Gulf Storm May Become Hurricane

The Weather Bureau said a Gulf of Mexico disturbance is expected to reach hurricane proportions Wednesday afternoon. The turbulence has been labeled "Tropical Storm Eitel."

The disturbance is expected to reach hurricane strength during the afternoon. The agency said, "Continued north northeast movement at 10 to 12 m.p.h. this (Wednesday) afternoon is expected, with a turn to a more northeasterly course likely tonight."

Shipping in the northeast and central portions of the Gulf of Mexico should exercise caution, the Weather Bureau said. The Weather Bureau ordered a hurricane watch from Grand Isle, La., to Cedar Keys, Fla. Hurricane hunter planes were ordered into the area this afternoon.

U.S. Restricts Castro Like Niki For His Visit To U.N.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today ordered Cuba's Fidel Castro restricted to Manhattan. The United Nations general assembly session in New York, beginning next week, is expected to be the first time since 1958 that Castro will be in the city.

Herter said no decision has been reached about limiting the travels of Yugoslav President Josip Broz Tito, who is expected to visit New York next week.

The United States considers that East German restrictions on travel to West Berlin constitute a serious matter, Herter would make no comment beyond this.

Lyndon Scans New Mexico For Its Electoral Votes

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson campaigned here today, to help his colleagues put New Mexico's four electoral votes on the side of Sen. John F. Kennedy for president. Johnson, the Democratic candidate for vice president, found on his arrival that this was "Lyndon Johnson Day" by proclamation of the City Commission.

Johnson stressed his role of a friendly neighbor as he stumped through "Little Texas." Anderson and other top New Mexico Democrats were anxious for Johnson to seek support for the ticket in the eastside region where there have been widespread reports that Kennedy's Catholic religion will handicap the ticket.

Lumumba Calls For War On 'Imperialists'

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Premier Patrice Lumumba called on the divided Congolese army today to unite against the "imperialists" seeking to profit from the Congo's chaos.

Lumumba spoke over Leopoldville Radio for the first time since the powerful transmitter was taken over by U.N. troops Sept. 6. Restrictions on its use were relaxed Tuesday.

He addressed himself particularly to the unruly and undisciplined army which holds the balance in the bitter struggle for power in the Congo. "Speaking in my capacity of minister of national defense, I give you the order to devote yourself to the service of your people and your republic," Lumumba said.

Both Kasavubu and Lumumba have been trying to fire each other, and seize full control neither has had solid enough support from the army to make the order stick. The situation became more confused Tuesday night when Lumumba defied a new Kasavubu arrest warrant and strode into a joint session of Parliament which gave the premier a rousing cheer and voted him dictatorial powers.

CITIZENS, OFFICIALS LAUD OUTCOME OF CITY ELECTION

The outcome of the election was met with unqualified praise, satisfaction and gratitude by both city officials and private citizens who had a hand in outlining the program. City commissioners and members of the committees who worked on the capital improvements program and explaining the program to the citizens all voiced much the same opinion in complimenting Big Spring residents for civic pride and responsibility.

Dr. J. E. Hogan, chairman of the Master Plan Steering Committee, said, "I am very happy with the outcome of the election. I think it indicates city-wide interest in the program and growth of Big Spring."

Mayor Lee O. Rogers and commissioner Paul Kasch were both out of the city today and unavailable for comment. Steinheimer said that work on the first year's program will get under way probably sometime in March. A tentative deadline for completion of the work has been set for Aug. 31.

GALLUP POLL INDICATES: Presidential Race Is Toss-Up Closest Contest In 25 Years

Record Turnout For City Plan

Big Spring voters turned out in record numbers Tuesday to endorse overwhelmingly the $4,300,000 capital improvements program. It was the largest election turnout in city history. A record vote of 1,993 was cast at the polls, with about 73 per cent of the voters expressing approval of the bond issue, largest since 1953.

Dr. J. E. Hogan, chairman of the Master Plan Steering Committee, said, "I am very happy with the outcome of the election. I think it indicates city-wide interest in the program and growth of Big Spring."

Mayor Lee O. Rogers and commissioner Paul Kasch were both out of the city today and unavailable for comment. Steinheimer said that work on the first year's program will get under way probably sometime in March. A tentative deadline for completion of the work has been set for Aug. 31.

Red Squeeze On Berlin Gets Tighter As K Nears New York

By GEORGE BOULTWOOD
BERLIN (AP)—The squeeze on Berlin gets tighter as the Soviet ship Baltika, with Nikita Khrushchev on board, sails closer to New York.

It may be coincidence, but the progressive pulling at the drawing on this Communist-surrounded city appears to be keeping pace with the progress of the Soviet premier across the Atlantic.

Western officials speculated today that Khrushchev would like to have the Berlin situation boiling when he appears before the U.N. General Assembly soon after its opening session next Tuesday.

Any doubts whether the current harassing of travel by West Germans has Moscow's approval were removed Tuesday night by the Soviet commandant in East Berlin, Maj. Gen. Nikolai F. Zakharov.

He stoutly backed-up the Communist East German regime, saying it was acting within "constitutional rights" the Soviets gave it five years ago.

Zakharov rejected an Allied protest of Aug. 31 against the first of the series of jobs at free movement delivered by the East Germans over the past two weeks.

Zakharov turned down the Western argument that four-power control still applies to the whole of the city. The East sector, he said, is part of the sovereign East German state.

He also pointed a menacing finger at the West's lifeline air corridors to Berlin, warning the Allies not to misuse them. The Western powers would have to "bear the consequences" if they allowed West German "revenge seekers and militarists" to fly to the city to "stage provocations" against Communist countries, the general said.

The Communist regime announced Tuesday night it would no longer recognize the West German passports issued to West Berliners. Instead, visas would be attached to personal identity cards for travel through East Germany.

The East German regime also condemned the visit here Thursday of West German President Heinrich Lübke as "deliberate political trouble making."

The surprise move came at the end of a six-week trial of 23 persons charged with misappropriating funds and property of the Warsaw tanning factory.

Texans Pour Out For Jack

By The Associated Press

Texans by the tens of thousands poured from office buildings, factories and homes Tuesday to give Sen. John Kennedy a rousing climax to his two-day border-to-border tour of the state.

The Democratic presidential nominee left Texarkana, Tex., for El Paso, where he will arrive in a good trip.

A crowd estimated by Police Chief Leon Arnold at 100,000 saw and heard the senator in Texarkana. It was the first time a presidential candidate had ever visited the East Texas city.

Earlier in the day Dallas Police Chief J. E. Curry estimated that 175,000 jammed downtown Dallas as Kennedy rode slowly to Memorial Auditorium where he talked to almost a full house at the 11,000-seat structure.

Vice President Richard Nixon, GOP candidate, drew an estimated 100,000 as he rode through Dallas Monday and his crowd at the Memorial Auditorium was, like Kennedy's, almost a capacity one.

HIDDEN FACTOR?

Some observers felt that the time Kennedy rode through Dallas—the lunch hour—helped swell the number that lined his parade route. Nixon came after the lunch break when many had returned to their offices.

Fort Worth officers estimated that 15,000 saw Kennedy at the city's Burnett Park and the crowd that saw him in front of the Capitol at Austin, where the day was put at between 5,000 and 15,000.

Additional thousands saw Kennedy as he rode from Fort Worth to Dallas with brief stops at Arlington and Grand Prairie.

With Kennedy was his vice presidential running mate, Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas.

Democratic politicians, trying to keep the state from going Republican as it did in 1952 and 1956, said they were encouraged with the response to the Massachusetts senator.

BACK AGAIN

Kennedy said he would "probably be back in Texas" to campaign.

At Texarkana with Kennedy were House Speaker Sam Rayburn, Arkansas Sen. J. William Fulbright, Rep. Carl Albert, D-Okla., Oklahoma Lt. Gov. George Nigh, Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., Mrs. Margaret Price, vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee, Kennedy's sister, Mrs. Peter Lawford, and Gov. Price Daniel.

Former Highway Commission Chairman Marshall Fomby said he felt Kennedy had started behind in Texas "but I think this trip will swing it to him."

John White, agriculture commissioner, said Kennedy's showing surpassed anything given Adlai Stevenson in 1952 and 1956.

Kennedy told the crowd that "There is not a farmer in Texas or in Arkansas whose income has not deteriorated under (Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft) Benson, Nixon and the others."

GOP TRADITION

He got a roar from the East Texas crowd when he told them that Nixon is in "the Republican tradition—Taft, Harding, Landon, Dewey."

The Texarkana gathering was swelled by the Four-State Fair which is in progress.

Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus was among the Democrats in the city. Although Faubus is a candidate for president on the National States Rights Party ticket in Arkansas he said he was supporting the Kennedy-Johnson ticket. But, he added, he is not backing the party platform.

A relatively large number of Negroes turned out to see and hear Kennedy in Texarkana. Few Negroes had been noted in the crowds that saw the senator in other Texas cities.

U.S. Holds To Plan To Restrict Niki

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States held firmly today to its plan to confine Nikita Khrushchev to Manhattan Island during his U.N. visit despite expectations that the Soviet premier would seek to exploit the issue.

Khrushchev is heading the Soviet delegation to the United Nations General Assembly meeting starting Sept. 20. Both the White House and the State Department said Tuesday his movements are being restricted only to assure his safety.

In cool but correct terms, a U.S. note speedily rejected a formal protest that the Sept. 9 U.S. order restricting Khrushchev to Manhattan was an unfriendly act, unlawful and aimed at hindering the work of the Soviet delegation.

Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov delivered the Soviet protest Tuesday. The State Department reply was delivered by messenger to the Soviet Embassy Tuesday night.

The U. S. note told Khrushchev that under the U. N. headquarters agreement between the United Nations and the United States, the American government is responsible for his safety and for assuring his unimpeded access to U. N. headquarters which are on East Side Manhattan.

"Precisely in strict fulfillment" of this obligation, the note said, the U. S. government has had to require that Khrushchev "reside in closest convenient proximity" to U. N. headquarters and limit his moves to Manhattan.

The American order in no way interferes with "the normal work of the Soviet delegation," it said, adding: "Travel beyond the limits of Manhattan Island is clearly not essential to the normal functioning of a delegation to a session of the U. N. General Assembly."

Khrushchev wanted freedom at least to go to the Glen Cove, Long Island, estate where Soviet delegations to General Assembly meetings are normally quartered.

As matters now stand, Khrushchev will be putting up at the downtown headquarters of the Soviet U. N. delegation on Manhattan's Park Avenue. A five-story, block-long mansion there includes comfortably furnished apartments as well as offices and lushly carpeted reception rooms.

The Moscow protest said the U.S. restriction can be aimed only at prejudicing the international atmosphere in advance at a time when "the heads of many states intend to make new efforts toward easing international tension."

It spoke of "the unlawful attempts by the U.S. government to hinder the normal work of the Soviet delegation" and said they "cannot be regarded otherwise than as an unfriendly act toward the U. S. S. R."

U. S. officials expected Khrushchev to pound away at the issue. They would not be surprised if the Reds hit at the U. S. order again while Khrushchev crosses the Atlantic, after his ship docks in New York Monday, and perhaps even at the U. N. meeting.

Authorities have yet to be told by the Soviets how long Khrushchev plans to stay in this country, what time he will leave and by what method. This information was requested of the Soviets last weekend but no reply has been received.

Light Winds Sweep Texas

By The Associated Press

Light winds swept Texas Wednesday as mild temperatures and clear skies continued to cover the state.

For the second straight day no precipitation was recorded.

Early morning temperatures were mainly in the 60s. Galveston, with a 74-degree reading, was the warmest place in Texas and the low was 61 at Dalhart.

Temperatures Tuesday soared to 99 at San Angelo and the low maximum was 83 at Galveston.

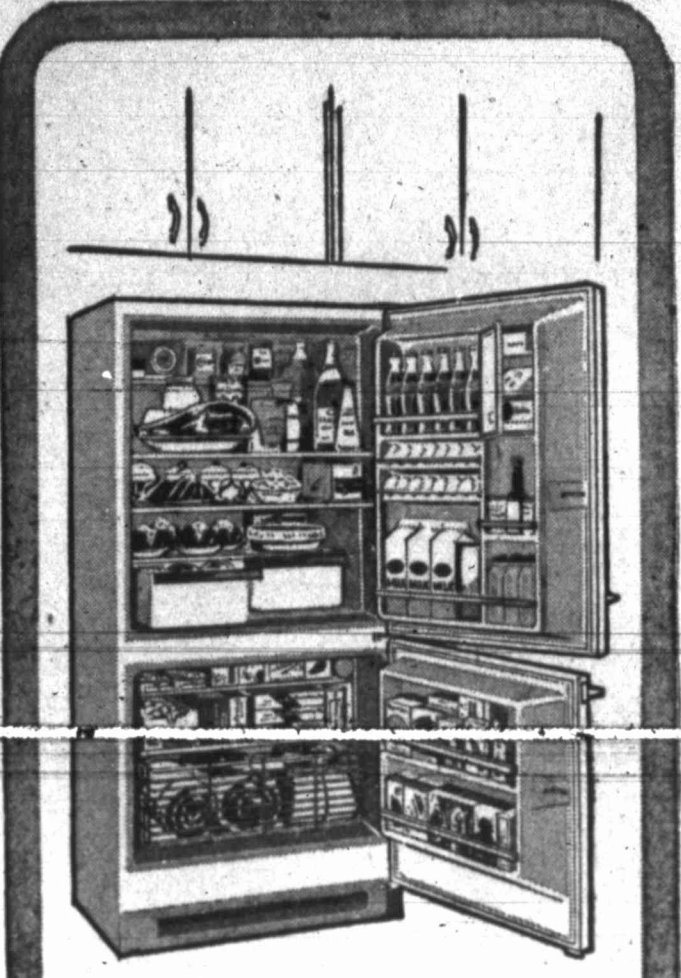

The five-day forecast issued Wednesday calls for temperatures around normal in the coastal areas and 2 to 4 degrees below normal elsewhere. Scattered showers mainly on the weekend are forecast.

Father Of Bridegroom Hears Wedding Vows

Repeating double ring vows to the father of the bridegroom, Barbara Ann Porch and Raygand Berwyn Adams were united in marriage Tuesday evening in the East Fourth Baptist Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Alva Porch, 405 Benton, and the Rev. and Mrs. Tom Adams of Albuquerque, N.M.

Emerald fern formed the background for cathedral tapers in an arch which the bride party stood. Satin ribbons marked the pews.

Proceeding the ceremony, Mrs. Bob Craig sang "Because" and "Whither Thou Goest"; she was accompanied by Virginia Cain, pianist, who played "The Lord's Prayer" as the couple took the vows.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in white Chantilly lace over satin. The neckline of the fitted bodice followed the scallops of lace and long sleeves ended in points over the wrists.

Attached to a tiara of pearls was a two-tiered veil of tulle, fingertip length.

The bride carried white chrysanthemums on a white Bible belonging to Kathy Adams, sister of the bridegroom; the Bible was marked at the bride's favorite scripture passage, the 23rd Psalm.

In recognition of tradition, she wore her mother's wedding band as something old; her wedding attire was new. Something borrowed was a lace handkerchief, which belongs to the bride's grandmother, Mrs. J. R. McMillan, and a blue garter, which she wore, is the property of Mrs. Bob Thornton.

The bride wore birthdate penalties in one slipper and in the other, a lucky sixpence given to her by Mrs. Jack Goode. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

Mrs. Sonny Rose was her sister's matron-of-honor; bridesmaids were Sue Patterson and Barbara Burchett. All were identical, they wore white blouses with matching overskirts of silk organza; all carried gold mums.

Things are mighty busy out for people in Big Spring these days. Mothers of school age children find every minute in the day taken. That brief moment of silence just after the last one leaves in the morning seems briefer each day. If there are more than one in school, the whirl is greater; some out in our part of town catch the bus at 7:30 a.m., which is a pretty early whirl to begin the day with.

MRS. DEWEY MARTIN who underwent eye surgery three weeks ago is expected to be in the Nix Hospital, San Antonio, for approximately a week or 10 days more. She is in room 1825.

Back to Abilene Christian College for his third year is AVERY FALKNER JR., whose parents took him to Abilene Sunday.

They also will see the HOWARD FORRESTERS, who plan to come over from Waco. Forrester was with Ponca Wholesale here for several years. Other friends they will visit are MR. AND MRS. J. E. JACKSON; she is the former Judy Raiston.

Weekend guests of the R. D. McMILLANS were their son, Bob, and his friends, Marilyn Moore, Bill McKinley and Valerie Wolford, all of Abilene. Bob, a ministerial student, has recently been notified that he is being awarded a full scholarship for his senior year at McMurry College.

GEORGE GLASS, and cousins, MR. AND MRS. W. R. GLASS. Dale has gone to Denton where he has enrolled in North Texas State College for his freshman year.

Voters will be asked to vote for or against "the issuance of library bonds in the amount of $115,000 and the levying of ad valorem taxes in payment thereof." The election is open only to property owners and persons who have also paid a poll tax.

Election judges for the 17 boxes include: Ernest Smith, John Middleton, M. E. Smart, W. T. Webb, Curtis White, H. B. Smith, W. H. Wade, J. J. Handley Jr., Stuart Thomas, G. W. Jones, J. D. Roberts, C. C. Roberts, J. D. Smith, C. B. Grissom, Bernice Smith, Jesse Stephens and W. T. Snellgrove.

Special Demo Meeting Slated

All delegates and alternates to the State Democratic Convention are asked to meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Howard County Courthouse.

Frank Hardesty, chairman of the county executive Democratic committee, said that plans would be made to attend the state meeting in Dallas on Sept. 19. Reservations have been made at the Baker Hotel, and Hardesty needs to know how many of these to confirm.

He especially urged all nominees of the Democratic party to attend the meeting along with all precinct chairmen.

Plans for the presidential campaign also will be discussed and all others interested in the Kennedy-Johnson ticket are invited to participate. Efforts will be made to get a count on the number planning to attend the rally Saturday at Abilene when Sen. Lyndon Johnson will speak.

Hardesty said that later the county's dollars for Democrats drive would be pushed into high gear with a minimum goal of $25 per precinct.

Local Air Service Discussed Tuesday

Trans-Texas Airways officials met with Big Spring civic leaders and aviation boosters Tuesday in the Chamber of Commerce to explain services proposed to Big Spring and what can be expected at the Civil Aeronautics Board meeting on local air service.

President of the airline, R. E. McLaughlin, opened the meeting with a brief explanation of the history and resources of the airlines and then turned the meeting over to other speakers.

L. J. Eichner, vice president, made a resume of what has already happened in the hearing for the Southwest Area Local Service Case, which went before the CAB for a pre-hearing last February. In July the airlines and cities concerned filed exhibits with CAB. In the case of the airline, the exhibits consisted of four pages of schedules with a volume of material to support the schedule.

The actual hearings will begin Sept. 27 in Houston for the Gulf Coast area cities. Oct. 3, the hearing will move to Dallas where the Big Spring case will be presented. After hearing cases presented by the various cities, the CAB board of examiners will hear the airlines in Washington, D.C. and then, according to Eichner, they will appoint the airline to serve the area sometime in the spring of 1961.

COMPETING

As there are several airlines competing for the area, it will probably be made which will involve more time. He also said it would probably be another ten years before this area would have an opportunity to appear before the CAB again.

Eichner said the airline proposed five flights daily for Big Spring. There will be two flights from Dallas into Big Spring, one in the morning and the other in the evening. There will be three flights daily from Big Spring to Dallas. One in the morning, one shortly before noon and the last in the evening. The scheduling of the flights provides for better connections to other points from Dallas.

The plans used on the flights will be DC-3's, and larger planes if the traffic requires them.

It was explained at the meeting that the DC-3 is used because it is economical to operate on short hops, does not require a long runway and can make short flights in the morning and the other in the evening. There will be three flights daily from Big Spring to Dallas. One in the morning, one shortly before noon and the last in the evening. The scheduling of the flights provides for better connections to other points from Dallas.

Council Sets Forum Theme

Student Council members established a theme Tuesday for the West Texas Forum of Student Councils when Big Spring will play host on Oct. 29.

The central core of the session will be "Student Councils—Democracy's Workshop." Program for the event is being developed.

Plans were developed for the traditional Harvest Carnival on Oct. 14 from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. The Stock Hop will be from 9 p.m. to 11 p.m. and the coronation of the Harvest Queen will be at 10 p.m. Any junior high school or H.C.J.C. student may be admitted to the hop on an activity card.

Publicity committee for the carnival will be Steve Blair and Richard Atkins.

The sophomore classes have arrived and will retail at 25 cents each, it was announced. They can be obtained from any council member.

The committee to plan assembly programs was named by Ross Reagan, council president, and will consist of Bedford Forrest and Mrs. Charles Weeg, for the faculty, and Larry Moore, chairman, Lynn Clawson, Rip Patterson, Bob Moore and Brenda Cooper. Tuesday's meeting was opened with a prayer led by Kay Crowover.

Group Selects Year's Topics

Great Books discussions for the coming year will begin Tuesday, Sept. 20, with Plato's "Gorgias." Meetings are held at 8 p.m. in the music room of Howard County Junior College.

Anyone interested may attend, starting any year, at any meeting. TRAFFIC SIGNAL

City Manager A. K. Steinheimer was instructed to go ahead with purchase of materials for a traffic signal at Marcy Dr. and Gregg and to seek approval for the signal from the State Highway Department.

The traffic light was recommended by the traffic commission.

Commissioners agreed to give the present radar machine another try rather than buy a new one at this time. The traffic commission had recommended that a new machine be purchased.

Chief Banks pointed out that the machine now used by the department is of an old design and is at the factory being repaired much of the time. Commissioners felt, however, that another attempt at repairing it should be made.

CD SHELTER

The shelter is tentatively planned for the lot at the 18th and Main fire station. It will be a demonstration shelter, open during the week for inspection by the public. After two years it becomes the property of the city.

Verdict Favors Gomez In Suit

V. A. Gomez retains possession of a tract of land which the original owner, Walter Greens and Louisa Greens sought by court action to take from him. An instructed verdict for the defendant at 7 p.m. Tuesday brought an abrupt termination to the case which had been in process two days in 118th District Court.

On motion of Wayne Basden and Warren Burnett, attorneys for the defendant, the jury was instructed to bring in a verdict for Gomez denying the petition of the Greens for title to the property and cancellation of warranty deeds held by the defendant.

The case was styled an action in trespass to try title and was based on the premise that the land in question, located in Block 100 of the original Big Spring plat, had been put up as security for a loan made by the plaintiff by Gomez. This, the plaintiff argues, was contrary to the law which forbids a homestead being used for such a purpose. By the instructed verdict, the court held that Gomez had valid right to the property. The Greens were represented by Carol C. Smith and Clyde Thomas Sr.

This morning, action was delayed until nearly noon while attorneys in one of the cases docketed for disposition met in a conference to seek agreement outside of court. The jurors were on-hand—28 remaining on the panel out of 90 originally drawn—at 10 a.m. Shortly before noon, the court called the next case on the docket. This was Joe Seabolt versus Travelers Insurance Co., an action for compensation.

Knott 4-H Club To Work On Signs

KNOTT (SC)—Members of the Knott 4-H Club will meet at the school shop building at 8 a.m. Saturday to spend the day-stenciling and painting directional signs.

The signs have been sold by the members and at a meeting of the club on Sept. 13, money collected for the project was turned in to the organization.

Joyce Robinson, vice-president of the club, called the Tuesday meeting. At the conclusion, all members were urged to make a special effort to be at the workshop to help prepare the signs.

Commission Sets Tax Rate, Tables Water Skiing Plea

Big Spring property owners will pay the same city tax this year as last, $1.50 per $100 property valuation. The ordinance formally setting the tax rate was approved by city commissioners Tuesday night.

The increase in property on the tax rolls, which was about $4,000,000 in assessed valuation is expected to add about $80,000 more to the tax revenues than in 1959.

This year's revenues as outlined in the budget amount to $859,550. A total $4,000,000 assessed valuation on real and personal property is counted.

Commissioners gave their approval to an ordinance issuing the call to refund $60,000 in city water improvement bonds which were issued in 1938.

REFUNDING

Refunding the bonds at this time will mean an interest saving of $1,443.60.

Birdwell Lane is due paving under the paving assessment program as commissioners gave City Manager A. K. Steinheimer approval to obtain 10 feet of necessary right-of-way from the mass program.

Inverted crown paving to carry water north, is planned for the street from 155 feet south of Purdue to 45 feet south of 4th.

It is planned to carry the paving through 4th to 3rd with the inverted crown at 3rd after Interstate 20 is constructed.

A petition presented to the commission to allow full time water skiing at Moss Creek Lake was tabled for further consideration at the next meeting. Ninety-one persons have signed the petition.

Commissioners approved paying one-half the cost of publishing street assessment paving ordinances which were necessary when paving on Birdwell Lane was redesigned.

SHARE COSTS

Contractor H. G. Counts, bearing all cost on publishing the ordinance, made the request. Commissioners felt that since the change was made by the city that it was fair to share the cost. The city will pay $70.00.

A right-of-way purchase agreement by the city and the State Highway Department for 10.35 acres of land at NE 12th, now occupied by little league and teenage baseball-parks, was referred to the right-of-way committee, John Taylor and Tom South, for study.

A purchase agreement for an abandoned road to the city dump ground was approved with the city receiving $100 for the property.

The road was purchased for $35, and will be sold to the original heirs in two sections. S. P. Bolding offered $75 for one section and the Arnett Estate offered $25 for the other.

The commission gave permission for five city officials to attend the Texas Municipal League meeting in Galveston Oct. 2-4. Meeting to attend are Steinheimer, R. C. Anderson, assistant city manager; Bruce Dunn, director of public works; C. R. McClenny, city secretary; and Jay Banks, police chief.

The third reading of the ordinance re-zoning a corner of Coronado Hills subdivision from A residential, to F, commercial, was approved.

SAFETY INVENTORY

Ross Kemp, sergeant with the Department of Public Safety, presented the 1959 traffic inventory for the city.

Kemp pointed out that increases in all fields of the over-all traffic program were noted, except in the areas of police traffic supervision and school traffic safety education, which are areas now in the process of improvement.

Members Elected To ASC Community Committees

Community committee members of the Agricultural Stabilization Committee, who were elected by the farmers cooperating with the program, were announced today by Gabe Hammack, ASC office manager.

He said that a heavier than usual vote was cast in the selection of the committees indicating an increased interest in ASC activities.

The committees serve as a steering group in choosing the projects under the Agricultural Stabilization program which are followed each year. They serve as advisory officers to act as an arbitration board where any discrepancy may arise.

Members of the committee serve for one year. The county is divided into five communities and a committee of three members, with two alternates, are elected for each community.

Soldier Held For Burglary

Police are holding a 20-year old soldier from Ft. Sam Houston, who was arrested early this morning in connection with the burglary of Hull and Phillips grocery, 611 Lamesa Dr.

Patrolmen Josh Messenger and Blas Bailon apprehended the man at the store about 1:45 a.m. He was carrying several sacks containing cigarettes and cigars, the officers said.

Entry to the store was made by breaking the front door glass, reaching inside and unlocking the door. Officers said that the suspect's right hand was cut when he was arrested.

Two other thefts were reported overnight. Mrs. Jerry Easterling, OK Trailer Court, told police a tricycle was stolen from in front of her trailer, and Don Cutler, Webb AFB, reported the theft of two windows, a gas cap and car boot from his sports car while it was parked at the Sahara Drive-in theater.

No new leads have developed in thefts over the past several days of cigarette lighters and hubcaps from cars at the T. R. Rose Used Car lot, 311 E. 3rd, according to Det-Sgt. Jack Jones.

Contract Let On Road Paving

Contract for paving approximately four miles of Howard County roads was awarded to Centex Construction Co., Andrews, at a meeting of the Howard County Commissioners Court Wednesday morning.

Centex bid $11,688.55 for the paving job and James Gravel Co., Big Spring, bid $1,599 for the gravel needed to put the roads in condition for surfacing.

W. D. Caldwell, Big Spring, bid $12,721 on the paving. West Texas Sand & Gravel bid $2,390.50 for the gravel.

Roads to be paved include Standford Road, 1.75 miles; Silver Heel Addition Road, 1.33 miles and County Road 28 (Culp Street in Coahoma) 1 mile.

County road and bridge crews have all three projects nearly ready for the paving crews to move in. Walter Parks, county engineer, said that final touches on the jobs will be speeded and every effort made to surface the roads before bad weather brings an end to paving programs in the county.

Primaries Shed Little Light On What's Due In November

By The Associated Press

Nine states held primary elections Tuesday. There were some surprises, an upset or two. Generally, the results shed little light on the way the political tides might be running in November.

In Massachusetts, Gov. Foster Furcolo lost to a relative newcomer, Mayor Thomas J. O'Connor, 35, of Springfield, in a bid for the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate.

Furcolo had the Democratic State Convention's endorsement but the party was split. O'Connor, in his first try for statewide office, campaigned hard and long, while Furcolo sat tight until a few days before the primary. O'Connor will run against Republican Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, who was unopposed for renomination.

Veteran Rep. Joseph Martin of Massachusetts won easy renomination. It was the first time he was opposed in a primary in 35 years.

Primaries also were held in New Hampshire, Vermont, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Utah, Arizona, Colorado and Washington. In some cases, such as Wisconsin and Minnesota, major candidates were unopposed in their parties and the races shaped up as tests of relative party strength.

Here are the other state outcomes:

MINNESOTA
Democratic Gov. Orville Freeman won a fourth-term nomination by a more than 7 to 1 margin. Hubert H. Humphrey, also unopposed, was leading the top Republican candidate for his seat, Mayor P. Kenneth Peterson of Minneapolis, but the total GOP vote was bigger than Humphrey's. Freeman's GOP opponent, Elmer Andersen, who was unopposed, was trailing the governor in the popularity poll.

Former Rep. Coyle Knutson, fighting to regain the seat she lost two years ago, had a slim margin over State Sen. Roy Wiseth for the Democratic nomination on the basis of incomplete returns.

WISCONSIN
Another popularly contested this one an apparent standoff. Democratic Gov. Gaylord Nelson and his opponent, former GOP State Chairman Philip G. Kuehn, both were unopposed. They appeared about evenly matched in the light voting.

NEW HAMPSHIRE
Gov. Wesley Powell won another close victory in the Republican gubernatorial nomination race over former Gov. Hugh Gregg. With returns almost complete, Powell led 46,031 to 45,249. It was a virtual repeat of a Powell-Gregg photo finish two years ago.

A third candidate trailed badly. Bernard L. Boutin, former Democratic national committeeman, walked away with his party's gubernatorial nomination. Sen. Styles Bridges and two incumbent GOP congressmen, Reps. Chester E. Merrow and Perkins Bass, won renomination easily.

UTAH
Republican Gov. George D. Clyde won renomination and will face turkey grower William A. Barlocker, 39, mayor of St. George, in November.

COLORADO
Franklin Stewart, a Pueblo attorney, won the Democratic congressional nomination in the 3rd District, defeating veteran Fred M. Betz. In the only other congressional race, Robert D. Rolander defeated Carl S. Becker for the Republican nomination in Denver.

GOP U. S. Sen. Gordon Allott

was unopposed for renomination, as was his democratic rival, Lt. Gov. Robert L. Knous.

ARIZONA
With returns incomplete, Atty. Gen. Wade Church nursed a slim lead over Charles Stidham for the Democratic nomination for attorney general. The tightest race in the otherwise calm primary. There were no Republican contests and only five Democratic contests for state offices on the ballot.

WASHINGTON
Lloyd J. Andrews was leading 2 to 1 in early returns for the Republican nomination for governor. His opponent was Newman (Zeke) Clark, a Seattle attorney.

Democratic Gov. Albert D. Rosellini had an easy win over two rivals for renomination.

2 Oil Firms, TESCO Sued

HOUSTON (AP)—Two major oil companies and the Texas Electric Service Co. were named in a $30 million lawsuit a Houston oilman filed Tuesday.

A. E. Amerman Jr. filed the suit against the Pan American Petroleum Corp., the Magnolia Petroleum Co. and the Electric company because of what he called fraud and conspiracy.

Amerman said he and some associates arranged in 1958 to build a pipeline from the old ocean oil field in Brazoria and Matagorda counties to the Fort Worth area.

Amerman said the oil companies were to sell him gas he would transport to Fort Worth for sale to the Texas Electric Service Co. The suit claims the companies studied Amerman's plans for financing and building the line, then made a separate agreement to build the line themselves.

E. A. Renfro, Houston division superintendent for Pan American, refused to comment on the suit.

Pipeline Planned

LAREDO (AP)—Construction of a million dollar 31-mile pipeline for Delhi Pipeline Corp. in Zapata County is expected to begin immediately and completion is expected in about a month, Gene Heck, company superintendent said Tuesday.

Kennedy To N.Y. After Good Receptions In Missouri, Texas

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Sen. John Kennedy bid strongly today for Missouri and New York electoral votes with renewed confidence in the stability of his Texas flank.

The Democratic nominee brought his campaign for the presidency to this doubtful state Tuesday night. He encountered the wildest demonstration of an otherwise relatively placid contest with Vice President Richard M. Nixon, his Republican rival.

An unruly crowd, which refused to heed police pleas—and in fact tossed policemen around as though they were tennis—engulfed the Kennedy plane after it landed at St. Louis Municipal Airport.

It took 15 minutes and repeated appeals by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., over a ship's foghorn loudspeaker before aides would agree to let the Democratic nominee venture into the narrow aisle that had been formed to let Kennedy pass to a ramp where he spoke briefly.

Police, who admitted they were not prepared for the big turnout, at first estimated the crowd at 10,000. Later the figure was revised upward to 20,000.

This reception, in a state where there are some Democratic doubts about the contest for 13 electoral votes, encouraged Kennedy's aides to believe the Massa-

Ill Wind Donna Blows Some Good

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Weather researchers gathered more information about hurricanes from Donna than all tropical storms since the national hurricane research project began in 1956, says the chief of the U.S. Weather Bureau.

Dr. F. W. Reichelderfer said tracking, warning and forecasting during the passage of Hurricane Donna were the most complete in history, adding that if Donna had occurred five years ago hundreds of people might have lost their lives because of less adequate warning.

"Donna has left no doubt that it was the most destructive and vicious storm since Weather Bureau records were first kept in 1896," Reichelderfer said.

Sen. Hennings Dies Of Cancer At Age Of 57

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas C. Hennings Jr., D-Mo., died of cancer at the age of 57. Hennings died Tuesday, only a few hours after he had been sent home from George Washington University Hospital. He had undergone an abdominal operation at Mayo Clinic last May, but his ailment grew progressively worse and he was unable to attend the Democratic National Convention or the August session of Congress.

Hennings, though he came from a border state, was an outspoken advocate of strong civil rights legislation. He also favored substantial foreign aid, with emphasis on economic rather than military help for friendly countries.

He was elected to the Senate in 1952, and re-elected in 1958. Before that he had served in the House from 1935 to 1941, when he left to become a lieutenant commander in the Navy.

Sen. John F. Kennedy, Democratic presidential candidate, said Hennings' death was a great loss to his party and country.

Hennings' Missouri colleague, Sen. Stuart Symington, called him "a great senator and a great humanitarian who was generally recognized as the outstanding constitutional authority of his time."

Gov. James T. Blair of Missouri, a Democrat, said the state and nation "has lost an outstanding citizen, an eminent lawyer and a great statesman and legislator."

Blair said he would call a special election Nov. 8 to fill the unexpired two years of Hennings' term.

Suicide Ruled

LOLITA, Tex. (AP) — A justice of the peace ruled Tuesday that farmer Joe Tomas, 44 and father of 11, shot himself to death because of debts and a crop failure.

Justice Leslie Psenick said Tomas shot himself with a rifle. The body was found behind a barn. The victim's wife said Tomas' cotton crop was ruined and other crops heavily damaged by 26 days of rain during August near this southeast Texas town.

Baptists Think Jack's Either Fibbing Or A Bad Catholic

MIDLAND (AP)—A West Texas Baptist organization passed a resolution Tuesday saying Sen. John Kennedy "is either denying the teachings of his church or is seeking to delude the American people."

The resolution was passed 24 hours after Kennedy, a Roman Catholic, appeared before about 500 Protestant ministers in Houston in a question and answer session. Kennedy answered questions about whether his religion would affect his decisions as president. He is the Democratic nominee for president.

In another development, one of the ministers at the Houston meeting gave reporters a copy of a telegram in which he asked the senator why the entire meeting was not televised. The first half hour of the meeting was carried on television but the question and answer period continued after the TV program ended.

In his telegram Rev. V. E. Howard of the Church of Christ at Vernon said:

"I, V. E. Howard, challenge you to televise that portion of the Houston ministers-Kennedy telecast of Sept. 12 in which I questioned you... Are you afraid for that to be seen and heard?"

The Rev. Mr. Howard asked Kennedy at the meeting if he subscribed to a statement by Pope John XXIII that appeared in the St. Louis Review. It said "Catholics must unite their strength toward the common aid and the Catholic Hierarchy has the right and duty of guiding them."

In his answer Kennedy said that "If you mean that under that he (the Pope) could guide me or anyone could guide or direct me in fulfilling my public duty, then I do not agree."

The resolution by the 30,000-member Permian Basin Baptist Association was issued at the conclusion of the two-day annual meeting of the Midland and Ector County group.

"What is the position of the Roman Catholic Church regarding separation of church and state?" asked the resolution.

The resolution concluded: "We, the members of the Permian Basin Baptist Association, believe it is impossible for a Roman Catholic president to divorce the directives of his church from the duties of his office as defined in the Constitution of the United States and at the same time remain a good Catholic."

In his Houston talk Kennedy said "I believe in an America where the separation of church and state is absolute—where no Catholic prelate would tell the president (should he be Catholic) how to act."

Some Heroes Get No Appreciation

DETROIT (AP)—John Ingolia saw smoke pouring from a second-floor window next door Tuesday. He raced into the apartment building and found an over-stuffed chair afire. He grabbed it and started downstairs.

Halfway down, he met a woman who ordered, "don't bring that smelly thing down here."

"I'll take it out the back," he replied, stumbling back up the stairs.

Ingolia took the chair through a back door on the second floor, but found himself treading air. The porch had been ripped down some time ago.

Ingolia's injuries were minor. There wasn't much left of the chair.

No Charges Made In Gas Incident

HOUSTON (AP)—The investigation of the gas that filled La Porte, Tex., recently ended Tuesday without any charges being filed.

Assistant Houston Dist. Atty. W. C. Moore said his office could find no grounds for criminal action.

Dr. Walter Quebedeaux, Harris County air and water pollution director, said the gas came from a nearby chemical plant. Officials of the plant denied this.

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Poland's top Communist leaders are meeting to discuss the growing rift between the Soviet Union and Red China over Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's doctrine of peaceful co-existence.

GARDEN TALK

What Plants Should Be Started In Fall?

By BRUCE FRAZIER

"What can we plant now that fall is nearly here?" This is about the most often asked question of the past week, and so to answer everyone's question at once, here are suggestions:

First, order your bulbs, or better yet check your local seed or nursery dealer for his fall bulbs. This is the time to be getting ready for next spring's earliest blooms. Crocus, tulips, hyacinths, jonquils, and this group of plants should be planted before the first of December by all means, but September and October are really the best times to get them in the ground.

Calendulas should be started now. They don't like the heat, and so starting them in a flat, tub, or corner of the garden where it is shady will give them a good chance to get going. They should be transplanted when they are three or four inches high, and will promise yellow and orange flowers in the early spring. One year I had them start blooming on Dec. 4, but you can't count on this early bloom every year. They will be very nice for the spring flower shows.

In the vegetable garden you can start onions, cabbage, turnips and mustard as soon as it turns a little cooler. These cool nights always revive the summer flowers and vegetables and perhaps you can get a fine crop yet from the plants you have been nursing through the heat.

It is time to start feeding and pushing the chrysanthemums. They are going to be in bloom before long. It is too late to start a lawn and you should start mowing your grass a little higher. Raise the blades on the mower, and give grass a last treatment of plant food.

If you have insects that are being a bother in the garden, don't forget to spray or dust them now. The ones you kill at this time of the year will not likely lay eggs over winter. The grub worm larvae and egg are just getting started and can be killed by treating lawns with chlorodane and other products between now and frost. There is even a fertilizer with a grub poison mixed in so you can feed and kill worms all at one application.

If you have a garden question, write to Bruce Frazier in care of the Herald.

British Paper Hits Ban On K

LONDON (AP)—The liberal News Chronicle said today the American decision to restrict Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to Manhattan Island was "unfortunate and unwise."

"The right course for the Americans was to issue a warning that they could not guarantee the safety of any of the tyrants once they left Manhattan," said the Chronicle. "It should be the constant aim of Western governments to avoid giving opportunities to the Communists to appear the injured party."

Exchange Rate Not Happiest

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Self-service laundry operator O. W. Smith recently acquired 82 Mexican coins but he's might unhappy about the rate of exchange.

Eighty-two 10-centavo pieces normally are worth about 65 cents in American money.

But the culprit who stuffed them into the laundry's coin changer may have collected $20.50 if he got five nickels for each Mexican coin.

County Could End Year In The Black

With four months of the year left to go, Howard County stands to wind up the period in the black in all funds but one. And if certain developments arise, that fund too, will be adequate for the demands.

Lee Porter, county auditor, reporting on the financial situation of the county budget as reflected at the close of August business, told the Howard County Commissioners Court this week that all funds now on hand are adequate with the possible exception of the road and bridge.

SEVERAL IFS

Assuming several "ifs" this fund, too, could wind up satisfactorily.

These "ifs" include the probability of whether the county will get some $20,000 or more still owed it by the Federal Aviation Agency for the agency's share in the construction of the Howard County airport. Another "if" is whether the county will receive some $11,000 which it has paid out this year for right-of-way on state and federal highways and for which the state should repay 50 per cent.

The funds to complete the airport were borrowed from county money and are subject to replacement from federal funds when they are received. The extra money spent by the county for right-of-way has been absorbed by the county, subject to replacement when the state transmits its share of the cost.

The August financial report showed $9,374.43 in the jury fund which is more than adequate to care for that operation the remainder of the current year. Expenditures against that fund in August were $2,132.

GENERAL FUND

The general fund has a balance of $43,973.63. Expenditures in August were $11,946.79. Receipts for the month were $1,857.14. This account should come out just about even.

The officers' salary fund, which is augmented sizeably each month by fees from the several offices, had $52,932.17 on hand as the month ended. Receipts for the month were $7,435.75 and expenditures $14,459.59. No problem should develop relative to this fund.

The permanent improvement fund may run into some difficulty if insurance fees which are now due have to be absorbed out of it by the end of the year. It had $6,555.68 on Aug. 31. Receipts for the month were only $107.74. Expenditures were $946.67.

There is adequate money on hand for the library for the remainder of 1960. The balance on Aug. 31 was $5,139. Expenses were $1,118.38 and receipts were $95.81.

The law library fund, which is self-maintaining and financed by fees charged when a suit is filed in the county or district courts, terminated August with overdraft of $14.24. However, $300 has been received from fees and the account is liquid and will continue so. Lateral road fund's ultimate destiny depends on what contracts may or may be awarded for paving jobs. At present the fund has $18,782.01.

ADEQUATE ACCOUNT

The airport operating account is adequate for the remainder of the year and the same is true of the court house building fund.

The road and bridge—biggest of the family—is the one with problems. There was $64,069.57 in the fund on the last day of August. Expenditures for the month were $34,336.57—which more than equaled half of the balance remaining. Receipts were only $1,686.66. It is this account which may cause the commissioners some worry as the remainder of this year drags along.

If the FAA pays off and the state kicks in with its part of the right-of-way money, all balances should be adequate.

Residents Push For Y Building

By ROB MARION

Kids need a place to play and Lakeview residents are trying to provide their children with facilities for supervised programs under the auspices of the YMCA.

The YMCA program has been active in Lakeview for several years, but it is hard to keep activities going when the youths have no regular meeting place and few facilities.

USE SCHOOL

The Big Spring school system has permitted the group to use the Lakeview school for their meetings, but the school has other primary functions and is not always available. Private homes too have been used for meetings.

Now persons interested in the YMCA are trying to raise a building fund for the construction of a YMCA for Lakeview residents. The initial goal is not high, but it is a start.

Most good things have a small beginning, and if the enthusiasm of the group continues, the end results may be far greater than the humble beginnings indicate, says Everett Taylor, youth secretary of the YMCA who is working in an advisory capacity with the Lakeview group.

Time hangs heavily on young person's hands. They are active and need an outlet for their energy.

CHANNELED

"When their activity is channeled into wholesome supervised activities such as the YMCA offers, good to the community results," Taylor said. "If they are left on their own, they can fall into the habit of frequenting places where delinquency is fostered and can eventually run afoul of the law."

Lakeview residents want to see their youngsters grow into law abiding citizens, adding constructively to the good of the community. They feel this can be accomplished, at least partially, through the YMCA programs which will offer the youths a broader and more constructive social life than they now have, Taylor explained.

The history of the Lakeview YMCA has been one of constant

Beaumont Man Heads Baptists

DALLAS (AP)—Dr. Thomas Patterson, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Beaumont, was elected executive secretary Tuesday to the executive board of the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

Dr. Patterson asked the board for time to "consider the election with my church and deacons."

His election came on the fourth ballot during a quarterly meeting of the board.

If he accepts he will succeed Dr. Forrest Pezoor, who will retire Dec. 31.

Dr. Patterson, 54, pastor in Beaumont 14 years, told the board Texas Baptists have made much progress in past years but "no period ever presented greater challenges or opportunities than the present."

"The spirit of evangelism must pervade everything we do," he said. "Our main business is to win people to Christ."

The pastor's son, Paige Patterson, 17, a senior in Beaumont High School, is an ordained minister. Dr. Patterson's son-in-law, Rev. Kenneth Aull, is pastor of the First Baptist Church in Mabank.

6 Turks Killed

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP)—Five miners and a guard were killed in a coal mine cave-in at Zonguldak Monday, it was announced Tuesday night.

Child, Maid Die In Fire

DALLAS (AP)—An early morning fire killed a child and her Negro maid today.

The victims were Cynthia Burnett, 2, and the maid, Mary Morris, 50. The child's sister, Darlene Burnett, 4, suffered burns and was reported in fair condition.

Police said the parents were not at home and they have been unable to notify them of the fire.

A neighbor, W. A. Jones, said he heard screams coming from the frame home about 3 a.m. He got into the kitchen and carried out Darlene.

Firemen found the body of the child and the maid near a door.

Fire Chief W. L. Lester said the $5,000 fire might have started at a floor furnace.

DEAR ABBY

BRILLIANT?

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My brother is married to a woman who has graduated from college and people call her "brilliant." She can talk intelligently about world affairs and reads every best seller that comes along. But believe me when I say no one in the family will accept a second invitation to her home because she is such a careless housekeeper.

We ate there once and the silverware was encrusted with dirt and the glasses and dishes were filthy. She puts raw fruit and vegetables on the table without washing them. I once saw bugs crawling around on my salad. We have nothing against her, but we can't eat there. We've run out of excuses. Is it possible to come right out with the truth in a case like this and keep her friendship?

SISTER-IN-LAW DEAR SIS: If you tell her the truth, you may lose her friendship. It's time someone took a bug out of the salad and put it in your brother's car.

DEAR ABBY: I know a girl isn't supposed to let a fellow kiss her on the first date, but when it is proper to let all the stops out?

JANE DEAR JANE: After the organ plays "The Wedding March."

DEAR ABBY: I work in an office with another girl. We usually go out for lunch together. She makes as much as I do, but I always end up paying the bill. She uses the old excuse, "I left my money in my other purse."

DEAR ABBY: I know a girl isn't supposed to let a fellow kiss her on the first date, but when it is proper to let all the stops out?

JANE DEAR JANE: After the organ plays "The Wedding March."

DEAR ABBY: My boyfriend is a put-a-stop to this without appearing cheap? STUCK DEAR STUCK: If you hold stiff for that line more than twice you must have left your brains in your other head. When her money's in her "other purse," tell her you'll "lead" her lunch money. And if that doesn't do it—find a new lunch mate.

DEAR ABBY: My boyfriend is in the service. He is stationed near enough to home so that he gets home once in a while. When he is away he writes the dearest love letters saying he is counting the minutes until he sees me. But when he gets home he spends all his time running around with his buddies and I hardly ever see him. When he gets back on the base the love letters start coming again. I like this boy a lot, Abby, and want to know how to handle him. CLIFF'S GIRL DEAR GIRL: Write "Boss" and tell him you don't want a pen-pal, you want a real live boyfriend.

For Abby's pamphlet, "What Teen-agers Want to Know," send 25 cents and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope in care of The Big Spring Herald.

Fire Kills 4 In Family

HOUSTON (AP) — Four members of a Houston family died early today in a fire that swept their motel cabin.

The victims were T. D. Clark, 37, a welder; his wife, Dorothy, 30; and their sons, Johnny, 9, and T. D. Clark Jr., 11. They were permanent residents of the motel.

A daughter, Janet Clark, 13, escaped and spread the alarm to the neighborhood. Mrs. and Miss Perry Mulligan.

Mrs. Mulligan said she went to the cabin after calling the fire department but could not get in because of the flames.

When the fire department arrived about five cabins were on fire. There were 75 cabins in the motel and about 25 were occupied. There were no other injuries. Firemen could not determine the cause of the fire.

Chinese Polite As Yank Visits Brother In Prison

Editor's Note — A few weeks ago William C. Walsh, former attorney general of Maryland and former judge of the Court of Appeals, set out on a sabbatical mission to visit his brother, a Catholic bishop, in a Communist Chinese prison. This is the first of three articles Walsh has written for The Associated Press on his trip.

By WILLIAM C. WALSH
Written for The Associated Press

Last March, the Peoples Republic of China announced that my brother, Bishop James Edward Walsh, had been tried and convicted of espionage as a veteran American spy and sentenced to 20 years imprisonment.

My brother, who spent most of his life in missionary work in China, is 69. I had learned that relatives of four other Americans imprisoned in China had been permitted to see them, and so I likewise applied to Chinese authorities.

In July, I received a cable from the Chinese Red Cross, stating that I would be allowed to spend 14 days in China for the purpose of visiting my brother.

My wife and I arrived in Hong Kong July 28. That afternoon, as previously instructed, I got in touch with the China Travel Service. I turned over my passport to them, and three days later I was advised that the necessary visa had been received.

TO BORDER

I was authorized to enter China Aug. 1. At 10:30 that morning the British Red Cross representative, Miss Robin Hurst, called for me at the hotel. I drove with Miss Hurst, Mr. Joseph Carmella, of the American Red Cross, and Father Michael J. McKiernan, head of the Maryknoll Fathers in Hong Kong, to the border at Shumchun.

Shortly after I crossed the frontier to the Chinese mainland. My passport and visa were inspected. I went through customs with my baggage, and I filled out an entry form and currency declaration. After completion of the formalities and lunch at the station, I took the train for Canton.

On the train ride to Canton, I was accompanied by a Chinese Red Cross representative, a Mr. Wong. He is the official who receives the Red Cross packages sent in every month for American prisoners in China.

PHONE CALL

At Canton, we were met by another Chinese Red Cross representative, and the two men took me to the Hotel Aichun, where I received a good room, had dinner, and went to bed after calling Mrs. Walsh in Hong Kong to inform her of my arrival in Canton.

I got up at 5:30 next morning to catch a 7 a.m. plane for Shanghai. After 2 1/2 hours of flight, I landed at Nanchang, and I was told we might be delayed because of a typhoon in the vicinity of Shanghai. Later in the day, the flight was canceled, and I was taken to a hotel in Nanchang along with two Chinese passengers.

The next morning, the hotel manager accompanied me to the airport, about 20 miles from the city. There was still uncertainty about the weather at Shanghai, and takeoff was delayed until noon. The hotel manager, a very nice chap, stayed with me until the plane left.

The plane had a capacity of 15 passengers, with five single seats on the right and five double seats on the left side. The latter were filled with freight and baggage. There were four Chinese passengers besides myself.

When we landed at Shanghai at 5:30 p.m., it was raining but the typhoon was over. No Chinese Red Cross or travel service representative had accompanied me on the flight, but at the airport I was met by Mr. Li of the Red Cross and Mr. Lo of the China International Travel Service.

Mr. Li, who could not speak English, was 30 years old. Mr. Lo was 23; he could speak broken English and acted as interpreter. They took me in a car to the Peace Hotel (formerly the Cathay Hotel), one of the best-known in the city. It is a modern hotel, 10 or 11 stories high, located at the corner of Bund and Nanking Roads.

DOUBLE ROOM

Here I was given a double room with twin beds and bath on the seventh floor. This room was to be my headquarters for my stay in Shanghai. The hotel dining room was on the eighth floor, and I usually walked up a flight of steps although there was elevator service.

The food was quite satisfactory, the menu printed in English and other languages as well, as Chinese currency, using the letter of credit I had previously obtained from the Bank of China in Hong Kong. The expenses of the train and plane ride had left me short. I obtained the currency without trouble. The rate of exchange was 213.50 yuan for 500 Hong Kong dollars, which are worth somewhere in the neighborhood of 18 cents.

About 1:30 in the afternoon, Mr. Li and Mr. Shen called at my room and told me I could see my brother at 3:15. They came back for me about 2:45, and we took a car they had ready to the Shanghai jail.

I had apple pie a la mode for dessert that first evening, had no trouble getting orange juice and scrambled eggs for breakfast—and they even had French toast with syrup.

I thought the coffee was all right, and there was chicken, ham, pork and a variety of fish. You got potatoes, carrots, a n d sometimes green beans with these dishes, and a Chinese vegetable whose name I didn't discover.

My room cost my 12 yuan a day, or a little over $5 in U. S. money. I don't think my meals ran more than 8 yuan per day, so the total cost was from $8 to $10 a day.

PASSPORT TAKEN

My passport had been taken up by the Chinese Travel Service representative the evening I arrived, in order to register me at the hotel and to have the passport cleared at the Foreign Office. I got it back the afternoon that I left Shanghai eight days later. On the morning of Aug. 4, Mr. Li and Mr. Lo came to my room shortly after breakfast. With them was a Mr. Shen, a Chinese who was received in another room of the hotel by Mr. Chang, chief of the Shanghai branch of the Chinese Red Cross. I was told the meeting was in the nature of a courtesy call.

During the morning, I suggested to Mr. Li and Mr. Lo that I might want to look around the streets of Shanghai, but they told me I was a stranger who might get lost, and so they didn't think I'd better.

NO LONG TRIPS

In view of this, and because my passport had been taken up, I didn't go out without one or both of them accompanying me.

After my interview with Mr. Chang, I went with them to the Bank of China to get additional

A Devotional For Today

From a child thou hast known the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus. (II Timothy 3: 15.)

PRAYER: O God, giver of all good, we thank Thee for the gift of Thy Word, the tested wisdom of life. For the moral principles it imparts to us, and for the revelation of Thy mind, heart, and purpose in Jesus, we praise Thee. May the message of Thy Book keep us strong and steadfast at all times. In our Redeemer's name. Amen.

Don't Spread Too Thin

The University of Texas has announced that it will have fewer new courses of offerings than usual this year. This is in line with a previously announced policy of stepping up quality by avoiding "unnecessary duplication and unwise proliferation of highly-specialized offerings."

We pose as no authority on the educational scene, but we have the impression that there is a general trend in this direction. To be sure there are a number of so-called Brill courses in curricula of various schools and colleges, but there are hardly as many as some critics would have you think.

The university's pin-pointing "unwise proliferation of highly-specialized offerings" states the limiting factor very succinctly. This is a fair gauge for accepting or avoiding additions.

What it all boils down to is the prudent acceptance of the adage that it is possible to spread anything too thin. Education, like everything else, has its financial limitations, and you cannot have unlimited education in depth without defining some limits of its bounds.

This is not to say that curricula should remain static and inflexible; far from it. It is to say that we should be thorough and accomplished in what we have and that additions shall come as they are assayed to be worthy and capable of quality instruction.

The Time Is Now

Both candidates have expressed a desire that some time or point in the campaign could be reached at which there would be a cut off in the discussion of religious affiliation as an issue in the presidential campaign.

This would be desirable, and the precipitous time is now. To be sure this will not shut off private debate on the matter, for a legion of people have fixed opinions one way or the other. They have long since prejudged the issue and all the debate in the world is not going to shake them. They will continue to make this their paramount approach, the only progress that will be made is toward bits of innuendo which, lamentably, may linger long after the ballots are cast.

This campaign, as have several before us, comes at a time when the world is in a precarious and explosive condition. Yet democratic processes must be allowed to flourish in order to proclaim to the world that we have the courage of full and free debate, that our leadership is not afraid to be subjected to utmost scrutiny and challenge, and that our people are totally free to make a choice.

Once we have gone through the proximal of liberty, we must close ranks in unity. This will be difficult if people indulge in stirring the coals of what is dangerously near hate around what should be one of the noblest attributes of man. Our cherished right of free speech protects anyone's right to speak on any issue at any time, but the least that can be done is for the leadership to refuse to dignify the issue either by deploring or injection. The two candidates have spoken as plainly and unequivocally as it is possible to speak on the matter, and if that cannot be accepted, then there is nothing to add.

David Lawrence More On The Mitchell-Martin Affair

WASHINGTON—The mystery as to what the two traitors, Mitchell and Martin, were really up to before they went to the Soviet Union appears to be getting deeper. Some of the things they did can only be attributed to unbalanced minds, but the insidious hand of the Soviet government, acting through its agents in this country and Mexico, appears throughout.

It was a smart move for the American government to suppress for a brief interval the text of the note which the two defectors left at a Maryland bank. It played havoc with the plan of the Soviets, who thought they would have two separate barrages of propaganda for which the United States would set the world stage.

whose vices he says he does not recognize from the pictures transmitted from Moscow last week, Mr. Hays declared to this correspondent:

"They made the point to me that in a democracy they thought the executive department ought to keep the Congress informed of things they were doing which might later result in war. As I look back over it now, they seemed to want us to hold a public hearing of some kind. I think they were hunting publicity. Mr. Macomber never telephoned me as they claim."

AS IT TURNS OUT, there was an opportunity for the free countries to compare on the same day the statements issued before and after the defectors reached the Soviet Union. One portion of the statement issued in Moscow by the two traitors indicates their own confusion as follows:

"In February 1959 we obtained an appointment with a congressman who had publicly expressed concern over the State Department's concealment from Congress pertinent facts about the C-130 incident."

"WE EXPLAINED to him the nature of the C-130 intelligence mission and indicated that we felt such violations of the airspace of other nations were dangerous to world peace."

"Our conversation was interrupted when the congressman received a telephone call from the assistant secretary of state for congressional relations, William Macomber, who requested him to refrain from further public discussion of the C-130 incident."

ALSO, MR. MACOMBER confirmed that he never telephoned Mr. Hays in connection with the episode. Mr. Hays recalls that he and other members of Congress obtained from the State Department at the time all the information they sought about the C-130 incident, which satisfied them, and they thought no more about it. In fact they didn't even notify any of the executive agencies about the visit of the two men.

The statements of Martin and Mitchell illustrate the effect of Soviet pressure on the minds of persons they have blackmailed and persistently intimidated to the point where they accept "guidance" and write whatever documents are desired. There is, for example, the pointed comment of the two defectors on the atheism issue—which doesn't seem to have the slightest connection with their home backgrounds. The statement they left behind in America said:

"ONE CANNOT ARGUE convincingly that the Soviets are evil because they have corrupted Christian virtue. If most Soviet citizens do not accept Jesus Christ as their personal savior, it is their business."

The Soviet propagandists were not content to rest the case there. They contrived to have Mitchell and Martin repeat the idea in their statement issued at Moscow as follows:

"In the state of Maryland where we lived in order to hold any post whatsoever with the state government, it is necessary to take an oath to the effect that one believes in God."

NOW, IT IS INTERESTING to note that Rep. Wayne Hays, Democrat, of Ohio, who is chairman of one of the subcommittees of the House Foreign Affairs Committee and a former president of the NATO Parliamentary Organization, says that two men once called on him and showed credentials which he thought were from the Central Intelligence Agency but which might have been from the National Security Agency. They seemed to think more information about the C-130 flight should be made public. Mr. Hays adds that he talked the matter over with the chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee and that they explored all the possibilities, but nobody suspected at the time that the two NSA men might be disloyal. Speaking of the two visitors,

THE SAME STATEMENT, moreover, covers other objectives of Soviet propaganda. It attacks congressional committees that investigate un-American activities and internal security matters. The State Department likewise is assailed for seeking passage of new laws governing the issuance of passports. The Moscow government doesn't realize that this attitude on its part will help to preserve such committee investigations and to secure the passage of new laws on passports. Also, to espouse the cause of atheism before the American people is about the worst mistake any Soviet propagandist could make.

'A' FOR EFFORT James Marlow K's Like The Old Capone Thugs

WASHINGTON (AP) — As the man said to the storekeeper back in the Capone days: "You got a nice business going, without no trouble, and if you don't want none from now on you better start paying off."

Back in November 1958, when Premier Nikita Khrushchev began to develop a yen for a summit meeting, he started making threats to shut West Berlin off from the West.

The Western statesmen didn't know whether this was just a noisy man talking or a man meaning what he said.

here last September for a visit with President Eisenhower and a trip around. But even with everything going nice he blew up a storm.

This was when he wasn't allowed to visit Disneyland because of the danger in crowds, the delay, and things like that. Khrushchev sulked out loud.

But something is always getting Khrushchev's goat. Just before the summit meeting the American U2 spy plane flew over Russia without being asked. Khrushchev got so mad he called off the summit.

HE KEPT ON talking for months, getting madder about it, until the West began to realize he could make an awful mess if he did shut off Berlin. Then a summit meeting began to look not so bad.

Khrushchev even got something extra—an invitation to come over to come over for the opening of the United Nations General Assembly next Tuesday. Almost at that very moment, he began putting the heat on West Berlin again.

The Communists began blockading the city, a little bit here, a little there, stepping up the pressure.

Then the United States nixed Khrushchev again. It said when he got to New York he couldn't leave Manhattan Island.

Khrushchev was already on the ship bringing him here, but he got out the word he didn't like it, and his government filed a formal protest. It cramps Khrushchev's style not to move around, and he wanted more room to roam.

The State Department, backed up by the White House, said nothing doing. It's going to be Manhattan Island and no farther for Khrushchev.

In a tirade at all the Soviet Union warned the West against what it called the misuse of the air corridors to Berlin.

If a blockade is in Khrushchev's mind, or if he is doing all this now as a threat only, what will he want or demand when he gets to this country next week?

He's no pussy, if he wants to make trouble, and if this country doesn't want trouble, it's going to have to do business with him.

Hal Boyle The Grand Adventure

NEW YORK (AP) — Curstone comments on a Pavement Plate: A million or so young Americans will start one of the grandest adventures of a lifetime this month—college.

A boy's first day in kindergarten and his first day in college are two great landmarks in his life. On one he leaves infancy behind forever, and on the second he begins to become a man.

The parent has a big role to play when his son is ready for college. But often he isn't college-educated himself, and isn't sure just what that role should be. He wants to help, but he isn't sure of either the possibilities or the pitfalls in college.

Here are a few scattered answers to a number of questions many of these parents are asking themselves:

Q. My son can't get into one of the famous Ivy League schools in the East. Will this ruin his future?

A. No, although attendance at these schools will be of great help if he plans to sell bonds or get on the U. S. Supreme Court.

Q. What about the big state universities?

A. Educationally, they are fine. But sometimes a boy of 17 can get lost in the crowd.

Q. Where would you prefer to send your own son?

A. To a good junior college or one of the hundreds of fine smaller colleges. Their quality of teaching is often better than in the larger universities, and their enrollment is small enough so that your son will get more individual attention. If he needs help, he is more likely to find it.

Q. My son doesn't yet know what he wants to be. What courses should he take?

A. Let him take basic courses in literature, history, economics, logic, biology, public speaking, American government, psychology—and at least one foreign language. These will give him a groundwork of wide knowledge that will benefit him all his life, and perhaps speed him to a choice of a career.

Q. What about letting my son work his way through college?

A. No, not even if you have to mortgage your home. The benefits of working one's way through college are highly over-rated. Few men who did this ever want their sons to, because they know what they missed. Going to college is a fulltime job in itself. Let your son work during his vacations.

DEPOE BAY, Ore. (AP) — In one day, residents of this coastal town were jaded by these reports: A tidal wave was coming, mysterious red objects were at sea, and there was a submarine lying off the coast.

The red objects turned out to be fishing boats, the submarine turned out to be a tug and the tidal wave didn't turn out at all.

To Your Good Health Silicone Lotions Help Cracked Fingers And Hands

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
"Dear Dr. Molner: My husband, who does general farming and is 53, has trouble with his hands. The fingers crack and get small pinhead-sized blisters or pimples, which then break. The same trouble occurs in the palms. He has tried all sorts of lotions and medications, but the trouble persists in cycles, coming about every six weeks, and is worse in the winter.—Mrs. C. K."

The three principal causes are these:

1. If the skin is thickened (because of heavy work, for example) it loses its elasticity and may split instead of expanding.
2. External irritation is doubtless a more frequent cause—irritation from oils, chemicals, dust, paints, varnishes, etc., or a skin disease such as eczema.
3. Cracking can occur in people who eat such a poorly balanced diet that they become deficient in vitamins.

Of course, it is entirely possible that two or more factors may combine to cause the trouble.

It is also possible for a person not used to heavy work to develop cracks when he uses his hands in some rugged labor—a friend of mine recently encountered this when he had occasion to handle some stones.

Evidently the weight, plus the roughness, plus the dust on the stones caused some cracking. It was very painful, too.

In the case we're discussing today, the small blisters suggest some irritation or local skin disease. A fungus infection could be a possibility. It would be well worth while to have your doctor or even a dermatologist—skin specialist—check on this.

Generally, a bland lotion softens the skin and aids healing. A variety of lotions containing silicone are helpful.

Cleanliness of the hands is important to prevent the cracked fingers from becoming infected, for obviously infections will delay healing and make the cracks larger as well as more painful.

For another item specifically relating to today's case, the original letter mentioned that the man took care of a large flock of sheep. It is possible that he is somewhat allergic to wool, which would tend to irritate his fingers. Sensitivity to other materials may, similarly, be a factor in this sort of trouble with other readers. So keep this in mind if there is recurrent or continued cracking of the skin of the fingers.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Tests showed

Around The Rim Passing Of A Grand Old Gentleman

The other afternoon I picked up the National Education Association magazine and thumbed through its pages. Suddenly, there was this little item that Dr. Willis Sutton, superintendent emeritus of Atlanta, Ga., had died on July 28.

I was saddened because, like everyone else who met Dr. Sutton, I had a special fondness for him. He was a lovable old gentleman, a great champion of education, and humble human being. He had a wonderful sense of humor, a striking appearance and method of delivery, and he had a gentleness of spirit that was a benediction.

For all his mildness, he went to bat for the causes in which he believed. Once in the early days of his tenure as superintendent at Atlanta, he pushed for more funds for buildings and teachers. Some powerful forces were arrayed against him, including some of the major business interests and the newspaper.

WILLIS SUTTON WENT to the publisher of the venerable Atlanta Constitution and asked him who took the paper. The subscribers, of course, Why do they take it? Because they like to read it. How many do you have taking the paper who can't read? And how many of these people who can't read get the message that your advertisers pay you to get to prospective customers? Wouldn't it be good business for you if more people could read and took your newspaper and bought goods from those who advertise with you? Wouldn't it help them and help you?

He won his point with the publisher, and in time with a good portion of others who had opposed the program initially. This was the beginning of a school system that undoubtedly has contributed to Atlanta's prosperity and prominence in a section that, by logical reasoning, would not be due to support such a strong citadel.

AS A LUCID SPOKESMAN for education, Dr. Sutton became president of NEA and one of its most respected advisors. Then he became much in demand as a lecturer, and it was in this capacity that he first came to Big Spring back in the days of the old Oil Belt Teachers Association. When he retired from his superintendency and his city conferred the honored emeritus title upon him, he began to work with schools, spending time lecturing to students and talking with teachers and townspeople. This brought him to Big Spring two or three other times.

ON HIS LAST VISIT, age had robbed him of strength to stand for long periods. So he sat and talked—talked with that delightful catfish drawl with that guttural rumble from an abused voice box. He spoke with an evangelist's zeal on the subject that had become dearest to his heart—the necessity of parents and teachers somehow reaching out to bridge at least part of the gap between them and teenagers. There was no limit to the time that he would spend in personal counseling with youngsters on any problem from school work to life's work, from recreation to religion.

Of course the boys would mimic his speech and mannerisms, but they loved him and hung on every word he said. On his next to last trip here, some of the students learned it was his birthday. Secretly they got a birthday cake with the appropriate number of candles, and at the general assembly where he was to speak, they surprised him with this sparkling tribute. The throaty roar of hundreds of voices sincerely wishing him happy birthday was too much for the white-haired patriarch. He wept unashamedly.

Every four years the United States Government knows it's got a President a-comin' up for inauguration and it does not aim to be caught without a cake.

The cake is just about ready for the oven, no matter who wins in November. Before October 1 work will start on the erection of stands on and in front of the Capitol for the inauguration of either Vice-President Nixon or Senator Kennedy on Jan. 20, 1961.

IT REQUIRES between three to three and one-half months to build the Capitol stands, including the one over the Capitol's new step where the next President will take the oath of office.

It also requires just a little more money every four years to inaugurate a President in the style to which the American people are accustomed. Weeks ago Congress appropriated $250,000 to pay for the 1961 inauguration, which is $40,000 more than the ante for the inauguration in 1957, and $49,000 more than for President Eisenhower's first inauguration in 1953.

IN FACT, A LITTLE digging into the records will prove that the cost of inaugurations has kept pace with the H.C.L. in the lifetime of most of us. In 1925, it only cost $26,803 to inaugurate Calvin Coolidge. Four years later, a joint Congressional committee, always charged with such affairs, spent $32,222 to inaugurate Herbert Hoover.

The first inauguration of Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1933 dipped to $22,089, but the costs have been rising steadily ever since. In 1945 when, during World War II, F.D.R. took the oath of office in the White House without cost or public ceremony.

will seat 17,259 persons, a few hundred more than in the past, the stands are not appreciably larger than those that cost $99,700 for the 1953 inauguration.

Goodness knows what the stands would cost if there weren't available to Uncle Sam much of the steel framework that company donated to the government when Warren G. Harding (of all Presidents!) insisted on a simple, inexpensive inaugural. Uncle Sam saves this steelwork from inauguration to inauguration.

THOSE CHARGED with planning the inauguration must provide everything from velvet ropes (fifty to sixty of em or enough to keep out any later-day One-Eyed Connoisseur) pipes and cables for "barricades" to keep the crowds in hand and red carpet (yes, sir, we have to have it, just like royalty, and why not?) to fire extinguishers.

Congress has already passed the legislation, necessary every four years, to quarter troops in the capital's public buildings (troops to guard the President and march in the inaugural parade); authorize emergency installation of wires for telephones, telegraph, radio and television at the Capitol and along the parade route; place necessary street, sidewalk and other public space under control of the Inauguration Committee and authorize special licenses for peddlers of souvenirs and hot dogs. Not to mention commissioning of comfort stations and first-aid depots!

IN THE EIGHT years between the first inauguration of President Eisenhower and the inauguration of the next President in January, the cost of erecting the Capitol stands for the event has risen more than 50 percent.

The sum of $150,000 has been apportioned from the $250,000 inauguration kitty to erect the stands for '61. Although they

ONE LARGE ITEM on the inaugural agenda awaits on the election of the next President. It is up to the new Chief Executive to determine whether there shall be an inaugural ball. Such a gala affair cannot be forced on a man who wants no part of such purely frivolous doings.

The 1961 ceremony may not take all of the $250,000 appropriation. Often, there is money left in the till. But no matter which candidate makes the inauguration, a lot of taxpayers are certain to feel their money is being spent on the wrong man.

WASHINGTON — Three times, on a round-trip between New Jersey and California to write this story, our litter-laden Air Evacuation plane staggered down the runway and failed to take off. Engines were cut to prevent a probable crash which would have killed eight or ten servicemen who were ill enough to be bedridden, two or more registered-nurse officers, a couple of medical technicians, an expert air crew and yours truly.

AIR EVAC has an enviable record of non-fatalities, and it isn't just luck. The training, skill and devotion of these people who fly and service the planes are the reasons. But in this day of the "deterrent" philosophy—peace by mutual terror, is Churchill's definition—the nuts and bolts which hold airplanes together are being sacrificed to put the funds elsewhere. So is replacement of horse-and-buggy planes. So is research-into-development, which is vital to every phase of the Air Age.

DEPOE BAY, Ore. (AP) — In one day, residents of this coastal town were jaded by these reports: A tidal wave was coming, mysterious red objects were at sea, and there was a submarine lying off the coast.

The red objects turned out to be fishing boats, the submarine turned out to be a tug and the tidal wave didn't turn out at all.

LAST MAY the Secretary of the Air Force, Dudley Sharp, was on an official mission to the Southeast Asia. At Hong Kong the engine of his 12-year-old Constellation developed trouble. It was necessary to replace a part. No Constellation part was available because all the major airlines in the Orient (except MATS, our official carrier) were converted to jets. An engine exhaust stack had to be flown all the way from Washington, D. C., to Hong Kong—by commercial airliner. Earlier in 1960 another Pentagon official was on an obsolete Constellation which lost an engine at Bangkok in Thailand. A new engine had to be flown from Tokyo.

THE 1961 ceremony may not take all of the $250,000 appropriation. Often, there is money left in the till. But no matter which candidate makes the inauguration, a lot of taxpayers are certain to feel their money is being spent on the wrong man.

BUT THOSE who have fought for MATS feel encouraged. The word is getting around. In the 96th Congress the President asked $50 million for MATS modernization. Congress raised it to $250 million. The Department of Defense is spending the money wisely. Meanwhile, MATS has a fiery new Commander in Chief. General Joe Kelly who reeled off most of this story for me. There is talk of turning the yet-unbuilt supersonic B-70 bombers into a transport plane at three times the speed of sound.

If it could be done within the next administration, we would have a military aircraft of fewer but faster planes, with faster reaction time, greater efficiency and increased world-wide prestige.

Like most women, she knows that scanning the advertising columns of her newspaper is the quickest way to get the most complete picture of who's got what for sale . . . and for how much. She knows that by pre-shopping many ads, comparing many values, she stands the best chance of getting the MOST for her money when she actually sets forth to buy. She saves time and steps, too, by STARTING her shopping in the pages of this newspaper!

When questioned by researchers for the American Institute of Public Opinion, 69 percent of women readers said that they consult the advertising in newspapers BEFORE they go to shop. ### Wayne Rings Liberty Bell

LIBERTY, Tex. (AP)—Movie actor and producer John Wayne rang a duplicate of the Liberty Bell here Tuesday.

The ringing of the bell, made by the same company that made the original Liberty Bell, started the 1960 fund campaign of the Liberty Muscular Dystrophy Research Foundation.

Two sisters, Sally and Nadine Woods, brought the bell to Liberty from the Whitechapel Bell Foundry in England. The sisters are victims of muscular dystrophy and organized the foundation.

Strike Ends

HOUSTON (AP)—Part of a 22-day-old strike ended Tuesday when air conditioning service men signed a contract with the Mechanical Contractors Association of Houston.

What Makes DA Stumble? Unmemorized Indictment

The forms of indictments voted by grand juries are standardized. They are generally printed and pertinent additional information is typed in.

They are alike—that is to say, alike when the offense is the same. For example a worthless check indictment on John Doe will be exactly like another on Richard Roe with the exception of the amount, the date, perhaps the bank and the person to whom the check is made out.

In the six years GJ Jones, district attorney, has been in office, he has conscientiously and unconsciously memorized all but one of the forms. The one exception is the worthless check item. It's the longest on the list.

Each time a plea of guilty is entered in the courts or on the days when the jury trials of criminal cases are on tap, the court instructs the defendant to stand while he hears the indictment read.

Jones picks up the red folder, which is used for criminal cases, and appears to read what is printed on the page. Actually he isn't reading—he is reciting.

The requirement that the indictment be read is a legend in law and in reality serves no important end. The defendant knows the charge against him. His lawyer is familiar with it. The district attorney is intimately informed on its contents.

The jurors may not know but since they are admonished early that the indictment does not constitute proof of guilt, about all they really require is to be told the defendant's name and the charge. Like "John Doe, forgery," for example.

No one has ever timed Jones as he speeds through this formality. The probability is that he is reading at more than 200 words a minute.

One thing is certain—you have to listen with great diligence if you want to understand what's being read.

Recently, veteran observers were puzzled when Jones stumbled twice while reading an indictment. Asked what happened, he grinned and said he didn't know. Then he remembered—the indictment was one for worthless check writing.

"I just never got around to memorizing that one," he confessed. "It's too long."

SPLIT VOTE Trustees Approve New Annexation

In a split vote Tuesday evening, trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District approved annexation of the Suburban Heights Subdivision from the Foran Independent School District.

Johnnie Johnston and E. C. Smith submitted a petition requesting annexation. They said only three families now live in the area and only one of these opposed the annexation. Five other families have purchased homes in the area, but have not moved in. These, however, have signed the petition.

The area includes 156 acres with about 200 lots. Before becoming official, the Howard and Mitchell county school boards must approve the change. Trustees stipulated that the opposing land owner be left out of the annexation.

Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper and Harold Talbot voted for annexation. Dr. Mays and Wendal Parks opposed it and O. S. Womack abstained. President Clyde McMahon, voting to break the tie, joined with Mrs. Cowper and Talbot. Dan Krause, the other board member, is in Europe on business.

J. O. Hagood and John Burgess reported on delinquent tax payments. They reported such taxes at a relatively low figure and said everything was being done to make collection, including going to court.

Resignations of four teachers were accepted. They were from Mrs. Lorette Venable Kirk, Mrs. Evelyn Vagt, Mrs. Laura Whitley and Mrs. Mary Lu Wilson.

Formal employment was given 20 new teachers. They include Mrs. Orna Anderson, Mrs. Patsy Bryan, Mrs. Lavada Brownrigg, Mrs. Lynn Calvert, Mrs. Gloria Coffee, Mrs. Marguerite Daily, Mrs. Vivian Finley, Mrs. Patricia A. Frederick, and Mrs. Evelyn Holley, Mrs. Beverly Rose Jansen, Donald Pat Lawrence, Mrs. T. A. Stephenson, Mrs. Elizabeth Schell, E. J. Sedden, Philip T. Wickline, Mrs. Dolores Wickline, Jerald R. Wilson, Mrs. Elaine Brattland, Joe W. Hillmon, and Mrs. Katie Eaves.

Six local youths enlist in Army. Six Big Spring youths left today for induction in the U.S. Army.

The six included a set of identical twins, Charles E. Rawlings and William E. Rawlings. Other young men leaving were Harold D. Wampler, James E. Avery, and Jerrel R. Hale.

The group was sent to Abilene where they will undergo more tests and then be sent on to reception centers.

Godfrey To Be Host On 'Candid Camera'

NEW YORK (AP)—Negotiations have not yet been concluded, but it looks as though Arthur Godfrey will be returning to weekly television in less than three weeks as host on "Candid Camera."

Viewers remember the "Candid Camera" hilarity on last season's Garry Moore Show—a sort of peeping Tom tape of average citizens, taken under exasperating or amusing circumstances. At first blush it hardly seems to be an ideal vehicle for a TV personality of Godfrey's stature. The program is based on a device which is more important than any stars connected with it.

Godfrey, however, does not feel that way about the new CBS show, scheduled to enter the Sunday evening lineup on Oct. 2.

"It's the only gimmick idea I'd be interested in," he explained. "I think it will prove a good respite from the usual television fare and there's plenty of room in it for creative imagination."

"Allen Funt, the producer, and I had a long talk about that Monday and the possibilities of the program are inexhaustible."

Godfrey's interest was caught by the program when he was asked to be a guest on the first show. He played the part of an itinerant ice cream salesman trying to sell a particular flavor of ice cream. The man known as America's greatest salesman lost the sale.

"It was a good gag," he said, "and I had lots of fun. This particular type of thing I've always loved."

It had been announced that Eddie Albert would act as host on the show, but Michael Dann, programming vice president of CBS-TV, said negotiations for Albert's services had reached something of an impasse when Godfrey indicated serious interest in the show.

Godfrey, since his lung cancer operation in April, 1959, has been seen only infrequently on television, but has been continuing his daily radio show.

"He's been on the prowl for a while," said Dann. "This show, 'Candid Camera' seems to be just what he has been looking for."

Confetti Shower For Nixons In Dallas

Gov. Chief J. E. Curry estimated 100,000 persons saw the Nixons during their two and one-half hour stay in the city.

2 People Injured During Cuban Riot

HAVANA (AP)—Police in the town of Perico about 100 miles east of Havana said two persons were wounded and a number of others were arrested during rioting which followed a public dance Tuesday night.

Unconfirmed reports said the fighting broke out following chants of "Cuba yes, Russia no."

Producer Doesn't Want To Be Banker

By BOB THOMAS

"This came right out of left field," he said, "I was sure what office."

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—When Marty Rackin took over as production chief at Paramount, the first thing he did was order his office painted white.

"The place looked like a bank," he explained. "I didn't want people coming in my office and feeling like they were asking for a loan. The office has got to be cheerful. It takes excitement to make movies, and you can't breed excitement in a place that looks like a bank."

That gives an idea of the nature of the new regime at Paramount. With excitement-prone Rackin at the controls, the studio may well get into orbit after a long period of quiescence.

Rackin's appointment was a surprise to the Hollywood crowd, but no more than it was to himself.

Threat To K

HAVANA (AP)—An anti-Castro group threatened Tuesday to kill Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev if he visits Cuba. Signed by a group calling itself "The Five," the threat was contained in mimeographed letters addressed to the Soviet Embassy here and distributed to other foreign embassies.

Space Sailing On Sun Winds, Honest Kids

By The Associated Press

Prospecting for flowers, searching for an honest child, sailing through space on solar winds, here is news of science at work:

OMENS OF ORE

Flowers and plants, reaching down through surface soil, often bring up hints of what secret minerals and ores lie underneath.

Certain pink and mustard plants for instance, indicate the presence of zinc. Other plants, mints and mosses may predict copper.

When present in large amounts, metals may act as poisons, making plant ailments possible indicators. Stubby roots, leaf scorch and mottling may mean aluminum. Queer shaped fruit may mean uranium.

Plants can also be analyzed for minerals they contain, an indication of the soil that nourished them, reports geologist Helen L. Cannon in the Journal, Science.

THIS WAY, DIAGENES

Are American children more honest than children from other lands?

Yes, say Drs. Harold and Gladys Anderson, husband-wife research team from Michigan State University.

They put a simple test to 5,000 children in the United States, Europe and Latin America by asking them to finish this story—two boys playing ball in a forbidden field, broke a window with the ball.

Children from other countries most frequently answer: "Yes, and boys ran away, concealing their identity and their deed. U.S. children usually saw the boys confessing and offering to pay for the window—though sometimes after a delay."

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, president of the National Red Cross, said Tuesday hurricane Donna was the most widespread disaster his organization has ever encountered. The Red Cross provided shelter for 45,000, he said, adding: "the rehabilitation phase will take months and an undetermined amount of money."

Donna Was Gale, But No Friend

PLANT CITY, Fla. (AP)—As gale force winds preceding Hurricane Donna whistled through Plant City Saturday, Mrs. George Friend gave birth to a daughter. Tuesday the Friends—his a radio station manager—finally agreed on a name: Donna Gale Friend.
