Hospital Hits 100 Per Cent Mark

The Veterans Administration Hospital reported 100 per cent participation by its 266 employees in the United Fund Drive, with Donald D. Van Meter, hospital director, right, presenting the funds to Lester Morton, drive chairman, this morning.

UF Drive Shows Gains

Almost all divisions of the United Fund reported increases this morning, pushing the total effort to $62,730, which represents 57.4 per cent of the campaign goal of $109,366. Only three divisions have passed the halfway mark in the drive. The Big Gifts Division has $32,510, 81 per cent of its goal; the Special Gifts Division has $6,388, 64 per cent of its goal; and the Out-of-Town Division, $4,470, 60 per cent of its goal. The Employees Division and Public Employees Division are closing in fast, however. The Employees section boosted its total to $10,873 for 40 per cent of its goal, and the Webb AFB section of the Public Employees Division has $6,513, putting it just over the halfway mark of a $11,000 target. Total for the Public Employees group is $6,804, 31 per cent of the goal. The Metropolitan Division and Area Division had no new reports today. Leaders urged workers to keep after their contact cards, reporting on them as quickly as possible. The United Fund supports some 13 local youth guidance and welfare organizations, all of which depend on the annual effort to meet the financial demands made upon them during the year.

He's Husband ---But Whose?

LONDON (AP) — Four times married, Roggee Goodfellow Sammy-Joe is studying law. Meanwhile, he's trying to figure out whether he's married to Victoria, Felicia, Catherine or Frances. Justice Sir Stanley Rees of the Divorce Court told the 34-year-old Nigerian Wednesday: "I think it would be highly desirable if you found out whose husband you are." "Quite right, my lord," said Sammy-Joe.

"BEST THEY CAN" "You can't blame the British courts," the judge added. "They're doing their best." "Quite right, my lord." Sammy-Joe told the judge he married two women by Nigerian custom and two more under British law. He said that his first wife, Victoria, did not sign her Nigerian divorce decree until after he'd wed Felicia. Sammy-Joe said Victoria's failure to sign the divorce decree made marriage No. 2 to Felicia null and void, and inasmuch as Victoria finally did sign it, he could not be married to her either. He said he then felt free to marry Catherine, who was in Nigeria while he was living in England.

BY PROXY "All I ever saw of her was a photograph," said Sammy-Joe. "We married by proxy under British law."

"Good gracious me!" gasped the judge. He said marriage No. 3 ended in divorce and in 1962 he wed Frances. Catherine received a maintenance order against him. Then his fourth wife also obtained a maintenance order. The judge postponed a decision on who is the legal wife and who should be receiving maintenance, but told Sammy-Joe: "If you carry on with these marriages and divorces, you'll get into difficulties."

Missing Hood Feared Slain In Underworld

NEW YORK (AP) — Death at the hands of underworld executioners probably was the fate of Cosa Nostra boss Joseph (Joe Bananas) Bonanno, police believe. They say they have no clues in his reported kidnaping. Bonanno's lawyer said two gunmen forced Bonanno into a car early Wednesday on Park Avenue. He said they fired a shot at him as he chased them. Police said Wednesday night they believed it was a kidnaping and not a ruse to enable Bonanno to avoid testifying before a federal grand jury. He had been scheduled to appear Wednesday. Asked what might have happened to Bonanno, Asst. Chief Inspector Walter F. Henning said: "You don't find them alive any more. After all, we've never found Tony Bender."

HE VANISHED Bender disappeared from his home in Fort Lee, N.J., two years ago. Mobster Joseph Valachi testified last year before the Senate Crime subcommittee that Bender was murdered by the Cosa Nostra, also known as the Mafia or the Syndicate. Valachi also told the committee that Bonanno was one of the top figures in the Cosa Nostra, and the chieftain of one of five "families" or gangs that control the rackets in metropolitan New York.

Bonanno, 59, who maintains homes in Brooklyn and Tucson, Ariz., was at the Apalachin, N.Y., underworld convention in 1957 that was broken up by State Police.

Detectives and FBI agents searched the city for Bonanno and began rounding up his acquaintances and relatives. They said they were seeking Bonanno's son, Salvatore, who is married to a niece of the late Joseph Profaci, once a Brooklyn Mafia leader.

FIVE OF GANG Five of the Bonanno gang appeared Wednesday before the grand jury, which is probing organized crime. His lawyer, William Power Maloney, also went before the jury. He said later that he outlined events of the kidnaping. Maloney told police that he, a law associate and Bonanno had just driven up to Maloney's apartment house on Park Avenue near 36th Street when Bonanno was overpowered by two gunmen whom he did not recognize.

Actor On TV Campaigning

NEW YORK (AP) — Raymond Massey, who plays kindly, gray, dedicated Dr. Gillespie in NBC's "Dr. Kildare" series, recently has been appearing on television as Raymond Massey, American citizen, in an earnest pitch for funds to support the candidacy of his chosen presidential candidate.

The filmed appeal, seen at the end of several paid broadcasts on behalf of the Goldwater-Miller ticket, has drawn a spate of mail. Massey, in New York on a personal appearance tour for the NBC program, estimated that the mail has been running at a rate of about five disappearing letters to four approving.

Vatican Council Flayed On Contraceptive Pills

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The top Roman Catholic prelate of England assailed the Vatican Ecumenical Council's document of modern world problems today, charging that it keeps married couples guessing on the use of birth control pills. Archbishop John C. Heenan made the first open mention of contraceptive pills in the assembly of Roman Catholic prelates. He said the council should recess for three or four years and let laymen advise clergymen on modern world problems. Clergymen, he said, "hardly know the world as it really is."

A BOMBHELL Archbishop Heenan's assault on the document — or schema as it is officially called — was described as a bombshell by a council spokesman. The English prelate denounced the schema as a "set of platitudes" that would "dash the hopes of every one who has been awaiting it."

Council press spokesmen said applause echoed in St. Peter's as the archbishop blistered the schema — which deals with problems ranging from nuclear warfare to birth control. He described the document in the bitterest terms used by any of the council fathers since they started debating it on Tuesday.

Name Absence On Soviet List Hints Shakeup

MOSCOW (AP) — Ailing Frol R. Kozlov's name was missing today from a list of members of the Soviet Communist party presidium. Western observers interpreted the omission as a possible hint of a further shakeup in the ruling Kremlin elite. The list of presidium members and other top government and party figures appeared under obituaries of Soviet military leaders killed Monday in a plane crash in Yugoslavia. Official sources said today Kozlov had not signed the obituaries because of his illness. He suffered a crippling stroke in April, 1963, and has dropped out of active political life. Despite his illness, Kozlov's name had been in previous official lineups of top presidium officials.

Red China Rejects Nuclear Curb Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — Communist China rejected today President Johnson's suggestion that it sign the limited nuclear test ban treaty and repeated its call for a global summit meeting to abolish nuclear weapons. It had been expected that the United States would answer this call by proposing through diplomatic channels that the Peking regime sign the test ban treaty which more than 100 nations have signed. JOHNSON PLEA President Johnson, in fact, said Sunday night in a televised speech to the nation: "We call on the world — especially Red China — to join the nations which have signed it (the treaty)." An editorial today in the official Peking People's Daily called the treaty "nothing but a fraud."

"China is by no means obsessed by the idea of possessing nuclear weapons," the editorial continued. "It will stop developing them as soon as U.S. imperialism does so."

The newspaper, official organ of the Chinese Communist party, said the proposal for abolition of nuclear weapons by a world summit meeting is "practical, reasonable, easily feasible and involves no question of control." The State Department disclosed Wednesday that Premier Chou En-lai of Red China had sent to President Johnson Monday the same message which had circulated to other government chiefs around the world, even though the United States and Red China do not have diplomatic relations. DISMISS TACTIC Both Secretary of State Dean Rusk and President Johnson have already publicly dismissed the Chinese maneuver as a propaganda play for the purpose of offsetting criticisms of Red China's first nuclear explosion last Friday. U.S. officials have no real belief at this time that Red China can be prevailed upon to sign the year-old nuclear test ban treaty. But officials say that worldwide public opinion which in many countries has been severely critical of the Red mercury tests might eventually have some influence in Peking.

Girl Stabbed Fifty Times Points Out Accused Youth

brokenly but is coherent. She can walk, with assistance, but still wears a brace on one leg. Five times police marched Bert Michael Lana, dressed differently on each occasion, in the lineup. Miss Hallmark did not identify Lana the first time. Earl Goerke, State Crime Bureau director, said Miss Hallmark may not have made identification the first time because of a possible lack of communication with her or because she was under intense emotional stress. She told officers she was not a personal friend of young Lana who was charged Wednesday with attempting to kill her. At the time of the attack, on a lonely road at the end of the school day, Lana was a sophomore and she a senior. Months after the attack, Miss Hallmark was in a condition in which she had no response to questions except tears and silence. Just a few days ago she was able to make identification from a school yearbook. When officers gave Lana a lie detector test last January, they said the results indicated he probably was not involved in the attack. Lana stuck with his story of innocence Wednesday. He was released on $3,000 bond to his father, Bert, a football coach at Duncan Junior High School. The mother is an elementary school teacher and both she and her husband have master's degrees.

$675,900 Art Sale

NEW YORK (AP) — Sixty modern paintings and sculptures from the collection of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ross sold for $675,900 in an auction at the Parke-Bernet Galleries Wednesday night. The top figure was $117,500 for a Picasso. It was from his cubist period, titled "Verre, Bouquet, Guitare, Bouteille," and went to Robert Elkon's New York Gallery.

Reason For Military Attaches

The distinction between open and secret collection of intelligence is often a fine one. This is well illustrated by Russian complaints of "spying" against three U.S. and one British military attaches.
The four attaches were "detained" while on a visit to the far eastern city of Khabarovsk, near the Chinese border. The Russians claimed they seized 300 pictures and material in 29 notebooks from the attaches. While military attaches traditionally enjoy the diplomatic immunity granted to ambassadors, to whom they are assigned, the Russians charged that they were "grossly violating the universally accepted standards of conduct of foreign diplomats."
There could be only one reason for the presence of the four men in Khabarovsk: They were curious to know if Russian troop buildups were occurring in the border region as a result of the growing political and ideological conflict between Russia and China. Yet the attaches were granted permission to go there. The Russians were most certainly aware of their mission.
Only a polite fiction separates military attaches from other intelligence collectors. At times military attaches have served as informal advisers to the military in the countries to which they are accredited. But generally speaking the military attaché has the primary function of noting any new military developments, such as a change in the organization of ground forces, new weapons and the disposition of military forces. He passes this information along through diplomatic channels to his superiors in Washington. Army, air and naval attaches report on their specialty. Ambassadors usually confine themselves to reporting on political trends and developments.
Our embassies abroad, with their air, army and naval attaches and political experts, serve as listening posts for our government. This is why they are there.

Shoulder Straps Next?

Col. John P. Stapp, the crash expert best remembered for his dramatic rides and even more dramatic stops on a speed sled a few years back, believes that the next big improvement in auto safety will be general use of shoulder straps. It is good to have an expert of his caliber touting this device, for the shoulder straps are a noteworthy improvement on the midriff strap now in popular use.
"Popular use" is something of an exaggeration. Even the familiar strap that buckles around the waist is not used as generally as it ought to be. A minority of cars on the road are equipped with seat belts, and even in cars so equipped the belts often are not used except during long highway trips. But at least such belts have won public acceptance as a valid piece of safety equipment.
Research has shown that the shoulder strap gives better protection than the conventional seat belt. This is mainly because it prevents the "jack-knifing" that permits so many head injuries even when passengers are wearing seat belts.
The automobile manufacturers have shown themselves reluctant to take such findings into account. They have begun to install seat belts, however. Perhaps now they can be persuaded to take the additional step of providing shoulder straps and urging auto drivers and passengers to wear them. That would be a major advance in the task of lessening the number and severity of accident injuries.

Abolishment Versus Testing

WASHINGTON — These are days when people around the world are constantly being "brainwashed." The phrases of euphemism hide from the people the real threat to the peace of mankind. Some of the cover-up is politically motivated, and some of it is designed to gloss over ominous developments by wishful thinking.
The world is told, for instance, that a treaty which bans certain nuclear testing is a great achievement, and all that is necessary now is to persuade Red China to join the signatories of that pact. But not a word is spoken about the graver danger involved in the actual use of nuclear weapons. It is the continued existence of an arsenal of nuclear bombs capable of destroying in a few minutes hundreds of millions of human lives which is the menace to civilization.
NOT A WORD is being spoken, moreover, by the heads of government anywhere, including the United States, about the terrible power possessed by a few governments. While there is much discussion about "who pulls the trigger," there is no sign of any self-restraint being imposed by all the governments themselves so as to make certain that there never will be a nuclear holocaust.
Only Japan knows by experience what a nuclear bomb can do. The tens of thousands of human beings who lost their lives in Nagasaki and Hiroshima were mostly civilians, not soldiers. For many decades, the leaders of the civilized world had emphasized that bombardment only of fortified cities and military installations should be permitted, but Europeans violated the rule. American presidents protested, but in 1945 our government joined the school of thought which said that to use the atom bomb meant a shortening of the war.
TODAY THERE is no conference going on anywhere on genuine "disarmament"—no effort to insure the destruction of all nuclear weapons and a prohibition against any resumption of their production. There are proposals instead to maintain the present nuclear arsenals intact, though not to

Billy Graham

I am afraid that I have committed the sin against the Holy Ghost. That is, thoughts, convictions and ideas about certain things being wrong for me to do. Can I be forgiven?
P.J.

Many people are confused at this point. There is only one reference to what we call "The Unpardonable Sin," and it reads: "Verily I say unto you, All sins shall be forgiven unto the sons of men, and blasphemies wherewith soever they blaspheme: but he that shall blaspheme against the Holy Ghost hath never forgiveness, but is in danger of eternal damnation: because they said, He hath an unclean spirit."
The Scribes had said: "He is possessed by Beelzebub, and hath by the prince of devils casteth he out devils." Mark 3:22.
Beelzebub was called "the god of filth." The sin that was called "unforgivable" was saying that the Holy Spirit through which Jesus cast out devils and performed His miracles, was "the god of filth," rather than the spirit of God and the Spirit of Holiness. In all of my experience I have never heard of anyone committing this sin, and since the "god of filth," Beelzebub, is unknown to us today, it is unlikely that anyone would commit this sin in our times.
There is one sin, however, that is unforgivable . . . and that is the deliberate rejection of Jesus Christ as Saviour.
The central theme of the Gospel is forgiveness. "Be it known unto you therefore men and brethren, that through this man (Christ Jesus) is preached unto you the forgiveness of sins."

WHAT'S SO NEW ABOUT THAT PROBLEM?

Hoover: His Presidency Bitter

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Hoover, who died this week, had five careers. Four were brilliant. But the most important of them, the presidency, for him turned out to be an unhappy and bitter one.
In his early 30s he was considered the top mining engineer in the world. And he was a millionaire by 40.
By the time he was 46 he had a world reputation as a humanitarian for his handling of relief in Europe during and after World War I.
President Wilson took him to the Paris Peace Conference and he did so well that John Maynard-Keynes said he was the "only man who emerged from the ordeal with an enhanced reputation."
For seven years, from 1921 to 1923, he was an extremely able administrator as secretary of commerce under Presidents Harding and Coolidge.
AND IN his advancing old age after World War II he was recognized as a great public servant for the time and effort he gave Presidents Truman and Eisenhower in reorganizing the federal government.
But in his years after leaving the White House, if he read what one American historian after another said about his presidency, it must have been a scarring experience which, in his lifetime, he could not hope to erase.
Perhaps none was more harsh than this terse summary by Frederick Lewis Allen: "Mr. Hoover's greatest mistake had been in getting himself elected."
He got off on the wrong foot as a bad prophet before he was ever elected, although probably most people agreed with him at the time. In the 1928 campaign he made this statement, thrown Unemployment spread until by 1933 it had reached about 15 million, banks failed, homes were lost, people were hungry, soup kitchens fed some, others glibly starved in despair.
back at him many times later:
"We in America today are nearer to the final triumph over poverty than ever before in the history of any land. The poorhouse is vanishing from among us."
Even as the depression deepened and spread across the world Hoover seemed unable to realize the American free enterprise system couldn't pull itself up by its own bootstraps. He kept making optimistic forecasts. All were wrong.
WHAT WAS Hoover's trouble? He had a fixed belief, and nothing could shake him from it, that government help and involvement in American life should be kept to a minimum.
He wanted private charity and then states and cities to provide relief before seeking federal help. He promised that if the time ever came when such direct help was required, it would be provided. For him the time never came.
For this many thought him heartless. He was anything but. He was a kind man, with concern for people. But he had a fixed philosophy which belonged in a previous century and was now outdated. It was his greatest misunderstanding.

Here's Bit Of Double-Talk

NEW YORK (AP) — What is your double-talk rating? If you go through life saying exactly what you mean, you aren't going to get anywhere. To be a stand-out in society you have to be able to think one way, and speak another. That's double-talk.
Here are a few examples of double-talk — with their literal translations.
"You certainly richly deserve the success you have won, sir." Some people have all the luck. "Your sermon was inspiring, reverend — yes, positively inspiring." How can a guy make even sin sound so dull?
"Well, don't worry about it. Everybody makes a mistake now and then." But you make one every time you take a breath.
"It's simply been ages and ages since we met." And if I have my way, it'll be eons and eons before we meet again.
"I just dropped in, boss, to thank you personally for that swell bonus." At least it'll pay for the stamps on my Christmas cards.
"And now, major, perhaps you will be kind enough to recount to our guests some of your more thrilling battle experiences." If this joker ever got out of his swivel chair during a war, I'll eat his medals.
"I wish the other teachers were as enlightening as you, professor." Then I could sleep through all my classes.
"You mean you painted this lovely picture all by yourself?" It looks like you must have had the help of at least a couple of baby chimpanzees.
"Somehow I don't feel particularly hungry tonight." But I'm going to order a steak anyway, chump.
"It would be helpful if my opponent would stick to the issues." I don't know what they are either.
"If you don't mind a suggestion, sir, I can recommend our roast beef hash highly." The chef says if you don't get rid of it today, we'll have to eat it ourselves. He's tired of having it around.
"I don't want you to think I'm a poor loser." I just can't stand not to win over a nitwit like you.
"Um-m-m-m! Wherever did you learn to make a martini that tastes like that?" Probably in a high school chemistry laboratory.
"What a cunning new outfit, Grace." But don't you think you should have saved it for Halloween?
"Let's drop the whole matter. I believe in letting bygones be bygones." But don't ever turn your back on me, old buddy.

Dizzy Spells Can Result From Many Things

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. Dear Dr. Molner: I am a 69-year-old man and feel fine. I never have any aches or pains, but when I move quickly, getting in or out of my car, or tip my head back when shaving, I get very dizzy. This lasts about 20 seconds. I shall appreciate your comments. — A. C. B.
At your age, changes in the shape of the vertebrae of the neck are not uncommon, and can cause pressure on nerves, thereby resulting in dizzy spells. A disturbance in the middle ear may also be affecting the delicate mechanism which controls balance.
(Sometimes these spells are the result of hardening of the arteries; however, if that were true in your case, you would notice the symptoms under other circumstances.)
These are the most likely possibilities. But you should consult your physician. A dizzy spell, or even "blacking out" for a few seconds, can cause a fall and injuries.
Dear Dr. Molner: Please discuss emphysema. This is my husband's trouble, and the doctor has warned him that he must be careful or he will end up in a wheel chair or worse.—MRS. D. L.
I've written quite a few columns on emphysema, which is already so prevalent that some authorities say it kills more victims than tuberculosis and lung cancer combined. It is a frequent and often a dangerous condition. In response to many letters from sufferers of the disease, I've prepared a booklet on the subject, "How To Control Emphysema." It explains all phases of emphysema. To receive a copy, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to me, in care of The Herald, enclosing 10 cents in coin to cover printing and handling costs.
Dear Dr. Molner: Please explain encephalitis. Our little girl had it after the chickenpox. It was a mild case and she is all right now. We have four other children and they also had chickenpox but no complications. I took care of them the same way, but what did I do wrong with her? My friends say they never heard of such a thing being caused by children's diseases.—MRS. W. Y. Encephalitis is inflammation of the brain—but don't feel that this happened because of anything you did wrong. It can occur occasionally as a complication of other contagious children's diseases, measles and mumps in particular.
The fact that your friends "never heard of it" is not surprising; most of us don't pay attention to things until we come face to face with them. The viruses of children's diseases can at times create weird complications depending on the vagaries of where they strike hardest. This is unpredictable.
It is the occasional risk of such complications which accounts for my frequent advice: Don't take children's diseases too lightly. I don't mean you should become panicky or afraid either. But when a child is sick, he or she should be kept in bed and the doctor should be called.
Frequently nothing can be done to speed a cure. The child recovers naturally with rest and time. But in all such simple illnesses, the doctor's task is to watch for the first sign of any new complication so that it, too, can be treated immediately.

Around The Rim

'Little' Theatre Gets Bigger

Our "little theatre," although still struggling along, is making perhaps the best progress of its eight-year history here. Larger audiences and a few extra dollars in hand indicate that success for the drama enthusiasts may be just around the corner.
One of the decisions that has had a big part in an upswing of the theatre's fortunes, I suspect, was to produce more plays each year and adding plays aimed at the younger set. This weekend, the organization will hold readings for "Hansel and Gretel," another play for children.
IN THE EARLY DAYS of the organization, plays were produced on practically no capital, and usually the players pitched into the kitty to supply the wherewithal to buy paints, lumber, makeup and other items necessary to get the production on the boards. Or, contributions were sought from businessmen who came through in the most dire moments.
But increased audiences have helped the group set aside a modest balance to finance forthcoming plays. In addition, there are more people interested in the theatre, who join in stage work as well as on stage, than ever before. Although there is still need for more, the group can count on a faithful crew to see that each play goes as it should.
TRUE WORK on the theatre building has come to a standstill. Much of the money and energy of the earlier organization was spent in trying to get the building suitable, if not for plays, then at least for rehearsals. Although heating of sorts has been added since those early days, work on the building has been all but abandoned in favor of producing plays. And this is probably a wise choice, as a successful theatre group later will be able to build anything it might need.

PERHAPS ONE of the best productions ever staged by the organization was the Easter Pageant, which has been abandoned in recent years. Considerable money was put up for costumes and stage materials, and the theatre drew its largest audiences for this show in each of the years it was given. As the theatre's leaders strive to keep the present momentum climbing, it might be time to consider renewing the annual presentation of the annual pageant.

FIVE PRODUCTIONS each year is quite a handful for the organization, of course, but nothing has helped the group more than exposure to wider audiences and giving beginners a chance to get on stage in costume. The pageant, as nothing else has been able to do, accomplished this twin goal.
At any rate, a growing band of stalwarts are keeping the "idea of a theatre" alive in Big Spring, for the enjoyment of the rest of us, and they are doing an excellent job—witness any of the productions.

Not A Statesmanship Contest

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The American presidency has been called an "elective monarchy," and this concept of the office is at once Lyndon Johnson's forte in the waning campaign and Barry Goldwater's largest hazard.
Everything that Mr. Johnson does along the glory road is calculated to enhance the majesty of the title he holds, whereas everything that Sen. Goldwater does and says is an effort to attack and reduce the presidency.
WHEN MR. JOHNSON fixes his large face into a waxy, beatific smile and trots along a fence, finger-waving at the crowd and finger-touching with every fifth or sixth citizen there, he often seems ludicrous to the weary, seen-it-all-before reporters — until they look into the faces that make up the crowd. One grizzled, overweight, prewar relic of presidential coverage put it this way:
"Those people think they're seeing and touching a god. It wasn't that way at all when Johnson was senator or vice president. But now he's not only taken over the presidency, but he's made this presidency his very own. He couldn't be more different from the Kennedy that the crowds used to worship. Johnson is corny and homespun and half-fellow, but maybe the gods were like that when the Greek writers used to bring them down to earth. The actors in Greek plays wore masks, as Johnson does, making their moods seem bigger than life."
AS PRESIDENT, too, Mr. Johnson seldom fails to refer to his god-like powers of hurling thunderbolts—and of assuring the people of his restraint. He talks of the national prosperity and of the federal largesse as if it were all his own to bestow or withhold. I recall the dismay of a Louisiana politician who told me his state was 70 per cent for Goldwater until Hurricane Hilda came along, providing Mr. Johnson with the chance to promise relief. Even the President's bad publicity, such as hoisting up his beagles by the ears, or breaking the automobile speed limits, seems to end by showing him a supernatural being with human frailties.

THEORETICALLY, it is not good for a democratic people to keep over in worship of an office which they themselves created. Conceivably, Barry Goldwater is serving a sound, historical purpose when he tries to cut the presidency down to what Jefferson conceived it to be—that of being merely First Citizen of the Republic. But Jefferson had been born a subject of Britain. It's significant that the very first American president to be born an American, Martin Van Buren, referred in his writing to the presidency as "the glittering crown" and the "ultima Thule."
In promising to take the swank and the power out of the presidency, the Republican candidate is more democratic than the Democratic candidate. It is the statesman's duty, as Hamilton noted, to do what will benefit, not please, the people.
But there must be some good reason why we always call the presidential race a "political" campaign, never a "statesmanship" contest.

By Then It Didn't Matter

WASHINGTON—President Ernest J. Soapsuds took to the television on the night of Oct. 19, 1973, and soberly revealed that Albania had just exploded a nuclear device, thus bringing membership in the doomsday club to 25 nations.
Pinchley Bleak, the Republican candidate whom Soapsuds defeated in the hotly-contested election of 1972, immediately demanded equal time, but nobody paid him the slightest heed. "Nuclear proliferation," a phrase that President Soapsuds had considerable trouble with was an evasive tongue, and Mr. Bleak was resolutely ignored.
"ANALYSIS of the fallout from the Albanian nuclear explosion," President Soapsuds told the television audience, "indicates that it was a crude device in which the principal fissionable ingredient appears to have been chili powder." Here the great man smiled reassuringly and added, "The United States has not used chili powder in its atomic weapons for more than 20 years."
Still, it could not be gainsaid that Albania was now a member of the atomic club, with all the obligations and privileges pertaining thereto. It was assumed that Chinese Communist technicians had helped Albania construct the weapon, just as they had performed the same humanitarian service for the Congo and Indonesia, but that didn't make Albania's neighbors rest any easier.
THE AMBASSADOR from Athens, Mr. Soakthepopolis, called on the Secretary of State and bluntly warned that if the United States did not supply Greece with nuclear weapons the same would be sought in Moscow. Turkey countered by sending its envoy to the State Department to demand that it, too, be equipped with enough nuclear bombs to protect itself against the galloping Irredentism that was obviously behind Athens' plea. The Secretary of State promised both ambassadors sympathetic consideration, and promptly took to his bed with a bottle of cognac, a vial of sleeping pills and a two-year-old copy of foreign policy reports.
PRESIDENT SOAPSUDS viewed the gathering storm with his customary equanimity. He used the hot line to send greetings on the anniversary of the October Revolution to the Soviet dictator, Ivanov Nivet, and he coyly planted a rumor that he was planning to visit Peking sometime during the spring of 1974. Mr. Bleak promptly called it treason, and Peking denounced it as neo-colonialism, but by the spring of 1974 it was academic anyway.

By the time the CIA learned that Balabut tribesmen had (presumably with the help of Chinese Communist technicians) built a primitive nuclear device and were preparing to use it against the Central Government at Leopoldville, it was likely that no power on earth could have staved off disaster.
CERTAINLY, Soapsuds could not. He summoned all the members of the nuclear club to a summit meeting, but this scheme collapsed when the U.A.R. demanded assurances that Israel would not be invited. Israel's response was to set off a nuclear test in the Negev, the U.A.R. ordered mobilization, and Peking took advantage of the confusion to beef up its force in Sinking Province by 200 combat-ready divisions.
The Soviet Union reacted by handing the Chinese ambassador his passport, and Gen. Lurch Hardpan, U.S. Air Force Chief of Staff, made a speech in which he said the Air Force was ready to kill everyone on earth on 15 minutes' notice, but nevertheless urgently needed appropriations for 500 more manned bombers. Fidel Castro, his white whiskers bristling with rage, made a 16-hour speech warning the Cuban people that invasion was imminent. Trading was suspended on the Bourse, and in New York Robert Moses said the whole business was a product of the rattle-snake, sensation-seeking press.

THAT POINT was, as it turned out, moot. So were the disputes between Arab and Israeli, Russian and Chinese, Greek and Albanian, Republican and Democrat, white and black. Indeed, the only conclusion that could be drawn (although there was no one left to draw it) was that all of the strife and turmoil, the hate and fear just didn't make any difference any more.

Puzzle of Wednesday, October 21, Solved

Tax Trial Due To Go To Jurors Soon

LAREDO (AP) — Arguments were heard today in the tax fraud trial of former Pasadena Mayor Sam Hoover. The jury was expected to get the case later in the day. Testimony ended Wednesday with Hoover, who is appealing a 60-year sentence he received in the torture-robbery of a Houston couple last spring, occupying the stand most of the day. Hoover is accused of concealing $32,722 income from legal and illegal sources in 1957-60. He has denied the charges. Hattie Valdez of Austin, one-time bawdy house operator, identified Hubert Myers as the robber who took about $10,000, a diamond watch and two rings from her place in 1957. Mrs. Valdez apparently was called by the government to support testimony by Myers that she committed the robbery at the direction of Hoover. Hoover has testified he acted on advice of accountants in not reporting property received from clients in place of cash payments for lawyer fees. He said he reported this income when he sold the property.

House Strength Goal Of GOP

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas Republicans—and some Democrats—are betting the GOP minority in the House of Representatives will be larger when the Nov. 3 ballots are counted. The figure most cited in both parties is an even dozen GOP House members—too many to match the telephone booth caucuses of the two-man minority in 1961 but still not enough to provide an independent force in the 130-man body. Most Republicans say they now have the largest representation in the House since Reconstruction. They predict Dallas County will send its first all-Republican House delegation to Austin next year. Seven GOP House members were elected two years ago, and three more in subsequent special elections. With the party switch of Rep. Ben Jarvis of Tyler, the GOP had House members in four districts: Dallas 8, Midland 2, Corpus Christi and Tyler.

BYRON TUNNELL

Top Russians Assail Cult Of Stalinism

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Communist party leaders denounced today the Stalinist-type "cult of the personality" in a policy statement clearly intended to explain the ouster of former Premier Khrushchev. "Life shows that not all comrades completely overcame the ways, forms, and methods of work that were built up during the period of the cult and rejected by life," an editorial in the journal Party Life said. The magazine, an organ of the party Central Committee, continued: "Precisely for this reason the party is so demanding in the questions of maintenance of the principle of collectivity of leadership, the Leninist norms of (Communist) party life in all the links of party and state apparatus."

Nobel Award To Playwright

STOCKHOLM (AP) — The Swedish Academy of Letters today awarded the 1964 Nobel Prize for literature to French playwright-novelist Jean-Paul Sartre. The academy in its citation spoke of Sartre's "imaginative writing, which by reason of its spirit of freedom and striving for truth has exercised a far-reaching influence on our age." The 59-year-old writer-philosopher was reported by sources here to have written the academy in advance declining the prize for "personal and objective reasons." Sartre since has gone into hiding. The prize sum this year is a record-high 273,000 crowns ($33,123). Sartre was quoted by friends as saying he does not want any prize "whether a sack of potatoes or a Nobel Prize." If Sartre refuses to accept the prize money the academy may put the money back into its funds. Sartre, who for two decades has been an often irritating commentator and conscience on the world scene, is the 11th Frenchman to receive the Nobel Literature Prize. Other post-war French laureates were St. John Perse in 1960, Albert Camus in 1957, Francois Mauriac in 1952 and Andre Gide in 1947.

Keller School Fire Loss High

KELLER, Tex. (AP)—Fire broke out in a chemical storage room at Keller High School Wednesday and caused damage estimated by Principal James P. Benson at $15,000. The storage room, a science lecture room and a chemistry lab suffered heavy damage. Smoke filled the building. The school was opened in March 1962.

Co-Education At Perfection Point

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Trinity University Registrar Burford Higgins scanned record enrollment figures and decided the 96-year-old school has achieved "perfection in co-education." Exactly 1,055 men and 1,055 women are registered as students.

School Rule Bars Affection Display

CALDWELL, Kan. (AP) — The student council at Caldwell High School adopted a new code of conduct which includes this provision: Students will refrain from showing their affections for one another while in the student area, as this is neither the time or place to associate on intimate terms.

STANTON (SC) — The Martin County Chamber of Commerce is planning its annual Fall Festival Monday. There will be a chili supper at 5:30 p.m. on Main Street. At 7 p.m., an auction will be held. Paige Eiland is chairman of the auction, and Dub Bryant, Big Spring, will be auctioneer. Everyone is invited.

Jarvis did not seek re-election. The Tyler race is rated a toss-up between Republican Gary Jackson and Democrat Billy Williamson. GOP Rep. Bill Davis of Midland also is not a candidate, but Frank Cahoon is attempting to succeed him in a close race with Democrat Harry Lawson. In nearby Odessa, Republican Elwood Weylandt and Democrat Ace Pickens are rated nearly even. The Corpus Christi Republican, Rep. Charles Scoggins, is fighting a precedent set by two Republicans who entered the House in 1961 in special elections but were not returned for full terms. His opponent is Tony Bonilla. They will compete with 42 other national candidates for the Miss Teenage crown and appear on the nationwide coronation telecast (CBS) on Nov. 13. The 10 additions announced Wednesday night are Diane Wilkinson, 16, of Bossier City, La.; Jill Meuser, 16, Colorado Springs, Colo.; Claudia Wyszocki, 16, Fort Bragg, N. C.; Judy Caldwell, 16, of Fort Smith, Ark.; Dy Anne Petre, 17, of Klickitat, Wash.; Lois Whitlaw, 16, of North Augusta, S. C.; Mary Ellen Hospers, 17, of Rochester, N. Y.; Lynnell Bass, 16, of Virginia Beach, Va.; Janice Glenn, 17, of Wellington, Tex.; and Cindy Johnston, 15, of Wichita, Kan. Expenses of the candidates and their chaperones are paid by Teen America Associates, Inc., of Dallas which will conduct the contest for a fourth year. A $10,000 four-year scholarship to the school of her choice goes to the winner along with a 1965 compact auto and other prizes.

Contractor McKee Dies

EL PASO (AP) — Robert McKee, a contractor whose firm had built projects costing more than $1 billion since it was incorporated in 1950, died Wednesday at 75. His company is the nation's sixth largest general contracting corporation. It has headquarters here and branch offices and equipment centers in Dallas, Los Angeles, Santa Fe and Honolulu. One of the projects causing expansion of McKee's private construction firm was Los Alamos, N. M., the secret wartime laboratory where the first atomic bomb was put together. He also erected Hilton hotels in Dallas, El Paso and Los Angeles. A son, Robert McKee Jr., is president of the firm. Also surviving are the widow; three other sons, David, John and Louis McKee, and two daughters, Mrs. Margaret Lund and Mrs. Frances Bain, all of El Paso.

Physicist Speaks On Peking A-Shot

COVINA, Calif. (AP) — Physicist Edward Teller says detonation of an atomic device by Communist China only proves "that making a nuclear explosion is easy." Teller, who was instrumental in developing the hydrogen bomb, said in a speech Wednesday night to Aerojet-General Corp. Management Club that it may take China 25 years to develop a weapons system capable of carrying atomic warheads long distances. More significant, he said, was the Soviet Union's orbiting of three men in a space ship.

Barry: 'Trouble With Reds Due'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater says the U.S. wheat sale to the Soviet Union, coupled with aid to Communist satellites, "has actually helped Russia herself to the point that she can put a team in that can depose Khrushchev and lean more heavily to Red China." Addressing a crowd that packed the Union League Club in Philadelphia Wednesday night, the GOP presidential nominee forecast new troubles with the Communist world and said of the recent Kremlin shake-up: "I don't agree with the President that this is going to ease tensions." VOTE GUEST The Republican nominee for the White House postponed a day of campaigning in the West and was due instead to attend a private memorial today for Hoover, who died Tuesday. Pressing his quest for votes in southeastern Pennsylvania Wednesday, the Arizona senator invoked Hoover's memory time and again. He called the former president a great patriot, a man who stood for honesty, a leader wise in foreign and fiscal affairs. "I remember some of the first political advice he ever gave me," Goldwater said. "He said that a government that is big enough to give you all you want is big enough to take it all away." Goldwater devoted considerable attention to foreign policy, both in his Pennsylvania speeches and in a nationally televised speech Wednesday night. That answered President Johnson's Sunday night address on recent world developments. "We must now confront an enemy reunified and strengthened by our policy of aid," he said.

Strike Brewing Economic Pinch

NEW YORK (AP)—A boom-bum economy that has been struggling off the General Motors strike now is starting to feel the pinch—and the squeeze could tighten fast. Layoffs are spreading among suppliers. Merchants in cities where such plants are the biggest business report retail sales slackening. Production estimates for 1964 are being revised downward by such allied industries as tire makers and some glass and fabric producers. On the over-all economic graphs the trouble is starting to show. The nation's industrial production index seems certain to dip this month. The time lag in getting all suppliers working at top speed again once the strike is ended and built-up stocks reduced may cause a drop in the earlier estimates for the year-end results. STILL IDLE Some 300,000 GM employees have been on strike since Sept. 25. A national accord was reached Oct. 5. But nearly 50 of the company's 130 local bargaining units still are negotiating, and all are idle. Management and labor each blames the other for the slowness of the pace. The union's GM Council will vote Friday on whether to recommend ratification of the national contract. Local units will vote Sunday. Those still negotiating local issues will decide whether to return to work before their disputes are settled. At first, suppliers of parts and

West Texas Steer Champ

DALLAS (AP)—An 850-pound Hereford named Nipper and owned by 18-year-old Bobby Rush of Lubbock was named grand champion steer of the junior livestock show Wednesday at the State Fair of Texas. Bobby, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. T. Rush, is a senior in Roosevelt High School at Lubbock. The reserve champion steer is an 840-pound Angus named Horatio and entered by Marian Odom. She is the 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Blain Odom of Baird. A Brown Swiss cow, Er-Mar's Charming Dimples, was named grand champion in the all-breeds junior dairy competition. The winner was shown by Pat Isbell, 14, of Bedias, Tex., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Isbell. Steve Belt Jr., a senior at Lockney High School and a member of the Floyd County 4-H Club, showed the champion in the junior beef heifer show with Bluebird Lady, a junior yearling heifer.

Inasmuch as both opponents had bid clubs, West decided that his partner must be short in that suit. With the trumps firmly under his control, there appeared to be an excellent chance to give East a club ruff. West, therefore, opened the jack of clubs.

Declarer won the trick with the king and led a small spade. West was in and continued with the ten of clubs. South played the queen from his hand and returned another trump. West won with the ace of spades and led the five of clubs.

South chose to play the ace from dummy and East ruffed. There was no way to avoid losing a diamond trick, and the contract went down to defeat.

Had declarer covered the five of clubs with North's eight, he would have been able eventually to discard both of his small diamonds—one on the third heart and the other on the ace of clubs.

The finesse in clubs was an indicated play, for it assured the success of South's contract even if it lost. Even if East wins a trick with the nine of clubs, the defense is restricted to two spade tricks and one in clubs, after the last trump is drawn. South has the necessary discards in hearts and clubs for his losing diamonds. By playing the eight of clubs, declarer is merely taking out insurance to protect the ace from an adverse ruff.

Opening lead: Jack of ♣.

South felt that he was merely the victim of an unfortunate guess when his four spade contract went on the rocks. As a matter of fact, the defeat may be more properly attributed to his failure to anticipate the consequences of an adverse ruff.

Over North's rebid of one no trump South was in position to give a direct raise; however, he felt that a suit contract might be safer if North had a mild fit for spades. His jump to three clubs was absolutely forcing and, when North showed a spade preference, South carried on to four spades.

LBJ Charges 'Smear Lash'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says a "smear lash" is causing Republicans to desert "the temporary leaders of their party."

The President, who takes time off from campaigning today to attend memorial services for former President Herbert Hoover in New York, addressed a cheering throng Wednesday night in downtown St. Louis, Mo.

He said a Republican leader in Illinois, whom he did not identify, had told him that in the previous 48 hours there had been marked defections of party members from the GOP ticket.

"SMEAR LASH"

"He told me," Johnson said, "that it's not the backlash and it's not the front lash, it's the smear lash. When some people get desperate they get dangerous. When they get dangerous they are not cautious. And when they get to smearing the people they do not want to go along."

Distribution of the money was authorized by Dist. Judge Dee Brown Walker last week.

Texas Drive Focus On Yarborough

By The Associated Press

George Bush, Republican candidate for U.S. senator, and Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., both talked about Yarborough's record in office as they pounded down the campaign trail Wednesday.

Figures in both parties kept Texas voters reminded meanwhile of the importance each camp attaches to carrying the state for President Lyndon Johnson or Sen. Barry Goldwater, his GOP rival.

Declaring that Yarborough has failed as a senator, Bush told listeners at a Corpus Christi rally.

"Three times he has failed to get the important Appropriations Committee place for which he was in line. He blamed the now-President of the United States.

"Surely Texas ought to have a U.S. senator who can talk cordially to his own governor, regardless of party, about what is good for Texas. Ralph Yarborough cannot do this. He blames the governor."

"LONG ENOUGH"

"By his own philosophy of government, Ralph Yarborough has failed as a senator. He blames big business and the conservatives and selfish interest. What do you think? I think seven years of frustration and failure are enough."

The Corpus Christi appearance by Bush capped a day in which he also spoke at Lake Jackson, Bay City, Victoria and Beeville.

Yarborough told supporters in Palestine he has backed a Trinity River canal project since he entered the Senate. He said Bush was quoted Aug. 19 as stating in Fort Worth that he would not vote for the Trinity project and two weeks later Bush was quoted as voicing support of the project in Dallas.

"Maybe he hasn't been in Texas long enough to know the Trinity flows through Fort Worth," Yarborough remarked.

At Henderson, Yarborough said an oil company which Bush helped to form was merged in 1963 with other firms to form the Pennzoil Co., "which imports 1,960 barrels of foreign, offshore crude oil a day."

OIL PRICES

"This oil is sold in the United States at around $1.25 per barrel," the senator continued, "whereas oil produced in Texas sells for around $3 a barrel. Tell us, Mr. Bush, how much stock do you or your family own in Pennzoil Co., the foreign oil importer of which you were a co-founder?"

Other Yarborough stops were Huntsville, Conroe, Lufkin, Nacogdoches and Jacksonville.

On another campaign front, Goldwater's state headquarters accused Austin Station KTBC-TV, owned by President Johnson's family, of refusing two of the Arizona senator's political programs. Officials of the station said the statement was not true.

Teacher Kills Two, Himself

DENHAM SPRINGS, La. (AP) — A college teacher killed his wife, shot and clubbed his four children and then committed suicide late Wednesday night, police reported.

Officers, arriving soon afterward, rushed the children to a hospital in Baton Rouge. An 8-year-old boy died en route. The others were in critical condition.

The dead: Harvey Smith, 36, a faculty member at Southern Louisiana College in Hammond and a former minister; his wife, Sarah, 30; and their son Kenneth.

In critical condition were Kathy, 12, Janice, 10, and Glenn, 6. Physicians said the two girls were shot in the head with a .22 caliber pistol, then slugged with a hammer. Glenn was beaten with the hammer.

Odom Graves chief deputy said no one had any ideas what triggered Smith's bloody urge to wipe out the family.

Spending Slash Noted By LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says his administration spent $41 million less during the July-September period than the late President John F. Kennedy's spent during the same three months of last year.

At a news conference, Johnson said there are now 21,000 fewer persons working for the federal government than when he became president last Nov. 22. The employment level is the lowest in two years, he said.

DEAR ABBY

Too Many Invitations

DEAR ABBY: I have just bid goodbye to our last summer guest and I am ready for a sanitarium. I have cooked and cooked, and my bills are so high I wonder if I'll ever get them paid. I've run my appliances all day and have worn myself out cleaning and serving meals all hours. This summer has been the worst! We have had one batch of uninvited guests after another. They could all have afforded to stay at a motel, but they prefer our brand of hospitality. I have had it. It's too bad people like this have to spoil it for the few who are considerate guests and would be welcome. Sign me "Nothing," as the name I would like to call myself right now would not look good in the newspaper.

DEAR NOTHING: My guess is that you have, in one way or another, invited more guests than you intended to — or realized. Button your lip this winter and watch things improve next summer.

DEAR ABBY: My son is a good boy, but sometimes he picks the wrong friends. Here is what happened: A girl he knew from school was baby-sitting for a lady in a high-toned neighborhood, so my son and a few of his friends decided to drop by and just say "hi." When this girl saw them through the window she motioned for them to go away. The boys went around to the back door and she still refused to let them in. They were only teasing her a little, and then they tried a few windows. She locked all the windows and CALLED THE POLICE! Abby, it wasn't like she didn't know those boys. They were kids from school, not tramps or hoodlums. The police came right over and took all the boys downtown and booked them. This has caused us plenty of trouble. Don't you think that girl was carrying things too far? Now our son has a black mark against his record that he will never be able to erase.

HIS MOTHER: DEAR MOTHER: I think the girl used good judgment. If those boys were not "hoodlums," they were certainly acting like hoodlums. Perhaps you

Ex-Con Wins First Hearing

DALLAS (AP) — Justice of the Peace Charlie Davis ruled this week that prosecutors and homicide detectives failed to connect ex-convict Larry Reno with the strangling of a Dallas Times Herald reporter.

As a result, Davis said Reno could go free without posting bond on a charge of murdering newsman James Koethe. The decision ended an examining trial before the justice of the peace.

Reno remained in the county jail despite the ruling. The 23-year-old ex-convict also faces a burglary charge and was unable to post bond.

As Davis announced his decision, the Dallas County grand jury was hearing evidence in the case.

Davis said prosecutors failed to show Reno was in Koethe's apartment when the reporter was strangled there. The body was found Sept. 21.

Miami Group Backs Airline

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Greater Miami Traffic Association has asked the Civil Aeronautics Board to reaffirm its original decision granting Eastern Air Lines a route between Miami and Dallas-Fort Worth.

In a brief, the Miami group supported Eastern, National Airlines and Continental Air Lines in taking exception to a later recommendation of examiner Robert Clark that Braniff Airways, rather than Eastern, be given the Florida-Texas route.

Man Throws $$ To Wind

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A white-haired man gleefully threw dozens of $20, $10, $5, and $1 bills out of his car window as he drove slowly along Saxon Street this week, shouting "Here! Here!"

The bills were gathered up by youngsters who followed the car down the street.

Shortly before the incident, police said, a resident of a nearby street had reported his home burglarized of $942 — in small bills.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Astronauts someday may maneuver in space with backpack rockets controlled by their own voices.

Judge Denies Bid To Oust Ruby Defense

DALLAS (AP) — Judge Joe Brown said here he will take no action on a request that he oust defense lawyers Clayton Fowler and Joe Tonahill from the Jack Ruby murder case.

Mrs. Eva Grant, a sister of the condemned slayer, sent a letter asking Brown to rule that the only "attorneys of record" in the case are Sol Dann of Detroit, Charles Bellows of Chicago and Phil Burleson of Dallas.

This, in effect, would remove Fowler and Tonahill.

Mrs. Grant said she made the request on behalf of the Ruby family "because of the condition of Jack's mental processes."

Brown ordered the letter forwarded to the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals with other papers in the case. The jurist said it is not his job to decide who should represent Ruby in appealing the death sentence by killing accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald.

Fowler, now chief of the defense staff, says he was hired by Ruby personally and the family cannot fire him.

Mrs. Grant said she acted under power of attorney which her brother gave her Feb. 4.

Fowler and Tonahill clashed with Dann over strategy when the Detroit lawyer came here to seek a guardianship hearing for Ruby.

Barry Sees Striptease Film; Cancels Showing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona has nipped plans for the nationwide televising of a Republican campaign film which originally included shots of stripteasers and a girl in a topless swim suit.

A group of Goldwater backers who had the 30-minute film made for $65,000, said its aim was to show "moral decay" in the nation. Although today's planned showing is out, the film's sponsors apparently hope to have edited versions shown later on local stations.

Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey had called the film "the sickest political program" ever planned for television.

The Democratic National Committee bought an unedited copy of the film, and newsmen at Democratic headquarters were shown enlarged photos said to have been taken from it. They included a side-rear view of a girl in a topless swim suit, a near nude man, and several shots of street rioting.

The Citizens for Goldwater-Miller had the film made and titled it "Choice." The group bought 125 copies.

The Republican presidential candidate saw the film for the first time Wednesday in a hotel room in Philadelphia. Later his press secretary, Paul Wagner, said "he does not believe it is appropriate for a political campaign in its present form."

Parks Board To Recommend City Park Campsite Area

The parks and recreation board voted Wednesday to recommend to the city commission establishment of an overnight camping site in City Park, after reviewing a tentative design for the area and cost estimates. The camping area would be located at the entrance to City Park and include a 2 1/2-acre tract, presently undeveloped, between the east entrance to City Park and the municipal golf course. Considerable excavation and leveling would be needed in the area. Parks Superintendent John Johansen told the board.

Included in preliminary plans are a curved drive through the area, with areas for trailers to be parked. Water lines, concrete curbing, a bathroom structure, lighting, outdoor cooking such as are now in city parks, concrete tables and seats and landscaping are included in the cost figures. Johansen said the city park would be locked at the entrance each night, but the camping area would remain open for entry and exit. Total cost was estimated at $4,500 by Johansen.

The board also elected Jack Watkins chairman, discussed future plans for expansion of soft ball and baseball facilities, and appointed two members to discuss promotion of the city amphitheater with the cultural affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce. Watkins and Don Newsom will go to the committee to discuss the facility.

Other action included a vote to ask the softball leagues to form an organization with a board of directors, in order to have a single group spokesman. A financial report was presented by Johansen on the expenditures in city parks under the bond program for park improvements.

Of some $75,000 included in the program Johansen said $41,100 had been expended, with $7,500 unallocated and $26,393 unexpended. Johansen detailed work in each park, with funds allocated and actual expenses. Some of the parks have required more than the allocated amount, while others have required less, he said.

Current work in seven city parks was listed as completed in the report, with additional planned improvements remaining in five others. Projects still to be carried out include restrooms and a pavilion in Birdwell Park, at an estimated cost of $1,800; a water system and concrete curb and fence in Hillcrest Park, $1,700; playground equipment for Northwest Park, $9,315; pavilions, tables and other improvements, at Moss Lake, $9,445; repair of tennis courts, water system and pavilions, city park, $2,350.

Major items in the work completed thus far include the water system, pump station and repair of the reservoir for the golf course, costing $22,960, and an irrigation system, playground equipment, picnic cookers and tables in Birdwell Park, $5,102. Improvements in other parks include trees, shrubs, playground equipment, lights and other items.

The board also approved establishment of a policy of issuing cards to denote persons entitled to free admission to the golf course and Moss Lake, and the drawing up of a single statement of policy concerning such admissions.

Isle Making Fresh Water

SIMI ISLAND, Greece (AP)—Sea waters and sun rays have been brought together on this arid Greek island to make fresh water for a seafaring people who have thrived since the time of Homer and before. Prosperity and repopulation are expected to follow.

The timeless elements were happily harnessed by a simple mechanical condensation method in an era that in sophisticated forms elsewhere has dealt seawater by intensive uses of atomic energy.

The apparatus in use here is called a solar still. It is a gift from an anonymous American philanthropist who wants to freshen other semi-desert islands as well, particularly in the Mediterranean basin. The project is sponsored by the Church World Service, a U.S. organization of Protestant and Orthodox churches.

Clubbers Win Fair Ribbons

Two third place ribbons, one seventh, one 11th, and one 18th place award were brought home from the State Fair at Dallas by the 4-H Club boys and girls who competed in the Hereford show this week.

Herb Helbig, county agent, who returned today, said he was well pleased with the showing made by the youngsters. He pointed out this is the first show of the year for the local exhibitors and that the competition in Dallas was exceptionally keen. Of nine animals shown from this county, five won placings, he said.

Steve Foster won a third place with his middleweight Hereford junior steer in a field of 25. Sharon Handman placed seventh in this same group.

Maxwell Barr won a third place in the lightweight Junior Hereford steer division. There were 45 animals in the competition. Maxwell's brother, Mark, won 11th place in the same group, and Delores Lankford, 18th place.

Three of the commercial steers taken to the show were sold, Helbig said, for what he termed good prices. These were owned by Linda Shaw, Nan and Tim Whittington.

Lawrence Long is showing a commercial steer at the fair today.

Helbig said the steers shown which placed in the light and middleweight competition will be brought back by their young owners to compete in other shows later on.

Three Thefts Are Reported

Three thefts were reported to police Wednesday, including two purses and six wrist watches. The watches were reported missing from Carver Drug, 310 E. 9th.

Bill Tubbs, 1607 Thorpe, told officers a purse containing several gasoline credit cards was taken from his car while it was parked at the Bowl-a-rama on East US 80. A purse containing about $7 was taken from her car while it was parked outside a grocery store on West US 80. Mrs. N. R. Taylor, 4102 Muir, told police.

Texas Due New Front

Like streetcars, one cool front follows another into Texas about this time of year, and the second one this week was headed toward the Panhandle today.

The cold air, pushing southward from Canada, was due in the Texas Panhandle during the afternoon. Forecasts called for temperatures down to 34 degrees in that section overnight. Somewhat lower temperatures are expected over the rest of the state's northern half by Friday. Readings before dawn today were mostly in the 40s to 50s. Top marks Wednesday ranged from 73 degrees at El Paso up to 86 at Childress.

All residents are invited to attend, and there is special singing each evening. Rev. A. J. Fox is pastor.

Local Agents To Send Help

The Big Spring Board of Realtors voted unanimously to send financial help to California real estate agents, who are attempting to get a law changed which requires home owners to rent a single room to any one person on a general election, would remove restrictions from families with less than five rooms for rent.

Ten members were present for the weekly meeting Monday at the Downtown Tea Room.

Mrs. G. R. Eisler, saleswoman for a local real estate agent, reported she has returned from a Texas Real Estate Institute in Dallas where she completed the first of three courses. When she has completed all courses, she will be classed as a Certified Master Real Estate Salesman. She was among 230 Texas salesmen who studied real estate law, selling, financing, appraising, and real estate tax laws.

Employers To Get New Tax Forms

Federal Employment Tax forms are now being mailed to all employers of the Southwest Region from the new Internal Revenue automatic data processing center in Austin. Ellis Campbell Jr., district director of the Dallas Internal Revenue district, announced that Publication No. 393 containing order blanks for forms, withholding Forms W-2, Exemption Forms W-4, and important instructions should be received by employers within the next few days.

This pamphlet also contains a poster which explains to employees the requirements of furnishing Form W-4 to his employer. Campbell stated that new employers not receiving the forms should contact the nearest IRS office regarding employer filing requirements.

Tickets are available from any of the Knights, or from Tom Conway's 66 station on South Gregg; Quigley's Floral Shop on Gregg; Carlos' Restaurant on Northwest Third; Pinkie's Package Store on Lamesa Highway, or they may be had at the door. A local band will furnish music, and refreshments will be served cabaret style.

Patients To See OWC Production

A dress rehearsal is being planned by the Officers' Wives Club Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium of the Allred Building for a variety show they will present Oct. 29 to the patients.

The show, which shapes up as an outstanding production, will get its timing and final polishing Monday at the rehearsal. Then, next Thursday evening, it will be presented only to the patients of the hospital. Several observers have rated the event as equal to or surpassing the OWC's Red Stocking Revue last year.

BIG SPRING, TEXAS, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1964

Medical Society Backs Amendment

The Permian Basin Medical Society went on record Tuesday evening endorsing Constitutional Amendment 3 as a means of extending coverage to the needy aged.

This amendment will be on the general election ballot Nov. 3.

At its monthly meeting, held at the Big Spring Country Club, the society was in unanimous agreement that this would permit the Texas Legislature to broaden the existing Kerr-Mills program by providing health care benefits to elderly citizens who need and want help, but who cannot qualify for Old Age Assistance.

An affirmative vote, said the society, will enable Texas "to complete a program under the Kerr-Mills law which is regarded as one of the finest in the nation."

The existing Kerr-Mills program was placed into operation in Texas Jan. 1, 1962 and provides a comprehensive program of hospital, medical, surgical radiation and nursing home benefits for those who qualify under Old Age Assistance.

Since then, the state has purchased an insurance policy from Blue Cross for 229,000 aged not previously covered, representing more than 30 per cent of the entire 65-and-over population. Under the program 7,500 patients have been hospitalized each month in addition to 11,000 receiving nursing home care.

Many elderly citizens have their own coverage with commercial insurance companies offering policies specially tailored for the aged. As a result, the society pointed out, Texas now ranks first among all states in the percentage of the aged who have one or more health insurance policies. Seventy-two per cent of the elderly in Texas are covered by health insurance, compared with the national average of 60 per cent.

A survey by Belden Associates of Texas indicated that only three per cent of the aged Texans who need and want outside help were without it. Amendment 3 would open the way to help this group, the society said.

Miller Sees A 'Cover-Up'

NEW YORK (AP) — Rep. William E. Miller says there has been a "cover-up of corruption" in Washington that "casts its shadow over the White House itself."

He made the charge during a renewed attack on President Johnson in Dayton, Ohio, Wednesday night before flying here to attend today's memorial service for former President Herbert Hoover.

The Republican vice presidential nominee had canceled a campaign tour through Pennsylvania to be here for the service.

He planned to confer briefly with Sen. Barry Goldwater, the GOP candidate for president, before going to the church where Hoover's body lies.

In Dayton, Miller questioned the integrity of the Johnson administration and declared that a "cloud of suspicion" hangs over the White House.

Miller invoked the names of Walter Jenkins, Bobby Baker and Billie Sol Estes, each of whom he described as a close friend or associate of the Democratic president.

Slide Survivors Living In Fear

LONGARONE, Italy (AP) — This north Italian town of tragedy has lived through a year of fear since one of the worst landslide-flood disasters in history.

Today the survivors of the Vaiont Dam disaster glare defiantly up at Mt. Toc, mutter complaints about nights without electricity, and pledge to rebuild the town.

The names of identified victims have been put on 1,030 graves of the 1,400 people buried out of a total of 1,917 known lost.

SPAN OF HORROR
Almost all died in three minutes of horror Oct. 9, 1963. At 11:15 p.m. Mt. Toc trembled and a landslide started. A mass of 300 million cubic meters of rock and soil, one whole side of the mountain — crashed into a huge artificial lake behind 873-foot Vaiont Dam.

The concrete dam held but most of the lake was hurled over the top. It crashed into the valley below with a violence that gouged a hole 200 feet deep and as large as a baseball field.

A flood wave 150 feet high hit the prosperous little factory town of Longarone.

In three minutes all that was left was the bleak gravel bed that remains today. Four-story houses were swept away, along with the old church built with yard-thick stone walls. There was not a sign where the railroad tracks had run nor a trace of a locomotive and freight cars at the site of the vanished station.

BODIES TURN UP
Bodies were found for weeks afterward. Some washed down the Piave River more than 60 miles to the Adriatic Sea.

How could it have happened? Why was no alarm given? Who was to blame?

Commissions have been seeking answers for a year and may never find them.

Mt. Toc was known to be subject to landslides. There had been some in the days just before the disaster. Water had been let out of the lake to lower the level. Some homes along the banks of the lake had been evacuated.

Fear still looms over those who survived and chose to re-

Security Forms Go To White House Staffers

WASHINGTON (AP) — All staff employees of the White House have been asked to fill out new security applications in the wake of the Walter W. Jenkins case.

Jenkins, a top aide to President Johnson for 25 years, resigned at the President's request last week after it became known he had been arrested twice, in 1959 and earlier this month, on morals charges.

Johnson said he had never known earlier of either arrest.

Staff members from top assistants down to stenographers were asked to fill out standard forms entitled "Security Investigation Data for Sensitive Position." Applications of this type are sent routinely to the FBI for checking against its files.

Christine's Plaint Upheld By Council

LONDON (AP) — Christine Keeler, the 22-year-old call girl who was a central figure in last year's Profumo scandal, had a point in objecting to publication of her telephone number, says the British Press Council.

The council, government-sponsored guardian of newspaper ethics, said today it "deplores the action of the Daily Sketch" in printing the number. Miss Keeler's attorney complained to the council. He said after the number was published, Miss Keeler received "a constant stream of abusive calls."

WESTBROOK (SC) — John Worrell, Colorado City attorney, and Frank Ginzler, county attorney, were speakers at a Woman's Democratic Coffee Rally in the home of Mrs. Herman Parsons Tuesday.

One Arrested, Another Hunted In Bank Holdup

HOUSTON (AP) — Authorities charged in the holdup which netted two bandits $11,132 Tuesday.

Police said earlier they found a car belonging to Coleman and a pickup truck owned by Taylor parked behind a North Houston food market.

Witnesses to the robbery identified Coleman and Taylor from pictures in the files of Wharton County Sheriff Mike Flournoy, officers said.

Flournoy filed robbery charges against the two men at Wharton and federal agents filed charges of armed bank robbery here.

Politicos Attend Hoover Service

NEW YORK (AP) — National political activity was suspended today for a brief funeral service for former President Herbert Hoover.

All four top candidates halted campaign tours to attend the services in St. Bartholomew's Episcopal Church on Park Avenue.

The services are scheduled for 2:30 p.m., Big Spring time. About 17,500 persons filed through the big Romanesque church Wednesday past the closed, flag-draped coffin of the 51st president.

WAS 90
He died Tuesday at the age of 90 in his 31st-floor suite in the Waldorf-Astoria Towers.

President Johnson and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey and their Republican opponents, Sen. Barry Goldwater and Rep. William E. Miller, planned to attend the private services.

So did former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Former President Harry S. Truman was hospitalized in Kansas City by injuries suffered in a fall.

Hoover's family — two sons, six grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren — asked that eulogies be omitted.

Although Hoover was a Quaker, the Episcopal Church was chosen for the funeral because of its nearness to his home, his acquaintance with the Rev. Dr. Finlay, and because his wife's funeral was conducted there 20 years ago.

Admission to the funeral in the 1,250-seat church was by invitation only. The public was to be permitted to file by the coffin again today until 90 minutes before the start of the service.

TO CAPITAL
The coffin will be driven to Pennsylvania Station Friday morning and taken by train to Washington, where Hoover will lie in state in the rotunda of the Capitol on the same catafalque used for Presidents Lincoln and Kennedy.

The body will be flown to Cedar Rapids, Iowa, for a Sunday afternoon burial at West Branch, where Hoover was born, son of the village blacksmith.

Race Close In Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — Once upon a time, Oklahomans spent each autumn talking about football. This year it's different.

Oklahoma's football fortunes are sagging — the Sooners lost to Texas again — and conversation now skims over such tragedies and centers instead on politics.

Republican Bud Wilkinson, former University of Oklahoma football coach, is running against democrat Fred Harris, a 33-year-old state senator, in a nip-and-tuck general election campaign for U.S. Senate.

Statewide polls show the race is close. Veteran observers say interest in the Wilkinson-Harris match is so intense the total vote on the Senate race could top that on the presidential race.

FIRST PLUNGE
This is the first plunge into politics for Wilkinson, who gained national fame during his 17 years as football coach and while serving three years as head of the President's Council on Physical Fitness. Harris has served eight years in the state Senate and ran unsuccessfully for governor two years ago.

The winner of the Nov. 3 election will serve until January 1967, completing the six-year term to which Democrat Sen. Robert S. Kerr was elected in 1960.

Kerr died on Jan. 1, 1963, and a few days later Democrat J. Howard Edmondson resigned as Oklahoma governor and was appointed to fill the vacancy until the next general election.

Harris defeated Edmondson in a primary election runoff last spring while Wilkinson

Walker Could Miss Contest With Steers

By The Associated Press

A couple of little marks on a thermometer could go a long way toward deciding the outcome of the 1964 Southwest Conference football race.

A capacity crowd of 73,000 will jam Rice Stadium in Houston Saturday night as Rice meets Texas in a crucial league contest.

Malcolm Walker, the big Owl linebacker, might miss the game because of a light temperature brought on by a virus.

And if the former Dallas South Oak Cliff standout missed the Texas clash, the Owls' chances of corraling the Steers would take a serious dip.

Texas, nipped by Arkansas 14-13 last week, cannot sustain another conference loss and stay in contention for the crown. Rice edged Southern Methodist 7-6 and sports a 1-0 record.

Of course, should the Razorbacks manage not to lose a conference game, the outcome of the Rice-Texas match would be academic as far as the league championship scramble goes.

But the Porkers have four more conference games to play. And the Southwest Conference is notorious for its interconference tendencies.

"We don't think it's anything serious," said Rice Coach Jess Neely Wednesday. "and certainly we expect Malcolm to play Saturday."

But trainer Eddie Wojewicki and team physician Dr. Ed Smith are taking no chances. They ordered Walker hospitalized.

Walker, a senior tri-captain for the Owls, has averaged better than 11 tackles per game so far this year. SMU Coach Hayden Fry, said two and sometimes three men were put on him last week "and he still hurt us."

Two other teams are in the same place statistically now that Texas is. Both SMU and Baylor have lost one conference game.

Coach Darrell Royal put the Steers through a fast workout Wednesday and stressed offensive plays.

Longhorn linebacker Timmy Doerr will miss the Rice game because of injuries to his knee. Royal said. But he announced that three previously sidelined Texas players—tackle John Elliott, end George Sauer and quarterback Jim Hudson—worked out Wednesday for the first time in several scrimmages.

Arkansas, the conference leader, plays Wichita this week and Coach Frank Broyles said the Porkers were down a bit after their stunning upset of Texas.

"We're bound to let down some," he said, as the Razorbacks went through routine plays Wednesday.

SMU, reporting no injuries at mid-week, made plans to travel to Lubbock for the Saturday Tech game. The Mustangs, still mathematically in the running for the crown, went through a brief workout Wednesday.

Out in West Texas, Coach J. T. King put the Raiders through mainly offensive plays, with the passing game emphasized.

Baylor's hopes of staying alive among possible conference champions improved Wednesday when it was learned that co-captain and linebacker Bobby Maples might be able to play some against Texas A&M Saturday. The Bears concentrated on defense in workouts preparing for the Aggies' multiple attack.

Unbeaten Lists May Shrink Some More

By The Associated Press

Forty-one undefeated, untied teams cast about fearful glances this week as the Texas schoolboy football campaign thunders past the halfway mark with district championships on the line in every area.

There actually are 45 unbeaten, untied teams but four of them get a merciful week off.

At least six of the perfect records teams appear ready to take the plunge. In two instances unbeaten, untied teams meet each other.

Victoria risks its No. 3 ranking in Class AAAA against Kingsville in the lone game of the division matching unbeaten, untied teams.

Kingsville isn't rated but is a strong contender for the zone championship of Dist. 14. Beat Victoria would give the Kings the favored spot of the zone.

Class AAA has the other game in the state matching teams with perfect records. It's Liberty vs. Vidor as an unranked team threatens one with a tag to its name. Vidor is No. 4.

The Liberty-Vidor clash also is important in the Dist. 9 title fight.

Garland, defending champion of Class AAAA, puts an 18-game winning streak up for the grabs against Highland Park in a district encounter.

Rockwall, defending champion of Class AA, has the longest victory skein in the state—20 in a row. It has an open date.

The mightiest record in the state is that of Hull-Daisetta, the big favorite in Class A. Hull-Daisetta has won six games in a row, scored 308 points and allowed the opposition zero.

Warren is the opposition this week with little indications that Hull-Daisetta won't fatten its record while plowing on toward a district championship.

Los Fresnos, the highest scoring team with 370 points in seven games, meets Edcouch-Elsa in a conference test that should just make its record awesome.

Two teams in the state are unscored on. In addition to Hull-Daisetta there is Canton in East Texas. It has rolled up 178 points in six games while allowing the opposition nothing. Canton plays Van this week.

Some of the rated teams are in danger. Victoria is one and then there's Port Neches, rated come a cropper against Nederland.

In Class AA, Ballinger's No. 2 ranking might tumble before the onslaught of the Winters Blizzards.

But the emphasis is on conference play and the field will move into its final three weeks of the district campaign with favorites established in every area after the weekend action.

Wilt, Baylor Are Given Good Reports On Health

BALTIMORE (AP) — Elgin Baylor's injured knees are giving him less trouble; Wilt Chamberlain's stomach ailment finally has been diagnosed and he is ready to leave the hospital.

Both health reports can only make the rest of the National Basketball Association clubs sick at heart.

With Chamberlain still in a Philadelphia hospital, the winless San Francisco Warriors dropped their third straight decision Wednesday night 105-104 to the Detroit Pistons.

Baylor, given about 10 minutes of rest on the bench under doctor's orders, missed 10 of his first 11 shots but still managed to score 23 points as the Los Angeles Lakers downed the Baltimore Bullets 108-105 in the only other game on Wednesday's card.

Reggie Harding paced Detroit with 22 points as the Pistons won their first game of the season. His hook shot with 50 seconds left eased the pressure after the Warriors pulled to within two points of a tie.

Guy Rodgers topped San Francisco with 20 while Nate Thurmond, Chamberlain's replacement at center, scored 19.

While the Warriors were losing in Detroit, the front office announced in San Francisco that Chamberlain's mysterious ailment has been diagnosed as inflammation of the pancreas.

The condition can be controlled by medication and diet, and the 7-foot-1 scoring ace may rejoin the team at home Friday.

Koufax And Chance Lead Balloting For AP Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Los Angeles pitchers Sandy Koufax and Dean Chance of the Dodgers and Dean Chance of the Angels polled the most votes among players named to The Associated Press' annual major league baseball All-Star team today.

Koufax collected 77 votes and Chance 71 in the balloting by 85 baseball writers. The left-handed Koufax won 19 games before he was sidelined for the year by a sore arm in mid-August.

A sore arm in mid-August. The Angels also placed shortstop Jim Fregosi on the 10-man team. Three members of the New York Yankees, the American League permanent winners, were chosen. They were outfielder Mickey Mantle, catcher Elston Howard and second baseman Bobby Richardson.

First baseman Bill White was the only member of the champion St. Louis Cardinals selected.

Others named were third baseman Brooks Robinson of Baltimore and outfielders Willie Mays of San Francisco and Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh.

The voting was one-sided for each position except outfield and shortstop. Clemente, third in the balloting, had 61 votes followed among the outfielders by Mays with 54 and Mantle 51.

At shortstop, Fregosi had 35 votes and Luis Aparicio of Baltimore collected 24.

In addition to Aparicio, the second team was comprised of

DUNKEL COLLEGE FOOTBALL INDEX

EXPLANATION - The Dunkel system provides a continuous index to the relative strength of teams. It reflects average scoring margin relative to index of opposition, and is weighted in favor of recent performance. Example: A 50.0 team has been 10 scoring points stronger, per game, than a 40.0 team against opposition of equal strength. It was originated in 1925 by Dick Dunkel.

Patrol Officer Urges Caution

To The Editor: Since quite a number of people from your city will be coming to Abilene this weekend for the football game between Cooper High and Big Spring High Schools, we would like to remind them of a few steps they can take to make the trip a safe and enjoyable one. We have never had too many people from your city detected violating the traffic laws or involved in accidents while coming to Abilene for football games, but we would like to reduce the number to even a smaller figure this year.

We realize that the people themselves must be the ones to bring this about as our efforts would probably not influence their actions very much without their voluntary compliance with the traffic laws.

However, there are some suggestions and reminders we would like to offer such as starting early enough so they will not have to rush. By doing this they will not have to exceed the speed limits and work their way through the traffic, but can move along with the traffic and still arrive in plenty of time. They should have someone to drive who is rested and relaxed and has not put in a day of strenuous labor before depart-

Letter to our Congressman from JOE B. PHILLIPS

The Hon. George Mahon, Congressman, 19th District, 1211 New House Office Building, Washington 25, D.C.

Dear Mr. Congressman:

This letter is concerned with issues which are vital to our particular section of the country. I have some very definite convictions about certain matters, and I would welcome the opportunity of discussing these issues face to face if your schedule could be arranged to do so.

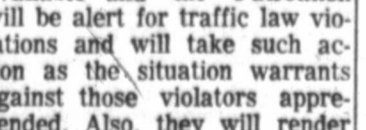

In my opinion the economic growth of West Texas has been retarded by the foreign investments of our federal government. Through the Oil Compact, Texas has been forced to absorb a great percentage of foreign oil, while our own wells have been allowed to produce on the maximum of only 10 days a month. In my opinion, this is not fair to our area.

I believe that the cattlemen in our district have a just complaint over the importation of foreign beef, and that the farmers of our area have been denied support and encouragement to raise sugar beets and other crops because of foreign imports.

I am concerned that our district has lagged behind in the development of Interstate Highways, and in industrial development until this political year.

Very truly yours,
JOE PHILLIPS

Javelinas Firm Up Grid Grip

By The Associated Press

Texas A&I has tightened its grip on first place among the top 10 football teams in this week's poll released by the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA).

The Javelinas whipped East Texas State 20-9 last week to lead the poll for the third straight week.

Two other Texas teams—Prairie View and Sam Houston State—are in fourth and fifth place, respectively.

Warren is the opposition this week with little indications that Hull-Daisetta won't fatten its record while plowing on toward a district championship.

Los Fresnos, the highest scoring team with 370 points in seven games, meets Edcouch-Elsa in a conference test that should just make its record awesome.

Two teams in the state are unscored on. In addition to Hull-Daisetta there is Canton in East Texas. It has rolled up 178 points in six games while allowing the opposition nothing. Canton plays Van this week.

Some of the rated teams are in danger. Victoria is one and then there's Port Neches, rated come a cropper against Nederland.

Bare Knuckle Brawl Looms Over Switch

NEW YORK (AP) — National League club owners met today to consider the transfer of the Milwaukee franchise to Atlanta for 1965 but a bare-knuckle fight between the Braves and Milwaukee officials raised speculation as to what action—if any—the owners would take.

The Braves' board of directors voted Wednesday to move the team—for the second time in 11 years—and the owners were expected to approve the shift.

But several hours after the club's decision to quit Milwaukee was announced, a temporary injunction was obtained by Milwaukee County officials, restraining the Braves from moving or from seeking permission to move.

Whether the unprecedented legal maneuver would serve to block the club owners' action at today's special meeting in a mid-town hotel could not be determined. Legal papers apparently would have to be served here prior to the meeting.

League President Warren Giles said Wednesday night he had not been informed of the injunction and planned to go ahead with the meeting. He would seek legal counsel, he said, if it became necessary.

Milwaukee's legal counter-punch followed a 12-6 vote by the Braves' directors, meeting in Chicago, to shift the club.

The injunction forbids the Braves from applying to either the president of the league or the owners of other clubs for sanction to move. It temporarily prohibits the Braves, who have a year remaining on their County Stadium contract, from arranging, agreeing to play or scheduling any 1965 games at any site other than Milwaukee.

Braves representatives were ordered by Circuit Judge Ronald Drechsler to appear next Tuesday to show cause why the injunction should not be made permanent.

Until the legal bombshell was dropped it appeared certain that the owners would approve the shift. Approval by six of the other nine clubs was needed and no serious opposition was foreseen.

The southern exodus of the Braves, charter members of the National League who moved from Boston to Milwaukee in 1953, was approved at a closed, two-hour conference—one day after league President Warren Giles called the New York meeting "to further discuss the situation and take action thereon."

After the directors' meeting, newsmen, including one from Atlanta, were handed a prepared statement by Braves' publicity director Ernie Johnson. The terse statement announced the decision to move the franchise but gave no reasons for the shift, explaining that Giles had asked that no information be released until after the New York session.

"Shortly thereafter," the statement read, "the Braves' management will release a detailed statement outlining all the various considerations for any action taken."

Although the Braves won't say so publicly, contributing factors to the decision included dwindling attendance and insufficient radio and television revenue.

Rumors of the move to Atlanta were circulated as early as the spring of 1963, shortly after Lou Perini sold controlling interest in the club to a syndicate of Chicago businessmen, headed by Bill Bartholomay.

Attendance had dipped from a high of 2,215,404 in 1957—when the Braves won the NL pennant and defeated the New York Yankees in the World Series—to 766,927 in 1962.

The Braves' decision to quit Milwaukee, coming on the heels of managerial changes by both the National and American League shift.

Atlanta Boosters Hail Baseball Move To City

ATLANTA (AP) — Atlanta, considered one of the nation's top sports towns, is already welcoming the transfer of the Milwaukee Braves to the South-east.

Citizens from the governor to a shoeshine boy said they were pleased by the team owners' action approving the transfer Wednesday.

Mayor Ivan Allen Jr., a key figure in the city's drive to attain major league status, was pleased that the Braves "have chosen to make the national pastime truly national, to give the 24 million people who live in these seven southeastern states a share in the major leagues."

Gov. Carl Sanders of Georgia noted: "The national reputation of our state is considerably boosted by the very presence of such a prestigious ball club. I need not emphasize the fact that this addition to our sports family will greatly enhance the economy of the entire state."

One of the town's best known sports figures, football Coach Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech, said the Braves' move would be a wonderful opportunity for the team and Atlanta.

"From Atlanta's standpoint, the Braves are probably the most popular team in the majors," Dodd said.

An $18 million stadium now being constructed near the junction of three interstate highways is scheduled to be ready by April 15, 1965 — about one year after a crash building program was started on the 47-acre site.

After the directors' meeting, newsmen, including one from Atlanta, were handed a prepared statement by Braves' publicity director Ernie Johnson. The terse statement announced the decision to move the franchise but gave no reasons for the shift, explaining that Giles had asked that no information be released until after the New York session.

"Shortly thereafter," the statement read, "the Braves' management will release a detailed statement outlining all the various considerations for any action taken."

Soviets On Verge Of Grabbing Lead

By TED SMITH
Associated Press Sports Editor

TOKYO (AP) — Russia's on-rushing Olympic forces, buoyed by the strength of gymnasts and canoeists, added 13 medals to their collection today, pulled to within 11 of the United States' leading total and appeared to be in excellent position to overhaul the Americans.

The Russian gymnasts picked up six medals today on this next to last full day of competition in the 18th modern Olympics and paddlers added four, including three gold.

That gave Russia, which has dominated the last three Games, a total of 77, including 23 gold, 21 silver and 33 bronze. The United States got only two medals — but didn't really expect either of those — today and now leads with 88 over-all, 34 gold, 26 silver and 28 bronze. Pretty Marcia Jones, a 23-year-old Michigan State student from Oklahoma City, surprised by picking up a bronze medal in women's kayak singles — and Gloria Perrier and Francine Fox of Washington, D.C., got a silver in women's kayak pairs.

That helped. But everything points to Russia overtaking the United States Friday.

For example, the Russians are assured of seven medals in the boxing finals, either silver or gold, because they have that many fighters who have made the last round. The United States has one, heavyweight Bill Frazier of Philadelphia.

The Soviets seem assured of two medals in volleyball, where both their men's and women's teams are among the leaders. The United States is out of contention.

The United States and Russia are matched in the basketball final, so each will pick up a medal there. But aside from the basketball and boxing medals, the United States doesn't have much hope.

That means, counting today's total and the medals which both countries are certain of taking Friday, the United States leads, 90-87.

But the powerful Soviet gymnastic team, which took 15 medals in 1960 and already has 12 in these Games, has 11 competitors in five final events Friday and could easily make up the difference.

But the key to it all is the success or failure of the Russian gymnasts.

Although nationalism and team comparisons are discouraged by Olympic officials, the team struggle between the Americans and the Soviets has been a key factor ever since Russia began competing in the Games.

Only their first time out, at the 1952 Games in Helsinki, have the Russians lost. The United States won the medal race there 76-69, and 40-22 in gold. At Melbourne in 1956 Russia led 98-74 and 37-32 in gold. In 1960 at Rome the count was 103-71 for Russia over-all and 43-34 in gold.

Such team comparison was further discouraged today in a terse little message that moved on the official results wire of the Olympics. The message said:

"At the request of the Tokyo Olympic Organizing Committee, acting on the instructions from Mr. Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, International Business Machines (which runs the results service) is discontinuing as of now the compilation and publication of the medals list."

The IOC always has objected to such tabulations, contending that each event is an individual competition and that nationalism should be discouraged.

The United States, which got surprising support from its shooters, also got some surprise help from its canoeists, who prevented an anticipated shut-out in medals today.

Francine Fox, a 15-year-old schoolgirl, and Gloria Perrier, a 35-year-old clerk, both from Washington, D.C., were second behind Germany's winning pair in women's kayak doubles.

The Washington girls were timed in 1:59.16 for the 500 meters of the ramspout course, while the Germans won in 1:56.95.

May Elevens In 2 Games

Two of Goliad Junior High's three teams will be busy this evening.

The eighth graders play host to Sweetwater in the old stadium, starting at 6:30 p.m. The ninth graders visit Sweetwater for a 7:30 p.m. engagement.

The eighth graders are 4-1 for the year. Their only loss has been to Snyder Lamar and that by a 22-14 score. They came back to beat Lamar later, 14-0, and also hold wins over Snyder 30-0; and Travis again, 14-4.

The Goliad eighth graders may be the most improved team in the city.

The ninth graders have had their problems but are a solid ball club. They've won over Snyder Lamar, 26-14; split with Snyder Travis, 6-0 and 22-28; trounced San Angelo Lee, 12-0; and been tied by Snyder Lamar, 14-14.

The Goliad seventh graders do not play again until Oct. 29, at which time they visit Colorado City.

Sands Will Join New Conference

The tentative alignment of area eight - man football teams in 1965, as prepared by the Texas Interscholastic League, will move Sands into District 5 with Flower Grove, Forsan, Garden City, Imperial and Sterling City.

Both Sands and Flower Grove are now members of District 3, which has Gail, Klondike, Loop, Southland, Dawson and Wellman as other members.

The Sands team would be competing for the Regional II championship, whereas now it vies for the Region I title.

The winner in Sands' district this fall will play the District 4 representative. District 4 is made up of Patton Springs, Estelina, Guthrie, Lakeview, Mobeetie, Morse and Roaring Springs.

Yearlings, Lamar Clash At 7:30 Here Tonight

The ninth graders of Rannels Junior High will seek a return to winning ways in a 7:30 p.m. game here this evening with Snyder Lamar.

The Yearlings have their work cut out for them, since Lamar topped the locals in a previous game, 30-6.

After opening with a 6-0 victory over Sweetwater, the Yearlings lost decisions to San Angelo Lee, 18-14; Sweetwater, 20-0; and San Angelo Edison by the same score, in addition to the one to Lamar.

The Yearlings were idle last week.

Two other Rannels teams go to Snyder for contests with Lamar contingents. The seventh graders play at 5 p.m., the eighth graders at 6:30 p.m.

The seventh grade Yearlings are 2-1 for the year, having beaten Snyder Travis and Colorado City, lost to Coahoma and been tied by Big Spring Goliad.

The Rannels eighth graders are 2-2 for the season. They have beaten Sweetwater, 25-12; and San Angelo Edison, 22-6; and have lost to Big Spring Lakeview, 18-6; and Sweetwater, 22-4. Their tie was played with Snyder Lamar, 16-16.

Retrorocket Role in Peak Flight Told

MOSCOW (AP) — The space crew higher than humans had ever been before because an extra retrorocket provided insurance of bringing it down again, the scientist in the crew told a news conference today.

The six earlier Soviet cosmonauts reached peak altitudes of about 125 miles. Konstantin Feoktistov, the scientist, said their orbits were calculated so that atmospheric drag would bring down their satellites in about 10 days if their retro-rockets failed to drop them to earth on schedule.

The three-man capsule had a spare retrorocket for use in case the first one failed to fire on schedule, Feoktistov said. This made it possible to put the spacecraft into a different type of orbit that would not be affected so soon by drag. It had a high point of 254 miles.

Feoktistov said the new spacecraft also had a new "ion velocity" system of control that worked successfully. He also mentioned without explanation a "soft landing" system for the capsule. It landed after 24 hours in orbit.

Feoktistov said it is possible to become accustomed to conditions of space flight.

"One can live and work in these conditions," he said.

Viet Regime To Be Named

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, (AP) — A new civilian government will be appointed by South Viet Nam's High National Council sometime before Oct. 27, the military government announced tonight.

It was speculated that the 17-member council, named to restore civilian rule, might name Phan Khanh Sui, its chairman, as the new chief of state. An announcement was expected Friday, when the council is scheduled to hold a news conference.

In a decree signed by the ruling triumvirate, Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh, chief of state; Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, premier; and Lt. Gen. Tran Thien Khien, now in Hong Kong, the government said:

"The High National Council of the nation has the right and duty to install the organism of state, including the immediate election of the provisional chief of state, and, thus, the council must choose immediately in forming a civilian government before Oct. 27."

Firm Reports Its Reserves

CHICAGO (AP) — The Pure Oil Co. made public today an evaluation of the company's oil and gas reserves.

The study was made by engineering firms under the supervision of Raymond F. Kravis & Associates Inc. of Tulsa, Okla.

The report showed the company reserves include 539,578, 725 barrels of oil and 2,650,832 million cubic feet of gas.

President Robert L. Milligan, in a letter to stockholders of Pure Oil, noted that the study had been undertaken before two proposals to purchase the company's assets were made in June.

Party Planned For Auxiliary

COLORADO CITY (SC)—The Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post met recently to plan a Halloween party and buffet supper to be held this month. Plans are for a costume party with prizes for the best costumes.

The group also elected officers. They are Mrs. Manuel Veiga, chaplain; Mrs. Charles Griffin, conductress; Mrs. George Singletary, patriotic instructor; Mrs. Melvin Gooche, senior vice president; and Mrs. Jessie Bunch, historian.

Mrs. Warren Goode is president of the auxiliary and Mrs. Floyd Sparks is secretary and treasurer. The auxiliary has 22 members.

The group adopted a fund raising project of selling pepper and vanilla extract, and will pay $5 a month toward a school child's lunch for the remainder of the school year.

Auxiliary members heard reports from Mrs. Goode, Mrs. Veiga and Mrs. Griffin on the district convention at Brownwood, held Oct. 10-11.

Plans were made to visit a local nursing home weekly to serve refreshments and to entertain those living in the home.

Christmas Dinner Set

A Christmas dinner for members and guests of the Willing Workers class of Midway Baptist Church was planned when the group met Monday evening. Devotional thoughts were given by Mrs. J. R. Overton.

Business was conducted by Mrs. Bill Butler, president, as the class agreed to serve the Workers Conference which meets at Midway Nov. 9.

Refreshments were served to 11 including a new member, Mrs. O. J. Swann of Gustine. Mrs. Woodie Robinson will be hostess to the class at 7 p.m. Nov. 16.

Lions Unit Has Coffee

Mrs. Randall Pickle of Lubbock was a guest when members of the Downtown Lions Auxiliary gathered for coffee Wednesday morning at the home of Mrs. L. T. King. Mrs. Roxie Dobbins was hostess.

A Trick or Treat theme was used when refreshments were served from the breakfast bar. An arrangement of variegated chrysanthemums added color to the serving area.

Mrs. Roy D. Smith will be hostess for the Nov. 18 meeting which will be a 12:30 p.m. luncheon at her home, 2200 Mercury.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Use Plastic Bottles, Jars For Storage

Dear Heloise: I keep several clean, empty plastic detergent bottles (to which I've added a band of decorative plastic tape) for cooking uses.

I fill these bottles with different salad dressings, oil, catsup, etc. I keep them on a plastic tray near my stove and they are handy when needed—and many herbs are saved.

I cook with herbs, many of which I dry myself. So I fill little jars with the herbs and in each I place a little plastic measuring spoon of the size used for that particular herb.

In the oregano I have a one-half teaspoon; in the garlic powder, one-fourth teaspoon; in the dried onion flakes, one teaspoon. Very handy and no mistakes.

I have also placed a spoon in my baking powder and baking soda—a one-half teaspoon size.

Ladies, if you have very small jars or bottles, try cutting part of the handle off the plastic spoons so they will fit inside the jars. Perfect.

Dear Heloise: I always keep a cake rack on the top of my counter to prevent burns and heat spots on the drainboard.

The little space between the cake rack and the drainboard

has prevented many blisters and damage.

Racks cost so little compared to a new drain.

Dear Heloise: Here is one way I use the one-pound coffee can with the plastic lid:

I keep one of these cans near my wringer-type washing machine and when a button pops out while I am washing, I just put it into the can. Also, the children and my husband put buttons, that have come off their clothes, into this can.

When mending day rolls around each week, I can easily find almost all of the missing buttons. Usually the very one I am looking for is right on top.

Mrs. J. R. Adams

Install Officers In Odessa Unit

Mrs. Loyd Wooten and Mrs. J. B. Apple of the Big Spring Credit Women's Club were in Odessa Tuesday evening where Mrs. Apple installed new officers for the Odessa Credit Women's Club.

The installation was during a dinner meeting at Holiday Inn where the women honored their bosses. The guest speaker was W. B. Fleck, public relations director for the American General Tire and Rubber Company in Odessa.

Try taking a knife and cutting a slit in the top of the plastic lid. Then you can just drop the buttons in like a piggy bank. Saves removing the top each time.

Dear Heloise: When I hand-starch heavy pieces, such as tablecloths, curtains, or men's pants... instead of trying to wring them out by hand, I simply put them back into my automatic washer and set the dial on spin.

I let them spin until I no longer see any water coming out of the washing machine hose. Saves lots of strength and energy.

Judith Moran

From Heloise's Kitchen: This might be old—soap to some of you, but when you want to crack an ice cube, try holding it in the palm of one hand and hitting it with the back of a small spoon.

Just whack it in the middle. Cracks beautifully.

Dear Heloise: A reader suggested using small corks on the rear of rockers to retard a child's tendency to rock too far backwards.

Why not use the rubber crutch tips which are available in a variety of sizes at most dime stores?

Mrs. Suggs Fills Extra Time With Culinary Experiments

By MARY COCHRAN
Many working homemakers dream of taking a year to get caught up on their home chores and do some of those things they have been putting off for long. Mrs. James A. Suggs, 1004 Lancaster, is one of those fortunate individuals who has done just that.

She took a year's leave of absence from Southwestern Bell Telephone Company where she has worked for several years to stay home and take care of her baby daughter, Michelle. "There are so many things to do I am never at a loss for activity," she said. It is small wonder, for she prepares two full-sized meals a day for her husband, James, who is a partner in the Suggs-Stueville Construction Company. She paints and has taken part in a number of local and regional shows, bowls on the telephone company league, finds time for golfing with her husband and still spends many hours caring for her daughter and home.

Perhaps Mrs. Suggs' efficiency in handling so many chores each day has been developed during the many years she worked. Before her leave of absence, she cooked two big meals each day. For lunch there was roast or chicken and baked potatoes. These she prepared before going to work, and then placed in the oven with the timer set to have a hot meal ready at noon.

"I've done a great deal of experimental cooking this last year," she said, "mostly in Italian-type foods. We love the spicy flavor of these dishes." When company drops in for an evening of cards or dominoes, there is usually a tasty chip-and-dip served and the dishes range from Mexican to Italian.

When she serves her famous lasagne dish, she accompanies it with mock bread sticks. These she makes by taking loaf bread and slicing strips one inch wide and six inches long. The sticks are rolled in a mixture of butter, garlic and Parmesan cheese and sprinkled with poppy seeds before toasting.

For a quick ravioli dish, she uses two cans of beef ravioli combined with two teaspoons minced onion, two teaspoons minced garlic, one cup Parmesan cheese and a can of hot tomato paste. This makes a fine main dish after being baked in a moderate oven for 30 minutes. Mrs. Suggs' mother, Mrs. Cecil B. Bell, has been the owner of a local cafe for many years and has gained a reputation for her fine pies. Mrs. Suggs has included two of those recipes in her favorite dishes listed below. However, she didn't include the pastry recipe for it is for eight or 10 shells and few housewives make that many pies each day as her mother does.

"I'm not much of a pastry cook," Mrs. Suggs admits. Perhaps it is because she has had her mother's pies available at all times.

Mrs. Suggs shares the recipes

Peanut Brittle Gives Special Flavor Treat

Like orchids to the First Lady of any mansion, the pies that you make flatter and delight your family and guests. Nothing ever takes the place of that personal touch and loving concern that you put into your home-made pies.

PEANUT BRITTLE PIE
1 9 in. baked pie shell
1 cup milk, scalded
2 eggs separated
¾ cup brown sugar
1 envelope gelatin
2 tbsps. sugar
1 cup whipping cream
¾ cup peanut brittle, crushed
1 tsp. vanilla

Beat egg yolks with brown sugar and add to scalded milk. Cook about 15 minutes, stirring frequently over moderate heat until thick. Dissolve gelatin in a cup of hot water. Add to above mixture while it is still hot. Cool until just starting to set. Add egg whites beaten with 2 tablespoons sugar. Add cup of cream whipped, crushed peanut brittle and vanilla. Mix thoroughly but gently. Pour into 9 inch baked pie shell and refrigerate until set. Serve with whipped cream and crushed peanut brittle topping.

PIE CRUST
1 cup sifted flour
¾ tsp. salt
¼ cup peanut oil
¼ cup cold whole milk
Sift together the flour and salt. Add oil and milk all at once. Stir lightly to mix. Round up dough into a ball and place between two sheets of wax paper. Roll out gently into circle. Remove paper and place in a 9 inch pie pan, trim to ¼ inch

VISITING TIME
Mrs. James Suggs and Michelle share a pleasant moment for her culinary successes in the following listing.

MRS. BELL'S EGG CUSTARD PIE

4 eggs or 8 egg yolks
2-3 cup sugar
½ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. nutmeg
2-3 cup scalded milk, cooled
1 tsp. vanilla
Beat eggs slightly. Mix with remaining ingredients and pour into uncooked pastry shell that has high fluted edge. Bake at 450 degrees for 15 minutes. Reduce heat and bake about 35 minutes. Remove when center is still shaky. Too long a baking period will make the pie watery.

COCONUT CREAM PIE

3 cups milk
2-3 cup sugar
½ tsp. salt
2½ tbsps. cornstarch
1 tsp. flour
2 egg yolks
1 tsp. butter
1½ tbsps. vanilla
¾ cup coconut
Scald 2-3 cups milk in double boiler. Add remaining milk to sugar, cornstarch, salt and flour and mix well. Add to heated milk and cook until nearly thickened. Add well-beaten egg yolks and continue cooking till thick. Add butter, vanilla and coconut. Pour into baked shell.

MERINGUE

6 tbsps. sugar
3 egg whites, stiffly beaten
¼ tsp. cream of tartar
½ tsp. vanilla
Add sugar slowly to beaten eggs and add cream of tartar and flavoring. Pile on pie covering to edge of shell and bake 10-15 minutes in 400 degree oven.

LASAGNE

1 large pkg. lasagne
1½ lbs. ground beef
3 garlic cloves, minced
beyond edge of pan, fold under and flute. Prick well with a fork and bake in a hot oven (450 degrees F.) about 15 minutes or until golden brown. Cool and fill.

1 tbsps. oregano
2 tbsps. sweet basil
1 can tomato paste
1 12-oz. pkg. cottage cheese
4 tbsps. olive oil
1 large can tomatoes
1½ cups grated Parmesan cheese
1 cup chopped olives
1 can mushroom soup
12 sweet Italian peppers
12 slices mozzarella cheese
Cook lasagne in water to which has been added 1 teaspoon olive oil. Bring to boil and cover, letting stand for 20 minutes. Brown beef and garlic in hot olive oil. Add tomatoes, tomato paste, mushroom soup and seasonings. Cover and simmer 30 minutes. Heat oven to 380 degrees. In oblong pan, place layers of cooked noodles, cheeses and meat. Top with slices of mozzarella, and sprinkle with olives, Parmesan cheese and sweet peppers. Bake 30 minutes. Makes 12 servings.

CHICKEN CACCIATORE

2 2½-lb. fryers, cut up
1 box long spaghetti, cooked
2 cans tomato paste
¼ cup olive oil
¼ cup sweet basil
¼ cup oregano
½ cup Worcestershire sauce
1 tbsps. salt
4 tbsps. garlic powder
1 can chopped mushrooms
¼ cup rosemary
1 cup white wine
1 cup grated mozzarella cheese
1 cup grated American cheese
Heat oven to 400 degrees. Brown chicken in hot olive oil. Mix together in a small pan tomato paste, oil, garlic and basil and bring to a boil. Dip chicken in mixture and place in a deep oblong pan. Bake for about 45 minutes. Remove from oven and add cooked spaghetti forming a nest around the chicken. Make a sauce of the rest of the ingredients and simmer slowly for 30 minutes. Pour over chicken and spaghetti. Add one cup of Parmesan cheese and mushrooms on top of chicken. Bake in oven about one hour.

CHEESE DIP

2 lbs. processed cheese
1 garlic clove, minced
2 small jalapena peppers, minced
1 small onion, minced
1 cup chopped olives
¾ can beer
3 tbsps. olive oil
Saute garlic and onion in olive oil until clear. Add olives and simmer for 10 minutes. Add grated cheese and beer and simmer in a double boiler until mixture bubbles.

BLUE CHEESE DIP

1 pkg. prepared bleu cheese
1 8-oz. pkg. cottage cheese
1 large avocado
1 tbsps. garlic powder or salt
¼ cup olive oil
Mix together in mixer and blend until creamy. A little buttermilk may be added to make a smoother dip.

JALAPENA TREATS

24 jalapena peppers, deseeded
1 6-oz. pkg. cream cheese
1 can chopped shrimp
Garlic
Small amount buttermilk
Moisten cheese, shrimp and garlic mixture with buttermilk. Stuff peppers. Makes a large serving. Tuna may be substituted for shrimp.

Fine Fair For Fall

Fall's a great time for festivity. And making this October even more gala is the October Cheese Festival. The varied colors of the different cheeses blend in so well with the bright colors associated with fall. And the bright, tangy flavor of cheese hits the spot in satisfying appetites sharpened by cool weather.

Cheese, of one kind or another, is a universal food. It's made wherever animals are milked and produce more milk than people use in fluid form.

Cheese is one of the foods reported especially plentiful during October by the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Marketing Service. With such a big supply on hand, you may want to introduce your family to some varieties other than the ones you normally buy. There actually are more than 400 different types of cheese produced.

In classifying as to texture, cheese is divided into four major categories. The very hard cheeses, for grating, are such types as Parmesan and Romano. Cheddar, Swiss and Provolone typify the hard cheeses. Muenster, Brick and Roquefort are regarded as semi-soft. Soft ripened cheeses are kinds such as Brie and Camembert, while the soft unripened cheeses include cottage and cream cheese.

Try a Chinese Omelet for cool October days. Prepare medium thick cream sauce, flavored with mustard and grated cheddar cheese. Add fluffy white boiled or steamed rice and well beaten egg yolks. Fold in stiffly-beaten egg whites. Pour into well-greased baking pans. Bake in 350-degree F. oven 40 minutes. Cut into squares. Serve hot!

Give Extra Touch To Canned Soup

Turn a new canned soup into a chowder that tastes homemade.

QUICK CLAM CHOWDER
1 can (10½ ozs.) condensed cream of potato soup
1 cup milk
1 can (10½ ozs.) minced clams
¼ cup minced parsley
Turn the undiluted soup into a saucepan. Gradually stir in the milk and the liquid drained from the clams. Heat to boiling, stirring a few times. Add the drained clams and heat but do not boil. Add the parsley. Makes four small servings.

COLORFUL GLAZE
Top cream pie with pineapple, cherries

Fancy Topper Decorates Pie

Glaze a pretty arrangement of sunny pineapple chunks and sweet dark cherries to top this rich cheesecake pie. The filling's a brown sugar sweetened combination of sour cream and cream cheese, accented with cinnamon. Just pour it into a pie crust, add the elegant fruit topping and glaze with tart red jelly.

If you make it ahead of time, chill until serving. For a wonderful variation, try it in a graham cracker or vanilla wafer crumb crust.

PINEAPPLE CHERRY PIE
Pastry for single 9-inch crust
1 (8-oz.) package cream cheese
¼ cup dairy sour cream
1-3 cup brown sugar (packed)
1 tsp. cinnamon
1 (14-oz.) can pineapple chunks

1 cup pitted black Bing cherries
¼ cup Guava or other tart red jelly.
Roll pastry thin and fit loosely into 9-inch glass pie dish. Leave ½-inch overhang of pastry. Fold this under and press against rim with tip of teaspoon to make a pretty pattern. Prick all over with fork. Bake in very hot oven (475 degrees F.) about 8 minutes. Cool.

Soften cream cheese and beat in sour cream, brown sugar and cinnamon. Spread in bottom and sides of pie shell. Arrange pattern of well drained pineapple and cherries on filling. (See photo.) Heat jelly and 2 teaspoons pineapple syrup over low heat until jelly melts. Tint a deeper pink with few drops red coloring, if desired. Cool slightly and spoon over fruit to glaze, chill until set. Makes 1 (9-inch) pie.

Teamwork Made Success Of Program

By TEX EASLEY
AP Regional Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—Success of the screwworm eradication program, under which some 90 million sexually sterilized flies are released each week from planes, is attributable in no small part to teamwork of Agriculture Department employees here and in Texas and Mexico. Chief staff officer of the program here is Dr. Donald Williams, a veterinarian who was graduated from Texas A&M in 1945. He is a native of El Paso, where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Williams, still live.

CLOSELY

He works closely with department officials running the fly-producing plant at Mission, which employs more than 300 persons. The program has been so successful in its two years of operation that infestation of the destructive livestock insect has been reduced to a minimum in Texas. But continued operation of the Mission installation is necessary because of the constant threat of large scale reinfestation from far below the border in Mexico, said Dr. Williams.

An example of the role of Agriculture Department employees in operation of the program south of the Rio Grande is that played by Johnnie Perez, a native of Agua Dulce, Tex.

A graduate of Texas A&I College at Kingsville, he headquarters in Chihuahua and with his wife, living at a modern motel there. Speaking Spanish as fluently as English, and driving a pickup truck with U.S. government vehicle license plates, the Texan drives far out on the range lands of northern Mexico persuading property owners to cooperate in the program.

COOPERATES

When a ranch owner has been convinced that what the United States wants to do will help not only U.S. livestockmen but himself as well, he usually cooperates. Perez then establishes temporary markers on the ranch which outline the target area for pilots who will bring in the sterilized blow flies, the species which lay eggs on scratches and other wounds of an animal.

From about 1,500 feet the pilot releases the flies, which have been packed in pound-size frozen food boxes. A special device opens the cartons, releasing flies at the rate of from 200 to 1,000 a square mile. Some 25 planes are engaged in the operation.

While the release cuts infestation in northern Mexico, infestation continues to come from farther south, as the flies are known to range over a course of 150 miles. A screwworm outbreak in Florida a few years ago was stamped out and required no continued program because it had no constant threat from seaward.

Antelopes Dangerous

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — It seemed like an interesting thing to do—raise African antelopes—but now Mrs. C. H. Riggins is not so sure. The one male in her little herd has turned into something like a battering ram and ribs aren't safe around him. "He has gotten the idea that he can whip me," said Mrs. Riggins of Ole Boy, the name she gave the male.

Mr. and Mrs. Riggins acquired Ole Boy and his mate, Little Girl, when they were infants about a year ago. Both were gentle then. They even enjoyed riding in the family automobile.

Ole Boy's horns grew out as he grew up. He is now the size of a small calf, weighing about 150 pounds. He is not too big for Mrs. Riggins to handle. She says she has to "take him down" every now and then just to let him know she can.

But "he will slip up on you if you don't watch him." And when he slips up to a human, he butts. Riggins had the unfortunate experience of being caught inattentive. He suffered a cracked rib.

Consequently whenever anyone enters the area where the antelope are kept, on acreage a few miles from the city, they enter armed with a stick. It isn't necessary to hit the animal. He'll back off from a threatening swing.

Little Girl, who has no horns, is friendly and smaller. The antelope produced twins a few months ago. Little Girl took a dislike to one of them, and the Rigginses had to bottle feed the infant.

The babies are identical in appearance but completely opposite in nature. The bottle-fed antelope is affectionate and will nuzzle an outstretched hand. The other is aloof and obviously prefers the company of her father.

Here's a fine seafood treat:
LOUISIANA SHRIMP BOIL
 5 lbs. shrimp, fresh or frozen
 1 lemon, sliced
 1 small onion, sliced
 1/2 cup prepared seafood seasoning
 1 clove garlic, sliced
 1 gallon water
 1/2 cup salt
 Thaw frozen shrimp. Tie the lemon, onion, seafood seasoning and garlic in a piece of cheesecloth. Pour water into a large container. Add salt and bag of seasonings. Cover and bring to the boiling point over a hot fire. Add shrimp and return to the boiling point. Cover and cook 5 minutes or until shrimp is tender. Drain.

PLANNING A PARTY? Serve easy-mixed cranberry tarts

Cranberry Tarts Are Easy-To-Make Dish

Packaged mixes and baked goods make festive foods possible in a matter of minutes. Choose tender packaged tart shells to hold colorful cranberry fillings. A rum cream filling made with packaged vanilla pudding becomes a treat when a crimson cranberry topping is added. A delicate pink cranberry parfait frozen in individual shells is another dessert find. Then try chopping fresh fruit to make a cheery uncooked filling for Winter Fruit Tarts.

Choose one of these party-time tarts for your next "something special" dessert menu.

CRANBERRY RUM CREAM TARTS

- 1 pkg. vanilla pudding and pie filling mix
 - 2 tbsps. Jamaican rum
 - 1 lb. can whole cranberry sauce
 - 1 tsp. cornstarch
 - 1/2 cup chopped walnuts
 - 1/2 dozen packaged tart shells
- Sweetened whipped cream
 Prepare pudding mix as package directs. Stir in 2 table-spoons rum while cooling. Place cranberry sauce in saucepan. Stir in cornstarch. Heat until sauce is thickened and clear. Cool. Add chopped nuts. Spoon Rum Cream into tart shells. Top with Cranberry-Nut mixture and garnish with sweetened whipped cream. Makes 18 tarts.

CRANBERRY CHIFFON TARTS

- 1 cup cranberry juice cocktail
 - 1 pkg. strawberry or lemon chiffon pie filling mix
 - 1-3 cup sugar
 - 12 packaged tart shells
- Chill 1/2 cup cranberry juice cocktail. Heat remaining half cup to boiling. Add to pie filling mix in a large mixing bowl and stir well. Add the chilled cranberry juice and beat vigorously with rotary egg beater or electric mixer at highest speed until mixture is very foamy. Add sugar and beat until mixture stands in peaks—takes 1 to 3 minutes. Spoon into tart shells. Chill until set (about 2 hours). Serve plain or with whipped cream.

CRANBERRY PARFAIT TARTS

- 8 packaged tart shells
 - 1 lb. can jellied cranberry sauce
 - 2 tbsps. sugar
 - 1/2 pint heavy cream, whipped
 - 1/2 tsp. almond extract
- Beat the cranberry sauce and sugar together with a fork. Fold in whipped cream and flavoring. Spoon parfait into 8 tart shells and place in freezer. Freeze until parfait is firm.
- #### WINTER FRUIT TARTS
- 2 cups fresh cranberries
 - 1 medium apple (core and seeds removed)
 - 1 large banana, diced
 - 2-3 cup sugar
 - 6 packaged tart shells
- Sweetened whipped cream
 Coarsely chop cranberries and apple. Add diced banana and sugar. Stir until fruit and sugar are well blended. Place in refrigerator for 2 to 3 hours for flavors to blend. Spoon into tart shells at serving time. Top with sweetened whipped cream.
- #### CRANBERRY PRUNE WHIP TARTS
- 1 cup cooked prunes
 - 1 lb. can jellied cranberry sauce

Buttermilk Favorite

Treat your family nice! Bake them a pie.

BUTTERMILK PIE

- 1/2 cup sugar
 - 3 tbsps. cornstarch
 - 1/4 tsp. salt
 - 2 cups buttermilk
 - 1/4 cup corn oil margarine, melted
 - 1/2 tsp. vanilla
 - 1/2 tsp. grated lemon rind
 - 1/4 tsp. nutmeg
 - 2 eggs, slightly beaten
 - 1 unbaked 8-inch pastry shell, chilled
- Stir together the sugar, cornstarch and salt; gradually stir in buttermilk, keeping smooth; stir in margarine, vanilla, lemon rind and nutmeg. Stir in eggs. Pour into pastry shell. Bake in hot (425 degrees) oven 10 minutes; reduce heat to moderate (350 degrees) and bake until silver knife inserted in center comes out clean—about 40 minutes. Serve warm. (Filling will not stay puffed up.)

Party-Time Dessert Makes Festive Fare

When it's time for a party at your house, "Coca-Almond Party Pie" will guarantee its success.

The creamy chocolate filling floats on a bed of finely-chopped almonds in this elegant chilled dessert. To give it extra flair, you might top the pie with dollops of whipped cream encrusted with crisp toasted almond halves.

Whether chopped, halved, diced, slivered or whole, crunchy almonds always provide unique flavor and texture. Use them in poultry stuffings, soups, sandwich fillings and sauces for meat, fish and vegetables.

COCOA-ALMOND PARTY PIE

- 1/2 cup finely-chopped almonds
 - 1 baked 8-inch pastry shell
 - 1 envelope plain gelatin
 - 1/4 cup cold water
 - 1/2 cup unsweetened sifted cocoa
 - 1 cup sifted powdered sugar
 - 1 pint whipping cream
 - 1 tsp. vanilla
- Sprinkle almonds into bottom of pastry shell. Soften gelatin in cold water. Dissolve over hot water. Remove from heat. Combine cocoa, powdered sugar, whipping cream and vanilla. Beat until light and fluffy. Gradually beat in dissolved gelatin. When mixture forms stiff peaks, turn into pastry shell. Refrigerate several hours before serving.
- If desired, garnish with dollops of whipped cream and toasted almond halves.
 Makes 1 (8-inch) pie.

Add Fruit Dish

When you bake ham or smoked boned pork shoulder butt without a glaze, your family might enjoy having the meat served with a fruit salad. For the salad, you might choose an apple and celery combination or pineapple slices with greens.

CRISS-CROSS
LONG-LEG PANTY GIRDLE

Sarong's new long-leg panty girdle gives the slim, smooth and unbroken line that fashions demand. The reinforced hip and extra long leg length eliminates unsightly thigh bulge.

Because of Sarong's exclusive Criss-Cross construction, double front panels lift and support—tummy is flattened.

And, for the ultimate in comfort, the Magic Free-Fit front panels adjust to the waist-to-crotch length with no binding ever. Hidden garters (detachable, too) guarantee a smoother line under all fashions.

Sarong's new long-leg panty girdle is made of Stretch-Ever® Spandex, the no-rubber elastic, that lasts longer and controls better even after countless machine washings. The exclusive *Butterfly Collar stays in place without poking or jabbing. This panty girdle is a must for your foundation wardrobe.
