 1952, Lewis H. Kimmel, in a study for the Brookings Institution, showed that stock ownership in the U. S. was fairly narrow and mostly for the well-to-do. He put the number of stockholders at 6,500,000.

SINCE THEN, THE NEW York Stock Exchange has made periodic estimates. Utilizing these, the giant New York Stock Exchange firm of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith now puts the number of shareholders at 13,000,000.

By wooing the "small investor," Merrill Lynch, Etc., has done much to widen share ownership in America. The Stock Exchange, itself, through its monthly investment plan, has increased the number of persons dependent on the stability of the market. So have mutual-fund salesmen.

Wall Street's sales effort has been abetted by the long bull market. People who read or heard neighbors tell about higher dividends, stock splits, paper profits, wanted "in." The gains in stockholders of major companies since 1952 have been spectacular. Ford has emerged from a privately-owned enterprise to a company with more than 200,000 stockholders.

THE NEW STOCKHOLDERS have not undergone the test (and I hope they never will) of a 1929 or 1937 crash. During the first four months of the 1929 bear market, stocks dropped more than a third. In 1937-38, stocks surrendered 50 per cent of their value in seven months.

Recent declines have been powder-puff in contrast. The 16 per cent drop in 1953 lasted nine months. In 1956-57, stocks fell 21 per cent in 20 months. The current bear market has lasted approximately seven months, during which industrial stocks were off 13 per cent from their peaks and railroad shares 22 per cent.

Even this mild drop has provoked letters such as this: "The money I have put aside for my old age is slipping away. What shall I do?" If too many persons feel such qualms, it is an indictment of Wall Street. It means that the merchants of risk have sold the "wrong people."

MANY PERSONS, including Wall Streeters, have persuaded themselves that this

Flower Arrangements Displayed By Spaders

Daffodils and peach blossoms were employed in arrangements made by two members of the Spaders Garden Club. They were displayed Thursday afternoon when the club met in the home of Mrs. Bruce Frazier.

In an arrangement for a patio, Mrs. W. D. Caldwell used daffodils. Mrs. C. A. Tonn Jr., made a modern crescent arrangement with peach blossoms.

Schedules for the flower show, April 22, were passed out. Hostesses were appointed for the tasting tea, slated April 2. They include Mrs. J. R. Bizzell, Mrs. Norman English, Mrs. C. J. Stocks, Mrs. Earl Burnett, Mrs. F. D. Williams, Mrs. Lindell Newton, and Mrs. Donald Hale.

Three club members will represent the Spaders at the District I conference in Lubbock Wednesday. They are Mrs. Kyle Cauble, Mrs. Zack Gray, and Mrs. Dave Dorchester.

Appointed to study the constitution and by-laws of the club were Mrs. Cauble, Mrs. Hale, and Mrs. Dorchester.

Centering a white cloth was an arrangement of pink peach blossoms flanked on each side by three pink candles in graduated sizes. The hostess, Mrs. Frazier, served refreshments.

Mrs. Newton will host the group next time in her home at 307 NW 11th.

East Texas Town Makes Plans For Historical Tour

The Jefferson Historical Pilgrimage, sponsored by the Jessie Allen Wise Garden Club will be held on April 30 and May 1.

Eight beautiful homes will be open including Freeman Plantation, an aristocratic old mansion that has been recognized by Congress as a masterpiece of French Colonial architecture; also to be open is Guarding Oak, which appears on the cover of the book, "Early Texas Homes."

To be shown during the two-day pilgrimage will be the Historical Museum, the Jefferson Playhouse, formerly the old Jewish Synagogue, and the private railroad car which once belonged to George Jay Gould.

Mrs. John Tucker, 1606 Lancaster, will be hostess for the meeting of April 21.

Nine members and a guest, Mrs. A. D. Franklin, were present Thursday.

Mrs. Moody Delegate For GSM Club

Mrs. Alfred Moody will represent the local Good Star Mothers at the annual convention of the organization in Corpus Christi on April 28-30.

Mrs. Roy Franklin was named as alternate at the meeting Thursday afternoon in her home. The group voted to donate five dollars to the Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

A new fund-raising project will be started in the club, it was decided; the women will have a gadget basket with something put into the basket by each one. Then the articles will be sold.

Mrs. John Tucker, 1606 Lancaster, will be hostess for the meeting of April 21.

Nine members and a guest, Mrs. A. D. Franklin, were present Thursday.

Winners Named In Duplicate Games

Only three pairs of winners in each position were listed for the duplicate bridge games played at the Officers Club on Thursday evening. Eight tables were required for the session.

Winning in north-south position were Mrs. Riley Foster and Mrs. J. J. Havins, first; Mrs. J. D. Herbert and Mrs. Fred Haller, second; Mrs. E. L. Powell and Mrs. Elmo Wasson, third.

East-west winners were Mrs. Ben McCullough and Mrs. John Stone, first; Mrs. George McGann and Mrs. D. W. Wall, second; Mrs. L. G. Nalls and Mrs. Harold Holloway, third.

Officers Elected By Lamesa P-TA

LAMESA — South Elementary P-TA members elected officers for the coming year and heard their state representative Wesley Roberts, speak on politics and state government at a meeting Tuesday night in the school cafeteria.

Mrs. W. C. Riddle was named president of the unit; Mrs. George Norman, vice president; Mrs. Charlie Bruton, treasurer, and Linda Barton, secretary. The officers are to be installed in May and will assume their duties in September.

Announcement was also made that the district's spring conference is to be held in Lamesa April 22, and its theme will be "P-TA in Panorama."

Hyperions Entertain At Coffee

Friendship Day was observed by members of the 1948 Hyperion Club with a coffee in the home of Mrs. Worth Peeler Thursday morning.

Hostesses for the affair were Mrs. Peeler, Mrs. John Hodges and Mrs. Robert Whiskey. Mrs. Hodges greeted guests and members, who gathered in the family room for chatting.

In the dining room, a polished table held an arrangement of Dutch iris, pink carnations and other spring flowers. Presiding at the silver service was Mrs. Charles Tompkins, vice president of the club.

The next meeting of the group is set for April 21, when hostesses will be Mrs. C. C. Jones and Mrs. Allen Hamilton.

Classes Join For Luncheon Meeting

Meeting jointly, the TEL and Berta Beckett classes of the First Baptist Church held a covered dish luncheon Thursday at the church.

Centering the table was an arrangement of spring flowers, dutch iris, and snapdragons.

Plans for increasing the attendance on Easter were discussed; date for the birthday breakfast was set for April 24 with the place to be announced.

Mrs. R. L. Baber reported on the work recently done for the Latin American family which the class is assisting.

Hostesses for the dinner were Mrs. C. M. Weaver and her group; 37 attended the affair, including Mrs. C. H. Bezona, a guest.

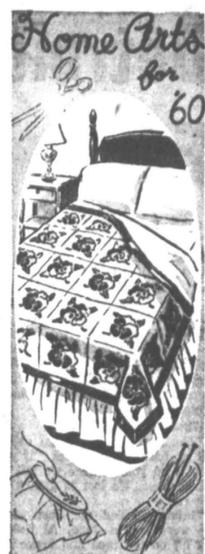

Tables developed a St. Patrick's theme and jonquils decorated the center table.

St. Patrick Party Is Well-Attended

Over 100 attended the St. Patrick's party at St. Thomas Catholic Church Thursday evening when the Altar Society entertained with bingo.

Seventeen winners were listed, with the blackout prize going to Bobby McAllen; Bill Schlecht won a special prize.

Refreshments were served and arrangements for the benefit party were made by the groups of Mrs. Herman Bauer and Mrs. R. C. Frazier.

Europe Interests Study Club

Germany, Holland, France, and Switzerland moved into Forsan Thursday evening as Mrs. J. L. Overton showed slides of the European countries. The Overtons were stationed in Germany.

The women agreed to cooperate with a pie sale to be held March 29 at the district volleyball tournament. Each member is asked to bring one pie; proceeds are to go to the community center.

Mrs. J. F. Blake and Mrs. W. M. Romans hosted the 19 members and five guests, Mrs. J. C. Miller, Mrs. S. L. Mahan, Mrs. T. R. Camp, Mrs. Tom Fell, and Mrs. A. C. Ogburn.

At the 4 p.m. meeting April 7 grooming and fashions will be the topic.

Honeys' Daughter Will Be Honored

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Honey, 1009 Scurry, will be in Lubbock Sunday to attend a Recognition Service at Texas Tech.

Honored in the service will be the Honeys' daughter, Mrs. Sammie Meador, the former Denise Honey. This is the annual ceremony in which tribute is paid to those students who have represented the standards of Tech in scholarship, athletics or leadership. About 142 students will be included.

Mrs. Meador will be honored for her scholarship. Immediately following the service, parents, friends and honorees will gather for a tea.

Miss Hampton Is Wed To W. L. Nix

Elizabeth Ann Hampton and William Larry Nix were married Tuesday in Sweetwater.

Mrs. Nix is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hampton, 1801 Alabama. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Johnny Hood and Hoyle Nix, both of Big Spring.

Attending the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Hoyle Nix.

The bride is a graduate of Sweetwater High School, and Nix is a graduate of Big Spring High School. He is attending Howard County Junior College and is a member of Hoyle Nix and His Western Band.

OWC Bridge Follows St. Patrick's Theme

A St. Patrick's Day theme was carried out at the 10 bridge tables set up in the Officers Club Thursday afternoon for the monthly bridge.

Hosting the affair was the medical group, with Mrs. W. R. Strahan as chairman. Other hostesses were Mrs. L. J. Bellettoni, Mrs. A. A. Lindsley, Mrs. R. R. Smith, and Mrs. John Barnett.

Winning the door prize was Mrs. C. R. Bergstrom, while Mrs. Alan F. Christner won the travel prize.

Placing first were Mrs. W. C. Semler and Mrs. K. L. Nellermoe. Taking second were Mrs. Hollis Webb and Mrs. Thomas S. Lane.

Circle Continues Study Of Luke

A study of Luke was continued by the Mary Zinn Circle of the First Methodist Church when they met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Lee Warren; cobhostess was Mrs. Anna Vastine.

Bringing the study was Mrs. Clyde Thomas Sr. and Mrs. Mary Williams. Mrs. Thomas spoke on Jesus and the scripture, while Mrs. Williams' topic was the temptations of Jesus.

"My Master's Face" was a poem read by Mrs. W. A. Miller. After a letter read by Mrs. Williams from a native in Singapore, Malaya, a quiz was given on the Holy Spirit.

Fifteen members were present.

Sixth District, TFWC, Ends Meeting Today

COLORADO CITY —The Sixth District Convention of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs ended Thursday's program with a Civic House banquet, followed by a reception in the Terrace Room of the Baker Hotel in Colorado City.

Mrs. Joseph Perkins of Eastland, General Federation of Women's Clubs treasurer was the speaker at Thursday night's banquet.

On the schedule for today was a 9 o'clock business session, with the convention hearing the reports of departments and committees.

At noon, Dr. John Stevens of Abilene Christian College was to speak; a style show was set for 2 p.m. and club reports and awards were to be presented at 3 p.m.

Airport P-TA Plans Auditorium Cooling

The auditorium at the Airport School will be air-conditioned due to efforts of the P-TA of that school.

This was announced at a meeting of the group at the school Thursday afternoon. Roy Phemister brought a devotion preceding a program by the second grade. Room count was won by the class taught by Nancy Smith.

Brownies also presented a program which included the Brownie promise, an investiture service and the Brownie song.

It was announced that L. D. Spradling will be awarded a life membership at the convention in Lamesa on April 22. Delegates to the meeting are Mrs. Kendall Wallace, Mrs. A. J. Hooten, Mrs. Earnest Miller and Spradling; Mrs. Sidney Blanchard will serve as alternate.

Mrs. Ross Stuteville, Mrs. Roy Lund, Mrs. Aubrey Armistead and Mrs. A. J. Hoover were appointed as a nominating committee.

The special prize went to Mrs. H. W. Leavard.

Location Changed For Flower Show

The location originally announced for the Spring Flower Show has been changed, and the event will be held at the Runnels Junior High gymnasium.

This was the decision of the committees appointed from the Council of Garden Clubs when they met in the home of Mrs. Tip Anderson, who is chairman of the show. The show is sponsored by the council.

Date is set for April 22 and staging of the exhibits will be under the direction of the Rosebud and the Four O'Clock clubs.

Club Studies Fire Safety

Children should be given fire drills at home, members of the Elbow Home Demonstration Club were told Thursday afternoon when they gathered at Webb Air Force Base for study of fire prevention.

Capt. Lester Willbanks was the speaker and he reminded the group of how often in fires it is the young children who are burned to death. Instructions for the youngsters, given ahead of time as to what to do in case of fire, will sometimes save their lives, the speaker said.

The club assembled at the home of Mrs. W. F. Harrell for a business meeting before going to the base.

Plans were made for the can-

Hawks Meet Boome Tech At Hutchinson

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (SC) — play by defeating Virginia, Minnesota, 80-71, here Thursday evening. The Hawks, now 31-4 on the semi-finals of consolation round

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Odessa High, and not Odessa Permian, should rule as the favorite in the District 2-AAAA football wars next season. The Bronchos will field a mobile line averaging about 185 pounds per man.

The Red Horses ruled as co-champions of the conference last fall. Big Bill Brown hurled a no-hitter for Midland against Tom S. Lubbock last Saturday, after Tom S. had stopped Big Spring with one hit four days previously. Midland's margin of victory was 16-0.

The transfer rule in the Texas Interscholastic League, which prohibits athletes from competing in football and basketball for a year after moving from one place to another, should be so written that it makes allowances for innocent victims.

Boys who transfer in from out of the state with their families and sons of military personnel are penalized through no fault of their own.

Some efforts have been made to talk the Executive Committee of the Texas Interscholastic League into amending the rule to cover such cases but the committee remains adamant in its stand.

It's estimated that 16,000 sons of military personnel alone are deprived of the chance to play varsity athletics because of the discriminating clause in the TIL statutes.

The Interscholastic League maintains the rule cannot be altered because (1) it would lead to a return to former recruiting abuses and (2) it would be next to impossible to decide cases on their individual merits.

However, interscholastic bodies in other states have adopted a realistic approach toward the matter and usually rule favorably on the eligibility of such boys.

The rule deserves a closer look and needs to be rewritten.

Larry McCulloch, the former Big Spring High School basketball mentor who is now head coach at Odessa College, has announced plans to stage an invitational junior college tournament there next Dec. 1, 2, 3.

The meet, of course, would be patterned after Howard College's own tournament, which is held yearly during the Christmas holidays. Fact is, several of the teams which have been coming here would be invited to Odessa—among them Amarillo and San Angelo, as well as HCJC.

HCJC has been attending the Temple Tournament in the early part of December. Chances are it can go to both the Odessa and Temple meets next season.

So few junior college tournaments are held in Texas that surely the Odessa and Temple promoters won't try to stage their meet on the same weekend.

Johnny Goodman, the last amateur golfer to win the National Open tournament (in 1933), has turned pro—at the age of 50. Goodman was a liquor salesman for many years. He recently recovered from a liver ailment that had him on the critical list for several weeks.

Johnny plans to teach golf at a nine-hole course in Bellflower, Calif. Goodman says he doesn't want to go back to his old job because of the travel involved.

The former University of Nebraska links star first won national attention in 1929 when he hitch-hiked to Pebble Beach, Calif., for the 1929 National Amateur and proceeded to upset Bobby Jones in the first round. Goodman was eventually eliminated in the Amateur that year by Lawson Little, who went on to cop the crown.

Runnels, Goliad Hosts In Junior Meet Saturday

Big Spring's Junior High track meet will take place at Memorial Stadium Saturday, beginning at 10 a.m.

Frelimmaries will be run in the morning and the finals begin at 1:30 p.m.

Runnels and Goliad Junior Highs will be entered along with Lee and Edison from San Angelo, Lamesa, Snyder, Colorado City, Brownfield and three junior highs from Hobbs, New Mexico.

Runnels finished in a tie for fourth place in the Wink Junior High meet last week as the sprint and mile relays topped two firsts.

Jerry Bethell, Dickie Spier, Tony Fierro and Ricky Wisener carried the load in the sprint relay and Gene Lamb replaced Bethell to form the mile relay quartet.

Goliad Junior High will be led by Jeff Brown who runs the sprints, the sprint relay, and according to Coach Hugh Hamm, will probably take second in the shot put.

The Goliad mile relay team is composed of Danny Coats, Bruce Wells, Donnie Phillips, and Bert Bell. Jack Eisenhart will do the hurdling for Goliad and George Archer looms as a threat to the discus title.

son, challenged Broome Tech of Binghamton, N. Y., at 1:45 p.m. today.

If victorious, the Texans would play again Saturday evening. The Hawks lost Jimmy Evans with 7:45 to go in the game and Tom Garrison fouled out with 6:36 left but reserves filled the gap well.

Too, the Big Springers got a fine performance out of Harold Henson, who counted a total of 29 points.

Garrison had 15 points and Evans 14 before they exited. Ronald Weeks tossed in 11 for HCJC while Bill Edwards had nine, Bob Shirey two and Kenneth Clearman two.

Gary Simonson and Jim Gulla led the Hounds from Minnesota with 19 each while Bob Stevens had 12.

The Hawks trailed much of the first half but found the range in the final period and led by as much as 12 points several times.

In championship round play, two Kansas teams advanced along with Cameron, Okla., and Tyler, Tex.

Tyler meets Hutchinson, Kan., at 7:30 p.m., while Parsons, Kan., opposes Cameron at 9:15 p.m.

Cameron won its way into the semi-finals Thursday night with a sensational 47-point second half that produced a 69-62 victory over Arkansas State of Beebe, Ark., first round conqueror of HCJC.

Parsons came from behind to topple Grand View of Des Moines, Iowa, 69-60. Leonard Kelley scored 34 points for Parsons.

Tyler had previously beaten Chipola of Florida, 103-80, while Hutchinson measured Lindsey-Wilson of Kentucky, 91-71.

Henry Ford won the right to move ahead by belting Wilson College of Chicago Thursday, 92-87; while Broome Tech, decided Lewisburg, N. C., 77-69, in another game.

HCJC (80) — Weeks 4-11; Henson 11-20; Garrison 4-13; Shirey 1-2; Evans 4-4; Weeks 2-1; Cameron 1-4; Cook 0-0; Totals 28-24-80

VIRGINIA (77) — Simonson 6-8; Dav 4-7 and 4-7; Barbara Smith 2-1; May 2-1; Stevens 3-13; Ridgeway 2-11; Urick 2-11; Wilson 2-7; Stuckel 0-0; Totals 42-27-77

Birdwell One Of Three Area Boys In UH Line

HOUSTON (SC)—Less than 10 days of spring football practice are left for University of Houston gridders before they must take on a pro-filled Alumni team March 26 in Houston's Jeppesen Stadium.

DANNY BIRDWELL

In that same time the Cougars must solve problems at the half-back and guard positions, as well as prepare for the annual Alumni game.

A pair of junior quarterbacks continued to shine in the latest intra-squad game. The Whites handed the Red team a 42-24 beating.

White team quarterback Don Sessions of Springhill, La., led his team's attack with seven completions in 14 attempts for 105 yards and a touchdown. He also ran for five first downs and a nine-yard touchdown.

It took Sessions' fine effort to overshadow Larry Lindsey, Gilmer and Union Grove signal caller who lettered at end last season as a soph. He played quarterback for the 1958 Cougar freshman team.

The 175-pound Lindsey completed six of 10 passes for 57 yards and a six-pointer. He also led a trail of would-be White tacklers on the ground after a sparkling 37-yard touchdown run. It was the second straight Saturday that Lindsey performed well in an intra-squad game.

Another notable game was turned in by big Charlie Reeves, 200-pound fullback from Anguilla, Miss. Reeves is showing improvement both as a runner and a line-backer over last season when he was picked as the team's outstanding back. The hard-running junior led Houston runners in 1959 with a 4.0 average for 87 carries.

Having annual trouble with end play, the Cougars lost a two-year veteran for the rest of the spring when Randall Dorsett of Pasadena left the game with a dislocated finger. Dorsett, one of five seniors on the first two groups, now joins Errol Linden, a 250-pound flanker from New Orleans, La., on the sidelines. Linden, also a senior, has been out for almost two weeks with a knee strain.

Sophomore halfbacks who have been showing up well in early drills include Donnie Shockey, San Antonio; Mike Carew, Corpus Christi; and Gene Ritch, Troup. Tackle posts are being adequately manned by four lettermen. They are juniors: Murdoch Hooper, Garrison; Jim Norris, Mercedes; and Joe Bob Isbell, Orange Little Cypress; and senior Wiley Feagin of Conroe. This four-some averages about 225 pounds.

A trio of West Texans are currently handling the center of Houston's line. They are guards Johnny Branson of Midland and Jim Windham of Colorado City and center Danny Birdwell of Big Spring. Windham is a 220-pound senior. Branson, 210, and Birdwell, 225, are both junior lettermen.

Running next to this trio are guards Ronnie Johnson, a sophomore from Kingsville, and Dick Kirtley of Houston. The Red team center is John Semian, a two-year letter winner from Taylor, Pa.

With lettermen Dorsett and Linden on the sidelines, the end picture is being filled out by Red Wright, a Mexia junior; Albert Gustamante, a Jourdanon product who came to Houston from Del Mar Junior College; and Milton Perkins, a former Victoria Junior College and Bastrop player.

Houston will hold its fourth Saturday intra-squad game tomorrow at 2 p.m. in Jeppesen Stadium. Spring drills close with the playing of the annual Varsity-Exes game March 26.

Tickets are now on sale for the Varsity game. Tickets can be obtained by writing to Ned Thompson, Athletic Business Manager, University of Houston. Tickets are $1.50 each or four for $5.00 if purchased in advance.

The Alumni lineup is due to be stocked again with professional stars. Pro players who played in last year's game include: Don Brown of the Chicago Cardinals; J. D. Kimmel, former Washington Redskins; and Green Bay Packer; Donnie Caraway, Toronto Argonauts; Harold Lewis, Baltimore Colts; Hogan Wharton, Houston Oilers; Joe Bob Smith, Edmonton Eskimos; Curley Johnson and Don Flynn, Dallas Texans; and Bobby Clatterback, formerly with the New York Giants.

Game time is 8 p.m.

er becoming ill after drinking a glass of orange juice delivered to his hotel room by a stranger in a red uniform shortly before the Braves beat St. Boaventure 82-71 Thursday night. Providence, unseeded in the tournament, joined Bradley in the final with a 68-62 victory over second-seeded Utah State in the second game of the semifinal doubleheader that drew a capacity crowd of 18,496 to Madison Square Garden.

An analysis of a sample of the juice was to be made today by police, who were called into the case after Walker and roommate Al Saunders reported the incident to Coach Chuck Orsborn. A detective said he was inclined to think the incident was a harmless prank. Orsborn said Walker sometimes has a nervous stomach before a game "but nothing before like this."

Although nauseous and weak, Walker played 23 minutes and scored 27 points for Bradley, including five in a row that put away the victory in the closing minutes. Then, "feeling weak and tired," he was put to bed at the hotel.

"For a boy as sick as he was, I thought Walker played a wonderful game," said Orsborn. "Mike Owens played very well too and did a wonderful job of puncturing St. Boaventure's half-court press."

Owens, a stubby senior backcourt star, scored only six points but his floor generalship was superb. The Bonnies, who had won 18 in a row, challenged all the way as Tom Stith scored 34 points and Sam Stith 20, but Bradley always had the answer when the score got close.

Bradley came from 12 points behind with eight minutes left for a 57-55 regular season victory over Providence at their home court in Peoria, Ill., on Dec. 14.

Providence Coach Joe Mullaney said Thursday night "If we hope to win we're going to have to lift our entire game. We made too many mistakes against Utah State. We won because we got the breaks toward the end."

Len Wilkens, Johnny Egan and 6-10 Jim Hadnot did the big job for the Friars, who ran their winning streak to 11. Wilkens had 18 points, Egan 16 and Hadnot 10.

"We gave the ball away too many times," said Utah State Coach Cec Baker. "To beat a opportunistic team like Providence. It'll be a fine finale — a close one I think if Providence can hit from the outside against Bradley the way it did against us."

Two BS Quintets Win At Sterling

STERLING CITY (SC) — Two Big Spring teams, Webb AFB and E. C. Smith Construction Company, won first round games in the Sterling City Independent Basketball tournament here Thursday night.

The Webb team trounced Garden City, 66-59, while Smith Construction decisively Sterling City, 66-45.

Milton Bardwell, former Forsan player, led the Webb team with 15 points while Harry Calverley had 14 for Garden City.

Smith Construction was paced by the former Texas Tech star, Gene Carpenter, who tossed in 25. Darrel Flynt tallied 12 for Sterling City.

Steers Meet Snyder In 2 Here Saturday

Roy Baird's Big Spring Steers face a busy baseball weekend. The locals journey to Lubbock today to do battle with the powerful Monterey Plainsmen in a 4 p.m. game.

On Saturday, the Longhorns play host to the Snyder Tigers in a doubleheader, with the first game due to get under way at 1 p.m.

The Bovines will be seeking to improve upon a 1-4 won-lost record. The Steers lost four contests in a row before they finally measured Lamesa last Tuesday.

Despite their miserable luck at the field, the Longhorns have outscored the opposition, 18-14. They swamped Lamesa last time out, 16-1.

Monterey will provide the locals with a stern test. The Plainsmen humbled Abilene earlier this week. Snyder will prove to be quite a challenge, too. The Bengals rallied late to upend the Herd in Snyder last week, 4-1.

Coach Baird is certain to get a good look at his mount staff this week, what with three games to be played in two days.

Jerry Phillips is apt to get the starting mound call against Monterey while Zay LeFevre could follow him to the rubber.

Jay LeFevre, Tom Whately, Homer Mills and Dexter Pale are among the hurlers Baird can summon to duty Saturday.

Probable starters for Big Spring today include Jimmy Roger behind the plate, Don Everett at first base, Rex Appleton at second, Jimmy Kinman at shortstop, Jerry Dunlap at third and Alf Cobb, Bob Andres and Gene Rzasar or Jack Irons in the outfield.

The local team will probably get a look at Norman Gladson, the mound star of the Snyder team, Saturday.

A few changes have been made in the Steer schedule. The Longhorns were originally to have met Snyder there in a double bill on April 2. Instead, the locals will play a single game there on March 24.

Two days later, the Steers go to Levelland while Levelland returns the game here on March 29. Originally, the locals were to have gone to Levelland on the later date.

TEXAS LAWYER
Ranger Captain Bill McDonald
"No man in the wrong can stand up against a fellow that's in the right and keeps on comin'"
A Texas Ranger, tradition has it, must ride like a Mexican, trail like an Indian, shoot like a Tennesseean and fight like a devil. William Jesse McDonald was just such a man. He was the lone lawman who answered the call for a company of Rangers with, "You ain't got but one mob, have you?" Born in "Bloody Kemper" County, Mississippi, 1812, McDonald's first 33 years were restless, roving. But on the rolling plains of Hardeman county in 1845, he came into his own. As Deputy Sheriff he established a reputation for fearless law enforcement, expert marksmanship and lightning quick disarming of opponents. Soon he was a special Ranger, then a U. S. Deputy Marshal — and the McDonald legend was a-building. Governor Hoge made him Captain of Co. B, Frontier Battalion, in 1891. And it was Bill McDonald who was chosen to guard and go wolf hunting with President Teddy Roosevelt in 1901. Later he guarded Woodrow Wilson on a trip to Texas. The salty-talking Captain Bill delighted them both. With a good fighting Scots name, he had a fine face lined with sun, wind and character, mild blue eyes, soft voice — and a "suddenness" that made him irresistible to friend or enemy. Since 1918 Ranger Captain Bill McDonald has been at peace — in Quarah Cemetery.
Respected and honored, the Texas lawman today still safeguards our lives and liberty. And in this vigorous and freedom minded homeland, where "Beer Belongs," the United States Brewers Foundation works constantly in conjunction with brewers, wholesalers and retailers, to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly conditions. Believing that strict law enforcement serves the best interest of Texas, the Foundation stresses close cooperation with the Armed Forces, law enforcement and governing officials.

Carole Sheds Tears On Being Released On Bond

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Tears of joy streamed down Carole Tregoff's pretty face when she heard the news: She can go free on $25,000 bail.

The red-haired co-defendant in the Finch murder case started the 162nd day behind bars today as her family made financial arrangements to secure her release. Carole, 23, and Dr. R. Bernard Finch, 42, her surgeon sweetheart, are accused of murdering Finch's wife, Barbara Jean, 36, last July 18. Their first trial, which lasted three months, ended in a deadlocked jury.

Judge John G. Barnes Thursday set May 23 as the date their second trial will start. After Barnes approved bail for Carole, Finch rushed to her side and exclaimed: "I'm so happy for you, Carole!"

However, the judge rejected Dr. Finch's request for bail and denied Carole's plea for a separate trial.

Barnes didn't explain why bail was granted Carole and denied Finch. The first trial jury voted 8-4 to acquit Carole and 10-2 to convict Finch.

The judge rejected a vigorous plea for bail by Finch's lawyer. "Where could Dr. Finch run?" asked attorney Grant B. Cooper. "Everyone in the United States of America and elsewhere knows him."

"All of his assets are here. He has $300,000 in real estate, and is a member of the medical profession. Dr. Finch is entitled to bail."

Association For Retarded Children Fixes Meet Date

FORT WORTH — "Retarded Children in a Changing World" is the theme of the 10th annual convention of the Texas Association for Retarded Children to be held Thursday, April 21-23 at the Texas Hotel in Fort Worth.

One of the features of the meeting will be a diagnostic team demonstration by the Tulsa Diagnostic Evaluation Team of Tulsa, Okla. Mrs. Gretchen V. C. Abbott, consultant for the 1960 White House Conference on Children and Youth, will make a report on the conference at the Thursday night meeting.

Dr. Darrel Mase, dean of the College of Health and Related Services of the University of Florida, will speak Saturday morning on the "Changing Attitudes in a Changing World."

The closing session Saturday night will present Dr. James E. Peavy, State Commissioner of Health, on "Public Health Programs for the Mentally Retarded."

Hubert, Sen. John Currying Voters

By RELMAN MORIN
MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Senators Hubert H. Humphrey and John F. Kennedy are currying the Wisconsin voter today like a prize Holstein heifer.

They are driving for support in the state's presidential primary, April 5. They mosh through the slush on Main street, shaking hands, they go out at dawn to the factory gate. They call press conferences at the drop of a development. Their urgent voices vibrate over TV and radio, pursuing people across snowy fields and silent forests. They've even got their wives out with curly combs and myrrh and incense.

But they don't seem to see the coming election in the same light. Humphrey of Minnesota tends to down-grade the importance of it. He says the April 5 vote is just another primary. Kennedy, of Massachusetts, on the other hand, says "This is it." Or he may use the terms, "make-or-break," and "the significant primary," in his bid for the Democratic presidential nomination.

SEE VICTORY

Why this difference of view? It may be because Kennedy and his backers are confident of victory. Politicians seldom say "this is it" if they have much doubt about an election result.

Humphrey's aides, by contrast, tend to be cautious. They say he has "a good chance," that he is "coming up fast now," but is probably still behind Kennedy at this stage of the campaign.

So one seeks to enhance the importance of Wisconsin on the national Democratic presidential picture. The other says he will go on battling for the nomination no matter what happens April 5.

The opinion that Kennedy is well in front, at this point, is widely held among political observers in Wisconsin—Republicans as well as Democrats, independents and those who are still yearning and hoping to be able to vote for Adlai E. Stevenson.

One highly placed Democrat, who asked not be identified, said he expects Kennedy to sweep the boards, winning all 60 delegates with their 30 convention votes.

TAKE SEVEN

The majority of analysts, however, believe Kennedy will take seven districts and all the at-large delegates. This would give him 22 1/2 of Wisconsin's total delegate vote.

The allocation of delegates and votes in Wisconsin is as follows: There are 10 congressional districts, each with five delegates to be elected. Each delegate has one-half vote. Thus the district-delegates cast 25 votes.

In addition, there are 10 at-large delegates, who will cast five convention votes. These 10 delegates will go to the candidate who gets the largest statewide total, in other words the sum total of the votes cast in the 10 districts.

The two Wisconsin members of the Democratic National Committee also will have one-half vote each at the convention, giving the Wisconsin delegation a total of 31 votes.

Humphrey's greatest strength appears to lie in the 9th and 10th districts. These border his home state of Minnesota. He has visited them often. He is sometimes known there as "Wisconsin's third senator."

INTERESTS SIMILAR

The interests of the farmers on both sides of the state lines are similar. Humphrey has been speaking out for the farmers much longer than Kennedy.

The Minnesota senator also appears to have strong support in the Second Congressional District, which embraces a La Crosse in western Wisconsin and has a substantial labor vote.

The question of how the mass of farmers and factory workers will vote is pure political quick-silver. You can't pick it up now.

AFL-CIO leaders in Milwaukee formed a Humphrey-for-President Club weeks ago.

But in the Kennedy headquarters they will show you petitions for Kennedy bearing thousands of signatures from Local 72, United Automobile Workers.

As for the farmers—The farm vote is estimated at between 15 and 18 per cent of the total vote.

Wilbur Renk, of Sun Prairie, cattle fatterer and member of the University of Wisconsin Board of Regents, said "the Farmers Union seems pretty strong for Humphrey. He has come up with plans." And Wayne Legler, a dairy farmer, said "Humphrey's had more agricultural experience than Kennedy." But he added, "the older farmers, those who are already established, aren't exactly unhappy. It's the younger ones who are just getting started who are looking for someone with a plan."

BIG CROWDS

Both Humphrey and Kennedy are drawing big crowds—sometimes in the same places. Both have been successful in raising money. Kennedy was a patrol torpedo boat commander in the Pacific war and his aides have sold hundreds of pins shaped like P. T. boats.

Humphrey's lieutenants are mulling close to a million five-piece letters asking for donations. Joseph Checota, in the senator's Madison office, said this brought in over $1,000, "in ones and twos, mainly," in the first three days after they were mailed.

In one respect—volunteers—Kennedy seems to be pulling more strongly than Humphrey.

Cabbie Admits Hiding Victim

NEW YORK (AP)—A taxicab driver confessed today that he struck a 4-year-old girl with his cab and hid her—dead or dying—under a parked car where passers-by at first mistook her body for a discarded rag doll.

The driver had taken the little girl into his arms at the accident scene and assured a gathering crowd that he would drive her to a hospital.

Instead, he drove half a mile away and abandoned her near a cemetery.

Finally, a stroller reached under the parked auto to see what shape the "doll" was in. It was the body of Robin Joyner, Harlem Negro.

A homicide charge was lodged today against the hit-run driver, Willie Richardson, 53-year-old Negro grandfather, who was picked up Thursday night.

Police reported Richardson made a full confession. They quoted him as saying he became panicky after the accident three weeks ago in Harlem, drove around with the victim for two hours, and got rid of her when he discovered she was "getting cold."

Detective teams had worked around the clock questioning 400 men among the city's 8,000 Negro taxi drivers who fitted the description of the hit-run killer—over six feet and about 220 pounds.

Skies Clear Over Texas

By The Associated Press
Skies were clear over Texas Friday morning and no precipitation was reported, but near freezing temperatures covered southern portions of the state.

Austin had a 40-degree reading early in the day. College Station 35, Beaumont 35, Laredo 39 and Houston 35.

Further north Dallas had 36, Wichita Falls 32 and the lowest temperature was 29 degrees at both Junction and Lufkin.

The high temperature was 44 degrees at Brownsville, a lower than normal reading for that southern city this time of year.

Some patchy clouds covered North Central and Northeast Texas and the Panhandle but they were expected to drift eastward later in the day.

Up to two inches of snow fell in the Big Bend Country of far West Texas Thursday. Snow fell from Alpine westward to El Paso. Guadalupe pass had two inches and from one to two inches fell along U.S. 62 in Hudspeth County. The snow extended as far east as Fort Stockton and Marathon.

Weather Bureau reporting stations Thursday recorded .09 inches of moisture at Cotulla, and Palacios and Van Horn had .02. Traces were reported at Alpine, Beville, Houston, Laredo, Sherman and Victoria.

High temperatures Thursday ranged from 44 at Alpine to 61 at Presidio.

The five-day forecast issued Friday by the Weather Bureau calls for temperatures 4 to 8 degrees below normal in Eastern and Central Texas and 3 to 6 degrees below normal in Western Texas. Precipitation is expected to be light.

Valiant Army Honors The Saint

NEW YORK (AP)—A valiant army of marchers Thursday braved the foulest St. Patrick's Day weather in almost a generation.

But rain, wind, fog and cold cut the ranks of paraders and the number of spectators.

Instead of a forecast 120,000 marchers, there were less than 75,000. Police estimated the spectators at 500,000, compared with estimates of a million in recent years.

Elks To Host Area Meet

Big Spring's Elks Lodge will host visitors from all over the state this weekend at the annual district convention. The lodge will also celebrate its 10th anniversary. Registration of visitors will begin Saturday afternoon and activities will begin with a buffet dinner at 7:15 o'clock.

Cliff Fisher, president of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, will give the welcoming speech and Forest D. Gathright, president of the Elks' state association, will respond.

The lodge's welcome will be given by Exalted Ruler L. D. Cobb, and District Vice President Clifford Ashton will give the response.

A semi-formal dance will begin at 9 p.m. Saturday with the music by the Bel-Air Quintet. The traditional 11 o'clock toast will be in honor of E. C. Bunch, deceased state president, who as district deputy in 1956, organized the local lodge. His widow, Mrs. Alice Bunch, Odessa, will be an honored guest.

The BPOE Does of the local lodge will serve coffee and doughnuts beginning at 9 a.m. Sunday and the business meeting will start at 9:30.

Gathright will head the delegation of visitors, including several past presidents and other dignitaries. Gathright is an insurance man in Austin, and is a past exalted ruler of the Austin lodge. He also has been the district deputy grand exalted ruler.

GARDEN TALK

Grubs Can Destroy Lawns, Get At Them With Poison

Bugs, the bane of gardeners, are always coming up for discussion. It gets to be a joke at our house when certain bugs develop in epidemic numbers, and I get so many calls asking about this or that insect scourge. We just answer the phone with the words "Use Black Leaf 40." Two times out of three that is the right answer, too.

The other day I had a whole delegation of people from Webb Village asking what to do about grub worms in the lawns. This is probably the worst pest we have in lawns in West Texas, and the treatment is not too hard. The worms are the larvae of the June bug or May beetle, Coleoptera, scarabidae. The eggs were laid in the lawns last June or July and they hatched out into little grubs that have now grown to near maturity. All this winter they have been munching away at the roots of the bermuda grass, and the stolons, or underground stems. They are now fat and ready to go on to mature into beetles which will collect around lights in May and June.

The treatment is chlorodane dust at the rate of one pound to a thousand square feet of lawn. Just dust it on and water it in. If you have no pets or children, lead arinate is even better than chlorodane as it lasts much longer. The same rate of application applies.

Once the poison is applied, soak it into the soil, and the worms will usually die. It sometimes takes two treatments, and these should be repeated as long as you can turn up those white grubs in the lawn. Grubs do a great deal of damage and literally cut the roots off the grass so you can roll it up like a carpet. Isn't it a shame they can't cultivate a taste for winter rye grass and dandelions?

Drop your garden questions to Bruce Frazier in care of the Big Spring Herald.

Sullivan To Be Honored At Legion's WW I Vet Party

Charlie Sullivan, retired judge of the 118th Judicial District, will be honored Saturday night at the annual reunion of WWI veterans. Judge Sullivan, a 40 year member of the American Legion, will receive a plaque commemorating outstanding service to the community, nation and the organization in a special ceremony at the veterans reunion.

Judge Sullivan is a past commander of the post.

The barbecue commemorating the 41st anniversary of the American Legion and the post's annual reunion for WWI veterans will be held at the Legion Home, San Angelo highway, beginning at 7 p.m. Veterans of the First World War are to be honored guests.

Master of ceremonies for the brief program will be Gil Jones, 118th district attorney and head of the Legion's legislative committee. Speaker for the evening will be Hon. Ralph Caton, who succeeded Judge Sullivan on the bench.

Foy Dunlap, commander, and all the past commanders of the Post will make the presentation to Judge Sullivan. Membership cards to 30 and 40 year members will also be presented by Pete Turner, Midland State judge advocate of the American Legion.

Past presidents of the Auxiliary will be recognized by Mrs. Byron Hill, president, and Mrs. Wilford Stoner, Plainview, 18th District Auxiliary president.

Memorial services for deceased members will be conducted by Joe Pennington and 18th District American Legion chaplain, Wilfred Stoner, Plainview, will give the benediction. Veterans of WWI from Big Spring, Howard County and surrounding towns are expected to be present.

Alaska Okays Pen Visit Bill

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — The Alaska Senate Thursday passed, 12-7, a House bill to permit honor prisoners to have periodic overnight visits from their spouses. An opponent, Sen. B. J. Logan, claimed the visitation system would make Alaska "the laughing stock of every two-bit master of ceremonies with nothing else to joke about."

But Sen. George B. McNabb said it would help hold families together and be an incentive to good behavior.

Spouses of prisoners with good behavior records would be permitted to make 24-hour visits every six weeks. Visits would be at the place of confinement, if facilities exist. The privilege would be limited to prisoners married longer than six months and serving sentences of more than six weeks.

FPC Member Dies At Meeting

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Funeral services will be held at Shreveport, La., Saturday for John Hussey, 52, member of the Federal Power Commission. Hussey collapsed and died of a heart attack Thursday while he was introduced as a speaker at the southern district meeting of the American Petroleum Institute in San Antonio.

Pioneer V Races Toward Its Orbit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pioneer V passed the million-mile mark early today in its race toward an orbit around the sun. Its voice—a high steady tone like a radio-time signal—came back loud and clear over that vast distance. It was the farthest by far that mankind has sent an intelligible signal — and Pioneer is expected to keep up its flow of space data back to earth for many more millions of miles.

The passing of the million-mile mark was celebrated with appropriate ceremony at the Washington headquarters of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The time was 2 a. m. Eastern

Standard; the scene, a small auditorium a block from the White House, cluttered with Klieg lights and movie cameras.

Just before the contact was established with Pioneer a rushing noise—like a great waterfall—came over the loudspeakers in the room. This was the sound of space, the radio signals of the stars. Scientists call it cosmic noise.

Then the clear, electronic tone of the satellite took over. To human ears, it sounded continuous, with only a slight interruptive blip now and then. Actually, the radio a million miles away was sending back seven different kinds of information.

With a Los Angeles NASA station giving the orders, Hawaii sent the signal to turn on the satellite's radio.

Pioneer did its part. At the moment it was 1,002,700 miles away.

Chamber Leader Workshop Set

Big Spring's Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the West Texas Chamber is sponsoring a leaders' workshop in Colorado City on Thursday from 8:45 a.m. until 3 p.m.

The workshop is designed for training and indoctrination of the chamber's volunteer leaders.

The local chamber president, Cliff Fisher, says that at the end of each year most chamber directors, officers, etc. say: "I wish I had known at the beginning of the year what I know now."

Fisher says the workshop is an attempt to ready all officers, directors, committee chairmen and members for duties in the coming year.

Wederbrooks Find Ministry In Child Evangelism By Teaching

BY SHERI WEBBER

Lusty young voices blend in cheerful discord each Sunday evening as a group of tiny pupils sing "Jesus Loves the Little Children."

A husband and wife team directs this group of 4 to 9-year-olds when they meet each week for a children's hour at 6:30 p.m. The kids have church at the First Assembly of God before the adults enter into the evening service.

Jack and Meta Wederbrook lead these youngsters as they learn of Christ. Mrs. Wederbrook first became interested in child evangelism while watching a friend conduct children's services five years ago. Since that time she has interested her husband, and he is now a firm advocate of teaching children about Jesus.

"Kids are so enthusiastic," relates Jack Wederbrook. "They are always ready to come to the children's hour." But one of the biggest hindrances, the couple has discovered, is parents. Since the children gather an hour before the evening worship service, parents are often reluctant to make the extra trip.

"They are so eager to learn about God," Auburn-haired Meta states. "It isn't hard for children to remember the memory verses, and they are even adept at recalling the exact scripture reference."

You need three qualifications to work with children, according to the teaching couple. First, a love for them; second, the ability to show interest in them, and most of all, patience.

There are practical points to teaching effectively, the Wederbrooks have discovered. Meta urges that all teachers who work with children in a church to be at the meeting place ahead of time.

"If the teacher is there first," Mrs. Wederbrook contends, "he is able to create an atmosphere of worship as the children enter."

Jack Wederbrook is a large man with an easy grin and teasing manner that instantly wins the hearts of his snaggled-tooth pupils. Recently he started teaching the youngsters the books of the Bible in their Sunday evening service. He makes a good story teller, and illustrates his stories with visual aid material used on a flannel board.

Experience for Wederbrook includes positions of Sunday school teacher, assistant superintendent and superintendent.

While the man of the family enjoys teaching little girls ("They behave better," he claims), Mrs. Wederbrook enjoys teaching little boys. Perhaps this is because they have a son, Roy, who is a junior in Big Spring High School. She teaches a Sunday school class of 7 and 8-year-old boys.

Devices used by Meta Wederbrook, who approaches her work with understanding and patience, include flash card stories, sand tables, object lessons, and songs with action.

Enthusiasm at its highest, demonstrated as the tiny tots sing songs full of motions. Often times the older leaders aren't filled with as much eagerness to make sure the motions are as exaggerated as the youngsters would like.

For instance: one Sunday evening Meta led the group in a song entitled "Building Up the Church" because of stiffness in older muscles her motions were "big" enough to please the youngsters.

"It came to the part that goes: 'How high you can't get up if you can't get around it; how you can't get under it; how you must go in at the door,'" she lad looked up at her with a grin and said, "Sister Wederbrook, you can get under yours!"

"First of all, they would have weather reports in advance, radio and radar. Ancient ships had to depend upon wind and rowers, while our modern ships are run with oil or coal. Modern ships are infinitely heavier than the old ones; many are made with steel, so much more durable than wood, and can develop a speed of 500 miles a day."

"The older classes will find in this lesson a remarkable illustration of one of the last things Paul ever wrote, namely that we are to be 'instant in season, out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort, with all long-suffering and doctrine.'—I Timothy 4:2.

"The chapter before this closed with Paul's appeal to Caesar, and the decision that Paul must go to Rome."—Peloubet's Select Notes.

Paul's Voyage to Rome

HOW A GREAT APOSTLE USED THE UNEXPECTED DELAYS AND PERILS OF A VOYAGE AS AN OPPORTUNITY FOR PROCLAIMING THE GOSPEL AND BRINGING GLORY TO GOD

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

"THE YOUNGER classes may be introduced to this lesson (which includes a most vivid narrative of a storm and shipwreck) by the question: how many things would a modern ship have for its safe riding through a storm, or avoiding it?" suggests the Rev. Dr. Wilbur M. Smith in Peloubet's Notes.

"First of all, they would have weather reports in advance, radio and radar. Ancient ships had to depend upon wind and rowers, while our modern ships are run with oil or coal. Modern ships are infinitely heavier than the old ones; many are made with steel, so much more durable than wood, and can develop a speed of 500 miles a day."

"The older classes will find in this lesson a remarkable illustration of one of the last things Paul ever wrote, namely that we are to be 'instant in season, out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort, with all long-suffering and doctrine.'—I Timothy 4:2.

"The chapter before this closed with Paul's appeal to Caesar, and the decision that Paul must go to Rome."—Peloubet's Select Notes.

"And when it was determined that he should sail into Italy, they delivered Paul and certain other prisoners unto one named Julius, a centurion of Augustus' band."—Acts 27:1.

They were placed on a ship of Adramyttium, a city of Asia Minor. "This was only a coasting vessel which intended to stop only in different ports along the coast of Asia Minor. Luke accompanies Paul on this voyage. . . . Paul's second companion was Aristarchus, a Macedonian of Thessalonica," writes Dr. Smith.

"The first large island that they had to pass by would be Cyprus, where they found contrary winds. At Myra they found a grain ship from Egypt bound for Italy, and prisoners and guards were transferred to this larger vessel. Again the winds were 'contrary' and they had to change their course and sail under the island of Crete, where they found a place called Fair Haven where they waited for the wind to change. They spent some time there, and when sailing was now dangerous" Paul told them: "Sirs, I perceive that this voyage will be with hurt and much damage, not only of the living and ship, but also of our lives."—Acts 27:9-10.

"The centurion, however, believed the master and owner of the ship more than Paul, so they sailed. Not long after an hair fall from the head of any of you."—Acts 27:33-34.

So they ate, 276 of them. Now strengthened they threw the wheat into the sea, "a terrible loss of cargo, but it was impossible to save it," Dr. Wilbur M. Smith tells us. They escaped to land and found they were on the island of Melita. The natives were very hospitable and as it was cold and the men were doubtless wet, a fire was kindled.—Acts 28:1-10.

Paul was to have still another near brush with death when he gathered a bundle of sticks and threw them on the fire. As he did so, a viper fastened on his hand. "When the barbarians saw the venomous beast hang on his hand, they said among themselves, 'No doubt this man is a murderer. . . . But Paul shook the viper off into the fire. Those with him thought he would have swollen or fallen down dead, but as no harm came to him, they decided he must be a god."—Acts 28:3-6.

Of the miracle Paul performed on the chief's father, who was sick of a fever, the teachers will tell the classes.

When they arrived in Rome the centurion delivered the prisoners to the captain of the guard; but Paul was suffered to dwell by himself with a soldier that kept him."—Acts 28:16.

PRAYER POWER Invalid's Prayers Bring London Revival

In 1872 Marianne Adlard, a patient in London, England, who was bed-ridden and dying, was visited by a man who came to pray for her. He was a young man named D. L. Moody. He had just returned from a revival in Chicago that was being held by D. L. Moody. He began to pray:

"O Lord, send this man to be a revival in our church."

Later in the year, D. L. Moody visited London, not planning to speak at all. The sick girl's father heard him and by chance invited him to speak that evening in church.

Mr. Moody consented and after the service made the usual call for surrender to Christ. A hundred people stood up. Stated Mr. Moody repeated his invitation, feeling sure there was misunderstanding. But the response was the same. A spontaneous revival broke out. Meetings were held for ten days. More than 400 united with the church. Moody was bewildered and began searching for the reason. At his persistence, some remembered Marianne and told him about her. He went to her.

Later he told G. Campbell M.

Laymen's Dinner Is Planned

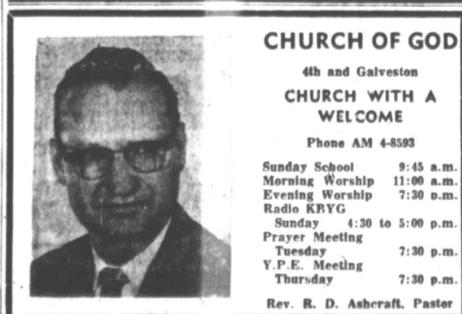

Now available through local pastors are tickets for the Laymen's Fellowship Dinner that will be held March 31 at 7 p.m. in the Student Union Building of HCJC.

Sponsored by the Pastors' Association, the dinner is an denominational affair with men of all churches invited to attend. Tickets are $1.50.

Guest speaker of the evening will be R. G. LeTourneau — known as "God's Businessman."

LeTourneau, now 71, has been a leading manufacturer of earth-moving equipment. In 1953 he sold his business to the Westinghouse Air Brake Co. for $31 million. Since then he has entered new phases of business and is still going full blast.

The manufacturer says he got to the top "with a slide rule in one hand and a Bible in the other." He and his wife have endowed the LeTourneau Foundation, one of the largest evangelical missionary organizations in the country. Some 90 per cent of his income goes into religious work.

Give God A Chance—God Will Open Doors For You!

The Golden Time

When Mom and I got married, golden weddings seemed just as remote to us as they probably do to you. Matter of fact, folks celebrating them seemed like museum pieces!

Now here we are, posing for our fiftieth anniversary picture! Funny part of it is that we don't feel a bit like "old folks!"

Still, a couple can't be married for half a century without putting in a lot of living. Mom and I have. There were times when we were so happy we thought we'd burst . . . other times when it didn't seem as if we could find the strength to keep going another minute.

Through it all, we've had our church. It's hard to put into words how important that's been. Maybe you'll get an idea when I tell you this. When Mom asked me what I'd like to do to celebrate our anniversary, I said, "First of all, let's go to Church. I want to say a little prayer of thanks."

Mom smiled at me. "So do I," she told me.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

High School Drama Group Sets Installation Banquet

Ten new members will be initiated into the National Thespian Society tonight.

The Court Jesters, high school dramatics club, will sponsor the initiation at 7 p.m. in the HCJC Student Union Building. Also on the program are a banquet and a dance.

Initiates are to provide individual skits during the program. They are Gary Pickle, Linda Morton, Jill Mason, Fran Napier, Dorothy Wheeler, Nelson Clemow, Doug Davis, Sharon Gary, Ilameta Carr, and Jim Skinner.

Bedford Forrest, high school speech and drama instructor and thespian sponsor, will make 12 awards in recognition for special work during the school year. These are not the annual "academy" awards which include work for the entire school year.

Young Leukemia Victim Dies

ABILENE (AP) — Ann Carol Helms, a 4-year-old girl whose battle against leukemia attracted statewide attention, died Thursday night in a hospital.

She was taken to the hospital last Friday with pneumonia and complications from chicken pox. It was the third time she had suffered pneumonia.

The leukemia was diagnosed last October and she has been getting weekly treatment at the Wadley Research Institute in Dallas. The story of her illness came to public attention here in February and the Altrusa Club of Abilene started a fund to pay her medical expenses.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Helms. The couple has three other children, Diane, 6, Donna Kay, 2, and Robbie, 8. Funeral services will be held today.

Show Means Controversy

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Broadcasting Co. — which has not yet received the manuscript — may find itself running headlong into controversy with its projected Sunday Showcase drama about the Sacco and Vanzetti case.

Feelings still run high over the fate of two Italian-born men executed more than 30 years ago for the slaying of two men in a payroll robbery in Massachusetts. Many are convinced they were innocent. Others still say they were guilty. And a lot of others just wish the sore subject wouldn't be raised again.

Reginald Rose, currently winding up the second half of the two-part drama, has spent months in research. He has interviewed persons who had something to do with the case. He has pondered over it. And he is absolutely convinced that the two men were innocent of the crime for which they were executed, and he is outraged at what he feels was a shocking miscarriage of justice.

"They were two men who were trapped in forces swirling around them," says Rose, almost angrily. "Already — with the script far from complete — some rumblings have been heard from Massachusetts. Rose says that one Boston newspaperman already has attacked in print the drama as inaccurate.

"Although how he knows, I can't imagine," says Rose. "But I will say that the State of Massachusetts is going to get the worst going-over it has ever had."

Singer, Girlfriend Wait For An Uncle

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie - TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It's lucky that Nancy Sinatra and Tommy Sands believe in long engagements. Because they'll have to postpone their wedding while the singer keeps another date with Uncle Sam.

Sands, a healthy, fit 22-year-old has been beckoned by his Houston, Tex. draft board. About May 1, he plans to have his singing affairs wound up so he can begin six months of active duty in the Air Force Reserve.

Toward the end of the year, Sands will return to Hollywood to claim his bride in what may be one of the social events of the season. The wedding will culminate a romance that bears a resemblance to the one that featured Nancy's mother and father, Nancy and Frank Sinatra.

Not long ago, Nancy Sr. escorted her 19-year-old daughter to Las Vegas while Sands was appearing at one of the big hotels. She watched Young Nancy mooning over the dark, slender crooner on the stage and exclaimed: "Good heavens, it's my own life happening 20 years later."

The engagement came as somewhat of a surprise to the movie colony, but it was no quick romance. The young couple first met a year ago New Year's when Sands dropped in on a party at the Sinatra house with Lindsays Crosby and another friend.

We didn't see each other again until last August, when I was singing at the Coconut Grove here," recalled Sands. "Nancy was there with a boy she had been going steady with for about two years. I left town for a few weeks and when I came back, I heard she wasn't going steady any more. So I called her for a date."

Their dating became more intense, until they were seeing each other every evening when he was in town.

"Along toward Christmas time," Sands said, "we wanted to make our feeling toward each other seem more permanent. So we decided to get engaged." He secured permission from Nancy's mother and father, who remain on friendly terms though divorced, and the announcement was made this month.

What is Nancy like? Sands was interested to learn that she fit his own specifications for the girl he would marry, as disclosed in past interviews. She's lovely, vivacious, intelligent and, of course, familiar with show business.

"But she doesn't want to be an entertainer," he added. "She's appearing on her father's next TV show and she's a good singer and dancer. Her phrasing with a song is excellent; I guess she picked that up from her father."

"I'm just as glad she doesn't aim for a professional career, though."

Wilma Cole On TCU Honor List

FORT WORTH — Wilma F. Cole of Big Spring has been named to the fall semester Dean's Honor List in the AddRan College of Arts and Sciences at Texas Christian University. Honorees were announced this week.

A total of 190 students were named. To be eligible for the honor, a student must be carrying at least 12 semester hours in courses that count toward a degree and be in the upper 5 per cent scholastically of his school or college.

Miss Cole, a sophomore French major, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cole, 700 Tulsa Road, Big Spring. At TCU she is a member of the Student Activities Council and the French Club. She is a graduate of Big Spring High School.

Nadler Flunks Census Exam

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Teddy Nadler flunked a written examination for prospective census takers today.

The chunky former clerk who won $264,000 on television quiz shows fidgeted and fretted through a map-reading and vocabulary test along with about 50 other applicants.

Only Wednesday Nadler denied his finances had anything to do with his trying for the $13-a-day job. "I'm not broke and I'm not wealthy," he said. "My finances are nobody's business but mine." Nadler requested Jack W. Traverser Jr., regional director of the Bureau of the Census, not to reveal his grade.
